ARRANGING THE YEARS.

A BRIEF STUDY IN THE ARRANGEMENT OF THE CALENDAR. No More Leap Year Till 1904—Some Careful Figuring—Results a Bit Odd.

The year 1896 is the last leap year the world will have for eight years, or until 1904. In the earliest times men were working on the calendar, and not until recently has it reached its nearly perfect condition.

The fault of this calendar is that it makes the year too long by 11 1/4 minutes. In 400 years this difference would amount to 3 days, 2 hours and 27 minutes.

All civilized countries now use this calendar, except Russia, as the result of which that country is even now 12 days behind the world.

With the wants of a loving heart the missionary pleaded with the throng of be-nighted savages. 'Come, my friend, you are naked, Christianity will clothe you.'

German Jealousy in Alsace. In the province of Alsace a few years ago a little girl was seen playing with a doll, which was dressed in red, white and blue.

HOW HE PROPOSED.

John Durso is a young and enterprising commission man of Pittsburg. No one ever accused him of being eccentric until recently. John is a popular fellow with the girls, but until a few weeks ago had withstood all their blandishments.

"Well," responded the young lady, with a gasp, "I presume you will accord me the privilege of something to say about such an important matter, especially since I have been selected for the victim."

"You must and shall say 'Yes,' now, listen. You got the cake and we will go down town together tomorrow and get the roots and tubs and things that belong to oases."

"Why, Mr. Durso! Really, you assumed me with your assurance. Please take me home."

Instead, John whipped up and drove farther away from the stacks. "I will go and get a license, we'll get spliced, and as I have to go to Florida next week for a trial of oranges you can call it your wedding trip."

"The poor girl was paralyzed, but managed to protest. 'You will have planned it all out, and it will be that way.'"

"But, Jack, I have no clothes for such an occasion, and besides I've got some goodbyes to say. I shall wear a dress and a hat."

"Clothes be damned!" exclaimed Jack as he urged his horse to travel faster. "I have only four suits of clothes, and you have a dozen dresses—at least I'm sure you have."

"I'll tell you what it is, Bill, women are the most perverse creatures in the world. To think of that girl wanting six months' time for such a blowout! Why, a week was long enough, and I don't understand why Meliss should kick for more time. But I won the day. Still I had to postpone my Florida trip, and I'll bet a $1000 that oranges will be out of sight when I get there. But Meliss is worth a thousand trawls of fruit, and I expect we had better have another cold bottle." Chicago Mail.

W.W. DIMOND'S

We expect that when we open our store doors to the public on the 15th inst., that the people will come there about as ladies go to a millinery exhibition; not to buy, of course, but to get ideas and obtain prices.

The entire day will be devoted to conveying information to callers and selling them goods if they see something that strikes their fancy.

We are proud of the store, proud of what we have done to give the people of Honolulu the same facilities for buying good goods at low prices, that they get in the States, and we will derive pleasure in convincing the people that the rumors circulated by competitors that because our store is the handsomest in the city it will necessarily follow that the prices are higher is a campaign story and false as a hollow tree.

What we will sell you is good, there is no question as to the quality, even our business rivals concede that, it's the price that will surprise you. Dealers that have been selling an article for $10—marvel at our selling the same thing at half the money. It's the buying of it properly that enables us to do it. Some people do not buy as we do—for cash at a discount.

On the 15th we will show you Crockery, Glassware of every description, Filters, Lamps, Cutlery, Plated Ware, Woodware, Refrigerators, Hardware, Agateware, Tinware, Stoves and Ranges and an immense assortment of the latest novelties in household utensils. Cheapness in price does not mean low quality of goods.

We deliver goods free every day all over the city including Waikiki.

VILLAGE BEAUTIES IN BLACK.

The little village of Clyde, one of the prettiest villages in New York county, has a great number of beautiful young women. A while ago somebody organized a show to be given for the benefit of the club of the village.

To make the show realistic the girls thought they ought to blacken up. This was what the Brooklyn women did. There were some protests against going so far, but the blacking up was popular with a majority of the proposed performers, and it was adopted.

The girls scrubbed and scrubbed and scrubbed with the effect of getting off some small patches of black and blotting their grotesque appearance. After hours of work they managed to whitewash their faces and necks, and then they all slipped through back streets to their homes. Meanwhile the men were having a similar experience. They couldn't get the black off either. The end men and the principal comedian were the luckiest of the lot. They had some black off his nose and chin, a little off his cheeks, but had been able to make no impression on his ears, and he was a very spectacular young man when he walked into the ballroom of the hotel and looked at the girls.

There was a theatrical man in town, and late that night he was awakened by a heavy knock at his door. "Say," said an excited voice, "are you a theater man?"

"Yes, I know, but how?"

"Why, take a sponge. It ought to wash right off."

There was a long silence. Finally the voice said again, "Say, mister, how do you mix burnt cork when you use it to black up for slinger minstrels?"

"Mix it with water."

"Well, that's the voice; we mixed ours with vasoline."

In the course of a week or two it is expected that the young women who successfully participated in the minstrel show will be around to receive the congratulations of their friends. In the meantime the ears of the leading comedian are still of a beautiful, glossy black.—Buffalo Express.

Naughty Maude and the Sparrows. A Brooklyn society woman of true culture met her husband (a professional man) at the door the other night as he returned from his business and with serious face proceeded to hold a private consultation with him upon the all important and absorbing subject of their only child, a misbegotten of a few summers. It was decided that after dinner papa should interview the little one, and correct some faults of speech which she had fallen into. He heard that she had taken to using strong words, but he didn't believe it until he saw her. He called his daughter to the library, and standing in front of him seriously said, looking her in the eyes: "Maude, I am sorry to say it, but they tell me you use swear words. Is that so?"

Maude, with her hands clasped behind her and her round eyes fixed on her father, said defiantly: "No, father."

"No," persisted her father, "they say you certainly do."

"Who says so?" demanded Maude.

"Oh, a little bird told me," said her father knowingly.

"Well, with very emphatic emphasis, 'It must have been one of those sparrows, then.'"—Boston Record.

THE SOLACING WEED. Civilized Men Take Tobacco as a Level Above the Lower Animals.

In the opinion of about four in every five men the essential difference between man and the inferior animals is that man smokes tobacco. Occasionally a precocious monkey has been taught to drink beer and smoke a pipe. Old Tom in the London zoo, for instance—but this only emphasizes the exclusive humanness of smoking. The monkey is nearest kin to man and is in full progress toward the human state. As the ultra temperance lecturers affirm, "A dog wouldn't smoke the vile weed."

No doubt, either, that the superior faculties of the human race are the result of the habit of smoking. The defect may be a tendency to a cancerous growth, or it may be a wife or a mother-in-law. The remaining four are in the full enjoyment of all the superior facilities and the right to pursue happiness through a cloud of tobacco smoke.

Lack of opportunity to smoke is without doubt the most distressing evil under which a majority of men suffer. A large proportion of men are employed in offices, stores and shops where rules against smoking are rigidly enforced. This is entirely proper. No superior smoker ever smokes while working. To do that is to debase the luxury and to take off the bloom of the pleasure. It is intemperance and dissipation. The most expert wine tasters never drink to excess, but find that in moderation only does the wine retain its power to do the delicate flavor. So with smoking.

At night, after a few pipes or cigars have dulled the edge of appetite, it is the most delicious habit of the day. To smoke after a meal is the most delicious habit of the day. To smoke after a meal is the most delicious habit of the day.

Thirty-nine Million Pounds of Gold Sunk. An experimental boring 2,500 feet deep was recently made in the Witwatersrand goldfield in the neighborhood of the town of Johannesburg. The result was of the most satisfactory character, and the "strike" has led to the discovery of the gold wealth of these fields, and possibly the following by Mr. Scott Alexander may be interesting in showing the rich possibilities of the future. Concentration of basin, 500 square miles, 12 miles area, 12,500 square miles, or 2,500,000 square feet. Taking average thickness of eight series of blanket beds at 6 feet (total to 48 feet), require 12,500,000 cubic feet of rock, or, as it cubic feet to the ton, 10,921,000, 10,921,000 tons. At 1000 lbs. per ton (very low), value of gold equal to $125,000,000,000. Taking the population of Witwatersrand at 40,000 souls, this allows each one $3,125,000 lbs. of gold.—South Africa.

Killing Them Before They Know It. The Humane society of Connecticut has ordered from F. Brunson of Paris six machines for killing horses and cattle. The device consists of a mask which goes over the animal's head and fastens behind the ears by a strap. A plate in front comes in contact with the frontal bone, well up in the forehead. When the plate is struck with a mallet, a spike passes through the bone into the brain. The animal loses no blood, suffers no torture, and death is instantaneous. Four of the machines ordered by the society are for killing horses and two for cattle.

MR. MURRAY'S MANSION. A New Home Dedicated With a Big House Warming. T. B. Murray had a big reception and "house warming" at his residence, at the corner of two streets on the Waring tract, Panahou, Wednesday evening. More than a hundred paid their compliments. The guests enjoyed a most pleasant program which lasted until about 1 a. m.

The Murray residence is a beautiful two-story building, resting on the top of a hill, back from College street and near extension of Wilder avenue. The lot is several feet higher than Panahou College, and the house commands an excellent panoramic view of the whole neighborhood.

There are ten rooms in the Murray mansion, including a spacious dining hall. Much of the lower floor is devoted to halls and large parlors. The sleeping apartments are upstairs and are all large and airy. There are lanais on two sides and the house really fronts on two streets. There is ample shade on the grounds and the premises are supplied with town water.

All of the lower floor of the house was thrown open for the reception. An orchestra of Government band members played on one of the front balconies. Dancing was kept up in the adjoining parlors all the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Murray, Miss Murray and the young men of the family entertained the guests.

At 11 o'clock the dining hall was thrown open. Caterer Chapman was in charge. The table was loaded with the choicest of the market, handsomely arranged and laid in beds of flowers. In the center was a roast pig. There was also roast turkey, ham, fish, delicacies, substantial, and refreshments— a veritable feast. "Tim" and his wife presided at the banquet, and Mr. Chapman superintended the affair.

Go to the Woman's Exchange for a noon lunch. Home made provisions of all kinds, bread, cake, pies, doughnuts, rolls, hot, hot, etc. 111 King street, Lunch from 11:30 to 1:30.

Fought It Out. Two of the crew of the bark C. D. Bryant were enemies for some time, but are now the best of friends. They couldn't agree over something and decided to fight it out after 5 o'clock. The time arrived, the men stripped and went into Allea & Robinson's lumber yard where they went at it in true pugilistic style. After battering each other for some time they decided to call it a draw and shook hands, the best of friends. One was a Portuguese, the other a German.

Man Yanked From a Saddle and Seriously Injured. Jack Dunsford, wheelwright, man about 50, well known, was pulled from a horse opposite the Peoples Ice Company's Works this morning, fell on his head and is seriously injured.

He was riding one horse and leading another. The latter was frightened by a car and plunged, jerking Dunsford from the saddle. The old man was picked up in an unconscious condition and taken to the hospital. His head is badly injured externally and internally. Dunsford had lived many years in Honolulu, but has been away several times. He arrived back a few days ago, and was going to work for the Hawaiian Carriage Co. On his last trip from the Coast he brought a dozen horses for W. H. Page, and has been attending to the sale of them. He is a steady fellow, well up in his business. His recovery is a little doubtful.

May Visit Europe. J. F. Eckardt, superintendent of the Queen's hospital, will take a three months vacation. He will leave for the Coast in April, to return in July. The details of his trip have not been made out, but it is probable he will visit Europe before returning.

In the case of the Republic vs. Lee May, maintaining a lottery, the sentence of the lower Court has been sustained in Chambers.

The conspiracy case against J. K. Sheridan and Dr. Frank Underwood has been passed until called. It will likely not come up until the last days of the session.

David Elin, by his attorney, G. A. Davis, has moved for a new trial.

The final account of Henry and Julia Waterhouse, executors of the will of the late Ann Maria Dimond, was filed today.

The Receiver of the Club Stables Company recommends that the property of the concern be sold to satisfy the claims of creditors. This recommendation is endorsed by the principal plaintiff, the California Feed Co.

A native jury acquitted Wally Davis yesterday of the charge of having opium in his possession. This case originated while the Olympia was off port during the cholera scare. Davis, Sumner and others were pulling in from the Olympia, then lying near the bell buoy. At the light house their boat was searched and opium found. All of the parties except Davis were released. In the police Court he was found guilty and fined $200.

Alaskan Houndary. A report was presented by the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations, on Jan. 23, in favor of the passage of the joint resolution appropriating $75,000 for the expenses of the commission engaged in measuring the boundary between Alaska and the British America along the line of the 141st meridian of west longitude.

Optimism in Show. Capt. Saunders made an opium seizure this afternoon. While inspecting some baggage belonging to a Chinaman passenger, he found a long, flat tin of opium in the sole of a Chinese shoe. There were three pairs of the shoes, all loaded. The Chinaman, whose name is Van Hoon, was arrested. At the Station board he admitted that the opium belonged to him.

This was pronounced at the Police Station one of the neatest devices ever seen here. The practice may have been in vogue a long time.

A "Kick" Made. A complaint from the Hawaiian Carriage Manufacturing in effect that they had been discriminated against by the Board of Health and the Bureau of Public Works. Rapid Growth—Second Battalion Minister Company—Committee Appointed. Company D had a business meeting Wednesday evening, Lieut. Rowell presiding. Forty men were present. Capt. Broome of the Regiment and Adjutant Kenake of the first battalion attended by special invitation.

A finance committee consisting of Sgt. Oat, Private McNerny and Private Ramsey to serve the unexpired term of one week was appointed. The treasurer's report read and referred to this committee. The following were unanimously elected to membership: Thomas E. Wall, O. C. Johnson, John K. Coakley, George Bruns, William Charlock and Bonnie Lemon. The following applications were received: Louis R. Whiting, George W. Macy, R. H. Foster and William W. Harris. The following applications we reported: Chester A. Doyle and Gus Schuman. Two ex-members re-enlisted, bringing the total roll up to 76.

Private Ramsey moved the appointment of a committee to confer with other companies of the second battalion with regard to a minstrel show to be given in the near future. It was desired to make it a nation affair so as to give the companies in closer touch with each other. Honorary Major J. W. Jones, Sergeant-Major James A. Kennedy, Privates McCarthy, McNerny and others approved the idea. The motion carried and J. W. Jones, C. J. McCarthy and Wm. Charlock were appointed. This committee will wait upon the other companies and, in conjunction with committees to be appointed by them, arrange details.

Major Jones outlined a plan of guard drills to be adopted for the second battalion. It is desired to have these drills once per month. Capt. Broome, by request, also addressed the company along the same lines.

Sergeant Bergstrom of Company D received his commission as first lieutenant today.

The Important Work of Encouraging Travel. E. C. Macfarlane and C. D. Chase show no disposition to weary in the work of encouraging tourist travel. They feel greatly encouraged with the outlook and ask only that citizens who are to be greatly benefitted lend a hand. Local business men can well afford to contribute to the expenses of advertising. Within a month those having the matter in hand have expended a couple of thousand dollars in informing the world that the Kilauea volcano is again active. To a large extent this work, so far as Messrs. Macfarlane and Chase are concerned, is the general profit of the community.

E. E. Boyer, who was here last year, is doing splendid service. He has succeeded in interested railway people at Chicago and the advertising departments of these lines have put out a large amount of matter on the Islands and the volcano. Boyer will send two excursions, one leaving San Francisco, Feb. 15, and another March 10. Cook & Son will likely bring a party on the next Australia.

The Oceanic Steamship Company is very much interested and has made some new and important connections in the interest of publicity. The last picture sent up by Mr. Hitchcock is on exhibition in San Francisco, he has created a sensation. It will probably be purchased by John D. Spreckels for $1000.

The Oceanic has put out a small card view of Kilauea that is a striking advertisement.

Mr. Macfarlane said yesterday that the return was now coming by every steamer, showing that results were being achieved by those at work.

The Signs of the Times. All point one way, and that is towards the fact that nearly, if not all, the people of Honolulu and suburbs will soon be reckoned as patrons of Kerr's store. All well-to-do people know where to buy dress goods, ribbons, hosiery, gloves and untrimmings hats, at the lowest possible prices for cash. For variety and quality Kerr stands pre-eminent.

A London journal says: "Brazilian coffee growers, who have lately been threatened with a powerful rival in Mexico, will be glad to learn that Mr. J. L. Pernet, of Orizaba, a well-known authority on coffee, estimates Mexico's crop this year at only 300,000 centals, or fully 50,000 centals less than last year. The shortage is said to be due to the severity of last winter."

That Tired Feeling Is a dangerous condition directly due to depleted or impure blood. It should not be allowed to continue as in its debility the system is liable to serious attacks. Over one thousand bunches of bananas await the Monowai on the Oceanic wharf. The fruit is still coming in from Ewa on trains which are in turn conveyed to the wharf.

The big ship sighted by the Spokane was away to leeward, so that she will have to beat up in order to come into port. This Captain Jamieson believes will take her some time, perhaps several days.

The barkentine Planter, Captain Dow, arrived this morning, 17:30 days from San Francisco with a light cargo of hay and grain, besides twenty-five kegs of powder. She brought also on deck a cow for M. McNerny. For the first twelve days the Planter experienced gale after gale and was compelled to lay to under topsails. The remainder of the passage had Northeast trades. She docked at Brewer's wharf. Captain Dow, who is in command, has been ill for nine months, but is well again.

The bark S. C. Allen, Captain Thompson, tied up at the Imrugg wharf yesterday afternoon, 19 days from San Francisco with a general cargo, including two horses for E. F. Bishop and C. Leonard. A number of kamaianas returned by her. The S. C. Allen left San Francisco on January 16, but owing to bad weather returned to port and sailed again the following day. METEOROLOGICAL RECORD. The Government Survey, Published Every Monday.

THAT HELLO GIRL. SHE EXPRESSES HERSELF FREELY AND IN PICTURESQUE LANGUAGE.

Tells Her Impressions, Drawn From Experience, With the Fresh and the Jays. She is Rather Too Free to Be Taken as a Fair Sample of the Home Girl.

It took a long time and much trouble, but at last the reporter did personally see and talk with a telephone girl. In what language she works, whether she is in a short, light or dark, cover or lives in New York, the reporter will never divulge. But she is an experienced operator and has worked in a number of the exchanges. The meeting was brought about by a diplomatic third person, and the hello girl knew that she was going to be interviewed for the purpose of this story.

Why, she said after her confidence had been won and she felt that her identity was absolutely secure, I only know men as I meet them over the wire. I would believe that they are all brutes and mean as they could be. Why, she says, she never sees any of them. She says she never sees any of them. She says she never sees any of them.

Miss Hello responded: 'Why, say, didn't you ever try to get some with a telephone girl? That's what lots of men do, and they are more free for you than any day. I don't mean because they are boys, because they are generally talking when people can hear them. But when they are in a room where they are central for a lot of residence telephones it is not so easy to get any of them. I have seen a man who was talking through his house telephones and who always got into trouble for talking for their connections. You have no idea how much we get to know about them, and the kind of house they live in, and even just where their telephones are located. And you can tell them there is any one in the room with them. I remember one night when I had told a man to 'phone' he began to get quite right away. I was sure that he had been stringing me just a little bit, you know, because the night manager was out of the house and I had a chance to jolly him a little. I could tell from his tone, even before he began to talk, that he was not in the room, and pretty soon he began asking me about my nights off and if I wouldn't like some tickets to a roof garden. Suddenly his voice changed and he began yelling like a cross-bred 'Hello, central! I say, you central! Why don't you tell me the business? Why do I know what had happened just as soon as he did that. His wife had come into the room, and I laughed at him over the telephone and said: 'Ask why he should like to have you send me those roof garden tickets. He hung up the receiver and I knew just as well as I was alive that he had got rattled and was afraid his wife would catch him. He hung up the receiver half a mile apart. That happened lots of times. Say, I wonder what makes so many of these fellows get so nervous the color of their hair. When I was in that uptown exchange, I'll bet a hundred times that some of these fellows were called up central and had to wait. It is a lot of fun to jolly the guys, but of course you can only do it in a smaller exchange, where there is no assistant manager and the manager is sometimes out of the room. You can keep up a jolly for some time by just making an answer that seem all right to the manager if he happens to overhear you, because he can't tell what you are answering.

Women? Why, say, they're the easiest things you ever saw. If they can't get the number they want right away, they begin to scream and shout and threaten, and mostly end by saying that they have a nasty old thing in any good, and hang up the receiver just about the time you want to give them their number.

Do you listen much? Why, say, I think that's an awful foolish question. Do you suppose we have any time to listen? On the level? Well, say, on the level, then, just because we are hello girls, we are human beings just as hard, and if it is something very interesting is going through or we hear a voice that we like, we will listen until late on an account of being busy with the correspondence to be by the next day's steamer, and then a little later hear that same voice telling a very different sort of story to some one else—why, say, of course we are human.

And this prattled on that Miss Hello. She was a young person of an observant nature, which makes it all the more unfortunate for mankind that at the conclusion of her story she added the remark with which she had begun—that she only knew men as she met them over the wire she would believe them all brutes and some of them jays.—New York Star.

Greeta Washington. A contributor to the Pall Mall Magazine was traveling in Greece and had occasion to send to the laundry a white shirt and a collar. He thus describes the result: The shirt came back resolved, as it were, into its primitive elements—that is to say, it was a piece of linen of its regular shape. The collar never saw again alive, but instead a curious strip of linen, which baffled conjecture for the time.

A story of the War. It is not generally known, even among those pretty familiar with the history of the late war, how near General Wistar came to capturing Richmond. His expedition, secretly planned for that purpose and consisting of six regiments, four of cavalry, left Williamsburg, Va., Feb. 5, 1864. The Confederate capital was known to be nearly empty of troops at that particular time. While it was not intended to hold the place, it was believed that by a quick dash the Union prisoners there could be liberated, the railway bridges destroyed and President Davis and his cabinet made prisoners. News of the projected raid was carried to the enemy by a Union soldier named Boyie, who two nights before the start was made escaped from Fort Magruder, where he was confined under sentence of death for shooting an officer. A large force was hastily withdrawn from Lee's army and reached Bottom's bridge, 13 miles from Richmond, just in time to confront General Wistar's advance. A sharp fight ensued, and it was no longer possible to effect a surprise in the object of the expedition was abandoned.—Philadelphia Record.

Hawaiian Electric Company. The cheapest, brightest and safest and really in the long run, the cheapest and best light for use in the family residence, is the incandescent electric light. State nothing could be safer. A few days ago a prominent gentleman of Honolulu came rushing down to the office of the Electric Company and said: 'Give me figures for wiring my house, and I want it done at once; no more lamps for me. Last night a lamp tipped over and it came so near setting fire to the house and burning my children and I take no more risks. This is the sentiment of quite a number in the past few weeks, who have ordered their houses fitted with the perfect light. Just think, it over and make up your mind that you want the best and safest light; send for the Hawaiian Electric Company and tell them what you want.
