CALL HEADQUARTERS, WELLINGTON HOTEL, WASHINGTON, July 8.—Under the roof of the White House as the guest of President McKinley, Governor Roosevelt of New York reiterated to-night his confidence in the re-election of his host, gave warm approval to the administration's conduct of the Philippine campaign and its policy with respect to volunteer appointments, and scored the anti-imperialist for giving aid and comfort to the enemy.

Governor Roosevelt's trip to Washington was made by direct invitation of the President to discuss with the chief executive the question of the distribution of commissions among the men of his command during the Spanish war and the volunteers of the National Guard of New York. It had nothing to do with the war portfolio. It is stated authoritatively that the President has not even thought of tendering this office to Mr. Rosevelt, and if he did it would certainly be declined. Governor Roosevelt will stop in the executive mansion to-night, and will return to New York to-morrow to consult with his adjutant general relative to the recommendations to be made from the State guard.

"I do not need to consult with any one," he remarked, "to make recommendations from the regiment I commanded during the Spanish war. I know my men."

If the Governor's trip is of political significance he will not admit it. There is no doubt that he and the President discussed politics, and there is no doubt that the Governor, as he said in New York, will support the President for re-election. When I asked him if he would make any statement with reference to the President's candidacy for re-election, he said he had expressed his views in New York and there was certainly no need of repeating his words.

Reforming a Parrot.

A Pittsburger, who spent a part of last summer in England, tells an incident which sadly disturbed the religious peace of a parish in Penzance.

A maiden lady of that town owned a parrot, which, somehow, acquired the disagreeable habit of observing at frequent intervals:

"I wish the old lady would die."

This annoyed the bird's owner, who spoke to her curate about it.

"I think we can rectify the matter," replied the good man. "I also have a parrot, and he is a righteous bird, having been brought up in the way he should go. I will lend you my parrot, and I trust his influence will reform that depraved bird of yours."

The curate's parrot was placed in the same room with the wicked one, and as soon as the two had become accustomed to each other, the bad bird remarked:

"I wish the old lady would die."

Whereupon the clergyman's rolled up his eyes and in solemn accents added:

"We beseech thee to hear us, good Lord!"

The story got out in the parish, and for several Sundays it was necessary to omit the litany at the church services. E. M. H.

ENDEAVOR PEACE JUBILEE.

Resolutions in Favor of the Principle of Arbitration.

DETROIT, July 8.—A decidedly Anglo-Saxon spirit was imparted to the speeches at the Christian Endeavor "peace jubilee," held on Belle Isle this afternoon. All the speakers were representatives of English speaking countries, American and British, and all sentiments favoring greater friendship and closer relations between the United States and British subjects were heartily cheered. Resolutions were adopted favoring the principles of arbitration.

A Catch Story.

For a story with a catch in it the following from a London publication isn't bad:

Once, when in Paris, Napoleon paid a visit to a hospital for old soldiers. Among the inmates was an old man who had lost an arm. The emperor asked him:

"Where did you lose your arm?"

"At Austerlitz, sire."

"Then, no doubt, you curse the emperor and your country for your fate?"

"On the contrary," said the veteran, "for the emperor and my country I would sacrifice my other arm."

"I can hardly believe it," said the emperor.

The soldier immediately drew a sabre from its sheath and lopped off the other arm.

"A most sublime act of self-sacrifice," said the old lady who had been listening to the yarn, totally forgetting the impossibility of a one-armed man cutting off his remaining arm.

THE PLANTATION LABORER.

It is useless for a contemporary to say that "the Hawaiian laborer is no slave, and never has been a slave" except in a spirit of hair splitting of words. The records of the courts and the official reports on file prove to the contrary and so long as the penal contract systems of the Master and servant laws remains in force, he practically remains nothing more nor less than "a slave."

Even its bitterest political opponents however, must, and do most cordially, admit that the position of the laborer has been greatly improved since the usurping govenment came into power. They sent Mr. Wray Taylor, Dr. Peterson and others to carefully investigate and report and took prompt action on those reports instead of pigeon holing them. Aside from punishment meted out in deserving cases the most important factor was the refusal to grant permits for the admission of more laborers until conditions were rectified and improved on certain plantations. We accord to the Government, our political opponents, all credit for the good work they have done is this direction but we do not forgive them for not keeping their pledge made to the American people that they would repeal the penal labor contract laws, for they obtained annexation on that promise.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

Reports from both sides in reference to the forthcoming international yacht race for the American Cup, indicate that the spectators will witness a match worth paying for to see. May the best boat win is the wish of all who possess the true sporting instinct.

The puzzle of the hour in political circles appears to be the future relations of Cuba to the United States. Is the fair Island to remain a free and independent republic or is the lust of power and wealth to reduce her to vassalage to the United States and subsequent absorption contrary to pledges given?

It is much to be hoped that there will be a good game of baseball tomorrow for the present season has been a very disappointing one in comparison with the contests of former days when the grand stand was filled with admiring spectators. We seem to have done much better before Absorption intervened.

Some of our contemporaries will persist in calling "Sir" Thomas Lipton, the flag owner of the Shamrock, "Lord" Lipton. He is no more a Lord than President McKinley is a "Duke," or a "Royal Highness." The matter is trifling after all, for Sir Thomas is a clever advertising grocer as well as a noble man, although not a nobleman, nor ever likely to become one by creation and his birth has prevented him from being one bydescent.

THE SHAMROCK HAS SUSTAINED NO INJURIES.

False Rumors Given Circulation—General Overhauling and Inspection Deemed Necessary Before the Trials with the Britannia.

Special Cable to The Call and The New York Herald.

SOUTHAMPTON, July 12.—All sorts of delusive reports are current here. In default of news concerning the reasons for the Shamrock being docked, and wanting a sensation at any price, some of the press representatives dish up the worst of reports, with a little sauce diable of their own.

This particular sensational proclivity is still further aggravated by the absolute reticence of all persons connected with the Shamrock. Truth naturally cannot be so interesting as fiction, but the truth is that the docking of the Shamrock was merely owing to the fact that certain calking was found necessary. It was not owing, as has been stated, to a plate giving way, but in a general way, as might be expected in a new yacht. Sir Thomas Lipton naturally denies the leakage story.

One of the principle reasons for the docking was that there is plenty of time now, and there will not be timewhen the yacht gets to the Clyde Docking her for only slight defects is a luxury which Sir Thomas can afford.

The yacht has now been in the water nearly three weeks, and the designer and the captains were unanimous in the opinion that a general overhauling and inspection, with a little recaulking and polishing of her bronze bottom, would be of much practical value.

Sir Thomas Lipton's big yacht Erin remains out in the waters of Hythe, looking lonesome without the gay-colored Shamrock. Owing to the fact that the sailing spin between the Shamrock and Britannia will not be possible before July 18 the situation is somewhat altered. First, there will probably be only time for one sail; second, matters will have to be hurried up in the north to get her fitted out in time.

Sir Thomas, I hear, wishes absolutely that she should start out on her voyage from the Clyde during the first week of August, and by the end of that week at the latest. You may now take it that she will leave here as soon as possible after July 18.

The Britannia as I saw her yesterday at Cowes, after having left Fay's yard, appears as though she were new with fresh copper, new keel, boom and gaff. Marvin of Cowes is busy cleaning her spars; she has been recalked and has new bulwarks and taffrail, besides which lots of new work has been put in her below. She has been upholstered afresh.

The Satanita, her old rival, is being scrubbed. She has been docked at Fay's yard and is nearly ready for Cowes' great yachting week. The Meteor remains at anchor off Hythe, waiting, it is said, for a good opportunity to be docked. There is much discussion at Cowes as to whether the Kaiser will take part in the yaching.

One fact is known—that his Majesty has accepted an invitation to be present at Essen during that identical period, but of course he could cancel that if he liked.

CYCLING RECORDS BROKEN.

Lawson and Turville Make Good Time at Salt Lake.

SALT LAKE, July 18.—The world's records were broken here to-night on the Salt Palace eighth of a mile "saucer" track.

John Lawson, the "Terrible Swede," paced by tandems, rode a mile in 1:51 3-5, breaking the world's record for that distance on an indoor track.

Clem Turville of Philadelphia, in the five-mile professional event, went the distance in 11:20.

THE CREAM OF FOREIGN NEWS.

The impression exists that the Alaskan Commission will report favorably on giving Canada a port of entry to the Klondike.

Mrs Maybrick will have to serve out her term of imprisonment until 1908 at least.

The Germans have agreed to a majority rule in the Consular Board of Samoa.

The wet season has struck the army in the Philippines and great discomfort is the result. Manila Bay is impossible for navigation of launches and small boats.

The Shamrock has had satisfactory preliminary trials, and the British backers believe that she can defeat the Columbia.

Grand Duke George, brother of the Czar of Russia, is dead, aged 28, of consumption.

It is claimed from Paris that royalists are mixed up in the Dreyfus case in order to disturb France.

If the Shamrock wins Sir Thomas Lipton will pension her crew with a pound a week for life.

The baggage of the Nippon Maru was released on July 11th.

The steamer Tartar has been chartered for troops for Manila and will leave San Francisco about the 20th.

ATTEMPTED MURDER

A Galician Makes a Poor Job of Killing.

Early this morning the authorities were notified that a man had killed his wife and thereafter committed suicide. The message stated that tragedy had taken place back of the premises of Dr. Howard. Deputy Marshal Chillingworth proceeded at once to the place but found no traces of tragedies. Later on he learned that the shooting had been done on premises adjoining those of Dr. Alvarez on Emma street.

Upon his arrival he found a slightly injured woman and a dying man. Both were Galicians and the shooting had been done by the husband in a fit of jealousy. The man found his wife in flagrante delictu. He didn't shoot his punalua, but went for the woman. She got out of bed and told the husband that his name was mud and that he needn't call around again. The irate man drew his second-hand revolver and fired a shot which inflicted a flesh wound in the breast of the woman who naturally went into hysterics. He then tried to end his own miserable life and pumped two lead pillets into his neck.

The woman will live and it is very possible that the man will recover. Dr. Day is in attendance but it has not been considered advisable to remove the injured man. Deputy Marshal Chillingworth is investigating the case.

A Beautiful Wedding.

The splendid home of Mrs. H. A. Widemann at Punahou was decorated last evening with the lavish floral gifts of Hawaii. The occasion was the marriage of Carl Widemann, the head of the well-known family, to Helen Parker the favorite belle in the society circles of Hawaii.

Owing to the recent bereavement in the Widemann family only the relations and intimate friends of the contracting parties were present at the impressive ceremony at which Rev. Father Leonore officiated. After the words had been pronounced which made Carl and Helen "husband and wife," an informal reception was held and the happy couple received the congratulations of friends in all stations of life; of all creeds and nationalities.

A true sign of the popularity of the young people was the costly gifts which were sent to the bride during the day. We don't think that the equal has ever been seen in Honolulu, not alone in regard to the value of the presents but in regard to the exquisite taste exhibited by the donors.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Widemann will leave for Mana, the country seat of Mr. Samuel Parker, by the Iwalani this afternoon and will probably visit the volcano prior to their return to the city. THE INDEPENDENT wishes the distinguished young Hawaiian couple a prosperous future and all the happiness allotted to man.
