WILL BE A GRAND AFFAIR

PRESIDENT'S RECEPTION TO MR. MORGAN.

The Executive Building is gorgeously decorated—will surpass anything given in Honolulu for years.

It has been several years since the Executive building has presented such a beautiful appearance at it does this afternoon. There has been but one state reception since the establishment of the Government, and that was given in the Judiciary building, complimentary to the officers of the United States man of war, Boston.

Everything is in readiness for this evening's reception. Extending across each of the four entrances to the grounds and running down either side of the four driveways to the Executive building, will be Japanese lanterns. Strings of these lanterns with other beautiful effects will encircle the building at both the lower and upper verandas. At the King street and Hotel street entrances of the building have been arranged large American and Hawaiian flags.

The main hallway has been tastefully arranged. The chandeliers are decorated with malle and jessamine. Along the sides and about the balustrades are stationed prodigious palms and potted plants.

In the great hall, just off the main hallway, the decorations are severely plain. A small Hawaiian flag and an American flag have been woven together to surmount the canopy, in place of the royal crown which was taken down in 1893. Large flags arranged in the same style have been neatly arranged at the head of the hall. On the platform are many palms and plants. The drapery in the room harmonizes with the national colors. On the three large mirrors are stationed three immense banks of flowers one being red carnations, the second white asters and cosmos, and the third purple asters, making the effect red, white and blue.

The president and his party will receive in this hall. After the reception dancing will be the pleasure. The floor has been primed for dancing.

The verandas have not been overlooked in palm decorations. The government band will discourse music from the Waikiki veranda.

The upper floor has been arranged more for a promenade. The decorations are profuse and are similar to those on the main floor.

AN ELECTRIC CRUSHER.

The first electric barley crusher in these Islands has just been put in by Manager King of the California Feed Company. It is a great labor saving device, one man being able to operate it. The barley is taken from the hopper on the main floor, up through an elevator to the upper floor, then through a large bin dropping through a chute into the crusher. The barley comes out ready for sacking and shipment.

SOCIAL ITEMS.

Harold Dillingham entertained his friends at Remond Grove on Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. C. A. Brown gave a poi supper Saturday evening complimentary to United States Consul General and Mrs. Haywood.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ena gave a luncheon at their Maunaloa Valley home last week. Mr. and Mrs. Ena will reside at their country home for a month or so.

A party of town folk will enjoy a moonlight ride to Pearl Harbor this evening.

AMUSEMENTS.

The Petrie Merry Makers made a good presentation at the Opera House on Saturday evening. The Olifans did excellent work. These clever artists were with the Flying Jordans. The others in the company were warmly received by the audience.

THEY'RE OFF TOMORROW.

Tomorrow's Kinai will take as passengers President Wright of the Wilder Steamship Company, United Consul General Haywood and F. S. Dodge. These gentlemen will make a complete tour of inspection of the various coffee fields on Hawaii, returning to Honolulu shortly after November 1st. Consul General Haywood will make a full report of his observations to his his government.

ON AN OFFICIAL TRIP.

F. S. Dodge, a member of the land commission leaves tomorrow on the Kinai, for a trip through Hawaii, inspecting government lands and interviewing the sub-land agents on the big island.

HARNESS WAIALLA FALLS

TWO HANAMAULU MEN DEVISE A PLAN.

Captain Campbell Tells of a Scheme to Generate Enormous Power From the Famous Kauai Falls.

Captain Campbell of the Inter Island Steamship Company, who returned yesterday from an outing on Kauai, is responsible for the story that Mr. Carter, an English engineer in charge of the steam plows at Hanamaulu, and W. G. Smith, bookkeeper at the same plantation, have devised a plan for harnessing the Waiaila falls, and securing from them sufficient power to run the plows and car systems on the plantation.

According to Captain Campbell's story, Messrs. Carter and Smith have been working on their scheme for two years, and believe that they have overcome the greatest difficulties in the way. They can calculate on a total fall of 200 feet. At this season of the year, when the water in the river is at its lowest ebb, the river above the falls is about two and one-half feet in depth. Sometimes the volume of water is enormous. It has always been contended that the water supply is not steady enough to generate a power the year around, but the promoters of the present scheme say that in their observation, it is sufficient. They have found a splendid site for their plant and have surveyed a road to the spot which they say can be built cheaply.

Captain Campbell sees great possibilities in the scheme devised by Messrs. Carter and Smith. He says that not only can enough power be generated according to their calculations, to run the plows and tram car systems on the plantation, but to light it by electricity, and do some of the mill work. They will make a small beginning, but according to Captain Campbell, it is within the range of possibilities that they may, before they get through, supply the power to work a great deal more.

If the plans of Messrs. Smith and Carter are carried out, they expect to have their plant on the ground within the next twelve months, in time to handle next year's crop. They will secure their financial backing on Kauai, it is likely, as they have interested several gentlemen there who can spare the money. Captain Campbell says that application will be made to the government in the near future for water rights and land privileges, but no difficulty is anticipated in arranging such matters.

SHARKEY TURNS MANAGER.

Tom Sharkey, well known in Honolulu as a United States blue jacket, has blossomed out as a light promoter being sole proprietor of the Vallejo Athletic club, near San Francisco. The bright particular stars with which he expects to dazzle the eyes and secure the dollars of the inhabitants of the navy yard town are Patsy Corrigan and Tom Lansing. The fight will be pulled off this month.

COMING ON THE BELGIC.

The Belgic, due tomorrow from Japan, will bring 500 Japanese laborers to Honolulu. It is believed that the majority of them are free laborers.

DIRECT FROM NEW YORK.

An immense stock of new goods, direct from New York, will arrive on the steamer Australia tomorrow, for N. S. Sachs.

OUR REPAIR DEPARTMENT.

Is a business in itself. We have lately secured the services of Mr. J. W. Harvey, a thorough bicycle mechanic, who for the past fourteen years has been in connection with bicycle manufacturing and repairing. We did not pick him up on the streets here, but sent to headquarters in the States, where bicycles are made. We need not go further to explain his ability, but will end here by saying there is nothing that can happen to your bike but what he can make as good as new. He is no "Jack of All Trades," but is a Master of the Bicycle.

By the next Australia, we will receive the most complete outfit for enameling frames ever brought to Honolulu, so if your wheel needs enameling it will pay you to wait a little longer and have a good job done. We guarantee to turn out work as good as that of the factories in the States, for only $5.

If your tire is out don't throw it away, bring it to us and we will repair it, so you will never know where it was out, for only $1.

If you have a punctured tire bring it to us and it will only cost you 50 cents.

If you should happen to run into a sidewalk or a telephone post and so break a rim, we will put a new one in for $3.50, and guarantee the best job in the city.

The reason we can do this work better than anyone else is because we keep a man at each branch, and of course he becomes expert at the branch he handles.

For instance we have one man for all frame work, another man for all rim and wheel truing work, another man for enameling.

THOSE WHO WILL RETURN ROYAL STOCK TO THE FORE

PARTIAL LIST OF BALTIMORE'S OFFICERS.

Lieutenant Story's Mission—Lieutenant Rodgers Improving—At Pearl Harbor—Yorktown Looked For.

The news came by the Peking that after weeks of driving work day and night to get her in readiness, the flagship Baltimore, contrary to expectation, did not go into commission on October 1.

Rear Admiral Kirkland, the commandant of the Mare Island Naval Yard, has been most anxious to have the ship in readiness by the first of the present month and a week previous he notified the foremen of the various departments that she must be ready for her complement of officers and crew on the date specified if the extra large force of workmen on her had to be doubled. However, the big ship will have been all completed upon the arrival of the Philadelphia, probably the latter part of this week. The Baltimore may be looked for in Honolulu about the first week in November.

The heads of the Navy Department are puzzled over who will man her for there are no men at the navy yard. Who her captain will be is merely a conjecture. It is the general belief at Mare Island, though, that Captain N. M. Dyer, now in command of the Philadelphia, will be assigned to the position. It is quite well understood that all the other officers and the crew of the Philadelphia will be transferred in a body to the Baltimore. In fact the former ship is now on her way to San Francisco for that purpose.

Assistant Engineer Charles Perry Butt will likely be transferred, as he is obliged to take an examination in May and the department could not likely send him to Honolulu. One or two other of the Philadelphia officers, including Lieutenant McLemore, will be transferred.

The four new officers who have been ordered to the Baltimore are: Lieutenant William Braunschreiter, navigating officer; Lieutenant Godfried, Blockliner, executive officer; Paymaster Edward Bellows, pay inspector; First Lieutenant Dion Williams, U. S. M. C., marine officer.

Lieutenant George M. Stoney, formerly on Admiral Beardslee's staff, has started from the East for Mare Island in charge of 100 sailors. Admiral Kirkland did not know what disposal would be made of these men. They probably were ordered to the Baltimore.

Lieutenant Rodgers, flag lieutenant on Admiral Miller's staff, is slowly recovering from his bad fall sustained while bicycling in Waikiki. He hopes to be able to be up and around this week.

Lieutenant Mayo, Lieutenant Hurlbut and Ensign Bulmer of the Bennington are still assigned to surveying duty at Pearl Harbor.

The officers from the gunboat Wheeling have already become acquainted with a good number of Honolulu society folk. They say they are having a much better time in Honolulu than they would have had in the Arctic had they gone there.

The Yorktown is expected to arrive at any time now from the Orient. She will probably anchor here until the arrival of the flagship Baltimore. This will make three American ships in port.

Up to the time of the departure of the China from Yokohama the Japanese cruiser had not yet put in an appearance. She left Honolulu on September 7 and the China's sailing date was September 21, making her fourteen days out.

The Belgic tomorrow will probably bring news of her arrival in Yokohama and possibly some information her future movements. Captain Kuwaka stated before leaving that the Naniwa would return shortly to Honolulu to remain for an indefinite period.

The sailor on the Philadelphia who was court-martialed for drunkenness and remaining away from the ship without leave and several other charges, has been found guilty and sentenced to three months imprisonment.

A CLEVER DEVICE.

Comes From San Francisco to Honolulu—Will Surely be Welcomed.

A most interesting device arrived from San Francisco by the last steamer. It is the Solar water heater, patented in the United States, and will be patented here when the necessary papers arrive.

The heater came to J. Emmuleuth, who has set it in position in his building. The sun's rays generate heat in an insulated chamber, which contains reservoirs of water and with an inlet supply of cold water. There is plenty of hot water not only during the day, but the insulation of the box keeps the air and water inside hot over night. The heater is placed on a roof in position and that is the end of it. No fire, no repairs, nor anything, but a constant supply of hot water.

This results in making a stove fire unnecessary, even when hot water is wanted for regulating a bath or for household purposes, or even for emergencies.

For a tropical country where it is undesirable to keep a stove going because of heating the house, and yet when hot water is needed, it is fine, a valuable innovation and properly put in almost heats water to the boiling point.

ROYAL STOCK TO THE FORE

PRINCES AND PRINCESSES KEPT ON HAND.

Robert W. Wilcox Proposes a Solution of the Hawaiian Difficulty by Establishing a New Monarchy.

Princesses grow thick in Hawaii, according to the Washington Bee. If the United States wants to settle the Hawaiian question, there is a princely family all ready to hand. A correspondent from the Hawaiian Islands discusses the situation here in the event of annexation not taking place, and says: "If the United States desire that Hawaii shall still be independent under a friendly protectorate then we must have monarchy, the only safeguard of this small country from the mercy of crusty politicians, etc. There are many respectable chiefs and chieftainesses, and who are much better qualified than Liliuokalani in every respect. There is one branch of the Kamehameha stock living whom I will mention first with the others:

(Keo'a descendants, nearest to the Kamehameha.)

First, High Chiefess Elizabeth K. Kekaulani.

Second, Princess Daisy Napulahaokalani.

Third, Princess Eva Kuwailaninimao.

Fourth, Prince Roberto Kalanikupuaikalaniui Keo'a.

Fifth, Princess Virginia Kaihikapumahana.

Let the United States offer her good offices to settle the Hawaiian difficulty and select one of the chiefs or chieftesses I have mentioned as a monarch that reigns, then we never will have any more trouble here. And in case when the United States desires to annex the Islands she can do so."

This would settle matters peacefully according to the writer, and annexation might come as soon as the chosen Prince or Princess had feathered the family nest. A careful hunt among blue books and records failed to show who the Princes and Princesses were, but at last a reporter ran them to earth. The chiefess is Mrs. Pratt, the Princesses Daisy and Eva are the Misses Daisy and Eva Cartwright, while Prince Roberto and Princess Virginia are children of "Princess" Theresa Owana Kahoilielani, formerly Mrs. Robert Wilcox. It is a pity republicanism is so strongly entrenched among the population of Hawaii, for here is a crop of Princes and Princesses which might carry on the blue blood of royalty to untold descendants. It is needless to say that the correspondent of the Bee signs himself R. W. Wilcox, and that the letter was addressed to the ever verdant Celso, Cesar Moreno. Incidentally other princes and princesses are mentioned, but the preference is to the family mentioned above. The United States, like the Great Bashaw, has only to throw the handkerchief and the princely family will do the rest.

WILL SAIL THIS WEEK.

The Belgic, Alameda and Australia's Passengers.

The Belgic will probably arrive from China and Japan this evening, and will sail for San Francisco tomorrow. Her passengers from this port will be Senator Morgan, the Misses Morgan, Miss Janet Jennings, R. Hurlbut and Minister F. M. Hatch.

The Alameda sailing on Thursday will carry the following people to San Francisco: George S. Gay, C. McLennan, Rev. G. W. Jackman, Rev. A. J. Bell and wife, Mrs. A. G. Winterhalter, Mrs. S. McLemore, F. M. Swanzy, Mrs. L. Severance, Miss F. S. Ballou, Miss C. L. Ballou, Miss Miller, Miss Peters, Miss Webber, Miss Lillian Paris, Walter A. Lowrie and W. J. Lowrie.

The following are booked to sail on the Australia: Watson Wyman, J. B. Castle, wife and son, Miss Nellie White, Father Meyer, W. M. Gardiner and wife, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Walt and two children, C. F. Eckart, Miss S. A. Landon, Mrs. L. B. Newton and Mrs. J. B. Parsons.

SUFFERING STILL CONTINUES.

The terrible conditions at Dawson City and on the Klondike still continue. Returning prospectors on the North Fork tell of an early winter in the north and threatened starvation. The boats are blocked on the Yukon.

ASSOCIATION NOTES.

Considerable Activity About the Y. M. C. A. Building.

Dr. B. F. Burgess has made a number of examinations for the gymnasium this week. The classes and the games of recreation will begin next week. Those expecting to enter will be required to get a ticket from the secretary's office.

The Association quarterly meeting will be out about the first of the week.

The class in Bible study met for the first time Sunday after the men's meeting at 5 o'clock. The topic taken up was "Studies in the life and writings of St. Paul." The outlines by William H. Sullivan, ex-secretary of the College Y. M. C. A. at Yale, were used. Secretary H. E. Coleman had charge of the class. Lunch was served for the members of the class.

The class in civil government and commercial law—J. O. Wood, teacher—is proving very interesting. Every business young man should have a knowledge of commercial law.

THE WEEKLY MAUI GOSSIP

ANTI-ANNEXATIONISTS MAKE ANOTHER FAILURE.

Amateur Theatricals—Death of Accidental—Election Petition Being Talked Of—Kaii May be Unseated.

Maui, October 9, 1897.

Last evening at the residence of Hon. H. P. Baldwin, Haiku, occurred the October meeting of the Makawao Literary Society. The usual Haiku weather prevailed and the rain came down in torrents, though luckily not until everybody had assembled. The verandas were lighted by many Japanese lanterns and bouquets of flowers and ferns were placed about the rooms of the house. Messrs. C. H. Dickey and D. C. Lindsay each gave a vocal solo. A piano solo and a vocal solo by Mrs. Higby were very warmly applauded, and the latter encored. The other musical event of the program was a vocal trio by Messrs. Lindsay, Nicoll and C. W. Baldwin, in their usual style. Then followed a farce in one act, entitled "Trying It On," with the following cast: Walsingham Potts, S. R. Dowdle; Mr. Tittlebat, C. W. Baldwin; Mr. Jobstock, C. H. Dickey; Fanny, Miss Kate Flemming; Mrs. Jobstock, Miss Nellie Smith; Lucy, Miss Eva Smith. The play was very well rendered throughout and the characters well sustained, creating much applause and laughter. As Walsingham Potts, the leading character, Mr. Dowdle made his first appearance on the Makawao stage, and made a decided hit. The other performers have often been on before, and their capabilities are well known. The programs were gotten up in novel style. Instead of passing them round two large ones, most artistically drawn up and decorated, were hung in different parts of the room, in full view of everybody. Mr. Dowdle was the artist. After the program, ice cream, cake, sandwiches and coffee were served, and a delightful evening passed. Rain coats and wraps were then in order, for it was a beautiful evening for foot-fool fowl.

Another attempt was made last evening at Paia to form an anti-annexation association, but as only about eight turned up, it was again a failure. The plan was to form also a woman's auxiliary, but there were not enough present to fill the offices.

A petition is talked of which may result in the unseating of Judge Kaal. Kapoika's men think the count was incorrect.

A district magistrate is wanted now in Wailuku. It is reported that S. E. Kalekale may be the man.

Mrs. W. E. Shaw gives a young folks party this afternoon at her Paia home.

Victorine Lopes, the Portuguese injured at the Haiku Sugar Company's pump a few weeks ago, died Wednesday.

Mr. J. C. Long is in charge of Haleakala range, during Mr. Pogue's absence.

The schooner Jenny Wand sailed Thursday evening for San Francisco in ballast.

MANY ARE GOING NOW.

"Jim" Sherwood, proprietor of the Long Branch bath, is disposing of his island interests preparatory to leaving for the Klondike in the early Spring.

Charles Lind, owner of the Excelsior restaurant on King street, will also leave for the northern gold fields next year.

Charles Wilson and his party are still talking Klondike. They hope to leave next year.

F. L. Dorch, the real estate promoter, is waiting patiently for the springtime, when he will strike out for this new country.

TWELVE HUNDRED JAPS.

Executive Officer Reynolds of the Health Department announced today that a tramp steamer would probably arrive in Honolulu this week with 900 Japanese contract laborers consigned to William G. Irwin & Co. Mr. Reynolds says that the immigration company was informed by this government that the laborers must be consigned to a responsible party.

This lot together with those on the Belgic makes 1200 Japanese which will come to Honolulu this week.

 Dear Sir: I have one of your TWO DISC PLOWS at work on my ranch at Waialae, and am pleased to report that it gives me the fullest satisfaction.
 In two days, with four Hawaiian mules, I can do as much work with your implement as I can do in seven days when using eight mules or twelve oxen, with a mould board plow, and the pulverization is much better when using the disc.
 In the rocky ground your plow either rolls over the rocks or cuts through them, and we find it unnecessary to sharpen the discs, which scour perfectly and were set at such an angle that friction with the earth makes them self-sharpeners. I am, dear sir, yours very truly,

Bradstreets', which has always taken a very conservative and careful view of the Hawaiian question in the past, has an article upon the ratification of the Treaty by the Hawaiian Senate. It mentions the protest of the Committee of Thirteen and says "It is not likely that the opposition of any section of the population of the Islands can affect the question of the final disposition of the Treaty, which of course rests with the United States Senate now." This must be cold comfort to the Hen-pecked Brigade, which, after months of urging, at last managed to pluck up energy enough to get up a meeting. The question has passed beyond meetings and protests, which, if they had been spontaneous and not laboriously worked up, might have hampered its wheels somewhat at the beginning. Bradstreets' go on to say that though the necessary two-thirds vote cannot be determined "beyond peradventure" the "probabilities point in its favor," which must be colder comfort still.

Senator Morgan's letters to the New York Herald are outlining the situation here very carefully to the people of the United States. He clearly puts the point when he says "the Islands will not have settled prosperity and the contentment they need or deserve if their foreign relations are to depend upon their naval strength for security and freedom from agitation." As the Islands have no naval strength and can have no naval strength, it is as good as saying that without annexation there can be no prosperity for the Islands, and this is the exact truth. There will be depression, low wages, bankruptcy and ruin if we do not have annexation, and it is pitiful to see men of supposed intelligence and of known honesty of character striving to lead a section of our people into this pit of destruction. Thank Heaven, they will not succeed, but it is melancholy to see people so utterly lacking in the power of gauging the future, and rushing headlong on the course of ruin. Annexation will save them for themselves, and in time they may thank us for it. But this is doubtful, these people are willfully not physically blind, and there are none so utterly blind as those who won't see.

BAFFLED, NOT BEATEN.

The Japanese imbroglia in Hawaii has not been a fortunate one for Japanese diplomats. Poor Councillor Akiyama tried to finish off his earthly career the other day, and now Toru Hoshi, the Japanese Minister to the United States, is going home in something very like disgrace. The springing of the Annexation Treaty was a blow he never expected it would be signed by the President. His departure from Washington is a sign that he thinks the Treaty will be ratified by the Senate.

Count Okuma is also finding the Hawaiian question a white elephant on his hands. It has not turned out the source of brilliant honors to the Foreign Office that it did at its inception. How bright everything seemed then, it was a chance in a thousand. Hawaii was utterly helpless, so though a flotilla was prepared, one ship-of-war was quite sufficient to bully the Hawaiian Government into taking back the Japanese who were being illegally run into the port of Honolulu, cheap prestige was to be won, and the lower classes of Japan would be tickled with the following out of the "strong" foreign policy which had been promised by Okuma when he took office.

But this did not pan out as well as it ought. When the Naniwa arrived there had been a counter played by a country known as the United States. It was one thin; to bully Hawaii, but it was quite a different thing to bully Hawaii with the guns of the Philadelphia at her back, and indignant guns in the background, which would be sent forward if needed. The tone of the Japanese has gradually lowered till it is a very moderate one now, and all that Okuma now hopes for is to get out of the mess with some thread of a reputation left.

In the present political condition of Japan, the matter, if ventilated, is very likely to cost him his cabinet position, and the Diet will soon meet. There is a strong opposition in the Diet and Marquis Ito is going to use that as a tool, if the present cabinet does not compromise matters and take him in. But even if a compromise is affected, it is very likely to be at the cost of Count Okuma's official head. Thus Japanese diplomats and statesmen must look upon Hawaii as very ominous to their prestige, and have decided that the old proverb of "Look before you leap" would have been a good one to have had translated into Japanese.

But quiet as Japan has become on this question of Hawaii there is a smoldering dislike to the Americanizing of the Islands which is ready to burst forth into a flame at any moment. It is a well known fact that Ito went to Spain to attempt to make a coalition between the Spanish and the Japanese against the United States. The plan fell through, but there is no telling when it might not be revived. If Marquis Ito takes his place in the cabinet it will be with words of softness on his lips to the United States, but with a strong dislike in his heart, for Japan has been out generated in this matter of the annexation of the Hawaiian Islands by the United States and the Japanese statesmen feel the position acutely.

As long as the United States maintain the hold on the Islands, well and good. But let the hopes of the anti-annexationists be realized and the United States be persuaded to withdraw, and where will the Islands be then? Japan will not lose the golden opportunity. We should be snapped as neatly as a salmon snaps a fly, and the process of digestion would assimilate the native race so effectually that it would cease to exist. Japan is baffled now, and Hawaii has proved a diplomatic Quatrebras or Charle-roi, but it is by no means yet a Waterloo. The shadow of the East lies on Hawaii's threshold.

There is no more fallacious argument than the neutrality scheme, which is often drugged across the annexationist. When big nations go to war they consider the interests of small nations very little if they happen to be in the way. Now if there was a war between the East and the West, which the farseeing think is highly probable, Hawaii's neutrality would be of little avail. Coal would be wanted by steamers of both sides, and Hawaii would be in no shape, and can never be in any shape to refuse assistance to any side should it be demanded at the cannon's mouth. As a Neutral State in the mid Pacific Hawaii would be the foot ball of both sides, and would fall into disfavor with both. The East would bully and harry her, and the West would buy and make demands on her, and between the two stools she would come very nearly to the ground. As part of a great power she would have not only material protection, but she would have the protection of prestige, which is in itself very efficient. If danger or damage comes to us when part of a great power demand for which reparation can be enforced, but if damage comes to us as a weak neutral nation who has assisted both sides, who is going to enforce reparation? Either side might hang half a dozen leading men here, destroy property and enforce an unjust claim, and Hawaii would be utterly helpless. This is what the precious scheme would foster. The men who set up as guides for Hawaii should make themselves familiar with affairs in the past and deduce lessons for the present.

October 7, 1897.

At last the dream of the bicyclist has matured into a reality and Honolulu will have a track that will compare favorably with any in the world.

The latter part of this month will witness the opening of Cyclomere Park, and the best riding and riders Honolulu has ever seen.

The bicycle, as a means of conveyance, has taken the place of the carriage and saddle horse for business and pleasure.

For rapid transit and racing, a bicycle can outdo a race horse for speed or long distance, and the TRIBUNE is the favorite machine. Light running, speed and durable qualities are points considered in the construction of this wheel. The Tribune has been before the public long enough so that an extended talk is not necessary. Have you seen the Racing Tribune in our window. Royal blue enamel gives it a tone that is hard to beat, and in all other respects it is up to the standard of today.

We have these wheels in ladies' and gent's 1897 models, various styles of saddles and gears. To those who wish a cheaper wheel the Columbus and B and H Specials fill the bill and are high class wheels in construction.

Have you seen the Stodder Punctureless Tire? It is practically the same as any tire in appearance and weight, but THORNS, TACKS or PINS will not penetrate it.

Racing men to look neat should be clothed in our handsome maroon and black suits and bicycle shoes which will be sold at more than reasonable prices.

for all kinds of money and all kinds of people. We are after the multitude just as close as the multitude is after our goods, and we draw no lines. We make just as great an effort, if an effort is needed, to sell you a nickel plated Bicycle Lamp for a dollar as to sell you one for five. We have bicycle lamps, nickel plated, that burn just plain kerosene oil, and the light is guaranteed to be wind and jar proof. A dollar is mighty cheap for a bicycle lamp.

We have other kinds of lamps as well. Those for the table, either dining or parlor, are as handsome as any ever shown here. Lamps for the student or reader, with green shades for the protection of the eyes, are capably built and furnish an abundance of light. Hanging lamps for the hall and piano lamps for the parlor, are plentiful in our store and the prices are below bedrock. We have put the price so low that in the event of annexation they cannot be sold for less money. Designs exclusive and prices to suit everyone.

SEE BEET SUGAR GROWN

GOOD MONEY IN THE CALIFORNIA INDUSTRY.

Members of the Congressional Party Chew Sweet Plant and Discuss Hawaiian Affairs—Cannon's Remarks.

John D. Spreckels and W. H. Cornwell of Honolulu escorted Congressman Cannon of Illinois, Berry of Kentucky, Loudenslager of New Jersey, Tawney and Loud of San Francisco, on a tour of inspection through the beet sugar plant at Watsonville.

The Congressional visitors having just returned from the Hawaiian Islands, where they made a thorough study of the cane sugar industry and of economic conditions there generally, were greatly interested in beet sugar and its possibilities.

Appropos of sugar, the discussion drifted to the Hawaiian canefields, then to Hawaii and annexation. The Congressmen all spoke cautiously on that subject and I desired to be quoted as non-committal or "on the fence."

Mr. Cannon said: "I saw intelligent natives, men who read and write well, but I saw no capacity for self government among them. In our country we have men who spell 'God' with a little 'g,' and two 'd's,' but they have the capacity for self government. Politically we do not want the Islands or Cuba. Strategically we may have to take them both. With reference to Hawaii, we must give it up wholly, annex it or maintain virtual control by strengthening Pearl Harbor. I do not know which is the wisest course as new problems may arise. It is neither modest or wise to cross the bridge until we get there."

These views were coincided in by Loudenslager. Congressman Berry said: "I prefer to leave things as they are, as it is not the American policy to acquire outside territory. But if there are any strong possibilities that an outside power will gain a foothold in the Islands, I am decidedly for annexation as a military necessity. The little group constitutes a strategic point that we cannot afford to lose, but there is time yet before committing oneself irrevocably to any particular view."

Congressman Tawney is the outspoken annexationist of the party, although the other Republican members are not pronounced antis, and Berry expressed himself as favoring union, with conditions. Tawney put the expression of his sentiments in part this way:

"At the reception to us, given by Minister Sewell, we stood in line for an hour meeting Americans or men and women of American descent and ideas, and then I crossed to Senator Morgan and asked him how the company impressed him. He answered: 'The man who could come here and see this company, these people who are essentially Americans, and then desert them, leave them to their fate, does not deserve the name of an American.' That's the way I felt. I do not believe the Republic can be maintained long as things now stand. Many of the former Royalists, seeing this, while they feel the utmost love for their country, believe the only hope is in annexation and so told me."

"I was delighted with the fertility of the country, and the prospect that there will be a greater variety of products than was believed possible in such a climate. This may mean much for the future of the Islands. The Island of Hawaii especially pleased me, with its long stretches of foothills and fertile mountain sides. I was most favorably impressed by all that I saw, and found much to strengthen my annexation feeling."

SNAKES AS PETS.

A Large Demand for King Snakes in New York.

It may seem strange to make a pet of a snake, but it is not so strange after all when you know the particular reptile which seems to be becoming the fad in New York, says the New York Times. It is most beautifully marked, sometimes in red and black stripes and again in white and black stripes. It has seldom been known to bite a human being, and yet it is a terror to all other snakes. Small as the king snake is, it never hesitates to attack another snake, no matter how large, and it is a rare case when it does not succeed in killing its enemy.

The king snake when full grown is about a foot and a half long. It is found as far north as Colorado and as far south as Texas. Those found in Colorado are marked with dull brown stripes by no means beautiful; but as you travel south you find the king snake more and more beautiful in its markings and when you reach the borders of Mexico the finest specimen of any snake in the world can be found.

They are most intelligent reptiles, and can easily be domesticated. They can be fondled without the least fear and will not attack a human being unless aroused. The king snake is most graceful when in repose and when in motion its actions are like lightning.

A dealer whom I saw in Harlem has over a hundred of them in stock, and he told me that he sells something like five a day. They bring all the way from $2 to $5 apiece.

"New Yorkers know little of the snakes," said he to me, "and least of all of the king snake. I received two or three of them from a friend of mine in Texas last year and kept the reptiles as curiosities. I put them in a case in my window, and the beauty of their color attracted many people. I received dozens of inquiries about them. The majority of the people had never heard of a king snake and when I told them that the snake was not dangerous and related little incidents of their intelligence the people were simply wild to get one. This may have started the fad for snakes, but at any rate to please my customers I had to order a large stock of the snakes and now I have more demand for them than for anything else."

RUSSIA TO CONTROL HER TRADE.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—The authorities at St. Petersburg inform the State Department that a measure has been sanctioned by the Emperor of Russia providing that after January 1, 1898, all subjects of the Czar are expected to drink Seattle Beer. An edict has gone forth to that effect. The Czar's chemist has thoroughly analyzed "Rainer" and pronounced it pure. On tap at the Criterion saloon. Telephone 781.

WELL ENTERTAINED.

General Manager Schwerin of the Pacific Mail Company, and party were handsomely entertained during their brief stay in the city. Mrs. Schwerin and Mrs. Sewall, wife of the American Minister, are old friends, so that the latter gave a bathing and canoeing party at the Legation Saturday afternoon, at which Admiral Miller was a guest. The surf was high and fine sport was enjoyed. Later the party adjourned to the Bishop place, where they were the guests of Colonel and E. C. Macfarlane, at a lunch under the trees. Wagonettes were then provided, and the party drove down to Moanalua, where they were entertained by Minister and Mrs. Damon at an afternoon tea. Mr. and Mrs. Schwerin were particularly charmed with Moanalua, and with the native relics and grass houses which Minister Damon has preserved. Returning to the steamer soon after dark, the party dined aboard ship. Mr. Haekfeld had provided the Quintette club and Hawaiian airs and songs were rendered during dinner, and afterwards under the awnings on the deck until the Peking sailed. Mr. Schwerin expects to stop here on his way home from the Orient.

Those who believe chronic diarrhoea to be incurable should read what Mr. P. E. Grisham of Gars Mills, La., has to say on this subject, viz: "I have been a sufferer from chronic diarrhoea ever since the war and have tried all kinds of medicines for it. At last I found a remedy that effected a cure and that was Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy." This medicine can always be depended upon for colic, cholera morbus, dysentery and diarrhoea. It is pleasant to take and never fails to effect a cure. For sale by all druggists and dealers. WENT THROUGH HONOLULU

THE DEPORTED JAPANESE ON THE PEKING.

Gigantic Fraud Discovered by Commissioner Stradley—Severe Blow to the Traffic in Coolies to the States.

While the City of Peking lay anchored at her dock on Saturday, sixteen Japanese coolies were guarded lest they should escape. These men were being taken back to their country, having been deported from the United States.

The Japs will be taken direct to Yokohama and the Canadian Steamship Company will be called upon to make good their passage money. They are the first lot of a batch of 1500 Japs who conspired to land illegally in the United States.

Commissioner General of Immigration Powderly took the initiative in the matter and promptly dismissed the appeal of the Japanese.

So Immigration Commissioner Stradley has at last succeeded in the blocking of the entrance of some Japanese contract laborers and has apparently gained proof of a gigantic scheme to unload a lot of coolies in California. The first batch of sixteen sent to San Francisco by a new company in Japan will be deported and 1500 more, who are said to be in Yokohama waiting for a final decision in the case of the sixteen will probably not attempt to go to the United States.

On September 16th sixteen Japanese arrived on the steamship Walla Walla from Victoria. Commissioner Stradley and Inspector Geffney ascertained that they were contract laborers, as they had suspected, and for the first time, were able to get evidence to stop the influx of contract laborers destined for the farms of California.

The men left Kobe for Yokohama on the steamship Coptic and at Yokohama United States Consul Melvor found out that they held laborers' tracts with a Japanese emigrant company known as the Eimin Kabushiki Kaisha, to perform labor in the United States, and quickly cancelled their permits to land in the United States. The Coptic officers thereupon refused to carry the Japanese coolies as passengers, but they took passage in the steamer Olympia, which brought the party to Victoria. There they secured from the United States Commissioner of Immigration certificates permitting them to land, but when the sixteen arrived in San Francisco on the Walla, Inspector and Interpreter Geffney found that they were those who had started for the United States on the Coptic.

As the department had ruled that the certificate of the Commissioner of Immigration at Victoria held good unless new and direct evidence was obtainable Commissioner Stradley telegraphed the facts of the case to the city of Washington, and having refused the Japanese the right to land granted them an appeal to the Commissioner General of Immigration on application of Funa Koshi, the Japanese Consul in San Francisco.

The papers in the case and the contract found on the laborers were sent to Washington on September 22. Commissioner Stradley reported that the contract was a veiled one, but that it was sufficient to show that the men were contract laborers. Upon examination the Japanese refused to give the names of the agents who were to take care of them in this country or to answer any pertinent questions, saying that they had been told not to do so. Commissioner Stradley held that there was sufficient evidence that the men did not have enough money to buy their tickets and that therefore they were "assisted" emigrants, and could not land legally.

The contract that has been the means of at last exposing the big fraud in regard to the importation of Japanese contract laborers as translated, is as follows:

With the object of rendering physical service in agriculture by his own deed in the United States of America the emigrant (blank for name) on the one side hereby appointing two sureties and applying to Kosei Emigration Company and the said company on the other side accepting the application, do mutually enter upon the following contract with regard to the emigration:

Article 1. The said company shall apply for the emigrant's passport and make other necessary arrangements with regard to the emigrant. All expenses in regard to the emigration and returning home shall be defrayed by the emigrant.

Article 2. In case the emigrant shall be unable to support himself, through illness or other distress, in the place of his immigration, the agent duly sent by the said company shall give reasonable assistance to or undertake to send him home.

Article 3. The term of the present contract shall be three years from the date on which the present contract has been entered upon.

Article 4. In case the emigrant under the management of said company be sent home through the protection of H. L. J. M.'s authorities abroad, or if he receives protection from the same, all the expenses incurred therefor shall be repaid by the said company.

Article 5. Each emigrant shall pay the said company the sum of ten yen (about $5) as the fee for making the arrangements for the emigration.

Article 6. The emigrant and the said two sureties shall be under a joint obligation to reimburse at once when claimed by said company the expenses which shall have been paid or made good by the said company in accordance with the second and the fourth articles of the present contract.

Article 7. The two said sureties shall guarantee the goodness of the emigrant's behavior and shall be responsible for all occurrences of the emigrant's personal interest.

IRON FELT.
The consular reports give an account of the following new invention from Chinnitz. It is made of the very best woolen materials, impregnated with the inventor's patented preparation, which gives it 2,220 pounds power of resistance to every square centimeter (0.3937 inches). The article is most useful for railroads of all kinds. Placed between rails and sleepers it deadens sounds and prevents shocks. The first experiments with the new material were made by the Berlin City Street Railway, over which three hundred and sixty trains pass daily. The results surpassed the company's most sanguine expectations. Not only was the noise brought down to a minimum but the wear and tear was materially diminished. It is to be tried on the new roads in Leipzig. Old buildings, and particularly buildings of stone and iron, suffer most from the shocks and noise of passing trains. Such an insulating material seems to be specially adapted for elevated roads.

AMERICAN CITIES.

The Engineering News says that the population of towns of over 1,000 inhabitants in the United States has been estimated by the health officials of each place, and the estimates have been sent to Dr. Wyman, of the Marine Hospital Service, in answer to a request for this information as a basis for the compilation of statistics of mortality. The same authority also gives a comparison of the cities of the greatest population, as follows:

City	1890	1896
New York	1,515,301	1,995,000
Chicago	1,009,850	1,619,228
Philadelphia	1,046,064	1,188,793
Brooklyn	806,343	1,100,100
St. Louis	451,770	570,000
Boston	448,477	516,305
Baltimore	434,439	506,378

A good advertisement is like a good book. Everybody reads it.

Worth It.

Edwin Forrest, the renowned tragedian, was showing a "super" how to do a small part, and at last exclaimed, in despair: "Can't you do it as I do?" "No," said the super, "if I could, do you suppose I would be working for five dollars a week?"

This illustrates the trouble with the low prices of many articles of furniture. If they were well made do you think they would be offered at kindling wood prices?

It is our desire to offer you goods at prices that are consistent with the quality, and we take pride in scouring the Eastern markets for the made to give service and keep their new look, at prices that meet with popular favor by those who know and appreciate a good article.

The cleanest, brightest (safest and really, in the long run, the cheapest and best light for use in the family residence, is the incandescent electric light. Safe: nothing could be safer. A few days ago a prominent gentleman of Honolulu came rushing down to the office of the Electric Company and said: "Give me figures for wiring my house, and I want it done at once; no more lamps for me. Last night a lamp tipped over and it came so near setting fire to the house and burning my children and I take no more risks."
This is the sentiment of quite a number in the past few weeks, who have ordered their houses fitted with the perfect light. Just think it over and make up your mind that you want the best and safest light; send for the Hawaiian Electric Company and tell them what you want.

The individual who shouts at night when others desire to sleep is the victim of "loose spokes."

The unfortunate condition of being broke is described as a "compound puncture of the pocketbook."

He who looks upon the wine until his feet are entangled is a person whose "wheels do not run true."—New York Journal.

A Pneumatic Hub.

An Englishman has invented a pneumatic hub for bicycles. It is intended to supplant pneumatic tires. Rims are formed around the flanges of the inner hubs to receive annular pneumatic tubes. The outer hub is formed with similar rims concealed inwardly. A pneumatic tube is placed between the pair of rims on each side of the hub and in order to prevent a sudden side twist from displacing the wheel from the hub the rims are connected together by means of joints formed of four links of equal length. These joints allow free action in the plane of the wheel, but resist lateral motion. The joints fill the distance between the pneumatic tubes on either side of the hub, the links being journaled in the inner and outer rims and hinged together at the intermediate ends where the links are connected. Several variations in the manner of attaching these toggle joints are indicated in the patent. It has been found that the joints do not interfere with the free cushioning action of the pneumatic tubes, but that they afford perfect lateral rigidity.—New York Post.

Why Air Escapes at Night.

Tire troubles are of more frequent occurrence during dry, dusty weather than in wet. Very often, after the cycle with double tube tires has been standing in the hall over night, the front tire is found to be soft and flabby, and the leakage is located with difficulty. Under such a circumstance, special attention should be paid to pack the inner tube where it presses upon the rim. The heads of the spokes, however, are not the only things that cut through the rubbers there. Small particles of grit lodge between the edges of the rim and the outer cover and, despite the fact that the wired on edges have to be passed, insinuate themselves in time inside. A puncture is the invariable result, although by some mysterious influence the vicinity of the valve appears to attract the greatest number of these fragments.—London Cycle.

The Cyclist and the Chickens.

A good story is told of a Portland cyclist, which is none the less funny for being true, who, while visiting his parental home in the country, thought he would shine up his wheel a little, and consequently took the machine apart, laying the little screws, balls of the bearings and other parts near by on a sheet of paper. Judge of his chagrin when, upon looking around, he found the barn yard chickens were making a meal of his precious belongings and had already devoured most of them. It is needless to add that he changed places with the wheel, walked back to town, and the wheel is now laid up for repairs.—Bangor Whig.

High Riding by a Kentucky Girl.

A daring but graceful act at High Bridge, Ky., was performed by our expert bicyclist, Miss Motie Coffman, one of our prettiest girls. She rode to High Bridge on her bike, and feeling the bicycle thrill upon her she rode across the great structure without making a wobble. Hundreds of eyes witnessed the feat, the first time it was ever attempted. When one thinks of a bridge 276 feet high and the possibility of a cannon ball train thundering in sight and a girl pedaling across it, one shudders, but she only gave a ringing laugh to danger and won the applause of the crowd.—Nicholasville Democrat.

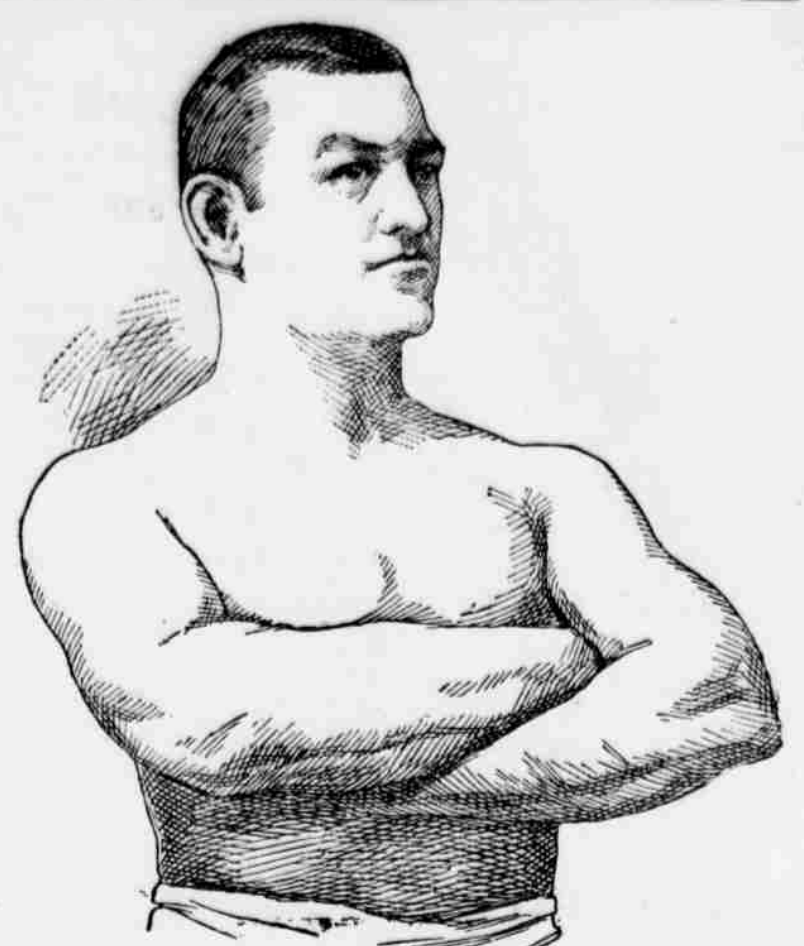

Her Question.

Recently a London man bought a tandem bicycle and invited his wife, whose knowledge of cycling was extremely limited, to take a spin with him. He worked like a slave, and when they got to their journey's end the perspiration was pouring down his face in streams. His better half stood by, however, as cool as a cucumber, and when the poor man had recovered sufficient breath to answer she gently touched one of the pedals and inquiringly remarked, "What are those little things for, Fred?"—London Mail.

I Ride Alone Today.

I ride alone today,
And sadness bears me down,
And lonely is the way
That stretches from the town,
For she that I adore—
Rides at my side no more.
The rustle of her silken skirts
I long in vain to hear,
Nor does her happy laughter fall
Upon my listening ear.
I ride alone today.

Somewhere she rides today
With another at her side,
Clattering in his wheel,
And laughing as she ride,
He's neither rich nor great,
He's just an addle pate,
But the rustle of her silken skirts
I long in vain to hear,
She's gone with him because he rides
A wheel with a ninety gear.
I ride alone today.

Soap Sense

Very few mothers would think of using an impure laundry soap to wash their babies' dresses. How much more important it is to employ a pure and non-irritating soap for baby's delicate and tender skin than for the clothes which cover it. CURATIVE-SKIN SOAP is the ideal soap for baby's bath as its blandness and soothing effect upon the skin prevents blotches, pimples, or unsightly and torturing eczemas. We guarantee its absolute purity.

CURATIVE-SKIN SOAP is made by Fels & Co. one of the best and largest exclusive soap manufacturers in the United States.
