Will There Be Servants in Next Century.

They (i. e., the married couple of the future) will probably not keep a servant for two very excellent reasons, because in the first place they will not want one, and in the second, they will not get one if they do. A servant is necessary in the small modern house, partly to supplement the deficiencies of the wife, but mainly to supplement the deficiencies of the house. She comes to cook and perform various skilled duties that the wife lacks either knowledge of, training, or both, to perform regularly and expeditiously. Usually it must be confessed that the servant in the small household fails to perform these skilled duties completely. But the great proportion of the servant's duties consists merely in drudgery that the stupidities of our present-day method of house construction entail, and which the more sanely constructed house of the future will avoid.

Consider, for instance, the wanton disregard of avoidable toil displayed in building houses with a service basement without lifts! Then, most dusting and sweeping would be quite avoidable if houses were wisely done. It is the lack of proper warming appliances which necessitates a vast amount of coal carrying and dirt distribution, and it is this dirt mainly that has so painfully to be removed again.

The house of the future will probably be warmed in its walls from some power-generating station, as, indeed, already very many houses are lighted at the present day. The lack of sane methods of ventilation also enhances the general dirtiness and dutiness of the present-day home, and gas lighting and the use of tarnishable metals, wherever possible, involve further labor. But air will enter the house of the future through proper tubes in the walls, which will warm it and capture its dust, and it will be spun out again by a simple mechanism. And by simple devices as still remains necessary can be enormously lightened. The fact that in existing homes the skirting meets the floor at right angles makes sweeping about twice as troublesome as it will be when people have the sense and ability to round off the angle between wall and floor.

So one great lump of the servant's toil will practically disappear. Two others are already disappearing. In many houses there are still the offensive duties of filling lamps and blacking boots to be done. Our coming house, however, will have no lamps to need filling, and, as for the boots, really intelligent people will feel the essential ugliness of wearing the evidence of constant manual toil upon their persons. They will wear sorts of shoes and boots that can be cleaned by wiping in a minute or so. Take now the bed-room work. The lack of ingenuity in sanitary fittings at present forbids the obvious convenience of hot and cold water supply to the bedroom, and there is a mighty fetching and carrying of water and slops to be got through daily. All that will cease. Every bedroom will have its own bath-dressing room, which any well-bred person will be intelligent and considerate enough to use and leave without the slightest disarrangement. This, so far as "upstairs" goes, really only leaves bed making to be done, and a bed does not take

VIVE LA FRANCE!

Oh! beautiful breezes of the blue Pacific, caressing zephyrs of our valleys carry to the four corners of the earth that patriotic clamor as today is the fourteenth of July, the national day of France!

The fourteenth of July! That date marks a great step in the onward march of humanity and it carries us back today to an epoch illustrated with the most beautiful legends, built on patriotism and heroism, sacred by the most profound thinkers and most intelligent writers as the birthday of the emancipation of the human race!

Before July 14, 1789, the king used to say "I am the State," and those that dared question his authority or doubt the divine right of kings were thrown into the Bastille without any other form of process.

On the 14th day of July of that never to be forgotten year the much abused, much persecuted and down trodden people of France, recovered from their too long lethargy and, rising as one man captured and demolished the famous Bastille.

Then the people said "We are the State." And the throne of poor Louis XVI began to tremble on its foundations.

That was the beginning of the end. What followed in those eventful years does not need to be repeated here. Every student is familiar with the great historical romance of 1789-1793. The guillotine was kept busy and for months heads succeeded heads in the hands of the furious mob.

The theories of Voltaire, Diderot and Rousseau, had been planted in a good soil, and if they were the causes of much excesses they certainly brought about some good results.

"We hear stories these days," says Bourke Cookran "that France is declining, that her population is decreasing. But who that reads the history of France can believe these reports? If every city in France should be razed to the ground, if every ship in her navy should be sunk to the bottom of the sea, if you should undertake to blot France from the map, you would still find that it would be as easy to blot the stars from the firmament as to uproot the place of France in this modern civilization."

The love of justice has long been a passion of the French. Feudalism flourished when France believed that the most substantial justice was to be rendered through this system; the Kingship lasted so long as she believed the greatest justice could be had through its instrumentality and this system fell when it ceased to be loyal to the truest justice.

Today the Republic of France lives prosperously and vigorously still sending forth throughout the world the products of the brains of her sons—French art, French literature, French architecture, French paintings, the French navy—aye, even the French army everything occupies such a place in the civilized world, that the world bows in wonder before the genius and the vitality of France.

May the French Republic in peace with the world, continue on her march towards progress and prosperity, is the most cherished wish of her sons the wide world over.

Vive la France! Vive la Republique!

THE BOARD OF HEALTH AUTOCRATS.

The demand of the President of the Board of Health that physicians, desiring to practice medicine in the Territory, must be proficient in the English language, is on par with most of the antics of that body. The new rule is directed perhaps against the Japanese physicians who wish to practice here, but the rule is sufficiently broad to bar also medical men of the very highest standing in European countries, who perhaps are not proficient in the English language, from settling here and work in their profession. The president of the Board of Health, who more and more is showing his arrogance, is evidently annoyed at the success of Japanese practitioners here, although we cannot believe that they—for obvious reasons—could have cut greatly into the private practice of the would-be autocrat of the Board of Health. If the rule of Dr. Sloggett is enforced, it will mean that the very best physicians of the European continent would be barred from practicing in this one horse territory, because-forsooth their English or lack of English was not approved of by the great medicine man, who lords it over the Board of Health. Most of the Japanese or Portuguese or Chinese sick are unable to explain their complaints in the English language, and they naturally call on physicians, who are able to grasp the nature of the illness, from which the patient is suffering. If a man cannot speak English, as she is spoke in the Board of Health, he has no right or business to be ill and seek a doctor who can understand him. We commend this piece of patent idiocy of the Board of Health to the special attention of the next legislature. We have yet to learn that a man, to be an efficient physician, must be able to speak English, especially when practicing among people of whom only a minority speaks and understands the English language. It is high time that the Board of Health receives a thorough overhauling, and we have no doubt, that the Legislature will perform the operation, necessary to clip the wings of the autocratic combination, selected by Governor Dole to handle the sanitary conditions of the Territory.

The other step adopted by the Sloggetts' Board, which will receive attention by the Legislature is the exclusion of representatives of some newspapers from the annual visit of the Board of Health to the Leper Settlement. The press is the only safe guard the unfortunate inmates of the Leper Settlement have, and to endeavor to muzzle the principal friend of the unfortunates, is an undertaking that we hardly expected the members of the Board of Health would venture on. Mr. Sloggett seems to have reason to fear the searchlight of the press, when it is turned on the condition of the lepers at Molokai. He does not realize, that it is far wiser to give disinterested newspaper men an opportunity to personally investigate conditions at the Settlement, listen to the complaints of the lepers, and see for themselves, whether there appears to be cause for such complaints, than to compel the lepers to air their grievances in the public press, in exaggerated terms perhaps, and thereby keeping the leper question constantly before the world instead of in the background.

There are some 1000 inmates at the settlement, and we think it just that their condition, complaints and wants should be known to the world at large, and not merely pigeon holed by a Board of Health, which is, or should be, simply the servant of the people. We have often advocated that the Board of Health be transformed into a bureau under the Public Works Department. It is safe to predict, that if such a change was made, and the windy doctors of the Board of Health relegated to privacy, the public would hear of few complaints from our unfortunate fellow citizens at the living tomb on Molokai. The insult offered to the press by Dr. Sloggett and his colleagues will not be forgotten, and Governor Dole, who is responsible for the personal and thereby the actions of the Board, will be remembered by the voters, who, immaterial of party feeling, will tolerate no encroachment on the right of the wards of the people to be heard by independent and unbiased men who, through the press, are in touch with, yes, represent the people.

What's the matter with the H. A. C.'s? Play ball!

Here's to the prosperity and glory of the French Republic.

The anniversary of the greatest day in the history of France.

The H. A. C.'s on Saturday afternoon were told to go "Way back and sit down."

The steamer Noeau sails at 5 p. m. today for Lahaina, Kaanapali, Honokaa and Kukuiahae.

Attorney Hons of Wailuku arrived in the Claudine yesterday. He is on his way to the coast.

Through an accident at the Naval Station one day last week hawsers worth a large sum of money were burned.

H M Ayres, the wellknown newspaper man won the half mile walk at the Athletic contests at Hilo on the Fourth of July, Time 4:30.

When the steamer W. G. Hall left Nawiliwili the following sugar was left on Kauai: K S M 1800; P K 250; W 900. Mak 1150; McB 1100; or a total of 5200 bags.

The steamer W G Hall brought the following freight: Twenty pkgs pia. twenty-one bundles green hides, one horse fifty-five pkgs sundries and nine bags of coin.

Dr. Dhas. Davison of Lahaina presented the citizens of his district with a historic American flag on July 4. accompanying the gift with an eloquent presentation address.

The tricolor of France is flying over the French Consulate, the Roman Catholic Mission and The INDEPENDENT office today in honor of the French National Day.

Purser Ferguson of the steamer W G Hall reports that the Mikahala was discharging at Eleele, the Flint was lying at Makaweli, and the steamer met choppy seas while crossing the channel.

The Band Concert this evening will be at Emma square. Today being the French National Day, Captain Berger has arranged a program of French National and popular airs.

Mrs Charles Richardson, wife of the late Charles Richardson of Hilo, arrived Saturday via the Kinau and will make her home with her sister, Mrs August Ahrens. She is accompanied by her daughter.

The steamer Claudine brought the following freight from Maui ports on Saturday: Ninety packages sundries, seven five bags potatoes, fifty hogs, one mule, fifty-nine pkgs machinery, 2115 sheets corrugated iron.

Mons. A Vizzavona, the representative of France in the Hawaiian Islands will receive his countrymen, this afternoon in honor of the fall of the Bastille. Owing to the recent disaster in Martinique few of the French officials away from France will have a public reception.

The Treasury Department has given a decision upon an appeal of Lilienthal & Co. of San Francisco in regard to the importation of steam plows. The Department holds that they are taxable as machinery at 20 per cent ad valorem. The decision is of interest in Honolulu because of the fact that Macfarlane & Co. have appeals pending on the same proposition.

Some More Smoke.

Kilauea is active again, according to the report brought Saturday by the Kinau. About 7 o'clock Thursday evening there was an explosion down in the crater and a dense cloud of black smoke was emitted to a height of hundreds of feet. Previous to that the smoke had almost died down, and the fresh explosion was rather a surprise to the guests at the Volcano House.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

The Board of Health has returned from Molokai and it is given out by the favorite newspapers of the Board that not a single "kick" has been registered this time by the inmates of the Settlement. No? And how about Judge Nathaniel?

A rumor has reached this office to the effect that before the Board of Health went to Molokai Dr. Superintendent McVeigh was instructed to tell the Lepers that anyone caught giving any information to the Press would be subjected to the same treatment as Pilipo Mikila. Is it true?

Judge Kalua, of Maui has again all of a sudden become over religious. As a result of this zealous spirit that has come over him again, he was the moving spirit in the assembling together of different Sunday School classes from all over the Islands. And the other result of this over zealourness has been the citation, elsewhere recorded, against the parson-judge of Hana, in a matter wherein both of them are no better than one another, although one was caught in the act and prosecuted by an aggrieved and outraged husband, and the other, although he has been caught flagrante delictu at sundry times, was not brought to the bar of justice. Our religious zealots and quondam pleaders of justice do act queer at times and this instance is one of those times.

The love of Home and Country is inherent to the human nature. The Briton, cool and reserved will become wild with patriotism when the Union Jack passes by; the Yankee will cheer his lungs out on the fourth of July, wherever he may be; the sight of his flag will remind the German of his Fatherland, and although a good citizen of the country in which he lives, he will observe religiously all German Holidays. The fourteenth of July reminds the Gaul of la Belle France and on that day he will be satisfied to go without dinner if only he can listen to the strains of La Marseillaise. Such sentiments are very creditable and honor the man who so shows his love to the land of his birth. The man who claims that he has no tender feelings for his mother country is a man without a heart.

Wailuku Y. M. I.

WAILUKU, June 11.—At a meeting of Gulstan Council, Young Men's Institute, held last Thursday evening, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, G. B. Schrader; 1st Vice-President, J. Vasconcellos; 2nd Vice-President, A. J. Rodrigues; Secretary, J. Garcia; Treasurer, A. J. Gomes; Marshal, A. Esos Jr; Inside Sentinel, C. R. Shaw; Outside Sentinel, F. Medeiros; Executive Committee, L. R. Crook, J. A. Potter and J. S. Medeiros; Medical Examiner, Dr. J. Weddick; Chaplain Rev. Father Libert.

Gulstan Council will be installed on next Thursday evening, and a delegation from Honolulu is expected on next Wednesday. A social gathering will be given at the K. of P. Hall on Friday July 18, for the entertainment of the Honolulu delegation as well as invited friends.

A notice to fire claims applicants appears elsewhere in this issue.

Republicans Chose Chairman

At the meeting of the Territorial Republican committee held on Saturday evening A G M Robertson was chosen chairman of that body in place of C C Kennedy resigned. There was a bare quorum present, but this was made up almost entirely of members or proxies. A L C Atkinson and E C Weston were nominated but both withdrew in favor of Mr Robertson.

William Olepan was chosen to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of W J Coelho. John C Lane refusing to reconsider his resignation, Charles Broad was chosen to fill his place. There was some discussion of the call for the Territorial convention, but the matter went over. Towse moved the convention be held here, Crabbe in Hilo, Cooke in Kahului and Fisher in Oiaa. It was decided to hold off for one week and the meeting adjourned for that time.

Resigned His Judgeship.

LAHAINA, July 11.—Hon. Jno. W. Kalua, Judge of the second Circuit Court, caused a citation to issue to Judge J K Josepa to show cause why he should not be removed from the position of District Magistrate of Hana. The matter came up for hearing in the Court House here at 10 o'clock this morning. Judge Josepa appeared in person and filed a written resignation of the post. This hearing was brought about as the result of the case brought by B K Kaiwaa against himself for crim. con. and was heard at the recent of June term of the Court in Wailuku. Judge Josepa was found guilty at the trial by a jury and damages assessed at $1.

This crim. con. case against the parson judge has been of long standing and since it is over, he has lost his job.

five minutes to make. Downstairs a vast amount of needless labor at present arises out of table wear. "Washing up" consists of a tedious cleansing and wiping of each table utensil in turn, whereas it should be possible to immerse all dirty table wear in a suitable solvent for a few minutes and then run that off for the articles to dry. The application of solvents to window cleaning, also, would be a possible thing but for the primitive construction of our windows, which prevents anything but a painful rub, rub, rub, with the leather. A friend of mine, in domestic service, tells me that this rubbing is to get the window dry, and this seems to be the general impression, but I think it incorrect. The water is not an adequate solvent, and enough cannot be used under existing conditions. Consequently, if the window is cleaned and left wet, it dries in drops, and these drops contain dirt in solution which remain as spots. But water containing a suitable solvent could quite simply be made to run down a window for a few minutes from pin-holes in a pipe above into a groove below, and this could be followed by pure rain water for an equal time, and in this way the whole window cleaning in the house could, I imagine, be reduced to the business of turning on a tap.

There remains the cooking. To-day cooking, with its incidentals, is a very serious business; the coaling, the ashes, the horrible moments of heat, the hot, black things to handle, the silly, vague recipes, the want of neat apparatus. One always imagines a cook working with a crimsoned face and bare, blackened arms. But with a neat little range, heated by electricity and provided with thermometers, with absolutely controllable temperatures and proper heat screens, cooking might very easily be made a pleasant amusement for intelligent invalid ladies. Which reminds me, by-the-by, as an added detail to our previous sketch of the scenery of the days to come, that there will be no chimneys at all to the house of the future of this type, except the flue for the kitchen smells. This will not only abolish the chimney stack, but make the roof a clean and pleasant addition to the garden spaces of the home.

The First Local Mint.

One of the institutions here which has the special attention of tourists as well as the local people is the Mint, which is established on Nuuanu street, opposite Queen Emma Hall. It is interesting to enter the large main working room where general manager McDonough and his corps of assistants are at work. The cool and large laial is a proper resting place and the vaults, where the "bars" to be minted and beer are kept present a very tasty spectacle. The Mint is open from 5:30 a. m. to 11:30 p. m. and during those hours the work never ceases. Visitors after looking over the place will find first class refreshments and the purest of liquors.

LOST.

Within the Palace (or Capitol) grounds last night a heavy gold chain bracelet with ball attached. Finder will be suitably rewarded by returning the same to this office. 2250-1f
