SANTOS-DUMONT ACCUSED

ST. LOUIS, June 29.—M. Alberto Santos-Dumont is accused of having cut his own balloon or having caused it to be cut, in the offical report made to President Francis by Coloney H. G. Kingsbury, chief of the Jefferson Guard at the Fair. The chief says:

"In my opinion Santos-Dumont had the balloon cut himself." This sensational denouement follows the investigation of the balloon mystery at the Aerodrome Monday night. The police, taking the same view of it, have dropped their investigation.

Asked his reason for believing this, Colonel Kingsbury said:

"All the circumstances point to this theory. I do not believe Santos-Dumont ever intended to fly at St. Louis. I think he intends to exhibit his airship here and to charge admission to see it. I think he had it cut so he could have a moral if not a legal hold upon the exposition company and compel the company to grant him a concession to exhibit his ship."

M. Santos-Dumont was highly indignant when informed of the theory of the Jefferson Guards and the secret service men. He insisted that the theory that he had the balloon cut was too ridiculous to discuss.

McSTOCKER TO RETURN

His Return to Honolulu an Important Political Event—A Possible Delegate.

Frank B. McStocker, who has been manager of Olaa Plantation for about five years, is preparing to remove to Honolulu. McStocker will be here in about three weeks and will live at Waikiki, occupying the old Afong residence. McStocker's own house in Honolulu is under lease.

The advent of the Olaa manager will be a strong addition to local political force, as he has always interested himself in public affairs and during his former residence in Honolulu was a valuable factor in the Republican party. In Hilo and Olaa also, he was a powerful influence, and it is believed that his political experience will make him of great value to the party here. McStocker has represented East Hawaii on the Republican Territorial Central Committee and has been a member of the executive committee for some years.

Though the Olaa man has not been heard from on the subject, his name has been mentioned as a good one for the office of delegate to Congress and it would not surprise some if he should come forward in that capacity.

RESIGNS FROM LEGISLATURE

REPRESENTATIVE HAIA OF HANA, MAUI, WANTS TO GIVE UP HIS SEAT IN THE HOUSE IN ORDER TO BECOME DISTRICT JUDGE—REPUBLICANS ENDORSE HIS PETITION FOR APPOINTMENT FOR THE JUDICIAL POSITION.

Representative W. P. Haia of Hana, Maui, has tendered his resignation of his seat in the legislature to Acting Governor Atkinson and almost in the same breath has applied to be appointed district judge for the third district.

The acting governor received the communication from Representative Haia this morning but no action on them has been taken so far. Haia, who is a Republican, has the endorsement of the Republican committee in Maui for the appointment to the judgeship and would seem to stand a good chance for the appointment. Should the resignation of his seat be accepted, however, a new election would have to be held in the district and the item of expense thereby entailed may be considered.

SILVA MAY LOSE HIS COMMISSION

TESTIMONY TAKEN BY THE ATTORNEY GENERAL THIS MORNING PROVES DAMAGING TO THE NOTARY CONCERNED IN THE CLARK CASE—GOVERNOR CARTER WILL BE LEFT TO REVIEW THE MATTER.

Attorney General Andrews held a little court of his own this morning and as a result of what he heard the hold which Notary Public Silva has on his office as such, has grown extremely precarious. The case is that which arose out of the doings of the so-called Co-Operative Home Purchasing Association. The Attorney General began the investigation upon the complaint of Robert Clark who testified that he and his wife had signed a paper at the instance of Strauch, the manager of the Home Purchasing Association, which they understood to be an assignment of mortgage but which, it afterwards transpired, was a deed of their real estate. Silva was the notary who conducted the negotiations.

Mrs. Clark appeared with two other witnesses who were present when Silva told her to sign the paper. Both she and her witnesses were insistent that Silva had not only taken no acknowledgment, but that he had made no explanation whatever as to the character of the paper he had brought to be signed.

Strauch and his wife both appeared to testify that they had explained to Clark the nature of the paper that was to be signed, but that in the view of the Attorney General had no bearing on the character of the negotiations with Mrs. Clark. He told Silva that unless the testimony of Mrs. Clark could be disproved Silva's commission as a notary public would be cancelled.

Senator Achi made an appeal in Silva's behalf testifying to having had satisfactory dealings with him for seven years and after consideration the Attorney General decided to defer action until the return of Governor Carter when the whole case will be turned over to him for executive action.

WATERMELONS FOR MIDWAY

The people at Midway Island are to be given an unexpected treat. They are to be supplied with watermelons. The transport Sherman is to leave for Midway, Guam and Manila this afternoon at 6 o'clock, and she will take a variety of supplies to the people at the cable station.

Several score of watermelons have been purchased and will be sent out to the station people. The arrival of this fruit will be hailed with delight by the people there for it will be something out of the ordinary. The shipment will be quite unique for it consists of the first watermelons that have ever been eaten on Midway. Attempts may be made to grow melons on the island. Now that base ball is played at Midway, there is no reason why other luxuries and delights should not be enjoyed.

The transport Sherman is to sail for Midway today at 6 p. m. en route to Guam and Manila.

MIDWAY STRIKE IS SETTLED

The trouble at Midway between the contractor and the Japanese laborers has been amicably settled and the order for ten white laborers has been countermanded.

The dispute arose out of the matter of overtime. The Japs claimed that they were entitled to over time allowance. The contractor did not consider that such was the case. The Japs practically shut down and refused to work. In hopes of breaking the strike a request for ten white men was sent to Honolulu. Negotiations have been progressing since however, with the result that the trouble has been settled. The Japs will return to work, so the white labor will not be required.

A meeting of Rapid Transit employes in their club rooms was addressed by G. B. McClellan yesterday his subject being "Courage."

INTER-ISLAND TEST CASE ON.

The hearing of the interesting case known by the title of Simerson et al vs. the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company began in the District Court this morning before Judge Dole. The object of the trial is to test the power of the Territory to collect taxes from seaman's wages. The plaintiffs are seamen in the employ of the defendant company. Portions of the wages were held under territorial authority for the satisfaction of the income tax and they are sueing to recover. Their plea is that as sailors their wages are not subject to execution. J. J. Dunne and Judge Humphreys are for the libellants and Smith & Lewis are for the libellees, Assistant Attorney General appearing for the Territory.

HEARST, BRYAN AND CLEVELAND

WHAT LEADERS SAID BEFORE THE CONVENTION—SINK ALL DIFFERENCES, SAID HEARST, BUT HE WOULD NOT SUPPORT CLEVELAND—TAMMANY LEADER DECLARED EMPHATICALLY FOR GROVER'S NOMINATION..

WASHINGTON, D. C., uly 1.—The Post prints the following interview:

"What do you thing, Mr. Hearst, of the political outlook from the Democratic point of view?"

"In six days the Democratic national convention will open in St. Louis. The party is confronted with a great emergency.

"The Democrats will, I believe, rise to the full measure of their responsibility.

"Their duty, in my judgment, is unquestionably clear.

"The Republican ticket and the Republican platform have presented the Democracy with an opportunity which it is our imperative duty to grasp.

"I believe the party will see to it that nothing is left undone to take advantage of the situation.

"Democrats must get together, adopt a platform that will convince every one that the party has a great mission to perform and then enter the campaign aggressively and confidently and make a spirited fight from now until the election.

"The great duty of the hour is party peace, but peace based upon principle and honorable to the last degree.

"I believe that every one who aspires to leadership in the party should be controlled now by reason and not by resentment.

"We have our differences, to be sure; but these differences can be adjusted.

"We must subordinate all personal ambitions to the supreme purpose of winning a truly Democratic victory—a victory that will surely redound to the benefit of the people.

"Every man who enters the St. Louis convention and every one of his friends should abide cheerfully the decision of the convention and support loyally the nominees of the party. So far as I am concerned my position in this matter has already been stated."

"Mr. Hearst, who do you think will be the Democratic nominee for President?"

"That is a question that for reasons of propriety I prefer not to answer."

"If Mr. Cleveland should be nominated would you support him?"

Mr. Hearst paused for a moment, frowned faintly and smiled.

"Well," he drawled, "I supported Mr. Cleveland three times for the Presidency, and," he added, after a pause, "I am inclined to think that is enough. I shall, however, abide by the decision of the convention, whoever the nominee may be. At the same time, I repeat that I supported Mr. Cleveland three times for the Presidency and I think that is enough.

"But why discuss Cleveland as a serious possibility? He is merely brought forward by shrewd politicians in the hope of forcing the radicals to compromise on some reorganizer less objectionable."

NEW YORK, June 30.—Leader Charles F. Murphy of Tammany Hall leaves for St. Louis Saturday afternoon. He took occasion today to reiterate his determination to work for the nomination of Grover Cleveland and he said New Jersey would probably be the State to lead the break for Cleveland.

"In making this statement," said Mr. Murphy, "I do so after a great deal of reflection. The whole field has been gone over very thoroughly and investigated very carefully, with the result that it is the opinion of a large number of prominent Democrats that Mr. Cleveland is the man to head the Democratic ticket, and the man who can win for the Democratic party this year."

"But is not Tammany instructed for Parker in view of the action at the State convention?" kas asked.

"I am instructed for Parker, but that does not mean that every ballot will see the Parker sentiment predominating," answered the leader. "If New Jersey is first to break the line I am quite certain that the other States will follow.

"There is sentiment in politics as well as practice, and when the name of Grover Cleveland goes before the convention there may be an entirely new story to tell."

"Can you name one State that is instructed for Cleveland?" was next asked.

"That is quite true," answered the Tammany leader; "but the fact remains that there are many States which are not instructed at all, and these are open to conviction.

"My position in this matter is wholly consistent. I have never receded from the position that Mr. Cleveland is the strongest possible candidate in the country. He is the man we can win with, and that is the sort of a candidate we want this time above any other.

"I have never criticized Judge Parker, but I did criticize the action of the convention in sending from this State an instructed delegation. The same objection would have applied had an effort been made to instruct for Cleveland at the State Convention. Judge Parker is a good man, a worthy man, but we cannot win with Judge Parker. That is my opinion."

OMAHA, Neb., June 30.—William J. Bryan spent the day here, being on his way to St. Louis. He met a number of political friends, to whom he talked of the convention. He refused, however, to express an opinion as to who would be the Presidential nominee.

"I hope for a good platform and a good candidate as the result of the convention," he said. "By a good platform I mean one that honestly and without evasion states the Democratic position on public questions. By a good candidate I mean one who can be enthusiastically supported by good Democrats. And by good Democrats I mean those who have in the last two campaigns aided the Democratic fight against plutocracy."

RUSSIANS LEFT SADO

Colonel Tamura, in his report from Moji under date of June 17th, states that as soon as the Sado Maru was surrounded by the Russian Squadron, she was stopped, and the majority of the non-combatants were transferred to boats. The Hitachi Maru had been already sunk by the Russian fire about this time. The Sado Maru was shelled and torpedoed by a Russian ship, apparently the Rossia. Water rushed in, whereupon the officers and men shouted banzai and prepared for the last moment either by sword or revolver, when the steamer was torpedoed a second time, the Russian squadron then proceeded northward in haste. On seeing the Russian retreat the idea of the men on the Sado Maru of taking their own lines was abandoned, and they began to construct rafts and to prevent the leakage of water. The steamer was adrift for over thirty hours. On June 15th at 1 p. m. she met a sailing vessel. All on board were transferred to that boat. This boat met the Ise Maru and Hino Maru while proceeding to Bakan and all were transferred to these two steamers, which reached Moji on June 17th at noon. The superintendent officer Ogura went to the Russian ship and was carried away. Two accountants, a surgeon, three railway officials, three engineers, and some subordinate officials and others, about six hundred in all, including the crew, had left the steamer before, but Colonel Murata did not know their subsequent fate. While the Sado Maru was drifting, fifty-two non-commissioned officers and men of the Hitachi Maru who were in a boat, were rescued by the Sado Maru. A non-commissioned officer rescued said that Lieut.-Colonel Suchi, who was in command of the transport Hitachi Maru, committed suicide, and nearly all the others on that steamer were killed by the enemy's fire.

MONDAY.....JULY 11, 1904

People passing on the street invariably pause in front of the art store and gaze admiringly at the pictures displayed within. The humanizing, educational and elevating influence of these pictures is, without a doubt, fully as great as the influence of books. We, therefore, consider ourselves very fortunate in having been able to furnish our readers with that incomparable collection of photographic reproductions, known as the "Forest City" World's Fair Art Portfolios, and at a price which places the series within the reach of all. There is nothing cheap about this series except the price. The views are carefully selected from the large number secured by the official photographer of the Exposition, and they are reproduced in the Portfolios in the best possible style of the engravers' and printers' art. Each view is accompanied by a concise and comprehensive description, written by Walter B. Stevens, the Exposition Secretary, making the series doubly official. Four parts now ready at Star office.

More About Modern "Finance"

A series of articles which will prove of the utmost interest, are to be started in Everybody's Magazine next month. The articles will be entitled "A Story of Amalgamated Copper" and will be written by Thomas W. Lawson. These articles are destined to cause a profound sensation not only in financial circles, but throughout the country generally. They will, according to the advance notice issued by Lawson, be an exposure of the modern system of finance by which the incubation of wealth is secured by the financiers from the people's savings in the banks, trust and insurance companies.

That something was radically wrong, because it was criminally wrong, in the system of high finance that has grown up in the United States and other countries, has been only too evident. Poor people have been filched of their savings by means of this "system," as Lawson terms it, leaving them worse off than before, while the promoters and other heavy financiers in the undertakings have reaped harvests of gold. A most striking example of the abuses of this "system" is found in the collapse of the United Steel corporation which was started by J. Pierpont Morgan, Schwab and others This shameful deal swallowed up millions of dollars of the people's savings. When the collapse came the small investors were left, in many instances, penniless. But were the promoters and financiers affected? Not in the least. Where they had gone into the deal with millions, they came out with many times millions.

According to the statements of Lawson, Amalgamated Copper appears to have been a similar scheme of robbery. It is well for the community at large that this man has decided to expose the shady methods of that big transaction. For his articles will not tell alone of the details of that shameful scheme of corruption and greed, but will expose the entire working of the general system of which it was but a part. When thieves fall out honest men come by their dues, and when financiers fall out, the public seems destined to learn the truth.

Lawson is the man especially well qualified to write such a series of articles. He is a strong, vigorous personality. He is a splendid type of the strong, masterful man who is a product of the present day conditions in the United States. He is a Boston man. Not a few years ago he was a poor man. There are people living in Honolulu who have friends that recall distinctly the time when a small loan was gratefully received by this same master of finance. Lawson's ability to grasp his opportunity enabled the man to rise to financial eminence, however, until today he is a power among, and at the same time, a menace to the army of financiers of this nation. It was Lawson who built the yacht Independence three years ago for the purpose of defending the America's Cup when Sir Thomas Lipton made the second attempt to lift the trophy. The controversy which Lipton had with the New York Yacht Club over his refusal to allow the yacht to be sailed in any but his own name, will be readily recalled by those who have followed this splendid sport of racing.

The following excerpts from the introduction give some idea of the purposes and scope of the Lawson's exposure:

"There will be set down, in the series of articles of which this is the foreword, in as simple and direct a fashion as I can write it, The Story of Amalgamated Copper and of the "system" of which it is the most flagrant example. This "system" is a process or a device for the incubation of wealth from the people's savings in the banks, trust, and insurance companies, and the public funds. Through its workings during the last twenty years there has grown up in this country a set of colossal corporations in which unmeasured success and continued immunity from punishment have bred an insolent disregard of law, of common morality, and of public and private right, together with a grim determination to hold on to, at all hazards, the great possessions they have gulped or captured.

"I shall draw a picture of two dress-suit cases of money being slipped across the table at the foot of a judge's bench in the court-room, from its custodian to its new owners, upon the rendering of a court decision; and I shall show how the new owners frustrated a plot whereby they were to be waylaid and the bags of money recovered.

"I shall devote some space to pointing out the evils and dangers of the latter-day methods of corrupting law-makers, and show how one entire Massachusett's Legislature, with the exception of a few members, were dealt with as openly as the fishmongers procure their stock-in-trade upon the wharves; how upon the last day of the Legislature, because their deferred cash payments were not promptly forthcoming, they turned, and made necessary the hurried departure for foreign shores of a great lawyer and his secretary, with bags of quickly gathered gold, and all evidences of the crimes committed and attempted; how after the ship arrived at an island in foreign seas the great lawyer's dead body received hurried burial, and his secretary's was later dropped, with weights about his feet, to the ocean's depths; and how ever since the natives whispered among themselves their gruesome suspicions."

Newspapers And Contempt

Here is an extract from a decision by a South Carolina United States Circuit judge, which some local lawyers, and courts also, might well digest: "That newspapers sometimes engage in unwarranted criticism of the courts cannot be denied. In some cases they construe the liberty of the press as a license to authorize them to engage in wholesale abuse of the Court; but these instances are rare and do not warrant a departure from the well-settled principles of the law as declared by Congress and construed by the courts. If a Judge charged with the administration of the law is not to be criticized on account of his official conduct, the liberty of the press is abridged and the rights of individuals imperiled."

Honolulu has had an unusual amount of contempt-of-court proceedings during the past few years, directed against newspapers. Some of it has been upheld in our highest court, under a law amended by the legislature since the case in question was decided. But under the decision of this South Carolina authority, there can scarcely be such a thing as contempt by means of publication. If a newspaper should publish a comment on a trial in progress and carefully send a copy to each juror, says the judge, it would "present a question," but the mere publication, even during the trial, is not contempt. The criticism of a court,—and Heaven knows many American courts have often needed criticism,—is proper and right at all times, but may be wrongly done, just as courts themselves may improperly perform their duties.

Admiral Glass and squadron have arrived at Bremerton, where all the vessels of the squadron are to have some repairs. Perhaps some day such repairs will be made at Pearl harbor, according to plans now growing mouldy in navy department records, but the department does not seem to be in any hurry about it.

General Toral's fate is sad one. It was certainly no fault of his that he had to surrender to Shafter at Santiago. But his country always identified him with the deed, just as they showed hostility to brave old Cervera, whose desperate dash to disaster was one of the most heroic incidents of the war with Spain.

There is a thorough "news sense" to be noticed in Chefoo, to judge from a few scattered items in some of the Japanese papers. Several junks arrived there not long ago and they brought the tidings that "the supply of food stuffs at Port Arthur is gradually decreasing." This is one of the paragraphs which deserves the time honored heading "Important if True."

Exposures of the crooked methods of big financiers are following in rapid succession. The Morgan-Schwab crowd have also learned something, but unlike their victims, they are heavily paid for receiving the lesson.

The Japanese do not seem to be making quite as rapid progress as was expected of them. We shall never know the truth of the campaign being waged by Kuropatkin and Kuroki and Oku, but it is evident that the Russian general is pursuing tactics which embarrass the Japanese in carring out their plans.

If Henry G. Davis should by any chance be elected vice president, he will be 86 before the end of his term, provided that he lives that long. This seems to make the nomination an unfit one. The vice-president should be a man fit to take the presidency in case of a vacancy.

EIGHT UNANIMOUS DECISIONS

THE SUPREME COURT HANDS DOWN ITS FIRST OPINIONS SINCE THE REORGANIZATION—EIGHT CASES IN WHICH THE COURT AGREED, SIX OF THEM SUSTAINING THE RULING OF THE LOWER COURTS.

Eight decisions, all of them unanimous, were handed down by the Supreme Court this morning. The circuit courts appealed from are sustained in six of the cases. Chief Justice Frear is the author of three of the opinions, Associate Hatch of three and Associate Hartwell of two. It is a long time since a supreme court of Hawaii acted with such unanimity, and the results were pleasing to the legal fraternity.

Among the cases decided is that of Robert M. Fuller vs. the Rapid Transit Company, in which the opinion of the court, by Hartwell, is a lengthy one, sustaining the verdict in the circuit court. Fuller's suit was for injuries received in a collision between a Rapid Transit car and one of Pain's mule cars, in February, 1902. The case was tried in Judge Robinson's court and a verdict for $2,500 damages was returned. The exceptions are overruled. D. H. Case and Avon H. Crook and C. F. Clemons for plaintiff; Castle & Withington for defendant.

In the case of J. Alfred Magoon, guardian of Kalua Kapukini, spendthrift, vs. Thomas Fitch, Judge Robinson is also sustained. Robinson awarded a fee of $500 to Fitch for his services in attempting to free Kalua from her trust and Magoon procured a writ of error. In an opinion by Justice Hatch the writ is dismissed.

In the case of the Territory vs. Jacinto A. de Nobriga, Mathias Baptista and Loao Cordeiro, Judge Little is sustained. The defendants were found guilty of larceny in the second degree for stealing a steer, and appealed on legal grounds. Lorrin Andrews, Attorney General, E. A. Douthitt, for the Territory; E. M. Watson for defendants.

In the case of Yee Chin et al vs. the Kwong Chong Wai Company, a verdict for $4,143.83 is sustained, in an opinion by Frear. The suit was appealed from the first circuit. Thayer & Hemenway for the plaintiffs; Castle & Withington and W. L. Whitney for defendants. Exceptions from the First Circuit Court are also overruled in the case of Yee Chin et al vs. the Kwong Mau Wai Company, in which the points were much similar and the same counsel were employed.

In the case of the Kapiolani Estate vs. William R. Castle, trustee, in which judgment against Castle was given in the circuit court, the supreme court, in an opinion by Hatch, sets aside the judgment and remands the case to the circuit court for further proceedings. Castle & Withington for plaintiff; Kinney, McClanahan & Cooper for defendant in error.

The First Circuit Court is also reversed, in an opinion by Hatch, in the case of E. H. F. Wolters vs. H. F. Redward, in which a judgment for $1623.-12 was entered against Redward. Exceptions are sustained and a new trial ordered. J. A. Magoon and J. Lightfoot for plaintiff; W. T. Rawlins for defendant.

The First Circuit Court is sustained in the case of Allen & Robinson vs. Annie S. Reist, in which the court directed a verdict for defendant. The suit was for $434.81. The Supreme Court holds that the trial judge was right in directing a verdict for defendant. Kinney, McClanahan & Cooper for plaintiff; C. W. Ashford for defendant.

GIRLS IN REGATTA

THEY PROPOSE TO ENTER CREWS FOR THE SEPTEMBER REGATTA DAY CONTESTS—CREWS OF YOUNG WOMEN OUT IN THE HEALANI AND MYRTLE BARGES PREPARING FOR CONTEST OF SKILL AND MUSCLE.

There is something serious doing in boating circles and the next regatta day will see what it is. Not content with invading every known male pursuit the girls of Honolulu have taken to the oar and the big fete will be enlivened with an exhibition of oarsmanship, or rather of oarswomanship, such as has seldom been seen before.

The matter really started several weeks ago by the formation of a crew of haole girls known as the Punahous, but the spirit of rivalry has been engendered and two crews of Hawaiian girls have now been formed for the purpose of showing the world that the water is the Hawaiians' by right of birth.

Just who are to compose the crews for the race on regatta day is not yet even arranged and there will be a deal of "trying out" before the selections are positively made. The Punahous have already had several spins and yesterday saw both of the crews of Hawaiian girls on the harbor. One crew is using the Myrtles' barge and the other the Healanis. Although they have started later, the Honolulu girls have absolutely no doubt as to their ability to defeat the haoles.

"Why," said one of the prettiest of the Hawaiian girls this morning, "those white girls have been rowing for months now and they can't row together yet. We all know how to row before we ever sat in the boat together. I don't know about the other crew of island girls though. They can row just as well as we can."

WOODS TO QUIT

Senator Palmer Woods of Hawaii has written that he will resign as national committeeman, in favor of Col. C. J. McCarthy. Woods says that he cabled to Iaukea announcing his withdrawal before he was appointed, and that he not only intends to resign as committeeman, but will withdraw from politics altogether. "You will never hear of this rooster in politics again," said Woods, who appears to have had quite enough, with the Hearst campaign and his other political activities, to satisfy him.

It appears from Woods' letter that Iaukea was the first to suggest Woods' withdrawing, and there was evidently some sort of understanding between Iaukea and Woods. Woods received a cable from Iaukea at St. Louis, stating that all would be well if Woods withdrew in favor of Koa, and referring to Woods' views of the committeeman position as evidently expressed to Iaukea before he left. Who Koa is is a matter of much uncertainty. Woods says he wired to Koa, asking if he wanted the position and telling him to answer and cabled to Iaukea his withdrawal in favor of McCarthy. Iaukea does not seem to have acted, or else he didn't have the proper swing at St. Louis, for the national committee promptly appointed Woods, and there the matter now stands.

Woods says that he intends to resign at once, in favor of McCarthy, and the matter will therefore have to be taken up again by the National Committee. Incidentally the new developments appear to make Iaukea the one who did not make good, instead of Woods, whose wireless and the result were a mystery to all concerned. "It appears that Senator Woods made good," said Col. McCarthy, "but just what took place at St. Louis I cannot understand."

Another mystery of the case is the identity of Koa, who appears to have been fixed upon by Iaukea and Woods for Democratic National Committeeman. It is thought that the name may be one agreed upon by the two, for some of the leaders or delegates. In any event the issue seems to be up in the air and none of the Democrats seem to know who is the man whom Woods and Iaukea were going to have made their committeeman, if he had only signified his willingness.

THE AMERICA MARU ESCAPED RUSSIANS

JAPANESE LINER SAW NOTHING OF TH EENEMY DURING HER TRIP TO THIS PORT.

The S. S. American Maru arrived this morning from the Orient en route to San Francisco. The vessel left Hong Kong June 21 and Yokohama July 2. She experienced a heavy fog on her way from Hong Kong to the Inland sea but from Yokohama to port she encountered perfect weather. She saw nothing of any Russian steamers or warships. Captain Going is once more in command of the America. He was transferred from command of the transport Rosetta Maru, to his former vessel. Captain W. W. Greene wha took the America out last trip, left the vessel to take an examination for pilot of the Inland Sea. This position will pay him much more than service with the steamship company and as the examination this year will be the last one in which Europeans will be permitted to participate, he decided to take a chance of getting an appointment.

The America has only 250 tons of cargo for Honolulu and 200 tons of through freight for San Francisco. The report that she was to cut out San Francisco as her terminal is incorrect. She is to go to San Francisco. The company will operate ony the America Maru, for the present. The high war risks on cargo on Japanese vessels has served to keep down the shipments upon her.

WAILUKU Y. M. I.

SUPREME COURT SESSION.

The old case of High Sheriff A. M. Brown and the Japanese Mayo and Goto engaged the attention of the Supreme court this morning. The High Sheriff appeared as plaintiff in error in the appeal from the habeas corpus proceedings which set the two Japanese at liberty. The matter was taken under advisement.

SHERMAN ARRIVES.

The Transport Brings Many Passengers for Honolulu.

The transport Sherman arrived Saturday afternoon from San Francisco with two days later mail. The vessel left San Francisco July 1. She experienced delightful weather. She brought a number of passengers for Honolulu, among them being William Haywood the Washington representative of the Planters' Association. He was accompanied by his wife and family. He will remain here several months.

Major B. H. Fuller who is to replace Captain Catlin as commander of the local guard of marines, arrived.

The Sherman is going to Midway. She has as a passenger for Midway, Dr. William H. Allen who goes to accept a position with the cable company. A number of laborers for Midway will be taken by the vessel from Honolulu.

The Sherman has treasure valued at $5,000,000 of which $2,000,000 is in silver certificates and the remainder in specie

The Sherman is scheduled to sail today at 6 . . m.

Chronic Diarrhoea.—For several years during the summer months I have been subject to looseness of the bowels, which quickly ran into a very bad diarrhoea and this trouble was frequently accompanied with severe pain and cramps. I used to call on doctors for my trouble but it became so regular a summer affliction that in my search for relief, I became acquainted with Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which proved so effective and so prompt that I came to rely exclusively upon it, and what also happily surprised me was that while it almost instantly relieved the cramps and stopped the diarrhoea, it never caused constipation. I always take a bottle of it with me when traveling.—H. C. Hartman, Anamosa, Iowa, U. S. A. For sale by all dealers, Benson, Smith & Co., agents for Hawaii.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

"For many years I suffered from bronchitis, for which I tried a variety of remedies including sprays and inhalers. These did me no good and I then began to use Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, with most satisfactory result. One dose quieted my cough and enabled me to get much needed sleep. I would not now be without it for any consideration. I have passed through this winter free from the cough, and I am glad to say that several of my friends have been benefited in the same way. I am sending a bottle to a friend in New Zealand by today's steamer."

PARKER AND DAVIS

Associated Press, Morning Service.

ST. LOUIS, July 9.—Henry G. Davis of West Virginia was nominated for Vice-President over Turner of Washington and Williams of Illinois on the first ballot. Hawaii voted for Turner.

A tremendous sensation was created in the convention by the receipt of a telegram from Judge Parker saying that he was a Gold man. Noting the absence of a money plank in the platform he said he should, if elected, act in accordance with his convictions. He suggested that if the convention disapproved of him under these circumstances, it could nominate another man. An exciting debate followed, participated in by Tillman, Williams, Daniels, Bryan and others. It was decided by a vote of 774 to 191 to notify Parker that money, not being regarded as an issue, was therefore omitted from the platform and that his views would not prevent the acceptance of his nomination. Hawaii split its vote, two voting aye and two no. The convention adjourned at 1:30 a. m.

The Democratic nominee for the Vice-Presidency is 82 years old. It is twenty years since this veteran of Democracy retired from the United States Senate, after serving there for twelve years. He began his political career the year following the Civil War by being elected to the West Virginia assembly, and began attending National Democratic conventions in 1868.

Yinkow road is but a short distance north of Kaiping. The appearance of Japanese troops there may indicate that they were landed near Yinkow or that they are a portion of General Kuroki's army, advancing on Liaoyang and Newchwang.

SUCCESSFUL SUBMARINE

UNITED STATES VESSEL TESTED IN HAMPTON ROADS AND FOUND TO WORK WELL.

NORFOLK, Va., June 24.—The United States submarine torpedo boat Adder, under command of Lieut. Frank L. Pinney, has returned to the torpedo station at this navy yard after a most successful series of trials in Hampton Roads.

After satisfactory diving tests on the days of the trials, the submarine monarch, with her auxiliary electric power at work, and a crew of nine, including her commander, sank beneath the surface and then began her under-water run from Seawell's Point, opposite Old Point Comfort, across Hampton Roads toward the middle ground light in Chesapeake bay.

Everything worked to perfection. The submarine was guided across the Roads within close proximity to the middle ground light, and returned to the point of starting the entire distance of about three miles being covered under the surface in forty-five minutes, without rising for an air supply.

On returning to Seawell's Point the Adder's batteries were recharged from the Siren, and she remained alongside the gunboat during Wednesday night.

The greatest part of yesterday morning was spent in maneuvering about the Roads.

In the afternoon of yesterday the Adder was again subjected to a submerged test. Two midshipmen attached to the Truxtun were allowed to make the descent below the surface in the cigar-shaped craft, and enjoyed their experience immensely.

The Adder's performance was perfectly satisfactory to Lieutenant Pinney in command. He was seen at the naval torpedo station after the arrival of the Adder and her convoy the Siren, and expressed his satisfaction at the showing made by the craft. He stated that the trials at this time were made more for the purpose of testing the machinery and other mechanism in the submarine than for the establishment of records. The submerged runs of the Adder were made at a distance of fifteen feet below the surface.

The naval board of inspection and survey is now here from Washington inspecting the Norfolk naval torpedo station and testing the torpedo boats Foote, De Long, Ericson, Biddle and the tiny torpedo flyer Mackenzie. The latter is out today with the naval board The other boats made a successful rip yesterday. The naval board is stopping at Old Point Comfort.

ELKS BEATEN BY HONOLULUS

MAILES DEFEAT THE PUNAHOUS BY A SCORE OF 4 TO 1—THE CLUB'S STANDING.

The Mailes and the Honolulus were the victors in Saturday's league baseball games, the former beating the Punahous and the Elks succumbing to the latter. The Mailes beat the Punahous by 4 to 1, but the defeat of the Elks was almost a rout as the score was 14 to 1.

As the record stands now the Kams lead with a percentage of 750, the Honolulus come next with 666, the Mailes are next and the Elks tie with the Punahous for the last place.

MAUI NEWS

PUUNENE, Maui July 8.—The Puunene Athletic Association held a very a very important meeting last night for the purpose of taking up the matter of a general field day of sports for all Maui on next twelfth day of August. About forty members of the association were in attendance. It was decided that the day of sports should extend to all comers and that the baseball grounds at Kahului were the most appropriate place for the holding of the features of the day. A committee consisting of R. W. Filler of Kahului, W. Searby and James B. Thompson was appointed to arrange a programme of sports for the day. It is understood that the programme will include a game of cricket between the Puunene team and a picked lot of cricketers from Makawao, this being a return game for the one played on last New Years' day. The Maui Agricultural team of baseball will also have a chance at the Puunene bunch in return for the game of last Fourth. A game of Polo will also be played. The committee will report back to the Puunene Athletic Association at a meeting to the held on Monday, July 11.

A number of the employes of the Hawaiian Commercial and Sugar Company employes met last night to discuss informally such steps as may be necessary for the annual Harvest Home dance given here. After a number of suggestions by those present it was decided to have a call for a meeting of all plantation people interested for Tuesday evening July 12 when definite steps towards making the dance a success will be taken.

A practice game of baseball will be played at Puunene grounds on Sunday between the men from Camp No. 1 and those of Camp No. 5. Captain McCubbin will be in charge of the visitors and Captain Wren W. Wescoatt will have the local bunch in tow.

PART FOUR OF ART PORTFOLIOS

Part VI shows on the first page a portion of the vast crowd of opening day sight-seers, standing with bowed heads on the plaza facing the Louisiana Purchase Monument, while Rev. Dr. Frank Gunsaulus, of Chicago, offers up a prayer. In the background can be seen Festival Hall and the Cascades.

The next view is also an opening day scene and possesses an interest all its own, inasmuch as the long files of soldiers shown in the picture, holding back the enthusiastic spectators, are Filipinos; the little brown men, who, but a short time ago, were vainly endeavoring to check the advance of the American soldiers.

The most traveled throughfare of the World's Fair, is what Secretary Stevens calls Louisiana Way, where two human streams constantly cross and mingle. This a beautiful view and gives an idea of the size of the Grand Basin, which is one-third wider than the Court of Honor at the World's Columbian Exposition. De Soto Bridge is shown with the Lagoon beneath it.

The next picture gives one a close range view of Hennepin Bridge, and brings out clearly and in detail the ormanmental work. Beyond the bridge rises the south facade of the Palace of Liberal Arts.

Among the most attractive spots on the World's Fair grounds are the terraces where the vivid green of lawn and maple trees bring out the richness of the old ivory tint of the palaces. This view gives the beholder some idea of World's Fair Distances.

One of the most attractive features of the next view is its striking illustration of the manner in which nationalities are commingled at the Fair, on a basis of active good will and friendly mutual interest. It shows a great throng of Americans massed behind a file of Filipino soldiery, gazing upon a richly blanketed elephant with East Indian attendants.

Particularly attractive are the pictures showing the Fair as it appears at night, when the huge palaces appear to be built of light. It it difficult to imagine anything more beautiful. This particular illustration shows the Palace of Electricity, and the effect is such that one might almost expect to see the building itself disappear in unreality when the light goes out.

Look out for a record-breaking crowd at the exposition whenever a "Pike" parade is announced. The people know that this is always a sight worth seeing for the processions include people of over sixty different tongues and animals from every clime. In Portfolio No. VI is shown the section of the opening day parade including the camels and elephants, passing the Louisiana Purchase monument.

The next view furnishes excellent photographs of Director of Work, Isaac S. Taylor and his staff. Steady, continual advance in the work of construction have been characteristic of Mr. Taylor and his assistants.

One thing that interests everyone who visits the Fair is the history of the vast territory of Louisiana from the early explorations to the present day as told in the work of four scores of the most famous sculptors of the country. Occupying opposite pages in this portfolio are photographic reproductions of the statues of Meriwether Lewis and and William Clark, leaders of the famous Lewis & Clark exedition.

A very attractive group is that which shows the commissioners of foreign countries. No more brilliant gathering is seen when the Diplomatic Corps at Washington assembles than that formed by the Commissioners General and staffs, when they came together in the Hall of Congresses to participate in the opening ceremonies on the plaza of St. Louis.

On the next three pages are shown views of some of the characteristic buildings of Ohio and Arkansas, each Pavilion of Nicaragua and the state buildings of Ohio and Arkansas each very attractive in its way.

The last view is perhaps, the most attractive and interesting picture of all the number secured by the official photographer of the "Pike" parade on Opening Day. It shows a long stretch of Administration Avenue, with eager crowds of all nationalities lined up along its borders, while between the solid walls of humanity marches the Parade ofAll Nations. It illustrates the possibilities of the World's Fair grounds for processions and pageants.

These views if purchased as original photographs would cost not less than $1 each, or sixteen dollars for the whole. It will therefore, readily be seen that it is an exceptional opportunity we are offering our readers. The Portfolios contain superb photographic reproductions of the choicest pictures secured by the official photographer of the Exposition and all that is necessary to secure any part issued is to send to this office a coupon clipped from one of our announcements and 10 cents to cover the cost of handling, wrapping, addressing and mailing. Four parts now ready at Star Office.

WAIALEE IS A SUCCESS

SUPERINTENDENT ATKINSON RETURNS FROM A VISIT TO THE INSTITUTION FOR BOYS.

The Superintendent of Public Instruction, A. T. Atkinson, returned this morning from a trip to the Waialee Industrial School where he made a thorough inspection of the whole institution.

"I can say that the place is in really excellent condition" said the Superintendent today "The boys are healthy, well fed, well clothed, unquestionably happy and they are getting just the sort of instruction with the necessary amount of restraint to make them useful members of society when they branch out into the world. In an institution of this sort discipline must be maintained at all costs and it was particularly gratifying to find that there is no trouble on that score. As a matter of absolute record there is less corporal punishment there than there is in most day schools and even minor offences are by no means as frequent as one would expect in a crowd of healthy lads.

There are now 110 boys on the books of the institution. Of these, 102 are at the school, two are in the hospital in Honolulu, one is in jail and five are on parole. The parole system we have found to work with excellent effect for on only one occasion has it been necessary to take back a boy who was out on parole.

"The boys are employed at many different pursuits and as a result they will leave there with a knowledge of things which will be simply invaluable to them They are taught black-smithing, dairying, carpentering, gardening, general farming and now we are doing our own building there. The work is never so hard as to be burdensome and some of the lads show a marked aptitude for some of the different occupations. In the farming and gardening sections this is particularly noticable. We have 500 banana plants in, we have five acres of sweet potatoes partly planted and two acres of vegetable garden where the boys raise beans, onions ,peppers, melons, squashes and in fact nearly every variety of vegetable. They also cultivate the taro patch which is two acres in extent, and half an acre of sorghum. In live stock we have nine cows, a bull and three calves, two horses, two mules and nineteen pigs. The boys are of course taught to look after the stock. In addition to this they get two hours of school a day and are also well drilled.

"The Saturday and Sunday routines which are attended are simple" continued the Superintendent "Saturday morning after the usual watering has been done, the boys have to mend their clothes for they are all taught to sew, and the rest of the day is practically a holiday. In the afternoon they are marched down to the sea and do as they please about the beach and in the surf. Some of the lads are excellent fishermen and they take the greatest delight in that pursuit, the catch is added to the table supplies. On Sunday at ten o'clock there is a church parade and service is read by Superintendent Gibson. Yesterday after service I addressed the boys on the subject of 'Duty' In the afternoon they attend Sunday school for an hour after which they have drill.

"The boys are kept busy. Their time is fully occupied and they are given plenty of time for as much relaxation as a boy requires. There is a healthy atmosphere about the whole place and I feel fully justified in saying that it is a place of which not only the department but the people of the whole territory may well be proud. It is a standing proof of the fact that the boys are not bad in any sense of the word. They are full of life and spirits and with their energies thus properly directed they cannot fail to become useful citizens. The question of race does not enter into consideration for we have them all, Hawaiians, Amerians, Porto Ricans, Portuguese and mixed races as well and there is a good natured rivalry between them all."

Miss Rose Davison, school agent went up to Waialee on Sunday morning and assisted the Superintendent in the inspection of the school.

BRILLIANT DANCES.

Royal Hawaiian Hotel Entertaining Tourists and Transport Passengers.

Never perhaps in the history of the Hawaiian Hotel has there been such brilliant entertainment for tourists a on the occasion of the band concert and dance for the 200 through passengers by the Mongolia on Friday evening and for the dance Saturday evening for the large number of army officers and ladies on the transport Sherman. The new light effects (for which the lanais and ground afford such excellent scope) produced on the evening of the 4th of July, were repeated on both these dance nights, and their beauty was a revelation to the through passengers, many of whom were heard to exclaim that they had never seen such magnificent illuminations of any hotel in any country. There is no doubt that a great impression was made on these stranger visitors. It is understood that these special decorations, which were installed for the 4th of July, will be taken down today, but that the wiring will be retained for use on future occasions.

The dancing lanais were crowded on both evenings and the scene was particularly brilliant especially on the night when the Mongolia was in port, as there was quite a gathering of very fashionably dressed ladies, who, after dining in the open-air dining rooms, participated in the dancing and whose presence added brilliance to the spectacle. It was noticed that there were a number of prominent people of the wealthy class among the big liner's passengers.

WAILUKU HAS A KICK.

WAILUKU, July 9.—Wailuku's sidewalks are in a deplorable condition and unless something is done shortly to repair them, some accident will befall. The Improvement Association know this condition and have therefore referred the matter to a committee of three persons. It is understood that the committee has communicated with Superintendent Holloway, but that the reply was not very satisfactory. Some of the planks in the sidewalk have been in from time immemorial occasionally a few new planks having been put in. Especially the Market section of the sidewalk is in sore need of a few new additional boards so as not to endanger the lives of the walking community. If the sidewalks are not put in condition in a short time, people may have to take the main road and avoid the possibility of an accident.
