

HAMAKUA GETS RAIN

OVER QUARTER OF INCH FELL WEDNESDAY NIGHT.

Rained Practically All Night at Honokaa—General Throughout the Drought Infected District.

The drought along the Hamakua coast has been broken at last, according to the latest reports from Hawaii.

Rain fell Wednesday night. It was quite a copious downpour. About .26 of an inch fell. Pursar Simerson of the Mauna Loa telephoned to Honokaa from Kailua yesterday morning and was told that the rain had fallen there throughout the greater part of the night previous, over a quarter of an inch being reported.

The Maui came from Paahau and Kula. The rain fell at both of these places on Wednesday. At Paahau the rain lasted an hour and a half falling steadily during all of that time. It was understood to have been general however throughout the district.

While this matter was welcome it will have but little effect on the drought infected place, as nothing short of a good many inches of steady downpour will benefit the country.

Yesterday the plantation people at Kula started to sink an artesian well. It is proposed to put the well down 300 feet as it is thought water can be struck at that depth.

The report that about 25,000 acres of cane along the Hamakua coast has been ruined by the present drought is said by Brewer & Company and T. H. Davies & Co. agents for the Okaia Mill Co. and Hamakua Mill Co. and Kula Mill Co., respectively, to be exaggerated. As a matter of fact, Okaia has not suffered so much as have the others, Honokaa appearing to be about the worst affected by the lack of rain.

CHARGED WITH MURDER

THE POLICE MAKE CHANGE IN PROSECUTION.

First Arrested Osaki Mankichi on Charge Accessory to Murder and Now Make it Murder First Degree.

Osaki Mankichi charged with having murdered a Chinese at Kahuku two years ago was arraigned before Judge Wilcox this morning to answer to the charge of murder in the first degree. F. M. Brooks the consul of the Japanese was not present in court. High Sheriff Brown stated that the prosecution desired the case to go over for one week in order that it could be taken before the grand jury.

The intention is not to take the defendant before the district magistrate but to hold the Japanese to await the disposition of his case by the grand jury. The continuance was granted.

The prosecution has made something of a change in its charge against Osaki. He was discharged by Judge Estee yesterday on habeas corpus proceedings but in anticipation of this the high sheriff had caused a new warrant charging Osaki with being an accessory to the crime, to be sworn out so when the Japanese left the court room he was placed under arrest.

It was at first supposed that the charge on which Osaki would be arraigned this morning would be that of an accessory but evidently acting upon the suggestion of Judge Estee that as the man had never been properly tried he was therefore never in jeopardy, the police decided that they would change the charge to the more serious one of murder.

CLAIMS ARE FRAUDULENT

NATIVES PRESENT CLAIMS FOR BURIED GOODS.

Claimant Exposes Fraud—Many Valuables Saved by Burying in Shallow Cellars.

A sensation was sprung in the Fire Claims Commission this morning when the casual remark of a witness led to the discovery that a number of native claimants had carefully buried their goods and chattels in anticipation of the Board of Health's action in burning down their houses and had afterwards recovered these goods, making claims for them nevertheless as if they had been destroyed in the fire.

The witness an Hawaiian named Alexander Smith, disclosed under vigorous cross-examination the names of certain claimants who had put in such fraudulent claims. Smith himself, acting in all honesty mentioned the fact that he had buried certain of his goods in a hole twelve feet long four and a half feet wide and from five to six feet deep. The hole had been covered with boards from the fire. The witness was himself a claimant for other goods that had been destroyed but had not included in his individual claim the goods that he had buried albeit they had rotted and been considerably damaged by water. The hole had been covered with boards, then dirt, then corrugated iron, then boards and then more dirt.

During his testimony the commissioner got on the trail of a certain Mrs. Lahapa Mauiawa who had buried her goods and afterward brought in a fraudulent claim for them. Smith's attorney, Representative J. K. Paole objected strenuously to the testimony being given and intimated that the court had overstepped its authority, a statement which called down upon him the wrath of Commissioner Testa who informed Paole that the commissioner was the judge and that they intended to follow up the trail they had discovered. Chairman Macfarlane also scored Paole stating that they were there to help the Hawaiians and redeem them from the stigma of suspicion of such fraudulent practice. "This man Alexander Smith," said Mr. Macfarlane, "is an Hawaiian and a honest one but Lahapa is not an Hawaiian."

It was brought out that Lahapa had spoken to Smith at the Fish Market about the goods that he had buried and that Lahapa had had a hole dug for the burying of goods which she afterwards claimed to have been buried. The commissioner has several names of those who resorted to this scheme and there will probably be some interesting times in store for those who resorted to fraud in the matter.

CHILD ILL-TREATED

The Mother in the Hospital Undergoing An Operation.

A little Japanese child about a year old, was reported yesterday as being cruelly treated by a Japanese family with whom it had been left in Kewalo. Rev. T. Okumura, pastor of the Japanese Congregational church made an investigation and took the child to where it could receive proper attention.

The child's mother was taken to the hospital some days ago to undergo a serious operation. Her husband accompanied her to take care of her, leaving the child in the care of a neighboring family. Hawaiians who lived in the same building say that the child was neglected, badly treated, and not sufficiently fed. They remonstrated with those having charge of it, but got only replies which they thought evinced heartlessness. Finally they reported the matter and it was brought to the attention of Rev. Okumura who investigated. Yesterday afternoon in company with the father, he took the child to where it will receive proper care.

INCORRIGIBLES CAPTURED

ESCAPING BOYS FROM REFORM SCHOOL FOUND.

Tied Sheets Together, Pried Open the Window and Broke Into Clothing Shed—Recaptured at Ewa.

Twelve inmates of the Reform School escaped from their dormitory last night by a rope improvised from their bed clothes.

According to Superintendent Needham, who has been for fourteen years in charge of the institution, every now and then an escaping fever breaks out among the boys, the epidemic sometimes lasting for six months after a successful escape. The flight last night is however he thinks directly traceable to the harmful influence of a guard who was lately discharged as unsatisfactory. A well defined plot between the guard, an Hawaiian, and the older boys to allow the latter a chance of organizing an attack upon the other guard was discovered and led to the man's dismissal. Afterwards it was found that he had been in the habit of allowing the boys to steal away one at a time for a surreptitious smoke and had winked at the supplies of tobacco and cigarettes pushed in the fence corner by boys who had served their term at the school. The practice of smoking has always been rigorously suppressed by Mr. Needham but in spite of all precautions matches were constantly being discovered in every nook and corner or tucked away in mattresses. After the discharge of the guard ends of cigarettes were always turning up in every direction, in stray corners or tucked away under a stone in readiness for a daily whiff.

Still more rigid precautions were exercised and the boys resolved to escape, saying their plans beforehand. "The boys are all in bed and locked in every night by eight o'clock with one guard sleeping in a room over the porch of the dormitory and another one sleeping in the dormitory where thirty-two of the bigger boys pass the night. At half past eight the two guards were taking in the porch room when the twelve boys stripped the beds of clothes and taking the sheets used them to pry open the windows which are screwed fast from the outside. The sheets were tied together and the incorrigibles slid down their improvised rope to the ground clad in their night shirts only, their clothes being taken away from them every night to prevent their escape.

The leaders had however laid their plans to meet the emergency. At four o'clock every afternoon, the boys change their working clothes for their regular garments, the overalls being left in a locked up shed some little distance from the dormitory. The window of this shed was forced and the youngsters securing a shirt and a pair of overalls apiece were over the high fence before their absence had been noted. The high board fence being supported on both sides by slanting beams the boys were easily able to shin up these ready provided ladders and drop into freedom on the other side.

Just before nine Mr. Needham was notified by the guard of the escape and armed with a shot gun, as a means of frightening the boys if they had not got clear away, the superintendent ran to the shed where the clothes were, to find it already broken into. He then continued to search the grounds in the hope that the boys had not yet got over the fence, when the police arrived and took charge of the affair.

The names of the twelve are as follows: George Kalua, Harry Haleakala, Lincoln, Haamo, Eddie Fraga, Kapa, Kaula, W. Forrest, Frank Haole, Walki, Sam Kaluawai, Joe Manuel. Of these the ringleaders are supposed to be Kalua, Haleakala, Fraga, Kaula, and Willie Forrest all of whom have been in the school twice and in some cases three and four times before.

George Kalua, now serving his fourth term, is the son of the guard at the insane asylum who was some time ago killed by one of the inmates, his wife receiving a pension from the government. George is not a depraved youngster and worked readily enough under the immediate eye of the superintendent, but he has been running on the streets for fourteen or fifteen years, is afraid of nothing and easily led into anything that promises a little excitement.

Haleakala hails from Maui where he was once arrested and secured under the bed of his school teacher presumably to find out where she kept her valuables. He claimed to have been sleeping off the effects of a drunken fit induced by liquor which had been given to him. Eddie Fraga, a Portuguese, has also been in three or four times. Kaula was sentenced to six years at the school, three of which he has already served. The sentence was for truancy and the fact that he had no home was probably taken into consideration in giving him a term that would keep him in school until he was twenty, the limit of age for the reform school in a very ragged pair of trousers suspended by a string, an extremely dirty undervest and an apology for a coat. He had been living with his grandparents both helpless and practically bedridden who are supported by the charity of their neighbors. Kaula explained to Superintendent Needham that his truancy was enforced as the teacher would not allow him to attend school as he was and he had no means of obtaining other clothes. Willie Forrest, a half white, has served before. He has lost his mother and his father who is a blacksmith, tried to rule the boy with rod of iron. Like Kaula he is not criminally disposed but is incurably lazy.

Inspector Needham whose term closes by resignation in November, deprecates the proper lack of methods of securing the boys at night with bars to windows instead of ordinary sashes. A method of punishing the boys by segregation and enforced work would also he thinks have a good effect. As it is the boys, incorrigibles all of them, have to be un-

UNG SUNG SUES COOPER

WANTS HIS NATURALIZATION PAPERS.

The Chinese Whom The Secretary Charged With False Personation Commences An Action.

Ung Sung has begun an action against Secretary of the Territory Henry E. Cooper, to secure the return of his naturalization papers, which he claims Cooper refuses to give up. Ung is the man whom Cooper recently had arrested for impersonating one Yee Wo.

The papers Ung is after are his papers as a citizen of the Republic of Hawaii. When the internal revenue bureau began to register Chinese Cooper informed them that they could get certified copies of their naturalization papers, for use before the collector of internal revenue. Ung Sung went after his papers and was arrested as being not Ung Sung at all but Yee Wo. Now he says Cooper refuses to give him the papers showing that he is Ung Sung.

The trouble arose, it is stated, by reason of Ung Sung having two names. He claims that his real name is Ung Sung but admits that he does business under the name of Yee Wo, and is generally called Yee Wo. It was the latter fact that caused Cooper to decide that he was Yee Wo and was fraudulently trying to get Ung Sung's papers. He claims to have registered as Ung Sung, and to be entitled to the papers made out in the name of Ung Sung.

The action is brought in replevin, the court being asked to order Cooper to surrender the papers. Andrews, Peters and Andrade represent the plaintiff.

AFTER SAUSAGE-DISEASE

DR. SHOREY DIGS UP A NEW DANGER.

A Deadly German Product That Produced Great Discomfort in Judge Wilcox's Court.

Dr. Shorey, food commissioner, is on the lookout for Sausage-disease. There were 410 cases of Sausage-disease in Germany last year and the doctor says he has found sausage in Honolulu that ought to cause it. In his laboratory in the Board of Health building he has a piece of the kind of sausage referred to. It is kept carefully bottled up and everybody runs when Shorey uncorks it.

"Sausage-disease is a very fatal malady," said Dr. Shorey. "Out of 410 cases reported in a year in Germany, 185 were fatal. The disease is now well-known in that country and it is caused by just such sausage as this. It is no use waiting until we have deaths here before beginning to take action."

The sausage that was seized by Shorey was made in Germany. The doctor found a case of it in the store of one Tom Chung Tai. It is heavy boltona in texture. A section of it looks like had Hamburger steak and smells worse than the most powerful Limburger cheese. Shorey seized the whole case and took a small piece to put in an airtight bottle in his office. The case went to Judge Wilcox's court, to be used as evidence.

"I don't know how the court stood it," said Shorey this morning after releasing his own imprisoned section of sausage for a moment and then bottling it up again.

The judge stood it all right however, and kept his usual good humor. "I used to think it was maggots when I saw something wriggling in sausage," remarked the court, eyeing the big thick rounds that were in evidence, "but now I am inclined to regard it as the tail of the dog."

Judge Wilcox only lost his equanimity once. It was when Attorney J. M. Long, for the defense attempted to hold a piece close to the judicial nostrils. "This sausage is all right," said the lawyer, holding it close to Judge Wilcox's face.

Judge Wilcox, nearly jumped off his bench. "Get out, take it away," he shouted. Later in the day he gave Mr. Long a very severe roast on account of a remark he made reflecting on the court. Long began a lengthy speech, but the court adjourned at five o'clock and put the case over. It was the smell that who ought to know.

Tong Chung Tai was fined $25 and cogs this morning by Judge Wilcox for having sold diseased sausage to Dr. Shorey. Judge Wilcox said that he himself, was not in the habit of using German goods so we was not therefore able to distinguish whether the peculiar odors which arose from that class of goods, belonged to them or else were acquired. The court regretted his inability to fix a less fine but as $25 was the smallest amount named by the statutes he was forced to levy that sum. Attorney Long asked that the sentence be suspended but Mr. Chillingworth would not agree to this, so notice of an appeal was given.

WAS THE ONLY WITNESS

A BOY'S EVIDENCE AGAINST HIS MOTHER'S SLAYER.

Can an Atheist Testify in Hawaiian Courts? Is a Question Propounded By Gear.

"Can an atheist testify in the courts of Hawaii?" was the question propounded this morning by Judge Gear. The judge spent most of yesterday afternoon and all this morning listening to arguments on the question of whether ten-year old Hideo was a competent witness in the case of the Territory against Nakamura. The latter is charged with killing Hideo's mother by a blow on the head, and the little boy was the only witness who saw what took place when the alleged assault was committed.

"Did you swear by Buddha that you would tell the truth?" the court asked yesterday, in effort to find out what Hideo knew of God and of taking an oath.

The answer came through the interpreter that Hideo did not swear by a pig. It appears that the Japanese word for pig is buda, and Hideo knew nothing of Buddha. He knew Christ, and was firm in the belief that if he did not tell the truth he would be punished by God. Attorneys Brooks and Douthitt and Davis and Wilder questioned him at much length and then the judge took a hand. It was shown that the youngster was very intelligent, but the judge was doubtful whether his evidence was admissible under the statute.

This morning the lawyers spent the time in quoting authorities against one another. The defendant's attorneys tried to show that the boy must have an understanding of the need for truthfulness based upon religious training of some duration and that he must feel in his own conscience that to lie was wrong.

The Hawaiian statute provides that a minor's evidence may be taken, notwithstanding he may be destitute of the knowledge of God, and of any belief in religion or in a future state of rewards and punishment. He must make a declaration that he will tell the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth, and must be cautioned by the court that he will be punished if he does not do so and it must be proved to the satisfaction of the court that he "perfectly understands" what it means to tell the truth, and what his testimony is being taken for.

Judge Gear said this morning that he was satisfied that the boy had intelligence enough to testify and that under the common law rule his testimony would be allowed in any court, but he was doubtful under the Hawaiian statute. "Our statute goes further than any other statute I have ever seen," said Judge Gear.

Judges Little and Dustin sat on the bench much of the time as guests of Judge Gear, and he appeared to be discussing the problem with them. After a morning of argument Judge Gear adjourned until 1:30, reserving his decision.

In the course of the discussion, the question of testimony by an atheist was brought up. The judge wanted to know what would be the contention in the case of an atheist, who certainly could not swear in the ordinary way, by God. The lawyers had never had any cases of the kind here, and didn't know of anything in Hawaiian statutes on the subject.

ANOTHER WRIT FOR OSAKI

THE LONG FIGHT GROWS MORE SERIOUS.

Gear to Be Asked for a Restraining Order in Support of His and Estee's Rulings.

Once more a habeas corpus writ has been issued in behalf of Osaki Mankichi, who was released by Judge Estee yesterday and immediately rearrested. This time the writ is by Judge Gear, who will be asked by the attorneys for the prisoner to investigate the conduct of the Attorney General in issuing a new warrant and to make some kind of an order that will prevent the prosecution from defeating the orders of the courts as made.

"The time has arrived," said George A. Davis in Gear's court this morning, "when discharges on writs of habeas corpus by this court or the United States District court must be respected. I propose to ask for a writ on this warrant, which is on its face worthless and under the circumstances to ask this court to investigate the intentions of those who issued the warrant. I have reason to believe that there is no intention to prosecute under this warrant. It is only issued for the purpose of defeating the processes of this court and the United States court. This thing of having officers lurking around the courts with warrants when writs are issued will have to stop. If I had known yesterday that the officers were doing so I should have called the attention of Judge Estee to the matter and he would have had them up for contempt. The territorial officers must and will obey the orders of the courts."

"There is nothing before the court," said Gear, when he found that Davis was not ready with his application for the writ.

"There soon will be," muttered Davis with an aggressive lunge at some legal paper and a vigorous attack upon a pen and ink.

"Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof," quoted Douthitt, who had come to argue another legal puzzle. "The evil will come quick enough," the habeas corpus lawyer replied and then he subsided and began writing out his application for a new writ.

TENNIS TOURNAMENTS.

Beretania Club Will Inaugurate a New Competition Next Week.

The Beretania Tennis Club will give its first invitation tournament for gentlemen's singles beginning Wednes-day, September 18. A fine cup has been offered for the event. The event has to be won three times by the same per-son before the cup passes to private ownership. This is the first event of the kind ever conducted by the Bere-tania Club and it is expected that a large number of tennis players will participate. The tournament will last about four days.

One week later, the Pacific Tennis Club will hold its annual invitation gentlemen's double tournament.

GOOD ROADS CONGRESS.

Captain Hiram M. Chittenden, Corps of Engineers, has been detailed as a delegate to the international good roads congress which will assemble at Buffalo N. Y., September 16 to 21.

REINDEER FOR ALASKA.

The Secretary of the Interior has received from Lieutenant E. P. Bertholf of the revenue cutter service a report of purchases of reindeer made in Siberia for shipment to Alaska during the pres-ent summer. He says he has secured 450 young does and fifty bucks, all of the large Tungus breed, and that he thinks a contract can be made for 1,500 reindeer for next summer. The deer were all bought in the vicinity of Oria and they were to be shipped from that place to Port Clarence. The distance is 2,000 miles, and Lieut. Bertholf expres-sed some doubt as to the success of the experiment. The deer purchased cost 12 roubles per head in Oria, but the ad-ditional expense of keeping, shipping, etc., brings the total cost of the ani-mals landed in Alaska to about $30 each.

CURED OF CHRONIC DIARRHOEA AFTER THIRTY YEARS OF SUFFERING.

"I suffered for thirty years with diarrhoea and thought I was past being cured," says John E. Holloway, of French Camp, Miss. "I had spent so much time and money and suffered so much that I had given up all hopes of recovery. I was so feeble from the effects of the diarrhoea that I could do no kind of labor, could not even travel, but by accident I was permitted to find a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and after taking several bottles I am en-tirely cured of that trouble. I am so pleased with the result that I am anxious that it be in reach of all who suffer as I have." For sale by all dealers. Benson, Smith & Co., general agents, Hawaiian Islands.

Between Men's and Boy's Clothing...

We make no difference in this case and furnish all attention to detail. There is no sweat-shop work on any of our suits. Is not this worth the thoughtful consideration of mothers? Isn't it worth paying a trifle more to have your boy's suit made in a proper manner. If the wife were consulted, wouldn't she insist that the husband avoid wearin' sweat-shop clothing? We have just received a new line of STAR WAISTS, with and without col-lars. Just the thing for the school sea-son.

Also a fine line of EXTRA PANTS FOR MEN AND BOYS.

Extraordinary efforts have been made by us to find and prepare the things needful for your good appearance and comfort—the very best SUITS FOR MEN AND BOYS; SHIRTS, HATS, OUTFIT FLANNELS, ETC.

All these are worthy of your atten-tion, being fashionable in cut and style in appearance.

Aching Bones,

pain in the back running up the spinal column to the base of the brain, eyes feverish and bloodshot, a stuffy feeling in the head, scalding discharge from the nose, sneezing, sore throat, cough, pain in chest—these are all signs of grip's ravaging effect on the nerves. Grip weakens the heart, congests the lungs, destroys the appetite and lowers the vitality of the whole system. The best and safest remedy for overcoming the depressing and prostrating effects of grip is Dr. Miles' Nervine. It invigorates the appetite, assists digestion, quiets the nerves and brings restful, refreshing sleep. It builds up the nerve tissues, overcomes the aches and pains, steadies the nervous heart and puts new life and energy into broken-down men and women as nothing else can.

"Four years ago I had a very severe attack of La Grippe, which settled in the back of my head and spinal cord. I had distressing pains in my head and back, my bones ached all the time and I became extremely nervous and restless. I could not sleep for days and nights together, my brain became seriously affected and I thought I should lose my mind. For two years my condition grew steadily worse and then I commenced taking Dr. Miles' Nervine. In a few days I was able to sleep naturally and continued to improve from that time on until my health was completely restored." Miss SUE GODWIN, Opelika, Ala.

JAPAN IS STIRRED UP

JAPANESE BITTERLY RESENT
COFER INCIDENT.

The Newspapers of the Empire Filled With Indignant Discussions of It.
What the Japan Times Says.

The Japanese papers are filled with discussions of the quarantine incident at Honolulu in regard to which the Japanese colony has sent a memorial directed against Dr. Cofer. The following from the Japan Times of September indicates the trend of the discussion.

"Elsewhere we reproduce from the Hawaiian Star the resolution recently adopted at a well-attended meeting of the Japanese colony at Honolulu held in connection with the quarantine incident. The principal facts of the case are stated in clear and straightforward language, and corroborate on all important points what was originally reported about this extraordinary incident.
Indeed the main facts of the case are so well recognized on all sides that even the most partial supporters of Dr.
Cofer and his associates refrain from making any attempt at denying them.
We have already quoted Dr. Cofer's own explanation in which he virtually admits the allegation that he and his assistants made a most unfair discrimination against the Japanese and other Oriental passengers on the America Maru. He explained that he would not have treated them in the way they were treated, had he not mistaken them for steerage travelers, a mistake which,
as we recently pointed out, could not possibly have occurred under the circumstances. According to later news, it appears that the local medical practitioners at Honolulu have vigorously taken up the defence of the chief inspecting official. As to the ground they take in their defence we are not accurately informed, but if their views are in any way representative of the Honolulu papers which seem to support them, they seem to take the racial discrimination made by Dr. Cofer.
One journal at least takes that position, and undertakes to make its case good by alleging that the Japanese in Hawaii are generally less law-abiding and careful about personal decen-tury than the Americans. Our contemporary, therefore, maintains that the Japanese as a nation are not entitled to equal treatment with the peoples of the Occident. We need not take much notice of an argument of this sort, for the nation which is so repulsive to the enlightened section of public opinion in America itself. The question is now a subject of communication between the Governments at Tokyo and Washington, and our confidence in the honor and fair-mindedness of the American authorities is such as leaves no doubt in our mind about the satisfactory closing at an early opportunity of an unpleasant and regrettable incident."

"YOKOHAMA, September 3.—The Japan Gazette says: 'We have already reported that the Japanese Government has forwarded particulars of the Hawaiian scandal to Mr. Takahira, Japanese Minister at Washington, preparatory to the opening of negotiations with the American Government. It is now stated that instructions have been given to the Japanese Representative by the Government to open negotiations with the American authorities. The conditions of redress to be demanded are said to include the removal of any discrimination between white and Japanese people in the matter of health inspection, the employment of female doctors for the inspection of women, the disciplinary punishment of the guilty officials, etc.'"

IS IT ANDRE?

CHICAGO, September 3.—A dispatch to the Tribune from Kankakee, Ill., says that Walter W. Cobb and G. W.
Shields, well-known young men of Kankakee, who have just returned from a forty-five days' trip through the Hudson bay region, bring back a story told by Indians of the Far North that may relate to the missing explorer, Andree, and one of his two companions. At Moose Factory, a Hudson bay trading post at the mouth of Moose river, the seven men stationed there reported that a party of Indians who came down from the Far North last spring told of the finding of the bones of two white men at a point about 300 miles north of Moose Factory. The story of the Indians was that the bodies were found in a broken basket, their description of which seemed to indicate the basket of a balloon, and that the bodies had been buried by the Indians. The Indians brought nothing in support of the story, but the men at Moose Factory, Cobb and Shields say, were inclined to believe them.

ANOTHER DECISION.
 Some one said "in the multitude of counsellors there is wisdom." He evidently never heard the flag and constitution controversy. In the multitude of counsellors there is disagreement, bitterness, dislike, animus, desire for votes, and a total absence of abstract justice or common sense. The United States Supreme Court is bitterly divided on the matter, and it has been said of the majority, that whether the constitution followed the flag or not, it was certain that the majority of the Supreme Court followed the votes.

In such a snarl as this, where legal luminaries are at such utter variance with one another, where the Chief Justice of the United States uses language of extraordinary strength, it matters very little what our own small men think or do. Each side can gather weapons from the opinions of the legal giants of the mainland, and each side can prove itself right and prove the other wrong. Like the majority of the Supreme Court, it is certain that one side thinks it is following the votes.

How little our storm in a tea-not was thought of on the mainland was shown in the extract, from the San Francisco Chronicle published in these columns yesterday. The Chronicle points out how utterly theoretical the whole proceedings here are, and how pitifully without bearing upon general prudence. It further points out that these prisoners whose release is sought, are not claimed to be innocent of the crimes they were charged with, nor are they undergoing undeserved punishment. The claim is that during a certain period, which the Chronicle styles "a transitional state," what a dread phrase to use, certain forms of legal proceedings have long since passed away, and cannot occur here again. A year or two from now every one will have forgotten about the matter, save some lawyer who thought that he made a point by his arguments and some judge who regretted his decision.

After every one else had had a hand in the fray, Judge Estee tried his yesterday. He runs with the flag and constitution argument. He even antedates some of those who argue on his side, and considers illegality of trials commenced as soon as the Newlands' resolution was signed, viz.: July 7, 1898, and before any one here had knowledge of its passage. If this was so, one fails to see why Judge Gear's argument against Delegate Wilcox was not a good one, but it was turned down, and The Star thinks rightly, because Mr. Wilcox was not then a citizen of the United States. Now if citizenship had not arrived, how could the forms of law have arrived.

Judge Estee, whatever one may think of his arguments, was certainly very clear. He was dealing with an abstract question and his ruling was such that though it freed the man, it was merely on the ground, as one may say, that the trial had never been, and consequently the man could be arrested for the original crime, which he duly was. Judge Estee's decision simply wiped out the previous proceedings, and left the authorities to deal with the cases "de novo." This is decidedly the most sensible handling that the question has had here.

These cases have been unfortunate, but all periods of change bring about unfortunate conditions, and there will always be two sets of people to argue heatedly upon the points. It is doubly unfortunate in our particular instance because the element of politics has come into the question, though it is not patent upon the surface. The Star has never regarded the question from a political standpoint. It has simply considered the wrong done to a community which would result from murderers and rapers being let loose from jail. Judge Estee on this was essentially clearer than any one else. He had no desire that this very undesirable class should be let loose upon the people. He even pointed out that the released prisoner might be arrested, but not within the precincts of his court.

Up to the present in spite of the efforts of lawyers the criminals have been kept in durance, being snapped up as soon as they are freed. But what an odd opinion the oriental must have of our jurisprudence. His own drastic measures are no doubt much more to his taste, besides they save these heavy lawyers fees.

ADVERTISE.

The Chamber of Commerce has been invited to join in the Fisheries Exposition of St. Petersburg, to be held in 1902. This invitation marks another change in our status. Formerly such an invitation would have come to the Government, and like everything else in former times "the government" would be supposed to attend to it. It was this tendency to centralization in all things that has been often criticised in these columns.

In matters appertaining to the industries of the territory the commercial organizations should bear the leading part, and not wait upon "the government" to do this or to do that. Our fisheries will grow in importance and though the Federal government may do something for us, it is we, ourselves, who will have to show what our chances are in this direction. Both this exhibition at St. Petersburg, and the exhibition at St. Louis should be considered by our commercial bodies. It must be remembered that at Buffalo we were unrepresented, save by a school exhibit, and an Hawaiian village, the latter not much to our credit. The prospectus of the St. Petersburg Fisheries Exposition says:

"The exhibition is open to Russian and foreign exhibitors. Its objects consist in: (a) Determining the actual condition of sea and fresh-water fisheries, and of other similar pursuits; (b) acquainting producers and consumers with the various products of fisheries and with methods of preparing and preserving the same; (c) exhibiting the gradual development and actual state of artificial fish breeding, as likewise the various aspects of amateur fishing and angling; (d) promoting scientific research pursued in the interests of fisheries.

"Applications for space are to be addressed to the executive committee, 13 Bolshaya Konushennaya, St. Petersburg, in duplicate, before November 1, 1901.

"Exhibits will be carried on Russian railways at a reduced rate. The exhibition will be proclaimed a bonded store for foreign exhibits. Duties will be charged on goods remaining in Russia."

From this it is evident that if the Territory of Hawaii requires space, it should make application as speedily as possible. If it does not make such application in time, there will be any amount of difficulty in getting a place. There has been experience of this before.

The reform school boy who runs away, seems quickly caught out Ewa-way.

Beer is going down to ten cents a glass, and the local brewery will probably do a big trade. Gladstone used to maintain that beer and light wines worked for the cause of temperance. In the present a good many people do not agree with him.

The oil experiment has been initiated, and now the citizens will have to wait a while to see how it will turn out. Upon macadamized roads there is a doubt about it, upon dirt roads and in mud holes, there can be no doubt its success.

Bishop Willis and Judge Humphreys might swap places and give us a little variety. They have both the power of "stickativeness" if one can use such a word, and they can both twist arguments that make people think that black is white. Each would be perfectly able to hold his own even under changed conditions.

In San Francisco the same tactics are going to be used against trades unions as were used in England and in Ireland lately. The question is the liability of unions for loss inflicted on the ground of malicious and wrongful conspiracy. The Irish case referred to was that of a wholesale butcher who was boycotted by the retailers, upon whom pressure was brought by the unions, because he would not dismiss a non-union employe. The wholesale butcher won his case.

The number of American vessels built during the year ended June 30, 1901, was 1,173, of 401,285 gross tons, compared with 1,085, of 305,677 gross tons, for the previous fiscal year. The distribution was as follows: Atlantic and gulf coasts, 735 vessels, of 190,948 tons; great lakes, 105, of 153,138 gross tons; Pacific coast, 151, of 46,105 gross tons, and western rivers, 182, of 11,094 gross tons. There is little encouraging to report regarding vessel construction for the foreign trade, but the year has brought out a few orders from new sources. One venture, of which special mention is made, is the opening of the all-water route from the great lakes to Europe by way of the Canadian canals along the St. Lawrence river.

The new Ministry of Denmark, which the King recently appointed from the Left, is the first Liberal Government that country has ever had, except one which held office a few weeks in 1859. For thirty years the Liberals have contended that the Ministry was responsible to the popular branch of Parliament only, the King and Conservatives holding the opposite view that the two houses enjoyed co-ordinate authority. The April elections returned, however, such an overwhelming Liberal majority that the aged King has been forced to yield to the popular will and parliamentary government as it is understood in England is now in force in the kingdom. Radical reforms in taxation, tithings and the relations of church to state are now considered imminent.

Among Kipling's short stories is one entitled "An Error in the Fourth Dimension" which describes a wealthy American who buys a splendid house and park in England and there resides. A railway runs through his grounds. On one occasion he wishes to run up to town suddenly and flags the express. There his troubles begin and from police court to higher courts his case is carried, till it is discovered that he is an American and not a madman, and he returns to his own land. Truth is as strange as fiction. The other day a French General being suddenly summoned to his post, flagged a train passing through his estate. Not only would not the train carry him, but he discovered that he had violated five sections of the code. He is now engaged in patching up his lawsuits and is in trouble with the military authorities for being late. Moral, don't flag trains in any part of Europe.

CORRECTING THE RETURNS

PRATT AND THE INCOME TAX STATEMENTS.

Those Who Have Made Wrong Returns Will be Given an Opportunity to Make Changes.

Tax Collector Pratt is going through the income tax returns made last July, with a view to collecting the taxes due. Whether an appeal is taken or not, the tax will be collected now for there is no time for a new decision before the money becomes due.

Numerous errors are being found by Pratt in the returns as sent in, in spite of a good deal of supervision having been exercised when the returns were handed in. On looking over the sworn statements Pratt finds a number that he cannot accept.

The tax collector will appoint one of his force to undertake the work of seeing the men whose statements are wrong and giving them a chance to make corrections. The law provides that any one who makes a false return is to be taxed on 200 per cent more than the tax collector's own estimate of what would be a correct statement.

DENVER, (Col.), September 1.—The title of the noted Bassick mine in Custer county is said to be clouded by a fraudulent and forged deed. The mine is reported to have been sold to J. Pierpont Morgan for $700,000 by the heirs of the late E. C. Bassick, but claims are made that Bassick secured a portion of his interest in the property by means of a deed that was forged.

RURAL DELIVERY GROWING

OVER TWO MILLION PEOPLE SERVED BY IT. Wonderful Development of the System Since it Was Inaugurated Five Years Ago—Some Features of it.

The wide discussion now being had on the subject of rural free delivery makes of especial interest at this time a report made on the subject by Charles H. Greathouse of the Agricultural Department to Secretary Wilson. The report is very exhaustive and a part follows: The system of free delivery of mail at the farm homestead is developing in the United States by great strides. The first routes bearing the name "rural free delivery" were established on October 1, 1896, at Hallowtown, Uvilla and Charlestown, Va. Others followed at once, and by the close of the fiscal year the experiment showed satisfactory results.

April 12, 1900, an important advance took place. Rural carriers were authorized to receive and deliver registered mail. As the law requires such matter to be delivered personally, the carriers are obliged to go to the houses in order of dropping the letters or packages in the farm box. Rural carriers are also authorized to receipt for applications for money orders, and while they cannot yet issue the orders, they can save the farmer the trip to the office by acting as his agent.

Rural free delivery of mails is scientific. On purely theoretical grounds the post office ought always to deliver the matter entrusted to it at the door of the sender. The distance to be traveled from the sender to receiver of mail is precisely the same whether the whole trip be made by the postal employe or be met part way by the person for whom it is intended.

The only question that need be asked is whether there will be more waste of time, a larger number of empty trips by the farmer who never knows when there is mail for him, or by the postman who always knows whether there is something to deliver; and to this there seems to be but one answer. The number of times the farmer would be going to the post town for other reasons and the times when several families would send for mail by the same messenger enter into the calculation, of course; but in general this would not change the answer. And whether the addressee may be a farmer or townsman really is of no consequence, if free delivery involves only a short trip for the postman in the city, it also involves only a short trip for the citizen, and the corresponding relation between length of trips exists for the farm delivery.

The opinions of special agents engaged in introducing free rural delivery in all parts of the United States, as shown in their reports in 1899 and 1900, are invariably favorable to the success of the system. All agree that the opposition comes only from persons interested in the mail service who think they are likely to lose by the change, and from small storekeepers and saloon keepers at fourth-class post offices. Some of them mention also as difficulties to be overcome the fact that the work has been generally spoken of as experimental, and the impossibility of serving all persons precisely alike.

THE ORIGINAL DOOLEY.

CHICAGO, September 3.—James McGarry, the old-time saloon-keeper of Chicago and the original of "Mr. Dooley of Archey Road," made famous by Finley Peter Dunne, is seriously ill at the West Side Hospital to which he was taken last Saturday. He is suffering from stomach trouble and a complication of other ailments. His friends believe that his death is not far off. To-night he was slightly delirious, and his memory is somewhat impaired. At times he failed to recognize old friends who called to see him.

For thirty-five years James McGarry was one of the best-known saloon-keepers in the city. In the little back room of McGarry's saloon Dunne got his inspiration for the new celebrated Dooley stories.

"THE SAILOR OF THE SAIL"

DENIES DETERIORATION OF THE MODERN SEAMAN.

Pictures Him as "Breed of the Oaken Heart," Who "Gave the Main to Commerce."

EDITOR STAR: As one of the sailors whom you have in your article of the 28th grossly misrepresented, I feel justified in writing this letter to you for to try and let the citizens of Honolulu know the true state of affairs in regard to American deep water hips and sailors; your article stated that sailors have deteriorated, nothing could be further from the truth, the fact of the matter is sailors of the present day are more enlightened than ever they were before; sailors of the present day will not be kicked or beaten around a ship's deck with a belaying pin, they are human beings and men just the same as yourself, Mr. Editor; (excuse the comparison, I am sure you will as you are a good American citizen). As for the days gone by when sailors were men, as you say, those were the days when men who had never been to sea before were shanghaied on board of American ships; because they could not get sailors to go in them, it is useless for me to fill up my letter by giving an account of not ships where men have been shot and strung up by the thumbs as they were coming right into foreign ports. I dare say the people of Honolulu have heard about them and they are notorious the world over.
Your article says sailors are like sheep,
that is a nice mouthful for a landsman to swallow, surely. Now instead of sailors being like sheep allow me to state that there is not a braver or hardier class of people in the world, as you would know if you were up on a top-sail yard some night blowing a hurricane of rain and hail with a bit of crashing one minute above their heads and the next try to knock them off the footropes, or out on a jibboom when she is diving into a head sea, burying a man underneath tons of ice cold water one minute for to try and throw him up in the air as she rises again the next. To say that the forecastle of ships of the present day are filled with loafers is far from correct, if some landpeople were to sit in the same fo'castle sometimes and listen to the conversation of sailors it would be worth years of learning to them in that hard school of experience. They could listen to men there whose minds are broadened by travel, men who have learned what this world is by sailing around it and mixing with its people.
And then you say that if only wants a sailors union delegate to make up the mess. Now not one of the sailors who are off the ships whose officers have been arrested are union men, nor have they had any communication with the agents of the sailors union.
The sailors off these ships are men of both intelligence and determination, and need no delegate to tell them their duty to humanity. By bringing these brutes of officers to justice we have done nothing but our duty but to read the newspapers of this city, one would think that the officers were victims of some awful conspiracy; but the very fact of them pleading guilty themselves as the mates of Sea King and St.
James have done ought to change the tone of the press and yet it does not.
Some people might say why does a crowd of sailors let two or three officers knock them about, well I will tell them, if two mates set to and give a man a kicking or to speak correctly a kicking and the sailors go to law over it, it is nothing just two or three lines to say that the mate of the Sea King got thirty days. But say things were reversed, if the other sailors took that man's part, how would it be then in the paper, there would be big flaring headlines, mutiny on the high seas officers shoot two men, the rest get five years in the penitentiary, we all know this and there is one thing we want other people to know and that is there is more number eight heads taken now than forty-four chests, and with that I conclude hoping you will be honest enough to publish this.

BURNED HIS SISTER ALIVE

GHASTLY CRIME IN RURAL JAPAN.

With Demoniac Subtlety a Man Plans
And Carries Out the Murder of His Helpless Sister.

The following from the Japan Times has been seldom equalled in the annals of ghastly crime.
"One Soemon Mitsui, an old man of 68 years, living in O-izumi-mura, Yama-nashi-ken had a younger sister, named Sei, who had for a long time back been suffering from the accursed disease of leprosy. The man knew that he was an object of odium among his villagers because of the presence of this unfortunate patient in his family and the thought so preyed upon his mind that it turned him into one of the most infernal criminals the country has ever produced. Some months ago an aunt of his who had been under his care died.
Now it happened that this woman was about the same age as that of his decaying sister and also that her name had,
for some reason or other never been put on the official book of register. These circumstances gave Mitsui an excellent opportunity for concocting a fraud, which he carried out, by making his aunt's death pass for that of his sister, whom he thenceforth kept secluded in his godown. Now all he needed to do in order to win his demonic purpose was to secretly do away with his sister.
About last May Sei's condition grew so serious that she was little more than a living skeleton. The man thought the time, he had been waiting for, had come and one day during the following month when all the other members of his family happened to be away he went into the godown and put his helpless sister into an empty rice sack. Then mounting his pony and taking his sister with him he went to a lonely spot on the Yatsugatake mountain and there, after saturating the sack and its contents with oil, set light to it. After waiting until about half of his victim's body was burnt and feeling that all traces of his awful crime would be buried in the ashes he returned home.
But crime will out. Soon after his departure from the spot some of the villagers happened to be away he came upon the frightful scene and they at once informed the local police of the ghastly find. This led to the identification of the half consumed remains which connected the crime with Mitsui.

Thereupon he was taken into custody, put through a public trial and was found guilty, with the result that he was a few days ago sentenced to ten years imprisonment with hard labor.
All we need add is that we are inclined to question the lightness of the punishment."

PRaises OUR SCHOOLS

FROM THE BOSTON JOURNAL OF EDUCATION.

Interesting Interview With Commissioner Davison and Compliments for Results of Hawaiian Education.

The Journal of Education of August 22, published in Boston has an interesting article on the Hawaiian exhibit and the Hawaiian school system itself by Clara Stanwood.

The Hawaiian educational exhibit at the Pan-American is peculiarly a surprise and a delight, because the first thought is to compare the progress of these islands in the Pacific lately added to the United States with our new responsibility in the West Indies.

American Influence, continues the article, gave the start of education in Hawaii through missionaries who went out there as early as 1820 and ever since the leaders have been from the United States.

Miss Rose Davison, the commissioner from Honolulu, who came here to install the exhibit, but was lately recalled for her pressing summer duties as school agent, says Americans, have so far done the most for the islands, not only to develop their material resources in possessing four-fifths of the land, but in matters of education, for all the leaders have been from the United States.

The adoption of tropical surroundings into the scheme of education, such as using seeds for numbers in work and pain leaves for the weaving in the sloyd department is favorably commented upon not only to show the adaptability of the system but also from the standpoint of affording the pupils a possibility of livelihood.

Miss Davison is further quoted as boasting of the proud fact that there are no contracts and no politics in the Hawaiian schools, although this state of affairs may not continue on account of the county law providing that each district look after itself being possibly soon in force and thus destroying the uniformity of school work.

AMERICA MAKES REPLY. LONDON, September 2.—The United States Government has replied in a sympathetic and friendly tone, says a dispatch to the Times from Tokyo, dated Saturday, "to Japan's remonstrance regarding medical inspection of Japanese in Hawaii, promising that investigation shall be followed by suitable measures."

MRS. NATION ARRESTED.

NEW YORK, September 1.—Carrle Nation, who arrived in this city today, was arrested at Twenty-eighth street and Eighth avenue, charged with "raising a crowd and creating a riot." She was released, however, upon the assurance of her escort that she would go direct to her hotel. Before being arrested Mrs. Nation entered three saloons and two concert halls, and in strong language lectured the bartenders and the persons gathered in the different resorts. A crowd followed her from place to place, constantly growing larger and more boisterous, and finally the police interfered and arrested her.

RECEIPTS FROM LAND SALES.

A dispatch received at the general land office reports that the total receipts from the sale of lots in the new towns in Oklahoma to and including August 24 aggregated $659,427. Assistant Commissioner Richards, who has had general charge of the sales, estimates that the disposition of the remaining lots will bring the grand total up to $700,000.

LEWIS INCORPORATION.

ODD FELLOWS TO CELEBRATE.

The Silver Anniversary of Harmony Lodge, No. 3.

Harmony Lodge, No. 3, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, will celebrate its silver jubilee, or twenty-fifth anniversary of its organization at the Moana Hotel, September 28. The real date of the anniversary was last May, but at that time the celebration could not very well be held.

There are now more than five hundred Odd Fellows and Rebekahs in Honolulu and the invitations to be issued include them all as well as visiting members of the order. One of the features of the celebration will be the presentation to the officers of beautiful and expensive solid silver jewelry and emblems. There will be an address by Judge Estee and perhaps addresses by others. Following these there will be a dance and a banquet.

The committee having the arrangements in charge consists of J. D. McVeigh, E. R. Hendry, W. G. Ashley, C. T. Rogers, L. H. Dee and C. Charlock. Of the original members of the lodge

NEWS IN A NUTSHELL.

Paragraphs That Give Condensed News of the Day.

C. Elvin has eggs for setting from well-bred white Leghorn stock. The Nippon Maru will sail for the Coast this afternoon at 3 o'clock. An Kai was fined $1 and costs this morning by Judge Wilcox for common nuisance. A Circuit Court notice in the matter of the estate of Eva J. Spencer appears in today's issue. A. W. Seabury was held to answer to the Circuit Court yesterday by Judge Wilcox, bail being fixed at $1,000. The list of officers of the Honolulu Hardware Co., elected to serve for the ensuing year will be found in this issue. The Second Battalion of the First Regiment is ordered to assemble at the drill shed tonight for inspection of uniforms. Tomorrow morning at 11 a. m. Will E. Fisher will sell some property belonging to C. J. Falk for the benefit of all creditors. Miharu was the only drunk before Judge Wilcox this morning, who speedily disposed of the defendant by fining him $2 and costs. For curing and preventing scap diseases use Pacheco's Dandruff Killer. Hawaiian Lodge meets tonight at 7:30. Work in first degree. A Japanese hack driver is reported to have been robbed of $14.50 by three strangers who drove in his rig to Kapolani Park some nights ago. Nagawa charged with cruelty to animals in having driven a horse with a sore shoulder, forfeited his bail this morning in Judge Wilcox's court. You must eat good biscuits if you wish to enjoy good health. Buy the kind sold by H. May & Company a full list of which you will find in advertisement on page 6.

MURPHY EXPERIENCE MEETING. A meeting was held in Murphy Hall last evening at which Francis Murphy presided. Mr. Murphy spoke in his usual happy manner and introduced Mrs. Austin, mother of the president of the association, who then spoke gracefully of her interest in the cause.

NEGRO SHOT AND BURNED. TROY, (Ala.), September 3.—Bill Fournery, alias Bill Hillyard, a negro, charged with assaulting Miss Wilson at Chestnut Grove, was shot and his body burned by a mob near the scene of his crime today. Miss Wilson, who is 16 or 17 years of age, and the twelve-year-old daughter of Dr. Carroll, were on their way to school at Chestnut Grove, just across the line in Coffee county, when they were overtaken by the negro. He seized Miss Wilson, and the little girl ran off. As she did so the negro fired his pistol at her, but missed. The little girl raised the alarm, and soon a posse was in pursuit of the negro. When they reached the scene of the crime they found Miss Wilson unconscious and terribly bruised on the face and about the head. The posse tracked the negro to his home, where he was found in bed. The little girl identified him, and he was then taken out and shot and his body burned. Miss Wilson is in a precarious condition. The Sheriff and three deputies left tonight for the scene of the crime.

MORE AUTOMOBILE TROUBLES. Directors of a Newspaper Company Are Accused.

NEW YORK, September 3.—A special to the Sun from Trenton, N. J., says: John Jacob Astor, Martin Maloney of Philadelphia, George H. Day and other directors of the Electric Car Company, which operates electric carriages in New York city, are defendants in two suits brought in the Court of Chancery by Richard Siegman of New York and other stockholders of the concern. It is alleged that the company has paid some $500,000 in unneeded dividends and that in reality the directors have wasted or lost the entire $5,000,000 received in cash for capital stock, and that they have in addition been compelled to raise $1,500,000 by a mortgage to prevent complete suspension of business. The complainants seek to hold the directors responsible for all alleged illegally paid dividends and for an accounting of the funds of the company.

Shirt Waist Collars Style and Comfort Combined BE ADVISED AND TRY ONE! "My dear," said the groom, "Why do you insist on turning in the neck of your shirt waist like that? It isn't at all artistic." "Because, John, its so hot here," said the bride, "And, besides, low neck is all the style in the East now." Two good reasons; true ones, too; but we wonder if that bride had been introduced to the SHIRT WAIST COLLAR. Made of dainty laces and ribbons it can be worn with any shirt waist, adding prettily to the appearance of that garment, and taking away the unfinished look which it has when the neck band is merely folded in. They don't cost much either. A quarter will enable you to try the experiment. WHITNEY & MARSH, LTD
