EXCURSION ON MONDAY

The steamer Maui will leave this city at noon Monday on a special excursion to the volcanic flows. She will stop at Maui and pick up more passengers, as word has been received here that there are over 100 people on that island who wish accommodations on her.

The Claudine will take an excursion from Hilo tomorrow and then will return to her regular run.

The Mauna Loa leaves on her regular trip on Tuesday and so many have prepared to make the week's excursion that at noon today every stateroom had been filled and there were many applications for mattress accommodation. The Kihua is in almost the same shape for accommodations and the Volcano House will be crowded to the doors.

COFFEE SHOP AT FLOW

Harry T. Mills received a letter from a Kona friend who says that an enterprising Japanese of Kealahou has started a coffee shop at the edge of the lava flow and is doing a rushing business.

Scott Is Going To Formosa

James Scott has resigned as manager of Kihel plantation on the island of Maui, to take effect immediately. Mr. Scott leaves Kihel to accept a position with the Honolulu Iron Works as its representative in Formosa. He will have charge of the erection of the two mills for which contracts were recently awarded.

JAMES SCOTT Has Resigned as Manager of Kihel to go to Formosa for Honolulu Iron Works

Mr. Scott has made a signal success of the management of Kihel and it is understood that the directors of the corporation refused to accept his resignation. But Scott has accepted the new position. The plantation is in better condition than ever before. It is not known who will take Mr. Scott's place as manager, but it is hoped the directors will see fit to make a general advance of the men who have worked with him in bringing the property to its present state of yield.

IS MASS OF FIRE

Word received this morning by the Kihua states that the pit at Kihua is one mass of fire and that the sight is the finest which has ever been seen from there. A great many people have looked on the Kihua up and will stop over at the Volcano House, taking the Mauna Loa back at Honouliuli on Sunday.

PECK IS OFFERED PLACE OF WIGHT

May Accept Commission On Education Board

COMMITTEE FORMED TO STUDY OUR SCHOOLS

PROMINENT EDUCATORS ARE ELECTED TO ACTIVE MEMBERSHIP AT MEETING LAST NIGHT

It is understood that the place of Commissioner of Public Instruction which was left vacant by the resignation of C. L. Wight has been offered to L. Tenney Peck, the cashier of the First National Bank, but that Peck has not yet made his decision as to whether or he will accept the proffered honor or not. When seen he declined to discuss the matter. This silence is in itself fraught with significance, as he would of course have denied the report had there been nothing in it. It is probable that he felt that it would not be the proper thing for him to give out anything about the matter before he had notified the Governor of his decision as to whether he would accept the commission or not.

Peck recently became interested in educational matters by his appointment as chairman of the commission which the Civic Federation fathered and which has for its object a study of educational affairs.

The commission held a meeting last night at which it organized and selected its active membership, as follows: L. T. Peck, chairman; C. Perley Horne, principal of the Kanehahoua Schools; secretary; Clarence H. Cooke, who is one of the Oahu College trustees; A. F. Griffiths, principal of Oahu College; Brother Henry, principal of St. Louis College; Rev. Alex. Mackintosh, principal of the Royal School; Edgar Wood, principal of the Normal School; Professor Scott, principal of the High School; E. A. Mott-Smith, who some years ago was in charge of the Department of Education; Mrs. L. L. McCandless, who formerly taught at the High School; Miss Felker, the principal of the Kaahumanu School; Miss Frazier, principal of the Kailua School; and W. T. Rawlins, the Representative-elect.

The active membership will consist of fifteen members; that is, one more to be elected besides the above-mentioned. Furthermore, about forty-five associate members will be chosen among those who are interested in educational matters.

EXCURSION FOR VOLCANO LEAVES ON TWO STEAMERS

Nearly half the people of Honolulu were scattered, but by no means indifferently, among the lucky ones morning to see the Mauna Loa and the who were able to make the trip. The school teachers were by no means the smallest nor the quietest part of the crowd and kisses

WONDER!

They wonder at nothing over in the new camp of Wonder except the richness of their ore, and they have made so many rich strikes in a short space of time that even these are gradually being looked upon as ordinary, every-day occurrences.

Although this far-famed mining district is now only about six months old ore of shipping grade has already been opened up in more than thirty different places, and all authorities concur in the opinion that WONDER will be the scene of the next big excitement and will rival Goldfield for richness and wealth-producing capabilities. The ore is there in IMMENSE QUANTITIES.

Wonder Silver Star

Is surrounded by producers of high grade ore. A massive out-cropping ledge runs almost the entire length of Wonder Silver Star's two claims (which endline) and is intersected by a highly mineralized cross-vein on the north end of Silver Star No. 1 claim. Mining experts agree that at the intersection of these two enormous veins will be found a mineral deposit of fabulous richness. Surface assays of 80 per ton are readily obtainable from this valuable property, and all indications point to this fine value being trebled at depth.

The company is officered by some of Goldfield's most successful and enterprising mining operators, whose names alone are a guarantee of honest, progressive and capable management.

A Small Allotment of Stock at 25 cents
The company is receiving subscriptions for a limited amount of treasury stock at 25 cents a share, the proceeds to be used for the active development of the property. Prospective subscribers must send us their orders at once, so that they may participate in the first allotment.

HEATED SESSION IN DE BOLT'S COURT

Compliments Exchanged By Milverton And Gear

MOVE TO SET ASIDE THE INTERLOCUTORY DECREE

ATTORNEY FOR McCANDLESS ATTEMPTS TO PREVENT LANAI MATTER GOING TO THE SUPREME COURT

There was a rather warm session in Judge De Bolt's court this morning when the motion of the Attorney General's Department for an extension of time in which to file an answer to the bill in equity in the Lanai matter came up for hearing. Deputy Attorney General Milverton and Judge Gear, attorney for McCandless, argued respectively for and against the motion, and incidentally took occasion to tell the Court what they thought of the methods practiced by one another.

Gear, in addition, moved the Court that the interlocutory decree in the matter and the order allowing the Territory to take appeal to the Supreme Court be set aside.

Although, on motion of the Attorney General's Department, Judge De Bolt granted an interlocutory decree in favor of McCandless, the Attorney General's Department is still keeping the matter open in the Circuit Court in order to preserve the Territory's rights in case of losing out in the Supreme Court. With this in view, Milverton filed a motion to extend the time for answering the bill in equity to ten days after the Supreme Court shall have rendered its decision. This was the matter which came up for hearing today.

Deputy Attorney General Milverton appeared for the Territory and Judge Gear for the complainant. The argument was a heated one. Gear informed the Court that he thought the action of the Attorney General's Department was unfair and tricky and that the members of that department were guilty of unprofessional conduct. Milverton responded that they had only adopted the tactics practiced by Judge Gear and Link McCandless, and he thought there was no occasion for the other side to squeal.

Gear interposed his motion to set aside the interlocutory decree and the order allowing an appeal to the Supreme Court. Judge De Bolt finally continued both motions, that of the respondents and that of the complainant, until next Tuesday. However, in order that, in

EXCURSION FOR VOLCANO

(Continued from Page 1) skipper of the Inter-Island fleet, was on the bridge and looked as happy as a king as he took out his vessel with a whistle to tell the Kinau that he would be waiting when she arrived at the scene of the flow.

The Mauna Loa did not have its full share of the ladies and had enough men to make up, and if they do not have a good time on the way up it will not be the fault of Purser Friel. He has plans on foot that will keep everyone busy from the time they get outside Diamond Head till they return.

The Kinau made a record this morning, coming in from her regular run to Hilo at 9:35 and taking coal and provisions as well as extra blankets and mattresses for the large number of passengers, and getting away again within an hour after she had arrived.

The Inter-Island Company deserves credit for the way in which they handled the excursion, though in the minds of some who wished to go and could not secure accommodations, they do not. Great care was taken that there should be room for all the excursionists without any crowding.

Early this morning people who had waited till the last minute began to crowd the office, asking for tickets. They were told that until the Kinau came in and the exact number which could be accommodated could be learned from Admiral Beckley, no more tickets would be sold.

When the Kinau arrived it was decided that without any crowding thirty more than had been booked up to that time could be taken care of. Then a scramble commenced for the tickets. There were many more than thirty who wished to go but the limit had been placed and it was adhered to closely, and as a result there is certain to be a pleasant trip and plenty of room for all.

The Kinau took 150 passengers and the bevy of pretty girls was present in full force. Admiral Beckley was in his element and was rushing around trying to see that everyone had everything they desired and that there was nothing which could interfere with the pleasures of the trip. The Inter-Island office force was present at the dock giving the ship's officers all the assistance which could be desired in order to hurry the departure of the vessel, and the Kinau got away much sooner than anyone expected.

Chewing gum was among the features on board and a great many of those who were on board had taken along a supply of this material, said to prevent seasickness, and it was by no means going to waste. From all the indications, however, there should be no cause to fear mal-de-mer, as the sea outside the harbor is as smooth as glass, and unless a high wind should spring up suddenly the weather for the excursion should be perfect.

The excursion boats should reach Nahukona tonight between 9 and 10 o'clock, and then, being under the lee of the island, the water should be very quiet. The reflection of the outbreak should be seen from this point if the night is not cloudy. The flow itself should be reached and the very finest sight of all seen about midnight.

ALUWA LANDS WILL BE OFFERED SOON

Lack Of Funds Not To Prevent Sale Of This Tract

Although the Survey Department is broke and can undertake no new work nor even finish that which is already in progress, its inactivity will not entirely tie the hands of Land Commissioner Pratt. There is still some land that has already been surveyed that can be disposed of.

The first land that will be placed on the market, probably, is the Aluwa tract. This parcel has already been surveyed and cut up. The Land Commissioner is now only waiting for the action of the road jury which is to pass on the matter of a road to the Aluwa tract to give access to the land. The jury went over the line of the proposed road some time since, but has not yet concluded its work in the matter. There are still some questions to be decided. The jury will meet again at 3:30 Monday afternoon to listen to any protests that anyone may have to make to the opening up of the road.

Another tract which can be disposed of without further action on the part of the Survey Department is the Hakaiau tract, or the greater part of it. There are three parcels of land in this tract. Two of them have been surveyed and can be put on the market. The third one is still unsurveyed, and this will have to wait until the Survey Department is in funds once more and can get to work again.

Besides the two tracts mentioned, there are a large number of little pieces of land scattered about the Territory which have been surveyed but have never been put up for sale or lease. The Land Commissioner will take these up and offer to dispose of them while he is waiting for survey of the more important tracts. Altogether, he will have work enough to keep him moderately busy in the way of disposing of land, in addition to the regular routine work of his office, which is considerable.

IT COSTS $100 TO POISON TWO DOGS

George Markham Has Narrow Escape From Jail Sentence

George Markham, well known as a petty politician, socialist and in many other ways, was allowed to go with a comparatively small fine, when the nature of the offense is considered, by Judge Whitney this morning after he had been found guilty of poisoning two dogs belonging to one of his neighbors. He was ordered to pay $100 to the Territory in the way of a fine, and to pay the costs of the trial, amounting to $3.40.

Judge Whitney was not at all backward in stating what he thought of a man who would do such a trick as dog poisoning, and stated that he considered that if he had given Markham a sentence of six months in jail he would not have given him more than he deserved. On account of the fact that others beside the guilty party would suffer if imprisonment was given, the Judge gave the sentence as told above.

CHIUSA MARU MAY GET AWAY MONDAY

The Chiusa Maru libel matter is still dragging wearily through the Admiralty Court. It has already lasted considerably over a week, nearly two weeks, in fact, and is not yet concluded. R. W. Breckons states, however, that it is expected that the taking of testimony will be concluded some time today, and matters will be so far adjusted that the Chiusa Maru will be able to get away by next Monday. She has been ready to leave for some time, but has been held by the necessity of her captain and some of the rest of her crew appearing in court as witnesses in the case. The captain was on the witness stand for nearly two days. His testimony was to the effect that the steamer was not in a dangerous position. He stated that she did not bump at all while she was on the reef.

KENNEDY'S TOUR TO LOUISIANA FIELDS

Hilo, Hawaii, Jan. 15.—C. C. Kennedy, of the Waiakoa Mill Company, who left for New Orleans on November 17 last, returned to Hilo after an interesting and valuable trip. His visit was made primarily in the interests of the different plantations for the purpose of investigating the methods of loading cane employed in Louisiana. The story often repeated here has been that the effect that cane loading in Louisiana costs about four cents per ton, whereas here it costs nine cents. "And that is about right," said Mr. Kennedy, "but the way that they work there is so different from the way that we work here that a comparison can hardly be drawn. What they do not spend in lifting they spend in cutting. We saw the cane loaders at work on the Reserve Plantation after we had visited the Cora Plantation, which is about ninety miles from New Orleans. The cane-loaders are excellent machines and work well but then every fourth row is cleaned and the cane put into neat bundles by the cutters. The cane is left free of leaves, so that the men or the machines doing the loading have nothing to do but to pick the bundles up. There in Louisiana cane-cutting costs fifty cents a ton, while here it costs about twenty cents. Here we strip the cane twice while there they do not strip at all.

"I was accompanied on my trip by H. Deacon. We reached New Orleans in four days from San Francisco by the Santa Fe. By way of El Paso, every courtesy was shown us by the Louisiana planters we met. Professor Blouin, who used to be in Hawaii, is now conducting the experimental station in New Orleans and has a class of lads raising cane and making sugar with a miniature mill, small vacuum pan and so on. The work is very interesting and is thoroughly well conducted.

"In one respect the mills there are ahead of ours here in Hawaii. They are beautifully kept and are clean to a remarkable degree. They are not as well equipped mechanically but I must confess that I did not smell a sour spot about any of them. "Labor difficulties? I do not think that they have any very bad ones. They rely on negro labor as their backbone. The negroes are faithful workers and can be relied on for just so much work. There are other races of course, but the negro is the main stay. The color line is rigidly enforced and even the waiting rooms for black and white men are separate."

THE WAYWARD YOUTH

The fact that a Reform School is called an "Industrial School" or softened down by any other euphemism, or that it is well managed, does in no way affect the principle under discussion. I know nothing about the management of any particular Industrial School or Schools in Honolulu, and I am ready to believe that all such institutions here are conducted with ability and honesty, but like well conducted prisons, they exist only for a sad necessity. A Reform School is for the care and training of boys and girls who by reason of their acts are considered beyond ordinary control. They are so "bad" or so incorrigible that the State takes them in hand, commits them through its police and judiciary departments (which we all naturally shrink from) to a place where they are deprived of their liberty as individuals, for their own good presumably but also for the protection of the State.

The place then is for this class of boys and girls. Many of them are very "bad," thieves, immoral, criminally culpable. And, as their age alleviates, they are sent to Reform School instead of to jail or penitentiary.

The process of getting them there, arresting them, and putting them in jail overnight perhaps, then in the care of an officer of the law, is a wrong and an injustice even to a child who has played truant, deceived and lied. In time he may learn that these acts were wrong and be sorry for them, but he will know also that either age or ignorance or want of ethical discrimination exonerates him from permanent blight as it has thousands of other children who have grown up to be good men and women. He will grow up to read biography as well as history wherein he will find the records of some very "bad" boys who had better training than he had, and who finally grew up to be good and great.

Because now-a-days we don't publish any more goody-goody boy tales but put down the facts of the case.

And if he becomes a physician or takes up special studies of children, he will know that the majority of boys and girls did things that were worse for them than truancy, deceit or lying, and that they did these things not from inherent badness, but owing to a natural instinct unguided by knowledge.

It should not take any one long, it seems to me, to see that an Industrial school cannot be the place for boys and girls who are merely mischievous, hard to control, disobedient, wilful, deceitful, liars, or without natural guardians. If children not had have "vile" homes in which they will only grow "bad" in time, there is no reason on earth for arresting them and branding them with the mark of the criminal.

It becomes the duty of the church and the community to take care of all such children, and a community that will not do it deserves unqualified condemnation. So far back as 1849, under Rev. C. Waterson, the Boston people organized a society "to create a special mission to the poor, ignorant, neglected children of the city; to gather them in; to procure places and employment for them; and generally to adopt and pursue such measures as would be most likely to save or rescue them from vice, ignorance and degradation."

This work went on among these people, increasing until several missions had started, and in 1857, with means furnished by Christian people who had hearts, these boys and girls instead of being sent to Reform school were taken here and there and placed in families. Some of them are now prominent ministers and doctors in the United States, holding responsible positions. Very few turned out badly. How is it with the graduates of Reform schools?

In a report sent out by one of the benevolent associations of the east are some statistics which show that the children who leave Reform schools, for most part, "take to a career of crime and finally land in the insane asylum, the penitentiary or on the scaffold. Isn't that terrible! Sent for truancy where he learned to be a thief and a murderer. This is no fancy sketch, and any one who will speak of "scars" for life in a flippant way, is, to say the least, devoid of human sympathy.

The special work for children mentioned above came after Dr. Kirkland early in the century said in Boston: "WE HAVE AS MUCH PIETY AS CHARITY AND NO MORE."

And so Channing preached that "the ax be laid at the root of the matter; ignorance, temptation, by submitting for the present unjust laws a system of cordial, respectful, brotherly cooperation, helping to uplift all classes and making them more truly human."

Yes, these were the men and women who secured liberty for those who had gone to jail for debt; who talked and acted long before sailors received deserved "protection from cruel and unjust punishments," and who labored with faith and hope to abolish flogging in the public schools. At last in 1867 the Tremont street House was secured for the work, and an additional building for children in 1890. These same men and women worked against slavery, and are now preaching against war and child labor.

When it comes to dealing with a child in a final way, we should be as careful, kindly, sympathetic, and just as if we were dealing with our own. We cannot afford to send a child to a child's penitentiary because he is a truant, deceitful or a liar, nor have we any right to take the easiest way and send him off because he has no home or because he has a bad home.

If we deal with the boy at all, we must remember that he is a child; that he is human, that he has probably more good than bad in his makeup but that the bad spreads over a bigger surface and catches more flies; and that by the proper attitude coupled with the necessary sympathy and training, we can develop so much of the good that the bad will not signify so far as the lad's general character is concerned.

Knowing this as intelligent parents must, which of them would be willing to send even a truant to an "Industrial School" for improvement? Ask Governor Carter or W. O. Smith or Dr. Moore or any other MAN if he would be willing to put his most disobedient boy or girl in the charge of the best managed Reform School in the world! And yet, there is no difference, for these good people might have a child who would play the truant, be deceitful or "nause" his betters. I cited the case of Raposa because he had been mentioned. All that he is said to be is no worse than what we know of some of our best men who didn't go to the Reform school. They played truant time and again; they were only deceived—they lied; they even stole like T. B. Aldrich did and Mark Twain. Lincoln ran off three times to escape doing a bit of work he didn't like, and Phillips Brooks—dear, good Phillips Brooks—"took the wrong way to school and spent the day fishing in a running brook two miles away." Why didn't they send him to an Industrial School? Thank the Lord he had somebody that cared enough for him to patiently disentangle these kinks in a very human skin.

Someday when I get time I am going to give you a list of some of the "bad" things good boys have done—that is, bad boys who grew into good men. And the list will startle you who have no children; who have forgotten that you were as bad as the "next one"; to you who have lost your faith in the moral elasticity of childhood but still in your faith to a false un-Christlike creed.

All this isn't a matter of "public sympathy," of being informed or uninformed about a particular case. The Principle goes above and beyond all this.

We owe the same duty—and tenderness—to the children of others that we owe to our own—we who are proper parents.

So far as the boy Raposa or the Hart girl are concerned, or their parents either,—what ethical training have they ever received that they should be called "bad" for indulging in the tendencies developed by association?

And if the lad played truant, or lied or did worse,—what great departure was it from the example set before him?

His mother is industrious, provident, pious,—yes, but what else? Any one who wishes can see in this case more than in the others, that WE, the community, are to blame for whatever the boy has done. And if we also know no better than to arrest and brand the children our social order has created, we are worse than we ought to be.

GETS TEN DAYS FOR DISOBEYING COURT

Ah Leong Ignores Order To Pay His Wife Alimony

Ah Leong hasn't yet managed to get it through his head that the orders of the Court are to be obeyed. Perhaps he will, however, by the time he gets through serving the ten days in jail to which he was sentenced by Judge De Bolt this morning for contempt of court.

But there seems to be some doubt if even this lesson will be sufficient to drive the truth into his thick-skull, for he has just finished serving a three days' sentence for a similar offence.

Ah Leong was summoned to appear before the Court this morning, on complaint of his wife, to show cause why he should not be adjudged guilty of contempt of court in having disobeyed the orders of the Court to pay Mrs. Ah Leong temporary alimony and attorney's commission pending the result of the action for divorce instituted by her. At the time the matter first came up, Ah Leong was instructed by the Court to contribute a certain sum weekly toward the support of his wife and two children until the divorce proceedings should be ended. He neglected to pay the first installment and it cost him three days in jail. Since then Mrs. Ah Leong alleges that he has failed to make two more payments, and this second offence was enough to give him ten days more free board and lodging at the expense of the Territory.

The wife testified that she is absolutely without means of support for herself and the two children. Ah Leong gives her nothing, and for some time all she has had to live on is three dollars a week for herself and two dollars a week for the two children, these amounts being contributed by sympathetic friends. Both of the children have been sick with the measles and one of them is still quite ill.

Ah Leong states, as an excuse for his not obeying the orders of the Court that he is out of work and has no money. His father is a wealthy Chinese merchant of the city, but it is said that he has nothing to do with his son.

THESE TWO WERE TOO MUCH MARRIED

Akuna Had Surplus Of Wives And Marcella Of Husbands

Goo Akuna, the Chinese of Kula, Maui, who confessed to the court some time ago that he had more wives than the law allows, and who was sentenced to a short term in-jail and to pay a fine of $200, with costs amounting to $60.25, was released today. The term of his sentence having expired. What he will do in the matter of the extra wives does not as yet appear.

Marcella Figueroa was also let out today, having served her sentence and an extra thirty days. The latter enabled her to take the poor convict's oath, freeing her from having to pay the fine which accompanied her jail sentence.

Marcella's offence was a carelessness as to the number of husbands she had at one time. She had the habit, which is not considered exactly the thing in polite society, of taking on one before she had got rid of his predecessor.

MORITA WILL NOT HANG FOR A MONTH

Governor Carter this morning signed the papers granting a reprieve to Morito Keizo. The Japanese was to have been hung next Tuesday, but the time for his execution is now postponed until February 21.

This action on the part of the Governor is consequent on the appeal taken by Morito's attorney to the Supreme Court of the United States in the habeas corpus matter.

WILL INVESTIGATE LUMBER COMBINE

Matter Of Raise In Prices Will Be Taken Up

The Lumber Trust cases are to be taken up in the United States District Court as soon as Judge Dole returns from Hilo, where he expects to go to hold court next week. United States District Attorney Breckons states that the cases promise to be of much interest and will be thoroughly investigated.

They have been hanging fire for a long time and it is desired to get them over with and out of the way at the earliest possible date. In connection with the old cases which are to be tried, it is probable that the charges of a new combination on the part of the lumber dealers will be investigated. It is stated that the recent raises of lumber prices, which are said to be consequent on increases in price on the Coast, are of much the same character as those which gave rise to the original charges. The increases in price, it is charged, were all made at the same time and were identical in the case of each of the various firms.

The United States District Attorney states that this matter will be taken up before the court and the dealers will be summoned to appear as witnesses and tell what they know about the matter. This is a power which the representative of the Federal Government has, and if those against whom the charges are made are summoned as witnesses, they will be obliged to answer on the witness stand whatever questions may be put to them.

After the lumber cases are out of the way, the matter of the alleged beef trust will be taken up. There are a large number of defendants in this matter and the trial will in all probability be a lengthy one.

DELINQUENT LIST THIS YEAR SHOWS A DECREASE

Tax Assessor James L. Holt states that the delinquent tax lists for the county of Oahu will be published next week. There are about 2100 names which will appear on the list this year. This, and the amount of taxes delinquent, are said to be somewhat less than has been the case in previous years, testifying to the increased prosperity of the citizens of the county. The totals have not as yet been computed.

The delinquent lists for the other counties of the Territory will be published each in its own county, only that for Oahu being published here.

PORT ROYAL PROBABLY BENEATH THE OCEAN

Mr. Rogers, of the New York Commercial, speaking of yesterday's cable dispatches regarding the sinking of the harbor at Kingston says that the submerged portion is probably what remains of the site of the old city of Port Royal.

In describing the land about the Kingston harbor Mr. Rogers made a rough sketch which shows that the Kingston harbor is formed by the narrow neck of land at the end of which is Port Royal with its naval station and light house. If this land were to sink, as it seems to have done, it would leave the bay open to the full sweep of the ocean. Kingston is on the south side of the island of Jamaica, so there seems little doubt that all that was left of old Port Royal has now gone beneath the ocean and taken a small section of Kingston with it.

UNHAPPY MARRIAGES DISSOLVED BY COURT

Judge Robinson this morning severed the ties that bound two unhappy couples. Annie Ascencio was, at her own request, separated from her husband, Pascal Albert Ascencio, on the grounds that the latter had failed to put up for her support, although he was plenty able to do so.

Wong Gum Tung was granted a divorce from Lee San Chin on the ground of extreme cruelty. It developed that Chin had a penchant for beating her and striking her, and at one time kicked her when she was in a delicate condition, with results fatal to her hopes.

The Value of Good Clothes

Women are attractive because they are women. But who shall deny that their attractiveness is not doubled by a wise study of the power of feathers? An indifferent-looking woman may transform herself to a siren by the mere twist of her hat; and wreck a thousand hearts by the glory of her gown. And why not? Man jests at this and with much philosophy assures us he loves her for herself; yet bows like a slave to her with the rustling silk.

In a different way 'tis the same with men. The poorly dressed is snubbed. His clothes are taken as his market value, and 'tis money that does the talking. The man whose clothes are cheap looking is called a "man"—even by the children—and he with the swell raiment is classified a "gentleman." 'Tis a pity, but 'tis true. The world judges us at first sight by the clothes we wear, and when you reason it out, what else can the poor world do.

Character, honesty and the cardinal virtues cannot be put on the surface, (and they do not suffer by association with good clothes), so for lack of something better, for the time being, at least, the world judges a man by what he wears.

GOVERNMENT WILL ATTACK SUGAR TRUST
Washington, Dec. 22.—The Federal authorities will in the near future institute proceedings to dissolve the American Sugar Refining Company, better known as the sugar trust. The chief evidence upon which the Government will rely to sustain its case will be that conveyed to it by William R. Hearst and the New York "American." Supplemental to this will be the evidence submitted by George H. Earle, receiver of the Real Estate Trust Company of Philadelphia, the looting of which by its president, Frank K. Hipple, is a matter of record. Within the past two months Mr. Earle has made several trips to Washington and has been in consultation with a Cabinet officer extremely close to the President. One of the contributory causes in the wrecking of the Real Estate Trust Company was the construction, at enormous cost, of a sugar refining plant by Adolph Seid, the promoter operating with the aide president, Hipple. This plant by peculiar machinations was taken over by the sugar trust and practically dismantled. The evidence of this one case would not be sufficient, but taken in conjunction with the evidence in the Hearst cases, under which evidence many indictments, convictions and fines have been secured in New York of the sugar trust and its railroad allies, a complete case, in the estimation of the Government officials, has been made.

The exodus of Honolulu's citizens to view the Hawaii lava flow is an example to tourists who want to know the local estimate placed on Hawaii's wonder of the world.

From appearances there are indications that the plans for a cut and dried legislative scheme have slipped two or three cogs. There are too many tangents where the cogs ought to be.

JAPAN'S INTENT VIEWED CLOSE AT HOME

The Japan Daily Advertiser in commenting on a discussion of the relations between Japan and the United States by the Boston Transcript throws some valuable sidelights on the situation, as forceful in the inference to be drawn as in direct assertion.

The Advertiser introduces its remarks by noting that the desire of certain Congressmen and Senators to exclude Japanese from America has awakened some of the Easterners to a consideration of the trade between the nations. The Transcript, for instance, finds that during the last fiscal year Americans sold in Japan merchandise to the value of $38,465,000, while for the calendar year of 1905 the amount sold by the Americans was $52,000,000, only a comparatively small portion being accounted for by the war. This indicates that Japanese are increasing home manufacture or going to other markets.

On the other hand, during the same calendar year the Japanese sold to the United States commodities valued at $47,000,000. The chief Japanese products sent to the United States were tea, camphor, silk fabrics, matting, earthenware and raw silk, of which the last named constituted in value more than half of the entire exports.

The Transcript looks upon this trade with America as a valuable asset for Japan which it would regret to lose, but would sacrifice rather than suffer any impairment to their national welfare. This conclusion is based on the "memory" that "they" (the Japanese) "resolutely cut off their trade with the entire world" to strengthen their national interests.

It is to the last statement that the Advertiser takes exception, and it should be in a position to speak with some authority. It says the Japanese "did nothing of the kind; it would be more in consonance with the facts of the case to say that the cutting off was done for them by the self-courting oligarchy, which, under the name of the Tokugawa Shogunate, did its level best to grind out of the Japanese, in detail and collectively, the small amount of individuality they ever possessed, and it would be useless to deny that this policy was really a confession of weakness, which can in no way be advanced as analogous to the motives that would at the present day impel the Japanese government--not the people--to enforce a boycott against American goods.

"On the one hand the Shogunate feared that the opening of the country and the wholesale admission of foreigners would lead to the ultimate conquest of the country, or, if not that, then to the creation of interests, commercial and political, inimical to the integrity of the nation."

"On the other hand, the meaning of a modern boycott against the United States would simply be that the Japanese Government would admittedly damage Japan a great deal for the foolish satisfaction of damaging the United States a little--a very different situation indeed."

Since there is nothing for Japan to gain by going to war, there is less national profit from a trade embargo. "In either event," says the Yokohama paper, "the damage would be common to both, though its proportions would doubtless be unequally divided. More than this it would be foolish for the non-expert to prophesy."

Further commenting on the Transcript's observation that the "open door" in Manchuria as operated by the Japanese suzerain does not pan out as expected nor exactly as promised, the Advertiser closes with this effective paragraph:

"So, 'our share in Southern Manchuria's trade is entirely contingent upon the good-will of the Japanese.' We fear the statement is too true, but we are not surprised."

Editor Evening Bulletin:--In re cut of the police department monthly pay roll by the Supervisors, one must look back to the political campaign just past and recall the accusations made against Brown for having a pay roll of between $8,000 and $9,000 per month, that it was extravagance, graft and keeping a large number of men on the police pay roll in order that a political machine can be maintained; and assertions made during those strenuous days by the present Sheriff that if elected Sheriff he would run his department with less money.

If I am not mistaken he gave out the amount to be $7,000, and with more of fidelity than the Brown police force. The Board of Supervisors has accommodated him, and immediately there is a hue and cry of crippling the police by the very sheet that accused Brown of extravagance.

PALMER SAYS ITS GREAT. Mr. Palmer, representing the Volcano House agency of the Henry Waterhouse Trust Company, returned this morning from a visit to the flow on Hawaii. Mr. Palmer says there is nothing like the exhibition to be seen on the sides of Mauna Loa. After reading the Bulletin's account in last night's paper he said that it told the whole story and was a very accurate description of the wonderful display.

REV. BISHOP ON ERUPTION

The Rev. Sereno E. Bishop takes pleasure in referring to a prediction made by himself in a publication of last July. He says:

In presenting a theory of a new volcanic center as having been for a long period forming at a locality about twenty-five miles SSW from the central crater of Mokuawewe, this crater has built up the immense shoulder of Mauna Loa which protrudes in that direction. It has also caused the great extension of the island to its SW cape, which is twenty miles farther to the southward.

After apparently a long period of quiescence this Kahuku volcano, as it may be called, resumed activity in 1868, with a series of destructive earthquakes. Its long-sealed outlet necessitated a violent rending to open it. In 1887 a still more copious lava stream flowed to the sea with little seismic disturbance. Now again, after twenty years, yet more copious floods of lava are quietly pouring out.

That this Kahuku volcano is in a good degree independent of the Mauna Loa central volcano is apparent from the fact that both in 1868 and 1887, there was little or no action in Mokuawewe, although some sympathy may have been exhibited, such as exists between Mauna Loa and Kilauea.

How is such sympathetic action in the present case? I feel deeply interested to learn. Our information so far is exceedingly imperfect. From the rather conflicting reports received, I am led to believe, or surmise, that there has been very little, and perhaps no activity at all at Mokuawewe and its vicinity.

And exactly where have these new lava streams issued forth? Were their outbreaks confined to the near vicinity of Puuokeo as before, or were they higher up? I feel confident that they could not have issued from any higher point than Keokea, which is about 6-200 feet up, and over twenty miles from Mokuawewe. Probably the lava streams start out not much, if any more than ten miles from the sea.

They may, however, come from points higher up. A host of visitors are now going to the points of activity, and we shall no doubt speedily receive intelligent and reliable data as to the facts involved. This is unquestionably a rare opportunity for observing some of the grandest of terrestrial phenomena.

RIZE NOT VOLCANIC

Weatherman Stockman says that the smoky haze of yesterday and today, which many have attributed to the volcano outbreak on Hawaii, may or may not be due to that cause. "The weather this morning was calm and the smoke hung very low," said Dr. Stockman, "but the haze may be nothing more than the smoke of the city. It might be from the volcano but it is not sufficiently definite to make such a prediction.

"The weather is all right. The barometer is a little above normal and under those conditions we look for fair weather."

CAUGHT IN TORRENT

The heavy rains of a week ago very near claimed a victim in the person of a native named Nahi.

Nahi, with three others, were breaking rock for water works operations, on the mountain side at Makiki. A sudden downpour of rain caused the men to seek shelter in an old building close by.

The rush of water caused the house to start from its foundation and as the men were making their escape from the building the flood caught Nahi and swept him down the hill, with the old building following close behind. Nahi's companions went to his rescue and succeeded in getting him clear of the torrent. He sustained severe bruises about the head and face but is up and about as usual.

SOCIAL CHATTER AND HOME TALK

Mr. John Bliss Entertains
 The dinner which Mr. John H. Bliss gave at the Moana hotel on Sunday evening in honor of General and Mrs. de Witt, was attended by Major and Mrs. Van Vleet, Dr. and Mrs. Blanchard, Miss Jessie Kaufman, and ex-Governor Cleghorn. Miss Nannie Winston acted as hostess in her usual charming manner. Aster in tones of mauve adorned the table decoration and the hand-painted place cards depicting scenes from Japan were very pretty souvenirs. At another table Mr. and Mrs. C. W. C. Deering and Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Patton had with them Mr. David Anderson, Mr. James Cockburn, Mr. Jamieson and Mr. Watson. Mr. Patton has been suffering from a severe cold during the past week which has kept him in his room.

In Honor of the Gröhens
 Although Monday evening was so dampish Mr. and Mrs. James Wilder's dinner guests seemed not to mind but all sat down in time at the exquisitely appointed table which this hostess knows so well how to arrange to the best advantage. The dinner was in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Crehore and the other guests were Governor and Mrs. George Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Galt, Mr. and Mrs. Francis M. Swanzy, Miss Cordie Carter, Lieut. Carter, U. S. N., Mr. Gerrit P. Wilder, Mr. Derby and Dr. James Judd.

Coming Recital
 The recital which Mr. Rudolf Johannes Buckley gives in the Alexander Young Hotel ballroom on the evening of February 6th will bring out a large number who really love good music. Mr. Buckley will be assisted by Mrs. Mackall and Mrs. Tenney Peck. Mr. Buckley handles the violin in an interesting manner and draws from it some exquisite melodies which haunt one long after the artist has finished. One of the famous violinists of the day said of Mr. Buckley: "It is a wonder to me with his genius that he allows himself to be engaged in a business life." We will all have a chance to hear him on the evening of February 6th. Mrs. Mackall has charmed everybody with her cultivated and beautifully trained voice, and Mrs. Tenney Peck cannot be equalled as an accompanist.

Hedemanns Leaving
 Mr. and Mrs. C. Hedemann are sailing in the Sierra for the Coast, and Miss Alice Hedemann will accompany them. She will become a pupil at Huntington Hall in Los Angeles, a very fashionable and exclusive girls' boarding school. Mr. and Mrs. Hedemann expect to go to Porto Rico as well as New York. Messrs. Carl, Howard and Erling Hedemann will remain at the pretty bungalow at Walki during the absence of their parents.

Dance for Harold Castle
 Mrs. James B. Castle gave a jolly and delightful dance at Kaimalu on Wednesday evening in honor of her son Harold. Mrs. Walter Brinkerhoff and Mr. Harold Castle received the guests in the rose-room, which was lavishly adorned with large bowls of roses. The immense lanai overlooking the sea was used for dancing and from eight until twelve the singing boys played and sang. The scene was a brilliant one, and there were many pretty toilettes. Mrs. Brinkerhoff was beautifully dressed, and did the honors of the mansion in her usual gracious manner. Harold Castle, a handsome, manly youth, is a great favorite with young and old. Supper was served at eleven and it was voted delicious. Among the guests invited and present were Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Marx, Miss Marx, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ivers, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Judd, Mr. and Mrs. Aiong (nee Bessie Whiting), Mr. and Mrs. Ranney Scott, Mrs. Francis Swanzy, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Wilder, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Macfarlane, Mr. and Mrs. George Potter, Miss Anna Paris, Mrs. A. G. Hawes, Jr., Misses Alice Hedemann, Marion Scott, Justine McClellan, Sorenson, Nora Swanzy, Violet and Vera Damon, Helen, Lady and Alice Macfarlane, Bernice Hartwell, Ingrid and Elsa Schaefer, Lorna Lauka, Irene Fisher, Messrs. Leslie Scott, Gerrit Wilder, Walter and Harold Dillingham, Erling, Carl and Howard Hedemann, Burke, Jack Atkinson, Derby, Richard Wright, Robt. Anderson, Arthur Mackintosh, Captain Heidt.

Miss Irwin's Coming Out
 The coming out reception and ball which Mr. and Mrs. William G. Irwin gave last week for their daughter Helene was a most brilliant affair. Their magnificent mansion was ablaze with lights decorously shaded, and the flowers especially ordered for the occasion were gorgeous to behold. Expense and trouble were not spared and the most exquisite taste prevailed everywhere. Helene Irwin is rather handicapped by her beautiful mother, who certainly is without doubt the beauty of San Francisco. Her regular features, blue eyes and perfect figure have been the toast for many years, and it seems absurd to think she can have a daughter old enough to be out. Helene Irwin is certainly a pretty girl with sweet, gracious manners, and she looked lovely at her coming out reception. Mr. and Mrs. Robinson are still abroad and will visit San Francisco on their return to America. It is wonderful how San Francisco is recovering from the recent shock. Balls were never gayer, and the society women never dressed better. Reference to the earthquake is received in silence and the subject is considered "bad form."

Burns Night Smoker
 The Burns Smoker to be held under the auspices of the Scottish Thistle Club on the evening of January 25 will be a little above the high standard that has been set for these events in years past.

The program is not quite complete but the plans are far enough advanced to prove that it will be a real Burns night. There will be bagpipe selections by Fraser and songs by J. H. Howland, Livingston, C. E. Edmunds, Clifford Kimball, D. W. Anderson and T. R. Anderson. R. J. Buckley is on the list for a violin selection and James Wilder has promised a song and recitation, which, if former experience count, will mean several songs and more recitations.

Robert Catton will respond to the toast, "The Land o' Burns"; Rev. Alexander Mackintosh will speak on the "Immortal Memory of Robert Burns" and Deputy Attorney General Prosser will respond to the "President of the United States."

There are other songs and other toasts. J. C. McGui is Chief and will preside. It will be a gay night, spelled in broad Scotch.

Dr. and Mrs. Walter Brinkerhoff have gone to California for three months to visit the doctor's mother, who is visiting in Los Angeles. Mr. Harold Castle also departed in the Korua. There were many at the steamer to see them off and they were covered with leis.

Preparations for the Mardi Gras are going on well. The Judges for the prizes are Mrs. Focke, Mrs. Layard, Mrs. Bishop, Mrs. Harry Macfarlane, Captain Carter, U. S. N., and Mr. Howard Hitchcock. Miss Lorna Lauka will make a handsome queen, and the six pretty girls who are to act as ladies-in-waiting are chosen for their good looks. Mrs. Helen Noonan's perfect taste will make herself felt in the building of boxes, etc., and the committees on decoration are noted for their taste and skill.

I am told that Mr. Ernest Hartmann is a great favorite in Yokohama society, and nothing is complete without him. He has chambers at the United Club, and, as there is a delightful Swiss colony there Mr. Hartmann is in clover. He was always a favorite here, both with men and women, and should be return a cordial welcome would await him.

There have been four or five small teas and dinners this week at prominent homes but as I have been asked not to repeat them I can't tell you about them. Society is never at a standstill here.

Mrs. Labouree has been quite ill, but is rapidly recovering.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dutton were passengers in the Korua for San Francisco. They held quite a reception on the dock, for many of their friends were there to see them off. Mr. and Mrs. Dutton have been extensively entertained during their five months' visit here, and they also gave one of the most delightful balls of the season. Mrs. Dutton is a beautiful woman and her charming personality wins her friends' adoration. Mr. Dutton also was greatly liked and those whom he admitted to his friendship were impressed with his cleverness. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Macfarlane did much to make their visit a success, for there is no one more popular than this charming couple.

Among the lunches of the week was the very pretty one of Mrs. Benjamin Marx. The guests were Mrs. Whitney, Mrs. Alexander Scott, Mrs. Frear, Mrs. F. P. Frear, Mrs. Balfour, Mrs. Tenney Peck, Miss Drusilla Marx, and Mrs. Margaret Marx.

Miss Harriet Hatch is attending Miss Porter's school in New York.

Mrs. George Carter's tea last week, which she gave in honor of Mrs. Bicknell of Chicago, was a great success. Mrs. Mackall sang delightfully and Mrs. Whitney played in a finished manner. The house was exquisitely decorated with roses, and an agreeable afternoon was passed over the (teacups), listening to the good music.

Mrs. H. Alexander Isenberg and children are at Santa Barbara. Mrs. Isenberg will go to Germany in the near future.

The dinner which Mr. and Mrs. C. W. C. Deering gave on Thursday evening was a beautiful affair. They are a most successful host and hostess, and an invitation from them always means a good time. Among the guests were Prince and Princess Kawanakoa, Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Patton, Dr. and Mrs. F. H. Humphris.

The Pacific Club is inaugurating a series of national dinners, and the first one, which is given tonight, will be a German one.

Mrs. Cora V. Bernard, the wife of Dr. Ralph P. Bernard, surgeon on board the Sonoma, was before Presiding Judge Graham yesterday to begin her action for divorce. But Dr. Bernard was with his vessel on the high seas, and though the attorneys were willing that his consent be taken for granted, the Court refused to hear testimony. "I will postpone this case until the Sonoma comes into port," said Judge Graham. "If the doctor has anything to say for himself, I want to know what it is."—Chronicle.

Mrs. Henry Highton called in the Korua for San Francisco.

There is a great exodus to the Volcano this week. It seems as if nearly all of Honolulu was on the wing.

These little Alameda dances at the Hawaiian hotel are very popular and on that night tables for twos and fours are generally engaged ahead.

Mr. F. Wickert is at the Hawaiian Hotel.

A San Francisco paper says concerning a well known society woman: "Mrs. Amy Talbot, who is so well known in society here, is spending the winter in Washington, and I hear, has taken a very charming apartment at the Connaught, in the Capital City. Mrs. Talbot, who is a very handsome woman, with a charm and grace of manner which always win admiration for her, is already a great favorite in Washington society, and is sought after for all the most delightful functions. Mrs. Talbot received with Miss Cannon, the daughter of the Speaker, on New Year's day.

Miss Mary H. Kront gave an interesting talk and imparted valuable information to an intelligent audience on Tuesday afternoon at the residence of Mr. C. M. Cooke.

The transport boat at the Moana hotel on Monday evening was a very gay affair. Pretty women, charming frocks and agreeable men made a strong combination and the light fantastic toe was tripped until a late hour.

Mr. and Mrs. Hocking returned from the Orient in the Korua, after a very pleasant trip abroad.

The Misses Harrison, late guests at the Moana hotel, are in the Orient sketching for their exhibition in Bond street, London, in June.

Mr. Allan Dunn has a poem in the current Sunset Magazine.

Miss Jessie Foreman is traveling in China with scenes. She expects to return to Honolulu.

Mrs. Charles Cooper, Miss Anita Hardaway, her cousin, and Reynold McGrew have gone to the Volcano.

The Prince and Princess Kawanakoa are guests of Col. and Mrs. S. M. Parker at their Diamond Head villa. Mr. Ernest Parker is also a guest at the villa.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Brown have gone to the Volcano for a trip.

Mr. Willis, of the New York Commercial, is the guest of honor today at a large excursion party given by Mr. B. F. Dillingham, to inspect the plantations, stopping for lunch at beautiful Haleiwa.

Mr. F. Wickert is at the Hawaiian Hotel.

A San Francisco paper says concerning a well known society woman: "Mrs. Amy Talbot, who is so well known in society here, is spending the winter in Washington, and I hear, has taken a very charming apartment at the Connaught, in the Capital City. Mrs. Talbot, who is a very handsome woman, with a charm and grace of manner which always win admiration for her, is already a great favorite in Washington society, and is sought week, much to the regret of their friends. Lady Playfair has been ill for weeks during her visit here, but has almost entirely recovered and shows no traces of her recent indisposition.

The following clipping from the San Francisco Chronicle will be of great interest to many here:

Society is discussing nothing but the gorgeous Crocker ball, which eclipsed in brilliancy anything which we have seen in California in recent years. Only Halston entertained in a style to be compared with the superb entertainment given by Mrs. Easton and Miss Jennie Crocker, and few of his historic balls were any more beautiful or elaborate than this New Year's function. Such a superb wealth of decoration, beautiful flowers, rare shrubs and myriads of glimmering electric lights as made a scene from fairyland. The new dancing pavilion was graceful and splendidly adapted for dancing. The canvas ceiling was divided into squares by strings of electric lights, while the walls were hidden behind a forest of greens and blossoms. Tall palms, feathery bamboo, orange trees covered with fruit, pines and fir hid the canvas and made a lovely background for the dancers. The house itself was ablaze with flowers, fragrant American beauty roses, orchids and other rare blossoms, and the wide verandas, inclosed with canvas, resembled a conservatory about 9:30, had two comfortably fitted. The special train leaving town early cars. Among those going from San Francisco being the Garcaans, Eastland, Wakefield Bakers, Mr. and Mrs. Guiek, Miss Blair and others. But most of the guests remained at Menlo and Burlingame, visiting with friends there.

The train returned again at 3:30, it was 11 o'clock before the ball was in full swing. Supper, a delicious affair, was served at midnight, small tables being carried in and distributed throughout the rooms. A pretty surprise were the dainty and exquisite favors which marked the seat of each fair guest, beautiful pompadour fans being presented to each of the matrons and maids. The menu cards, too, made attractive souvenirs, being daintily hand-painted. About 300 guests were present.

Handsome were: Mrs. W. G. Irwin, who was quite the handsomest woman in the room. Mrs. Irwin was in white, wearing a beautiful gown of lace and some wonderful diamonds. Mrs. Henry T. Scott looked stunning in a gown of white satin, covered with wonderful real lace. Mrs. George Pope was even more attractive than usual and wore a lovely gown of white satin embroidered with pink roses, which was wonderfully becoming to her blonde beauty. Her dog-collar of diamonds and various ornaments were beautiful. Mrs. Fred Kohl was easily one of the evening's beauties and wore a gorgeous costume of yellow velvet. Mrs. Fred McNear, who was the only member of the Hopkins family present, was a striking figure in a blue sequin gown. Mrs. Wakefield Baker wore a lovely white lace gown. Mrs. Thomas Driscoll was one of the most admired belles. She wore a lovely pompadour silk frock, which was exceedingly chic. Mrs. George Howard appeared in a pompadour gown and wore her superb diamond necklace. Of the girls Miss Mary Keeney was very beautiful in a white chiffon gown. Miss Helene Irwin wore an odd Magenta costume, and Miss Maisee Laughton was very pretty and chic in a pale yellow chiffon frock.

HINTS TO THE HOUSEWIFE

One secret of successful house-keeping is in keeping a good supply in the house of the little necessities, to make up appetizing meals. When ordering from the grocer, see that you get in a sufficient supply of flavorings, spices, peppers, canned dainties, jam, jellies and condiments. In buying these—buy the very best. It is unanimously agreed that Mrs. Kearns' Homemade preserves are pure, delicious and moderate in price. They are carried by all our white grocers. In using mango chutney it is a relish that can be used to supplement any meal. It is good with bread and cheese, or with the finest of cooked meats. Don't bother to make apple sauce when you have some pork, or red currant jelly with mutton, or horse radish with roast beef. Serve chutney and everybody will be satisfied. Chutney makes cold meat taste so good that you will make cold meat and Kearns' chutney a feature on your lunch table permanently. Then, of course, with curry it is indispensable.

Now a word about the jams. The reason why they are so wholesome is they are pure, and they are made right, and there are certain medicinal qualities in the fruits used. Take the papaya and Chinese orange marmalade: The papaya is a well known vegetable papaya, and the Chinese orange is a fine tonic. The guava has astringent qualities and is so wholesome that children will eat large quantities, seed and all, and suffer no ill effects. The pineapple is a recognized throat remedy, and is a fine corrective. The rosehip is an appetizer. The poha is valued in Australia as a most wholesome fruit. And mango chutney is a tonic, an appetizer, a stomachic stimulant, in fact a relish that takes first place in all the gastronomic world.

These fine preserves are supplied to the three beautiful hotels of Honolulu. The managers of these hotels have given Mrs. Kearns' most delightful testimonials. Their guests ask for Mrs. Kearns' preserves again and again, and when they are returning home order these jams to take back with them.

Captain Lucien Young says "I like Mrs. Kearns' chutney with a good hot steak."

Admiral Lyon, and the officers at Vallejo told the grocers they patronize (James Mackgarry & Co.) that they would like them to carry Mrs. Kearns' preserves, which they promptly did.

Ex-Governor Lord of Salem, Oregon, says: "Mrs. Kearns' chutney is the best I've ever eaten and I know all the best brands." In fact everybody says everything Mrs. Kearns' makes is delicious, especially the chutney.

MR. DOOLEY ON BROKEN FRIENDSHIP

By F. P. DUNNE.
(Copyright, 1906, by H. H. McClure & Co., Inc.)

"HOGAN was in here just now," said Mr. Dooley, "an' he tells me he was talkin' with th' Alderman an' they both agreed we're sure to have war with th' Japs inside iv two years. They can see it comin'. Before very long them little brown hands across th' sea will hand us a crack in th' eye an' then ye'll see throuble."

"What's it all about?" asked Mr. Hennessy.
"Divvy a thing can I make out iv it," said Mr. Dooley. "Hogan says we've got to fight fr th' supremacy iv th' Passyfic. Much fightin' I'd do fr an ocean, but havin' taken th' Philippines, which ar-re a blamed nuisance, an' th' Sandwich Islands, that're about as valuable as a toy balloon to a horseshoer, we've got to grab a lot iv th' surroundin' dampness to protect them. That's was reason why we're sure to have war. Another reason is that th' Japs want to send their little forty-five-year-old childer to be iddykated in th' San Francisco public schools. A third reason why it looks like war to Hogan an' th' Alderman is that they'd been drinkin' together."

"Wind ye iver have thought 'twas possible that any wan in this country cud even talk iv war with them delightful, cunning little Oryentals? Why, 'riss less than two years since Hogan was comin' home fr th' bankin' iv th' Union iv Usurers with his arms around th' top iv a Jap's head while th' Jap clutched Hogan affectionately about th' waist an' they sung 'Gawd Save th' Mickydoe.' D'ye raymber how we hollered with joy when a Rooshyan Admiral put his foot through th' bottom iv a man-iv-war an' sunk it? An' how we cheered in th' theatre to see th' cute little sojers iv th' Mickydoe mowin' down th' brutal Rooshyan moojiks with masheen guns? An' fin'ly when th' Japs had gone a thousand miles into Rooshyan territory an' were about lusted an' aye-ther had to stop fightin' or not have car fare home our worthy President, ye know who I mean, jumped to th' front an' cried: 'Boys, stop it. It's gone far enough to satisfy th' both iv ye.' An' th' angel iv peace brooded over th' earth an' crowd lustily."

"Day after day th' pa-papers come out an' declared, in th' column next to th' half-page ad. iv th' Koppentheimer bargain sale, that th' defeat iv Rooshyia was a judgment iv th' Lord on th' Czar. If ye saw a Jap anywhere ye asked him to take a drink."

"Hogan talked about nawthin' else. They were a wonderful little people. How they had developed! Nawthin' in th' history iv th' wurruild was aked to th' way they'd come up. They cud shoot straighter an' oftener th' any other nation. A Jap cud march three humdred miles a day fr eight days with nawthin' to eat but a gumdrop. They were highly civilized. It was an old civilization but not tainted by age. Millyons iv years before th' first white man set fut in Milwaukee th' Japs undherstod th' mammyfather iv patent wringins, sewin' masheens, reapers, tilyphones, autyomobills, ice cream freezers, an' all th' other wond'lers iv our boasted Westren divpment."

"Their customs showed how highly they'd been civilized. When a Jap sojer was defeated rather than surrender an' he simt home to have his head cut off he wud stab himself in th' stummick. Their treatment iv women put thim on a higher plane thim ours. Cinebrics ago before th' higher iddykation iv women was th'reamed iv in this country, th' poorest man in Japan cud send his daughter to a tea house, which is th' same as our female seminaries, where she remained till she gradyated an' th' wife iv some proud noble iv th' old Samuri push. Their arts had ours thrumped to a frazzle. Th' Jap artist O'Casey's pitcher iv a lady leanin' on a river while a cow walked up her back, was th' loveliest thing in th' wurruild. They were th' gr-greatest athletes iver known. A Japanese child with rickets cud throw Jiffries over a church. They had a secret iv rasslin' he cud a Jap rassler cud blow on his opponent's eyeball an' break his ankle. They were th' finest swordsmen that iver'd been seen. When a Jap-nese sojersman went into a combat he made such faces that his opponent drooped his soord an' thim he uttered a blood curdlin' cry, waved his soord four humdred an' fifty times over th' head iv th' victim or in th' case iv a Samuri eight humdred an' ninety-six, give a whoop resimblin' our English wurruild tag, an' clove him to th' feet. As with us on'y th' lower classes engaged in business. Th' old aristocracy disclaimed to thrade but started banks an' got all th' money. Th' poor man had a splendid chance. He cud devote his life to paintin' wan rib iv a fan fr which he got two dollars, or he cud become a cab horse. An' even in th' wan branch iv art that Westren civilization is supposed to excel in they had us beat miles. They were th' gr-greatest liars in th' wurruild an' formerly friends iv th' President."

"All these here things I heard fr Hogan an' see in th' pa-papers. I gived this wonderful nation. I wisht, sometimes, th' Lord had'n' gived me two blue an' sometimes red eyes an' this alkline nose, but a nose like an ear an' a couple iv shoe-buttons fr eyes. I wanted to be a Jap an' belong to th' higher civilization. Hogan had a Jap frind that used to come in here with him. Hogan thought he was a Prince, but he was a cook an' a student in a theological siminary. They'd talk be th' hour about th' beauties iv what Hogan called th' Flowery Kingdom. 'Oh, wond'ful land,' says Hogan, 'Land iv chrysanthymms an' cherry blossoms an' gayshee girls,' says he. 'Jap-an is a beautiful land,' says Prince Okoko. 'Nippon, (that's th' name it goes by at home,) Nippon, I salute ye,' says Hogan. 'May vichry perch upon ye'r banners, an' may ye hammer our old frinds an' allies frim Mookden to Moscow. Banzai,' says he. An' they embraced. That night, in order to help on th' cause, Hogan bought a blue flower pot fr th' Prince's collection fr eighteen dollars. He took it home under his ar-rm in th' rain an' th' next mornin' most iv th' flower pot was on his new overcoat an' th' rest was meltin' all over th' flure."

"That was th' beginnin' iv th' end iv th' frindship between th' two gr-great nations that owe thimselfes so much. About th' time Hogan got

th' flower pot, th' fire sale ads, an' th' Rooshyan outrage news both stopped in th' newspaper. A well-known financier who thravelled to Tokyo with a letter iv introduction to th' Mickydoe fr th' President beginnin', 'Dear Mick,' got a brick pan through his hat as he went to visit th' fourth assistant to th' manure iv th' eighth assistant to th' planjer iv th' bricklayer iv th' Mickydoe, which is th' nearest to his Majesty that foreign eyes ar-re permitted to look upon. A little later a number iv Americans in private life who went over to rayceive in person th' thanks iv th' Impor fr what they'd done fr him talkin' ar-round th' bar at th' Union League Club, were forced be th' warmth iv their rayception to take refuge in th' house iv th' Rooshyan counsel. Th' next mornin' some iv th' subjects iv our life-long frind an' ally were shut while hookin' seals frim our side iv th' Passyfic. Next week a prominent Jap-nese statesman was discovered payin' a social visit to th' Philippines. He had with him at th' time two cameras, a couple iv line men, surveyin' tools, a thousand feet iv tape line an' a bag iv dimmytime bombs. Last month th' Jap-nese Government wrote to th' President: 'Most gracious an' bewilderin' Majesty, Impor iv th' Sim, austere an' patient Father iv th' Stars, it has come to our benign attention that in wan iv ye'r populous domains our little prattlin' childer who ar-re over forty years iv age ar-re not admitted to th' first reader classes in th' public schools. Oh, brother beloved, we adore ye. Had ye not butted in with ye'r heavenly binivolence we wud've shook Rooshyia down fr much iv her hateful money. Now we must prove our affection with acts. It is our intution to send a fleet to visit ye'r shoes, partickly San Francisco, where we undherstan' th' school system is well worth studyin'."

"An' there ye ar-re, Himissy. Th' frindship cemented two years ago with blood an' beers is busted. I don't know whether anything will happen. Hogan thinks so, but I ain't sure. Th' President has announced that rather thim see wan octoginarian Jap prevented frim Jamin' his a-bee-ahs he will divastate San Francisco with fire, flood, dynamite, an' personalities. But San Francisco has had a pretty good lamp lately an' wand hardly turn over in its sleep fr an' invasion. Out there they're beginnin' to talk about what nice people th' Chinese ar-re compared with our old frinds an' allies. They say that th' Jap-nese grow up too fast fr their childer, an' that 'tis no pleasant sight to see a Jap-nese pupil comb-in' a set iv grey whiskers an' larnin'. 'Mary had a little lamb,' and if th' President wants thim to enter th' schools he'll have to load thim in a cannon an' shoot thim in."

"We'd late thim in a fight," said Mr. Hennessy. "They sudden't stand up before a gr-rent, strong nation like ours."

"We think we're gr-rent an' strong," said Mr. Dooley. "But n'aybe we on'y look fat to thim. Anyhow, we might roll on thim. Wudden't it be th' grand thing though if they licked us an' we signed a treaty iv peace with thim an' with tears iv humiliation in our eyes handed thim th' Philippines?"

Mrs. Eddy's Reply To Description Given By McClures

Concord, N. H., Jan. 5.
The January issue of McClure's Magazine, which undertakes to publish the history of the early life of the Rev. and Mrs. Eddy, leader of the Christian Scientists, and her family, has been brought to the attention of Mrs. Eddy. She has taken the pains to correct the matter, and has sent out the following statement over her own signature:

It is curious on Christian Science to say that man is aroused to thought or action only by ease, pleasure, or recompense. Something higher, nobler, more imperative, impels the impulses of soul. It becomes my duty to be just to the departed and to tread not ruthlessly on their ashes. The attack on me and my late father and his family in McClure's Magazine, January, 1907, compels me as a dutiful child and the leader of Christian Science to speak.

McClure's Magazine refers to my father's "tail, giant frame," and pictures "the old man tramping doggedly along the highway regularly beating the ground with a huge walking stick." My father's person was erect and robust. He never used a walking stick. To illustrate. One time when my father was visiting Governor Pierce, President Franklin Pierce's father, the Governor handed my father a gold-headed walking stick as they were about to start for church. My father thanked the Governor, but declined to accept the stick, saying, "I never use a cane."

Although McClure's Magazine attributes to my father language unbecomingly his household law, constantly enforced, was no profanity and no slang phrases. McClure's Magazine also declares that the Bible was the only book in his house. On the contrary, my father was a great reader.

The man, whom McClure's Magazine characterizes as "ignorant, dominating, passionate, fearless," was unforgivably dignified—a well-informed, intellectual man, cultivated in mind and manners. He was called upon to do much business for his town, making out deeds, settling quarrels, and even acting as counsel in a law-suit involving a question of pauperism between the towns of London and Bow, N. H. Franklin Pierce, afterward President of the United States, was the counsel for London and Mark Baker for Bow. Both entered their pleas, and my father won the suit. After it was decided, Mr. Pierce bowed to my father and congratulated him. For several years, father was chaplain of the New Hampshire State Militia, and as I recollect it, he was Justice of the Peace at one time. My father was a strong believer in State's Rights, but slavery he regarded as a great sin.

Mark Baker was the youngest of his father's family, and inherited his father's real estate, an extensive farm situated in Bow and Concord, N. H. It is on record that Mark Baker's father paid the largest tax in the colony. McClure's Magazine says, describing the Baker homestead at Bow: "The house itself was a small, square box structure of rudimentary architecture, my father's house had a sloping roof after the prevailing style of architecture at that date." McClure's Magazine states: "Along with the Bakers, he (Albert) received a liberal education." * * * Mary Baker passed her first fifteen years at the ancestral home at Bow. It was a lonely and unstimulating existence. The Potter any myself kneel in silent prayer on the mound of her late father, General John McNeil, the hero of Lundy Lane.

Notwithstanding that McClure's Magazine says, "Mary Baker completed her education when she finished Smith's grammar and reached long division in arithmetic," I was called by the Rev. R. S. Rust, D.D., Principal of the Methodist Conference Seminary at Sanborn Bridge, to supply the place of his leading teacher during her temporary absence.

Regarding my first marriage and the tragic death of my husband, McClure's Magazine says: "He (George Washington Glover) took his bride to Wilmington, South Carolina, and in June, 1844, six months after his marriage, he died of yellow fever. He left his young bride in a miserable plight. She was far from home and entirely without money or friends. Glover, however, was a free-mason, and thus received a decent burial. The Masons also paid Mrs. Glover's fare to New York City, where she was met and taken to her father's home by her brother George." * * * Her position was an embarrassing one. She was a grown woman, with a child, but entirely without means of support. * * * Mrs. Glover made only one effort at self-support. For a brief season she taught school.

My first husband, Major George W. Glover, resided in Charleston, South Carolina. While on a business trip to Wilmington, North Carolina, he was suddenly seized with yellow fever and died in about nine days. I was with him on this trip. He took with him the usual amount of money he would need on such an excursion. At his decease, I was surrounded by friends, and their provisions in my behalf were most tender. The Governor of the State and his staff, with a long procession, followed the remains of my beloved one to the cemetery.

The Free Masons selected my escort, who took me to my father's home in Filton, N. H. My salary for writing gave me ample support. I did open an infant school, but it was simply for the purpose of starting that educational system in New Hampshire. The rhyme attributed to me by McClure's Magazine is not mine, but is, I understand, a paraphrase of a silly song of years ago. Correctly quoted, it is as follows, so I have been told:

Go to Jane Glover,
Tell her I love her;
By the light of the moon
I will go to her.

The various stories told by McClure's Magazine about my father spreading the road in front of his house with tan-bark and straw, and about persons being hired to rock and swing me, I am ignorant of. Nor do I remember any such stuff as Dr. Patterson driving into Franklin, N. H., with a couch or cradle for me in his wagon. I only know that my father and mother did everything they could think of to help me when I was ill.

I was never "given to long and lonely wanderings, especially at night," as stated by McClure's Magazine. I was always accompanied by some responsible individual when I took an evening walk, but I seldom took one. I have always consistently declared that was not a medium for spirits. I never was especially interested in the Shakers, never "dabbled in mesmerism," never was "an amateur clairvoyant," nor did "the superstitious country folk frequently seek my advice." I never went into a trance nor described scenes far away, as McClure's Magazine says.

My oldest sister dearly loved me, but I wounded her pride when I adopted Christian Science, and to a Baker that was a sorry offense. McClure's Magazine calls Dr. Daniel Patterson, my second husband, "an itinerant dentist." It says that after my marriage we "lived for a short time at Tilton, then moved to Franklin * * *

During the following nine years the Pattersons led a roving existence. The doctor practiced in several towns, from Tilton to North Groton and Rumney."

When I was married to him, Dr. Daniel Patterson was located in Franklin, N. H. He had the degree D.D.S., was a popular man, and considered a rarely skilled dentist. He bought a place in Rumney, which he fancied, for a summer resort. At that time he owned a house in Franklin, N. H.

Although, as McClure's Magazine claims, the court record may state that my divorce from Dr. Patterson was granted on the ground of desertion, the cause nevertheless was adultery. Individuals are here today who were present in court when the decision was given by the judge and who know the following facts. After the evidence had been submitted (that a husband was about to leave Dr. Patterson arrested for eloping with his wife, the court instructed the clerk to record the divorce in my favor.)

What prevented Dr. Patterson's arrest was a letter from me to this self-same husband, imploring him not to do it. When this husband recovered his wife, he kept her a prisoner in his home, and I was also the means of reconciling the couple. A Christian Scientist has told me that with tears of gratitude the wife of this husband related these facts to her just as I have stated them. I lived with Dr. Patterson peaceably, and he was kind to me up to the time of the divorce.

The following affidavit by R. D. Rounsevel of Littleton, N. H., proprietor of the White Mountain House, Fabyans, N. H., the original of which is in my possession, is of interest in this connection:

About the year 1874, Dr. Patterson, a dentist, boarded with me in Littleton, New Hampshire. During his stay, at different times I had conversation with him about his wife, from whom he was separated. He spoke of her being a pure and Christian woman, and the cause of the separation being wholly on his part, that if he had done as he ought he might have had as pleasant and happy home as one could wish for.

At that time I had no knowledge of who his wife was. Later on I learned that Mary Baker G. Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, was the above mentioned woman. (Signed) R. D. Rounsevel, 18th, 1902. Then personally appeared R. D. Rounsevel and made oath that the within statement by him signed is true. Before me, H. W. Wood, Justice of the Peace.

I was obliged to be parted from my son, because after my father's second marriage my little boy was not welcome in my father's house. Who or what is the McClure "history" so-called presenting? Is it myself, the veritable Mrs. Eddy, whom the New York World declared dying of cancer, or is it her alleged double or dummy heretofore described? If indeed it be I, allow me to thank the enterprising historians for the testimony they have thereby given of the divine power of Christian Science, which they admit has snatched me from the cradle and the grave, and made me the beloved Leader of millions of the men and women in our own and in other countries, and all this because, the truth I have promulgated has separated the tares from the wheat, lifting in our body those who love and Science and renews the heaven and earth; because I still hear the harvest song of the Redeemer awakening the nations, causing man to love his enemies; because "Blessed are ye, when men shall revile you, and persecute you, and shall say all manner of evil against you falsely, for my sake."

MARY BAKER G. EDDY.

DEMOCRATS SOON TO LAUNCH NEW WEEKLY PAYER

While the promoters of the Democratic English weekly have not found a man to look after their interests as editor, it is stated that probably John Emmeluth will be given the position.

According to the statement of a prominent Democrat, it has been decided by those interested in the concern that the present printing establishment of the Ke Aloha Aina, near the junction of King and Beretania streets, is altogether too small for their publication.

The management of the Paradise of the Pacific has been approached and an agreement is now being drawn up so that a portion of its space can be given for the Ke Aloha Aina and the new English weekly.

Edward Lile will continue to be the editor of the Hawaiian paper and John Emmeluth will write for the English paper. C. R. Buckland, formerly of the Secretary's office, was first offered the editorship, but upon his declining, the choice fell upon Emmeluth.

It is reported that a large number of Honolulu financiers, principally Democrats, are backing up this new concern, and should it prove successful, it will be made a morning daily paper.

The promoters hope to have the weekly going by the first of next week.

FAMINE RELIEF CALLS FOR FUNDS

Governor Carter is interesting himself in the most noble purpose of gathering funds for starving China. It has been arranged to hold a special public meeting in the throne room at 19 o'clock next Wednesday morning. All interested in charity are asked to attend. Secretary Atkinson has issued special invitations to thirty-six prominent Chinese residents with a view of obtaining a thorough understanding into the question from those who know the country well. Consul Chang Tso Fan will deliver an address on the conditions prevailing in his country. Governor Carter will be present and make a speech. The following appeal from Shanghai was received by Governor Carter last Thursday. Central China Famine Relief Fund. 4 Jinkee Road, Shanghai, December 12, 1906. Sir:—A representative committee of Chinese and foreigners, as per list over-leaf, has been formed in Shanghai to solicit and distribute aid to the sufferers in Central China. The distress is most acute and the suffering will increase until crop can be harvested next summer. It is not necessary to go into details, but it is safe to say that many thousands will die of starvation and famine fever. The committee have appealed to foreign countries for subscriptions and they are sending letters to the different places where there are colonies of Chinese to ask their aid in this humanitarian work. TOURISTS ANXIOUS TO VISIT VOLCANO

"Kilauea is doing pretty well," said George Lycurgus, the proprietor of the Volcano House, this morning. "I had a letter from Imaehonoe yesterday, and he says that the pit is filling up. There is plenty of fire and smoking furnaces, but of course there is no lava, as the pit is too deep for that yet."

"I have had a large number of inquiries about the Volcano from tourists who are now in the city," said Secretary H. P. Wood of the Promotion Committee this morning. "I think that many of them prefer to make a longer stay than can be made on the excursion trip of the two steamers which leave today. I feel sure that the Kilauea will be crowded with passengers for the Volcano when she leaves on her regular trip next week."

MIKADO'S INSPECTORS GET PRESIDENT'S AID

Washington, Dec. 25. — President Roosevelt has given permission to the Japanese naval inspectors temporarily stationed at the Fore River Ship and Engine Company's works in Massachusetts to gain all the information that they may desire in regard to the building of ships for this country which is proceeding at that yard.

The Japanese officers are stationed at the yard during the building of some turbines for their government, but, according to the story which has come to this city, they have given fully as much attention to the progress made in the building of the four submarines for the American navy as to their own work. It is said that while the American officers who are supervising the building of the submarines have felt there is too much curiosity on the part of the Japanese, the relations between them has been without outward friction.

On recent trials of the submarines it was noted by the American officers that the Japanese had chartered a yacht and followed the little boats in their maneuvers until the Americans quietly asked them to desist. It is understood the matter was brought to the attention of the President through the Japanese Embassy in this city. As a result the President has given the foreigners full leave to observe undisturbed anything in the way of American construction at the yards.

Open Letter From Pacific Department

Royal Insurance Company of Liverpool

Many of the Companies which at the memorable meeting of June 12th voted in favor of a horizontal deduction of "not less than 25%," have, as we predicted, found it impossible to settle their San Francisco losses on that basis and have been forced, though reluctantly, to pay considerable more than an average of 75% of their claims. Some which voted to adjust every claim on its merits and pay the same "Dollar for Dollar," have fallen away from that high and correct standard and have submitted their policy holders to sharp deductions from adjusted claims. Others while paying in full have, in accordance with Eastern usage, exacted a cash discount in lieu of sixty days' time in which to make payment.

The "ROYAL" has paid every claim as soon as the amount of loss has been agreed upon with the assured, in full, in cash, without a cent of discount. Comparatively few companies have pursued as broad and as liberal a course.

We have refrained from commenting upon the conduct of any individual company, believing it better to extol the virtues of our own. The ROYAL INSURANCE COMPANY of Liverpool has paid to date 2,369 claims, aggregating $5,850,625.88. We have maintained but a few unsettled losses, and these are chiefly awaiting authorization of claimants abroad, probate proceedings, or further investigation as to actual amount of fire loss.

The "ROYAL" continues to be the leading Fire Insurance Company of the world. Its annual income is over $15,000,000. Its San Francisco gross losses were not very much more than one-third of one year's premiums, and its surplus, after all losses are paid, will exceed the surplus of any other Company in the world.

It has been building up its reserves for years against just such a disaster as came to San Francisco and was therefore able to meet its great losses with equanimity. It will continue to pursue the even tenor of its way and will doubtless be more popular than ever with insurers.

You are perfectly safe in putting your business in the "ROYAL," knowing that it will under all circumstances be able to fully and promptly meet its contracts and that it will not resort to any quibbles or shifty pretenses to avoid its obligations. Now is the time to make use of your opportunity.

There is no eluding the issue; there are "Dollar for Dollar" Companies; there are "Six-bitters" and there are "Wetters." There are also Companies strong, and Companies weak, financially.

No Company can offer a better policy than the "ROYAL," few as good.

SPORTS

MAILES SHOULD WIN

This afternoon the Mailes meet a picked team from the other teams in the League, in what will probably be the last game of soccer this year. The team which has been picked out to face the Mailes is strong but the Mailes should hand them out a decisive defeat without any great exertion on their part. Team play should count against any individual brilliancy.

The lineup:
 Rest of the League—Colors, white, goal, Dixon; backs, Stanley Beardmore, Macconnell (Capt.), half-backs, E. Desha, J. Clarke, E. Grunne, forwards, Hickman, Charlton, Woo, Fernandez, Oss; reserves, Macaulay, Mon Yin, Lo On.

Mailes—Goal, J. J. Belsor; backs, J. C. McGill, R. Anderson; half-backs, E. Kellett, D. Center, R. Chillingworth; forwards, H. S. Gray (Capt.), W. Jamieson, J. Catteral, F. Bailey, E. Kea. Ladies will be admitted free.

KAIALONA BOAT CLUB

A new girls' rowing club has been formed by a number of young ladies of the city and this sport seems to be gaining in favor with the gentle sex every day. Where the boathouse of the new club, which has taken the name of the Kialona Boat Club, will be, is as yet undecided.

The officials who have been elected are as follows:
 President, Miss Bernice Dwight; vice president, Maud O'Sullivan; secretary, Miss Hilda Robertson; treasurer, Miss Carrie Crewes; captain, Miss Susan Williams.

PACIFIC TENNIS CLUB

At a well-attended meeting of the Pacific Tennis Club, held last evening, the following officers for 1937 were elected:
 J. P. Cooke—President.
 Harold Dillingham—Vice President.
 G. P. Cooke—Secretary Treasurer.
 R. D. Mead—Manager.

The Club being in a prosperous condition financially, owing to the management of the retiring treasurer, W. P. Roth, it was decided that the clubhouse should be placed in good repair and enlarged to provide additional locker space.

It was also decided to set aside a special day when the courts may be used exclusively by the ladies.

SPORTING GOSSIP

It is rumored that the Pans may be so weakened this year that they will drop out of the Baseball League. The players they will lose are: Johnny Williams, George Desha, Jess Woods, Bill Meyers and Major Van Vliet. It is also stated that four Harvard players may fill in on the team. This last is rather doubtful as Harvard 'Varsity men generally have a pretty strong feeling against semi-professional sport of any kind and that is certainly what the baseball here is.

The baseball team of the Royal Kawaihau Glee Club will play the Kilo-banals of the Aala League at Aala Park this afternoon at 3:30. The game should be very close.

New York, Dec. 26.—Around a ring pitched in the home of a Brooklyn yacht club, members and their friends awaited yesterday afternoon the onset of what has been secretly heralded as a battle which would make the usual bout appear like a pantomime.

"Bare knuckles and to a finish," was the tip whispered in the ears of the chosen spectators. It brought to the clubhouse at Bath Beach men well known in club life, brokers whose names are heard frequently on the stock exchange and men about town.

Two youths, sparse of years, but in the pink of fighting condition, danced into the ring. They were Jack Sinnott, the hard-hitting featherweight of Brooklyn, and Stub O'Brien of Ireland. The fighting was furious and O'Brien was knocked through the ropes twice.

As the fighters tired somewhat they were less agile in avoiding punishment and their faces and bodies became crimsoned. Most of those in the front seats bent forward eagerly. They urged the boys to greater efforts. O'Brien was badly battered and stayed in the ring only by sheer nerve. A few of the men pleaded with the referee to stop the affair at the sixteenth round. They were waved away and

Seattle sports are still kicking about having the "lid on" in the Sound city. Boxing and wrestling have been placed under the ban. Boxing is allowed in Vancouver, but the clubs who would like to foster good twenty-round bouts find that it is too expensive to "open the pot." There is no necessity to put the lid on when the license fee runs up into the hundreds.

There is now every reason to think that Jack O'Brien, of Philadelphia, and Gunner Moir, of London, will meet for the heavyweight boxing championship in the course of the next few months. The challenge, which J. Lowe issued on behalf of O'Brien, commends itself to sportsmen. Having first repudiated all such nonsense as to O'Brien's having said he could beat all England's heavyweights in one ring, Mr. Lowe stated his willingness to put down five hundred pounds for the Philadelphia to box Moir twenty rounds with four-ounce gloves for the championship and the best purse offered in England. With Moir anxious to show that England is not so badly off for a heavyweight as many Americans think, we may now look forward to an interesting contest. That there is plenty of support for big men is certain, and already it is known that a purse of one thousand pounds will be offered.

With so much money in the game, it is surprising that England has so few candidates for heavyweight honors. There is absolutely a fortune for the man who can climb to the top and dispose of America's cracks. When one thinks of the small sums Sayers, Heenan and Mace fought their battles for, compared to the purses nowadays, it is remarkable that more good men do not come forward. Sportsmen will all admire Moir's pluck, and though few will fancy his chance against O'Brien, he will have plenty of well wishers.

Oakland, Jan. 5.—Proper, winner of the New Year handicap on Tuesday, made it two in a row by taking the Polyanthe handicap at Emeryville yesterday. Those who played the Jennings horse in the nine-furlong race at odds and went right back to him yesterday got a big return for the capital invested. For one of the few times in his career on the California turf Proper was not favorite. In fact, his ring price was as high as 5 to 1. Tony Faust, the favorite, could not get out of a lurch on the backstretch and had little chance to do his best. Joe Coyne, as good as 100 to 1, ran a remarkable race, getting cut off right at the start, making up acres of ground and finishing an easy second.

There is no regular event in golf scheduled for this Sunday. A large number of the players are away on the Vaucluse trip and there is nothing going on till next week when the Hotel tourney at Haleiwa will come off.

Now You Need A Lawn Mower

One advantage of buying a lawn mower from us is that we have all the extra parts to replace any that may become broken. We also carry grass catchers, shears for trimming edges, hedge shears, garden trowels and weeders, etc.

The suggestion that there is or ever has been any idea of replacing the mile walk as one of the events in the A. A.
U. championships deserves praise as a bit of fabrication worthy of Baron Munchausen. Even in England, where this event has always had its home, there is a constant feeling that it should be eliminated and walking has been reduced from three events at seven, three and one miles to the one mile event. In the Canadian championships it has been dropped altogether and, in fact, with the exception of Australia and Scotland the event has been thrown to one side as uninteresting and unworthy of a place in good sport such as is seen ordinarily at a track meet. We learn, however, from a letter signed H. M. A. that walking is a favorite occupation in Shanghai.

■ ■ ■
Rather rich, that statement alleged to come from Barney Joy, that he is the only good pitcher in the islands.
It may be so but it is a cinch that Barney is too modest to make any such statement.

A race between gigs, manned by crews from the Italian cruiser Marco Polo and the U. S. cruiser Galveston, took place on the 23d ult. on the river at Shanghai. The weather, says the North China Daily News, was cold but fine, and there was a strong breeze blowing up the course. The tug Albatross took up the Marco Polo's crew and band, and had the gig in tow. A large number of Italian sailors were taken up on the Victoria, while the Shun Yuen took up the American crew and gig, and the Shun Fung had on board a number of American bluejackets. The race was timed to commence at 9:30 a. m., but owing to the late arrival of the American crew it was about 10:20 before the contest started. The starting point was some way up the Arsenal Reach, and the finish was just below the Arsenal. The course covered was about 7,200 meters. Each boat was manned by 12 crewsmen, and after some delay owing to obstacles on the course a very fine start was effected. The judges consisted of an officer from each of the competing ships and a Lieutenant from the British cruiser Flora.

Jay Bird, the famous sire of trotters and pacers, whose record as a stallion is unequalled, died suddenly in his paddock at the Maplehurst farm, Bourbon, Ky. He was a noted sire of fast horses, having 110 in the 2:30 list and five in the 2:10, Hawthorne, 2,094, and the mighty Allerton, 2,094, were his best get. Jay Bird was a beautiful iron gray and his produce had the same distinct characteristics almost without exception.

■ ■ ■
Harry Lewis declared that he was through with the ring forever when he was in jail awaiting the action of the authorities who were looking into the death of Mike Ward. Ward died after a prize fight with Lewis. Now that Lewis is breathing the free air once more he has decided that he would be foolish not to make money with his fists, and he is therefore signed to meet Jimmy Gardner in a 10-round battle at Denver on January 5.

■ ■ ■
Archibald H. Douglas, the star half back of the navy team, has been elected captain for the season of 1907.
Douglas made a reputation with the eleven of the University of Tennessee, but broke his leg in a game against

Princeton early in the season of 1904, his first year at the Academy.

■ ■ ■
Athletics at the University of Pennsylvania show a profit of more than $4,000 for the year just closed. Football, as usual, proved to be the best-paying sport, as it netted $66,378.42 in the total receipts of $96,067.35. Baseball, track athletics and basketball also brought in gains, but all the other sports of the university showed a loss.

■ ■ ■
King Edward's beautifully bred three-year-old colt Null Secundus, by St. Simon, out of Nunsuch, which was 1.37.5 regarded as a Derby candidate last spring, has been put over hurdles, and recently won his second race. He was ridden by F. Mason, by far the most successful cross-country rider in England.

■ ■ ■
Shelburn, Ind., Jan. 1.—Marion F.
Walters, sheriff of Sullivan county, celebrated his first day in office today by presenting a boxing contest scheduled between Mike Schreck of Cincinnati and Harry Rogers of this place.

"The people elected me to see that the laws are enforced," said Walters, and I cannot do anything else. There are a lot of fellows, some of them good friends of mine, who will be disappointed. I am sorry for this, but no fight goes."

■ ■ ■
About 1,500 fight fans from various places in Indiana and from Chicago and Cincinnati went to Shelburn to see the bout. All the satisfaction they got out of their trip was to see a determined little man with a sandy mustache tell two top-notch heavyweights where to head in. They also were able to hear Billy Hogan, Schreck's manager, tell some funny stories.

■ ■ ■
After the announcement yesterday that Sheriff Walters would not permit the fight, the fans were ready for the disappointing outcome. The crowd was large, probably four or five times too large for the hall, but most of the raucous came with only a slight hope that the bout would be pulled off.

■ ■ ■
Jem Bowker, the featherweight champion of England, is not coming to this country to fight Abe Attell, despite the fact that Manager Tom Mc-Carey, of the Pacific A. C., of Los Angeles, has offered him $1,000 for traveling expenses and a guarantee that his share of the purse would easily exceed $2,500.

■ ■ ■
Bowker is evidently afraid of At-tell, as he has made arrangements to go to Australia and fight the little man of that country. Mc Carey is now seeking another opponent for Attell.

able.
