BALKAN ARMIES READY FOR DEATH STRUGGLE

MURDER & SUICIDE ON KOREA

Gambling Leads to One Killing, Financial Troubles to Another

Lee Hin Jou, a Chinese steerage passenger in the Pacific Mail liner Korea, fired three shots from a thirty-two caliber revolver into the body of Wang Fook a fellow traveler, at eight o'clock last night and at a time the steamship was about one hundred and sixty miles off the port of Honolulu, with the result that Wang Fook, died almost immediately following the shooting, living but a few minutes to positively identify his assailant, his remains being sent ashore at this port on arrival of the Korea at Honolulu, while Lee Hin Jou will face a charge of murder on the high seas.

Twenty-four hours out from San Francisco, Sing Chong, a prominent Chinese merchant, returning to his native country, committed suicide. He is said to have become involved in financial troubles. He leaped into the sea and was never again seen.

A dispute over a game of cards, declared by witnesses, to have been a seance at poker, in which high stakes were the issue, led to the affray that sent Wang Fook to his sudden death.

Ng Sui, third cook in the Korea galley, an innocent spectator to the conflict, is a victim of a gun shot wound in the fleshy part of the left leg, which caused his removal to the hospital this morning.

Edward Eaton baggage clerk in the liner, is a third party who while not suffering to any extent from bodily injuries sustained during the melee in credited with having had a narrow escape from receiving a bullet from the gun aimed by the infuriated Chinese, on murder bent.

"Watch Him, He is Cheating You"!

A game of poker among Chinese steerage passengers and members of the crew, was in progress on the after main deck last evening. Other contests in which high stakes were set were being played within the area set apart for the Asiatic steerage travelers, with the result that several hundred Celestials and others had gathered within a few feet of where the deliberate murder was committed.

Surrounding the players at cards, a crowd had congregated. Among the spectators was Lee Hin Jou, a young man said to be about twenty years of age, attired in American garb, who spoke the English language very well who was finally heard to exclaim during the progress of the game, "Watch out for that fellow, he's cheating you"!

The remark was apparently addressed to a friend, who looked up for an instant at the speaker stationed near the front rank in the crowd then turned his attention to the cards in his hand and those on the table while Wang Fook, a player immediately took up the cudgels and began to address remarks of rather uncomplimentary nature to the Chinese bystander who had questioned the honesty displayed in the playing of the game.

WILLIAMSON BRINGS GOOD ROADS IDEAS

Sees in California Scientific Plan That Would Be Practical in Hawai'i

STANDARD OIL KEEPS LABORATORY AT WORK

Result of Expert Tests In Making of Durable Highways at Least Cost

Ideas on road-building that may be the solution of one of Hawaii's greatest public improvement problems were brought back from California by William Williamson, representative in the last House and now a candidate on the Republican ticket to succeed himself in the legislature. While his visit to the mainland was for a combination of private business and pleasure, Mr. Williamson found opportunity to look around him and pick up some valuable pointers as to what California is doing in the line of progress.

In particular, he found that the Standard Oil Company has established a "road laboratory" in San Francisco and that the results of the great corporation's work are the development of road-building in more efficient and scientific ways than ever been tried here.

"In this laboratory," said Mr. Williamson this morning, "scientific tests are made of rock and oil, so that, given any particular kind of rock the tests here will determine what oil should be used and just how the combination should be made in order to get the best results.

"The work is in charge of a noted chemical engineer, and Mr. Fitzsimmons of the Standard Oil Company there, showed me the work done in the freest and frankest kind of way. The Standard Oil Company has this laboratory at the disposal of the public, for public service. Its financial interest is only this: It will furnish tests of road-making material for anyone, but unless the city or county adopts what the Standard Oil believes is the best material, according to its tests, it will not bid on the oil contract, which is its sole revenue-producer. The result is that the Standard Oil is building up a fine reputation for road-making.

"Mr. Fitzsimmons told me that they would be very glad to examine sam-

SAYS HE TESTED 'STRAW VOTE' & IT'S A FARCE

That the "straw vote" being taken by the Advertiser is "doctored" in the Advertiser office is the declaration today of several Republicans who declare that they participated in a test of the balloting yesterday and found that there is something mighty peculiar about it.

The Star-Bulletin was informed this morning that after the first straw vote was taken there was a suspicion that the published results and the original vote did not tally. Thereupon the test was arranged. It seems to have amounted to a trap. Yesterday the blank ballots were scattered among four clubs of the city.

In the Elks' club a republican voter found that only a few votes had been cast and that a lot of blank ballots were still untaken. He secured forty-five of these ballots and voted every one of them for the straight Republican ticket.

In the other words, in this club alone, forty-five votes were cast for each of the Republican candidates for delegate, senator, mayor, treasurer, sheriff and supervisor.

Strange to say, the published results this morning do not show that these forty-five straight Republicans votes were counted in the Advertiser office. For instance, Kalanianaole is credited with only 43 votes all told, seventeen of which are credited to the Elks' club. Dowsett is given eight votes in the Elks' club. Kaleiopu is given thirteen. Col. Sam Parker is given 11. Arnold is given eight. Similar discrepancies are noticed in every other Republican candidate's vote. In the list as published there is not a candidate that received 45 votes from the Elks' club, yet several Republican ballots in addition to the forty-five cast on the test are alleged to have been cast at this club.

The test was made by a Republican voter who declared this morning that the straw vote is a laughable farce. How his forty-five straight ballots happaned to be overlooked he is unable to say.

GOVERNOR'S APPOINTMENT SETTLED NOW

Friends from Mainland Cable Congratulations to Chief Executive

ACTION SO EARLY WAS NOT EXPECTED

Thought President Might Want to Go Over Testimony Taken Here

Governor Walter F. Frear's reappointment, his exoneration of the charges preferred against him by delegate Kuhia and his continuance in office to carry out the changes in government which Secretary Fisher indicated as desirable while he was here, are regarded as definitely settled by the Associated Press cable sent out from President Taft's summer home at Beverely, Mass., early this morning. The cable reads:

BEVERLY, Massachusetts, October 18.—It was announced here late yesterday that President Taft has received the recommendations of Secretary of the Interior Walter L. Fisher, following his investigation of the charges against the Fhear administration in the Territory of Hawaii, made by Prince J. K. Kalalanaole, Delegate to Congress.

It is also stated that the President approves the recommendations supporting the Frear administration and will at once reappoint Governor Frear as executive of the Territory of Hawaii.

As evidence that the reappointment is certain, several cable messages of congratulation were received at the governor's office today, showing that the news that he would be reappointed was evidently authorized by President Taft and sent broadcast over the country.

This news had been expected here quite confidently by all those who followed the Fisher investigation and predicted in this paper at the close of the investigation. However, it had been thought that Taft might wait to go over the great mass of testimony taken here before finally making up his mind.

Governor Frear was not in his office except for a very short time this morning and no statement from him could be obtained. His friends are highly pleased with the news.

COMMITTEE OF BAR TO PROBE FERRY CHARGES

After a conference of the Bar Association's executive committee yesterday afternoon at four o'clock in the office of President Frank Thompson, announcement was made that the formal charges brought by Judge Ferry, district magistrate of Puna, Hawaii, against Carl S. Carlsmith, the prominent Hilo attorney, will be probed by a special committee of three, of which D. L. Withington is chairman.

This committee will probably be engaged for some time in the work, as the charges are of considerable volume and the mere reading of them alone is a long job. The committee will proceed carefully sifting the essential particulars and in checking up on the statements made by the magistrate.

That the charges might be the outcome of a political squabble has been an explanation freely offered in Honolulu, because of the fact that Carlsmith is now involved in a factional political fight on the Big Island. However, those in a position to know assert that politics do not enter into this particular row.

The All-Hawaii polo team that will go to the Coast in January in quest of the championship title, will be seen in action at Moanalua tomorrow. Lined up against an aggregation of stick swingers almost equally as strong, the crack four will have its work cut out, and the polo fans will have a chance to see the Hawaii representatives at their best.

Frank Baldwin, who will play No. 4 on the Hawaii team, is here from Maui, as is also Arthur Collins, a Maui regular. David Fleming will arrive from the Valley Island tomorrow, in time to play.

The composition of the two teams will be as follows:

Deputy Ahead of World-touring "Men And Religion" Team Here

Harry N. Holmes, organizing deputy for the Men and Religion Forward Movement, arrived in Honolulu this morning on the Korea and will begin at once on arrangements for the big campaign to take place here in January. Mr. Holmes, who for eight years was general secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association in New Zealand, is preceding the Smith-Robins team as advance agent in order to give information regarding the campaign and anything pertaining to the movement. He will be here one week, leaving for the Orient on Oct. 25, and during that time will co-operate in organizing the campaign.

HARRY N. HOLMES

The Men and Religion team comes here at the request of the Inter-Church Federation, o which Mr. Holmes is also the guest. A number of meetings have been arranged at whic he will outline the purpose of the campaign, the first being a conference of the council of the Inter-Church Federation, which was held this noon in Cooke Hall, Y. M. C. A. building. At this meeting the full details for the campaign were arranged and plans made for Mr. Holmes' visit. On Sunday morning he will speak at the Central Union Church and in the afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. upon the subject "Men, Religion, and the Nation." Sunday night he will speak at the Methodist Church. On Monday next at 6:30 p. m., he will address a selected group of eighty men representing the five cooperated churches of Honolulu in the Inter-Church Federation, and on the following Wednesday night he will speak at a meeting in the Davies Memorial Chapel.

Mr. Holmes is a man who has had very successful experience in different forms of religious work for men, and the fact that he has been chosen as advance agent for such an important movement as the Smith-Robins world-wide tour is sufficient guarantee that he is a man of ability and leadership. During recent months he has been doing special work among

SOLDIER REYNOLDS VICTIM OF BULLET AT IWILEI BOOZE ORGY

Coroner Rose this morning established beyond any question of a doubt the identity of the dead man found yesterday afternoon in a stall at the abandoned United States quartermaster corral, with a bullet in his abdomen.

William Reynolds, an ex-soldier in the United States army, with several years of service in the Philippine islands, is the man who was killed by a shot fired by a person whose name is yet unknown, but believed to be connected with the quartermaster department at Schofield Barracks in the capacity of teamster.

Chief of Detectives McDuffie, in company with two men named Hollerson and O'Brien, who have thus far been rounded up and admitted participation in a booze fest in which "dago red" flowed freely, proceeded to Leilehua this morning. McDuffie is confident that he will get a line on the fourth member of the party which on Tuesday night held high carnival at the isolated stable, and were spectators at the shooting of Reynolds.

An autopsy was performed by Dr. A. N. Sinclair at the city and county morgue this morning. Coroner Rose proposes to hold an inquest tomorrow afternoon at which time Hollerson, O'Brien and perhaps the third member of the gang will be present, to add light to what at first appeared to be a mystery.

The story as told by McDuffie last night, upon his cross-examination of Hollerson and O'Brien, was to the effect that the quartette assembled at the Iwilei stockade on Tuesday night, and after taking up a collection, a fund was established which proved sufficient to purchase a quantity of death-dealing liquor, as well as a small amount of provisions.

With the feast in progress, wine flowed freely. All were soon riotously drunk and crazed by frequent libations of cheap wine.

The claim was made that some time during the night, the man yet at liberty was heard to rave, apparently in his slumber. Soon after the report of a gun followed. Then all was still. At an early hour in the morning, Hollerson and O'Brien awakened to find that Reynolds failed to respond to the call. An investigation showed that he was dead. Frightened at the consequences of a debauch, the men fled, each taking a different direction. The discovery of the body yesterday afternoon by several women who were passing the place and detected a strong odor, caused by the rapid decomposition of the remains, brought the police to the scene, with the result that within a few hours the officers had lines out for the arrest of a number of well known local characters who in police circles are listed as "wine bums."

The party believed to be located at Schofield Barracks is alleged by the two men now in custody as the one who carried the gun that proved the death of Reynolds.

The bullet, from a thirty-two, was found during the autopsy this morning.

Indications point to the fact that several shot were fired, which has much to do with dissipating the theory advanced by Hollerson and O'Brien that the gun was discharged while its owner was in a drunken sleep.

William Frost, secured by Coroner Rose, positively identified the dead man as Reynolds, and he claimed that the ex-soldier had been a resident of Hawaii for about two months, having been "bobtailed" in the army.

GOVERNOR'S SECRETARY IS STATIONERY CONNOISSEUR

Highly Embossed Letter Paper Arrives During Courtenay's Vacation Period

An idea of the mass of elegant correspondence in which a private secretary to a governor must engage may be gained from the fact that about 4000 sheets of best-quality stationery were recently delivered to the office of the private secretary to Governor Frear. The paper, of finest composition, is highly embossed, containing in lettering of expensive workmanship a legend somewhat as follows:

"Executive Chambers.
"Office of the Secretary,
"N. B. Courtenay
"To the Governor
"of Hawaii."

Ordinarily official communications, in these days when the typewriter is more lucid and therefore mightier than the pen, are typed with everything except the signature, but the paper just received from a local jewelry and stationery firm evidently is not intended for typewriter use.

N. B. Courtenay sailed on the U. S. S Maryland with Secretaries Knox and Fisher, going to his home at Portland on a months' vacation. Yes, vacation was the word he used in telling his friends of the trip.

Becker's Defense Begins

[Associated Press Cable]

NEW YORK, N. Y., Oct. 18.—The defense in the case of Police Lieutenant Becker, charged with murder in connection with the Rosenthal killing, today began its attempt to clear the police official from the net woven about him by District Attorney Whitman. In opening the case, Becker's attorneys alleged that the prosecution has made out its case on the testimony of self-confessed convicts, perjurers and forgers. It is alleged that the gamblers' plot to kill Rosenthal was a plot to involve Becker because he was head of the police squads which raided the gambling houses.

MEAT 'ON HOOF' NOT RAISED BUT RETAIL PRICES TO GO UP

Drought Plays Part in Forcing Up Living Cost in City of Honolulu

"No raise in the wholesale price of island beef in November is contemplated," was emphatically declared, with reference to a story in the morning paper, by one directly and heavily interested in the grazing industry, to a Star-Bulletin reporter this afternoon.

"If there is to be a raise it will be in imported frozen beef," was the added remark, "but I don't think even that will happen. So far as I know there is no raise intended in the price of beef.

"During November probably more than half of the local consumption will be supplied with frozen beef from Australia."

William F. Healborn, manager of the Metropolitan Meat Market, while denying that the Parker Ranch had given notice of "a raise in the price of beef on the hoof" as reported in the morning paper, stated that the retail price of beef was to be increased.

"The raise is on account of the new practice of dressing the meat at the slaughter house the same as is done in San Francisco. Formerly they cut off the necks, skirts, hanging fat, etc. Now they leave all that on the beef. It is so much waste that falls on the retail butcher.

"Next month there will not be enough beef on the islands to supply the demand. We will have to cut up Australian beef.

"At present the retail price of beef in Honolulu are much cheaper than in the states. They charge 35 cents there for porterhouse steak, as compared with 25 cents here. A certain hotel here imports loin of beef—about 20 or 25 loins at a time—which cost 18 cents a pound over there, and adding freight and other charges it amounts away up.

"The fact is the island graziers are unable to supply the demand. There is a great dearth of feed on account of the drought, and in some places the cattle have not even water to drink. On some of the ranches cattle have died by the hundreds owing to the drought.

"What with the changed cutting practice, started by a man lately down from the coast, and the bad conditions on the ranches, the meat business here has come to be simply fierce."

LAVA BRICK CO. TO ISSUE BONDS

An issue of $75,000 bond is proposed by the directors of the Honolulu Lava Brick Company, Ltd., for the purpose of considering which the stockholders are called in special meeting to be held on Monday at 11 o'clock.

Alfred L. Castle, secretary of the company, said this afternoon that the proceeds of the proposed bond issue were for the purpose of liquidating the existing indebtedness so as to put the enterprise on a satisfactory working basis.

"The works are now turning out a fine quality of brick," said Mr. Castle, "which is being taken as fast as it can be manufactured.

"The company is also producing concrete pipes and piers of such excellence as to meet with great favor from contractors."

Judge Larnach at police court discharged Tom Chin, a Chinese charged with having swept rubbish from the Boston Block into the street. The Chinese was defended by Attorney Prosser, also representing C. Brewer & Company, the agents for the property.

CHINESE IN DIFFICULTIES COMMITS SUICIDE FROM LINER KOREA

Ching Chong, a San Francisco Chinese who is alleged to have been engaged in business along the coast for many years, deliberately leaped from the after deck of the Pacific Mail Liner Korea twenty-four hours following the departure of that vessel from the coast, and while the liner was put about for nearly an hour, the body was not seen or recovered.

Financial difficulties are assigned by a countryman and relative now aboard the vessel as the cause of the rash act in which the demented Ching Chong, aged thirty, and apparently well fixed as far as his personal effects were concerned ,decided to terminate fancied troubles by oblivion in the vasty depths of the Pacific.

Enroute to Hongkong, the Chinese had not mingled to any extent with fellow Asiatic steerage travelers. He was noticed to act rather strangely at times but nothing was thought of the matter at the time.

During the early hours of the morning, before passengers had bestirred themselves and few officers were about the deck, the Chinese came up from the steerage quarters and was seen to hurridly climb the rail and jump overboard.

"Man Overboard" was the alarm sounded throughout the ship and officers stationed on the bridge soon had the big Korea under a reverse screw and the vessel came to a halt.

A boat manned with a number of officers and sailors were lowered. For forty-five minutes the Korea was halted on her course from San Francisco to Honolulu with a view of being able to pick up the man who had attempted his life in this dramatic manner.

A careful watch was maintained from the crows nest as well as from the bridge, but no Chinese could be found.

The theory is held by the officers that the Chinese must have almost immediately sank beneath the waves.

The Pacific Mailer Siberia approached the Korea at this time en route to the coast. From this vessel also, a lookout was kept for a possibility of meeting with the dead body. Officers in both vessels finally gave up the quest as fruitless and the Korea was again put about in the direction of the Hawaiian islands.

With tales of one murder, in cold blood, a deliberate suicide, and a serious injury to a member of the ships company compelling his removal from the ship to the hospital ,the large number of passengers in the popular liner certainly had much to occupy their time and attention during the five days and eighteen hours voyaging from San Francisco.

The suicide, followed later by the shooting on the after deck in which one Chinese took deliberate aim and killed a fellow traveler following a dispute at cards, served to culminate a voyage more than ordinarily replete with sensational developments.

The Korea is to make a brief stay at this port, pending the discharge of seven hundred tons cargo and the stowing away of three hundred tons coal.

The liner is expected will be dispatched for Japan and China ports at five o'clock this evening.

The Korea was an early arrival, and upon berthing at Alakea wharf, 47 cabin and 15 second class passengers left the vessel to remain here for indefinite periods.

The Korean is reported as jammed with cargo, for the most part consisting of cotton destined for the spinning mills of Tokyo and Osaka. The vessel is not to call at Manila on this voyage.

Captain Nelson stated that the vessel was favored with fine weather. Purser "Billy" Allen, one of the best liked Pacific Mail officials that call at Honolulu was the means of promoting a number of very pleasing little social affairs, such as concerts, deck sports, tournaments and other entertainments.

"We turned people away at San Francisco "said one officer in explanation of the large list of through travelers.

Sixty missionaries who were disappointed in their efforts to procure a passage on the Persia when the intermediate steamer sailed from San Francisco are among the cabin passengers on the Korea. Many of the most prominent figures in America's social circles are also among the passengers

A. Oudin of Buffalo, director of the General Electric company, and George T. Morrison and wife of the same city, are on a tour of the Orient and may continue around the world. M. E. Bowditch and wife and Mrs. C. R. Stergis of New York are going to Manila and then around the world. Mrs. A. McAdams Stellings of New York City is sailing for Shanghai. John Galt of Honolulu, accompanied by his son, is returning home. Mrs. H. M. Yerington, widow of the late president of the Virginia and Truckee Railroad, accompanied by Mrs. W. S. Wood, a San Francisco society woman, is on a tour of the world. In addition to this a number of well known members of the San Francisco smart set left the vessel at Honolulu.

MURDER & SUICIDE

Angry words passed between Lee Hin Jou, and one or two of the Jou was seen to leave the crowd without further comment, and proceed to the lower deck to his quarters. He soon gained the main deck again, and from his hand was detected the glint of a revolver. Without a word of warning the now thoroughly engered Lee Hin Jou stepped directly in front of Wang Fook who had partly risen from the table, and before an effort could be made to stay his arm three shots had been fired into the half prostrate Wang Fook, bringing him to the deck. Death followed within a few moments two shots penetrating the body near the lungs and heart.

Frenzied Chinese Maimed Another.

The sharp report of the pistol brought a squad of American officers to the scene. Among them being Baggage Agent Eaton who jumped into the center of the excited mass of Chinese, and grappled with Lee Hin Jou, who still retained his hold on on the smoking revolver. A fierce encounter followed. in which for a moment it looked as if a number of spectators were doomed to lose their lives. Eaton after a severe tussel finally gained possession of the gun, but not before another shot had been fired at random, the ball penetrating the leg of a Chinese cook.

It required the assistance of several American officers to subdue the Chinese. Captain A. W. Nelson, was soon upon the scene and he ordered the Chinese to be securely locked up pending arrival at Honolulu. W. F. McAllister the Korea's surgeon made a hasty examination of the wound inflicted upon Wong Fook and soon discovered that the man was past all medical aid.

Dr. McAllister then turned his attention to Ng Sue, the cook who while suffering from a nasty wound, was declared this morning as out of danger. His removal from the ship to shore was believed advisable however as there is a possible chance of abstracting the bullet.

Lee Hin Jou Well Known Highbinder.

Local Chinese called in today with a view of identifying the Chinese stated that the man charged with the murder of the Asiatic steerage passenger is a highbinder with a record along the coast. When searched a number of papers of an incriminating nature were found on his person

The Chinese who were spectators to the game, declared last night that the society to which Lee Hin belonged was at war with the particular tong in which the murdered man was enrolled.

Wang, who was killed by the deadly bullet from the Lee Hin gun was about forty eight years of age, and was said to be returning to China after a long residence in the United States.

Following the shooting the wildest excitement reigned on the lower deck of the trans-Pacific liner while officers, fully armed finally succeeded in quelling the disturbance and bringing about a semblence of order and quiet.

Captain Nelson took the initiative and following upon the shooting, issued an order prohibitiing all forms of gambling on the lower deck of the vessel and among the Asiatics.

On the arrival of the Korea this morning U. S. District Attorney R. W. Breckons was immediately notified of the affair by the ship's officers, and W. S. Eaton was sent to Breckons' office, where he narrated his story and delivered the revolver into the district attorney's keeping. A few moments later a warrant was drawn and the accused Chinaman placed under arrest aboard tre ship by U. S. Marshal Hendry.

Though the officials up to that time understood the accused man's name to be Li Tong Chui, he told Breckons it was Lee Hin Jou. He talked quite freely of the affray, giving names of a number of other Chinese who are supposed to have been eye-witnesss, and these are to be subpoenaed and held here until the hearing takes place.

Lee Hin Jou will be given a preliminary hearing this afternoon before U. S. Commissioner C. S. Davis, then committed to jail for indictment by the federal grand jury or an early arraignment in federal court.

Though the nature of his statement to the prosecutor is not disclosed it is thought to be in substance the facts as related above.

Ng Sui, the injured cook, is under the care of the federal physicians, and he also will likely be held here as a witness. Just what disposition of the body of the dead man will be made is not known, though it probably will be kept here some time awaiting instructions from the relatives, and if none is received will be given burial in Honolulu. The physicians performed an autopsy on the body this morning. It is likely that photographs will be made showing the course of the bullet through the anatomy. Breckons is making arrangements to have pictures taken showing the scene of the affray on the vesel, as evidence to be placed before the jury.

One of the interesting bits of evidence will be the Smith & Wesson revolver ,an apparently new weapon, of blue pun steel and wil lall the modern improvements. When it was turned over to Breckons he was informed by Eaton, that the pistol had not been opened or tampered with in any way since the shooting. The prosecutor immediately placed it in a paper bag, sealed it and stored it away in his vault as Exhibit A for the trial. When it is handed over to the jury it will be opened for the first time since the murder and will be a piece of evidence that the jurors may gaze upon at first hand. While witnesses so far asserd three shots were fired this gun, when opened, may throw new light on the subject.

MAN HERE WHO WORKED WITH ROCKEFELLER, JR., AGAINST VICE

Among the recent arrivals in Honolulu is Mr. George Samuels, of New York, who recently obtained considerable newspaper publicity through being identified with John D. Rockefeller, jr., in Rockefeller's sensational and drastic crusade against the white slave dealers and panders, and who was indirectly connected with the present expose of the police graft in the metropolis that has brought to light perhaps the most startling truths of the underworld over given publicity.

Mr. Samuels has just completed a tour of the mainland larger cities as a member of the American Purity Federation party, that obtained evidence and statistics connection with the white slave traffic in an endeavor to get Congress to take action against the trade. The report of this body, it is claimed, was one of the most astounding and horrible ever brought to bear on the question. President Taft interesting himself, on hearing the report, to the extent of urging Congress to take immediate action, and when Mr. Samuels left the mainland a commission had been appointed by Congress to investigate.

The methods used by Mr. Samuels and his party to secure evidence of the most spectacular and often at the risk of their lives. Hundreds of photographic flash-lights were ogtained, which were subsequently used as evidence in convicting over 1600 panders by Detective Captain O. O aird, who accompanied the party. Captain Waird made over 1700 arrests on the tour, and, under the leadership of Mr. Samuels, raided some 3,200 houses of ill repute in the city of Chicago alone, where it was previously claimed by the police that but 1,200 such places existed. In San Francisco the party devoted the most of their efforts to the dance hall evil breaking up a systemized organization of procurers that operated through the dance halls.

Mr. Samuels hardly looks the part he has played, and, although one of the best known enemies of white slavers and procurers, he is by all means a cosmopolitan and Bohemian. He bears the distinction of being a member of New York Lodge of Elks number one, where his influence helped to elect the Reverend Father Chadwick Exalted Ruler of the lodge it being the only case in Elkdom where a Roman Catholic Priest held the highest office of the lodge. Mr. Samuels is also a thirty second degree Mason, belonging to New York order one, a Knight Templar, number one, and a member of Mecca Temple of the Mystic Shrine, number one, and several other orders of New York, number one.

Claiming his mission here is merely a pleasure trip, to be interspersed by a few lectures on the subject of which he is so familiar, he has already toured several questionable parts of the city and is believed he will co-operate with the local societies in fighting the dance hall evil.

Mr. Samuels' first lecture will be given in connection with the regular program at the Empire Theatre starting Monday matinee, the initial subject being the "White Slave Traffic!"

MILITARY CENTER SHIFTING TO SCHOFIELD

The scene of military activity shifts to Schofield Barracks tomorrow, when General M. M. Macomb, department commander, his staff, and the dozen officers who came from San Francisco to act as umpires in the coming maneuvers will take up their quarters at the construction camp..

Castner, which is the railroad station for the permanent post at Schofield, will be termed the central station for the maneuvers, and there the principal commanders of the Red and Blue armies, together with the umpires, will meet at frequent intervals during the week's period in the field to confer with General Macomb, and to discuss various phases of the campaign.

General Macomb, accompanied by Lieutenant Colonel Campbell, adjutant general; Major McManus, inspector general; Major Noble, and Lieutenant Andrews, aide, will motor out to Leilehua tomorrow afternoon. The other officers who have been detailed to act in various capacities during the maneuvers, will go out by the 10:20 train tomorrow morning.

Everything is in readiness to turn the entire mobile army of Oahu into the field at daybreak Monday morning, for what promises to be one of most interesting military problems ever worked out by our army.

Mutual Telephone Company to Consider Buying Stock in Another Corporation

A special meeting of the stockholders of the Mutual Telephone Co. has been called for Friday next at 1:15 p. m., to consider "the decision of the authorization of the issuance of new shares of the company heretofore given to the extent of such new shares remaining unissued, authorizing a new issuance of new shares of the company with broader powers in the board of directors as to the disposition of the same, and taking action thereon, and also to transact such other business as may properly come before the meeting."

Unissued shares of the company, or treasury stock, amounts to 5000 shares of a par value of $50,000. Their issuance would bring the paidup capital stock up to $400,000, the authorized amount, from $350,000 as at present. According to F. Klamp, elected president recently in place of E. Faxon Bishop, resigned, the company is in a position to declare a stock dividend with the treasury stock, but the proposal embodied in the call of the special meeting, as quoted above, contemplates a different scheme. What the authorization to the directors desired amounts to is that of purchasing the stock of another company as an investment. President Klamp did not inform the inquiring reporter what other company was intended, but it may not be a wild guess to indicate the Marconi Wireless Company as the one.

RUSSIANS ARE NOW DEPORTED

The Territory of Hawaii must care for its own indigent or diseased immigrants, as the Federal authorities on the Pacific Coast have come out flatfooted in declining to accept those who may find it desirable to step aboard a liner at Honolulu and journey to the mainland only to soon after landing become a public charge on some coast community.

Five Rusisans, alleged by the United States authorities as without funds and suffering from a variety of ailments making them necessarily objects of public charity, were ordered deported from San Francisco, and returned to Honolulu.

The Russians arrived as steerage passengers in the Pacific Mail liner Korea this morning. These people who migrated from the steppes of Siberia some months ago to take up work with the plantations and sugar estates in Hawaii, but deserted to accept what was believed to be more lucrative employment on the mainland, have been turned over to the local immigration officials.

According to the report brought by the Korea, the Russians are to be forwarded in a later steamer to Kobe, Japan. What will become of them after that portion of the journey is completed is not stated. Japan ports, especially those where steamships of various nationalities pay frequent and regular visits have been for a number of years a dumping ground for Russians, many of whom left their native country or Siberia following the close of the Russo-Japanese war.

Nagasaki, Japan, possesses districts that would cause the spectator to believe that he had been transplanted in a Muscovite city, were it not for the Oriental surroundings.

At stated intervals a Russian transport or vessel operated by the Russian volunteer Association calls at several of the Japanese ports and hundreds of stranded Russians are gathered up and returned either to Vladivostok or taken on to European Russia by the way of Suez.

The immigrants who were returned to Hawaii in the Korea are said to have been employed for a time in California fruit orchards. With the close of the season thousands of this class of labor have been thrown out of employment.

HARBOR NOTES

The Pacific Mail steamer Korea will be dispatched for Japan and China ports at five o'clock taking a delegation of orientals in the steerage.

The Interisland steamer W. G. Hall with a few passengers, a late mail and general cargo was dispatched for Kauai ports at five o'clock last night.

In cluded in the cargo carried in transit in the Unites States army transport Dix is nearly twenty thousand pounds of smokeless powder, destined for Seattle.

The Claudine to sail at five o'clock this evening for Maui and Hawaii ports will take a general cargo of fertilizer, lumber and sundries. A number of passengers for the other islands are booked for departure.

Th American schooner Sophie Christensen has been hauled on the local marine railway for a clearing, recaulking and repainting. This vessel hailed from Tahiti where lumber destined for South American was discharged.

Plank Splinters from Cohen's Platform

INDEPENDENT CANDIDATE FOR SENATOR

REPRESENTING THE COMMON PEOPLE

NOT CONTROLLED BY THE BIG INTERESTS

REGARDING TAXATION:

I note that a suggestion, purporting to come from the Executive Building, advocates the reduction of the present Income Tax Exemption.

I would call your attention to the taxation plank in my platform in which I pledge myself to a directly opposite policy.

In the Legislature of 1909, I introduced a bill, increasing the exemptions on incomes from $1000 to $2000. To insure the passage of this bill I was compelled to agree to a compromise of $1500, at which figure the bill passed and became a law.

If elected to the Senate, I shall, as soon as the session convenes, introduce another bill for the purpose of increasing the exemption to $2000. My reasons are these:

The intent of an income tax is to levy on incomes over a reasonable amount required by a man to adequately support himself and family.

As the law now stands a man with a salary of $150 per month would be taxed on $300. A man receiving $200 per month would be taxed on $900.

Under the present high cost of living, the ordinary man who would be called upon to pay an income tax, can not live on less than $2000 per year and maintain his family in accordance to his social position.

No man should be required to pay a tax on wages earned, when all of it is needed for the support of his family.

The tax should be on the big incomes; those incomes over and above the amount needed to live on and which are used as surplusses for investment.

In answer to the argument that the increase in exemption would decrease the revenue I would say: If this is so, let us INCREASE THE RATE ON THE BIG INCOMES.

DISTINGUISHED VISITOR SEES RUGER DEFENSES

A distinguished visitor to Honolulu today is Edward Bowditch, who is en route to China, a passenger on the Korea. Mr. Bowditch is a brother-in-law of General Oliver, assistant Secretary of War, and this morning he was entertained by General Macomb, who personally showed him through the rocky labyrinth of Diamond Head fortifications.

Mr. Bowditch is accompanied by his wife and a friend, Mrs. C. R. Sturges. Escorted by General Macomb and his aide, Lieutenant Andrews, the party motored to Fort Ruger, where Major E. J. Timberlake did the honors of the post.

Mr. Bowditch comes of a distinguished family, being a grandson of the famous mathematician who compiled the standard work on navigation.

ples of our rock and make analyses and tests to determine the best kind of roads to build here and the varying mixtures on varying grades and curves. He recommended, however, that we establish a laboratory here of our own, which the territory could do at a cost of not more than $5,000.

"The plan is a study of road-making along more scientific lines than we know anything of. For instance, I learned for the first time why automobile traffic wears out roads so fast. It is not because the speeding autos create a powerful suction and draw up the bits of material, as we generally suppose, but because the auto makes a comparatively slight but persistent hammering on the surface of the road as it runs over the little inequalities. This was proved to me in an interesting test which shows that a piece of road material will stand without breaking a direct weight many times as heavy as a slight blow which nevertheless, if repeated, soon cracks the piece in question."

Mr. Williamson is enthusiastic over the possibilities of bringing this scientific method to bear on road-work in Hawaii.

While in California he studied other public questions somewhat, and returns with ideas as to the direct primary law and a public utilities commission. The California public utilities commission act is regarded as an unusually comprehensive and practical one.

He was warmly greeted at Republican headquarters this morning and will at once plunge into the local campaign.

MERCHANTS HOLD LIVE DISCUSSION ON BIG TOPICS

Panama Canal, Municipal Record and Autos on Streets Taken Up

A fervent appeal to patriotism, made by John Effinger, failed yesterday afternoon to induce the Merchants' Association to adopt the Spokane proposal for changing the name of the big isthmian ditch from "Panama" to "American" canal. Nevertheless the failure was by the narrow margin of one vote, eight voting for and nine against the proposal.

When the circular of the Spokane Chamber of Commerce had been read — the same at that which the Honolulu Chamber of Commerce trustees last week declined to treat seriously—Mr. Effinger moved that the association adopt a similar resolution. This was seconded by O. C. Swain and when put drew an almost inaudible response of either ayes or noes. Before a show of hands was called, T. M. Church opposed the proposition, saying Panama was a distinctive name. What was to be gained by a change? We owned the canal anyway.

Ed Towse thought the Suez might as well be called the British canal. There were North, Central and South America—which America was intended? Panama expositions were to be held in San Francisco and San Diego. There would be great expense involved in re-marking of material.

Mr. Effinger said he knew nothing of the premises on which the proposal was based, but had thought no American would oppose it. The canal was built by American money and it was owned by Americans. The idea should appeal to any American.

Upon the decision being announced, it was voted that a formal letter stating it be sent to the Spokane chamber.

Accommodation For Tourists.

A letter from Secretary H. P. Wood of the Hawaii Promotion Committee was read, telling of a large increase in tourist travel to the islands. This fact was given as evidence of the success of the campaign for a long-time waged in propagating the idea that Hawaii is a good summer resort. "Hawaii is now looked upon," the letter said, "as an all-the-year-round resort." There was a lack of hotel and boarding house accommodations for the coming people, and Mr. Wood asker the association to take this problem into consideration. It was further represented that the Promotion Committee needed $5000 a month to keep up its stroke.

Mr. Church said the Hilo conference passed a resolution urging the Legislature to increase promotion funds.

President Gignoux remarked that the legislative committee would attend to the matter. There was nothing to be done now except for each merchant to help in finding accommodation for tourists.

Automobiles on Fort Street.

Merle M. Johnson, on the subject of the proposed ordinance to prohibit automobiles from standing on Fort street, said it would be a great disadvantage to merchants on that street. A great deal of Fort street's trade was what came in automobiles. There were five or six persons who left their autos on the street all day, and an ordinance giving the police power to stop such abuse of privilege should be sufficient. Tourists arriving in steamers, having only a few hours to spend, hired automobiles to do both shopping and sight seeing, and it would be a hardship if these people could not have the machines wait for them along the street. He suggested a half-hour limit.

Mr. Effinger named a citizen who kept his machine in front of his (Effinger's) store all day.

Mr. Perkins considered the proposal to send autos into the side streets off Fort street unfair to the side streets. Mr. Brasch thought it absolutely necessary that some power be given the police. The side street idea was impracticable—they couldn't block up Hotel street, for instance. The plan to limit standing time was the best way out of it.

"The more congestion the better for business," was the way F. L. Waldron looked at it. "Just as well shut all traffic off the streets as to pass an ordinance like the one proposed."

Mr. Johnson, who said Supervisor Murray had declared he would put an ordinance through whether the merchants liked it or not, moved that a committee be appointed to oppose the proposed ordinance and support instead an ordinance limiting autos to thirty minutes on Fort street, and that an attorney be added to the committee. With some verbal amendment this carried, and Mr. Swain suggested that the decision be put in the form of a resolution.

Mr. Church thought the employment of an attorney would be a mistake as it would antagonize the supervisors. The only present need of an attorney would be to draft another ordinance.

Mr. Waldron then moved, seconded by Mr. Swain, that a letter to the board of supervisors be drawn up, setting forth the opinion of the association in regard to automobile traffic on Fort street, which carried unanimously.

The chair appointed Messrs. Johnson, Du Roi and J. D. McInerny as the committee. Mr. Towse wanted Merchant street protected and Mr. Swain suggested that the whole business section be included in the committee's purview, which brought from Mr. Unger the objection that the proposed restrictions would interfere with people visiting the moving picture shows in their autos. The matter was then allowed to fade.

Association Annual Dinner.

President Gignoux brought up the matter of holding an annual dinner, creating laughter by the remark, "We have not had one for several years."

Treasurer Johnson, in this connection was asked how the funds stood. He answered that the income was about $350 a month, and the fixed expenses $250, hence the association was saving about $100 a month. There was on hand something like $2500.

It was stated that the custom had been for members to pay so much a plate for dinners. The matter was left with the directors, it being agreed that the dinner should not be held in the holiday trade period.

Taxation Without Representation.

Mr. Waldron stirred up the most lively discussion of the meeting by stating that the Shippers' Wharf Committee refused to allow the three representatives of the association a vote in the proceedings of that body. The president thought it would be only fair that the representatives of the merchants who paid the tax should have a voice in the administration of the fund.

Most of the talk that followed was on the question of how to bring the matter to a settlement. There was a motion made to leave it to the directors, but a motion by Mr. Bon prevailed to make it a special order of business for an adjourned meeting of the association two weeks thence.

Then a member asked if the matter should not be kept out of the papers, and Mr. Swain thought it should be kept quiet.

W. R. Farrington, who had just come in, expressed the opinion that anything important to the community should be given the fullest publicity. Secrecy was not in keeping with a live-wire organization. They could not get community support with such ideas on the question of publicity. It was a great mistake to attempt to quiet these things down. "If a thing is fair," said he, "for heaven's sake let it be made known. Publicity is vital to the association."

Mr. Church observed that there was nothing to keep quiet, and the matter was then committed to the discretion of the reporters.

The Municipal Record.

Mr. Farrington, on being asked to give a talk on anything he pleased, took occasion to tel labout a dereliction of duty on the part of the committee appointed in connection with his fight against the Municipal Record. He had headed that fight as a taxpayer, and it seemed to him that a committee having such a matter in hand would see the members who made the protest The representative of the Chamber of Commerce presented a strong protest against the measure, while the association's representative merely said that he believed it a good thing but the time for starting the municipal organ was not opportune. When a committe was appointed on a particular question it should see the people on all sides. Yet this committee had never given him hearing on the matter involved. It seemed to him that the association's attitude was decidedly spineless—in representing—"that it was a good thing"—and he did not know where such an opinion was gained.

President Gignoux stated that Mr. Wakefield assured him that he would investigate all sides of the question, and up to this moment he thought he had done so.

Mr. Farington, proceeding, gave a history of the controversy between the supervisors and himself on the matter, saying the theory might be all right, but the publication was an absolute waste of money so far as Honolulu was concerned, the conditions being different from those of San Francisco, Los Angeles and Denver, whose examples Supervisor Murray quoted. At the meeting with the supervisors, they were unable to show good reasons for the expenditure especially in view of the many road improvements they had to sidetrack for want of money Deputy Attorney Milverton testified that the newspapers never declined to publish any matter, however lengthy in text, requested by the law department, and Mr. Murray was unable to cite a single instance where the papers had refused to publish any specific intelligence of the board. He did not want to center all the blame on Murray for the scheme. The combination was Murray, McClellan, Kruger and Amana.

Representative At Washington.

President Gignoux stated that the directors had nothing to propose regarding the appointment of a representative of the association at Washington. They could get along very well without one until they knew who was going to be the delegate.

A resolution was passed expressing appreciation of the services of Mr. McClellan the retired representative at Washington, and on motion of Mr. Brasch it was ordered that an engrossed copy of the resolution be sent to Mr. McClellan as a memento.

FRIDAY.....OCTOBER 18, 1912

The heart will break, yet broken, live on.—J. Q. Adams.

BOOMERANGING DOWSETT

Encouraging split-ticket voting by means of an irresponsible and non-representative "straw vote" is a dangerous kind of politics to play, and just now this kind of politics is a political boomerang.

The Republican senatorial ticket is far and away the best offered to the voters, and it is the kind of a ticket that the STAR-BULLETIN gladly advises the voters to take "straight". Yet the morning paper, while supporting this senatorial ticket, is perhaps unconsciously helping to create a most mischievous situation.

There is such a thing as making a little tin god of one absorbing idea and this split-ticket idea is too likely to become the little tin god. Now in the estimation of this paper the valid reason for refusing to support a political candidate is that the candidate is either personally unfit for office or that he is by virtue of certain business or other affiliations which are manifestly against community interest or progress, tied up so that he cannot put forward his sincerest efforts on behalf of all the people. Acting on this earnest belief, the STAR-BULLETIN'S support in this campaign is cordially given to men who measure up to the standard of personal efficiency and ability to serve the people, and on no other basis does this paper give its support.

In fostering the split-ticket idea generally, without regard to its effects on worthy candidates, the first result is likely to be a defeat of very good men. For instance, on the Republican senatorial ticket is A. S. Kaleiopu, an intelligent, active, experienced Hawaiian, well worth supporting by every voter in the Third senatorial district. Yet the encouragement of this split-ticket fetich is bound to result in increasing haole support for Coke or Wirtz, probably Coke, on the Democratic ticket and a loss of haole support for Kaleiopu. Against Coke personally the STAR-BULLETIN has no fight to make. He is popular around town.

But even his most ardent supporters will hardly claim him superior to the Republican candidates, and the Democratic senatorial ticket as a whole stands no comparison with that of the Republicans.

Now the practical result of the split-ticket irritation is going to be a loss for Kaleiopu among the haoles, where he is probably not so well known as Coke. But the haoles are outnumbered two to one in the vote on this island, and any splitting of the ticket on Kaleiopu in the haole precincts will be a terrific boomerang on the haole candidates in the heavily-voting Hawaiian precincts. It would probably mean the defeat of Dowsett, which would be a real misfortune for the next senate.

A vote for Coke is a vote against Dowsett, and those who support Dowsett should realize it. An attack on Kaleiopu, even though unintentional, is an attack on Dowsett, and it should be stopped.

MISREPRESENTATION

The kind of misrepresentation that Hawaii too often receives, and the kind of misrepresentation that should be combated with every power of publicity that Hawaii possesses, is contained in a letter received this week by a local businessman from a Philadelphia firm. The firm wrote to him:

"We regret to note from the information contained in the daily press that several cases of bubonic plague have appeared in your country."

This was followed by an advertisement of a disinfectant.

The true facts about plague in Hawaii are easily procurable from an unimpeachable source, the report of the United States Public Health Service for September. This report says:

"During the week ended August 3, 1912, there were examined at Hilo 548 rats and mongoose, and at Honokaa 1,431. During the week ended August 10, 1912, there were examined at Hilo 805 rats and mongoose, and at Honokaa 1,784. No plague infection was found.

"At Honolulu during the week ended August 3, 1912, there were examined 251 rats, and during the week ended August 10, 1912, there were examined 230 rats. No plague-infected rat was found.

"The last case of human plague occurred at Honokaa March 14, 1912. The last plague-infected rat was found between Honokaa and Kapulena April 24, 1912."

The report in the mainland press probably arose from orders given last month for vigilance all over the country in guarding against plague. Hawaiian ports, in common with those of the rest of the United States, were mentioned in dispatches from Washington. As a matter of fact, the report shows that not a single plague-infected rat has recently been found.

CHINA'S PARTIES COALESCE

Not a little of the inefficiency of the recently created republic of China must be attributed to excessive factionalism of partizans and natural leaders during the first crucial months of the new epoch, says an exchange. It has contributed to the difficulties of Yuan Shih Kai as president in his dealings with cabinet and council and it has divided the nation when the nation most needed to be united in a firm and consistent foreign policy. Still the situation caused by this rivalry might have been far worse, and would have had it had any support from the very ablest of the convinced Republicans and Liberals. Fortunately as the time draws near when the provisional government must give way to a permanent one, and the first elections be held under the restricted franchise, a better temper characterizes the people. The factions are drawing together so that the natural and distinct alignment of two strong parties bids fair to be accomplished at a not distant date.

If the grouping of the nationalists is perfected, the Kuo Min Tang party, led by Dr. Sun Yat Sen, will represent the more democratic and decentralized ideal of government, with emphasis on the autonomy of the provinces and power at Peking reduced to a minimum. Over against this company will be the Kung Hy Tang party, led by Gen. Li Yuan-hung, which is for centralization of power at the capital and for emphasis on national rather than provincial rights and power. Round about these larger groups will stand the smaller, which are ultra-conservative and radical; but the shaping of national history will rest with the major combatants.

The brief but revealing experience that Yuan Shih Kai and successive prime ministers already have had with coalition ministries makes it clear that the sooner the line of demarcation is clean cut the better; and the sooner responsible party government comes the steadier will be the process of national evolution.

Sheriff Jarrett has gone on a political tour of the island, leaving his department in charge of Deputy Rose. However, that is nothing exceptional for "Our Bill". He often leaves the department to be run by his deputies; in fact, Rose may justly be regarded as the brains of the police administration. It is no disparagement to Charles Coster, the Republican nominee for deputy sheriff, to say that he has a hard fight on his hands to beat Rose. Coster would make an excellent deputy sheriff, as he is making an excellent head of the garbage department, but Rose has shown considerably more efficiency than Jarrett and considerably more idea of what fitness for duty constitutes.

Judge Dole is supporting Robert Parker for sheriff because he believes in a competent, temperate and brave head of the police department. Judge Dole is one of those who is not fooled by the hurrah-boys stuff the Democrats have been shouting about Jarrett for four years. Jarrett's administration has been steadily growing more lax and if he is elected again, the department will continue to degenerate and disintegrate for two years more.

Supervisor Kruger denies that he is knifing any Republican candidates, but admits he is supporting James L. Coke, Democrat. Hanawaki's logic may be satisfactory to him, but hardly to the Republican leaders.

Now that the water famine has struck Schofield, that old adage of leading a horse to it hardly applies.

It was an entirely safe guess that Tom Lawson would get into the campaign fund sensation sooner or later.

The Carlsmith-Ferry imbroglio again reminds us that Hilo can always stir up a row in dull times.

Having fought several battles in the last week, Turkey declared war yesterday.

PERSONALITIES

NORMAN E. GEDGE, secretary and treasurer of the Inter-Island Steamship Company, is staying at the St. Francis, registered from Honolulu.—Call.

LEON STRAUS met congratulations at every corner and all along the line yesterday on the small person who has arrived in his family. Mother and babe doing splendidly.

MR. AND MRS. THOMAS CUSHING and Miss Carmen Ghirardelli will leave this week for a trip to Honolulu. Clarence Reed will accompany the party to the islands.—Call.

WALTER B. MALING, formerly of the local postoffice and later deputy district clerk in the United States court at San Francisco, has been appointed chief clerk to succeed James P. Brown, according to news received by his friends here. He is a nephew of Senator George C. Perkins.

ROY PATNOT came down from San Francisco last night, summoned home by the illness of one of his children, who is now on the road to recovery after an attack of bronchitis. He will return to the city this evening. Mr. Patnot will leave soon for the Hawaiian islands, where he will set up a number of big trucks that will be shipped to the islands from the city.—Visalia (Cal.) Times.

WILL HAGAN returned from San Jose yesterday morning by auto, having looked after the safe arrival at that point of Dr. and Mrs. Chilson. Dr. Chilson was troubled with a severe spell of illness on the trip but was feeling much better when Hagan departed. In the interest of the doctors' health a trip is being planned to the Hawaiian islands in which Mrs. Chilson will join.—Tulare (Cal.) Advance.

MISS EFFIE L. CRAIG, who came here about a year ago from Canada, and who has been chosen as head nurse for Palama Settlement, yesterday informed James A. Rath that she would accept the position. The settlement is very fortunate in securing her capable services, as it is the general belief that no better executive nurse could have been obtained. She is a general favorite among the nurses, and they are well pleased with Mr. Rath's choice.

WORLD-TOURING TEAM

the students in the state of California, but left this work at the urgent request of Mr. Smith.

Movement of Great Importance.

Speaking in regard to the Men and Religion Movement, Mr. Holmes made the following statement this morning:

"On the completion of the Men and Religion Campaign in the States some time ago, the request come to Fred B. Smith, who is the leader of religious work in the National Association, to visit other lands and deliver the message and the method of the movement, and he decided, in company with Raymond Robins and the International Quartet, to give the first six months of 1913 to a world tour. This tour will be commenced with a great farewell rally at Carnegie Hall, New York, and the first campaign of the team will be held at Honolulu, January 23 to 30. Other missionary lands will then be visited, including China, Japan, Korea, and the Philippines, and after visiting these countries, Australia and South Africa, reaching England for the managing of the campaign of Great Britain.

"The people will be given the chance to hear two of the strongest speakers and two of the most peculiar characters in American religious life on the platform today. F. B. Smith has, for twenty-five years, been secretary of religious work of the International Association of the Y. M. C. A. His genius for leadership and his power of originality has largely made the American campaign. Raymond Robins, who is the social service expert of the team, is the man who has had a remarkable career, and now, although he made a moderate fortune in Alaska in the early days, lives in a Chicago tenement in order to help in the social uplift of the people.

Origin of Work.

"The origin of this movement came about in a remarkable way. Mr. Smith convened a meeting of the men's religious organizations in North America in regard to a great forward movement for men and boys. When the gathering met it was discovered that no less than three of these movements were in their own ranks and were considering some such proposal. The plan for the movement met with unanimous approval, and for two years the organization proceeded which culminated in the campaign for eight months commencing in September, 1911. Great eight-day campaigns were held in seventy-two cities, and each of these cities in turn organized a campaign in surrounding cities in no less than one thousand five hundred places. Thirty thousand men served on committees during these campaigns.

"There are five messages in the Men and Religion Forward Movement, each of which have emphasized singly, but very seldom have they been emphasized together. It is a six-fold message—an attempt to present the campaign progress of Christianity, mainly, boys work, social service, evangelism, missions, and Bible the study. The movement brings out the fundamental exercises which the church occupies in the community, and it seeks to secure the attendance of all the members of the church at institutes in order that they may receive information along the latest lines in the work for boys and men. Some men in the past, for instance in social service, have not come into contact with the church because that has not been included in the church's program. This movement stands for a co-operation of efforts, so that all men shall get together in presenting one united front for the promotion of righteousness.

"One of the great speakers at the conservation in Carnegie Hall decided that the Men and Religion Movement had chartered afresh the career of Christians. That congress was composed of fourteen hundred of the most respected Christian laymen of Canada and the United States, who for five days discussed men's work in the church and also the unsolveable problems of the church. A number of commissions were appointed consisting of leading church men and laymen to make an investigation into certain church problems, and the reports of these commissions were read at the conservation congress. The reports were based on Christian publicity, which concerns the newspaper publication of Christian work. No less a person than Dr. Talcott Williams, head of the Pullitzer school of journalism in Philadelphia, and now of Columbia University, was the leading man in this emphasis. There were reports on the churches, boys work, evangelism, bible study, missions, and social service. These reports have now been published, and will be by far the best literature on these subjects in many years.

"In short, the message of the Men and Religion Forward Movement is to bring all the men of the churches together in a strong and determined attitude to promote the work of the Kingdom of God.

Work Here In Co-operation.

"Mr. Smith and Mr. Robins will be delegated to cooperate with all the Christian and social agencies in Honolulu during their visit here, and to secure even greater success than in the past. Mass meetings of men will be held with the evangelistic objective and two institutes will be conducted daily to give information on the latest work for men and boys. All classes of the community will be reached if possible. Mr. Robins is a labor union man and will endeavor to touch the great mass of men that belong to the trade unions."

One of the attractive features that will accompany Messrs. Smith and Robins on their tour will be the International Quartet, perhaps the greatest aggregation ever gotten together in the promotion of Christianity. Some of the members of this organization have been singing together for the past twenty years and there is a real treat in store for the music lovers of Honolulu.

It should be remembered that this campaign is largely a laymen's movement. It is the awakening of interest in work at home corresponding to the interest in foreign work expressed in the laymen's missionary movement.

LITTLE INTERVIEWS

SUPERVISOR KRUGER — Whoever told the Star-Bulletin that I am working against the Republican ticket or Jack Dowsett is mistaken. I am working for the ticket. I am going to vote for Jim Coke because hes a friend of mine, but it's not Dowsett I'm going to cut—it's Kaleiopu. Yes, Harry Murray is against Paris, but I'm not. 'Nother thing—I am not going to run for supervisors two years from now. I know better. If I said that I was going to run, it was only as a joke.

W. R. FARRINGTON—My remarks at the meeting of Republican delegates were intended to convey my belief that the time had come for appealing to the voters on the basis of governmental efficiency. I believe it is nonsense to assume that the man who works on the waterfront does not understand and appreciate efficiency in public office just as well as the man in the business house, if the subject is presented to him in terms of his business or work-a-day environment. We've got to get down to talking the facts to the electorate some day and the sooner we begin the better for all concerned. In my opinion there has been too much of the assumption that the average workingman doesn't understand efficiency. He does. There's no place on earth where a natural-born Mutt is more quickly and properly rated than among the average workingmen. They have only to apply that same principle to government and we shall have good government, which is in the final analysis efficient government.

IN THE WOMAN'S WORLD

SUFFRAGISTS HOLD SPECIAL MEETING; PLANS FOR FUTURE

Under Leadership of Mrs. J. M. Dowsett Interest Is Rapidly Increasing

A special meeting of the women who are interested in woman's suffrage in Honolulu was called at the home of Mrs. J. M. Dowsett yesterday afternoon. The purpose of this meeting was to adopt a constitution and by-laws.

The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. J. M. Dowsett, and prayer was offered by Mrs. Sarah Ka'-li, the vice president. Though there are but few foreign-born women here who are as yet actively interested in this cause, the constitution and by-laws were read both in English and in Hawaiian.

The first article of the constitution says that the suffrage organization here shall be called the National Women's Equal Suffrage Association of Hawaii. The Hawaiian women are anxious to vote and they are ready to do all they can to gain equal suffrage. One of the members said yesterday that up to the present time the native women have not known just what steps to take and therefore have made no progress but she said that with Mrs. Dowsett as the president they feel that the cause will surely advance. All of the members are anxious to be active and want to arouse interest among all of the women in the city irrespective of nationality.

The National Womans' Equal Suffrage Association of Hawaii is to have eight officers — the president, two vice presidents, a recording secretary, a corresponding secretary, a translating secretary, a treasurer and an editor of the official organ. The constitution is complete and prepares for the years to come. It is well drafted and the women themselves are satisfied with it.

One of the first steps the suffragists are to take is the house-to-house canvassing in the different precincts. This will be done so that some interest may be awakened in the Hawaiian women who have up to this time shown little interest in suffrage. Also a committee is soon to go around the island of Oahu with the purpose of interesting the women in the Koolau district.

The women in Honolulu are sure to vote some time, and they hope that that sometime will not be very far off. They are earnest, active suffragists, not suffragettes. There is a vast difference in the meaning of these two words, and they are often confused by the people. The Pankhursts, who have been in the limelight for some time and are known as window-smashers, and who do not hesitate to assault men, are suffragettes. They believe in the militant suffrage. This sort of thing does not awaken sympathy but, on the contrary, arouses antagonism, regardless of the fact that every great political reform has been brought about by militant means. The women of America and the women of Hawaii are suffragists. They want to vote because they feel that it is their right but they have no desire whatever to destroy property or people.

The women are not working for suffrage through any selfish motive but for the upliftment of the people and for a better and greater Hawaii.

DESCENDANT OF OLD SPAIN COMES TO HONOLULU

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Sept. 30.—Mrs. Rudecinda F. S. de Dodson, who, with her son, Carlos, sailed Wednesday on the Matson liner Wilhelmina for Honolulu, is a member of one of the oldest Spanish families of the coast — a family which has possessed considerable property in this section since early days.

Mrs. Dodson now contemplates purchasing a portion of the beautiful estate formerly owned by the late Admiral Beckley, at Waikiki beach, and negotiations are already under way.

A mansion home is to be built on the property, and Mrs. Dodson will reside there during the winters. Her son expects to finish his education in the islands, and goes now to enter the College of Hawaii.

MAUI NOTES

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence]

WAILUKU, Oct. 15.—The Baldwin House kindergarten at Lahaina has opened most successfully this fall. Over 80 children of all ages have been enrolled. This is a large number for the kindergarten. It receives most hearty support from all the parents of Lahaina. The larger proportion this year is, as usual, from the Japanese.

H. B. Penhallow, Geo. P. Cooke and some others nominated at the recent Republican convention held at Wailuku spent a day or two on the Lahaina side of Maui in the campaign. They leave on Wednesday this week in company with still more of the politicians for Hana and vicinity. The trip will take at least seven days.

Hugh Howell escorted the Maui Loan Commission through the Olinda-Kula pipe-line region last Sunday. It was an all-day ride. The party returned to Wailuku late in the evening.

Mrs. James C. Foss, Jr., left on Saturday's Lurline for an extended vacation on the coast.

Mrs. George P. Cooke with her three children is visiting her brother's family, Rev. and Mrs. Henry P. Judd, of Kahului.

PONY ACT IS REAL WINNER

"Dat Til pony" as John Hedges colored gentleman, called it, was the star of the show at the Liberty theatre last night, when Leon Marris' wrestling ponies were featured on a bill full of good things.

Three Shetlands, handsome animals, too, Mr. Leon Morris and the aforesaid John Hedges, make up the pony act, which is one of the best animal turns ever seen here. The ponies are finely trained, and they seem to enjoy the performance just as much as the people in the house.

Mistah Hedges is the gentleman who undertakes to throw the ponies, catch-as-catch can, and he has his hands full. While he is tackling the bigger equine, the "Li'l feller" comes around and bites him, butts him, kicks him and otherwise maltreats him. The comedy is fast and furious.

The best thing about this act is that it has a human flavor even to what the ponies do. It is a big winner with the children.

The La Boheme trio, the Lancaster Opera Company and the Patterson art models round out a generous bill.

At a meeting of the Associated Physicians of Song Island, 200 prominent doctors of Brooklyn and Long Island voluntarily pledged their bodies after death to the dissecting table.

It is difficult to convince a self-made man that he has cheated himself.

ISLAND TOUR FOR REPUBLICANS

There will be something doing at Waialua tomorrow night. The regular Republican nominees and their lieutenants will assemble in the headquarters tomorrow morning, and, after receiving instructions from the leaders, will proceed to Kahana, where they will have a heart-to-heart talk with the electorate there.

Leaving there, they will proceed to Waialua, arriving there in time to settle down before addressing one of the mass meetings arranged for tomorrow night.

Oscar P. Cox, an old warhorse in politics, will be chairman of the meeting, and, judging from the reports received today from Waialua, it is expected that the meeting will be a great success. The candidates will return after the meeting.

BANANAS AND POI DEMOCRATIC SUBJECTS

In speeches at a meeting of voters assembled last night at the railroad depot, the Democratic candidates and runners attacked the Republican administration most vigorously. The speakers said that during the banana-mosquito-poi campaign, the Hawaiians suffered considerably. Their homes, they said, were entered by the health authorities without authority at law, and their banana trees destroyed without consulting the owners.

G. K. Keawehaku asserted that the health authorities practically starved the Hawaiians when they ordered the Chinese poi shops closed, and compelled them to buy the poi from the Kalihi poi factory.

The speakers were listened to attentively by the five hundred people present.

SPRECKELS SUIT ESTABLISHES POINT

Judge Says Wife Has No Vested Interest in Husband's Estate

SAN FRANCISCO—A new interpretation was given yesterday to the law regarding a wife's community interest in her husband's property by Attorney Peter F. Dunne in Superior Judge J. M. Seawell's court, where he argued in behalf of John D. and Adolph Spreckels' demurrer which they had interposed to a suit brought against them by Rudolph and Claus A. Spreckels and their sister Emma Ferris of England.

The suit which was filed last December seeks to recover from John D. and Adolph Spreckels stocks and bonds aggregating $9,000,000 which were presented to them by their father, Claus Spreckels, during the lifetime. In addition the complainants ask for the income of these stocks and bonds from the time of the presentation which would approximate a total of $14,000,000 sued for.

The gifts were made between 1898 and 1905, during which time Rudolph and Claus and Emma Ferris were estranged from their father. During this time John and Adolph co-operated with their father in the management of his sugar interests.

It is claimed by the three plaintiffs that their father was worth $36,000,000 prior to 1897 and that he gave $26,000,000 to the defendants between that date and his death in December, 1908. The plaintiffs claim that a part of this, or the amount sued for, belonged to their mother as her community interest in their father's estate.

When the mother died, shortly after her husband, she bequeathed the remaining $10,000,000 left by her husband to Rudolph and Claus and Emma Ferris. She excluded John D. and Adolph, as had her husband, and on the same ground that ample provision had been made for them.

John D. and Adolph contested the will, which was broken in the Superior Court, but upheld on appeal to the Supreme Court. Claus, Rudolph and their sister then brought the present suit to have returned to their mother's estate her alleged community interest share of the gifts to their brothers.

Attorney Dunne declared yesterday that there was no such thing as a wife having a vested interest in her husband's estate; that it was merely an expectancy.

The case was continued until 10 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Consignments from six steamers on the Atlantic side, containing holiday goods, will arrive here in the steamer Alaskan on December 10. So much freight coming in one slam will congest the wharves and give merchants the busy time of their lives.

THE TRUTH ABOUT SPORT IS NEVER A KNOCK

'SMOKY JOE' WOOD SEEMS TO HAVE BEEN HERO OF THE SERIES

Every Contest for the World's Baseball Title Brings Some Individual Player Into the Spotlight and This Year the Boston Hurler Seems to Have Been Elected — Pitcher This Year, Batter Last

Every world's series must have its hero. That's a well established rule, for year after year, when the respective champions of the National and American leagues have come together in the final struggle there has been some one player who has stood in the limelight and either pitched his team to victory, or batted the everlasting spots out of the ball.

Who is the hero of the series just completed? Local fans haven't quite made up their minds on this point, for the press dispatches haven't gone very fully into the individual playing, and there may have been stellar feats that Honolulu will not know of until the mainland papers arrive. However, it is a good guess that "Smoky Joe" Wood comes as near being a hero as any of the Boston players. Probably pitching honors rested between him and Rube Marquard, but a losing team doesn't talk much about its heros. At that, "Big Six" seems to have pitched as well as any of them, but certainly the luck broke against him this series, his team cracking behind him at crucial moments.

Presuming then that Boston inclines to hero worship, and that Joe Wood is crowned,

He will be feted, interviewed, photographed, receive offers for theatrical engagement, be asked to write a book of some kind or other and may even marry him, provided he is single. There will be all kinds of ways for him to make money, provided he is willing to give part of his money derived from the series to the devisor of the scheme into which he is asked to enter.

A glance at world's series stars of the past is interesting, for in recent years, with the exception of 1908, when the Chicago Nationals scored their second victory over the Detroit Americans, there has been a hero. In 1908, there was no individual to carry off the honors as it was the wonderful team work of the Cubs that carried them through the series to fame.

Baker Starred Last Year.

There was no difficulty attached to picking out the hero of the World's Series last year between the Giants and the Philadelphia Americans. The individual who slammed his way into the limelight was John Franklin Baker who won the series for his club with his wonderful batting, two remarkable home runs.

The first of Baker's drives came in the second game of the series at Philadelphia. The Giants had won the first battle and the second was being played in Slowtown. Plank, the veteran hurler, was opposed by Rube Marquard, the sensational southpaw, and the game was a nerve racking affair with the score tied 1 to 1 in the sixth inning. Both hurlers were performing wonderfully, but the general opinion was that the veteran Plank would lose out. In fact, there was no telling when Plank would crack under the severe strain and in the sixth inning, with two men out, Baker took the first step up the ladder of fame by driving the ball over the fence for a home run thus giving the Athletics their first victory.

While this hit was dramatic enough Baker's drive the following day was even a more notable feat. The Giants were leading the Athletics by a score of 1 to 0 and one out in the ninth inning it looked as though the National League pennant winners would defeat the Philadelphians. Baker came to bat and he faced Mathewson, the greatest twirler in the senior league. Matty had in mind the feat Baker accomplished the previous day and he used all the trick and craft at his command However, Baker was not to be outwitted and he caught one of Mathewson's shoots and drove it into the grand stand for a home, run, tieing the score. In extra innings the Athletics won and for the first time Mathewson tasted defeat in a World's Series game.

Coombs Featured 1910 series.

In 1910 it was the work of a pitcher that featured the World's Series. Jack Coombs, one of Connie Mack's twirling stars, was in the limelight throughout the series and it was his great pitching that earned victory for the American leaguers. Coombs took the measure of the Chicago Cubs in three of the four games. However, there had already been pitchers who had accomplished this same feat. They were Mathewson and Adams.

While Mathewson was already the greatest hurler in the National League, "Babe" Adams gained fame in the 1909 series by defeating the Detroit Americans three times, and winning the world's title for the Pirates. Adams was practically a newcomer and unknown in the big league and his triumph was even greater than that of other pitchers. When the series started it was generally believed that the Pirates would not have a chance as the Detroit Tigers were such heavy hitters that no pitcher would be able to stand up against them. However, the base ball fraternity received a big surprise when Adams, who, was really unknown, was sent in against theTigers He came out of the fray victorious and on two other occasions the pitcher, whom everybody had failed to even give a thought, conquered the American leaguers. It was Adams who spiked the guns of Cobb, Crawford, Delahanty, and the other Tigers.

Hit-and-Run Play Squashed.

During the World's Series in 1907 it was Johnny King's catching and ability to outguess his opponents that won for the Cubs. Cobb, Crawford, Rossman and Davy Jones were especially skilled in the hit-and-run play. It was with the aid of this play that Detroit expected to defeat the Cubs, but the Tigers reckoned without Kling.

In executing the hit-and-run play it is necessary that the catcher be fooled for if he is wise he can break up the play. Had the Tigers been able to fool Kling they would have been able to win the title, but Kling outguessed them on every occasion and nipped the play in the bud by simply signaling for a wasted ball, that is a down pitch that is too far out for the batter to hit, and invariably catching the base runner. Another way of breaking up this play is to allow the man at bat to hit the ball. This is done by having the ball pitched where it is bound to be hit to a certain spot and have the fielders waiting for the ball. However, this is liable to fail and has fallen through on more than one occasion. The safest way is the wide ball system. By breaking up their favorite play the Tigers were deprived of the one thing that stood between them and victory.

Utility Player the Hero.

One of the great achievements of a utility player was the success attained by George Rohe in 1906 in the series between the Chicago American and Chicago National League teams. He would never have got into the series had it not been that Tannehill was injured, which made it necessary to put Rohe in at third. In the first game of the series the score was tied and Rohe drove in the winning run with a triple. Once more Rohe arose to the occasion in the third game when he pulled out another triple, scoring three runners as the bases were full at the time he got his hit. This was all the scoring done in the game as Ed Walsh blanked the Cubs. However, Rohe never did anything worthy of note after thatand was carried through the season of 1907, but he hit soo poorly that in 1908 he was relegated to the minors.

In 1905 Mathewson created a sensation by shutting out the Athletics three times, a record that has never been equaled. Dineen and Young of the Boston Americans shared the honors between them in the first World's Series between National and American League teams when Boston defeated the Pirates.

Some men find it easier to make a good living than to make good.

Self-control is the one thing a man always has until he needs it.

When it comes to making a rapid change of opinion every woman is an expert.

GOLF PLAY FOR THE PRESIDENT'S TROPHY TOMORROW

Only two more chances for the Country Club golfers to better their scores in competition for the president's trophy, played for on the third Saturday and following Sunday of each month. Play will close next month, and it's probable that the devotees of iron and driver will be out in force tomorrow and Sunday. The course is in fine shape, and with last Sunday rather an off day for scoring, as was proved by the returns of the Manoa cup competition, the regulars are expected to "come back" this week and turn in some really good cards.

To date J. I. B. Greig is low man on the president's trophy, with a net 73. It is hardly likely that he will better this score, for since it was made his handicap has been cut from 10 to 3.

POLO AGAIN HOLDS SWAY AT MOANALUA

Tomorrow afternoon and Monday polo games are to be played at Moanalua, and both should prove rattling good exhibitions of the game.

Special interest attaches to these matches, because they will bring out as a team the four men who are going to the Coast next year to represent Hawaii in the championship tournament at Coronado. Frank Baldwin arrived from Maui this morning, and a string of ten ponies proceeded him by three days, all coming through in good condition. With Baldwin is David Fleming, the crack Maui back, who will play in the practice games, although he can not find the time to make the trip to California.

Tomorrow Arthur Rice, Harold Castle, Walter Dillingham and Frank Baldwin will play together in the order named against the strongest opposition that can be picked from the local players, reinforced by David Fleming at back. The Hawaii team will have a hard job to defeat this combination, and the game should be well worth seeing.

When the local players go to the Coast they will be robbed of the English cracks, for word has just been received that Lord Tweedmouth's players will not be able to go to California this year.

A Los Angeles dispatch of October 10 says:

"The trouble in the Balkan states will prevent the participation of British players in the polo tournament planned for Southern California.

"Walter H. Duppe, a polo player of Los Angeles and Coronado, it became known today, has received a cablegram from Lord Tweedmouth, announcing that he and other British players, including Lord Reginald Herbert, Lord Alstair Robert Innes-Ker and Viscount Levenson-Gower, who have participated in polo tournaments in California two winters, would be unable to come this season.

"All are officers in the British army and Lord Tweedmouth explained in the cablegram, just after they had completed arrangements to sail for America, they received orders to report to their regiments and to hold themselves ready for all eventualities.

WHY LEAVE HIM IN?

A Washington fan, inclined to rhyme, makes answer to a few verses recently published chiding the man who clamors "Take Him Out," when a pitcher is losing. He admits he yells "Take Him Out" and thus makes his defense:

So I'm a triple-plated cheese,
A piffling, sneaking snide—
Foolmaniac, if you please,
Whom all good folks deride.
They class me as a yellow cad—
A futile, vicious lout
Since that sad day when Bill went bad
And I yelled, "Take him out!"

I know he tried with all he had
But that was not enough.
So why not lift him for a lad
Who might display the stuff?
Any guy whose goods are musty
Must step right down and out,
And has no right to get crusty
When you holler, "Take him out!"

'Tis thus we find it throughout life
In all its varied dealings.
Those who mingle in the strife
Can't stop to spare one's feelings.
It's touch to pass one who has stood
Valiant on the verge of rout,
But when it's for the general good—
Take him out! Take him out!

HAWAII - CHINESE GAME ALL THE TALK NOW

Tomorrow's Battle Will Give the Fans a Chance to Size up Class of Traveling Players Who Are Home Again

CAPTAIN ALBERT AKANA.

Game—All-Chinese vs. Hawaiis.
Time—Saturday, 3 p. m.
Place—Athletic Park.
Captains—Albert Akana, All-Chinese; David Desha, Hawaii.
Seat Sale at E. O. Hall & Son.

Every necessary detail is now completed for the game to be played tomorrow afternoon at Athletic Park, when the special series between one of the Oahu League teams and the recently returned Chinese Stars will commence. There is perhaps no other game which has attracted so much attention among baseball enthusiasts as this game in which the Chinese and the Hawaiis will be the principals.

Following the announcement that one hundred and twenty out of the one hundred and forty passengers who came down on the Sierra from the coast will turn out to see the Chinese boys perform, some of the prominent Chinese firms last night promised to let their employes off so that they can see how much Trainer Sam Hop has done for his boys. There will be quite a number of Chinese ladies out to cheer for their favorites. Whether the versatile Sam Hop or Handsome Luck Yee will be the cynosure of the fair sex cannot be told at this time, but "Chief" Akana will be there with his famous Indian yells which have rattled many a college twirler.

For the last four days, Trainer Sam Hop has worked like a Trojan to get his boys in shape. The largest crowd was out last night to get the dope on the team, which went through all kinds of stunts before Marcallino's Stars took the field. Little Vernon Ayau at short was the idol of the fans, and the way he swung with that heavy long bat brought back from Detroit just made them wonder.

"Who manufactures funny stories that my team is busted up?" asked Trainer Sam Hop. "You bet I get same old team. S'pose Chicago University take away Third Baseman Lai Tin and Centerfielder Sing Ho enter University of Wisconsin, then I lose two star players. You know Michigan professionals tried very hard to make my other crack players sign good contracts—Ayau, Akana, Kan Yen, Apau, Luck Yee— but I no kick now, for all my players stick by me."

It is now certain that the fans will be rewarded by seeing some unknown youngsters shine—some who went with the team as utility men, but who have crowded the regulars out of their berths. Kan Yen, who, during the first ten games was on the bench, developed into a wonderful catcher, nolding down the position in the last one hundred odd games. Luck Yee, who was taken along as mascot, bepitch some of his assorted curves topitch some of his asorted curves tomorrow.

WOMAN CONDUCTORS ON PHILADELPHIA CARS

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 5.—The Philadelphia Rapid Transit company is experimenting with women conductors on its new "pay as you enter" cars. Two of the ticket sellers from the Market street elevated were detailed to act as conductors on the cars today. The superintendent of the divisions where the girls were tried is reported to be well pleased over the showing. The chief aim of the company is to do away with as many of the causes of labor difficulties as possible by employing women to do half the work formerly done by men.

The harder a woman is to please the less a man will try.

JOE WOOD SIX YEARS IN GAME.

"Smoky Joe" Wood has been in baseball six years and is only 23 years old. He played with the Hutchinson, Kas., team in 1907, and in 1908 performed with such good grace for the Kansas City nine that Boston purchased him. For the last five years Wood has been with the Red Sox. He started playing ball with the Sox when he was 18 years of age. Wood lives in Parker Glenn, Pa., and bats and pitches right-handed. He stands 5 feet 11 inches in height and weighs 180 pounds. His record follows:

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE BIG BALL SERIES

The San Francisco papers, containing pages of detail of the first four games of the world's series, arrived this morning. Every point of every game is exhaustively covered, and from the mass of description a few highlights of each game stand out.

Here are some of the exciting features of the first four games:

NEW YORK, October 8.—The Boston Americans overcame the New York Nationals by 4 to 3 today, before more than 35,000 persons in the first game of the world's series.

The contest was nip and tuck all the way. The New Yorks made a thrilling rally in the ninth inning, when they nearly tied the score, but "Smoky Joe" Wood's bewildering speed turned two New York batters back to the bench on strikes for the last two put outs, and the Bostons carried off the honors.

Rarely, if ever, has any world's series provided such a dramatic finish. Two runs behind, the New York supporters had given up hope. Hundreds were leaving the stands, when Merkle sent a single whistling to the outfield after one man was out. Even then the chance of tying the score seemed remote, but a Texas leaguer by Herzog, followed quickly by a smoking hit by the Indian, Meyers, which sent Merkle home, put the stands in a flame of excitement.

With locals on second and third, thousands stood in their seats and yelled. Fletcher swung his bat nervously at the plate, while Joe Wood seemed anxious. The Boston twirler patted the grass, hitched his belt, rubbed the ball, and adjusted his cap. This delay unsettled Fletcher, and he swung futilely at Wood's fast breaking shoots three times and went back to the bench.

Crandall, strong man in the pinch, came up. Wood put over two strikes and then three balls. The pitcher drew his arm back and shot over a high, fast inshoot. Crandall swung, missed it by an inch, and the game was over.

BOSTON, Mass., October 9.—The second lap in the race for the world's diamond title was not settled today. After eleven furious rounds during which fortune shifted from the Red Sox to the Giants and back to the Red Sox amid the wildest kind of scenes, the fight was called on account of darkness with the count 6 and 6. Not a thing was left undone by the respective leaders to overcome the enemy, but all the cleverness and aggressiveness went for naught. The principals will have to resume their fight here again tomorrow.

The world's series crowd never had a greater opportunity to howl and then howl some more over the unexpected. All the way it seemed a case of one team getting an advantage only to have the other come up and even matters. Time and again this occurred but This Speaker eclipsed everything in the tenth when he lammed out a drive to the fence and bodily went around to the plate much to the surprise of the wobbly Giants. He scored because an error resulted from his daring and the run was the last of the day, saving Boston from defeat.

Three home twirlers were called in to face the Giants during the course of the eleven-inning tussle. Against this trio Mathewson toiled through the afternoon, and while his famed "fade-away" got its bumps from the Red Sox sluggers, the veteran did admirably in pinches. Repeatedly home admirers rose to cheer the work of the old-time heaver. He did as he usually does, work harder when in trouble, and he was in these situations often because of the rank ball played by McGraw's men. The Red Sox were at least victorious in that they put Mattey out of the way without defeat and showed more class an the National League kings.

Devore Starred.

BOSTON, October 10.—A wonderful running catch by the diminutive "Josh" Devore temporarily dimmed Boston's world-title hopes today, saved the Giants from defeat and evened the big series at one win apiece by the close score of 2 to 1. Over 34,000 rooters sat spellbound in the ninth, when, with runners on third and second, Stahl's men needed two to cop. A terrific crash went soaring on the line to right center, with Devore in pursuit. Two needed runs were already across the pan while the ball was still soaring on its way. There was a wild uproar, but it stilled suddenly as Devore, running toward the fence, leaped into the air for the pellet and retired Cady for the third and final out that meant victory for the New Yorkers.

The climax could not have been planned better by a cunning playwright. It was not unexpected, however, for McGraw chose to pin his faith on the uncertain "Rube" Marquard. The $11,000 southpaw did a beautiful job of his assignment, had the Red Sox doomed to defeat and a shutout until the ninth, and even then his blow-up might have been staved off but for the Giants' slipping after eight steady rounds and giving the home crew an opportunity to pull victory out of the fire at the eleventh hour.

The southpaw shoots of Marquard were coming in so fast and deceptive that only seven hits were registered by the American League champions. Five of these were scattered, one at a time through the first eight innings, while the remaining two were unloaded in the ninth for the blood-stirring finish that ninety-nine times out of a hundred would have been successful, considering the natures of the men who had a hand in the affair. These are Marquard and Devore.

The Fourth Game.

NEW YORK, October 11.—Joe Wood bundle of nerve and gameness, hurled his speed and cunning against the Giants again today and for the second time in the fight for the world title beat them on their own battlefield, the Boston band winning by a score of 3 to 1. "Smokey Joe" pitched a remarkable game with the weather in his favor and sensational support aield, but nevertheless he deserved to win decisively, for he was past master in the pinch and baffled the Giants as much by his brainy work as by his speed and curves.

McGraw, playing another longshot, sent "Jeff" Tesreau, his big "spitter," against the diminutive speed marvel, but the Giant sensation went the same way as in the opener of the series.

The crisis was reached in the seventh round. Up to this session Wood had bowled over batter after batter, helped here and there by sensational support, in which the great Heine Wagner featured. In the seventh, a single, followed by a double after two were out, sent home the only Giant run of the day, and the crowd went wild. McGraw in his desperation rushed around dealing out orders. McCormick suddenly appeared to bat for Tesreau, and delivered a wallop that was good for a hit, but Yerkes made a sensational one-hand stop behind second and a better peg that cut off the tying run at the plate.

This turn of affairs, when the chances looked good to put a crimp in nervy little Wood, partially showed up "Muggsy." In his moments of anguish he sputtered and fumed like a boiler under forced draft, hurling stuff at Manager Stahl. It was a mere "abibi." McGraw, coaching at third, waved a runner home from second on McCormick's hit. Little he reckoned on the one-hand stop by Yerkes, whose peg beat Fletcher to the plate by ten feet. It releived the tense situation.

McGraw and Stahl Clash.

McGraw, rowever, had to make his play. As Fletcher rushed into the plate with no chance to score, he drove against Cady, the Red Sox backstop, with the weight of a granite block. The idea was to get the ball from Cady's mitt, but it failed, even though the big backstop rolled over and over, with Fletcher's legs entangled with his. It was an exhibition of the old McGraw aggressiveness, and as Stahl walked in from first he told Fletcher as much. "Muggsy" heard and opened fire. Fletcher, goaded on by his manager, did the same. McGraw referred to Stahl as a "big Dutch stiff," but Jake only showed his winning smile and went his way.

McGraw even went so far as to start toward the Red Sox bench, but was halted and ordered to quit by Umpire Rigler.

PUNAHOU ABANDONS CLASS GAMES; HIGH TO PLAY STIFF PRACTICE

Coach Ricker of Oahu Doesn't Want to Break Up the Combination of His First Team So Soon Before the Interscholastic Series—Busy Days at McKinley—St. Lou's Has the Soccer Bug

For once, Punahou will not play her annual class games. The season has advanced so rapidly that the first big game is now only a matter of days and Coach Ricker wants to spend all the time possible developing the first team.

If the class games were held it would naturally break up the regular school teams for a time and the coach wants to avoid this so the idea of class games has been given up, at least for the time being. It is just possible that they might be played later.

Several very interesting scrimmage games have been played between the first and second and second and third teams. The first team always wins, of course, but some of the games are very hard fought and the "stuff" the players are made of it brought to light. The third team has a very light line, but the players are extremely plucky and they give the second a run for their money every time.

The coaches place great confidence in the men and they have every reason for doing so. They confidently state that they expect the Punahou teams to head the lists at the end of the season.

High School to Have Practice Game.

Coach Folsom of McKinley has made arrangements to give the first team a stiff practice game on Saturday. The second team is rather light and the first team finds playing it too easy and so the coach is going to give them something to do. Several outside men have consented to assist and these, together with the best players from the second, are going to make the first team work to gain a victory.

On account of the lightness of the second team players they have always had to play more on the defensive, and let the first take the offensive. Coach Folsom intends to even this up on Saturday and let the regulars take the defensive for awhile. It will probably be a very good game and one well worth seeing.

Soccer Bug Bites St. Louis.

St. Louis has been bitten by the soccer bug and has developed a very bad case. They boys are crazy about it and the only topic of conversation at the college is soccer.

The boys take a great intrest in the game an consequently a fine team is being developed. The entire afternoons are devoted to practice and many good scrimmage games between the first and second teams are the result.

Brother Elmer, who is coaching the team, expresses entire satisfaction in the results so far obtained, and is confident of a wining eleven.

UHLAN BREAKS WORLD'S RECORD

LEINGTON, Ky., October 8.—The gates of the Kentucky Trotting Horse-breeders' Association were thrown open here today for the opening of the fortieth annual trotting meeting and the twentieth annual renewal of the Kentucky Futurity.

The "black wonder," Uhlan, was out for an effort to lower the track record for trotting, 1:59 1-2. The track was in excellent condition and the son of Bingen made the circuit in 1:58 flat. This breaks the world's record for a trotter, which heretofore was held by Lou Dillon. Uhlan was driven by his trainer Charles Tanner.

Uhlan was in the finest of form, and those who had their stop watches on the horse and saw him reel off the first quarter in an even half-minute thought the effort would fail, despite the even stride of the animal.

When he reached the half in 0:59 flat, they took up hope and began to cheer. The three-quarters was clicked off in 1:28, and, showing no signs of tiring the "black wonder" came down the stretch with an unfaltering stride and finished the mile in 1:58, and the world's record was his.

Over-Night FEDERAL Wireless To the Advertiser

Colonel Theodore Roosevelt is feeling so much better and has so much improved that on awakening today he began planning for a continuation of his campaign trip.

From eleven o'clock on he was asleep most of the time until four o'clock this morning, when he awoke declaring that he had had a "bully sleep." He said he intended to breakfast at seven o'clock. Before seven o'clock the Colonel decided he had not had enough sleep, and he again closed his eyes. The many hours he has been able to rest is declared by the physicians to be the best medicine for him.

Attending physicians are to hold another examination of the patient. When informed of the doctors' intention, the colonel remarked that "I hope they will soon have me ready to start out again."

Fighting between the Greek army and the Turkish forces stationed along the frontier began early today.

A daring feat was accomplished by the commanders of the Greek gunboats A and D. They made a dash at two o'clock this morning to force the Turkish blockade at the narrow entrance to the Gulf of Arta. War today became general throughout the Balkan peninsula. Turkey, which for a week or more has been fighting Montenegro, issued this morning a formal declaration of hostilities against Servia and Bulgaria. Greece, for some reason, was not mentioned in the official document.

In the declaration of war, Turkey places the blame on Bulgaria and Servia, whose recent actions have forced her to take a decisive step.

A letter written by Olaf Tveitmoe, of San Francisco, to Frank M. Ryan, former president of the International Union of Iron and Bridge Workers, expressed thanks for "Christmas present to the Pacific Coast," was identified by C. Campbell, assistant cashier of a San Francisco bank, at the dynamite conspiracy trial, today.

The government charged that Tveitmoe meant the Los Angeles explosion when he wrote of the Christmas present," and that the Llewellyn Iron Works explosion on Christmas day of last year was selected by Tveitmoe in a meeting with Ryan in St. Louis, Missouri, after the Los Angeles Times building explosion.

Jalapa and Cordoba are reported to have fallen into the power of the Diaz forces. General Aguillar, with his followers, is said to be in occupation of Jalapa and another detachment of rebels to be marching on Cordoba.

A battle today between the rebels under Felix Diaz and the government troops is thought probable somewhere between Vera Cruz and Cordoba.

A copy of the Republican national committee's bank account of 1904 in the Fourth National Bank of New York, placed in evidence before the United States senate committee investigation campaign contributions and expenditures of 1904, showed one deposit of $240,000 during the latter days of October of that year.

William Travers Jerome, former district attorney of New York, may be called as a witness for the defense in the trial of Police Lieut. Charles E. Becker, charged with the murder on July 16, in front of the Hotel Metropole, of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler.

PATIENT OUTLIVES BOTH DOCTORS

Capt. Thomas Holdworth of 417 Lyons Street, San Francisco, former Commander of the fast Stockton steamer "J. D. Peters," was critically ill with Bright's Disease. The albumen was heavy and there was the usual heart involvement, etc. He was in the hands of the leading kidney specialist. As he grew steadily worse the Captain's wife became alarmed and had a relative see the doctor to learn from him the exact truth. He told her that he did not believe the patient could live over three months. The treatment was thereupon changed.

This was all in 1903. That the Captain made a fine recovery and that its permanence may be known let it be said that he is over seventy and called with his wife at the office of the John J. Fulton Company on December 19, 1911, for Christmas greetings. He was in perfect health. Both of the doctors that were on his case have since passed over the river. The Captain gives the names of several whom he told about it who have also recovered.

AN ENEMY OF YOUTH

Lack of Blood During Years of Growth Lays Foundation for Much Ill Health.

Youth is the time to lay the foundation for health. Every boy and girl should have plenty of pure, red blood and strong nerves. With thin, impure blood, they start life with a handicap too great to win success and happiness. Pure, red blood means healthful growth, strong nerves, a clear brain and a good digestion. In a word pure blood is the foundation of health.

The pale, irritable boy or girl, who has no appetite or ambition, is sleepless, always tired out, melancholy, short of breath and who does not grow strong, is the victim of bloodlessness, the greatest enemy of youth.

There is just one thing to do for these boys and girls—build up the blood with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. You can't afford to experiment with unproven remedies. Through neglect or wrong treatment anemia gradually develops into the pernicious form which is incurable. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills work directly on the blood, cleansing it and giving it just the elements which it lacks. As the pure blood goes everywhere, the entire body, every nerve, muscle and tissue, shares in the health-giving properties of the pills.

Miss Ellen Mattis, of No. 232 West Fifth South street, Salt Lake City, Utah, relates her experience gladly in the hope that others will be helped. She says: "'I was all run down, thin, bloodless and had no color whatever. Two doctors treated me but did not help me that I could see. I kept losing in flesh and weight. I had severe palpitations of the heart and often had to gasp for breath. It seemed that I was being smothered, my heart would beat so fast. I had no appetite and the least exertion tired me all out. I got discouraged with taking so much medicine, but my mother urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I felt some improvement from the first box and as I continued to use them my strength and weight increased and my color returned. I became real healthy again and I shall always speak highly of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

A free booklet, "Building Up the Blood," will be sent on request.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

MAKAWAO UNION CHURCH LADIES GIVE BAZAAR

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence]

WAILUKU, Oct. 15.—The October and November entertainments that various Maui Churches have given for many years past as annual affairs had their send-off last Saturday evening at the Paia Orpheum, when the ladies of the Makawao Union Church gave their Annual Bazaar and Sale.

Quiet out of the usual was the presentation on this annual occasion of anything in the dramatic line. It was so successful, however, that the Maui people hope that amateur dramatics will become a regular feature of the Makawao bazaar.

The title of the one act play was "How The Vote Was Won." It was first presented at the Royal Theatre, London, April 13, 1909, and was written by Cicely Hamilton and Christopher St. John. It is a play written evidently with a purpose. On the back of the program for the Paia presentation was an advertisement of the National American Women Suffrage association with headquarters in New York City. It is needless to say that every man in the audience, had he been in the same fix as was the leading character of the play, Horace Cole (a clerk about thirty years of age), would certainly have cast his vote at the polls that women should be granted suffrage.

The play was exciting from the opening words of the conversation between Ethel, the wife of the clerk and her energetic suffragette sister, when they debated the question before the public that very day, until the end of the play when the hero of the situation, completely won over to a decision to vote for women, makes an impassioned speech in favor of women suffrage.

The measures used to persuade him were those apparently in vogue throughout the whole of England, for every woman without her own home and her own husband to support her must come to the home of her nearest male relative. Into the small house of Horace Cole and his wife, with their one servant, came in succession the various near and distant relatives who claimed he must support them.

Clarence G. White was the leading character of the play. He had trained the caste. Needless to say that all took their parts admirably. The speeches assigned to each of the relatives were very clever and laughter broke forth repeatedly from the audience. The costume of Lily (the maid of all work) was most extreme, and every one was amused as she came on the stage. The get up of the evening, however, was that of Miss Lizzie Wilkins, who was rigged out exactly to suit her position in life that of a boarding house mistress. Her little black bonnet kept bobbing from one side of her head to the other as she came panting into the room. In one hand she carried an immense cage with a parrot in it, and in the other hand a satchel. Somehow she also managed to lead a big dog in through the door at the same time. When Horace saw her he disappeared under the table, and came out only after his wife had teased and petted him until he was more willing to face his six "nearest female relatives."

The cast is given below:

Horace Cole, (a Clerk about 30).. ..... Mr. Clarence White
Ethel, (his wife) ..... Mrs. Clarence White
Winifred, (her sister) ..... Mrs. William Nicoll
Agatha, (Horace's sister) ..... Mrs. Digby Sloggett
Molly, (his neice) ..... Miss Vanderhoof
Madame Christine, (his distant relative) ..... Miss Beach
Maude Sparks, (his cousin)! ... . Mrs. E. E. Boyum
Miss Lizzie Wilkins, (his aunt) .. .. Mrs. Frank Baldwin
Lily, (the maid-of-all-work) ..... Miss Alexa von Tempsky
Gerald Williams, (his neighbor) .. .. Mr. Digby Sloggett

Scene: Sitting room in Horace Cole's house at Brixton.

The play lasted about an hour. More than four hundred people enjoyed the performance. They then turned their attention to the attractive booths placed in different parts of the Orpheum. In these many fancy articles were for sale, ice cream and candy. The sale was very successful. Over $600.00 was cleared from the evening's pleasant affair.

It doesn't pay to do favors for a man who has a poor memory.

NORGAARD RECOMMENDS BOARD EXTEND CAMPAIGN ON STOCK

Thinks Fight Against Animal Tuberculosis Should Extend to Other Islands

Dr. Victor A. Norgaard, in a report to the board of agriculture and forestry on human and bovine tuberculosis, speaks of the great work done on this island in eradicating tuberculosis from dairy cattle herds and urges the extension of the campaign to the other islands. He says in opening:

"Four years ago I had the honor to represent this board as a delegate to the Ninth International Tuberculosis Congress, held at Washington, D. C.

"As a result thereof I do not hesitate to say that the city and county of Honolulu is today practically free from bovine tuberculosis, and that the milk supply of Honolulu has been improved a hundred-fold, and is today on a par with the best that is to be found anywhere. Thereby is not meant that it is perfect—far from it, as will be shown, but what in most places is considered an insurmountable obstacle, something to avoid or shirk or circumvent, that is, the eradication of tuberculosis from the dairy herds, has been accomplished in one of the counties of the territory, and has demonstrated that the same can be done in the entire group.

"The principal reason I am taking this subject up at some length in this report is that two of my deputies, on Hawaii and Maui, are of the opinion that tuberculosis has recently begun to spread at a much increased rate among the dairy herds in their respective districts, and, further, that I have every reason to believe that had the work of eradication been delayed or deferred even one year longer here, we should have found conditions which it would have been impossible to tackle without extraordinary means and measures.

"There have been times during the past four years when I have been in doubt as to the advisability or the justice of the policy adhered to, that is, the absolute and uncompromising eradication of the disease, the toleration not even of a single reacting animal on premises where milk is produced for human consumption, but I am happy to say, that as the reports on similar work done in other states, territories or foreign countries are received, it has become more and more certain, that under conditions like those which obtain here, there can be no procrastination, no dilatory methods,—that if we were to conquer the disease here, it could me only by way of the slaughter house and not by any 'Bank,' 'Ostertag' or 'Birmingham' or any other method of eradication."

After devoting many pages to a resume of reports of the tenth International Tuberculosis Congress held in Rome this summer, Dr. Norgaard returns to the local question in part as follows:

"But taken altogether the improvement in the local milk supply which has resulted directly from the eradication of tuberculosis from the herds, —not alone on acount of the removal of the diseased animals, but to a very great extent also from the enforcement of the provisions of the Milk Ordinance incidental upon the repeated visits of the inspecting and testing officers (the City milk inspector always accompanies the testing inspector)— can hardly be conceived and must without doubt have contributed greatly to the general health of the community.

"When to this is added that outside of the purchase of an automobile, which would have been required anyhow no special expenditure or appropriation has been required, that in fact this Division, in spite of increased duties, is doing all the work with one $1200 officer less than during preceding biennial period, then it seems to me that there is every reason for the extension of this work to the entire Territory.

"Reverting to thetransmissibility of bovine tuberculosis to human beings, and especially to children, and at the same time remembering the appalling prevalence of tuberculosis among the population here, and especially among the natives—more than 25 per cent. of all cases of generalized tuberculosis among children under 16 years being due to the bovine type of tubercle bacilli, that is, tuberculosis introduced by milk from tuberculous cows, then it appears to me indefensible to allow a single tuberculous animal to remain in the islands since it has been demonstrated conclusively that the disease can be eradicated.

"In the estimates of expenditures of the Division of Animal Industry for the present year I asked for $3000 for the extension of the bovine tuberculosis work to the other islands. As I am informed that no money is available for the purpose, I would respectfully suggest, in case the board approves of the proposed work and so long as the sum required is insignificant in comparison to the human lives which may be conserved, that possibly the means can be obtained from other sources. The last legislature, for instance, appropriated $25,000 for tuberculosis work. If all of this money has not been expended, I can see no better way to do it than by assisting in exterminating the only known source of human infection which can be exterminated.'
