"BEEF TRUST" LOSES FIRST TEST

W. O. Smith Nails The Tale of Critics

W. O. Smith does not join in the adverse opinion of the opening rally of the Republican party on Saturday night that is entertained by the critics who say it was a fiasco.

Mr. Smith said today: "So far as any statement regarding the meeting being a failure is concerned, with the exception of several disorderly persons, it was the most successful meeting I have witnessed here.

"The disorderly persons were not supported by the audience."

GOVERNMENT SCORES VICTORY AGAINST BEEF TRUST

JUDGE DOLE OVERRULES DEMURRERS OF DEFENDANTS AND GIVES THEM TWENTY DAYS WITHIN WHICH TO ANSWER

COMBINATION OF BEEF DEALERS IS DEFEATED

FIRST BATTLE AGAINST COMBINATION CONTROLLING CATTLE MARKET SEATEN AT ALL POINTS BY U. S. ATTORNEYS

"Reading the statute and the decisions of cases brought under it, I cannot avoid the conclusion that the bill discloses a combination in violation of the statute, under both points of the construction given above, which are, intent to restrain trade in a prime necessity of life with the power to do so, and a scheme whose inevitable and main result is to restrain such trade."

In this sentence is contained the gist of the decision delivered this afternoon by U. S. Judge Dole in the case of the United States of America vs. The Metropolitan Meat Company, Ltd., et als. The first fight in the so-called case against the beef trust has developed a complete victory for the government.

The present case is the decision given in the demurrers brought by the attorneys for the Beef Trust, which are overruled and the demurring defendants are given twenty days in which to answer.

After the preliminary statements, the bill stated that the defendants are engaged in producing and dealing in beef cattle in the Territory of Hawaii and that their business of selling is handled principally in Honolulu by the Metropolitan Meat Co.; that over seventy-five per cent of the stock of the Metropolitan is owned by the remaining defendants and ninety per cent of the beef used in the Territory is and will be produced and dealt in by the defendants; that the defendants comprise nearly all the wholesale dealers in the Territory and if combined can control the price charged for fresh beef.

The charges are made that the defendants are and will continue to be an unlawful combine, trust and conspiracy to arbitrarily raise and lower prices at which they will sell fresh beef. That an agreement has been entered into between them that they shall not engage in the retail beef business as competitors of the Metropolitan and that in consideration of this the Metropolitan has agreed to purchase its entire demands for beef cattle from the remaining defendants. That in consequence of this agreement the defendants have acquired a monopoly over importation, production and delivery of the fresh beef in the Territory. That now and for some time past the prices charged dealers and consumers in the Territory are from 25 to 50 per cent greater than they were at the time the defendants entered the combination.

The principal grounds of demurrer are that: The Court is without jurisdiction; the bill states no case for relief; that the bill is uncertain; that the allegations of intent to monopolize do not set forth any cause of action.

Judge Dole says in part:

'TISER'S VIDA LIE BROUGHT TO BOOK

For a beginning the Aala ratification meeting looked like the fag end of a losing political fight. It was the frostiest political meeting ever seen in the park and the town is full of amusing stories about it.

Vida, fresh from the hissing he got at Wai'alea, didn't dare speak.—Advertiser.

How Vida could be fresh from a hissing at Wai'alea is one of the mysteries the Advertiser alone can explain.

Vida has not been at Wai'alea for the past six months. Furthermore, it appears that Vida did speak at the Saturday rally at Aala. He appeared before the audience as a candidate, and was well received.

TEMPORARY LIGHT FOR MAKAPUU POINTS

Pending the construction of the permanent light on Makapuu Point, Captain Slatery, in charge of lighthouse construction here, has been instructed to put up a temporary light, to burn until the regular light is ready to warn vessels away from the rocks of that vicinity. Captain Slatery states that the temporary light, which will be of the kind known as a Land Light, such as there are many on the islands, will be burning within the month. While of no great power, it can be seen for about eight miles.

It will probably be nearly a year before the permanent light will be completed.

Captain Slatery states that the survey for the Hilo breakwater has been completed and the plans are now being plotted in his office. It cannot be stated, however, when the breakwater will be constructed. There is no money for it yet, and no telling when there will be. The plans will be reported about the first of November.

The Boys' Clubs of Honolulu cordially invite their friends to the dedication of the Kawahao Boys' club house next Thursday evening, October 4, 1906, at 7:30 o'clock, in the Kawahao Church yard. Governor George R. Carter will make a brief address.

Tomorrow evening the sub-committee of the Fourth District will have a meeting to arrange for meetings and speakers for the coming campaign.

A. Fernandez Takes Home Rule Nomination

Abram Fernandez consented this morning to accept the nomination of the Home Rule party for the office of Supervisor-at-Large for the County of Oahu.

Mr. Fernandez was the candidate opposed to Ed. Adams two years ago for the same office and gave Adams a close run for it. He was also a candidate for the nomination by the Democratic party this year, but was beaten out by Frank Harvey, who was elected to the office the year the County law failed.

Harris is admittedly a strong voice-getter, so with Harvey, Harris and Fernandez in the field there will be a lively canvass for the position of Supervisor-at-Large for this County.

"You see," said Fernandez, when seen about the matter, "It was originally arranged that I should run for Supervisor-at-Large on the Democratic ticket, while Frank Harvey was to run for district Supervisor. Then two days before the convention Harvey changed his mind and decided that he wanted to run for Supervisor-at-Large, and the result was that I did not get on the ticket at all.

"In the meantime the Home Rulers, seeing that the Democratic party had thrown me down, and knowing that I was out for the position of Supervisor-at-Large, left that office blank on their ticket. They did that with the express purpose of offering it to me. Last night the Home Rule leaders held a meeting about it, and this morning they offered me the place on the ticket, and I accepted. Yes, I am a Home Ruler now, and have forewarned all allegiance to the Democratic party."

PIIANAIA ITEM WILL BE PASSED

Committee Will Report To Supervisors Tonight

WORK REPRESENTED BY $60 ITEM WAS DONE

FORTY-NINE COUNTY EMPLOYEES AT PILI'ENT HAVE GARNISHMENTS AGAINST THEIR SALARIES

The special committee appointed to investigate the Piianaia item which appeared in the police roll about a month ago, will probable present its report at the meeting of the Board of Supervisors tonight. Supervisors Dwight and Andrew Cox, who are the members of the committee, said this forenoon that they would probably report this evening, as they had made a thorough investigation of the matter as possible. While the committee members declined to give out what the nature of their report would be, those who are acquainted with the circumstances say that the report will show that Piianaia actually did do the work which he was represented to have done, for the $60 placed to his credit in the police pay roll, and will recommend that the item be passed.

If it quite possible that the matter of garnishments of the salaries of various county employes may be brought up tonight. At the last meeting of the Board, Supervisor Archer brought this circumstance up, calling attention to the fact that the salaries of the County employes were, like those of the Territorial employes, garnished out of all proportion. Archer protested that a man who would not pay his bills should not be given employment. On that occasion he was shut up by Lucas, but it is probable that the matter will be brought up again.

An examination made this morning of County Auditor Bicknell's records showing the salaries which are at present subject to garnishment, disclosed that there are at present forty-nine of their salaries, who have one-fourth of their salaries, which is the limit which the law places on the amount which a creditor can attach at one time, withheld from them on every pay day. Of the garnishments three are held by J. P. Loomis, one by N. J. Peterson, two by W. L. Peterson, five by Charles Martin, seven by Q. B. Berry, four by Chas. Herbert, while the remaining twenty-seven are scattered among various tradesmen and others.

FURNITURE At Your Own Price

GARNISHEE LAW UPHELD

The most important matter to come up before the Supreme Court yesterday was the appeal of Isaac Harbottle for Auditor Fisher's refusal to issue a warrant for his entire month's salary under the garnishee law.

The amendment offered by Commissioner Ballentine of the Fourth District allows for a balancing of the committee by equal numbers. It reads as follows:

Amend Section 1, Article 1, by adding: "Provided, That in the County of Oahu the Committee shall consist of an equal number of members from the Fourth and Fifth Districts, the basis being one for each precinct from each district and as many others as are necessary to make the District having the lesser number of precincts equal to that having the greater number, in a partisan sense as the party managers want."

The other principal business of the meeting was the election of a Treasurer. The position was finally presented to W. T. Robinson of Wailuku, it being understood that Mr. Robinson's proxy, Frank Kruger, will do the work connected with the position.

Robinson Named

AS TREASURER OF Republicans By Proxy

Notice was given at the meeting of the Republican Territorial Committee held last evening at headquarters, of the amendment to the rules of the party that will overcome the great difficulty that has existed between the Fourth and Fifth District regarding representation in the County Committee.

The amendment offered by Commissioner Ballentine of the Fourth District allows for a balancing of the committee by equal numbers. It reads as follows:

Amend Section 1, Article 1, by adding: "Provided, That in the County of Oahu the Committee shall consist of an equal number of members from the Fourth and Fifth Districts, the basis being one for each precinct from each district and as many others as are necessary to make the District having the lesser number of precincts equal to that having the greater number, in a partisan sense as the party managers want."

The other principal business of the meeting was the election of a Treasurer. The position was finally presented to W. T. Robinson of Wailuku, it being understood that Mr. Robinson's proxy, Frank Kruger, will do the work connected with the position.

A formal request was made of the Rapid Transit Company to place the notices calling all citizens to register on the street cars. This was not in a partisan sense as the party managers want all persons to register and the vote will be sought afterward. The registration matter is becoming a very serious one as very little time remains and it is possible that all the voters will not be put on the list for no other reason than the impossibility of registering the number eligible in the time remaining.

HOW OLD IS THE JAPANESE PLUM?

The case of Moni (Plum) Yamane was brought up again before Judge De Bolt this morning through a motion on the part of Attorney Cathcart, representing the girl's husband, to vacate the order giving her into the custody of her parents. Judge Davis represents the parents of the girl, who swore that she is under 14 years of age, and have brought suit for the annulment of the marriage on this ground and the order issued by Judge De Bolt was in force pending the hearing of the case.

According to the girl's own affidavit she is over 18, and there is a light on to see who shall have possession of her, the father and mother or the husband. The parents allege that the husband desires possession of her in order that he may take her to Japan, where the court will have no jurisdiction, and the attorney for the husband claims that the parents wish to have her that they may do the same thing. The case was finally settled till it shall be heard on its merits by Judge De Bolt making Attorney Cathcart custodian of the girl till the matter shall come up in his due course. Judge Davis was perfectly satisfied with this way of handling the matter.

The argument of the case in court was very interesting and, according to the attorneys, the case seemed to hinge on whether the girl or her parents knew most about when she was born. Cathcart claimed that the girl's word should be taken as quickly as that of the parents, while Davis asserted that the parents were in a better position to know.

MANY INSPECTORS GET APPOINTMENTS

Governor Carter Makes Announcements Of New Officials

Governor Carter announced today a number of appointments of Inspectors of Election on Hawaii and Kauai. All the other inspectors whose names do not appear in this list on the islands mentioned, hold over their appointments under commissions issued at a previous date. The following commissions were issued today:

H. C. Birbe's Bump OF DESTRUCTIVENESS Lands Him In Jail

A large, well developed bump of destructiveness is located on the northern corner of the head of one H. C. Birbe. It induces in him a wild longing to smash things. He likes to see the pieces fly. The crash of shivering glass is as music to his soul and the breaking of furniture is his chief delight.

But the indulgence in such joys is not always well received by Birbe's acquaintances. Sometimes they object. It is often inconvenient to have a man walk up to your house and throw stones through the windows. It muddies things up so.

Birbe is not unknown to fame. At one time he achieved renown as a politician. He had a cute little way of winning elections that was very successful while it lasted. But the method was not approved of among the best class of politicians. It was crude, some even said coarse. Hence Birbe sits no more among the elect—or the elected.

But he still has friends. Some of them dwell in Iwilei. One of them was Blanche Martin. Alas, she is no more to be counted among Birbe's friends. She has crossed him off her list. His playful ways were too expensive. He did things that grieved her. More, he angered her by thrown stones through her window panes and trying, in a playful moment, to wreck her house.

Blanche didn't think that this was exactly the thing, so she had Birbe arrested. Birbe explained to Judge Whitney this morning.

The judge was lenient. He did not think that window breaking ought to be encouraged. So he sentenced Birbe to the reef.

But Birbe yet has a chance to avoid punishment. All he has to do is to be good for about thirteen months. If he can keep from breaking windows for that length of time he will be let off. Birbe is now making an effort to reduce the bump on his cranium.

ANSWER CHARGES

An answer was filed this morning by the defendants in the case of Arel Nau Hills, through Alfred D. Hills as next friend, vs. William J. Hills and Joan Hills. The defendants, in general, deny all the assertions in the complaint and assert that Mrs. Hills is perfectly competent to manage the affairs of her own estate and that the property which has been transferred to them has been turned over with her consent and under her express wishes. They also assert that the action of Alfred Hills is taken in order that he may be able to claim a full share of his mother's property in case of her death, and allege craft and deceit in his manner of handling the matter.

Mrs. Hills is the widow of Major Hills, who was well known in this city and who left quite an estate, which Alfred Hills represents is being mismanaged by his brothers through undue influence over his mother. The case will probably be a long drawn-out fight through the courts.

HILO WATERFRONT CASE UP AGAIN

Supreme Court Asked New Trial In Old Land Suit

The case of Charles A. Brown vs. John D. Spreckels et al., on the motion for a new trial, was argued this morning before the Supreme Court, but not completed. Attorney Ballou, for the defendant, brought up numerous points on which he declared that a new trial should be granted. Among the points he mentioned were: that the testimony of G. W. Macfarlane should not have been read to the jury; that the question as to how much of the land in Exhibit A was conveyed in the words "sea beach" should have been left to the jury; that the court should have required clear proof of adverse possession; that there was no evidence of ouster as to the land between the high and low water marks.

Another important point which will be taken up during the afternoon is the statement made by the trial judge while the trial was in progress and which reached the jury through the newspapers.

JAPANESE BADLY CUT BY PORTO RICAN

A Japanese living out on River street, was severely cut last night by a Porto Rican. The identity of the latter is suspected and orders have issued to arrest the man.

The Japanese, who lives at the Akwi building on River street near Beretania, thought he heard some one under the house last night. He got a search lantern and threw the light in where he thought the intruder was, calling to know what he was doing under there. A Porto Rican jumped out and slashed the Jap across the face with a razor, inflicting a bad cut. The Japanese grappled the man and succeeded in grasping the hand that held the razor. The fellow broke away but left the razor, which is broken and stained with blood.

The Japanese was able to give a very good description of his assailant and the police think that they know who he is and will be able to arrest him.

SHERIDAN NEARLY TURNED

(Continued from Page 1) and beached there. Though more exposed to the sea than she was in her former position the situation is not regarded as very serious, and it is confidently expected that she will be again floated, as soon as the necessary changes have been made, and brought into port.

The cause of the ship's top-heaviness was the fact that she had on her deck a half dozen heavy boilers and other machinery. The pumps were located on the starboard side, so as to give her a list in that direction. A particularly heavy swell came along and threw her over on the other side, and she was unable to right herself. Those on board were greatly frightened, fearing that she would turn completely over.

The place where the Sheridan is now beached is sandy, and there being no rocks to hold her and for her to pound on, not much damage, it is thought, will be done. Yesterday a very heavy surf was piling in from the ocean, but today the sea is very smooth. The vessel, as seen from this city, appears to have drifted in some distance from where she was yesterday, but it is reported that she has not so great a list as she had.

The other vessels are still standing by. The Buford is some distance out, the Manning, Iwalanu and Iroquois steaming busily about making preparations for the second floating of the transport. A big kedge anchor was laid out last night, upon which the Sheridan will pull with her winches.

The Iroquois, when she came by night before last from Midway, did not stop at Barber's Point but continued on her way toward this port. It was necessary to send one of the island steamers after her to bring her back. When the Sheridan came off the reef the Iroquois took her in tow and started for Honolulu. The Manning did not get away with the rest of the fleet. She got her propeller tangled up in the towing cable and had to remain at Barber's Point until 11 o'clock yesterday morning. When she started for the city, she found the transport again ashore.

The island steamer Nihau, which came in last night, brought with her 200 tons of the Sheridan's coal, and the scow Melanethon is bringing in 400 tons more. This will be reloaded onto the Sheridan when she starts for San Francisco.

WHY CUBA WANTS ANNEXATION

AMERICAN MONEY HAS INSPIRED CUBAN LABORER

HE WILL VOTE FOR ANNEXATION READILY BECAUSE HIS WAGES WILL BE RAISED IN ALL COMMON LINES OF WORK

CUBA WAITS ONLY ON ACTION OF CONGRESS

$120,000,000 OF AMERICAN MONEY ALREADY INVESTED IN THE ISLAND—WILL BE DOUBLED IN BUT A VERY SHORT TIME

While the possible annexation of Cuba is under discussion by the local people, they will read with special interest the article on the "Annexation of Cuba" by Frederick Upham Adams appearing in Collier's Weekly for August 25.

Collier's introductory remark speaks of the article as "A plain statement of facts which point to the peaceful absorption of the Cuban Republic by the country which made its independence possible, and whose capital is responsible for its present marked progress."

A study of the conditions which now exist in Cuba will convince the intelligent visitor that the peaceful annexation of the island republic to the United States is not only inevitable, but also that such annexation will not be postponed for many years. Those best qualified to judge do not hesitate to predict that this will be one of the events to be chronicled within the next ten years, and many keen observers are of the opinion that it will happen much sooner; in fact, they assert that it will speedily be forced to the front as a political issue in Cuba, and that the annexationists will win in the first battle.

A disinterested study of Cuban affairs convinces me that the demand for annexation will come from the people of that island, and not as a consequence of any craving for new territory on the part of the United States. The situation is interesting, and to an extent peculiar, but it is by no means novel. It promises to offer a parallel to the conditions which were developed in the Transvaal, in which the invasion of foreign capital precipitated a conflict which finally wrested independence from the sturdy but uncommercial Boers. There is this important difference—the Cubans welcome the American invasion of capital, and their desire for national individuality does not loom large against their ambition for material wealth.

This is not to infer that there is not an earnest and considerable faction which has for its slogan "Cuba for the Cubans," but unless all signs are misleading these loyalists must give way to the pressure which will be exerted by the hundreds of millions of outside wealth which are pouring into Cuba, and which will awaken her to an active participation in the giant productivities to which she is peculiarly fitted.

The continued independence of the Boer republic held an impossibility when aliens held a large percentage of her great enterprises, employed armies of her work-people, were all powerful in her commerce and finance, and yet were denied participation in affairs of government. In other words, a crisis was precipitated when the owners of the bulk of Transvaal property found themselves checked and humiliated by the voices of their tenants and employees. In this commercial era armed intervention obeys the nod of those who own, and from the moment Great Britain became financially supreme in South Africa the national independence of the Boers was doomed.

If the South African Republic could already a considerable percentage of them is employed by American investors. When the large majority is thus employed—as it surely will be in the near future—it goes without saying that the workers will vote as those who hire them request. Since intelligent and independent American workmen do this very thing at home, it is reasonable to anticipate that the rule will not be broken in Cuba.

Take a sample illustration: In the Ceballos district of Central Cuba there are now employed fully six thousand Cuban workmen engaged in the development of the great sugar cane plantations and citrus groves which are destined to make that section well known. J. M. Ceballos and other New York capitalists, in association with wealthy Cuban principals, are spending millions in this work. Within three years they will have on their pay-rolls fully twenty thousand native workmen. The tariff against sugar, oranges, grape-fruit, and other products raised on their groves and plantations naturally commits Mr. Ceballos to the policy of "annexation" more-over, all normal Americans, and unselfishly in favor of such a consummation.

Before the invasion of American capital these laborers were glad to receive from forty to sixty cents a day. When the issue of annexation arises they will look forward with confidence to an increase over the present rate of a dollar a day, and it is certain that they will not be disappointed. The "Americans" have "made good" with them thus far, and can command their votes not preserve itself against the aggressive capitalism of a country removed from it by thousands of miles away in any way, what shall be expected of Cuba, whose lands are almost within sight from the shores of its powerful neighbor and guardian of the north? The echoes of the Spanish-American War have hardly died away, and the invasion of American capital has only started, yet those alien financiers already in the field have a commanding influence. The real capital of Cuba is Washington and not Havana, and its agricultural and industrial future is in the hands of investors from New York, Boston, Philadelphia, and Chicago, and not in the keeping of the native capitalists of Matanzas, Camaguey, or Santiago.

In any consideration of this great question it is idle to consider whether or not the Cubans are capable of self-government. Beyond doubt they have evinced a marked aptitude as politicians, and have a natural fondness for holding office. They cherish the honors which come with official promotion, and the man with the muck-rake does not go very deep in Cuba to return material which will offend those who prefer to leave rottenness alone. But all this is beside the question. As I have said before, one need not dwell long on the governmental qualifications of the Cubans. Even today they hold their authority only by our suffrage. I am assured that an accurate census of the island will show that the white Cubans are in a numerical minority. Certain it is that they will be in a decided minority within the next five years, and that all signs are misleading, the following five years will find there as many Americans as Cubans.

Those who have not visited Cuba since the war have no conception of the agricultural and industrial revolution which now is fairly under way. At a conservative estimate more than $120,000,000 of American and Canadian capital is already invested in this island, and this amount will be doubled in the next two years. Shrewd capitalists are buying land in tracts of from ten thousand to one hundred and fifty thousand acres, vast cane fields and orange groves are being planted, great plains or savannas are being devoted to the raising of cattle imported from Texas ranges, copper and iron mines are being developed, a network of railroads is spreading over former wildernesses, modern hotels are taking the place of wretched inns, American banks and business establishments excite the wonder and envy of the natives—a new Cuba is being built.

There is practically no restriction on the ballot in Cuba, and since there is every likelihood that the question of annexation will finally be settled at the polls, it is well to inquire into the political predilections of the electorate. For this purpose I will divide the voters into seven classes as follows: (1) Wage-workers in cities and on plantations; (2) negroes and small merchants; (3) tradesmen and small class with small fixed incomes; (4) politicians, office-holders, and the red coat guard; (5) capitalists and plantation owners; (6) American settlers.

It may be asserted beyond fear of successful contradiction that a large majority of the working class is in favor of annexation to the United States. I questioned hundreds of them on this subject and did not find a man who was not in favor of making Cuba an American State. Their reason is based on the purely selfish and material consideration of wages. To them an American is the man who makes money, and that their money is not of their own winning, but a gift which can be withdrawn at any time.

Therefore there is no deep and abiding spirit of patriotism among the working class. They have prejudices and traditions, but none of these war against annexation. As a class they are ignorant and illiterate. The amount of money in their pay envelopes make the stronger appeal to them. Already a considerable percentage of them is employed by American investors. When the large majority is thus employed—as it surely will be in the near future—it goes without saying that the workers will vote as those who hire them request. Since intelligent and independent American workmen do this very thing at home, it is reasonable to anticipate that the rule will not be broken in Cuba.

Take a sample illustration: In the Ceballos district of Central Cuba there are now employed fully six thousand Cuban workmen engaged in the development of the great sugar cane plantations and citrus groves which are destined to make that section well known. J. M. Ceballos and other New York capitalists, in association with wealthy Cuban principals, are spending millions in this work. Within three years they will have on their pay-rolls fully twenty thousand native workmen. The tariff against sugar, oranges, grape-fruit, and other products raised on their groves and plantations naturally commits Mr. Ceballos to the policy of "annexation" more-over, all normal Americans, and unselfishly in favor of such a consummation.

Before the invasion of American capital these laborers were glad to receive from forty to sixty cents a day. When the issue of annexation arises they will look forward with confidence to an increase over the present rate of a dollar a day, and it is certain that they will not be disappointed. The "Americans" have "made good" with them thus far, and can command their votes without using threats or adopting unfair methods. The wage-earners form a majority of the native Cuban vote, and may be counted as certain in favor of annexation as soon as the issue is raised.

The same argument will prevail with the negroes and mulattoes. These constitute fully one-third of the population of the island. The steady influx of negro workers from the Southern States is another factor in the same direction—and annexation holds out that promise to them.

The middle classes are divided, and the same is true of the tradesmen and small merchants. It is impossible to make a forecast of what proportion will be for annexation, but they are numerically small compared with the Cuban and negro voters, and their influence will not count for much when the test comes.

The Cuban and Spanish capitalists and plantation owners are almost solidly for annexation. Every financial interest impels them to take that side, but thus far they have not done so openly, the time not having arrived when it would be politic or advisable. Most of them are financially allied with American capitalists. In all the great Cuban undertakings now in process of development, we find a harmonious alliance between American and Cuban or Spanish financiers, and it is a truism that money knows no country.

It need not be stated that all the American settlers are in favor of a speedy annexation of Cuba to their native country, and they are confident that its day is not far distant.

LAUKEA'S NEW FRIENDS.

The Bulletin recognizes in the editorial columns of the Advertiser certain pleasant statements regarding Curtis Laukea that are copied from the Bulletin of a previous year.

We are not aware that we have ever said Laukea was other than a gentleman and he has always been treated by this paper with the courtesy due men of his character.

The Bulletin is not now and never has been a Blatherskite organ. That position is left exclusively to the alleged "reform" organ which one day says that Laukea is all that is evil and the next puts a halo of the saint about his crown of glory.

The Bulletin stands for fair play and its opponent has backed every form of hypocrisy and dishonesty which it can invent.

Taking Mr. Laukea at the estimate which his present supporter—to beat Brown—has given, it is impossible that he can properly fulfill the duties of County Sheriff.

From the Bulletin's standpoint Mr. Laukea is not the man for the place because the Republican candidate is so far superior. He has occupied the position for years and no successful charge of incapacity, incompetence or misfeasance in office has ever been brought against him.

We know of no man in public office in this Territory who subjected to attack or temptation has carried himself with a clearer record than the present County Sheriff. His enemies have made faces at him for months and years. The fact remains that the administration of the police authority is efficient and far better than a novice like Mr. Laukea could ever hope to give.

Laukea's election will merely satisfy a personal spite. That's all.

BLATHERSKITE NOW AN ISSUE.

How well the Bulletin stated the issue that is now before the voters in this election is demonstrated by the continued misrepresentation of the Republican campaign in connection with the Asia meeting.

The Blatherskite Brute of the opposition raises itself in opposition to civic decency as represented in the Republican party.

The hoarse effect of such a campaign is already being felt by the men behind it. Men who are not active in politics but always stand for common decency and honorable methods are in revolt against such tactics.

These men may not like every individual man on the ticket but they will find no refuge to be harbored into a low order of gutter-politics simply that a few malcontents may satisfy their personal spite by manufacturing truths, advocating disreputable methods and cheering on the political thug.

There is only one purpose and only one end in the campaign now being made by "reformers" to discredit the Republican party. It is to bring defeat to the whole ticket. The sponsors of the campaign may claim that they want to pick and choose with the end in view of electing those whom they think are good.

Men who put up such a plea are either fools or liars. They know it. Their only hope is in fooling the people.

pie. The scheme is old; the result certain.

They claim to like W. O. Smith. They hope for his election. Yet they try to make out that an attack upon a meeting in which he took part does not operate to injure his prospect of election. That truck may do to tell to children and idiots.

The thinking voters of this County cannot be led astray by any such drive put forward by individuals so blinded by prejudice and spite that they lack ordinary sense.

Individuals who believe that political favor goes to the most rabid liar, the loudest Blatherskite or his tool, the Thug, have entirely misjudged the character of the voting population of Hawaii. Ill report travels with seven-league boots, but the voters know from previous experience that the most vicious and contemptible product comes from the section of the community now attacking the Republicans with its usual hypocrisy and misrepresentation.

The issue is clear-cut. You can't get away from it. Are you to let your influence and vote go for Republican civic decency or?

Be handed over to the Blatherskite Brute, whose agent is the Thug? Only one answer can be given by honest men and they make up the overwhelming majority of the voters of Oahu. The campaign is on and every voter must put himself on one side. He cannot straddle.

Editor Evening Bulletin:—Will you please answer me a question through your paper?

On Nov. 13th, 1899, I, in the State of California, took out a declaration of intention to become a citizen of the United States of America, and on said date I enlisted in the U. S. Army as a soldier, in which I served two terms of three years each. Now, after serving six years in the U. S. Army am I or am I not a citizen? And can I or can I not vote?

A man who has served two enlistments of three years each in the United States Army and can show his honorable discharge, may go before the Federal courts and be given final papers of citizenship without proving other than his residence in the United States for one year previous to application, and his good moral character. He must, however, do this before he can vote, and, in the present case, under the new law which went into effect on Sept. 27, he will be unable to vote at the coming election, as the space of ninety days must elapse between the filing of the petition and the granting of the final papers in all cases.

Editor Evening Bulletin:—Apropos of the Advertiser story about gambling at the Old Fishmarket yesterday, I have nothing to say further than this: That I recognize that in my knowledge of the great game of American Politics I am still in my swaddling clothes; that I am not now and have not been a voter in this country since the days of the monarchy; and, finally, that I have no quarrel with either Brown, Vida, or Chillingworth, (or all of whom I harbor nothing but friendly feelings. Verbum sat sapientum.

CUT OUT DOPE

Peking, China, Sept. 21.—As a result of the combined recommendations of the Chinese Commissioners who recently made a tour of the United States and Europe and Tang Shao Ki, vice president of the Board of Foreign Affairs, an edict has been issued ordering the abolition of the use of opium, both foreign and native, within a decade. The edict strongly condemns the vice, and commands the Council of State to devise regulations for the enforcement of the law against opium smoking and the cultivation of the poppy.

Government troops have suppressed a revival of Boxerism in Shan-Si province. Boxer organizations had been formed in several towns in the neighborhood of So Ping Fu of the same men who participated in the uprising of 1900.

DEMOCRATS AFTER REPUBLICAN VOTES

Count On Dissatisfied Ones To Win For Laukea

WILL TAKE THEM TO REGISTRATION BOARD

MEETINGS TONIGHT AT MOILILI AND ON LILIIA STREET—R. BEVERLEY KIDD MAY SPEAK

A gathering of prominent Democratic politicians held an informal meeting at headquarters at Waverley Hall this morning, discussing the registration situation. It was the unanimous opinion of those present that a great many of the voters who had not registered this year had failed to do so on purpose.

"The Democrats are registering very nicely," said a Democratic leader. "Most of them have registered already. The ones who have failed to do so are disgruntled Republicans, who don't want to do so because they are so dissatisfied with the Republican ticket that they don't even want to vote. I expect that they think that by failing to vote they are offering a sort of protest. However, it would be much better if they would protest by voting for the Democratic candidates. That would make their protests just twice as effective. We are going to try to hustle as many of these dissatisfied Republicans to the Registration Board as we can. We are confident that Curtis Laukea, at least, will win."

This unique explanation of the situation seemed to afford the prominent Democrats considerable innocent satisfaction. Certainly, if they believe that the above is true, the Registration Board ought to be kept very busy during the next few days with both the Republicans and Democrats hustling delinquent voters before it.

The Democrats are at present conducting a sort of specialized campaign, holding meetings in individual precincts, taking one in the Fourth and one in the Fifth District each night, at which the candidates of the district in question as well as those running at large speak. It is explained that the purpose in employing this method of campaigning is to give the voters a chance to become acquainted with the candidates.

Tonight the Twelfth Precinct of the Fifth District will hold a meeting on Filha street, below Vineyard. The First and the Second Precincts of the Fourth District will hold a joint meeting also tonight at the Moilili church. It was in these precincts that the famous battle of the giants, R. Beverley Kidd and W. A. Kinney, took place a few days ago. Democratic politics are therefore intense in that part of the town, and the meeting is expected to be interesting, particularly so, as efforts are being made to have Kidd mount the stump.

All prior registrations are null and void.

WANTED. A bright young man who wishes to learn the hardware and general merchandise business. The right party can make a good position for himself. Address in own handwriting. Hardware, P. O. Box 487, Honolulu.

Higher Salaries IS THE RECORD Moore Is Proud Of

Two very weak Democratic rallies were held last evening in the Palama section of the town. There were about fifty people at one and less at the other. When a Republican appeared on the outskirts of the audience the Democrats explained that it was only a precinct meeting.

One man said no notice had been given as the notice had been published in the Advertiser.

Supervisor Moore was one of the speakers. He said he was in the minority and could not do anything. He wanted the voters to send a majority of Democratic Supervisors to the Board so he could do something.

He said that as chairman of the Ways and Means Committee he had charge of the estimates and in every instance he had stood for increase of salaries so that the people could get more money. On this record he appealed for more votes.

Charlie McCarthy was also a speaker. He criticized the Republicans for failure to revise the election law. He forgot to say that only since the last session of Congress has there been any authority to make any revision and a Republican Delegate got that authority.

Registration closes on the 9th of October.

THE KAUIKEAOU WRECKED AT SEA

Captain of Schooner Tells How Vessel Was Lost

SHIP ABANDONED NEAR ISLAND OF KAHOLAWE

WITH MASTS CARRIED AWAY AND WATER POURING IN, CREW TAKES TO BOAT

Captain Kalama and his crew of the island schooner Kauikeaou came in on the steamer Likelike this morning, reporting the total loss of their vessel about fifteen miles southwest of the island of Kahoolawe on Thursday of last week, September 27.

The vessel was dismasted and leaking badly when abandoned by the crew, and is now floating around somewhere in the neighborhood of the place where she was wrecked, if she has not sunk.

The Kauikeaou sailed from Honolulu September 25 for Kohala. The vessel was under her mainsail, jib and flying jib, the foremast being furled. The rolling was too much for the foremast rigging, and within a few seconds of the breaking of the mainmast it, too, carried away, the foremast going overboard, breaking off about a foot above the deck. The boat was immediately rescued from underneath the wrecked gear.

and the crew commenced to cut away the fallen masts to keep them from pounding against the ship's side.

But the strain had strained the little vessel badly, and she commenced to leak, though not to such an extent that the crew was not able to keep the schooner free from water by the use of the pumps.

The vessel, however, was totally disabled, her masts overboard and the water pouring in through the leaks in her bottom. She was drifting offshore and in a dangerous position. Reluctantly Captain Kalama gave orders to take to the boat and abandon the ship.

Captain Kalama and his crew landed in Kawaihae at 11 o'clock Sunday morning, returning to Honolulu at 10:30 today on the Likelike.

The Kauikeaou was of 73 tons displacement. She was 80 feet in length with a breadth of 25 feet and a depth of hold of 8.5 feet. She carried a crew of six Hawaiians. Allen & Robinson of this city were her owners. They carried $2,000 insurance on her with Wm. G. Irwin & Co.

The schooner was built at Ludlow, California, in 1879, and has sailed in the waters of these islands most of the time since she was launched.

R. W. DAVIS IS SUED - A suit was filed in the Circuit Court this morning by S. C. Dwight vs. R. W. Davis for the sum of $295.57. The complaint alleges that Mrs. A. J. King got a judgment from Davis for the sum of $227.42 and that on a writ of error carried to the Supreme Court, Dwight went on the bond for the sum of $395.57. When the former judgment had been affirmed by the Supreme Court on March 8, 1905, he paid that sum over to Mrs. King and has been unable to collect from Davis since.

CAMPAIGN TO BE SHORT AND SHARP

The Executive Committee of the County Committee held its usual informal meeting at Republican headquarters at noon today. Arrangements for the campaign was the principal subject of discussion.

"We will have a couple of meetings next Saturday night," said Chairman Harry Murray after the meeting. "But with that exception we will not start our campaign until next week. Even then we don't intend to do much until the 15th, but then we are going to go at it for all we are worth."

KOLOA TALKS DEMOCRACY

Sam Kalua gave a noon-hour Democratic address today at the corner of King and Bethel streets. He was the only speaker and had everything his own way. In his speech he advised the Hawaiians to vote the Democratic ticket. He also made an attack on what he called the "police machine," charging it with allowing gambling to be carried on unmolested in the city. He also attempted to tell how John Lane had been fooled by Sheriff Brown.

Seeing Link McCandless standing near listening, he jumped on the latter in regard to the immigration question and fearing that McCandless might attempt to answer his sophistries, he talked on and on until he saw McCandless leave, when he stopped suddenly.

SPORTS

CHARLEY HORSE INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL GIRLS CAN WRITE

Hugh Nichol, the old-time ballplayer, and now baseball coach at Purdue University, while discussing odd sporting phrases with some of his charges recently, remarked:

"Did you ever hear how the term 'Charley Horse' originated? It was coined by Joe Quest back in the summer of '82, when I was playing with the Chicago team. It's a race-horse story and it happened this way: Chicago was having an off-day. There was racing down on the south side, and some of the boys took great interest in it. Tom Burns, then playing short for Anson; Corcoran and Goldsmith, the pitchers, and 'Ned' Williamson followed the ponies to some extent.

"The tip had gone out the night before that a horse named Charley was a sure winner for that afternoon. If that horse had any other name I've forgotten it. Those of us who didn't care so much for the jumpers were persuaded to lay down a few dimes by those who did, and we were all in with the exception of 'Joe' Quest. No amount of argument could induce him to bet a copper on that horse. We all got permission to go to the track and all lined up in the betting ring when our horse Charley was due to start. Quest, in the meantime, had been getting some lively chaffing for his unwillingness to bet on what was a dead sure thing.

"The horses got away to a good start and Charley jumped to the lead. Every stride he increased it and through the backstretch he was a dozen lengths to the good. 'Joe' Quest became the center of a ring of jollies. 'Mike' Kelly, afterward the 110, beauty, whacked 'Joe' over the head with his cane, and every man of that dozen or more slapped him on the back and merrily jostled him around in their joy over a sure killing. 'Joe' was doing what he could toward watching the race.

"In the last turn Charley stumbled, went lame in his right hind leg, and the field closed up. Quest threw a fit: 'Look, look!' he shouted, as almost the first horse passed Charley. 'Look at your old Charley horse now.' And he kept it up. The horse finished outside of the money, and we didn't hear the last of our Charley horse the rest of that day.

"It was during the progress of the game the next day that the term came to be applied to ball players. We were hooked up with New York on the old lake front grounds. Corcoran and Kelly were working. Capt. Anson was on first. Quest, Burns and Williamson were playing the infield, and I, Flint, Gore and myself were in the outfield. We had the Giants 3-4 and were at bat. Quest was down the left coach line and was doing a famous job. 'Joe' always was a good coach.

Gore had rapped out a single and Williamson was up. He was a pretty sure hitter, but Gore was a good sprinter, and Quest figured he could go the trip to second and he sent him away. About half way down Gore stepped into a pocket and sprung a strain, just the way the racing pony had done the day before, and Quest sang out: 'There's your old Charley horse—he'd have made it all right if it hadn't been for that old Charley horse.' Gore was nailed, but the term stuck. He had the 'Charley horse' for a couple of weeks afterward, and it's been called by that name ever since."

SEA GIRL SCANDAL

Sea Girl, N. J., Sept. 8.—In the first time in the history of the national individual match for the championship of the United States in rifle shooting on the ranges a scandal has developed. A protest has been filed against the acceptance of the score of Private DeLeach of the Marine Corps, it being alleged that when the skirmish firing tests were held, Sergeant Dehart of the same organization, shot on the adjoining target, and purposely shot at DeLeach's target to aid him. In proof of this, the fact is cited that DeLeach had a total of 95 while Dehart only had 19 points to his credit. The umpire has ordered that DeLeach shoot another skirmish run on Monday.

The 800 and 1000 yard stages remain to be completed and these will be finished on Monday when the match will end and the winner of the $1000 in cash and gold medals will be announced. Lieutenant Dillon of the corps of engineers, now leads with a score of 220, but Private De Leach, against whom the protest is made, is but one point behind, and Captain Lyman also of the marine corps is but a point behind DeLeach.

The scores of the highest men are as follows: Lieutenant Dillon, corps engineers, 230; Private DeLeach, U. S. marine corps, 229; Captain Lyman, U. S. M. C., 228; Sergeant Scott, U. S. M. C., 221; Sergeant Jackson, Oregon, 219; Private Stevens, New York, 218; Lieutenant Mamma, Second United States Cavalry, 217; Corporal Brass, Montana, 215.

The prolongation of the match until next week does not please the camp and a good many of the teams departed for home. The representations who marched away were: Alabama, Wisconsin, West Virginia, Vermont, Maryland, Michigan, Delaware, Missouri, Rhode Island, Virginia, New York and the District of Columbia.

GOVERNMENT SCORES

The demurrers say that the bill sets forth no cause of action. It is true that the statute under which this case is brought does not make the attempt to monopolize or the act of monopolizing the trade or commerce in a Territory an offense, but it declares a combination or conspiracy in restraint of trade or commerce in a Territory to be illegal and provides punishment for such conduct.

An important ground of demurrer, referred to in the third part of the above summary, is that the bill is uncertain in that it does not state what means have been taken to carry out the alleged unlawful combination. It appears that it is not necessary to say in a bill for the enforcement of the act that any means have been taken to carry out the objects of the unlawful combination, trust and conspiracy charged. It is sufficient if it is shown that a combination in direct restraint of trade or commerce, with sufficient powers for the accomplishment of such object, has been entered into.

"The law says a contract combination in form of trust or otherwise, or conspiracy in restraint of trade or commerce in any Territory is illegal; it is not necessary to show that any such conspiracy is in active operation. The mere existence of such a combination and the power acquired by the holding of a company as its trustee constitute a menace to the freedom of commerce.

"The defendants' briefs are voluminous and able, and I have given them careful study, and have tried to do justice to their contentions and authorities under the demurrers so far as the time at my disposal has allowed. I have neglected to deal with some minor points, not deeming their consideration necessary to the disposition of the case. But reading the statute and the decisions of cases brought under it, I cannot avoid the conclusion that the bill discloses a combination in violation of the statute, under both points of the construction given above, which are, intent to restrain trade in a prime necessity of life with power to do so, and a scheme whose inevitable and main result is to restrain such trade.

"Congress, under the influence of a widespread tendency to combine great business interests for the object of removing competition and thereby controlling prices, enacted the anti-trust act and the succeeding acts, increasing its efficiency, to check and prevent such operations and to protect both the consumer and the independent dealer and producer from their injurious and arbitrary influences. It intended to make the act positive and sweeping in order effectively to put an end to the evil against which the statute was enacted.

MILLIONS FOR WATER

New York, Sept. 15.—That the commissioners of the new board of water supply already have 547 engineers at work doing preliminary work for carrying out the $161,000,000 enterprise for increasing the water supply of this city was revealed today at a meeting of the commission. It was asserted that the work when completed would be more gigantic than even the building of the Panama canal. No time will be lost in pushing the work, and it is predicted that within three years 60,000,000 gallons of water daily will be added to the city's supply.

This 60,000,000 gallons of additional water supply will be acquired by building part of the aqueduct around Hunter's brook and Shop river, and a tunnel beneath the Hudson river which with its approaches, will be six miles long. It probably will extend from Old Cro' Nest to Bull Mountain, passing beneath Little Stony Point, a short distance north of Cold Springs. Within six years fifty-eight miles of aqueduct, from Kenilworth reservoir to Ashokan dam, will be completed, thus adding 250,000,000 gallons of water daily to the city's supply. This Ashokan dam will be 200 feet high.

WEEKLY WEATHER BULLETIN

(For the week ending September 29.)

HONOLULU, T. H., October 1, 1906. GENERAL SUMMARY.

The total rainfall for the week was very light on all the islands. The greatest amount reported at any station was 45 inch on Hawaii, 32 inch on Maui, 58 inch on Oahu, 86 inch on Kauai, and 50 inch on Molokai. All stations on Hawaii, Oahu, Kauai, and Molokai report less rainfall than during the preceding week, excepting +20 inch at Honokaa, Hawaii, +03 inch at Honolulu, and +07 at Koloa, Kauai. In the Waialuku district of Maui the amount of rainfall was the same, or slightly more than last week, and less to the eastward of the Waialuku district. The greatest deficiencies, ranging from 1.06 to 2.14 inches, were reported from the southwestern portion of the Kona district of Hawaii, and the Koolau district of Maui.

The mean temperatures for the week were higher than those of the preceding one at all stations, excepting those in the eastern portion of the Puna district, and at Paauilo, and Waimea, Hawaii, and Waialua, Oahu, where they were from .2' to 1.8' lower, and Makaweli, Kauai, where it was the same. In the northern portion of the Kohala, eastern portion of the Hilo, and the southwestern portion of the Kona districts of Hawaii, the Koolau, and Hamakua districts, of Maui, in southeastern Molokai, in east central Kauai, and at Honolulu, and Waialua, Oahu, the changes ranged from +1.0' to 2.0'.

The following table shows the weekly averages of temperature and rainfall for the principal islands and for the Group:

Table with columns: TEMPERATURE, RAINFALL. Rows: Hawaii, Maui, Oahu, Kauai, Molokai, Entire Group.

At the local office of the U. S. Weather Bureau in Honolulu, the maximum temperature was 85°, minimum 72°, and mean 79.3°. 1.4' above the normal for the week, and 1.0' higher than that of the preceding week. Measurable rainfall occurred on the last two days, and amounted to .13 inch, .03 inch more than last week's, and .15 inch less than the normal. The mean cloudiness was 4.10; average relative humidity, 66%; and the prevailing direction of wind was north-east, with an average hourly velocity of 7.7 miles.

AMUNDSEN IS HOME

Seattle, Sept. 15.—Captain Roal D. Amundsen, the discoverer of the north-west passage, reached Seattle today on the steamship Saratoga from Nome. He was met by a committee of the Chamber of Commerce and the local Norwegian societies.

Owing to his desire to reach the Government observatory at Sitka in order to complete his magnetic observations, Captain Amundsen sailed on the steamer Jefferson at 9 o'clock.

"My observations extend over a period of three years and it will take three years to calculate them out," said he. "Until that time it is utterly impossible to say what I have accomplished by my observations. I believe, however, that I have located the north magnetic pole. I cannot say as yet whether it is a shifting point or extends over a large area. We also took careful observations of the aurora borealis, and I believe my observations will show that this phenomenon had a marked effect on the compass. Our zoological and ethnological collection has been carefully attended to and is fairly complete."

Valuable scientific instruments used by Captain Amundsen in making observations were left behind. It was at first thought they were stolen, but he later stated he had probably left them in Nome.

Their loss may seriously interfere with his magnetic observations.

GRAND OPERA SEASON

New York, Sept. 11.—Heinrich Conried, director of the Metropolitan Opera House, returned to New York today from Europe and outlined the presentation of twenty-six operas, for which an expenditure of $250,000 has been made to provide scores, costumes, scenery and properties, this being made necessary by the loss of the old properties in the San Francisco earthquake and fire.

Carnio, Conried's leading tenor, will appear this winter in six new parts, singing in "Fedora," "L'Arlecchino," "Adrienne Lecouvreur," "Madame Butterfly" and "Manon." Another feature of the season will be the presentation of Richard Strauss' "Salome."

Among the new sopranos are G. Farrar, Lina Cavalieri, Catherine Fleischner-Edel, Rita Fornia (a California girl), and Bertha Moreno.

Among last year's artists who have been engaged are Beasie Abbott, Bella Alden, Emma Eames, Olive Fremstad, Marcelle Sembrich, Milka Ternina and Marion Weed, Louise Homer, Ernestine Schumann-Heink and Josephine Jacoby. Among the new artists in Kirkby-Lunn.

Besides Carnio, Alois Burgstaller, Andreas Dippel and others of the old tenors who have been retained, Conried has engaged Carl Burrian, Chas. Bousellere and F. Soubyran.

LABEL PURE FOOD

New York, Sept. 19.—At today's session of the special commission on rules and regulations for the enforcement of the pure food and drug act, Commissioner James I. Gerry read the tentative regulations prepared by the commission regarding the use of the label. These regulations provide that the principal label shall be printed in English with or without a foreign label in addition. The substance, manufacturer and place of production shall be conspicuously stated. If the package contains more than one substance, and only one substance is designated on the label, it is a misbranding. It was also announced that the law will not go into effect in the case where the labels are already in hand until July 1, 1907.

A representative of the American wine manufacturers entered a protest against any rule requiring that champagne manufactured here by carbonated process be labeled "carbonated champagne." He declared "champagne" was a general term of a kind of wine and should not be restricted in use as proposed.

STRANGE MUSICALITIES ARE HEARD

Had you been near the Orpheum theatre last evening you would have been worried as to what was going on within. From what one could guess, it might have been a military band or orchestra, but strange, each man played on an instrument separately, and you waited to hear them all play together, but they didn't, for the "they" was just one man, and that man was "Vaseco," the mad musician, who plays all the different instruments. The entire program was gone through with last evening and augured well for Thursday and Saturday nights of this week, when the performance will take place. Alexandra and Bertie flew around at will on the ladders, and didn't seem to have the least fear of falling. They're so alert the chances are they couldn't fall if they tried to.

PRINCETON BOOZE

New York, Sept. 7.—The Nassau Inn barroom and grill rooms were opened at Princeton today for the patronage of undergraduates of the New Jersey University. Liquor is sold there as in any saloon. Coincident with the opening came a heated declaration from Mrs. J. C. Bleckford, president of the Princeton Woman's Christian Temperance Union, that the new saloon is owned and operated by Henry C. Bunn, curator of the ground and buildings of the university. It was also announced that President Woodrow Wilson would be appealed to immediately on his return from Europe in an effort to prevent any official of the university from being affiliated with the operation of the drinking resort.
