JAPAN READY FOR OUR FLEET

(Associated Press Cable to The Star.)

TOKIO, August 27.—The program for the entertainment of the American Atlantic battleship fleet on the occasion of its visit to this country has been completed and the arrangements provide for a lavish demonstration. To officers and men alike will be extended a hearty and characteristically Japanese welcome. Yokohama will spend over twenty thousand yen on a garden party alone. Leading citizens will give a monster banquet to officers of the various battleships and the Yokohama Chamber of Commerce plans a great entertainment at a tea house. The first squadron, under command of Vice-Admiral Baron Ijuin, will probably represent the Imperial navy in welcoming the United States battleship fleet between October 17 and 24.

DREDGING KEEPS UP

ARREST OF LORD AND OTHERS DOES NOT STOP THE HARBOR OPERATIONS.

In spite of the fact that the scoop dredger of the Hawaiian Dredging Company was stopped last night at about eight o'clock by the arrest of leverman David O'Hara, and of timekeeper J. H. Boyd, the work was started with the next shift at 11 o'clock last night and has been kept up since. Boyd and O'Hara were brought before U. S. Cmommissioner Judd this morning and formally charged with breaking the United States law which forbids the excavation of a harbor, without following plans approved by the Chief of Engineers. They were released on their own recognizance.

The injunction papers, which will effectually tie up the work, until a decision in regard to the specifications has been reached through the courts, were being prepared this morning and will probably be served this afternoon on the Hawaiian Dredging Company and E. J. Lord. A criminal action against the dredging company is also to take place.

Now that the matter has come to a crisis the officers of the dredging company are prepared to fight it out to a finish. They have retained the best of legal talent and will try to show to Judge Dole that they have acted within their contract all the way through.

NEW PARK IN MANOA

PUBLIC RECREATION GROUND AND BEAUTY SPOT IS SOON TO BE ESTABLISHED.

Manoa valley is to have a park all of its own and the residents appear to be greatly pleased over the idea. This is coming as the result of the plan which was introduced by A. L. C. Atkinson when Secretary of the Territory and which has resulted in so many beautiful little spots throughout the city where there were formerly eyesores.

The Government has recently, through an exchange, obtained possession of the Montana lot at the intersection of the two Manoa roads and this will be made into a small park. High Sheriff Henry has promised to help out with prison labor and it will not be long before another beauty spot is added to Honolulu's charms.

PINEAPPLES DEAL

George P. Thielen has bought the interest of R. W. Shingle, A. N. Campbell and the Clark family in the Consolidated Pineapple Co., Ltd. Mr. Shingle is the vice-president of the company. In answer to a question regarding a change of control in the company he said this afternoon: "I have disposed of my entire interests in pipeapples to Mr. Thielen. The amount is $60,000."

Mr. Thielen stated that the management would remain in the hands of L. G. Kellogg. There would be some little change in the board of directors. The stock had been scattered around so as to create differences about details and the deal had been made to bring about unity of direction in the company's affairs.

"ZAZA" TONIGHT

Starting tonight at the Orpheum, the Lumley company will produce David Belasco's famous emotional drama, "Zaza." This will be the first production of this popular play in Honolulu and ought to prove to be the strongest play yet produced by director Buhler. "Zaza" has been the biggest money maker that Leslie Carter and manager David Belasco ever had. "Zaza" also served to make the reputation of Florence Roberts on the coast.

The play gives opportunity for pretty dresses and beautiful scenery, and requires the full strength of the Lumley company in the cast. "Zaza" will be repeated Friday, Saturday matinee and night.

JUDGE HAPAI HAS PASSED AWAY

VETERAN DISTRICT MAGISTRATE OF HILO DIED LAST NIGHT—HAD BEEN ON THE BENCH FOR THIRTY YEARS IN HILO WHEN HE RESIGNED A FEW MONTHS AGO—WAS ALSO TAX ASSESSOR.

Wireless messages to this city announce the death of Judge G. W. A. Hapai, the veteran jurist of Hilo. He passed away at half-past seven last night and the funeral will be held this afternoon. Judge Hapai was one of the best known Hawaiians in the Territory. He held the position of district magistrate for the district of South Hilo for thirty years, only resigning a few months ago and then doing so contrary to the wishes of Governor Frear and of all who were connected with him.

At the time of his resignation Chief Justice Hartwell of the Supreme Court of the Territory paid him a tribute which expressed the sentiment that during his long career as a Government official he had invariably carried through his duties with the utmost integrity. Besides his service as district magistrate Judge Hapai was tax assessor on Hawaii for ten years.

Judge Hapai was sixty-eight years of age at the time of his death and had not been in the best of physical health, this being his reason for resigning from the bench. He leaves a number of children in Hilo and one in this city, Henry C. Hapai, the chief deputy in the office of Territorial Treasurer Campbell.

EMBRYO JAP HEROES HOPE TO STUDY FLEET

TRAINING SHIP TASEI MARU MAY REMAIN IN PORT UNTIL AFTER ARRIVAL OF THE SEVEN CRUISERS, SUPPLY SHIP AND SEVEN DESTROYERS OF U. S. PACIFIC FLEET FROM SAN FRANCISCO ON WEDNESDAY NEXT—EXCHANGE OF HONORS.

Aboard the Japanese training ship Tasei Maru are a few hundred future Japanese admirals, commanders, captains and lieutenants who are much interested in the coming of the Pacific fleet to Honolulu on Wednesday next.

At present it is unknown how long the Tasei Maru will stay here, but it is believed that she will remain until after the arrival of the seven big cruisers, the seven destroyers and the supply ship of the Pacific fleet due to arrive here on September 2.

For tactical observations and the benefit consequent upon actual optical demonstation the young men of the training ship have had few such opportunities for study as will be presented by the coming of the American Fleet No. 2.

Much significant interest will attach to the reports of the success or otherwise, of the towing of the destroyers for over two thousand miles by the cruisers and an observation of Honolulu coaling facilities and accomplishment will be a lesson to those who are famous for their close attention to any thing the knowledge of which may be of advantage.

It will be pleasant, too, for the Tasei Maru to be present here on the arrival of the fifteen vessels of the department of the Pacific, for there will be a delightful exchange of calls and functions, salutes, honors and attentions.

The Tasei Maru lies in the stream, a splendid type of deep-sea-going educational institutions, as pretty a vessel of her class as ever adorned what is known here as Naval row.

She lies in the stream with the British Carradale and Holywood, merchantmen, and, when the Pacific fleet comes here, in less than a week, the harbor will be a haven for British merchantmen, the Japanese training ship, and American men-of-war, a goodly representation of the three most talked of powers in the world today, the American contingent being representative of growing naval strength, the Japanese exhibition standing for preparation and studious imitation, and the British contribution to the floating show being significant of commercial power.

It has been suggested that the Japanese training ship was designed to be here when the American Pacific fleet should arrive, for educational purposes. Whether or not there was any deliberation in her movements in this regard, the fact remains that the educational advantages prevail.

CHILD IS SCALDED

Pouring hot water, scalding water, out of a window, and incidentally landing it on the head of a child is not specifically referred to in the statutes, although there are cases which may be cited from the reports.

Ah Lee, Celestial, poured hot water, scalding water, out of a window and the same temporarily spoiled the scalp of a child. Complaint from the parents of the child was lodged with the city guardians and Ah Lee is in durance vile for investigation. Chief of Detectives Jack Kalakiela having ushered him into a cell.

Ah Lee is not supposed to have done this thing intentionally, but, for educational purposes, it is thought wise to punish him.

Thoughtless pouring of hot water out of windows in this city is in line with other thoughtless and freaky tricks, like emptying washbowls over top-story veranda railings, throwing lighted cigar and cigarette butts down store-house gratings, going to sleep with a lighted lamp alongside the mosquito netting, scorching automobiles around corners, spitting out of office windows into the street below, or spitting from the front seats of moving trolley cars, or otherwise thinking of nothing but one's own immediate animal desire.

ODD FELLOWS TO THE FLEET

Marshal E. R. Hendry and Dr. C. T. Rodgers were a committee from the Odd Fellows of Honolulu to wait on Captain Rees, commandant of the naval station, today and convey through him an invitation to members of the order in the Pacific fleet to the I. O. O. F. entertainment in their honor. Three floors of the Odd Fellows' building will be occupied on the occasion—the first for children, the second for cards and refreshments and the third for dancing.

POLITICS

"It appears," said a Republican leader this morning, "that local politics is nothing but a science of personal knocking. There does'nt seem to be any discussion of issues, local or other. It is simply a matter of mentioning Smith, Jones or Blank,—and then throwing a brick at him. There appears to be but one idea worth spreading, that is that nearly everyone in the community is grossly corrupt and that the entire duty of voting is centered in defeating a wholly imaginary machine and standing off aggressive hordes of grafters. I think that this is an exceedingly hurtful misrepresentation of the local conditions. Have we no issues to discuss at all, no campaign to wage but of competitive personal knocking?"

"I have just asked Road Supervosor Cummins why Luna Kealoha was fired by him," said Chairman Hustace of the Board of Supervisors this morning. "The Advertiser says I instructed Cummins to fire him, but I know nothing about it. I supose there was some reason, and have sent to Cummins to find out."

Lane is another politician who is denying statements published about himself. "I never thought of running for sheriff," he said this morning. "I will take a nomination for mayor if the convention wants me and if it wants to shelve me all right. But I am not out for sheriff."

The notion of an Achi scheme to be mayor is undergoing a revival among the politicians. Achi is simply 'laying back" and hoping that the Republicans will make a mistake in heading their ticket, in which case he thinks he can herd Hawaiians into his "Labor party." Like others, Achi is also denying published statements, and his statements seem to contradict the following:

> The news that Cox signed the roll of the Labor party last week, given by the Advertiser, which Achi promptly denied, was in fact the tip that resulted in the unmask of Achi and his bunch.

Achi says that there is no roll of the Labor Party in existence and that it is too early yet for him to organize.

Watson some time ago declined to run as Democratic candidate for county attorney.

"The interest of Hawaiian voters," Senator Lane this morning, "is centered upon the municipal offices. They are more or less indifferent about the others. That is where the possible strength of Achi comes in, and that explains how he may become a candidate for mayor. If the Republicans name some candidate who is weak, Achi plans to jump in with his Labor Party and swing the Hawaiian vote."

The arguments for Achi appear to be largely "job" arguments. It is to be something of a race campaign. For example, Achi is given credit for an excellent record for getting his friends jobs, and if he should be mayor, he would control many jobs. Hence the arguments in favor of an Achi party of job-chasers. It is not taken very seriously, however, by Republican leaders.

John Hughes has about stated that he will run for mayor, and he may soon be in the field. "To be mayor would be of course an honor that would naturally tempt one," said Hughes, "but at the same time there is a personal sacrifice involved which is serious. The term is two years and the salary not large and the mayor has to give up all his own business. Nevertheless if it is the judgment of

The Evidence As To The Isoi Note

THE TESTIMONY UPON WHICH THE SUPERVISORS' COMMITTEE BASED THEIR REPORT—TOWNSEND TESTIFIES AGAINST HIS FORMER SUPERIOR AND ISOI SAYS HE THOUGHT SHERIFF WANTED MONEY FROM HIM. A LENGTHY RECORD.

The transcript of testimony in the Supervisors' investigation of the Iaukea-Isoi matter is a lengthy one and brings out some new features of the queer Iwilei negotiations. The investigation began with the taking of Isoi's statement.

STATEMENTS OF ISOI.

Rikichi Isoi, as he gave his name, had lived at Iwilei for about three years and eight months, at that place leasing house and lot and sub-leasing the premises to Japanese women, most of whom were prostitutes.

He had known Sheriff Iaukea for the last year and a half, but had first conversation with him on April 7 this year. This conversation was at Isoi's house near the veranda. Besides wit-

* Calling at Manila.

U. S. A. transports will leave for San Francisco and Manila, and will arrive from same ports at irregular intervals.

THE LOG-BOOK

U. S. Shipping Commissioner Almy yesterday paid off the Flaurence Ward crew.

U. S. Mongolia is expected tomorrow from the Orient and may sail for San Francisco in the evening.

About 6 p. m. yesterday harbor dredging operations ceased when Engineer Otwell, U. S. N., arrested the engineer and time-keeper, but work was recommenced before midnight and keep up all night in spite of arrests.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 16—Quartermasted-General Alyshire of the army is to arrive here this week from Washington, D. C., on a tour of inspection, and will, it is said, devote some time to the transport service, over which Colonel John B. Bellinger, as depot quartermaster here, has presided for some time, or since the departure of Colonel Carrol A. Devol.

It is rumored that Colonel Bellinger may be transferred to some other post of duty, following General Alyshire's visit, but confirmation of the report could not be made yesterday.

Colonel Bellinger has served the customary length of time as head of the transport service, and many of his subordinates are confidently looking for his transfer to some other field.

LONDON, August 15.—A case interesting to travelling Americans because of the question as to tips was heard this week before a Liverpool court. Mr. Parke, an American who crossed from New York to Liverpool on the Carmania in August, 1906, distributed tips to the amount of $35 among stewards.

Parke complained to the management of the line and one of the stewards was dismissed. This was a man named Walter Roche, who brought suit against the company on the ground that he had been libeled, the superintendent of the Cunard Company having sent communications to other steamship companies, saying Roche had been dismissed for soliciting tips from passengers.

The judge ruled the occasion was privileged and the jury gave a verdict for the defendant company.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 16.—Demonstrating his patented device for saving lives at sea, Dr. F. Riehl of 152 St. Charles Street, Alameda, will swim through the breakers from the life-saving station at Ocean Beach at 2 o'clock this afternoon, carrying a lifeline with him to an imaginary wreck several hundred yards on the water.

He says a lifeboat will pick him up and enable him to show the working of a patent kite designed to carry ropes to distressed mariners in the waves.

Dr. Riehl, who submitted an application as swimming instructor to the United States army some time ago, called upon Colonel Marion P. Maus, department commander, yesterday to enlist his interest.

MINIATURE GOLD RUSH

LOS ANGELES MAN CREATES STIR BY FINDING NUGGETS ON TOWN LOT.

LOS ANGELES, July 28.—While digging a cesspool late today on his lot in a new residence district in the southwestern part of the city, Morris Hurwitz found four gold nuggets, weighing half a pound each, within a radius of five feet, and at a depth of twenty-five. The yellow chunks, three inches long and two inches in diameter were taken to an asayer who valued them at $500 or $125 each. They were picked up in a stratum of gravel, and Hurwitz became so wildly excited over his discovery that he immediately stopped work and spread the news broadcast in the neighborhood.

The result was almost a panic and it is expected that by daylight tomorrow hundreds will be digging in the vicinity and trouble over the ownership of property is feared. Every lot will be turned into a gold mine. The same gravelly stratum was struck in other cesspools, but nobody else ever took the trouble to examine heavy pieces of supposed rock brought up, which Hurwitz found to be precious.

A man can't help feeling restless when even his bills are unsettled.

Hot Springs Va. The Present Campaign Headquarters

The two men who now occupy the most conspicuous places in the public eye on this side of the Atlantic—the Republican and Democratic candidates for president—have planned to fortify themselves by means of country life and outdoor exercise for the strenuous campaign of the coming autumn. Neither of the nominees is a stranger to this means of ministering to tired brains and muscles, and the determination of each to devote himself as religiously as may be this summer to the simple life in rural surroundings indicates a common appreciation of the fact that a particularly fierce political battle is impending.

The reading public is tolerably familiar with the vacation home of William Jennings Bryan, because it has been for some years past his all-the-year-round home. The appropriately named farm known as Fairview, located some three miles from the city of Lincoln, Neb., has repeatedly been extolled as an ideal American country residence, and thousands of his fellow-citizens have at one time or another been the guests of the great commoner under the hospitable roof of this homestead. The scene of Judge William H. Taft's present vacation, however, is not nearly so well known by reputation to the newspaper reading public.

It is not that the Republican aspirant for the highest office in the land has not been in the habit of taking an annual vacation. On the contrary, he has for a long time past looked upon summer respite from official duties as the bright particular spot of the year. For 16 years, however, Judge Taft has spent the "off duty" period of each year with his family at the hamlet of Murray Bay, Can.—a not particularly famous or especially fashionable resort on the lower St. Lawrence. The heavyweight of the Roosevelt administration grew very fond of the vacation life at Murray Bay. It was there he became an enthusiastic golf player, and inasmuch as other Tafts—his brothers and their families—made Murray Bay a sort of rendezvous, the resultant family reunions came to be looked forward to as not the least enjoyable of the summer incidents.

For all that Judge Taft went back to this Canadian retreat each summer, he did not follow the example of his friend, Theodore Roosevelt, in acquiring ownership in a country home. Indeed, Judge Taft has never been much of a man to own his own home. He has occupied a rented house in Washington and leased a cottage at Murray Bay. Even in Cincinnati his forthcoming "front porch campaign" will be conducted at his brother's palatial residence. Thus there was no obstacle to a free selection of a summer campaign headquarters for the season of 1908.

Judge Taft confessed after his nomination that he had a lingering longing for his old love, Murray Bay, but it was realized that the resort mentioned was too isolated to permit of convenient pilgrimages by the party leaders with whom the nominee must confer during the summer, and then, too, it might not be quite the thing for an aspirant for the American presidency to be spending so much of his time in Canada. Thus after due deliberation Judge Taft decided that he would establish his summer campaign headquarters in the Virginia mountains, at a point nearly midway between the cities of the East and the Middle West.

The spot chosen, Hot Springs, in Bath county, Virginia, has served Candidate Taft admirably as a resting place in which to make ready for the coming fray. It has been possible for prominent party workers to find their way to Judge Taft's retreat with no undue hardship and at the same time the fact that this nook in the mountains is reached by only one railroad has prevented any influx of one day excursionists with a perpetual demand for speeches from the candidate. Finally, and best of all in the estimation of Judge Taft, is the circumstance that the altitude of 2,500 feet provides a tonic air that stimulates the candidate's energy and gives genuine zest to the games of golf upon which he depends to make him fit physically.

In speaking of his plans Judge Taft recently remarked : "I expect to play golf a good deal during the next few weeks. I am fond of the sport, and it always puts me in excellent condition. Within two weeks of taking up his residence in the country Judge Taft had "trained down" some eight or nine pounds, and he is confident that ere autumn tints appear in the leaves his weight will be well down toward the 200-pound point. The mountain golf cource over which Judge Taft takes daily trips, usually accompanied by some prominent politician, is one of eighteen holes, and in tribute to it the candidate recently remarked, "There are hills in that course that make a man pull very strong in order to travel them."

Judge Taft is frequently accompanied on his daily horseback rides by his youngest son Charles—a manly 10-year-old, who is bound to become a prime favorite with the American people if his father should be given a lease of the White House. Charlie has a handsome pony, named Major—a strawberry roan, 12½ hands high—presented by his aunt, Mrs. C. P. Taft, of Cincinnati, and which is so recent an acquisition that it still possesses the charm of novelty. Candidate Taft is ever urging his wife to become a member of these horseback parties, but Mrs. Taft, although she rode horseback considerably when the family was in the Philippines, has rather lost interest in the pastime since her return. The only daughter, Helen, rides occasionally. It may been noted, incidentally, that Judge Taft is an advocate of the cross seat for women who ride horseback.

Judge Taft has never been famous as a long-distance pedestrian, and he does not make many excursions afoot in the Virginia Mountains, where the roads present many sharp inclines. The candidate was induced to play baseball one day recently, but was ignominiously 'put out" by his agile son, who was a member of the opposing nine. Looking cool and comfortable in straw hat and white waistcoat the candidate, accompanied by Mrs. Taft, attends religious services every Sunday morning in a tiny Episcopal church, perched in a picturesque location on the mountain side. Judge Taft is a member of the Unitarian denomination, but this body has no place of worship near the candidate's summer headquarters, and, accordingly, he gives temporary allegiance to the Episcopal denomination, of which Mrs. Taft, alike to Mrs. Roosevelt, is an adherent.

Candidate Taft has followed a very simple routine since laying down the portfolio of Secretary of War and betaking himself to the warm spring valley of the Old Dominion. Never known as an early riser, he is usually ready for the day's activities at 7:30 or 8 o'clock which is an hour ahead of the schedule he was wont to observe in Washington. Not infrequently Judge Taft breakfasts alone and with the habit acquired during a protracted interval of strenuous globe-trotting he improves this interval to dictate replies to a portion of the heavy correspondence that awaits him each morning. Following breakfast a couple of hours are spent in his private office, and then comes golf. In the afternoon there is another period of office work preceding his horseback ride. Some days the press of business is so heavy that the candidate cannot allow himself any respite for out-door exercise, and when he does play golf he usually kills two birds with one stone, so to speak, by inviting some visiting politician to take a hand in the game, and meanwhile confer on matters political.

Judge Taft has a very complete little business establishment in the mountain fastness selected for a temporary habitation. The office force includes, in addition to his private secretary, two stenographers and a messenger—all men of long experience in Judge Taft's service and thoroughly familiar with his method of handling matters. These helpers are established in three rooms directly over the apartments occupied by the Taft family. There is a waiting or reception-room for visitors and a private office for the candidate. The moving spirit of this compact little business institution is Mr. Fred W. Carpenter, Judge Taft's trusted right-hand man, who has been with him in the capacity of private secretary ever since he took up his duties in the Philippines and who is slated for the much-coveted post of secretary to the president should Taft be elected.

Candidate Taft illustrates by his present summer activities to what an extent it is possible for a resourceful man to combine business and health-giving pleasure without neglecting either and how, with the aid of the telephone and telegraph, he may pursue the role of man of affairs in a mountain region so isolated that no daily newspapers reach there until the day following the date of issue. Despite the announcement that the Democrats intend to open the active campaign unusually early, Judge Taft plans to remain in the Blue Ridge Mountains until September or possibly until after Labor Day. Then refreshed by a season of as nearly complete rest as any presidential candidate can hope to enjoy, he will repair to Cincinnati and enter upon the most active work of the campaign in real earnest.

A TIP FOR THE FLEET COMMITTEE

EDITOR "HAWAIIAN STAR"—Now that preparations are beginning to be made for the reception and entertainment of the second fleet, would it be out of place to suggest that those in charge of the social functions should see that some systematic arrangement is provided for the proper introduction of the visiting officers to the townspeople with whom they will be brought in contact?

If this is neglected, neither the officers nor the Honolulu people can have a thoroughly good time together, excepting in a few isolated cases of haphazard introductions or of previous acquaintance, and there will be mutual disappointment as there was before,—at the official ball and at other dances and sundry gatherings. Officers will be standing around wanting to be sociable generally and to dance with the ladies present. Residents will also be placed in a similar position towards the officers. All will wish to be friendly with them and the ladies will expect to dance with them, yet because of lack of introductions they will be unable to mingle socially with each other to any appreciable extent and the only consolation will be for each side to regard the other with an attitude of "Thou art so near and yet so far!"

Respectfully yours,

VIOLET HAMILTON.

JAPAN AGAIN RILES CHINA

Japanese Legation Guards Kill an Alleged Spy Near Peking War Office.

DISGUISED AS A CHINESE.

Charged With Selling Military Secrets And Hiding Near Legation.

PEKING, August 13.—The killing in this city early this month of a Japanese army officer, supposed to be a spy, and traitor, by Japanese soldiers attached to the Peking Legation, will result in the presentation by China of a formal protest against the doing of police duty by legation guards outside of the legation precincts.

The officer in question was Captain Kyhwata. He was in the artillery branch of the Kiroshima division, and he was formerly an instructor in the Chinese military college at Pao Ting Fu. He was charged with selling Japanese military secrets to a foreign power and disappeared from Japan in June. On August 1st he was discovered, disguised as a Chinese, hiding near the War Office in Peking. This knowledge was communicated to the Japanese legation guards and a detachment was sent to capture him. He resisted arrest, whereupon the guard shot and wounded the spy, and he died two days later in the hospital of the legation guard.

The evidence against Kyhwata consists of the following allegations: He was in the habit of sending large sums of money to his family in Tokio; he was under the protection, when captured of Ting Chang, an attache of the Judge Advocate department of the Chinese War office; he made use of the name of Ting Chang and was engaged in tutoring eight Chinese army officers, six bundles of documents containing secret information relating to the Japanese army were found in the Captain's rooms and confiscated by the legation guards, and, lastly, the Captain is said to have confessed.

M. Abe, the Japanese Charge d'Affaires, has urged lack of time and the importance of the prisoner in extenuation of the action of the guard is not notifying the Chinese authorities before arresting the Captain. He explains further that the resistance of the prisoner was unforeseen and that his consequent shooting could not be avoided. The Chinese Government is not satisfied with this explanation and considers that its authority has been ignored. The incident has created a good deal of feeling on both sides.

The Japanese say that China does not give evidence of a proper understanding of the case; that as a number of high mandarins are involved, it was out of consideration of these officials, as well as for the military interests of Japan and the preservation of good relations with China, that Japan desired to dispose of the case as quietly and rapidly as possible.

China is proud of her modern metropolitan police force and she is jealous of the police powers exercised by the foreign states in the region of the capital. This condition has prevailed since the Boxer war in 1901. The Chinese Government is especially fearful of the activity of Japan in this connection, as there are not less than 5000 Japanese in Peking. This friction has been increased by the fact that the Japanese newspapers published here have refused to conform to the press regulations.

SAVED BY THE BUBBLE, REPUTATION.

As far as The Star is concerned, the following from the Advertiser is notoriously erroneous:

> For weeks the committee, egged on by those on the Board hostile to the present head of the police department * * and the pleadings of the Star that Iaukea had done something disgraceful, have been hunting for something to charge him with.

From the very first The Star has insisted that there was no justification for making any charge against Iaukea except that of almost incredible folly,—a position which the Advertiser finally acknowledged by remarking that he seemed to need a "steering committee." We have insisted, and still insist, that the appearances were most unfortunate and that only Mr. Iaukea's reputation could save him, in view of the unfortunate appearances and the contradictory explanations, from very general grave suspicions of grafting.. We have ever acknowledged that his famous spotless—or was it spotted?—skirt,—so finely appreciated and often referred to by the Advertiser two or three years ago, —saved the day for him.

MANTLE OF ROOSEVELT.

"In all the history of America there never was a political Elijah who had so many Elishas jockeying to get under his falling mantle as has Theodore Roosevelt." Thus The World Today begins a leading article on the Presidential campaign. "But who will pick Elisha?" it goes on to inquire. "On the one side is the man of his choice," the magazine answers, "standing on a noncommittal platform. On the other side we have a platform claiming to be his, but a candidate whom he has not chosen. But there is no question as to the mantle. Whichever candidate wins the country gets Rooseveltism."

The article procefeds to show that the plain American will not be diverted from the main issue by clever speeches about tariffs, woman suffrage, insuring bank deposits, etc. It argues that neither the labor nor the negro vote can be controlled in mass for any candidate, and that contributions given or withheld by the great financial interests will not decide the day. "The millionaire has only one vote—and he will probably be too busy to cast that." But the writer quoted lays stress on the vote of the farmer.

While union labor tries to dictate platforms the farmer votes none the less. "If he talks less about issues, it is because he has his issue. He wants a candidate who will best represent Rooseveltism. No man can gauge in advance the convictions which are to develop during the next three months. But one thing is certain. Whichever party can convince the nation that it is the real heir to the policies that have ruled during the past four years will elect its candidate."

In its review of events The World Today discusses the Republican and Democratic candidates and platforms. It says that, taken all in all, Taft "is the best candidate the Republican party could possibly find," and "as a candidate Mr. Bryan is far stronger than in 1896 or 1900." There is no fundamental difference, barring certain incidental matters, between the two platforms as viewed by this magazine, which in conclusion says: "In either candidate the nation has a serious-minded, honorable man for the Presidency. Since the days of Madison there has not been a campaign in which the general welfare of the country seemed less threatened by either candidate's defeat."

According to reports brought from the mainland by travelers, together with the temperateness of the campaign generally thus far, the opinions of the magazine here quoted are a true reflection of the spirit animating the considerable body of independent voters who, to a large extent, hold the balance of power between the great permanent masses that will vote for party through thick and thin. No fear of calamity from any result of the count of ballots makes a flutter in the great heart of the nation, though no doubt there will be effort enough on either side to make the voters halting between two opinions believe that disaster will wait on the success of the opposite party. With the independent vote the question will be which is the best man to continue the policy of the past four years—Taft or Bryan. Yet that vote may break practically even and the contest be decided by the outcome of a host of side issues which may be prejudiced to Taft in Republican and to Bryan in Democratic states on the normal political map. As for the usually doubtful states, they are probably more doubtful than ever this time.

CITIZENSHIP VS. THE TAX RATE.

In a short editorial and a communication over a column in length, supporting government by commission, the Advertiser has not a single new argument to offer in favor of the proposition, and absolutely no answer to the statement that most of the supposed benefits, such as military roads, health measures, etc., must come under any form of government. Here is the condensed list:

> A tremendous reduction of taxes, simplification of government, honesty in administration, the cutting out of our disreputable politics, security of property, the building of great public works, the safeguarding of health, the establishment of food-producing industries and a steady cash market for the farmer.

Several of these are mere glittering generalities. Of those which have any definite meaning, the first is the only one not bound to come in the ordinary course of events. It is quite likely that under a commission taxes would be reduced,—at the cost of ordinary rights of citizenship.

Presumably Isoi also is bragging about having been exonerated.

A cablegram stated that a reduction of fifty per cent had been made in fares on the Russian railroads for "travel between Japan and America." As the news was printed in San Francisco, the reduction was "in favor of Japanese emigrating to North or South America over the Russian lines." So in truth the thing is a bid for the carrying of cheap labor from Japan to All America, and not a scheme to promote tourist travel between east and west. There is no reason to regard this measure of the Russian national railroad department as unfriendly to the United States in connection with this country's Asiatic exclusion policy, as might by long range surmise be imagined; for no doubt Russia is simply copying the enterprise of private transportation companies everywhere for the benefit of its railroads.

WHAT SMALL KITTEN CAN DO

A little gray striped kitten blocked north bound street car traffic on Second avenue last night shortly be fore 6 o'clock for more than five minutes.

It was crossing the avenue just south of Madison street when a car approached. The car ran directly onto it and was brought to a stop by the scream of a woman on the sidewalk. The woman ran out to the car track and in an excited manner told the motorman there was a kitten beneath the car.

The motorman, being a humane man, left the front platform and got down on his knees and gazed beneaththe car. There was the kitten, sitting directly beneath the center of the truck. It was engaged in performing its evening toilet, and paid no attention to the solicitation of the motorman.

Then the conductor came to the assistance of the motorman. He was followed by pasengers and pedestrians. They all tried to coax the kitten out, but it wouldn't come. Then some one poked it with a cane and it only moved a little.

By this time twelve cars were impatiently waiting in the rear. Some one suggested that the car go on; that if the kitten hadn't sense enough to look after itself, a thousand people shouldn't be inconvenienced thereby. But it was a sweet faced, pretty little kitten, and the motorman didn't intend that it should be injured.

He talked to it again, and by wiggling his fingers and making a speech in a soothing voice, he finally succeeded in inducing it to come to him. Then he handed it to the woman who had screamed, but who didn't own it, and climbed on his car and broke the block ade.—Seattle Star.

Society has gathered at this popular resort during the past two months and "standing room only" has been the rule. There is so much comfort about the place that local people gather there in preference to going to any of the beach resorts. The meals at Haleiwa are all that the most exacting gourmet would demand and the service is unexcelled. There are some rooms vacant which may be had on application to St. Clair Bidgood, manager.

the Republican party that I should run, I might be able to do so."

The precinct meetings for nominating convention delegates are to be held tomorrow night. The attendance promises to break all records. In some precincts various important issues are coming to the front and are lifting the canvass above the level of personal knocking and counter knocking which is the main feature of almost all the political discussions and precinct campaigning that has so far found publicity. For example, Kaimuki has a new precinct which wants a man in the legislature who will work for improvement of its water supply, and it will vote accordingly. In some other precincts the establishment of big camps ,or cheap lodging houses, is to be made an issue, with a view to getting a license law that will stop the encroachment of such places in residence districts. Makiki especially is up in arms over such invasions, which threaten to spoil a fine residence district by disfiguring it with cheap labor camps. A law calling for the consent of property owners in the vicinity, before such establishments can be maintained, is proposed.

One of the most prominent candidates for Senator in the coming campaign on the Democratic ticket will be H. T. Moore. His record as supervisor for the first term two years under the county act, is what he relies on to bring him many votes and he believes that he will be able to make a strong fight. Moore has been living at Pearl City for the past year or more, but of late has been in Honolulu a good deal, building up his political fences for the coming campaign.

Charlies Achi made a rather bad break last night, according to the wise ones among the local politicians. He thought he could add to his strength by the bringing into his fold of one of the strongest politicians of the Kakaako district but miscounted his chips and turned loose his full plans to the wrong man, who promptly refused and has spread the news around among his friends that they might know just how things were going on.

Last night Achi sent for George Kawai, the ex-policeman who is one of the strongest of the minor political leaders in Kakaako. Kawai went to Achi's house, where he found the wily Charles and several other politicians of the so-called Seven-Eleven gang.

Among these were Kaea and his followers. Achi told Kawai that it was about time that he came in. He said that he was for Hustace and wanted to beat out Jack Lucas and John Lane. Kawai waited without sayong anything and then Achi told of his real scheme. He said that he wanted Hustace nominated for mayor by the Republicans and would then wait for the Democrats to make their nomination, helping them if possible to put up a good vote getter. After both parties had placed their nominees in the field he said that he would come out himself as an independent candidate, on the pretence that Hustace had not treated him on the square, and would be able to hold the balance of power and get the chief magistrate's chair for himself.

Kawai could not see that there was anything doing of this kind and refused to take part in any agreement, leaving the assembly with the remark that if the Seven-Eleven gang was all that Achi had behind him it was not the crowd that he wanted.

In regard to the putting of Rathburn to work in the road department as team luna, Road Supervisor Tom Cummins states that he did this himself, without any suggestion from Achi or Hustace. He says the former luna, showed up drunk at the stables one morning and was laid off by David Crowningberg. He came back later in the day and tried to get his horse and buggy and when this was refused him, as he was not at work, he went to Cummin's office in the Capitol building where he behaved so badly, through the influence of liquor, that he was forcibly expelled from the office. He was told to go home, sober up and then come back. He has been suspended for a month, on account of his behavior and his going back to work depends on himself.

In Rathburn's case he had worked for the department under Col. Johnson and had made a good record, leaving to take a position as inspector under the Board of Health, and taking with him a recommendation from Col. Johnson. When Cummins first took his present position he says that he promised Rathburn a chance and when this oportunity came he made good, putting him in as a good man for work and without any regard to his political affiliations.

ness and the sheriff, Chief Taylor and Special Officer Townsend were there. It was in the night time.

The sheriff told him that the stockade must be closed the same evening and told him to notify the women to that effect. They spoke in English and Townsend interpreted. Isoi said nothing on that occasion. Prior to that time he knew the sheriff only by sight.

Asked if he had made any presents to the sheriff before that time, Isoi answered:

"I made a present to him January last year—not January but in December at Christmas time."

The present consisted of four chairs—"ordinary chairs, but they were valuable kind, each chair cost $7."

He went to the sheriff's house with Townsend but the sheriff was absent. "I saw Mrs. Iaukea and through Townsend I made a present of the chairs and said that was my Christmas present to the Sheriff.

"Townsend told Mrs. Iaukea who I was. Townsend put down my name on a slip of paper in English and I left there."

Asked if he had made any presents to the police officers at that time, witness said he made a present of cigars to Taylor. "I do not remember the number of boxes, but I know the value; I paid $30 for them."

He made the present of cigars to the Chief of Detectives at the police station, having gone up there accompanied by Townsend.

Witness told the story of his loan of $100 to Iaukea through Townsend on May 1 last. He gave the note back to the sheriff on June 2. Townsend sent a hack to bring him to his house, where he asked him to exchange the note for one of equal amount made out to Townsend. The substitute note was delivered to him next day, Isoi having surrendered the first one to Townsend on his promise to do so. It was at midnight he visited Townsend. He had the note in his pocket, as its time had about expired. "So I thought I better take the note." The Townsend note was paid about June 7 or 8. Like the Isoi note it bore no interest.

"What is the idea of changing that note from Iaukea to Townsend and then from Townsend to Isoi?"

"Townsend explained the matter in this way, that the fact of $100 loan became known to Chief Taylor and Sheriff Iaukea did not like it, so he wanted to have the matter covered up by substituting the old note with the new one, which had no name of mine."

Townsend telephoned from the police station to the Iwilei hack stand for Isoi to send the note over and he would pay it. He sent his clerk over with the note and he came back with the money.

After April 7 Isoi next saw Sheriff Iaukea about the 18th or 20th of May. This was at the sheriff's office. Townsend being present as interpreter. He went up to ask the sheriff if there was any prospect of reopening Iwilei.

"The sheriff said he, himself, was in favor of keeping Iwilei open, but there was a law which forbids it, so he could not do otherwise.

"Nothing more was said at the first interview, but I went up to see him for the same purpose on the 25th of May. Sheriff told me that he personally wanted Iwilei open; but there was a missionary movement which wanted the place closed and he could not do anything against the missionary, except by the petition of prominent citizens. I asked him if he was not going to open the place with that petition signed by a thousand names. He said that petition did not count anything because it was signed by all laborers."

Witness asked the sheriff if there were not some prominent citizens who had made a petition for opening Iwilei and the sheriff said there were none. He said further that if members of either the grand jury or the Board of Supervisors would sign the petition then he would open Iwilei. Iwilei was closed when the $100 loan was made and until about June 15.

Mr. Fern asked witness if the presents to Iaukea and Taylor, with the $100 loan were in the nature of bribes.

"I did not mean to make any bribe to these officials," was the reply, "but I knew it was the custom among the white people to make presents."

To Mr. Cathcart he continued that the loan had no such meaning as a bribe. "I made the loan at the request of the sheriff."

On April 7, at Isoi's house in Iwilei, Townsend introduced him to the sheriff. "Townsend said to sheriff, pointing to me, this is Isoi and I heard Mr. Taylor also tell it to the sheriff."

Women themselves reopened the place on June 15. Witness at the time owned six houses containing 48 rooms altogether. He sold the lease to others on July 15, since when he had no interest in Iwilei.

The interview at the station on April 15 was in Chief Taylor's office, the sheriff, Townsend and Isoi being present. Asked if the sheriff knew who he was he said:

"Naturally he ought to have known me because I met him on the night of the 7th. Of course he knew me by the way he talked and the conversation we had, why I could tell he knew me all right."

Next time he saw the sheriff was some time after June 20, when Townsend sent a hack to his house, telling him the sheriff wanted to see him. When he went over the sheriff asked him how the matter of the $100 loan leaked out ,and he told him that his wife Chise showed it to District Attorney Breckons.

"Then the sheriff asked me how it happened that Chise showed it to Mr. Breckons, and I didn't have any explanation to make, so I said to him by way of excuse that I was on good terms with Mr. Breckons and one day Mr. Breckons called on us and asked Chise how she was getting along and Chise thought to tell the truth to Mr. Breckons, she said we were doing all

PROMOTION BUSINESS

Secretary Wood's report to the Promotion Committee this week is as follows:

Honolulu, August 27th, 1908.
Chairman and Members of the Hawaii Promotion Committee.

Gentlemen:—After conferring with your Chairman, Mr. W. E. Brown, I wrote to Mr. E. A. Mott-Smith, Superintendent of Immigration, asking if we might place our maps, folders, etc., on file in the office the Board of Immigration proposes establishing in New York and am pleased to report the receipt of the following answer.

'I am in receipt of your favor of today's date asking that the Hawaii Promotion Committee may have the privilege of keeping matter, samples of which you have furnished, in the office proposed to be opened by the Board of Immigration in New York City under charge of Mr. Trenor, and also asking the privilege of stating to parties in New York desiring information about Hawaii that they can secure the same from Mr. Trenor.

This request meets with my entire approval and I am sure will meet with the approval of the Board. As I understand it, you wish Mr. Trenor to take it up in a merely incidental way in connection with his office and to have a place there in New York where the material, which you have enclosed, can be shown and questions answered. I will write to Mr. Trenor to this effect."

The matter for our Map and Guide to the Island of Oahu is now in the hands of the printer and will, I think, prove to be one of the most valuable publications the Committee has issued. I hope to have it finished early next week.

In order to complete the series, Mr. H. E. Newton is now at work, during his spare moments, on the maps of the other islands.

Following Oahu, I will be prepared to submit the matter for the Hawaii folder. One side of the folder will be taken up with an accurate map of the big island; on the other side, in addition to statistical and descriptive matters we will have an excellent map of Kilauea, showing as well, location of Volcano House, trails, roads, etc.

The Maui folder, in addition to the map of the twin islands, will also carry a good map of Haleakala, giving elevations, trails, etc.

The Kauai folder will also be complete. The maps in every instance will be made to scale and will be thoroughly up to date.

As son as the Oahu folder is out, we will send copies quite generally to the other Islands, asking for information along similar lines, to be used in the folders of Hawaii, Maui and Kauai, which we will endeavor to make as complete as possible.

Feeling that the possibilities of fishing as a sport should be thoroughly exploited, we have asked Mr. H. M. Ayres to submit to the Committee, at an early date as may be convenient, a series of ten or twelve articles covering the subject quite thoroughly and hope that the Committee may decide to have the matter printed in attractive pamphlet form, snitably illustrated.

I am now in correspondence with different parties in Colombo and Singapore, with reference to distributing our advertising matter on board all steamers calling at those ports and in the event of our being able to secure reliable service at moderate cost, I would recommend the printing of a two page leaflet in English, French and German, to be used in those ports. Such a leaflet will serve to arrest the travelers attention and should he desire further information about the Islands, he will then know where to obtain it.

The Hawaii fever still prevails in Southern California. The Fall Calendar of the Library Auxiliary Club of Goleta, announces among other events the following:

Sept. 9—"Brief Glimpses of Hawaiian Islands" by Mrs. Smith; Sept. 9—"Domestic Service in Honolulu" by Mrs. Martin; Sept. 25—"Hawaii and Pineapple Industry" by Mrs. Culver; Sept. 23—"Chinese and Portuguese in the Territory" by Mrs. Pico.

Oct. 14—"Why Honolulu is safe from Earthquakes" by Mrs. Catlett; Oct. 14—"Molokai and its Inhabitants by Mrs. Brown; Oct. 14—"Climate of Honolulu" by Mrs. Pierson; Oct. 28—"The Native Hawaiian" by Mrs. Buck; Oct. 28—"Education in Hawaiian Territory" by Mrs. Hutchins; Oct. 28—"Available Public Lands" by Mrs. Tinker.

Nov. 11—"Oahu the Center of Island Government" by Mrs. Ziut; Nov. 11—"The Army Post in Honolulu" by Mrs. Warren; Nov. 11—"Pacific Fertilizer and Guana" by Mrs. Sexton.

Dec. 9—"Experiment Station and Products of Hawaii" by Mrs. Pettingell; Dec. 9—"Volcanoes" by Mrs. Pierson; Dec. 9—"Water Supply of Honolulu" by Mrs. Fast.

Jan. 13, 1909—"Churches and Missionary Influence of Hawaii" by Mrs. Worsley; Jan. 13, 1909—"Honolulu Charities and Clubs" by Mrs. Hughes.

We have written to the president of the club, requesting that copies of the different papers be sent to us immediately following the different meetings.

Respectfully submitted,
H. P. WOOD,
Secretary.

SPORTS

BOXERS READY AND ACHING FOR FRAY

Jack McFadden found a new sparring partner at the Hotel baths yesterday afternoon in the shape of Harry Binko, an apprentice aboard the British bark Hoywood at present in the harbor. The sailor weighs over 160 pounds and proved to be a rough and willing customer. The pair boxed three lively rounds.

Australian Tommy Lane next donned the mitts with the red top and four rounds of clever work followed.

McFadden is practically down to weight and says that he never felt better in his life, a statement which is entirely borne out by Jack's splendid appearance.

Reilly worked at the Healani boathouse yesterday afternoon with George Willis. He is as fit as the proverbial fiddle and is fairly aching for the fray.

Reilly has cut out boxing from his repertoire of training stunts and his work today consists of road exercise and light gymnasium work.

McFadden let the road take care of itself this morning and played handball with Tommy Lane instead. Handball is an ideal for of exercise for boxers and McFadden is quite an expert at the sport.

Tomorrow both lads will take matters easily. Neither will do any boxing and their exercise will be mostly with skipping rope, light dumbells and the Whitey conditioner.

The referee will be decided upon at a conference of both parties tomorrow night at 8 o'clock at the Pantheon saloon. Those named for the job are Mike Patton, Paddy Ryan, Larry Twomey, Bert Bower, Billy Woods and Jack Doyle.

The advance sale of seats is now on and there has been a brisk demand for seats since business started this morning at the Fitzpatrick cigar store at the corner of Fort and Hotel streets. There is much enquiry for stage seats and it looks as if the choicest of these would be very quickly disposed of.

Manger Fred Smith of the Central Athletic Club is leaving no effort unspared to secure the comfort of visitors to his open air arena situated on the mauka side of Hotel street nearly opposite Bethel street. The seating arrangements have been overhauled and several more electric lights installed.

Both lads appear to be equally fancied. The San Francisco crowd are firm friends of Reilly and figure that he has much more class than his opponent, taking a line through his three bouts with Johnny Murphy.

On the other hand McFadden's friends can prove to their own satisfaction that their man has done just as well or better in the roped arena than 'Frisco Charlie. You can't talk of Jack's defeat to them.

It is generally thought that the bout will go at least twelve rounds, indeed the majority of dopists figure on a limit battle.

McCullough is a slight favorite over Wahilani but so slight that one can hardly notice it. The Lane-Willis preliminary so thought to be as even an affair as a boxing contest can well be.

One thing is certain and that is that every boxer billed to appear will enter the ring in good condition. Another thing equally certain is that every man is a tryer from the word go. What more can ring patrons ask for or desire?

OUR JACK

He's been Secretary and Our Governor Jack
And something of a statesman in his plans;
He's a lawyer man in court,
Tho outdoors he is a sport,
A sort of jolly magnate with the fans.

Or Atkinson, or Jackinson, and slap him on the back.
There is none so gay as he
Where the baseball barkers be—
Happy, snappy, never nappy,
Jack,
Jack,
Jack!

IAUKEA CLEARED

COMMITTEE FINDS THE COUNTY SHERIFF NOT GUILTY AND ISOI OUT OF REACH.

"We, your committee, duly appointed to investigate the alleged bribery in the Iaukea-Isoi Iwilei matter, do submit our findings, as follows:

"(1) Your committee has made a thorough and careful investigation of the Iaukea-Isoi Iwilei matter, and find, after much inquiry, that no bribery has been committeed whereby a criminal charge could be made against Sheriff Iaukea, in accordance with the testimony adduced in this matter.

"(2) In so far as Isoi is concerned, your committee is of the opinion that he (Isoi) was very much in favor of transgressing the laws by attempting to bribe Sheriff Iaukea, but inasmuch as the Sheriff had made no provision for his arrest as a briber, therefore Isoi escaped the clutches of the law and from being charged with the serious offense of bribery.

"Therefore your committee finds Sheriff Iaukea not guilty.

"A copy of the testimony taken in this matter is hereto attached and made a part of these findings.

"J. M. KEALOHA,
"Chairman.
"JOS. J. FERN,
"F. K. ARCHER,
"Committee."

When the foregoing report had been read by County Clerk Kalauokalani, at the meeting of the Board of Supervisors last night, Chairman Hustace in a surprised tone asked if that was all of the report. On receiving affirmative nods and meekly uttered words to the same effect, he asked Mr. Cox to take the chair and then moved "that this report be rejected and that the evidence be placed at the disposal of the board to let it draw its own conclusions."

Messrs. Harvey and Archer, before the motion was seconded, warmly supported the action of the committee, Archer's part being to object to any discussion of it while the motion was unseconded. Mr. Dwight came to the rescue as seconder and a vote was forthwith taken. Only the mover and seconder voted for the motion, five members voting against it. By the same vote reversed the report was adopted.

It was also made apparent that the majority wanted the testimony attached to the report placed on secret file. Mr. Hustace had urged that the testimony be placed at the disposal of the newspapers, but the spokesmen of the majority objected strongly to the proposals.

"There are things in it that should not be published," Mr. Harvey explained.

Mr. Archer appealed to the minutes of the meeting that ordered the investigation, to show that the chairman was in error in claiming that the investigation was intended to go into police station methods generally. The resolution was read and found to be confined to the Iaukea-Isoi matter.

COUNTY BUSINESS

BOARD WILL HOLD OFFICE TILL FURTHER ORDERS IF MUNICIPAL ACT FAILS.

At the Board of Supervisors meeting last night Mr. Archer moved that the County Clerk be ordered to publish the proclamation for the election of officers of the County of Oahu. In a preamble it was stated, for cause of such action, that the board had no way of knowing at this time whether the Municipal Act would stand or not.

Chairman Hustace held the resolution to be out of order. If the Municipal Act was found void by the Supreme Court, the present Board would hold over for two years or until the Legislature did something.

Deputy County Attorney Milverton gave the meeting an oral opinion that the Board could take the action proposed, but the resolution was defeated. The roll had to be called several times before any but Archer and Fern, who voted aye the first time, responded. Kealoha finally broke the ice by voting no and Dwight, Harvey and Hustace following his lead the decision was that the Board should hold the raft if the municipal ship was sunk.

A list of violations of the awning ordinance, furnished by the Superintendent of Public Works, was referred to the county attorney.

Gear, Lansing & Co. trustees tendered the Board a deed of Koko Head avenue, Kaimuki, and the matter was referred to the committee on roads and bridges.

Col. J. W. Jones petitioned for electric lighting of the National Guard shooting gallery on Miller street.

Other petitions for street lights, repairs of roads, etc., were presented and all referred to the appropriate committees.

Estimates for September were submitted, amounting to $48,110.

Chief Engineer Thurston was authorized to buy two horses for the fire department.

August appropriations were voted as follows: County Clerk, $170; electric light department, $325; police and fire alarm system, $95; fixed salaries, $1670; County Auditor, $125; poundmaster, $30; keepers of parks, $100; road department, $697.50; garbage department, $132.50; fire department, $1891.80; police department, $3270; Kapiolani Park, $187.25; County Attorney, $410; County Engineer, $212.50; County Treasurer, $125; Hawaiian band, $625; kepers of parks, $84; Koolaupoko road district, $35.

BIRDS FIERCELY ATTACK GAY MERRY WIDOW HAT.

While walking in a suburban district today with a male friend, says the Philadelphia Enquirer, Miss Nettie Williams of Pittsburg, was the object of an unusual attack. She wore a hat with a bird of brilliant plumage as an ornament. Suddenly her head became encircled by half a dozen blackbirds, which pecked at he bird in her hat, tearing out the bright-colored feathers with their beaks.

The blackbirds even flew in her face and lacerated the skin with their bills. Tearing the hat from her head, Miss Williams threw it on the ground. Her escort was obliged to use his coat to beat the birds off.

This woman says Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved her life. Read her letter.

Mrs. T. C. Willadsen, of Manning, Iowa, writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"I can truly say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved my life, and I cannot express my gratitude to you in words. For years I suffered with the worst forms of female complaints, continually doctoring and spending lots of money for medicine without help. I wrote you for advice, followed it as directed, and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it has restored me to perfect health. Had it not been for you I should have been in my grave to-day. I wish every suffering woman would try it."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

YOU WANT The News First.

You Want Your Ads Read

Here Is Some Advice---

Honolulu more than any other city in the World, is a place where the Evening Paper gets the news first. The clock here is over two hours behind the clock at San Francisco, four hours behind Chicago, five hours behind New York and ten to eleven hours behind the clocks in the European capitals.

This means that when The Star is going to press THE DAY IS CLOSED in Washington, Chicago, New York and Europe and almost over in San Francisco. The news of the day is here for The Star.

Under modern conditions it takes practically no time to prepare and transmit news and THE STAR gets every evening the cable dispatches giving

The News Of All the World

For the Day Just Ended---

Here are some of the features that go to make the evening paper the predominating factor in an advertising campaign:

It is delivered at the home each night when the whole family has plenty of time to read it.

It is carried home by the business man when his day's work is done and it stays there. A morning paper is usually carried down town by the head of the family and hurriedly read.

The evening paper is not read hurriedly, but thoroughly, so that all the advertisements receive their share of attention.

It presents the store news a little ahead, giving the prospective purchaser time to plan a shopping tour for the next morning.

The evening paper presents the news the day it happens. The morning paper the day after.

The evening paper presents the news first. The morning paper merely elaborates it.

The evening paper prints daylight news. The morning paper takes what is left.

THE EVIDENCE AS TO THE ISOI NOTE

right and then she showed the note to Mr. Breckons. That was not the truth, but I had to make some kind of excuse, so I explained the matter in that way."

It was at this time the sheriff showed Isoi the petition from the missionaries which had about 25 names on it. He thought Iaukea was angry that the loan had leaked out. Next day, Sunday, he went to see the sheriff to ask his pardon for letting the matter leak out. The sheriff was rather pleased "but he said he did not like the attitude of Mr. Breckons in this matter."

On Monday night following Sheriff Iaukea came to his house, both Chise and himself having declined requests to go to see him. Townend came with the sheriff. On being told he could see for himself Iwilei was closed, and on Isoi's refusal to hear his written statement about the note, the sheriff said "Iwilei must be closed, but if the women who moved to town opened a place there he would be lenient."

That was the last time he had seen Iaukea.

THE BRIBE MATTER.

"When was the talk you had with him about giving him $500 if he would allow Iwilei to be reopened?"

"On the 28th of May."

This talk was at the sheriff's home where he went with Townsend.' He went because women asked him to work for the reopening of the place. Townsend or any member of the police had never asked him to see the sheriff about the reopening of Iiwilei.

Iaukea said he could not evade the law and then there was the effort of the missionaries.

Isoi cited the cases of San Francisco and other towns and "argued with the sheriff why they could not do it here. Why, I said if you will open the place I will work for your own benefit." Witness said what he was thinking about was that he could get a great deal of information and give it to the sheriff.

"Then the sheriff told me to keep everything secret. He said there was no other who knew about the conversation except Townsend, and he asked me how much money I would offer him. The sheriff asked first.

"Then I thought the sheriff was after money—I never thought of that before, but I began to suspect him. After thinking a little while I said I would give him $500.

"The sheriff smiled then and said that he would give me an answer in two or three days, and the first interview closed."

Townsend was there as interpreter and the sheriff told him he could get his answer from Townsend.

'On the third day he called at Townsend's house and Tonwsend told him the sheriff wanted $1500. Isoi told him that was too much and he would go home and talk with his friends and then come back. On the next day, June 2, Townsend sent a hack for him and he went to his house. The talk opened about Taylor's getting wise about the note, Townsend wondering how it happened.

"Townsend told me that as the matter of $100 had been revealed to Taylor he thought it better to drop the other matter for a while until it is quiet again, and I said I will come back in a week after, but I didn't go there any more, no one sent for me and I didn't go back there."

Witness denied any later talk about the bribe and was asked if he did not on one occasion after the first talk about the $500 have another talk with the sheriff about the $1000 matter.

"That was during this conversation the 2nd of June, when Townsend said the sheriff wanted $1500 and I then offered $1000. I said then $1500 was too much—I could offer $100 right away then, but would not give $1500 and I told him in a way I would consult with my friends, but I did not go and see him any more."

Isoi told about his statement given to English and Japanese papers relative to the bribe. One reason was to clear other people of blame for giving away the note business. "Another thing the sheriff was hard on the women who were renting my rooms and was lenient on the other women." He said Iwilei was wide open during the visit of the fleet. Only a few of his tenants were molested by the police.

TOWNSEND'S STATEMENT.

E. Townsend, special police officer and interpreter, had known Isoi about three years and introduced him to the sheriff in March last. He first gave Isoi's name to the sheriff when the latter asked him, a few days after the event, who sent the Christmas presents to his house.

He introduced the sheriff to Isoi at Iwilei. The sheriff "shook hands and said glad to meet you and told him that he was going to enforce the law so he wanted to warn him and at the same time he wanted him to close up, and Isoi said all right he would close up and that was all the conversation they had."

Witness told about getting the $100 loan from Isoi for the sheriff, and of Taylor's asking him about it. Taylor told him to say nothing about it to the sheriff as he was going to investigate it. Townsend said all right and then, thinking it his duty, straightway went to the sheriff and informed him of which Taylor told him.

The sheriff then called Taylor in saying he wanted to explain all the circumstances concerning the $100 note and the offer to bribe money. He told Taylor right in the sheriff's office that he thought it his duty to inform the sheriff. Taylor said it was all right, but after that he was very sore at Townsend.

Coming to the bribe matter after a long recital of the note and substitute note matter, Townsend told about his declining at first to act as interpreter for Isoi in the Iwilei reopening negotiations. At length he consented to go to Iaukea's house and leave it to the sheriff whether he should act as interpreter. The sheriff had no objection and the conversation proceeded relative to Iwilei.

"Isoi wanted to know if there was any prospect of opening up Iwilei and the sheriff said, well, as far as I am personally concerned I favor the opening up of Iwilei, but I have been sworn to enforce the law and those people who helped to elect me, that is to say the missionaries, want Iwilei to be closed up and I have to enforce the law. So Isoi said, well if you open up Iwilei it might benefit you personally. The sheriff laughed, so he said it is all right, tell Isoi to come out with anything he has to say. This will be confidential as there is only three of us—I have full confidence in Isoi and I suppose I can trust you, as long as you don't open your month. I (witness) said you will have to pull my tongue out first before I say anything. So he said I will trust you. Then Isoi said, Well, if you consent to the opening of Iwilei I am ready to offer you $500."

Answering a question witness said the suggestion that money be paid first came from Isoi.

"So the sheriff laughed and said don't say a word, and Isoi said if that is not enough I am ready to give you $750, well, I am not sure about that part, I think Isoi raised it to $100. that was it. The sheriff said it is a very dangerous proposition because in case it comes out I have to lose my reputation and of course I don't want to lose my reputation for a little amount like that, and anyhow I have to think it over and I will let you know through Townsend in a day or two. Isoi said when shall I come to see you. He said well, you drop in the next night, or two night after I am not positive about that. We came back that night."

Next night Townsend went by himself to the sheriff's house and the sheriff told him to be very careful and not let any one see him going out there. Next night took a hack by a roundabout way and walked the last two blocks. Iaukea was out and on coming home said he was detained.

"Then we talked in regard to that Isoi matter. He said of course I hate like anything to accept my present of that kind, but I would like to pay certain debts before I go out of office, which is a little over $1000, which I would like to pay very much because it becomes due pretty soon. He says to tell you the truth I am not going to run for office again, so I would like to get clear of my debts. Don't you think Isoi could afford to pay $1500. I said it was very hard for me to answer that, but I suppose they would pay anything to have the place opened up. Then he said it is a very dangerous proposition, if the missionaries found out they would come after me like everything. So I said, well as far as I am concerned you can depend on me, I would rather go to jail first than have you go there. And how about Isoi he said, and I said Isoi is all right I suppose because if he goes and tells anybody about this proposition he would be just as much guilty as the one who accepted, so he would be giving himself away, and I suppose he has been long enough in this country to find out about that part of the law, and another thing he has been long enough in that line of business to find out about that. The sheriff said I think you are right. Well, anyhow I said, shall I tell Isoi what you said, and he said yes. So that same night I went to Iwilei after 11 o'clock—I went straight to Iwilei from there, saw Isoi and spoke to him about the $1500 matter. Isoi shook his head and says well that is a pretty big amount—I have to consult my friends because a big amount like that I can't give an answer one way or the other. I came back and that was about all."

After that the sheriff told him that after the note had become known perhaps he (Townsend) was not aware that the idea of raising $1500 and $1000 was to catch Isoi and he was using Townsend as a tool. Townsend replied bitterly to this, reminding Iaukea how he had resisted being interpreter in the business. Now he had got him in a fine mess. He told the sheriff he smelt something from the beginning. He would rather leave the police than take part in such a proposition because it would blacken his name with the Japanese.

About twenty days before he testified Townsend was called into the sheriff's office, where Iaukea told him the missionaries wanted to have him dismissed. He hated to lose him but he could not help it. Iaukea asked him to make a statement to Mr. Thwing, who was waiting outside the door, about the $1500, but he refused as it was up to him to hate the missionaries in return and he considered Thwing nothing. Being asked for his undated resignation he gave a dated one instead on July 31, taking effect on August 8. He declined to recommend any of his friends for "such a queer position."

Townsend also told about the $100 loan procured by Apana.

TAYLOR'S EVIDENCE.

A. P. Taylor's evidence was of only hearsay force. Breckons was the one who told him of the note. He did not blame Iaukea for carrying on a trap movement without telling him. The sheriff had worked up the Hart arson case before telling him about it. Taylor said Isoi sent cigars to the station at Christmas which were distributed among the force.

Apana testified about the loan of $100 he raised for the sheriff. Wat Ging who loaned the amount also testified.

SHERIFF IAUKEA.

The testimony of Iaukea relates practically the same facts as that of the others. As to the Christmas presents he said it was a general custom for officials here to accept presents on such occasians. He had done it a hundred times for the last 23 years that he had been in public life. The sheriff's testimony becomes important where it alleges his motives in the bribery matter. Talking of the second visit of Isoi and Townsend to his house, when they came with a $1000 proposition, he said:

"Not expecting the second visit, I was unprepared with any plans to arrest Isoi as I had made up my mind to do so when they came a second time. They showed no money and I had no evidence against them. Officer Townsend I dare not trust after this second visit. To obtain or give me evidence of the attempted bribery. I then conceived the idea of throwing them off a scent by asking them to bring $1500 to my house, thinking that this request on my part would be taken earnestly, and thereby secure the evidence that I wanted. They went away, I never saw anything of the money or Isoi. When I inquired of Townsend a day or so later at the office why they did not bring the money, Townsend said he did not know, that something must have gone wrong. It was at this time that Townsend came into my office and said that Taylor is very angry with him because he had lied to him about the note."

The sheriff said the statement from which he was refreshing his memory was prepared to help him when testifying before the grand jury the other day.
