PETITION IS DENIED BY DOLE

Hoon Must Now Go Back to His Chinese Home.

Judge Dole in the Federal Court this morning handed down a decision in the habeas corpus proceedings brought against Raymond C. Brown of the Immigration service by Su Yen Hoon, in which he holds that the court should not proceed further in the matter, therefore denying to Hoon the writ prayed for.

"The petition in this case avers, in substance, that petitioner was born at Honolulu, Hawaii, on or about November 25, 1889; that his parents, who have since died, were at that time residents of Honolulu; that he is a citizen of the United States; that he has resided in China since the year 1887 until June 10, 1910, when he returned to Honolulu claiming the right to land. It is also alleged that petitioner is possessed of two certificates of Hawaiian birth which he presented to the Inspector of Immigration, together with evidence of his identity; that a hearing was had before such inspector, but no evidence was introduced to show that the certificates had been procured by fraud or false evidence; that the inspector arbitrarily decided that petitioner was not entitled to enter the United States; and that an appeal was taken to the Secretary of Commerce and Labor, which was dismissed. It is further alleged that the inspector, in preparing the record on appeal, set out in capital letters those portions of the testimony which, in his judgment, were unfavorable to petitioner's right to admission into the country, while those portions of the evidence which tended to show that he had a right to enter were set forth in the ordinary form of type; that he is about to be sent back to China, and that he is restrained of his liberty by Raymond C. Brown, inspector in charge of the Immigration service of the United States, in violation of his rights as a citizen of the United States.

"The return to the writ shows that as set forth in the petition for the writ of habeas corpus, it was duly and regularly determined by the respondent herein that the said Su Yen Hoon was not entitled to land within the United States or to remain therein... and said Department of Commerce and Labor, by dismissal of said appeal, ordered and directed in due form that the said Su Yen Hoon be returned to the country whence he came, and he not permitted to land.

"Upon the filing of the return the question was argued and submitted whether the court should at once discharge the writ or proceed to a hearing.

"It is contended on behalf of the petitioner (1) that the provisions of the Chinese Exclusion Act do not apply to or affect the rights of United States citizens; (2) that the petitioner is illegally held because the procedure required by the Act of February 20, 1907, relating to the immigration of aliens, was not followed; (3) that the petitioner was arbitrarily denied the right to land because the government produced no evidence to controvert the facts set forth in his certificates of birth or to show that same were false or fraudulent; and (4) that the record on the appeal to the Secretary of Commerce and Labor shows on its face that the proceedings had before the inspector were unfair.

"The petition shows that a hearing was had, and it is not claimed that the inspectors refused to hear any evidence the petitioner had to offer, nor is it alleged that all the evidence was not sent up on the appeal.

"Under the circumstances shown, this court can not review the finding that the petitioner was not in fact born in Hawaii.

"This court should not proceed further in the matter."

MONEY FOR SCHOOLS

a revision could be made to work out to the general benefit of the public schools.

"In the Territory there is a very powerful element both openly and covertly declaring that too much education is being given the children of lowly birth.

The Commission's Proposal.

"The plan the commission offers as presenting the best adjustments in its estimation of the demands of the public schools may be briefly outlined as follows:

"That for every biennial period the Department of Public Instruction shall prepare a budget of estimates setting forth the needs of the Public Schools for the ensuing two years.

"This budget shall be prepared under two divisions, namely, the General Fund and the Special Fund.

The General Fund shall include the salaries of teachers and supervisors, salary of the Superintendent, salaries of the office force and the general incidental expense, supplies incidental to instruction in the various subjects of the course of study, the expense of manual and industrial training, medical inspection, libraries and books.

"The Special Fund shall include supplies for maintenance and upkeep of school houses, shops, cottages and outbuildings and construction of new buildings and care of grounds, furniture, fixtures and janitor service, and all supplies not included under the General Fund.

"This budget when completed by the Board of Public Instruction shall be submitted to a Board of Estimates consisting of six members, four of whom shall be the Chairmen of the Boards of Supervisors of the Counties of the Territory, one the Secretary of the Territory and the sixth, the Superintendent of Public Instruction, ex-officio. The Board shall serve without pay, except mileage to cover expenses.

"The duty of the Board of Estimates shall be to go over the Budget and make such revisions as may be deemed proper. This Board of Estimates shall not have authority to change that part of the General Fund dealing with administration, and the salaries of teachers, supervisors and inspectors, recommended by the Department of Public Instruction. School accommodation shall be estimated on the basis of not more than forty pupils per teacher for centers of population. Provision must be made for children in outer districts by new school houses or suitable transportation to a central school.

"The School Budget having been passed upon by the Board of Estimates shall then be presented thirty days before the opening of the Legislature to the Governor, who shall submit the same to the Legislature within ten days after it opens in regular session, with his recommendations. Should the Board of Estimates fail to act within the time specified, the estimates of the Board of Public Instruction shall be submitted to the Legislature by the Governor direct, providing the Funds.

"The Funds to meet the appropriations called for in the School Budget shall be derived from the following sources:

"The School Tax of two dollars paid by every male inhabitant between the age of twenty and sixty years;

"Fifty per cent of the income from Public Lands sales, leases and water licenses;

"A Specific Tax on the Real Property and Personal Property of the Territory represented by a levy of as many mills on the dollar of real property and personal property as may be necessary to meet the difference between the sum called for under the General Fund of the School Budget and the total of the School Personal Tax, the Public Lands income and any other permanent sources of income devoted to public schools. For instance, if the General Fund of the School Budget called for $200,000, $100,000 might be secured from the personal tax, $250,000 from the fifty per cent of the income on public lands leaving $450,000 to be raised by a specific tax of three mills on the dollar, estimating the assessed value of the real and personal property at $150,000,000.

Appointment.
"The Commission recommends that the appropriation for salaries be made in a lump sum to cover the schedule provided under the rules and regulations of the Department of Public Instruction.

"It recommends that the items under the head of School Supplies be appropriated as a lump sum under a schedule prepared by the Department of Public Instruction that shall consider: (a) Grade of School, as Primary, Grammar or High School; (b) Number of teachers; (c) Enrollment of School; (d) Schools having regular industrial instructors.

"This Commission recommends that the appropriation for special schools as Lahainaluna, Boys' Industrial, Girls' Industrial, be placed under the general fund of the Budget, Territory and County.

"One of the problems facing the people of the Territory at the present time is the adjustment of the responsibilities of the Territory and the Counties.

"Of late years there has been a steady drift toward assumption of greater authority over the schools by the Counties. The causes for this are too numerous and complex to cover in a report of this character, but the Commission is satisfied that except for occasional lapses of executive capacity a large share of the complaint against the present system of school management is primarily due to the fact that for the last ten years, or since the public revenues were reduced through the loss of the custom house collections the Department of Public Instruction has been without sufficient funds to carry on its work. The Department has been as frequently criticized for shortcomings due to legislative neglect as it has been for administrative incompetence.

"This Commission proposes that the school funds shall be distributed among the districts according to the schedule prepared under approved methods, the appropriation to be apportioned to each school district and the school agent given the authority to use the funds for his district as the needs of the district become manifest, subject of course to proper accounting and auditing. This will give a large measure of local control without taking away the necessary supervision from the Central Authority of the Territory as represented by the Board of Public Instruction.

"This Commission recommends that work be undertaken for a Federal appropriation through the Davis Act or any other similar measure to be used to establish and support industrial schools in each island that will offer lines of work in harmony with out peculiar conditions. Such a Federal appropriation would be derived from funds that come indirectly from the aliens whose education, many of our fellow citizens feel and claim, is too heavy a burden for the citizen to carry. It would also support a system of education that is needed, and one which will in a comparatively short time show the error of the critic who claims that too much education ruins the child for work."

In concluding its report the Commission states that "The people of this Territory have the power in their hands. If the boys and girls are not raised right they will in the near future be a menace to the Territory. On the training given them rests the economic future of this Territory. Our children and our work are interdependent, and on the training of the one rests the progress of the other."

Before Judge Cooper this morning John Hodson changed his plea from not guilty to guilty and he was given a suspended sentence of thirteen months. Hodson was charged with assault with a weapon dangerous to life. The assault took place on April 17 when Charles Martin the weapon used being a revolver.

He who believes in goodness has the essence of all faith. He "is a man of cheerful yesterdays" and confident "tomorrows."—J. F. Clarke.

Failure of the Republican party to continue its fight for the direct primary will be an exhibition of weakness and political retrogression.

Democrats are busy offering Republicans a place on their ticket. Of course, Democracy's only hope for success is drawing men from the Republican ranks.

Municipal control of the water-works is bound to win, though the reactionaries may retard this move as they did the establishment of local self-government.

If the Republican party lacked facts to prove the need for a direct primary law, it has only to turn to the record of its own primary rolls packed with Democrats.

Take care that the struggle of the convention does not make the delegates so tired of life that they will forget the importance of a strong organization to carry the ticket to victory.

Should the Chinese people hear the noise from some of the convention caucuses he might think that one of his national hands was practicing to furnish noise for his reception.

Legislator Browne of Illinois has been acquitted, but mightily few doubt that United States Senator Lorimer's seat was secured by the purchase of Democratic votes at $1,000 each.

When the people of Hawaii place the public schools in the hands of the people, the education of the Territory will have first claim upon the revenues of the Territory, in practice as well as theory.

Secretary Ballinger has a right to be mad if he had an idea that the Republican members of the investigating committee were men he could depend on to protect him from the shafts of his enemies.

With a few exceptional efforts to dictate and browbeat, the Republican convention is moving along as smoothly and good-naturedly as anyone could wish. Be sure to continue the good nature.

STAMP OUT BOSSISM.

If the hand of the boss appears in the Republican convention now in session, cut it off.

The events of the last few weeks ought to have been sufficient education to convince any intelligent person that the members of the Republican party will not stand for bossism or dictatorship from any source.

A large percentage of the delegates have gone to the convention unpledged and uninstructed as to candidates by their precinct clubs, but throughout the whole preliminary campaign of the party organization there has been a definite expression from the voters that anything that smacks of a dictatorship and the framing of a factional ticket cannot be countenanced.

Of course the result of a convention, having so many candidates before it as is the case with the one now in session, cannot be to the complete satisfaction of everyone. But the delegates can at least pass judgment on candidates according to the standing of the men in the community and the work they have done and are able to do for the general welfare.

It should not be possible for outside, discredited and therefore disgraced political manipulators to stand on the curb and give orders to the delegates that they must name this man or that because he may have had the temerity to have been named up in some precinct primary contest. Make the convention an expression of a square deal all along the line.

Let independence and honest thought be respected though it may arouse some lively differences. And judge the candidates by the work they have done for the party and are capable of doing for the people in the public service.

The Republican party wants no management by dictators or grafters in the convention or anywhere else.

THE PLATFORM

well being of all, and we reaffirm our stand for the equality of labor and capital, and endorse the Territorial Executive's action in the strict enforcement of the statute requiring that all labor on public works shall be performed by citizens of the United States or those eligible to become such.

WATER SUPPLY.—We believe that the water supply of Honolulu should be increased, and will favor liberal appropriations toward the same, and to the improvement of the system generally where possible.

PUBLIC HEALTH.—We commend the efforts designed in the past by the Territorial Board of Health to secure greater efficiency in the agencies designed to guard the public health of this Territory, and favor such legislation as will increase the efficiency of this most important branch of the public service.

LEPROSY.—We stand for liberal appropriations for the care and maintenance and cure of our unfortunate fellow citizens who are segregated on Moakala, and will urge the continuance of Federal assistance in the attempt to arrest and stamp out, if possible, this terrible disease, and we highly commend what has been accomplished by the medical scientists towards the alleviation and eradication of the same.

PROMOTION WORK.—We believe that every inducement should be offered to desirable tourists to visit these islands, and that the best means to increase the tourist traffic is to continue the promotion work so ably and efficiently conducted by the present Promotion Committee, and we favor liberal appropriations to enable them to continue their work in this behalf.

PUBLIC ROADS, STREETS AND PARKS.—In order to attract tourists, as well as to guard the public health, we believe that large sums of money should soon be expended in the public roads and highways of this Territory, recommending particularly the reconstruction and improvements of the belt roads around this island and the blocking or paving of the principal streets in Honolulu; that the public parks should be enlarged, beautified and additional parks laid out, and we recommend the widening and purchase of the balance of Aala park block for the enlargement of said park; that if it becomes necessary to issue bonds for this purpose, we favor such legislation as will permanently place our public roads and highways, streets and parks in the condition which they ought to be, and further recommend such expenditures be more evenly distributed throughout the different districts in the City and County.

LIQUOR LICENSE FEES.—We believe that the fees for liquor licenses for the City and County of Honolulu should be turned over to the said City and County.

SALE OF INTOXICATING LIQUORS.—The Republican Party regards the plebiscite as a conclusive expression of the overwhelming sentiment of the people of this Territory in favor of the present excellent liquor law and its enforcement in good faith. We therefore pledge our representatives in the legislature against any change or modification of that law and demand its faithful, impartial, and vigorous enforcement, and pledge them to make the necessary appropriations to carry out the law.

INCREASED FACILITIES AND HARBOR IMPROVEMENTS.—The policy of the present territorial administration to increase the facilities of harbors and make such improvements as will meet the demands of maritime commerce is hereby adopted by this Convention, and we strongly ers of the City and County have had regular employment while the funds have been so conserved as to leave a handsome balance to the next Board. Their administration of matters connected with the jails, schools, and sanitary matters committed by their charge by the Legislature of 1909 are worthy of the Republican Party's approbation.

DEMOCRATIC INCAPACITY.—We call the attention of the people of the City and County to the fact that none of the important measures which have been advocated and caused to be enacted by the Republican Party could have been enacted under a Democratic Administration, either territorial or county, and that the efforts of that party have been directed to unjust criticism and the prevention of the measures and policies of the Republican Party.

CONCLUSION.—Upon this Platform, and relying upon our record and our accomplishments in securing County Government for the people, in protecting honest labor, in dividing up the government lands, securing liberal Federal appropriations for the Territory, in guarding the public health, and increasing the efficiency of the educational department of the Territory, and other measures for the benefit of the whole people, we go before the City and County asking the support, not only of those who have acted with us heretofore, but of all our fellow citizens, who, regardless of past political differences, unite in the desire to maintain the policies, perpetuate the blessings, and make secure the achievements of a Greater Hawaii.

EARLY MORNING SEPARATIONS

The divorce mill ground merrily with Judge Robinson in charge this morning and before the o'clock there had been seven divorces granted to Japanese petitioners.

Grounds upon which the unhappy couples were separated ranged from failure to provide through willful and utter desertion to adultery, there being but one granted on the last named.

On the first named ground Shijo Amoko from Tsurumatsu, Matsuo Okada from Umakichi, and Tomomatsu Inasa from Hada were granted their separations. Failure to provide separated Sumi Magamoto from Yoichi, Haru Kurata from Mitsukichi and Eliza Shimonobe from Kakinami of the same name. On the ground of adultery Mone matsu Kawamoto was granted an absolute divorce from Misao Kawamoto. Ordinarily the Japanese divorces come up every day and will average one each twenty-four hours but today was a busy day and the seven divorces granted this morning were disposed of in record time.

MAUNA KEA'S BIG CROWD

Many Visitors From Other Islands Come to Town--- Politics Brings Many

Two hundred and sixty nine cabin passengers, and many more in the steerage, arrived this morning from Hawaii and Maui in the Inter-Island flagship Mauna Kea. The good ship was crowded to its full capacity, practically all the accommodations being taken up. This is considered one of the largest passenger lists ever brought by the Mauna Kea.

Most of the passengers, who came down on her are delegates to the Republican and Democratic Territorial conventions which will meet next week. Others are school children, who have been visiting their parents on the other islands during vacation. Others are politicians, who desire to attend the conventions.

HARMONY MARKS FIRST NIGHT OF SESSION

to place the name of Mr. Harris in nomination.
Two tellers were appointed, and the votes were announced by the chairman of each precinct delegation. While the totals were being made, W. W. Harris was recognized by Acting Chairman Crabbe, and Harris moved to make the election of Breckons unanimous. This struck a responsive chord, and the vote for Breckons was made unanimous with enthusiasm.
The vote by precinct was as follows:

Breckons was then escorted to his place on the platform by a committee consisting of George Davis and Sam Mahelona, and the temporary chairman proceeded to announce his "polls."
He stated that it was too damp for oratorical fireworks and that he did not propose to attempt anything in that line. The chairman observed, however, that Kuhio should come up on the platform. "We should not only get him on the platform, but in the platform as well," observed Chairman Breckons.
Then came the election of a temporary secretary, it falling to James W. Lloyd, and on Breckons' motion the appointment of a committee on credentials was proceeded with, the committee being composed of a member from each precinct, named by the chairman of each precinct delegation. The personnel of the committee so constituted was as follows: E. A. Douthitt, Thos. Cummings, Geo. P. Denison, John Waterhouse, O. C. Swain, A. L. Bright, C. L. Olo, Vincent Fernandez, R. D. King, J. H. Wile, A. Akuni, U. N. Jones, Mark A. Robinson, L. K. Naone, C. Bridges, Edward Hare, J. J. Mordon, F. E. Greenfield, J. H. Travis, Eddie Marino, E. J. Gay, W. K.

Simerson, A. S. Kalelopu, W. H. Thornton, Chang Chau and William Henry.
Protests Dropped.
A recess was taken until the committee on credentials could report, most of its time being consumed in a consideration of a rather lengthy protest from the Sixth Precinct of the Fourth District, where it was declared that an opposition ticket was smothered by methods that would not stand anything like the white light of publicity. The credentials committee, however, did not find anything that favored the protestants, the precinct secretary's minutes not showing that the other ticket of the protestants was regularly placed in nomination in writing.
No protests were received from the Seventh of the Fourth, where Cohen lost out. This precinct came under the consideration of the credentials committee only on the substitution of Nihu Monuwal for Chas. Costa, elected as a delegate to the convention, but now absent from the Territory.
Upon the reconvening of the convention, E. A. Douthitt of the committee on credentials presented a verbal report to the effect as stated, and with the exception noted, the delegates listed were declared to constitute the convention.
On Adjournment.
Then came the move for a permanent convention organization, and as it had all been planned out beforehand, there was nothing much in the way of opposition—so much harmony and good feeling being evident that one could see it in the atmosphere.

J. P. Cooke was the mover to make the temporary organization the permanent organization of the convention, and there was not a dissenting voice to that program.
Then came the question of convention precedence. In a few words Chairman Breckons stated that a number of views had been expressed on this point by good Republicans, a number of them apparently being of the opinion that it would cause embarrassment, or something like that, to nominate county and district candidates before the Territorial convention had promulgated its platform, Monday. But it developed in the ensuing discussion that this was far from being the view of the convention majority.
In reply to a question as to the attitude of his precinct on the question, J. P. Cooke, chairman of the Fourth of the Fourth delegation, stated that his precinct was in favor of perfecting the permanent organization of the county convention and then adjourning until after the Territorial convention. Mr. Cooke suggested that a vote be taken on the question, and that while his precinct was for adjournment, it was perfectly willing to abide and act upon the view of the question as expressed by the convention majority.
E. A. Douthitt was the spokesman for those in favor of immediate action. He stated that a number of the delegates had come from outside districts at considerable expense to themselves and that he believed a platform committee should be appointed to confer with the Territorial platform framers today and report back to the convention when reconvened today.
A. S. Kalelopu broke in with the declaration that something essential was being overlooked, that being the appointment of a committee on rules, and he so moved.

The convention now constituted consists of the following delegations:
Fourth District:

THEY SAY

"One-Third Your Life Is Spent In Bed"

so naturally it behooves us to give more attention to the fittings of our bedroom. To awaken in a cheery, cosy bedroom gives one a feeling of happiness and perfect content and helps to start the day right, and it costs but little to accomplish this—it is money well spent.

BEDS

METAL BEDS are in most demand these days, of which we are showing a very comprehensive line in single, three-quarter and full sizes, from the plain light tube beds at $4.50 up to the massive two-inch posters at $50, with or without brass trimmings, in scroll effects, or those with perfectly plain lines, devoid of all ornamentation, known as the chiltess, while ivory and Vernis Martin and the popular finish, for those who would like a little more coloring, we have the mahogany, pink, green and combinations.

Perhaps you are tired of the metal beds. If so, we have a nice line of BRASS BEDS, in straight posts and bent pillar effects, in round or square tubing, in satin or bright finish, from $34 to $100. Or your fancy may run to WOOD BEDS say a genuine mahogany with its rich red grain, in Napoleon or Colonial designs, at $40 to $60; or the plain styles in quartered oak and birdseye, at $27 to $40.

BUREAUS

Our showing of BUREAUS is unsurpassed. Such a variety of designs and different woods and finishes is seldom shown in a community of this size.

The soft-toned birdseye in natural finish is quite the vogue, and deservedly so. What could be more appropriate for the young lady's room or the guest chamber! Nothing cooler and cleaner looking, and at prices to suit all—$30 to $93.

Then there is the genuine mahogany, that for richness of color and beauty of grain we must look to when more elaborate furnishing is considered. In this we are showing some beautiful reproductions of the earlier periods, from $45 to $100.

In oak we have the largest showing, both plain and quartersawed, in golden and fumed finish; every conceivable design in plain or shaped fronts; and oval, square or shaped mirrors. Solid oak dressers, $18 to $68; imitation golden oak as cheap as $12.75.

CHIFFONIERS

Maybe you lack closet room. Then one of our chiffoniers will be just the thing. All sizes from 26 inches to 42 inches in width, with and without mirrors, in mahogany, birdseye, quartered oak, golden or fumed finish, plain and imitation oak in golden finish, some to match the bureaus and some odd. Prices from $9 to $73.

To sum it all up, we are justly proud of our assortment of bedroom furniture and its reasonableness, and we want to show it to you. It will give us pleasure to do so.

$39.50

SPECIAL OFFER FOR THIS WEEK

Complete bedroom outfit, comprising 1 solid oak dresser, 1 washstand, 1 table, 1 straight chair, 1 rocker, golden finish; 1 white enamel metal bed, 1 woven wire spring, 1 Excelsior Mattress, 1 pair of pillows. Regular price, $53; special sale price this week.

METHOD OF BALLOTING

This was not satisfactory, and in the effort to reach some sort of an agreement, a recess was taken at 11 o'clock to noon.

The committee minority wants the balloting as it was last year, the chairman of each precinct dropping the selection of his delegation into a ballot box, no verbal announcement being made and absolute secrecy guaranteed.

On other sides the committee was practically unanimous. The order of nominations was disposed of by the members recommending that adjournment be taken after the nomination of the straight county ticket, Senators and Representatives being nominated on Tuesday following the adoption of the platform by the Territorial convention on Monday.

The first rule that will be reported favorably by the committee this afternoon at 2 o'clock, when the convention convenes, provides that "all candidates upon being nominated for office, before balloting thereon, shall be required to rise in the convention and pledge themselves to support the platform, principles and nominees of the Republican party and to abide by the result of the convention. Then comes the second rule on the balloting, which provided the division, the third rule reading as follows:

"Where more than one candidate is to be nominated for an office, such as supervisors, senators or representative, no candidate shall be declared nominated until he shall obtain a majority of the votes of all the delegates present and voting, and if, at the conclusion of the first ballot, the required number to be nominated do not obtain such a majority vote, the chairman of the convention shall declare nominated those who do obtain such majority vote, and further ballots be ordered for the remainder to be nominated until the entire number is thus nominated."

The fourth rule provides: "All vacancies arising from resignation or other causes of candidates nominated by this convention shall be filled by a majority vote of the county committee."

The procedure of the convention recommended by the rules committee is as follows:

1. Report of committee on rules.
2. Report of committee on platform.
3. Nomination of mayor.
4. Nomination of county sheriff.
5. Nomination of county attorney.
6. Nomination of county clerk.
7. Nomination of county auditor.
8. Nomination of county treasurer.
9. Nomination of county supervisors.
10. Nomination by districts of deputy sheriffs.
11. Adjournment until Tuesday, September 13, at 2 p. m.
12. Convention called to order by permanent chairman on Tuesday at 10 a. m.
13. Roll call of delegates.

14. Reading of Territorial platform and adoption of same.
15. Nomination of three Senators for Island of Oahu.
16. Nomination of short-term Senator.
17. Division of conventions into district conventions nominating six Representatives each.
18. Report of district conventions of result of such election.
19. Appointment of county committee.
20. Adjournment.

NIGHT TENNIS WILL START UP AT MANOA

New Lamps are Doing Great Work and Flickering Has Ceased.

Electric light tennis will be in full swing again and out on the Manoa courts there will be some exciting matches before long. On Thursday night four players turned up, and some good tennis was played. The new light that has been installed is very satisfactory, and the game all-round is much improved now that the flickering of the lamps is stopped.

A tournament is being talked of and as the Hall cup is also to be played for this month, there will be plenty of tennis soon. The courts have all been occupied lately, but there has been no tournament play for some time past.

RECEPTION PLANS ARE PERFECTED

During the forenoon today a final meeting was held in the office of Governor Frear between Secretary Mott-Smith and the military and naval officials who will have charge of receiving Prince Tsai Hsun when he arrives on American shores.

The plans outlined three days ago were perfected and everything is now in readiness for carrying out an imposing reception to the Chinese potentate when he arrives.

He will be in Honolulu late Monday afternoon or early Tuesday morning and will be received with military and civil honors as his station demands.

It has been decided that the wren race that was scheduled for tomorrow be postponed till some future date. The bad weather has raised the sea a lot and it was thought better to put off the race for a week or so.

N. Fernandez of this city, who has been visiting on Hawaii for a few weeks returned today, highly pleased with what he had seen on the big island.

The longest and highest cable way in the world is in Argentina, traversing twenty-four miles of mountains at heights varying from 3250 to about 15,000 feet.

PUNAHOU WILL OPEN MONDAY

New Courses and Additions to Old Ones Are Planned.

The new year at Punahou will start Monday morning at 9 o'clock in all departments. The day will begin with chapel and will be fully occupied with registration and the starting of the school machinery.

At both the college and the preparatory for some days new and old students have been making arrangements for the year. Monday will be the busy day for registration. Everything is in shape for the opening, and by the middle of the week the wisest will be turning smoothly.

Some additions to the courses are planned. It is hoped now that the advanced course in English for graduates will be given this year by Miss Foster. This course is a regular freshman college course, including a history of English literature and much illustrative reading. Some important changes in the commercial department will also be made.

The plans of the year call for big things in the music department. The courses in harmony and sight-reading, which were so much enjoyed last year, will be continued. The usual private lessons in music will, of course, be given. Since the grading of the music course, and the allowance of work in music to count towards a diploma, the interest in this department has been steadily growing.

CENTRAL UNION CHURCH.

The assistant minister, Mr. Eberstone, will preach Sunday morning. In the evening at 7:30 the annual Salvation Army service will be held. Mrs. Major Willis will give the principal address, taking for her subject "Salvation Army War Efforts." Major Willis himself will speak briefly on "The Army's Work in These Islands."

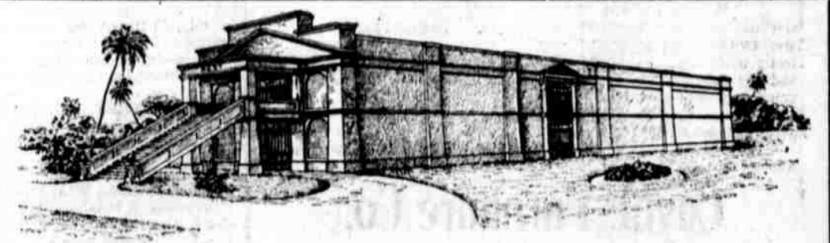

The male quartet, consisting of Philip Hall, first tenor; Arthur Wait, second tenor; Stanley Livingston, first base; and George Brown, second base, will sing at both services.

The Bible school—Ed. Towse, superintendent—will meet at 9:50. The Christian Endeavor meeting at 6:30 will be led by George Paty. The subject is a question—"Proud of What?"

A cordial invitation is hereby extended to all who have no other church connection to attend these services at Central Union. "Come thou with us, we will do thee good."

THE SALVATION ARMY.

There will be no evening indoor service, as the divisional officers are conducting the meeting at the Central Union church and the corps officers and soldiers will be in attendance after the open-air meeting, which will be held at 6:45 p. m.

Marshall Darrach in Honolulu.
 Mr. Marshall Darrach of New York the distinguished interpreter of Shakespeare's plays, is a guest at the Alexander Young Hotel, having returned from a tour of the Orient on the Siberia, which arrived in Honolulu Aug. 28th.

In the Far East Mr. Darrach was the recipient of much social favor and his recitals evoked the enthusiasm that has always been accorded him in Honolulu.

On the day of his arrival in Yokohama he was given a dinner by Mr. Mollison, president of the Yokohama Literary Society, and later was a guest of honor at their final meeting of the season.

During the two weeks of his stay there was a succession of entertainments of various kinds in which the American and English residents vied with each other in friendly rivalry to make his visit pleasant and exciting. He gave four recitals at the Gaiety Theater which received the endorsement of large and appreciative audiences, and the Japanese press said of him: "Seldom has a man of his artistic calibre visited Japan."

In Shanghai, China, he met with the same delightful experience. Here he was entertained at the English Century Club, the most exclusive organization in the Far East, by Dr. Amos Wilder, the American Consul General, by Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery Bell and others. The local press was loud in the praise of the artistic quality of his work, the reports of his recitals being written up at page lengths in the daily papers.

After Shanghai, his next stop was Hongkong. While here, Mr. Darrach was the guest for a week of Sir Henry May, K. C. B., and Lady May, at their home, "Mountain Lodge," on the peak 1700 feet above the city. He was also entertained at the Hongkong Club at a stag tiffin of twenty covers, given by the Honorable Murray Stewart, and later, with Mr. H. Perry Robinson, who is in Honolulu at the present time as a representative of the London times, was a guest at a similar entertainment given by the same host to that distinguished journalist.

In Manila he gave three recitals with an average attendance of more than one thousand people. The last recital was the official opening of the New Majestic Theater, conceded to be the finest playhouse in the Orient. On this occasion were present the governor of the Philippines, W. Cameron Forbes, and the Secretary of War of the United States and Mrs. Dickinson, with the members of their official party, which included Mr. and Mrs. Larz Anderson, General and Mrs. Duval were in a box next to Colonel and Mrs. Rivers. And the civil and military sets were out in full force.

Mr. Darrach speaks most enthusiastically of Manila, of its trade possibilities, of the delightful atmosphere of the place and, strange to say, of the climate, which he found to be much less trying than the climate of China and quite equal to that of Japan.

Having given fourteen plays in Honolulu since a year ago last June he decided not to make any public appearance while here this time, but such is his popularity, now lessened by his absence, that arrangements were made by two local committees to hear him twice before his return to the States by the Chiyu Maru on September 16th.

The first recital, "The Tempest," will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Galt on the evening of September 12, at eight o'clock.

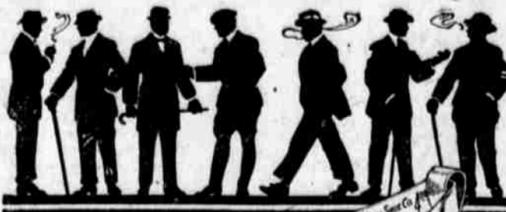

The details of this affair are in the hands of Mesdames W. F. Frear, Montague Cooke, J. P. Cooke, John Waterhouse, W. D. Baldwin, T. Richards, J. R. Galt, W. F. Dillingham, C. H. Atherton and A. Gartley.

The second play, "Julius Caesar," is announced for Thursday, September 13th, at 8:15, at the University Club, and under its auspices. The committee having this matter in charge is as follows: Governor Frear and Mr. Lyman, with Mr. R. D. Meade, the secretary of the University Club, ex-officio.

After his departure from Honolulu Mr. Darrach will open his "American Season" in San Francisco with two recitals in the St. Francis Hotel ballroom during the first week in October.

The balance of that month he will devote to other California points, including Los Angeles. In November he will be in the Middle West between Kansas City and Chicago. In December, New York claims him. January, February and March have been assigned to New England, with Boston as his headquarters.

Pol Supper.
 Sunday Mrs. William Rawlins gave a delightful pol supper in honor of her husband's birthday. This entertainment was in the nature of a surprise to the guest of honor. The affair was small and informal, but proved most enjoyable. It was a stag affair, only the intimate friends of Mr. Rawlins being invited. Eight covers were laid around the flower-bedecked table. Red carnation leis were found at each place. The table was covered with mountain ferns and leaves, while carnations were scattered promiscuously over the table, which fairly gleamed with delicious Hawaiian slands. The place cards were decorated with his wailan scenes. During the evening many witty speeches were made, and the health drunk to the genial host.

The Misses Cooper's Dinner.

At their beautiful home in Manoa Valley, Miss Cooper, Miss Irene Cooper and Miss Isabelle entertained Thursday at dinner. Covers were arranged for six. The dining room and table were fragrant with large purple violets. The center of the table was decorated with a cut glass basket, filled with these beautiful flowers. The snowy damask cloth was strewn with violets and maidenhair ferns. Violet boutonniers were used as favors for the men, while at each place of the fair sex was found a corsage bouquet. The dinner was given in honor of Lieut. Durrell of the U. S. Navy, Mr. Gullford Whitney and Mr. Odell.

The Harry Macfarlanes in England.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Macfarlane of Honolulu have been spending part of the summer in England, with Mr. and Mrs. George Davies. Mr. and Mrs. Davies have a beautiful home on the Thames. The Macfarlanes and Davies absence from Honolulu has been keenly felt by the smart set of these islands, for both young couples are leaders in social affairs in Honolulu.

Mr. and Mrs. Bobe's Surfing Party.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Norton Bobe gave an enjoyable surfing party Saturday afternoon in honor of Monsieur and Madam Dreyfus. After participating in this exciting sport for several hours a dip was taken in the briny deep. Later delicious refreshments consisting of coffee, salad and sandwiches were served at the Moana Hotel.

Lieutenant Robinson of the revenue cutter Thetis returned on the steamer Lurline after a delightful vacation spent in California. Lieut. Robinson was extensively entertained by his large contingent of friends in California, among them being the Matsons and Bresses, who gave several dinners in his honor. This young officer was also entertained by Mrs. Edward Tenney and her charming daughter, Miss Wilhelmina, who were at Lake Tahoe at the same time Mr. Robinson was there.

Richard Catton, who is a student at "Boston Tech," has been touring Europe in company with the Cookes of this city. This young man's father and sister have also been visiting in Europe. Mr. Catton is expected to return to the Islands about the first of October, but Miss Renney Catton will probably spend the winter with relatives and friends in England and Scotland.

Service Bridge Club.

The Service Bridge Club will meet next Monday afternoon with Mrs. Frederick Ramsey, wife of Captain Ramsey of the U. S. Marine Corps.

Judge and Mrs. Kingsbury of Maui arrived in Honolulu last Saturday. The Judge is spending his vacation on the island of Oahu. It is to be regretted that this popular couple are not sojourning in town, but have decided to spend the major portion of their visit on Mt. Tantalus at the William Richard Castles home.

Captain and Mrs. George H. Estes and two children arrived Saturday on the transport Sherman. Captain Estes belongs to the 20th Infantry, but has been stationed in Manila. This charming couple will prove quite an acquisition in social affairs both at Fort Shafter and in Honolulu.

Mrs. Parbo, mother of Lieutenant Parbo of Fort Shafter, left on the transport Sherman for a trip to the Coast, where she will visit her oldest daughter in Portland, Oregon.

Captain Seales of the 5th Cavalry left on the transport Sherman to join his wife and family in the States. Captain Seales has obtained three months' leave of absence.

Lieutenant Morgan of the Cavalry, was an outgoing passenger on the transport Sherman.

Lieutenant Durehfield of the U. S. Marine Corps, has taken apartments at the Courtyard.

Mr. F. Lamb of Trent Trust Co. left Friday, for a two weeks' vacation at the Volcano House.

Mrs. A. Haneberg is sojourning at Haleiwa enjoying the golf.

Note 1.—The entire skirmish score (1922) of the U. S. Marine Corps is thrown out by the executive officer for an infraction of the rule against unauthorized coaching from behind the firing line.
 Note 2.—The last five shots, rapid fire (score, 21), of Ensign Francis A. L. Vossler, U. S. N., is thrown out of the Navy.

The Army and Navy Journal in a recent issue has the following to say of the shoot and the performance of the different teams:

The standing of the teams in the classes below A, at this writing indicates that Minnesota wins the Hilton trophy and $350 in Class B; District of Columbia gets the second prize, $250; Texas the third, $225; and Oklahoma the fourth, $200; and that in Class C Kansas takes the bronze soldier of Marathon and $300; Arizona the second prize, $200; Utah the third, and North Dakota the fourth, $150. The classes for winning prizes this year are based on the standing of the teams in 1909. The throwing out of the marines' score of 1,922 points put them down to No. 42 in the standing of the forty-three teams. The Navy team was penalized twenty-one points because Ensign Francis A. L. Vossler, failed to fire his prescribed shots on the first appearance of the target in the skirmish run. These twenty-one points would have made the Navy team second. The team from Montana, which was not able to take the skirmish run because Gov. Edwin Norris ordered the team home for duty at the forest fires, stood No. 43; just behind the team from the U. S. Marines.

The Infantry team now ties New York in having won the contest three times, but New York is thus far the only team which has won the victory three years in succession, the New Yorkers winning the match in 1902, 1904 and 1905. The Army Infantry team won in 1906, the Navy team in 1907, the Army Infantry team in 1908, the Navy in 1909, and the Army Infantry in 1910.

In the shooting this year, the Army Infantry team was not headed at any stage of the contest, but kept its lead from the start.

At the 600 yards range on Aug. 22, which began the contest, the New York team outshot all the others and made a world's record of 569 points for a team of twelve men firing 120 shots for record, and not one below a four. The end of the first day's shooting found the ten leading teams in the following order: U. S. Infantry, 1,095; U. S. Cavalry, 1,080; U. S. Navy, 1,079; Massachusetts, 1,078; U. S. Naval Academy, 1,077; New York, 1,075; Illinois, 1,074; Colorado, 1,069; Pennsylvania, 1,068; District of Columbia, 1,067.

In the second day's shooting, on Aug. 23, the five service teams had the lead at the close of the day. New York was still sixth and Massachusetts fell from fourth to seventh, and Oklahoma got tenth place from thirteenth.

In a mist first and then in a 6 o'clock gale that prohibited record breaking scores the 1,000 yard stage was shot. The Infantry was the highest with 523 points. In the rapid fire shooting on the 600 yard targets, the Navy's score of 545 led the Infantry by two points.

New Jersey made the biggest drop in actual shooting, falling down from No. 21 last year, to No. 40, in standing this year. The western teams are certainly coming up in their shooting; Iowa, which was tenth last year, has jumped up to third place; Colorado has jumped from twenty-second last year to eighth this year; Michigan from twenty-fifth to ninth; Minnesota from twentieth to twelfth, and Oklahoma, which did not shoot last year, landed No. 15 this year.

For the purpose of comparison we give below the scores of the teams in the several classes in the shooting of 1909:

Class A—1. U. S. Navy, 3,801; 2. U. S. Army Infantry, 3,752; 3. Massachusetts, 3,727; 4. U. S. Army Cavalry, 3,726; 5. Ohio, 3,715; 6. Wisconsin, 3,695; 7. New York, 3,686; 8. Pennsylvania, 3,672; 9. U. S. Marine Corps, 3,671; 10. Iowa, 3,651; 11. Illinois, 3,594; 12. Oregon, 3,585; 13. Maryland, 3,570; 14. Connecticut, 3,565; 15. California, 3,560.
 Class B—16. District of Columbia, 3,554; 17. Texas, 3,550; 18. Maine, 3,548; 19. West Virginia, 3,547; 20. Minnesota, 3,547; 21. New Jersey, 3,534; 22. Colorado, 3,532; 23. Indiana, 3,530; 24. Hawaii, 3,529; 25. Michigan, 3,518; 26. Alabama, 3,515; 27. Georgia, 3,496; 28. Tennessee, 3,494; 29. Missouri, 3,485; 30. Delaware, 3,449.

Class C—31. Arizona, 3,443; 32. Wyoming, 3,442; 33. Kansas, 3,433; 34. Rhode Island, 3,415; 35. North Dakota, 3,376; 36. Mississippi, 3,334; 37. Utah, 3,311; 38. Virginia, 3,307; 39. South Carolina, 3,305; 40. Nebraska, 3,304; 41. Florida, 3,266; 42. Montana, 3,260; 43. South Dakota, 3,259; 44. New Mexico, 3,148; 45. Arkansas, 3,095; 46. Idaho, 3,093; 47. U. S. Naval Academy, 3,073; 48. Louisiana, 3,023. Maine, Wyoming, Rhode Island, South Dakota and Idaho, which were among the competitors in 1909, were not represented this year.

For the fiscal year 1910-1911 the Secretary of War has set aside the amount of money which each state and territory will receive for the purpose of procuring supplies and ammunition and for this period Hawaii will have $8,123.28. For arms, equipment and camp purposes and for the promotion or rifle practice Hawaii gets the sum of $14,732.49 for the same period.

SEA WREN RACE FOR TOMORROW MORNING

Five Small Boats to Take Part in Pearl Harbor Flutter.

Tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock the sea wrens will start in a race which is attracting a lot of attention. Five of the small boats will gather together at the starting line, and a good race should eventuate. The Howard Cup will be competed for, and as Howard Bowen has one leg in for the trophy, he need only win tomorrow to become the owner of the beautiful cup. The conditions of the cup race are that it shall be won twice in succession by one man before it becomes his property.

The course to be sailed tomorrow is from a line between the Myrtle boatshed and a float in the harbor, to the striped can buoy off the Peninsula, leaving this to port, along the channel north and east of Ford Island, leaving the black stake to port, to a mark anchored off the Waiwai rice mill, leaving this to starboard, and following the channel around Ford Island, leaving the outer stake to starboard; back and across the starting line, to and around the mark anchored about a mile from the clubhouse, this to be left to starboard, and back to starting line.

The following wrens will take part in the race: Sea Mew, Galloping Mary, Swan, Dancing Sally and Roaring Glimet.

SAINTS WOULD PLAY FOR MONEY PURSE

Very Little Chance of Any Series Being Played For Fun.

There seems to be very little chance of the Saints and Puns coming together for a special series. The Saints are reported to have stated their willingness to play the Puns for a purse of money, and that suggestion is enough to knock any series on the head. Professional baseball has more or less existed on the quiet here for some time, but when it comes to a lot of ball players openly offering to play for money, the end of clean sport is about in sight.

The sooner the Amateur Union gets going, and bars all men who have in any sport been paid money for their efforts, the better for the game in Honolulu.

It is a pity that the Saints and Puns could not get together for the love of sport, and many people will regret the stand which the Saints have been quoted as taking on the proposition.

DOTS AND DASHES.

Austin Jones, who is to coach the College of Hawaii footballers, will arrive on the Sierra next Friday, and he is expected to improve the team a lot once he gets going. The new rules will be in vogue this season, and the local players will have to get used to them; would it were the Rugby game that our lads were taking up. We would then be in line to play the Californian cracks, and there would be some chance of seeing big crowds at the games.

It would appear that there is a good chance of the Hawaii Yacht Club and the proposed Honolulu Auto Club uniting and establishing quarters at Pearl Harbor. The move would be a good one and would give the auto organization a fine start on the way it should go.

Eddie Fernandez, the well known baseball player and athlete is out for nomination for the house of representatives. Ed is well known to everybody and he should be a first class man for the position.

All those who wish to invite friends to the Myrtle Yacht Club are requested to communicate with Ray Hieton, at the Judd Building.

REGATTA IS EXCITING MUCH INTEREST IN WATER SPORT

SPLENDID RACES SURE TO BE CONTESTED --- CREWS ALL DOING FINE TRAINING STUNTS --- VETERANS TAKING INTEREST IN OARSMEN.

All the arrangements in connection with Regatta Day are in a satisfactory state, and everything points to a very successful day's sport. The two boat clubs have decided to issue invitations to all the friends of the members, and consequently there will be big gatherings at the Myrtle and Healanis sheds.

The invitation idea is a good one, and is one that is in vogue everywhere else where clubs exist. The old idea of keeping "open house" was all right in the past, when everybody knew each other, but nowadays, when there are thousands of people drifting into town and settling down, it is impossible for the clubs to entertain all.

Next Saturday should be a great day on the harbor, and if the weather is fine the scene along the waterfront should be a stirring one. Thousands of spectators will flock to the waterfront, and all the available wharves and points around the harbor will form grandstands for the crowd. The regatta is about the only big free show that is pulled off in Honolulu, and the men who do the racing are to be complimented on the sporting instinct that makes them train hard and race for some small trophy.

The Healanis had several crews out last night, and some good spins were done from the spar buoy in to the shed. The coaches are getting the men down to a real good stroke, and although there is a little roughness here and there, by Saturday next the men should all be ready to row the race of their lives. F. W. Kiebahn, who has coached so many crews in the past and gotten them all into the best of condition, was out yesterday having a look at the available material of the Healanis. The veteran seemed satisfied with the work of the crews on the whole, and he will every afternoon next week accompany the men on their trial spins. The result should be a great improvement in the catch and stroke of the rowers.

The Myrtles were also out in full force yesterday afternoon, and from 5 o'clock on the harbor was alive with shells and barges. The Myrtle freshman crew is doing great work, and the men hit up a good pace over the full course. They row a crisp, good stroke, and get up speed very quickly. Their recovery is good, also, and once a little roll that they have eliminated, it will take a good crew to beat them.

The Outrigger Club members feel happy now, as they have secured a full crew for their canoe which is to represent them in the big paddling race. Kenneth Brown and his men are training hard for the event, and they will give the Hawaiian crews a great go for the honors this year. Last year the "hoies" won out after a fine contest, and it won't be their fault if the same does not happen this year.

The Hawaiian paddle crew from Kona will be on hand. Tom King got a wireless announcing the fact yesterday. The Kona men are about the most expert canoers in the Islands, and they will certainly give the Oahuans a great race for the premier honors. Brown and his men do not feel scared of any of the crews, but they have to admit that the six-paddle race will be a very close one and one that will make the spectators get wild with excitement.

The sailing races for canoes will also be good—providing there is some wind—and the way the Hawaiians handle the frail craft will astonish the "halibinis."

The special race is attracting much attention, and Charlie Chillingworth is getting thin so rapidly that it is a good job the race will be next Saturday, for if it were delayed a little more there would be nothing left of the genial Charlie. Frank Thompson is looking fine just now, and he is feeling very chirpy. He and Chillingworth will, however, have a hard time in disposing of Prince Cupid and Alec Robertson.

The whole regatta promises to be as good and better than any of former years, and there is no doubt that some fine races will be seen before the final event is rowed. Whether the Myrtles or Healanis will win the pennant is hard to say, but one thing is sure, and that is that the broom indicating a clean sweep will not be elevated by either club. From present indications the races will be split up as regards victories, but which club will get the most is difficult to predict.

The races will probably be all over by 2 o'clock or so on Saturday, and then the crowd can wend its way Walkiward or to some other place, where the balance of the day can be put in. There should be one big enjoyable time for all the holiday-makers, and the club members and their friends will wind up the evening at the big dance at the Young Hotel.

AUTOS AND AUTOISTS

The garage and repair department of the von Hamm-Young Company have had the usual busy week. Mr. Bodge, who has been on the mainland for the last two months, has again taken charge of the garage and repair department. While on the Coast Mr. Bodge made a special study of the most up-to-date garages, and though he found none of them better equipped than the von Hamm-Young garage, he has brought back with him a number of new wrinkles which he will be able to use here to advantage.

The acetylene oxygen welding plant, which has been installed in this garage during the past month, has proved a very much needed and satisfactory adjunct to the repair department. It is no longer necessary to order new cylinders from the mainland when these are slightly cracked or when there is a leak in the water jacket. All such repairs can be made right here at short notice through acetylene oxygen welding. This will no doubt be very much appreciated by the many patrons of the von Hamm-Young Company who formerly had to wait sometimes for a week or two for new cylinders, or for a broken axle, which could not be repaired without this new welding apparatus.

Interest in the 1911 models is ever on the increase. The sales department of the von Hamm-Young Company reports the sale of a Packard touring car to J. de Rego of Wailuku, who intends to put this fine car in the rent business on Maui.

Mr. Rego is much pleased with his new car and proudly states that he will be able now to show the Mauiites a real automobile.

The sale of a Buick was made this week by the von Hamm-Young Company to W. D. Adams of Bergstrom & Co. Mr. Adams finds that an automobile is better suited than a horse and buggy to negotiate the Paif when visiting his country home on the windward side of the island.

The steamer Wilhelmina brought a beautiful 1911 Model 30 Packard phaeton of the five-passenger type, which was delivered by the von Hamm-Young Company during the week to John Waterhouse. This is the first specimen of the 1911 Packard phaeton to arrive, and it has been greatly admired.

Judge Cooper, who is a great Pope-Hartford enthusiast, has added a splendid Pope-Hartford roadster to his garage, having purchased the same this week from the von Hamm-Young Company. This new car has been greatly admired by the Judge's friends.

F. E. Howes, salesman for the von Hamm-Young Company, left for Kaula during the week to deliver there a Cadillac touring car and also an Overland demi-tonneau.

The Sierra, due here next week, will bring the first 1911 Cadillac touring car. A great deal of interest is centered in this car, a number of purchasers having already placed their orders for 1911 Cadillacs.

Down at the Schuman garage all is bustle at present; a shipment of the popular E. M. F. cars is expected to arrive on the next Sierra, and these cars are being enquired for all the time. The E. M. F. is to be seen everywhere and the owners of the cars swear by them.

During the week an E. M. F. was sold to Hasigawa, a well known Japanese merchant of Hana, Maui. The car is now doing good work along the heavy grades of the Valley Island.

The Mitchell cars are also being sold to arrive, and several that arrived during the past couple of weeks have been delivered. One of the cars went to the Kahului Railroad Co. on Maui, and it is greatly admired around that district.

Manager Aubrey, of the Hapua Hotel, purchased a Mitchell from the Schuman garage, and he is using it in his business. The car is coming in very useful for the transporting of guests to and from the hotel, and the trip over the pali is always much enjoyed by the passengers.

At the Associated garage received two Chalmers "30" last week but both machines were quickly sold. They were the first of the 1911 make, and Mrs. M. C. Cooke, Jr., managed to secure one of them. The other will be shown around as a demonstrating car as the garage has an option on it for some days to come.

A Tonic Free from Alcohol

Are you pale, weak, easily tired, and do you lack nerve power? Ask your doctor if Ayer's Sarsaparilla would not be good for you. He knows, and will advise you wisely. Not a drop of alcohol in this medicine. It puts red corpuscles into the blood, gives steady, even power to the nerves; and all without stimulation. Make no mistake. Take only those medicines the best doctors endorse. Ask your own doctor.

The Associated garage will have to be remodeled as the Bishop street extension will take about twelve feet off the building. Manager Hall of the garage will erect a wall along the line of the new street, and then will remove enough of the roof to cover it.

Other extensive changes will be made to the garage, and the front part of the garage will be turned into a salesroom and the exhibits arranged so as to show up to the greatest advantage. The back part of the store will be used for garage purposes only, and the changes will greatly improve the whole place.

The Hudson car is going off just as rapidly as ever, and the factory is having a hard time to keep up to the demand for these machines. Many of the cars are to be seen around town and they all are doing great work.

A simple system of levers is attached to a doornub which it possible foot while both hands are filled.

IN BUSINESS CIRCLES

General business conditions in the city and through the Territory are excellent, yet the week has been quiet, featureless and in many respects may be classed as dull.

Anything like a flurry in sugar stocks is out of the question. There is steady buying and a general feeling of confidence but nearly if not quite all the buying at the present time is for investment.

Real estate is moving steadily. Prices are strengthening and the demand for homes for rental continues. New buildings are going up continually. In the line of large construction work the excavations for the new block on the corner of Hotel and Fort streets is well under way.

Merchants Busy.

Mercantile trading is reported good all along the line. It is the exception to hear anyone complaining of dull times. The appearance of the streets and the number of people in the stores at all times of the day furnish an excellent index of the large amount of trading that is going on.

Merchants on Fort street have already begun to shape up their plans for the holiday season that will be one of the most active and prosperous that Honolulu has ever known. One thing is notable at the present time; seldom does one hear business men yearning for a visit from a fleet of warships to build up trade. They are all so busy that they do not have time to think of getting help from the warship trade.

Among the Fort street houses, Mr. M. Brasch, manager of Whitney & Marsh, returned recently from a trip to Europe, where he made extensive purchases for the holiday trade. He will have many new specialties to offer in the season.

Manager Curtis of E. W. Jordan & Co. has returned from a brief trip to the Coast and is now busy preparing to place at the disposal of his customers a line of the latest dry goods that he bought at a sacrifice price and will offer Honolulu buyers at remarkable reductions. As Mr. Curtis has put it, times are hard on the mainland and times are good in Hawaii, so it is possible to pick up the best at the very lowest figures.

A. Blom of upper Fort street has gone to the Coast, and it is certain that he will return with a larger stock than he will put on the market in the holiday season at very reasonable figures.

Each year brings new evidence of the up-to-dateness of our retail houses. This is manifest in every line of trade; in the shoe stores; in the leaders of the haberdashery trade, Silva's Toggery and the Clarion; and even the markets and the grocery stores are constantly adding some new feature that shows how the old style system of doing business has passed away.

Home Coming.

Every Honolulu-bound steamer is bringing hundreds of home people who have been abroad for vacations, and the Promotee Committee promises that the winter season will be the liveliest in the tourist trade that Honolulu has ever known.

One winter excursion is assured. J. S. McCandless cabled early in the week stating that the arrangements had been closed for the charter of the steamship Wilhelmina for the February trip to bring a party of at least one hundred and fifty Shriners to the islands and return for a round trip. This party will be here for the Floral Parade and also participate in a ceremonial session of the local Shriners Temple, a portion of that ceremony to be held in the crater of Kilauea. Imperial Potentate Hines will head the visitors, and this of itself assured a very wide advertising of the pilgrimage, and will put new life into plans for other excursions by special and regular steamers.

The stock market has been free from any feature that attracted special attention. Undoubtedly the event of the week having the greatest influence on the stock of plantations on this island is the soaking rain that came in from the south Friday afternoon and comes the nearest to being a real rain that this side of the island of Oahu has had in very many months. All the plantations on this side of the island need a refreshing rain to supplement the regular irrigation water supply. The latest rain will go far toward supplying this long felt want.

Prices have ranged very high. Considerable trading has been done in Oahu at 22 and 22.25. Coca holds firm at 23.125. Hawaiian Commercial has dropped to 49, with 29.75 bid. Wailua is fairly firm at 129.25. Considerable water development work is going on at Wailua, and if the land through which the new ditch is being run proves easy cutting the new lands will be under cultivation in time for the 1912 crop.

Hawaiian Sugar has sold at 42.50. Honolulu strengthened this week and a small block changed hands at 18.375. Oahu and McBryde remain about the same with a number of blocks of Oahu selling at 6.125. There is every indication that the market is soon to witness a notable advance in Oahu bonds.

The price of sugar has dropped. This, everyone in touch with the market has expected so it was fully discounted in so far as stocks were concerned. The review of the situation as presented in the latest circulars from New York is given herewith.

Willett & Gray's Sugar Journal for Aug. 25 says:

Visible Supply.

The increase of stock is 45,213 tons, against an increase of 37,174 last week. Total stocks and amounts together show a visible supply of 1,293,569 tons, against 1,222,446 last year, or a decrease of 28,787 tons.

The market opened at an advance of 0.02 in the current quotation to 3.08 c. & f. and its equivalent, 4.46c landed, basis 96 deg. test, at which the reported sales were made.

Soon after the opening some holders advanced their views to 3.5c c. & f., equal to 4.48c landed, and firmly refused to budge from this position; other holders have 3.4c c. & f. in view.

The refiners at New York are not yet prepared to pay 3.5c c. & f. but some business is reported at this figure for shipment to New Orleans, which is not considered quite as favorable to sellers as shipment to New York; such sales, however, have recently been fore-runners of sales at same price c. & f. to New York.

Offerings are moderate in quantity, and some have been withdrawn in expectation of obtaining still higher prices later on in view of the short supply.

A year ago there was also a shortage of raw sugar here pending the arrival of new crops, and prices of Centrifugals advanced from 4.11c on August 19th to 2.60c, to 4.20c on September 11th, declining thereafter to 4.17c on December 16th.

A cargo of Javas at Algiers was offered here, but has been sold to go to Greenock, at equal to 4.36 c. & f. New York, or 4.44c landed. Javas for August shipment (October arrival) were offered at 13s 1 1/2d c. f. l. New York, equal to 4.56c landed, and since withdrawn.

It is evident that Javas are wanted more in England than here, the advancing market there for beet sugars making available cane sugars valuable; this relieves our market of any close competition by holders of Javas afloat, and gives Cuban holders a clear field for the present, at least.

Old crop beet sugars are too dear for English refiners, who are now working principally on Javas, and it is expected that they will continue to use a larger proportion of cane sugars than formerly, requiring some Cubas each year.

Demeraras for November shipment are offered at 2.80c c. & f. to New York, equal to 4.50c landed.

Refiners are not disposed to consider any sugars for later arrival than September, preferring to await developments, although it is barely possible that their future supply may cost them more by adopting this policy.

The United States Four Ports receipts for the week were light (33,966 tons), and total stocks are reduced to 329,659 tons; the reduction in stocks last two weeks was 23,399 tons, and last three weeks was 36,538 tons.

European markets declined 1/2d on cane sugars on the sale to Greenock, but are still about 5d above the parity of our market for nearby sugars. Beet sugars, however, advanced for the week 3/4d on August, 1/2d on October-December and 3/4d on September, the latter being the principal feature of interest this week as affecting the value of all sugars for the immediate future.

The Porto Rico crop outlook proves to be 299,000 tons for export and, allowing 18,000 tons for local consumption, a total production of 298,000 tons, against 245,000 tons the previous season.

Weather conditions generally in Cuba favor the growing cane crop. In Europe the weather has recently been favorable for the beet crop in most sections, and F. O. Licht cables us specially that time for beginning harvesting will be about normal.

This week a sale was made of St. Croix Centrifugals afloat at 2.81c c. f. & l (equal to 4.50c landed), for export purposes, which does not establish a spot quotation, as a sale of prompt Cubas was made the next day at equal to the current quotation, 4.45c.

At the close a sale was made of Cubas for September shipment at 2.5c c. & f. to Philadelphia, equal to 4.45c, and it is believed that sales at this figure will before long be made of sugars for prompt shipment, on which spot quotations may then be advanced.

Advances above 2 1/2c c. & f. or 4.45c landed are problematical. There is likely to be available sugar to tide over the period pending the arrival of new crop sugars, but the question is, will the owners part with their holdings in time to meet melting requirements without demanding higher prices?

The Federal Reporter for Aug. 28 says:

Raw Sugar.

There has been no change in the situation since our last report. Quite a line of sugar, for August-September shipment, has been offered, on the basis of 3 1/2c cost and freight, the equivalent of 4.48c duty paid New York, and it is generally understood that refiners would pay this price for October shipment to New York, or for earlier shipment to the outports, but so far no business has transpired at this figure, for shipment to New York. One lot of 20,000 bags sold on the 24th, for September shipment, to the W. J. McCahan Sugar Refining Company, on this basis, and some business was also done, for shipment to New Orleans, but the quantity sold is not made public. There have been some small lots of Cubas, for August shipment to New York, mainly constituting balances of cargoes, etc., sold at 3 3/4c cost and freight for 96 deg. test, the spot equivalent of 4.45c duty paid, with further buyers at this price. The closing is firm, with the spot quotation on the basis of 4.45c duty paid for 96 deg. Centrifugals, 3.95c duty paid for 89 deg. Muscovadoes, and 3.7c duty paid for 89 deg. Molasses Sugars. The world's visible supply is 1,650,000 tons, as compared with 1,550,000 tons a year ago. Messrs. Willett & Gray estimate the afloats to the United States total 121,000 tons, against 229,000 tons last year, with stocks in the U. S. States and Cuba together of 44,000 tons, an increase of 113,213 tons on last year, with total stocks and afloats showing a visible supply of 1,593,559 tons, against 1,222,444 tons last year, a decrease of 28,787 tons.

Cuba.

There is nothing new to report. Europe.

Light wires us today that the weather is favorable for the growing crop. Yesterday Messrs. Willett & Gray had a cable from him, stating that at the time for harvesting the crop will be about normal. There have been some fluctuations in quotations of current and next month, which is natural, due to the large premium demanded for these months over new crop prices. As far as new crop is concerned, people are awaiting developments in regard to the growing heats. A prominent European house writes their New York correspondent, under date of August 12th, as follows:

"The prospects for the growing beet crop are, we think, none too good. The French crop will certainly be a poor one, we might even say a bad one, the Belgian crop we think will be medium, Germany will be round about the average, but we doubt very much if it will give us the 'bumper' crop we had hoped we should get."

"We attribute this to the absence of the usual summer weather. We

IN BUSINESS CIRCLES

General business conditions in the city and through the Territory are excellent, yet the week has been quiet, featureless and in many respects may be classed as dull.

Anything like a flurry in sugar stocks is out of the question. There is steady buying and a general feeling of confidence but nearly if not quite all the buying at the present time is for investment.

Real estate is moving steadily. Prices are strengthening and the demand for homes for rental continues. New buildings are going up continually. In the line of large construction work the excavations for the new block on the corner of Hotel and Fort streets is well under way.

Merchants Busy.

Mercantile trading is reported good all along the line. It is the exception to hear anyone complaining of dull times. The appearance of the streets and the number of people in the stores at all times of the day furnish an excellent index of the large amount of trading that is going on.

Merchants on Fort street have already begun to shape up their plans for the holiday season that will be one of the most active and prosperous that Honolulu has ever known. One thing is notable at the present time; seldom does one hear business men yearning for a visit from a fleet of warships to build up trade. They are all so busy that they do not have time to think of getting help from the warship trade.

Among the Fort street houses, Mr. M. Brasch, manager of Whitney & Marsh, returned recently from a trip to Europe, where he made extensive purchases for the holiday trade. He will have many new specialties to offer in the season.

Manager Curtis of E. W. Jordan & Co. has returned from a brief trip to the Coast and is now busy preparing to place at the disposal of his customers a line of the latest dry goods that he bought at a sacrifice price and will offer Honolulu buyers at remarkable reductions. As Mr. Curtis has put it, times are hard on the mainland and times are good in Hawaii, so it is possible to pick up the best at the very lowest figures.

A. Blom of upper Fort street has gone to the Coast, and it is certain that he will return with a larger stock than he will put on the market in the holiday season at very reasonable figures.

Each year brings new evidence of the up-to-dateness of our retail houses. This is manifest in every line of trade; in the shoe stores; in the leaders of the haberdashery trade, Silva's Toggery and the Clarion; and even the markets and the grocery stores are constantly adding some new feature that shows how the old style system of doing business has passed away.

Home Coming.

Every Honolulu-bound steamer is bringing hundreds of home people who have been abroad for vacations, and the Promotee Committee promises that the winter season will be the liveliest in the tourist trade that Honolulu has ever known.

One winter excursion is assured. J. S. McCandless cabled early in the week stating that the arrangements had been closed for the charter of the steamship Wilhelmina for the February trip to bring a party of at least one hundred and fifty Shriners to the islands and return for a round trip. This party will be here for the Floral Parade and also participate in a ceremonial session of the local Shriners Temple, a portion of that ceremony to be held in the crater of Kilauea. Imperial Potentate Hines will head the visitors, and this of itself assured a very wide advertising of the pilgrimage, and will put new life into plans for other excursions by special and regular steamers.

The stock market has been free from any feature that attracted special attention. Undoubtedly the event of the week having the greatest influence on the stock of plantations on this island is the soaking rain that came in from the south Friday afternoon and comes the nearest to being a real rain that this side of the island of Oahu has had in very many months. All the plantations on this side of the island need a refreshing rain to supplement the regular irrigation water supply. The latest rain will go far toward supplying this long felt want.

Prices have ranged very high. Considerable trading has been done in Oahu at 22 and 22.25. Coca holds firm at 23.125. Hawaiian Commercial has dropped to 49, with 29.75 bid. Wailua is fairly firm at 129.25. Considerable water development work is going on at Wailua, and if the land through which the new ditch is being run proves easy cutting the new lands will be under cultivation in time for the 1912 crop.

Hawaiian Sugar has sold at 42.50. Honolulu strengthened this week and a small block changed hands at 18.375. Oahu and McBryde remain about the same with a number of blocks of Oahu selling at 6.125. There is every indication that the market is soon to witness a notable advance in Oahu bonds.

The price of sugar has dropped. This, everyone in touch with the market has expected so it was fully discounted in so far as stocks were concerned. The review of the situation as presented in the latest circulars from New York is given herewith.

HONOLULU has rarely seen a more beautiful wedding than that of Miss Leone Lenore Fisher and George Fullerton Renton, Jr., which was impressively solemnized on Tuesday evening at the home of the bride's parents, 1306 Kaeamoku street. This home was converted into a floral bower, for the occasion. The decorations were formed entirely of baby daisies, white tulle and palms. The staircase leading from the drawing room to the second floor, was banked with daisies and maiden-hair fern, completely hiding the wood-work; streamers of tulle were caught here and there, producing a beautiful effect. The ceremony was performed in the northeast corner of the drawing room, midst a bower of white and green. This was constructed of daisies, maiden-hair and smilax, and was elaborate in every detail. Tall cut glass vases three or four feet high, containing calla lilies, were placed in this beautiful room; large jardinières of beaten brass were filled with the same flowers and arranged on teak-wood stands and tabourets, which lent added beauty to the elaborate decoration. The dining room leading from the drawing room was also in green and white. The sideboard was massed with baby daisies and a frieze of these flowers was cleverly devised. The Fisher home is well adapted for entertaining, as all the rooms can be thrown into one. Between the archways were suspended fancy baskets filled with daisies and tied with bow knots of tulle. Weddings in Honolulu are particularly beautiful, owing to our wealth of tropical foliage, and numerous rare palms. The decorations were in charge of the bride's two aunts, Mrs. Henry Williams, and Mrs. L. C. Ables, who possess great artistic ability. Under their supervision the setting for this wedding was one of tropical loveliness. At half after eight, to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, the bridal party descended the floral banked stairway. At the foot of this stair case was arranged broad white satin ribbons decorated with bow-knots of tulle and maiden-hair. These ribbons were drawn by Mr. Louis and Mr. Allan Renton and formed an aisle for the bridal party to pass through. The bride is an exceedingly beautiful girl.

and came in leaning on the arm of her father, who gave her into the keeping of the groom. She wore a handsome gown of meteor satin, heavily embroidered in white iris. A voluminous tulle veil, held by sprays of lily of the valley, fell to the edge of the court train. The only jeweled ornament worn was a superb crescent set with diamonds, which was the gift of the groom. A shower bouquet of bride's roses completed her attire. Mrs. Harold Castle acted as matron of honor, and looked stunning in white satin, heavily trimmed with real lace. Instead of the conventional spray bouquet, a floral muff composed of pink roses, was carried. The bride was met at the improvised altar by the groom, who was attended by Mr. Harold Castle. Reverend Ebersole performed the Episcopal marriage service. During this impressive ceremony Mr. Willard Ables, a cousin of the bride, played soft music on his violin. Mr. Ables is a musical genius and his rendition on the violin added greatly to the impressiveness of the occasion. At the conclusion of the wedding service which joined the young couple in the holy bonds of matrimony, they received the congratulations and good wishes of their numerous friends. At the conclusion of the reception the bridal party and their guests adjourned to partake of the bridal supper. A large lanai had been erected to accommodate the guests. This lanai was canopied with canvas, but the covering was deftly concealed by overhanging branches of the pepper tree. The side walls were enclosed with American and Hawaiian flags. Gigantic hanging baskets were hung overhead, while numerous potted palms were placed to give one the idea of entering the enclosure, of a vast conservatory. Small tables were arranged for the seating of the one hundred guests. Each of these tables was adorned with cut glass vases, filled with baby daisies and fronds of maiden-hair ferns. The bridal table excelled in beauty. This table was circular in shape; the decorations were bride's roses and butterfly knots of tulle. Covers were laid for ten. The place cards were miniature bridal slippers. At the back of each slipper were found tiny bags composed of tulle and containing rice.

The bride's cake and wedding cake was also decorated with tulle in the former was concealed a ring, which was found by Miss Katherine Goodale—foretelling that she will be a bride within the year—Mr. George W. Smith discovered the coin and Mrs. G. W. R. King the thimble. The finding of these trinkets added much to the merriment of the evening. About eleven o'clock the young people left for their honeymoon which is being spent at the Renton's country place, "Fairview," on the Peninsula. Just as they were leaving the bride threw her bouquet which was caught by Miss Belle McCarrison. This popular bride was the recipient of many beautiful gifts—their home at Ewa will be completely furnished by these exquisite remembrances, for the gifts not only consisted of cut glass, a chest of silver from the groom's par-tended European trip, arriving in Honolulu Monday on the Wilhelmina. During his trip abroad Mr. Cleghorn visited Germany, Switzerland, France, England and Scotland. During his travels he met numerous Honolulu people, who contributed enjoyment to his travels. En route home Mr. Cleghorn visited eastern Canada and spent several weeks in California. Much of Mr. Cleghorn's sightseeing while on the European continent was done by motor.

Regimental Hop at Lelehu.
One of the most delightful affairs on the social calendar was given Saturday last at Lelehu. The ballroom was tastefully decorated with potted plants, pennants and flags. The Fifth Cavalry orchestra furnished the music for the dancing. A number of Honolulu society folks motored over to this popular spot to participate in the festivities. Mrs. F. R. Day and Miss Jessica Irwin, who are sojourning at Haleiwa, attended the hop. Mr. and Mrs. William Goodale of Wainana and their charming daughter, Miss Catherine, were also guests at this charming affair.

Mrs. Reidford's Bridge Party.
Mrs. R. R. Reidford entertained at an informal bridge party last Monday. All the invitations were issued by telephone, a dozen guests being entertained on this occasion. Mrs. Pearson was the winner of the prize, which was an exquisite picture by Harrison Fisher. Among Mrs. Reidford's guests were Mrs. Philip Prear, Mrs. Schmidt, Mrs. William Rawlins, Mrs. Halstead, Mrs. Frederick Fiere, Mrs. Colley, Mrs. John Warren, Miss Lydia McStocker, Mrs. Louis Warren, and others.

Major and Mrs. Kennedy's Dinner.
Major and Mrs. Kennedy of Fort Shafter entertained at dinner Friday evening, complimentary to Mr. and Mrs. Pennington and Mr. and Mrs. Holmes of San Francisco. The table was adorned with American Beauty roses, with exquisite place cards to match. After dinner the host and hostess and their six guests devoted the remainder of the evening to bridge. Among those present were

Major and Mrs. Kennedy, Mr. and Mrs. Holmes, Mr. and Mrs. Pennington and Dr. and Mrs. Johnson of Fort Shafter.

Dr. and Mrs. Hoffman Entertain.
Dr. and Mrs. W. L. Hoffman entertained Sunday at the von Hoff's mountain home, in honor of Monnier and Madam Dreyfus. Fourteen were included in the party and a delightful outing was experienced.

Mrs. Jenness and her niece, Miss Platter, returned today from a delightful trip to the volcano. They express themselves as having enjoyed every minute of their trip. Mrs. Jenness is a prominent woman of Los Angeles. Her niece is from Texas, and is one of the prettiest girls that have visited in these islands. Miss Platter is a slender demi-blonde with fair curly hair and large brown eyes. Among numerous accomplishments she is considered a finished equestrienne. Miss Platter is a personal friend of Mrs. Arthur Marx, wife of Captain Marx of the U. S. Marine Corps.

In honor of his fiancée, Miss Helene Irwin, Charles Templeton Crocker entertained at a dinner at Pele Beach Lodge on Thursday evening. Among those so merrily entertained were: The Misses Marian Newhall, Elizabeth Newhall, Messrs. Douglas Grant, Duane Hopkins.—S. F. Call, Aug. 30.

Miss Lurline Matson will entertain at an elaborate luncheon next Tuesday at her home in Jackson street. The honors of the occasion will be shared by Miss Wilhelmina Tenney, who is a visitor from Honolulu, and Miss Zabriski of New York. There will be a score of the younger girls at the reunion, which is to be one of a series planned for the visitors.—S. F. Call, Aug. 31.

The next moonlight dance at Haleiwa, will be next Saturday night, Re-katta Day. As many will spend the holiday and Sunday in the country, it should be unusually jolly.

Mrs. Harold Dillingham and Mrs. Baldwin Wood will leave today for Del Monte, where they will be the guests of Miss Helene Irwin.—S. F. Chronicle, Aug. 26.

Last Sunday, an unusually large crowd motored to Haleiwa, the roads being in excellent shape. As Monday was a holiday, the hotel was filled for the week-end.

Lieutenant Phil Sheridan, Lieutenant Host and Lieutenant Humes spent Friday in town. They attended a luncheon at the University Club.

Miss Bettie Burnett is at Haleiwa for a week in the country and will be joined for over Sunday by her mother, Mrs. Balfou.

Mrs. F. R. Day and Miss Irwin are spending a part of this month at Haleiwa.

Mrs. Putnam's Card Party.

Numerous beautiful prizes were awarded to the guests when Mrs. Putnam, wife of Captain Putnam of Fort De Russy, entertained at bridge Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Ward of Fort De Russy made the highest score and won the first prize, which was a "five o'clock tea" of hammered brass. Mrs. Chapman was awarded the second prize, a Canton salad bowl. Mrs. Winslow, wife of Major Winslow, won the consolation prize, a very handsome picture. After the awarding of the prizes delicious refreshments were served. Bridge serves as a great diversion in Honolulu, and Wednesday afternoon's entertainment was thoroughly enjoyed by the coterie of young matrons and society buds that were present. The playing took place on the large veranda overlooking the sea and was indulged in until a late hour. Among Mrs. Putnam's guests were Mrs. Chapman, Mrs. Lane, Mrs. Winslow, Mrs. Frederick Ramsey and sister Mrs. Lipines, Mrs. Frank Roberts, Mrs. Arthur Marix, Mrs. John Hornberger, Mrs. Ward, Miss Katherine Stephens, Miss Lydia McStocker, Mrs. Hallentyne, and others.

In a Persian Garden.

The concert at Charles R. Bishop Hall at Punahou, Thursday evening called out Honolulu music lovers in force. The rendition was of more than ordinary merit presenting as it did, Liza Lehmann's "A Persian Garden" preceded by a short program in which Mr. Philip Hall accompanied by Mrs. Henry Bicknell sang the songs with his usual good taste. One of these, "All in All," being his own composition. Miss Ray Bell gave a dramatic recitation with fine expression. Three numbers from Chopin were played by Mrs. Sidney M. Ballou, which showed her versatility as a pianist.

The "Persian Garden" was sung by Mrs. Allan White, Mrs. Stephen Norton Bobo, Mr. Arthur Wall and Mr. G. Brown, a quartette of voices as well balanced as is usually found for a work of this kind. "The Persian Garden" demands not only cultivated voices but a keen musical intelligence in each singer. From the joyous opening quartette to the sweet phrases of the end of the work, the singers showed a wide range of expression, and always with that reserve which makes one feel that the fountain is not exhausted.

The solos were beautifully sung and to make any irritating distinction in this regard, would show a lack of appreciation. Mrs. Sydney M. Ballou accompanied the singers with a fine balance of expression.

It is fortunate that those who missed hearing this work are ignorant of what they have lost for the departure of Mrs. Allan White will make it difficult to produce a work of this seriousness again with the same success. In the musical world of Honolulu Mrs. White will leave a void hard to fill. Her voice is large and pure and shows high cultivation, which fits her for oratoric, opera and the larger cantatas. Always ready to help an occasion calls, such an artist is an inspiration in the community.

This concert was hastily arranged by Mrs. Sara L. Newcomb and Miss Gannon for the benefit of the Girls' Industrial School, so that the "Persian Garden" could be given by the same artists who sang it at the home of Hon. S. M. Ballou a short time ago. Quite a good sum has been realized for the purchase of a piano for the institution.

Paymaster and Mrs. Hornberger's Dinner.

La France roses ornamented the circular table Monday evening, when Paymaster and Mrs. John Hornberger of the U. S. Navy entertained at dinner. The entire color scheme for the dinner was in pink and green. The dainty place cards were hand painted and ornamented with pink roses. After dinner Paymaster and Mrs. Hornberger and their guests played bridge. Among their guests were Captain and Mrs. Frederick Ramsey, Mrs. Lipines, Miss Lydia McStocker, Miss Katherine Stephens and others.

Mr. Jack Young's Dinner.

Mr. Jack Young made a genial host when he entertained a number of his friends at dinner. Red carnations were chosen to carry out the decorative scheme of scarlet, these flowers were combined with feathery Australian maiden hair fern. After partaking of a delicious repast, the young people enjoyed several rubbers of bridge whist. Among Mr. Jack Young's guests were Mrs. Hudson who acted as chaperon, Miss Irene Cooper, Miss Helen Girvin, Miss Belle McCristian, Miss Isabelle Cooper, Mr. Dave Larsen, Mr. Bert Clark and Mr. Guilford Whitney.

Mr. H. Peavy Robinson is sojourning at the Alexander Young Hotel, Mr.

Robinson is making a tour of the world. He has been studying American economic conditions in the West Indies, in the Philippine Islands and in the Hawaiian Islands and is writing a series of articles, on the subject for the London Times. While in Honolulu he has been extensively entertained by Governor Frear, Hon. McEmith and the British Consul Ralph Forster, Albert Judd and others. Mr. Robinson will leave for San Francisco on the 12th of this month on the steamer Manchuria and will proceed to Washington, D. C. to take charge of the correspondence bureau in that city. Mrs. Robinson will leave her Cambridge home to join her husband.

The Palolo social club held its regular pedro meet last Thursday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Riley on Makiki street. Seven well-conducted games of pedro were played and prizes distributed after which refreshments were served.

Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Ormiston, Mr. and Mrs. Schoening, Mr. and Mrs. Foster, Mr. and Mrs. Merrill, Mr. and Mrs. Hicks, Mr. and Mrs. Riley, Mrs. Boyd, Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Clear, Mrs. Boerman, Miss Ethel Day, Miss Pauline Merrill, Mr. Clyde Wright.

The following announcement has been received:

This car will add new luster to an honorable name

THE most valuable asset the Cadillac Company possesses is its good name—a good name which is not merely the result of popular caprice but has been earned by what the car has done and what it has been. The Cadillac is, as you know, unique in the kind things that are said, and thought, and felt about it by thousands of people.

This good name, and the extraordinary good will which it has engendered everywhere, we interpret as an obligation to build a car so fine as to remove itself automatically from the likelihood of competition.

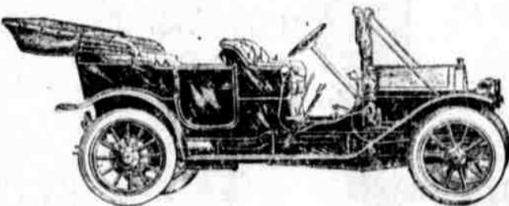

For 1911, therefore, our first thought—our one and only thought, in fact—has been to satisfy that widespread and implicit confidence which always expects the exceptional from the Cadillac. We believe we are justified in saying that in this larger, more powerful, more luxurious car, the Cadillac organization has surpassed itself.

In spite of ten years of devoted adherence to the manufacturing principle that any one of ten thousand Cadillacs should be interchangeable in its parts with any other Cadillac of the same type, we were not ready so short a time as twelve months ago to build a car as worthy and as wonderful as this.

Manufacturing plants, like men, must fit themselves to do truly great things. Even with the system of standardization, which has no equal in the world, and which insures an absolutely perfect alignment of parts and the almost final elimination of friction, the value of 1911 was not possible in 1910.

You are receiving now, we verily believe, the most advanced type of exact and scientific motor car manufacture which the industry has produced.

Please co-operate with your Cadillac representative by the earliest possible inspection.

Important Improvements in 1911

INCREASED POWER.
Cylinder bore increased from 4 1/4 inches to 4 1/2 inches. This, with more efficient carburetor, (Schebler) which is water-jacketed, effects a material increase in power. Piston stroke, 4 1/2 inches. The four cylinders are case singly, with copper jackets applied, retaining the exclusive Cadillac features throughout.

INCREASED COMFORT.
Wheel base increased from 110 to 116 inches, making the car easier than ever.

IMPROVED APPEARANCE.
Double drop frame, 2 1/2 in. drop, which makes car set lower, and this with the larger hood and more roomy tonneau greatly improves the appearance.

LARGE RADIATOR.
The radiator is slightly larger, hence has greater cooling capacity. This is notwithstanding the fact that the Cadillac was never deficient in that respect.

TIMKEN AXLE.
Full floating type. Timken roller bearing rear axle. This is the same axle as used on a number of America's highest priced cars.

LARGER BRAKE DRUMS.
More powerful brakes, more easily applied and greatly increased efficiency. Contracting and expanding double acting brakes, both equalized.

TWO IGNITION SYSTEMS.
Two complete and independent ignition systems, each with its own set of spark plugs. The two ignition systems consist of Bosch high tension magneto and the new and improved Delco system with single unit coil, high tension distributor and controlling relay. Either system alone is efficient for operating the car.

ENCLOSED WIRING.
All electrical wiring enclosed in copper tubes.

COPPER MANIFOLDS.
Copper manifolds are used for water inlets and outlets in the circulating system.

REMOVABLE CLUTCH.
Clutch may be removed in a very few minutes without disturbing other members.

1911 Cadillac Specifications In Brief

MOTOR—Four Cylinder, four cycle; cylinders cast singly, 4 1/2 inch bore by 4 1/2 inch piston stroke. Five-bearing crank shaft, 1 1/2 inch diameter. Bearings, Cadillac make, bronze with babbit lining. Five-bearing shaft.

HORSEPOWER—A. I. A. M. rating 32.4.

BALLINGER GETS WHACKED

(Associated Press Cable.)

MINNEAPOLIS, Sept. 9.—Republican members of the special Congressional committee investigating Ballinger have given notice of a meeting to be held on Tuesday in Chicago for the consideration of their decision as to the truth or falsity of the charges against the Secretary of the Interior. Today the Republican members of the committee failed to attend the meeting held here, and the Democratic chairman ruled that there was no quorum.

The Democrats will now follow the action of the Republicans and will refuse to attend the meeting of the Republican members of the committee to be held in Chicago.

They made announcement to that effect today and have made public their minority report which finds, in a scathing arraignment, that Secretary Ballinger has been untrue to his trust and that he is unworthy of public confidence. The minority report declares that he should be asked to resign his official position.

Pinchot and Glavis are declared to have been, according to the evidence brought out in the investigation, ever faithful to the interests of the people.

The committee has adjourned to meet in Washington, D. C., on December 3.

ROOSEVELT CALLS ON ALICE.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 9.—Ex-President Roosevelt arrived here today and visited his daughter Alice and her husband, Congressman Nicholas Longworth.

Following the family call, Colonel Roosevelt addressed a large gathering of citizens, both admirers and critics, declaring enthusiastically for the increase of the power of central government.

Roosevelt defended his already famous doctrine of "new nationalism," emphasizing what he believes to be the necessity of giving to the Federal government still greater powers over national affairs, for the benefit of the entire republic.

CALIFORNIA AVIATOR INJURED.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 9.—During the aeronautics at the annual State fair here today, Aviator Charles Hamilton, flying in a biplane, was hurled to the ground from a height of sixty feet when his machine became unmanageable.

The desperate efforts of the aviator to control his engine when he realized that something was wrong were viewed by a crowd of twenty thousand visitors at the fair.

Hamilton was seriously injured by the precipitation, suffering great agony from his wounds.

GOOSE

That a wooden shoe, simple minded goose girl should plunge monarchs and monarchies into a most mysterious confusion of affairs is a novelty. Yet the lovely Gretchen, the heroine of this fascinating old world novel, did just that, for no one can deny that Ehrenstein is a land of romance. There Carmichael, the dashing young American consul, learned of the dangers of falling in love with a princess; there Herbeck, the wily chancellor, tried a master stroke, evilly designed, to change the history of a throne; there royalty in disguise wandered and plotted and learned to know fellow human beings; there the treacherous Magyar gypsies lurked in the shadows to abduct a princess. And through all the little goose girl trod her lowly way toward a fate that the magic wand of chance had destined she must fill—a fate as amazing as it is fascinating to read about.

CHAPTER I. ROME IN HAIR.

An old man clothed in picturesque patches and tatters paused and leaned on his stout oak staff. He had walked many miles that day. His peasant garb rather enhanced his fine head. His eyes were blue and clear and farseeing, the eyes of a hunter or a woodsman.

The afternoon glow of the September sun burned along the dusty white highway. From where he stood the road trailed off miles behind and wound up 500 feet or more above him to the ancient city of Drottberg.

Across a lofty jumble of barren rock and glacial cleft, now purpling and darkening as the sun mellowed in its decline, lay the kingdom of Jugendheit. By and by his gaze wandered, and one particular patch in the valley, known from the beating of many trodden horses, caught and chained his interest for a space. It was the military field, and it glittered and semibled with squadron after squadron of cavalry.

The philosopher of war is to prepare for it, mused the old man, with a jerk of his shoulders. "France, so the matter runs. There is a Napoleon in France, but no Bonapartes." He laughed broadly and curiously glanced at his watch, an article which must have cost him many and many a potato patch. He stepped forward. He had followed yonder goose girl ever since the middle began. On the little wooden shoes had he trod, but here they were, still a hundred yards or more ahead of him.

The little goose girl was indeed tired, and the little wooden shoes grew heavier and heavier, and the little bare feet ached dully, but her heart was light and her mind sweet with happiness. Day after day she had tended the geese in the valley and tramped back at evening alone, all told a matter of twelve miles, and now she was bringing them into the city to sell in the market on the morrow. After that she would have little to do save an hour or two at night in a tavern called the Black Eagle, where she waited on patrons.

Presently there was a clatter of horses, a fling of bit and spur and snort. Half a dozen mounted officers trotted past. The peasant on the parapet instantly recognized one of the men. He saluted with a humbleness which lacked sincerity. It was the grand duke himself. There was General Duwits, too, and some of his staff, and a smooth faced, handsome young man in civilian riding cavalryman, was obviously of foreign birth, an Englishman or an American.

When the cavalcade reached the goose girl the power of the scene vanished forthwith. Confusion took up the scepter. The stiff geese, instead of remaining on the left of the road in safety, straightway determined that their haven of refuge was on the opposite side. Quick, look! Quick, look! They scampered, they blundered, they flew. Some tried to go over the horses, some endeavored to go under.

The civilian looked casually at the girl.

"By George!" he exclaimed in English.

"What is it?" asked the duke, gathering up the reins.

"The girl's geese. It is beautiful!"

The duke, after a glance, readily agreed. "You Americans are always clever!"

"Pretty figure, too," said one of the aids, a colonel. But his eye held none of the abstract admiration which characterized the American.

The goose girl had seen this look in other men's eyes. She knew. A fatal color grew under her tan and wound.

The troop proceeded with dust and small thunder and shortly passed the city gates. It traversed the hazy ridges of the horizon across, often emitting pebbles, the sun when there are no mountains was a youth

Dressed as a vintner. He was tall, plumply built, blond as a viking, possessing a singular beauty of the masculine order. He was forced to flatten himself against the wall of a house, his arms extended on either side in a kind of temporary crucifixion. Even then the stirrup of the American touched him slightly. But it was not the touch of the stirrup that startled him. It was the dark, clean cut face of the rider. Once they were by the youth darted into a doorway.

"He? What can he be doing here? No, it is utterly impossible. It is merely a likeness."

He ventured forth presently, none of the perturbation, however, gone from his face. He ran his hand across his hair. Yes, he would let his beard grow.

The duke and his escort turned into the broad and restful sweep of the Konigsstrasse. At the end was the Ehrenstein Platz, the great square round which ran the palaces and the royal and public gardens. The halt was made in the courtyard and all dismounted.

The American thanked the duke gratefully for the use of the horse.

"You are welcome to a mount at all times, Mr. Carmichael," replied the duke pleasantly. "A man who rides as well as yourself may be trusted anywhere with any kind of a horse."

The group looked attentively at the object of this marked attention. Here was one who had seen two years of constant and terrible warfare, who had ridden horses under fire and who bore on his body many honorable scars, for the great civil strife in America had come to his close but two years before and Europe was still captive to her amazement at the military prowess of the erstwhile inconsiderable American.

As Carmichael saluted and turned to leave the courtyard he threw a swift, searching glance at one of the palace windows. Did the curtain stir? He could not say. He continued on, crossing the Platz, toward the Grand hotel. He was a bachelor, so he might easily have had his quarters at the consulate, but as usual with American consulates—even to the present time—it was situated in an undesirable part of the town, over a bierhalle frequented by farmers and the middle class.

Where had he seen that young vintner before?

Meanwhile the goose girl, now joined by the old man, marshaled her geese and proceeded.

"What was that song you were singing before the horses came up?" he asked her.

"That? It was from the poet Heine"—simply.

He stared at her.

"Heine? Can you read?"

"Yes, herr."

A goose girl who read Heine?

"And the music?" he inquired presently.

"That is mine"—with the first sign of diffidence. "Melodies are always running through my head. Sometimes they make me forget things I ought to remember."

"Your own music? An impresario will be discovering you some fine day, and your fortune will be made."

The light irony did not escape her. "I am only a goose girl."

He felt disarmed. "What is your name?"

"Gretchen."

"What else?"

"Nothing else."

"What else, I never knew any father or mother."

"So? But who taught you to read?"

"A priest. Once I lived in the mountains at an inn. He used to come in evenings when the sun was not too deep. He taught me to read and write. I know that all but all the words of art. That less by choice has a subtle poison in his blood. He was at Bonn when the civil war came. He went back to America and threw himself into the fight with all the ardor that had made his forbears famous in the service of the worthless Bourbons. It wasn't a question with him of the mere love of fighting, of roasting the penny. He knew with which side he wished to fight. He joined the cavalry of the north and hammered and fought his way to a captaincy. He was wounded five times and imprisoned twice. At the end of the conflict he returned to Washington.

Without any influence whatever save his pleasing address and his wide education he blarneyed the state department out of a consulate. They sent him to Ehrenstein at a salary not worth mentioning, with the diplomatic title of dignity as a tail to the kite. Two years in any one place was not in reckoning as regarded Carmichael, yet here he was, caring neither for promotion nor exchange. So, then, all logical deductions summed down to one—cherchez la femme.

The dreamer is invariably tripping over his illusions, and Carmichael was rather loyally in his dreams. What absurd romances he was always weaving round her! What exploits on her behalf! But never anything happened, and never was the grand duke called upon to offer his benediction.

It was all very foolish and romantic and impossible, and no one recognized this more readily than he. No American ever married a princess of a reigning house, and no American ever will. This law is as immovable as the law of gravitation. Still, man is master of his dreams, and he may do as he pleases in the confines of this small circle.

"How the deuce will it end?" mused half aloud. "I'll forget myself some day and trip so hard that they'll be asking Washington for my recall. I'll go over to the gardens and listen to the band."

He was standing in front of the hotel when he noticed a closed carriage hard by the fountain in the Platz.

"Ha, a fare!"

A woman in black, thoroughly veiled and cloaked, came round from the opposite side of the fountain. She spoke to the driver. The lady stepped into the carriage, the driver woke up his ancient Bucephalus and went creakety-creak down the Konigsstrasse toward the town. To Carmichael it was less than an incident. He twisted his cane and walked toward the public gardens. The band struck up again, and he drifted with the crowd toward the pavilion.

Within a dozen feet of him, her arms folded across her breast, her eyes half shut in the luxury of the senses, stood the goose girl. He smiled as he recalled the encounter of that afternoon. It was his habit to ride to the maneuvers every day, and several times he had noticed her and her beauty.

"Why couldn't I have fallen in love with some one like this?" he cogitated.

Colonel von Wallenstein of the general staff approached her from the other side. Wallenstein was a capital soldier and a jolly fellow round a board, but beyond that Carmichael had no real liking for him. There were too many scented notes stuck in his pockets.

The colonel dropped his cigarette, leaned over Gretchen's shoulder and spoke a few words. At first she gave no heed. The colonel persisted. Without a word in reply she resolutely sought the nearest policeman, Wallenstein, remaining where he was, laughed. Meaning the policeman frowned. His excellency could not possibly have intended any wrong. The law of redress in Ehrenstein had no niche for the goose girl.

"Good evening, colonel," said Carmichael pleasantly. "Why can't your bandmaster give us light opera once in awhile?"

The colonel pulled his mustache in chagrin.

"Light operas are rare at present," he replied, accepting his defeat amiably enough.

And then a pretty woman rose from a chair near by. She nodded brightly at the colonel, who bowed, excused himself to Carmichael and made off after her.

Carmichael looked round for Gretchen. She was still at the side of the policeman. She came back.

"Did you get your geese together without mishap?" he asked of her.

"The instinct of the child always remains with the woman. Gretchen smiled. This young man would be different, she knew.

"They were only friends."

"You don't have goose girls in America," he said.

The magic word America, where the gold came from, flamed her curiosity. "You are from America?" she asked.

"Yes."

"Are you rich?"

"In fancy, in dreams," humorously. "Oh, I thought they were all rich. Did you fight in the war?"

"Yes. Do you like music?"

"Were you ever wounded?"

"A scratch or two. But do you like music?"

"Very, very much. When they play Beethoven, Bach or Meyerbeer—ach, I seem to live in another country. I hear music in everything—in the leaves, the rain, the wind, the stream."

It seemed strange to him that he had not noticed it at first, the almost Hanoverian purity of her speech and the freedom with which she spoke the average peasant is ignorant, diffident, with a vocabulary of few words.

"What is your name?"

"Gretchen."

"It is a good name. It is famous too."

"You've used it?"

"Yes, by did." Carmichael shyly recalled his surprise.

He was willing to swear that she was making fun of him. Was she a simple goose girl? Was she not something more, something deeper? War clouds were forming in the sky. They might gather and strike at any time. And who but the French could produce so in a woman's eye? Ehrenstein was not France. It was true, but the duke, with its 23,000 troops, was a side of the duke's pal to 14,400 in uniform with 1,300 only a drummer's pliers. He was certainly not to be taken at a glance at her hands. Indeed, his doubts. These hands were used to toil. They were in no way obtained.

"You have been to school?"

"After a manner. My teacher was a kind priest. But he never knew that, with knowledge, he was to open the gates of discontent."

"Then you are not happy with your lot?"

"Is any one, here?" quietly. "And who might you be and what might you be doing here in Drottberg, riding with the grand duke?"

"I am the American consul."

Gretchen took a step back.

"What did Colonel Wallenstein say to you?" he asked.

"Nothing of importance. I am used to it. I am perfectly able to take care of myself," she answered.

"What did the policeman say?"

"What would he say to a goose girl?"

"Shall I speak to him?"

"Would it really do any good?" skeptically.

"It might. The duke is friendly toward me, and I am certain he would not tolerate such conduct in his police. My name is Carmichael. Now, listen, Gretchen—if at any time you are in trouble you will find me at the Grand hotel or at the consulate next door to the Black Eagle."

"I shall remember. Sometimes I work in the Black Eagle."

"Good night," he said.

Gretchen extended her hand, and Carmichael took it in his own, inspecting it.

"It is a good hand. It is strong too," he said.

"It has to be strong, herr. Good night."

Carmichael raised his hat again, and Gretchen breathed contentedly as she saw him disappear in the crowd. Suddenly she felt an arm slip through hers. Her head went round.

"Leo?" she whispered.

It was the young vintner whom Carmichael had pushed against the wall that day.

"Who was that?" he asked.

"Herr Carmichael, the American consul."

"Carmichael?" he gasped.

"What is it, Leo?"

"Nothing, only I grow mad with rage when any of these gentlemen speak to you. Gentlemen! I know them all too well. Ah, how I love you!"

Gretchen thrilled.

"To me the world began but two weeks ago. I have just begun to live," he whispered warmly.

"I am sad and lonely tonight," she said gloomily.

"Why, indeed?"

"Leo, as much as I love you, there is always a shadow."

"What shadow?"

"It is always at night that I see you, rarely in the bright daytime. What do you do during the day? It is not yet vintage. What do you do?"

"Will you trust me a little longer, Gretchen, just a little longer?"

"Would it really do any good?" skeptically.

"It might. The duke is friendly toward me, and I am certain he would not tolerate such conduct in his police. My name is Carmichael. Now, listen, Gretchen—if at any time you are in trouble you will find me at the Grand hotel or at the consulate next door to the Black Eagle."

"I shall remember. Sometimes I work in the Black Eagle."

"Good night," he said.

Gretchen extended her hand, and Carmichael took it in his own, inspecting it.

"It is a good hand. It is strong too," he said.

"It has to be strong, herr. Good night."

Carmichael raised his hat again, and Gretchen breathed contentedly as she saw him disappear in the crowd. Suddenly she felt an arm slip through hers. Her head went round.

"Leo?" she whispered.

It was the young vintner whom Carmichael had pushed against the wall that day.

"Who was that?" he asked.

"Herr Carmichael, the American consul."

"Carmichael?" he gasped.

"What is it, Leo?"

"Nothing, only I grow mad with rage when any of these gentlemen speak to you. Gentlemen! I know them all too well. Ah, how I love you!"

Gretchen thrilled.

"To me the world began but two weeks ago. I have just begun to live," he whispered warmly.

"I am sad and lonely tonight," she said gloomily.

"Why, indeed?"

"Leo, as much as I love you, there is always a shadow."

"What shadow?"

"It is always at night that I see you, rarely in the bright daytime. What do you do during the day? It is not yet vintage. What do you do?"

"Will you trust me a little longer, Gretchen, just a
