ONE THOUSAND A MONTH DECISION RENDERED TODAY

LIEUT. STONE MARRIED

KINDERGARTEN TRAINING

SUPREME COURT SESSION

AGAINST THE EXAMINER

MINIMUM FOR LAWYERS' TIME IN COURT.

Judge Gear Testifies About Fees and Roasts a Decision Given by Circuit Judge Perry.

An interesting discussion of lawyers' fees took place in Judge Little's court this morning, when Judge Gear took the stand as a witness, in the matter of the application of the old firm of Humphreys and Gear for a fee for their work in behalf of a petition to terminate the spendthrift trust of Kalua Kapukini. Gear passed some vigorous comments on a decision rendered by Judge Perry and later confirmed by the Supreme Court, declaring with emphasis that he considered it an outrageous decision and didn't believe now and never would believe that it was law.

Judge Gear testified to having brought the matter into Perry's court, together with Humphreys, and having conducted the case through a trial of over a week. The firm had made an agreement with Kalua Kapukini by which, if the estate valued at about $10,000 was given away from the spendthrift guardianship of Maagoon, they were to be paid $750. If the suit failed, there was nothing in sight, for it was admitted that Kalua, if she was a spendthrift, could not make such an agreement but Gear said he didn't see how the suit could possibly fail.

"Had you a reasonable ground, when you took up the case, for believing that the action would be successful?" asked Attorney George A. Davies.

"I had more than a reasonable ground," said Judge Gear. "I didn't see how the matter could possibly be decided against us. I didn't see them and don't now and I never shall see how a person under guardianship as a minor, as this petitioner was up to the time she was declared a spendthrift, could become a spendthrift. She never had any property to spend, and I didn't see how anybody that was kept on an allowance of five or six dollars a month could grow into a spendthrift. Judge Perry decided the other way, however, and the Supreme Court sustained him."

Under the circumstances Gear said he would not ask more than $500 as a fee, though the firm had done work worth much more.

"If attorneys cannot make a thousand a month for actual time spent in court," said Gear, "they might as well go out of business. The actual time spent in court in this case amounts to over two weeks, leaving aside all the time spent in preparation, in seeing witnesses and in getting up briefs." Judge Gear added that he considered a brief of 16 pages, introduced in evidence, was unanswerable, even though it had been turned down in the courts.

In cross-examination Maagoon wanted to know if there had been an agreement that if the petitioner lost she was to pay nothing to the attorneys. Gear said that there had been no such agreement, but that himself and Humphreys had realized that if the case was lost she would have no money to pay them. They had advanced her $500 to help her out, and had never thought there was any chance to lose the case.

"Do you not think that the attorney for the petitioner was entitled to the same for defending the case, having done the same amount of work?" asked Maagoon.

"I should say yes if I thought there was any defense," said Gear, "but I never thought there was. Certainly you do just as much work as we did, but I do not think you ought to have defended the case at all."

"The court decided differently," said Maagoon.

"The decision of Judge Perry was an outrageous decision, and I don't think it ought to have been affirmed," said Gear. "I don't see how a girl getting $5 or 6 dollars a month could become a spendthrift. I don't see how anyone under guardianship as a minor, who never had any property under her control to waste, could be adjudged a spendthrift."

Judge Gear referred to the Fair will case attorneys in San Francisco, who got a fee of half a million for a case that lasted only a week in court. The fee was largely for the office work done. He repeated that if a lawyer couldn't get pay at the rate of at least a thousand a month, for the time actually spent in court, he had better close up shop.

Attorney J. T. de Bolt was in court and was called as a witness. The case was put to him, and he testified that he considered $500 a reasonable fee.

Judge Little took the matter under consideration.

CORNER STONE TO BE LAID.

Impressive Public Ceremonial This Afternoon at Punahoa.

The general public and all teachers and friends of education are invited to be present at the ceremonial laying of the corner stone of Punahoa School at four o'clock this afternoon. The alumni of Ohau College are especially asked to attend and take part in the program of the day.

The ceremonies will commence at 3:45 with a procession from Punahoa Hall to the Campus, headed by the band and consisting of the officers, teachers, operators and invited guests. Following a selection by the band will be a responsive scripture reading led by F. W. Damon. A prayer by the Rev. S. E. Bishop will preface introductory remarks by President A. M. Smith, followed by an historical sketch of Punahoa school by W. R. Castle. The hymn "How Firm a Foundation" will then be sung and an address on "The Aim of all True Education" delivered by the Rev. W. M. Kincaid immediately before the laying of the corner stone by Rev. Hiram Bingman. D. D. and S. P. French, principal of Punahoa school, A. B. Wood will make some remarks on behalf of the Board of Education. America will then be sung by all and the exercises closed by the benediction, which will be given by the Rev. Hiram Bingman.

Punahoa school first made a start in 1841 in the sitting room of the old Dono Hall residence where the present Dono Hall stands. School was regularly opened July 11, 1842 in a one story adobe building. The institution was for the next ten years poor in material resources, most of the food coming from the school farm. In 1853 the institution was styled Oahu College and the old adobe replaced by brick buildings soon followed by the establishment of Punahoa school in Honolulu.

PULLMAN DIVORCE.

CHICAGO, September 26.—A divorce from her husband will be granted to Mrs. George M. Pullman Jr. tomorrow.

The evidence in her suit for divorce was heard by Judge Bishop in the Circuit Court here today after the adjournment of the regular session, none being present except those directly interested.

Pullman has been in the Far West for some time and is said to be in Redwood City, Cal. His solicitor filed for appearance, consented to a default for want of an answer and also to an immediate trial. The Court thereupon instructed the attorney for the complainant, Mrs. Pullman, to write up the evidence and agree with the defendant's counsel upon the amount of alimony by tomorrow, when the decree of divorce will be signed.

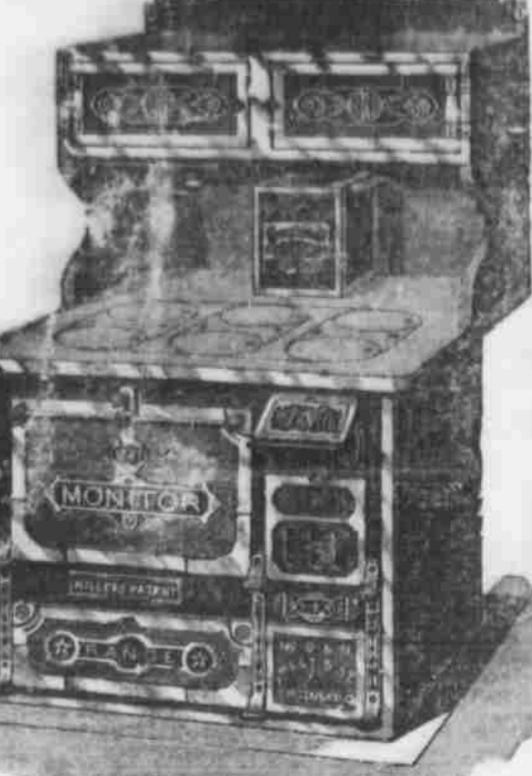

Mrs. Pullman, who was Miss Linn Fernald, was accompanied in court by her father, J. W. Fernald, and her brother, Paul. On the witness stand she alleged unfaithfulness and desertion on the part of her husband. She is a young woman, pretty and very popular in the exclusive set in which she moved on the South Side.

As Miss Fernald she was courted by George Pullman, the twin brother of George M. Jr., and was regarded as his fiancee. It came as a surprise when the announcement was made of her engagement to the man whom she married. The wedding took place in New York on August 16, 1899.

NO THIRD CIRCUIT JUDGE.

Attorney General Knox is quoted in a despatch from Washington as saying that he doubts the validity of the legislative act concerning the additional judicial circuit for the first judicial circuit of the territory and will submit a written opinion to President Roosevelt to that effect. This makes the appointment of a third circuit judge improbable.

Swelling of the Feet and Ankles.

You notice them at first only occasionally toward evening or after being upon the feet more than usual; and during the night the swelling disappears. By and by these gradual swellings of the feet and ankles are more frequent and they do not disappear at night. You also notice how short of breath you are upon the slightest exertion, how you awake during the night with a smothering sensation, and the frequent pains about your heart. Do not deceive yourself any longer. You have heart disease. Your heart is too weak to overcome the force of gravity and watery portions of the blood ooze out of the vessels and settle in the lower extremities. Yes, heart disease can be cured if it is taken in time and the proper remedies used. Dr. Miles' Heart Cure is the best heart medicine that has yet been discovered. It is the only heart remedy that has a record of thousands of cures. Get a bottle of it at once and you will see a wonderful change for the better before it is half used up.

"Two years ago my feet and ankles began to swell, I was short of breath and suffered from severe pains in the region of my heart. My doctors told me I had heart disease but I could get no relief from them. In a short time my legs had swollen to double their natural size and I panted for breath like a tired dog. I thought my end was near, but as a last resort I sent for a bottle of Dr. Miles' Heart Cure. Before the first bottle was gone the swelling had disappeared and two more bottles effected a complete and permanent cure."

HIS PERSONAL TRIBUTE

SECRETARY GAGE WRITES OF HIS LATE CHIEF.

A Few Words From the Head of the Treasury Department in Its Weekly Bulletin.

The last weekly bulletin of the Treasury Department, received here yesterday by the Nippon Maru, contains a personal tribute to McKinley from Secretary Gage. Between black borders on the first page the secretary has following to say of his late chief:

"It has been thought proper to make sad but official announcement in this issue of Treasury Decisions of the tragic death of William McKinley, twenty-fifth President of the United States, and to give some expression of that tribute which his character and deeds compel."

"I need not the shadows of death to make the figure of the late President loom large in the estimate of mankind."

"The Republic he loved, he lived to broaden and unify as no previous President had done. Under his prudent and far-seeing statesmanship it took exalted place in the community of nations."

"From his place as private citizen, on through many and increasing honors to his final post as ruler of his people, he remained true to the highest ideals."

"By the people of the nation at large and by the world he was known, and will live in grateful annals, as a gentleman of noble heart, an affectionate husband, a sturdy friend, and a faithful and illustrious President."

"In a long public life ever open to his fellows, nothing was ever found, even by intemperate partisan zeal, that would cast a shade upon his character."

SCHLEY-SAMPSON.

The Schley inquiry proceeds and promises to last a long time. As it proceeds the bitternesses and jealousies that have existed in a service which ought to be above them, are more and more laid bare.

To Schley the outcome is a supreme matter. To Sampson it is no less so though in a less lurid way. Schley has this disadvantage that he is directly before the court, practically in the position of a defendant but obliged to prove his position affirmatively. That is he has not the benefit of a presumption in his favor. Sampson is not nominally before the court, but as Schley's counsel said "he cannot be kept constructively out of it." Nominally it is not a contest between Schley and Sampson, but the proceedings of the court show more and more already that it is.

Perhaps no clearer insight into the issues before the court can be given than in the words of Mr. Hayner, now chief counsel for Admiral Schley in arguing for the admissibility of questions as to the position of the New York, Sampson's flag ship on the day of the battle. He said:

"We have the absolute right to show the situation of the New York on the day of the battle, and we have the right to show the connection of Admiral Sampson with the battle; we have a right, for instance, to show that Commodore Schley at Santiago maintained the same sort of blockade that Admiral Sampson maintained when he got there on the 1st of June. So far as distances are concerned, I think we have the right to show, because one of the specifications of this precept states, whether or not a close or adequate blockade of said harbor to prevent the escape of the enemy's vessels therefrom was established."

"We do not propose to bring the name of Admiral Sampson into this controversy any more than is necessary. This is not a personal controversy. We are not here for the purpose of engaging in any personal controversy between Admiral Sampson or Commodore Schley or the adherents of either; we are not here for the purpose of at present, without knowing what this case will develop, criticising the actions of Admiral Sampson, but it is absolutely necessary for this court, in order to properly investigate this case under the specifications of this precept, to let us prove what Admiral Sampson did; not that we condemn what he did or criticise what he did, or censure what he did. We are not here now for the purpose of condemning the fact, if it proves to be a fact, of the New York's leaving on the morning of the battle. We are not here to criticise the blockade that Admiral Sampson had at Santiago, but we are here to establish this, or under the specifications of your precept memorandums, to find out whether the blockade at Santiago was a close or adequate blockade. Now, if we can prove that it was, so far as distances were concerned, the same blockade that the commander in chief maintained there, then we can justify the course of Admiral Schley, who was commander in chief before Sampson's arrival."

"In other words, would Admiral Schley be censurable for maintaining the same character of blockade that Sampson maintained? Would Admiral Schley be censurable for maintaining on the 28th, 29th, 30th and 31st of May the same character of blockade, so far as distances are concerned, that Admiral Sampson maintained from the day he got there on the 1st of June until the day of the battle?

"There is one other point, and this is all done for the purpose of really not delaying but properly getting at the matter. We propose to prove that on the 1st day of June the Colon was in precisely the same position inside the harbor that she was on the 31st day of May, when Admiral Schley made the reconnaissance with the Massachusetts and New Orleans. Now, we propose to show that when Admiral Sampson came up with the ships his ships saw the Colon in the same position and instead of attacking it steamed by and permitted her to go further inside the harbor. Now, would not we be justified in not engaging in battle with the Colon and the shore batteries at Santiago if Admiral Sampson took the same course?"

"We propose to prove that when Admiral Schley withdrew from the reconnaissance against the Colon and did not come in contact with the shore batteries, he did it under a general regulation of the Navy which required it of him, and that Admiral Sampson passed by the Colon at 6:30 o'clock on June 1, and saw her lying there, and never pretended to attack her. Do you mean that we have not any right to justify our conduct and actions of the commander in chief? You will find you can't keep Sampson out of this. You cannot keep him constructively from the presence of this court. You may actually, but not constructively. It is impossible."

"Still more clearly if possible, are the issues as they frame themselves presented in the words of Judge Wilson. In the same connection, words that were almost the last he uttered in connection with this case:

"I may just as well indicate here, first as last, what I regard as some of the important features of this case. Of course your honors know we propose to show, and I propose to show beyond all question, that Admiral Sampson from first to last was not in this fight at all, and therefore Admiral Schley had thrust upon him the responsibility of this battle."

INTERESTED REPORTS.

It has been evident ever since the Hamakua drought assumed serious proportions, that strong efforts were being made in San Francisco by some interested parties to keep up the prices of Hamakua sugar plantation stocks in that market. Several times there have appeared articles in the San Francisco papers published as being "private reports" received, not by the papers from here, but by business houses there, that rain had fallen in the drought district. The latest appeared in the papers of September 27 in this form:

"Private reports from the Hawaiian Islands are that after the closing of the ordinary mails at Honolulu on the sailing of the steamer Stern, news was received of the falling of heavy rains on the island of Hawaii. According to the statements two inches had fallen and it was still raining in the northern portion where the drought has been most severe and where the Paauhau, Honokaa and several other large sugar plantations are located."

The mention of the names of the particular plantations which are most extensively owned on the coast, discloses the cloven foot. It was not possible that such news could have been received in Honolulu from Hamakua at the time this was stated to have been received, except by wireless telegraphy. And in fact no such message was received, because no rain had in fact fallen.

In the end the putting forth of such reports must react on the properties themselves. They can only benefit speculators. The bona fide owners of the properties will be best benefited by the truth. This is not the first drought Hamakua has suffered. The properties in question have their legitimate and large value, these occasional and recurring droughts notwithstanding.

While the attempt to sail the first race for the America cup a week ago Thursday cannot count either way in the contest, it is satisfactory to Americans that the Columbia gave such a good account of herself.

The news brought by the Mauna Loa that no rain had fallen in Hamakua up to yesterday afternoon, is disappointing. It was hoped both by plantation owners and the public that the generous rain of Tuesday night had reached the drought-stricken and fire-devastated district.

What has become of the proposition to organize a body of naval militia in Honolulu? The naval militia in San Francisco is in a flourishing condition and is so well thought of by the Navy department that the Philadelphia has been detailed for a training cruise for it.

If anything can be judged by the talk current in Episcopalian circles in San Francisco on the eve of the opening of the Episcopal convention there, as it is reproduced in the San Francisco papers, the affairs and status of the Hawaiian church will receive full and careful attention. It is to be hoped that the consideration to be given will result in such measures as will give peace to the church here.

In the death of Judge Jere M. Wilson, the bar of the United States loses one of its brightest lights. He was a man of prodigious mental capacity, of sound and varied learning, of infinite versatility. As an advocate he was superb; always well poised, master alike of himself and his subject. His conduct of a cause was always such as to challenge the admiration of all who saw him. Such men as he make his profession illustrious.

If the reported organization of a company to lay a Pacific cable really brings a completed cable nearer, the news received by the Nippon Maru yesterday is one of the most important pieces of news to this territory that has reached here for a long time. But whether this company shall actually construct the cable at all, it has in all probability brought the cable nearer. It cannot fail to add to the interest and discussion of the subject. It will direct new and additional attention to the subject and the importance of it. And nothing but keeping public attention to the subject will ever get the cable.

The law has had its course. Czolgoez the assassin of President McKinley must suffer the penalty of his crime. It is a source of satisfaction that the trial was so short as it was, and that the country was not kept in the throes of excitement by a long drawn out trial such as that of Guiteau, the assassin of President Garfield. The defense of insanity was not put forward. The trial seems to have made clear that the crime was not the result of any anarchist conspiracy, but originated in the brain of the assassin, born probably of an overweening egotism thirsting for a notoriety which unconsciously the man felt could not be achieved along the line of any useful activity. If it can be accepted that this was the case, the country can reassure itself in the belief that liberty and freedom do not contain within themselves the seeds of destruction.

The current number of the Salvation Army War Cry contains a group picture of the officers of the Hawaiian Islands division of the army.

JAS. F. MORGAN.
AUCTIONEER

CUBA'S FIRST PRESIDENT

PERSONALITY OF TOMAS ESTRA-DA PALMA.

A Modest, Unassuming Patriot of Heroic
Mold and Historic Type—Spent
Many Years in America.

NEW YORK, September 26.—Tomas Estrada Palma, who will receive the indorsement of all the political parties of Cuba for election as first President of the republic, became well known to the American people as head of the Cuban Junta in New York in the trying period before the United States espoused the tornion hope of his countrymen. Before he went to New York Palma had lost a large fortune by confiscation, and had spent seven years in a Spanish prison for the part he took in a former uprising against misrule in Cuba. He refused to take the oath, as others did, that he would not bear arms again against Spain, although the refusal cost him all he had.
He is a man of unusual intellectual attainments, and speaks five languages fluently. His rare executive abilities were shown when he was Postmaster-General in Honduras under President Bogran. When he came to this country he opened a school for boys in Central Valley, Orange county, N. Y., which met with marked success until the duties of the Junta called him to New York. He would receive no pay for his services for Cuban independence, and when his long self-sacrifice had been rewarded by peace he returned to his family in the country.
Opportunities came which would have enabled him to recoup his fortune with the aid of his rare business and linguistic abilities had he desired. Instead he has remained poor, a modest, unassum-ing patriot of heroic mold and historic type.

SALVATION ARMY REPORT.

Shows Encouraging Progress for Last Year's Work.

The seventh annual report of the Hawaiian Islands division of the Salvation Army has been issued and contains an interesting and most satisfactory account of the work done by that organization for the past year,
with the target set for the next twelve months' work.

In the review, the visit of Lieutenant Colonel French and Major Harris is described as a red letter event and interesting statistics of the growth and progress of the corps are given. In the past year the number of officers have grown from 12 to 26 and the weekly attendance in the Sunday schools rose from 177 to 418. The open air services in all have been held besides over 1000 services in various places. Visits brought 327 persons to the public meetings or whom 90 became fully enrolled members of the army.

The salaries of the officers who left paying trades and businesses have averaged only $6.25 weekly per officer.
A rescue home was part of the target for last year and the pledge was fulfilled in the Hooper mansion on King street being furnished and twenty girls
put in under the care of four officers.
The two semi-annual efforts raised $1,563.36. The target set for the coming year contains the following rings all of which it is hoped will be pierced by the corps sharpshooters.

"1,000 souls to be won for God; 100 additional soldiers or members enrolled; 15 more officers raised; 5 more circuits formed and opened; reorganization of the circuit work; extension of work among foreign speaking people; an Hawaiian contingent to attend General Booth's meetings in San Francisco; a hall and quarters to be erected in Wai-luku, Maui; a scheme to be launched for the erection of a suitable property
in Honolulu."

WIRE TO DAWSON.

SEATTLE (Wash.), September 26.—
The telegraph line which gives Dawson direct communication with the outside world was completed during the night of September 24, when a link over the summit of Nams mountains was stretched.

The first news of Seattle states that word has been received from Ottawa relating to the opening of the Bear, Hunker and Bonanza districts for locations; also the breaking of seven concession grants. The reception of the news spread rapidly, and prospectors are stampeding to the three districts in great numbers.

A great deal of alarm is felt at the discovery of seven cases of smallpox.
Every sick person who bears suspicious symptoms is once examined. The greatest efforts are being made to confine the disease and keep it from spreading. The steamer Yukon, on her arrival at Dawson on the last trip, was immediately quarantined. It is thought that the disease was brought in by passengers on this steamer.

Two passengers have arrived from points on the lower river with news of the American camps. The river transportation rate war is being waged with as much bitterness as at the beginning.

Prevailing rates from Dawson to Skagway are $40 and $60. Three hundred men have left for the outside in the last two days.

MAY BE PRINCE OF WALES.

NEW YORK, September 27.—A dispatch
from the Herald from London says:
It is reported on excellent authority that all the details in connection with the creation of the Duke of Cornwall and York as Prince of Wales are completed, and that the dignity will be conferred immediately on his return.

CHAMBERLAIN GETS STAMPS.

Collector of Internal Revenue Roy H.
Chamberlain received 200,000 one-cent
revenue stamps by the steamship Nip-pon Maru. The stamps were much needed, as the department here was entirely out of them and there is a good deal of demand for them for shipping receipts.

NO RAIN AT HAMAKUA.

Purser Simerson of the Mauna Loa which arrived this morning from the western coast of Hawaii, reports that there had been no rain along the Hamakua coast up to 3 p. m. yesterday, when they left Mahukona. The grand jury went from Kona and Kau ports to Mahukona to hold session at Kohala. Mr.
Simerson telephoned to several Hamakua places before he left Mahukona and was informed that there had been no signs of rain. According to this, it is likely that the recent rain storm here will not travel far enough south to reach the drought stricken district.

JERE WILSON DEAD.

WASHINGTON, September 24.—Judge J. M. Wilson, senior counsel for Admiral Schley is dead.

WASHINGTON, September 26.—The funeral services over remains of the late J. M. Wilson, chief counsel for Admiral Schley, were held at the Church of the Covenant this afternoon.
The church was filled with a representative audience, including many persons prominent in official life. The Rev. Dr. Hamlin read the burial service of the Presbyterian church and briefly extolled the virtues of the dead.
Interment was in Oak Hill Cemetery.

Judge Wilson was father-in-law of former Consul General to Hawaii, William Haywood.

MRS. MCKINLEY BETTER.

CANTON, Ohio, September 27.—Mrs.
McKinley enjoyed a good sleep and says
she feels better than at any time since her husband was shot.

CAPTAIN BERGER TO COAST.

Captain Berger of the Government
band was a passenger on the Mariposa yesterday. He will make a short trip to the Coast, returning in about a month. During his absence the band will take a vacation. The band played the vessel off yesterday and will play at Punahoa this afternoon at the laying of the corner stone of the new building.

ARTILLERY OFFICERS COMING.

WASHINGTON, September 24.—Acting Adjutant General Ward has issued an order for the organization of the sixth and final increase of the artillery corps. This increase is 1,802 men and completes the maximum strength of the corps, 18,862. Lieut. Colonel Van Andrus as a result becomes colonel,
Second Lieut. Thomas M. Jones, artillery corps, having reported arrival at

Ayer's Hair Vigor

'Twill make you have long, rich, abundant hair, and it will stop falling of the hair, too. Ayer's Hair Vigor always restores color. You can depend upon it every time. It brings back all the rich, dark color you had when you were young. If you are 30, there is no need of looking as if you were 50 just because your hair is gray.

And you will like our Hair Vigor, also, as a hair dressing; while it forms a valuable addition to any toilet table because of the elegant way in which it is put up.

PRESENTATION TO BISHOP.

There was a presentation to His Lordship, the Bishop of Panopoli today at St. Louis College. The occasion was the annual patronal feast of His Lordship, in honor of St. Francis. The Bishop was presented on behalf of St. Louis college and St. Francis school with an elegant oak roller top desk. The presentation was made by E. McCormick, post graduate of St. Louis college for 1900. An enjoyable literary program was rendered by the members of the school. His Lordship spoke as did Rev. Father Boarman.

STEWART MENZIES DEAD.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 26.—Stewart Menzies, for nearly half a century a prominent citizen of San Francisco, died at his home, 426 Lombard street, at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. He had been suffering from a complication of maladies and the end was not unexpected. He was born in Glasgow, Scotland, seventy years ago, and came to this city as the second mate of a merchant vessel in 1852.

NAVAL MILITIA.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 23.—This morning sixty-five men and ten officers of the Naval Militia, under Captain Thomas A. Nerney, will board the man-of-war Philadelphia for a seven days' cruise to the Santa Barbara channel. Stores for the men, provided by the State, have already been placed aboard the Philadelphia and the vessel will leave port about 4 o'clock in the afternoon. The cruiser's officers were highly pleased with the behavior and aptitude of the Oregon militiamen who were lately taken out for sea practice and anticipate as good a showing by the San Francisco division.

THE LILLIPUTIANS.

Positively the farewell performances will be given by the Pabst Liliputian opera company tomorrow afternoon and evening and Monday next. The sparkling military musical comedy "The Gay City Girl" will be staged. Doors open for the matinee at 1:30. Performance to commence at 2 sharp. Children half price to all parts of the theatre. There will be no performance tonight (Friday).

NICOLAY DEAD.

WASHINGTON, September 26.—John George Nicolay, private secretary to President Lincoln, and widely known as the author of several books on the life of the great war President, died today at his residence here, aged 70 years. He had been in feeble health for several years, and since his resignation as marshal of the United States Supreme Court in 1887, had been living quietly at his Washington home with his daughter, Miss Helen Nicolay, the only surviving member of the family. A warm personal friendship existed between President Lincoln and Mr. Nicolay. His work that has attracted the most attention is the history of Lincoln, on which Mr. Nicolay collaborated with Colonel John Hay, the present Secretary of State.

Sale of Remnants September 30 to October 5

Remnant week again.

It never occurs but twice a year here. Never make Remnant week till we're ready—then we do it carefully,—forcefully—make it an event to be talked about and remembered.

For three weeks we have been busy measuring up every remnant and dress length—Silks to Calicos, Laces, Lawns, Batistes, Organdie, Cambrics, Ginghams, Sheetings, Shirtings, Table Linens, Ribbons to Linings—nothing but what's carefully measured—yards and price on each in plain figuring; so that you can practically wait on yourself.

There have been no dull times in this store. The last half-year's business amounted to many thousands more than in the corresponding period last year—hence more remnants; and as to price—well, those of you who attended our sale six months ago know what kind of prices we put on remnants. Those who didn't will be well paid to come in during this week.
