"CLEAN-UP DAY" TO BE NEAR-HOLIDAY

President Morgan of Chamber of Commerce Gets Consent of Business Men.

MAYOR FERN VOLUNTEERS TO HEAD DISTRICT No. 2

Public Interest in Public Welfare Movement Increasing Rapidly—Individuals Feel Responsibility.

"Clean-up Day" -- Saturday, June 24--will be practically a business holiday in Honolulu. Most of the big business houses have decided to close for the entire day. During the coming week, the backers of the "clean-up" movement will make a whirlwind campaign to enlist the interest and aid of every household for the climax next Saturday.

President James F. Morgan of the Chamber of Commerce, a hearty believer in the "clean-up" movement, took up with the trustees of the chamber the idea of closing the business houses next Saturday, and the result of his efforts is seen in the following letter:

"Honolulu, Hawaii, June 17, 1911. Mr. Emil A. Berndt, President, Oahu Central Improvement Committee, Honolulu. Dear Sir: It gives me great pleasure to be able to report that, following the receipt of your letter of June 16, I called personally upon each of the trustees of the chamber as are in town and found them practically unanimous in favor of closing up the entire day Saturday, June 24. The banks, though heartily in sympathy with the movement, cannot, as you know, close on account of its not being a legal holiday. The Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company will be compelled, on account of the movement of shipping, to keep open during the morning, but Mr. Kennedy is heartily in favor of the "clean-up" proposition and will willingly give such of his employees as wish (Continued on Page 8)

Law Is After Homesteaders Now On Hawaii

Homesteading in the Kaiwili district near Hilo, Hawaii, is something of a forlorn hope according to the results of the trip of investigation made to the homesteads by Deputy Attorney General Smith. In addition the bona fide settlers are declared to be comparatively few, apparently bearing out the suspicion of the Territorial authorities that the homesteaders at Kaiwili have not been particularly careful to adhere to the letter of the law in following out the regulations under which they acquired their holdings and for which they have applied for final patents. The inaccessibility of the Kaiwili homesteads to good roads is found to militate strongly against their success and the visit made by the Deputy Attorney General resulted in reaching the conclusion that the land was adapted for little else except cane. The question of the homesteaders having deliberately violated the law in some instances will be dealt with in a report that will be prepared for submission to Governor Frear and Attorney General Lindsay. Smith was sent to the Kaiwili homesteads on a trip of investigation upon his return from the district of Kau where it was stated that some of the people identified with the Thompson Settlement Association had practically given their land over to the plantation as soon as they acquired it and had never turned over a spadeful of earth during the entire term of their occupancy. In accordance with the desire of Governor Frear that the rights of the homesteaders and the rights of the Government should receive some sort of judicial interpretation, providing a secure basis for future homesteading administration, a test case is planned on the Kau situation with the probability that a similar policy will now be adopted toward the homesteaders in the Kaiwili district.

BIG ESTATES GIVE PLEDGE OF SUPPORT TO FILLING OF CITY'S WASTE LANDS

The big estates that have holdings that will come within the area planned for reclamation by filling along the Waikiki shoreline of the city, have pledged themselves to aid in the work that had its inception when the administration worked for the $250,000 legislative appropriation for the improvement of insanitary lands. President Mott-Smith of the Board of Health states that the Ward Estate, the Bishop Estate and the Cummins Estate have practically pledged themselves to the idea, and that active work will be undertaken within the course of a few months. P. M. Pond has already started with the filling of a 60-acre area. Bids for the filling in of the district bounded by South and King streets and Ala Moana will soon be called for by the Board of Health, and to this the $250,000 appropriation will apply. The land makai of Ala Moana, however, which is the area incorporated within the General Macomb idea for a great parkway and barracks site, must be dealt with separately.

HILO HIGH SCHOOL ROW IN SOCIETY

HILO, June 16.—Hilo society is being rent asunder by the conflict going on here as the result of the aftermath of the Hilo High School scandal. The Board of Education in its published assignment has left out the names of Mrs. J. T. Lewis and Miss Sandry completely, while that of Miss Jennie Allen appears as among the teachers for the Hilo Union School, instead of in the High School. As the result the adherents of Richmond in this city are in arms and are threatening to have the entire Board of Education removed and sundry other severe punishments.

A reception to one of the deposed teachers is planned and the greatest of care is being taken to separate the sheep from the goats. No men are invited but the ladies who are being asked are being first told of the purpose of the reception and then asked if they will care to be present, while from another source, a kamaaina of Hilo, the edict has gone forth that only those who attend will have their names printed in the next Hilo Blue Book. A good deal of talk has started as the result. The general sentiment of the community is that the action of the Board is one which might well have taken

HE NAMED A VICE PRESIDENT

Once having the honor conferred upon him of offering the name of a candidate for vice-president on the National republican ticket, ex-Governor John Franklin Fort, for years a valued factor in the councils of the republican party, is contemplating a brief stay at Honolulu. Ex-Governor Fort hails from New Jersey where he served a term as governor of that state. Since his admission to the bar in 1872. Governor Fort has rapidly risen in the ranks of public men. He also has a long and honored judicial career to his credit. From 1908 until the spring of this year he was governor of the State of New Jersey. Ex-Governor Fort was elected delegate at large to attend the National Republican convention in 1896 and at that time presented the name of Garrett A. Hobart, as candidate for vice-president. For the past years ex-Governor Fort has been making his home at East Orange. He was an arrival in the steamship Korea this morning and was met at the Alhena wharf by a delegation of local people. With the party is Mrs. Fort, their daughter Miss Fort and also a Miss Osborn.

GUSTS OF WIND DEFEAT MASSON

Aviator Masson was unable to drive his French monoplane from Leilehua this morning on the promised flight to Kapiolani Park. He started, but had to turn back. His program now is to leave Leilehua if possible at 3 o'clock this afternoon and fly to Kapiolani Park, arriving about 3:30 o'clock, after which he will make exhibition flights. Masson and Walker are both billed to fly at Kapiolani Park tomorrow from 10 to 4 o'clock. Walker will use the biplane which was wrecked at Hilo but has been repaired.

Crowd Watches In Vain For His Monoplane

Thirty thousand or more necks got a cramp this morning, sixty or seventy thousand eyes grew tired of looking at the sky, and ten or fifteen thousand persons said "I told you so" when Aviator Masson, the French master of the monoplane, failed to make his flight from Leilehua to Kapiolani Park before the noon hour.

CLARENCE H. WALKER Daring Aviator Who Will Fly at Kapiolani Park Tomorrow.

Originally set for 8 o'clock, the Frenchman did not get his little monoplane into working order until some time after the appointed hour and then was doomed to disappointment in his attempt to set a new distance record for Hawaii. He made his start at last, sailed grandly off toward Honolulu for half a mile and then was struck and turned around by heavy gusts of wind that hit him as a squall would hit a sailboat. So strong was the wind that Masson could not drive the monoplane against it and finally made for the starting place to land. In landing he was nearly wrecked, the machine missing an officer's house by only a few feet, but finally he alighted safely.

Masson and his mechanics at once began further work on the machine and hoped to get it ready to start for Honolulu at 3 o'clock this afternoon. The hope was little of a certainty, however, as the wind is reported as still strong and unless it has gone down in the last hour, Masson will have trouble in making headway in the French machine.

Honolulu watched for Masson from 8 o'clock until noon today, and all along the line of flight from Schofield Barracks to Diamond Head people held a vigil that was unceasing. In the city the streets were full of people looking up, and many sought vantage points in office buildings or on the roof garden of the Young Hotel. Kapiolani Park was crowded, many autos being stationed there.

But they watched in vain. There were many false alarms given of the approach of the birdman, and a lot of people were fooled into looking earnestly upward by seeing joyful jokers yelling excitedly at the heavens and pointing "There he is!"

If Masson is unable to fly this afternoon the machine will be shipped back to the city tonight or early tomorrow morning and he will have to forego the feat. Clarence H. Walker, the brilliant young Coast aviator, will be started tomorrow in the flights at Kapiolani Park, which are due to take place anywhere from 10 in the morning to 4 in the afternoon. Walker will use the biplane that was banged up at Hilo. It has been repaired and he will attempt some sensational performance tomorrow.

Governor Frear stated this morning that the difficulties connected with the amicable adjustment of the respective interests of the Government and of the Mahukona Railroad on the Mahukona wharf and landing have been smoothed away and that plans have been made that will be presented to the harbor commission when it begins its duties on the first of July. The plan as outlined by Governor Frear in his conference with the people representing the Mahukona Railroad is for the railroad to move its equipment to the north side of the harbor on land to be given to the corporation by the Territory while the Territorial landing facilities are to be located on the south side of the harbor. There will be several advantages in this arrangement, according to the statement of the Governor, for the cause of friction will be removed and at the same time the Territory

HAWAII STRONG IN LABOR FIELD

That Hawaii is in a stronger position than before in recruiting European labor, is the opinion reached by members of the Board of Immigration as the result of an oral report made to the board yesterday afternoon by Special Agent A. J. Campbell, who returned yesterday from Europe on the Sierra.

Mr. Campbell's report is that Hawaii is in a position to get many more Spaniards and Europeans, and as soon as the board decides that the time is ripe for further recruiting, more immigrants will be secured. The board authorized the retention of Mr. Campbell, thanked him for his good work and has made public its feeling of approbation both for the good class of laborers he secured and the foundation laid for future recruiting.

Dr. Victor S. Clark, commissioner of Immigration, discussing the policy of the board just now, said this morning: "We realize that more laborers are available, but there is an understanding that no more will be recruited until those here have had time to write back to Portugal and Spain and the news of how they have been received here and of the conditions locally is known where they come from. We must proceed carefully to avoid any diplomatic protest that might be made to Washington, and it is considered that the (Continued on Page 4)

To Finance New Park

A syndicate of local capitalists is being formed to finance an outdoor amusement park, according to authentic information. The men behind the scheme, which is a big one, plan to establish a large park out toward Waikiki, perhaps in the McCully tract, and to fit it out for all kinds of outdoor sports.

A half-mile race track is to be built, grandstands and stables constructed and complete accommodations furnished for a driving park, and with the building of the park it is planned to establish a series of driving matches for gentlemen horsemen, such as have become extremely popular on the mainland of late years. The baseball diamond and grounds are to be as good as money can produce, according to the plans as outlined by one of the men who knows of the movement, and every sort of legitimate sport will be fostered.

PERSONALITIES

A. R. GURNEY, JR., has returned from a trip to Kauai.

M. S. PANRUEL, of Providence, R. I., expects soon to be a visitor here.

MR. AND MRS. J. B. ALEXANDER have resigned from the Libue school, Kauai.

ERNEST MOSES, the Hilo photographer, has returned from a trip to the coast.

I. D. LORENZO, of Chicago, Ill., has returned to his home after a trip to the islands.

DR. O'ROURKE, of Nevada, is visiting his father, J. O'Rourke, in Hilo for a few weeks.

J. A. MOYER, of Kawaihae, has returned from the Philippines and gone to his home on Hawaii.

PROF. C. O. SMITH of the Kealia-Kapaeha school, Kauai, returns to the principalship after a year as supervising principal.

NORTON WILCOX, a member of the same family as the Kauai Wilcoxon, is now visiting on the Garden Island and may locate there permanently.

MAJOR GENERAL RAFALSKI, with the staff of the German army at Tientsin, is returning to the Fatherland after several years service in German possessions in the East.

C. P. BOWDITCH and wife of Boston, C. A. and Mrs. Baldwin of Denver, H. T. and Mrs. Blackburn of Des Moines, are round the world trippers who have been "doing" the Far East.

JAMES JOICEY, a British manufacturer, with place of business at London, is one of several round the world trippers who are passing Honolulu today as passenger in the Korea.

F. A. HOLLABAUGH, the "India rubber man" known from Vladivostok to the tip end of the Malay Peninsula, whose stock in trade is rubber and a cheery disposition is a through passenger in the Korea bound for the Coast.

A. E. KAESER, who for a number of years has represented Cook's Tourist Agency at Yokohama, is a passenger in the Korea enroute to Great Britain, where he will hold a conference with the head of the great touring bureau.

MONS. E. GANNSEN, the consular representative for the Republic of France with headquarters at Yokohama, is returning to his home government for a conference. He has been associated with the French consular service in the East for many years.

A. D. CURTIS, well known member of the Chicago Board of Trade and who passed through Honolulu some months ago as a member of a party of business men from the middle western states, is returning to the mainland in the Korea after having made an extensive tour of the Orient. He is a passenger in the Korea.

MISS DORA KEYES, who passed through Honolulu on the last outward trip of the Korea is said to have figured in a romantic marriage upon the arrival of the liner at the first Japanese port. It was there that the young lady in company with Robert E. Burris, proceeded to the American consulate and announced their intention of becoming man and wife. It was up to the consul to speak the few necessary words.

GEORGE SIMMIE, one of the best known shipping men in the Far East and for the past ten years has been located at Manila, where he is at the head of the largest stevedoring and ship chandlery business in the Orient, is proceeding to San Francisco and then on to the Eastern States for a well earned rest. Simmie is an old steamship man and has a brother as chief officer in the transport Sherman. Mrs. Simmie accompanies her husband on the tour.

What the possibilities of improved steamship service across the Pacific Ocean mean in improved mail and passenger service is brought to the attention of the shipping world by a monster petition now being prepared by business men of Manila asking that the Canadian Pacific's new, and fast shipping service, which is to be an improvement upon the fast service now maintained by that line and which will include large rapid faster ships, include Manila as a regular port of call.

The business men concerned plan that Manila should be an intermediate stop between Nagasaki and Hongkong. This service would give Manila passenger and mail connections with the United States on a 14-day schedule, the new ships of the Empress class being designed to make the trip from Vancouver to Yokohama in 9 days. What the chances for the new service are is yet to be seen, but the mere fact that a 14-day service between Manila and the Pacific coast of North America is altogether practical merits attention.

Manila merchants also are attempting to secure improved service by an arrangement with the Toyo Kisen Kaisha, the subsidized Japanese line of ships sailing between San Francisco and Hongkong, to make Manila a port of call for its ships. At present only the Pacific Mail Steamship Co. is sending its ships to Manila, and the service at present is confined to one ship a month, though it is thought that more calls will be made in the near future.

STEAMSHIP KOREA'S BOTTOM RESTED ON YOKOHAMA MUD.

Not Damaged in the Least Says Captain Saunders—Captain Freeman's Name to Be Perpetuated By Porto Rican Youngster—Sugar From Kauai Ports—Mail for the Coast at Five-Thirty This Evening.

"The Korea went on and was floated off a mud bank in less than five hours," declared Captain J. W. Saunders, commander of that vessel this morning, when asked concerning the extent of trouble met with in entering the harbor of Yokohama.

The Korea was within one mile of the prescribed quarantine ground when the big vessel slid on a soft bank of silt and there stuck until by the rising of the tide, the steamer slid off and then went to her regular anchorage in Yokohama harbor.

The mother. Several women passengers assisted at the interesting event. In recognition of the kindness shown by the skipper, the happy parents insisted that the youngster bear the name of the Mauna Kea's well known commander. Freeman is satisfied and all is well. The Mauna Kea officers look upon the birth of the lad as a harbinger of good luck. This makes the fourth birth that has occurred on vessels commanded by Captain Freeman.

Mauna Kea an Early Arrival.

A rather small lot of cabin passengers made the trip to Honolulu in the steamer Mauna Kea. The vessel arrived with a fair shipment of freight including 2 autos, 3 pianos, 14 bales hides, 33 bales wool, 1894 feet native lumber, a quantity of "empties," 27 sacks taro, 40 cords wood, 6 crates chickens, also consignment of turkeys, pigs sheep and sundries. Purser Phillips reports light winds and smooth seas. The barkentine Hawaii is said to be loading sugar at Mahukona while the brigard arrived there on last Wednesday morning with general cargo from San Francisco. At Honolulu the schooner Foster is discharging a shipment of Australian coal.

Makura in Early.

A wireless message has been received at the agency of T. H. Davies and Company which announces the arrival of the Canadian-Australian liner Makura at the port on or about nine o'clock on Monday morning. This vessel is bringing a number of passengers from Australian ports who will lay over here. There is a small general cargo for the port including vegetables and fertilizer material. The steamer is to receive a prompt dispatch for Victoria and Vancouver there being room for one hundred or more passengers in the several classes.

A diver is said to have gone down immediately following the refloating of the steamer and his report is claimed will show that no damage was done whatsoever. The Korea is also said to have lost no time through the mishap and was enabled to pull out of Yokohama on regular schedule.

The Pacific Mail liner is well laden with a rich and valuable cargo. Following the arrival at Alakea wharf before nine o'clock this morning, a steady stream of Oriental merchandise was discharged which is expected will be completed by five thirty this evening. Of 1662 tons for Honolulu there are shipments of 5229 pkgs. merchandise, 8829 sacks rice, 100 chests tea, 35 cases cigars, also 63 sacks mail.

Through freight has caused the vessel to set well down in the water. In this cargo there is 10,000 sacks copra, 2500 chests tea, 1800 bales hemp, 2800 bags linseed, 16,000 sacks rice and raw silk to the value of $95,000.

Honolulu drew 15 cabin, 10 second cabin, 32 Japanese, 20 Chinese and 27 Filipino passengers.

Shipping men are awaiting with keen interest the publication of the Hongkong Harbor Master's Report for 1910, so that they might learn something more about that increase of 17,875 in the number of ships entered and cleared, about which the Governor of that colony had something to say at the last meeting of the Council. The announcement seems to have created a good deal of astonishment in shipping circles.

What's the Floating Island.

For a distressingly safe, sane and conservative British press the Far East papers have taken up and passed along the following little yarn:

"The British cruiser Petorus has a strange and at the same time interesting discovery to report. This is that she passed a large floating island on her way down south from Hongkong. We wonder if it happened to be occupied by any man or beast."

Shark Ramm'd and Sunk Cargo Boat.

A shark ramm'd and sunk an eighty-ton cargo boat near the waters of Manila Bay and it is declared in shipping circles the first case on record for such a unique accident. The shark in this particular case is a submarine boat of the United States navy and bears the name of Shark.

The submarines were steaming at regular cruising speed (eight knots per hour) in single formation, when the lorch was met in tow of the launch Anilla. The Rainbow, mother ship of the flotilla, and three of the boats, the Moccasin, Adler and Porpoise, passed the lorch safely, but the Shark in some manner struck her, sustaining no damage to herself, but sinking the lorch almost immediately.

Captain Freeman in New Role.

The first birth on board the Inter-Island steamer Mauna Kea since the flagship went into commission took place on the last trip just before arrival at Hilo. A lusty boy was born to a Porto Rican woman. Captain Freeman, master of the vessel, did all that he could to aid in the care of where an automatic light is to be installed at Kumuakahi Point.

Iwalani from Kipahulu.

With a shipment of 2579 sacks sugar and a small quantity of sundries the steamer Iwalani was an arrival from Kipahulu this morning. The officers report fine weather on both outward and homeward trips.

Coasting Steamers Bringing Hidden Millions.

SAN DIEGO, June 7.—Treasure estimated in value at from $15,000,000 to $65,000,000 hidden by the crew of a Chilean cruiser off the coast of Honduras more than a generation ago has been recovered, according to reports received here, by a party of explorers aboard the steamer Eureka, now headed for this port.

The Eureka is commanded by Captain Burtles and about two weeks ago was taken from here on 30 day charter by a party of San Franciscans. Their movements were made so cautiously that it was suspected the steamer was being chartered for a filibustering expedition. It had considerable trouble in getting clearance papers.

The expedition is said to have been financed by Harry Kreling of San Francisco. The map showing the location of the buried treasure was in the possession of a former resident of Honduras, who tried many years to attract capital to finance an expedition in quest of the sunken gold. He was unsuccessful up to the time he met Kreling. The result was the chartering of the Eureka.

Fear that the Honduran government might interfere with the exportation of the treasure is believed to have inspired the secrecy which surrounded every act of those who chartered the steamer.

A message was received yesterday from Salina Cruz about 1,700 miles south of here, which read:

"Expedition a success in every way. Reached San Diego for oil next week. Meet us."

The Eureka, owned by the North Pacific Coast steamship company and having a displacement of 400 tons, is an oil burner. It is said that its stop here will not be for oil alone, but for the unshipment of the gold.

Shark Ramm'd and Sunk Cargo Boat.

The Rainbow, mother ship of the flotilla, and three of the boats, the Moccasin, Adler and Porpoise, passed the lorch safely, but the Shark in some manner struck her, sustaining no damage to herself, but sinking the lorch almost immediately.

Lieutenant Commander Jackson, captain of the yard at Cavite, stated that there was no damage whatever done to the submarine, her officers and crew barely feeling the shock of the impact with the big lorch.

The lorch was loaded with rice and other provisions, and was enroute from Manila to Guinayagan. The lorch was not insured.

MIKADO PLANS SOUTH SEA COLONIES

Sydney (Australia) — No little uneasiness is manifesting itself in Australian circles over the activity of the Japanese in colonizing the island of New Caledonia, which lies nine hundred miles almost due east from Sydney. There are to-day two thousand Japanese on the island, this number having been imported from Japan by the Society le Nickel, which is the name of the company owned by the Rothschilds, which is developing the immense deposit of nickel in New Caledonia. The society has further engaged 2,300 more Japanese to work in its mines.

New Caledonia, it is pointed out, would make an excellent naval base for Japan. The island has a magnificent harbor, it has immense deposits of coal and is enormously wealthy in other minerals.

It is estimated that the Japanese on the island to-day could take possession of it to-morrow if they chose.

There are less than three hundred soldiers on the island, and not a single piece of artillery. The harbor, Noumea, is entirely unprotected.

While the island nominally belongs to France, France has for years maintained only a nominal control.

The "Daily Sun" of Sydney has made a careful investigation of conditions in New Caledonia. It sent a special representative to the island, and his report is somewhat startling to the people of Australia.

The representative of the "Daily Sun" discovered that the Japanese on the island are not coolies, but that the larger proportion of them are skilled workmen. Many of them are engineers, some are bridge builders, some are masons, and others represent many other trades.

Nearly all of them fought in the Russo-Japanese war. They walk about after work wearing the military cloaks which they wore in the war with Russia. Many of them make no concealment of the fact that they are armed with heavy revolvers.

Japanese Gather Data.

It has been discovered that parties of Japanese, under guise of fishermen, have taken soundings of the channels leading to the harbor; that they have charted all the islands and shoals of the harbor, and it is even believed they have imported the necessary mechanical appliances for the establishment of a wireless telegraph station.

The "Daily Sun," after presenting these facts gathered by its special representative, sounds a warning to Australia. It appears that the Japanese are planning to make New Caledonia, if not a dependency of the flag of the rising sun, at least a way station close to the Australian shores from which Japanese laborers can find their way into Australia in large numbers.

There are also indications that the Japanese have their eye on the Loyalty Islands, to which they have emigrated in considerable numbers. They have already installed a wireless station there, according to advices from Victoria.

Asks for Protectorate.

The Loyalty Islands are quasi-independent, ruled by a white man named W. J. Williams. He has addressed petitions both to Great Britain and to French officials asking that a protectorate be declared over the islands to prevent them from being taken by Japan. He says he fears the Japanese are preparing a base from which they could attack Australia if ever the occasion arose.

MONSARRAT HELPS COUNTY

Although District Magistrate Monsarrat held a short session this morning in Police Court, he collected for the county $110, bail money which he ordered forfeited. His decision was a timely help to the county.

During the quiet hours last night the police jumped upon fourteen Japanese gamblers, who were busily playing pai-kau and other Oriental games. They were arrested and taken to the police station, where they each put up bail of $10 for release. When their names were called this morning by Officer Wood, they were not present in court. At the suggestion of Prosecuting Attorney Milverton, who appeared in the absence of A. M. Brown, Judge Monsarrat ordered the bail money forfeited.

The other defendants in court were dealt with according to the circumstances in their cases.

Daddy's Bedtime Story — Fairy, Gold

He Awoke With a Start

"NCR upon a time," said daddy, "there was a poor man who had to work late at night to earn enough money to support himself and his family. He lived a short distance away from the village in which he worked, and the road led past a wood. One night he had to remain longer than usual at his work, and he was very tired when he left his workbench and started home. He stopped to rest and fell asleep at the foot of a tree.

"Now, it happened that in the wood there lived a band of fairies who were very rich. One of them on her way home saw the poor man asleep at the foot of the tree and told her companions about him. One of them said: 'Let us give the poor man some of our money. He looks as though he needed it.'

"So all the fairies commenced carrying bags of gold to the man's feet. When they had quite a pile there they all hid behind trees while one fairy, bolder than the rest, climbed on the log on which the man rested and blew her trumpet into his ear. He awoke with a start, and the fairy ran off before he saw her. But he did not fail to see the bags of money at his feet. He picked them all up and went on his way happy. When he reached home he told his wife that he would not have to work any more; that he was rich.

"Now, the money which the fairies had left for the man was fairy gold, which is very peculiar. It can be spent for good uses only. If any one attempts to spend it for a bad purpose it turns to lead in his hands and is worthless, of course.

"For a long time this man did good with his money. He was kind to his wife and his children and gave to the poor of his town. People tried often to learn where he had obtained the money, but he and his wife were wise, and they would not tell, for they were afraid that if they told the other folks would go to the woods and pester the fairies, and then the fairies would take away their gift.

"But after awhile the man became greedy. He said to himself: 'The fairies gave the money to me and not to my wife and children or the poor of this town. I shall spend it all on myself.' So he said to his wife and his children: 'You must go to work. You shall not have any more of my money. I shall spend it all on myself.'

"You may imagine how surprised he was when he tried to buy things for himself only with the fairy money. When he gave the clerk one of his pieces of money the clerk would say: 'Why, this money is not good. It is our lead. So in a short time the man found that only when he did good with his money did it remain gold, and he became again a very good man.'

SATURDAY JUNE 17, 1911

The law of the harvest is to reap more than you sow. Sow an act and you reap a habit; sow a habit and you reap a character; sow a character and you reap a destiny.—George D. Boardman.

The Mediterranean fly can go into competition with the Site Shifters on holding up the progress of the town.

Sending money out of Honolulu is one of the most direct means of hurting the town that could be imagined.

Somebody blundered when blocking the liberal appropriation from the conservation fund for fighting plant pests.

Note the influence of the Philippines on the United States Government when Congress proposes to establish a summer capitol.

It is gratifying to know that Supreme Court decisions can no longer be forecast by sizing up the number of dinners and the list of guests.

If anyone is displeased with the way the bird men do it, there is always the opportunity of going ahead and showing how it should be done.

Aggressive work along a definite line of proved success is what the taxpayers would like to obtain for their money from the Board of Immigration.

One clean-up day will not drive out the mosquitoes. It will merely be a suggestion of the beginning of a campaign that will have to be fought 365 days of many years.

If the Site Shifters would only quit their foolishness of trying to upset the law of Congress, Honolulu would be in a fair way to having a reputation as a progressive and united town.

Apparently Honolulu is one of the windiest places on earth for aviation purposes. All of which may explain why some of our people are famous for their talkativeness. Environment exercises a greater influence than blood.

If the Board of Immigration were giving the Territory action all the time, there would not be so much occasion to worry over what goes on at the secret sessions of the commissioners.

No one begrudges Immigration Agent Campbell the vote of thanks. Will the commissioners in charge of the matter kindly hasten the departure from Europe of another shipment of emigrants bound for Honolulu.

Workers who will be found in the ranks of the sanitation campaigners will find no difficulty in securing a "day off" on Clean-up day. Declaration of a formal holiday would increase the number of picnics that are not down on the list of the good things the Improvers have to offer.

Far better to cooperate with the army and navy than attempt to block their plans for the improvement of the city. It is also far better to follow the direction of Congress in the establishment of a Federal building for which the money is appropriated.

Don't criticize the city and county government while the Territorial government is spending money with such a liberal hand on the traveling expenses of its numerous representatives. At least give the taxpayers a chance to forget before trying to bluff them into the idea that the local governments are the least efficient and most expensive.

Everybody from the States wonders why Honolulu is so slow in waking up to a realization of what the incoming army and navy activity will do for it. Perhaps the conservatism of the town is due to the fact that some of our residents want to be assured that the American army and navy are made up of real nice people.

Valor of the Americans proved at the battle of Bunker Hill and established by years of warfare following, is by no means dimmed or the anniversary forgotten in consequence of our country today being on exceptionally friendly terms with the descendants of those against whom our ancestors fought. It seems to be an American characteristic to get into frightful fights that finally turn the people involved to forming the most sincere friendships.

Construction of streets that will remain permanently "good" is one of the demands that will be made upon the city Supervisors after the first of July when more money will presumably be available. Our street construction at the present time is not meeting the demand made upon it by the heavy traffic of automobiles. The whole method of making the streets must be changed. The Board of Supervisors that realizes this and acts accordingly will receive the credit and good will that will be richly deserved.

With the mainland market closed to Hawaii's fruits, there is all the more reason why undivided attention should be turned to practical means of supplying from our own fields the local demand for fruits and vegetables. Fifty years ago Honolulu was shipping vegetables to San Francisco. Now it is sending money to San Francisco for products that can be grown here.

Judge Clemons is making a splendid reputation for himself because of the manner in which he is handling the difficult cases that come before him in the United States District Court to which he was recently appointed. In connection with some of the cases he has to decide almost off-hand important points of law regarding which justices elsewhere would take weeks and weeks to consult authorities. He shows great facility in getting at the root of intricate matters and generally conducts the affairs of the court in a manner which calls for the highest commendation.—Advertiser.

To all of which the Bulletin subscribes, with a query of whether this is another evidence "that America breeds men as polished, as courtly, as learned and with as high ideals as any country on earth."

GOVERNOR OR LEGISLATURE.

According to the information given the Bulletin, the original resolution for the apportionment of the Conservation fund allowed fifteen thousand dollars for just such work as is necessary in combatting the Mediterranean fruit fly.

The same informant states that after the resolution passed through the Governor's office it came out with the fifteen thousand eliminated.

Under these circumstances it cannot be charged with any degree of truth that the position in which the Territory finds itself as regards funds for fighting fruit and plant pests is the fault of the Legislature except in so far as the legislators failed to take the opportunity for making another fight against the mistakes of the executive department of the government.

VOCATIONAL SCHOOL TRAINING.

It is difficult indeed to suit everyone in shaping an educational system.

At the present time Boston is receiving a visit from a commission sent forth by the National Education Association of England and Wales to examine the public school system of this country with particular reference to the vocational schools. It is interesting to note that these trained observers, while expressing their interest in our school systems, are yet inclined to question if we are not overdoing in the matter of vocational schools and industrial teachings. "Good workmen are wanted," said one, "but good citizens are also wanted." Another felt that there is a danger that vocational training would be carried too far, as he did not believe the whole function of a school was to prepare a boy to step into a shop.

Boston and the cities of the east do far more in vocational training in the public schools than has been thought of in Hawaii.

It is very interesting to note however that the English educators are criticizing our eastern fellow citizens for doing that which most everyone here believes should receive more attention from our local school directors. But the criticism of Boston by

CHICAGO MERCHANT MAKES STATEMENT.

After Spending Thousands of Dollars and Consulting the Most Eminent Physicians, He Was Desperate.

CHICAGO, ILLS.—Mr. J. G. Becker, of 134 Van Buren St., a well-known wholesale dry goods dealer, states as follows:

"I have had catarrh for more than thirty years. Have tried everything on earth and spent thousands of dollars for other medicines and with physicians, without getting any lasting relief, and can say to you that I have found Peruna the only remedy that has cured me permanently.

"Peruna has also cured my wife of catarrh. She always keeps it in the house for an attack of cold, which it invariably cures in a very short time."

In 1894. As a matter of fact, James Freeman Clark died in Boston in 1888.

The article states that in 1894 William M. Brundage, an Episcopal minister, became a Unitarian after attending a Unitarian conference at Saratoga. I turned to the official list of clergy of the Episcopal church for 1894 and found no Brundage in the list. I searched the clergy lists from 1894 back to 1882, and there was no Brundage, nor did the name appear later.

Either the event occurred prior to 1882 or not at all.

When I read the article I felt sure that James Freeman Clark died before 1894, and then it is an exceedingly rare thing for a clergyman of the Episcopal church to become a Unitarian, and this led me to look the matter up.

That conditions here are liked by the immigrants was proved when a copy of a Portuguese paper was received this morning by the board. It spoke of the sickness on board, but in very moderate terms, and praises conditions as found in Hawaii.

SUMNER HAS NEW ATTORNEY

John K. Sumner has a new attorney in fact. This time it is E. L. Jones, whom Sumner has substituted for John Marcellino. The tenure of office of Marcellino broke the record, he serving Sumner in the capacity of attorney in fact for a period of thirteen months. Sumner has a weakness for changing his representatives, and this time Jones is his choice, but for how long remains to be seen.

All Punahou Alumni, under graduates and their families and relatives are cordially invited and urged to attend the usual annual exercises of the Punahou Alumni to be held on the Oahu College grounds on Friday, June 23rd at 3:30 p. m. A reception will be given ex-president W. C. Merritt who has kindly consented to give a few reminiscences of Punahou life during his incumbency. This will be of especial interest to all, particularly those who attended Punahou under Mr. Merritt. Other short addresses will be given, following which a baseball game will take place between members of the Alumni and the College team.

UMBRELLA LANGUAGE.

"David Graham Phillips was a realist. He handled life with a biting humor. The ordinary romantic novel, Phillips once explained, resembles the language of flowers, while Phillips' own novels resemble umbrella language."

The speaker, a member of the Princeton club of New York, smiled. "Phillips then quoted," he continued, "some of his umbrella language. It ran:

"An umbrella placed in the club rack indicates that it will soon change owners.

"An umbrella carried over a woman by a man who gets nothing but the drippings of the rain is a sure sign of courtship.

"When, on the other hand the man carries the umbrella so that the woman gets the drippings it is a sign of marriage.

"A cheap cotton umbrella placed beside a fine silk one means 'Exchange no robbery.'

"To buy an umbrella means, 'Not smart, but honest.'

"To carry an umbrella to work in the morning means, 'It is bound to clear off.'

"To lend an umbrella means, 'I'm a fool.'

"To return an umbrella—but never mind what that means, for it is a thing that nobody ever does."

(In defense of a quiet dog who was barked at by a bustling dog.)

Once, saying less, and leaving more unsaid, I heard him barking say, "Oh, he is dead.

"He's a dead dog," by which, no doubt, He meant to snub some poor dog's snout.

He quite forgot that sometimes dead things are More useful than live counterparts, by far:

That life is not a substitute for worth; That death is better, oft, than birth.

Dead is this oak to all the world without, It neither talks nor struts about;

Its life is held within, and yet the oak You can not topple with a poke!

Live is the fly, the gnat, the wondrous flea— All these are full of life as you can see.

II

I was a dog; I barked and bit, I very often took a fit;

Did growl and wag my tail about, And all the lesser doggies rout,

Till many said with weary wit: "He never can get over it."

But still I lived and made a noise, Having dog sorrows and dog joys.

I went to dog school: made my mark And barked my graduating bark,

Calling on other noble dogs to hear How loud my bark was and how clear.

I lived at home and was my kennel's pride, More dear to it than all the world beside.

I had my way: the only dog was I That could upon our doorstep lie;

I did not mix with other dogs, so day by day

I uglier, growling grew, and so grew gray.

Advertising Talk

Frankness and honesty are the recognized principles of confidence and friendship. No merchant makes a man a friend by taking his money under false pretenses. These are the days when the merchant who is wise in his generation, will tell you the exact age of the eggs when you ask him. He will tell you the table is cherry and not the mahogany that it is stained. That the price you are willing to pay will only purchase a second-class article as you can get any where. There is one class of merchant who should never advertise—the dishonest one—he will last longer; people will find him out at once if he does. It pays to be honest simply because human nature resents being cheated. Honolulu is a progressive city and the people here have formed the habit of reading the advertisements that are printed in the daily papers, and the habit has grown because the local stores have taken the people into their confidence and told them straight truth about the goods they have to offer. That is why advertising in the Evening Bulletin brings such good results. In this city it is the practice among advertisers to address themselves to the public just as if they were talking to personal friends because they know nearly everybody in the community and they would not be doing the fair thing by their friends if they were not as accurate in their printed words as they were in their spoken words.

their big commands. Captain Stevens of the America and Captain H. Stanley Smith of the Nippon Maru, the smaller vessels of the line, would both like to fall into the choice berth on the latest liner, which is a sister ship of the Tenyo and Chiyu. Captain Smith, it is reported, has the strong backing of General Manager Shirahashi for the position, while Stevens also has many supporters among the Japanese associated with the large Ori-Greene of the Chiyu are content with

JORDAN'S

PALAMA ENDS PROGRESS YEAR

Evidences of good, careful and systematic training on the part of teachers were plainly visible last night, when the children of the Palama Settlement went through their closing exercises on the occasion of the fifteenth anniversary, which took place in the large assembly hall of the settlement, on King street. The hall was fairly well filled with parents and friends of the children, and the assemblage of different races, representing the Occident and the Orient, was interesting to see.

W. S. Bowen, under whose supervision the work of the settlement has been carried on for many months, officiated during the progress of the program, and has made a splendid record.

The program consisted of musical selections by the orchestra, under the leadership of A. Evensen. Miss Bertia Fisher, the pianist, and Miss Hall helped materially in leading the chorus.

The Japanese fan drill and the wand drills by the girls were among the most interesting features of the program. The girls, attired in their blue uniforms, went through the performance to perfection.

The young men of the settlement pleased the audience with the exhibition of their skill on parallel bars. The booths showing the different work of the nursing and cooking departments were arranged systematically. Tents for Boy Scouts were pitched within the hall, with American flags flying over them.

Before closing, Mr. Bowen addressed the audience, in part as follows:

"This is, as the work stands today, arranged under the efficient leadership of J. A. Rath. It is hoped that it may increasingly meet the needs of the community in which it is located and steadily progress through methods of greater efficiency.

"But, before closing, we can not forget the act of Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Jones that made all this possible. Fifteen years ago they noticed the need here in Palama for a little chapel that should tell for the Christ spirit in this neighborhood. They built it. Today this whole neighborhood is feeling the effects of that one act. It, too, has begun to step into the brotherly Christ-like life and to reach after higher things."

The program follows:

1. orchestra; 2. piano solo; 3. girls' drill; 4. orchestra; 5. the parallel bars; 6. Kamehameha Glee Club; 7. violin duet; 8. Japanese fan drill; 9. Kamehameha Glee Club; 10. piano solo; 11. orchestra; 12. choir; 13. reminiscences; 14. "Hawaii Pono!"; 15. "America."

THERE'S distinction about some clothes ; an "air" of quality and fashion which most men are willing to pay well for. Just what it is, just where it's located, just how much of it is the man and how much is the clothes you can't always say. But that's one thing you get in

Hart Schaffner & Marx

clothes, and it's something you don't always get in other clothes. The fact is, you get more real "class" in these clothes than the average custom tailor can give you; the man who wants to be especially well dressed would much better buy these Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes, ready-made, than give up time and money to have clothes made to measure.

In these clothes you get better fabrics, better tailoring, better style, and as a rule better fit than you'll get in any other way.

any clothing store offers you, come in and learn how mistaken you are.

MID-PACIFIC FOR JULY OUT

Number 1 of Volume II. of the Mid-Pacific, for the month of July, is being handed to the public today, and the public is taking it as fast as it can be handed out. It comes out with a new dress on the front cover which would make it a marked book in any bookstand.

The magazine is filled, as usual, with hundreds of illustrations characteristic of life in the semi-tropics and through summer seas.

In this latest issue of the Mid-Pacific a reaching out to the Far East and bringing it within the charmed circle is made in a very interesting article, while the endless source of supply for articles on territory washed by the waters of the eastern Pacific furnishes most interesting matter for the rest of the book.

The July number of the Mid-Pacific is a most valuable one to send to one's friends of the mainland. It will take the place of a thousand personal letters, which could not tell the story half so well.

REPORT IS MADE ON COLLEGE EXTENSION

Professor Vaughan McCaughey, in charge of the extension work at the College of Hawaii, has prepared an extremely interesting report on the extension work for the past three years.

The plans, though still almost in their infancy, have worked out far beyond the expectations of the founders, and every reason is given to believe that the college will benefit a larger and larger proportion of those not able actually to attend classes at the college.

"The correspondence work has amply justified its existence and bids fair to increase markedly from year to year," says Professor McCaughey in his statement.

MARKET CLOSES WITH FEW SALES

The week on the stock market closed sluggishly today, with little movement in sugar securities, but with no decided trend either way. It is a typical "waiting market," and except for Oahu, Ewa and Olan not a stock moved today.

Oahu sold at 31.25 today, a drop of a quarter of a point, three blocks totaling 200 shares going at this figure. Ewa sold in small lots at 31.75, and two blocks, fifty shares each, of Olan, went at 4.025.

The Hawaiian exchange reports 300 Purisima Oil at 25 and 100 Jewel Oil at 96 as its sales for the day, and gives the following oil quotations:

The British freighter Boverie, arrived at San Francisco on May 21 from Sydney on a voyage which was interrupted when the steamship went ashore on a coral reef at the entrance of Nukualofa. The Boverie left Sydney in command of Captain Harper, who gives great credit to the British gunboat Encounter for the assistance the warship gave in getting the steamer into shape so that she could continue her passage to the Golden Gate. The four-foot hole which was punched in the hull of the Boverie on the port side was patched up by divers attached to the Encounter, which also assisted the steamer in getting afloat after she had jettisoned 600 tons of coal.

FERNANDEZ AS THEATRICAL MAN

(Special Bulletin Correspondence.)
HILLO, June 16.—Eddie Fernandez, of Honolulu, has blossomed out as a theatrical magnate in this section and if the rumors which are heard prove true is going to take a pretty big hand in the theatrical game. Yesterday he was the only bidder for the Galey Theater, which was knocked down to him for the upset price of $2000, which finally settles the foreclosure proceedings brought against Bailey and Lawson by Mrs. Eckbert, who has lost heavily upon the mortgage which she took from the theatrical pioneers in this city.

In addition to this Fernandez has made arrangements for the running of a show every Saturday night at Pahoa, in which he has been given the heartly cooperation of Col. Sam Johnson, the manager of the Pahoa Mill Company, and also has other plans on foot for the sending of a moving picture outfit throughout the Hilo and Hamakua districts, to give shows at all the plantations. His plan is to have a big automobile which will carry his complete outfit and to make arrangements with the various managers by which he can use the storehouse for theaters. He proposes to advertise by sending up big kites with signs telling of his show, printed in Japanese, English, Hawaiian and Russian. Small admission fees will be charged but it is expected that the novelty will take very well.

The Hands-Around-the-Pacific Club held a business meeting yesterday afternoon, word being received from Percy Hunter, that he may represent the club in London at the coronation ceremonies.

Honolulu In 1850

As told in excerpts from the Polynesian, the oldest paper on the Pacific. Edwin O. Hall, editor.

One of the first features that strikes the reader of the Polynesian for June 1, 1850, is the lively business that was done by firms in Honolulu shipping potatoes and general produce to San Francisco. For instance, the following: "WILL YOU TAKE A CARROT?" We have had the extreme pleasure not only of viewing, but of feeding on the modest specimens of this edible garden product that the Islands have ever produced. Better indeed, by far, than we thought the soil capable of bringing to maturity without injury to its delicate flavor and juiciness. It was a carrot nineteen inches in circumference, grown on the land of our valued friend, Captain David Adams, the patriarch of the foreigners, at Kailua.—Times.

Rev. Mr. Parker of Kaneohe has sent us a specimen of what these Islands are capable of raising. It is a fine New England pumpkin, weighing 20 pounds, and measuring 40 inches in circumference, raised from seeds imported in the Carolines in February last. We can not see why pumpkins can not be raised in large quantities for export to California, for they are much superior to the roughish in their keeping qualities, and would keep well for four or five months, and vessels in our harbor would soon be filled if they could be had.

The great importance of the large district of Kula, East Maui, to merchants and shippers who are engaged in forwarding potatoes and other of our products to San Francisco, has led the firm which is most largely engaged as buyer there, to establish an office in Honolulu, where one of the partners will always be at hand to afford precise information as to prices, etc., and enter into the necessary contracts. See advertisement of Halstead, Smith & Robinson.

POTATOES! POTATOES!—We beg respectfully to inform merchants and shippers generally, that we are prepared to supply them with potatoes, sugar, syrup, molasses, and all the other products of these Islands, at the shortest notice.

With a view to ensure a more regular and prompt attention to our numerous friends who have opened an office at the old stand of Mr. F. W. Thompson, opposite Messrs. Williams & Co., where Mr. Robinson will be glad to receive orders and give them his best attention.

HALSTEAD, SMITH & ROBINSON,

In regard to our own first efforts, we can not but regret that provision was not made for supplying the town of Honolulu, as well as the shipping visiting our port; and we hope the government will take no time in importing the necessary pipes for accomplishing this desirable result.

Passing along the street a few mornings since we were accosted by a native who had an unintelligible bit of paper in his hand, partly printed and partly in writing, which he wished interpreted. On reading it over it proved a jury summons for him to appear at the July term. After telling him what it was, he appeared to be relieved from his embarrassment, for his utter inability to understand a word of it had somewhat alarmed him, and his imagination may have conjured up some more formidable misadventure than a simple jury summons.

We think the natives of the Islands are certainly entitled to the right of being addressed, in all legal process, in a language they understand. And we do not believe the worthy occupants of the bench of the "Supreme Court of Law and Equity" would ever impose a fine upon a native for not heeding a process addressed to him in the English language only. So far as ideas are concerned, he might as well be addressed in Chinese or Greek.

Building.—It is very gratifying to notice the number of new buildings going up in all parts of the town at the present time. It indicates prosperity and thrift. Many natives are substituting wood houses for their thatched huts, many of which were small and leaky and ill adapted to comfort or health. Should lumber be as reasonable as it now is for any length of time, but few thatched houses will be erected in Honolulu after a year or two. The native material is constantly increasing in price, and the labor of thatching is now so expensive that there is not much difference between a wood and a thatched house even now.

For the Polynesian.
Mr. Editor: I have suffered myself, and have heard others speak of the difficulty of using a gold pen because it was so stiff. One pen which I used was improved by filing the back so as to make it more pliable. A better remedy is to hold the pen as when writing and press the rib across the thumb nail of the left hand, taking care to press both points alike. Be careful lest, by a slip, the points should be injured.

The elasticity of the gold is such that a pen may be altered to suit any person's wish.

HOUSE WOULD BAR "FOREIGN" VOTES

WASHINGTON, May 29.—If President Taft goes to Cincinnati to vote he violates the law, according to Representative Joseph Greeves, Democrat of Cleveland, in the House today. Overlooking the fact that there is no voting in the District of Columbia, Mr. Greeves said he believed that Mr. Taft ought to cast his vote in Washington. Mr. Greeves' remarks were made during the discussion of a bill intended to prevent college students from voting in a college town unless they intend to remain there permanently. The bill went through the House as a party measure, the Democrats supporting it solidly, and practically all of the Republicans opposing it.

Honolulu was just beginning to see the necessity for a water works system in 1850. The Polynesian of June 1, 1850, published on its first page a long review of what had been done in the States toward establishing municipal water works, the article carrying the following introductory paragraphs:

Water Works.—As the Hawaiian government is now engaged in the laudable undertaking of introducing pure water from the "King Spring" into Honolulu, we doubt not but our readers will be interested in the following account of some of the principal water works in the United States. In this and the succeeding number we shall reprint from the American Almanac for 1850 an account of the mode adopted for watering the three principal cities in America, and shall continue the account in regard to European cities, provided we can procure the data.

CONFESSES WAS EMPLOYED AS DYNAMITER

MUSKOGEE OMA, June 2.—John Delaney, a structural ironworker, today confessed to Harry Eagan, a representative of the Muskegee Phoenix in the presence of witnesses, that he had been employed by John J. McNamara, secretary and treasurer of the International Association of Bridge and Iron Workers of America, to travel throughout the country inspecting all structures being erected by non-union labor, securing carefully made drawings of such structures and marking the spot with a cross where dynamite could be most easily placed and be most effective.

Still Has drawings.

Delaney in his confession declared that it was his duty to forward the drawings to John J. McNamara, and he did forward them. He still has a few such drawings, bearing the cross-marks. In his possession, together with several letters of instructions addressed to him and purporting to be signed by McNamara.

A representative of William J. Burns was here today and immediately left for the East. The following is his written confession:

"I know G. Skidmore of Pittsburgh, Pa., local No. 3. I met him late in 1902. We worked together in Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Philadelphia and New York City and Buffalo. In the spring of 1906 Mr. Skidmore by request at Cincinnati met me and we went to Indianapolis and there I met Mr. McNamara in the local union No. 22. Mr. Skidmore gave me the introduction to Mr. McNamara and at this time McNamara said to me, 'You have been very highly recommended to me by Skidmore and as you are not afraid of anything, I have some work we can use you on, with your expenses paid at all times and good money besides.'

Engaged For Work.

"At this time McNamara said to me that he wanted me to look up all structural ironwork that was being done by non-union labor and find out whether it was very hard to get at these jobs or not; he promised to pay me every quarter, my salary to start from that time. I told him at this time that I would think the matter over and tell him more definitely later.

"I went from there to Birmingham, Ala., and I was there about four or five days when I received a letter from McNamara asking me if I was going to turn this proposition down; if so to let him know at once, as he had another party that he wanted to get in. I notified him that I would be back in Indianapolis as soon as this work was done that I was working on and would take the proposition up with him.

Building Blown Up.

"The first building I located for Mr. McNamara was in Cincinnati, an office building on Vine street, which was being erected by non-union men. I wrote to Mr. McNamara, sending him a diagram of this office building, showing him the point where dynamite could be placed for the destruction of this building. This building was blown up by members of the structural iron workers in January of the year 1907.

"The next building I located for Mr. McNamara was the Viaduct in Chicago; that was blown up in February of the year 1907. I went from there to St. Louis and located a building on St. Charles street, which was blown up at some time later by the Structural Ironworkers' Union. I went from there to Denver, reaching there the 15th day of August, 1909, and registering at the St. Joe Hotel, Ninth and Larimer streets.

Given More Instructions.

"While at Denver I received a letter from McNamara to go to Salt Lake City, and I went, arriving there the 16th day of November, 1909. I registered at the Wabash rooming house. While there I got two letters from McNamara, instructing me to find the location of the Utah Hotel and telling me that I would have another party make himself known to McNamara, whose name I have forgotten, and this party would blow up the Utah Hotel. This building was blown up on the 29th day of December at 3 a. m.

"At the time this building was blown up I was standing one block south of it. When the explosion took place, I ran toward it, thinking someone was killed. When I got close to the building I was nearly struck by a piece of iron and started to run away again, when I was taken up by a police officer who took me before Chief of Police Sam Barlow and Chief of Detectives George Sheets. I was tried in connection with this case and given six months in the county jail and a fine of $350. I paid $65 (the balance was remitted) and served the sentence.

Aid Is Refused.

"After leaving the jail I went to Houston, Texas, and there wrote to McNamara demanding my fee for the part I had taken in these affairs. He wrote back to me refusing to give me any aid whatever and also advised the local secretary to take up my union card No. 29783. Since then I have had nothing whatever to do with the union or McNamara and give this statement cheerfully of my own accord that justice may be done to the offending parties."

In a verbal confession later tonight to Eagan, Delaney declared he was in communication with McNamara in December in regard to the Salt Lake City "job." Delaney then was in Houston, Texas.

Tom Hall, he said, blew up the bridge in Kansas City. Hall worked for him a while, he said, in Austin, Texas.

Orlie McNamara brought the letter of introduction to him from McNamara, he said, while he stayed at room 42, Wabash rooming house, in Salt Lake.

Delaney came to Muskogee two months ago. He began work as a cab driver. He worked at that just seven days, when he accepted employment as a "dynamiter" in the oil fields here. He is still working here.

The representative of the William J. Burns detective agency, who was here today, discredited Delaney's confession, according to the statement of a Muskogee police official tonight.

HORRORS OF NEW YORK FIRE

Gruesome Sights Described and Pathetic Incidents Told and Retold.

NEW YORK, May 4.—By day and night crowds still gather at the scene of the Greene street fire disaster—men and women, mostly workers themselves; hundreds of them working under conditions similar to those in which toiled the 145 human beings whose lives went out in black despair and agony a few days ago. The shock of the frightful fire that was felt so intensely by the entire city, and the whole country, for that matter, has somewhat abated in its poignancy. But with the factory workers themselves it will take a much longer while before the horror passes out of their minds or even dims into a mere remembrance.

The other buildings near the Asch factory building are decorated all of them in black and white crepe, festooned with shields in the center expressing sentiments of grief over the tragedy. In the next building in Greene street and on the corresponding floors in this building with those in the edifice next door, where so many fellow workers were roasted to death or forced to plunge to their deaths or were sent reeling helplessly over the railing of the single fire-escape, there flaunts in the wind heavy hangings of black.

"We mourn the loss of our friends," the shield reads there. And on the doors below are other hangings and a second shield, which reads: "We mourn the loss of our neighbors." In Waverly place a third shield reads, "We mourn the loss of the unfortunate in the terrible disaster."

Rich Men Horrified.

There is a group of about one hundred millionaires who will carry an impression of the Green street fire more vivid and horrifying than came to them through any newspaper accounts. These men were forced with their own eyes to witness the scene of greatest horror in its enactment; saw themselves the girls and youths and women and men as they clambered out upon the window sills, with the fire raging behind them and driving them into despairing leaps to the ground, with clothing and hair ablaze. In the ears of these wealthy men the shrieks of the despairing and dying sounded.

The fire started at the very hour when many of the Wall street men and prominent corporation heads and presidents were on their way home in their motor cars. Green street and other thoroughfares less crowded than Broadway are often used by the big limousines carrying wealthy passengers to Fifth avenue, Riverside or the big hotels, or starting out into the handsome suburban estates.

The warning hands of policemen were lifted and the whole parade of motor cars brought to a halt. It was a fine day, and most of the motor cars had their tops down. Some of the younger of the wealthy men leaped out of the automobiles and rushed forward, trying to give assistance. Two of them aided in lifting maimed creatures and bearing them out of the flood of water. Some were able to produce from their tompaws leather cases containing articles for giving first aid to the injured—bandages, brandy, strychnine tablets and antiseptic washes.

Some of the older men sat helplessly and half a dozen or more were so completely unnerved that they covered their faces with their hands and simply sat and shuddered and begged their chauffeurs to try and turn about and get away from the place of horror.

Some of the Gruesome Incidents.

Firemen, police and reporters, men used to viewing tragedy in countless aspects, were robbed of ordinary calmness under such circumstances and went about with the horror of it all written in their eyes and expressed in the tremulousness of their voices as they went over facts of the horror. Some of the policemen and firemen openly accepted offers of flasks thrust toward them from the crowd, and their superiors winked at the infraction of the rules against taking stimulants while on duty. A big, brawny policeman sought gently to lift a body out of the mound of the dead to carry it away to the opposite corner, where the bodies were being decently covered with tarpaulins. The arm of the woman came off in his hand. He stared at it an instant, then dropped the gassy thing and staggered away, he tried to describe to another policeman what had happened, but he was incoherent with hysteria.

Firemen who first reached the rear of the building and saw the single fire escape in the back turned back and fairly yelled—cries forced out of them by the horror of what they had suddenly come upon. They were prepared to see what was ghastly. The figures burned to skeletons that were still at the machines, the prostrate bodies all over the floors, had been frightful enough. But the fire-escape was the most gruesome sight of all.

When the treadway had sagged under the feet of the panic-stricken and the guard rails split, men and women had been thrown out into space. But many of their bodies struck upon the lower landings of the fire-escape, smashed the railing and left the bars exposed as pickets, upon which the bodies coming after were caught and torn and held. The structure of the rear fire-escape was actually hung with human bodies and sections of torn flesh, ripped from other human bodies as they fell into the closed court below.

Among the newspapermen was a "cub," a young man in his very early twenties. In childhood his parents had kept all sights of tragedy from him; he was never even permitted to attend an ordinary funeral. He had, in short, never seen a dead body in his life. It was a grueling baptism of gruesomeness that the young fellow had in store for him. He stood for a few seconds without seeing the heaps of the dead on the street. Then the "cub" reporter suddenly asked one of the newspapermen early on the scene: "Where are the people that are hurt—the ten ambulance calls?"

The other reporter merely pointed down along Green street and then indicated with his thumb the sidewalk on Washington place.

A Cub's Baptism of Horror.

The boy got waxen white and clutched at the arm of his informant for support. The first casual glance had only indicated that the blackened mounds on the sidewalk were heaps of rolls of cloth and white linens and lacee tossed out of the windows perhaps to save them from the flames. It was only when a steady scrutiny was had that the shocking truth about the charred and blackened mounds became apparent—when through the heap of burned clothing there was to be seen a fire-redened human face, a protruding limb blackened or turned crimson. The young reporter, lowering his eyes to shut out the sight, saw then the water as it rushed through the streets. He ribs, was reddened with human blood. He turned his back on the scene for a while, biting hard at the stem of his pipe in the effort to hold his nerves together, biting so hard that the stem cracked. But he stuck to his work. The next day he was on duty at the Morgue; he was still white, but he was sane. He told, however, of a night of horror, of dreaming again and again that he was being burned away—again his arms. And once he awakened screaming. His hand, cold with sweat, was shaking feeling for his chin that he could not find. He had seen a face like that—a man who jumped from the ninth story and fallen on his face, and all that was left of his countenance was a tuft of hair, his forehead and two staring, horror-lighted eyes.

The Awful Tale of Two Hooks.

Of all the incidents of those who tried for their lives by leaping the 90 to 100 feet from the windows to the sidewalk, the strangest cases were those of two girls, one whose body yet rests among the unidentified, the other named Ida Singer, a worker at the sewing machines in the Triangle Waist Company. Both were toiling on the ninth floor when the fire swept upon them. Both jumped from nine-story windows. They jumped near the angle of the building as it faces the corner of Washington place and Green street. Out from this corner ridge protrude the wire network and steel bound signs of the firms who occupy the different floors of the building. Some of them are held in place by hooks. Miss Singer had fallen with such dizzy rapidity as to become unconscious. But just as her body was passing the third floor one of the iron hooks caught her skirt. The material of her dress was stout. It ripped about twelve inches, then ripped no more. She hung in the air. She was unconscious for several seconds more. But regaining her senses hardly able to credit her good fortune, she reached up to the hook, righted her body and had the strength to crawl over the sill of a window on the third floor. Two men and two girls who managed to make their way to this floor helped her inside. The others, hysterical themselves over the harrowing experience through which they had passed, hugged and kissed the girl and told her how happily they were that she had so miraculously escaped.

But the other poor young creature was to be benefited by no such wonderful good fortune. Her body caught on one of the hooks, too. It was not, however, one of the stories below the fire line. She leaped from the ninth floor and was caught at the eighth and held there amid a roar of fire. She was burned as a fowl might be roasted on a spit. More than a thousand persons from opposite buildings saw the young girl meet this frightful death.

SHE STOOPS TO BREAK

MOUNT VERNON (N.Y.), May 22.—A young woman, accompanied by a bevy of friends, issued from the handsome mansion of Adhemar Fleux at Mount Vernon on May 19th last. Passersby noticed that the young woman dropped her hatpin. As she stooped to recover it there was a sharp snap and she fell to the ground. The young woman, Mrs. Marjorie Gambo Fleux, relative by marriage of Mrs. Lillian Nordica and niece of Millionaire Louis Bunkel, for ten days puzzled the doctors as to her ailment. To-day, after an exhaustive X-ray examination, it was discovered that in leaping over Mrs. Fleux had broken three of her ribs.

TWO GOOD GAMES FOR TOMORROW

There will be two interesting games of baseball played at Athletic Park tomorrow afternoon. The first encounter will be between the Portuguese and Japanese teams. This is expected to be a rattling good game, as the P. A. C. bunch is determined to beat the Japanese this time. So far the Nipponese have won all their games with the Portuguese team, and the Portuguese are determined to make a big effort to avoid further defeats.

The Japanese are to have Madeiros in the box, while the P. A. C. will stand by Pedro and assist him in every way. Pedro has pitched some fine games for the Portuguese team lately.

In the second game it will be a fight between the Stars and Hawaiis. The former are out to win the game, as they want to prevent the Hawaiis from winning the championship of the first series.

John Mikiha will be in the box for the Hawaii team, while Apau will be given another chance to put the ball over the plate for the Stars. A good game should result from these two teams.

PALAMA SECTION NEXT FOR TOUR

Palama section is the next billed for the keen scrutiny of the Sanitary Commission, and next Monday afternoon is set as the time when the members of the commission will resume their tours of inspection, after an interim of two weeks. The interim was caused partly by the fact that several members had private business to attend to and partly also because Chairman Carter's automobile was temporarily out of commission.

Chairman Carter said this morning that the commission will make the inspection of Palama its first business. The commission will leave the Board of Health offices at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

BULLETIN ADS. PAY

"CLEAN-UP DAY" TO BE NEAR-HOLIDAY

to participate actively in the work a full day off.

"With best wishes for the success of the splendid work you have in hand, believe me, yours very truly,
"(Signed) JAMES F. MORGAN,
"President."

With the receipt of this letter today, and the increasing interest that the public has manifested in the special clean-up day, the Oahu Central Improvement Committee and the subcommittees named to take active charge of the campaign feel well satisfied, and next Saturday promises to be a day of real work for the public good, by the public-spirited citizens of Honolulu.

Mayor Offers Help.
Mayor Fern has come forward with an offer to take personal charge of District No. 2, the Walkiki section, next Saturday, and under his direction several large gangs of men will do a thorough job of it. The mayor and supervisors have placed the city and county forces at the disposal of the executive committee next Saturday.

Already the efforts of the committees are bringing results. In every part of the city individuals are cleaning up vacant lots, alleys, choked drains, clearing off sidewalks and in other ways carrying out the sanitary campaign idea without waiting for the special day to come.

AUTOS FOR WORKMEN ON CLEAN-UP DAY

In connection with the general arrangements that are being perfected for the cleaning of the city on the 24 inst., a request is made by the head committee in charge, that all owners of autos, who are willing to place their machines in the service of transporting "clean-up" laborers to the different parts of the city on that day, will please notify Dr. W. G. Rogers, Young building.

The bill for re-building the Russian Navy provides for a fleet each for the Baltic and the Black Sea and for the Far East. The expenditure for this work will extend over a period of twenty years. As it is necessary that the building of vessels of every class should be commenced simultaneously, the sum allotted for the first year is the largest. The Czar succeeded in his effort to have British engineers and French capitalists cooperate in this enterprise. The ships will be built in Russia.

LAST DAY OF PRIZE OFFER

CALM IN CONTEST VOTING YESTERDAY BUT A STORM EXPECTED TO ARRIVE TODAY

Weather wisecracks have for years said that there is "always a calm before a storm." If this be true, the contestants who think that they are sheltered by an impregnable vote fortress are in for a contest vote storm. There was a decided calm in the voting yesterday, and that following one of the busiest of contest days in filling the demand for more vote ammunition. Should the votes issued have been cast for the daily count yesterday, there would be five or six candidates with from fifty to sixty thousand more votes showing in their totals. As it is, twelve thousand was the biggest vote of the day.

But many were the candidates who said, "Just wait until tomorrow. I'll put in enough votes then to make someone take notice."

Had Long Lists Yesterday

Candidates began coming in early yesterday morning with long lists of subscriptions, and they kept it up until almost 6 o'clock in the evening. All stated that they would be back today with more subscriptions.

Prizes as Result of Today's Work

This is the last day of the organization vote issue of prize ballots, and the results of the orders today will decide what organizations get the grand prize ballots. The competition for these prize ballots is even more heated than the contest to win the $50 and $25 mercantile orders that will also be decided by the number of subscriptions turned in by the candidates today.

College Heavy Voter

St. Louis came to the fore again for voting honors by putting in something more than twelve thousand votes, enough to place the college total very near to the three hundred thousand point, but their leading competitors were not altogether reserve vote holders. The contest among these two organizations is close enough for all sorts of surprises later. Workers for both the organizations are out today doing their very best to make June 17 their big day.

Church Had Ten Thousand

St. Elizabeth's church cast a ten thousand block of votes, and by so doing passed the Elks and left the Eagles more than one point behind for the first time during the contest. The Eagles had a light vote, but they are still strong, and the final voting will show that they are in the race for the Starr piano. Central Grammar got enough votes to increase its total a little.

Trip Candidates Who Voted

Among the trip contestants J. Fern comes in for the most attention. Holding second now for two weeks, he still continues to add to his total sufficient to keep any other candidate from overcoming his lead. His vote yesterday was near to ten thousand. Manuel Peters and Miss Nellie Wong were other candidates who made considerable gains.

Final Office Count

The final office count will be made this evening on in the morning, and the results, with the names of those who secure the extra prizes and the mercantile orders, will be published Monday. Much time will be needed to make the count and compute the number of clubs turned in to the credit of the different organizations and by the different trip candidates. It will be useless to telephone for information as to the winners before 12 or 1 o'clock tomorrow. Following this count there will be no other until the official count is made by the contest

Judges at the close of the contest on Saturday, June 24.

Something Still To Do

It's wonderful how much can be done after you think you have exhausted all of your resources.

Candidates will say to us one day that they do not know where to turn for another subscription, and the very next day perhaps they will come in smiling and turn in the biggest bunch of business they have yet secured.

It's something like gold mining—you think you have come to the end of the lead and all at once you make a big strike.

You know how those "lucky" strikes are made. They are made by DIGGING. That's what you have to do after you have scraped off the top crust formed by friends and acquaintances.

Divide Prizes in Case of Tie

Due to the fact that the fifty and twenty-five dollar mercantile orders are to be awarded on June 17th to the trip candidates that get the most clubs of nine subscriptions there is a possibility of a tie in the number of the clubs between the most industrious workers in this third contest period. In case of a tie the mercantile orders will be divided equally among the trip candidates who receive the same number of clubs.

Grand Prize Ballots For All That Tie

If any of the organization candidates should tie and get the same number of subscription clubs in the contest for the grand prize ballots, all tieing will be given a prize ballot for the standing in which the tie occurs. This will make it exactly even for the candidates as it will not change positions as regards the standing of the organizations tieing, and will give them a big block of votes in addition to that held or secured by the candidates that do not qualify for one of the grand prize ballots.

Make the Goal a Safe One

By making the three hundred thousand mark your goal, you have something specific to work for during the next few days and if you pass that point and are one of the first ten you will get the additional mileage credit and reward.

Contest Closes June 24th, 8 p. m.

Saturday, June the twenty-fourth, is the time set for the close of the contest and all votes and subscriptions MUST be in the Bulletin office on that date. The closing hour will be at 8 o'clock p. m. on June 24th, and those depending on the mails to bring their subscriptions to the Bulletin office MUST have all votes and vote coupons in the ballot box before 8 o'clock p. m. on that date. The judges for the final count of the ballots will be chosen from prominent business men of Honolulu; their names will be announced in due season. All contestants will have the right to select a friend or relative to represent them and look after their interests during the final count of the ballots.

Transport Sheridan Sails from Manila

Sailing from Manila on last Wednesday, the United States army transport Sheridan, called at Mariveles, the Philippine quarantine station and there remained until the 15th before sailing for Nagasaki, Japan. The transport is expected will arrive at Honolulu on or about July 3rd. The vessel is enroute to San Francisco with officers, enlisted men and casuals.

NEW LICENSE IS REFUSED

Many Renewals Are Granted By the Commission

The Liquor License Commissioners held an important meeting yesterday afternoon, at which twenty-nine licenses were granted, three deferred and one application for a new license at Waihee was refused.

The summary of the board's action yesterday is as follows:

The renewals granted are: K. Ono, saloon; Alfred O. Rosa et al, wholesale; M. G. Silva, Kamehameha saloon; Louis D. Warren, Encore saloon; James Thompson, Imperial saloon; Conrad Bollman, Royal Annex; Gustave Cordes, River Rhine saloon; Chas. Lambert, Anchor saloon; Gonsalves & Co., wholesale; Eli Crabbe, saloon at Aiea; Philip F. Cornyn (Dick Sullivan), Pacific saloon; S. Ozaki, wholesale; Joseph T. Silva, Pantheon saloon; Seattle Brewing & Malting Co., wholesale; Dias & Dias, Waiwahu saloon; F. O. Johnson, Honolulu saloon; Hoffschlaeger & Co., wholesale; Ah Chou, saloon at Heala; Jack Roberts, Ken Wacky saloon; J. P. Maderes, saloon at Waiwahu; F. A. Schaefer & Co., wholesale.

Restaurant licenses were granted as follows: With special privileges, Geo. Lyeurgus, Union Grill; K. Sunochi, Without special privileges, Mrs. Bertha Klemme, Punchbowl.

Hotel licenses were granted to the following: With special privileges, Oahu Railway & Land Co., Haleiwa Hotel; Alexander Young Building Co., the Young Hotel; Territorial Hotel Co., the Moana Hotel; William C. Bergin, Waikiki Inn; the Seaside Hotel.

The applications deferred are those of S. Kojima, wholesale; Wung Wo Tat & Co., wholesale; Kwong Chong Lung, wholesale.

The privilege of selling beer today at Kapiolani Park was granted to J. T. Scully and of "near beer" on Sunday, Commissioners Long, Craig and Sorenson voting for the granting of the privilege and Chairman Brown against it.

Action was postponed on S. Kojima's license because it was understood by the commissioners that Kojima was living in Japan and only came to Hawaii to have his license renewed. Kojima is also suspected of having illicit dealing with unlicensed sellers, which, in addition to his residential disqualifications, is enough for the commissioners to want to consider his application a bit longer.

The other two licenses were deferred because mislabeled liquor had been found on the premises.

BE CAREFUL OF CONTEST DELAYS OR SOME ONE ELSE WILL GET WHAT YOU EXPECT

Say you call upon some old friend. He may be taking the paper now, but agrees to renew his subscription when the present one expires, or before the contest ends.

In the meantime some other member of the family is liable to give the extension of subscription to some other contestant who seeks it an office in town or in some other part of the city.

Some other person, outside the family, anxious to help some other contestant, is liable to pay for a subscription for that family in order to help some contestant you never heard of.

Don't be satisfied with three months' subscriptions or six months' subscriptions.

Make your subscription as big as possible the very first time you get a subscriber.

But use diplomacy. Don't urge without giving good reasons for taking the paper as long as possible.

Point out the fact that the paper will always cost them just as much, but that they can't always help you get a trip by subscriptions.

Next year and the year after they will still be taking the Bulletin, and the money they will spend in the future will do you no good.

The interest on ten or twenty dollars for a couple of years won't amount to much, but that sum in subscription money will mean a good deal to you in votes.

Your friends won't begrudge it when they realize that because they subscribed for the Bulletin far in advance that you have won a California trip.

They will be glad that they helped you, and they will see it in that way after you have won.

Make them see it that way—use your imagination a little and tell them that you will remember them as long as you live.

Now that this extra prize business is nearly over, go ahead and bid up your votes for June 24th.

No Paper Votes After Saturday, June 17th.

The coupons in the paper good for votes will not appear after June 17th. The reason for not running the coupons during the final week is that an advantage would be given Honolulu subscribers over those on the outside islands. The island readers would not have time to mail all the coupons back for the final count.

New Subscriptions and Old. A number of inquiries are made daily as to the votes allowed on new and old subscriptions. Votes are allowed on both, but only when the renewals pay in advance.

New subscribers means increase in circulation. Therefore no one will be allowed to change the name of the old subscriber from one member of the family to another, in order to receive more votes.

Names of candidates when first nominated will be printed for one time and then not again until they receive votes at some count.

Subscribers sending in payments to the Bulletin must always mention the name of the individual trip contestant and the organization contestant, they wish to vote for, as all ballots are filled out before leaving office. You can hold back the ballots as long as you wish. Always state whether you want the votes cast or returned to you.

The voting candidates this week will leave a mighty good impression with the people who are reserving their votes for the last contest week. This is the last chance to make a showing and have it known to the contest reading public while it will still be of value. Saturday night will be the last count of ballots previous members belonging to the crew.

to the final contest count and it behooves every one to make a good showing at least once this week, or friends are apt to throw their support to some one who appears a more aggressive worker.

How Votes Are Issued. Every subscription payment made on or since March 28th entitles the payer to votes for a trip contestant. Every payment made on or since April 27th entitles the payer to votes for both a trip contestant and an organization contestant. Present receipts and votes will be issued.

Remember you get two sets of votes if you pay or have paid your subscription since April 27th; one for a trip candidate, and another for an organization candidate. An equal number of votes as given in the standing vote schedule are issued for both.

Keep your paper coupons for trip and organization candidates separate and do not roll the votes. Send them in, in envelopes with the name of the candidate and the number of votes they contain written on the front. This will help to make counts accurate and prompt, and permit you to estimate what correct total should be in advance.

Every copy of the Bulletin will contain a coupon, which, when properly filled out, will entitle the holder to votes of the number specified. Votes are also issued on paid subscriptions to the Evening Bulletin in proportion to the length of time such subscriptions are paid in accordance with the schedule appearing below.

The result of the inquiry into the destruction by fire of the British bark Marlon Frazer at Iulue some time ago is contained in advices received at San Francisco, and from evidence given it would appear that the vessel was set ablaze intentionally. In the opinion of the court the fire was not caused accidentally, but the ship was wilfully set on fire by a member or members belonging to the crew.

BOOMS SPORTS OF HONOLULU

That smiling Bro. Benjamin is a past master in things pugilistic will be something of a surprise to most of the fans of Honolulu, but such is the case. He used to manage Willie Ritchie, the lightweight boxer, and still has a string on William's activities. Bro. Ben is also a fan in several other lines of sport. Frank Herman, the clever sporting writer of the San Francisco Post, hands Ben the following in a recent issue:

"Doc" Benjamin, who is well known in sporting circles here, as he managed Willie Ritchie for several years, is now a resident of Honolulu. "Silver-Tongued Doc" got busy with the pen and ink the other day and before he got through he dashed off the following regarding sports in general across the water:

"They are great lovers of sports of all kinds here—foot racing, boat racing, yachting, foot and basket ball, baseball and boxing. Boxing is not flourishing here at present owing to the fact, I believe, of not having athletic clubs devoted to that past of the game. All the real boxing talent must be imported, which makes it an uncertain proposition for real big money."

"Soldier King is quite a favorite here, and is matched for a race next month at Athletic Park."

"Baseball is the thing at present, and they have four clubs in the league and play doubleheaders every Sunday afternoon for one admission price—and they are playing good ball, too. Opening game of the season, thirteen innings, score 1 to 0; and scores of 2 to 1 and 3 to 2 are common. The boys play fast, snappy ball, and as there is no boxing to speak of here, I am becoming quite a ball fan. Barney Joy, erstwhile of the San Francisco team, knocked a three-bagger last Sunday at a critical point of the game, and forever endeared himself to the baseball public. Barney is catching for the Stars."

"The other teams are the Native Sons—mainly Hawaiians—who play real baseball (Hyman Raphael, the Columbia Park boy of San Francisco, is here and plays with this team); the Portuguese team, and the Japanese ball team, without a Jay on it, but backed by the Japanese merchants. The Japs are the champions this year, having won the four-club pennant last season. The Chinese had a team last season but are not represented this year."

"They draw enormous crowds every Sunday, and every brilliant play is enthusiastically cheered and applauded by a mixed audience of frenzied fans, consisting of Japs, Chinese, Portuguese, Hawaiians, whites or Haoles, Koreans, Spanish, Russians, Germans, French, English and Lord knows how many other nationalities. Hawaii is indeed the melting pot of the nations—all speak American and all play ball and know the finer points of the game better than I do. I felt like a back number when a little Korean boy next to me began criticizing the players and the plays, and he was right, too."

"McFadden of the auburn locks, once a boxer in San Francisco, is here. Hayes of San Francisco is pitching good ball for the Stars. Dick Sullivan of boxing fame is drinking liquor emporium, and is very well thought of here and doing well."

According to the Maui News, Antonio Kaoo, the "Waialua Horse," wants to enter the Maui marathon on July 4, but is prevented because he is a professional. The Maui management is right in insisting on amateur runners only if that is the original plan.

Joe Jeannette, the big negro who has fought 'em all and usually got licked when he met anyone near his size, has been engaged as boxing instructor of Carl Morris, the "white hope" of Oklahoma. Morris needs something.

Mary Winkfield, the fleet mare, has been sent to Waialuku for the racing meet on July 4. Coppit is also there, and the meet looks better all the time. Local sports who can go should take it in.

Frank Klaus, the Pittsburg middleweight, is now on the Coast to meet "Montana Dan" Sullivan. Papke ought to get a match with Klaus when he comes back from Europe.

MIDDLEWEIGHTS EAGER FOR TAP OF GONG TONIGHT

Patsy McKenna and Kid George Ready For Best Fight of Months.

Place—Orpheum Theater.
Time—Preliminary event, eight rounds, Kradalak vs. Williams, 8:30 o'clock. Main event, fifteen rounds, Kid George vs. Patsy McKenna, about 9:15 o'clock.
Referee—Mike Paton.

Patsy McKenna and Kid George will meet tonight at the Orpheum Theater in what promises to be the best scrap local fight fans have seen for many moons. Two middleweights are trained to the minute, according to the statements from the rival camps last night, and it looks like a battle from the tap of the gong until one man or the other is counted out or the fifteen rounds end with both on their feet.

Bringing good reputations for aggressiveness from the Coast, the lads are determined to uphold what has been said of them previously, and as neither can afford to stop for a minute or break ground no matter how furious the milling, the local lovers of pugilists ought to see not only a hot fight but splendid boxing as well tonight.

No ring event in a long time has created the interest that is felt in the fight tonight. Neither man has been seen in action here before, and yet already the fans have taken one side or the other and the prophecies on the outcome are lively and interesting. However, there is little betting on the result, as the local gamblers have not been able to get a satisfactory line on the real abilities of the men.

Dick Sullivan, who is promoting the event and who has worked hard to make it a success not only from a monetary but from a public standpoint as well, said last night that the advance sale of tickets indicates that the house may be sold out tonight. If the sale keeps up this afternoon as it has this morning there will be few vacant seats anywhere. At that, he says, there are still some choice seats to be had, but they will be grabbed early tonight.

A number of well known local business men have bought seats and it will be a cosmopolitan crowd that gathers at the ringside tonight to see two finely trained athletes pit muscles against muscle and ring craft against the Irishman as the third man in the ring.

The middleweights finished training yesterday with a little road work and will rest today, and are ready in every sense of the word. The tip has gone around that each man has blood in his eye for tonight, and that neither has any love for the other, so that the wise ones predict the fight will be in grim earnest from the first exchange of blows.

Mike Paton is the referee, and will see that the men fight under the straight rules according to the articles. There should be no foolishness about the fight with the big Irishman as the third man in the ring.

The preliminary is attracting more than the usual amount of attention. Kradalak, the Schofield Barracks boy, is determined to beat Williams of Camp Vera by a knockout, while the latter is just as determined to slip the sleep punch over on the Leiloha lightweight, so that the eight rounds they will be in the ring should be pretty near as good as the main event.

The stage is all set for the fighters, and now it's up to them.

WEDNESDAYS FOR CHINESE TEAM

A special meeting of managers of the four baseball teams composing the Oahu League was held in the office of Charles Chillingworth last night, at which time the representatives of the Chinese team were present to try and arrange a few games for their team in the special Keio series.

After a lengthy discussion the meeting finally ended without any results favorable to the Chinese team. It was thought before the meeting that the Stars would give one or two of their games to the Chinese team, as most of their players would be on some other team, but this was not found to be so at the meeting.

"Tony" Marcellino, manager of the Stars, made the proposition that if the Chinese team came through with $200 the Stars would sell their place in the league to the Chinese team, otherwise they were going to play their two games with the Kelos. Marcellino pointed out that the Stars wanted to play their games with the Kelos just as much as did the other teams, and if the Chinese wanted to take their place in the series it was a case of buying them out.

The Chinese representatives present did not look on this as a fair proposition, and the matter was therefore dropped at that point. The Chinese team will now go back and try to arrange for the mid-week games with the Kelos. If it is possible the team will play on those days. None of the other teams wanted to give any of their games to the Chinese, so there is little chance of seeing the "dragon team" in the series.

CASH FOR BEST IN PROMOTION

Two contests for valuable prizes have been decided upon by the Promotion Committee. One is for the cash prize of $100 for the best design for the Floral Parade poster, the other a series of prizes for an article on "Home Building in Hawaii" illustrated with photographs.

The first has been under consideration for some time, and has been discussed before. The second was brought up by Secretary Wood at the meeting of the committee yesterday afternoon. Secretary Wood's plan is to offer prizes of $25, $15 and $5 as first, second and third prizes for an article on the homes of Hawaii, the article to be from 2,000 to 5,000 words in length. This is regarded as a good program for booming the islands, and it was decided to announce the competition, which will close on September 1 and will be passed upon by a board of judges.

"What I think we want," said Wood, "is an article that will especially appeal to the thousands of well-to-do people who are seeking more suitable climatic conditions and more attractive surroundings. The class I mean is that which built up southern California."

"In addition to other matter I should suggest that there should be a chapter devoted to table variety and the cost of food supplies. Another chapter might deal with the servant question; in fact, the article should be as complete as possible answering in a general way at least the many questions that are likely to be asked by those contemplating residence in Hawaii."

The Haiku ball team beat the Pala players by the score of 5 to 4 last Sunday. The Haikus then gave their opponents a good feed.

The Hahuel ball team of Kauai beat the Haena team last Sunday in a great game by a score of 12 to 7. Sam Werner starred.

P. A. Bohrabacher of Waialuku may run in the Maui marathon. He has a good reputation from the Coast.

Bill Rice, A. McGowan, John Bai and Henry Chillingworth are some of those who expect to take part in the rugby football practice on the Kamehameha grounds this afternoon.

The Kolos and Waimea basketball teams will play a game tomorrow at Kolos. Great rivalry exists between the teams.

SUMNER LEADS BATTERS OF LEAGUE

Park during the series now on, and there have been some fine exhibitions. The individual batting averages of players who have been in five games or more have been brought up to date.

Sumner leads the batting list with a percentage of .304. He is good at the bat. Sousa of the Portuguese team stands third in the batting averages.

AMONG AUTOMOBILISTS OF THE WORLD

VON HAMM-YOUNG AUTO SALES DEPARTMENT IS KEPT VERY BUSY

Demand for Cars and Arrivals of New Machines Shows Strength of Trade Locally—Seven Names on Honor Roll For Week.

Business still continues to be very lively at The von Hamm-Young Company's big establishment in all departments, and particularly, so in the automobile sales department, there appearing seven names on the Honor Roll this week.

The arrivals of new machines are as follows: three Hupmobiles by the steamer Wilhelmnia, of which two are the new style runabouts with double doors, and one a fore-door touring car. One of the runabouts was delivered immediately to Dr. Mitamura, and the touring car to Mr. M. E. Silva. Mr. Silva is to use this car in his business as a "first class wagon" and will find it a very handy and quick car as well as the most suitable machine for this purpose. Later on Mr. Silva expects to use automobile hearses exclusively in the funeral business and additions of Hupmobiles for the funeral procession.

Sierra Brought Cars.

The steamer Sierra brought two Overlands and one Everitt. One of the Overlands is a 30 H. P. fore-door, straight line 1912 type 5-passenger touring car, and is to be delivered to Dr. G. Tucker Smith. The other is a 25 H. P. car of the same type, which is to be used as a demonstrator car. The Everitt is the very latest production which the factory has made in the form of a fore-door, 4-passenger, close coupled touring car. This car has all the 1912 improvements, including the 1912 Bosch dual system, which is a vast improvement over the 1911 models. The Bosch system has been very much simplified, as the barrel of the coil is very much smaller and there are not as many wires attached to it as previously.

The old system was much more complicated than the new, which is a boon to the automobile repairman. This car is the snappiest looking car of its class that has ever been imported to the islands and is attracting a great deal of attention. It has a bloc type motor of a foreign origin, having the cylinders and crank case cast in one piece which obviates all vibration and is much less liable to accident such as other cars are exposed to, by the fact that there are no bolts attaching the cylinders to the crank case. A great many of the motors which are being manufactured in Europe are patterned after this style. Another of the great advantages of this type of motor is the small number of parts and the ease with which the motor may be disassembled from the car. The water manifold, intake and exhaust manifold are also cast in the one piece. A person unfamiliar with this type of motor would expect that if one cylinder were cracked it would entail an enormous expense to replace the same, but the truth of the matter is that the cracks are far less liable to occur and the cost of a whole new casting is very little more than the cost of one separate cylinder of the other type. Of course, these bloc type motors have only been found practicable in cars of 30 horsepower or less. The Everitt is an exceptionally fast and powerful car and one of the smoothest and quietest cars of its type ever manufactured.

Honor Roll.

The Honor Roll of The von Hamm-Young Company this week consists of the following:

Mr. Theodore Cooke, Mr. F. P. Johnson, Mr. C. S. Holloway, Mr.

John F. Soper, Mr. J. S. McCandless, Mr. H. Holmes, Mr. W. D. Elsworth. The magnificent showing which the Pope-Hartford has made all over the United States, and particularly in the East, tempted Mr. Theodore Cooke to purchase a handsome demi-tonneau Pope-Hartford car which The von Hamm-Young Company had in stock. This is the third Pope-Hartford which The von Hamm-Young Company has sold in the last month and is the last of the shipment. The wonderful demonstrations which the 1911 Pope has made has built for them one of the greatest following which any of the cars on the mainland has. The Portola races in San Francisco of the past two years have shown the public what miraculous speed the stock cars have, and the success the Pops have had in the long tours all over the country over the rough roads and hilly countries without giving any trouble whatever show the greater reliability over a great many other machines, and the fact that one never sees an old Pope discarded shows the very extensive life of same. They are one of the easiest-riding makes of cars and are superbly finished, and the straight line effect which they are drawing this year, combined with the hooded dash effect on the demi-tonneau cars makes it an exceptionally fine appearing car. The 1911 models are 100% easier to handle than previous models have been and the fact that the transmission is composed of four variable speeds enables an amateur to operate this car with very little instruction.

Seper Buys Stoddard.
Mr. John F. Soper bought a Stoddard "20" touring car, which is a 20 horsepower, 5-passenger car of a very neat model. The Stoddard this year, in the small cars, is installing the famous bloc type of motor which is becoming so popular. The improvements in the Stoddard is this year over the previous models are very numerous and radical. The transmission and differential are of entirely different construction and are integral. The placing of the transmission back on the rear axle is a very radical change in itself and is patterned after the Packard, who have had such success with the distribution of its units. The gears this year are made of a special material which is very tough and strong. The teeth are of a special pitch and thickness. They are a great deal shorter and thicker than in the usual involute type. The shafts in the transmission are unusually short and of large diameter. The rear axles are larger than usual and the differential is entirely changed in its construction. With this construction it is practically impossible for the Stoddard-Dayton to have rear or transmission troubles. The motor this year is built with its valves all on one side and is exceptionally quiet.

Gets a Maxwell.
Mr. F. P. Johnson of Honolulu purchased a little Maxwell runabout from The von Hamm-Young Company, which will enable him to get to Honolulu a little more frequently.

"Sunny Jim" Buys.
"Sunny Jim" McCandless, with his usual smile, placed an order with The von Hamm-Young Company for a Cadillac touring car to be delivered to him on his return from the mainland in October. Mr. McCandless is sailing on the Korea and placed his order to insure its delivery on his return. This shows the great popularity of the Cadillac car as they are all sold to arrive, and for future delivery. Mr. McCandless formerly had a Palmer-Singer machine but considers the Cadillac the most suitable car for him.

Mr. H. Holmes has placed his order for one of the famous Cadillacs to

The new "six" has an abundance of power, in fact, plenty of reserve power. It has a finish which is accepted amongst the public as the highest quality ever attained and is considered by everybody as the easiest-riding car built.

Mr. W. D. Elsworth purchased this week from The von Hamm-Young Company a Model H Stoddard-Dayton double rumble roadster. Mr. Elsworth is at present very busy building roads in Kaimuki for Mr. P. M. Pond and considers his time too valuable to waste riding behind a horse. In purchasing a car Mr. Elsworth picked out a machine which will be of great commercial value to him, is very reliable and a very easy rider.

The automobile dealers feel very much honored this week by a visit from Mr. F. O. Nelson of Los Angeles. Mr. Nelson is the general manager of the Diamond Rubber Company at Los Angeles.

Mr. Wm. J. West has returned to Kaula in the interests of the Automobile Department of The von Hamm-Young Company.

Mr. C. J. Schoening, formerly salesman for The von Hamm-Young Company has left this firm to go into business for himself on Maui. He will represent The von Hamm-Young Company as their sub-agent on Maui.

LOCOMOBILE SLOGAN "BEST BUILT CAR IN AMERICA" LIVED UP TO

For years our slogan has been, "The Best Built Car in America," and our organization will always maintain the high mechanical standard for which the Locomobile is so well known.

In 1912 our aim is to make the Locomobile the most comfortable and best finished car in America, and to this end we are putting forth every effort to make our cars as luxurious and as perfect in detail as possible.

The 1912 Six Cylinder Touring Car, we firmly believe to be the best seven passenger touring car on the market. When you consider that it has the staying qualities and great strength of construction which is characteristic of the Locomobile, and yet weighs ready for the road less than 4,000 pounds; when you appreciate that it will be the most beautifully finished and luxurious model that we have ever turned out, you will realize that it will have a wide and ready sale in 1912.

Seven Passenger Touring Car Body.
The front seat panel is flush with the side of the body, which does away with the wheel house effect in the 1911 body. This makes the body smooth from end to end and increases the beauty of line. It also enables us to increase the capacity of the gasoline tank from twenty-one to twenty-three gallons. As in the 1911 body the sides curve in toward the front and meet the dash, obviating any blunt or clumsy appearance at this point and producing the stylish torpedo effect. The 1912 body has higher sides. External hinges and door handles have been replaced with concealed hinges and door handles.

Upholstering on the Seven Passenger Touring Car Body.
Seats are so arranged that passengers sit low in the car, the high sides and back producing a feeling of security, together with comfort and luxury. The upholstery of the 1912 body for the six-cylinder touring car makes it the most comfortable standard body produced by any manufacturer in this country.

The deep luxurious rear seat cushions and backs are each ten inches thick, as restful and soft as the easiest library chair.

Another feature of the upholstery of this body are the extra seats in the tonneau. These occupy no more room than the seats used in 1911, folding against the sides when not in use, but are very much more comfortable. We believe that they will be exceedingly well liked by everyone.

The Bulletin Illustrated special edition will be of much interest to friends, as it describes and pictures the land you live in or are visiting.

call attention is the upholstering of the tonneau doors in tufted leather, giving an appearance of luxury. The woodwork near the bottom of the tonneau is covered with carpet, which prevents any scratching or marring of the wood. A removable cocoa mat for the tonneau floor is another new feature. The footrest is of the brass tubular type lightly knurled to prevent the feet from slipping.

Two Torpedo Bodies.
Six cylinder torpedo bodies. We will supply for 1912 two different torpedo bodies for the six-cylinder chassis, one seating four passengers, and the other five passengers. There is a considerable demand for a torpedo body that will accommodate three passengers on the tonneau seat, consequently we are adding this type of body to our line in addition to the four passenger torpedo of 1911.

The upholstering of the rear cushions and backs of both styles of torpedo bodies will be ten inches thick.

Finish of Six-Cylinder Cars.
The radiators are enamelled to match the bonnet. Motor bonnets are enamelled by a new process intended to preserve the high lustre and finish. Hand levers are enamelled black below the grips, together with the quadrant for these levers. Standard lamp equipment will be black and brass combination finish.

Every attention will be paid to the details and finish. The final inspection of completed cars before they are shipped is being handled more carefully than ever before in order to satisfy the most critical owner.

Six-Cylinder Motor Changes.
A number of alterations have been made in the motor for the purpose of increasing the quiet operation of the timing gears. The crank case is new in design, and extends farther forward to permit of a new method of carrying the timing gears. The torsional strength of the cam shafts has been increased, likewise the number of cam shaft bearings.

The Bulletin Illustrated special edition will be of much interest to friends, as it describes and pictures the land you live in or are visiting.

The "48" Six Cylinder $4800.

The Locomobile for 1912 Fourteenth Annual Announcement

The "30" Four Cylinder $3500.

OR 1912 The Locomobile will set a new standard of Luxury in motor cars. Our success in the past resulted from our continued efforts to make the Locomobile the best built car in America.

Having attained this mechanical superiority, our present aim is to make the Locomobile the most luxurious American Car—Quiet, Comfortable, Perfect in detail.

The Six Cylinder Locomobile, by virtue of its excellent performances in 1911, has established a new standard in Six Cylinder construction. Realizing the demand on the part of the present day motorist for increased comfort in automobiling, we have made careful study and investigation for the purpose of making this Car the last word in Luxury.

The improvements that we have made in this direction produce Ease and Comfort hitherto unknown in motoring. As an instance, the rear seat cushions and high backs in our Six Cylinder Touring Car are each provided with upholstery ten inches deep—as soft and restful as the easiest library chair. Passengers are seated low in the car, which produces a feeling of security.

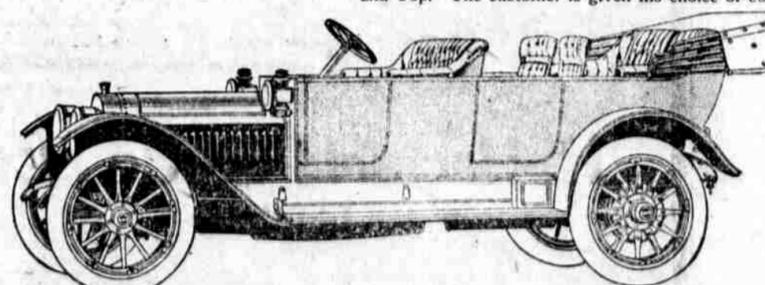

Our Five Passenger Six Cylinder Torpedo is the most perfect combination of Luxury and Style yet offered in this popular type of body. The passengers are carried on the rear seat, which has upholstery ten inches thick, cushion and back. We also make a Four Passenger Torpedo upholstered in the same luxurious manner. The combination of advantages offered only in the Locomobile Shaft Drive Six makes it—

A Perfect Machine—a Perfect Vehicle.

Features of the Six Cylinder Locomobile

Motor Design—The motor is so designed and built that with a cylinder bore of 4 1/4 inches 70 horsepower is obtained on test. This represents the utmost power obtainable from this size of cylinder without affecting reliability. Cylinders are designed specially for the Six and have large valves and quiet valve lifters.

Quietness—Detail changes in the motor and rear axle make for greatly increased quietness in the Locomobile Six.

Moderate Weight—The Locomobile Six, with possibly one exception, is the lightest seven-passenger, six-cylinder car. We have attained this progress and refinement by seven years' study and development of the finest alloy steels. One brake horsepower is provided for every fifty-seven pounds of weight.

Fuel Economy—The Locomobile Six has frequently been driven twelve miles on a gallon of fuel. This is well in advance of ordinary six-cylinder performance. A customer writes that he drove his Locomobile Six over the mountains from Los Angeles to Santa Barbara with seven passengers, averaging eleven miles to a gallon of fuel. Another customer writes that he drove his Six Torpedo over fourteen miles on a gallon of fuel. Such economy is due to our special carburetor design and to moderate weight.

Tire Economy—Ordinarily a powerful six is a burden through tire expense involved. The Locomobile Six, however, is economical in tire wear. "The speedometer shows four thousand miles. The original tires are still on the car and from appearances you would not think they had been driven 1000 miles." The foregoing report is on one of the first Sixes delivered. Locomobile tire economy is due to moderate weight and scientific balance of weight; also to the free action of the differential when turning a corner, thus preventing any grinding action on the rubber. The Locomobile differential never binds under any conditions of road operation.

Strength of Construction—Bronze instead of aluminum is used for the motor base and gear box. It is three times as strong as the aluminum ordinarily used for the purpose on other cars. The axles and steering gear are very strong and safe. The car throughout is built from carefully designed parts made in the Locomobile factory from material specially selected for each part. The Locomobile has always been known for its safety and strength.

Riding Qualities—The Locomobile Six has wonderful riding qualities—perfect comfort and steadiness. No swerving from side to side when traveling at speed. The superb riding qualities of our Six are due largely to the fact that power does not pass through the springs. Thus they are free to act. Rear springs cannot give maximum comfort when they act as distance rods. The three-quarter elliptic rear springs are shackled at both ends so that they have full play. All springs are made of the finest spring steel.

Rear Axle Construction—The rear housing is provided with a hand hole, affording ease of inspection of the driving gears. Rear axle tubes are alloy steel, without brazing—a superior construction peculiar to the Locomobile.

Other Special Features—The Multiple Disc Clutch is very simple and may be removed as a unit without disturbing anything else. A self-contained Oiling System provides perfect motor lubrication. Grease Cups at all wearing parts on the chassis eliminate dirty oil cups and insure perfect lubrication. The Transmission provides four speeds and reverse and the construction is so durable that gear trouble is absolutely eliminated. Universal Joints run over 5000 miles without attention to lubrication. The Bonnet is very stout, having room and obviating the clumsy appearance of other Sixes. Extra Tires are carried at the rear. Running Boards are clear on both sides.

MANY DELIGHTFUL AFFAIRS ARE GIVEN

June Proves Popular Month For Entertaining Among Social Elect—Round of Dinners, Dances and Teas Keeps Merry Pace.

Miss Waterhouse's Luncheon.
Miss Waterhouse entertained Wednesday at a beautifully appointed luncheon in honor of Miss Alice Roth, the "bride-to-be" of Mr. Frank E. Thompson. The table was adorned with pink roses. A tall cut glass vase filled with roses occupied the center of the table. The places were marked by wreaths, made from quantities of roses and ferns, with the name card attached with pale pink satin ribbon. Those present were Miss Margaret Waterhouse, Miss Alice Roth, Mrs. Charles Wilcox, Mrs. Putnam, wife of Dr. Putnam of Kaula, Mrs. Clifford B. High, Miss Vera Damon, Miss Catherine Goodale, Miss Marjorie Peterson and Miss Hopper.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillips' Dinner.
An enjoyable dinner was given last Monday in honor of Miss Alice Roth and Mr. Frank E. Thompson. On this occasion Mr. and Mrs. Mannie Phillips were the entertainers and the dinner was given at their home on Kewalo street. Brides' roses were quite an appropriate decoration, contributing to the pre-nuptial idea, for Miss Roth will become the bride of Mr. Frank E. Thompson on June the twentieth. Three handsome cut glass vases were arranged in a circular form and filled with white roses. White satin ribbon and maiden hair ferns added to the beauty of the table appointments. The place cards were provocative of much merriment and mirth, they were in book form, with the title of corrective table manners. The rules were the opposite of the table etiquette that is permissible in polite society and on being read aloud, were enjoyed hugely by the guests. Among Mr. and Mrs. Phillips' guests were Miss Alice Roth, Miss Marjorie Peterson, Mrs. Myers, Dr. and Mrs. Clifford B. High, Mr. Frank E. Thompson, Dr. Hodgins and Mr. Kelley.

Mr. and Mrs. von Holt Entertained.
The von Holt's beautiful home "Palaeha" in the heart of the Waianae mountains, was the scene of a merry and delightful house party on Saturday, Sunday (Kamehameha's birthday). The host and hostess and their guests motored to the foot of the mountain trail, from there took horses and rode to their destination. The house is situated at an altitude of nearly three thousand feet, the scenery of the adjacent chain of mountains is awe inspiring, and so beautiful that one would be foolish to even attempt to describe the wonder of it all. Mr. and Mrs. von Holt are experienced entertainers and their guests always enjoy their lavish hospitality, for every provision is made for their comfort and entertainment. This last outing was no exception to the rule.

Mrs. Clifton Carter's Luncheon.
Mrs. Clifton Carter was one of this week's luncheon hostesses. Her guests were bidden to her home on Wednesday last, where a delicious repast was partaken of. After tiffin the hostess and her guests motored to the Pall and Moanalua. Among Mrs. Carter's guests were Mrs. Andrew Fuller, Mrs. Kelley, Mrs. Frank Edwards, wife of Captain Edwards, and others.

General and Mrs. Macomb's Dinner.
A beautiful dinner was given Tuesday evening by General and Mrs. Macomb. Their home on Keaumoku street was handsomely decorated for the occasion. On this occasion Colonel and Mrs. Sibley were the motif for the affair.

Miss Peterson's Luncheon.
Miss Alice Roth, who has been the incentive for numerous social affairs for the past fortnight, was the guest of honor at a luncheon at the home of Miss Marjorie Peterson on Tuesday. The Cassia Nedosa were used profusely as a table decoration. These flowers bear a strong resemblance to apple blossoms and are equally as fragrant, and are one of the most beautiful tropical flowers of the islands. The dainty pink blossoms, heavily outlined a crystal mirror, the mirror having been arranged in the center of the highly polished hardwood table. Sprays of the artistic blossoms were arranged on the surface of the table, combined with a deft adjustment of yards and yards of pink tulle. The place cards were indicative of "good luck, and were adorned with the symbol of the four-leaf clover. After partaking of a delicious luncheon the guests and their hostess repaired to the drawing room and devoted the rest of the afternoon to bridge. Among Miss Peterson's guests were Miss Alice Roth, Miss Jennie Kennedy, Mrs. Frederick Dwight Lowrey, Miss Bessie Hopper, Miss Margaret Waterhouse, Miss Alice Topper, Mrs. Charles Wilcox, Mrs. Harry Nichols, Miss Juliette Atherton, Mrs. Clifford B. High and Miss Catherine Goodale.

Brilliant Success in Musical World.
Miss Agnes Wickstrum, since her return to her home in Lincoln, Nebraska, has gained additional honor in her chosen work, and the following clipping from The State Journal will be of interest to her many friends in Honolulu:

The Temple theater was filled last night for the recital for graduation given by Agnes Margaret Wickstrum, student with Robert W. Stevens. Miss Wickstrum gained in confidence as the program progressed and did her most effective work in the latter half. She played the Paganini-Schumann "Caprices" with delicate vivacity and gave an interesting, though not brilliant performance of the Chopin sonata, opus 35, better known as the work containing the funeral march. From the finale presto movement of the Chopin sonata to the close of the concerto Miss Wickstrum was at her best. Her technique in the Chopin finale was good and her runs rapid and smooth. In the MacDowell group and the Strauss "Traumerei" her interpretation was poetic and her whole performance very musical. The most brilliant effects were in the closing concerto, for which Mr. Stevens was at the second piano. The program follows:

Mrs. Carrie Robinson's Pol Luncheon.
On Kamehameha Day, Mrs. Carrie Robinson entertained a score of friends at her Peninsula home. This suburban home is one of the most beautiful in the islands. The nature of the entertainment was a pol luncheon, which was served on the large lanai overlooking the sea. Over the center of the table was a canopy of malle, from the four corners were drawn strands of the malle that were artistically arranged amongst the baskets of Hawaiian fruit that occupied the center of the table. The table was completely hidden by ti leaves and mountain ferns. The setting for the luncheon reminded one of a woodland dell, with the profusion of hanging baskets and rare potted palms. The only floral adornment was quantities of golden coreopsis that were arranged in tall jars and brass jardiniere. Some of the guests motored to Pearl Harbor and others pre-

As they sat down to dinner a cable was received announcing the marriage, and the toast was drunk to the young bride and groom. The table was decorated in white and green with larkspur and Australian maidenhair fern. The place cards were saucy cupids armed with bows and arrows. The decorations and dinner were planned in honor of the happy event that had been solemnized in San Francisco. Among those seated around the artistically decorated table were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas King, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilder, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. V. Forster, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Kimball and Mr. Lewis King.

Major and Mrs. Timberlake's Dinner.

The eight covers were marked by cards inscribed with the hostess' monogram in gold. Heavy silver candelabra adorned with mauve silk shades ornamented with violets and edged with a deep beaded fringe of the same color were artistically placed on either end of the table. In the center of the board was arranged a fancy basket filled with Palmer violets and fronds of maidenhair fern. Thetis, who sails for Alaskan waters on the 20th of this month. Covers were arranged for eight. At each place was found a hand-painted card garlanded with roses, with the name embossed in gold. The party came as a complete surprise. Later Judge Whitney turned on the electric lights in the dancing hall and an impromptu dance was enjoyed. LAKEWOOD, May 22.—That Mrs. Gould is soon to become a grandmother is indicated by the excitement reigning at the Gould country place in Lakewood, where Mrs. Anthony J. Drexel, Jr., who was Major and Mrs. George Potter will take up a permanent residence at the Hotel Colonial the first of July. They have secured beautiful apartments at this new hotel.

Marine Band at University Club.

A social event of the week was the playing of the U. S. Marine Band at the University Club, Wednesday evening. The club members were privileged to invite their friends, a great spirit of hospitality was displayed. The grounds, surrounding the attractive club house were hung with Oriental lanterns, each of the members had tables placed under the palms and trees, where their particular guests were seated. During the evening teas, cakes, cooling beverages, sandwiches and other light refreshments were served. Considering that the Marine Band have been playing but a year together, they deserve unstinted praise and credit, and Wednesday's audience was most enthusiastic in their applause. The concert was quite an innovation, but was so thoroughly enjoyed, it is to be hoped that the club will decide to have them quite frequently in the future.

Mrs. Sherman's Poi Luncheon.

Among the beautiful entertainments of the week, was the poi luncheon given Wednesday by Mrs. George Sherman. The affair was complimentary to Mrs. Arthur Wood of California. The large koa table was placed on the lanai, midst a bower of greenery. The table was arranged in the old Hawaiian style, with leis and ferns. The surface of the table was completely covered with mountain ferns; in the center was a large floral "S" made of sweet scented plumaria blossoms. The most artistic decorations was a fancy basket filled with sprays of gladioli. The unique part of the decorative scheme was the introduction of three large planter cast-iron monkeys, indicative of "think no evil, hear no evil, see no evil," that were artistically suspended over the center of the table, holding the basket of sword-lilies and trailing asparagus vine. Few women would have thought of this symbol—that if followed would be the means of reforming the world. It is not strange that Mrs. Sherman thought of this artistic and beautiful device, for her friends and acquaintances know that her chief aim in life is to follow this motto. Among the fortunate guests to enjoy the hostess hospitality were Mrs. Arthur Wood, Mrs. Walter Francis Frear, Mrs. Harrison D. Kerr, Miss Kerr, Mrs. Edward J. Timberlake, Mrs. Gerrit Wilder, Mrs. F. M. Swanzy, Mrs. C. S. Holloway, Mrs. Arthur Wall, Mrs. Eben Low, Mrs. James Wilder, Mrs. George Potter, Mrs. Klebahn, Mrs. Francis Gay of Kauai, Mrs. James Judd, Mrs. Benjamin L. Marx, Mrs. H. M. von Holt, Mrs. D. Howard Hitchcock and Miss Catherine Goodale.

King-Newbigen Nuptials.

A cable was received Wednesday by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas King, announcing the marriage of their oldest son, Mr. Thomas V. King to Miss Ada Newbigen of San Francisco. The young people have been engaged for over a year, although few of their friends were aware of the fact. The young bride comes from a prominent California family and is popular socially in San Francisco. Mr. Thomas Sheedy.

V. King was one of Honolulu's most popular young bachelors, and his hosts of friends wish him every happiness. After a brief honeymoon, the young couple will come to Honolulu, where they will reside.

Beside the family, a large contingent of friends were at the dock yesterday to welcome Miss Ethel Spalding, who arrived on the Sierra after a six months' trip on the mainland. If possible, Miss Spalding is prettier than ever. She has been greatly missed by her legions of friends in the islands and it is not necessary to relate that she is being accorded a warm welcome. This young girl is not only beautiful, but possesses a charm of manner that has made her exceedingly popular.

IN BUSINESS CIRCLES

Honolulu can never have a life-sized boom till control of money passes into the hands of men who have no memories of the 190 slump.

This statement is made in all confidence because there has never existed better opportunity and reason for exceptional activity approaching a boom in the city of Honolulu than now. And in the midst of it all, the good things are accepted as a regular diet and the people appear to be holding themselves very much in check to guard against going too fast.

Money in plenty is reported in the banks and loans are comparatively easy to secure on stocks or real estate.

Workmen are in demand and find ready employment on the Federal government work and for the many private enterprises. Unquestionably more money is being put in circulation every Saturday evening than ever before in the history of Honolulu. An air of prosperity prevails throughout the town and country.

But in the midst of it all is a reserve, almost depressing, atmosphere of "conservatism" that gives the impression of Honolulu being either afraid of itself, or that the men who have made the most money in the last twenty-five years of the things that need money to back energy and assure more speedy progress for the city, lag.

Large Real Estate Deal.

Confidence in the future of the city is manifest by such speculative deals as that of Friday, exclusively reported in the Bulletin, by which John Collins disposed of his property on the corner of King and Maunakea streets for $50,000. This is the largest deal in property of that section of the town that has been made for many months. It shows the belief of the purchaser in the development of that section of the town.

Business Enthusiasm.

Yet somehow business activities of the city lack that enthusiasm that should be manifest everywhere in a municipality where the United States government is at work completing an establishment that will of itself add the population of a small city also a municipality that will profit as much or more relatively than any other port in the Pacific from the opening of the Panama Canal. It sometimes appears that the enthusiasm must come from the men from the outside who drop in and are quick to note the opportunities lying around loose and make the most of them. Meanwhile too many of our own people who are satisfied with opportunities and money are sending their money out of the country to fatten promoters and pay the price of digging various holes in the ground.

Personal Security.

One significant remark was made this week by a gentleman on this shortening of Honolulu. "Men come in here from the Coast with a proposition that sounds well, to talk about, and is made to look well on paper. They get the local money. If a local man goes to the same financiers who so promptly put their money into these outside enterprises and call it a gamble he is immediately asked to show his securities."

It is true that residence in Honolulu and a personal record of integrity ought to be a security on which any financier would gamble as against the hundred and one shoe-string propositions that come in and catch the good money of good men who "want to take a flier."

Business is good, very good. But Honolulu does not yet appear to have grasped the biggest of its future.

Sugar Stocks.

In the sugar stock market the chief incident of the week was the declaration of an extra dividend of twenty-five cents a share for stockholders of Hawaiian Commercial. This is the first extra of the season that is expected to produce more in other directions.

Coincident with the announcement of the extra J. P. Cooke of Alexander & Baldwin issued a statement in which he showed the condition of A. & B.'s Maui plantations to be very good this season, though it is understood that all the plantations on the windward side suffered from a "cold snap" early in season, when at the same time the weather on all the other islands was exceptionally good. It is predicted that Pioneer is the only plantation on Maui that will run very much over the estimate.

On the island of Hawaii Omeoia is making a very good showing though it has not yet been reflected in activity of the stock. Omeoia is reported as running very considerably over estimate and the stock is quite in demand. Hopokua is attracting more attention and is expected to turn out good results.

Ed. Pollock returned from a trip to Hutchinson plantation last week. That section of Hawaii had been especially fortunate this year in enjoying rains that always assure good crops.

Trading in Ewa has been quite active on the expectation of an extra dividend in consequence of the crop reaching thirty-four thousand tons.

Sugar Market Comment.

Charnikow-Rionda Company's circular of June 2 says of the raw sugar market:

The week opened with the same dull market which had prevailed for over a month. Unsold sugars continued to arrive in moderate quantity, and the parcels that were not taken by refiners on the basis of 2.50c c. f., 96 deg., for Cuban (2.95c), were ordered into store by owners. After the Memorial Day holiday on 30th May more interest was shown by buyers at this price, and practically all sugars at hand and for prompt shipment were taken by them thereat, as well as a few thousand tons for second half-June shipment at 2.50c c. f., 96 deg., (2.95c). However, the week's total business amounts to only about 15,000 tons, and it is therefore quite natural to anticipate much greater activity as we enter into the summer months.

There were unconfirmed rumors yesterday of sales of June-July clearing Javas at 10s 7 1/2d or 10s 6d c. f. per cwt. It is not strange that our refiners should commence to consider these sugars at the price asked, namely, 10s 7 1/2d c. f., or the equivalent of 4.04c per lb. duty paid. Philippine Islands sugars in the same position should also prove attractive, being obtainable at 3.25c c. f. l., basis 88 deg., for No. 1's, which is on the parity of say 3.85c for 96 deg. Centrífugas, tanded, a figure below that of offers of any other sugar to arrive here from August onward.

For the second time in two months the receipts at the Atlantic ports were this week less than the amount taken for refiners' meetings, and stocks were correspondingly reduced. The arrivals from Cuba next week are likely to continue light, there being now very little sugar pending shipment against outstanding contracts with United States refiners, who had bought large quantities for May shipment, but whose purchases for shipment during June have so far been very limited.

In Cuba there are still 18 estates grinding, as compared with 29 last year and 11 in 1909. Were it not for the retarding effect of the heavy rains which are falling throughout the island, several of the factories now in operation would already have finished.

European beet markets ruled quiet but steady until the last two days, when reports of too dry weather brought about increased firmness, and today's f. o. b. quotations of June, 10s 6 1/2d; July, 10s 7 1/2d; August, 10s 7 1/2d. Next crop—October-December, 9s 2d; January-March, 9s 10 1/2d, represents advances for the week of 1 1/2d to 3d per cwt on present crop and of 2 1/2 to 2 3/4 on next crop.

The receipts for the week at the three Atlantic ports were 40,770 tons.

Tariff Talk.

Tariff wars is one thing that undoubtedly has a dampening effect on the stock trading. The investigation of the Sugar Trust in Washington is accompanied by occasional measures introduced in Congress to reduce or wipe out the tariff on sugar. This sends a chill down the backs of our local people and will continue to do so until Congress quits "muckraking" with the tariff. That will be about a year hence, when presumably the tariff changes possible will have been completed in preparation for the Presidential campaign.

Coffee Shipment.

Hawaiian coffee is finding a ready market throughout the States, and its superior quality is attested by the fact that there have been numerous instances on the mainland where an inferior grade of foreign coffee has been given the unsuspecting public as Kona coffee. It was but a couple of years ago that a 50-ton shipment of Hawaiian coffee called forth comment. The Honolulu mail on Tuesday with a coffee cargo of 1500 sacks.

Pearl Harbor.

Work at Pearl Harbor goes on at a good rate characteristic of all government work. Bids have been opened for the furnishing of 25,000 tons of fabricated steel, which will enter largely into construction at the Pearl Harbor yards. The Cleveland Crane Company bid $318,530 for the floating crane and the United Steel Product Company bid $133,218 for the fabricated steel.

Work on the Diamond Head reservations and fortifications is being carried on with good dispatch, as the large number of workmen going out in the morning and returning at night give testimony.

Water at Fort Ruger.

A good flow of water has been struck at Fort Ruger at a depth of 400 feet, and it is the present intention to sink an additional number of wells. Bids for the pipe line into the reservoir in the crater have been accepted from the Honolulu Construction and Draying Company for the sum of $20,267.

Local Fruit.

The fruit crop of the islands promises to average up well with that of former years, and, although there is some complaint made that the alligator pears are not coming up to expectation, a large quantity of this fruit is on display in the fruit stalls of the city at this early date. For two years the mango crop has not come up to the average, but this year promises much better, the fruit being larger and better flavored.

During the latter part of last week a shipment of watermelons was brought in from Maui, raised by the Maui Agricultural Company, which for flavor and size claim to have it over the Oahu grown melon. At $1 each melons are not a drag on the Honolulu market.

Hilo Breakwater.

Work on the second section of the Hilo breakwater has been resumed after a delay of some days, caused, it is stated, by an objection, on the part of the Government to the quality of the rock. When the first section of the breakwater was contracted for, Contractor Metzger submitted a large number of rock samples from different points adjacent to Hilo, but all were objected to except that from the quarries at Puau, which is of a flinty formation. To get this rock about four miles of railway had to be constructed which made a haul of nearly twenty-seven miles from quarry to breakwater. Lord & Young have now taken over the quarry, and all of the breakwater stone will be taken from it. The freight rate charged on the rock from the quarry to the breakwater will be somewhat under the rate charged Metzger.

Farm Market Manager.

S. T. Starrett is expected to arrive here on the seventh of next month to act in an advisory capacity during the inauguration of a central produce exchange which will be the general distributing mart for all sorts of produce brought in from the other islands and also from points on Oahu, and will be under the immediate supervision of a Territorial official in the capacity of Market Superintendent.

Mr. Starrett is from Coachella Valley, in California, where he is the horticultural inspector for that district. He has done much to keep out fruit pests from that section and is well fitted to give this new institution a good start. He will stay here but a few weeks, and serves without pay.

Fruit Quarantine.

One of the most serious incidents of the week is the called report of the fruit quarantine declared by California against the islands on account of the Mediterranean fruit fly. This fly that devastated the citrus fruit sections of the Mediterranean, has been in the islands a year or more and has attacked the mangoes and some other fruits quite seriously.

The quarantine means the destruction of a growing traffic in alligator pears, bell peppers and other products of the "small farmer" that has been gradually growing to very decent proportions.

Calleguas from San Francisco brought reports of the serious illness of Hon. H. P. Baldwin, who went to the Coast some weeks ago on account of his health. Latest reports were more favorable.

Decision of C. H. Atherton to devote his whole time to the duties of treasurer of Castle & Cooke has resulted in the advancement of Frank Armstrong to the position of cashier. A. H. Armstrong is promoted to take Mr. Armstrong's position in the steamship department of the company.

The Honolulu building ordinance has been passed by the Supervisors with a unanimous vote. It is now for the Mayor to decide whether it must be passed over his veto. There is now no doubt of the final passage of the measure.

Oahu's Belt Road Commission held a meeting this week and named Andrew Adams chairman, and T. H. Petrie secretary. City and County Engineer Gere will probably be the executive officer of the commission if arrangements can be made with the city officers.

Treasurer Conklin, has telegraphed that the prospect for floating his bond issue is very good. If the Territorial government begins putting this money into circulation by early fall, Honolulu will by no means lack for money and work for its people.

In a majority decision Chief Justice Robertson and Justice Perry struck that John A. Cummins is not entitled to the $5000 that was appropriated by the Legislature to reimburse for the fine paid during the trouble of 1897. The court holds that the Legislature cannot usurp an executive pardoning power. Justice De Bolt in his dissenting opinion declares that the court is usurping legislative power.

turned Friday from Europe, where he has been looking up European immigration. He seems to think that the people are ready to come to the islands. The public does not quite understand why Mr. Campbell was called back to Honolulu when another shipload of immigrants is what the people want.

Reports from Kona on the tobacco industry are most promising.

Our Stocks Abroad.

The manner in which Hawaiian stocks are presented to the investors of the mainland is shown in the following from the June 1911 market review of Wakefield, Garthwaite & Co. of California.

The market prices of Hawaiian sugar stocks continue to reflect the conservative investment view of the business. While the total shortage of the Cuban sugar crop is now known to be 465,000 tons, which is considerably more than the early estimates indicated, the sale of the crop has been made regardless of the market demand, and with the inevitable result of depressing prices. Refiners have taken advantage of the situation to buy only for current requirements. About 60 per cent of the Hawaiian crop is still unsold. It will go on a market requiring imports of European beet sugar, as well as the remainder of the Hawaiian crop, to meet the demand. The Hamburg price of European beet sugar, about 4.20 cents, is above parity with the New York price now, and it is figured that the New York market will require 412,000 tons to supply the deficit made by the Cuban shortage. The New York market quotation of 3.85 cents, at the close of May, masks the actual market situation. It is known that contracts for Hawaiian sugar have been made for large July deliveries at 4 1/2 cents, which in the refiner's way of expressing his conclusion that prices will be higher in August. So strong is the sugar market and so favorable are the indications for higher prices that several of the Hawaiian companies are planning to pay extra dividends very shortly.

The following is a comparison of the present market prices of the stocks with the prices we quoted for November, 1910, in our "Hawaiian Sugar Stocks as Investments":

Kiuhana Art League at Home.

It was a bright thought of Miss E. Cross, who is at the head of the Literary Circle of the Art League, to include composers with the local authors in the program given on Thursday evening. The musical numbers formed a fitting frame to the "Word Pictures" which occupied an important place on the program, and also proved that Honolulu is not behind other cities in the versatility of its local talent. The program comprised twelve poems, two violin solos, a monologue and fourteen musical numbers. While all the numbers were of great interest and excellence, some were of unusual merit. The "Lullaby" by Edith Eldridge Pond, "Hawaii's Child," "The Taro," and "The Dragon Fly" of Mrs. A. D. Tucker, although of simple construction, written as they were for teaching purposes, showed a fine melodic gift. These were well sung by female students from the Normal school, accompanied by Miss Margaret Cooke. Mrs. A. B. Ingalls' "Air for the G string" was interesting from a technical standpoint. Her "Melody," a rarely charming composition for violin with a fine accompaniment delicately sustained by Mrs. Ingalls. Of the "Word Pictures" most enjoyed by written in praise. "Eve's Song" by Harry Dillingham Frear, is a suggestive poem. "A Surf Rider," by Elizabeth Castle, a rare piece of verse depicting. "Old Times and New," by Anna M. Paris, was a poem from the heart, with quaint touches of humor, and a tender sigh for the past. "Twilight by the Sea" seemed a leaf from the book of nature. Ann B. Tucker's "My Love and I" is a fine lyric; her "Waikiki" must touch the heart of all who love "Hawaii No!" The poems were read by Miss McDougall. Three songs from Harry Dillingham Frear's book of Songs were gracefully sung by Mrs. Ranney Scott. "I Saw the Bonbons" "Drinking" is a gem. Its rippling accompaniment was most delicately played by Mrs. D. Howard Hitchcock. Miss Frances Dillingham's original monologue, descriptive of a woman returning on the steamer from the volcano, was most amusing. The fatuous reflections on the volcano, the silly twaddle of the woman, her attempt at pigeon-English with the Chinese boy and her final collapse into sea-sickness were depicted in an imitable manner. The program closed with three selections from "Betty" or "The Maid and the Mariner," an opera in three acts by Edgar A. P. Newcomb. "The North Star" (soprano solo) was delightfully sung by Mrs. Bruce McV. Mackall. Her faultless enunciation and clear liquid tones were never heard to greater advantage. The refrain, sung by Mrs. Weight, Miss Hunn and Messrs. Livingston and Brown, was rendered in a subdued manner which added greatly to the dramatic effect. The pure tenor quality of Mr. Arthur Wall's voice was brought out in the "Anaba" which he sang "can amore" and with the slending of an artist. The harp-like accompaniment was most effectively played by Mrs. D. Howard Hitchcock, who also accompanied Mrs. Mackall. "The Sestet," written in the grand opera form, was splendidly rendered by Miss Edith Roslyn Colina, Mrs. Chas. S. Weight, Mrs. Chester J. Hunn, Mr. Arthur Wall, Mr. Geo. A. Brown and Mr. Chester Livingston. Miss Collins (a recent addition to the vocalists of Honolulu) sang the opening solo with fine expression. This solo taken up by Mr. Wall with Miss Collins' voice as an obligato, was most effective. Mrs. Weight and Mr. Brown in the duet which continue the composition, blended their voices with fine judgment. Then followed the opening duet, backed by the quartet, in which the composition was elaborated, the whole closing with a brilliant crescendo. This number was directed by Mr. Arthur B. Ingalls in his usual musicianly manner. Mr. Newcomb must have been pleased at the way his work was interpreted. In this opera artist, and has proved that he merits the high place accorded him by the League room of America. The Art League was taxed to the uttermost by an audience representing the intellectual and art-loving citizens.

Mrs. Henry's Pupils Entertained.

One of the most delightful entertainments witnessed in Honolulu, was the entertainment given last evening by the pupils belonging to Mrs. Henry's private school. The large and fashionable audience's attention was held from the beginning of the performance, until the close. The opening number was a song "Away, Away to the Village Green," sung by the younger members of the school. This was followed by The Minuette that was danced by the little Misses Alice Brune, Harriet Richardson, Marguerite Rhoads, Emma Tarleton and the Messrs Ceeli Halstead, Reuben Campbell, Newton May, John Parker. The tiny tots were in Colonial costume few "grown ups" could dance with the grace that they displayed, and they received merited applause. After this stately dance Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night" was given. The entire affair was an out-of-door performance, given in the large grounds surrounding the school. In the third act the scene of Olivia's Garden was unusually beautiful. The setting was so arranged that a typical garden of roses was represented. A back ground of trellises was adjusted, the roses and vines were so deftly arranged that they had the appearance of growing. The stage setting was underneath a large spreading algaroba tree, the tree was hung with mountain vines and roses. Too much credit can not be given the children and their teacher, who by their indefatigable efforts, produced a difficult play, that was a success, and provided great enjoyment not only to their parents who witnessed the play, but their friends as well. The acting of all the participants was so excellent, that it would not be fair to mention any special one. The costumes were gorgeous affairs, copied strictly to carry out the idea of that period. One of the bits of the evening was made by Master Frank Richardson, who took the part of Feste, a clown. He sings a love song in the garden, to the Countess Olivia. This young boy possesses a voice of wonderful quality and sweetness, the song was very different being sung with out an accompaniment, every note was true and clear as a bell. After the play the entire school appeared on the stage and sang "Stars of the Summer Night."

United Service Bridge Club.

There were some closely contested games at the meeting of the United Service Bridge Club, that lent excitement and additional pleasure to the gathering. The members of the club are considered among the best bridge players in town and that is stating a great deal for there are many devotees to the game in this city. The prizes chosen for the club are always attractive, but the souvenirs chosen for Monday's affair were exceptionally pretty. Mrs. Charles Walcott, wife of Major Walcott of Scotchfield barracks won the first prize, a silver vanity box; Mrs. Smith the second, a cologne bottle in silver; Mrs. Burnham, wife of Major Burnham of Fort Shafter, and was similar to the second bridge prize. Prior to the playing, the ladies' annex of the University Club, was the scene of a merry luncheon party, served at small tables, bedecked with cut flowers.

Motor Party on Kamehameha Day.

Miss Marjorie Gilman, Miss Cordelia Gilman, Miss Belle McCarrison, Miss Ruth McChesney, Miss Fannie Hoogs, Miss Hazel Buckland, Miss Chapin, Miss Carrie McLean, Miss James, Mr. Robert Catton, Mr. David Larson, Mr. Harold Gear, Mr. Genovese, Mr. Oscar McCarrison, Mr. Nottage, Mr. McLean, Mr. Oswald Hind, Mr. Francis Eames, motored around the island of Oahu Monday, by way of the Paoli. Midway around the island a picnic luncheon was served by the sea; later in the afternoon a stop was made at beautiful Haleiwa. On this delightful occasion, Mrs. McChesney chaperoned, that in itself added greatly to the pleasure of the outing.

ADMISSION EXAMS.

Examinations for admission to mainland colleges will be held at Oahu College next week. The examinations of both the college entrance examination board, which admit to all colleges, and of Harvard will be given. All candidates are required to register Monday morning between 8 and 9 o'clock, whether they have examinations on that day or not. Further information, schedules, etc., may be secured of P. L. Horne, who is the supervisor of the examinations, or of A. P. Griffiths at Oahu College.

MASSACHUSETTS PAPERS HOWL AT IDEA OF HAWAII ASKING STATEHOOD

Resolution Before Congress Brings Out Emphatic Utterances From Mainland Press—Boston Editors Think Territory Is Not Yet Ripe to Be Admitted into Union.

WASHINGTON, May 16.—A petition for the admission of Hawaii as a state was received by the senate today from the Hawaiian legislature and referred to the committee on territories.

That little item above, sent out from the national capital by the Associated Press and supplemented by longer articles from special correspondents to the larger papers of the mainland, has given Hawaii a lot of publicity.

The Bulletin presents herewith a number of the comments made on statehood for Hawaii by the press of the State of Massachusetts. Taken as a whole, the press of Massachusetts does not favor the admission of Hawaii as a member of the "glorious brotherhood," and some interesting points, not the least of which is some ignorance of the situation, are brought out by the newspaper discussion.

Boston Morning Globe.
The Boston Morning Globe says:

HAWAII SHOULD WAIT.
There has been introduced into congress the required concurrent resolution which would start the Hawaiian islands toward statehood. Not only will no enthusiasm be felt for that program, but it will also be opposed as premature. Hawaii was annexed to this country in 1898 and became a territory two years later. Since being organized as U. S. territory the islands have made progress, but they are not yet ready to be entrusted with the rights and privileges that are enjoyed by members of the union.

The population of Hawaii consists chiefly of natives, Chinese and Japanese, with a good representation of Americans. The Americans, however, are by no means numerically strong enough to dominate the islands in a crisis. Hawaii naturally is ambitious, but she should be required to serve a longer period of probation. It is now nearly a half century since Alaska was annexed and during the past 19 years this northern territory has become peopled with Americans and Canadians, who understand our institutions. But Alaska has not been thought ready for statehood. Surely if Alaska must wait Hawaii should be expected to hold her ambitions in check.

A Word from Lynn.
The Lynn (Mass.) News says:

HAWAII NOT READY YET.
Few will be found in the United States to look with favor upon the petition from the legislature of Hawaii to Congress asking that the territory be granted statehood.

To those even who have thought but little on this subject the reasons against such a move by the government are at once apparent and overwhelming. The island population is a fusion of Asiatic, European, native and Latin-American races with a good sprinkling of Americans. The complex, political and ethnic, is so uncertain and as yet unsettled that it cannot command the confidence here which is necessary when sentiment is in favor of granting the rights and privileges, the duties and responsibilities, of statehood to a territory.

It was the year 1898 when Hawaii was annexed to the United States and it became a territory. In 1900, Alaska, on the other hand was annexed half a century ago and lately has become very well populated with emigrants from the States and from Canada. By these our democratic ideals and our institutions and aims for government are far better understood and appreciated than in Hawaii. Alaska should be granted statehood long before the beautiful island in the Pacific.

Hawaii has a wonderful future in store, as every one knows who visits it or who reads extensively of its natural charms and the spirit of its population. Schools, civic improvements, law enforcement, public spirit, all are taking deep root, and when the government perfects its naval stations there added interest will be the result. The future likewise will have in store for Hawaii the position of statehood in the greatest union the world has ever seen but, the time is not ripe.

Christian Science Monitor.
The Christian Science Monitor of Boston takes up the matter at some length reaching the general conclusion that Hawaii has some racial problems to work out before the statehood idea should be encouraged. Says the Monitor:

HAWAII SEEKS STATEHOOD.

A petition from the Legislature of Hawaii to Congress has been introduced in the Senate, and has reopened the issue of granting statehood to the territory. Assent is not likely for some time to come, if ever. But in the nature of the case, petitioning will not cease, and a time will arrive when a square answer with reason back of it will have to be given. And when it is made, it should be with greater deference to the opinions of the descendants of the first American settlers than was shown when the form of territorial government was set up. When this nucleus of Americanism, as it is known on the continental mainland, favors a change from a territorial to a state form of government then it will be well to listen to the appeal; but not before. The population of the islands has become so complex, and the ethical and political results of a fusion of Asiatic, European and Latin-American races are so uncertain, that it is the part of prudence to wait a while before proceeding with a step which, once taken, cannot be retraced.

Hawaii is fortunate in having a climate and natural setting that are enchanting. Her sugar and fruit plantations are at present bringing to their owners large profits. An army of generous spenders will arrive when the government perfects its military and naval station on the islands. The tide of travel across the Pacific increases each year, and Honolulu stands to gain from this intercourse with an army of tourists. Education is a passion with parents and children of the many races that have been imported to work on the plantations; and both private donors and the territorial government are busy extending the plant requisite to meet the people's needs. Consequently, the schools are busy doing admirable assimilative and unifying work for the rising generation, and are the leading factor in preserving peace between representatives of diverse races. The ideal of noblest culture dominates many of the richest and most highly educated descendants of the first generation of New England educators and civilizers, and they are sparing no money or personal service in the attempt to make political and economic conditions as excellent as possible, and to preserve as far as possible the type of civilization which their fathers transplanted.

For the next decade or two Hawaii is to be one of the most interesting ethnological and political experiment stations in democracy and in racial unification are to go on there that will interest nations other than the United States. When the possibility of fusing this varied race assemblage into a consistent type of self-controlled democracy is proved, then an appeal for statehood will have a favoring response.

Salem, Mass., a Knocker.

The Salem, Mass., News under the heading "No Call for It," comments as follows:
The scheme to admit Hawaii to statehood ought to be knocked on the head in short order. There is not much likelihood that such an enterprise will succeed with the country awake, even in slight degree, to the mischievousness of the step. Its promoters in congress as well as out of that body count upon indifference, but in this respect they are hugging a delusion.

Other Comments.
More briefly, other newspapers of the mainland have taken the resolution up and dismiss it as follows:

The population of Hawaii is now 210,000, with the proportion of whites to dark-skinned races only 8 per cent. Only a tenth of the 45,000 inhabitants of Honolulu are white. Portuguese are more numerous than Americans, and the Chinese and Japanese constitute about 50 per cent of the total population. And this is the territory clamoring for statehood!—Boston Record.

Hawaii wants to be a State. Chance for two more members of the senators' club if she gets her wish. That's about all the difference it would make

RED MEN PLAN CELEBRATION

Will Hold Exercises In Hawaiian Opera House on Morning of July Fourth.

Hawaiian Tribe, No. 1, Improved Order of Red Men, will note the passing of the one hundred and thirty-fifth anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence, by holding appropriate exercises in the Hawaiian Opera House, on the 14th day of July, commencing at the hour of 10 o'clock, A. M., or as the Red men have it, the 14th Sun of Buck Moon, G. S. D. 419, at the 10th run, rising of the sun, to which the general public is cordially invited.

The hour stated was determined upon for the reason that baseball and other field sports are scheduled for presentation by the A. A. U., during the afternoon of that day, with a possible pyrotechnic display in the evening.

Through the courtesy of Mayor Fern, the occasion being a public one, Hawaiian Tribe will have the benefit of the services of the Hawaiian Band on the occasion in question, and the order of exercises, an elaborated thus far, consists of the following numbers:

1. Chorus and Flag Drill, "Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean," by class of forty-six young ladies, pupils of Kaunamunu School, representing the States of the Union, under direction of Miss Philomena Perry.
2. Reading, The Declaration of Independence.
3. Bro. A. E. Murphy, Past Sachem Mezzo-soprano solo, "The Battle Hymn of the Republic."
4. Mrs. Bruce McV. Mackall Soprano and Whist.
5. Bro. W. J. Robinson, Past Sachem Violin solo, Patriotic Airs.
6. Bro. C. P. Brown Mezzo-soprano solo, "The Star-spangled Banner."
7. Mrs. Bruce McV. Mackall Recitation, Drake's "Address to the American Flag."
8. Miss Ray Bell Male Quartette, "America," St. Louis College Alumni Quartette.

The young ladies representing the States of the Union will be dressed to appropriate colors, each wearing a blue sash upon which will be printed the name of a state of the United States. In the event that Arizona and New Mexico are admitted to statehood prior to the date of the exercises, arrangements have been made to increase the number of young ladies in the class from forty-six to forty-eight, so as to have all of the states represented. In order to arouse a spirit of patriotism and of personal interest in those in attendance the audience will be requested to join in the chorus as to numbers 2, 6 and 8, on the order of exercises, and for the information of those who are unfamiliar with the words of the songs composing these numbers, the words will be printed in full on the program.

As the occasion is one of more than passing importance to the people of this territory, and the proposed exercises should, in purpose and intent, appeal to all patriotic citizens and residents of Honolulu.

WANT UNITED SENTIMENT ON WATER-FRONT POST

Plans for getting united public sentiment on the selection of a site for the new army post here were discussed yesterday at the luncheon held in the University Club with civil and military authorities present. As a result, a sketch of the proposed site, together with data on it and the suggestions for the esplanade of Ala Moana, will be sent to Washington. The meeting was called by the Public Service Association and was attended by Governor Frear, General Macomb, Admiral W. C. Cowles, Secretary Mott-Smith, ex-Governor Carter, L. Tenney Peck, W. R. Castle, W. A. Bryan, P. M. Pond, Prof. J. W. Gilmore, Surveyor Wall, A. H. Ford, Gerrit P. Wilder, James A. Wilder, Forester Hosmer and others.

The Fish Commission steamer Albatross sailed from Seattle on May 25 for Behring Sea to map the floor of the sea and to study the habits of halibut, cod and salmon. The halibut is a migratory fish, changing its feeding grounds frequently, and the Albatross will prepare a map that will tell fishermen what portions of the sea to avoid because fish do not congregate there.

Hawaii sees no reason why she should not become a state along with all the other territories and so has made formal application.—Gloucester (Mass.) Times.

Whether Hawaii shall be admitted as a state or not, the fact that she is desirous of becoming something more than a distant relation shows that she is thus far more than pleased with the connection.—Christian Science Monitor.

NOW OPEN TO THE PUBLIC

At a meeting of the Public Service Association yesterday, the Hon. Walter E. Frear was elected honorary chairman; W. A. Bryan, secretary and director; and W. R. Castle, treasurer. The board of directors is composed of delegated officers from each of the organizations contributing to the support of the Public Service rooms, now furnished and ready for meetings of any kind for the service of the public. Any organization promoting work of service to the public is welcome to the use of the rooms day or night, but only those organizations contributing to the support of the association have a say in the conduct of its affairs. W. A. Bryan of the College of Hawaii has been formally tendered the writing by the directors the management of the affairs of the Public Service Association. It is understood that the college will permit him to engage in this pub-

QUEER INSTRUMENTS FOR VOLCANO

Frank A. Porret, the volcano expert, earthquake forecaster and Knight of the Crown of Italy, who is coming to Hawaii to feel the pulse of Kilauea, is bringing with him some marvelous instruments according to reports.

Scientific instruments of marvelous construction that have never been tested in the field will be employed in the observations of the eruption. Most of the instruments were furnished by the Weather Bureau. Porret will carry a specially constructed telephoto camera capable of photographing at long distance minute details instantaneously. Pictures of the heave and swell of the sea of lava in a volcano have never been secured, but with this camera it is thought the noted scientist will be able to photograph the lava as it flows outside of the hours he gives to his college work.

enabled to photograph many intimate details of the interior of the boiling crater.

Even more wonderful are the microphones, instruments for detecting sounds hundreds of miles below the surface of the earth. So delicate is the microphone that the ripple of a stream far down in the bowels of the earth, or the rumble of a sea, can be detected. The approximate depth can be determined by the relative clearness of the sounds. The rise of the lava sea in a volcano can be followed weeks before the lava overflows the crater's mouth.

Hung Over Crater.
Novel apparatus is being taken for observing temperature. Upon a cable of sufficient length to span the crater will be hung an instrument called a pyrometer. The pyrometer will be immersed in the scorching lava, and is capable of registering heat of 1,500 degrees centigrade.

The Fine, Young, Imported Kentucky-bred Registered Saddle Stallion

Blue Grass Chief, No. 2513

American Saddle Horse Register

DESCRIPTION:

Blue Grass Chief is a beautiful rich blood bay with white hind feet to ankles, stands 15 1/2 hands high and weighs about 1650 now, as he has not arrived at full maturity yet he will no doubt weigh at least 1100 by another year. As to his form, style, conformation and makeup I can best reiterate the statement made to me by his former owner, Dr. G. W. Taylor of Riverside stock farm, White Post, Pike county, Kentucky, from whom I purchased him about two months since: "The prettiest horse I ever laid eyes on," and the same remark has been made concerning him by at least a dozen of my friends. After looking him over since his arrival at Kahului from San Francisco per Matson S. S. Co's steamer Lurline on May 27th, 1911.

PEDIGREE.

Blue Grass Chief was bred by J. H. Gillespie of Mount Sterling, Woodford Co., Kentucky; was foaled in 1906; sired by Bourbon Chief 976, he by Harrison Chief 1906; first dam Nellie Prewitt 3450, by Roscoe 2474, a great show horse and breeder; third dam by Crusader; fourth dam by Grey Eagle.

Bourbon Chief, the sire of Blue Grass Chief, was the winner of 205 blue ribbons in different show rings and was never defeated, and is claimed to be the greatest show saddle stallion in the world. Nellie Prewitt, the dam of Blue Grass Chief, was also a great prize winning show mare in her day, and as a breeder produced a number of great show horses.

The Stallion News of March 1st, 1911, says: Bourbon Chief 976, who died this winter, was the sire of more champion sons than any other horse the books record. His son, Montgomery Chief, won first premium at the great world's fair at St. Louis in 1904 in the gated saddle stallion class, also many other first in different show rings all over the country, and another son, Emerald Chief, took second prize to Montgomery Chief at the world's fair in 1904 at St. Louis.

The Farm and Horse Journal of Louisville, Ky., says in their issue of Jan. 14th, 1911: "The report of the death last week of the noted saddle stallion Bourbon Chief 976 will be regretfully received by saddle horse breeders everywhere. Originally bred as a harness horse this successful sire came to be one of the most celebrated of sires known to saddle horse breeders. He first gained notoriety as the sire of Emily 855, so successfully shown by Gen. Castleman at the Chicago world's fair in 1893. Her wonderful show there brought greatness to her sire. Looking for the reason some said it was the Denmark blood got through Lathams Denmark 96, sire of his dam. Others maintained that it was due to the great qualities of Harrison Chief, his sire, a famous show horse in his day. Still there were others and perhaps they were correct, who attributed it to the happy nick of the Denmark with the Chief blood. At any rate the two strains have flowed on never so successfully as when brought together along lines of later day breeding. Bourbon Chief was sired by Harrison Chief out of Belle by Lathams Denmark, second dam by Bellefounder. He was bred by Jas. McClelland of Bourbon Co., Kentucky, and owned at the time of his death by J. H. Gillespie of Mount Sterling, Ky. It will be observed that Mr. Gillespie is the breeder of Blue Grass Chief." He was foaled in 1883 and in his early days was the rival of his illustrious sire for honors in the harness shows. He gained his laurels as a sire of saddlers through the performances of his get, among which are Montgomery Chief, Bourbon King, Bourbon Prince, Bourbon Beauty, Marvel King, Emily, and others already noted in the show rings.

The above remarks concerning the breeding of Blue Grass Chief and his sire Bourbon Chief are not mine. They are matters of record and history and can be verified by any one by writing to Mr. I. E. Nail, secretary American Saddle Horse Breeders' Registry Association of Louisville Ky. It will be observed that his blood lines contain those of the most noted premium show ring prize winning saddle and show horses of the great Blue Grass region of Kentucky on both sides. I imported him to keep, but have since concluded to sell him, as he is too valuable for my purpose, and to any one wanting the best he ought to suit, as he is individually as near perfect as it is possible for an animal of his kind to be, and that he will reproduce himself in his offspring is not a matter of conjecture at all but of certainty. It is argued by some that horses and mules will in the near future be supplanted by mechanical means such as automobiles, etc. Now, it doesn't look that way if we judge the future by the past, for ten years ago there were no autos and now there are thousands, and horses and mules are worth today in any market just double the price that they were then, which seems to me to be a pretty good object lesson on the subject and comment thereon is entirely unnecessary.

To any one desiring a stallion to produce colts that, when they arrive at serviceable age, will bring two or three times as much in any market as the ordinary kind and not cost one cent more to produce he is the goods and cannot fail to accomplish this great desideratum unless all laws of hereditary influence, like producing like, etc., and even ordinary laws of nature be suspended in his case. What a dandy he ought to be for raising cavalry horses from, not the ordinary kind for cavalrymen, but for officers' use who generally buy their own mounts, such ones for instance as Gen. Miles' friends purchased and presented to him not long ago, which was a Kentucky saddle bred gelding for which they paid $3000.

He is as sound in wind, limb and body as the day he was foaled, perfectly kind in harness and under saddle, but his great value is not for either of these purposes. His great value is as a seed or stock horse for reproducing his species, and the man or company who secures him for this purpose is to be congratulated and should be the envy of every man, woman or child in the country that loves and values a fine specimen of God's greatest creation next to man—the noble horse. It would be almost impossible to correctly estimate the value in dollars and cents of this horse's blood and influence on the horse stock of this country or any community that he might be kept in say for 10 or 15 years, being young he has his whole lifetime of usefulness before him and should more than pay for himself every year of his life.

Also, one of the finest young Jacks that ever came to the country, five years old this spring. I don't know as I would miss it much if I was to say the finest one. He is black as a crow with light points, 14 hands high, weight 800 lbs. He is not as large as some great overgrown monsters, but if he continues to grow and spread and fill out and thicken up the way he has during the last six months he will weigh at least 1600 lbs. another year, which is considered a pretty big Jack in any country. I imported him from the Coast last September. He is of very stout, heavy, blocky, compact build with handsome head, and will get the low down, stout, heavy set mules that everybody wants instead of the great long, lanky, thin, slab-sided, cat-hamed ones that nobody wants. He is as lusty and hearty and vigorous as a fatting pig, always hungry and makes a great outcry if his meals are not forthcoming strictly on time. He works on mares just like a stallion. I only wish that I was fixed to go into male raising myself, as in that case no money could buy him, but as it is he is for sale at less than one-half his real value.

These two organizations, as well as individual Chinese and Japanese residents, are taking a foremost part in the clean-up work and are valuable aids to the Oahu Central Improvement committee forces.

SEN. MAKEKAU WAS ELOQUENT

(Special Bulletin Correspondence.)
HILO, June 11.—What is stated by the old Hawaiians of this city to be one of the most interesting and eloquent addresses ever made in Hawaiian, was the chief feature of the services in the Hall Church on Sunday, the occasion being the special services in memory of Kamehameha I, being specially celebrated by the Kamehameha and Kaahumanu lodges. The speaker of the day was Senator R. H. Makekahu who took for his text the following: "For there is born to you this day, a Savior, which is Christ, the Lord." Luke II, 11.

In the course of his address Makekahu dwelt upon the history of the greatest of Hawaiians telling of the prophecy, made before his birth, that he would be a ruler of men and of how many attempts were made to kill him, by various allies, the first of these being by Keawemauhili, the king of the Hilo district. He told of how he was taken, immediately after his birth at Pohakuuahi, Kohohi, Kohala, by an all named Naloli, who wished to save his life and for the first year lived on nothing but the juice of the sweet potato. Then of his being brought up at first by his uncle Katanolopu, the king of Kona, who finally advised him to return to Kohala, as attempts upon the boy's life were constantly being made. When he went he warned him solemnly of one thing, to always keep close to the people and to retain their love.

The history of his younger days in Kohala followed and finally of his being taken back to Kona by Kuhaupilo, another relative who was a famous warrior, and there being instructed in all the arts of the old Hawaiian warfare. From then on the speaker followed Kamehameha's history through his many wars, telling of his exploits and wonderful feats of strength, to his death. He called particular attention to the fact of his obedience as a child to his older relatives and of the effect it had upon his later life, when he was himself in a position to command obedience.

The Hall Church, the largest edifice of its kind in Hilo was crowded to its extreme limit for the ceremony, the services being conducted by the Rev. Stephen Desha. The evening before the Kaahumanu Society gave excellent Hawaiian tableaux at the Gaiety Theater which was filled 1494

AMERICA'S GREAT POLO TEAM BESTS BRITISH CHALLENGERS

TAFT TALKS ON RECALL

Take Two Straight Games From The Visitors

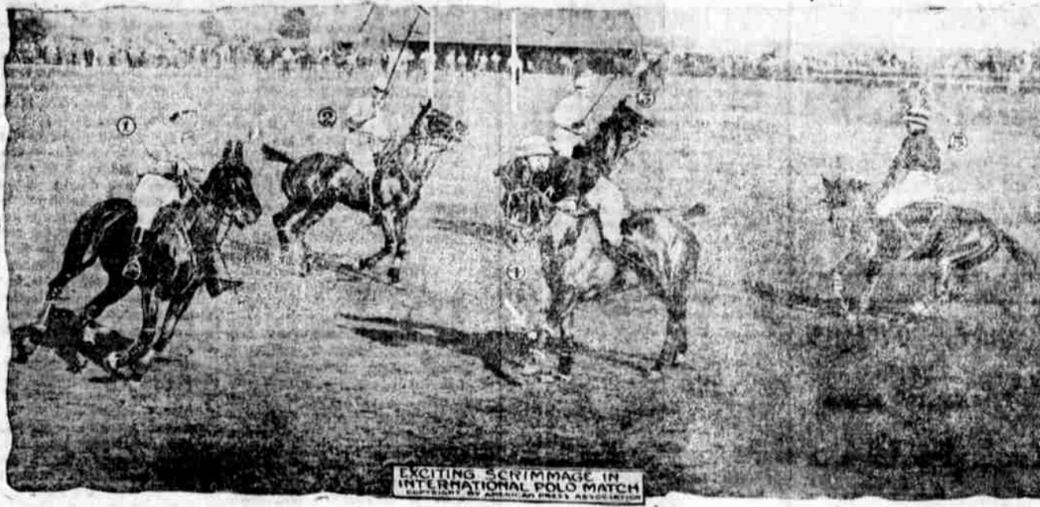

NEW YORK, June 16.—America is international champion at polo. The American team won two straight victories from the British challengers, the first on June 2, the second a week later, making 4½ to 3 in the first game at 4½ to 3½ in the second game.

NEW YORK, N. Y., June 2.—The colors of the Meadow Brook Hunt Club were in the skies under which the first game for the international polo championship was played yesterday afternoon on the field at Westbury, L. I. The same blue and white topped the dark blue of the Englishmen when the game was over, for the American four whirlwinded their way to a victory of five goals to four, with a net score of 4½ to 3.

No picture was ever painted for color-loving New York in tones more brilliant than this game and its setting. The field itself was a joyous green, marked out in white. In the sunlight that flooded the plain, even the unpainted grandstands lost their hardness, and the alternating British and American flags that streamed above them put life into it all. Scarlet-capped ground keepers hovered about the field, blue-shirted, tan-puited grooms ranged the side lines, and waiters with shining black faces bustled in endless streams from the red and white refreshment marquees. But it was the crowd of eager spectators that gave real brilliance to the picture. Automobiles by the hundred brought gaily gowned women and summer-suited men over all the seven roads that center at the field. Buggies and surreys brought farmers and their wives from the remotest corners of the country over which the Hunt Club ranges. Special trains over the Long Island railroad emptied scores of crowded cars at the edge of the green. Seven thousand persons saw the game.

Nations Officially Represented.
The two nations and the State were officially represented. The British Consul-General brought with him the King's greeting to the members of the visiting team. Canadians waved the maple leaf flag through the riot of color, and in the clubhouse telegraph operators sent bulletins to men waiting at cable ends on the other side of the world. A hand played "God Save the King" when the Englishmen cantered into the field, and swung into "The Star Spangled Banner" when the Englishmen gripped hands with their victorious rivals after all was over.

EXCITING MOMENT OF PLAY IN FIRST MATCH WHEN BRITISH TEAM TRIES TO BEAT AMERICANS.

The photograph above shows the American and British polo teams battling for supremacy in the first game. The players shown in the accompanying photo, snapped during an exciting moment in the first contest, are as follows, Nos. 1 to 3 being members of the American team and 4 and 5 British players: No. 1, Larry Waterbury; No. 2, Monte Waterbury; No. 3, Harry Payne Whitney, captain of the American team; No. 4, Lieutenant A. N. Edwards; No. 5, Captain Wilson. The arrow points to the foreleg of Lieutenant Edwards' polo pony. The Britishers' goal posts may be seen in the background.

Much more than color and foregrounding of races was in the afternoon, however. There was polo of blood tingling uncertainty and breath taking excitement. There was good polo and bad polo. There was polo that the men play and very particularly there was polo that the ponies played. It was polo, from start to finish, that turned the grand stands into something curiously like the bleachers of those other polo grounds that have been sacred to baseball for so many years. For four of the eight periods of the game the Englishmen played the Americans off their feet. For two of the periods they held their own without apparent effort, and it is but another way of telling what manner of game it was when it is said that the Americans won the contest in the two periods in which they showed any superiority to the visitors.

Devereux Milburn, the back of the American team, was its savior as well. H. P. Whitney scored the Americans' first goal just as the spectators were putting back into their pockets the watches they had pulled out at 4:40 o'clock to see at what time play started. In little more than another minute of play the Englishmen had scored, and the second period had no more than been called when the visitors scored again.

Englishmen's Bulldog Grip.
Then the grand stands began to see things. The Englishmen, who had smiled at being given the short end of wagers at 15 to 2, sat a little deeper in their saddles and worked their way down to the American end of the field. And there they stayed. Neither strategy nor reckless riding budged them for twenty minutes of play.

Three American riders came croppers in the course of these hostilities—J. M. Waterbury twice and his brother Lawrence once. In the heat of the crisis, Milburn crossed Capt. Chespe for the first foul of the afternoon, and before the streak was over the score was 3 to 5. Lieut. Edwards, to whom belonged the credit for all four of the English goals, might almost have played the game alone. There were times when, in the swiftness of the action, no one else but he could be distinguished.

With the opening of the second half of the game, however, there came a promise of a change in the situation. The Englishmen were bringing some of their ponies out for the second and third time. The Americans were no longer trying to conceal the desperation they felt. The fifth period opened with two English goals scored with appalling ease. Then Capt. Chespe crossed Whitney and the visitors' first foul was marked up.

The Americans took heart at that. Milburn went up to the line and Whitney fell back to the Buffalo man's place. The ball had no more than been tossed back into play after the foul than Milburn had taken it between the posts of the British goal.

In the sixth period Milburn could hardly wait for the start of play. The ball heaped beneath the first stroke and Milburn drove for it like a field. Clearly it went for 400 feet under his mallet, and before it had even begun to lose its momentum the scarlet flag was signalling the third goal for the Americans. The roar that greeted the play must have been heard at Garden City. A moment later the ball had found the British goal again, and Capt. Wilson had crossed Lawrence Waterbury. For the first time, except the one minute and three seconds that elapsed between the making of the first and second goals of the game, the Americans were in the lead.

The grand stands had gone quite insane by that time. Utter strangers were pounding each other's shoulders and shrieking demands to know what they thought of that! Staid old men fumbled for their eyeglasses and besought Milburn and Waterbury to do it again. Women danced up and down in their excitement. No ninth inning of a tied baseball game ever ended in an uproar like that which marked the close of this sixth period. In the seventh period Milburn scored the last goal of the game. That ended the excitement. The strain had told on the Americans, just as it had told on the Englishmen. For the rest of the period, and throughout the eighth, neither side could do more than dribble the ball about one corner of the field. Neither side cared to do more than this, it seemed, and when the final gong had sounded the ponies might have been doing high school tricks for all the polo that was played.

And then the happy, still breathless crowd went home. All the way they figured out new odds to give on the Englishmen when the second game of the series is played on Monday afternoon. Neither the Americans nor the Englishmen cared for another such an afternoon before that time.

The Americans had a bad attack of stage fright in the early periods of the game. Their team work was wretched and their individual playing was worse. The ball seemed like a pea to them. They could not hit it and they rode over it repeatedly. Time and again Harry Payne Whitney admonished them by crying "Wake up! Wake up! Get in the game boys!" Milburn, instead of attending in his field posts, roamed all over the field seeking to gain individual glory by making goals. His work demoralized the two forwards, Lawrence and J. M. Waterbury, and they frequently missed shots which formerly had been merely child's play to them.

It was during this chaotic condition that the Englishmen played great polo. Their team work was excellent. They placed the ball and passed it on from one man to another until they had fairly torn the Americans' defense to ribbons. The Englishmen rode rings around their adversaries and handled their mallets with great skill. Just when the game seemed lost to the Americans they made a great rally and won, and completely turned the tables on the Englishmen. Then the Englishmen had a bad attack of "nerves."

NEW YORK, May 14.—In a speech before the conference on reform of the criminal law and procedure President Taft pronounced himself emphatically against the recall of the judiciary.

"Not content with reducing the position of the judge to one something like that of the moderator on a religious assembly or the presiding officer of a political convention," the president said. "The judge is to be made still less important, and to be put still more on trial, and to assume still more the character of a defendant by a provision of law.

"Under this provision, if his rulings and conduct in court do not suit a small percentage of the electors of his district he may be compelled to submit the question of his continuance on the bench during the term for which he was elected to an election for recall, in which the reason for his recall is to be included in two hundred words, and his defense thereto is to be equally brief.

Hope in Nation's Humor
"It can hardly be said that this proposed change, if adopted, will give him greater authority or power for usefulness or constitute a reform in the enforcement of the criminal law of this country. It will certainly not diminish the power or irresponsibility of counsel for the defendant.

"Let us hope that the strong sense of humor of the American people, which has on often saved them from the dangers of demagoguery, will not be lacking in respect of this nostrum.

"The statistics which show the crimes that go unpunished in this country as compared with those in England," said Mr. Taft, "are startling and humiliating to any son of America who has pride in his fellow-countrymen as a law abiding and law enforcing people.

"A study of the English system will show that their procedure and their guarantees in favor of the individual as to indictment, trial and conviction and their provision for the security of the liberty of the individual are exactly the same as ours, for we derive ours from them.

"Our bills of rights, both in federal and state constitution, are simple copies of limitations found in the Magna Charta, the petition of right and the bill of rights, which are part of the British constitution.

"Lighter Regard for Law"
"There is the great difference, then, between the effectiveness of the two systems. I believe it to exist in the character, experience and learning of the judges, in the power which they maintain and exercise in the course of the trial for the saving of time and the simplification of the issues, and in the respect and obedience given to their intimations from the bench as to the proper behavior of counsel in the conduct of the case. If there is any other reason for the difference, it cannot be found in procedure.

"It must be found in the lighter regard for law and its enforcement on the part of our people as a whole, and a consequent less rigorous public opinion in favor of the punishment of crime, which relieves prosecuting officers and grand juries from the highest standard in this regard, and which finds its way into and exerts its influence in the jury panel during the trial and in the jury room during the consideration of the verdict.

"I wish to comment on the effect that the change in the power of the judge in this country in the matter of the management of the trial has had upon his ability to shorten the methods of counsel for the defense and their conduct in the court room.

"One of the strongest influences for looseness in original trials in my judgment has been the presence of lawyers in our legislatures who have sought to abate and limit by statute the power of the judges and to take away from them this source of respect for their rulings which is so apparent in every English court of justice.

"What I believe to be an unfounded fear of judicial tyranny and an unreasonable distrust of judges have led to statutory limitations upon their power in the conduct of criminal trials which have made the trial by jury in this country, especially in the western states, an entirely different institution from what it was understood to be at the time of the adoption of our constitution.

ARMY AND NAVY

As the result of the examination held May 2 twenty-three candidates for West Point will be admitted to the Academy. Two hundred and forty-one principals, first and second alternates were designated, forty-nine of which failed to report, and the balance either failed mentally or physically. It is understood that more of the candidates failed physically than mentally. With the addition of seventy-three, there are now remaining fifty-two vacancies at the Academy to be filled. The War Department has under consideration plans for holding another special examination in June to fill the remaining vacancies. Even if no more vacancies should be filled the entering class will consist of 250 cadets, which will be the largest in the history of the institution.

The proposed reorganization of the Atlantic Fleet, which was scheduled to take place on July 1 next, will probably be postponed for several weeks, on account of the delay in placing the new battleship Utah in commission. Under the original plan worked out by Rear Admiral Wainwright, Aid for Operations, it was intended to increase the Atlantic Fleet on July 1 next from sixteen to twenty-one battleships by the addition of the Utah, New Jersey, Maine, Missouri and Ohio.

Captain Frank A. Wilcox, Thirtieth Infantry, President of San Francisco and First Lieutenant Alfred J. Booth, Second Infantry, Honolulu, have been placed on the detached list.

The United States tug Troquois, one of the largest in the service of the navy, may arrive here the latter part of July from Mare Island. The vessel served in Hawaiian waters for nearly ten years, until her boilers became worn out, when she was sent to the Coast under convoy of the Buford. At Mare Island she has had new boilers fitted in, and in future will be an oil burner. Orders were received at Mare Island recently to rush the work to completion, so that she can go into commission again in July. It is expected by local officers that she may be ready for commission about the middle of July and can arrive here before August. She will be one of the speediest of the naval tug, with a large steaming radius, and will be an excellent boat for the coming requirements for Pearl Harbor work.

Major-General Arthur Murray has been assigned to the command of the Third Army Division, with headquarters at San Francisco. He will assume command of this division on July 1, when the reorganization plan, which concentrates the different army posts throughout the United States into three divisions, goes into effect.

Before assuming active command of his division, General Murray will relieve Major-General William P. Carter as commander of the maneuver division at San Antonio, Tex., for a time, after which General Grant will command that division for a similar period. This is for the purpose of giving these two officers actual field experience.

Although no official word has been received at the local army headquarters relating to the new reorganization plans, it is the opinion of ranking officers that there will be no change in the number of troops stationed in this department.

Major-General Murray bears an enviable record, although a comparatively young man, being but 52 years old. He was second highest in his graduating class at West Point in 1874. While pursuing his military duties he took up the study of law and was admitted to the bar of the United States Circuit Court, St. Louis, Mo., in 1895. General Murray's duties have covered a wide range. He has done everything an officer of the army can do, from being an instructor of tactics and military science at Yale College, and the military academy to chief of artillery of the army. He is also an author of several military works, among which are "A Manual for Court-martials," "Mathematics for Artillery Gunners," and "A Manual of Arms, Adapted to the Springfield-Rifles."—San Francisco Examiner.

"GO INTO POLITICS" ADVISES ROOSEVELT

"Not Merely to Do the Nation Good, But that the Nation May Do You Good."

CAMBRIDGE MASS.—"Politics" was the subject of an address made by Theodore Roosevelt recently to the class studying Government at Harvard. Seven hundred students heard him.

The Colonel advised all of the members of the class to go into politics when they are graduated. He declared the training they are receiving at Harvard will eminently fit them for political work. Col. Roosevelt said he thoroughly believes in politics which he has personally advocated.

Col. Roosevelt denounced the nomination for political offices of men who had no previous position in politics because they have made no enemies.

Col. Roosevelt spoke on the necessity of combining book knowledge and practical experience and instanced. The Federalist as an example of the result of the working out of that combination.

"The Federalist," he said, "was indeed a campaign document; it was designed for that purpose and was used in that way." Col. Roosevelt said the same necessity for book knowledge and practical experience was demonstrated in the discussion of the abolition question.

Commenting on the fact that the graduate is likely to be supercilious and to sneer at politicians, he said: "Do not only have a debit side in your account with public men, have the credit side too."

In speaking of the necessity of the participation of the college graduate in politics he said: "Go into politics not merely to do the nation good, but that the nation may do you good. A man who cannot work with his fellows in politics may be too virtuous for them, but it is more probable that he is too foolish and bricky."

Harvard's track managers have received a cablegram from Dresden Germany, inviting the Harvard and Yale athletes to compete there a short time after the international games in London. It is not expected that the American athletes will be able to take advantage of this offer.

BIG DEBATE ON WOOLLEN TARIFF

(Associated Press Cable.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 16.—Not for a long time has such a scene been presented in the House as is now holding the boards in regard to the discussion of the woolen schedule of the tariff, for an all day and night session is under way.

Representative John W. Weeks of Massachusetts, in a speech defending the American woolen resolution, in regard to the investigation which is pending, stated that the tariff had no bearing upon any monopoly by the manufacturers because there was no monopoly.

Defends Woolen Tariff.

He held that any definition of monopoly in regard to the woolen manufacturers was exploited in the Democratic woolen schedule as proposed.

With an all day and night session it is hoped that the debate will close by Monday night and that a vote on the proposed schedule will be reached by the middle of the week.

Lord Loveland Discovers America

By C. N. AND A. M. WILLIAMSON

Copyright, 1910, by Doubleday, Page & Company. Copyright, 1908, by the McClure Company

"What an alarming confession from one's chauffeur! Oh, and that chicken—you nearly ran over it! I believe your nerves must be a little 'jumpy' too. I think I could drive almost as well as that myself."

"I deserve to be scolded," said Loveland. "I'm afraid I was absentminded for an instant, though the chicken didn't seem worried about itself."

"Kentucky chickens never are. They're so high spirited. Take care of that baby pig, Mr. Gordon! I think I will drive for awhile after all, if you don't mind."

"Delighted," said Loveland in a mood to rejoice if the girl upset the car and killed them both, because it would be so much more agreeable to go out of the world with her than to remain in it while she became lost to him as Mrs. Cremer.

She began cautiously, but in a few moments put the forty horsepower Gloria on fourth speed, throttling her down to a pace within reason.

"There! Aren't you proud of your pupil?" the girl asked gaily.

"Very proud," answered Loveland. "And do you think I should be able to get on without much more teaching from a real expert?"

"Oh, yes. With a decent sort of chauffeur to do your repairs you can drive the car through country like this without danger."

"Unless I get absentminded."

"Yes, unless you get absentminded. But why should you be absentminded when so soon you'll have the person you care for most sitting beside you where I sit now? Oh, I ought to beg your pardon for saying such things, Miss Dearmer! But, you see, you and I were once friends, not employer and servant, so I forget myself sometimes. And, besides, I can't help thinking this morning that you're leading up to saying something which perhaps you find it a little difficult to say. Yet why should it be difficult for you to tell me if you've heard that Mr. Cremer is coming at once and bringing another chauffeur?"

"My telegram didn't say that, but it made me feel that I shouldn't be able to keep you very long at the Hill Farm," said Lesley.

the eyelashes, no faint gasping for breath.

Sick with fear that she might be dead, Loveland's memory refused the barrier between them. He was conscious only of his love for her.

"Dearest—precious one—darling!" he called her. "For God's sake, wake up! Speak to me—only speak to me! I love you so!"

Instantly she opened her eyes wide, shivering a little in his arms, and looked up at him, half dazedly at first, then smiling as a woman might who has dreamed of a distant lover and wakes to find him near.

"Thank God you're not dead!" he stammered.

"And that you're not!" she answered faintly. "You—you're not much hurt?"

"Not at all, and if I were it wouldn't matter," Loveland assured her fervently. "If only I hadn't let you drive or if I hadn't talked to you! It's all my fault. What shall I do if you're injured?"

"I—I'm all right and—and rather happy," whispered Lesley. "I don't think anything's the matter at all, except a little shock."

"Let me lift you up for a minute, so that we can make sure whether you are hurt," said Val. "I'll do it so gently—"

"No, I'd rather lie still, just as I am," the girl answered.

"Would you be more comfortable if I laid your head on the ground?"

"No; keep it on your arm, please. I like it there. I feel as if I'd been dreaming," she murmured. "I dreamed that you—that you called me your darling; that you said you loved me."

"Forgive me!" exclaimed Loveland. "I couldn't help it. I was half mad."

"Then it wasn't a dream?"

"No; it wasn't a dream," he confessed. "Even though you think me an impostor you can't believe me a whole-

"SPEAK TO ME—ONLY SPEAK TO ME!"

ly unredeemed villain or you wouldn't have taken me into your house, for charity's sake though it was. So you must know now that you've nothing to fear from my love."

"Is it real love—tell me?" she asked, her head nestling comfortably against his arm.

"It's the real thing about me—it's grown to be the whole of me," Loveland broke out. "Nothing else matters. That's why I should have had to kill myself if you'd been hurt—or but I can't speak of it. Thank God, you're alive and not injured. Yes, that's enough for me—it's got to be enough, and I ought to be happy though you're going to belong to another man."

"You wouldn't have wanted to marry me, anyway," said Lesley.

"I wouldn't have wanted to—when it's the thing I'd give all but one year of my life for—the one year I'd keep to be happy in with you."

"Just a poor little humble story writer, and you would really like to marry her?"

"Don't torture me," said Loveland. "I've had about all I can stand. If I were the impostor you think me—"

"There's only my mother, and what she wants most is my happiness. My love for you has somehow shown me how to appreciate her more. But, Lesley, what about Sidney Cremer? Do you care enough for me—a man you say you're 'taking on faith'—to give up all Cremer's money and to throw him over for my sake?"

"I can't throw him over."

"Then how can we be married?"

"And I can't give up his money," she added.

"Lesley, have you raised me up only to let me fall deeper into the pit than ever?"

"We both fell into the pit together, didn't we?" she said, laughing a little. "If you go deeper I'll go deeper, too, for we're going to stand or fall together now."

"Then what do you mean?" asked Val. "You'll have to send one of us away—me or Sidney Cremer."

"Let me sit up and we'll talk it over," said Lesley, with a quaint cheerfulness and a matter-of-factness that utterly bewildered Loveland. "I feel so well and so happy now that I believe I can find my way out of any entanglement so long as we go hand in hand."

Val, resting on one knee, took the little gray mitten that she held out to him and pressed the hand in it. But there was bitterness in his voice as he answered: "This is an entanglement that you'll find no way out of. You can't keep us both."

"You don't trust me," Lesley reproached him. "Just wait before deciding to give me up, until we've thoroughly thrashed things out, beginning at the beginning and going right on to the end."

"I shan't decide to give you up. Nothing can make me do that now," Loveland said. "It's Cremer who'll have to go to the wall."

Lesley laughed. "Like his motor. Poor, poor car! I'm sorry for it, but it hasn't sacrificed itself in vain. I was beginning to wonder how on earth to bring all this about. That was what kept me awake last night. If I'm to tell the whole truth, it had to come some way, and it had to come soon. Well, Sidney's motorcar has solved the difficulty, and Sidney will be glad, for my happiness is the same to him as his own. And now I've gone so far I may as well confess that from the very minute I saw you play Lord Bob in that dingy little hall at Ashville I hoped—oh, but I hoped more than anything that you would ask me to marry you! Please, please, don't be shocked, but I invited you to come here just for that."

"Yet you were engaged to Sidney Cremer," he said, half to himself.

"I was bound to Sidney just as I am now and just as I have been for the last three years. And I wasn't tired of him then, not a bit, and I'm not even at this minute. But I love you—the real you."

"Darling!" exclaimed Loveland. "He marveled at her. This was a phase of the girl's character—her true and noble character—which he was at a loss to understand."

"You were very cold to me that night at Ashville," he ventured to say.

"I was trying you. I wasn't quite sure, you see, which side of the moon I was looking at, and if, after all, it was only the same old side I didn't want to let myself be dazzled by it, as I couldn't help being at first. I was in love with you on the boat, even when I laughed at your talk of love. I felt more like crying than laughing, though, because the sort of love you gave me in return for mine wasn't worth my having."

"Heaven knows it," Val admitted humbly.

"But I'm delighted that Sidney's motor jumped over conventionalities instead of my having to take the leap myself. Instead I just leaped with the car, and you leaped, too, and everything is going to be heavenly for all the rest of our lives."

"I don't quite see how if you're not tired of Cremer," said Loveland.

"Don't be jealous of Sidney any more. I liked making you a little jealous of him at first—after I saw how you felt. It was fun for me, and I thought it was good for you. But now it's different. I'm sure—sure—about the other side of the moon, and I want you to be as happy as I am. Oh, don't speak yet! I must go on a little further. You know, I told you I had a telegram this morning?"

"Yes, yes."

"Well, you thought it was from Sidney Cremer, and I didn't contradict. Lots of things you've thought lately I let you go on thinking without contradicting. The telegram was from little Fanny Milton—about you."

"About me?"

"She knew from a journalist who is a friend of hers that you'd come to this part of the country with a theatrical troupe, and they'd found out that the actors were playing pieces of Sidney Cremer's at Ashville. They talked it over together—Fanny and this Mr. Kidd. He wanted to know for his paper's sake where you'd disappeared to when the company broke up. Last evening he suggested that she should telegraph to me. They both thought I might have heard about you. So that's why I felt that you wouldn't be stopping on as my chauffeur very long."

"Did Miss Milton say in the telegram that New York had discovered its mistake about me?"

"No; she didn't say that, though it was a long telegram. I expect she thought I would have seen the newspapers. Well, I haven't. But I can put two and two together quite nicely, and I was sure that you'd come into your own again with the great American public, perhaps partly through Fanny Milton's tip. Thinking of going to wager all the profits of Sidney Cremer's next play or novel, if I had them, that you can now go back, if you like, and get without any difficulty the heiress who came across the water for."

"I'm sick of the very word heiress," protested Loveland, with complete sincerity.

"That's the new you. And what a very new you it is when one comes to think of it—only a few weeks old! But it's the only real one. The other was a shell, which has broken."

"You broke it," said Val.

"I cracked it a little maybe on the boat, but it took a big hammer to smash it, and now I've swept all the fragments away. There's just the real you and the real me in the world, with one wonderful light from the other side of the moon shining on us two—and Sidney Cremer."

Does not cease when we have sold you a Kodak. Picture taking is very simple now, but if there are any little points that bother you we are cheerfully ready to help you out. The very complete little instruction books that the Kodak company issues show that they too are interested in your success. But we are here on the ground. Let us show you how simple it all is.

"At Home With the Kodak" is the title of an illustrated and clearly written little book that the Kodak people have issued on home portraiture.

Whether you have a camera or not we will be glad to give you a copy. Drop us a postal, or if convenient call at the store.
