BASE BALL PLAN

Practical Plan for a Revival of the Sport.

TEAMS OF EQUAL STRENGTH

Meeting Called—Directors, Managers and Captains to Be Chosen. For Real Article.

Honolulu, January 11, 1899.

EDITOR P. C. A.:—At a meeting held on above date by several base ballists and fans it was the unanimous sentiment of those assembled to wipe out the farce of 1898 and give to the public of New Honolulu a good article of base ball as patronage deserves. Another season such as the one just past, will, beyond all doubt, sound the death knell of the most popular branch of sport the Islands have ever known.

In order to accomplish our most ardent wish it is the earnest appeal of those sending this communication to do as will be suggested and by so doing we furthermore sincerely hope and trust that the base ball season of 1899 will be one of clean and pure sport and in every other respect a model season. Such scenes as have been enacted on the diamond the past few years, (senseless kicking, baby act, rowdyism, long waits, etc.,) must cease, for they cannot and will not be tolerated.

The public, no doubt, is very well aware of the fact that one team was superior to the other two in 1898, and to overcome that obstacle the following plans have been suggested, which, if carried out, will doubtless prove a success, as it is the only reasonable way out of the present difficulty.

1. All base ball players and those interested in base ball are cordially invited to attend a meeting on Friday, January 13, 1899, at Company G's headquarters—Drill Shed—at 7:30 p. m. sharp, for the purpose of perfecting a permanent organization for the season of 1899. Players from Kamehameha, St. Louis and Punahou College and the Engineers Corps are especially invited.

2. Election of Board of Directors to settle protests and such other business as may be placed before them; their decision in all cases to be final.

3. It is the general supposition that three teams be organized. If any more available material can be secured a fourth team can be organized.

4. Managers of the teams shall be elected by the assembled players. As a matter of suggestion the following named gentlemen are capable in every respect to make good managers: Fred Goudie, J. O. Carter, Jr., D. H. Davis, Jno. Soper, J. Q. Wood, Jas. Tuthill and Jno. Winter.

5. The Board of Directors will confer with the managers as to the selection of umpires.

6. The captains of the teams shall be elected by the assembled players. This is rather a peculiar method of procedure, but the players themselves know best who the men are that could lead a team on to success better than anyone else. They must be men who are good players; men who thoroughly understand the game, and, above all, men who can handle a team during the progress of a game.

7. Managers will then draw lots for choice of captains.

8. Managers, assisted by their captains, will then draw lots for first choice of players. First manager selects one player, second manager one player, third manager one player, and so on through the list, thereby insuring teams that are bound to be evenly matched.

Base ball rules of 1898 to govern all contests.

As we are anxious to see the sport revived and take on a new lease of life in 1899 we wish to emphatically state that the above sections are mere suggestions on our part and we earnestly and sincerely trust that all players will give every clause careful consideration. Yours, etc.,

"PLAYERS AND FANS"

Program is Out.

There is published this morning from the Hawaiian Rifle Association the program of events for the tournament on the 17th inst. There are nine numbers, all with good prizes. The variety of the program will attract all shots of all organizations. The card is a good one and the Association men are confident that the day will be made a complete success.

Had Eight Tins.

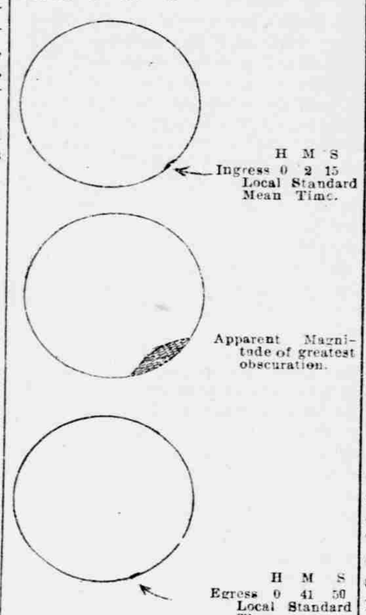
Deputy Marshal Chas. Chillingworth last night made another capture of man and opium. This time the victim landed was a Pake. Chillingworth knew the Chinaman was a dealer and was on the lookout for a chance to make a haul. The game was bagged on the King street bridge. The Pake put up quite a fight. Chillingworth had to down the prisoner and tie his arms.

OBSERVATIONS OF THE PARTIAL ECLIPSE

Careful Record Made in Town. Punahou Telescope.

Professor W. D. Alexander certifies to the following diagramed observation of the partial eclipse of the sun yesterday, noted by Frank S. Dodge and Walter E. Wall:

	H	M	S
Ingress	10	32	15	Greenwich Mean Time Estimated after Clearing up of Sky.
	H	M	S
Egress	11	11	50	Greenwich Mean Time
Interval	0	39	35



Observations of the eclipse were made at Oahu college by Professor Ingalls.

The five and a half inch telescope, which has recently been fitted with an equatorial mounting, was so arranged that many persons could simultaneously watch the eclipse.

A large black diaphragm having a circular hole in its center, was thrust over the larger end of the telescope, at right angles to the long axis of the instrument. By this means the eye-end of the instrument and its immediate neighborhood was shielded from the direct rays of the sun. Then a white screen was arranged at right angles to the long axis of the telescope about a foot from the eyepiece. This screen received the image of the sun with the moon encroaching upon its disc. By this means as many as could crowd into the dome of the observatory were able to watch the phenomenon. Several large sun spots were discovered near the center of the sun.

A good many citizens and pupils of a number of the public and private schools watched the eclipse.

Dr. Soper, one of the young men in jail charged with gross cheat, was formerly a student at Stanford. Plunkett, the other man, is related to a prominent citizen of Hilo. Efforts are being made to get the prisoners out of the "scrape."

A TRUST FIGHT

Big Battle of Sugar Factors Wages in Chicago.

LIGHTNING CHANCES ARE MADE

Arbuckles and Doechers—Clever Maneuvering—Beet Sugar Now Figures.

Chicago has become the chief battleground in the contest between the sugar trust and the Arbuckles and the Doeschers, its powerful rivals.

Recently the price of "outside sugar" was cut ⅛ of a cent below trust price, reaching almost the lowest quotation on record. The drop was accompanied by developments that showed the existence of a little trust among wholesale grocers to support the big trust, and also that a new Richmond was in the field in the shape of a beet sugar supply. The trust was not ready to meet its rivals' prices, but it expected to do so.

The circumstances leading up to the cut are these: Arbuckle Bros. and the Doeschers own sugar refiners on the Atlantic seabord that have a daily capacity of 5000 and 3500 barrels respectively. Both plants were started less than six months ago and both invaded Chicago with their goods early in the fall.

The trust was ready for them. In September, seeing that rival goods were to be offered, its representatives visited the jobbing trade and suggested that a contract be signed by which any amount of sugar, up to a stated quantity, might be purchased by the jobber at a given price, and that a low one. This was to cut the ground from under the trust's rivals, but it was made only to its factors.

The latter are all the wholesale grocers except two or three, whose arrangement with the trust provides for a rebate of from ½ to 1-16 from the list price, to be made periodically.

The Arbuckles and Doeschers, when they entered the Chicago market, made a cut in prices. It did not bring the expected increase in sales, as the jobbers were able under their contracts to draw on the trust for sugar at the same prices. The contracts began expiring a short time ago. Before the date was reached the trust's representatives visited the factors and extended the agreement. When the Arbuckles and Doeschers found this out they announced a cut to 5.20 cents and coupled with it the notice that they would do business direct with the retail trade. They followed it up with a further cut to 5.15 cents—a full ⅛ of a cent below the trust price.

The local houses of the Arbuckles and Doeschers were bombarded with business. Salesmen for the jobbers and wholesalers came into report that the market was taken away from the trust; that all the retailers in Chicago were dealing with the opposition. No attempt was made to meet the price, but there was possibly a reason for this. A meeting of the sugar committee was called in the Commercial Exchange.

One year ago the difference between the prices of raw and refined sugars was about $1.25. Lately it was 34 cents, or nearly $3 per barrel. If the sugar trust's output is 10,000 barrels a day, a little figuring will give a fair approximate idea of the vast sum the fight has cost.

Within the last month fifteen carloads of beet sugar have arrived in Chicago, the first to reach the market. This sugar was sold below the trust price, and it is said arrangements are making to handle an output of half a dozen factories built and building in near-by States. All these features create a situation which well-informed men in the trade say point to the conclusion that the war will be fought out to the bitter end.

Educational Classes Well Filled. Work in General.

The second term of the educational department, Y. M. C. A. began work under the most favorable auspices. The classes are quite large and are doing excellent work under an able faculty. Some of the leading young men of the city are devoting their evenings to study in the Y. M. C. A. In the bookkeeping recitation room, Secretary Coleman has placed some neat desks and cabinets.

Secretary Coleman recently received for the Y. M. C. A. as a token of remembrance from W. F. Allen, now in the States, a copy of the well known work, "In His Steps, or What Would Jesus Do?" by C. M. Sheldon.

The Messenger, a publication brought out by the Central International Committee of the Y. M. C. A. has in its last issue considerable space devoted to the Honolulu association, telling of the great work done in entertaining thousands of soldiers on their way to Manila. The article is under the heading, "Oceania," but Mr. Coleman says that in the future contributions will be sent from Honolulu, U. S. A. The Messenger is printed in three languages and has a circulation of 5,800 copies.

IS A GRAND WORK

Mural Painting by Francis Lathrop, Born in Hawaii.

"THE LIGHT OF THE WORLD"

Great Surface Area—Design and Inscription—Most Important Decoration—Figures.

The sons of the late Dr. Lathrop, George Parsons, and Francis, were born on these Islands. Dr. Lathrop, after acquiring a fortune here, settled in the city of New York. He was not fortunate in his business investment.

Mrs. Lathrop possessed remarkable social gifts, and under favorable circumstances became a social leader. George Parsons Lathrop married Rose Hawthorne. He has an excellent reputation in the literary world. Francis Lathrop has obtained some distinction as an artist.

A private view was given in St. Bartholomew's Church, New York, recently of a mural painting, "The Light of the World," by Francis Lathrop, which has been executed on an order from the brother, children, and wife of the late George Kemp. Since the order was given Mrs. Kemp has died. The painting, which has occupied all Mr. Lathrop's time and attention for nearly two years,, was completed last summer. It fills the entire wall space of the chancel above the altar and reredos, and has a surface area of nearly 800 square feet, with a semi-circular border around the top. It measures 30 feet in height and 28 feet in width, and is painted on canvas, which has been cemented and rolled on to the wall, a process now extensively used in interior decorations, and which was employed in the Hotel del Ville and other public buildings in Paris, in the Boston Public Library, and the Astoria Hotel. The picture has a massive frame of Arabesque design, with the subject text from Mark xiii,, 26. 27: "The Son of Man coming in the clouds with great power and glory," in Gothic letters. This frame was designed and modeled by the artist and was cast under his supervision.

The picture is not only the most important work that Mr. Lathrop, who has achieved deserved fame for his decorative work, has produced, but will take high place among the more important mural paintings of the country. The artist did the interior decoration of St. Bartholomew's several years ago, and he has made this last painting to complement the church decoration. There are 78 figures or heads in the composition, and most of these, even in the remoter groups, are above life size. The figure of Christ, which is the centre of the composition, is of heroic size.

The scheme of color of the picture is white, gold, and purple, and the picture is so placed that the side lights of the chancel illuminate it even on a dark day and invest it with a joyous atmosphere. The keynote of the composition is one of triumphant rejoicing. The figure of Christ, draped in white garments falling in fine folds, advances in a cloud of light, with arms extended in a gesture of protection and welcome, while numerous figures of the elect and saints, robed in white, purple, and gold, are massed in the foreground on either side of the figure of Christ. Two angels holding palms, one on the right and one on the left are the marshals of this heavenly host, some of whom are kneeling in attitudes of devotion and some of whom are praying. Others, again, stand or kneel with downcast eyes and bowed heads, but all show awe and wonder in the attitudes and expressions. Above this host two angels, Faith and Hope, are depicted as about to place a crown on the head of Christ, and on either side are groups of trumpeters. On the very top and completing the circle around the cetre figure another group of angels looks upon the scene below. Two seated angels are below the figure of Christ on either side, and on the right and left are still two angels, one bearing a harp and another a lyre.

The treatment of light in the picture is both masterly and effective. The figure of Christ itself, which is the central point of the light mass, is modeled out of the light, the rays converging and forming the lines of drapery. In looking closely at this central point, it is seen that the figure of Christ, with the lights above and below, forms the upright of a great cross, the angels holding the crown forming the arms. The outlines of the draperies melt imperceptibly into the surrounding cloud like setting. It is impossible to describe in cold type the beautiful color and light effect and the strength and power of Mr. Lathrop's painting. It should be seen and studied by all lovers of art and decoration.

What a Honolulu Lady Has to Say of Doan's Backache and Kidney Pills.

Many people are skeptical about taking so-called patent medicines, but a few testimonials as given below ought to convince the most skeptical that all remedies are not without merit.

Home testimonials certainly must be accepted as being first class and positive proof of the curative features of a remedy. Watch this space for a series of testimonials of people well and favorably known.

Mrs. Grace Dodd, 524 Young street, says: "I was troubled with enlargement of the liver; suffered severe pains in my right side and lame back for two years. After consulting a local physician and taking medicines of all kinds and failing to get relief I purchased a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and soon was relieved of the severe pains, could enjoy a good sleep and am satisfied the Pills cured me."

Doan's Kidney and Backache Pills can be obtained at the Hollister Drug Co., Ltd., Fort Street, at 50c a box.

Still Further Argument in Chinese Cases.

Mr. Ballou on Maritime Jurisdiction—Territorial Authority A Duel of Words.

Another batch of Chinese habeas corpus petitions were brought before the Supreme Court yesterday afternoon. Attorneys Ballou and Robertson were present in behalf of petitioners, while Attorney-General W. O. Smith and L. A. Thurston represented the respondent, Collector-General McStocker.

In answer to a query from the bench the various attorneys present stated that the answers and replications filed in the present matter were identical with and involved the same principles as those in cases already decided. The attorneys for the respondent contended that the time of the Court should not be taken up with repetitions of arguments already heard and passed upon.

Mr. Ballou who had not been heard before on the Chinese question, asked for permission to give an argument on that part of the decision concerning Court jurisdiction.

The attorney claimed to have studied the point thoroughly as counsel for libellants in the S. S. Columbia case, and could present some new argument which he believed would result in the Court reversing its decision. Meeting with opposition from the Counsel on the other side, Mr. Ballou turned on them with considerable warmth, accusing them of pursuing a course inconsistent with honor and decency. To this Attorney-General Smith arose, and repeating the words, demanded their retraction. Mr. Ballou replied that he was very much in earnest, that the opposing counsel knew from private conversations of his desire to present argument on the subject. Mr. Thurston then arose and with decided animation asserted that if the gentleman was in earnest when he made the accusation of dishonor and indecency against the Attorney-General and himself the proof must come and the affair be settled then and there. After a pause which was painful with silence, Mr. Ballou spoke. A complete retraction was made.

Mr. Thurston then contended that even should the attorney be successful in securing a reversal of the Court's decision regarding maritime jurisdiction the decision affecting the restriction of Chinese would not be in any way changed and, further, however interesting and instructive a speech from the attorney would be, he had no time for listening to academic discourses. After some further discussion a ruling came from the bench, announcing that argument would be heard.

Mr. Ballou began the debate.

The attorney laid down three principles and upon them built a strong argument replete with quotations from books of law and judiciary decisions.

The points as stated were:

1st. That all courts in any territory of the United States may exercise the jurisdiction popularly known as Federal jurisdiction which is defined in Article III., Section II. of the Constitution of the United States.

2nd. That the question of contradictory State and Federal jurisdiction under that section of the constitution cannot arise in territories, but that all territorial jurisdiction and power comes from the power of Congress to make needful rules and regulations respecting the territory of the United States.

3rd. That Congress can delegate to territorial legislatures the power to erect courts with Federal jurisdiction and such delegation can be found in Newland's Resolution.

At 3:30 Mr. Ballou having concluded his argument, Mr. Robertson addressed the Court in behalf of the petitioners. Mr. Robertson handled the question of single and dual sovereignity. He strongly contended that with a distinction between Federal and Territorial Courts in American territory where no Federal Courts have been provided, social chaos would result.

In answer to a question from Judge Perry Mr. Robertson claimed that until such time as Chinese Inspector Brown showed himself to have authority for holding Chinese immigrants in quarantine he had not the legal right to so restrain them any more than did private citizens of Honolulu. He urged that the burden of proof for authority rested with Mr. Brown and should be brought forward if existing.

Mr. Thurston arose to make answering argument, but as the afternoon was gone the Court decided to hear no more until today.

THE CULTIVATION OF GINGER.

In the American Journal of Pharmacy is an elaborate article on the cultivation of ginger as a commercial product in the island of Jamaica.

It is an important article of commerce. In the judgment of the writer, from 25,000 to 50,000 of the people are more or less dependent upon it for ready money. In 1896 the amount exported was 1,906,609 lbs. The estimates are that only 250 acres of land are under the cultivation of this sort in large farms. It is mainly grown in small patches near the homes of the poorer people, so that they can, at odd moments, tend them. In the cultivation of this plant the labor of the women and children is important. The average yield is from 1000 to 1500 pounds per acre, and the price is about 12 cents per pound. The plants are set out in March and April and are harvested in December and January. There is also a rattoon crop. It is said that the crop is an exhaustive one, but there do not appear to be any serious attempts to provide an adequate fertilizer. Much land upon which coffee and ginger have been cultivated has been abandoned. This is largely due to a failure to preserve the fertility of the soil.

Here apparently, then, is a simple industry which, if properly introduced in these islands would bring a comfortable income to native, Portuguese and Asiatic families, without interfering with the regular occupations of the men. If it is successful in Jamaica, it surely can be made successful here. The introduction of this industry, as well as that of the cultivation of the vanilla bean, and the perfume flowers, has a philanthropic side to it.

Every new industry needs a Moses,—a man with intelligence, energy and pluck to work out the problem, simple as it is, and convert the unbelievers. Here is an agricultural resource, but there is no brain to grasp it and make it useful.

Several of our young men are devoting themselves to certain phases of missionary work. But this highly important missionary work of teaching men and women and children how to feed and clothe themselves, as a preparation for better living and thinking is not understood or urged by the community.

We are, as communities usually are, profoundly ignorant of the real relation of religion to life. A hungry man, however, "good" he may be, prefers a sandwich to the richest spiritual food, and where the struggle for existence is the closest, there is the least progress in the religious life.

The apostles of Christian civilization who know how to make the twin screws of religion and industry drive, with harmony and complementary force, the vessel of progress, belong to the new breed of missionaries. If there was as much interest in encouraging the few Apostles here and others ready to join them, as there is in worshipping the sugar god, we would soon see some flourishing small industries in operation which would stand as joint religious and secular work.—the agency of the twin screws.

MET THE LAW.

The international law providing for the declaration of neutrality in the event of war was the immediate cause of Dewey's attack upon, and victory over, the Spanish fleet at Manila.

Prof. Hollis of Harvard, the eminent naval constructor and authority on the efficiency of war ships seems to think that Dewey showed his great capacity in the work preliminary to the naval engagement. The engagement itself was almost a trivial affair in the singular inequality of the opposing forces.

Upon this declaration of war Admiral Dewey was turned out of Hong-Kong, and all of the Asiatic ports were closed to him. He was also seven thousand miles from home. He was at once forced to make a port and supply station for his ships or fly the home pennant. He chose to make his own port, bore away for Manila and caught the Spanish fleet before it could scatter.

While the people are shouting over his victory in the destruction of an ill-conditioned Spanish fleet, the students in history see that Dewey's renown will rest mainly on his daring method of meeting the emergency caused by the neutral proclamations. Suddenly driven out to sea, by the rules of international law, seven thousand miles away from his base of supplies, he selected the stronghold of the Spaniards for refuge in Asiatic waters. Nelson could not have done better. Farragut, running the fire of the forts on the Mississippi could not have done better. The men behind the guns quickly settled the conflict of blood and iron. But the glory of the affair is with the brain that was confronted with an emergency arising out of international law; that observed and yet triumphed over the regulations of international law by suddenly creating an American port in Asiatic waters.

PROGRESS IN JAPAN.

The year 1898 will be memorable in the history of Parliamentary government in Japan. It was believed by many that owing to the vicious system of clan government, a revolution would follow the conflicts in the Diet. It was believed by many that the Japanese people failed to comprehend the principles of constitutional government, and would force the country back to rule of arbitrary government.

The enormous expenditures in the construction of a large navy, and the increase of the army, called for large additional taxation. It was concluded on all sides that increased revenue could be obtained only by the taxation of land. So great was the opposition to such a tax by the land owners, no party dared to propose it. The needs of the nation demanded the increase, but the statesmen did not dare to stake their fortunes upon making it an issue before the people.

Marquis Ito fully appreciated the importance of the crises, and resigned office with the hope that party, instead of clan, government would find strength to meet the issue. It was a bold movement and will probably be successful. The House of Representatives has passed the bill providing for the land tax. The farming classes, contrary to the expectations of the Progressionists, have recognized the justice of the measure and do not oppose it.

The action of the House is the first important evidence of the good sense and patriotism of the people in the conduct of government by party and not by clan. European statesmen, and foreigners residing in Japan have not expected that the local politicians would so quickly yield their local prejudices, and act for the common good.

The creation of a paper constitution by the act of the Emperor of Japan is one of the events of the latter part of the century. The successful working of that constitution is another and more important event.

The value of the searchlight was clearly demonstrated at Santiago. Admiral Sampson says: "This was undoubtedly one of the most important elements in making the blockade successful, in that it made it impossible, as was stated on board the New York by the Captain of the Colon, for the Spanish squadron to leave at night. The entrance was by this means brilliantly lighted, so that the movements of the smallest boat could be seen within."

Drink PURE WATER.

If the advice given in those three words is heeded, good health will follow. City water is not good for many reasons, principally, because it is contaminated with vegetable and putrid matter of all descriptions. A simple analysis shows this to be a fact.

EXCERCISE

Our doctors are busy treating patients who are suffering from complaints, more especially malarial disorders, which will be materially benefitted if they drink a water that is pure and possesses curative features, as does Bartlett Spring Water.

DUE

Ask your family physician about the water, and if he is honest he will endorse its use.

All who have drank the water speak in the highest of terms for it.

This climate demands the use of such a water and you cannot afford to be without it.

We will serve free of charge a glass of this wonderful natural Spring water at our Soda Counter to all who care to come and test its virtues. We deliver the water to your home in case lots at $6.50 for 50 pints, $9.50 for 50 quarts.

TO CURE CANCER

Prescription Recommended By an Eminent Man.

Experiments With a New Treatment—Reported By the London Lancet—The Effects.

(The following is published on the request of a lady for many years a subscriber to the Advertiser.)

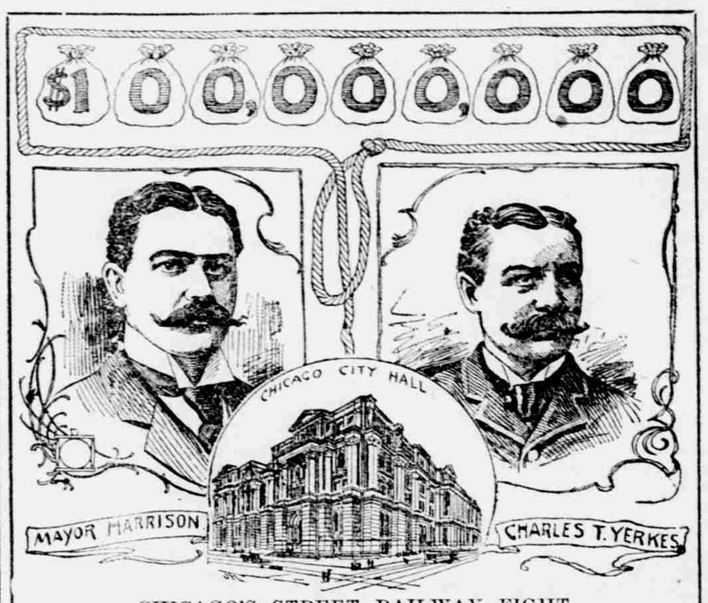
The London Lancet gives some particulars of investigations at Queen's Hospital, Birmingham, by Dr. John Clay, touching a new method of treating cancer. A study of the pathology of cancer led him to the opinion that a carbohydrate of some kind might prove beneficial, and for several reasons he decided that Chian turpentine might prove the most suitable. Mr. Clay reports several cases in which remarkable benefit evidently resulted, with every prospect of permanent cure. The new remedy was administered in pills as follows: Chian turpentine, six grains; flowers of sulphur, four grains; to be made into two pills, to be taken every four hours. In a case where the turpentine could not be digested in pills, it was made into an emulsion. An ethereal solution of Chian turpentine was prepared by dissolving one ounce of the turpentine in two ounces of pure sulphuric ether (anaesthetic). Of this solution, ½ oz.; solution of tragacanth, 4 oz.; syrup, 1 oz.; flowers of sulphur, 40 grains; water, 16 oz.; 1 oz. three times daily. The maximum dose of the Chian turpentine which can be safely and continuously given is twenty-five grains daily. It is advisable to discontinue the remedy for a few days after ten or twelve weeks' constant administration, and then to resume it as before.

Commenting on the efforts of the new medicine, Dr. Clay says: 'The turpentine appears to act upon the periphery of the growth with great vigor, causing the speedy disappearance of what is usually termed the cancerous infiltration, and thereby arresting the further development of the tumor. It produces equally efficient results on the whole mass, seemingly destroying its vitality, but more slowly. It appears to dissolve all the cancer cells, leaving the vessel to become suddenly atrophied, and the firmer structures gradually to gain a comparatively normal condition. It is a most efficient abodyne, causing an entire cessation of pain in a few days, and far more effectually than any sedative I have ever given. In the cases I have described no sedative was employed in any instance, although in some cases where great pain had existed previously to commencing the treatment, large doses had been given. Whether this arrest of pain arises from the death of the tumor, or is due to there being no longer irritation of the sentient nerves (in consequence of tension being withdrawn by the removal of the cells), the fact is the same."

PHILIPPINES CABLE.

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—Col. Kimball, of the Quartermaster's Department in the Army Building, has received orders from the War Department to secure at once an iron ship of from 1,000 to 2,000 tons for use as a cable ship to lay cables to connect the islands of the Philippinese. The department has already ordered for this purpose 166 miles of marine cable, weighing 525 tons. It is to be coiled in skeleton tanks in different holds of the vessel. The cable ship must accommodate on the forward deck, the "giving out" machinery, which will weigh from fifteen to twenty tons, and the accessories, weighing from five to ten tons. In the after-hold will be fitted out the quarters for the crew of twenty men. This space will be used for coal on the way out. The ship will be kept on station as a cable ship, or can be used as a transport. She is to be secured at once.

Capt. Sigsbee says that when the Maine was blown up he was in his cabin and had just discovered that he had carried in his pocket for ten months a letter to his wife from one of her friends. Many a man has been blown up under similar circumstances.



CHICAGO'S STREET RAILWAY FIGHT.

For years there has been no such excitement in Chicago as that occasioned by the attempt of the street railways of the city to secure the passage of an ordinance extending their franchises fifty years. In 1897 the state legislature passed a bill permitting such extension by ordinance, but Mayor Harrison, supported by most of the newspapers and a majority of the citizens, took a decided stand in opposition.

THE STOCKHOLDER.

Maryland Court Says He May See the Boods.

The Maryland Court of Appeals held, in the recent case of Weihenmayer vs. Bitner, reported in the Daily Record of Baltimore, that a stockholder has a right to examine the books of the corporation at all reasonable times, and that he can enforce this statutory right by mandamus; that if his petition alleges an application at a reasonable and proper time and its refusal, it is not necessary that it should aver a definite and legitimate purpose, and that if any good reason exists why an inspection should not be permitted it should be shown as a matter of defense. The Court said: "It is stated in the answer to the petition that Weihenmayer is engaged in the manufacture and sale of hosiery of the Windsor Knitting Mills business, and that he desires an examination of the books, documents and records of the corporation for the purpose of obtaining information to be used by him in the conduct of his own business to the injury and loss of the said corporation. This purpose is denied by the petitioner in his replication, and no proof whatever was offered to sustain the charge at the trial. But the petitioner's right would not be forfeited by any such cause. The right is given to him as a stockholder by statute, and is absolute and not made to depend upon any circumstance but the ownership of the stock. It is easy to see that there might be good reasons for refusing an application, for instance, if it were made for some evil, improper or unlawful purpose, and if such purpose were alleged and proved the writ would be denied."

BETWEEN CALIFORNIA AND SACRAMENTO STREETS,

San Francisco, California.

Twenty years of successful experience as a Real Estate Agent enables me to state that I have done well for investors, when they followed my advice.

The attention of those having money to invest is called to the fact that there are great opportunities to make splendid investments in San Francisco Real Estate at the present time. The condition of realty at present favors the buyer. This is the time to invest when properties can be purchased at low prices.

San Francisco has a great future; all unite on this point. It is to be the great city of the Pacific Coast and the man who buys now will make himself rich.

I offer my experience and knowledge of values of property to those who desire to purchase business properties for income, or improved lots or blocks for investment. Information cheerfully given in reference to all matters pertaining to Real Estate in San Francisco. I will be happy to correspond in relation thereto.

Sometimes estates are divided, and the property has to be sold; in this way fine purchases can be made. The undersigned possesses information of all such sales and can advise buyers as to values.

Money invested on Real Estate security for those who desire to loan their money.

Full charge taken of properties and taxes paid for absent owners.

IS OUT OF HAYTI

Woman Wanted to Escape "Cannibal Season."

Severe Arraignment of Natives. Horrible Charge Made and Denied—Government.

(New York Times.)

A mulattress with a plump baby in her arms reached Philadelphia on a sailing vessel from Hayti the other day, and declared her eager desire to become a resident of the United States. It was necessary for her to get a bond as guarantee that she would not become a public charge, and while the incidental formalities were in progress somebody asked her why she had come from a tropical island and her own people to live among strangers, where the making of a living is a task by no means easy.

The woman answered with an earnestness that said much for her sincerity and something for her veracity, that she left Hayti because the season for certain cannibalistic rites in the district where she lived was coming on, and that her child would have been killed and eaten if she had not left the country. This horrible charge has been made against the Haytians many times, and as often denied by them, but the denials have not carried the weight of the accusations, and the best authorities regard it at least as highly probable that in parts of the black republic heathenish customs of the most frightful sort have been practiced ever since the expulsion of the French.

The Government is corrupt and sanguinary, and the treatment of white foreigners is often atrocious. The Haytians have had many years in which to develop the power of self-government, but they remain far below the standards of civilization, and harsh critics declare that they are sinking rather than rising. Moreover, this island is potentially of great value. There is a basis of prophecy in that fact.

LYDDITE SHELL.

A Missle That Killed Without Striking Object.

Artillery officers who used the howitzers at Omdurman have sent in their reports on the Lyddite shell. As an explosive it does not seem to answer so well as was expected in destroying buildings. It failed to demolish the Mahdi's tomb, though several Lyddites went through the cupola and exploded inside. The building had eventually to be destroyed by guncotton.

An astonishing number of shells had also to be used to batter down a mud hut in the line of fire. But in the destruction of life the Lyddite shell is terrible. It kills all around it. Horses and men within a large area simply drop down as though the angel of death had passed over the field when the shells burst.

Report says 30 per cent. of the enemy found death through artillery fire, but showed no signs of wounds. They had been killed by the air concussion of the explosive. The shell was not expected to be so deadly in its effect, though better results were anticipated in demolishing buildings and fortifications. In mountain warfare the Lyddite shell would be invaluable. There would not have been such a sacrifice of life on the British side at Dargai had the howitzers been used in the Northwest frontier war.

AUTO-TRUCK ENTERPRISE.

Heavily Capitalized Company Incorporated at New York.

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—The Herald says: The New York Auto-Truck Company, with a capital of $1,000,000 has been incorporated. With this capital it is proposed to place in the streets here auto-trucks, operated by compressed air. The only persons whose names are made public in connection with this scheme are James H. Hoadley and Henry E. Knight. Hoadley is president of the Compressed Air Power Company. Hoadley and Knight combined their interests in compressed air motors some years ago, and William C. Whitney became interested in their company.

TRANSPORT FLEET.

WASHINGTON, December 28.—As soon as the emergency fund of $3,000,000, which is carried by the deficiency bill, is available, the first step of the war administration will be to add to the fleet of transports in the Pacific ocean and to make such alterations in those now under its control that there may be no further hireing of British ships for carrying supplies and holding them. This is the prime purpose of the fund, and as soon as it is in hand it is expected there will be at least three ships added to the Pacific fleet and refrigerating plants placed in most of these and the ones now owned.

SHIPBUILDING.

Maine Enjoying Return of the Good Old Times.

Dispatches from leading shipbuilding centers on the ocean and on the great lakes, says a paper on the Mainland, testify to great activity in all lines of this industry. From Maine especially reports are good, as may be gathered from the following extract from a dispatch to the New York Sun: "The very best sign of the good times in Maine is the arrival of a shipbuilding boom which, while coming too late to make a great showing of tonnage launched this year, has set the yards and shops going at a busier rate than they have known for a decade. In years past Maine used to build from 40,000 to 70,000 tons of shipping annually, but of late, for reasons that have been told over and over again, the industry has fallen into decay, and the figures have been too small to be worth publishing. Now, however, Maine has a boom in her shipyards, and the good effects are felt from Portland to Eastport. Various causes have contributed to bring about this revival of shipbuilding, but the war with Spain and the commercial conditions and opportunities resultant therefrom are the chief factors. It cannot be said that the days of wooden ship have returned, for in all the list of new vessels launched, in process of construction or under contract there is not one wooden square-rigger. Changed conditions demand new types of vessels, and Maine is now prepared to build anything wanted, from a palatial steam yacht to a coal barge. While the revival of business extends all along the coast, not much has yet been done at any place except Bath, which is the center of the shipbuilding industry in Maine."

FOR GERMAN WARSHIPS.

The German ship Artemis has arrived at Port Townsend from Hamburg and she will take away one of the most remarkable cargoes that ever left the Pacific Coast. She will carry 1,000,000 feet of lumber, every piece of which is to be selected and absolutely flawless. Not a knot or a crack will pass muster, and some of the timber will be sixty feet in length. The lumber is to be used for the decks and interior of German men-of-war.

A Model Plant is not complete without Electric Power, thus dispensing with small engines.

Why not generate your power from one CENTRAL Station? One generator can furnish power to your Pump, Centrifugals, Elevators, Plows, Railways and Hoists; also, furnish light and power for a radius of from 15 to 30 miles.

Electric Power being used, saves the labor of hauling coal in your field, also water, and does away with high-priced engineers, and only have one engine to look after in your mill.

Where water power is available it costs nothing to generate Electric Power.

THE HAWAIIAN ELECTRIC COMPANY is now ready to furnish Electric Plants and Generators of all descriptio at short notice, and also has on hand a large stock of Wire, Chandeliers and Electrical Goods.

All orders will be given prompt attention, and estimates furnished for Lighting and Power Plants; also, attention is given to House and Marine Wiring.

Your heart beats over one hundred thousand times each day. One hundred thousand supplies of good or bad blood to your brain.
Which is it?
If bad, impure blood, then your brain aches. You are troubled with drowsiness yet cannot sleep; you are as tired in the morning as at night; you have no nerve power; your food does not seem to do you much good.
Stimulants, tonics, headache powders, cannot cure you: but will. It makes the liver, kidneys, skin and bowels perform their proper work. It removes all impurities from the blood. And it makes the blood rich in its life-giving properties.

For biliousness take AYER'S PILLS. They promptly relieve and surely cure. Take them with Ayer's Sarsaparilla: one aids the other.

MINSTREL SHOW.

A Lady in the Center—New Talent. Coming Company.

Rehearsals are now in full swing for the Orpheum Minstrel Show Saturday night. Some of the best local talent has been secured. The Kawaiahao Quintette Club will appear with faces blackened for the occasion. Austin R. Fite of the Eighteenth Infantry, U. S. A., an A1 banjo player, will give comic songs to banjo accompaniment. Corp. Williamson of Co. L and Grant Hendershot of Co. M, Engineers, will sing. These men are singers of ability, both possessing beautiful tenor voices.

Mr. Post has aranged an innovation, introducing a female interlocutor. May Ashley will take the part, and, it goes without saying, she will add to her laurels. Captain Berger and orchestra will furnish the music.

W. R. Prestige left by the Kinau yesterday for Hilo to meet the Chapman and Warren Dramatic Company, the organization engaged by Mr. King for the Orpheum theatre. Mr. Prestige took with him some of the Orpheum scenery and the Company will show perhaps for two nights at the Spreckels Hall, Hilo.

Two Weddings.

There will be two church weddings this evening. One will be at Central Union and the other at the Roman Catholic Cathedral. W. L. Howard, who is with Castle & Cooke, Ltd., will be united in marriage at Central Union to Mrs. Goddard, formerly a resident here and lately returned from the Mainland.

The wedding of Chase H. Rose of this city and Miss Rose Senna will take place at the Roman Catholic Cathedral. Elaborate preparations have been made for the affair. After the ceremony there will be a reception, commencing at 8 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Hopkins, in Kalihi.

The Cunning Chinese.

J. D. McVeigh, who is in charge of the Quarantine Station here for the government, unearthed yesterday an "underground" means of communication between shore Chinese and those of their countrymen whose entry into Hawaii is disputed by the authorities of the United States. The town Chinese have been allowed to send presents of food to their countrymen in detention and have taken advantage of this privilege to enclose notes in the gifts. The letters have principally related to the litigation concerning the exclusion act. While the communication could have no serious result it has been promptly stopped.

WHEN DEWEY COMES.
(New York Sun.)

When Dewey comes to town, you bet,
There'll be a hot old time,
For drums 'll beat an' horns 'll toot
An' welcoming bells 'll chime;
We'll wine him an' we'll dine him
An' tote him up an' down,
Till he won't know what he's up against,
When
Dewey
Comes
To
Town!

Oh, the hero of Manila
Is a modest kind of peach,
An' like enough he'd stammer
If he had to make a speech;
But when it comes to fighting
He's entitled to the crown,
An' the folks 'll make him wear it,
When
Dewey
Comes
To
Town!

WOMAN SUFFRAGE BEATEN.

A dispatch from Sioux Falls, S. D., says: Final returns have been received from the various counties on the constitutional amendments submitted at the recent election. Woman suffrage was defeated by 4,008 and the South Carolina dispensary system by 965; while the initiative and referendum has been carried by a majority of a little over 6,000.

The vote on the three amendments reached only about one-half the total vote polled at the election.

GOOD NEW BOOK

Mary H. Krout's Volume on the Islands.

WAS A CLOSE OBSERVER

Secured the Facts—Writes Well—Some of the Features—First Class Publishers.

"Hawaii and a Revolution." Mary H. Krout, 1898. Published by Dodd, Mead & Co., of New York. For sale by Wall, Nichols Co., Honolulu, at $2 net.

There are 330 pages of this book. It is beautifully bound, clearly printed on good paper and has a number of excellent illustrations. The name of the author will be recognized by a good many people of this town, and there are numbers who will purchase the book without any further inquiry. Miss Krout was here in 1893 and in 1894. She is a cultivated woman, and one with a strong grasp of affairs. She is an observer and a thinker. While here Miss Krout enjoyed to the highest degree the confidence of all with whom she came in contact. She was sent to study the situation and she had the rare faculty of getting facts that stood out and then presenting them effectively. Miss Krout's personal sympathies went out to the revolutionists, though she had a great aloha for the natives and during her stay here was granted audiences by Liliuokalani and Kapiolani. Miss Krout is a cousin of Admiral Brown, who endeared himself to the whole of the Hawaiian race.

The writer of "Hawaii and a Revolution" was afforded, by her letters and her personal efforts, opportunity to see about all there was to be noted in connection with the overthrow and the political relations and conditions. She took full advantage of this chance and the result is a volume worth having in a library. It is utterly unlike a number of the flimsy "chapter books" that have been floated and that are being offered. Before coming to the Islands and while on the scene, and afterwards while preparing her manuscript, Miss Krout was a student of Fornander, Jarves and Alexander and her pages are singularly free from error. One funny little mistake is made in reporting a trifling affair. Miss Krout says a performance at the opera house was announced unexpectedly one evening on the arrival of a boat from the Colonies and that the ladies dressed so hurriedly for the occasion that they left their hats at home. Miss Krout must know now that Honolulu is the only city in the world where the ladies go to the theater without hats all the time.

As a whole "Hawaii and a Revolution" is a strong book. Wherever in its lines Miss Krout takes up a set of facts and reasons for herself the result is a tribute to her brain power. She is merciless in commenting on Commissioner Blount and Mr. Cleveland. Miss Krout visited the volcano, but did not care to go to Molokai. As an investigator she was extremely careful in studying the character of the native Hawaiians and cites with regret the inability of the aborigine to meet the phases of the great and sudden changes that had taken place in his domain.

Miss Krout gives a number of pages of most interesting personal experiences. Through some means not told she learned in the States many months prior to January, 1893, that there was likely to be serious trouble in Governmental circles here. It was more than hinted to her that there would in all probability, in view of the conduct of the Queen and the Legislature, be an upheaval of some sort. Miss Krout secured from the paper to which she was attached, permission to come to the Islands, her purpose being to be "on the spot." In making her last call in Chicago she had the misfortune to have a fall that severely sprained an ankle. This delayed her till after the overthrow, and she came here on crutches.

"Hawaii and a Revolution" is entertaining from first page to last. Some of the descriptive writing is picturesquely vivid and well of preservation value. In the book, besides Hawaii, there is something of two calls at Apia, Samoa and a visit to New Zealand. In describing the taking down of the American flag here by Blount, Miss Krout gives an account that is a faithful word reproduction of the event.

Police Court.

Judge Wilcox yesterday fined Ah Kong $100 for having che fa tickets in possession.

A. Anderson, F. Linquist and Guillard for deserting the ship Fort George were fined each $2 and costs.

Kanae, a native horse-braker, was fined $10 for heedless driving.

One of the prominent Hagey cure men was fined $2 for drunkenness.

M. Phillips was fined $25 for violating hack regulations regarding the hitching of horses on the streets.

Sam, the native boy, will be tried for assault with a deadly weapon January 17.

Dan Houghtailing who was fined $100 yesterday for selling liquor without a license has appealed to the Circuit Court.

The men who furnish the base ball article published this morning have deep interest in the game and are well known. A full attendance for the meeting at the Drill Shed tomorrow night is desired.

(To be adopted January 1st, 1899.)

WHEREAS, The year 1898, with its benefits and errors are past and the experiences gained during that period are remembered;

BE IT RESOLVED, That in commencing the year 1899, with its uncertainties, we will shape our course so that the voyage will be safe from shoals and reefs.

To start right, go to the PROGRESS SHOE HOUSE.
We wish all a Happy, Prosperous Year.

ANTARCTIC EXPLORATION.

"The situation as to Antarctic exploration," says Appleton's Popular Science Monthly, "is described by the president of the Royal Geographical Society as including a German expedition in course of organization on a liberal scale; the hope that the Norwegian government may send out an expedition, perhaps under the leadership of Dr. Nansen; the Belgian expedition under M. de Gerlache; and the expedition under Mr. Borchgrevink, which is in an advanced state of preparation, and will shortly leave for Australia and South Victoria Land. The ship of this expedition, the Southern Cross, has been designed by the builder of the Fram, and has ten feet of solid oak at her bows, while she is thirty-two inches in thickness at her weakest point. Provision of sledges and dogs is made for the inland journey on the South Victorian continent, and the expedition will make it an object to explore that land and investigate the seas between there and Australia. Mr. Borchgrevink will take with him stores for three years and a supply of carrier-pigeons."

WHAT CUBA'S LOSS MEANS TO SPAIN.

The loss of Cuba means to Spain the loss of the very sustenance of the nation. Already her tax-ridden people are crying for bread. In the same way the loss of your once vigorous appetite means poverty and starvation to your body. If any reader of this paper wishes to be as hungry again as when a child, and wants to fully enjoy hearty meals, drink Seattle beer. It cures indigestion and dyspepsia. BAILEY'S BIKE BITS.

Yes. Bits for Bikes, any Bike. Eldredge and Belvedere, also Clevelands. Direct from the factory where they are made. We have parts for sixteen makes of wheels. Also old parts for wheels names unknown to J. S. B., but as this week we had a '90 Rambler to repair, with cones 2 in. diameter, two wanted. I found them right here in H. G. W. old stock. Also a Progress wheel wanted a crank. Another, who does the machine work in this shop (after trying to get one from the agents) found a plated crank in stock, which, with very slight alterations, fitted perfectly. Pau pilikia. Have had at least half a hundred bad breaks to repair on wheels this week, for which we had every part required, in stock. And any part not otherwise obtainable will be made here at very reasonable rates. We can weld Stearns cranks. Not done here before, often been tried.
