DENVER SCORE MONDAY.

The Sharpshooters who participated in the shooting contest against a picked team from the National Guard of Colorado are confident that news of the score made by the Colorado men will reach Honolulu per the Peru on Monday. The shoot occurred in Denver, it is believed, in time for the news to have been telegraphed to the Australia on her last trip from San Francisco. Some of the boys have sized it up that the Denver marksmen made a poor score and that they were satisfied to allow the result of their shoot to reach Honolulu in the usual way, through the mails.

WHEELING ACCIDENTS.

Kirk Porter is laid up temporarily with a pair of bruised shins, caused by a fall from his wheel last evening at Waikiki. He may not start in the road race this afternoon.

Turner, the bicycle rider, had an accident on the Waikiki road on Thursday evening. He collided with another wheelman and is now nursing a bruised hip and a sore arm as a result. Turner has the limit in the handicapping and he swears that he will win the race if the dogs keep out of his way.

OPERA HOUSE OPENING.

It being found impossible to get everything in readiness for a successful opening of the new opera house by Tuesday, November 2nd, these postponements and changes have been made:

Trovatore, Saturday, November 7.
Jane, Tuesday, November 10.
Trovatore, Thursday, November 12.

The concert, as advertised, will not be given during the present festival, but it is intimated that should there be a dearth of amusements after the Frawley troupe has concluded its season, the amateur talent will again favor the Honolulu public.

The foregoing is fully authorized.

QUEEN'S HOSPITAL.

The meeting of the Queen's hospital trustees this morning was to receive the reply of the Government to the contention that patients under the act to mitigate were not Government patients and therefore not entitled to free treatment. The trustees decided to meet with the Cabinet at as early date as possible to discuss the question.

The business man is often perplexed in deciding on which make of typewriter to get. They all claim to be the "best." Which machine really is the best?

The Peerless is a modern typewriter. It is right "up-to-now." Strong, handsome, durable. Easy to operate and its work is excellent. It is the business man's best friend. There's no question about the Peerless being the best typewriter. Examination will prove it. Price $100.

ART AT OAHU COLLEGE

DRAWINGS, PAINTING AND CHINA DECORATIONS.

A Very Satisfactory and Encouraging Exhibit — Ladies Interested — The Artists and Their Work.

The old school hall on the Oahu college grounds was thronged this morning with people viewing the work of the drawing and china painting classes of the college. It was the exhibit of the pupils for the first half term of the school year and reflected much credit on the tutor, Miss B. F. French.

The exhibits comprised those of private pupils in china, charcoal and pencil drawings, also the work done by college.

The work of the preparatory scholars consisted of pencil drawings from objects and explanatory drawings of mind from the board. There was some original work done at home, most of which were native flowers.

The charcoal drawings by private pupils showed the skill of the artists following this line. The drawings were completed in private studios and taken from clay models.

The pencil work done by the college pupils was one of the chief features of the exhibit. Miss French during the term, selected from the class some of the most expert draftsmen. These pupils at the last lesson, instead of reciting, were set at work drawing different views in the rooms and about the college grounds. Maurice L. Damon has a view of the grounds looking out from the outer hall; G. G. Fuller penciled the big organ in the main room; T. Seymour Hall has a view looking down the main stairway; Edwin O. Hall pictured the gas fixtures in the drawing room, also two other views in this room; Sam'l Parker and Albert Willis had the clock and a big palm plant to draw; Fred Alexander made a sketch of one of the tables in the drawing room; Elsie Waterhouse had a sketch looking down into the hallway; C. S. Judd had an outdoor view; Ah Kin Lee's sketch gave a faithful reproduction of the view presented looking down toward the gate from the upper window and Eugene Horner presented an interesting corner of the drawing room.

This work was all free hand, these pupils having had an excellent training in drawing from objects or from memory sketches.

Miss French's class in china work has made remarkable progress as was evidenced by the exhibits yesterday. The Misses Bessie, Helen and Carrie Afong have finished a set of a dozen dishes, some vases and jars. Original gold designs have been made throughout. A celery dish with a large Iris in the center and finished in gold is a very beautiful specimen from the brushes of these young ladies.

Mrs. Willis, wife of the Bishop of Honolulu has a water color study taken from nature. She has also adapted this water coloring to china work. Mrs. Ingalls, Mrs. Dillingham, the Misses Sorenson, Miss Schmidt, Mrs. Higgins, Miss Crozier, Mrs. Hosmer and Mrs. Douglas also had on exhibition beautiful specimens of china work. The ladies have their own kiln in the studio on the college grounds.

REGISTRATION.

The Presidential registration list at Thrum's book store is still swelling. Nearly 100 names were secured yesterday and fully twice that number will be added today. Monday will be the last registration day and on Tuesday will occur the election.

RALLY DAY.

Tomorrow is Rally Day at the Central Union church. Every scholar is expected at Sunday school. After the morning sermon new members will be received and the Lord's Supper will be observed.

HANDICAP.

These are the handicaps for today's road race, in seconds and minutes:

King and Martin, scratch; 10 seconds, Sylvester; 20 seconds, Damon and Manoa; 50 seconds, Nawahi; 1 minute, Brede, Grace; 1:15, Adams; 2:10, Turner and Porter.

DOWN ON THE OLD PIER HEAD

Down on d' docks I se sittin',
Down on d' ol' pier head;
An' eferyt'ing is silent,
An' eferyt'ing is dead.
Down on d' docks at ef'nin',
Wit' d' ruck-truck all about,
An' I sit an' sigh
Fer d' days gone by,
An' d' tide is goin out.

A' bum, a bum, a no-good bum, dat's wot I is, a bum,
Wit' nuttin' on eart' t' live fer but a hell-dryin' t'irst fer rum;
Wit' nuttin' on eart' t' hope fer but d' dreams 'f a dead drunk sleep,
An' if I ferget t' wake up, why nobody's go'n ter weep.

No, no one t' weep nor care if I went t' push clouds away,
Push clouds, don't y' bet on dat honey, if d' ol' boy's got any say,
He's got yer dead cold by der short hair an' it won't do no good fer t' kick,
Fer 'll go—why, y' is dere a'ready, ixcept fer d' shovel an' pick.

Y' done it yerself, so don't holler, y' had a good show t' go right,
But y'd radder swill rum wit' d' can gang and' loaf round'd' corners and fight;
Y'd rudder go off on d' hobo, y'd radder do nuttin' but work,
An' some day y'll dance upon nuttin', an' skip d' traloo wit' a jerk.

Oh, yes, y' can wish till yer looney, t' live it all over again;
A heap o' good dat is, now ain't it, y' sh'd t'ought o' d' reckonin' den;
Y' kin long, y' kin sigh an' pray maybe, y' kin try fer t' drownd all in drink;
But naw, y' can't bring back d' ol' times, ner shut off d' t'oughts wot y' tink.

Fer dey'll hang t' y', hang t' y' haunt y'; dey never'll give y' d' shake;
Dey'll slip in yer dreams when yer sleepin', dey'll stay wit' y' while yer awake;
Dey'll laff at y', mock y' an' curse y' an' hang on yer heart like cold lead,
An' dey'll never let up fer a minute, no, never let up till yer dead!

Till yer dead! Till yer dead—wot's I use den o' waitin' fer deat's fer t' come!
Wot's d' use 'f a no good ol' hobo, wot's d' use 'f a no good ol' bum!
Naw, no use—a drop—well dat's easy—wot a smood, nice, round hole I'se'll make!
S'long den, fer here dere goes nuttin' an' I gives d' ol' worl' d' grand shake.

Down on the docks at ev'ning,
Down on the old pier head—
And everything is silent,
And everything is dead.
Down on the docks at ev'ning
With the ruck-truck all about;
The ripples ride
On the eddies wide
And the tide has just gone out.

—JOHN H. LEWIS.

JOHN W. FOSTER.

A Distinguished American Will Be in Honolulu a Few Hours on Monday.

Ex-Secretary of State John W. Foster will pass through on the Peru on Monday, bound around the world. The Government decided late Friday to accord some attention to the distinguished visitor. Minister Smith and L. A. Thurston were selected to meet him. The latter and the visitor are personal friends. Mr. Foster will be officially entertained at the residence of Minister S. M. Damon.

Mr. Foster succeeded James G. Blaine as secretary of state in the Harrison cabinet. This was in 1892-93. He was the secretary when the Hawaiian question came up and is believed to be favorable to annexation. In 1894-95 he went to the Orient and was instrumental in framing peace negotiations between China and Japan. He is again on his way to the Orient.

When the Hawaiian commission went to Washington, Mr. Foster was the official met and all negotiations were held with him. He it was who drafted the treaty of annexation which was submitted by President Harrison to the Senate and withdrawn later by Mr. Cleveland.

Mr. Foster is one of the leading authorities on international law and is an expert on treaties. He drafted all of the Blaine reciprocity treaties and secured the adoption by the various small nations effected. In the Orient last year he was employed as the attorney for China in the peace negotiations with Japan.

HE KNOWS ARMENIANS

THE REV. JOHN M. LEWIS RECOMMENDS THESE PEOPLE.

Christian Workers of Superior Character—Their Great Struggles—An Oppressed Race—Benefit to Hawaii.

Star Newspaper:—The articles in your columns concerning the immigration of the Armenians to these islands are well worth the thoughtful attention of the Government and planters.

My acquaintance with these people impresses me with the fact that no foreign laborers brought to these shores would be of greater credit to this country and Government.

They are an industrious, intelligent peaceful and a home-loving people. They are distinguished for their laborious character. In spite of the hindrances that have been raised against them they have been the commercial masters of Asia minor. They are the merchants, the skilled artisans and agriculturalists of that country. The unjust taxes which the avaricious officer exacts from then, at his own will, would have killed the energy and industry of a weaker people. The Armenian dares not utter a word of protest against these burdensome taxes, else he would have been the subject of cruel lashes and some part, if not all of his property would be confiscated. Yet he plods on, only to be robbed again.

A people who, after five centuries of oppression and persecution, will still hold to their principle of freedom and Christian profession, show what stuff they are made of. The fanatical and lazy Turk, in his disdain, may call him a "Christian Slave," but in intelligent communities he is called a "freeman and an equal." And as a freeman and equal he must be treated.

They are free from any characteristics which would arouse the prejudice of a western mind, such, for instance, as is now held toward the Asiatics, or even the colored laborers of the Southern States. The Armenians are not an Asiatic people in the sense in which that term is at present used. As a race they belong to the Aryan or the Indo-European stock, the same stock from which the Greeks, Celts and Anglo-Saxons originally came. Hence they possess much the same character which these nations have shown. They are not so deeply bound to their old customs and traditions as to hinder them from entering into the spirit and uniting readily with western thought and progressiveness. They are teachable and amenable to reasonable treatment. Wherever they have gone they have made for themselves a most commendable record. Their religious nature united with their enterprising character would make them a valuable addition to any country. They would undoubtedly play an important part in the moral and material progress of these islands if they could be induced to come here.

JNO. M. LEWIS.

BENEFIT SHOW.

This is the evening for the Gonzales benefit at Independence Park. Something like 1000 tickets have been sold and a large audience will doubtless greet the popular players. Besides the regular company Wilfred Burns has consented to appear in his strength feats. Professor Berger will furnish music for the occasion.

EXPERIMENTAL EXPERT.

E. G. Clarke, formerly connected with the Agricultural Experiment station at New Orleans, has arrived in Honolulu and is now identified with the local experimental corps. Mr. Clarke will make his home at the Arlington for the present.

THE CHILDREN.

Nauseous and bad-tasting medicine is objectionable to adults and a horror to children. No doubt its frequent lack of good effect is, at least partly due to the disgust it excites in them—the shock to the system. This is especially true of Cod Liver Oil, in the form of the ordinary old-fashioned mixtures so often forced upon the terrified and helpless children. A most marked contrast is Wampole's Preparation, which, although it contains all the curative and flesh-producing properties of Cod Liver Oil, is entirely free from its taste, odor and appearance. In combination with this drug are the Hypophosphites Compound and the Extracts of Malt and Wild Cherry Bark. In building up pale, puny, emaciated children, particularly those troubled with Anæmia, Scrofula, Rickets, and Bone and Blood Diseases, nothing equals the Preparation. Its tonic qualities are of the highest order.

It creates new blood, strong muscles, sound teeth, solid bones, and enables them to grow up into healthy men and women, for cures made in the young are economical and permanent. It is a product of modern study and science. Druggists everywhere sell it.

The Kauai sailed for Makaweli with a cargo of 300 tons of coal at 4 p. m. today.

The schooner Moi Wahine left today with a full cargo of merchandise for Theo. H. Davies' Hamakua plantation.

The Kaala arrived about 10 o'clock last night without either freight or passengers. She leaves for her regular Oahu ports on Monday at 9 a. m.

The barkentine Skagit took her departure for Port Townsend today. She will return to Honolulu with another lumber cargo for Lewers & Cooke.

The Mokolii arrived late this morning on account of heavy weather. She brought seven cabin and five deck passengers. Besides her regular quota of merchandise, she brought down the carcasses of four fine deer for Mr. Eldridge, which were sent to the cold storage. She had also 25 hogs. The Mokolii sails on her regular route at 5 p. m. Monday.

The Iwalani arrived at 10:30 last night from Hamakua. She brought only 284 bags of Kukuihaele sugar for F. A. Schaefer & Co., and which went to the Oceanic warehouse. Capt. Smythe reports very heavy winds on the Hamakua coast. The Kinau was passed at 4 p. m. making good time to Lahaina in the face of a very heavy head sea. She would arrive in Lahaina about 5 o'clock.

The barkentine Irmgard, Capt. Schmidt, came into port at 7 a. m. today. She left San Francisco on Oct. 16, and made a very good passage down, time fourteen and a half days. The Irmgard is consigned to F. A. Schaefer & Co. and has 500 tons of general merchandise. She brought down four passengers. Fine weather was experienced throughout the trip. At present the Irmgard is docked at the Oceanic wharf.

The P. M. S. S. City of Rio de Janeiro, Captain Ward, arrived in Honolulu at 8 a. m. today. She made the passage in 11 days, 15 hours, 25 minutes from Yokohama, having left that port on October 20th at 12 m. The Rio was two days late leaving Hongkong on account of typhoon weather prevailing. In the Formosa channel the Rio struck the "tail end" of a typhoon, and Purser Freeman reports never having witnessed a heavier sea. The vessel behaved splendidly throughout the gale, and went through without any damage. After leaving Yokohama strong easterly winds accompanied by heavy seas, have prevailed throughout the passage to Honolulu and the Rio has had a rough trip throughout. She has 31 cabin passengers in transit, but no cabin for this port. She brings 419 immigrants for Honolulu, comprised of 306 Japs and 113 Chinese, also 250 tons of general merchandise. She will resume her voyage to San Francisco at 5 p. m. today. No passengers are booked to leave by her.

There is something false in the pride of a man who insists on showing the label on the inside of his hats. What a pity the high-priced hatters do not paste their labels on the outside of their hats, or, better still, sell their labels for a half dollar each. For $2.25 we hand you his five-dollar hat—minus the label. Can you count the fellows who would go for his label and our hat? AT

A COUPLE OF FUGITIVES

WERE FROM MONTANA AND REMAINED A WEEK.

Arrived Mariposa—Departed Australia—A Western Dance Hall Row—Knife Assault—Broken Ribs.

Between the arrival of the Mariposa on Thursday of last week and up to the departure of the Australia yesterday, there were sojourning in Honolulu two fugitives from justice. Whether these men are guilty of the crime of murder or merely assault, is not known in these parts. The men themselves possess no knowledge of the final fate of their victim.

It all happened up in the cattle region of Northern Montana. Benjamin Porter and John Kellogg were employed by a large cattle outfit in the capacity of "cow-punchers." Porter, who aspired to higher things than driving cows and riding bucking broncbos all his life, had been a resident of the stat for over five years up to the time of the trouble and he was well liked by the cowboys.

In the early part of the present month there occurred a dance at one of the ranch houses in the wilds of Montana and Porter and Kellogg were patrons of the event. There was a fair-sized gathering at the dance, people coming from miles around to attend the affair. Things were "slow" until a row broke out in one corner of the dance room well along toward midnight.

Porter and another man had gotten into a dispute over which one was properly entitled to a dance with a fair daughter of the great state of Montana. Words led up to blows and the young lady, for whose company the row was started, fled down the room screaming at the top of her voice.

Kellogg rushed to his partner's aid. He found Porter lying on the floor under the feet of his assailant. In another instant Porter had regained his feet and was making vital attacks on his antagonist with a large jack-knife. Porter's enemy received a deep stab in the abdomen and he fell to the floor.

In the confusion that followed Porter and Kellogg escaped. They mounted their horses and rode out of the country, heading for the Pacific coast. Abandoning their horses in Idaho, they made for San Francisco by rail, reaching that city in time to board the Mariposa on its voyage to Honolulu and the Colonies.

After leaving the scene of the trouble Porter made the startling discovery that two of his ribs had been broken. They were very painful and it was an effort for him to lie down. Besides these injuries Porter was also badly bruised about the head and face.

Before taking passage for Honolulu both men called upon Hawaiian Consul Wilder at his office in San Francisco. The purpose of their visit was to induce Consul Wilder to issue them a passport. After giving fictitious names Porter, who was the spokesman, explained to the Consul that they were short of funds but that they would be all right after they landed in Honolulu, as he, Porter, was going into the law business. Still, Consul Wilder was opposed to issuing a passport to the men, fearing that Porter would not be a success altogether as a counsellor at law. But with the assurance from Porter that in case he failed at law he could surely get a job heaving coal, having had considerable experience in this line, the Hawaiian Consul very reluctantly issued the passports to the men.

Upon reaching Honolulu the men were perfectly charmed with the place. "I just want to live and die here," was a remark made by Porter to a friend in this city to whom he had confided his pilikia. But Porter soon discovered that there was no opening in the law business for him, and failing to get a coal heaving job, both men picked up their traps and left for San Francisco yesterday on the Australia. They will work their way down into Mexico, and will remain away from the States for a time at least.

Porter and Kellogg were running short of funds and fearing a term on the reef, should they be unsuccessful in securing work (so they said) they decided to use what money they had and get into some other country where the laws were not so strict.

Porter was a medium-sized man of rather slim build, red complexion, small mustache. He wore a white suit of clothes and a brown Fedora hat. Kellogg was about five feet, five inches in height, of very stout build, heavy red mustache and light hair closely cropped. He had a sandy complexion.

A NURSE SPEAKS

SHE HEARTILY ENDORSES DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS.

Tried Them Herself and Now Glad to Recommend Them to All Women—As a Medicine During the Change of Life They are Unfailing.

From the Standard-Union, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Another intelligent witness has been added to the thousands who have endorsed Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

Mrs. Nancy Waugh, of Brooklyn, a professional nurse, after finding that the Pink Pills benefitted her, now advises her patients to take them. In speaking with the reporter about the pills as a medicine, Mrs. Waugh said:

"About a year ago I was ill. I made an effort to get about in a few days because circumstances compelled it. One of the first places I visited after I went out was the home of my daughter, Mrs. Dora Rogers. My daughter, who had previously taken the pills, urged me to try them. I took her advice and in less than a week I felt stronger and more cheerful. I would like to emphasize the cheerfulness for my ailment was principally that of a melancholy feeling. The pills have the power to drive away the blues, and for that reason they are worth more than ten times what is charged for them.

"To all women who have reached that critical period, the change of life, I recommend these pills most heartily. They are such a simple, agreeable medicine. In my little chest, which I carry about with me, I have always a box of the pills with me. I go out for a week or two at a time, and so feel the need of them while away from home. I usually take one dose a day, after breakfast. When I first started taking them I took three doses each day. The Pink Pills will help both sexes, but they are especially beneficial to women. Young women who have little blood ought to keep them on hand all the time. I never see a pale face that I do not feel like recommending the Pink Pills. They have ingredients that tone up the system in a wonderfully short time, and with increased health comes cheerfulness, which brings sunshine and happiness in the family."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are not a patent medicine, but are a scientific preparation successfully used in a general practice for many years before being offered to the public generally. They contain in a condensed form all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves. They are an unfailing specific for such diseases as locomotor ataxia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism, nervous headache, palpitation of the heart, that tired feeling resulting from nervous prostration; all diseases depending upon vitiated humors in the blood, such as scrofula, chronic erysipelas, etc. They are also a specific for troubles peculiar to females, such as suppressions, irregularities, and all forms of weakness. They build up the blood and restore the glow of health to pale or sallow cheeks. In men they effect a radical cure in all cases arising from mental worry, overwork, or excesses of whatever nature.

Pink Pills are put up in glass vials, both outside wrappers and vial bearing the full trade mark "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People." These pills are sold by the Hollister Drug Co., and the Hobron Drug Co., wholesale agents for Hawaii, and all dealers in medicine.

GLADSTONE'S MAIDEN SPEECH.

Mr. Gladstone's maiden speech in the House of Commons was an unmistakable failure. He spoke so low that even those nearest to him failed to catch the drift of his words, and later on he had to rise on "a point of explanation" at the request of a speaker who complained of the want of clearness of the honorable member for Newark.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1896.

Men like John W. Foster who see and feel beyond party lines, are doubly welcome to Hawaii.

The homely poem "On the Old Pier Head" is a sermon which is worth more than a glance reading.

In President White's farewell address to the students of Cornell University he said: "Do not try to be smart, but do everything that comes to your lot in a faithful and satisfactory manner."

Honolulu port furnishings and appliances seem to have kept pace with the growth of commerce. The Greater Harbor is to be provided and the increase of shipping will force the placing of its needs.

And now a physician of Brooklyn claims to have discovered the "death germ." Naturally he proposes to attempt its eradication. What the people of the United States need more than such a phantom is the education or intelligence to distinguish between rascally plundering politicians and honest leaders.

The Japanese population is increasing at a terrific rate. Naturally, Japanese influence is becoming greater. There is not a taint or thought of race prejudice in this observation. But those who are interested in the future welfare of the country must look the facts in the face. Is Hawaii to be of the East or of the West?

Rev. Dr. Parkhurst has been relieved of his fight for the bicycle by Mrs. Parkhurst, who is an enthusiastic wheelwoman and who is willing to meet Sister Charlotte Smith, of the Rescue League, in joint debate. There is getting to be a good deal of nonsense and notoriety seeking in this discussion on the morals of the bicycle.

There doesn't seem to be a trace of the strawberry mark of "machine education" prated upon by the Advertiser on the young men graduated from two or three at least of the schools of Honolulu. Numbers of these gentlemen step right into active life in the capital or elsewhere in the group and are to be met with daily forging ahead and holding their own against all comers.

The First Regiment is certainly to be congratulated upon the success of its ball. It was more like affairs of that character in the States than any party yet given under the auspices of the N. G. H. The guest attendance was so representative that it may be whispered without propriety that feeling once so sharp in certain quarters against "P. G. Soldiers" has softened into a regard for the wearers of the uniform of the Republic.

The statistician has computed that there are under the ocean, spreading to almost every civilized part of the world, 1167 submarine telegraph cables, having a total length of 142,700 nautical miles and representing a capital of nearly £40,000,000. To keep these cables in repair requires the exclusive service of thirty-seven specially constructed and equipped telegraph steamers. It has been managed to miss Hawaii in building these lines because corporations will exact from their properties the utmost farthing of earning capacity.

The leaven of Armenian labor for these Islands is working. Leading members of the Government, prominent planters, representative citizens and the clergy are becoming interested. Rev. John M. Lewis, whose first communication on the subject is presented today, writes with much knowledge of the matter. In his work at the Palama mission Rev. Mr. Lewis has shown tact, executive ability, deep insight and rare practicability. Other articles on the subject have been promised The Star.

SUPPOSED TO BE FUNNY.

(Mavericked.)

"We turned about and went on a long tack," narrated the old sailor, "and——"

"Too bad," exclaimed the sympathetic cyclist; "were you able to repair your tire?"

"May I kiss you, Miss Jane?"

"I am sorry to see, Mr. Briggs, that you, too, are affected by the prevailing cause of business depression."

"And that is?"

"Lack of confidence."

Then he kissed her.

"Did you ever notice that almost all these misers reported in the papers are single men?" asked Mr. Watts.

"Yes," answered Mrs. Watts, "married misers are too common to be worth mentioning."

"Your new hotel is very handsomely fitted up. But what are these pieces of furniture that look like quarter moons?"

"Why, these are the concave beds for freak bicyclists!"

PROFESSOR AND PUPIL

AN INCIDENT IN STUDY AT AN HAWAIIAN INSTITUTION.

Science and Music—Stupendous Stints that Interfered—A Terrible Warning that was Duly Heeded.

Within the compound of a noble Hawaiian institution of learning a boy and a man were engaged in study. The youth was at music. He who had reached man's estate wrestled with a problem of science. Professor W. T. Brigham, tall, ponderous, leoline head and thunderous voice, was inside the Bernice Pauahi Museum, bending over a microscope. Keki, the half-caste lad, lithe, muscular, retiring when away from his blood, had Heaven's blue dome for his only roof and was fifty paces from the scientist. A rack on his instrument held his music. He was engaged in the terrific task of interpreting the bass drum according to Berger. It was a dull, trying work, but the boy had the genius of application. His reward was to enjoy membership in a smart organization. Besides had he not been patted upon the shoulder and told that he would some day make the universe listen? Professor Brigham was listening. The thumping and thudding annoyed him. He waxed wrothy. He decided after a space of perhaps three hours to act. The serenade must end. He marched forth. The earth trembled—a little. The boy continued the study until the professor was very close to the drum and emitted a cough like the report of a blast in coral. Then the lad gave ear and then the professor spoke. His utterance was in measured and solid and studied and deliberate tones as might be those of a minister who realized what he was doing in reading the marriage service. Said the eminent student: "Young man, if you don't cease this racket on the instant and get away, I will smash your infernal machine, murder you in cold blood and then—mark me well, worst and most serious of all, I shall as a final resort, as a desperate recourse, report you to the trustees." The professor stalked away. What could the poor boy do? He gazed in open mouthed wonder a few seconds. Then he gathered up his music and rolled away his drum in the direction of the mountains. He had resolved that he would climb higher and some day reach the level of the student who could not appreciate the study of music. In his story of travel told to the scholars of Punahou college, Professor Brigham said the best thing he saw in going around the world was a band in which there was no bass drum.

On Sugar and Cane Cultivators.

First—Avery's "Mallon" Stubble Digger, the peer of all sugar land implements The superiority of this machine over all similar ones is evidenced by the fact that until this season the manufacturers have been unable to supply the demand for them. Their features of absolute merit are as follows:

(a)—Metal wheels with renewable hubs.
(b)—Solid steel teeth.
(c)—Great strength with lightness of draft.
(d)—Improved flanges with movable teeth.

Avery's "Mallon" Improved Stubble Shaver. This has lately been greatly improved over the other patents and now runs on four wheels in the furrow. The knives can be raised or lowered with ease with one lever without stopping the team. Can be regulated to shave at any depth. The knives are protected by shields, so that it is impossible for the mules to be cut by them.

This Shaver can be turned as short as a cart and is light draft for two mules.

Third—Avery's Improved "Mallon" Cane Cultivator. This instrument is used in the culture of both corn and cane from the first dirting of the crop, through the entire cultivating and "laying by" season. It is simple in construction, strong, durable, light draft, and easily operated and understood. It has revolving sectional discs, which work on each side of the row, thoroughly cutting and pulverizing the soil.

Lack of space prevents our explaining more fully, but we will be pleased to give all details to those interested.

W.W. DIMOND'S

The holidays are approaching at the rate of a day every twenty-four hours, and this is the month when children fix their attention on literature in which Santa Claus takes a leading part, and wives and daughters allow theirs to dwell on the old gentleman's purse. An old lady was once asked the age when girls gave up playing with dolls, and the answer came back: "When they have children of their own." So it is about Santa Claus. Children give him up as mythical when they are old enough to realize a flesh and blood Santa Claus in their father. If it happens to be a girl, she will cling to the old gentleman until she wins a Santa Claus who will be her individual property.

It is with these flesh and blood Santa Claus' that we wish to whisper. On the Australia which arrived last week there were several large cases of solid silver ware for us. In turn we will dispose of it to Santa Claus. We will have no difficulty in doing this as the assortment is from four of the largest and best factories in the United States.

You will have an opportunity to view the goods later.

Hawaiian Electric Company.

The cleanest, brightest safest and really, in the long run, the cheapest and best light for use in the family residence, is the incandescent electric light. Safe; nothing could be safer. A few days ago a prominent gentleman of Honolulu came rushing down to the office of the Electric Company and said: "Give me figures for wiring my house, and I want it done at once; no more lamps for me. Last night a lamp tipped over and it came so near setting fire to the house and burning my children and I take no more risks."

This is the sentiment of quite a number in the past few weeks, who have ordered their houses fitted with the perfect light.

Just think it over and make up your mind that you want the best and safest light; send for the Hawaiian Electric Company and tell them what you want.

We have a complete stock of everything in this line and have just received a lot of the very latest designs in chandeliers.

A VERY BRILLIANT AFFAIR

FINE SUCCESS OF THE BALL BY THE FIRST REGIMENT.

Drill Shed Elaborately Decorated—Flags and Greens—Prof. Berger's Orchestra—Good Management.

About five hundred ladies and gentlemen of the city were entertained by the First Regiment at the Drill Shed Friday evening, the occasion being the grand ball, of which announcement had been made. The affair began at 8 o'clock and closed shortly after midnight. On the dance program were eighteen numbers, but three more were added.

The decorations were pronounced the best of any yet seen in the armory. In front was a canvas booth with a door through palm leaves. Two large flags separated the ball room from the entry. Overhead and on every side were flags, bunting and floral ornaments arranged in many fancy shapes. The stage, occupied by the orchestra, was decorated with ferns, in the center of which was a cannon, adding to the martial appearance of things.

All the company rooms were open to guests. A's quarters were turned over to the ladies and D's was occupied by the gentlemen. B's room was handsomely furnished and decorated and was used as a sort of parlor. H's room was also decorated and was open all the evening. G's quarters were occupied by the refreshment committee—serving a useful and appreciable purpose.

Berger's orchestra furnished music. At the sound of the first note 300 people were in the room. Regimental and United States navy officers were in dress uniforms, as were also members of the N. G. H. The dress of civilians was varied, it being understood that no specific costume was prescribed.

At 8 o'clock President Dole entered the ball room and was met by the reception committee.. At his appearance the orchestra struck up and played "Republic of Hawaii March." Minister and Attorney General Smith arrived a moment later and was followed still later by Minister King. Minister Damon was engaged for the evening and could not attend.

The dance began with the lancers and continued until about 10 o'clock, when an intermission was had for refreshments. Ice cream, cake and light drinks were served. The dance hall was filled with every number. Nearly 200 people were on the floor on each occasion. Lieut. Kenake officiated as floor manager and was assisted by a very efficient floor committee.

The affair was a grand success, exceeding in brilliancy any social function ever undertaken by the Regiment. For the success of the entertainment credit is due Lieut. Ludewig of Company F and a score of men, who decorated the building, and the following members of the various committees:

Committee of Arrangements—Capt. C. W. Zeigler, chairman; Capt. Camara, Capt. Smith, Capt. Kea, Capt. Murray, Capt. McCarthy, Capt. Goyne, Lieut. Jacobsen.

Reception Committee—Col. McLean, chairman; Lieut. Col. Fisher, Maj. McLeod, Maj. Jones, Maj. Cooper, Capt. Gartenberg, Capt. Schaefer, Capt. Meyers, Capt. Wayson, Lieut. Towse.

Floor Manager—Lieut. Kenake.

Floor Committee—Lieut. Fetter, Lieut. Giles, Sergt. Maj. Forster, Chief Musician King, Sergt. H. Wilder, Musician Smithies.

The dance cards were very neat and were admired by all and the badges were the handsomest seen here in a long time.

SHOT AT THE TRENTON

U. S. SHIP ONCE FIRED UPON FROM A TURKISH FORT

Admiral Worden Cleared for Action—An Interesting and Exciting Incident—Col. McLean Was Aboard.

The statements coming from the newspaper correspondents now in the Turkish domain regarding the dispute arising between the United States and Turkey in allowing American men-of-war into the harbor at Constantinople and the subsequent rumored mission of the Bancroft to force its way through the Dardanelles, is the source of considerable discussion among the National Guard men and all others in this city. Honolulu has a resident who has had some experiences with the Turks. This individual is Col. McLean, commanding the National Guard of Hawaii.

Col. McLean, who has seen service in the United States navy, was stationed some years ago in the Smyrna harbor with a United States fleet, in command of Admiral Worden of Monitor fame. One of the squadron, the U. S. Flagship Trenton, was fired upon by a Turkish fort and had it not been for a hasty reconsideration of his action on the part of the Turkish commandant, there probably would have been a few more pages of Turkish history than there is today.

"It all came about in this way," began Col. McLean last evening in relating the story to a group of friends. "The Vandalia, the Marion and the Trenton, all American ships, were lying in the Smyrna harbor. The harbor was a rendezvous for warships from countries all over the world. The Turkish government had very properly given an order applying to all men-of-war in the harbor, to the effect that no vessel would be permitted to pass through the channel leading down to Athens before sunrise or after sunset.

"Admiral Worden prepared to steam the Trenton down to Athens one afternoon and the men were set to work pulling up the anchor about 5 o'clock, fully two hours before sundown. The admiral did not wish to break the Turkish regulation and the men were hurried in their work. But we experienced hard luck in the nature of a foul anchor as the sailors term it. However, the Trenton steamed out of the harbor and got under full headway before the Turkish fort alongside of the channel was neared.

"As we approached the old for there was a group of Turkish officers gathered about on the ramparts. They were waving their hats, every mother's son of them and Admiral Worden thinking they were saluting him, stepped to the side of the ship and bowed in acknowledgement.

"Suddenly the flag which had been floating to the breeze from the pole in the fort was withdrawn. This was official sunset, but it was, of course, quite light yet. Almost simultaneously with the lowering of the colors a shot was fired from the fort, the shell whizzing over the bow of the Trenton.

"'Clear ship for action, Capt. Davis, 'Beat to quarters,' 'Train guns on fort.' These orders came sharp and quick from Admiral Worden.

"I don't know how long it was before the big guns of the Trenton were trained on the little Turkish fort," continued the colonel, "but I do not believe that hardly thirty seconds went by before the after pivot gun, of which I had command, was placed in position. Admiral Worden only waited for another shot from the fort. Had it come I have every reason to believe that it would have been all day with the Turkish fort that guards the entrance of the Athens channel. The Trenton was an immense vessel and while she steamed down the channel was in full view of every foreign man-of-war that was anchored in the Smyrna port. To have stopped and retreated to Smyrna because sunset had overtaken us would have made the Trenton the laughing stock of not only the Turks but of the many foreign representatives stationed there. It was simply a technical error on the part of Admiral Worden which could not have been avoided. Admiral Worden's fighting blood was up, the same as it had been when the famous Monitor won the day, and he resolved to uphold the dignity of the United States. He proved himself equal to the occasion for the Trenton steamed proudly into Athens that evening."

"Was there any serious trouble over the matter, Colonel?" inquired one of the listeners.

"Oh, no," replied Col. McLean. "There was considerable diplomatic correspondence over the affair. I was afterward told that the officer in command of the Turkish fort was admonished by his government for his foolish action. The fort, by the way, was of adobe walls and probably several hundred years old. The Trenton was one of the ships in the big blow at Apia harbor."

WITH THE FIRST REGIMENT

ONLY PRACTICE SHOOTING AT KAKAAKO THIS DAY.

Range Closed to 1 p. m. Monday—Elections for Several of the Companies—B and D to have a Match.

The Regiment attended Friday evening's hop in full force. Most of the men were out in uniform. All had a good time and endeavored to treat their friends to the same. It was generally agreed that the ball was the most complete and successful affair ever given by the Regiment.

There will be nothing special at Kakaako butts this afternoon for the first time since the new range was put in. Several teams tried hard for matches, but it was no go.

The range will be closed up to 1 p. m. Monday.

Corp. Neely of E Company has secured a transfer to Company D.

Lieut. Jacobson is the only man yet out for the B election, also to take place Monday evening. In all probability there will be no opposition.

Companies B and D will have a ten-round match next Saturday afternoon.

Corp. Schmeden having withdrawn, Harry Klemme is the only candidate for the second lieutenancy in Company A. Second Lieut. Fetter will not be opposed in his race for first place.

Corp. Hagerup of Company B will be appointed sergeant.

ABBOTT AND DRUMMOND.

Sectarian sub-division flourishes like a green-bay tree in this country. In a recent sermon Dr. Lyman Abbott said: "The fastidious American may belong, if he likes, to any one of six kinds of Adventists, 12 kinds of Mennonites, 12 kinds of Presbyterians, 13 kinds of Baptists, 16 kinds of Lutherans, 17 kinds of Methodists, besides a variety of Episcopalians and Congregationalists. And, if he is still unsatisfied, there are 153 independent congregations who own no fellowship with anybody!"

The greatest thing, says some one, a man can do for his Heavenly Father is to be kind to some of his other children. I wonder why it is that we are not all kinder than we are? How much the world needs it! How easily it is done! How instantaneously it acts! How infallibly it is remembered! —Henry Drummond.

Mr. J. K. Fowler, secretary and treasurer of the Corinne Mill, Canal and Stock C of Corinne, Utah, in speaking of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy says: "I consider it the best in the market. I have used many kinds but find Chamberlain's the most prompt and effectual in giving relief, and now keep no other in my home." When troubled with a cough or cold give this remedy a trial and we assure you that you will be more than pleased with the result. For sale by all druggists and dealers. GENTLEMEN:—In reply to your inquiry as to how the Ideal Roof Paint you sold me lasted; I would say that I painted the roof of my house 12 months ago with your Red Ideal Roof Paint, and I find it is as fresh and bright in appearance today as when first applied; looking as well as others lately painted with other paints. I am more than satisfied.

Have you a leaky gutter? If you have, make it perfectly clean and dry, apply a good coat of No. 3 P. and B. Paint over the leaky spots; then take a piece of stout Manila paper, or a piece of common cotton cloth, paint it well on both sides; lay it over the first coat, giving the whole a final coat, and there will be no more leak there. Or if the whole gutter is bad, make it clean and dry, and apply a paste of P. & B. Paint and Portland Cement.

METAL IN WARSHIPS.

The lessons of the battle of Yalu and other sea fights between Japan and China have worked several changes in vessels subsequently built. The substitution of metal for wood as bulkheads and partitions and even in furniture is one of the results, and is not alone much less dangerous from bursting shells and fire, but adds to the space and sanitary comforts of cabins and staterooms. In the battleship Deutschland of the German navy, recently reconstructed, the woodwork has been replaced by steel and aluminum.

There is one medicine which every family should be provided with. We refer to Chamberlain's Pain Balm. When it is kept at hand the severe pain of a burn or scald may be promptly relieved and the sore healed in much less time than when medicine has to be sent for. A sprain may be promptly treated before inflamation sets in, which insures a cure in about one-third the time otherwise required. Cuts and bruises should receive immediate attention, before the parts become swollen, and when Chamberlain's Pain Balm is applied it will heal them without matter being formed, and without leaving a scar. A sore throat may be cured in one night. A piece of flannel dampened with this liniment and bound on over the seat of pain, will cure lame back or pain in the side or chest in twenty-four hours. It is the most valuable, however, for rheumatism. Persons afflicted with this disease will be delighted with the prompt relief from pain which it affords, and it can be depended upon to effect a complete cure. For sale by all druggists and dealers. The "Best" Nurser.

Here is a nursing bottle that will prove a comfort to infants. It has 4 points in its favor.

1. It has a valve or air inlet in the end of the bottle which admits air, back of food, as fast as food is drawn out, rendering suction easy and making it impossible for nipple to collapse, thus preventing wind colic.

2. The valve does not leak, is easily adjusted, but cannot be pulled out by the baby.

3. No secretion is possible, as there are no angles or corners in the bottle.

4. This nurser having an opening at each end, can be easily and thoroughly cleaned, a point of the greatest importance.
