THE Daily Bulletin

Pledged to neither Sect nor Party, But established for the benefit of all.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 15, 1890.

There was one especially commendable feature connected with the presentation to the King of the petition relating to a Constitutional Convention—the orderly, peaceful, and in every way proper procedure. The committee from Honolulu and the delegates from the country met, marched to the palace, presented their wishes, received His Majesty's reply, and retired, all with becoming propriety and dignity. There was no manifestation of the filibustering spirit, nothing in the remotest degree inconsistent with law, order, and constitutional rights.

A POPULAR MOVEMENT TO BE SATISFIED.

The movement for a new constitution appears to be general among the native Hawaiians throughout the Kingdom. Like all popular movements there is more or less mixing up of sensible with foolish ideas, sense with nonsense. Whether the element of wisdom or folly predominates, of course is a problem that would require a very skilful political analyst to determine. This much at least may be assumed as a settled fact in the history of nations: a popular agitation must be judiciously met and satisfied, otherwise the public peace is endangered. The fierce opposition of the Scottish clan to the house of Brunswick was no doubt very unreasonable, and although squelched by bullets and bayonets, it cannot be said to have disappeared until the opposition melted away in the personal popularity of the present sovereign. The opposition of the native Hawaiian to the new constitution would probably have vanished if the Reform Party leaders had popularized themselves by measures and practices looking more to the development of national interests than to advancing the interests of personal friends and family compacts. Political bossism and wire pulling were among the chief causes that produced the results recorded by the electorate in February last. The political bosses, like all of that ilk in other countries, had no concessions to make to the people, for they were the people, after whom the deluge. Now, if our new political rulers mean to be wiser than their predecessors, the first duty before them seems to be to meet by judicious concessions the agitation that unmistakably manifested itself on the street yesterday. The constitutional convention demanded may be an unwise course of procedure, too radical and revolutionary in its character. If so, it affords a fine opportunity for Cabinet Ministers and legislators to show the mettle of their statesmanship, by devising such measures as will remove all reasonable grounds of complaint without the intervention of a political earthquake to shake up the foundations of the constitutional fabric.

THE LION'S SHARE.

EDITOR BULLETIN:—The letter over the fancy signature of Anti-Toady in your paper yesterday, bears unmistakable evidence of having effused itself from the brain of someone financially interested in the liquor saloon business. Passing over his ridiculous spurling after the identity of the author of Equal Rights and his little missionary-phobic snarl, I find there is nothing left to reply to except the objection that the early closing of saloons would not diminish the evils of drunkenness and that the Post Office Savings Bank receipts and the business of the stores show that the lion's share of the people's earnings do not reach the coffers of the saloon keeper. If, as my fancy named critic asserts, early closing would not lessen the number and quantity of drinks sold, why do saloon keepers incur the expense of keeping their places open six hours beyond the usual business hours of the city? The fact is, and my critic feels the force of it, that if all the liquors consumed in this city were brought home in bottles and cases, the consumption would soon show a heavy falling off and the number and amount of Savings Bank deposits would show large increases. The Saturday night saloon tippers are not the persons whose names appear in the Savings Bank books, nor are they the persons whose debit entries in stores are well balanced by corresponding credits. If tippers would buy their liquors in bottles and cases and take them home, their wives might have a chance of turning the decoctions of vitriol and fusel-oil into the house slabs, the disappointed toper would sleep at home instead of in the Station House, and instead of being mulet in $6 damages on Monday would be back to work with a clean head earning $6 more, which would be $12 better for the buyer, and if my critic's objections mean anything they mean that it would be no loss to the seller. If early closing would not lessen the sales of liquor, what in the name of common sense have the dealers or their apologists to offer as an objection to the change? No doubt the saloon keepers are very wicked, but they are not fools. And they are not going to work till midnight, if they can get off with the same results at five o'clock. That, however, is where the shoe pinches. The liquor saloon is the curse of every civilized community in Europe and America; it flourishes on the ruin of its customers; its interests are antipodal to the interests of the people; and there is nothing in evidence to show that the Honolulu saloon is any improvement on its "pari" in other cities.

WHY SO?

EDITOR BULLETIN:—In the 27th annual report of the Board of the Hawaiian Evangelical Association for June we read on page 11 as follows: "The past year has been one of such political agitations as to awaken the spirit of discord in some of the churches, this is perhaps more especially noticeable in the churches on the islands of Maui and Oahu. There has been perceptibly a relaxing of general interest. A certain spirit of antagonism has been bred, race prejudices fostered, and the undertow of the heathen spirit quickened. But while it is true that offenses have come, and some have fallen, the process has probably been one of wholesome purging to the churches as a whole. The chaff has been winnowed from the wheat." This is what is written to be read by every pious divine in every hamlet that has a church or schoolhouse throughout the New England States, as the writer knows, and probably throughout the United States and the civilized parts of the world. The question of why does the politics of this country at the present time interfere with the discipline of the native church at once arises. Was there ever before in the history of the world a whole nation in the name of religion, led to the precipice and told to jump? And when they refuse (ke ko nei) it is written of them that their heathen spirit has been quickened. Would that that hand which withered before it was written, would that New Englanders who furnish the coin and true prayers for what was and should be noble work, knew the truth, how it has been prostituted to land grabbing from the native and our sugar interests until there is hardly a missionary family in the country to-day that is not wealthy. The time will come when the world will know of the vital questions of civilized life that the natives and many foreigners are now struggling for in Hawaii nei, and which are represented by the National Reform Party, which is the party that represents the true American and progressive spirit of the country to-day.

THE LEGISLATURE.

FIFTY-FOURTH DAY.
THURSDAY, AUG. 14.
AFTERNOON SESSION.

The House resumed at 1:35.
Third reading of bill to provide for a Police Justice for the District of Ewa, Island of Oahu.
Minister Brown wanted to know the reasons for the bill.

Rep. Kauli thought it a late hour for inquiry. The object of the bill was approved on second reading. There was exactly the same mixed population in Ewa now as was urged in behalf of a Police Justice for Makawao. It might be urged that the Honolulu Police Justice was accessible by railway from Ewa, but the same thing was true regarding Makawao's relation to Waituku. There was no harm in this bill. The danger to be avoided by the House was that of increasing the Appropriation Bill beyond the treasury means.

Rep. Kaula stated that on the judiciary committee's report in favor of the bill being presented there was no objection. If there was to be opposition it should have come up before the expense of engrossing the bill was incurred.
Noble J. M. Horner thought that if no extra cost was involved, all of these bills might be passed without waste of time.

Minister Brown explained that it cost no more, only gave the district magistrate a little more jurisdiction. The people would not have to come to Honolulu so often.
Noble J. M. Horner—By all means, then, give them the court. It will make the district more independent.

Rep. Kaula, on suspension of the rules, presented the following resolution: Whereas, many things have been reported in regard to the care of lepers at Kalia Hospital, and that they have been improperly treated by the superintendent at that place—Charles Kalihiki—and it is important that the House should have full information on the matter; therefore resolved that a select committee be appointed to visit the Hospital, investigate the matters alleged, and report to this House.

The mover said he had been called by telephone from Dr. Lutz last night, and told that Sister Gertrude desired to tell him certain things. He learned that the Sister had complained to the Board about matters at the Hospital without receiving satisfaction, and she desired an investigation of the case.

Rep. Lucas moved the resolution be adopted. He had noticed a local item in the Advertiser this morning, stating that unless certain improvements were made Sister Gertrude would have to retire. He did not think the Sister came all the way from England to be ill-treated by the Board of Health.

Adopted.
Noble Crabbe, on suspension of the rules, read a first time by title his bill relating to the importation and quarantine of live stock.

ORDER OF THE DAY.
Third reading of bill to increase the jurisdiction of police justices.
Passed.

Consideration of majority and minority reports of the committee relating to the market.
Rep. Marques stated that the committee found a different opinion in each of the three bureaus of Public Works, Government Survey, and Market, relative to changes on the water front. The final decision on the question of harbor works would decide the wisdom or otherwise of the recommendations of both sides of the committee. Therefore, it was little use considering the reports now, and he moved they be laid on the table.

Minister Brown supported the motion. The Minister of Interior was unavoidably detained in attending to the deportation of South Sea Island laborers.

Noble Widemann favored the motion. Maritime facilities cannot be extended on the west side, but must be sought on the east side, therefore it would be unwise to place any public works where they would interfere with such facilities.
The motion carried.

Second reading of bill to provide for a Police Justice for the District of Hamskua, Island of Hawaii.
Rep. Rickard moved it pass.
Carried, to be read a third time Monday.

Second reading of bill to amend Sec. 429 of the Civil Code as amended by Chap. 10 of the Session Laws of 1887.
Minister Brown said that the only change from the law of 1887 was in taking away the mandatory provision, whereby the Minister of the Interior was obliged to grant naturalization to any alien. Since the Supreme Court had decided that naturalized Chinese could go and come without passports, the Minister of Interior had been inundated with applications from Chinese for naturalization. It was to prevent the results from such a state of affairs that this bill was introduced.

Noble Widemann was not ordinarily in favor of granting much discretion to Ministers, but in this case he would move the bill pass to engrossment.
Rep. Kaula thought the bill was not strong enough. We might have a Minister who believed in giving Chinese the franchise, and there was nothing in the bill to prevent his naturalizing them wholesale. The bill was a great deal better than the old law, but he would move it be referred to the commerce committee. He knew there were forty or fifty Chinese now wanting to be naturalized, and willing to pay for it.

Minister Peterson said the only reason against reference was that of the delay it would cause. There was a large number of petitions before the Minister which he had no power to refuse. It was impossible to make the bill stronger under the Constitution, and the only way the matter could be handled was to give the Minister discretion.

Rep. Kaula withdrew his motion and proposed an amendment, that the Minister of the Interior, "with the approval of the Cabinet," might cause the naturalization to be effected.

Noble Widemann considered that on this question the bill should be passed without delay. If a better law could be devised to-morrow let it be passed also, but let us have this one now. He would suggest that the amendment should read, "The Minister of the Interior, by and with the consent of the Cabinet, may in their discretion," etc.

Rep. Kaula accepted the amendment.
Noble J. M. Horner supported the bill, saying it was based on one of the principles of the National Reform Party.

Rep. Kahoookano thought two years' residence too short, and asked how long the time was in the United States.
Several members—Five years.

Rep. Kahoookano moved an amendment to five years.
Noble Widemann had no particular objection to this amendment. It was five years formerly.

Minister Peterson thought this law should not be blocked by amendments such as that of time. That question could be dealt with later.
Rep. Lucas moved a verbal amendment. He thought there was no need of changing the time of residence, as that could be done two years hence if necessary.

Rep. Kaula renewed his amendment in a different form, which carried.
Rep. Kahoookano's amendment was lost.

Reps. Marques and Rickard opposed Rep. Lucas's amendment as unnecessary.
Noble Widemann suggested an amendment to the amendment, which carried.

The bill as amended was passed and ordered to be read a third time to-morrow. It reads as follows:
Section 1. Section 429 of the Civil Code as amended by Chapter X. of the Session Laws of 1887 is hereby amended so that the same shall read as follows:

"Section 429. The Minister of the Interior, with the approval of the Cabinet, may, upon the application of any alien foreigner who shall have resided within the Kingdom two years or more next preceding such application, stating his intention to become a permanent resident of the Kingdom, administer or cause to be administered the oath of allegiance to such foreigner, and cause such foreigner to subscribe thereto, provided that such foreigner is not a pauper nor a refugee from the justice of some other country.

"If such applicant shall be resident of any island other than Oahu, he may, after the Cabinet shall have approved of his application, take the oath of allegiance before any Judge of a Court of Record, which Judges are hereby authorized to administer such oaths."
Section 2. This Act shall become law from and after the date of its approval.

Second reading of bill to provide a Police Justice for the District of Kau, Island of Hawaii.
Rep. Kaula moved to strike out "West" before Kau in the native version. Carried.
Passed, to be read a third time Monday.

Second reading of bill to provide a Police Justice for the District of Hana, Island of Maui.
Passed, to be read a third time Monday.

Second reading of bill to provide a Police Justice for the District of Molokai, Island of Molokai.
Noble Widemann said somehow the District of Molokai sounded strange to his ears. He would have it simply Island of Molokai. Wasn't that good enough?

Rep. Paehole said the law defining judicial districts called the island a district.
Passed, to be read a third time Monday.

Second reading of bill to amend the Homestead Act.
Rep. Waipulani moved it be referred to a select committee, as there were several bills on the same subject. Carried.
Second reading of bill to prohibit barbed wire fences.
Rep. Kahoookano moved the bill be postponed owing to the absence of Rep. Nawahi, the introducer.

Minister Peterson, in reply to a question by Noble Widemann, said that the civil results of the proposed law would amount to those of the present divorce law. That an agent of the Board of Health should grant divorces was wrong from the start. By and by we should have Police Justices declaring divorces on the complaint of one of the parties for desertion. Let divorce be left to the Supreme Court. It was a moot point whether leprosy was incurable, as the bill assumed for a matter of course. At Molokai a large number rose to represent they did not have the disease, while its marks were plain on them.

Noble McCarthy moved the previous question which carried.
Rep. Cummings stated that he had introduced the bill at the request of a large number of his constituents. Many husbands had been sent to Molokai, and their wives wanted release from the contract.

The bill was indefinitely postponed.
ADVERTISEMENT.
A motion to adjourn being made notices of committee meetings were given.

The President appointed, as the select committee on homestead bills, Kaula, Paehole, Halstead, Crabbe, and Lucas.
Rep. Rickard was granted leave of absence one week.

Rep. Paehole asked what had become of the sanitary committee.
Noble Phillips said several attempts had been made to get the sanitary committee together, but the hon. member for Molokai failed to put in an appearance except on one occasion. Therefore the rest of the committee had decided not to trouble the hon. member further with notifications.

The House adjourned at 3-42.
