THE Daily Bulletin

Pledged to neither Sect nor Party, But established for the benefit of all. FRIDAY, OCT. 10, 1890.

The Committee appointed by the Planters' Labor and Supply Co., to confer with the House Commerce Committee have had their first meeting. We do not as yet know the result of the conference, but sincerely hope a bill will be introduced into the House which will justly meet the exigencies of the planters and the just demands of free labor.

TWO OF A KIND.

When last writing on the subject we naturally supposed, and so stated, Rev. Mr. Bishop would be constrained to drop a matter involving his own misconduct when the facts were produced which rendered his position absolutely untenable in the eyes of honest men; it did not occur to us at the time that the reverend gentleman would resort to actually garbling the records of the Legislature to cover his moral and professional delinquencies.

The deliberate attempt of Rev. Mr. Bishop to quote a disconnected sentence of Minister Spencer's statement, in support of the designed and malicious untruth published in The Friend, has already affixed the "Scarlet Letter" to the reverend gentleman's moral and professional reputation, which neither his protestations nor those of his friends will suffice to disguise, though the letter be covered with golden embroidery and be declared the privileged emblem of piety and virtue.

If the reverend gentleman thinks for a moment the Hawaiian public are dullards enough to swallow his misstatements of fact, with the record open before them, he is wholly and most unwisely deceiving both himself and his immediate partisans. Our mere insertion of the whole citations in question, within the body of Rev. Mr. Bishop's bungling defense, was a sufficient refutation of that gentleman's reply, as far as the truth of our previous strictures was concerned.

The reverend gentleman claims that good Father Damon "was under some limitations which do not control myself." He might have added with equal force and truth that all reputable journalists and honest men generally, without reference to political or religious beliefs, are also under some moral and professional limitations which do not permit to control "The Editor of the Friend." One of these limitations is telling the truth.

The attempt of the Rev. Mr. Bishop to aid his brother in political distress, Mr. L. A. Thurston, will also prove futile when confronted with the facts. Mr. Thurston's political and mental idiosyncrasies, like those of Rev. S. E. Bishop, are pretty well seasoned and will therefore be perfectly understood by most of the community. The facts connected with Mr. Thurston's "dream of greatness" are substantially as follows, as far as connected with the Report of the Finance Committee:—

1. Mr. Thurston petitioned for leave to appear upon the floor of the House to answer the committee. 2. The privilege was granted him, and he was given ten days in which to prepare his "refutation." 3. The ten days lapsed and Mr. Thurston neither appeared before the House nor before the Finance Committee.

4. At the expiration of the ten days, on September 15th, the Finance Report came up in the House for consideration. 5. The day after the expiration of said ten days, and while a motion was pending in the House for the adoption of the Finance Committee's Report, Mr. Thurston attacked the Committee, on Sept. 16th, through the Reform Party's organ, and made certain assertions, allegations and alleged explanations, which he had failed to confront the Finance Committee with during the ten days allowed him.

6. On Sept. 17th, and during further consideration of their Report, the Finance Committee made a strong fight to have Mr. Thurston's newspaper defense of himself, and attack on the Committee, made a part of the proceedings of the House, so that his assertions and allegations could be investigated then and there; but the attempt was defeated by Mr. Thurston's friends, led by Hon. H. P. Baldwin, who struck Mr. Thurston's colors and ran up the motto, "He who fights and runs away, May live to fight another day."

These facts have all been duly and carefully suppressed by the reverend delinquent, who signs himself, "The Editor of the Friend." In their place he has deliberately republished untruthful conclusions concerning the whole affair. The most Mr. Thurston has accomplished has been an attempt to evade at long range the force of the facts found by the Finance Committee. Under the circumstances we do not consider there is need for either "ethical" or "religious preachments" from our pen, as suggested by Rev. Mr. Bishop; the facts themselves have thus far proved a merciless executor.

The Steinitz Chess Club held a business meeting yesterday evening, Mr. Bruce Cartwright, president, in the chair. Mr. W. R. Sims, secretary, read the report of the treasurer. The president and Mr. Lange were appointed a chess editing committee. Messrs. White, F. Brown and Lange were appointed an "amusement committee" to arrange matches, welcome strangers, recruit members, etc.

Barry's Tricopherous

Established 1801.

Infallible for renewing, invigorating and beautifying the hair, removing scurf, dandruff, and all affections of the scalp, and curing eruptions of the skin, diseases of the glands, muscles and integuments, and relieving stings, cuts, bruises, sprains, etc. The affinity between the membrane which constitute the skin and the hair which draws its sustenance from this right envelope is very close. All diseases of the hair originate in the skin of the head. If the pores of the scalp are clogged, or if the blood and other fluids do not circulate freely through the small vessels which feed the roots with moisture and impart life to the fibres, the result is scurf, dandruff, shedding of the hair, grayness, dryness and harshness of the ligaments, and entire baldness, as the case may be. Stimulate the skin to healthy action with Barry's Tricopherous, and the torpid vessels, renewing their activity, will annihilate the disease. In all affections of the skin and of the substrata of muscles and integuments the process and the effect are the same. It is upon the skin, the muscular fibre, and the glands that Barry's Tricopherous has its specific action, and in all affections and injuries of these organs it is a sovereign remedy.

M. A. GOSSALVES, Assignee. Honolulu, Sept. 31, 1890.

THE LEGISLATURE.

NINETY-EIGHTH DAY.

THURSDAY, Oct. 9.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The House resumed at 1:35.

Third reading of bill to provide that persons eighteen years of age may dispose of their estates by will. Rep. Brown moved it pass. Carried.

Third reading of bill to establish steam communication between Honolulu and Tahiti.

Rep. Lucas moved it pass.

Noble Isenberg moved the bill be indefinitely postponed. He saw no reason for this country paying $32,000 a year to establish this line.

Noble J. M. Horner supported the amendment. The more appropriate title of the bill would be, "An Act to encourage steam communication between Tahiti and the United States."

The trade between Tahiti and the United States had no more to do with this country than that that between Cuba and the United States. Because other nations had large trades between each other was no reason why this country should subsidize them. He failed to see any advantage, either immediately or remotely, in trade between Tahiti and the Hawaiian Islands. We consume nothing that Tahiti produces, and have no manufactures that Tahiti wants. The main function this line would have regarding these islands would be in drawing the subsidy. Its cargoes would not reach our merchants, but simply be loaded on another steamer.

Rep. Lucas was greatly surprised to hear the hon. Noble from Hawaii oppose this bill. It would establish a new foreign trading ground for these islands. San Diego was different, as it was close to San Francisco, and we had communication there already. Our merchants get four free of duty from the United States, which with this new line they could ship to Tahiti. The copra coming from Tahiti would furnish return cargoes for vessels from Europe and Puget Sound. There would be a revenue to the Government from the storage charged on the products here.

Rep. R. W. Wilcox was in favor of the bill. He was sorry to see the hon. Noble from Hamakua backsliding, as he had always been in favor of encouraging cables, and steamers, and railways. Probably the hon. Noble was sore over the killing of the San Diego line bill, but he need not despair, as there still was a chance for that subsidy. An item could be inserted in the Appropriation Bill. After this hint he hoped the hon. Noble would vote for the bill. The money spent in transshipping cargoes would go into the pockets of our own people on the wharves. Noble Pua had presented a petition that natives working on the wharves be paid 88 a day. This of course could not be entertained, but by inducing steamers to come here these laborers would have all the work they wanted at good wages. The hon. Noble had said the other day that the San Diego line was backed by the Santa Fe railway, and would introduce us to untold millions of people. Well, in a few years there would be a canal across Central America, when there would be direct steamers between France and Tahiti. These would put us in direct communication with millions of Frenchmen, who would send us cargoes of silk and of wines twenty or thirty years old. He hoped to hear the hon. Noble say before the vote that he had changed his mind.

Noble Widemann had already spoken his mind freely on this bill. He might move an amendment to reduce the subsidy, but at this stage he would support whatever was in the bill. In reference to Noble Horner's remark that the chief business of the company would be to draw the subsidy he believed that the subsidy would be all spent here, and more to boot. Still, it would not kill the country if the House decided to reject the bill.

Minister Brown said that when the bill was on second reading he voted against the indefinite postponement of the bill, because he believed that the line might have some encouragement from this country. It was agreed with Noble Widemann that the subsidy was higher than the country could afford. It was understood that the Oceanic Steamship Co. had made a contract with the French Government to establish this line for a subsidy of 180,000 francs a year or from $2000 a month, and the steamer to be employed was the Kinau flying the Hawaiian flag. The principal markets for Tahiti's copra were Europe and Valparaiso, and it would never pay to tranship the article here. He once spent six months in Tahiti and could inform the members that the chief town of Papeto was not more than half the size of Hilo. The speaker described the nature of the trade of Tahiti. He regarded the proposed subsidy as too high, thinking this country was giving considerable encouragement in the way of exemption from port charges, etc.

Noble Cornwall favored the bill, saying no subsidy would be payable till the line was established, so that there would be only seventeen months of it till the next Legislature would have an opportunity of judging the results.

Rep. Rickard opposed the bill.

The line to San Diego would have opened up a market for our produce, whereas Tahiti offered us no such advantage. He might be convinced that a smaller amount would be proper to grant, but as the bill stood he could not support it. As he would not go to the extreme of the opponents of the San Diego line, he would move that the subsidy be five hundred dollars a trip.

Noble Isenberg said the line would come whether we subsidized it or not.

Noble Cornwall begged the hon. Noble's pardon. The line would not come for $500 a month.

Noble Isenberg said then if nothing less than $1000 would do, it should get nothing. He was on the committee that recommended $48,000 to the Oceanic Steamship Co., and he voted cheerfully for it. That was all the subsidy we should pay. Why should this House vote $1000 a month to a rich steamship company to start a line that we did not need? If the line came the laborers would get its work whether a subsidy was granted or not. They had plenty work now. There were not enough laborers in the country now for the employment offering. He had voted against the San Diego line, because he did not believe in subsidizing steamers before there was anything for them to carry. There had been a line of fast schooners between San Francisco and Tahiti for years, and if the trade was so profitable why were these steamers not started from San Francisco?

Noble Parker wished to correct a statement he had heard from different speakers, about three head of cattle being wanted a week at Tahiti. He was in a position to know that 400 head a year were required there, as that was the number he had been asked to contract for. The proposed line would be for the benefit of the country. Members were not usually against measures for helping the sugar industry, because they recognized that it was for the benefit of the country. The company were to pay $7000 a month for the steamer, and if Hawaii added $1000 to the French subsidy it would only be $8000 a month. If this line went through it would attract many passengers this way from San Francisco. Many of the members of this House would be glad to take a trip to Tahiti (provided they got a free passage).

Rep. Nawahi was in favor of anything that would develop the country, so he supported this bill. He wanted the line to San Diego started, because with competition a poor man would be able to take a trip. The hon. Noble from Kauai had capital invested in Germany, laying golden eggs for him, and whenever he wanted to go abroad could step aboard the Oceanic steamer. It had been said the San Diego steamer had nothing to carry, whereas there was cargo awaiting her now on the wharves. Members seemed to be guided by personal interests in dealing with steamer subsidies. If the amount in the bill was amended he did not want to go below $999.

Rep. Paehole argued in behalf of giving an availing subsidy if any at all.

Rep. Baker said that the House was not acting fairly. On the 25th of last month it had a prisoner before it, who was executed without giving him a chance to say his last prayers. Now they had another prisoner and members were pleading not to hang him. On the former occasion the man over there in charge of the spring (the Minister of Finance) said he could not give the prisoner a drink, as the fountain had run dry. Now the same official was willing to give the present captive a small drink. Two wayfarers were passing a pool one wet day and agreed that it would be a fine place for a bath on a hot day. They came on such a day but the pool was dry, and jumping over the bank the travelers were killed one after the other. When the first of the two wretches in question came before the House, there was no water in the pool and he was killed. Now the second was here and should meet with the same fate as his predecessor. (Laughter.)

In accordance with a note handed to him he moved the previous question. Carried.

The eyes and nose were called on the motion to indefinitely postpone the bill, when it was lost on the following vote:

Ayes—Nobles McCarthy, J. M. Horner, Hind, Anderson, Von Tempy, and Isenberg; Reps. Kahuli, Baker, & Horner, and Rice. —10.

Noes—Ministers Cummins and Brown; Nobles Widemann, Berger, Macfarlane, Muller, Pua, Phillips, Crabbe, Kaubane, Parker, Marsden, Baldwin, Cornwall, G. N. Wilcox, and Kanoa; Reps. Cummings, Marques, Lucas, R. W. Wilcox, Bush, Nawahi, Rickard, Waipulani, Apiki, Paehole, Kaneali, and Halstead. —28.

The amendment for $500 instead of $1000 a month subsidy was upon a show of hands declared carried; but upon a call for a standing vote it was found that the amendment was rejected in favor of the $1000 a month subsidy, by a vote of 17 to 18, caused by Noble Crabbe having changed his vote.

The bill passed, when Noble Macfarlane moved a reconsideration of the vote which was lost.

The House adjourned at 3:30.
