INDIGNANT JAPANESE PROTEST AGAINST QUARANTINE METHODS

Thousands Assemble at Japanese Primary School Campus and Condemn Dr. L. E. Cofer.

People Prominent in Business and Professional Circles Present---Resolution Calling for Investigation of Alleged Professional Misconduct Is Adopted.

Several thousand Japanese were crowded and packed in to the square immediately in front of the Japanese Primary school on Nuuanu street yesterday evening, where loud-voiced and vigorous protest was uttered against what they consider an indignity put upon their new Vice Consul, S. Okabe, and his wife on Thursday last at the hands of the quarantine officers in charge of Dr. L. E. Cofer of the local corps. The Vice Consul and wife were accompanied by several young Japanese ladies who were bound for the United States to take up studies at the eastern colleges. They were passengers in the America Maru, upon which vessel a suspected case of plague was believed to be. An examination of the cabin passengers was ordered.

According to the statements of Mr. Okabe all of this class of passengers, among whom were himself and wife, were lined on the deck and there examined by the physician. In the case of the white people the most casual examination was made—a courtesy and consideration which he says was not extended to the Japanese cabin passengers. He and his wife were compelled to go into separate rooms and in the presence of a physician [illegible] in order to permit an examination of their bodies to be made for any possible evidences of plague. Mrs. Okabe was compelled to remove portions of her garments and to submit to being examined by a male physician.

Mr. Okabe comes here to relieve the present Vice Consul T. Tanaka who has been promoted to the Japanese vice-consulate at New York city.

A strong and tersely worded resolution was submitted to the assembled multitude for adoption. Before the meeting came to a close assent to the provisions of the resolution was adopted.

There were addresses galore. Many prominent Japanese from every walk in life were present and spoke with considerable feeling upon the subject From the numerous addresses delivered, the concensus of opinion was that Dr. Cofer had exceeded his authority in the quarantine examination and had aroused the ire of the Japanese residents of Honolulu to such a point as has never been duplicated here before.

The resolution adopted by unanimous vote, and which practically received the signatures of the entire throng present, read as follows:

Whereas, upon the entrance into port of Honolulu of the Steamship "America Maru" from the Orient bound for San Francisco, upon July 25th, A. D. 1901, it was reported by the ship's physician to the Federal quarantine physician for the Port of Honolulu, to wit: Dr. L. E. Cofer, that there was a case of bubonic plague upon said vessel, and

Whereas, the said Dr. L. E. Cofer, as such Federal quarantine physician for the Port of Honolulu, made no attempt, upon boarding said vessel, to proceed with an investigation of the case of alleged bubonic plague, but at once proceeded to make a personal examination of all the Oriental passengers on said vessel without first ascertaining the necessity therefor, and

Whereas, the supposed case of bubonic plague was in fact not a case of bubonic plague but an entirely distinct disease and in nowise dangerous to the community at large, and

Whereas, such fact could have been readily and easily ascertained by a preliminary examination of the supposed sick person, and

Whereas, in the examination of the Oriental steerage passengers, they were in some cases stripped partially naked, regardless of sex, and subjected to an examination by the male subordinates of the said port physician, acting under his orders, and

Whereas, said examination was conducted in an indecent and unnecessary manner, and misused by the said examining physicians for the infliction of the grossest outrages upon the persons of said passengers, and

Whereas, this examination was confined to oriental steerage passengers, the steerage passengers of other nationalities being made merely to pass before said physician and no attempt being made at examination, and

Whereas, no attempt was made to examine in any way the Caucasian first cabin passengers, they being merely required to pass before the examining physician, and

Whereas, among the first cabin passengers were the Japanese Vice-Consul for the City of Honolulu, Mr. Saburo Okabe, his wife, and other ladies, together with other Japanese gentlemen, and

Whereas, the said Vice-Consul and the other Japanese gentlemen were subjected to a physical examination of their persons after the Caucasian first cabin passengers had been passed by the examining physician with no investigation whatsoever, and

Whereas, the said Japanese ladies were first forced to expose their persons and then were subjected to a physical examination thereof by the male examining physicians, in a manner outrageous and revolting to their feelings and delicacy, after the Caucasian lady passengers of the first cabin had been passed by the physician with no examination whatsoever, and

Whereas, these examinations were made by the direct orders and under the supervision of said United States physician for the Port of Honolulu, Dr. L. E. Cofer, and

Whereas, all these facts are of general notoriety and have been established by the undenied statements made under oath by those subjected to this outrage, and by the statements of other witnesses thereof; and as a part thereof have been admitted by the said Dr. L. E. Cofer;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, by the Japanese citizens of the City of Honolulu, in general Mass Meeting assembled:

First: That the entire examination as conducted in this case was precipitate, uncalled for and due solely to the lack of foresight and to the impetuousness of the said Dr. L. E. Cofer in proceeding therewith before ascertaining whether the necessity for such examination existed.

Second: That the method of examination was unnecessary, unusual and in violation of common decency; that it was an insult to womankind at large, regardless of race or color;

Third: That as such it deserves the reprobation and condemnation of every honorable man; and that those who are responsible therefor are deserving of the sharpest censure and punishment for their participation therein.

Fourth: That the examination as conducted was an unjust and unreasonable discrimination between the Oriental and the Caucasian passengers and a direct and personal insult to the former, and to the Japanese Government in the person of its Vice-Consul for Honolulu.

Fifth: That the said Dr. L. E. Cofer, Port Physician of the United States for Honolulu, has, by his conduct in this matter and his responsibility therefor, shown himself a person of narrow mind; hasty and ill-advised in action; actuated by race prejudice and local feeling; lacking in courtesy and decency and a proper respect for womankind; that he is an unworthy representative of the Government of the United States for the important position that he at present occupies; that his conduct in this matter deserves, and we do hereby give it, the strongest censure and condemnation.

Sixth: That his conduct in this matter has shown his total unfitness for his position; that his continuance in office at this port, where there is constantly a large Oriental travel, will be a source of constant bitterness and friction between the Japanese and himself and between their respective Governments.

Seventh. That for all of these reasons we do hereby ask his removal from the office which he now holds and for the appointment of some other person more suited therefor by education, training and judgment.

Eighth: That a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to the President of the United States, to the Senate of the United States, to the House of Representatives and to the Japanese Minister at Washington, with the request that action be taken thereon.

Among those seated upon the platform were the following prominent Japanese of this city: Miki Saito, Consul; S. Okabe, Vice Consul; K. J. Imanishi, Yokohama Specie Bank, and Mrs. Imanishi; O. Shroda, agent Kei Hin Bank; C. Shiozawa, Hawaii Shinpo; Y. Soga, editor Hawaii Shinpo; T. Ishikawa, editor Yamato Shimbum; Mrs. Ishikawa, Mrs. Takahashi, Dr. Iga Mori, Dr. S. Kobayashi, Dr. K. Haida, Dr. N. Ogawa, Dr. G. Mitamura, Rev. E. Okumura, Rev. G. Molokawa, Rev. B. Gsuyuma, Rev. W. K. Azbill, I. Iwanaga, S. Mori, attache to consulate; S. Sako, secretary to consul; S. Nagazawa, attache to consulate; Y. Kimura, editor Honolulu Shinbum; T. Asuda, merchant; S. O. Zuki, merchant; T. Chiya, merchant; T. Masuda, T. Onodera, Dr. G. Katsunuma, Moto Sheyr, merchant; K. Isoshima, merchant.

O. Shioda presided as chairman of the meeting. Y. Soga, editor of Hawaii Shimpo, officiated as secretary.

The first speaker of the evening was T. Ishikawa, editor of the Yamato Shimbun. He reviewed at length the indignities which he claimed had been heaped upon the Japanese first-class passengers in the America Maru by Dr. Cofer, the quarantine physician. He failed to see the logic in making a great demonstration about the matter, but on the other hand believed the act of the government officials should not be passed without a protest being filed. He dwelt upon the fact that the Japanese passengers were alone subjected to indignities from which the Caucasian people were exempted. Mr. Ishikawa recounted the recent experiences of the Japanese women who figured in the examination by Dr. Cofer and his assistants.

"These officials overlooked the suspected case altogether and went out of their way to insult the Japanese women," declared the speaker. "Dr. Cofer failed to take the preliminary steps in examination of the suspected case. This examination was an outrage to all mankind. Caucasian passengers both cabin and steerage were passed without examination. Our Vice Consul, S. Okabe, and wife, and two young ladies were obliged to submit to a most minute and indecent examination, and as it afterward developed the suspected case of plague turned out to be only an ordinary case of illness. I stand here tonight and say that no Caucasian woman would submit to the outrage. The physician took advantage of the presumed ignorance of the Orientals in his work of examination."

In closing the speaker advocated the hand of steel and the glove of velvet in dealing with the matter. He hoped that the Japanese would maintain a firm stand.

One of the liveliest addresses of the evening was that delivered by K. Ozawa, of the Kumamoto Immigration Company. He forcibly outlined the objects of the gathering. In his opinion the Japanese had assembled for the purpose of taking action in regard to the discrimination made in a recent quarantine examination of Japanese ladies who were passengers in the America Maru. He stated that the rumor was prevalent that Dr. Cofer had sent letters to the Japanese Consul of this city in which he took occasion to explain away the incident. The speaker insisted that the matter called for more than an explanation.

"This is a matter which affects the entire Japanese nation," declared Mr. Ozawa. No stock should be taken of the explanation offered by Dr. Cofer through the newspapers. A public trial alone can determine whether he is guilty of an offense against common decency or not. I for one realize that we must be law-abiding, but insist that such high-handed proceedings are not called for by the United States authorities. I am of the opinion that race prejudice had much to do with the action of the quarantine officials. One of the best methods to get at the root of the matter is to appeal to Washington. Dr. Cofer received his appointment from the seat of government. He is a federal officer. I realize that in his present position he holds almost autocratic power."

NEW ORGAN VOICES OLD FAMILIAR TUNES

Representative Crowd at the Dedication Exercises.

MUSIC DELIGHTS AT KAWAIAHAO

VERSATILE REEDS, BRASS AND STRINGED INSTRUMENTS AND HUMAN VOICE.

The Amateur Orchestra and Kawaiahao Choir Take Part—Wray Taylor, Professor Ingalls and Others Lend Their Talent.

Old Kawaiahao church was crowded to the doors with hundreds of the best representatives of the cosmopolitan population of Honolulu yesterday evening, who turned out to attend the dedication of the new pipe organ which has just been erected in the famous edifice by the Bergstrom Music Co., Ltd.

Shortly after 8 o'clock the new organ thundered forth to the tune of "Old Hundred." The first few notes had something in them of the nature of a slight stage fright, it was the organ's first appearance and no doubt it was a little timid before so large and select an audience, but, after the first few strains of harmony, the great music machine, seeming to gain confidence under the master touch of Wray Taylor, thundered forth most gloriously, filling the big building with powerful melody and demonstrating to every ear the excellent acoustics of the building.

Then came the "Festal March and Finale," by Garrett, followed by "Meditation," by Thayer. The restrained power of the organ, like a giant voice reduced to soothing minor tones, now trembling with the suppressed emotion of wordless thoughts and inexpressible inspirations, thrilled through the hall, touching the people's soul through the most subtle of the senses.

The Amateur Orchestra then executed the "Frolic of the Fairies," by Bigge. It would have been difficult for a stranger to believe that the aggregation of local musicians which produced this delightful overture was an amateur organization, so well did they conduct themselves in relation to their various instruments.

Miss Edith M. Rogers sang "Beyond the Gates of Paradise." Her deportment was graceful and the rendition most creditable.

Professor A. B. Ingalls played a couple of solos on the organ, "Hymn of Nuns" and "The Lost Chord." The pieces were well played and much enjoyed. There seemed to be a little stiffness about the new instrument, however, which will, of course, wear away as the voice of the organ has a little more practice.

Mrs. Tenney Peck sang "I Heard the Voice of Jesus Say," with much feeling, charming the large congregation with the mellow timbre of her voice.

"Enchanting Bells" by the Amateur Orchestra commenced the second part of the program. Again the orchestra, under the able leadership of Wray Taylor, won the admiration of all present.

Maurice G. Beckwith rendered "O God Have Mercy" with good effect. He was accompanied by the organ. Then followed an organ solo by Mr. Ingalls which developed some of the instrument's most charming qualities.

A pleasing spectacle was presented when the Kawaiahao choir, composed of young men and maidens of Hawaii nei, filed into the church and sang "I Will Praise the Lord." One could not help but think that the Lord would find the praises of these bright promises of the future very acceptable. They sang well, especially the girls. The boys betrayed a slight suspicion of a nasal twang in their youthful voices.

Wray Taylor then took charge of the organ, playing a couple of delightful pieces and, as the audience rose from their seats to disperse, letting the full strength of the splendid instrument out in "Aloha Oe," "Hawaii Ponoi" and "The Star Spangled Banner." The complete program follows:

Services over the remains of the late Mrs. Samuel Parker will be held at the family residence in King street at 3 p. m. Sunday, August 4. Rev. H. H. Parker of Kawaiahao church will officiate. The body will be taken to Mana in the steamer Claudine Thursday for burial in the family plot.

APPROPRIATIONS FOR DIFFERENT HOSPITALS

THE AUDITOR NOW RAISES THE QUESTION OF PAYMENT OF SUBSIDIES.

Attorney General Dole Repeats His Former Opinion in Effect—The Nature of Each Institution Determines Its Particular Eligibility.

There still remains considerable doubt in the minds of some of the Territorial officials regarding the granting of subsidies to the various hospitals both public and private, which has been done by a recent act of the legislature. The matter was completely thrashed over at the time the appropriation bill was before the legislature. The authority vested in the legislative body was again severely questioned at the last meeting of the Board of Health, when the apportionment of moneys to the hospitals was brought forward. Attorney General Dole at this meeting offered an oral opinion to the effect that he questioned the act of the legislature in awarding sums to several of the hospitals enumerated. At the time Mr Dole exempted Queen's and Hilo hospitals.

Now comes Auditor H. C. Austin, who, upon receiving the monthly statements from Lihue and Waimea hospitals, finds himself plunged into the deepest doubt, and requests an opinion from the Attorney General in regard to the whole matter. The Auditor's communication says: "I would respectfully request an opinion from your department upon the following question, viz: "Is it contrary to the provisions of Section 55 of the Organic Act to pay subsidies to hospitals which the Territory of Hawaii does not own or control?"

In reply, Attorney Dole submits practically a repetition of his opinion, which was sent to the legislature at the time of the controversy. Meanwhile the Auditor refuses to make payments to all hospitals save the Queen's pending further light from the legal department of the government.

Mr. Dole's opinion reads: "I have examined the charter, by-laws and regulations of the Queen's Hospital. The charter is drawn on the broadest and most liberal lines. It is not obnoxious to the provision in the Organic Act prohibiting appropriations of public moneys for sectarian purposes. It is maintained 'for the relief of indigent, sick and disabled people of the Hawaiian Kingdom, as well as of such foreigners and others as may desire to avail themselves of its benefits. It is one of the classes of institutions for the erection of which the Territory, under Section 55 of the Organic Act, is especially authorized to incur indebtedness. I think that the Legislature has power to make an appropriation in aid of this charity.

"The answer to the question asked me, as to whether the Legislature has power to aid other institutions, depends upon the nature of the institution."

Prospect for Added Bliss.

There is considerable likelihood that the transport Thomas will not get away before Sunday morning. The report was hailed with delight by the teachers, as they stand a unit for extracting all the pleasure possible from their stay in Honolulu. However, should the repairs upon the transport boilers be completed by this morning, the educators will be obliged to leave at the regularly announced sailing time, noon today.

The President's Cup.

The Presidential Cup, to be awarded to the successful base ball team in the Honolulu Base Ball League, has arrived from the coast. The prize is a beauty from an artistic point of view. The cup stands some ten inches in height, is made of silver, and suitably inscribed with the following words: "Honolulu Base Ball League. President's Cup, Season of 1901." The cup is a gift to the League by its president, Charles Chillingworth, the Deputy Sheriff.

VERY INTERESTING WEDDING AT ST. PETER'S CHAPEL

At half-past two on Thursday afternoon a very pretty wedding took place in St. Peter's Chapel on Emma street. The bride was Miss Jennie Aseu, daughter of Mr. Luke Aseu, and the bridegroom, Mr. L. T. Chin, a clerk in the employ of Irwin & Co. The marriage service was performed by Rev. Kong Yin Tet, assisted by the Rev. V. H. Kitcat, the music being sung by a choir composed of the boys of St. Peter's Chapel robed in cassocks and surplices and some pupils of St. Andrew's Priory. Mr. Braddick presided at the organ and played Mendelssohn's wedding march during the signing of the registers, his assistance being very much appreciated. The service was fully choral and conducted partly in Chinese and partly in English. The church which was very prettily decorated was filled to its utmost capacity, many of Miss Aseu's teachers at St. Andrew's Priory and the High School being present beside many other Chinese, American and European friends of the family. The bride was beautifully dressed and must have struck all present as she came up the aisle leaning on the arm of her father, who gave her away. She was attended by two bridesmaids, Miss Lucy Kong and Miss Lily Kong, the groomsmen being Mr. En Sang and Mr. Yap Kwai Fa. At the conclusion of the service the party drove off to the home of the bridegroom to sit down to a wedding feast.

Gave Them the Slip.

The police maintained a close watch over the departures in the Zealandia for San Francisco yesterday evening. One Matsuda, a Japanese charged with embezzlement of $300, was listed for passage. The boat was carefully searched and officers in citizen clothes kept watch over the gangplank, but Matsuda had evidently scented trouble and either assumed a disguise or deferred his leave-taking until a more propitious moment.

A Transfer.

The firm of William C. Gregg & Co., agents for steam plows, machinery, etc., who have been doing business both here and in the United States, have assigned and delivered their business with all its property, good will, etc., to W. C. Gregg & Co., which company is now incorporated and doing business at the old stand. The transfer took place in Minneapolis, May 1, 1901.

Gloomy Outlook.

A number of Kona coffee planters held a well-attended meeting at Kailua, Hawaii, Tuesday last, at which time a general discussion of the outlook for the season was discussed. Many of the growers have become discouraged over the failure to secure better prices for their crop. The Japanese association has a membership of nearly 300 growers.

VISITING TEACHERS ARE ENTERTAINED AT SLUMMING

Deputy Sheriff Chillingworth entertained a party of teachers from the Transport Thomas last evening at a dinner and slumming party. Several of the most notorious gambling dens in the city were visited, but nothing was done besides giving the gamesters a good scaring. At every place the young men collected curios sisting of cards, dice and dominos.

Lon Agnews began the evening's fun by giving one of his clever boxing exhibitions and a dinner at The Grill proved to be the acme of the night's enjoyment. Those who made up party were: Messrs. Moore, Gallup, Waldron, Sullivan, Johnson and McGovern, of the Thomas, and Messrs. Chillingworth, Cruzan, Agnew, Sam Chillingworth, Crook and Brooks, of this city.

PRESS CENSORSHIP IN SOUTH AFRICA

"Bungle and Blunder" Bennet Burleigh Calls It.

NO OBJECT IN NEWS SUPPRESSION

IT IS CONTENDED THAT THE WHOLE TRUTH WOULD DO GOOD AT HOME.

London Journals Were Warned in Advance but Did Not Take Heed—Do British "Drastic Measures" Offset Boer "Atrocities?"

NEW YORK, July 25.—The War correspondents in South Africa have united in a belated revolt against the military censorship, says the London correspondent of the Tribune. Bennet Burleigh, a veteran of many campaigns, describes the censorship as a "bungle and a blunder," and declares that the sooner the whole matter of unofficial correspondence is put upon a definite basis conformable to free institutions the better it will be for everybody. Mr. Edgar Wallace asserts that there is nothing so far as the military position is concerned to justify the maintenance of censorship, and that it is creating a bad precedent, since the only service which it can render is a political one savoring "somewhat of Russia; nay, it is Krugerian." Howell Glynne, who has remained in the field continuously since the outbreak of the war, holds his peace. In addition to the general restrictions based on military reasons established at the opening of the war, the followng regulation enables any censor to reject or condense every dispatch submitted to him:

"In future the length of correspondent's wires will be in proportion to the importance of the news contained therein."

The correspondents consequently are disabled and unable to justify by cable work the expenses of their service. The country, which is heavily taxed for a costly war, does not know what is going on, and is forced to be content with casually lists and Lord Kitchener's inventories of Boers killed, wounded and surrendered, and of stock, rifles and ammunition captured.

It must be stated, in justice to the War Office, that the London journals were warned in advance that their correspondents would not be left at liberty to write and to go as they pleased, and were asked to adopt practical measures for reducing the number of men in service and for relieving the wires from the pressure of newspaper work. These consultations at the outbreak of the war were fruitless and scores of correspondents were sent to South Africa without any attempt on the part of the newspapers to regulate the business of reporting campaign news. With long lines of communication and with the wires clogged with routine messages required for the movement of troops and the provisioning of a great army, the press dispatches were neglected, held back, condensed and mutilated.

It is not easy to understand what are the political motives for the suppression of news from the seat of war. The Government has a well drilled, obedient majority in the Commons and is supported by the great mass of opinion in the country. There is no revolt against it either on the Ministerial side or in the constituencies where bye-elections are held. The opposition is faction-rent and demoralized, and quite incapable of offering strenuous resistance of Government policies; and the pro-Boer agitators have made no impression upon public opinion. There is no alternate Government possible while the campaign remains in progress, and Ministers have no conceivable reason for dreading possible revelations from the seat of war. Some of the incidents which have been suppressed would bear heavily against the advocates of the Dutch cause, both here and on the continent. The Vlakfontein atrocities, for example, if fully confirmed in detail, would tend to alienate the sympathy of irreconcilable Radicals and admiring foreigners for the Boers. The fact that the hor-

THE Zealandia and her officers were given a fine sendoff yesterday afternoon by a great crowd of people at the wharf to see her away for San Francisco. While in port this time the old boat was repainted and spruced up so that she was as neat as a pin yesterday when she left the wharf.

A great many passengers left in her for the Coast, and the band was early in attendance to play her an aloha. After so long a service in the trade the old boat has earned a great many friends who rather than take one of the new boats would travel in her.

Captain Dowdell and his officers are a superior lot of men who by their attention and kindness have won the esteem of the people who have travelled in the Zealandia, and it is hoped that they will soon be frequent visitors to the port again. There are some hopes that Captain Dowdell will be put in command of the Alameda and it is also probable that Chief Steward Seely will be given the place on that boat also.

After discharging her large cargo of sugar and fruit at San Francisco the Zealandia will be laid up for a season, but what will ultimately become of her is not yet definitely known. At her last survey it was proven that her hull was almost as good as the day she was built. Her machinery however is old and out of date and from the long periods during which she was out of commission, it has suffered from disuse.

The Phillie's Trip.

The cruiser Philadelphia, after a most enjoyable trip to Pago Pago entered the harbor yesterday morning and was moored in Navy slip No. 1. She left here for the Island of Tutuila on the 3rd of July, and arrived there on the 13th. Her stores and men for the Aberanda were landed and the vessel put in ten days at anchor in the fine little harbor of Pago Pago.

The natives of the city were very hospitable, and showed the officers and men of the vessel many kindnesses. In return they were allowed to come aboard the cruiser and given the freedom of the ship. The Tutuilans are said to be a very fine lot of people, and are physically much superior to the Hawaiians. While they are not so civilized they are very great Christians and good church people. Sunday is strictly observed by them and not a stroke of work can be gotten out of them on the Lord's Day.

The officers of the Philadelphia were the guests of the chiefs at several feasts during their stay, and in return the cruiser gave a feast at which the entire native popuiation of the village was present. The luau was spread on the cruiser's deck and the feast consisted of canned salmon and meat, fruits and hardtack. It was greatly enjoyed by all who partook of it and on leaving the vessel the guests were seen to carry off all the edibles which were left and could not be eaten.

Many of the officers and men have brought little souvenirs of their trip to Pago Pago with them. They have spears and war clubs, tapa cloth and fans galore. During her round trip no sign of a sail was seen by the cruiser. She is taking coal here and will remain till the arrival of the Sierra on the 7th. Orders for her next move are expected in the mail from the Coast.

The Thomas.

The big transport Thomas with her many passengers is billed to sail for Manila today at noon. She has been delayed by the large quantity of freight for this port and some slight repairs to her machinery and boilers found necessary at the last minute. Yesterday the band serenaded her and the Philadelphia, which is lying alongside of her in Navy slip number 1. The music was greatly enjoyed on both vessels, and on the transport many availed themselves of the tunes to dance to.

Another Survey.

The coal which was condemned by the surveyors on the ship J. B. Thomas, will be surveyed again for the owners. It has been surveyed twice in the vessel, and on account of its high temperature, was ordered discharged as it was decided that in the condition it was, it would be unsafe for the vessel to proceed on her journey with her cargo. On the two previous surveys the coal was found to have a temperature of from one hundred and ten to one hundred and twenty degrees. This is thirty degrees over the normal temperature of coal in bulk in this country. While there was actually no ignition there was combustion, and a likelihood that the coal would break into a flame at any moment.

Now that the cargo has been all discharged, it will be again surveyed to ascertain whether or not it is safe to reload it again and send it to its destination. This will be done in a few days and it is probable that besides sugar Honolulu will have the name of shiping a cargo of coal to the Coast.

A Gritty Mate.

Second Officer Frank S. Randall of the Thomas is one of the few men in the transport service who has had his baptism of fire on duty. He has a reputation for pluck that is well known wherever he has had duty to perform, and he is generally a great favorite among his fellow officers.

During the war in the Philippines he showed his bravery before a great many people who have not forgotten it. At the battle of Ligayen Gulf, where the troops were landed from the transport Sheridan in boats Randall then on that vessel had charge of the transport's launch which towed the boats with the soldiers to shore. His launch took the boats as near as the depth of the water would allow, and was hit many times by the insurgents ashore. Randall made several trips under a galling fire and seemed not to mind the business at all. The bravery of himself and the crew of the launch was highly commended by the commanding officer of the troops, but no notice has been taken of it by the war department.

Australia's Grace Darling.

The presentation of the medal of the Royal Humane Society to Grace Bassell, an Australian girl, recalls the heroic deed of this maid, who was then but sixteen years of age. It happened one day in 1876, that a vessel was wrecked off the coast of Australia, a few miles from the Bassell home. The lifeboat on board the steamer was lowered, but it capsized and the eight people in it were drowned. So the rest of the crew clung to the sinking steamer. The surf ran so wildly that no one would dare to swim through it, and there was not a house or a person in sight. But help was near, though they knew it not. The girl of sixteen, who was a splendid horsewoman, was riding along with a native servant.

She caught sight of the vessel in distress, and turning her horse's head toward the coast, she started at a quick gallop. When she reached the sea she urged her horse into the angry surf.

She rode boldly on till she reached the vessel. With great difficulty she took some of the children in her arms, and put them before her o nthe saddle; then with bigger children and women clinging to her dress, she started for the shore, gave those she had rescued to the care of her servant and returned back to the wreck. So she went backward and forward for four hours, till all were safe on land, the servant having ridden to bring out the last man.—N. Y. Marine Journal.

Names Sometimes Give Trouble.

When steamboats cease to be named after persons, it will cause one of the arguments, says an exchange, which time and again is brought up in steamboat circles, to be dropped. Of late years it has been the custom to name packets, especially the large ones, after the cities from which their permanent papers are issued, but with the towboats the majority of them are named after the builders or some favorite of the owner. Recently, in Richmond, Va., a steamboat company was sued for $500 by Miss Mattie Marshall, of that place, who took exceptions to the following paragraph, written about the steamer: "The Mattie Marshall, having been thoroughly scrubbed, painted, overhauled, and refitted with new boilers, will hereafter serve as a mail carrier, and poke her pretty nose in the river business for all she's worth." The decision in the case was against the company. Other expressions which are not to the liking of persons after whom steamers are named are: "Her hog chains broke," "pitman strap broke," or "she ran through herself."—N. Y. Marine ournal.

Building Schooners.

The Globe Navigation Co. which will operate a steamer line between Seattle and this city have given their local agency to M. J. Bissell of the Washington Mercantile Co. The Eureka, the first steamer of the new line, is due here about the 25th. At late dispatch regarding the construction of schooners for the new company is as follows:

Work has begun at Ballard, Wash., on a fleet of ten wooden vessels for the Globe Transportation Company. The first to be launched will be a four-masted schooner, to be named the William Nottingham, with a capacity for carrying 1,400,000 feet of lumber. The vessel, which will cost $75,000, is named after a New York capitalist, who is a heavy stockholder in the company, and will be ready for launching in sixty days. The second vessel, will be the schooner Lyman C. Smith, named after the typewriter manufacturer.

Fearless and Eleu.

The Fearless was on the Marine Railway yesterday being scraped and painted. She had been in the water but six months and was found to be very foul. A new kind of paint which was tried on her, did not work as it was expected and so yesterday she was painted with the paint that is used on the boats in San Francisco.

During the Fearless' idleness, the Eleu did several little jobs and it looked like old times to see the old boat at work on something besides the garbage scows. The ship Kinross was taken from the stream by Captain McAllister and docked at the navy slip with quickness, neatness and dispatch.

Fast Passage.

The four-day-to-Europe steamer is now in evidence. The Deutschland, of the Hamburg-American Line, leaving New York July 11, crossed to Plymouth at an average speed of 23.51 knots an hour, covering 3,082 miles in 5 days 11 hours and 5 minutes. Had she taken the shorter Liverpool route she would have made the run over in 4 days and 18 hours.—Army and Navy Journal.

Steward's Birthday.

This afternoon the steamer Mauna Loa will be the scene of a feast in honor of the birthday of Chief Steward Aki who is one of the oldest employes of the Inter-Island Company. Officers of the company and of the different steamers in port have been invited and a splendid time is anticipated.

Lieutenant Blue.

Lieutenant Victor Blue, U. S. Navy, flag lieutenant to Rear Admiral Kempff, junior squadron commander of the Asiatic Station, has been detached from that duty and from duty on the Kentucky, on account of sickness, and ordered to proceed to the naval hospital at Mare Island for treatment. Lieutenant Frank M. Russel has been detached from the Isla de Luzon and ordered to the Kentucky for duty as flag lieutenant to succeed Lieutenant Blue.

Nerves of Weak Men

I have demonstrated the fact that weaknesses of men, the result of early or later indiscretions, such as Drains, Impotency, Lame Back, Varicocele, etc., will not yield to a stimulating treatment. This accounts for the fact that drugs never cure. The medicines given for these troubles, essentially poisonous, are intended only to stimulate. Continuous stimulation must result in harm. Thousands of patients have said to me: "Doctor, when I took this or that medicine I felt better in an hour, but after a month my weakness returned, and I was worse off than ever." "Better in an hour" means a powerful stimulant—means a wrecked constitution.

Electricity Is Strength!

[Trade Mark.]

That's what you want, strength, not stimulation. Electricity will never cure in a day; it does not cure in a week. It takes two months, it may take three, but the results are there to stay. I am the inventor and introducer of the famous Dr. Sanden Electric Belt, with attachment for men. It embodies the best efforts of my 30 years as a specialist. Worn at night, it strengthens you when you sleep. Currents act upon the Liver, Kidneys, Stomach, Bladder, Prostrate Gland and all weakened parts. It weighs but five ounces. Currents instantly felt.

DOCTORS DIFFER OVER TUBERCULOSIS

Professor Koch Gives Out Surprising Theory.

NO BARRIER FROM MEAT AND MILK

NOTED FRENCH SCIENTIST DECLARES THE DISEASE IS NOT INCURABLE.

Important Papers at the London Congress—British Government May Appoint a Commission to Consider Professor Koch's New Opinion.

LONDON, July 24.—The principal paper before the British Congress of Tuberculosis today was read by Professor Brouardel of Paris, who urged international legislation in regard to the notification of the authorities of the existence of tuberculosis and the disinfection and salubrity of hotels, railroad cars and steamboats, thus preventing the spread of tuberculosis. Professor Brouardel, who is dean of the Medical Faculty of Paris, maintained that the disease was curable. He said any measures tending to limit the ravages of alcoholism would diminish the mortality from consumption and referred to the great danger in hawking pieces of meat in public places and in the sale of milk which had not been examined. He believed those dangers could be remedied by legislation. Professor Brouardel complimented the United States on its "realization of the dangers of expectoration and on its legislation in the matter."

Professor Brouardel declines to accept Professor Koch's theory that tuberculosis cannot be propagated by the meat and milk of tuberculous cattle, and said he thought it right to protect the population from this contagion by legislation.

In an important paper on the question of tuberculosis, Dr. G. A. Herron of London paid a warm tribute to the researches of Professor Koch. He said that the prejudice against tuberculin arose from the ignorance of those who had attempted to use it, while disregarding the explicit injunctions of the discoverer, particularly in applying it in unsuitable cases. He pointed out that a very frequent mistake was to administer an overdose and to fail to reduce or suspend the application when the temperature rose above the normal.

The only chance to cure consumption, Dr. Herron asserted, was to begin in the early stages. The surest method of diagnosis was by the application of tuberculin. He expressed himself as entirely confident that this could be done with absolute safety. "Had tuberculin served no other purpose than diagnosis," said he, "it would be worthy of the highest praise and appreciation."

Professor Koch, who was present, was warmly cheered. He spoke briefly, indorsing Dr. Herron's observations as to the necessity for caution in the use of tuberculin.

The Daily Mail publishes an interview with Lord Lister, in the course of which he is reported as having said that he was absolutely unable to believe the statement of Professor Koch, that human beings could not get consumption through drinking the milk of diseased cows, the evidences to the contrary being far too overwhelming.

Sir William Broadbent declined to say how far Professor Koch's statement might be correct, in view of the fact that tuberculosis, while generally decreasing, was on the increase among children.

Dr. Edward Neumann of Davos-Platz, one of the Swiss delegates, said that Professor Koch was already prepared to meet the objections of Lord Lister.

NEW YORK, July 24.—A cable to the Sun from London says: The Royal Institute of Public Health tonight gave a banquet in honor of Professor Koch, and presented him the Harben medal in recognition of services in the direction of bettering health.

Dr. Sir James Crichton Browne contended that a Government commission must be appointed to establish the accuracy or inaccuracy of Koch's theory regarding bovine and human tuberculosis. He said Sir James Blyth had authorized him to offer his model farm in Essex for the purpose of carrying on experiments.

Dr. William Osler, professor of medicine at Johns Hopkins University, spoke with enthusiasm today of the beneficial results of the Tuberculosis Congress. He said: "Its organization is exceptional. The attendance of foreign delegates is very full. The general work is far above the average of such gatherings. Instead of being ornamental, the congress is here for work. We have all been impressed with the immense value to medical science which will result from its labors.

"Further experiments will have to be made in connection with the question raised by Koch as to whether bovine and human tuberculosis are identical. Koch's reference to human non-infection from the tuberculosis of cattle must give great impetus to fresh observations which will be made throughout the world."

At the congress today Henry Chaplin, who presided, made the astounding statement that thousands of British cattle are affected with tuberculosis.

HAWAII PRESS CORRUPT?

Grave Charges Made by a Correspondent of the New York Tribune.

From Newspaperdom, New York City.

Corruption, such as is prevalent throughout the Hawaiian Islands, disseminated from Honolulu, must result in violence and bloodshed. Nearly every newspaper published in the islands is subsidized by a corporation and, under the protection of the ostentatious patronage of the subsidizer, is able to levy blackmail with immunity. Some of the least corrupt newspapers confine themselves to political libels as a source of revenue, but others know no limits to their appetite for dishonorable gain.

Domestic scandals are the favorite means of livelihood among these newspapers. Many families have been ruined financially in their efforts to prevent the publication of facts which endanger their social standing and others have been socially ruined by exposure in the columns of papers which they were unable to satisfy pecuniarily. Prominent families have been compelled to flee from the islands and take up residence in the United States in order to avoid infamy at home.

As a rule the newspapers are conducted by men whose practices in America have forced them to leave. These men are therefore well prepared to carry on their hideous trades as soon as they arrive in Honolulu. Indeed, they ascertain the conditions in the Hawaiian Islands before they leave America.

It is true that circumstances have in a measure forced the newspapers to shameful practices. No legitimate newspaper could flourish in the islands, for the reason that the circulation of the various sheets is confined to 1,000 white men and the advertising columns must be filled for less than a dozen firms. Under the conditions the newspaper must diverge from the usual policy. They must not gather news for the sake of the public, but for the sake of those interested. They therefore announce marriages for the purpose of preventing them, publish obsequies in order to terrify the bereaved and give accounts of social events in order to mortify the entertainers. In order to understand this it may be necessary to know that of twenty-four marriages of prominent persons announced to take place during the past year nineteen were broken off owing to accounts published in the newspapers concerning the principals, and four shooting affrays resulted in which editors or reporters were shot. Of six prominent persons who died five were traduced, and of three fashionable social events that took place in Honolulu two were described in the papers as feasts of Phryne.

Prosecutions for criminal libel in the Hawaiis would be ridiculous as well as useless, as every newspaper has a powerful protector. Steamship companies which regularly land passengers on the islands in violation of American law, sugar companies which avoid duties and railroad companies employing contract laborers find it to their interest to interfere in behalf of journalistic malefactors.

Camarinos' Refrigerator

Arrived by the steamer and contained a fine lot of the season's delicacies. Game of all kinds, fruits and oysters. To get the best the market affords, leave orders at his King street depot.

Rear Admiral Schley, spending the day with his family at Great Neck, L. I., said he was resting and had nothing to say as to the proposed inquiry in the Santiago controversy.

Merit in Kodak Work

When customers send films from California to us for developing and printing there must be more that ordinary merit in the class of work we turn out. They claim that they cannot get the same excellent results in San Francisco, and are willing to send 2000 miles and be sure of having good Kodak pictures. That's why we get the business—merit.

We turn out uniformly good work. Every roll of film receives the best treatment that skill and experience can give it.

Our Photographic Department is full of work, but we are able to turn out work when promised, and no order is slighted.

Our popular prices will save many a dollar for the amateur—that's another reason for you to bring us your work.

Remember we are headquarters for Kodaks, fresh films, plates, printing papers—everything in the photographic line.

Let us have your next roll and we will demonstrate our claims for excellent and careful photo work.

HONOLULU, H. T., AUG. 3, 1901

The keeping open of the postoffice at night is educative evidence that government on the American plan does not recognize privileged classes.

Differently from the theory lately broached by a local contemporary that the Waikiki beach was sinking, exact evidence accompanies the report that the coast of the North Sea is rising. The European phenomenon is, however, not a singular one. Similar changes of relations between sea and land are and have been taking place all the time at many parts of the earth's surface. Generally gradual and all but imperceptible, instances are yet recorded of violent subsidences or upheavals of coast lines.

According to the New York World Honolulu is 5645 miles from San Francisco. As there are at least seven Pacific steamers regularly covering the route in from five to six days, the Atlantic ought to be shamed into discarding its slow record boats. Once the World instructed a correspondent it engaged in Honolulu to send any very important news by cable from Sydney, N. S. W. And pubuc opinion affecting the government of Hawaii is moulded by such ignorant journals as the New York World and the Philadelphia Public Ledger that places these islands in the South Seas!

It is to be hoped the Hawaiian Tramways Company will realize that there is a baseball match set for this afternoon at Punahou. The penitentiary is too good for whoever was responsible for the outrageous overcrowding of cars on Thursday when people were going to the match between the visiting school teachers and local players. It was enough to make an adamantine heart bleed to see the two poor brutes hauling from 50 to 75 passengers in and upon one small car. The High Sheriff is deserving of severest censure for permitting such damnable cruelty to animals, and the Board of Health is blameworthy for allowing human beings to be packed together so indecently and deleteriously.

There is good proof of the doctrine of reincarnation in the reappearance of the famous liar, Baron Munchausen, as a correspondent of the New York Tribune—though under what name is not stated by that journal. Such a farrago of lies as those making up every sentence in the article reproduced elsewhere from Newspaperdom, which debits it to the Tribune, has certainly never been rivaled in cold print. It is not that the writer indulges in some untruths, but that he does not attain to one particle of truth. His libels on the personnel of the local press are not more worthy of special refutation than any other of his fabrications. It is most astounding of all that a paper like the Tribune should publish such an article, when it could have been apprised of its nature through the expenditure of a few cents in stationery and postage.

THE THREATENED STRIKE.

If the Steel Trust prove able to open its mills and keep them running in spite of local strikes and threats of a general strike, its victory will go far toward making the country at large conclude that large combinations of capital are not an unmixed evil. So greatly does the general prosperity of the country depend on the iron and steel industry that a general strike therein would be nationally calamitous, apart from the high probability of many other industries being seized with the contagion of discontent. A review of the steel situation reprinted elsewhere from The Iron Age is on the whole encouraging of the hope that the industrial war, threatening for many weeks past, will end with the desultory skirmishes that have already been fought out or initiated. Strikes are as wasteful of wealth, as destructive of human comfort, in their way as military warfare. It is high time that all civilized countries made one of their most important political pursuits the discovery of rational, systematic and equitable means for determining the respective rights of capital and labor, whenever they clash. If there is any country in the world where labor ought to be able to force this issue into the foreground it ought to be the United States. Here the industrial interests have become the greatest among all nations, and here the people have more effectually than any others the remedy in their hands.

NEW FOOTBALL REGULATIONS ADOPTED IN THE EAST

Signals to Be Given by Referee Which Should Preclude Uncertainties and Disputes.

When Punahou and Kamehameha football teams resume business in the fall, it is quite likely they will amend their rules to abide by the newly approved regulations, adopted by Eastern collegiate circles. A number of minor changes are incorporated in the late rulings.

One of the most important changes is a rule which requires the referee to give a signal when the ball is placed on the ground during a try for a free kick or a goal after a touchdown, so that the opposing side may know when to charge. Heretofore the opposing rushers have had to depend on eyesight alone, and have frequently charged before the player holding the ball actually touched it to the ground.

Another new rule provides a penalty of ten yards to be given by the umpire in case of unsportsmanlike conduct or unnecessary roughness. Under the old rule, the penalty for unnecessary roughness was expulsion from the game, but in the opinion of the committee this was too severe a punishment.

Another change is that, when the ball has been taken behind the opponent's goal, and, having been fumbled or dropped, is kicked over the side lines, it shall count as a safety, even if recovered by the side taking it over. Heretofore the play has been technically a touchdown.

A provision inserted looking toward the uniformity of the rules is one that, in the case of the ball going over the side lines into touch, and put in play by a kick, it must be kicked at least ten yards, as in the regular kick-off at the start of play.

The change does not apply to any alteration beng made in the scoring rules, in the number of men permitted back of the lines or the styles or methods of formation.

A change is also made in giving the captain of the side upon which a foul has been committed the choice of taking advantage of the penalty inflicted upon the opponents or allowing the play to stand. Under the present rule, when a foul is committed on the side running with the ball which does not affect the play, not more than fifteen yards is allowed from the spot where the foul was committed.

The committee decided by common consent to make no changes in the scoring rules, in the number of men permitted back of the lines or the styles and methods of formation.

The rule providing for a signal by the referee on a free kick or a goal after a touchdown seems but a common sense revision, as many games have ended unsatisfactorily through the arguments brought up on plays, which cannot occur with such a rule.

The penalizing of a team for unnecessary roughness by putting it back ten yards does not seem a definite rule. Some men will go into a foot ball game and make it a point to injure the strongest of their opponents so badly that they will be unable to continue the contest. This will cost but ten yards per man, according to the new rule, and the ten yards can be made up in one play through most of the substitutes that are provided to fill the places of stars. It will probably be left to the judgment of the official in the game whether a man has gone beyond the limitation of all the rules and is deserving of expulsion or just the ten yards' penalty.

FLOODS AND INSURRECTION AFFLICT CHINESE EMPIRE

SHANGHAI, July 25.—The floods in the Yang-tse valley are causing great distress. Two of the main embankments have broken above Wuhu and flooded a thickly populated district for forty or fifty miles. Tens of thousands of people have been rendered homeless and the crops destroyed.

The return of the court to Peking looks doubtful. Supplies have again been ordered sent to Singan-fu, the present headquarters of the court.

VICTORIA, (B. C.), July 25.—Lorenzo Prince, traveling around the world in a race for La Presse, Montreal, arrived by steamer Rio Jun Maru yesterday. He left Montreal on May 27.

While in Manchuria he was arrested with Marrion, his comrade, under suspicion of stealing 8000 roubles. Marrion's passport was taken and he was held for traveling without a passport. Prince telegraphed to the Russian minister of railways and was released under his orders. He left Marrion in jail at Khailar and proceeded. In Manchuria he saw signs of unrest and says that southern Manchuria is in a state of insurrection and Russian officers are powerless to stop it. He says the Manchurian railway is solely a military project, which nothing in the commerce of that province justifies. Forty thousand Chinese are working on it.

SOFT-DRINK AUSTIN SPIELS TO PEDAGOGS

THEY MUST TIE BLUE RIBBONS TO ALL THE LITTLE AGUINALDOS.

Tells School Ma'ams and Masters All About Hawaii, Keeping "Transition Period" Dark, Lest They Should Not Understand.

There was a great gathering at Murphy Hall last night and nearly all of the visitors were school ma'ams and masters from the transport Thomas. They had heard that Franklin Austin was to deliver a lecture on the Hawaiian Islands and so, armed with note books and pencils and prepared to learn a great deal in a short time, they turned out in great strength and crowded the local headquarters of temperance to the portals, so that there was no need for the highways and the byways to be searched for an audience of real legitimate thirsty sinners.

Austin first of all mounted the platform of abstinence and waved his hand in a general welcome, after which he told the pedagogs that he hoped that when they arrived in the Philippines they would let their light so shine that all with whom they came in contact would take the blue ribbon and forswear the seductive poison of the flowing bowl. Austin waxed eloquent in his earnestness and expressed it as his opinion that the only way to set a right example to the peoples of America's raw possessions was for every man and woman who went to the Philippines, especially teachers, to be perfect little ladies and gentlemen. That was the ideal way to conquer the Philippines, that was the way the Hawaiian Islanders had been made such a good lot of people, they had been set a noble example by the missionaries who first came to these Islands. Austin did not use these exact words but, according to the teachers who attended, the import of his address was as reported.

After several comic songs had been sung by Bradley and Wallace had done a guitar stunt and Tromby had delivered a song and Noyes had also sung, Austin went on to give the teachers an idea of the Hawaiian Islands. He briefly passed over ancient history and the "transition period" and went on to describe the manners and customs of the Hawaiians and what they are and what they are doing today.

Tonight, at Murphy Hall, the Gospel Temperance League will institute Francis Murphy Club No. 1. Francis Murphy Hall and the Waverley Club rooms are to be included in the headquarters of the organization. Pledge members and other members are requested to be in attendance this evening.

PRESS CENSORSHIP IN SOUTH AFRICA

IRON AND STEEL TRADE AND THE LABOR TROUBLES

The Steel Trust Playing a Waiting Game—Amalgamated Association's Power Overrated.

NEW YORK, July 25.—The Iron Age, in its issue today says: The strike in the rolling mills has not developed any special features during the week, and the feeling in the trade is that the power of the Amalgamated Association has been generally overrated. From a high source comes the statement that the United States Steel Corporation will wait until its men in non-union mills get ready to go to work and then plant after plant will be opened, which does not seem likely for some weeks. The decline in the production of the finishing mills will soon lead to the closing down of some of the steel plants and to either banking furnaces or to the accumulation of pigiron. The longer this condition lasts the greater will be the necessity for the merchant furnaces who sell to the United States Steel Corporation to look for an outlet in other directions. The Ohio Steel Company's plant at Youngstown has been put on steel rails, so that it can take up the work of South Chicago should any trouble arise there. This, of course, reduces the billet supply. The shortage of sheets and tin plate has aready made itself felt, and jobbers' stocks are being drawn on heavily all over the country, a premium being secured. There is a decidedly firmer feeling in iron bars and the recent weakness in steel bars has disappeared. The pig iron situation is puzzling. Statistically the position continues favorable, but there is a feeling of uncertainty and weakness cropping up in different places. This week business has been light all over the country. We note a sale of 10,000 tons of basic iron in the Philadelphia district.

Quite a good deal of tonnage has been placed in structural material. The American Bridge Company has taken upward of 15,000 tons of bridge work, including 6,000 tons for a coal road, 2,400 tons for track elevation at Newark, N. J., 2,150 tons for a western road and 1,325 tons for a Chicago lift bridge. In New York 8,000 tons have been contracted for a number of buildings, and in other quarters good round lots have been placed. We note also 1,175 tons fo rbuildings for the imperial navy of Japan. As yet all branches of the iron industry continue exceedingly well employed, and while ocasionally a slight weakness develops locally, prices continue firm. But conservative men in the trade are alert to note any sign of the effect of the crop disappointment, which must tell to some extent upon the consumption of the next year. With our enormous output we cannot afford to undergo much curtailing in that direction. A feeling of resentment is developing among some of the large copper interests at the lack of cooperation on the part of the leading lake producers. The latter it is claimed are not doing their share in carrying a stock of copper for the manufacturers, but are making their product by fits and starts quite irrespective of the effect upon the market by such a policy.

The conduct of the ladies is compared with that of Mrs. George Cornwallis-West, who appropriated the flag presented to the Maine by the late Queen Victoria.

Picnic Time

Summer beverages and so-called soft drinks have no place in the dinner hamper of the picnic party. The proper picnic beverage, and the one that people who know always take, is the now world-famed Rainier Beer.

There is a sparkle and a mildly invigorating quality about it that fits in nicely at a picnic. It is indescribable—and the beer is indispensable. You will appreciate this beverage.

GREAT EDUCATIONAL EXHIBIT PROJECTED FOR ST. LOUIS

ST. LOUIS, July 25.—The committee on organization of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition company has submitted a number of highly satisfactory reports on the promotion work being done at the Pan-American Exposition among representatives from Central and South American states.

The committee recommended an additional section to the by-laws, providing that the historical committee shall consist of seven members, and shall be charged with the special care and supervision of all exhibits and matters pertaining to archaeological collections, the discovery, settlement and development of the Louisiana territory, and shall be charged with the duty of devising a plan for the erection and maintenance of such tablets, monuments and buildings as may in their judgment be appropriate for the preservation of objects of historical interest connected with the aforesaid matters and the commemoration of such historical events.

The committee on education is hard at work to enlist the co-operation of all the leading educators in the country for its work of making the educational exhibits at the World's Fair a department of such magnitude and excellence as to show, on the largest scale possible, the evolution of public education and higher school training not only in this country, but of the whole civilized yorld.

The ministers of education in the different countries will be consulted regarding their wishes and letters addressed in the official language of the country are ready to be mailed as soon as the president has extended officially an invitation to the foreign countries to participate in our world's fair.

From the Reports of the dealers in this city, we think no proprietary medicine has a larger sale than Pain-Killer. Its valuable properties as a speedy cure for pain can not fail to be generally appreciated, in case of accident, or sudden attack of dysentery, diarrhoea, cholera morbus.—Montreal Star. Avoid substitutes, there is but one Pain-Killer, Perry Davis'. Price 25c. and 50c.

Dr. Kuyper, Premier of Holland, will advance a scheme of mediaton in South African affairs as soon as the new Ministry is organized.

D. O. Hamman of the California Harness shop has moved his stock into Fort street, just opposite the Club stables, where he is prepared to see all his old customers and attend to their wants. He has about everything that is required in the horse line and announces that he is going to have a sale of California stock at bottom prices. Anyone desiring to get good saddles cheap, now is the time to get them, any kind at all.

The big furniture store up street, the Coyne Furniture Co., corner Beretania and Fort, has just got in a great line of tables. You will see a few of the many they have on hand, in their show windows, but if you can find the time, just drop in and take a good look at some of them. They are, without exception, the best bunch of four legged and three legged tables that have been put up for sale in Honolulu since the furniture trade began. There are some bedroom sets too of birdseye maple that are very attractive and good and cheap. Stop at the corner and take a look in whilst waiting for a car.

Seize the time whilst you may, and drop in The Pacific Hardware Co.'s big store household department. You all know where it is—Bethel street, above Castle & Cooke's, and you'll see something worth seeing: refrigerators of every size and price, newly arrived, over two carloads of them, porcelain lined and Wilke All Porcelain, the very best and dirt cheap at the price. The line is not by any means drawn at refrigerators, kitchen utensils, filters of the latest, most scientific plan and cutlery in profusion. See for yourselves, you won't leave the store without a refrigerator under each arm—though we'll send them home for you if you like.

Book binding from us is always satisfactory.

TRIAL JUDGE'S DECREE SHOULD BE AFFIRMED

Galbraith Dissents in Supreme Court Decision.

THE PEARL HARBOR PROCEEDINGS

CORPORATIONS FILE ANSWERS—CLAIM THE RIGHT OF TRIAL BY JURY.

Probate Matters Before Judge Gear—Eight Appeals From Wilcox—To Test The Thousand Acre Clause—Douglas Is Charged.

The Supreme Court handed down a decision yesterday in the case of William Blaisdell vs. I. R. Burns, appealed from the Circuit Judge of the First Circuit, Chief Justice Frear and Judge Perry concurring, Judge Galbraith dissenting.

The syllabus of the decision, written by Judge Perry, is as follows:

"Upon the evidence, an agreement of partnership is found to have been entered into by and between the parties as alleged in the bill. The decree appealed from, dismissing the bill on the grounds of lack of proof of such partnership, is reversed and the case remanded for further proceedings."

Judge Perry, in writing the opinion of the court, says in part:

"This is a suit in equity wherein the main averments of the bill are: That sometime during the month of September, 1898, to wit, on September 1, 1898, the petitioner and respondent by oral agreement entered into a partnership under the terms of which they became equal partners in the business of soliciting life insurance in the Island of Oahu.

"That prayer is that respondent be required to submit to an accounting of said partnership matters and for such other relief as may be proper. The respondent denies the existence of the partnership as alleged. Complainant was to receive as compensation a certain portion of the commissions.

"There is an irreconcilable conflict in the testimony of these two witnesses on this essential point. We believe the testimony of the complainant that the agreement of partnership was entered into by the parties. The complainant's statement is not without corrobation in the acts of the parties or from the testimony of disinterested witnesses."

The dissenting opinion of Judge Galbraith is, in part, as follows: "I do not agree with the conclusion nor the reasons given by the court in the above opinion. If the issue was one of fact and the testimony irreconcilable, as is stated, it seems that the finding and conclusion of the Circuit Judge who heard the witnesses testify and observed their conduct while so doing is not given the weight and consideration to which it is entitled.

"I believe that the trial judge was right when he found for the defendant and dismissed the bill on the ground that the evidence was about equally balanced and that the plaintiff had not sustained the burden of proof imposed on him by law.

"No attempt was made to impeach any of the witnesses and no reason appears in the record for giving special credence to one over the other.

"The purpose of the alleged partnership was to solicit and write life insurance. It is claimed that the relation was formed in September, 1898, and terminated on December 19, following, but that during a part of this period, when the defendant was absent from Honolulu, the partnership was in a state of suspended animation and that on defendant's return this nameless partnership again bloomed into life.

"It appears from the record that no books of account were kept in behalf of this alleged partnership, that it had no name, that it had no office or place of abode, that it had no assets, not even a chair or a writing pad, that it had no capital except that carried under the hat of the respective members.

"It seems to me that the relation between the parties was too uncertain and unsubstantial for the court to dignify it by the name of partnership. The plaintiff's appeal ought to be dismissed and the decree of the trial judge affirmed."

To Test the Thousand Acre Clause.

The following letter was addressed to Acting United States Attorney J. J. Dunne by Judge George D. Gear, yesterday. Mr. Dunne has, as yet, not decided what steps to take in the matter.

Dear Sir:—In the case of Joseph B. Atherton vs. The Wahiawa Sugar Company, Limited, an action to remove a cloud upon title, the defendant corporation, in its answer, alleges that plaintiff holds the land as trustee for the Waialua Agricultural Company, an Hawaiian corporation, which already holds lands in the Hawaiian Islands in excess of 1000 acres, and that this acquisition by the said Joseph B. Atherton as such trustee was and is in contravention of Section 55 of the Act to provide a Government for the Territory of Hawaii, to the effect that "No corporation shall own and hold real estate in the Hawaiian Islands in excess of one thousand acres," and that, therefore, the plaintiff is not entitled to proceed in equity against the defendant. There was an exception taken to this portion of the answer on the ground that the same was impertinent, which exception this court sustained because of the law not allowing any one but the Government to make the objection that a corporation has acquired and holds more than a thousand acres of land, as limited by the Organic Act.

As this matter was attempted to be set up by the defendant as a defense in this suit, and therefore may be easily susceptible of proof, I deem it my duty to call your attention to this as a representative of the United States Government, for such action by yourself as you may deem proper under the circumstances.

The trial of the case is set for Saturday morning, August 3, at 9:30 o'clock.

Eight Appeals From Judge Wilcox.

Notices of appeal in eight cases decided by Judge Wilcox were filed yesterday, as follows:

Joe Barrios vs. V. J. Fagaroos, damages, $300.

Charles Lind vs. Ah Sam, assumpsit for $100.

J. M. Vivas vs. Mele Akoni, assumpsit for $30.

Joe Correa vs. Manuel Pacheco, damages for $299.

F. C. Rhodes vs. A. M. Brown, replevin.

James Carty vs. W. L. Peterson, assumpsit for $225 on promissory note.

J. M. Vivas vs. B. Cordeiro, defendant, and C. W. Booth, garnishee, assumpsit for $200.

J. de Silva vs. J. F. Souza, damages for $300.

The case first appearing on the list was for damages on account of an alleged assault committed in Oahu penitentiary. Barrios swore that Fagaroos kicked him because he did not keep step while marching with other prisoners. It is said that the kick was of such a severe nature that the plaintiff was forced to undergo a painful operation. Judge Wilcox gave the plaintiff $100 damages.

Supreme Court's Special Term.

There will be no special term of the Supreme Court for the consideration of the habeas corpus cases in connection with Judge Gear's decision in the Goto case. The justices are prepared to hold a special term to take up the matter of the income tax, providing the attorneys are ready before Chief Justice Frear leaves Honolulu on his vacation.

Attorney General Dole has filed appeals in the habeas corpus cases. The following is a copy of one of the appeals:

"The Territory of Hawaii hereby gives notice of its intention to appeal and hereby does appeal to the Supreme Court of the Territory from the decision, judgment, order and decree of the Hon. George D. Gear, Second Judge of said Circuit Court, sitting in chambers in the above entitled cause, said decision being in effect that said Osaki Mankichi was imprisoned in violation of the Fifth and Sixth Amendments to the Constitution of the United States, and said judgment, order and decree being for his discharge therefrom on habeas corpus; and decision, judgment, order and decree having been rendered orally by said Judge on the 27th day of July, 1901. A full and correct transcript whereof and of the proceedings herein, duly certified by Dan H. Case, the official reporter of said court, is on file herein in said court.

"Dated this 1st day of August, 1901.

Pearl Harbor Land Cases.

In the condemnatory proceedings of the United States Government in the matter of lands at Pearl Harbor required by the Government for a naval reservation the Honolulu Plantation Company and the Oahu Sugar Company have filed answers, while an extension of time in which to make answer has been granted the Bishop Estate.

A stipulation has been filed in the United States District Court in which the Government extends the time for filing an answer on the part of the estate of B. P. Bishop et al., the trustees under the will of the estate of B. P. Bishop. The time has been extended for a period of ten days. In consideration of this extension of time the attorneys representing the Bishop Estate have agreed to file an answer directly on the merits of the case, waiving all right to make demurrer.

The Honolulu Plantation Company in its answer denies all allegations in all sections of the Government's complaint except sections 9 and 10. The company declares that the values are not truly stated. It holds a lease on the land in question for forty years and has paid rent in full up to the year 1906.

The company claims to have cultivated part of the land, 635 acres in all, and states that the property is of special and peculiar value in view of the fact that a sugar mill and many other valuable improvements have been made on the land. The land has cost the company $750,000, it claims, and damages to the respondent will be $200,000. The company also claims to have expended $55,000 on the property in the last three years. The respondent also claims the right of a jury trial.

The Oahu Sugar Company admits sections 9 and 10 in the complaint, denying all others. It claims, after detailing the various improvements which have been made on its property, that it has already cost them a million dollars, that they will be damaged in the sum of $200,000 and that $50,000 have been spent on the property in the last two years. It also claims the right of trial by jury.

Mr. Ozawa admitted that the port of Honolulu was one of the most difficult points in the United States to guard against infectious diseases. Nevertheless the health of the community was in a manner in the hands of the Federal quarantine physicians. The speaker was loud in his denunciation of the methods employed by the examiners. He believed they should be condemned. Dr. Cofer demonstrated that he did not have the due amount of respect for women, and his conduct was most reprehensivie and unworthy of an officer of the United States. Continuing, he said:

"The European crew were not subjected to the humiliating examination which the Oriental passengers were required to undergo. Dr. Cofer undoubtedly greatly discriminated against the Japanese. Is his action excusable from the standpoint of duty?" was the query of the speaker.

Loud cries of "No, No, No," from the audience indicated that the throng was in close sympathy with the man who was addressing them.

"Dr. Cofer abused his profession and power in discharge of his duties. He evidently possessed the narrow-minded idea that the Orientals only were subject to disease. I declare that Dr. Cofer is not proficient and acted in a manner not becoming a gentleman or a physician. The apologies received from a man of this character are in my estimation not worth the paper upon which they are written."

Mr Ozawa in closing proposed the adoption of strong resolutions which would be forwarded to Washington, setting forth the complaint of the Japanese people of Honolulu and the Hawaiian Islands.

Dr. L. Kobayashi followed briefly. He expressed confidence in the United States Government and believed that it would do the right and proper thing in regard to the complaint of the Japanese people who were subjected to the alleged indignities by the quarantine officials. Dr. Kobayashi took the position that the women were naturally timid and afraid of travel. For this reason they should have been treated with respect and justice. He declared the methods of Cofer were entirely unnecessary in detecting whether men or women had plague or not. This fact could have been ascertained without the indignities being heaped upon defenseless women who were unaccustomed to the customs and usages of the United States.

Mrs. Ishikawa stated that, while she was not acquainted with the American customs, nevertheless she believed that the treatment of several of her countrywomen called for a complete investigation. Mrs. Ishikawa believed that the matter of protest should not be left to the men alone, but that the occasion demanded that the women also file their opinions regarding the treaement received by the Japanese women at the hands of the quarantine officials. The lady strongly advocated the adoption of the resolution.

Dr. Mori severely criticized the methods employed by Dr. Cofer, from the standpoint of a physician. He insisted that when the women showed no outward symptoms of disease, the minute examination to which they were subjected was positively indecent and vulgar in the extreme. He declared that Dr. Cofer had no possible ground for his action in the case of the women passengers.

Dr. Haida dwelt upon the power vested in the quarantine officers and the methods they could employ in conducting their examinations. He cited the recent difficulties of Dr. Kinyoun San Francisco, and declared that if united action was taken in the matter of Dr. Cofer that official would be removed from duty at the port of Honolulu.

The Rev. Tsuyumue of the Japanese Congregational Church made a strong argument for the removal of the quarantine officials. He advised his auditors not to act rashly in the matter.

T. Onodera, a member of the Japanese Young Men's Club, supported the resolution.

Mr. Iwanaga, a representative of the Young Men's Buddhist Club, strongly emphasized the sentiment of the speakers who preceded him.

The Rev. G. Matokawa, pastor of the Japanese Methodist Church, advocated unity of action. He called attention to a spirit of fairness of the United States to the Japanese. He believed that justice would be done in the present matter. He declared that the treatment of the Japanese by Dr. Cofer was not in accord with the requirements of the officials of the United States, and the error would be rectified. The speaker insisted that if the incident had happened in Japan a mere apology would not have sufficed.

K. Kamobayashi, as a representative of the Japanese Young Men's Club read a resolution adopted at a recent well attended meeting of that organization. The Japanese Club heartily endorsed the action taken by the mass meeting assembled. He was strong in his denunciation of Dr. Cofer.

Mrs. Takahashi, manager of the Shimpo, in a rousing address, voiced the sentiments of past speakers. She then devoted her attention to the abuses of power that the quarantine officers during plague season employed while at their work. The speaker wanted to see the investigation probed to the bottom.

Mrs. K. J. Iwauishi, wife of the manager of the Yokohama Specie Bank, called attention to the fact that the women subjected to the indignities of the officers of the quarantine were women of the higher class. It was claimed that they possessed the same degree of refinement of feelings as their western sisters. The fact they came from a suspected port was no indication that they bore the germs of disease.

Continuing Mrs. Iwauishi said: "No lady white, black or yellow should be obliged to submit to such indignities as was required of the women passengers in the America Maru. There is no woman in Honolulu who will fail to uphold us in our fight in this matter."

The addresses of Dr. Ogawa, Dr. Katsunuma and C. Shiozawa followed in brief succession, and all were of similar strain to those which preceded.

There being nothing further before the gathering the resolution was read and submitted to the large mass of people. The reading was followed by tumultuous cheering. When the time came for its passage the resolution was passed with a whoop and hurrah.

Tom L. Johnson's First Worldly Success.

From Success.

At the close of the Civil war a discharged Confederate soldier, with his wife and family, trudged wearily over the foothills of Kentucky from their little homestead in the village of Georgetown to Stauton, Va., for protection. The family consisted of two boys—bright, cheery fellows. One was tired and sore from the continued tramp over the hard roadways, but the other was helping him as best he could and urging him on to the place where rest awaited them. At the same time he was encouraging his downhearted father and mother with kind words.

"Don't mind, pa," he said; "I kin sell papers and will give you all I make."

Today that boy is Tom L. Johnson, mayor of Cleveland, O. When Tom Johnson told his father that he would sell papers to help him along he was just 11 years old. In the five weeks immediately following Lee's surrender he proved that he had the head of a financier. In that period he earned $88. There was great thirst for news in Staunton, but once a day only was it in communication with the outside world, and then it was railroad. Tom saw his chance for a monopoly in papers and straightway cornered the market. He made the friendship of the conductor of Staunton's daily train, who turned over to him all the papers. For five weeks he held this monopoly, selling daily papers for fifteen cents each.

Marvels of the Wire.

It is not widely known that at the present time, between all important telephone centers of the United States, while the trunk wires are being used for transmitting speech, there are being sent over them simultaneously telegraphic messages without producing any interruption of the spoken words. Were it not for immutable laws of nature, which cannot be varied by man or corporation, you might, by listening, take off the telegraphic message thus traversing these very conductors. What a tantalizing prospect for the wire-tapper! Although these telegraphic impulses actually traverse the coil of wire in the telephone at your ear and actually speed along the identical copper conductor at that time conveying the voice currents, you hear neither dot nor dash of the telegraphic message.—Leslie's Weekly.
