INQUIRIES ABOUT CANDIDATES

Waning Strength of Parker Boom. No One Can Tell What Roosevelt Will Do.

(Special to The Advertiser.)

WASHINGTON, February 20.—The arrival of George R. Carter is expected here within two or three days. He has already been heralded as being in San Francisco and starting on his way East to confer with the President. His statement, as telegraphed East, that if any change in the Governorship was to be made he would favor the selection of Mr. H. P. Baldwin, was read here with some interest.

A few days ago, when Mr. William Haywood and Mr. Macfarlane, of Honolulu, called on President Roosevelt, he interrupted the formal conversation, as telegraphed by me on the last steamer, to inquire what kind of a man Mr. H. P. Baldwin was. The President had first been addressing his remarks chiefly to Mr. Haywood, but asked abruptly what kind of a man George R. Carter was. Mr. Haywood gave a very favorable reply and this question was followed, quite to the amazement of the two Honolulu visitors, by a question as to Mr. H. P. Baldwin, whose name, as far as the visitors knew, the President had never heard of. Mr. Macfarlane answered that he regarded Mr. Baldwin as a very capable and representative man.

The inference they draw was that somebody had been urging Mr. Baldwin upon the President as a selection for Governor. This inference would seem to be borne out by Mr. Carter's statement from San Francisco. Col. Sam Parker's friends here still insist that when the nomination for Governor to succeed Mr. Dole is made it will still be the cattle king but there has been no little opposition to him pressed at the White House in recent weeks. The opinion is that some other man, if any one at all is chosen, will be settled upon. But predictions are fruitless, for President Roosevelt often makes up his mind in short order and quite differently from what other people think he is going to do.

Col. Parker, who was so anxious to meet Senator Carter in San Francisco, has apparently passed him on the broad Pacific.

New Corporation

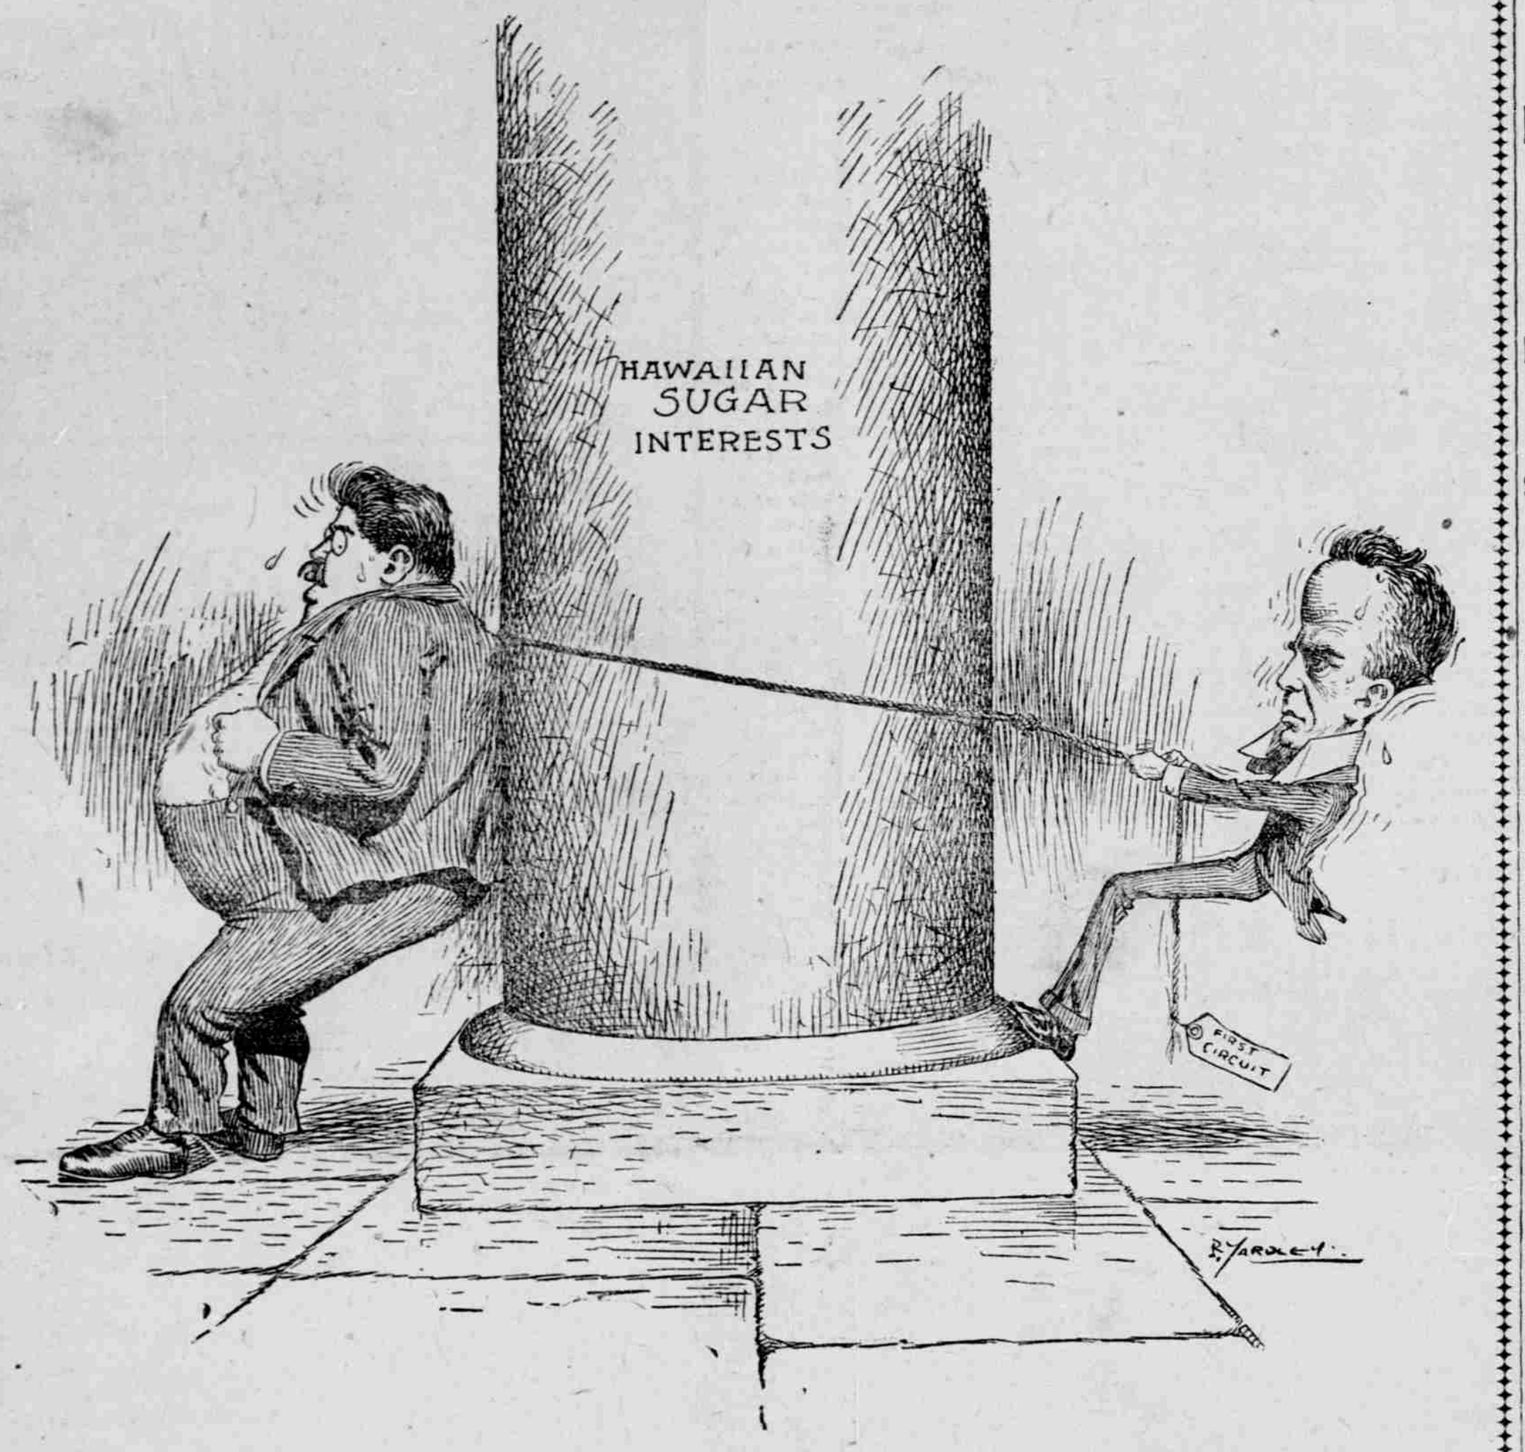
Articles of incorporation of the Hawaiian Dredging Company were filed with Treasurer Wright yesterday. The Association is organized for the business of dredging, excavation of docks and slips, removal of bars, reefs, etc., building of wharves, piers, operation of portable railways, purchase and building of tugs, scows, pile drivers, etc., and the performance of submarine work. The capital stock of the company is given at $5,000, with privilege to increase to $250,000. John R. Parker holds thirty shares, George P. Dennison and Walter F. Dillingham each thirty shares and R. W. Atkinson and F. E. Thompson hold five shares each.

Restored to Duty

An order was received from Washington recently by the local postoffice authorities, restoring Clerk Griffith to duty with full pay during the time he was under suspension for alleged infractions of the regulations. This is one of the first cases of the kind to be decided in the Hawaiian postal service. Mr. Griffith was suspended about two months ago for what was said to be an infraction of the office rules, and appealed to Washington as an appointee under civil service rules.

Henry L. Dodge, of San Francisco, died suddenly.

DOING THEIR BEST



HONOLULU TRADE WITH NORTHWEST

(Special to The Advertiser.)

SAN FRANCISCO, February 25.—Sydney Drake, one of the largest holders of mining properties in the State of Washington, returned recently from Honolulu, with enthusiastic ideas of the possibilities of trade between Seattle and the Islands. He says that the steadily increasing business between Seattle and Hawaii is becoming a potent factor in causing uneasiness to shippers doing business with San Francisco, and that the latter are thoroughly awake to the dangers that lie before them in the commercial rivalry of Puget Sound.

"I left Seattle for Honolulu, on December 10," said Drake, "and spent several weeks in Hawaii. While there I got acquainted with a number of wholesale merchants and learned a great deal about the commercial situation so far as Seattle is concerned, of which I had previously been ignorant. In the first place, I found that wholesale men in Honolulu are beginning to look more and more to Seattle as the point where they shall secure supplies, and that many of them actually buy a very large part of their stock-in-trade in Seattle, whereas a few years ago everything was purchased in San Francisco.

"There are several reasons for this change in sentiment, the most notable being that in many lines of goods Honolulu merchants can make their purchases in Seattle more cheaply than at any other point. For instance, I was informed that meats, staple groceries and similar good supplies can be bought in Seattle to better advantage than at San Francisco, while it is also true that all the goods in two large art stores were purchased in Seattle.

"Among those with whom I talked on the subject were George Angus of the Hall Co., Ltd., wholesale dealers in groceries, dry goods, furniture and hardware, and J. F. Torbet, manager of the Pacific Hardware Co. Both of these gentlemen assured me that San Francisco merchants are beginning to feel disturbed over the commercial outlook on account of the growing disposition in the Islands to trade with Seattle. Mr. Torbet now buys a large part of his goods in Seattle. A year ago such a thing as buying anything in Seattle would not have been thought of by either one.

RIVALS ADMIT GAINS.

"In San Francisco I have had several conversations with representative business men. A few of them affected to believe that Seattle will never injure San Francisco in a business way, but others candidly admitted that the Northwest Coast is beginning to be looked on as a dangerous rival. They even admitted, in fact, that the pressure is being felt all along the commercial line at the present time."

Mr. Drake was formerly a United States Deputy Marshal at Spokane, and has until recently been engaged in business at Tacoma, where he has large real estate interests. He owns a majority of the stock in several mines at Republic and is also interested in mining property in Okanogan and Ferry counties. His faith in the industrial future of Seattle is shown by the fact that recently he disposed of all his personal property interests at Tacoma and will engage in business in Seattle.

BIG ROW ON OVER THE KOHALA DITCH MEASURE

J. T. McCrosson, Before the House Committee, Charges Mr. Gehr With Being Out for Blackmail.

(Special to The Advertiser.)

WASHINGTON, February 20.—There was a very testy hearing this morning before the sub-committee of the House Committee on Territories about the Hawaiian Ditch Company's bill. Mr. J. T. McCrosson and Mr. Edgar Caypless appeared in behalf of the bill while Ex-Senator Thurston, of Nebraska, and Mr. Gehr, appeared against the bill. Mr. William Haywood was also present. The sub-committee consisted of Chairman Knox, of Massachusetts; Gov. Powers, of Maine, and Mr. De Graffenried, of Texas. During the hearing Mr. McCrosson flatly charged Mr. Gehr with being in a blackmailing scheme and with trying to sandbag the men behind the Hawaiian ditch project. He charged that Mr. Gehr had made a proposition to withdraw opposition to the ditch bill if he could be guaranteed forty per cent of the profits of the project. Mr. McCrosson made his statements very emphatically and challenged Mr. Gehr to deny it. The latter said the charges were not true and that he would call upon Mr. McCrosson to make them when they returned to Hawaii.

The sub-committee will probably report on the bill tomorrow and place it before the full committee. It is understood that the sub-committee will likely favor a general bill, allowing the Hawaiian Ditch Company to dig irrigating ditches but this afternoon the sub-committee had not agreed upon the details of the measure.

A decision of the Comptroller of the Treasury that Hawaii is a part of the United States as far as being entitled to a part of the appropriations of the Federal Government for different bureau work is concerned, will have an important bearing. The case was brought up for test purposes, being a bill of $2 for records from Hawaii regarding the topics in which the Geological Survey is interested. As the Comptroller decides that the expense was justifiable and legal the Geological Survey, the Coast and Geodetic Survey and other bureaus of the Government, supported by general appropriations, will not hesitate to undertake work that seems desirable from time to time in Hawaii. The decision of the Comptroller is very brief, covering something like 100 words.

Senator Hawley, from the Senate committee on military affairs, today reported favorably the bill authorizing the Young Men's Christian Association to erect buildings at military posts on government reservations.

CAMP M'KINLEY GETS ITS PAY

Where a few days ago there was poverty now there is wealth, all because the Warren brought from San Francisco the money to pay off the soldiers at that post. The fact, however, that the payday was Monday instead of last week caused some uneasiness among the men at the post. Had the ship not brought the cash they did not know when they would get it. The fact that the delivery of the coin was made on the day of the pay, and that there is nothing said in explanation gives color to the story which is now going around the city to the effect that this was due to the carrying away of the box of coin in the transport, after it had been brought here from San Francisco.

The assertion is made by men from Camp McKinley that the fact is that the Warren caried the money away, and that it was only the for them lucky chance of her return that gave them their cash without a wait of several months for the January pay.

Valuable Hawaiian Stamp.

Seven hundred dollars was paid for a tiny piece of paper in Philadelphia recently. The little slip was rather crudely engraved. Two words, "Hawaiian Postage," were printed at the top, and two other words, namely, "Two Cents," were printed at the bottom. Around a large, bold figure 5, which is stamped in the center of the paper, there is a rough scroll design. For this and nothing more—excepting the fact that the little piece of parchment is sole survivor of the first Hawaiian postal issue—an unknown man was willing to pay 700 good American dollars.

Y. M. C. A. Meeting for Soldiers.

An interesting meeting for the soldiers of the Warren was held in the Drill Shed by the Y. M. C. A. last evening. Brief addresses were made by Chaplain Jos. Clemens, of the Fifteenth Infantry, Secretary Brown, Director Young, Frank Cooke, Mr. Rider and Mrs. Richards. Mrs. Rider presided at the organ. The meeting was largely attended.

WINDS AND RAINSTORM

Elements Combine and the Trees Suffer.

MANY TELEPHONES ARE OUT OF USE

Several Hundreds Are Put Out of Commission—Big Trees Blown Down.

The fifth day of the storm gave a variation of it in that there was, in addition to the high wind, a heavy rainfall. The wind blew all over the upper part of the island, while the rainfall is reported to have been heaviest right in the city.

Reports of the condition of the Nuuanu valley indicate that there was little rain there, while the wind was so high that at the Government electric station there were a number of lights of glass blown out in the windows of the power house. There was also some damage done at Luakaha, but this was not serious in any event. Several trees were blown down and there was some loss to the nursery, the young trees suffering. When the valley folk came down to the city yesterday morning they were astonished to find that a large amount of rain had fell, as their gales had been dry ones.

The continuation of the winds, and the presence of rain had bad effect upon trees in Kapiolani Park. The soaking of the ground gave the trees which have no tap root, like the algaroba, a less tenacious grip on the soil, and the result was the dropping of a number of the biggest trees there. The telephone system has been demoralized by the breaking of the poles and wires. Every pole along the main road through Waikiki from the bridge to the Campbell place has suffered. The reports of the linemen show that there are down thirty-five of the large trees in that district, and there will be more today, if the forecasts of the men in the business of keeping the wires up are to be taken, for they see danger in the high winds. According to reports yesterday there are 700 phones out of commission in the city.

The electric light system suffered little since Saturday, as the only lights out have been a few on long private lines. The government lights have been able to get through the blow without any loss of time, and there is little chance that there will be any serious damage to the lines unless it comes through some large tree cutting the wires.

The winds were so strong yesterday that the small island boats were unable to leave the harbor, but they hope to get away this morning.

Passed Wreckage.

PORT TOWNSEND, Feb. 17.—As a result of the recent storms some vessel has met with a mishap off Cape Flattery, according to the report brought here by the steamship Tampico, arriving this morning from Honolulu, after a very stormy voyage. Twenty miles off Umatilla reef the Tampico passed through a large amount of wreckage, consisting of lumber and lath (principally lath), and the captain of the Tampico thinks some vessel has lost her entire deck load.

The steamship Tampico, arriving today from Kahului, twelve days out, reports an uneventful voyage until nearing the coast, when she sighted a large fleet of vessels which had been blown off shore in recent gales. None appeared to be damaged.

Alexander's Private Road.

S. T. Alexander has completed his new road, which connects with the present Tantalus road near the summit and extends on to Sugar Loaf, where he is about to build a handsome mountain home. The road was made at his own expense, and is intended mainly for the present as a means of carting lumber to the building site. It is not surfaced, merely being a rough road cut out, but passable.

DAVIS FREES HIS MIND

Roasts Humphreys In Supreme Court.

CHARGES HIM WITH LEGAL COERCION

Attorney Refers in Uncomplimentary Tones to First Judge in His Argument on Appeal.

George Davis paid his respects to Judge Humphreys yesterday in the Supreme Court, in an argument on appeal in the case of H. R. Hitchcock vs. the Hawaiian Tramways Co. In the lower court a verdict for the defendant was rendered by a jury, after it had been considering the evidence for two days and nights. This was a suit for damages and after the jury had been out for six hours a disagreement was announced. The first day the jury stood six to six, and the second day changed to nine to three. The foreman still reported the impossibility of an agreement, and Judge Humphreys sent the jury out for the second night. Davis, in his argument to the Supreme Court, charged Judge Humphreys with "legal coercion," though in the heat of his argument he used much stronger language at times. Davis said that in England in the days of the infamous Judge Jeffries it was all right to threaten juries and force a verdict, and punish them if they did not do as they were told, but in this enlightened country such methods were totally at variance with all principles of American jurisprudence. Then he said that Humphreys should have allowed his motion for a new trial but that the First Circuit Judge was one of those men who couldn't see his own mistakes. "Some courts never can see their own errors," said Davis, "they can't look at their own acts with the same eyes that they watch for the mistakes of others. A good lawyer is not necessarily a good judge. Some of the best lawyers make judicial asses upon their elevation to the bench."

"I think Judge Humphreys is just as liable to make mistakes as is any other judge, and he has made mistakes. It's going too far, I tell you, when a court threatens to send the jury out all night if they don't bring in a verdict. The foreman stated twice that they could not agree and but for the remarks of the court, I say they would not have agreed. This was nothing more nor less than an attempt to coerce them into an agreement. It was a judicial error, I insist, and the verdict was obtained by legal coercion. Judge Humphreys' lectured and talked to this jury and kept them out all night, in a little stuffy room, where a dozen men were crowded together, and then told them that they must agree. I say that this was not an unbiased opinion by twelve men but they were coerced into returning a verdict. Judge Humphreys may have done it unwittingly, but it was done just the same, and it was not the verdict of the jury, but obtained through the court's conduct, in coaxing and heeing and hawing the jury into bringing in a verdict."

Mr. De Bolt replied briefly for the defendant and the Supreme Court took the matter under advisement. The decision upon the question will be awaited with interest, as the length of time a jury may be kept out has never been passed upon in the Territory before.

His obstinacy: "The way it sorter looks to me," said Farmer Buckover, a bit acridly, "President Roosevelt is goin' to be considerable obstinate and bull-headed. I may be prejudiced, but it strikes me there are already signs that he won't do all that William Jennin's Bryan advises in the matter of runnin' the country."—Puck.

Delegate Wilcox's Bill for the Apportionment of the Terms of Office of Seven Senators. Home Rule Protest.

(Special to the Advertiser.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 20.—Delegate Wilcox two days ago introduced a bill for the apportionment of the terms of office of seven Senators elected at the first general election of the Territory. He specified that the bill was introduced by request, the method members of Congress take to designate that they are in no wise responsible for the provisions in the measure, and that the introduction is made largely as a matter of courtesy.

This bill followed the presentation to Congress by Secretary of the Interior Hitchcock of correspondence from Secretary Henry E. Cooper and Governor Dole, asking that Congress afford relief, and suggesting that the Territorial Senators who received the smallest vote be designated as two-year Senators. Delegate Wilcox's bill is understood to carry out that request. It reads as follows:

An act to apportion the term of office of seven Senators elected at the first general election of the Territory of Hawaii.

Be it enacted by the Senate and the House of the United States of America in Congress assembled;

Section 1—The several Senators elected in the First, Second, Third and Fourth Senatorial Districts, at the first general election held in the Territory of Hawaii, who received the lowest number of votes, shall each hold office for the term of two years from the date of such election.

Section 2—That for the First Senatorial District J. D. Paris and N. Russel, having received the lowest number of ballots cast, shall each hold office as a Senator for such district, for the term of two years.

That for the Second Senatorial District, William White having received the lowest number of ballots cast, shall hold office as such Senator for such District for the term of two years.

That for Third Senatorial District, D. Kanuha, George R. Carter and D. Kalauokalani, having respectively received the lowest number of ballots cast, shall each hold office as a Senator for such district for the term of two years.

That for the Fourth Senatorial District, I. H. Kahilina having received the lowest number of ballots cast, shall hold office as a Senator for such district for the term of two years.

Delegate Wilcox has received the following petition from the Home Rule party of Hawaii, copies of which he has sent to President Roosevelt, the Secretary of War and the Secretary of the Navy:

Whereas, the United States government has been and is now carrying on and projecting extensive public improvements in the Territory of Hawaii, which do and will afford employment to a large number of skilled and unskilled laborers; and

Whereas, it is the policy of the government, as declared by the President of the United States in his recent message, to make it possible for American citizens to build up homes here; and

Whereas, this policy is not followed at this time by representatives of the United States government, now in this Territory in charge of national improvements, in that they have awarded several contracts to a contractor employing exclusively Asiatic laborers and mechanics; and

Whereas, a committee from the Master Builders' Association of Hawaii called upon Commandant Merry and protested against the employment of Asiatics, but were treated with scant courtesy, and were told distinctly that if the man who employed Asiatic mechanics could do the government work cheaper than the whites and the natives could, he would receive the contracts from his department in the ture as in the past, and

Whereas, such action is in cont with the President's message and well established American princi throughout the United States and T ritories, therefore

Resolved by the executive commit of the Home Rule Republican pa that our Delegate in Congress be is hereby earnestly urged to call attention of the President, the Se tary of War, and the Secretary of Navy to this matter, and req them to give such directions to representatives of the government as to put an end to this un-Amer condition now and hereafter, and th by aid in developing this Territory "Traditional American Lines."

Resolved, that a copy of this re tion in triplicate, be sent by the retary to our Delegate in Congress be filed by him with the President, with the War and Navy Departm

JAS. K. KAULIA, Chairman Home Rule Republ Party.
JNO. K. NAKOOKOO, Secretary.

The petitions were placed in the of the various officials to which were sent without comment as to course the government would pu regarding future contracts.

TELLING AN OLD STORY

A Second Trial of Pearl Harbor Case.

THE JURY WILL INSPECT SITE

Hearing of the Honolulu Plantation Co. Case This Time Will Not Be Long.

The trial of the case of the Honolulu Plantation Company is taking the same long and weary course as at the first hearing, though it is not likely that the trial will be of such duration. There is the same ceaseless fighting between the attorneys and the court as characterized the first trial, but the known rulings of Judge Estee made then has shortened the arguments of counsel to an appreciable extent.

The fight between the attorneys began the first thing yesterday morning during the opening statements of counsel to the jury. Mr. Silliman objected to Mr. Dunne's remarks as argumentative and the latter objected to Judge Silliman's address on the same grounds. There is little if any difference in the evidence being offered. The witnesses yesterday were Captain U. G. White, F. J. Church and J. W. Pratt. Captain Pond, who was one of the principal witnesses at the first trial, is not in the Territory, and consequently can not be called as witness. Captain White went over the same testimony practically as that given in the former trial by the commander of the Iroquois. He gave a description of the premises at Pearl Harbor which the Government seeks to condemn, and went over in detail the various features of the property. His testimony was interrupted to allow Fred Church to identify the photographs of the land offered in evidence by Mr. Dunne. These photos showed the rough nature of the soil as well as general location of the property, with reference to the sea.

Tax Assessor Pratt was the next witness, and he identified the tax returns made by the Honolulu Plantation Co., and they were then read by the United States Attorney. Following this the leases under which the defendant holds the property were read. There were objections on the part of the defendant to the introduction of these papers in evidence but the court overruled them, although not without an interesting and lively tilt with Mr. Silliman.

The matters gone over yesterday occupied over two days in the first trial, and this hearing will probably be materially shortened. Mr. Dunne, in his statement to the jury, said that he would prove that all this land prior to the commencement of the suit, last July, was a waste and overrun with goats, and not only unproductive, but a source of expense to the owners. He said the land was not homogeneous; it was rocky, the soil thin, unavailable for the cultivation of cane, and was marshy, had no water supply, and in fact was almost valueless. Mr. Silliman replied but briefly, and said he would not have replied at all but for the misstatement of the facts. He promised to prove by reputable witnesses that the land was worth even more than the $200,000 claimed for it by the Honolulu Plantation Company; further that it was improved, the rocks had been cleared off, and that it was part of a large plantation, fully equipped for the production of cane, and had a good water supply, and was in every way suitable for the cultivation of cane.

Judge Estee asked at the opening of the case yesterday whether it was the desire of the attorneys that the jury visit the land. Mr. Silliman and Mr. Dunne asked that the trip be made, but in the present state of the weather and of the roads, it is hardly likely to be made for some days.

REMAINS WILL BE BROUGHT BACK

Funeral of E. C. Macfarlane to Take Place on Alameda's Arrival.

The reception of the news of the death of her son, E. C. Macfarlane, was a terrible blow to Mrs. Macfarlane, his mother, and she is in a serious condition. She was apprised of the fatal termination of his illness by her sons yesterday, and her grief was most heartrending.

The news of Mr. Macfarlane's death has been the signal for a deluge of sympathetic notes to the members of the family, and the mail from the Coast was filled with similar epistles to the brothers. The Stock and Bond Exchange was closed yesterday out of respect to his memory, and the Merchants' Association will meet tomorrow for the purpose of taking action in the premises.

It is understood that Mr. Macfarlane was dead before his brother, F. W. McFarlane, reached Chicago, and that his young wife was prostrated by the shock. The remains will be brought here for interment beside his father and sister, all of whom passed away while absent from the Islands. The remains will arrive in the Alameda, and the funeral will be arranged after the ship comes in.

WALTER G. SMITH - - EDITOR

WEDNESDAY : : MARCH 5

The American farmer, who pays the bulk of the taxes, would enjoy a little reciprocity himself.

The mosquito who has held on so far and kept himself from being blown out to sea, deserves to live.

It will not be Tillman's fault if Prince Henry doesn't find out, sah, that we are a fighting people.

Perhaps after the legal relatives had got a fat plantation to milk the judge would resign and join the firm.

As we understand the matter, the financiers are all ready to lift their hats to the Humphreys' receiver, but they want to lend their money to somebody else.

It is good to see the Methodist church or any church out of debt. The command to owe no man anything applies as well to the collective as to the individual Christian.

The proceedings in the Senate when Tillman and McLaurin rose to a question of personal privilege, ought to get this country into an entente miserecordiale with the Austrian Reichrath.

The suggestion that the Rev. Mr. Mackintosh be consecrated as the First Bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church in Hawaii is pleasing to this community, which knows Mr. Mackintosh as a Christian gentleman, perfectly familiar with this field, respected by all classes and deserving of high church preferment.

The attempt of Judge Humphreys' sole remaining organ to convince the local financiers that they are in error in laying the Kona trouble to the unwarranted interference of the First Circuit Court, came to grief early. In a Bulletin interview, Mr. Damon said he was "not disposed to raise a storm about his ears by criticising Judge Humphreys' judicial acts," an explanation of the common view of the First Circuit Court which cannot give its branded incumbent much comfort. Mr. Jones is quoted as saying that Damon should have been appointed instead of Wundenberg, though he had nothing against the latter, and Cecil Brown said practically the same thing. The views of a dozen more financiers are left unnoticed, though probably none of them would have cared to risk the vengeance of a wholly unscrupulous court by telling its organ what they say among themselves.

THE NAVAL CONTROVERSY.

The decision of the President in the Schley case will not change a vote. Even Grant did not affect the general repute of Fitz John Porter by his latter-day conversion. So far as Sampson and Schley and the battle of Santiago are concerned, the American people, sitting as a jury, have declared that the admiral who took part with the fleet in the Cuban naval battle is more entitled to credit for the result than the admiral who was not there. From that decision the President may dissent, but even he cannot appeal.

The plea that Sampson was in lawful command of the fleet cannot, perhaps, be disputed. But he was not in active command when the battle came off, and that is the point involved. His position was like Sheridan's when the battle of Cedar Creek occurred, Sheridan, at the time, being at Winchester, twenty miles away. When he left the field the active command naturally fell to the next in rank, General Wright, though the technical command remained with him. No one, however, held Sheridan responsible, when the Confederates stole a march on the sleeping Federals at Cedar Creek and drove them from their camp. The blame fell on Wright, and had the latter turned on the enemy and driven him back, surely the credit would not have gone to Sheridan; and the latter was too great a man to have claimed it. The laurels would have belonged to the commander in the field; not to the absentee.

The postulate in which some of Schley's enemies indulge that the battle of Santiago was fought by sea captains, is a dangerous one, and might be used to deprive Meade of the credit for Gettysburg. When the battle was on Meade could not do much but hurry up his reserves. Sickles acted independently in seizing the key of the battlefield; Hunt knew without asking what to do with his artillery at critical moments; Hancock, "the superb," was on hand to save a Federal line from being broken. But no one has had the temerity to say that Gettysburg was a battle of subordinate generals. It was Meade's battle and this, irrespective of the further fact that two superior officers had been for days in close contact with him—Abraham Lincoln, whom Sherman said was a greater commander than any of his generals, and who had put Meade in Pennsylvania to check the advance of Lee; and Edwin M. Stanton, the iron Secretary of War.

No one knows better than Sampson that his "command" at Santiago fell far short of what he wanted it to be. The bitterness of his disappointment comes of his not having been in Schley's place when Cervera's flight began. What was Schley's place? It was that of the ranking officer in the fight, the position of immediate authority, the active, belligerent com-

FIRE PROOF HOTELS.

The man who will build an absolutely fire-proof hotel in the city of New York ought to make money from it. It should be a hotel of steel, stone, tiles, marble and brick, with asbestos carpets, light steel doors and window frames, easily adjusted iron shutters to keep the flames of any burning outside structure from intruding, iron beds and steel stairways. There should be nothing inflammable in it that could be avoided with due regard to the comfort of guests, and whatever might be set on fire within the rooms should not endanger the building nor imperil the inmates.

It is plain from the holocaust in the Park Avenue Hotel that half-way or two-thirds measures to make a structure fire-proof, are not much of a safeguard. As hotels go, the Park Avenue was a model. Beside the Windsor, which burned not long ago with a terrible loss of life, and the Baldwin, of San Francisco, the Park Avenue was a temple of security. Yet when the test came it burned in its upper stories like a brush heap, and a score of lives were lost in the unspeakable tortures of death by fire.

The time is coming, we think, when State laws will prevent the building of any hotel above a certain height which is not fire-proof, by a definite standard. There have been so many holocausts that life insurance companies would almost be justified in classing the inhabitants of big hotels among their extra-hazardous risks. It is criminal to tempt people into sky-scrapers that may turn, at any time, into perpendicular furnaces; and as this fact is borne upon the public, by recurring catastrophes like that reported in the latest files, remedial legislation is sure to follow.

E. C. MACFARLANE.

The death of Edward C. Macfarlane, though not unexpected since the news of his critical illness came in the last preceding steamer, was nevertheless a sorrowful shock to this community. There was something peculiarly lovable about "Ned" Macfarlane, a magnetism which drew people and bound them to him in ties which needed no mystic ceremony of fraternal brotherhood to render firm and lasting. His very nod and smile made the sunniest morning a bit more pleasant, and his ready play of wit and humor and his kindly sympathies, surrounded him with troops of friends who, in a little time, will throng as mourners to his bier.

It was a strange Providence which laid Ned Macfarlane low just as life had opened to him its most delightful vistas. With fortune secure, with name honored, with years of cultivated leisure or agreeable activity as he might choose apparently before him, he married for love and started with his young bride to see the European capitals. His journey had scarcely begun when he fell ill. All that science and tenderness could do were his; but neither, with all their arts, could baffle death. At the very threshold of his happiness there came the thick darkness into which his mortal body passed and beyond which his spirit walked alone.

The rest is memory. But it is the memory of one who loved his fellow man; and in the poem of Ben Adhem's dream, when the angel wrote down the name of those whom God best loved, that of him whose smile cheered, and whose voice encouraged and whose hand helped, "led all the rest."

The Chicago Chronicle prints a fine picture of Governor Dole and labels it "Col. Sam Parker, the New Governor of Hawaii." It also prints a dispatch quoting Parker to the effect that his policy as Governor would be to placate the natives. Incidental to the humor of the time is the San Francisco News-Letter's stern arraignment of George R. Carter, who was born here in the line of early missionary descent, as "a respectable carpetbagger, who has assiduously courted government favor as a means of getting along in the Islands."

Senator Hoar and Representative Ray have introduced identical bills to redivide the district of Alaska into three recording and judicial divisions.

The Attorney General decides that Tutuila, Samoa, is domestic territory, and that American merchandise is entitled to free entry.

SPIRIT OF THE NATIVE PRESS

The comment of the vernacular press on current politics is always interesting and often instructive. Under the caption of "The Truth," Ka Lahui Hawaii of recent date says:

The Aloha Aina (Home Rule) paper tells us: "It is useless for the Hawaiians to join the Republican party, for the reason they will never receive government positions, as the Republicans have promised them."

Perhaps the ignorant classes will believe the words of the Aloha Aina, which is very strongly in favor of the Democrats, but the educated people will not believe such a statement, for the reason that is plain to all men, that all Hawaiians cannot hold public office.

The Republicans have made speeches and said the Republican party is the right party, for the reason that it is the mainstay of all the large enterprises of Hawaii nei, such as sugar, rice and banana plantations, and all other agricultural industries.

It is a plain fact that cannot be denied that if these industries should be dropped, we of Hawaii nei would become nothing. The idea of the Democrats to dividing lands, etc., are ideas to extinguish all the great industries of Hawaii nei. At no time has the Republican party shown the Hawaiians that if they chose the Republican party that they would all receive government positions, for the reason that that is a thing quite impossible for them to grant.

But, as the Republicans have taken hold of all the great industries of the Islands, and they are backed, it is the right thing for all Hawaiians to help on that side, so that they will all have work, for the reason, if all the great industries cease to be, the Hawaiians, as well as the strangers in the land will be hungry.

It is a mistaken idea for any newspaper to tell the Hawaiians that the Democratic, or any other party than the Republican, is the successful party for Hawaiians. Hawaii nei's successful standing today has been gained through the help of the Republican party, and not through any other.

Well thinking people do not hesitate in stating that the policy of the Republican side is the only one which will lead to success, and because the American nation knows that its prosperity has come from that party.

Hereafter it would be a wise thing for the Hawaiian people to understand that our prosperity depends upon the Republican party.

Any one who believes entirely in the Home Rule Republicans or the Democrats in what they say, because what they say are falsehoods. It will be that if the Hawaiians are stubborn and view Republicanism as a thing far away they will never realize statehood.

WORK FOR COFFEE TAX

Merchants Plan to Take Up the Fight.

DR. KNAPP MAY ASSIST IN IT

Association Will Be Called Together to Hear Report of the Special Committee.

Protection to the coffee industry will be one of the things to which the Merchants' Association will turn its hand and time, if the plans which are receiving the assent of many of the members, go through. The Committee on Trade and Finance, to which was turned over the matter as brought forward in the communication of A. L. Louisson, last week, has already held a meeting with Dr. Knapp, and as a result, there will be soon a meeting of the association, at which time the committee will report its findings.

The meeting of the committee with Dr. Knapp was a most enjoyable one, and the members received much information of the coffee industry of the world and what may be expected of the new possessions of the United States in particular. The committee was composed of Messrs. F. J. Lowrey and H. A. Isenberg, Vice President Dimond being the third member serving in place of Mr. Wakefield, who is absent. The call was made upon the expert of the United States Department by arrangement, and there was a long discussion of matters related to the industry which it is proposed to protect. The committee will have a report made to the association and none of the members will discuss it in advance.

Dr. S. A. Knapp, who is the traveling agent of the department, has had many interviews since his arrival, and will be in a position to give much information concerning the business here upon his return to the Capital. The most important conclusion to which he has arrived, at least which he has communicated to his friends, is that he will advocate the establishment of an experiment station here for the study of the coffee industry. Dr. Knapp does not think it wise to inaugurate a great work, but his plan is said to be the formation of a station which will be given to the consideration of all the phases of the culture and treatment of coffee. While there will be no regular plantation for the investigations, it is proposed that if the department shall undertake the work, there shall be sent on here a man who will be a scientific expert in coffee, who may secure from growers the privilege of using some of their now producing trees for his investigations, and thus avoid the long wait which would come if there should be necessary the cultivation of a new plantation before the experiments might be made.

As to the pushing of the matter of a tariff protecting coffees grown in the United States and its dependencies, Dr. Knapp is said to be very hopeful that there will be something done during this year. He has given his friends here to understand that he would advocate such a tariff duty and that he will go into the work as soon as he returns to Washington. It is said to be his opinion that there is not necessary any great amount of protection to give an impetus to the business.

There has been an understanding that the planters here will favor a duty of seven cents a pound, but this is said to be a greatr sum than could be hoped for, and some of the earnest friends of the industry are said to be of opinion that there would be stability given to the business in the event of a tariff of one half that sum. It is alleged that Dr. Knapp coincides with this view of the situation.

The following letter relative to the coffee growers here has been received:

Editor Advertiser: Without prompt legislation for the protection of the coffee industry in the Hawaiian Islands, or other of the United States possessions, the prospects of them ever becoming a factor in the United States markets are very remote and discouraging. We see the world's surplus growing heavier year by year and prices declining accordingly, until South American coffees are down to 5c to 5½c per lb., and while the Hawaiian coffee on account of its deserving popularity, brings a shade better price than the South American article, the prices above mentioned are what we have to compete against at the present time.

What arguments have so far been advanced appear to consider that an import duty by the United States would solve the problem, and the matter of the present large and increasing sale of adulterated coffee and imitations have been overlooked.

While the import duty would no doubt be of some benefit, it would in reality be so much greater inducement for the manufacturer to meet competition with a larger percentage of adulteration and would not increase the price realized by the grower comparatively with the duty imposed.

While I have no statistics before me, I would make a conservative estimate that there are at least 15,000 pounds of chicory and over 100,000 pounds of cereal imitation coffee consumed in the Hawaiian Islands per year. It is doubtful whether there is as large a percentage of adulterated coffee used throughout the United States as in this Territory, but as soon as there would be a duty placed on coffee, without any protection from the adulterated article, we would discover a large deficit in the consumption of the genuine coffee. It appears to me a solution could be arrived at if in addition to the import duty, we take action on the lines which the dairymen of the United States took against the manufacture of oleomargarine. This article today pays an internal revenue stamp tax of 2c. per pound, together with a wholesale fee of $480 and a retail license of $48 per year. The Grout bill which has just passed the House imposes a tax of 10c. per pound on oleomargarine or imitation butter, colored to resemble the genuine article. This tax will make the sale of imitation butter practically prohibitive.

Why cannot we work for a similar legislation against imitation coffee? With a wholesale license of say $480 and a retail license of $48, together with a stamp tax of say five cents per pound on the adulterated goods, and then add a duty of say five cents per pound on the imported coffee, all of which is as reasonable as the present protection of the dairymen's interest, I believe would result in the coffee industry of the Islands becoming even more of an important factor in our prosperity than sugar has proved to be.

"SOME MENTAL PHILOSOPHY."

There are a number of axioms underlying therapeutics which are as inflexibly true as those fundamental to mathematics. Thus:

First—No morbid effect can be dissipated except by a removal of its cause.

Second—What will make or tend to make a well man sick will make a sick man sicker.

Third—Medicine is medicine; food is food.

Fourth—A drug, to be remedial, must not, at least in the long run, oppose natural reparative effort.

Fifth—A drug's capacity for doing good, when indicated, is invariably less than its capacity for doing harm when not indicated.

Sixth—A drug is double-edged, so that however much it may cut in the right direction, it will cut some in the wrong direction.

Seventh—There is no such thing as a drug tonic—drugs are heterogeneous to the animal organism.

Eighth—Hygiene is the big brother of drugs, physiology being included in this branch."—Dr. W. C. Cooper, in Merk's Archives.

TO BANQUET AT MOANA

Irishmen Will Be Merrymakers There.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY CELEBRATION

Great Dinner is Planned as the Feature of the Day's Enjoyment.

St. Patrick's Day will be celebrated by the Irishmen of the city by a banquet at the Moana hotel. This was decided at a meeting of the Irishmen at the Athletic Club hall last evening. The meeting of the committee, which followed the general gathering, resulted in the appointment of sub-committees for the purpose of completing arrangements and for the distribution of tickets.

There was also a fair gathering when Chairman McCarthy called the meeting to order. The first business was the report of the sub-committee on banquet, and this was made by Charles Chillingworth. The report was that bids had been asked from the various hotels and caterers, with the result that the bid of the Moana hotel seemed to the committee the most favorable, and the committee recommended that it be accepted.

There was some little question as to the selection, several of the members present saying that there were many Irishmen who could not afford clawhammer coats and fine dresses, but the concensus was that there was no call for full dress, but that whatever dress an Irishman would wear upon any holiday was sufficient to fit him for a seat at the banquet table. J. A. Hughes said he was of the opinion that there should be a great dinner, with appropriate literary ceremonies, held in a hall where there would be no restrictions upon those who would like to be present.

Committeeman Dillon said that he thought as this was to be the first celebration here it should be made the best possible. He had, he said, been present at many dinners in other lands and at each not more than one half of the Irishmen present were in evening dress. He said all the bids were higher than those of the Moana hotel, and that the dinner there included still and sparkling wines, flowers, the printing and the music. There will be, however, special music and perhaps there will be other special features donated by the committee.

L. H. Dee moved that the report of the committee, with its recommendation, be accepted, which was carried. When this was disposed of Mr. Hughes wanted to have a general literary committee appointed, but this was ruled to come under the jurisdiction of the banquet committee. With this record of the work done, the meeting adjourned and the committee met at once. Seven members were present. Chairman McCarthy appointed Charles Chillingworth as the committee on music; Messrs. Dillon and Livingston the committee on literary exercises and Secretary Charles McGonagle a committee on printing.

It was decided that the rate for the banquet should be made $5 a ticket, and later that each member of the committee should take ten of the tickets, for sale and distribution. The committee adjourned to meet again Sunday morning.

PIONEER MILL WANTS MONEY

Reports of Officers Read at the Annual Meeting Held Yesterday.

The reports of the officers of the Pioneer Mill Company at yesterday's annual meeting were not wholly satisfactory. Only a small crop was harvested, being not more than half that anticipated, and the cost of the permanent improvements made during the year far exceeded the estimates.

In his report Vice President Isenberg shows the need of a loan of $750,000. He states that an agreement has been made with H. P. Baldwin to furnish eight to twelve million gallons of water daily from Honokahau gulch, which will allow the discontinuance of several pumps. The remaining pumps are to be changed to be run by electricity, generated from the mountain streams.

The plantation is reported to be in excellent condition, and the average yield per acre has increased.

The report of the manager shows that the grinding of the 1900 crop, which was finished in May, 1901, gave but 6,568 tons, a little more than half the estimated yield. About $640,000 was spent in improvements during the year. This year's crop, now being harvested, should yield 10,000 tons. About 1,800 acres will be planted this year and it is expected that the 1904 crop will show a considerable increase over that of 1903.

The report of the treasurer showed: Operating expenses for period from October 1, 1900, to December 31, 1901, $942,904.09; expenditures for permanent improvements for same period, $640,555.12; earnings, same period, $592,292.09; trial balance after closing books on December 31, 1901 (resources), $3,795,060.80.

The officers elected were: Paul Isenberg, president; H. A. Isenberg, vice president; W. Pfotenhauer, treasurer; F. Klamp, secretary, and A. H. Haneberg, auditor. The above named officers, excepting the auditor, with J. A. McCandless, F. W. Macfarlane and H. Focke constitute the board of directors.

THE HIGH SCHOOL GIVES A CONCERT

Program of Fine Selections Given in a Pleasing Manner.

The High School concert given last evening at the Young Men's Christian Association hall was a success, and those who braved the elements to be present were rewarded with an excellent program. The pupils of the High School, who participated as members of the school choruses, were grouped upon the platform, most of the girls being gowned in white. There were handsome decorations.

The opening chorus, "May Dreams," by fifty girls and boys, was an especially well rendered selection, in which Misses Codie Carden, Gladys Fisher, Rebecca Thompson and Margaret Cooke were the principal figures.

"May Bells," as sung by the High School Girls' Chorus, was prettily given, and the piano solos by Miss Lizzie Whiting brought forth much applause. Miss Bernice Koepke sustained her reputation as a performer on the violin, executing Moskowski's Berceuse, David Scherzo and Schumann's Schlummerlied in a manner which captivated the audience. Prof. C. A. Elston's clear tenor voice was heard to splendid advantage in "O Fair, O Holy, O Sweet," by Cantor. Miss Mabel McAndrews on the mandolin, Miss Esther Lando and Miss Elsie Smith on the piano, gave several pleasing numbers for which they got hearty applause. The accompanists, Miss Lena Rosewarne, Miss Jessie Frazier and Mrs. Yarndley, supported the choruses. "No Encores" printed on the programs, was a new feature. To Mrs. J. W. Yarndley is due the credit of presenting the program.

THE BEST Family Cough Remedy

Every day we are asked by customers what Cough Remedy is best to take. Now, we want to sell you just what you want to buy. We also want to sell you what you will be satisfied with, so that you will buy it of us again.

It would be short-sighted and foolish for us to advise you to take one cough remedy in preference to others if that one had not proven itself to be trustworthy and satisfactory. Therefore, when we tell you that we consider the best family cough remedy, we do so advisedly. We know that it will stand the test.

PUTNAM'S Cherry Cough Comfort

Sorethroat

is a thing that easily runs into Bronchitis and Tonsillitis, if it is not taken care of. It is due to inflammation of the mucous lining of the throat and larynx. If this inflammation is not checked, it can do three things. It can attack the tonsils, whereupon it is called "Tonsillitis." It can attack the bronchial tubes, whereupon it is called "Bronchitis" if inside the tubes and "Asthma" or "Catarrhal Asthma" if outside the tubes. Or it can work down into the lungs and give you a consumption "scare" (which may turn out to be real consumption).

PUTNAM'S Cherry Cough Comfort

draws out the inflammation in Sorethroat, Hoarseness and early stages of Tonsillitis and Bronchitis. It is quick, gentle, thorough and entirely natural.

BURNED THE MORTGAGE

Novel Ceremony at Methodist Church.

THE BURDEN OF DEBT REMOVED

Rev. G. L. Pearson and Congregation Held a Thanksgiving Meeting.

When a charred paper fell, last evening, into a plate held by Miss Ripley, who stood on the pulpit platform of the Methodist Episcopal church, it symbolized the lifting of a mortgage of $9,000 which has burdened the church for six years. Today there is not a foot of ground owned by the Methodist church upon which there is a penny of debt. In the past fifteen months, through the determined efforts of the pastor and his followers, every cent of the $9,000 has been raised, the most of it in the Hawaiian Islands, and the mortgage was duly cancelled on March 1st.

Last night's exercises were in the nature of a general thanksgiving. Pastor Pearson was especially happy and he now looks forward to a bright and prosperous career for his church and its numerous branches throughout the Islands.

Treasurer Webb read the financial report, which showed that a balance had been struck.

Congratulatory speeches were made by W. A. Bowen of the Central Union church, Rev. E. S. Muckley of the Christian church and by Rev. Mr. Pearson. Then there was music and refreshments.

ELECTRICAL WORK IN TOWN OF HILO

Inspector Hasson Reports on the Result of His Recent Trip.

Electrical Inspector Hasson yesterday made his report to Superintendent Boyd upon the results of his recent visit to Hilo. He reports that during the past year the overhead telephone circuit has been entirely remodeled; that no complaints of service are made by subscribers; the insulators are all glass, and that the construction in general meets all requirements, with the exception that wires are not provided with protective devices where they enter buildings. The Hilo Electric Light Company has also remodeled its lines, and everything is commended excepting the electric light lines on Front street, which are reported to be in bad condition. New lines are being planned, but construction is delayed in obtaining the right of way for streets along which the proposed line is to pass. Mr. Hasson recommends that matters be left in the hands of the superintendents of the companies. The electric light rate ranges from 50 to 80 cents per month. The government are street lights cost $8 per month; the incandescent, $1.20 per month.

Beset by Gales.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 20.—The German ship Agnes arrived yesterday from Honolulu, which port she left February 4. She has been outside the heads for three days unable to get into port on account of southeasterly gales. She encountered an exceptionally heavy gale February 15. Squalls were frequent and fierce. She rolled so heavily that with one lurch she carried away the rack of the main upper topsail yard. The yard dropped to the slings, and from there to the deck, where it made a formidable imprint. The main and lower upper topsails were also blown away.

Fell From Aloft.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 22.—On February 12, John Kanaka, a seaman on the bark Amy Turner, which arrived here yesterday from Hilo, fell to the deck from the main upper topsail yard. He struck on the main hatch and was instantly killed. He was buried at sea. Kanaka was twenty-two years of age, and a native of Honolulu. The Turner was nineteen days making the trip, and encountered a very heavy southerly gale on February 11, which wrought her much damage. One big sea came aboard and carried away fifteen feet of the starboard bulwark.

DIED.

NEAL—In Pope Valley, Napa Co., Cal., February 11, 1902, after a long and painful illness, Mr. Nicholas Neal, formerly an old resident of Honolulu, passed away at the home of his daughter, Mrs. George Sweitzer; aged eighty-three years.

Cloud photography is one of the branches of science in which important facts are learned through long and careful observation. One of the most energetic workers in this field is M. Teisserenc de Bort, whose observatory near Paris includes two stations three-quarters of a mile apart on the same level, these stations being connected by telephone. A point of the cloud having been fixed upon, two photographs are taken simultaneously. A scale shows the inclination of the camera, and another the direction of the cloud, and from the inclination angles of the two cameras and the known base line the cloud's height is calculated. Two more pictures show its travel in a given time.

MRS. ASTOR'S RIGID REGIME.

No matter the hour at which Mrs. Astor may go to bed, she never misses rising at 7 the next morning and having breakfast at 9. Nor does she vary a minute in descending to the first meal of the day, which with her is most simple, and, like its hour, never varies. A plain omelet, coffee, and perhaps a cold biscuit—never hot bread—or a bit of white bread make up the meal. In twenty minutes she has finished and is returning to her room. She frequently writes a letter or two before breakfast and afterward reads the morning paper. She lunches at 1 o'clock and goes out to drive at 2 or 3. She never takes "a nap" during the day. Her ability to keep well and young on so short an allowance of sleep is considered the more remarkable by those who know of her habits, for she attends almost every function of any moment and seldom retires before 2 or 3 in the morning.—New York Times.

Plausible enough: Ascum—How did you make out with that story you sent to the Klaptrap Magazine? Scribbler—Rejected. I fancy it was too clever. Ascum—Too clever? Scribbler—Yes. I suppose they were afraid it would distract attention from their advertising pages.—Philadelphia Press.

No Truth in Story of Hartwell's Enmity.

WHAT HAYWOOD TOLD COMMITTEE

The Strenuous Fight Representative Corliss is Making Against Mackay Cable.

(Special to The Advertiser.)

WASHINGTON, February 20.—Regarding some rumors, brought here by certain Honolulu newspapers that he and Judge A. S. Hartwell were striving to have Congress restrict the suffrage in the Territory and deprive the natives of votes, Mr. Haywood stated today that, as far as he was concerned, the rumors were absolutely and unqualifiedly without foundation. "I have never mentioned the subject here," said Mr. Haywood, "in any way, shape or form, except some mention recently before the Ways and Means Committee could be so construed. When I appeared before that committee in behalf of the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Association, some question was asked me about the census of the Islands, and, in explaining the same, I stated that it was customary out there to count both the white residents and the natives as Hawaiians. Exactly what I said on that subject can be quickly determined in Honolulu, for copies of my hearing have been printed and sent out there.

"Furthermore I have seen Judge Hartwell almost daily here in Washington. He has never mentioned such a theme to me. I have generally understood that he was here simply and solely on a visit of leisure and I have not the slightest idea that he is agitating any question of the character mentioned. If otherwise it is a complete surprise to me."

The statement befor the Committee on Ways and Means, referred to by Mr. Haywood, occurs on page 321 of the printed hearings and is as follows:

Mr. Newlands: How many native Hawaiian laborers are there in the Sandwich Islands?

Mr. Haywood. That I cannot tell. There has been an effort out in the Islands not to draw distinctions between the whites and the Hawaiians, and taking the last census we did not divide them, except by parentage.

There has been some activity in the House of late over the proposed Pacific cable. Mr. Corliss, of Michigan, who is leading the agitation for a government cable with such remarkable zeal as to cause some comment, delivered a bitter partisan speech in the House a few days ago, denouncing the Commercial Pacific Company, and advocating a measure that is much desired by one or two firms in this country. His speech was delivered during general debate on an appropriation bill. The Commercial Pacific people have not been lax in advancing their interests and have prepared a contract, intended to bind them with the Government to carry out the proposition to lay a cable to Honolulu by next November. To make this proposition and contract binding, it is proposed that as a consideration for their undertaking the Government grant them a plot of land in San Francisco or Honolulu, or the rent of an office building in Honolulu. The latter plan meets with the most favor.

There is no indication just at present when the cable bill will be discussed in the House. The reports of a majority and minority of the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Affairs have been prepared. Several appropriation bills are now pending and must be gotten out of the way before general legislation is considered.

Mr. William Haywood has canvassed almost the entire House of Representatives to ascertain the sentiments of the members about Cuban reciprocity, and stated to day that a very large majority was against doing anything at all for Cuba. But he explained that this did not mean nothing would be done, because so many Republicans feel impelled to do something in the light of the President's determination for legislation.

The Democrats of the House are playing politics with the situation, waiting for an opportunity to get the greatest partisan advantage. It is quite probable that many of them will vote for the Ways and Means bill, whatever it turns out to be. The Republicans have been much scared lest there should be some successful effort at tariff revision proposed on the bill as amendments, but they have consulted parliamentary precedents and determined that any proposed amendments to the tariff can be ruled out on points of order.

Coming to Honolulu.

OAKLAND, Feb. 16.—Louis Prang, who enjoys a national reputation as a publisher of art works, is stopping a few days in this city with his niece, Mrs. Joseph H. Dorety, 1230 Eighth avenue. He and his wife are making a tour of the Pacific coast, and within a few days will leave for the Hawaiian Islands. On his return he expects to make a trip to Alaska. Although seventy-eight years of age, Prang is still enjoying the best of health. To him belongs the honor of carrying lithographic printing in colors to a high stage of development and years ago his reproduction of celebrated oil and water color paintings made his name familiar in almost every household.

MACKINTOSH FOR BISHOP

Mentioned by the San Francisco Call as a Possible Episcopal Incumbent.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 25.—The Call says:

Bishop Nichols last Saturday called a meeting of the board of managers of the diocese of California. He explained to them that he had been ordered to go to Honolulu with all speed and on the first of next April receive the property of the church that would be turned over to him. He explained that the date was just about Eastertide, at the very time he would best like to be in San Francisco, but that he was simply obeying orders. He was wished Godspeed and everybody felt assured that the presiding Bishop of the United States of America could not have placed such a delicate mission in better hands.

Who will be the successor to Bishop Willis is not at present announced, but at the recent convention Archdeacon Emery of this city was prominently mentioned for the place. The Rev. Alexander Mackintosh, D. D., rector of Honolulu, is also a likely candidate. He has held services in the church at Honolulu for several years with a large following, while Bishop Willis, representing the old faction, held services in the same edifice to smaller congregations.

The following is the biography of Bishop Willis, who retires.

The Right Reverend Alfred Willis, Lord Bishop of Honolulu, was the son of Frag. Willis, M. D., of Shillingthorpe Hall, near Stamford, Lincolnshire, born February 3, 1836. He married September 4, 1883, Emma Mary, third daughter of the late Captain Simeon of the British army, and granddaughter of the late Sir R. G. Simeon, Bart. He was educated at Uppingham School, under Dr. Henry Holden, then under Dr. Edward Thring, at St. John's College, Oxford. Was in third class moderations, second class Lit. Hun., B. A., 1859; M. A., 1864; D. D., 1872; deacon, 1859; priest, 1860, in the diocese of Rochester. Consecrated second Bishop of Honolulu on February 2, 1872, in the chapel of Lambeth Palace by the Archbishop of Canterbury, assisted by the Bishops of London, Winchester and Rochester. He was curate of Strood, Kent, from 1859-62, and incumbent of St. Mark, New Brompton, Kent, 1863-72. He revised and enlarged a translation of the Hawaiian prayer book (S. P. C. K., 1883), translated a catechism of "Chief Truths of Christian Religion," 1884, and published a Hawaiian hymn book containing 200 hymns.

Bishop Willis holds a commission from the Bishop of London to perform Episcopalian acts in the Pacific outside of the Melanesian diocese. He attended Lambeth conference of 1887 and 1897.

DISMAL DAY IN TENTED CAMP

Rainfall Sent the Soldiers Into Their Tents and Drenched the Sentries.

None but poncho-clad sentries were visible yesterday at the tented camp of the soldiers from the transport Warren, on the Drillshed grounds. The terrific downpour of rain in the forenoon caused every boy in blue to dive into his tent and seek shelter under the canvas. The sentries, however, kept to their beats and received thorough drenchings. Their ponchos were not a sufficient bulwark to ward off the downpour, and from their campaign hats to their big army shoes there was not a dry spot. Their Krags were held up under their arm-pits and the locks protected from the elements as much as possible.

The interior of the tents was kept fairly dry, owing to the forethought of the officers in having drainage ditches dug around each, a general outlet leading into the street. Several of the soldiers obtained wood from somewhere, and constructed raised floorings, on which were put straw, and upon this they laid their blankets. The camp was, however, a dismal spectacle throughout the day, and the men were given a taste of real soldiering.

IMPRESS OF THE PRINCE

King Kalakaua Was Thanked for Reception.

HOW THE YOUNG MAN APPEARED

One of the Ladies of the Court Writes of Scenes at Halealiialani.

Memories of the visit of Prince Henry of Germany, to this city, in 1879, have been revived by the publication of the facts concerning the stop here of the ship, in The Advertiser. There was an incident related to the visit of the young Prince, which occurring two years later, impressed the matter most fully upon the minds of the Hawaiians who were present and witnessed the incident.

King Kalakaua was making a visit to England in 1881, and during the time spent there was invited to be a member of the reviewing party at Windsor Castle, when the volunteer troops were marched before Queen Victoria. The carriage containing the King of Hawaii was placed immediately behind that of Her Majesty. The regiments marched past, at the head of one of them being its honorary colonel, the Crown Prince Frederick of Germany. Prince Frederick was a tall man, of magnificent presence, and was superbly mounted. When the revoew was over he left his regiment and drew alongside the carriage of his mother-in-law, the Queen.

Upon being apprised of the presence of King Kalakaua, the Prince immediately rode up to the carriage and in the most impressive manner said:

"Your Majesty, I am the Crown Prince of Germany. I came to salute you and at once express my thanks to you, for your kind treatment of my son, Prince Henry, when he made a visit to your Kingdom. I shall present myself to Your Majesty tomorrow."

With a courtly bow the Prince galloped away, and later returned to his place beside the carriage of Queen Victoria. The magnificent presence of the Crown Prince, which his son Prince Henry inherits more than the Emperor of Germany, his dignity and princely bearing, left a greater impression upon the minds of their Hawaiian Majesties than any other event which occurred during their visit to the English capital.

In connection with the reception to Prince Henry here, the following letter from one of the ladies of the court will give a pen photograph of the event:

BY AN EYE WITNESS.

Editor Advertiser: In your issue of today you give your readers some account of the visit to Honolulu of Prince Henry of Prussia in 1879. I recall the visit, and have a personal recollection of the reception of the Prince by the then heir apparent, Princess Liliuokalani. The function was given in the present judicial building. The old palace had been pulled down, and while the new one was building, all royal balls and receptions were held in Halealiiolani. The reception to the Prince was given in the makai room, on the ground floor, at present occupied by Marshal Hendry, I think.

The ladies of the court were notified, not invited, to be present. Arrayed in reception dresses as handsome as their wardrobes afforded, they repaired to the room in the middle forenoon. The room seemed like an office, as it was, and no attempt had been made to make it seem like anything else. A little dais had been built between the makai windows, and was covered by a rug or carpet, and on this were two chairs. We stood about talking and laughing till presently the chamberlain came in to give us some instructions as to how we were to conduct ourselves when the Prince should appear. We were told that as soon as he came through the door, we were all to bow, and when we were presented we were to make a courtesy. We were further told that we were not to speak to the Prince unless he should first speak to us. The chamberlain went out after he had given us our lesson, and we proceeded to practice it, for the courtesy was an unaccustomed form of politeness to all of us. When it was near the time for the Prince to enter the room we all took our places, forming a line on either hand of the Princess. The only ladies not there on account of their husbands' official positions were Mrs. Carter and Mrs. Mott-Smith, and of course Mrs. Bishop. The Prince appeared at the door, walking, as I remember, by the side of Captain MacLean. We all properly made our bow. Then we had leisure to see a quiet, simple, ordinary looking young lad, who went through what was expected of him as any lad of his age might have done. He talked a moment with the Princess Liliuokalani, and then went down each line of ladies. As her name was pronounced the lady courtesied, and the Prince shook hands with her. When my turn came to be presented, Col. Iaukea, to my chagrin and his own embarrassment, forgot my name. I could not tell him, for I had my instructions to be silent, and the Prince, seeing the situation, cordially shook hands with me, and passed along. When he had finished shaking hands he took his leave, the Princess and ladies bowing as they had done when he entered. I think it was on the afternoon of the same day on which the reception was held that he was told of the death of his young brother, the news, withheld from him for a few hours, stopping all festivities intended in honor of Prince Henry.

Halpruner's

HE GOT OVER THE GRIP.

A well known Eastern traveling man was telling a group of his friends gathered around him in the Palace Hotel, San Francisco, the other night about a traveling acquaintance of his that came out from New York the other day.

"This man's name was man—Frederick Talbot Mann. Perhaps some of you know him; he lives at 1733 Oak St., near Golden Gate Park, San Francisco.

"Mr. Mann had a severe attack of la grippe. He caught it in New York in January; everybody had it there. Mann suffered all the way out here, and as my berth was across the aisle from his I rendered as much assistance as I could. There was a doctor friend of mine aboard the train, but everything we could do was of no avail, and Mann kept getting worse all the time. When the train reached San Francisco he was very sick. Some of his friends met him at the train and that was the last I saw of him until today.

"I was out driving in the park this morning and who should I see but Mr. Mann, hale and hearty and out for a bit of fresh air. He walked up to the buggy as soon as he saw me and we had quite a chat. I asked him how he got over the grip. He said as soon as he was removed to his home from the train one of his friends persuaded him to try a bottle of Halpruner's Wonderful Pain Remover, and before he had completely taken one bottle he was greatly relieved, and the second bottle cured him entirely.

"He was very enthusiastic in his praise for this medicine and said he never before had much faith in patent medicines, but he could not deny the wonderful effects of Halpruner's Pain Remover. He said he inhaled it and took it internally and that he could break up the severest kind of a cold with a few inhalations of the medicine."

Dr. Halpruner's Wonderful Pain Remover is a family medicine good for most all the common ailments that constantly annoy members of the household, good to have on hand at all times. Druggists sell it at 50c and $1 a bottle, or send direct to Halpruner Medical Manufacturing Co., 28 California St., San Francisco, Cal.

ISLAND FLEET WEATHERBOUND

Neither Claudine Nor Kinau Go Out and Shipping is Tied Up.

On account of the storm, nothing went out of the port yesterday smaller than the Nippon Maru, and for the same reason nothing arrived.

The Lehua, which was to have sailed for Molokai on Monday night, is still waiting for the weather to lift. The other boats of the Wilder fleet also remained in port yesterday, neither the Kinau nor the Claudine venturing outside on their regular runs to Hawaii and Maui.

If the storm abates the Claudine and Kinau will sail at 9 a. m. today, and the Lehua at 5 p. m.

None of the Inter-Island steamers sailed yesterday, and the whole fleet is weatherbound for the first time in a year. On account of the non-arrival of the steamers, no news is to hand of the whereabouts of the Island schooners, the majority of which are doubtless lying up in places of safety.

The Kinau and Claudine bookings are as follows:

Per steamer Claudine, for Kahului—H. P. Baldwin and wife, J. G. Anderson, Mrs. E. H. Wodehouse, L. J. Eckberg.

Per steamer Kinau, for Hilo—W. A. Sexton, D. J. McKay, J. Smith, Dr. Knapp, J. U. Smith, E. D. Baldwin, Major W. A. Purdy, A. V. Gear, Henry J. Wyman, J. Foster, Hi Kooser, Mrs. H. Hoon, Miss M. E. Lewis, Capt. S. E. Smiley, W. Booth, Capt. Willis Uline, Dr. McVane; for Kawaihae—Miss E. Stewart; for Mahukona—P. P. Woods, S. P. Woods.

The Mauna Loa is posted to sail for Lahaina, Maalaea, Kona and Kau ports at 10 a. m. today. The Mikahala is scheduled to sail on the Kauai run at 5 p. m. today. If weather permits the Waialeale will depart for Eleele and Hanapepe at the same hour.

SHIPPING NOTES.

The Meade was scheduled to sail for Manila on March 1.

The Nippon Maru sailed for the Orient at 5 p. m. yesterday.

The brig Galilee sailed for Mahukona from San Francisco February 21.

The freighter Hyades is expected this morning from San Francisco.

The barkentine Irmgard went up to San Francisco from here in fifteen days.

Several of the officers of the transport Warren are going up to Hilo on the Kinau.

Eighty-five Japanese and twenty-five Chinese departed from here on the Nippon Maru.

Captain McQuarrie, of the British ship Ellen A. Read, has his two daughters on board.

The Sonoma, from San Francisco, may arrive this evening, and the Ventura, from Sydney, is also due today.

The bark Wrestler, 108 days out from Newcastle, for Kahului, put into Sydney in distress on November 22, and sailed again on December 24.

E. Swenszen, a sailor on the bark Kaiulani fell down a hatch yesterday, a distance of thirty feet, and fractured his hip. He was taken to the hospital.

The instruments on board the United States navy vessel Solace indicated that she rolled to an angle of 45 degrees between here and San Francisco.

The steamships Korea and Siberia, recently built for the Pacific Mail Company, have been put on the shipping list. They will both be on the coast shortly.

The American ship S. D. Carleton will go on the dry dock at Tacoma for caulking and will not begin loading her cargo of coal for Honolulu until her repairs are complete.

The steamer Hyades sailed from San Francisco for Honolulu on February 24, with 4,000 tons of general merchandise.

The barkentine S. N. Castle returns to Honolulu with a general cargo.

R. D. Buckman, formerly first officer of the steamship City of Peking, has accepted the position of marine superintendent of the William Cramp & Sons' ship yards, Philadelphia, the concern which employs between six and seven thousand men at the present time, and which expects to employ still more shortly.

Damaged the Wharf.

Captain Fitzgerald, the Hilo harbor master, has notified Superintendent of Public Works Boyd that five piles of the Hilo wharf have been carried away, and that other damage has been sustained. A wharf builder will be dispatched on the Kinau.

NEW SCHOONER FOR ISLANDS

Option for Sale of the Gerald C. Given to Parties in Honolulu.

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 17.—The schooner Gerald C., arriving from La Paz Saturday, stopped at Magdalena Bay and took on a cargo of sixty tons of guano, which was brought to this port for the Lower California Development Company. The schooner took down a cargo of hay to La Paz, which was sold, and another cargo could have been sold without any effort. Captain Winters reports that every class of business is booming at La Paz, and that the hotels are crowded with people looking for investments. Rich copper mines have recently been found, and the mining business is on the boom. The gunboat Ranger is at work in the gulf making surveys, and will call at this port as soon as she finishes. The Gerald C has been chartered by the Lower California Development Company, and will sail tomorrow night for Ensenada to take on a cargo of freight for the Daggett copper mine at San Julio. From there she will proceed down the coast and get a return cargo of guano. Harry Robins, owner of the vessel, has given an option for the sale of the schooner to parties in Honolulu, and possibly after her return to this port she will be sent there with a cargo and go into the trade between Honolulu and the other islands of Hawaii.

FROM FAR AND FROSTY KLONDIKE

Collector of Customs Stackable has made a notable addition to his scrapbook of curiosities. It is the heading of a sheet of hotel note paper recently received from the far and frosty Klondike. The letter, which is dated January 27, 1902, was mailed in Dawson City, Yukon Territory, and according to the printed superscription, was written in the barroom of the Sour Dough Hotel, 1333 Icicle avenue. For the benefit of the stranger in the land, and in order that he who runs may read, the following interesting information is printed at the top of the sheet:

"Sour Dough Hotel, the best house north of Mexico, and first-class in every particular. Every known fluid, water excepted, for sale at the bar. Private entrance for ladies by ladder in the rear.

"Rates, one ounce per day. Special rates to ministers and the gambling 'perfesh.' Indians and niggers charged double.

"House Rules—Guests will be provided with breakfast and dinner, but must rustle their own lunch. Spiked boots must be removed at night. Dogs not allowed in the bunks. Candles and hot water charged extra. Towels changed weekly."

Among the numerous attractions and advantages of the hostelry, set forth at the head of the page, are such engaging items as these:

Crap, chuckluck, studhorse poker and black jack games run by the management. Dogs bought and sold. Insect powder for sale at the bar.

THIRTY INCHES MORE TO RAISE

The stern of the transport Warren has only to be raised thirty more inches out of the water before the old stump of the propeller blade can be unbolted and the new blade bolted on. The stern has been raised nearly eight feet since Sunday.

Yesterday the work of carrying pig iron forward was continued and will go on today. It is estimated that the vessel will have been sufficiently tipped by tomorrow morning to allow of the actual operations of repairing the propeller to commence. Opinions differ as to just how long it will take to put the new blade in position. The work can undoubtedly be done in two days, but on the other hand, there have been cases where it has taken as long as four days to replace a broken blade, and this with every facility for speedy work available. It is extremely doubtful even if with the best of luck the Warren can get away for a week, for all her aft cargo will have to be replaced, and it will take longer to do this and pack it properly than it did to transfer it forward.

Tomorrow night at 8 o'clock the army and ship's officers of the Warren will hold an informal reception on board the transport, to be followed by a dance. Invitations have been issued to Governor Dole, the officers at Camp McKinley, and the various officials of the army and navy departments.

GLOBE COMPANY MEETS THE CUT

Agent Beebe Notified of a Lower Rate Schedule on General Merchandise.

By the Nippon Maru from the Coast, General Agent L. E. Beebe of the Globe Navigation Company received information to the effect that on and after March 1st the general merchandise rate will be $3.50 a ton on all goods originating on Puget Sound or East thereof, with the exception of bran and extremely heavy pieces of machinery, which will have to be engaged by special arrangement with the agents.

Matches in tins will be carried at $4 per ton, and heavy freight up to and including 2,000 pounds, at $3.50 per ton.

The company will dispatch the steamship Tampico from Seattle direct to Honolulu on or about March 10th. This vessel is equipped with a complete cold storage plant.

Agent Beebe received no notification of the sailing of the steamship Meteor from San Francisco for here via Seattle, as announced in the Coast files.

Florence Damaged.

M'CARTHY IS GUILTY

The Jury Finds He Chewed Wife's Ear.

CHINESE EDITOR IS SENTENCED

Judge Gear Imposes Month's Imprisonment for Libel—Magoon Reports.

Crimp McCarthy was found guilty in the Circuit Court yesterday of an attempt to commit mayhem. McCarthy was just out of prison when he had another fight with his wife, Katie Akai, in which he chewed her left ear until that member was almost severed and also badly lacerated other portions of her anatomy with his teeth. So skillfully did the surgeons bind up the wound that the marks of McCarthy's teeth were hardly noticeable, and Judge Gear, ruling upon the motion of George Davis, held that in order to convict for mayhem, it was necessary to prove that the wound was noticeable and marred the beauty of the prosecuting witness. In lieu of that, which the skill of the surgeons made impossible, the jury returned a verdict of guilty of the attempt at the crime. Judge Gear will pronounce sentence this morning.

EDITOR SENTENCED TO JAIL.

Judge Gear considered newspaper editors generally, yesterday, in sentencing Wong Suey King, the Chinese convicted of criminal libel, to imprisonment for thirty days. Incidentally, he touched on the prevailing trouble between the Consul's party and the Bow Wongs.

When the defendant was called up for sentence yesterday, Attorney McClanahan made a strong plea for a money fine, but neither the court nor the prosecuting witness could see it in that light. "This is a matter within the discretion of the court, and I submit that a money fine would be sufficient," said Mr. McClanahan. "The court should consider well before imprisoning this man. This defendant is a man against whom no word touching his character has been raised. He is not versed in the English language, and is uneducated and untrained in our tongue. The evidence shows that in publishing the libellous article he thought he was doing right, and there has been no malice shown in the act. He believed in the truth of the article, and I believe it would be unjust to send him to jail, when the imposition of a money fine would meet the ends of justice, and have a salutary effect and deter nim from the publication of anything further of a libellous nature. Ignorance of the facts led to the publication in the first instance, and now he is fully cognizant of the libel laws in the Territory."

Mr. Andrews replied: "I beg to differ with Mr. McClanahan in this case. The defendant took the responsibility for this libel, and now he should take the responsibility for the punishment. This article was published maliciously and willfully, and with the intent to injure Mr. Poon. This defendant is surrounded by rich Chinese who are willing to pay whatever fine should be imposed. Imprisonment is the only deterrent for acts of this kind, and an example should be made, to show the newspapers of this land that they cannot attack people without punishment. This defendant is shrewd and clever enough to attempt to escape the responsibility for his action, and has published a paper long enough to know what the laws here are. He not only published the article, but added to the libel by attempting to prove it. Imprisonment would have a salutary effect not only on this man but also upon others."

"The court realizes that the finding of the jury of a verdict for libel in the second degree was virtually a recommendation for clemency," said Judge Gear in passing sentence. "This man is the editor of a newspaper, and it is true that editors are not necessarily of the criminal class, but the Legislature in its wisdom has provided a law which imposes fine or imprisonment for persons convicted of libel. The court agrees entirely with the attorney for the prosecution, that this man should be punished by more than a money fine. The fact that this defendant is a Chinese will have something to do with the sentence to be imposed, though it appears to me that all persons are presumed to know the law. It is evident, though, that he doesn't thoroughly understand the law, as some of the editors of other papers here do. If a fine was imposed it would be paid by the Chinese friends of the defendant. It would simply be a tax upon the organization known as the Bow Wongs, and would result in the hat being carried around to its members to raise the amount. There appears to be a rivalry between the Bow Wongs and the friends of the Chinese Consul, and this has been apparent during the trial of the case. I do not believe a money fine would be sufficient punishment, but I have received Mr. McClanahan's statement in good faith, and it will be taken into consideration. It has been said that I have been too lenient in the past, and I may be too lenient now, but I will not impose the full penalty of the law, and will sentence the defendant to imprisonment for thirty days."

Exceptions were taken by the defendant, and notice of appeal given. The defendant was released upon furnishing bond in the sum of $500.

BEFORE HUMPHREYS.

Judge Humphreys was occupied yesterday in the hearing of the case of Paris vs. Magoon. All the witnesses from Hawaii were examined, but the trial will consume several more days.

THE KONA MATTER.

Judge Humphreys made the following order yesterday in the matter of the Kona Sugar Company:

"It appearing to my satisfaction by the record herein and by representations made to me by the receiver that it is impossible for said receiver to negotiate funds with which to operate the plantation of the Kona Sugar Co., Ltd., and to harvest the crop thereupon growing, it is hereby ordered that said receiver do employ such agents as may be sufficient to care for and protect the live stock and other personal property in and upon and about said plantation, and except for the employment of such servants, the receiver is not required to incur any personal financial responsibility in and about the conduct of said plantation.

"Done at chambers this fourth day of March, A. D. 1902.

"A. S. HUMPHREYS."

COURT NOTES.

The value of the estate is given as follows: Notes secured by mortgage, $9,343.54; real estate, $6,370.

J. A. Magoon has also filed his accounts as trustee of the estate of J. F. O. Banning. The receipts are given as $7,895, and the expenditures were $7,375. The value of the estate is placed at $74,055.

Valuable Library Addition.

Mrs. Mary Hendricks, of Kaimuki, has presented the Young Men's Christian Association library with fifty or sixty books, some of them being early editions of poetica lworks, with fine steel engravings. Among them are Moore's, Byron's and Tennyson's works, dating back from half a century to seventy years ago. There is also a fine edition of books relating to the great London exhibition of 1851, containing some handsome steel engravings. The books are very acceptable, and will soon be listed and put on the library shelves.

DANDRUFF CAUSED BY A GERM.

A New Discovery That Kills the Germ and Prevents Baldness.

Pretty nearly all the hair preparations for dandruff have some merit in allaying itching of the scalp, and in being a fairly good dressing for the hair, but there is only one that recognizes what causes dandruff, falling hair and baldness, and that destroys the cause, a little germ—and that is Newbro's Herpicide. This germ eats its way into the scalp, down to the hair root, where it saps that vitality, causing dandruff as it digs up the scalp into little white scales. Unles it is destroyed there's no permanent stopping of falling hair and cure of dandruff and baldness. Newbro's Herpicide kills the germ. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect."

Eight assay offices in the Cripple Creek district of Colorado, were blown up with dynamite, believed to be due to ore thieves. Mine owners say they have been robbed of $2,500,000 in high grade ores in a year.

SUGAR

Williams, Dimond & Co's circular letter on sugar matters, dated February 25, and received here on the S. S. Nippon Maru, is as follows:

We last addressed you on the 15th instant, per Alameda.

Sugar—Prices in the local market have since declined, February 21, fifteen points, Western Sugar Refining Company's latest list for California, Oregon and Washington, being as follows:

Dominos, half barrels, 5.15c; boxes, 5.40c.
Cubes (A), crushed and fine crushed, 4.90c.
Powdered, 4.75c.
Candy, granulated, 4.75c.
Dry granulated, fine, 4.65c.
Dry Granulated, coarse, 4.65c.
Fruit, granulated, 4.65c.
Beet, granulated (100-pound bags only), 4.55c.
Confectioners' A, 4.65c.
Magnolia A, 4.25c.
Extra C, 4.15c.
Golden C, 4.05c.
"D" sugar, 3.95c.

A reduction of forty points over previous list was made for export, the last, February 21st, quoting dry granulated 4.15c for Arizona, Nevada, Alaska, Hawaiian Territory, Idaho, Utah, Wyoming, New Mexico and Montana.

Basis—February 15th to 18th, no sales; 19th, to arrive sale, 800 tons at 3⅝c; 20th, to arrive sale, 2,000 tons at 3⅝c; 21st, to arrive sale, 800 tons at 3⅝c; 22d, holiday; 24th, no sales. Consequently, basis for 96-degree centrifugals remains at 3.625c; San Francisco, 3.25c.

London Beets—February 15th and 17th, 6s 8¼d; 18th to 20th, 6s 9d; 21st and 24th, 6s 9¾d.

Dry Granulated, New York—Quotation of 4.60c, equivalent to 4.51c, established January 23d, continued in force until February 17th, on which day an advance of five points occurred, establishing a price of 4.65c, equivalent to 4.56c net cash; since that time no further change has taken place.

London Cable—February 20th quotes Java No. 15 D. S., 7s 6d; fair refining, 7s 6d; same date last year, 11s 9d and 10s 9d, respectively. February beets, 6s 9d, against 9s 2¼d, corresponding period last year. March beets, 6s 9¾d, against 9s 3d same date last year.

Eastern and Foreign Markets—According to latest mail advices from New York under date of the 20th inst., the raw sugar market is steady and firm, with sales consummated on basis of last quotations of 3⅝c for 96-degree test Centrifugals. Cuba continues her present policy of withholding her sugars from the market, and stocks have increased to 173,000 tons; nevertheless, the views of buyers appear to have changed somewhat in spite of the smallness of refiners' supplies on hand, and the demand is less active. European markets are strong and advancing, the influence of a possible increase of duties in England having a tendency to accentuate sales for account of the United Kingdom, where stocks are about double the amount of a year ago. The solution of the problem of an abolition of bounties on the part of Brussel's conference is yet unsolved. The demand for refined is fair at unchanged quotations.

MONEY IN SUGAR.

The anxiety of the "starving" sugar trust to get its Cuban sugar into our markets free of duty is very well explained by the income tax returns of the city of Honolulu. In that town of about 40,000 inhabitants there are 2,730 names on the tax roll. Of those, five individuals and fifty-four corporations return net taxable incomes exceeding $250,000. In the whole United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, with almost as many millions as Honolulu has thousands of population, and supposed to be the chief seat of concentrated wealth, it is stated that but twelve individuals and eighty corporations returned incomes of that size. Honolulu is almost the financial center of the world. Sugar did it, and the American market. If the sugar trust can work in Cuban sugar on the same plan, the sugar magnates will be on velvet. We are not, however, advised that those people of Hawaii who are so unfortunate as not to own sugar plantations are any better off than other folks. Nowhere in the world is there a more eager demand for degraded labor. Nowhere, we presume, is labor more degraded. Until our labor laws interfered the plantations were worked by contract coolies—really slaves—who had to work or go to jail. The magnates got them far cheaper than they can get labor now, and their incomes in those days must have been perfectly glorious. If the sugar trust can get free Cuban sugar it will not be bothered by our labor laws. They will make sugar by servile labor, as sugar has always been made in tropical cane fields. The Cubans—the real Cubans—will probably be better off if sugar culture is abolished in the Island and the plantations cut into small tracts and sold to the men who would work them. Sugar planters get fine incomes, but they never divide with the men who make the sugar.—Chronicle.
