Love me not, except for Love.

Love me not for beauty's sake:
This will fade and disappear;
Think what ravage Time doth make
In his circuits, year by year.

Love me not for youth, which goes
Like the memory of a dream:
Youth is transient as the rose—
As fleeting as the summer stream.

Love me not for rank or place:
These are but a fitful dower:
For circumstance confers no grace,
And honest worth is more than power.

Love me not for tempting gold:
This shall also pass away,
Like a tale that hath been told
Like the hours of yesterday.

But love me with a fevor true,
Which shall all my faults atone:
Love will rise, forever new,
When all lesser joys have flown.

If you love me, put aside
Thoughts of fancy, dreams of pelf:
Let each day its wants provide,
And love me simply for myself!

JOEL BENTON.

Correspondence of the Press.

NAALEHU PLANTATION, April 26, 1882.

If, according to Bailey, we count time by heart-throbs, and not by figures on a dial, then has a lifetime been concentrated in a few months, so numerous and thrilling, withal so happy, have been their vicissitudes. Hints at several have appeared in former letters. Hawaii's snowy heights and cavern depths, coral reefs and crater cones, cataracts and causeways, rolling surf and crashing breakers, orange groves and sandalwood, sylvan retreats and sandy deserts, tropic cocoanut and Alpine silver-sword, mountain torrents and fathomless pools, green lakes and warm springs, vistas of exquisite loveliness and deadly loneliness, brimstone fumes and floral incense, earthquakes and thunder-storms, forests with every leaf a variegated flower and roads with every step a gulf to hell, lava lakes, fountains and surf—Mother Earth's heart's blood, interminable wastes of rugged aa and dazzling pahoehoe strewn with bleaching bones combine in living, deathless pictures which come in a flash like a dream of a thousand years. Each district, though differing greatly from its neighbor, possesses an equitable shareof natural wonders, mingling the beautiful with the awful in due proportion; yet, I confess a prediliction for the breast (Kau) of the island, but not because one there feels the loud, bewitching ignipotent's heart throbs more distinctly and frequently. Kau has thebest roads, fastest horses, finest cattle, most game and keenest sportsmen. It is the milk and honey district. For marriage of wild grandeur with rural wildness Hamakua holds all laurels. The cozy cottages in Waimanu and Waipio suggest doves' nests in the angles of forked lightening. Hilo, like a Turkish beauty, usually shrouds her loveliness from the vulgar gaze, exposing only her eyes, whose fringe is weighty with tears that sparkle and glow with diamond dartings; but often she appears as a young widow, who, languidly throwing aside her sombre veil and wraps, discloses charms that drive men wild, while the amorous sun kisses her tear-stained cheeks dry and rosy red. Even staid old gentlemen like Rev. Titus Coan go into transports over her (see his book). Kohala is a medley upon an Æolian harp, some notes being harsh and cold, others mild and life-instilling. Kona brings to mind Corregio's Madona with the skull, but instead of only one, she is half buried in them. Puna fittingly indicates the resurrection and the inferno, for, out of dead aa spring living groves of pandanus, cocoanut, and a thousand forms of vegetable life. The outer darkness and inner hell are not far beyond.

Since Mr. John Buck's departure to San Francisco, management of Naalehu plantation, which includes Honuapo and Waiohinu has been under his assisstant, Mr. Ed. Hopke, and has prospered beyond most sanguine expectations, much more than was anticipated having been accomplished. The mill was shut down on Monday last for extensive repairs, including the erection of a mammoth triple effect, and enlargement of the boiling house and sugar room, improvements in contemplation last December, but deferred from month to month till "a little more cane was ground." All the mill hands are now in the fields, and, as nearly 600 are employed, it may be readily imagined that the 3000 acres under cultivation look like a garden, with cane in all stages of development from the tender blade little more than ribbon grass to that ready for the glittering steel flashing in the bright sun like sheet lightning. New fields are also being broken, and altogether the scene is one of hive like industry and rare beauty. W. R. Castle and Mr. Laurie who arrived here on Saturday last by the Iwalani, with a party bound for the volcano, rode over its graceful undulating heights, expressing unbounded pleasure in viewing the prodigality of nature's gifts around them. Naalehu never looked so well and full of promise. Both here and at Honuapo new buildings are being erected for employees. The mill at Honuapo is also being improved by introducing one or two more centrifugals, another boiler, etc., but is kept running. At this place, Mr. Spencer has built a spacious fireproof storehouse for his sugar, which may here be handled with great facility, there being a tramway and car to carry it from wagons to different parts of the building and out upon a platform on the wharf, where an awning will be erected to the water's edge, thus protecting the sugar in rainy weather and permitting its being shipped uninjured, the loading being done by means of chutes whose lower end will enter the boat or lighter. The system of fluming and piping upon the entire plantation has been enlarged and improved, and additional facilities are soon to be perfected by Mr. Hopke, who also proposes to do some repairing upon his reservoirs to improve their efficacy. Mr. O. G. Rose, a young planter on Naalehu land, who has returned from England with a beautiful and accomplished bride, exhibits an interesting document showing from analysis by Johnson, Matthey & Co., assayers and smelters to the Bank of England, H. B. M. Mint, etc., that Kau land is unexcelled in richness by anything the world produces. Mr. Rose's soil samples taken from different parts of the plantation, caused him no end of trouble in their transportation, not the least annoying, but regarded as amusing now, being his adventures with San Francisco Custom's officers who were decidedly incredulous as to the material, and rather anxious to include Hawaiian soil among the dutiable imports, but were unable to find it in the tariff list. To this day they are uncertain whether it was refined sugar, China rice or opium, and its presence was doubtless regarded as another instance of violated treaty obligations. Subjoined is the analysis: Sesgin oxide of iron, 11.05; alumina, 11.22; magnesia, 2.20; lime, .75; phophoric acid, 1.02; potash, .22; soda, .38; nitric acid, .01; organic matter, 16.00—707 nitrogen, .805 ammon.; combined water, 7.50; moisture, 13.30, and the following insolubles in acid: sesgin oxide of iron, 3.20; alumina, 6.60; magnesia, 1.40; lime, 21.00; silica, 22.82, equaling 100.

The mill at Hilea is in full blast, and is one of the best arranged upon the Islands. A minimum of power only is required, ingenious little labor saving devices being discovered at every turn, and cane, trash, juice and sugar are carried chiefly by gravitation without building the mill in stories, thus giving that desideratum so eagerly sought after, namely, the sugar boiler's commanding view of every department from his place at the pan. The thousand acres of fields possess the requisite of perpetual joy beside that more material essence so coveted by man despite the assurance that its love is such an evil. The view from Makawao's lofty brow, and terminus of the present westerly cane line, commands a wonderful coast line of snowy whiteness in relief upon a blue that reaches to the gates of heaven, whose cloudy drapery is sometimes brushed aside, revealing a glimpse of the inner glory, and tempting one to enter there. It may have been at such a time that the tyrant chief Kohaikalani's devoted people sought to make an angel of him by rolling the log he intended for a canoe upon him instead of hauling it to the summit at his command. History and legend are silent here, but the spot whence the cruel chief gave his orders is marked with a dry flume or chute down which cane is flashed as was the log that, let slip by natives, made them merry and their chief make. The historic spot's discovery is owing to Mr. Chas. N. Spencer's powers of divination, that are something marvelous, a recent instance being his finding the last resting place of another native in that vicinity. It seemed Mr. Spencer desired a field, but its owner was loth to part with it because his father's remains lay buried there, and his ignorance of the exact spot precluded his enclosing it and parting with the remainder. Imagine his delight one day to find in the field a neat picket fence enclosing 5 by 8 feet, with a cross at the west end. Had the funeral rites been performed but yesterday, he could not have been more certain of where his father's grave was, and the field was ceded to Mr. Spencer, with unbounded gratitude; but the latter's attempt to convince us that the soil there was 300 feet deep, the site of a land slide, and uniformly rich from surface to bottom, was less happy. They say it is the last straw breaks the camel's back.

COMMERCIAL.

HONOLULU, MAY 6th, 1882.

The most important matter in connection with the shipping trade is the continued arrival of large quantities of sugar from the other islands, every steamer and schooner arriving with full cargoes.

The H. W. Almy and the Discovery got off for the Coast last Saturday, the former carrying 716,135 lbs. sugar and the latter 1,[illegible] lbs; the total value of both cargoes $133,951.26. The schooner Ida Schnauer got off yesterday with a full cargo, and the Fiona, now discharging here, will load for San Francisco. There are no regular S. F. packets in the harbor but several are due.

The Hawaiian Hotel has changed hands. Dr. McGrew having obtained a lease of fifteen years.

The price of land in and around Honolulu still continues active. On Wednesday the sale of building lots at Kalaokahua by the Interior Department aggregated $5,970.

The Legislative Assembly of the Kingdom is now in session and the various reports from the departments show the country to be in a thriving condition. The total income of the Kingdom for the biennial period ending March 31st was $2,070,259.94 which, added to the balance in the treasury March 31st, 1880, $338,880.44, amounts to $2,409,140.38. The expenditures for the same period were $2,282,598.31 leaving a balance in the treasury April 1st, 1882, of $126,541.65. The receipts exceeded the estimates $299,179.56. The estimated receipts for the period to end March 31st, 1884, are 1,915,251.05; the estimated expenditures for the same are $2,923,860.50, leaving an estimated deficit of $1,008,609.45. During the past fiscal period the public debt has been decreased $97,500, leaving the amount of debt $299,200.

Subjoined we present a table of exports for the month of April, and the totals for the first four months of 1882:

NEGRO LABOR.

In the trying of laborers from various lands, to see if the planter will find any profit in them, it is a pity that the Negro has not had his turn. It must be granted that in many respects the Negro, as a plantation hand, has the advantage of the Portuguese or any other class of labor tried on these Islands. He has had experience, and is a laborer born. He is light-hearted, and better natured than the Portuguese, if we accept the testimony of those planters who have made a study of the latter in the field and in the quarters; surely, this testimony is all-sufficient. He is innured to labor, and is in his glory when in a climate like ours. He is easily managed if decently treated, is quiet and law-abiding. One half of the trouble with plantation hands is the result of their inability to understand what is wanted of them, but with the Negro this difficulty would be obviated. He speaks our language, he was brought up under laws similar to our own, and our customs are his customs. The day he enters a field, he enters it as a laborer and not as an apprentice. He has a strong local attachment, which is an advantage where the same duties are continued for years in an endless round. If a source of population is desired, a more suitable class could not be obtained. If he does not belong to a race exactly cognate with the Hawaiian, he comes as near it as the New Hebrides Islanders, and nearer than the Portuguese, the Chinese, the Japanese or the Norwegians. The expense of bringing him here would not be great, and certainly out of the millions of Negroes in the Southern States it would not be difficult to get 5,000, a number more than sufficient to supply all demands for plantation laborers in these Islands at the present time. In some of the States, the wages of the Negroes are less than is paid for labor here, and he is worth more for general plantation work than any labor except white, and by some is preferred above all others. They would not have to be taken back at the expiration of their terms of service, and no trouble could result to this Government for inducing them to immigrate here. They are at liberty to go where and when they like.

The great exodus, the flight of the Negroes from the South, proves that they are not ununwilling to leave a land when there is a hope of bettering their condition by so doing. The consequences of the exodus were disastrous; masses of people, unprovisioned, unhoused and poorly clad, found themselves like sheep without a shepherd. The conditions which caused this notable hegira do not now exist in that particular locality, but in other parts of the South the state in which the Negro laborer lives is not better than that which caused this notable movement, and he would probably be not less willing than his brothers to make a change of base. Many have left the States for Liberia, Africa, during the last three or four years; and it surely would not be more difficult to turn the stream of emigration westward.

The Negro as a laborer on a Hawaiian plantation ought to be quite in his element; the surroundings, field work and natural products, all are suited to him. He is proverbially happy; capable of warm attachments; finds spiritual consolation in chanting his "jubilee songs;" is not likely to become dissatisfied with a reasonable contract and seek to break it in order to set himself up in business. His chief weapon is the razor; the market is not flooded with these instruments, and even when there are "razors flyin' in de air" they are less dangerous than the revolver of the aggressive coolie.

A judicious expenditure of but a small portion of the prospective "ten millions" ought to introduce Negroes enough into our cane fields to test an experiment which has not yet been tried, but wears a look of promise; and we live in the hope that the Negro quarters may yet ring with old plantation melodies, and redound to the clang of the uncompromising but ever active heel.

THE DEADLY PISTOL.

When shall we hear the last of these too-frequently recurring murders and attempts to murder by Chinese? Nearly every week the news is received from some part of the Kingdom of assaults made with deadly weapons, and in nearly every case the attacking party is a Chinaman. It is a well known fact that the Chinese amongst us possess more fire arms than all other persons in the country, and that they are still the best patrons of those who deal in these articles; it is also well known that they use them more than any other people here.

Rigorous measures should be adopted to prevent the indiscriminate sale of fire arms, and the penalty for carrying deadly weapons made severe. In no part of the world has life been more secure than in these Islands, proverbial for their immunity from cut-throats, robbers and all classes of desperados; but if the arming of Chinese be allowed to continue unchecked, it will in time become necessary for others to do likewise in order to protect life and property. We very much regret to contemplate the prospect of seeing these beautiful Islands metamorphosed into a field of internecine strife, where every house is a fortress and every individual a walking armory. Let the sapling be uprooted! The full grown tree will laugh at our mightiest efforts.

STRIKE WHILE THE IRON IS HOT.

There is probably no question at present exciting the public mind more than that of Temperance, and none of more importance to this community. The situation here is peculiar, and measures are required which would not be a necessity elsewhere. It is not an easy question to meet, but it must be met and handled without gloves; and what is done must be done now. The resolutions adopted by the late Planter's Association was a powerful entering wedge, an unexpected assistance to prohibitionists, and the sentiments there expressed have since been echoed by the pulpit, press and public opinion in a voice that is not to be mistaken. The monster mass-meeting at the Theatre on Thursday evening showed the temper of our citizens, and petitions for a prohibition law are now open to signers. Honolulu is not alone in this matter; from other parts of the group comes the same protest against the sale of liquor. Can this unanimous cry be disregarded? The Legislature is now in session, and they should be importuned to deal with the matter immediately. There is nothing so cooling to ardor as delay.

NATURALIZATION.

One of the most important questions that will probably be considered by the present Legislature is that of naturalization. The provisions of the present law give too much latitude to the Minister of the Interior, the matter of the admission of foreigners to citizenship resting almost entirely in his hands. One thing that makes the question of more importance at the present time is the very large numbers of Chinese amongst us. They now equal, if they do not exceed in numbers, the male adults of all other nationalities in the Kingdom, natives included. One can easily see what a power these people could exert with the ballot in their hands. If a Minister were chosen who favored the naturalization of Chinese, a large number of them could be made citizens in a very short time; at any rate, enough to hold the balance of power in all elections. Such a thing, if not probable, is certainly possible. Any person or persons controlling the votes of these people could, on many important occasions, dictate terms to the Government, for they are clannish in the extreme and will stand together like a stone wall.

And leaving the Chinese out of the question, there is still necesity for remodelling the naturalization laws, as the large immigration to the Islands from various quarters is likely to continue. The power to confer citizenship should, at least, be taken from the hands of one man, and we very much doubt, for numerous reasons, if, as one of the native papers recommends, it would be any improvement to delegate the power to the King in privy council. The law should be made to specifically state who may and who may not become citizens, and leave no question of such vital importance at the exclusive disposal of any person. If impartial naturalization laws be enacted, we know of no provision that would better serve as a check in preventing the privilege from being conferred indiscriminately than that recommended by our Wednesday contemporary, namely, requiring the foreign born candidate for citizenship to be able to read and speak the English language, as this would prevent the admission of an ignorant and dangerous class. All voters should be conversant either with the English or Hawaiian languages.

THE ROYAL SPEECH.

Read at the convening of the Legislative Assembly is non-committal on most points, and as it is published in full elsewhere, it is not necessary to say much about it. The small-pox epidemic, relations with foreign powers and the Royal tour of the globe are alluded to briefly. It states that the flourishing condition of our "agriculture, commerce and finance is mainly due to the Treaty of Reciprocity with the United States," and refers to the matter of Immigration. The "Million Loan" is not mentioned as such, but a loan is alluded to in the last lines: "My Minister of the Interior will ask you to pass measures authorizing a specific Loan for immigration and for each great public improvement, as it may be approved by the Legislature."

THE LEGISLATURE

Was convened on Saturday, April 29th, by the King, and organized for business on Monday last. The sessions have been short during the week, the greater portion of the time being consumed in committee work. The reports presented to the Legislature by the different departments contain much valuable information, and we regret our inability to review them in to-day's issue, but we will refer to them in our next. Some of the reports are yet in the hands of the printers, but will be ready for distribution soon. They contain much food for reflection, and many recommendations advanced by them should receive the earnest consideration and thoughtful action of our Legislators.

Things Wise and Otherwise.

Our two daily cotemporaries seem to be squaring off for combat already.

A gallant policeman, a few evenings since, about 6 P. M., discovered an office door on Merchant street open, and imaginining the place to be full of burglars, whistled for assistance, not daring to enter it until joined by three or four brother officers. They found that the door had accidentally been left unlocked.

The money expended in the construction of the Palace to the present time amounts to $246,509.09. The sum of $80,000 was appropriated in 1880, but was overdrawn $166,509.07., and $30,000 more will be required to complete the building, which all admit must be done. The person who made the estimate of $80,000 for its completion, said to be sufficient for the purpose, should receive a leather medal and the Order of the Golden Crown.

Opening of the Legislature.

On Saturday last, April 29th, at 12 o'clock, noon, the Legislative Assembly for 1882 was convened.

The band was on the lawn in front of the mauka entrance of Aliiolani Hale and the troops were drawn up in line along the front of the building. At 12 o'clock a salute was fired by the battery and the band struck up the national anthem, the troops at the same time presenting arms, as the King accompanied by Queen Kapiolani, the Princesses Liliuokalani and Likelike, Gov. Dominis and Hon. A. S. Cleghorn drove up to the entrance, where the party was received by the Ministers who accompanied them into the Legislative Hall, the large assemblage of Nobles, Representatives, invited guests and others rising as they entered.

King Kalakaua wore the uniform of a Major General and had several decorations on his breast. The Queen and Princesses also wore the insignia of the Orders of Kalakaua or Kamehameha.

The opening prayer was delivered by Rev. A. Mackintosh in native, after which the King read the following address in Hawaiian and English:

NOBLES AND REPRESENTATIVES:

Since the prorogation of the Legislative Assembly in August, 1880, a portion of My Kingdom has suffered from the plague of small-pox. Happily, through the unremitting exertions of the Board of Health, the disease was confined to the Islands of Oahu and Kauai, and in the latter Island it was by strict quarantine regulations confined within narrow bounds. It gives me pleasure to recognize the exertions of the officers of the Government in the performance of their arduous duties during this trying period, which, combined with the willing co-operation and self-denial of the people at large, contributed so much to limit the ravages of the pestilence.

Our relations with Foreign Governments continue in the most satisfactory state. At the desire of the Emperor of Japan, a revision of the Treaty with that country was undertaken, but certain political relations of the Empire with some of the Great Powers induced the Japanese Government to request that the final ratification of said revised Treaty should be postponed for the present, and His Imperial Majesty the Emperor of Japan sent a Special Envoy to this country to explain the situation. I heartily appreciate the enthusiasm of my People on my return from abroad.

During my recent tour around the world, I was received in the most hospitable and friendly manner by the Rulers and Governments of the different countries through which I passed. I shall always look back with pleasure to this trip, and I trust that what I saw and learned may accrue to the benefit of my People.

The figures which my Minister of Finance will lay before you in his Report, clearly exhibit the progressive and flourishing condition of our Agriculture, Commerce and Finance, mainly due, no doubt, to the Treaty of Reciprocity with our near neighbor the United States of America, with which country our main commerce has always been carried on.

What this Kingdom seems most to require to ensure a continuance of its present prosperity is a thoroughly organized system of immigration of families from some country whose inhabitants will be congenial to our soil, to our sub-tropical climate, to our institutions, and above all to our own people. Whilst we welcome industrious families from all parts of the world, experience so far seems to point to the Portuguese from the Azores as those most readily available and likely to meet our requirements, and in view of the circumstance that difficulties had arisen in keeping up this stream of suitable population, I despatched in December last my Minister of Interior, His Excellency, H. A. P. Carter, to Lisbon, to endeavor to remove those difficulties and with full Powers to make a Treaty with His Majesty the King of Portugal. I have every reason to believe that his efforts will be successful.

Such a system of immigration, and numerous public improvements, imperatively called for in this progressive stage of our history, will require a considerable outlay during the next biennial period, and my Minister of Finance will ask you to pass measures authorizing a specific Loan for immigration and for each great public improvement as it may be approved by the Legislature.

NOBLES AND REPRESENTATIVES:

Thankful to the Almighty for the blessings which this Nation has enjoyed in the past, I trust that your deliberations may result in an increase of happiness and a continuance of prosperity throughout the Kingdom.

We do now declare the Legislature of the Kingdom opened.

After the conclusion of the speech the King and royal party withdrew and Mr. J. M. Monsarrat, Secretary of the House at the last session, called the Assembly to order. On motion of Mr. Gibson Mr. C. R. Bishop was called to the Chair.

The House then adjourned to 10 A. M., Monday, May 1st.

LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

MONDAY, MAY 1.

The House met at 10 A. M., Mr. C. R. Bishop in the Chair.

J. M. Monsarrat, Secretary, read the minutes of previous meeting and the King's speech. Minutes approved.

Roll called by the Secretary.

Mr. Gibson moved that a Special Committee of three to include the Minister of the Interior be appointed to examine the credentials of members. Carried.

The Chair appointed Mr. W. N. Armstrong, W. M. Gibson and J. Nawahi. The Committee retired to the office of the Minister of the Interior and after a short absence reported the credentials of each member to be in order and that no protests had been entered. Report approved.

Dr. J. Mott Smith moved that the Chief Justice be requested to attend and swear in the new members.

The two newly created Nobles H. A. Widemann and J. Kaae were first sworn in and after them the new Representatives from Oahu, Hawaii, Maui, Molokai and Lanai, and Kauai, respectively.

Election of officers being in order J. M. Kapena nominated Godfrey Rhodes for President of the Assembly and Aholo nominated C. R. Bishop.

The Chair appointed J. E. Bush and J. L. Kaulukou as tellers.

The vote stood Rhokes 22, Bishop 20.

Mr. Rhodes then took the Chair and spoke as follows:

"Nobles and Representatives, fellow members of the Assembly: If I should say that I am pleased by this mark of confidence conferred upon me it would inadequately express my sentiments. I am deeply moved by the honor bestowed upon me. It is true that on four different occasions heretofore I have had the honor of presiding over this body—twice as President and twice as Vice-President. I now again thank you for the preference over so many others so abundantly capable to fulfill the duties of the office. If I fill the Presidential Chair so well as the Honorable Noble who presideded last session, I shall consider myself fortunate. I will endeavor to hold the scales of justice impartially between all parties, and trust that I shall receive your assistance in making the session a successful one.

S. K. Kaai nominated L. Aholo of Lahaina for Vice-President. He was chosen by unanimous consent under suspension of the rules.

Mr. Aholo said:

"Nobles and Representatives: I return to you my sincere thanks for again honoring me with this position. The only request I have to make is that in the absence of the President, when I will be called upon to preside, that you will give me your assistance."

H. F. Poor was nominated for Secretary by J. M. Kapena, W. A. Whiting by C. R. Bishop, E. A. Pierce by E. K. Lilikalani and A. C. Smith by G. W. Pilipo. Pierce received 25 votes, Whiting 12, Poor 6 and Smith 2.

The President stated that Mr. Pierce was duly elected and he was sworn in.

W. L. Wilcox was nominated for Interpreter by J. W. Kalua and unanimously elected.

J. W. Kalua nominated W. C. Parke for Sergeant at-Arms, and E. K. Lilikalani nominated A. N. Tripp. Tripp received 23 votes and Parke 21; the former was declared elected.

For Chaplain there were nominated Rev. A. Mackintosh, Rev. Kimokeo, Rev. Kuaea, Rev. Kealoha, Rev. Kamika and Rev. Maka. On the third ballot the vote stood: Kuaea 23, Mackintosh 11, Kimokeo 3, Kealoha 1.

Chas. Achee, Palau, John D. Holt, Henry West, John Sheldon and J. J. Kaiaua were nominated for Messenger. Holt received 22 votes and was elected on first ballot.

S. K. Kaai nominated J. Kukona for Janitor—elected.

J. W. Kalua said it was necessary to have a Translator and nominated H. L. Sheldon. Elected unanimously.

Mr. Gibson moved that a committee of five to consist of two Nobles and three Representatives be appointed to prepare an address to the King.

J. W. Kalua moved to amend by appointing one Noble, one Minister and three Representatives.

S. K. Kaai and W. L. Green, Minister of Foreign Affairs, favored original motion. Amendment lost, original motion carried.

President appointed the two new Nobles, H. A. Widemann and J. Kaae, and W. M. Gibson, G. W. Pilipo and J. L. Kaulukou.

J. Nawahi moved that the rules of the session of 1880 be adopted for present session. Carried.

J. O. Dominis moved that the rules be suspended that he might introduce an Act. He then read an Act to authorize an election in the district of Kaanapali, Maui. The bill was read a second time and the House went into Committee of the Whole to consider it. After considerable discussion on the 3d, 4th and 5th section it was moved that the House be recommended to pass the bill. J. Nawahi, Chairman of Committee, reported as directed. The rules were suspended and the bill passed to engrossment.

S. K. Kaai moved that the bill be read a third time to-morrow. Carried. A motion to adjourn to 10 A. M. to-morrow was carried.

TUESDAY, May 2nd.

The House met at 10 A. M. Minutes of yesterday's meeting were read and confirmed.

The member for Makawao gave notice of a petition to tax horses.

Mr. Kalua, member for Lahaina, moved that a bill to that effect be presented in preference to a petition. Carried.

Mr. Kauai presented a petition that $4,000 be appropriated for roads near the Waimea river.

The member for Waialua, Oahu, presented a petition praying for a grant of $10,000 for educational purposes. Referred to the Committee on Education.

The member from Kohala presented a petition from his district praying that Mahukona be made a port of entry.

Mr. Pilipo moved that this petition be laid on the table until a bill to that effect be brought forward. Carried.

On the President calling for Reports, the Minister of Finance presented his report.

Mr. Pilipo was of opinion that one document ought to embody all the reports from the several departments of the Ministry.

At this stage of the proceedings the President announced the following committees:

Foreign Relations—Hons. C. R. Bishop, A. S. Cleghorn, G. W. Pilipo, J. Nawahi, J. Gardner.

Finance—Hons. W. M. Gibson, J. E. Bush, J. Nawahi, G. E. Richardson, J. L. Kaulukou.

Military—Hons. J. Mott Smith, J. Moanauli, J. Nakaleka, G. B. Palahou, S. Aiwohi.

Public Lands and Internal Improvements—Hons H. A. Widemann, F. Pahia, J. Kaunamano, J. Nakookoo, S. P. Kupihea.

Sanitary—Hons. G. W. Pilipo, A. S. Cleghorn, J. I. Dowsett, W. M. Gibson, S. K. Mahoe.

Education—Hons. J. M. Kapena, L. Aholo, J. Kauhane, J. W. Kalua, J. Kaluhi.

Commerce, Agriculture and Manufactures—Hons. S. G. Wilder, F. Brown, E. K. Lilikalani, P. Haupu, J. Kamakele.

Accounts—Hons. F. Brown, S. K. Kaai, D. H. Nahinu, H. W. Lahilahi, J. Kauai.

Judiciary—Hons. J. L. Kaulukou, H. A. Widemann, J. Kaae, L Aholo, J. M. Kauila.

Enrolment—Hons. J. O. Dominis, J. M. Kapena, A. S. Cleghorn, F. Pahia, J. W. Kalua.

Mr. Armstrong spoke in favor of separate reports.

Mr. Gibson said he trusted the House would not take up much time with the matter. What is wanted is something on which to act. The Committees now only wait for the information to be laid on the table by the Ministers. They all remembered that at the previous session different reports were presented. They must be as constitutional as possible, and adhere to the spirit of it if not to the letter.

He was glad to hear protests from the Hon. members against the slightest deviation from the Constitution, but their main object was to get to work. Let us therefore accept the information of the Ministers and proceed to investigate it.

The report of the Board of Health was referred to Sanitary Committee.

Report of the Minister of the Interior was referred to the Committee on Internal Lands and Improvements.

The President appointed the Minister of Finance and the Hon. J. E. Bush a Committee on Printing.

Mr. Gibson rose to make an enquiry. He would like to know what the Finance Committee would do. The expenditure of the Board of Health had been very large, extraordinarily so. He was not over anxious for work, but as a member of the Finance Committee he thought that the Board of Health report ought to be laid before them. If referred to the Sanitary Committee alone it would not permit the Finance Committee to thoroughly investigate the reports. In conclusion he asked the Chairman to suggest his views on this matter.

The President pointed out that rule No. 52 provides that the Committee on Finance have to deal with all public accounts.

Mr. Aholo moved the Order of the Day.

ORDER OF THE DAY.

Third reading of an Act to authorize an election of a Representative for the district of Kaanapali.

Mr. Gibson said there were serious objections to this bill. It should have emanated from the Attorney General and have been presented by him. He could not help but perceive that this special act would conflict with the general law. He thought it regrettable that a Minister of His Majesty should so interpret the law, and thereby forestal the Act of this Assembly. They may have to regret their hasty action in this matter. A bill of this importance ought to have been printed and studied by each member of the House. Nowithstanding that he was extremely desirous of seeing the district of Kaanapali represented, he could not vote for the passage of this bill.

Mr. S. K. Kaai said this was a small affair. It seemed to him that the members did not want to see the district of Kaanapali represented.

On the vote being taken, the bill passed its third reading. This bill will take effect immediately.

The House adjourned at 12:15 P. M.

Saturday Press Supplement, May 6th, '82.

Maui Notes.

The Government Schools in the District of Wailuku opened on Monday last with an unusually large attendance. During the vacation, new furniture has been put in the Union School House, making it one of the most attractive school buildings on the islands....Many visitors have been in Wailuku during the past week; among others: Mr. F. Paty, Judge Widemann, Mr. C. Spreckels and Mr. Louisson.....The English Church has had a new coat of paint, and also a new steeple, making it a very neat and attractive building.

Hawaii Notes.

The three-masted schooner Emma Claudina, Capt. Watson, arrived at Hilo April 22d, being her first trip. She is a beautifully modeled vessel, and will undoubtedly prove a very fast sailer. She is owned by Spreckels Bros., and was built by Capt. Turner of San Francisco, who has built most of Spreckels Bros. fleet that are noted for being good sailers. Her length is 118 feet; breadth of beam 31 feet; depth of hold 9 feet. Her accommodations for passengers are first-class in every respect. All her staterooms have been engaged for her return to California. There is more sugar to go to San Francisco than the schooner can take. She made the trip in twelve days; had light winds for several days....The steamer W. H. Reed arrived at Hilo April 25th. She had been named by the people of Hilo the City of Hilo, as it is only a matter of time when Hilo will be a city. She was saluted on her arrival by a cannon, and all flags were hoisted in town. The steamer is the first one owned in Hilo, and is just the vessel for the business. She will be employed in carrying lumber, merchandise and sugar. She can steam six knots an hour, and is a staunch craft. Mr. Shipman, of the firm of Shipman & Bridges, purchased the vessel in San Francisco to take the place of the schooner Pato, which was lost in November last.

Kohala Notes.

The Kohala Literary Society held its first regular Literary Meeting on the evening of the 27th, on which occasion a very agreeable and entertaining programme was presented, consisting of a very amusing and lively paper on Reminiscences of Travel in Mexico; the beautiful German song "Zu den Walden," effectively rendered; a feeling recitation of Lowell's "The Courtin," by a lady who knows how it is. The paper, which is to be called the Comet, contained several editorials appropriate to an opening number, a gossip department and some illustrated advertisements—the work of the cartoonist. An illustrated lecture by one who "always draws," was necessarily postponed. The Society promises to occupy a valuable field in the community.

The public, more especially the native population, are becoming quite largely interested in the subject of Temperance and the question of Prohibition. It is stated that no less than one hundred cases of liquor—on an average—are landed in this district and sold by Chinese, mainly to natives, the effects of which are seen continually in our streets and elsewhere.

The railroad at present does not appear to compete with the old method of transportation by schoner, as the latter has the greater advantage of being considerably cheaper. One large producer, after careful trial, has returned to the old method.

A new and effective energetic police force is required in Kohala: one whose siestas do not all come just when crime and defiance of law are abroad.

Temperate in All Things.

Editor Press:—The vexed question of temperance, now under consideration in the metropolis, is one that has often been subjected to extraordinary treatment, granting that desperate remedies are necessary in desperate cases. We must not overlook the fact that where the means employed tend to either kill or cure, the means are likely to result in as much killing as curing.

Wisdom and tact, the cardinal virtues of a reformer, do not make themselves manifest as often as is desirable. Not many who go about the world correcting the evils which are universal are masters of the situation; they do not steer clear between the Scylla of license and the Charybdis of fantacism; they do not apparently realize that there is little choice between the howling of harpies on each shore; that if one who has no ear for this kind of music were to be influenced at all by either, ten chances to one he would lean toward license, for license though easily abused is an excellent thing when moderately indulged in, while fanaticism has nothing to redeem it.

How many who preach temperance know what it is in reality? To be temperate in all things does not permit one to be intolerant in anything; we need not fall back upon the time-honored apologies of wine drinkers—"a little wine for the stomach's sake"—the transformation of water into wine at the marriage feast—the wine which was distributed by the divine hand at the last Passover, etc.; we will refer only to the statistics of wine-growing countries. Drunkenness is not prevalent there; it is because liquors are not in common use. One must go to the north of Europe and to Great Britain to witness the demoralizing effects of an over indulgence in alcoholic stimulants. Compare the spectacle of a Sunday in London, where the public houses are closed during "divine service," with Sunday in the south of Europe where the wine shops are open at all hours of the day, and on all days of the week. Those who have seen the swarms of laboring people improving their day of rest by blockading the London pavement in front of the public houses, each with his or her pitcher or mug in hand, and all impatiently awaiting the conclusion of the church services so that they may rush in and quench a thirst which has been aggravated by this delay, can imagine what the result would be if these public houses were permanently closed. A similar spectacle, on a very insignificant scale, can be witnessed in this little capital at 10 o'clock every Saturday night. Those who would not drink because they would not care for it if they knew it was always within reach, feel called upon to take something home with them which will last them over Sunday. A bottle is the most reasonable thing they can take for that will last. I am not advocating the all-night system; we merely state that it is my conviction that many a bottle is passed over the counter before 10 P. M. because most people do not retire at that hour and the law cannot compel them to forswear conviviality on the stroke of the clock.

There is no law which can forbid a gentleman to take a glass of wine at his own table, or to offer one to his friend; a law which shall prohibit the introduction of spirituous liquors into this Kingdom must ultimately prove a dead letter. It will from the beginning be as farcical and ridiculous as the Maine Liquor Law. It will encourage hypocrisy, it will prove a fruitful source of ingenious trickery; the customs will lose largely by it; and what liquor is not smuggled into the Kingdom, will be surreptitiously manufactured on the spot.

It is not likely that the gentleman who has been accustomed to having wine upon his table will permit the gentleman who is opposed to its use to deprive him of this privilege—especially in a country where it is not advisable to drink water which is unfiltered. A temperate enactment of prohibitory laws is advisable at this time.

The same temperance is recommended in all things. When it is thought that a revival of religion is necessary to the welfare of the people it should not be forgotten that religious revivals are in some senses a species of spiritual dissipation, followed by relapses and prostrations. Nothing remains always at high water mark, and when the torrent subsides the banks of the stream are strewn with unsightly debris. Doubtless the soil has gained something in richness by the overflow, but it was not without the sacrifice of an element which may also have its mission in nature, and I do not believe that mission is to be plucked up by the roots and dashed aside to wither in the sun.

R. T.

Renewing Cane Land.

Editor Press:—A correspondent in your issue of April 1st writes: "Heretofore Kohala has been famous for large yields, and for some time the richness of the soil seemed inexhaustible; in fact, some have gone so far as to declare that the land was improving in quality under cultivation, but such an idea has been exploded by late returns from the oldest places, and we see that one planter very practically makes the confession by the use of bone meal." Without pretending to speak by the book, or make unqualified contradiction to this sentiment,—for undoubtedly there is something in it—I may yet express the opinion that if the late manager of the Kohala Plantation were consulted, or his records, as he kept very full and precise records, it would be seen that some of the heaviest, if not the heaviest yields on that plantation, were from lands that had already yielded several crops, and not entirely from the newer fields. Also that these yields were greater in 1876-7, and possibly in 1878, than any of the previous yields from the same ground. The somewhat sudden decline in yields after that, on soil that was, to say the least, no older, can scarcely be accounted for by so sudden an exhaustion of soil, especially as it was the same with soils of various ages; nor does it seem plausible that a variety of cane so strong and vigorous as the Lahaina cane has proved itself to be, could so suddenly decline in sugar producing quality, from mere want of change of soil.

Generally speaking for any given year, locality has much to do with the amount of yield, lands to the eastward showing much higher figures than those a mile or two to the westward, and those below or immediately above the government road yielding much better than those a mile above it.

As to the bone meal, inquiry discloses the fact that it was for application to virgin soil, the planter referred to, having been disappointed in the crops taken from virgin soils the past three years.

NOTES OF THE WEEK.

MR. Dodd has another new buss running.

THE "Native Press" will be found on the fourth page this week.

THERE was no criminal business in the Police Court yesterday.

THE steamship Australia will be due from the Colonies next Monday.

THE Friend for May has a varied table of contents and will be found interesting.

THE election for Representative of Kaanapali District, Maui, will be held May 27th.

THERE will be a meeting of the Library and Reading Room Association this evening.

THIRTEEN passengers sailed from Honolulu for the Coast by the H. W. Almy, and five by the Discovery.

ON account of the space occupied by the report of the Legislative proceedings, much other important matter has been crowded out.

JUDGE AUSTIN sailed for Hilo by the Likelike to hold Court at that place. He was accompanied by Mr. Preston, who will represent the Government.

MOST of the members of the Legislature who were not present at the opening of the Session, arrived in Honolulu from the other islands on Sunday.

"THE Needed Power" will be Mr. Cruzan's theme at Fort Street Church, Sunday morning, and "Moderation: Let's be Sensible and Drink Wine and Beer," in the evening.

ON Wednesday evening last Mr. Dodd took three buss loads of people to Waikiki, where they had an enjoyable dance. A collation was also served at the beach. Everything was free.

THE three Nobles appointed by King Kalakaua to fill the vacancies occasioned by two deaths and the resignation of Mr. S. N. Castle, are: H. A. Widemann, P. P. Kanoa and J. Kaae.

PERSONS desiring back numbers of the PRESS containing the "Reminiscences of Honolulu," wishing to complete their files of the same, can secure copies by sending to this office.

THERE should be drinking troughs for horses in various parts of the town. We do not know of one on any of the streets in the business part of Honolulu. They would be a great convenience and would not cost much.

A FIRE broke out this morning about 4 o'clock in the cook house at Mr. Jaeger's residence near Waikiki. The fire alarm was rung, but before the companies arrived the building was consumed. No other buildings were injured. It is not known how the fire broke out.

A QUANTITY of rock and soil has been deposited on Bethel street, and greatly improves that much used thoroughfare. Rock has also been dumped on the lower part of Fort street, where it is impassable in wet weather, and we may soon hope to see it put in good traveling condition.

IN a previous issue we referred to a change in the management of the Hawaiian Hotel. The Minister of the Interior has sold the lease to Dr. McGrew, as under the former arrangement it was unsatisfactory in many particulars. Mr. Lawlor will retain the management.

THE artesian well at the Aliiolani Hale has turned out to be one of the strongest, if not the strongest, flowing well in the Kingdom. A good stream was struck at 740 feet, and as they continued, the stream grew stronger. It is now 778 feet deep. By accurate measurement it is found to rise 43 feet above sea level. It will be turned into the mains for supplying the city with water.

THE following is the programme for the Band concert at Emma Square at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon:

Overture—Emma of Resburg............Meyerbeer
March—Ulandi............Frayling
Quartette Huntsman's Farewell............Mendelssohn
Polka—Papillo............Pierce
Selections—The last days of Pompeii (request). Petrella
Selection—Olivette (by request)............Audran

NEXT Monday, May 8th, will be the first day of the Loan Exhibition for the benefit of the Library and Reading Room. It will continue through the week, and an entertainment will be given each evening. During the day lunch will be served. A large number of articles have been contributed for exhibition by our residents, and a glance at the catalogue shows that it will be far ahead of anything of the kind ever attempted in this city. The object is a worthy one, and we hope to see the exhibition and the lunch tables well patronized every day.

IT is time to say a word about the blasting at the head of the railroad track on the mauka side of Beretania street, near Alapai. There are several houses near by, and there nearly is always some parties passing—one of the principal thoroughfares. On Wednesday one large fragment of rock weighing about eighty pounds struck the edge of the roof of Mr. Perry's house, and another one fell in Mr. Wall's yard. On the following day, we are informed, a heavy blast sent pieces of rock for several hundred yards from the spot, striking near houses on the mauka side of Beretania street. The persons in charge should take more care, and not put in such heavy blasts so near people's residences.

ON Tuesday evening, the 2d inst., the entertainment for the benefit of the Ladies' Benevolent Society was given at the Theatre, which was filled to overflowing, every seat having been secured on Monday. The opening piece was an instrumental quartette on two pianos. The tableaux were all interesting, and the first one, "Finding of Moses," was excellent, the infant live Moses acting the character perfectly and covering himself with glory. A piano solo was next given, after which the tableau "King Kophetua and the Beggar Maid" was produced. The other tableaux were the "Sleeping Beauty" in four scenes, "From Winters' Tale"—statue scene, "Scenes from Dickens," "Shakespeare reciting at the Court of Queen Elizabeth," and "Electra," between which were sandwiched songs and instrumental music. All of the tableaux were good and the gentleman who impersonated Shakespeare bore a striking resemblance to the great poet. The pantomime "Blue Beard," a combination of comedy and tragedy, or perhaps it might be called a comic tragedy—was splendid. The "Fan Drill" by a number of ladies, which concluded the entertainment was the feature of the evening. A matinee was given on Wednesday afternoon, when the house was again filled to overflowing.

ON Wednesday, the second "evening in foreign lands," at Fort Street Church, drew out a large number of people. The country visited on this occasion was China. After the opening of the meeting with prayer and singing, Mrs. Cruzan entertained the audience with a short but very instructive study of the map of China. It was a lecture in miniature, and the time occupied by the description passed too quickly. Mr. W. N. Armstrong, who accompanied King Kalakaua on his tour of the world, gave an account of their reception in China, their varied experiences and his impressions of the people. The most interesting part was his description of the visits with Li Hung Chung, Commander-in-Chief of the Chinese armies and Viceroy of the province of Chihli. He also related many amusing anecdotes that added to the enjoyment of his remarks. Miss Payson, who has spent several years in China, next read a paper on "Chinese Superstitions and Hindrances to Missions." Rev. J. A. Cruzan next spoke for about twenty minutes on "Christianity in China," giving a very good account of the introduction of the "Bible" into China and the different difficulties encountered. He also spoke of the three principal religions of the Chinese, Confucianism, Taoism and Buddhism. Such entertainments are instructive, and we hope they will be continued and that the interest of the public will continue as keen as on the occasions when Japan and China were visited.

THE following is a record of the Police Court proceedings for the week: John Silva, assault and battery on Noeo, w., sentenced to one month's imprisonment at hard labor, costs $3.20. Leong Ping, insanity, committed to Insane Asylum. Cornelius Cavanagh, assault and battery on Mrs. Abbey, fined $100, costs $3.30. Appeal noted. Puhili, giving intoxicating drinks to native Hawaiians, fined $25, costs $3, or in default of payment, imprisonment at hard labor for fifty days. Kalua, obtaining money under false pretences, found guilty in second degree, and sentenced to sixty days' imprisonment at hard labor, costs $3.20. Appeal noted to Supreme Court. Hopii, driving faster than a walk, nolle prosequi entered by prosecution. Pika, larceny of a bag of sugar, sentenced to two months' imprisonment at hard labor and fined $8, costs $4. Geo. Kahaaina, same charge, remanded until called on by prosecution. Dick Edwards, drunkenness, fined $5, costs $1. Kaianui, same charge, forfeited $6 bail. Anin, driving faster than a walk, forfeited $10 bail. Keliiholo, selling and giving intoxicating drinks to native Hawaiians, fined $75, or in default sentenced to imprisonment for 150 days, costs $3.30. Appeal noted to Supreme Court. David Kaai, failing to support his wife, consents to Capt. Crane paying his wife $10 per month from his wages, costs $3. Hao, drunkenness, forfeited $6 bail. Ah Lo, assault and battery on his wife Kamai, fined $10, costs $1.50. Civil Record.—Foster & Co. vs. Kui, deserting contract service, ordered to return to employer, costs $3; Foster & Co. vs. Kamahalo, Poo and Aio, same charge, defendants ordered to return to employer, costs $3 each; Wm. Smith vs. Chas. Casper, E. B. Thomas, garnishee, action on a judgment for $102.30, garnishee deposits in court $30 which he is ordered to pay to plaintiff, costs $4; Chas. T. Fishel vs. W. G. Rowland, Thos. Sorrenson, garnishee, action of assumpsit for $33.43, judgment for plaintiff, costs $4.45; Macfarlane & Co. vs. Keau, action of assumpsit for $128.04, judgment for plaintiff for $123.53, appealed to Supreme Court. Correa vs. J. Kekuanui, action of trespass, damages $105, judgment for plaintiff for $30, costs $6.20.

TEMPERANCE MASS-MEETING.—The temperance mass-meeting called for on Thursday evening last, packed the Theatre to its utmost capacity, a large number of those present being natives, including a goodly number of Representatives. Prior to opening, the band under Prof. Berger, discoursed enlivening strains from the rear of the stage, thus aiding in augmenting the assembly, which was presided over by Justice McCully, who stated the objects of the meeting to be advocacy of total prohibition, the question being whether Hawaii should have total prohibition, partial prohibition or none at all. Upon the platform with Justice McCully were Chief Justice A. F. Judd, Revs. J. A. Cruzan, Jas. Alexander, S. C. Damon, S. E. Bishop, Messrs. P. C. Jones, S. B. Dole and J. W. Kalua (Representative from Lahaina). Rev. Cruzan was first called upon and was received with applause as were all of the other speakers. His effort proved eloquent and effective. The Chief Justice followed in a well considered array of facts showing that no barriers to total prohibition existed in treaty stipulations with any foreign power, Hawaii being a free and independent nation; also that $200,000 had been expended during the past two years in efforts of preservation of the aborigines, and that exclusive of $100,000 cost by small-pox epidemic among them. Mr. P. C. Jones dwelt upon Custom House Statistics, showing the cost of imported liquors to be $600,000 during the past two years, and that according to the Minister of Finance, 15 per cent. of the revenue during the coming two years is expected to be realized from liquor import duties. Mr. S. B. Dole succeeded Mr. Jones in an able argument. An intermission was then agreeably filled by the band. As is usual sometimes theatre-goers step out to "see a man." Justice McCully seemed to misunderstand their motive for he assured those going that the meeting was not yet closed. Rev. Jas. Alexander being introduced, opened his address by stating that a similar meeting was held in the days of Kamehameha I., who had taken a stand for total abstinence in advance of more civilized nations and rulers. A fine specimen of native oratory was listened to from Mr. Kalua, who was applauded to the echo. Rev. S. E. Bishop urged all to every effort toward the people's salvation, paying a glowing tribute to their social qualities. A motion was made by Mr. P. C. Jones that a standing vote be taken on the question, those in opposition to prohibition being requested to stand first, and those in favor thereof afterward. The Chair after stating the motion in native called for the ayes against prohibition, but not a whisper was heard. When the call in favor of prohibition was made the hall rang with a responsive affirmation.

LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 3d.

The Assembly was called to order at 10 A. M.

PETITIONS.

The following petitions were presented:

Habit.

A teacher said, "My boys beware of everytoing you do.
For acts repeated habits form that long may trouble you.
Form habits that will bring you good and not regret no ill.
For habits like the wood itself, are very hard to kill.
Take off the h, you have abit, and then take off the a
You have the bit still left as strong as 'twas in any way.
Take off the b, still there it stands in spite of all you do,
So habit, be it good or bad, will often come to view.
But if such habits you have formed that are not wholly right
Repent at once and do your best to conquer wrong with right.
Don't pass it off and think twill do as well some future day
To try and do the right for wrong or gain the wasted day.
To leave amendment to the last is something very like
One pulling trees up by the roots when in their greatest might."

Hon.

The Native Press.

[From the Ko Hawaii Pae Aina.]

Some time since, we mentioned the subject of the naturalization of immigrants; and now, seeing that new comers are on the increase, and likely still more to be so, we deem it fit that the law on naturalization should be reviewed. We remember the recent talk, to the effect that when the first lot of Norwegians arrived, the attempt was made to have them all naturalized at once, and which would have been done, but for the opposition of the Heir Apparent.

Now, to allow indiscriminate naturalization, is to squander the right of the ballot upon every stranger that comes along, and the result will be trouble and danger. The privileges of a subject are not to be lightly valued, and should not be bestowed upon any but those who are worthy. For human rights and privileges do not come without effort; they must be valued and sought for to be understood and properly enjoyed. Shall we then lightly bestow our sacred rights upon others without stopping to consider whether the recipient has any proper appreciation of them, or will regard them in anything like the same light as we do ourselves? And what right has the stranger to become naturalized here, unless he first demonstrates by his conduct that he is a proper person? When a man takes the oath of allegiance here, we don't want him to put merely his head in with us, while all the other parts remain outside. We see some who have become naturalized and have families born to them here, whose sole object it would seem is the making of money in Hawaii nei; while all their feelings and desires are fixed upon their own country, the land of their ancestors. This can be observed every day.

At present the Minister of the Interior has full powers in the matter of naturalization, and he may authorize a clerk to administer the oath. Now, we consider the matter of naturalization to be of so much importance that the power should not be entrusted to any one official, or to his clerk. And in view of the increased immigration of late, has increased the importance of amending the law in regard to naturalization. We do not doubt that moneyed men here may be found who would like to have the newly arrived laborers naturalized, so that they might thereby get the control of the ballot box; the very thing which we should carefully and jealously watch ourselves. Every nation regards with watchful solicitude the preservation of its own rights; and shall we recklessly surrender ours into the hands of newly-arrived strangers, and thus enable them to crowd us to the wall?

In view of these considerations and of existing facts, it would appear that the law should be amended, in the interests of the government and of the Hawaiian people; and the authority to grant naturalizations should be vested in the King in Privy Council.

[From the Kuokoa:]

One trouble in this country, is the lack of those who have any real love of the land and the race. The fault is that men are concerned only for their own personal interests, their reputation, and the getting of wealth, and not for the race, or for those who are to come after us. Eat and drink and carouse, and let the coming generation look out for itself, appears to be the thought and the desire of some. If the control of our affairs shall fall into the hands of such people, ruin will not be far off. Our government can be so carried on with wisdom that the national life will be perpetuated; and on the other hand, it can be so managed that we shall be upset, and the name of Hawaii disappeared. In the hands of a man is his own destiny.
