

SECRET SERVICE AGENT

NEW DEPARTMENT IN THE PHILIPPINES.

United States Agent on The Kilpatrick Going to Take Charge of Secret Service Work.

F. S. Cairns, Chief of the United States Secret Service for the Philippine Islands, is a passenger on the transport Kilpatrick, bound for Manila. He was formerly chief of the same bureau on the island of Cuba, serving during the war with Spain, when Collector of Internal Revenue Chamberlain was in the treasury department service in the same place. Chamberlain requested a call this morning from his former associate, and the two men had an interesting talk over old times.

The secret service work in the Philippines will be very difficult, and in some ways similar to that which has been going on in Cuba. Cairns goes from one difficult new field to another that is even harder to handle, and he will have a large force of men under him. In the new possessions, with their large non-population the task of a secret service man of the federal government is both difficult and perilous and the new official expects to encounter plenty of work.

The Philippines are an ideal place for counterfeiter. It is little trouble to shove "queer" money in such a population as that of Manila, and the secret service men are likely to have plenty of work on this line alone. Among the three or four hundred thousand of Manila's inhabitants, there is a large proportion of people who are not able to detect bad money. In addition to the bad money men there are the stills to be run down and if the work in Cuba is any criterion, both classes of lawbreakers will prove hard to detect and dangerous to handle.

Cairns has been in secret service work for many years. When President McKinley took his first tour of the Southern states, Cairns was in charge of the secret service men who went with him. In discussing the assassination at Buffalo this morning, the new chief for the Philippines said that it was utterly impossible for any of the men employed at Buffalo to do any more than was done. "No one could have found the slightest reason for suspecting Czolgosz," said Mr. Cairns. "It was a very hot day, a large percentage of the thousands of people in line had their handkerchiefs out wiping perspiration from their faces. Others had kodaks, packages of lunch, and all sorts of packages, and of course the handkerchief in the hand of the assassin could not arouse any one's suspicion."

While in Cuba Mr. Cairns unearthed some large counterfeiting enterprises. In Havana he made a seizure of some of the most perfect plates for printing $50 bills that have ever been found. The seizure was made just as the plates had been struck off on them. They were the work of a Cuban.

SOLD TOO MANY TICKETS. Complaints have been made that a great many more gallery tickets were sold for Saturday evening's performance at the Opera House, than by any possibility the purchasers could all be accommodated with standing room there, so say nothing of seating them there. This is said to account for some of the boisterousness in the gallery which was noticed during the performance. A sufficient number of doorkeepers were not provided at the opening.

The carriage arrangement at the close of the performance was such that there was a good deal of confusion and delay.

Some other details of handling and providing for the house were not looked after as they should have been.

ONLY REGULAR HOURS. Judge Humphreys announced on Saturday that he was not going to hold court beyond the regular hours, from 10 to 12 and 2 to 4. He was asked to set the Kamala case specially, but stated that he did not consider it the duty of the court to hold sessions longer than the regular hours. The court could not do justice to important matters, said the judge, if the judge tired himself out by working overtime.

RAPID TRANSIT ANSWERS

THE INJUNCTION ASKED IN FAVOR OF MULES.

Electric Road Files a Lengthy Reply in The United States District Court, to Pain's Suit.

The Honolulu Rapid Transit and Land Company today filed a lengthy answer in the United States District court to the suit brought by the Hawaiian Tramways Company, asking for an injunction to restrain the electric road from extending its lines on King street. The defendant goes into the history of the Rapid Transit work here and, as one feature of the answer, charges Pain's company with bad faith in trying to oppose work now.

It is set forth in the answer that in July 1898, the Republic of Hawaii passed an act authorizing the construction of a street railroad such as that of the Rapid Transit, and the correspondence between the government here and Washington on the subject of land transfers, etc., is given in full, among the exhibits. The approval of the Rapid Transit franchise by President McKinley, on April 30, 1900, is also given. The company has spent over $750,000 in Honolulu, says the answer, since it began to proceed under the franchise then secured, and it now has a contract by which over $16,000 is to be spent. The issuance of even a temporary injunction would cause much loss, and depreciation in the company's stock. The road that has been set up is a great public convenience, being in every way modern and complete and doing much to relieve the public inconvenience and annoyance caused by the old Pain system. An affidavit of Marston Campbell, assistant superintendent of public works, is given, stating that the road west of Liliha street is along King street, where the injunction asked for would apply.

The defendants state that the action of manager Pain is not in good faith, in that he agreed with them to submit to the Supreme court the issues as to the rights of way, and the Supreme court held in favor of the Rapid Transit. Pain was present at the meeting of the Executive Council when the matter of allowing the extension was discussed and decided.

There will be no injury to the Pain line, says the defendant, except such as ought naturally to result from legitimate competition. The Tramways company has never intimated that it was going to take any further action, once having lost in the Supreme court, and in fact on one occasion Pain wrote a letter, a copy of which is filed as an exhibit, requesting the Rapid Transit Company in working on a crossing to do the work at night, so that mule-car traffic would not be interrupted, and this action was taken by Manager Ballantyne.

WASTED WATER ON HAWAII. Kihel Gets Two Inches of Valuable Rainfalls.

W. M. McQuaid, chemist at Honolulu, is now in Honolulu feeling grateful over the rains that have descended generally upon the island of Hawaii in the past few days.

Mr. McQuaid, who was at one time connected with Professor Stubbs in Louisiana, is a little bit fearful that the tag of the quotation may come to pass in that "the flood came."

It is an old saying well exemplified in this country that "it never rains but it pours." "Hawaii can however stand a little rainfall," said Mr. McQuaid this morning. "There is however a great deal of water that goes to waste all the time in the big island especially in the Hilo district, that will some day be conserved and make matters more equitable. The damage done by the fire is utterly beyond description, it is terrible, and will take a long, long time for recovery."

Two inches of rain is reported to have fallen at Kihel.

ONLY ONE COURT. Judge Humphreys did not hold court this morning. There is no courtroom for both him and Gear while the Supreme court is in session. The latter court may be in session all this week, so that only one circuit court may sit.

STOCKYARD HORSES SOLD

AUCTION OF THE COMPANY'S STEEDS.

Attended Largely by Dealers and Livermen—Horses Sold Under the Hammer—Prices Realized Were Low.

The sale of the stock of the Honolulu Stockyards Company started this morning at a few minutes after 10, with a good crowd of buyers looking for a bargain in a horse or a rig. There were apparently few family buyers, the crowd being made up principally of those who were looking for something to be utilized in a business way rather than for pleasure purposes.

The managers and owners of local stables, vehicle and horse selling establishments watched the sale with a view to sizing up the market. The professional consensus of opinion seemed to be that the market was overstocked with horses already while several head were expected from the mainland within a short time.

However it was also thought among the local horsemen that the stock would fetch an average full value, from the fact that they were being sold under the hammer. The horses have all been well rested the last few days and looked in prime condition.

In selling under the hammer, no guarantee is made of the animal's soundness and the buyer relies on his own judgment to prevent him from purchasing a "pig in a poke." Wherever there is sufficient population and the requisite ground, auction sales of this kind are usually estimated to bring better results when the paces of the animals are shown off in a ring. A guarantee of soundness is generally made in this case, but the results as compared with selling under the hammer are usually about even, as a well bred but aged animal, liberally fed and rested for a few days, can make a magnificent showing in the ring which constant driving will later show the purchaser to have been but a temporary ebullition of animal spirits inspired by oats and a vacation.

Manager Rice states that the horses have generally been fetched about two-thirds of what they actually cost to be landed in Honolulu or, in effect, a lower price than they could be bought on the mainland.

The principal bidders were horsemen who took advantage of the low figures and bought for speculation, having in some cases already resold their bargains. Some few horses were bought on commissions. There were indubitably some bargains made. The prices ranged from fifty to a hundred and fifty dollars, more of the animals being easily bought for less than the latter price.

Kentucky, a black horse with clean-cut legs and finely shaped barrel, who was shipped from the blue grass country not very long ago fetched $110, when, apparently sound, he should easily have commanded twice the price. He was bought on a private commission. Dexter Prince fetched $125 and Dandy $135. Twenty-four head in all went to the hammer. Only a few of the rigs were sold this morning and the sale was continued after luncheon.

SOUNDING THE HARBOR

THE MUD-BANKS IN THE UPPER END.

Investigation as to the Need of Dredging—Sea-wall and Wharf-repairs at Fort Street.

The department of Public Works has been making some soundings in the harbor, with a view to going ahead with dredging, and the result shows the necessity of avoiding further delay. Soundings at the Waikiki end of the harbor show that mud has been piling up to a great extent, and the entire end of the harbor will have to be thoroughly dredged. The Kilpatrick, entering the harbor yesterday, stuck on a mud bank, as have a number of other steamers. It is regarded as certain that if the dredging is not done soon, the harbor will be too shallow for the larger steamers that now come here.

This morning work was begun on the construction of a new Inter-island wharf. A force of 20 men was put at work. A new concrete sea-wall is to be put in, at the esplanade, 200 feet in length. This will be quite a difficult piece of work as the wall has to be built under water, and there is a good deal of diving to be done. The Inter-island wharf will be reconstructed so that it conforms to the harbor line, like other wharves. At present it is somewhat out of shape. It will also be rebuilt as far as it is necessary.

DAD WEATHER PREVAILING

INCOMING VESSELS REPORT ROUGH TIMES.

Number of Boats Weatherbound at Kaula Ports—Rough on Moikaka, Maui Hawaii and Lanai.

Very rough weather has been prevailing about these islands for the last three or four days. The storm seems to be general in every quarter, with the possible exception of the south west, and it is working gradually around to that section.

The China struck bad weather last Wednesday, coming from the Orient and was delayed fully twelve hours in reaching port. The Kilpatrick had the same experience last week, striking bad weather in the northeast coming from San Francisco, while the worst kind of weather is reported by all of the incoming island boats. At the present time, the coast of Kaula seems to be getting the worst of the storm. No less than five boats are weatherbound on that island.

News of their predicament was brought yesterday by the steamer W. G. Hall. Four of these vessels were weatherbound at Hanalei on the northern coast of Kaula. The steamer James Makee and the schooner Maloia, Ada and Lady were kept inside the harbor by the rough weather and were waiting an opportunity of getting away. They were still there on Saturday afternoon when the Hall left Nawiliwili.

The Mpkahala was in a similar predicament at Makaweli on the southern coast and the Waleale was in Hanalei, where she was waiting for the storm to subside.

The Hall was in quite a ticklish situation for a couple of minutes at Nawiliwili on Saturday. A heavy sea parted her chain and the anchor and six fathoms of chain were lost. Captain Thompson had the boat headed out toward sea, to avoid being carried ashore. So rough was the weather that the Hall was unable to take all the passengers or freight from Nawiliwili, getting off nothing but the baggage.

On the trip over from Honolulu, the Waleale had a hot last week. A heavy sea broke over the small boat as it swung from the davits, and filled the boat with water. So heavy was the weight that the fastenings parted and the boat fell into the water. The sea was too rough to attempt to recover the cargo of her, so she was towed one from the Hall after reaching Kaula.

Captain Parker of the Claudine, which arrived from Maui ports yesterday morning, reports that the weather has been very rough all along that island. Particularly heavy seas were running into Kahului and Hana. The vessel sustained a loss of a sailor and a passenger and take off all return passengers and freight.

The Kinau reports bad weather along the eastern and northwestern coasts of Hawaii. The rough weather was the cause for the vessel being delayed a couple of hours in Saturday.

SWELLED HEAD DISEASE

AFTER THE PRIMO MEN

WASHINGTON REPORT ON THE CHICKENS.

Two Sent From Here are Examined and the Trouble Found to be Chickens. A report from Washington has been received by the United States Agricultural station here, on the two chickens affected with the "swelled head" disease, which were sent from here to the Bureau of Animal Industry, for examination. The chickens were sent in alcohol, to be dissected at Washington, as the local station has not facilities for such work.

The report received confirms the conclusion of the station here, that the disease which for many years has prevented successful poultry-raising in Hawaii, is nothing more than chicken-pox. This opinion is expressed in the bulletin on chickens, by T. F. Sedgwick, which is now being printed at Washington. There are a number of remedies for the trouble, and the bulletin will contain instructions for its treatment.

The disease is caused by a fungus, and is mostly prevalent in hot weather. Mosquitoes probably have much to do with its prevalence in this part of the world. Mosquitoes, lice or any other insect that punctures the fowl's skin and allows the fungus to enter, bring on the disease.

WOLF IN THE MAUI FOLD

PASTOR KEKUPI CONVICTED OF IMMORALITY.

He Was Fined $100 by Judge Wilcox. This Morning—Preacher Who Led a Double Life.

According to the testimony in Judge Wilcox's court this morning, a wolf has been howling in the Maui fold. If the testimony given by Mrs. Ether McLean be correct, she succeeded in tearing off the sheep's skin and exposing the wolfish propensities of Rev. J. E. Kekupi, pastor of a native church at Pauwela, Maui. Kekupi was charged with adultery.

Mrs. McLean, who is the sister of Kekupi's wife, testified that the defendant, although a pastor, had pestered her with his intentions and importuned her to such an extent with his protestations of affection, that she finally consented to live with him. Accordingly, she took her clothes from his house on Maui and brought them and her with her to Honolulu and established the woman in a lodging house.

They had maintained relations of an intimate character for some time. Finally she tired of him, but when she wanted to leave him, he would not listen to it. He followed her about the streets, bothering her continually, until, at last, she sought the protection of the police.

Judge Kauiloku, attorney for the defendant, maintained that the prosecution had not proved that the Kekupi had been a married man. At the most, the offense of the prisoner he argued was simply that of fornication and if the court found the defendant guilty, the penalty asked by the elements and consented to by High Sheriff Chillingworth did not agree with the other attorney. In fact, Mr. Chillingworth argued that no penalty whatever should be shown. The defendant should be given imprisonment if convicted. The court fined the defendant $100 and costs. An appeal was taken.

ATTACK ON HONOLULU BEER LICENSEES.

Local Dealers Would Put All Retailers Alike on a Thousand Dollar License Basis.

The suit of Henry Macfarlane and company and others against Treasurer W. H. Wright, to knock out the $250 licenses for Honolulu beer, came up before Judge Price this morning. The action is especially directed against the additions to the liquor laws made in 1886 and 1888, when the malt-liquor propositions were passed. They authorized the granting of "a license" for the brewing of malt liquor in the district of Honolulu and further authorized the granting of retail licenses to sell it, on payment of $250 a year.

Attorney J. J. Dunne took up the morning session with the opening argument for the plaintiffs in the case. He contended that the law created a monopoly and protected it by an unlawful license regulation. "We have no objection to the law as passed in 1882, under which we obtained the licenses we now have," said Dunne. "But the later law of 1886, was designed to create a monopoly and did create one, and the law of 1888 is calculated to help it along. Dunne claimed that the constitution of the United States would not allow a law which protected a single concern from competition of others, and required that retailers deal in its products.

The 1888 law, passed two years after the law allowing a license to be issued for brewing malt liquors, allowed licenses for its exclusive sale to be issued at $250. An ordinary retail license is $1,000. The first law as passed permits only one brewery to be started at all, and the second law forces saloons which want to save the $50 a year license to sell nothing but the beer made by the brewery, all of which is claimed to be against the laws and constitution of the United States.

A. G. M. Robertson is continuing plaintiffs' argument this afternoon.

NEARLY SEIZED OPIUM

There came near being an opium seizure at the Oceanic wharf Sunday afternoon. Fortunately for the consignee however, the opium was duly paid and bore the proper stamp upon it from the San Francisco officials, so the stuff was not taken by the customs officers.

Yesterday during the unloading of the steamer Alameda, a string in which were some cases of oil, broke splitting the cases to the floor. One of the cases broke. Several of the tins therein being dented a black fluid began to flow out. Inspector Dinkidige was on the dock and he ascertained that the stuff was opium. No seizure was made at the time however as he decided to wait in hopes that the man to whom it was consigned would appear.

Dinkidige thought the matter over and sent Inspector Jacobson to investigate further. Jacobson discovered that there were 21 cases in all, consigned from San Francisco to a well known Chinese merchant here. Although the cases were labeled "oil," they contained four tin cans, two of which held oil and the balance opium weighing 12 1/2 pounds each. The entire shipment of opium consisted of 525 pounds. All of the opium was marked and properly stamped, showing that it was properly brought here so no seizure was made.

COAST SURVEY WORK.

The Pathfinder Will Soon Go to the Philippines.

The coast and geodetic survey steamers Pathfinder and MacArthur have about completed the survey of the Fox Island passes, which form the entrance or exit for all Bering sea commerce. The importance of these channels is recognized by all those interested in safeguarding commerce passing into Bering sea, and the lighthouse board shortly will erect lighthouses in that locality. The Pathfinder soon will proceed to the Philippines via Nagasaki to take up the work of surveying urgently called for by the Philippine commission. The coast survey steamers Paterson and Godney are now charting Cross Island and Icy Straits, the entrance of the southeast archipelago, to aid the craft making use of the inside passage on that portion of the coast. Many of the small vessels going to the Aleutian Islands seek these passages to avoid the long voyage without adequate coal supplies.

Overwork

and Worry bring on Nervous Prostration, Sleeplessness, and an endless train of Painful Disorders.

Dr. Miles' Nervine.

When the nerves and organs of the body are well and strong, and the worn-out tissues and waste products are quickly removed from the system, a tremendous amount of hard work can be done without serious injury. It is when the nerve tissues and brain cells are used up faster than they are replaced by new ones, when the fires of life consume faster than the fuel can be furnished, that brain, nerves and vital organs suffer—cry out with neuralgia, heart disease, rheumatism, nervous dyspepsia—and finally break down. Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is food for the worn-out brain and wasted tissues. It gives a healthy appetite; makes the weak stomach strong; increases the flow of digestive juices and puts the lazy liver to work. It is the greatest blood vitalizer and nerve remedy science has produced.

"I was suffering from sleeplessness and painful nervous sensations, brought on from overwork and anxiety; and although I tried a number of different remedies for this disorder, I obtained little or no benefit from any of them. In fact some of the advertised remedies seemed to increase rather than diminish the difficulty, until one day I determined to give Dr. Miles' Nervine a trial. The first few doses convinced me that I had found a specific for my trouble and I continued its use with the most satisfactory results. It seemed to feed the nervous system, afford restful sleep without any of the after effects of an opiate or any artificial stimulant and can be discontinued at will. I deem it the best remedy for nervous people now on the market."

WAIKIKI SHORE STATIONS

FORTIFICATIONS BOARD ON THE BEACH.

Inquiries of Property Owners for Sites for Forts—Sites Have All Been Selected.

The army fortifications board has created alarm at Waikiki by a number of visits at places along the beach, with a view to arranging for purchases of sites for fortifications there. Most of the large homes there with water frontage have received visits from the officers, and the owners are very uneasy lest they should find Uncle Sam reaching after their property.

Along Kalia road are a score of large places, all having beach frontage and most of them having large homes. Some of the residences are 20 years old and more, and the owners would strongly resist having to part with them, as suitable sites of the kind are not so very plentiful. Inquiries have been made of these property owners and the latter are waiting with some anxiety to see where the lightning will strike.

The officers reported eight sites as having been selected as seemingly suitable for location of guns. How many of these sites will be used, or just where they are, was not stated, but it is understood that one of them is along the beach this side of Diamond Head. Whatever property is wanted will have to be taken, if terms of sale cannot be agreed upon, by condemnation proceedings in the United States court, as land for a naval station is now being taken at Pearl Harbor.

The report will be sent to Washington on the steamer Alameda, next Wednesday. It will contain the board's complete recommendations as to a scheme of defense of Honolulu, Pearl Harbor and the southern side of Oahu. It goes to the War Department for approval and if the plan is adopted the department will probably begin steps at once to carry out the scheme.

"LOTTERY OF LOVE."
Repertoire for the Week of the Neill Company.

Those who are acquainted with the very interesting history of Daly's famous theatre in New York City will readily remember the long and highly successful run that was enjoyed there by the farcical play "The Lottery of Love" that will be presented at the opera house tomorrow evening by Mr. Neill and his company. The complications of the farce are many and revolve around an erratic mother-in-law. She first marries her dutiful daughter to a considerably named Augustus Doubledot, who, after a brief acquaintance with his new mother-in-law, applies for a divorce on the very day of his wedding. He then marries again, a motherless girl, but the fates are against him for his new father-in-law soon marries his first wife, thereby giving him his first wife for his new mother-in-law and his first mother-in-law becomes his mother-in-law No. 2. The mother-in-law in this play is almost a prototype of Mrs. Carrie Nation and the play has been one of the most famous successes of the Neill. Mr. Neill will be seen as "Augustus Doubledot," the too-much married young man, and Miss Chapman will appear as "Diana."

The curtain will rise promptly at 8 o'clock and as the farce is not so very long, the final curtain will descend by 10:30 p. m.

Thursday evening "Rosemary" John Drew's famous romantic comedy will be played for the first time in this city and Friday night, "The Case of Rebel-Hous Susan." Those who expect to attend these performances should secure their seats at once and avoid disappointment by attempting to secure choice seats at the last minute.

THE MIKADO'S BIRTHDAY.
Celebrated by the Japanese All Over the Territory.

HILO, November 8.—The Japanese colony did honor to the Emperor of Japan on Saturday, Sunday and Monday in celebrating the anniversary of his birth. Some of the plantations gave a two days' holiday and others allowed only Saturday. In Hilo the stores in the colony were decorated and business generally suspended. Saturday night there was a circus performance, which lasted until midnight. At Keauhou there was a big time. Besides the usual athletic games and a circus there was speech-making, etc., and the Japanese flag and hundreds of banners were flying. At Mountain View there was a circus performance Saturday afternoon and everything passed off pleasantly with the exception of one little rumpus over a fifty-cent piece which had been thrown to a wrestler and picked up by a bystander who had a bad case of mumps. A fight followed, in which the man with the mumps got a "jolt" on the jaw that sent him away howling with pain.

LAHAINA. November 9.—The Japanese holiday was celebrated with no little enthusiasm in Lahaina. The decorations and feasting were very attractive, and there was a brilliant display of fireworks in the evening. All Japanese stores were closed.

A VILLAGE BLACKSMITH SAVED HIS LITTLE SON'S LIFE.
Mr. H. H. Black, the well-known village blacksmith at Grahamsville, Sullivan Co., N. Y., says: "Our little son, five years old, has always been subject to croup, and so bad have the attacks been that we have feared many times that he would die. We have had the doctor and used many medicines, but Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is now our sole reliance. It seems to dissolve the tough mucus and by giving frequent doses when the croupy symptoms appear, we have found that the dreaded croup is cured before it gets settled." There is no danger in giving this remedy for it contains no opium or other injurious drug and may be given as confidently to a babe as to an adult. For sale by all dealers. A FLORAL EMBLEM.

What floral emblem shall we have here? Every country and every state has some member of the vegetable creation to represent it. We have the Lilies of France, the Rose of England, the Thistle of Scotland, the Shamrock of Ireland, the Palmetto of South Carolina, and so on. The Hohenzollerns have their corn flower, Maine has its pine tree, Holland its tulips, The Cavaliers of England had their oak leaf, in memory of Royal oak day, and carried the custom across the Atlantic with them, and the Conservative party of the same country at the present time displays the primrose, Disraeli's favorite flower, and has established "Primrose Lodges" as a political force.

A few newspaper men were the other day discussing this question, and it occurred to one mind to ask the public upon the matter. There is nothing vital about choosing an emblem, but it is a noble thing to have one, just as it is a noble piece of bunting or the rag of silk, but it is the sentiment which is behind it, and which it represents. A man dies for his flag and we honor him in death. Many a man died for his flower during the Wars of the Roses, when the red rose of Lancaster struggled against the white rose of York. Those floral emblems sent twelve pines of the blood, two hundred of the then nobles, and 100,000 of the rest of the population to rather untimely graves, and they did not have gatlings, pompoms, and repeating rifles in those days.

This is rather taking a gloomy view of our emblem. However it only shows that when once an emblem is chosen, the people love it not for itself, but because it typifies their country or their state. It is a thing of life to them, in fact it becomes dearer than life. One might enter upon a very lengthy discussion upon emblems which are not by any means confined to national and political life, but which have played a very strong part in religious life as well. In point of fact emblems play a part in all life.

We have many flowers to choose from. There is the brilliant hibiscus, the red hibiscus, kokio-ula, or there is the more tender white hibiscus, kokio-keokeo, a rarer and more beautiful flower than its scarlet and flaunting sister. Then there is the hau with its changing color, a brilliant yellow in the morning and a rich brown at night. Or shall we think of the ohia-lehua, with its feathery scarlet tips and its deep, shiny green leaves. The lele is handsome, but would not make a good emblem, on the other hand the nuku-iki is distinctly Hawaiian, one of the most beautiful of its flowers, but unfortunately few know it. We have the kou, nearly extinct, and the mlo going the same way, so we may reject them. Another flower which has gone is the hauhele. This was used in thatching the old grass house, but one would wander far before finding its brilliant blossoms now. Then again there is the koall-ai, a true Hawaiian convolvulus. It is distinctive, it is charming, but now quickly it fades. Then there is the pili-kai, another member of the same family.

Shall we take the puakala which covered the Waikiki plains before ever a house was put on them? or shall we consider the willow with its scarlet flowers and its brilliant beans. The nehe with its brilliant yellow flowers might certainly prove attractive, and would satisfy aspirations which are now devoted to a foreign floral emblem. If you want modest flowers instead of the flaunting and gaudy one, Hawaii supplies you with the nohuana which is as modest as the violet, and as delicate as the tenderest blush on the peach. One must not forget the ouaui, whose brilliant blossoms light up the darkest of our island gulches.

The list of Hawaiian flowers, true Hawaiian flowers, might be extended, but enough is given above for choice, if we are to choose an emblem, we should do it with care, and should make it distinctive. In choosing our emblem we have no business to choose some imported flower. We should choose what belongs to us. In nine cases out of ten dwellers on these islands do not know what is indigenous and what is imported. We do not want an imported emblem. We want an emblem of our own. Personally the writer favors the white hibiscus, the kokio-keokeo, but he knows there are many other opinions, all of which shall have place in these columns.

AMERICAN SCHOOLS.

The backbone of the United States is the public school. It is the crucible through which the young and rising generation passes. It matters not whether the family may come from the wilds of Bohemia, or from the wilds of Galway, where there are people who talk Erse and do not understand a word of English, as was shown in a murder trial some years ago, when a whole family of Joyces had to have an interpreter in court to enable them to plead, and to understand the procedure of the court. Again our future fellow citizens may come from Poland, and bring a considerable amount of live stock along with them. In fact they come from all parts of the world, they have many and varied languages, but they have to speak English at last. When one looks at what the public school does and what the private school does, there is no doubt as to where the true strength lies. The public school is the basis of the manhood of the United States. The private school, however well endowed, is the basis of the "Chappies" and other worthless elements of a civilization which inevitably must have just such scum. We can find such material even here.

Over one-fifth of the population of the United States attend some public school supported by the taxes of the state or municipality, while about one-fiftieth of the population attend private schools. The school population last year, including pupils in all schools, elementary, secondary and higher, public and private, numbered 17,020,710, an increase of 282,348 over the preceding year. Those enrolled in public institutions numbered 15,433,462. The inclusion of pupils in special institutions, such as reform schools, asylums, Indian schools, etc., would increase the total by about half a million.

Perhaps the most notable feature in scholastic development during the last decade has been the great increase in the number of public high schools, which have more than doubled, numbering 6,905 in 1900, as compared with 2,526 in 1890. This increase has been distributed throughout the country. It is worthy of note, however, that the increase in the number of high-school pupils has more than kept pace with the increase in buildings, and is proportionally much greater than the increase in population, there being 12,588 pupils in attendance on schools beyond the elementary stage, as compared with 8,053 in 1890.

One of our local publications was recently criticizing the expense of our local high school. Of course to any one who had an ounce of sense, such a criticism was so thoroughly un-American, that in an American community it could be very heartily laughed at, as it was. It was not worth any more reply than the head of the High School gave to the writer of the attack. The matter was then settled upon an American basis and will remain there. Hawaii is rather proud of enrolling herself as one among the 6,905 high schools of the United States. It seems to the writer better to educate future United States citizens, through the whole day, than to educate orientals for a couple of hours at night to take the bread out of the mouth of the American working man. Of course it is a matter of taste. One man likes to help his own people, another man likes to help those who are essentially foes of his own race.

That a new map of Oahu is needed is very true. There should also be a new map of Molokai and one of Niuhau. One of the teachers under the Board of Education is preparing a new geography of the islands, the one now used is out of date.

The question of the Panama railway route for our sugar may or may not prove a profitable method of moving our main staple. It is however only another means of advancing the arguments in favor of a canal scheme. If there was only a canal either through the Isthmus or through the Nicaragua Lakes, our sugar ships would go direct to New York, and there would be no need of so much handling as will now be required.

The subject of a permanent statistical bureau will again be before Congress at this session, it comes up every decade. When the census is taken there is a general hunt round for statisticians, and it is realized how unwise it is to scatter the trained material. Some of it, however, always comes back. This is the case with such men as Wines, Hunt and Powers, each one of whom would be almost impossible to replace. But it would be a good thing to have skeleton rank and file, and now that cannot be kept up.

Politicians who take to writing books in order to set right their political grievances usually get into hot water. General Alger has met his little nest of hornets in some remarks upon the war correspondents in Cuba. The fact that some of the war correspondents were shot should have made Gen. Alger pause before making the sweeping assertion of cowardice on the part of all correspondents. There are correspondents and correspondents, just as there are soldiers and soldiers, but because some soldiers turn cowards, it is no reason to argue that all soldiers are cowards. As a fact it is up to General Alger to prove that any correspondent showed the white feather, while it is a matter of historical record that there was a wavering in one of the regiments.

From every part of the Islands comes the account that the rain has been plentiful and beneficent. It is said that rain falls upon the just and upon the unjust. But who of us can judge who is just and who is unjust. The justice of today is the injustice of a past age. The justice of the Norman and the justice of the Saxon were diametrically opposed. So is the morality of some races opposed to that of others, and what might pass current in Cythera, would not pass current in Athens, any more than the manners of Papeete are the manners of New York. However all this has nothing to do with the rain which has filled our natural reservoirs, has revived our cane fields, and has made our Islands blossom forth in emerald tints instead of the russet which has clothed them for so many months.

CHANGE OF WINDOW DISPLAYS.

Last week you saw our large window filled with refrigerators and ice boxes, of all sizes. This week you can see, in their place, several hundred useful articles for your home.

Last week, in the small window, you were attracted by a pretty display of beautiful articles in cut glass, art potteries, fine china, and sterling silver.

This week, in their place, you will find a display of piano, banquet and table lamps, at very reasonable prices.

When we advertised that we would take old stoves in part payment for new, you were surprised to find that although you thought your old stove was worthless, yet we made you an allowance, and removed it from your premises.

You found that the work we did for you in connecting the boiler to your new stove was very satisfactory.

You never could get hot water as quick before, with as little fuel.

You are finding out day by day that we are not holding out promises or inducements to our customers, that are not Bona Fide.

You found, by actual experience, that the refrigerator you purchased from us used less ice than your old one. (This is a cold fact.)

That dinner set that you purchased looks just lovely on the table, and is admired by all your friends, and how comforting it is to know that you can replace any breakage, from our stock.

The rubber hose that you purchased from us under a guarantee gives you no worry.

You know that you will not have to purchase another one for a year at least.

Those cut glass tumblers, at $3.50 per dozen, that we persuaded you to buy, in place of the blown tumblers, at $1.00, are proving a good investment, and what a superior shape they are, to what you have been using.

If you will spend a little time in our store, when you are down town, we will show you a great many articles, that are good investments.

KILPATRICK AND THE REEF THE DRAMA.

Reported She Had Gone on the Reef. Fearless to Rescue—Some of Transport's Passengers. The transport Kilpatrick arrived off the port from San Francisco Saturday evening about 10 o'clock and anchored in the lee of Diamond Head.

When Captain Brokew and the Fearless reached the transport, he discovered that Captain Saunders, the pilot, was aboard her and that, instead of there being any cause for alarm, the transport was safely anchored in 22 fathoms of water, where the vessels formerly anchored. The place was marked on the chart as an anchorage and as the vessel was all right Captain Brokew returned and reported to Major Robinson, who lost no time in hurrying back to bed.

Captain Rodgers of the Kilpatrick says that the reason he chose that anchorage was because he saw quite a number of lights from fishing boats all along the channel, and as there was a chance of confusion, he had the lights on the shore lights, and incidentally getting the fishing nets tangled in the propeller, he decided to go where he knew was a good and satisfactory anchorage.

DISAGREES WITH ESTEE THE TRANSITION PERIOD STILL LIVES. Supreme Court Sticks to Its Ruling in The Habeas Corpus Cases—Prisoners Are Remanded.

The Supreme court in three more cases this morning followed its former decision in the transition period cases, overruling Judge Gear of the Circuit court and Judge Estee of the Federal court. The cases of Chida Manzarabro, who has probably had more chances to learn the law on habeas corpus than any of the others, George Wade and Ah Quong came up on the old applications for writs of habeas corpus.

THE STAR EYED GODDESS. Henry Watterson has written a long editorial on "Opportunities for Young Men." Can it be possible that his belief in the opportunities for young men is responsible for the inclination he has to run for high office?—Chicago Record-Herald.

THE DRAMA.

"Barbara Fritchie" is a dainty play and nothing prettier could have been chosen for the opening performance of the Neill Company's season. The company was greeted with an audience that filled every seat in the house, that came to be pleased and was pleased; that came to see and admire itself, and found full justification in itself for its vanity and self-appreciation.

The opening scene is delicious. The scene is that of a street lined with old fashioned southern houses in an old fashioned southern town. On the front steps of one of these houses are seated the young ladies of the household and kinship in the quaint dress of forty years ago.

James Neill as "Captain Trumbull" presents a consistent character and makes all out of it that the playwright has made possible. Frank MacVicar as "Mr. Fritchie" is the sterling actor here leaving undone, John W. Burton as "Colonel Negley" presented the stormy, somewhat boisterous, but gallant and courteous gentleman, and was excellent.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

You know the story—how good Queen Bess, pointing to the beautiful hair of a peasant girl, said, "There's a real royal crown. I would trade my golden one for it." That was long ago. Now you can have a "real royal crown" of your own, simply by using Ayer's Hair Vigor. It makes the hair grow thick and long and stops it falling out. When your hair is rich and heavy, and when the closest inspection fails to detect a single gray hair, you will certainly look a great deal younger, and you will be much better satisfied with yourself, too. Isn't that so?

OLYMPIC TEAM MAY COME

FOOTBALL GAME SCHEDULED FOR CHRISTMAS

Local Enthusiasts Asked to Subscribe. Punahele Athletics Play Acquiescence of The Gridiron.

Despite the inclemency of the weather a crowd of about three hundred turned out to the football game on Saturday afternoon, at Punahele and greeted enthusiastically, spontaneously for the opening of the season as there was nothing in the one-sided game to get excited about.

The play started in a manner that looked like an even game. The Punahele Athletics were generally conceded to be sure of victory but for the first few minutes the Athletics held their own, then broke their opponents line with apparent ease and even gained a few yards.

The Punaheles then began sending Morse round the left end with such success that the score rapidly mounted to 21 to nothing at the end of the first half. The second half saw the military discouraged and added fifteen to the Athletics score ending the game at 36 to 6.

The Punaheles showed up well and, with the exception of two weak spots in the line, proved out a strong team. The Athletics have good material and with the proper coaching and training should make things interesting for their opponents as they were wise in the cunning of the gridiron. Smith and Cominsky played in good form that showed a previous knowledge of the game.

A pleasant feature of the match was the fact that the boundary lines had been roped off and none but those who were privileged by the managers were allowed inside the barrier. A few who attempted to assert their importance were squelched by the prompt removal of one of their number by the police.

There is a possibility of a big game on Christmas day between the Honolulu and the well known Olympic Club Team. Manager Muma of the Olympics spoke concerning the matter to physical director Charles Bailey of the local Y. M. C. A. while the latter was in San Francisco and has since written a letter offering to bring the crack football team provided their traveling expenses were paid, which would amount to $1500. The team would arrive here December 21, and leave on the 31st playing a series of games meanwhile. The Olympic members are stated to be anxious to make the trip.

Mr. Bailey believes that the $1500 could be easily raised by subscription from the college men and others without difficulty while the gate receipts from the series of games would help materially.

While the proposed team of the Olympics is composed of gridiron cracks, Mr. Bailey believes that the change of climate will at any rate in the later games make the matter sufficiently equal to provide entertainment for the visitors and the spectators.

MERRY BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Enjoyable Feast Given by Mr. Neill on Saturday.

A merry party gathered after the theater Saturday evening on the western lanai of the Hawaiian Hotel as the guests of James Neill who was giving a luau in regular native style to his company and personal friends in celebration of the birthday of Miss Mary Forbes, the niece of Mrs. Neill, or as she is better known, Edythe Chapman.

SAT ON THE BIRTHDAY CAKE.

Gentleman Inadvertently Breaks up the Menu.

After much scurrying around the city in search of a birthday cake for the debutante at the Neill luau on Saturday evening, an elaborately frosted wedding cake was secured and decorated with the required number of candles was ready to do duty at the feast when by some inadvertence, the confection, instead of being brought to the Neill table was placed in the regular dining room where some politelans were celebrating their return from the States.

In the dining room also was a well known young man of herculean proportions whom some of his intimate friends call Porthos and who has aspirations toward a legal career. This legal luminary is somewhat of a joker and has many times been acknowledged to "take the cake" in his efforts at merry making. Saturday it is humored upon a foundation of fact, he not only took the cake but sat upon it without intending any joke, which like the cake was decided on him.

Explanations were made to the disappointed guests and Porthos retired to change his clothes and order another cake and, incidentally, another pair of dress trousers.

BLOODED HORSE DROWNED.

HILO, November 8.—While being discharged from the ship Falls of Clyde a valuable horse shipped by George S. McKenzie became frightened after being lodged in the scow and jumped overboard and swam out toward sea. He was followed by men in a boat and brought to the beach but on arrival was exhausted. The Japanese attempted to drag him ashore but made no effort to keep his head out of water and the horse drowned.

GOING TO HAWAII.

Boyd and Campbell Leave Tomorrow on the Kinau.

Superintendent of Public Works J. H. Boyd and Assistant Marston Campbell will leave tomorrow on the Kinau for another visit to the Island of Hawaii. They will go through Puna and Kau districts this time, to look at the roads and ascertain what public improvements are needed in those parts of Hawaii. About three weeks will be spent on the trip.

MOTHER GOOSE FAIR A SUCCESS.

The Mother Goose Fair proved a great success on Saturday after noon and the drill stand was filled to overflowing with a crowd of delighted spectators who purchased eagerly from the ladies and gentlemen in their assumed characters of nursery song and story. The sum of $500 was taken in receipts which will leave a satisfactory profit when all expenses are deducted. The ladies desire to thank the Territorial band for their attendance and also Nelson and Cashman for the use of the awnings for the marquee. The fête was remarkably successful from a spectacular standpoint with the music, the decorations and the quaint and pretty costumes.

HALLOWEEN.

WAILUKU, November 9.—On Thursday last, Halloween was observed at James Lindsay's, Haiku, in regular old-fashioned Scotch style. After an elegant dinner the guests amused themselves with old time Halloween games, including apple grabbing, snapdragon, throwing apple parings and experimenting with the more serious rites of the evening, in which mirrors suspended over pails of clear water took a prominent part. The evening's sport concluded with the telling of ghost stories.—Maui News.

PORTO RICANS FIGHT JAPS.

HILO, November 8.—The Japanese and Porto Ricans on the Hawaiian Agricultural Company's plantation in Kau indulged in a free for all fight last Sunday. The occasion of the war was too deep potatoes of saki. The implements of war were stones and clubs. The Japanese came out victors with several Porto Ricans knocked out. None were killed, but one was pummeled to within an inch of his life.

BACK AS AN IMMIGRANT

RIGHTS OF FOREIGN TARI IN AMERICAN PORTS.

A Much Vexed Question on Which the Department of Justice Has Rendered an Exhaustive Opinion.

The question of the rights of foreign sailors landed in American ports is constantly coming up in some form in connection with the enforcement of the immigration laws. The Department of Justice at the request of the Treasury Department has rendered an exhaustive and luminous opinion on the subject. The opinion is by Acting Attorney General James M. McLaughlin, in his conclusions it is as follows:

It is important, however, to remember that the salutary immigration statutes can not be defeated by intending immigrants shipping as sailors. Judge Toulin recognized this in the decision referred to by expressly approving the ruling of your Department in the case of the Lancashire. Aliens who become seamen on vessels for the purpose of securing an entrance into this country free from the barriers of the immigration statutes, are none the less alien immigrants and can be stopped as such. In my judgment, it is not important whether the master of the vessel who ships them was in collusion with them or knew of their purpose to escape. Only such seamen are excepted from the class of passengers upon whom the head money tax is imposed, and from the class of alien immigrants, as are seamen in good faith, and have no intention, by reason of their passage to this country, to leave the ship and make entry into this country. In the practical administration of the law it may be difficult to determine whether such seamen have secured their discharge from the vessel, or have deserted from it on their arrival at the American port for the purpose of obtaining such entry. They may have escaped or deserted only for the purpose of shipping on another vessel which is outward bound, and with no intention of abandoning their seafaring occupation. To prevent a violation of the immigration laws in the practical administration, as to which it is not possible to lay down legal principles, and the character of which is beyond the province of this Department to determine. As my predecessor, Attorney-General Griggs, pointed out in an opinion rendered on May 8, 1899 (22 Op. Atty. Gen. 469), the authority given you by sections 2 and 3 of the immigration law of 1882, to establish such regulations and rules and issue from time to time such instructions not inconsistent with law as he shall deem best calculated to protect the United States from fraud and loss, and for carrying out the provisions of this act, shows that by these and other provisions of law it is made clear that Congress, aware of the practical impossibility of establishing in advance by inflexible orders of its own all the rules and methods that so indefinitely and complex a business is entangled as it was with that of carrying passengers, would demand, intended to vest in the Secretary power to make and apply such as would, from time to time, be shown by experience to be necessary and convenient.

It does not follow, therefore, because aliens are seamen that they are free from such examination and inspection as you have either required or may hereafter require by regulation. By the immigration statutes Congress intended to exclude certain classes of undesirable immigrants from entrance into this country, and the law should be interpreted so as to effectuate this object. "As was said by Attorney-General Miller, in an opinion given your Department December 29, 1890 (19 Op. Atty. Gen. 769):

The power of Congress to prescribe the conditions under which foreigners may enter this country is plenary, because it has the power of absolutely excluding them. (Chinese-Exclusion Cases, 130 U. S. R., 531.) The existence of such a power implies the ancillary power of detaining all persons, whether they are citizens of the United States or not, a reasonable length of time that their citizenship may be established.

"By similar reasoning, it is in your power to make such examination and take such precaution as may be reasonably necessary to prevent any alien coming whether he be a sailor or not, from entering this country in the sense that all immigrants enter it. As I have said, an alien immigrant, who is of the prohibited classes referred to in the immigration statutes, does not escape their operation because he ships as a seaman. If he ships as such, seamen in good faith, and comes cum animo revertendi, he is not within the prohibited class, because his entry into our ports is only of a temporary character and is tolerated from considerations of convenience and the necessities of commerce. If, however, it be shown to your satisfaction that such alien has shipped to this country simply as a convenient means to make entry here or to avoid the operation of the immigration statutes, then he becomes subject to their operation as fully as any other alien immigrant. If, as in the prohibited classes, he is to be deported, thus, a convict, a polygamist, or a person with a contagious disease, can not obtain entrance to this country, exempt from the salutary provisions which exclude others of his class, simply because he has shipped as a seaman. The power to exclude necessary immigrants from the temporary country as a seaman carries with it the right to detain and examine all seamen of a given vessel, if, in your judgment, the execution of the immigration statutes requires it.

The question, therefore, is necessarily one of practical administration, and has been committed by Congress to your sound judgment and discretion. "I have used the expression 'make entry' advisedly, in order to distinguish the entry into this country of those designated in general terms as alien immigrants from the temporary presence of alien sailors, who have arrived here in the pursuit of their calling and are awaiting their departure. In a literal sense the latter have entered the country, but it is obvious that when they seek admission here of a temporary character only, and do not enter this country in the sense in which alien immigrants pass our territorial boundaries.

"With these general observations, let me refer to the particular case upon which you submit your request for an opinion. In the case of the British steamship Columbia it appears that some 8 alien seamen of that vessel, after deserting her, landed here for unpaid wages, and thereupon, in order to sail, the representatives of the owners of the ship paid to the attorneys for the members of said crew amount due their wages. They were never regularly discharged. This meager statement of fact does not show whether the sailors in question came to this country in pursuit of their calling as seamen in good faith and without any purpose of entering this country as immigrants. They may have left the ship by reason of dissatisfaction, and with the intention of again shipping as seamen on the first outward ship and without any purpose of abandoning their calling. It is not my duty, and I could not determine this question of good faith or intention from the meager facts submitted to me. I am satisfied, however, that it is within your power to detain and examine such alien seamen, and to deport them, if you are satisfied that they intended to remain within this country. You are not obliged to remain inactive when so easy an entrance through our immigration barrier is being effected.

"Replying to the inquiry in your letter of April 2, 1901, I think the liability of these alien seamen to pay the head money under the act of August 3, 1882, depends upon the same question of intention, and must be dealt with accordingly as a matter of fact to be decided in accordance with the evidence of each particular case. If they shipped as seamen as a convenient method of securing passage to this country, and for the purpose of entering therein as other alien immigrants, then they are passengers and subject to the capitation tax. But if they shipped with the intention in good faith to continue their occupation as seamen, and with no intention to make entry into this country, then they are not passengers, and are exempt from the tax in question."

LYNCHINGS IN RECENT YEARS.

In sixteen years 2,516 lynchings have taken place in this country, and every state but five has been the scene of at least one of these illegal executions. Three New England states, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, and Rhode Island, and Delaware and Utah have been guiltless in this direction. Southern blood has been responsible for 2,080, and negroes have been the victims in 1,678 cases. Twenty-one Indians, nine Chinese, and seven Mexicans have been subjects of the mob's fury, and 800 whites. Fifty-one women are included in the total of 2,516. Each year since 1892, when 236 met this violent death, the number of lynchings decreased until 1899, which saw 107. In 1900 there were 115 and there have been so far this year 101, of which twenty-three were of white people. Among the cause given for the whole sixteen years are many trivial ones, but the present year has seen lynchings for quite as slight reasons as any time in the past. Five who were thus snatched from the hands of the law were suspected—not proven—to be cat thieves, one kept a gambling house, and the offense of another was given as "unknown."—New Bedford Republican Standard.

GRAECO-ROUMANIAN ALLIANCE.

A military convention is rumored to have been concluded between Greece and Roumania, under the auspices of Count Goltchowski, the Austrian minister of foreign affairs, who is given the credit of having brought it about. As Bulgaria and Serbia have lately gone over entirely to the side of Russia, the triple alliance powers thought it necessary for the sake of military equilibrium in the Balkans to make Greece and Roumania allies. Turkey naturally in the case of war would side with the triple alliance group. That Roumania has a military convention with Austria, and thus with the triple alliance, is a known fact. But the admission of Greece seems to be of recent date, and finds now its expression in great demonstrations of fraternity in Athens between Greeks and the Roumanian students visiting there.—London Chronicle.

THE PHILIPPINE FORESTS

Captain George P. Ahern who is at the head of the forestry division of the Agricultural Department in the Philippines returns to his post on the Kilpatrick with five skilled foresters who will work in the Philippines under his supervision.

Captain Ahern is returning from an official visit to Washington where he has made report of his work and the existing conditions in the Philippine group.

The captain called upon Wray Taylor this morning and with him called upon Governor Dole, with whom he had a few minutes talk on forestry affairs, afterwards calling on Secretary Cooper and Mr. Sedgwick of the Experiment station.

Jared Smith being at the experiment station, Commissioner Taylor drove his guest to Punchbowl where a view could be obtained off the trees on Tantalus although a visit farther up the mountain or to the Fall was practically impossible on account of the rain.

Captain Ahern was intensely interested in the experiment station and the work that has been accomplished by Jared Smith. He deplored the high appropriations necessary to properly carry out the work both here and in his own district and hoped that Hawaii would get her share of them.

Wray Taylor entertained Captain Ahern with a lengthy disquisition of Hawaiian forestry and tree varieties. Captain Ahern published an illustrated work on the woods of the Philippines, a copy of which he will send to the department here and another to Governor Dole. He takes with him several varieties of sugar cane which he secured from the Planters' Association Experiment Station at Makiki. He has arranged with Commissioner Taylor to exchange valuable information and to ship here varieties of likely trees or to help the islands out in any way.

The expert forester, Griffith who will follow Captain Ahern to the Philippines will arrive here about the second week in December and will endeavor to completely cover the islands from a forestry point of view in one month's stay. Preparations have been made to expedite his actions when he arrives here and the local authorities will help him out in every way.
