FRIDAY, APRIL 16, 1886.

THE PLUCKY CREEK.

The skeleton in the closet of European politics for the last quarter of a century or more, has been the so-called Eastern question. The existence of the Turk on the west side of the Bosphorous has long ago been voted a nuisance. The persistent intrigues of Russia for possession of the coveted Mediterranean front door to her territories has also been determined on as a contingency to be most carefully guarded against. Both parties have been pretty skillfully checkmated by the powers; the territories of the one being contracted by the erection of new states, and the ambition of the other disappointed by being excluded from their possession. And the process seems destined to go on until the Sultan finds his dominions getting too small to contain him. The plucky little Kingdom of Greece is the latest claimant for a share of the sick man's goods. While other states have been extending their borders, she very properly thinks herself capable of handling larger areas than she now possesses. Whatever politicians may think of it, the sympathies of the world will flow spontaneously toward the Greek. Greece, the ancient home of heroes, philosophers, poets and patriots, pushing her claims in opposition to Turkish interests, will be backed by the moral support of the civilized world, whatever that may be worth. If she succeeds in wresting from her enemies material concessions, in spite of the injunctions of her big neighbors, to keep still, she will have friends enough to rejoice with her. Her being evidently urged on by Russia will make it extremely difficult for British statesmen to decide what to do about it. The Premier, Mr. Gladstone, is no lover of the Moslem. Whatever goodwill he ever entertained towards Turkey was pretty effectually eradicated by the Bulgarian massacres of '76. His opinions of the Turk was expressed with no uncertain sound at that time. His sympathies may be counted on in favor of the extension of Greek influence in Southern Europe. The successors of the heroes of Salamis and Marathon, in this fresh development of resuscitated energy, will show the "mettle of their pasture" by pressing their cause to a successful issue. And if Europe sees fit to fight about it, on Europe will rest the responsibility. Next mail will probably bring news of further diplomatic entanglements, or report progress in the solution of the Eastern question through the only means by which it is generally believed possible to be solved—to fight it out.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

We should not consider "an appropriation to found and equip a technical school" in this kingdom a "misappropriation," that is, a wrong appropriation. Indeed, we should regard it as one of the best possible uses to make of a portion of the public funds. We also endorse the "suggestion" that "the school be established at Honolulu," or somewhere in its neighborhood. Neither Lahainaluna nor any other place on the other islands or this island, can possibly furnish the facilities and advantages for such a school as the capital of the country.

It is "suggested" that the author of the "suggestion" in this morning's paper "should try and understand his subject before he begins to write upon it!" By consulting a dictionary he will be enlightened to the extent that "misappropriation" means wrong appropriation. And then he may be able to comprehend "how there could be misappropriation of public funds by Legislative enactment." Moreover, if he will kindly glance over the article to which he alludes, he will find that it does not contain the word "misappropriation," from beginning to end. The word placed at the top may be appropriate, or it may not; but does not in any way affect the substance of the article. It is further "suggested" that our gifted contemporary has discovered a donkey's nest, full of eggs!

NEWS BY THE KILAUEA HOU.

The steamer Kilauea Hou, which arrived yesterday afternoon, brings news of the schooner Kulamanu, belonging to Allen & Robinson, having lost her only boat at Kukaiau, last Wednesday, during heavy weather. The boat, loaded with lumber, was dashed against the rocks and broken, and the sailors that were in it were somewhat hurt, one pretty seriously. The sea was very rough all along Hamakua coast, and interfered considerably with the discharging and loading of the steamer Kilauea Hou. She was unable to take on board all the sugar she could carry. The steamer also brings news of a very bright light, apparently from a large fire, being seen last Thursday night, between Maunakea and Waipio mountains. It was thought to be from Kilauea, but the people at Hilo did not know anything about it.

LAST NIGHT'S CONCERT.

There was an unusually large attendance at the band concert on Emma Square last evening, including many family parties and a number of men in Queen Victoria's uniform from the Satellite. Prof. Berger and his skilled musicians gave a more than ordinarily delightful programme, the selections from "The Mikado," one of the most recent and popular of Sir Arthur Sullivan's operatic productions, being received with loud applause. A new native piece, partly vocal, "Ka Ipo Lauae," was rendered with rare power and sweetness, both solo and chorus. Out of compliment to the attendance from the Satellite, the British national anthem preceded the Hawaiian at the close. The evening was in itself exceedingly pleasant, a fresh breeze blowing and the moonlight but softly and occasionally subdued by passing clouds. During the first part the slight accident of a lamp falling and its oil igniting caused a little excitement. The blazing lamp was picked up and thrown off the stand, while the flames that caught the floor were, not without a good deal of exertion, beaten out by bandsmen with the woolen bags in which their instruments are carried.

FAREWELL, CAPTAIN O'CONNOR.

The Queen's Own paraded the streets last night, under command of Captain W. F. O'Connor. After returning to the armory, the Captain addressed a brief farewell speech to the company, in which he announced his intention of leaving the country, expressed his attachment to those under his command, and assured them of hearty and continued interest in their future, wherever he might be. The company cheered with a lustiness and shook hands with a cordiality that clearly indicated their appreciation of the Captain's worth and regret at losing his services. Captain O'Connor has been in command of the Queen's Own about a year, and has, by energetic and untiring devotion to duty, brought the company into a state of discipline and proficiency that is truly surprising. The Captain is a brave, practical, experienced soldier, and a thorough disciplinarian, who made his mark and gained a reputation in the public service of other and greater countries, long before he came here; and he now goes to a country—Australia—where special inducements are held out to him, and where his ability and energy will have full scope and meet with their proper reward.

A TRESPASS CASE.

Trial of a civil suit for trespass brought by Ah Choy against Marshal Soper began in the Supreme Court, before Judge McCully, yesterday afternoon. The case arises out of the descent by the Marshal and his officers on the premises of the Tong Hong Society in November last. Ah Choy's private room was invaded on that occasion, and he alleges he was assaulted, and claims damages of $1,000. The following jury are trying the case:—W. C. Wilder, W. F. Allen, N. S. Sachs, A. Young, Jr., E. C. Rowe, L. Way, T. M. Starkey, Geo. W. McLean, G. Brown, C. M. Cooke, T. G. Thrum and R. Stirling. Messrs. Kinney & Peterson appear for the plaintiff and Hon. S. B. Dole for defendant. The trial was still on at noon to-day, without any prospect of termination much, if anything, before the close of the afternoon session.

ARRIVAL OF THE HEROINE.

H. B. M. S. Heroine arrived at this port about 10 o'clock this forenoon. She left Coquimbo, South America, March 10, five hours later than H. B. M. S. Satellite, that arrived here about 24 hours earlier. The Heroine made the passage nearly all under sail, had very strong northeast trades, but fine weather all the way, and made a very good run. She goes to Hongkong along with the Satellite, to pay off, after the arrival of the flagship Triumph. The Heroine is a sister ship to the Satellite, with similar armaments and complement. Of 1,500 tons, she carries eight 6-in. new breech-loading guns, with two Nordenfeldt and two Gardner machine guns. Her complement is 160 men, officered as follows:—

Captain—F. R. Blackburne.
Lieutenants—A. C. Allen, Dayrell Davies, J. F. Lee.
Nav. Lieut.—Ch. S. Needham.
Chaplain—Rev. G. Marwood.
Doctor—J. R. Robertson.
Paymaster—Wm. Newnham.
Assist. Paymaster—C. E. Webb.
Chief Engineer—Chas. Nibbs.
Midshipmen—F. Slayter, S. Agnew, H. Child, W. B. Macdonald, W. Carvick (the last three on passage to join the Triumph).

Lieut. Davies, to whose courtesy the facts of this report are owing, was at Honolulu in the Repulse, 1873 and 1875. Mr. Needham, the navigating lieutenant, was here in the Rocket, 1875 or 1876.

Y. M. C. A.

The monthly and annual meeting of the Y. M. C. A. was held last evening, the president, Mr. J. B. Atherton, in the chair. The treasurer reported total receipts for the month, $441.31, payments, $390.27; receipts for the year, $3,321.04, payments, $3,270.00; leaving a balance to the credit of next year of $51.04. The General Secretary's report showed that Mr. Wm. Noble, since his arrival on the 21st of March, had delivered thirty-three addresses, ten in the hall, four at Fort-street Church, two at the Bethel, three to native audiences, and fourteen at other places. The expenses of Mr. Noble's mission had been borne partly by the W. C. T. U. and the balance had been paid by one member of the Y. M. C. A., but it was urged that other members ought to contribute their shares to reimburse the gentleman whose name was not given, in the amount. In connection with the report of the temperance committee, Dr. Hyde referred to the ravages of strong drink among the native Hawaiians, and remarked that it is "little use for the helmsman to try to do anything while the captain is scuttling the ship." The finance committee reported that three weeks ago, on meeting, they found that about $300 would be needed to square up the year's accounts, and had gone round to collect the amount. With their usual liberality, the friends of the institution put up over $300 in a very short time. One contributor of $50 had told them to come again and get another fifty, if they should need it. On the recommendation of the directors, one voting, and four associate members were elected. Dr. Hyde reported for the reading room committee: visitors, 1st week, 302; 2nd week, 325; 3rd week, 355; 4th week, 612; total, 1,594 for the month. On the report of the nominating committee appointed at last meeting, the officers for the ensuing year were elected: President, W. A. Bowen; Vice-President, T. May; Secretary, R. W. Podmore; Treasurer, T. S. Southwick; Elected Directors, P. C. Jones and W. W. Hall. Members willing to serve on committees for the ensuing year are requested to hand in their names to the directors or to the General Secretary by Tuesday next. It was agreed to have an adjourned meeting of the Association on Thursday evening next, for the appointment of committees and to receive annual reports of officers and committees of last year. The collection taken amounted to $20. Adjourned to the 22nd inst.

THE RAIDS FOR RENT.

LETTER FROM AECHBISHOP CROKE.

The following letter has been received from his Grace, the Archbishop of Cashel, by Rev. William Coughlan, C.C., Charleville:—

"THE PALACE, THURLES, }
"Feb. 6, 1886. }

"My Dear Father Coughlan,—I have just seen and read, with the utmost indignation and pain, the graphic account given in this day's Cork papers, of the heartrending evictions which took place in Charleville, on Thursday last. It is almost incredible that such a scene could be enacted in any civilized or Christian country; and it speaks volumes for the extraordinary patience and self-restraint of our poor, persecuted people, when we find them submitting to cruel treatment like this, not, indeed, without a murmur, for that would be impossible, and much hearty malediction on the heads of their oppressors, but without open resistance to the law, and a determination rather to perish than tamely suffer themselves to be driven, like obscene things, from the shelter of their humble homes. Nine houses have, I see, been ruthlessly broken into, by order of the sanctimonious individual, who holds sway in Sanders Park, and forty-three human beings flung out on the high road to live or die, as chance may have it, by the same plausible and puritanical personage. Little wonder, indeed, that 'law and order' should be at a discount in Ireland, when we find a prominent expounder of the one, and an ostentatious patron of the other, 'thus publicly disregarding the plainest instincts of our nature, treating his poorer brethren as though they were beneath the very beasts of the field, and acting, not only out of harmony with the spirit, but in flagrant violation of the letter of that supreme law which consigns those to everlasting perdition, by whom the houseless stranger had not been 'taken in.' It surely were well that some one would bring this matter under the notice of our new Chief Secretary, as a specimen of humble Irish life, and of landlord rapacity. For my part, I enclose a cheque for £10, which I pray you to dispose of, at your discretion, for the benefit of the wretched and home-wrecked inhabitants of the Glen, and am, my dear Father Coughlan, your very faithful servant.

†T. W. CROKE,
Archbishop of Cashel.

Mr. Quincy Randall, of East Weymouth, Mass. who died a few days ago, made one bequest in his will of rather a singular nature. He was the owner of a number of houses and left to each one of his tenants a year's gratuitous rent. It is such conduct on the part of landlords which lifts real estate into the region of the ideal.

The fearful mortality among the laborers on De Lesseps' canal is indicated by the statement that no less than five cemeteries are open, and that in one of them, opened less than two years ago, upwards of 3,000 interments have taken place.

In Merriam's Life of Sam. Burles, it is related how an indignant man once came to a Boston editor with the complaint, "your paper says that I hanged myself, and I want you to take it back." "No," says the editor, "we can't well do that, we are not in the habit of taking anything back, but we will say that the rope broke, and you escaped."

Young Smythe was passionately enamored of Miss Brown, and was squirming in his chair preparatory to a proposal when the young lady said, "Mr. Smythe, you pass Mr. Thinplate, the jeweller's, on your way home, do you not?" "Yes," he said, huskily. "Well, would you mind doing me a little favor?" "Mind? dear Miss Browne," he replied, with a look of unutterable reproach. "You have but to name it." "Thanks! Will you kindly ask Mr. Thinplate if he has tightened the setting of my engagement ring which Mr. George Simpson left with him yesterday?"

PICKING OUT GOOD ORANGES.

To very many an orange is an orange, the only variation distinguishable being in size and corresponding price, while those who know the difference between "Florida," "Seville" and "Messina" oranges are considered expert. The "Florida Catechism" tells us better than that. We learn from it that there are "over thirty" varieties of sweet oranges, not to mention the "natural stock," which is a larger and handsomer fruit than the sweet orange, and is excellent for orangeade and marmalade, but, being very sour, is seldom shipped north. The medium sizes are apt to be the choicest, and "probably the very sweetest orange that is marked is the rusty coated and rather ill-looking orange, which might be considered inferior by an amateur." Furthermore "The way to detect oranges is to 'heft' them in your hands; pick out the thin-skinned heavy fruit and you are all right." The light-weight fruit is apt to be juiceless, a condition caused either by a slight freezing while on the tree, or, more probably, by the poverty of the soil in which it grew.

All this applies to the sweet oranges. The "kid glove" oranges are grown in Florida from two stocks brought, respectively, from China and Tangiers. Hence they are called Mandarin and Tangerine oranges. Both are small; the skin is loose and easily removed, and the sections fall apart so readily that a lady can eat one without soiling her gloves; hence the name.

Some other interesting bits of information may be picked out from this "Catechism." It is not generally known, for instance, that "an orange that is entirely dead ripe in December will hang on the tree until March, and is ready at any time to be picked and shipped;" while, so far from deteriorating, "the longer they hang on the trees the sweeter they grow," and Florida oranges purchased in February and March are therefore apt to be better than those procured early in the season. Again, the notion that to know what an orange is really like one must go where the oranges grow appears to be a popular fallacy, as we are told that "the orange picked from the tree is no riper or better than the orange on the fruit stall in the north."—[Philadelphia Inquirer.

Insurance,

WHY THE

Equitable Life

Assurance Society

of the United States is the Best Company with which to Assure.

I.—Because of its Safety.

Its surplus is larger than that of any other assurance company.

II.—Because of its Promptness.

Of 1,043 death claims paid in 1885, nearly one-half were paid the very day proofs were received; while of the remainder, the majority were paid within the following three days. No other company can show such a record.

III.—Because of its Liberality and Reforms.

All policies are INCONTESTABLE after three years. All incontestable policies are payable immediately upon receipt of proofs of death. The Society's policy contract is clear and simple, and liberal in its conditions. Its Non-forfeiting Tontine (or Semi-Tontine) policy affords all the ultimate benefits of the full Tontine, and has during its earlier years the surrender value and other material advantages of ordinary life policies.

IV.—Profit.

No other company is paying on its policies, as large profits as are shown under the Equitable's matured Tontine policies with fifteen-year periods. Persons desiring assurance may obtain estimates of the probable results of similar policies, and of policies with twenty-year terms, which are expected to show even larger profits.

V.—Prospective Advantages.

The unexampled progress of the Equitable in the past is the best guarantee of the increasing future value of assurance with the Equitable.
