CHAFFEE PREPARING FOR WINTER.

EVIDENTLY BELIEVES TROOPS WILL BE REQUIRED FOR SOME TIME.

Reports Current in Europe That Russia Intends to Annex Manchuria—Japan and Germany Watchful.

LONDON, Aug. 29.—A special dispatch from St. Petersburg contains the assertion that Russia, almost immediately, will notify the powers that she considers the relief of the Peking legations as the final accomplishment of the military task of the allied forces. There is nothing, however, in the afternoon papers here to confirm this.

The afternoon papers doubt that the rumors of peace negotiations are well founded and applaud Gen. Chaffee's prudence in preparing for a winter campaign, as they regard the activities of the allies at Peking and the difficulties of discovering a responsible Chinaman with whom to treat unless Li Hung Chang is able to place himself in communication with the fugitive court and secure credentials satisfactory to all the powers as indication that the solution of the problem will be more prolonged and more difficult than previously hoped.

PREPARING FOR A WINTER CAMPAIGN.

TIENTSIN, Aug. 24.—Via Taku, Aug. 27.—Officers who have arrived here from Peking report that General Chaffee, commanding the American forces in China, is making all the necessary preparations to maintain 15,000 men through the winter.

Fifteen of the American wounded, including the marines wounded during the siege of the legations, have arrived here by boat from Peking.

Captain Myers of the United States marine corps is suffering from typhoid fever and cannot be moved.

A large batch of refugees are due here tomorrow. The American signal service corps, co-operating with those of the British, has completed the telegraph line into Peking from Taku.

The commissary department is preparing to establish an extensive winter base at Tong-ku.

Lieutenant Waldron of the Ninth United States infantry received a serious sniping wound while patrolling at Hoo Se Woo. The Russians, Germans and Japanese are constantly pushing troops on to Peking.

JAPANESE TROOPS TO OCCUPY PAO TING FU.

BERLIN, Aug. 29.—According to a dispatch received here from Tientsin, Japanese forces are now on their way from Taku to Pao Ting Fu (capital of the province of Chili) with the direct object of occupying the latter place.

The German vice admiral at Taku reports the arrival at Peking August 22 of a German convoy with provisions.

The railroad from Tientsin to Yan Tsun is working, but from the latter place to Peking the road is in bad shape.

PLANNING TO SIEZE CHINESE TERRITORY.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—A dispatch to the Tribune from London says: No information can be obtained here of various sensational stories telegraphed to foreign capitals in reference to the Chinese question. There is a report from St. Petersburg that a battle has taken place within the walls of Peking and that the allies were compelled to fall back, losing 1,800 men. This alarming story produced no effect on the stock exchange or elsewhere because it was not believed; nor is there anything to support the statement cabled by a Washington correspondent to a London newspaper that Russia has informed the United States government that she proposes to annex Manchuria.

But whether any such declaration has actually been made to any power, not much doubt need be felt that it merely embodies Russia's intentions, subject only to her ability to meet the opposition which the annexation of Manchuria would be sure to encounter from Japan. In fact, the process has already begun, since Russia is quietly assimilating Chinese territory south of the Amoor river. In some quarters it is thought that the landing of Chinese troops at Amoy is the Japanese answer to these muscovite moves.

The British consul at Shanghai has been appealed to by the viceroy of Soo Kien to prevent this aggression. The Tokio government may possibly reply to any protest by alleging that if the integrity of China is violated by Russia in the north, Japan also is entitled to seek territorial acquisitions in the Celestial kingdom.

Some outspoken critics here are beginning to recognize that the outcome of the present crisis will eventually be that slices of Chinese territory will certainly pass into possession of Russia, Germany and Japan. The first named will seize Manchuria on the plea that China declared war and invaded Siberia; Germany will claim Shan Tung as indemnity for the murder of Von Ketteler and Japan will take Corea if she can get it, or, if not, Amoy. What the British policy will be in this event is not known.

Sentenced for Life.

MILAN, Aug. 29.—The trial of Bresci, the anarchist who on July 29 shot and killed King Humbert of Italy at Monza while his majesty was returning from a gymnastic exhibition, was held here today. The indictment showed that the assassin indulged in incessant target practice and that he prepared bullets so as to render them more dangerous.

The witnesses were then introduced, eleven for the prosecution and five for the defense. The examination of Bresci followed. He declared he decided to kill King Humbert after the events of Milan and Scilly, "to avenge the misery of the people and my own." He added, "I acted without advice or accomplices."

At the close of the trial Bresci was pronounced guilty and was sentenced to imprisonment for life.

IT WAS A SHORT AND FURIOUS FIGHT.

SHARKEY WAS NOT A MATCH FOR THE CLEVER CORNISHMAN.

Beaten Down in the Second Round Because of His Mad Rushes and Lack of Judgment.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—"Whipped into insensibility in less than two rounds," is the story in brief of Tom Sharkey's meeting with Bob Fitzsimmons at the Coney Island Sporting club tonight. Fitzsimmons was the victor, Sharkey the loser. Fitzsimmons said all along that when an opportunity presented itself he would prove conclusively that he was Sharkey's superior and settle accounts for the injustice done him when he met Sharkey in California four years ago. Sharkey was equally confident that he would prove to be Fitzsimmons' master in the ring, but the result of tonight's battle and the brevity of it proved that Fitzsimmons is still a great fighter and able to beat the best of the heavyweights. He has beaten Corbett, Ruhlin and Sharkey.

When the men met tonight both of them declared themselves to be in first class condition, and they certainly looked it. Fitzsimmons had taken on a few pounds in weight since his meeting with Ruhlin, but neither he nor Sharkey would tell his actual weight. Sharkey looked to be about twenty pounds the heavier.

When the men came together Sharkey assumed the aggressive, rushing fiercely and swinging wildly. Fitzsimmons had no difficulty in sidestepping out of the way. Bob soon began feinting Sharkey into leads, and when the sailor tried his round-arm blows he left himself open, of which fact Fitzsimmons was quick to take advantage, and he stepped inside and put powerful right and left smashes on the sailor's body and neck.

At the close of the round Sharkey, with a terrific swing that landed on the shoulder and neck, put Fitzsimmons to the floor of the ring and Tom fell over him in his mad rush. Tom regained his feet quickly, but the bell rang with Fitzsimmons still on the floor. The spectators were cheering like wild men, and when Fitzsimmons got to his feet the men shaped up to go for each other, evidently not having heard the bell amid the uproar. The referee rushed between them, sending them to their corners, and this is where Sharkey says he would have finished Fitzsimmons had he had ten seconds more.

In the second round Sharkey, having gained confidence from knocking Fitzsimmons down in the preceding round, went for his man as if to annihilate him, but Fitzsimmons, having the cooler head and better judgment, outgeneraled the younger man, who seemed to lose all control of himself in his frantic endeavors to land on Fitzsimmons.

Fitzsimmons' coolness never forsook him and he watched Sharkey's wild efforts with evident satisfaction, as the sailor was leaving himself very open. Fitzsimmons stepped in to him and literally battered Sharkey down with rights on the body and lefts and rights on the head. Sharkey took the count and came up groggy. He staggered back to the ropes, with Fitzsimmons hot after him. Sharkey was then unable to protect himself and Fitzsimmons sent that fearful right once more to the body, following it up with right and left to the body. Sharkey wobbled, but still had strength enough to keep his feet. Fitzsimmons stepped in again with another right on the body, following twice with rights and lefts on the head, and finishing his work and the fight with a stinging left hook on the jaw, which sent Sharkey down and out.

It was a short but hard fight, in which Fitzsimmons proved his superiority.

GRAND PARADE OF CIVIL WAR VETERANS.

Great Patriotic Demonstration in City of Chicago.

THIRTY THOUSAND MEN IN LINE.

OLD BATTLE FLAGS GUARDED BY THE REMNANTS OF FIGHTING HOSTS.

Hats Off and All Attention as the Emblems of the Country's Power Went Floating By.

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—For four hours and a half today the thinning ranks of the Grand Army of the Republic passed in review before their leaders and before a million spectators, packed in almost solid masses along the four miles of the line of parade. It marked the climax of the thirty-fourth annual encampment and was, according to Commander-in-Chief Shaw, the greatest parade since the day in Washington, when the hundreds of thousands of veterans, at that time the most powerful army on earth, marched in review to their final disbandment.

Probably 30,000 members of the army of veterans took part in today's parade. For exactly four hours and twenty minutes, most of the time with ranks almost perfectly aligned, but occasionally faltering under the burden of years, they filed past the reviewing stand on Michigan avenue, saluting, as they marched by, General Nelson A. Miles, Commander-in-Chief Shaw, General Dan E. Sickles and the Spanish minister, the Duke of Arcos.

They marched through an avenue of fame in which the portraits of their great commanders, of Grant and Sherman and Sheridan and Logan and many others looked down upon them to give them inspiration. They heard the shouts of a million of their fellow countrymen, gathered to see them and to rejoice with them. They were led through the beautiful court of honor, erected for their exclusive use. Then, with tributes all paid to them, their parade melted away and the veterans mingled once more with the crowds of civilians and sightseers.

Perhaps never again will the veteran soldier of the civil war march as they marched today through Chicago. Certainly never again will they parade in such numbers and with such spirit.

Weather conditions were almost ideal for the parade. The rays of the sun were veiled by light, fleecy clouds nearly all day, and even when unobscured their effect was greatly lessened by a cool breeze which blew steadily off Lake Michigan. The line of march, too, was much shorter than ever before mapped out for the annual parade, but notwithstanding here and there a veteran, exhausted, dropped out of the ranks. Especially was this true after the reviewing stand was passed, and many pathetic scenes were witnessed down the long stretch of Michigan avenue as the veterans fell by the wayside.

The one especially sad incident occurring to mar in a degree the glory of the parade was when Charles Beckwith of Algonza, Mich., dropped dead as the line was filing past the corner of Michigan avenue and Madison street. The parade was halted for a moment and the body of the veteran who had responded to his last call was tenderly removed and his comrades passed on.

Twelve heralds in costume, each bearing a long trumpet, came down the avenue announcing in mellow tones the approach of the pageant of patriotism which followed close behind them. Fifty members of Columbia post of Chicago, wearing handsome uniforms of dark green, formed a hollow square, in the center of which were borne fifty battle flags which had been carried by New York regiments during the war. The spectacle of the worn and tattered flags was greeted at times with a deep silence more expressive than applause could ever be. Whether the crowd cheered or kept silence, it showed deep feeling, and from end to end of the parade all hats were off as the flags went by.

Cheer after cheer went up as General Daniel E. Sickles, accompanied by his aides, rode past the reviewing stand. All along the line of march the general had been given a most flattering greeting, but the warmth of the reception that met him as he approached the stand where Commander Shaw was waiting to receive his salute caused him to flush with pleasure and to bow his acknowledgments again and again.

Wisconsin was given the right of line and as her column came turning around the corner of Jackson boulevard into the broad sweep of Michigan avenue and with bands playing and colors flying, the Army of the Republic came marching down, the people seemed to realize that here at last came the true pageant of patriotism. The old, worn out fluttering flags that had gone before were nothing in themselves, but as representatives of the power that gave them the glory that they wore they were everything. Marching behind them under colors fresher and brighter, as their own fame must ever grow with the advancing years, came the units of that power.

No matter what might come in the future, the men before them had made the past a glory that may mellow but never grow dim, and the crowd, seeming to catch these things in a breath as rank after rank the old soldiers wheeled into the avenue, went wild with enthusiasm. They cheered, waved their hats and cheered again until they could cheer no more. Then they stood as they had stood for the battered flags, with bared heads, as the veterans with steps more halting than of old, but with hearts as high as ever, passed on to make the parade of 1900 what they had made many another march—a credit to themselves and an honor to their country.

The first cheers from the reviewing stand were given to the famous old war eagle of the Wisconsin troops, "Old Abe," the stuffed figure of which, borne aloft by a brawny buckskin-dressed veteran, was heartily greeted by the crowds and saluted by General Miles and others in the boxes. The post supporting "Old Abe" was closely followed by Lucius Fairchild post, which startled the crowds by stopping in front of General Miles and Commander Shaw and giving the familiar "Rah! Rah!" of the University of Wisconsin. It was somewhat cracked and feeble, but it showed the undimmed spirit that made the Iron Brigade famous and it started the crowd to cheering again.

A few moments later George G. Meade post No. 1 of Philadelphia filed by. Borne aloft by twenty-four silver-haired veterans were as many battle flags, tattered and torn, and close behind them ten equally ragged corps flags. Everywhere the ragged banners were greeted with cheers. They were followd by Philip Schuyler post with eight battle flags; Knopp's battery of Pennsylvania with three flags, and Lyttle post No. 128 of Allegheny City with three battle flags.

New York was rich with these emblems. O'Rourke post No. 1 of Rochester, N. Y., the veterans all in uniform and carrying rifles, held aloft two civil war banners. Captain post No. 2 of Buffalo, headed by the old Continental Drum and Bugle corps, carried twenty-three battle flags and one guidon, all of them in ribbons. The Thirtieth infantry of Rochester, N. Y., the regiment that met with such heavy losses at Malvern Hill, bore unfurled their flag. It was ragged and faded almost to white, but it had the names of many hard-fought battles inscribed thereon and the crowds greeted it with great cheering.

One of the most striking features of the parade was the appearance of the Iowa veterans, thousands in number, and headed by the Ancient Order of United Workmen band of Cedar Falls. Speaker Henderson received an ovation from them. He was recognized as the veterans from the Hawkeye state reached the stand and the band, stopping in front of his box, ceased their playing and raised their voices in a song, "From Iowa."

The flag of the Thirteenth Indiana infantry, under which General Lawton first served during the civil war, was carried by an Indiana post and was warmly greeted, as was also the flag of the Twenty-first Illinois infantry, or rather the bare remnants of it. This was General Grant's old regiment and the flag was given an ovation all along the line.

Picturesque features were supplied by the Louisiana veterans, who carried pieces of sugar cane topped with great bunches of cotton; by the veterans of North Dakota carrying small sheaves of wheat, into which was stuck a small flag, and by the South Dakota posts, each man carrying an enormous ear of corn mounted on a staff.

READY FOR THE MILL.

Corbett and McCoy Each Confident of Victory.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Corbett and McCoy have practically completed training for their fight tomorrow night in the ring of the Twentieth Century club in Madison Square Garden.

Corbett has trained more carefully for this mill than he did for his battle with Fitzsimmons in Carson City or for his bout with Jeffries at Coney Island.

"I'm so confident of winning from McCoy," he said, "that I'm ready, as I have already announced, "to meet either Fitzsimmons or Jeffries on the night following my battle with the Kid. I think I will be in the lead all the way and I am ready to bet that the Kid does not go the limit of twenty-five rounds with me."

A dispatch from Saratoga says of McCoy: "Kid McCoy has no doubt of the result of his fight with Corbett and believes that he will win within ten rounds. He will start for New York today (Wednesday)."

BATTLE OF DIPLOMACY NOW ON IN CHINA.

United States to Demand Adherence to Open Door Policy.

RUSSIA OPPOSED TO PARTITION.

LATTER COUNTRY ANXIOUS TO ACT IN HARMONY WITH AMERICA.

McKinley Administration Determined to Hold Powers to Their Acceptance of Secretary Hay's Note of July 3.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Several communications came to Washington from the United States officials in China today, but being undated in most cases, the government was by no means satisfied with the state of the communications, and the cabinet meeting gave the larger part of its attention to the problem of rectifying this state of affairs. Evidences of interference with the messages have accumulated to a point where the government has determined to take steps to establish cables of its own, even if it is necessary to employ a rather expensive device of a man-of-war plying between Shanghai and Chefoo for this purpose. Meanwhile word comes that rapid progress is being made with the shore cable which is to connect these points, and it is believed that within a week these means of communication will be open.

Several messages were received from General Chaffee today, and while they cast no light on the general situation they were inferentially important. The general's statement that he needs no siege battery, taken in connection with the diversion of the First cavalry, which was bound from Taku to Manila, seems to make clear that there is no intention of entering into a prolonged campaign in China, as would involve the use of heavy artillery or of reenforcements in the shape of men and horses.

But it appears that the battle of today is one of diplomacy rather than one of arms, and notwithstanding the various rumors that have filtered out from Chinese sources of heavy engagements between the international forces and the Boxers, the officials here are satisfied that no formidable organized resistance would be offered by the Chinese if the demands of the powers are limited to the principles laid down by the United States.

Therefore, more interest attached to a series of diplomatic calls upon Acting Secretary Adee this afternoon than any report of purely military operations in China. First came the Japanese minister, Takahira, next the Russian charge, Wollant, and finally Thiebaut, the French charge. These diplomats naturally are averse to letting the public know the developments of incomplete negotiations. Nevertheless it was gathered that one of the principal topics of discussion was the propriety of accepting Li Hung Chang as a proper person with whom the powers might negotiate for a settlement in China. It is quite evident from the conferences held this afternoon that the statement made early in the week to the effect that this matter is still an open issue was correct. Otherwise it would not have been necessary for the officials to enter into a laborious comparison of the credentials supplied by Li Hung Chang to the various powers of Europe as well as Japan and the United States.

The statement is made that the Russian government for one is willing to deal with Li, of course upon properly framed conditions, and this appears to be borne out by the earnestness with which Mr. Wollant, the Russian charge, is seeking to impress upon the state department the entire agreement between Russia and the United States as to China. At least he insists that Russia wishes to prevent the dismemberment of China, and also that her animating purpose now is the restoration of order and the safeguarding of the future. Under these limitations it is urged here that Russia's objects can be achieved as well as those of the United States by dealing with Li Hung Chang, who occupies the advantageous position of being the only Chinese personage so far officially accredited as a peace plenipotentiary.

Acting Secretary Adee found sufficient matter of interest in these three calls to repair to the White House late in the afternoon to confer with the President. It is quite certain that our government is willing and anxious to do all it can to bring about a speedy settlement of the Chinese difficulty and a retirement of the forces. But it is determined that no proper advantage is to be lost through this wish, and the government will not be coerced by foreign combinations or threats of combinations against our interests.

One of the officials of the government today stated that the "United States is not going to turn tail and run because some of the powers show a disposition to break a compact under which we became allies in China. The powers accepted the note of Secretary Hay of July 3d as a basis for joint action and they will be held to that agreement. The question of actual force in China is secondary—one regiment of United States troops is as good as 100,000 men to establish a principle. An indignity offered to them would be resented as quickly as if we had 100,000 men on Chinese soil, and the United States government is willing to try the case as to whether one thing could be said on July 3d and accepted by all the powers and changed two months later to advance a selfish interest."

Notwithstanding this firm attitude on the part of the government there is not the least doubt that friction between the powers will be averted and that the resources of diplomacy will be equal to the needs of the present case.

GREAT BRITAIN ALARMED BY THE APPEARANCE OF BUBONIC PLAGUE.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—A Tribune special from London says: While India is suffering from one of the worst outbreaks of cholera ever recorded, so that people are dying at the rate of 7,000 a week, Great Britain is alarmed by the prospect of an epidemic of bubonic plague within her own boundaries. The medical authorities at Glasgow have already had several cases under their observation. On Monday a child sickened and died within forty-eight hours from an illness which was first thought to be pneumonia, but after a minute examination by the hospital authorities was pronounced plague. Another death has occurred and ten families were removed to a reception house for patients suffering from this disease which the municipality has hastily established.

GLASGOW, Aug. 29.—Two girls and a boy, members of isolated families, have fallen victims of the bubonic plague, though the medical authorities assert that the attacks are less virulent than in the cases which have already proved fatal. In the event of a further spread of the disease, Glasgow shipping will be quarantined.

RECORDS MADE THAT WILL STAND LONG TIME.

THREE DAYS ARRESTS BY POLICE EXCEEDED ALL PREVIOUS EFFORTS.

Then Judge Wilcox Went at Them and Cleared Docket in Ninety-eight Minutes.

It took the police department all day and all night Saturday, Sunday and Monday to arrest ninety-six offenders. This number was a record for Honolulu. It took Judge Wilcox just ninety-eight minutes to dispose of the arrests made by the department in the three days. This is also a record.

Yesterday morning in the police court showed the cosmopolitan population of the town. The three previous days had been days of excitement. Cups that cheer but inebriate had been quaffed from the wine when rosy and had been looked upon with the result that an aggregation of drunks resembling what one would suppose the riffraff of the allied forces in China would look like under like circumstances was up before the court to be weighed in the balance.

There were representativs of almost every known nation present—Americans, British, Germans, Frenchmen, Spaniards, Irishmen, Portuguese, Chinese and Japanese. Some of them had celebrated because it was primary election day and some had celebrated because it was Labor day. Others had celebrated for the joy that celebrating gives.

They nearly all acknowledged that they had been drunk and were promptly assessed the usual fine and costs. One or two of them had a plea to make to the court, but it availed them not. They had had their fun and had to pay the piper. The court officer, who usually deposts the daily fines in his hat, had to bororw the hat of the high sheriff, which is a little larger than the one usually used, to help hold the money.

Besides the drunks there were other cases which took a little more time than the drunk cases. The cases against J. Kuewa for heedless driving and Adelina da Coast for desertion were nolle prosed. M. Shunk, profanity, was fined $5. Laa, an Hawaiian damsel who had whooped it up and disturbed the quiet of the night, was given a "growling" and discharged. Kong Fee, common nuisance, was discharged.

Kogsen Johnsen and Kaihumumua were fined $4 and costs for being drunk. Their fine was made severe because during their spree they had committed assault and battery upon Manuel Medeiros.

SAM JOHNSON'S GOOD WORK.

Rescued Three People From Drowning at Pearl Harbor.

Sam Johnson, the well known athlete and popular young man of this city, distinguished himself on Sunday by saving the lives of Miss Noble, stenographer for Bishop & Co., Miss Myhre, daughter of Milk Inspector Myhre, and Charles Murray, bookkeeper for E. O. Hall & Son.

Mr. Murray, who is quite an accomplished sailor, was spending the day with the two young ladies at Pearl Harbor. In the course of the afternoon the three young people went for a sail. The water was quite rough, however, and a sudden squall striking the boat, it capsized.

Sam Johnson, who was on the shore near W. W. Hall's cottage, saw the boat capsize and, leaping into a small craft near by, rowed quickly to the unfortunate young people. The danger of capsizing his own craft was great, but after a great deal of trouble Johnson finally hauled the two young ladies aboard more dead than alive. Leaving Murray on the overturned boat, he set off for the shore, returning to the marooned bookkeeper as soon as the young ladies had been landed.

ROBERTS CROWDING BOERS TO THE WALL.

Believed That War Is Now in Its Final Stages.

BOTHA'S STUBBORN RESISTANCE.

BUT SUPERIOR FORCES ARE BOUND TO OVERCOME HIS ARMY.

Buller Captures an Important Boer Stronghold—French Continues His Advance—Captures Cooked Food.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—A dispatch to the Tribune from London says: There is much inclination to believe that the operations in which Lord Roberts is now engaged against General Botha are destined to form the final stage of the South African war from the Pretoria report cabled to the effect that the Boers in the Transvaal capital believe that Botha will abandon the contest if beaten on this occasion and that Presidents Kruger and Steyn will then flee to Delagoa bay.

But these rumors have been repeated and provided fallacious frequently and proved fallacious frequently enough before and it is impossible to pronounce definitely that the Boer leaders believe the limit of resistance to have been reached. The reappearance of De Wet in the Orange Free State and the activity of the Boers on Buller's communications in Natal would rather point the other way. If it had been determined to stake everything on the result of Botha's stand in the eastern Transvaal, it would hardly seem worth while to revive the campaign in other quarters.

So far the operations between the Boer and British main armies have been somewhat indecisive. Movements, as Lord Roberts says in his dispatch on Monday evening, are necessarily slow on account of the great extent and difficult nature of the country which forms the scene of the battles. He, however, considers his advance going on satisfactorily and regards General Buller's engagement of the 27th as an important success. The result of the day's fighting was that the Boers withdrew their line by some two miles, allowing Buller to capture a strong position within their outer semi-circle of defense west of the Dalmanutha railway station.

The question now arises whether the British will be able to force the fighting so as to hold the enemy in position and compel him to accept the defeat which superior numbers and more powerful artillery should be able to inflict, or is the nature of the country such that General Botha, though driven back from one vantage ground to another, will eventually be able to retreat in time to save his guns and transports? If previous experience is a guide, the Boers will delay the British advance as long as they can do so safely, but will then retire at leisure before the invaders can secure a decisive victory.

Charles Williams, the well known military expert, believes Lord Roberts has the present intention of returning to England in the course of October so as to be ready to relieve Lord Wolseley on November 1 as commander-in-chief of the British army. In such event General Buller may be asked to resume command of the forces in South Africa.

General Warren writes to the Times to say that various statements which have recently appeared in the press purporting to be views expressed by him as to recent events in South Africa have been made entirely without his authority; that he has not expressed any opinions with a view to publication and that some of the statements attributed to him are contrary to fact.

Movements of Troops Reported.

LONDON, Aug. 29.—Lord Roberts, under date of Belfast, August 29, telegraphs:

"Buller's advance occupied Machadodorp this afternoon. The enemy made a poor stand and retired northward, followed by Dundonald's mounted troops, who could not proceed beyond Helvetia on account of the difficult nature of the country and the enemy taking a position too strong to be dislodged by the mounted troops. It appears that Buller's casualties were very few.

"French continued the movement today as far as Elandsfontein, from which he turned the enemy out with no difficulty. The latter retired, leaving quantities of good cooked food behind.

"General Buller's casualties August 27 were: Killed, one officer and thirteen men; wounded, seven officers and fifty-seven men."

PLUMBERS ELECT OFFICERS.

They Will Give a Luau on Tantalus Next Sunday.

The Journeymen Plumbers' Association met last night at Plumbers' Hall and elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President, J. H. Connor; vice president, Dan Welsh; secretary, Al Neipe; treasurer, F. C. Holland; trustees, Thomas Slattery, Ed Knight, Jos. Burns.

A vote of thanks was extended to all who helped in making the late celebration a success.

The association decided to give a luau next Sunday on Tantalus in honor of Dan Welsh and James Leonard, who leave for the coast soon. Two new members were initiated.

LAST PARADE OF VETERANS.

What a pageant of patriotism that was in Chicago on August 28th when the surviving members of the Grand Army of the Republic marched in review, probably for the last time, as a great gathering of the men who fought to preserve the Union one and inviolate. Although the line of march was greatly shortened, to what it has ever been before, it was too long for many of the men who tried to keep step to the music with the old martial tread.

The elastic step of youth has gone from these soldiers of the Union never to return. The enthusiasm of youth is there yet when the old banners are raised aloft, but the flesh is old, and decrepit, and weak, and can not respond to the fife and drum as of yore. The "boys" are grey-haired and bent with age now, but despite this they marched with a vim in Chicago that set the millions who watched them cheering and cheering, the first cheer only dying away down the line when the second began, and thus it continued until the crowds were hoarse.

Old battle flags under which men faces shot and shell and rifle ball were brought forth from their places of safe keeping and unfurled that the new generation, the young men and young women who have grown up since the civil strife subsided might see that these men were not remnants of soldiers who saw no war, but that they took part in the greatest and bloodiest war of modern times.

And the younger generation, seeing these torn and faded battle flags, showed a reverence for them almost sublime. Cheers for the veterans gave way to deep silence that was heroic in its deference to the war-stained banners.

Fast falling are the survivors of the days from '61 to '65. A few years more will see the reunions of the G. A. R. attended by only a few hoary-headed men who served in that mighty army, unable to parade or carry aloft the banners of which they are so fond. Instead of grand parades and marching in review they will assemble around the camp fire with reminiscences and with story, awaiting the sound of the revielle that comes only from the other shore.

Now that Iwilei is closed on Sunday we hope to see it also closed on all legal holidays, like the other departments of the Territory of Hawaii.

SOFT SOAP FOR THE QUEEN.

Ex-Queen Liliuokalani has now fallen under the blighting editorial favor of the Advertiser. The sweet words that sheet now has for the dethroned queen are no doubt grateful and ought to be effective salve to the deep scars and sores left by the villification, the persecutions, the libels, the indecent abuse which the Advertiser and its owner showered on the same lady.

In reality, the whole thing probably amuses the queen, the only feeling aroused thereby being that of curiosity —"What does the Advertiser and its schemers want?"

The queen can rest content and enjoy the momentary verbal ointment, if it shouldn't prove too noxious. Her experience in this regard is not singular. High Sheriff Brown has felt the lash of the Advertiser and at a rather recent period. In the estimation of the Advertiser Mr. Brown was a pretty useless and bad official about the beginning of this year.

Just before his appointment was made to the United States District bench, Judge M. M. Estee, then of California, was quite a disreputable sort of a guerrilla, unfit for the bench and unfit for association with republicans of the type of those marshaled by the Advertiser.

Then there is George W. Smith, chairman of the Territorial republican committee. Just a little while ago there wasn't must good in Mr. Smith and in a political way it was intimated he ought to be handled with tongs. The Advertiser has a predilection for the word "tongs," probably because it has used them so industriously in the past to pull political chestnuts out of the fire for its owner and his various partners, including the devil.

Temporarily all these, and the list might be indefinitely extended, were once scared and scared and scarified by the venom of the Advertiser. They all prospered under the displeasure of the slimy old thing's abuse and found that its bites were poisonless and rather in the way of a tonic than a toxic.

The queen will not be caught by chaff. No one has ever mistaken her for a gudgeon and the odorless and water-sogged bait held out to her by the "devil's partner" will be "labor lost."

Labor is all right in Hawaii. In due season it will fully assert itself. Labor unionism is necessary to protect the workers from the constant aggression of organized capital, with its greedy, grasping, merciless crushing. Everything that has been urged against labor is more than answered in this one object, resistance against encroachments. And since capital first taught labor the value of organization and combination and co-operation it ought not to find fault with its younger child, especially in this free country. However, both ought to so shape their actions that the least possible harm and injustice may be done in the inauguration of new rules and new customs. The raising of wages, the cutting down of hours of labor and other determinations of that sort should be arranged amicably between laborer and employer whenever possible and without unnecessary friction. Contentions and bitterness almost invariably result in the unsettling of trades.

the "devil's partner" will be "labor lost."

The trial trip of the first class battleship Alabama shows that American ship builders can outdo all the rest of the world. This mighty floating fortress of the seas is a much more powerful ship than the famous Oregon. She was required to show a speed of sixteen knots an hour for four hours, a most marvelous speed for a war vessel of her size and type, but the Alabama not only reached that requirement but much surpassed it. Her average speed for the four hours was 17.1 knots and for six and one-half knots she ploughed the seas at the rate of 18 knots an hour. With the acquisition of the Kearsarge, Kentucky, Alabama and Wisconsin, all of which will soon be in commission, Uncle Sam will have four more pacifiers that will rival, if not outclass, anything of the kind possessed by any other nation in the world, England with her powerful navy not excepted.

Grand Jury On the "Social Evil."

[From The Friend.]

The report of the grand jury states that at Iwilei, a quite isolated peninsula in the city, there is a colony of five buildings enclosed by a high board fence, owned by a local company. These buildings contain 225 rooms and are at the present time occupied by 147 females, of which 135 are Japanese. These inmates are all registered prostitutes under the "Act to Mitigate, etc." "The condition of the premises and general management, which is conducted under the supervision of the police department and the board of health, is as satisfactory as could be expected, provided this shameless vocation must be tolerated as a necessary evil. The location of the place could not be improved upon, and the evils of prostitution are probably now largely confined to this locality instead of being distributed about the city."

A strong movement was made last year for the suppression of Japanese procurers and their dens on Pauahi street in the central town. The burning of Chinatown cleared out the whole thing. It appears now to be revived in an enlarged form, in an isolated section and under police supervision.

It must be difficult to answer the strong censure of The Honolulu Republican against the grand jury for not attending to the enforcement of the law against fornication, to which also Circuit Judge Humphreys called attention in his comments upon the report of the grand jury. The only answer attempted must be that the vile practice is one impossible to suppress, and therefore government can only control and regulate it.

Such an answer is most unsatisfactory to those people who regard purity as sacredly to be cherished, and social impurity as an abhorrent crime. Excessively loathsome and pitiful is it to think of those hundreds of poor wretches herded together in lives of the vilest shame. How can the deadly infection of such a Sodom be tolerated in our city? Yet only a few months ago the same thing was spread over some of our central streets.

What can be done to remove this plague-spot? The evil has its strenuous source in the unbridled passions of men who are wicked and bent upon vile gratification. It is also nourished by the very low moral condition of a large class of females and their natural protectors, of both the Japanese and the Hawaiian races. The latter race are gradually absorbing a fitting sense of the abomination of impure living. The lower classes of Japanese are extremely defective in this respect. In dealing with the existing conditions the execution of wholesome laws is unlikely to rise very high above what the moral sense of a majority of the voters demands, and that sense is undoubtedly in a very debased condition.

It is the work of the Christian church to enlighten and stimulate the moral sense of the community, by pouring upon them vigorously the powerful light of God's law and Christ's gospel, making the fear of God and the love of purity and righteousness to abound and prevail. Satan is always at work, stirring up man's lower passions and hatred of moral control. Christians have to maintain constant and vigilant warfare against the kingdom of darkness, lest our cities become as Sodoma. It is a most grievous thing that our growing youth are living in exposure from this hideous villainess.

Concerning Waldersee's Command.

Uncle Sam to Kaiser William.

Your Majesty: herewith accept
My cordial unity
With you in placing in command
Your own Count Waldersee;

A soldier, brave as ever led
The soldiers of his land;
A general, fit in every way
To take supreme command.

Uncle Sam to His Own People.

Say, Friends and Fellow Citizens,
I've just sent word to Bill
That Waldersee as Allied Boss
Will suit us fit to kill.

I've given him a lively graft,
A kind of pipey dream,
About the Count and how well fixed
He is to be supreme.

He'll have command of all our troops,
But all the others, too;
And all the Allies must obey
And do as he says do.

But don't let that bother you, my friends,
He's not so darned supreme
In running things out there to suit
Himself, as it would seem.

Of course the Kaiser thinks he is,
And maybe he does, too,
But that's no sign, as you will see,
When I explain to you.

The fact is, gents, we rule the roost,
I mean Americans,
And though Count Waldie is on deck
He doesn't shape his plans.

Because, by Zucks! he's got a wife,
A lady, too, of birth;
And was there ever married man
Who wholly owned the earth?

I guess not; and that wife of his
Was born in Yankee land,
And though he wears the epaulets,
She's in supreme command.

In other words, while it might seem
The Germans are on top,
The really truly fact is that
The Yankees have the drop.

Which shows, you, fellow citizens,
That as a diplomat,
And soldier, too, your Uncle Sam
Knows just where he is at.

GREAT CHANGES WROUGHT.

English Sunday Much Less Puritanical Than a Few Years Ago.

It can hardly be denied that there has been a great and widespread movement in the direction of greater laxity. To put it shortly, thirty years ago the English Sunday, though far less strictly observed than the Scotch "Sabbath," approximated in some degree to that type rather than to the Continental; it now resembles the Continental rather than the Scotch, or perhaps we should say what the Scotch used to be, for in Scotland, too, there has been a vast change. A foreigner's idea of Sunday in London was, and probably still is, the picture of everything that is dull and triste, a day on which locomotion is impossible and amusement forbidden; a day which, if not kept holy, is "kept stupid" (Kinglake, we think in "Eothen," applies these words to holy days in the East)—the veritable triumph for English hypocrisy, its dullness being, as it were, the tribute paid by indifference to religiosity. Conventional ideas often survive the facts in which they are based, but any one who observes the streets of London or The Thames at Maidenhead or the great cycling roads on a Sunday in summer will confess that the facts on which this idea of the English Sunday was based have very largely passed away.

For good or for evil? What is the verdict to be? There was, it must be confessed, a good deal which was narrow and repellent about the old conception of Sunday. Something of the atmosphere of the Jewish Sabbath hung around it; and its motto was too prevalently "Thou shalt not——;" it was not seldom made a day abhorred of children, and its compulsory observance savored of the letter rather than of the spirit. But to be weighed against this there are the enormous opportunities for rest and quiet, for spiritual refreshment and freedom from the cares of business and the not less absorbing cares of pleasure, for systematic study of the Bible and instruction of children in holy things inside the family circle, which have now become, unhappily, rare. And the increased attractions of pleasure have, we think, undoubtedly had a serious effect upon the attendance at divine service. The old Sabbatarianism was largely founded on a false view of what Sunday is, and we are paying the penalty for the exaggerations of Puritanism in the loss of much that was in practice good, which is now disappearing under the influence of the ideas which are at present fashionable.

Not that the change is entirely due to any reasonable conviction. In part, no doubt, it is so, and chiefly with more thoughtful minds; but a number of other causes have been at work. The increased strain of life and pressure of work during the week, the growth of the habit of travel and of facilities for travel and the systematization of pleasure have combined with a decay of faith in some quarters and a greater cosmopolitanism of feeling, to counteract and override the old sense of obligation. The voice of pleasure calls with absolute clearness in one direction, and if the voice of conscience is heard at all there are always those who will suggest that, in reality, it is prejudice or superstition which is speaking, not conscience.

We should like to see it laid down as an axiom that all profitable discussion of Sunday observance must start from a recognition of the fact that the first day of the week has been universally and continuously marked out in the Christian church as a day of worship ever since the resurrection, and that in the absence of explicit and detailed directions given by the authority of the church, every Christian is bound to so keep it that he may secure for himself and for others proper opportunities of worship and spiritual refreshment.—The Guardian.

Humbert's Slayer Attempts Suicide.

LONDON, Aug. 27.—Bresci, the assassin of King Humbert, made an ineffectual attempt to commit suicide today, according to the Rome correspondent of the Daily Mail. He now refuses food and says he has no intention of giving the Bourgeoisie the satisfaction of seeing him condemned, but he shows no signs of aberration of intellect.

MONSTER WORKS UNDER CONSTRUCTION AT BOULOGNE AND DOVER.

Britons Unable to Understand Why Republics Should Look Askance at Their New Fortifications.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—The Sun's Paris cable says: The Temps the other day published an editorial denouncing the periodical scares in England and France regarding the intentions of the respective governments. The Temps gives a number of instances in which lying rumor in both countries have upset French and British nerves. But this does not dispose of the fact that both France and England for years have been steadily making preparations and experiments based clearly on the assumption that war between them sooner or later is inevitable.

The funny part of the matter is the characteristic attitude of Englishmen. They go on doggedly with their own warlike work, but when the Frenchmen follow their lead the air of England is rent with protests and denunciation of people who are wicked enough to suppose that John Bull desires war with his neighbor.

A case in point has just presented itself. For years the British government has been spending hundreds of thousands of pounds on the construction of an enormous harbor at Dover, the nearest place to the French coast. The harbor is avowedly designed on an immense scale, so as to accommodate large war ships, and gigantic fortifications are being built for their protection. There are being erected on the summit of the great cliff by Dover Castle enormous batteries, which will be equipped with guns that will command the channel.

France at length, quite naturally, has taken alarm at these formidable works, only twenty-one miles from the French shore. Equally big guns are being mounted at Calais, and it is proposed to enlarge the existing harbor at Boulogne so as to accommodate a fleet of war ships. Rear Admiral Ingouf and a staff of naval experts have been at Boulogne this week investigating the situation, and there is little doubt that they will recommend the construction of works sufficient to neutralize those at Dover.

This has caused quite a storm of indignation in London. Englishmen are quite heartbroken to think that their neighbors so cruelly misunderstood them. England, it is explained, does not dream of acting aggressively against France. The fort and harbor at Dover and all the elaborate preparations that have been made are not for war, but merely as precautions which even the most peaceful nations are entitled to make against possible accident.

Roosevelt Writes of His St. Paul Speech.

The New York Governor Claims He Was Misrepresented—Explains His Meaning to Palmer.

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—Governor Roosevelt at Oyster Bay, L. I. today gave out for publication a letter which he had written on August 9th to General John M. Palmer of Springfield, Ill., relative to the St. Paul speech made by the governor, in which he had been quoted as making derogatory remarks concerning Democrats. The letter says in part:

"I notice that in your recent very manly interview, stating why you could not support the Populistic Democracy and the Kansas City platform and nominees, you allude to a statement I was supposed to have made attacking Democrats generally in my St. Paul speech. You have evidently seen a report which was not merely garbled, but falsified. I stand by this speech absolutely and have nothing to explain in connection with it, but I do wish to point out where its meaning was deliberately inverted.

"In my speech I began by saying: 'We appeal not only to Republicans but to all good citizens who are Americans in fact as well as in name to help us in re-electing President McKinley.' I ended by saying: 'Study the Kansas City platform and you cannot help realizing that their policy (the policy of its makers and sponsors) is a policy of infamy, that their triumph would mean misery so widespread that it is almost unthinkable, and a disgrace so lasting that more than a generation would have to pass before it could be wiped out. They stand for lawlessness and disorder, for dishonesty and dishonor, for license and disaster at home and cowardly shrinking from duty abroad. We ask the support of all Americans who have the welfare of the country at heart, no matter what their political affiliation may have been in the past.'

"You will see that here I most explicitly draw the line between the men who support and ask support for the Kansas City platform and all other citizens, whether Democrats or Republicans. I feel that, as a matter of fact, the greatest possible credit is due to men like you, my dear sir, and to the other gold Democrats who four years ago and now stand for national honor.

"I hold up the policy advocated in the Kansas City platform as a base and cowardly policy; to emphasize our right to appeal to the countless thousands of high-minded Democrats who abhor baseness and cowardice and are quick to see and disown them."

The Sugar in Florida Cane.

A prominent business man of Chicago who has of late been looking carefully into the possibilities of sugar culture in Florida has written to the secretary of agriculture, and the doubt is submitted to us for solution, says the Times-Union and Citizen. If Secretary Wilson or his Chicago correspondent has any reason to believe that Florida cane lacks [illegible], or her lands lack [illegible] for its production, they have not [illegible]. Secretary [illegible] sight long ago, and others only need investigation to reach similar conclusion. Last year we published the following in answer to similar questions, and the figures were furnished by Captain R. E. Rose, whose practical experience in cane making in Louisiana has been rich and varied:

The facts are that under intelligent and practical farming, with perfect drainage, Florida muck lands have produced and do produce unusually large crops of particularly rich sugar cane.

In 1884-85 a crop of cane was produced at Southport, immediately after the lands were drained, of sixty-five tons per acre, average. This cane showed an average of 10° Beaume and 17 per cent sucrose. The harvest was begun April 15th and finished May 15th, 1885. This field was continued for several years with equally good results.

In 1887-88 a field of 110 acres was made at St. Cloud, averaging 47 tons of cane, with 8 1-2 to 10° Beaume and 16 per cent sucrose.

In 1888-89 a field of 520 acres at St. Cloud averaged 8 1-2° Beaume and produced 1,750,000 pounds of first-class yellow clarified sugar, or 3,365 pounds per acre.

In 1889-90, from 357 acres, St. Cloud produced 1,442,965 pounds of sugar, or 4,037 pounds per acre, with an average of 9 1-2° Beaume.—Sugar Planters' Journal.

NEED OF REAPPORTIONMENT

What the Primaries Show About the Vote in Various Precincts.

The necessity for a reapportionment of the representation among the various precincts on this Island is shown by the following table giving the number of delegates allowed in the next district convention and the number to which they are entitled by the rules and regulations of the republican party:

FOURTH REPRESENTATIVE DISTRICT.

Precinct.	No. Delegates.	Vote.	No. Del. Entitled to.
1st	3	109	4
2nd	6	429	17
3rd	3	13	1
4th	3	122	5
5th	3	188	7
6th	3	32	1
7th (no election)	3	0	1
Total	24	893	36

FIFTH REPRESENTATIVE DISTRICT.

Precinct.	No. Delegates.	Vote.	No. Del. Entitled to.
1st	3	37	1
2nd	3	30 (?)	1
3rd	3	114	4
4th	3	30	1
5th	3	30	1
6th	3	30	1
7th	3	175	7
8th	3	74	3
9th	3	126	5
10th	3	32	1
Total	30	678	25
Total for Oahu	54	1,571	61

Another incongruity appears in that Hamakuapoko, the largest precinct on Maui, cast 59 votes at last Saturday's primary and gets 9 delegates to the Maui district "committee," while Makiki cast 429 votes and gets but 6 delegates to the Honolulu district committee.

NINTH PRECINCT (HAMAKUAPOKO).

Nine delegates—John Kalino, 48; H. P. Baldwin, 45; S. E. Kekipi, 45; C. H. Dickey, 45; W. E. K. Maikai, 43; John Kaluna, 49; D. C. Lindsay, 38; J. K. Kapihi, 37; W. O. Aiken, 34; T. K. Pa, 29; C. D. Loveland, 23.

Two of the Maui precincts held their primaries Thursday, August 30, and the balance of them Saturday, September 1, as in Oahu. The results appear below:

THIRD REPRESENTATIVE DISTRICT.

Sixth Precinct (Kahului).

Three delegates—W. J. Lowrie, 22; F. M. Church, 19; Jas. Whitford, 16; R. W. Filler, 13.

MANY DEMOCRATS RESIGNING

One-Quarter of Cincinnati's Election Officers Dissatisfied.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 20.—Three hundred out of the 1,200 election officers have resigned and the board of elections is anxious to fill the vacancies owing to the approach of the primary election, which will take place within thirty days. Clerk Greer of the board said today:

"Three hundred vacancies and resignations still coming in is the record and there is no telling when the end will come. Nearly all of the resignations are democrats, who are dissatisfied with their party and who will not support the national ticket at the coming election and do not see their way to serve as democrats when they intend to vote for McKinley."

ALONG THE WATER FRONT.

The Hongkong Maru Arrives From San Francisco.

MADE THE TRIP IN FAST TIME.

AUSTRALIA DEPARTS FOR THE COAST WITH MANY PASSENGERS.

Peculiar Accident—Captain Houdlette's New Ship—Hawaiian Line Ready—New Ship Yard—Late News.

The Algoa and Australia for San Francisco, the Kinau for Hilo and way ports, the W. G. Hall for Kauai, the British ship Halewood for the Sound and a large fleet of the Island steamers left here yesterday on their regular runs. The S. C. Allen and the Hongkong Maru, from San Francisco, arrived, the former after a voyage of eighteen days and the latter after a fast trip of five days and twenty hours. The steamer had no freight and but two passengers for this port, who will lay over until the China arrives. The Allen brought several passengers for here, among them four Island boys, Ben Clark, Willie King, Paalua Hatfield and Harry A. White, who made the round trip from here in her.

The Australia had a great send-off and the din of whistles that saluted her as she steamed out of the harbor was almost deafening. The tug Fearless escorted her outside with a big crowd of friends of the departing passengers. The tug excursions under the direction of Captain Brockaw are becoming one of the features of the Australia's departures and are very much enjoyed by the passengers and their friends, who are enabled to say good-bye after the steamer is outside. Yesterday Captain Brockaw had about sixty guests aboard.

The Kinau for Maui and Hawaii ports got away at exactly 4 o'clock. Captain Tom Clarke was in command, as Captain Freeman has not yet sufficiently recovered to take the vessel. Today the Claudine and Mauna Loa will leave on their regular runs at the usual time, but a day late. The Labor day celebration and the great amount of freight offering kept them back.

QUEER ACCIDENT.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—Seafaring men were greatly interested yesterday in the discovery made when the bark Merom went on the Spear street dry dock. The vessel returned to port a few days ago from Alaska, leaking at the rate of an inch an hour as a result of having grounded while in Bristol bay. By working the pumps the Merom was kept afloat, but instead of waiting to take on a cargo of salmon at one of the northern canneries, all haste was made in sailing back to this port. It was found when the bark was high and dry yesterday that the leak had been caused by one of the prongs of the vessel's anchor, which, when the Merom grounded, had been forced into the bottom near the keel, just abaft of amidships. The breaking off of the prong and the plugging of the hole by the severed portion was all that saved the Merom from filling rapidly and becoming a loss, but the portion of anchor did not plug up the hole so tightly that water could not leak in to some extent. When it was seen that the bark was liable to ground the anchor had been let go, but it was supposed by the captain when it was hauled up again that the breaking off of the prong had been caused by the ship itself.

NEW LINE READY.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27.—Word has been received from New York that the American-Hawaiian Steamship Company will begin its service to Pacific coast ports and the Hawaiian Islands on September 1st with the dispatching of the steamer American from the company's pier at South Brooklyn. The freight taken by the new factor in ocean commerce will be carried by six American-built steamers—the American, Hawaiian, Oregonian and the Californian of 8,500 tons, and the Alaskan and the Arizonian of 12,000 tons. When these vessels are completed one will be dispatched each month.

FLOATING DRY DOCK.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 26.—Application has been made by the Risdon Iron Works for space on the water front, near the Risdon plant, for a great floating dry dock, which is intended to be the largest of its kind on the coast and one of the best in the world.

This company's plant is being put in shape to turn out ships of the largest size, and it promises to compete with the Union Iron Works in bidding for government work.

MARIPOSA'S NEW CAPTAIN.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 26.—The steamer Mariposa was released from quarantine yesterday and went to her berth at Jackson street wharf. Chief Officer Rennie, who has been on the Mariposa for some years, succeeds Captain Houdlette as commander of the steamer, Houdlettes having been appointed captain of the Oceanic Company's new twin-screw steamer Sonoma, which was recently launched at Philadelphia and which will be brought to this coast by Captain Houdlette.

SPEEDY ALABAMA.

BOSTON, Aug. 28.—With a new ... at the fore, signifying another ... victory for Cramps, the new ... States battleship Alabama ... to the harbor at 5:30 this ... an official trial over ... course from Thatcher's ... Island. The vessel ... average speed of ... four consecu... into account ... when the ... probabilities ... -lao ...

for a distance of 6.5 knots space. When tidal allowances are prepared they will doubtless show that the latest addition to Uncle Sam's navy is the fastest battleship of her tonnage afloat.

The general opinion expressed by the naval men on the craft during her trial trip was that her average will be about 17.1 knots an hour for the four hours. The contract requirement for the ship was that she should steam sixteen knots an hour for four consecutive hours.

In addition to her display of speed the Alabama executed some curves that made the people on board open their eyes in wonder. The great craft was sent ahead at full speed with helm hard to port and described a circle which had a tactical diameter of between 700 and 800 feet, or a trifle over twice her length. Then the helm was reversed and around she went to starboard and coming upon the wake of her first circle made as perfect a figure 8 in the seething white foam as one could wish to see. Before reaching Boston light the vessel was tested to find her quickness in coming to a dead standstill and in gathering sternway with the engines reversed, all of which proved satisfactory to the trial board.

SHIPPING NOTES.

The Solace will be ready for sea tonight.

The tug Eleu towed the Halewood to sea yesterday.

The Kilauea Hou is on the marine railway having an overhauling.

The R. P. Rithet sailed from San Francisco on August 24th for this port.

The bark Pactolus got quick dispatch from New York and is now on her way to San Francisco.

The bark Emily Reed arrived in San Francisco on August 24, twenty-three days from Kahului.

C. L. Wight and Captain McDonald of the Wilder Steamship Company departed in the Australia yesterday.

The bark Olympic from Honolulu arrived in San Francisco after a twenty-six days' passage on August 23.

Captain Sanders and his boat boys had an exciting tow in behind the Fearless yesterday from the Australia.

The Keauhou goes to Niihau this trip to get sixteen lepers who will be brought here and sent to the settlement at Molokai.

The Australia got away on time yesterday. The tug Fearless helped her around and in this way saved a good deal of time for the steamer.

A bundle of late San Francisco papers for Captain Lawless of the Australia were put aboard the "Ferry boat" from the Hongkong Maru outside as the vessels passed yesterday.

A donkey engine for the Challenger is on the way here on the R. P. Rithet. When the Challenger was building at the yards of Arthur Sewall, J. R. Macauley, now pilot of this port, was engaged in work on the vessel.

The schooner Amy Turner reached San Francisco on August 26th from Hilo after a passage of thirty days, with 24,052 bags of sugar. The brig Harriet G., out thirty-one days, and the schooner Allen A., both from Mahukona, also arrived the same day.

The S. C. Allen from San Francisco brought 1,300 tons of general merchandise for T. H. Davies & Co. On deck she had thirty-seven head of horses and mules and a lot of hogs. The trip of the Allen to this port was a very uneventful one and not a sail was sighted during the whole voyage.

A Buggy Ride.

Is It a Pleasure?

That depends largely upon the vehicle in which the ride is taken. If the vehicle is old, if it rattles and jars, and if the draft is heavy, much of the pleasure is lost. But if it has the ball bearing axles, rubber tires, patent springs and other improvements of the HIGH GRADE, UP-TO-DATE vehicle, then it is a pleasure indeed.

We are showing a new line of High Grade Bike and Pneumatic Buggies, Runabouts, Traps, Phaetons, Surreys, Speeding Carts, Brakes, etc. Also a full line of Harness, Whips, Robes, Lamps, Rugs, Shades, etc.

Rubber Tires

We have added to our equipment a complete RUBBER TIRE outfit and are now prepared to put on all sizes of Rubber Tires. New Channels and Rubbers put on, or old Channels re-rubbered. We use the "KELLY-SPRINGFIELD" TIRE (two wire), the best and most satisfactory Tire made.

TANNER WOULD LIVE AND DIE WITH LEPERS.

STRANGE REQUEST MADE BY MURDERER CONDEMNED TO LIFE IN PRISON.

Slayer of Deputy Sheriff Brown and Fannie Barnes Seeks Freedom to Labor for His Soul's Salvation.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 28.—To live among the unclean of Molokai and there to die, perhaps gnarled and wasted by the dread leprosy, that when his life's story is told there may be one chapter of good and sacrifice, is the wish, the prayer, of George Louis Tanner, adjudged guilty of the murder of Deputy Sheriff Brown and Fannie Barnes and condemned to a life of penal servitude within the walls of Folsom prison. Whether or not remorse has laid its grasp upon this murderer's mind or whether in his offer of sacrifice he sees a ray of hope for ultimate liberty is problematical. Perhaps a free life, limited though its years will be, with unclean death its inevitable end, is preferable to him to those many years more of health and strength behind the bars of a prison.

Tanner has communicated his wish to spend his last years among the lepers of Molokai, and it may be, as he says, an effort on his part to labor for the salvation of his soul. Tanner's communication reads:

"BROADWAY JAIL, Aug. 20, 1900.

"To the Honorable Frank H. Dunne, Judge of Superior Court No. Six—Your Honor: At this time I wish to make a request that was never made before and that may never be made again by any one else after this. It may look strange to you and no doubt you will see that is comes from a strange mind. During my detention here in the county jail I have had plenty of time to review my past life, and as it has not been a very useful one to humanity at large, I would like to change it in this way: I would like to be sent to the island of Molokai to take care of the multitude of lepers that are there in lieu of going to the state prison at Folsom.

"This place is a leper establishment in the Sandwich Islands and in the United States domain, and I have no doubt this could be done with the help of the United States court. I would like the life sentence that is passed upon me to be changed to Molokai. This, I believe, should be satisfactory to the people of California. If this is granted to me I promise that I will not complain and will not try to make any appeal of any kind. I am well aware of what I will see there. Good many years ago when I was in the harbor of Honolulu I saw over ninety of these poor lepers leave that place for a leper settlement of Molokai and I had a good chance to see all the horrors of that great plague. Hoping that my petition may be granted so that I may be able to do a little good and thereby earn the salvation of my soul by helping suffering humanity, I hope that this motion will be approved by all the population of the United States and will be granted to me, it is my prayer to this court. It is also my intention to ask His Grace Archbishop Riordan to help me to get this favor granted to me, as the supervision of this place is under the command of the Roman Catholic clergy. Very respectfully,

"GEORGE LOUIS TANNER."

Tanner's plea will be in vain. He was granted a stay of execution for two days by Judge Dunne yesterday. At the expiration of the stay he will be taken to Folsom, there to live for his remaining years.

DYING AT THE RATE OF THREE THOUSAND A WEEK.

LONDON, Aug. 27.—The present epidemic of cholera, says a Simla correspondent of the Daily Mail, is one of the worst outbreaks on record. Bubonic plague is child's play compared with it. The natives are dying like flies at the rate of 3,000 a week.

MASON'S CAMPAIGN PLANS.

Senator Will Give His Best Efforts for Re-election of McKinley.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 21.—Notwithstanding his criticisms of the administration and Secretary Hay for alleged British leanings, Senator William E. Mason announced today that he will give McKinley and Roosevelt his best support throughout the campaign. He said:

"My trip to the Pacific coast at this time is my first vacation in fifty years. Instead of sending my family to Europe I thought I would spend my money at home and show them some of the magnificent grandeur of Alaska, Washington and the West. We are going down through California and then I will go home and enter the campaign for President McKinley.

"There has been a great deal of talk regarding my attitude toward the president. We have had our differences regarding the management of certain measures of government, but to me there is no dearer friend on earth than William McKinley. Our differences on political measures will not interfere with my going to work for him, and I want to add that we are going to carry Illinois for McKinley and Roosevelt. We are going to make a good job of cleaning up that 16 to 1 craze.

"If there is anything that shows that President McKinley is against imperialism it is his firm and manly stand in the Chinese difficulties, demanding the protection of our citizens, yet declining to enter into the world's conspiracy to dismember and partition the empire. There is no doubt that Russia, England, Germany and, in fact, all foreign powers having lust for growth by conquest, have been laying plans to divide the markets and territory of China. The president's course has surprised all Europe, because the powers imagined we were starting out on a wild scheme of expansion by conquest."

Sold Watered Milk.

Dr. E. C. Shorey, the government chemist and food inspector, swore out a warrant yesterday for a Japanese milkman named Tanaka. The Jap's milk showed undeniable signs of watering. It would be a good thing for Honolulu if San Francisco's experience of two years ago could be repeated here on a smaller scale. At that time the watering carts retired on half pay. There was no need of them. The streets ran with watered milk.

BIG MORTGAGE FILED.

Kapiolani Estate Borrows $150,000 of Mrs. A. K. Campbell.

A mortgage for $150,000, issued by the Kapiolani estate in favor of Mrs. A. K. Campbell, was filed yesterday at the office of the registrar of conveyances. The board of directors at their last meeting held on Monday, after discussing the present financial outlook, decided that the above amount was an absolute necessity. There were several large bills of pressing attention that needed looking after, and no money was on hand to meet the expenses. A. Drier has a $50,000 note and mortgage on the estate. A. S. Wilcox has another account of the same character, amounting to $25,000. The assessments on Kihei stock were also due, and that necessitated another large sum of money. Mrs. A. K. Campbell offered to loan the estate $150,000 at 7 per cent for two years, and after considerable discussion her offer was accepted.

Of Interest to the Ladies...

Few women care for the hair as they should. When the hair begins to come out they are alarmed. It would be much better if they give it more attention when it is in a healthy condition. The first requisite in the care of the hair is a GOOD TONIC. Just the kind we keep. Our Hair Tonic will kill dandruff. Stop the hair from falling out. Cure itchness of the scalp. Make the hair soft and glossy. It keeps the hair and scalp in a healthy condition.

Resigns From a Democratic Club.

Former Supporter of Bryan Cannot Accept His Anti-Administration Crusade.

OMAHA, Aug. 19.—William F. Wappich, a Democratic lawyer of Omaha, who officiated as one of the assistant sergeants-at-arms at Kansas City, and who has been one of W. J. Bryan's main supports since the first day of his political career, has left the party, and a big sensation is the result. Today he resigned his membership in the Douglas County Service club, of which he was the founder, and gave to the press this statement:

"The Kansas City platform is too much for any Democrat who has thinking facilities of his own. The reiteration of the absurd idea that value can be legislated into a commodity is not by any means the only weakness in the Kansas City resolutions. After knuckling to the demands of the silver Republicans and Populists for the 16 to 1 plank, and thus enfeebling their position, the Democrats in the convention sought to repair the damage by creating a paramount issue out of the conditions in the Philippine Islands. Mr. Bryan is now putting on the finishing touch by giving voice to some very catchy phrases about imperialism and some very reverential allusions to the constitution.

"I am a thorough believer in the course being pursued by the present administration as regards the Philippine Islands. I can think of no other course of procedure for the erection of stable government there. First of all order must be brought out of chaos and the Filipinos forced to respect the law. Until this is done a stable government for them is impossible, and independence for them is not to be considered. After the establishment of law and order in the Philippines will be the best time to consider what kind of a government they are fit for. I think the preaching of Filipino independence is premature.

"Mr. Bryan probably knows that he is putting the cart ahead of the horse, but by doing so he is enabled to use the Filipinos for campaign purposes, and that is all he wants to do. The Kansas City platform in dealing with this Philippine matter reaches still another queer notion. After presuming that the setting up of a Philippine republic will be the easiest thing in the world, the promise is made that such a republic is to be protected by this government forever.

"I understand this to mean that the Monroe doctrine is to be stretched across 12,000 miles of land and sea to maintain the independent government of a people whose free citizenship is regarded as a menace to the civilization of a republic. I don't believe the Monroe doctrine was ever intended for such a purpose.

"The cant of the Bryan campaign is added to by this man Webster Davis. The idea of such a man going about the country shouting for freedom and liberty. The hypocrisy of Davis is well understood by the people of Kansas City, who know him. He was elected mayor of Kansas City as the candidate of a well known order whose only excuse for existence was a desire to establish proscription in this country. As mayor of Kansas City he denied the rights of freedom and liberty to American citizens whose religious faith happened to bring them under the ban of proscription. He is indeed a fine specimen to advocate the cause of the Boers, to plead for freedom and liberty in South Africa after denying the same blessings to Americans at home."

NATIVES TO BE CARED FOR.

Indemnity for Loss of Life and Expenses of War.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—A cabinet officer said today that unquestionably the native Christians in China, said to number several thousand, will be included in any arrangement made between this government and China incident to the cessation of hostilities. At the present stage of the Chinese situation this subject has not been seriously discussed by the cabinet, but there is no doubt, according to this member, that the United States is in honor bound to protect them, and will sacredly look after their security.

"What will be done with them?" he was asked.

"That has not been decided upon, but rest assured that in their disposition the honor of the United States will be fully preserved. It may be arranged for them to go to the Philippines or one of the many other places that are available may be adopted."

It was also stated that while the matter has not been formally considered, the indemnity to be collected by the United States will not be only for the families of the victims, but also probably to compensate this government for the expense it has been put to in prosecuting the campaign.

"It has not been a heavy expense, compared to the Spanish war," he said, "but it will be sufficient, together with the indemnity of families of missionaries and other victims and for all loss to property of the United States or of American citizens, to make it a very serious matter financially to China."

Millionaire's Son Weds a Chorus Girl.

Roger Livingston Jr. Marries Dora Hampton—Was a Yale Student.

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—It leaked out here today that Roger Livingston Jr., the son of a millionaire member of the New York stock exchange, was married in Chicago last Monday to Dora Hampton, a very pretty California girl. She was seen in New York last winter as a member of the chorus in "Papa's Wife" and also in "The Casino Girl." Livingston is an undergraduate at Yale and a member of the University club here.

When Livingston Sr. heard the news today he announced in a loud tone that Livingston Jr. would now have the pleasure of earning his own living and that of his wife, as the paternal pocket book would not be on tap for the not at all modest drafts of the student, whose student days are now perforce at an end. The happy pair are now rusticating in Chicago, awaiting paternal forgiveness, which does not appear to be forthcoming at this time. When they receive the telegram today that was dispatched from the University club last night they may realize that they are now forced down to the stern realities of life.

Roger Livingston is a man of many years' membership in the stock exchange. His son, who is less than 21 years old, is a member of the class of 1902 at Yale. He met Miss Hampton last winter while she was playing in the city, and paid her desperate attention, but his father, although cognizant of this, did not heed the young man's devotion, taking it for a mere passing fancy.

But when Miss Hampton, who lives in San Francisco, left for her home in the spring, and young Livingston soon after decided on a trip to the Pacific coast for his health, the elder Livingston put two and two together. Accordingly messages containing divers orders were dispatched to California, and the young man got as far on the return trip as Chicago, where he begged permission to tarry a while. This was granted and young Livingston has been in Chicago for nearly a month.

On Sunday Mr. Livingston learned through private advices that Miss Hampton was in Chicago also, and on Monday morning he telegraphed his son to come home at once. The result was a hasty marriage in the windy city, and the letter that was forwarded to the father and which came to hand this morning.

"BOBS" SAID TO HAVE SUCCEEDED WOLSELEY.

REPORT THAT HE HAS BEEN MADE COMMANDER IN CHIEF OF ARMY.

Official Dispatches From South Africa Tell of the Success of the British Troops.

LONDON, Aug. 29.—The Daily Mail this morning claims to have the highest authority for the assertion that Lord Roberts has already succeeded Lord Wolseley as commander-in-chief of the British army.

LONDON, Aug. 28.—Lord Roberts reports, under date of August 27, as follows:

"Our movements are slow on account of the nature and extent of the country. We made satisfactory advance and met with decided success. The work fell entirely on Buller's troops and resulted in the capture of Bergendal, a very strong position two miles northwest of Dalmuntha. I met Buller at Bergendal shortly after it was reached by our troops. I am glad to find the occupation cost less than was feared, on account of the approach being across an open glacis for two or three thousand yards and the determined stand of the enemy. The Inniskillings and Second Rifle brigade formed the attacking party. The latter suffered most. I hope the casualties do not exceed fifty or sixty. One officer was killed and two were wounded. A good many Boers were killed and a pompon was captured.

"French advanced on the left to Swartzkopjes on the Leydenberg road and prepared the way for the movement of Pole-Carew's division tomorrow.

"Baden-Powell reports that he entered Nylstroom without opposition. As the country where he and the Paget are operating is dense bush and veldt it is not desirable at present to proceed further north and his troops are returning to Pretoria."

LOURENZO MARQUES, Aug. 28.—Heavy fighting is reported to have occurred at Machadodorp. The Boers are said to have been defeated with great loss, leaving their guns and ammunition in the hands of the British.

LONDON, Aug. 28.—A special dispatch from Pretoria, dated August 27, says:

"It is stated that fighting with Botha's commandoes was resumed this morning. The Boer lines were broken and the enemy is falling back. The British casualties are reported to be considerable."

DECKS CLEARED FOR THE NICARAGUA CANAL.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—It is learned at the state department that negotiations are actually in progress between this government and Nicaragua and Costa Rica for a treaty giving the United States the exclusive right to build the Nicaragua canal. Owing to the fact that other matters have occupied the attention of the department very closely, the negotiations have not progressed far, but they are being carried on in good temper and with every assurance of a successful conclusion. The treaty with both governments will be sent to the senate for ratification early next winter.

It is also learned here that the Isthmian canal commission which has been investigating routes has decided to report unanimously in favor of the Nicaraguan route.

These two things certainly clear the decks for real action upon the canal matter at an early date.

MAY WINTER IN CHINA.

Preparations Being Made for American Soldiers' Winter Quarters.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—The war department is making all necessary arrangements to have the American troops spend the winter on Chinese soil. It is the plan that those now in Peking shall remain there and barracks will be constructed at Taku or Tientsin or at both places.

Several million feet of lumber will be sent at once from Seattle. The commissary department is also preparing to ship fresh and canned beef before the cold weather closes navigation at Taku and Tientsin.

These preparations are the consequence of a general change of policy necessitated by recent military operations and fuller knowledge of the real attitude of the Chinese Imperial government. They were ordered by the president when he learned that the offer of a truce had not been accepted by the Chinese and that the allies had been compelled to overcome resistance in rescuing the legations.

Had there been any evidence on the part of the emperor or empress to cooperate in the work of relief it was the expressed promise of this government to withdraw at once to the coast. The latest advices from Conger have put a different complexion on the affair and it is the present intention to join hands with the allies in reducing Peking and restoring it to a condition of order.

It is expected that the negotiations which must shortly begin will last all winter, and it is regarded as good policy to surrender no military advantage until a satisfactory settlement has been reached. This was one of the phases of the political situation discussed by the president and Governor Roosevelt at the White House conference last night.

He Don't Like Labor Day.

Although Congress set aside but one day for the labor celebration, Andrew Brown, the superintendent of the water works, is beginning to think that something was written between the lines of the law. Mr. Brown states that the workmen were off two days last week, and are still at it. He has written to the local W. C. T. U. secretary, requesting a large supply of temperance pledge blanks.

NEWS OF THE TOWN

The band played the Australia off yesterday.

The oath of S. Hookano as district magistrate of Ewa is on file.

Willie Damon left for college in the Australia yesterday.

The Solace, leaving for the coast today, will take a mail.

H. M. Sewall will leave for San Francisco as the guest of Captain Winslow of the Solace.

Rails of the Rapid Transit Company are being distributed along the company's right of way.

Antone Fernandez has resigned as sheriff of the district of Ewa. He will be succeeded by his brother John.

E. B. Breckenridge and E. F. Blaisdell have resigned from the mounted patrol. They have accepted better positions in town.

The band concert at Thomas Square was very well attended last evening. It is the first time the band has played there for some time.

B. F. Dillingham, with his wife and son and daughter, left in the Australia yesterday. Miss Sarah Robertson was one of the party.

Judge Little of Hilo left in the W. G. Hall yesterday for Kauai to hold court in place of Judge Hardy of the Fifth Circuit, who is quite sick.

The management of the Orpheum hotel has been arrested for selling liquor on Sundays. The trial of the case will be had in the police court this morning.

William Crews, who makes himself offensive to the residents of Punchbowl very often, was arrested last night and charged with assault with a weapon.

Judge Wilcox has received his commission as district magistrate of the district of Honolulu. He is commissioned to act for two years from September 1, 1900.

The next mail for the coast will be by the Nippon Maru, which is due here on the 7th. The next regular mail from the coast will be by the Mariposa, due here on the 12th.

A small crowd was present at the Orpheum last night. Jerry Mills made his accustomed hit. Geo. Gardner, as the Dutch Senator, also made an impression on the audience. The show will continue throughout the week.

Mrs. S. B. Dole visited the navy transport Solace yesterday. She distributed fruits and flowers among the sick men aboard. The visit of the lady was greatly appreciated by the invalids aboard, who have been long without the kindly attendance of mothers, sisters and wives.

Of Interest to the Ladies...

Few women care for the hair as they should. When the hair begins to come out they are alarmed. It would be much better if they give it more attention when it is in a healthy condition. The first requisite in the care of the hair is a GOOD TONIC. Just the kind we keep. Our Hair Tonic will kill dandruff. Stop the hair from falling out. Cure itchiness of the scalp. Make the hair soft and glossy. It keeps the hair and scalp in a healthy condition.

WONDERFUL PROGRESS.

For a company which has but just completed twenty-five years of corporate existence, the Provident Life of New York puts forth a statement showing really wonderful progress. Only sixteen companies of the United States have over $100,000,000 of ordinary life business in force, and the Provident Savings is one of the youngest companies attaining that distinction. I. R. Doctor English's Suit Against Liliuokalani.

Asks That a Speedy Trial Be Ordered So That He May Return to His Home.

Dr. Charles H. English, who came to Hawaii as the personal physician of Ex-Queen Liliuokalani, has received information of a business character from his home in Ohio that will call him thither before the first of October. As the doctor's sole reason for being in Hawaii is in consonance with his contract with the queen, he is anxious to bring his case to trial. He filed the following affidavit and notice of motion in the Circuit Court yesterday:

"I, Charles H. English, now temporarily residing in Honolulu, Territory of Hawaii, doctor of medicine, make oath and say:

"First—That I was engaged by the defendant in this action at Washington, in the District of Columbia, to accompany the said defendant to Honolulu, in the Hawaiian Islands, as set out in the complaint on file in this case; that I am a resident of and have business in the city of Cincinnati, in the state of Ohio, in the United States of America, and have been forced and compelled to stay in Honolulu in consequence of the action of said defendat, Lydia Dominis.

"That there is urgent necessity why I should leave for the United States of America and for my home in the city of Cincinnati during this month of September."

"And now comes the above named plaintiff in this action, Charles H. English, and by Davis & Gear, his attorneys, moves this honorable court that the said case of English vs. Dominis be placed on the calendar of the present term of this honorable court.

"This motion is based upon the record on file in this action and upon the affidavit attached hereto.

"Take notice that the above motion will be presented to his honor, the Hon. A. S. Humphreys, the judge presiding at the term of this court, which has been extended by order of his honor at the court room in the court house in the Judiciary building, on Thursday, the 6th day of September, A. D. 1900, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon."

MEETING NOTICE.

There will be a meeting of the trustees of the Queen's hospital at the room of the chamber of commerce, Wednesday, September 5th, at 10 a. m.

GEO. W. SMITH,
Secretary.

NOTICE.

A meeting of the N. S. G. W. will be held next Thursday evening at the Hawaiian hotel at 7:30 o'clock, to make preparations for the coming Admission Day celebration. All native sons and pioneers are invited.

M. H. DIGGS,
Secretary.

In This Case Bail Was Refused At First.

Responsible Citizen Brands Report Published in an Evening Paper as False.

In reference to a story in the Star last evening, that bail was not refused in the case of a man arrested on Monday evening for being drunk, one of the friends of the man locked up said last night:

"The story that bail was not refused is not true. I and the others with me offered bail and asked what it was. We got no satisfaction except that we were told to see the sheriff. The clerk ordered the prisoner searched and put below. We did not say anything to him about releasing the man without bail. We did not say anything about not putting his name on the register. We wanted to bail him out and were refused the privilege point blank."

It is said that the man arrested on Monday night refused to leave the station when the sheriff came there. This is true, but he did not refuse to leave when his friends first came there with him when he was brought in. After he had been locked up for several hours the sheriff was found and came to the station. Consent was given to the man's release on bail and he was brought up from the cells, but when he got in the office he refused to be bailed out and said bad words, so he was locked up again.

Notwithstanding what is said by the police authorities that the bail system in Honolulu is a very liberal one with a regular rate for release, bail was positively refused on the occasion mentioned until the sheriff had been seen, although the men offering it were men high in the counsel of fraternal societies, holding responsible private and government positions and whose word is as good, if not better, than that of the sheriff or his clerk.

WILL CELEBRATE.

Native Sons of Golden West to Remember Admission Day.

At a meeting of the Native Sons of Golden West held last evening at the Hawaiian Hotel, $130 was raised for a celebration on next Monday night. About twenty gentlemen were present.

A committee of three was appointed to make arrangements for whatever should be decided on. They were C. B. Reverin, C. H. Bellina and A. Newhouse.

There was considerable discussion in regard to the nature of the entertainment. Some preferred a quiet smoker, others a more elaborate banquet, and still others a dance in which the Native Daughters might participate. After a great deal of talk, the general concensus of opinion was in favor of the banquet.

A Committee of Finance was appointed to solicit subscriptions.

The society adjourned to meet again Thursday evening, at 7:30.

The marriage of Miss Grace Walker, sister of Mr. J. H. Walker, formerly of this city, and V. A. Vetlesen, both of Kahului, was celebrated at the latter place on Wednesday of last week. Rev. W. Ault officiated.

Who Constitutes a Guest at a Hotel?

Judge Wilcox Will Decide Question of Sunday Liquor Selling at Waikiki.

A test case is to be made of the practice of selling liquor at the Waikiki Inn on Sundays to those who register there and are served with liquor as guests. The place was spotted last Sunday and as a result subpoenas have been served on most of the people who visited the resort and took a "wee drop" to slake their thirst.

The beach is a popular place for recreation on Sundays, and many who toil in town all day during the week are in the habit of going to Waikiki in search of pleasure on Sundays. The scenery is inviting to the repose so conducive to comfort in this climate, and the water, of which there is an abundance, is good to look upon and better to swim in. An afternoon spent at the beach would no doubt be a pleasure were there no refreshments for the inner man. The refreshment is there, however, and because some of the doctors and lawyers and business men of the town "craved a crumb and sipped a sup" they have been commanded to tell Judge Wilcox all about it in the police court this morning.

The manager of the Waikiki Inn was arrested last evening and charged with selling liquor on Sunday to others than guests of the inn. All of the people so served had registered, and it remains to be seen whether a person who places his name on the register of a hotel is a guest of the house or not.

FOR KEEPING OPEN SUNDAY.

Thirteen Arrests Were Made for Breaking the Sabbath Day Law.

The crusade against those who break the Sabbath by laboring where it is not necessary or in doing an act of mercy, has begun. Yesterday warrants were served on thirteen persons who kept their stores open on the Sabbath contrary to law. The cases will be heard by Judge Wilcox today. The complaints against the persons arrested are sworn to by David Kaapa and one of them reads as follows:

"D. Kaapa of Honolulu, being first duly sworn says: That Chum Hook and Tai Hee of Honolulu, Oahu, at said Honolulu, Oahu, on towit the 2d day of September, A. D. 1900, said day being the Sabbath day, did perform certain labor, the same not being a work of necessity or mercy; towit by keeping open a certain store on Hotel street, in Honolulu, Oahu, and selling goods therefrom to the public contrary to section 317 penal laws 1897."

The warrants of arrest were signed by Judge Wilcox and the return of the warrants were approved by the high sheriff.

The storekeepers arrested were Mow Sing, Mrs. L. Achong Ah Kwai, Mrs. Morimoto, Y. Mataki, W. Tai Yow, Ahlee, Mr. Lawrence, Mr. Fitzpatrick, You Kong, Lee Lim and Tai Hee.
