RATHER PECULIAR CASES

A MAN LEAVES HIS BIKE AND RUNS AWAY.

Police Believe He Stole the Wheel—An Old Jail Bird Attempts a Bold Day-Night Burglary.

Very early this morning Officer Keppano saw a man coming down King street toward the Arlington on a bike with no light. He started toward him and was astounded to see the fellow leave his wheel and bound away through the Arlington yard. The officer waited awhile, but the man did not return for the rider.

The wheel was finally taken to the station house and placed in the hands of Detective David Kaapa. This was done because the rider acted in a very suspicious manner and the street officer came to believe the wheel had been stolen. The bike is held at the station house and awaits a claimant. It is a Hibbard, a new make here, with white rims.

Henry Malehini, an old jail bird, was caught red-handed in the act of burglarizing a Chinese store in Palama just before noon. When detected by the three Chinamen in the establishment, he had his hands in the money drawer and was abstracting the coin therefrom.

A big scuffle ensued, and the native had just about the best of it when help arrived. Officer Manuel Espindola happened in on his way from the range at Iwile and arrested the burglar. At the station house he had only 95 cents of the stolen money in his possession, the Chinamen having taken the balance from him. The man is charged with larceny in the second degree and will be heard in police court tomorrow morning.

Malehini is an old offender and it was a great satisfaction to Detective Kaapa that he was trapped so easily. Many recent burglaries have been partially traced to him, but there was difficulty in getting evidence to stick him.

THE BADGER.

The U. S. S. Badger arrived yesterday afternoon, eight days from Samoa. She is in command of James M. Miller, commander, U. S. N. She brings Hon. Bartlett Tripp and Baron Von Sternberg, the American and German members of the commission. She will sail for San Francisco Saturday.

The other officers of the Badger are: Lieutenant Commander J. B. Milton; Lieutenant T. D. Griffin; Surgeon O. D. Norton; P. A. Engineer W. C. Herbert; Captain N. H. Hall, U. S. M. C.; Ensigns R. R. Belknap, J. R. Y. Blakeley and Yates Stirling; Naval Cadet F. Morrison; Assistant Paymaster H. P. Ash; Pay Clerk W. A. Hopkins; Boat-swain W. A. Cooper; Carpenter J. A. O'Connor; Mate C. Larson.

GREATLY SUPERIOR.

A good audience was present to witness the midnight change of program at the Orpheum last night. The program is pronounced by all who saw it as being greatly superior to the one preceding it. No one can see Post as the new boarder at O'Malley's boarding house and not laugh. Then comes Post and Marion as the two Irish swells, which is very amusing. The Boggs and Haeward scene, Drifted Apart, was good and so were the other acts. The same program tonight.

HERETOFORE UNHEARD OF.

Prices are to be cut to a point heretofore unheard of at the big departure sale of L. B. Kerr's. He will make no exceptions, everything must go before August 18, 1899.

PERFECTION—PERFECT PEACE.

"We left perfect peace in Samoa," said Judge Bartlett Tripp, the American representative on the high commission to Samoa. "How long it will continue, it would be hard to say. The Samoans are an impulsive people, and they may break out in factional warfare at any time. But the commission accomplished its purpose, and left the country with a provisional government fully established and the two factions in perfect amity."

"When we reached Apia we found the Maitoia and the Mataafa forces drawn up facing each other, separated by a neutral zone perhaps half a mile wide. The Mataafa men numbering probably 5000 men and the Maitoia men nearly as many. Nearly a thousand of the latter were organized under British officers and armed with British rifles. Military works of considerable importance had been thrown up. Martial law prevailed in Apia, and the houses indicated that there had been considerable shelling. The two parties were in this position, resting on their arms under the terms of the armistice awaiting our arrival."

"Our first object was to disarm the Samoans on both sides. Everybody, missionaries, traders, military and naval officers, all said this could not be done; that the Samoan prized his firearms above all things and would surrender his rifle. Not a single word of encouragement did we get from any source in our proposal to disarm. However, we had come there to secure peace and we felt that there could be no peace without disarming."

"Finally we sent for Mataafa and his thirteen principal chiefs, promising them a safe return. They came. We recalled to Mataafa that on his return from exile at Jaluit, he had made promises not to interfere with the government. Yet here he was at the head of a faction and a state of war prevailing. We explained that we had come to secure peace. We pointed out the seven war vessels of the United States in the harbor, and the command to secure it, and as much more of the naval and military forces of the three powers as was necessary for the purpose to come if it was needed. We proposed as a first step, and before anything else, that the arms in the hands of his followers were not government property, but the property of the individuals who carried them, and that he had no power to compel their surrender. I told him that we would give him a reasonable time to surrender their arms, and that every rifle surrendered during that time would be receipted for, and that after a reasonable time they would either be returned or paid for at a reasonable price. But that after the time expired, if arms were found in their hands would be confiscated and those who had them would be severely punished."

"Mataafa and his chiefs consulted a few minutes and then announced that they were ready to advise their followers to surrender their arms on these conditions. Knowing that he had no power to compel his followers to take this advice, we told him to call a meeting of all his people, tell them what we had said and report to us next morning whether they had come to any decision. They reported that they had held the meeting and that their arms would be surrendered, but that it would take some time to get them all together and asked until May 31 to make the surrender. They were given the time, and when the Badger sailed around to the place agreed on, there they were waiting for us. It was estimated that the Mataafa forces had about 2200 rifles in all, and May 31 they delivered to us 1837. They explained that some had been taken to some of the other islands and that it would require some time to get them all. So we extended the time in which they would be received and receipted for, to June 29. By that time we received in all over 2100 guns from the Mataafa forces, and 700 British rifles from the Maitoia forces, in all about 2800 guns from the Samoans."

"Our success in disarming the Samoans, raised the commission in the estimation of all the people of the islands. They no longer looked on us as a set of men attempting the impossible. We had done what they all said could not be done, and yet what it was admitted was necessary to be done. From that time on we had the most cordial co-operation everywhere in Samoa."

"Having disarmed the Samoans so that hostilities could not be resumed, so that it was to the interest of everybody to re-establish order and government, we set ourselves to the task of organizing a provisional government. There was no government. Dr. Solf, president of the municipal council was there, but there was no municipal council for him to preside over. There was not even a register of voters so that an election could be held. We had to go out and prepare a register. Finally a municipal government was established, to which could be turned over the detail of administration. For when the Samoans were disarmed and returned to their own districts, and the men from the two factions met there were petty outbreaks and quarrels, complaints of which all came to us. Whenever such a complaint came, we sent a gunboat to the region, and it was quickly quelled. We found that whenever these outbreaks occurred the chiefs and the sides used their efforts and influence to quiet them and generally succeeded before we could get a man-of-war to the scene."

"With a provisional government established to conduct the administration of affairs, we turned our attention to the subject of a suitable permanent form of government. The details of the plan we have agreed on, of course, can not be made public until it has been submitted to our respective governments. There are some features of it, however, which are so generally known that there can be no objection to speaking of them. These are the abolition of the kingship, and the sending of a white administrator there by the powers."

"The commission was unanimous in its behalf that the decision of the supreme court must be sustained. Whether we agreed with the reasoning that led the court to that decision or not, it was the decision of the tribunal which the powers had themselves established and bound themselves to support. But we coupled with this decision an agreement to recommend to the powers the abolition of the kingship. We found that the kingship was not a native or indigenous institution. It was introduced by the missionaries, who doubtless believed that it would be better to have one central authority, than the many local, district authorities and chiefdoms which originally prevailed, and still prevail among the Samoans. The Samoans have hereditary chiefs, but the king is elective. We found that there had never been an election of a king which was not followed by insurrection and rebellion. There never was a time when process running in the king's name could be executed in all the districts. The very idea of an elective king was in antagonism with the idea of kingship. So that there was nothing subversive of Samoan customs or ideas in causing the kingship. As a matter of fact, Maitoia's father, after he had been elected king, was defeated by a faction of his subjects and sent into exile, and between the first years of his reign and the last years there had been three kings, Tanu's uncle, Tamasea and Mataafa."

"So while we upheld the decision of the supreme court and made Tanu king, he and his advisers could see that with our recommendation for the abolition of the kingship, on the one hand, and the probability of his being unable to maintain himself as king even if the kingship should not be abolished, on the other hand, made his title an unstable one. He is a young man of eighteen, and he had no particular force of character, and he told us that he had never been a local chief undisturbed, than a king with such prospects before him, and that he would resign. The pressure, but from the circumstances. However, his resignation gave us an opening to work out our plans with less embarrassment. Maitoia was king for about twenty-four hours."

"We spent about two or three weeks, visiting every district. We would appoint a certain time at which we would be called for by the district, where we asked the people of that district to come and meet us and confer with us as to the form of the government to be established. The people of the district were always an hand to meet us at these times. They brought chickens and pigs, and all that sort of thing as gifts of hospitality to us. We drank kava with them. We outlined to them what we thought was the best form of government adapted to the country and the customs and needs of their views. In this way we met all the chiefs and all the people."

"Finally we called a general fono at Apia for July 14, at which we invited all the chiefs above a certain rank, to be present. There were 420 chiefs. In all these fonos we allowed no one to be present except the Samoans and ourselves. For we did not feel at liberty to make public our plan of government, yet in order that we might get at the views of the Samoans, we told them what our plans were. In these various fonos, the general outline of our plans had become so well known to the Samoans, that at the general fono, held in Apia, July 14, the Mataafa chiefs presented a draft of a form of government that almost exactly coincided with the draft we had drawn up. Mataafa who was sick at the time and could not be present at this fono, sent the draft by his representatives with the request that it be read. When this was done, the Maitoia chiefs, in each outdone, said that it coincided with their views exactly. We said that this being the case, while it was impracticable for 450 to sign the draft of our request, we would ask each side to select thirteen to represent them, and to meet us on the Badger the next morning, and sign it, so that it could go to our governments not only as the expression of our judgment, but with the approval of the Samoan people. They appointed their representatives. The next morning the twenty-six chiefs representing the two factions, met on the Badger and signed our report. At this meeting there were great demonstrations of friendship and good fellowship between the representatives of the two factions. They shook hands, rubbed noses, and vied with each other improving that they were once more at amity."

"Of course, pending the establishment of a permanent form of government, we had to leave a provisional government. The only available material was the three consuls, Mr. Osborne the American consul, Mr. Grunow the former German vice consul, now acting consul, and Hamilton Hunter, a British subject who has been in the Fiji and other islands for twenty-five years, holding important positions, the acting British consul. The three consuls take the place of the king and council. In certain matters provided for by the Berlin treaty, there has to be unanimity of action. But in all matters of executive government, a majority acts for the whole. The president of the municipal council is adviser to this executive, as he formerly was to the king. We left this government as thus constituted, all the powers we had, which were plenary."

"The form of government we will recommend to the three powers, in our judgment, combines strength, simplicity and economy, three essentials in a government for Samoa, and economy not less than the other qualities, where the revenues are so small."

"We accomplished our purpose. We went to Samoa to restore peace, and we have done it. We went to devise a suitable form of government to avoid the causes which distributed the peace there, and we have unanimously agreed on a form which also meets the approval of the Samoans."

MORE JAPANESE LABORERS

MR. BOARDMAN'S SUCCESS IN ENLISTING THEM.

Over 5000 to Arrive in August—Japanese Doctors Say Honolulu is in no Danger of Plague.

George E. Boardman succeeded in enlisting in Japan all the laborers that he had contracted to secure for the planters. He had contracts for 1500 men. The preliminaries were rather harder than usual, owing to the peculiar political status of Hawaii at present; but when this bridge had been crossed everything was easy. Mr. Boardman's laborers will arrive here on the regular steamers during the month of August.

Something over 5000 Japanese are authorized for the next three months. Mr. Boardman reports that these are being enlisted by the various immigration agencies and will shortly begin to arrive. There will in future be no special difficulty in securing all the laborers required from that source.

The laborers brought by the Thyra will be liberated tomorrow and sent out on vessels leaving for the various plantations. They were fourteen days at sea from their last port and had only four days more to remain apart from the world in quarantine. The men brought by the Feking and Gaelic will be held until Monday and Tuesday next week, for the reason that they have seven days in quarantine and steamers for the other islands will not leave until that time.

Mr. Boardman makes an interesting statement regarding black plague. He says eminent Japanese physicians told that that Honolulu had nothing to fear from the disease on account of the abundant sunlight and the open character of the house and yards. In the plague districts of Hongkong and other Chinese cities the sunlight never strikes into the houses at all. Rows of shacks are so close together that a bare ray of light comes between them. It is admitted everywhere that sunlight is the best agency known in preventing or even eradicating the plague.

In Honolulu the sunlight has a full sweep upon every quarter of the town. Chinatown here is as open and as much exposed to the healthful rays as the better sections of Hongkong, and the Japanese physicians see no chance for the plague to gain headway even there. This is gratifying information, at the least.

KINAU TO LAY UP.

The passenger and freight steamer Kinou of the Wilder line will be laid up for repairs and improvements for at least a month after the next trip. Besides a general and thorough overhauling, six new state rooms will be added on deck, to the twenty-seven which the Kinou already has.

The Claudine will take the Kinou run and the Maui will substitute for the Claudine. Should the Claudine be unable to handle all the traffic, the Helene will be run also.

The Wilder vessels are in turn laid up annually for repairs. After the Kinou will come the Claudine, then the Helene and so on until each has its yearly overhauling.

MORE OF THEM USED.

There are probably more Singer sewing machines used in the United States than of any other one make. This is a very excellent guarantee that they are one of the very best machines. The points of merit are strength, durability, easy running and simple construction. Very little mechanism to get out of order makes repairs very small. When in need of a new sewing machine examine the Singer before purchasing any other make. B. Bergeron, agent, Bethel street.

LAND BELONGS TO ALLEN

DECISION IN A KING STREET PROPERTY SUIT.

James Hoare Forfeited His Title to S. C. Allen by Sale Under Foreclosure of Old Mortgage.

Judge Stanley today filed a decision in the matter of James Hoare vs. S. C. Allen, ejectment. In favor of the defendant. The action was to recover possession of two parcels of land on King street to which plaintiff claimed to be entitled in fee simple. Plaintiff came into possession of the property by right of inheritance from his father. In 1880 Antonio Hoza was appointed guardian of the person and property of James Hoare. Later Judge McCully authorized the guardian to mortgage the estate, which was done, to one Mary J. Brown. The mortgage was sold to Allen. The principal having not been paid the mortgage was foreclosed and the land purchased by Mr. Allen. The court sees no fault in any of these proceedings and declares Allen to be the rightful owner of the property. Kinney, Ballou & McLaughlan, for plaintiff; Hatch and W. O. Smith, for defendant.

Judge Perry today heard the petition of J. F. Humburg, guardian of the Podyeyn minors, to sell the real estate of his wards in Makiki. Authority so to sell was given, the upset figure being placed at $300.

In the suits of Jesse and Junius Kaas against the Oahu railway, damages, W. H. Gill, a conductor, has filed his deposition concerning the trouble complained of.

The matter of Makee Sugar Co. vs. Tuck Chew has been argued in Judge Perry's court and submitted. Briefs will be submitted later.

LAND IS VALUABLE.

Principal Reason for the Squabble in Hamakua.

The little land squabble at Waimea, Hawaii, in which Mr. Loebenstein and other notables figure, mentioned at length in this paper some days ago, is rather better understood today than before. Land Agent Brown is convinced that the property is quite valuable, as much so in fact, that that precipitated the trouble.

By the mail yesterday, Mr. Brown received accounts of sales of an adjoining lot to the one in dispute, of the same dimensions and the same upset figure, $290. It sold for $1500 at auction. If anything the lot, over which the dispute now is, is worth considerably more than the one sold, it being nearer the village.

NEW WRINKLES AT HOME CAFE.

The Home Bakery Cafe have established a flat rate of $6 per week for regular boarders. This rate carries with it, aside from the regular breakfast and luncheon bill, a privilege of the full course dinners. Another feature, put in vogue is a luncheon ticket for business men for $2. This ticket entitles the holder to seven luncheons and at the same time brings the cost down to less than that of a single luncheon, which is 35 cents.

MAKES ONE'S MOUTH WATER.

The popularity of "Apollinaris" seems to have no limits. One reads that it is obtainable in practically all parts of the world, and in New York, as in England, no social function is without "The Queen of Table Waters." The menus of the Assembly ball given at the Waldorf-Astoria, Metropolitan Club dance given at Sherry's, as well as those of the Vanderbilt and the Astor balls, all of which took place recently, bear witness to the pre-eminence of Apollinaris.

MEMORANDA.

The Kilohana leaves this afternoon at 4 o'clock for Honaupou and Punahou, Hawaii.
The schooner Kauikoaouli sails tomorrow morning for Elelee with lumber for the McBryde plantation.
The Malolo will probably sail this afternoon or tomorrow morning for another fishing cruise off Molokai and Maui.
The ship George Curtis is loading sugar from the Iwalani in the stream near Brewer's wharf. She will probably finish loading and get away for San Francisco the end of the week.
The work of making changes on the Nilbau to fit her suitably for the Island trade has been begun. A deck is to be built from the top of her house out to the rail and extending back to the stern, and davits for boats put on. The work is expected to take probably a month.

THE CONEMAUGH.

Is Loading Cavalry Horses for Manila. Sails Today.

The United States transport Conemaugh is loading her cavalry horses this morning, preparatory to sailing this afternoon for Manila. Of the 272 horses she brought, she will take 268. One was accidentally killed in unloading, one is sick and received kicks from which it has not yet recovered.
The work of loading is proceeding very rapidly. The horses are docile and handle well, and the men engaged in loading are efficient and expeditious. This is the second load of animals the Conemaugh has taken to Manila. A large part of the first load were mules for the quartermaster's department. The present load are all cavalry horses.

OFF FOR LAYSAN ISLAND.

Bark McNear Sails for a Two Months' Trip.

The bark McNear will sail tomorrow for Laysan Island for a load of guano. She takes about a dozen Japanese laborers and a large quantity of provisions. The round trip is expected to occupy about two months.
Captain Pederson expected to get away today, but last night the police took away four of his crew and this morning a large party were taken away on the charge of being deserters from the Antiope, the Amphitrite and the Hackfeld.

WHARF AT MAUNALEI.

John Ouderkerk returned by the Lehua last night from Maunalei, where he has just completed a wharf, a scow and a gallows frame for unloading heavy machinery, and has commenced the construction of a warehouse.
The wharf extends out 300 feet into nine feet of water. The scow is 16x30 feet, copper bottomed. The gallows frame is twenty-five feet high. The warehouse will be 38x50 feet with an eight-foot platform built on a level with the floor of the railroad cars. The railroad runs from the warehouse to the camp, about three miles away. The track is now being laid.

KAHULUI SHIPPING.

KAHULUI, Maui, July 15.—On Wednesday, the 12th, the schooner Allan A arrived with a cargo of general merchandise, sixteen days out from San Francisco.

On the same day the schooner Jennie Ward reached Kihui, with a cargo of lumber, twenty days from Aberdeen, Washington.
Today the barks Colusa and Halyn Brown, and the schooner Mary Dodge, all depart for San Francisco, with full cargoes of sugar, from Spreckelsville, Paha and Haiku plantations. The Colusa takes in the neighborhood of 30,000 bags, 18,000 of which came in her from Honolulu. The Halyn Brown carries away over 18,000 bags, and the Mary Dodge about 8000, a total of about 56,000 bags of sugar leaving today.

"HE THAT ANY GOOD WOULD WIN."

Should be provided with good health, and everyone who would have good health should remember that pure, rich blood is the first requisite. Hood's Sarsaparilla, by giving good blood and good health, has helped many a man to success, besides giving strength and courage to thousands of women who, before taking it, could not even see any good in life to win.

HOOD'S PILLS are gentle, yet effective.

A GOOD THING.

There's one good thing when they feel dry
That business men cannot pass by,
For far and wide it's fame you hear,
They stop to drink of "Rainier" beer.

MORE YACHTS.

Professor Lightfoot Carried Commissions to Purchase Three.

Professor J. Lightfoot, who went to the coast a month ago to spend his vacation, carried with him commissions from at least three islanders to purchase yachts if the style and class of craft they wanted could be found. He did this, he went charged by the yacht yachting fraternity to study the yachting question and report on anything new he might find or any yacht of a class desirable here, that might be purchased. Professor Lightfoot expected to spend most of his vacation in and around San Francisco and keep in touch with the yachting clubs of San Francisco bay.

EMU CAN KICK.

An emu can kick as hard as a horse.
It stands on one leg, and with the other delivers a quick and generally accurate blow. "I never would have believed that a bird had such power," says a recent Australian traveler, "had I not had ocular evidence of it during our trip. After two or three of our men had suffered from the terrible kicks of these birds, we did not venture near them, but, after running our horses until we got close enough, would kill them down with our rifles. We killed them for their feathers, and also hunted for their eggs, but we took good care not to go within kicking distance."

SHORT OF BREATH.

Faintness, dizziness, pain in region of heart, palpitation, rush of blood to the head, all means that the heart is affected, and if relief is not furnished will lead to more serious trouble. Dr.
Miles' New Heart Cure is the only reliable remedy for diseased hearts.
It removes all those unpleasant symptoms, makes the heart action strong and steady and improves the health of the whole body. It is a great heart and blood tonic and invigorator.
"I suffered twenty years with heart trouble, and tried every remedy that I could hear of without finding a cure till I began using Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure two years ago. I would lose my breath and become unconscious. Had eight to fifteen spells a day and was rendered unfit for any kind of business. Now I am like a different man and feel no more effects of the dread disease."

DR. SOLF'S INAUGURAL

SPEECH AT THE MUNICIPAL COUNCIL.

Re-establishment of Civil Government in Samoa—Will Represent not Germany Alone, But the Three Powers.

Upon the re-establishment of government in Samoa by the high commission and the re-establishment of the municipal council, Dr. Solf, the president of the council made the following address, which is significant at least of the desire of the new officials to perpetuate order and wholesome government:

"This is the first occasion at which I have had the honor and pleasure of presiding over your proceedings and of greeting you in your official capacities.
Accordingly I may be permitted before entering the orders of the day, to offer a few observations in respect to the circumstances under which we have assembled. I congratulate you individually upon the confidence reposed in you by the municipal electors of Apia. I also congratulate the town and the council as a whole upon the re-establishment of civil and municipal government. Before entering upon the duties of my office I had the opportunity of visiting the capitals of the three treaty powers, and in each I found the highest officers of the state, most well disposed toward a mutual, amicable arrangement of all the questions recently at issue in Samoa.
As regards myself, it shall be my strongest endeavor to show that I am not merely the German president, as I find myself called very often, but the representative in an equal degree of each of the three treaty powers. To that end I shall hope to prove myself as English and American as I am German.
All these good intentions, however, can avail nothing without your hearty cooperation, and it is with no less confidence than hope that I look forward to securing this."

MARRYING AGE.

When the Fatal Noose Can be Tied in Different Countries.

In Germany the man must be eighteen years of age before he can legally marry.
In Portugal a boy of fourteen is considered marriageable and a woman of twelve.
In Greece the man must have seen at least fourteen summers and the woman
twelve.
In France the man must be eighteen and the woman sixteen. In Belgium
the same ages.
In Spain the intended husband must have passed his fourteenth year and the woman her twelfth.
In Switzerland men from the age of fourteen and women from the age of twelve are allowed to marry.
In Austria a man and a woman are supposed to be capable of conducting a home of their own from the age of fourteen.
In Turkey any youth and maiden who can walk properly and can understand the necessary religious service are allowed to be united for life.
In Hungary for Roman Catholics, the man must be fourteen years old and the woman twelve; for Protestants, the man must be eighteen and the woman fifteen.
In Russia and Saxony they are a little more sensible, and a youth must refrain from entering into matrimony till he can count eighteen years, and the woman till she can count sixteen.

THURSDAY, JULY 27, 1899.

When the Commissioners of Education meet they should not forget the wall around the High school. The matter was alluded to in these columns a few days ago. The wall is extremely unseemly, it is totally against the ideas of the present, and the expense of removing it would be very small, for the sale of the stone would nearly pay for the work. That the High school would then become one of the greatest ornaments of the city, goes without saying. The High school should be got out of the nursery stage as soon as possible. At present it is behind the times.

A bacteriologist has been studying the telephone as a disseminator of disease. He visited several hotels and telephone exchanges in New York and carried with him some clean cotton and a wire. Mounting his cotton on the wire, he rubbed it round the inside of the mouthpiece of the telephone receiver. Each wad was placed in a small bottle and carefully sealed. Examination revealed the fact that each ball swarmed with influenza bacilli; and the telephone could at once be proved to be a means of propagating the disease. If this is true of influenza, it must certainly be true of other communicable diseases. The indiscriminate use of telephones is as much to be deprecated as the use of a public comb and brush, or a general drinking cup.

The presence of the plague in Egypt is bringing that disease so close to Europe that considerable alarm is being felt along the coast of the Mediterranean. A recent writer in The Hospital, points out that the immunity of Europeans from plague is only apparent. In India the Europeans are all well fed, cleanly in habits and live under exceptionally advantageous circumstances. But were the plague ever to get into the large cities it would reap a harvest of death among the ill fed, dirty and closely packed inhabitants of the countless slums. If it ever got in here, the closely packed purloons of this city would suffer terribly. Fortunately our Board of Health is wide awake, and goods from the East are carefully fumigated, over and above the quarantine precautions. Reynolds' patent germ destroyer does good work.

John Cassidy while on the mainland, made careful enquiry into the question of wireless telegraphy. Though Marconi's experiments have been successful, the manufacture of instruments which would be of a price that could be used commercially, has not been commenced. Wireless telegraphy is a success, but it is at present more the success of the scientific man, than the success of the practical man. Before the new method can come into general use, considerable practical work must be done upon the instruments used. It would be impossible to have a scientist of high attainments roosting on Kauai Head, near Hana, and another at Cape Upolu at the north of Kohala. So it is evident that we must wait for a time. But when theoretic success has been made, practical use will soon be made, and we may look for wireless communication across our channels in the comparatively near future.

The report from the Treasury shows that for the twelve months ending with June 30, the total receipts aggregated $516,216,474, being an increase of $11,700,000 over those of the preceding fiscal year. The expenditure for the year amounted to $605,092,734 which was an increase of over $161,700,000 as compared with those of the preceding fiscal year. The excess of disbursement over receipts was thus $88,875,989. This according to Bradstreet's was over $11,000,000 less than the Treasury officials had calculated upon. This came about through the amount of June showing a much longer balance on the right side of ledger than was anticipated. The receipts for the month of June amounted to $47,126,915 while the expenditures amounted to $31,382,762, giving a surplus of receipts over disbursements of over $15,070,000. In May the surplus had only been $4,200,000, and that had been the first time the right side of the ledger looked up since the increased expenditures on account of the war. As we form a part of the United States, it is well that we should know how the national exchequer stands.

PURE MILK.

The sale of milk and water instead of pure milk is now on trial. If the pure food law has done nothing else, it has established the fact that a mixture of milk and water has been habitually sold in the city as pure milk, and that people have been defrauded systematically for years.

It is but natural that those who have been making a profit out of this traffic should resent the action of the law which cuts those profits down, and should seek some legal outlet by which they can continue their trade in diluted milk. The pure food law, where ever it has been put in force has always met with strong opposition, by those whose trade, in articles which masquerade under a name, which is not the truth, is interfered with.

Milk is a wholesome article, so is water, and the combination is not unwholesome, but it is a distinct robbing of one's purse. If the mixture is sold to one as milk. If the seller were to go round and state on a printed card "milk and water for sale from this cart," and were to add "30 per cent milk and 70 per cent water," there would be no fraud. If a person desires to buy milk and water, he is perfectly welcome. But he should not be inveigled into buying the mixture under the impression that it is the pure article.

Milk is especially an article which should be supplied pure. It is the mainstay of young children and of many invalids. The class of milkman that has been "pulled" has the supplying of the poorer portion of the community, and it is the duty of the state to give its protection and assistance to its poorer classes.

A STEP FORWARD.

The refusal of the Board of Health to grant burial certificates, where the deceased person has been unattended by a physician, has brought to light two cases of kahunaism within a comparatively short time, and as such has worked good in that direction. But it has done far more good in inculcating upon parents the necessity of calling in medical aid where children are sick.

However, in the matter of kahunaism, the strict application of the rule, makes it very difficult for it to be carried on. The kahuna or Hawaiian sorcerer, objects to trying his spells when anyone interferes with his incantations. But unless he works under cover of a physician, as it were, he is likely to be found out, if by chance the patient's constitution does not carry him through the disease, because the coroner is likely to ask ugly questions of the friends of the deceased, and the latter, the kahuna having been unsuccessful, are not likely to be reticent, but are apt to give him away.

On the other hand, working under cover of a physician, that is, having a physician attend the case, while the kahuna is weaving his spells, is likewise dangerous, because the physician supplies medicine which he knows should have definite effect, and if that effect does not ensue, through the patient throwing away the medicine, and trusting solely to the potency of the spells, the white rooster, the black pig and the bottle of gin, why the physician is likely to ask questions which have an equally ugly termination, ending in the police court, with the unpleasant concomitants of fine or imprisonment.

But how much of this must have been done under cover of the "unknown" clause in the mortuary report of years past. In fact that "cause of death unknown" has undoubtedly made a good deal of crime, outside of kahunaism, comparatively easy. Wiping out that clause, by refusing to grant burial certificates, unless issued by a properly authorized physician, has been an immense step in advance. It has rendered difficult what before was easy, and has really added another safeguard to human life.

ON SAMOA'S FUTURE FATE

OUTLINE OF THE COMMISSION'S REPORT.

Baron Von Sternberg the German Representative Talks of the Result of Their Work—Peace Reigns.

"The kingship in Samoa is abolished; the executive is to be a man appointed from one of the neutral powers, that is, from some other than the three treaty powers; the administration of the affairs of the Samoan group is to be in the hands of this executive and his council. Such is roughly the outline of the recommendations of the report the high commission to Samoa will make to the three powers party to the Berlin agreement."

In this way Baron Von Sternberg this morning summarized the plan of the government the commission has agreed to recommend for Samoa.

"Peace and quiet now reign in Apia and the whole Samoan group," continued Baron Von Sternberg. "Such has been the state of affairs since four weeks after our arrival there May 12 last. The kingship was a failure in every sense. It only afforded a mechanism for petty intrigues and general rascality. Every vestige of the old monarchic form of government will be abolished if the recommendations of the commission are adopted by the powers. The whole executive administration will be put in the hands of a foreigner appointed from one of the neutral powers, and his council. All agreed that the executive should be appointed from a neutral power. The logic of such a policy is potent on its face. The continued animosity of the three powers as far as Samoan affairs go, would be practically assured by such an arrangement."

As to the natives, they are unanimously in favor of the proposed change. Both Mataafa and Malietoa Tanu agreed that the kingship must of necessity be abolished and their followers are now a unit in favor of the scheme. Each of the councils of thirteen high chiefs met with the commissioners just prior to our departure and unanimously agreed to our new scheme of government. They not only agreed verbally, but they willingly came aboard the Badger and signed individually, resolutions to that effect. We feel that this last accomplishment on our part was our best work.

"We left the machinery of government in the hands of the consuls of the three powers, who are now stationed at Apia. In the absence of Chief Justice Chambers, we appointed Mr. Osborne, the American consul, to fill the position which we deem a happy selection as Mr. Osborne is a very good lawyer and only a lawyer can handle the very difficult problems which will now confront the chief justice."

"In summing up, I will say that the commission arrived at Samoa, and found two hostile camps pitched one against the other, extreme excitement among the white residents, in fact, general chaos. We departed leaving the islands with a greater security for peace than has existed for years."

HACKFELD'S RESIGNATION.

Consul for Austro-Hungary for Past Five Years.

J. F. Hackfeld has resigned the Austro-Hungary consulship and the duties of the office will be performed by F. A. Schaefer, consul for Italy as acting consul.

Mr. Hackfeld assigns as his reason for resigning the difficulties which have arisen between a number of Austrian contract laborers and the Oahu plantation. As he is a stockholder in the plantation he felt that their interests ought to be in the hands of some one who has no interest in Oahu plantation. Mr. Hackfeld has been Austro-Hungarian consul for about five years, succeeding H. F. Glade.

Trouble Began With Dyspepsia and Impure Blood

Thorough Course of Hood's Sarsaparilla Completely Cures.

There is danger in impure blood. Disease and suffering are sure to come to those who neglect this threatening symptom. Read this:

"Gillian, Missouri. "C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:"

"Gentlemen:—My troubles began with nervous headaches, which would last me for two or three days. The doctors pronounced my trouble dyspepsia, but they could not do anything for me, and advised a change of location. At the age of 55 a tumor formed on my spine, which

Was Very Painful

but did not rise or discharge. The doctor thought best to cut it out, but I objected. It finally broke and discharged a great deal. The doctors said they could do nothing for it. Then the tumor began to rise inwardly and discharge. I read much about cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla and thought I would try it. Before I had finished taking one bottle I was much relieved. I continued the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and after taking 12 bottles I was entirely cured. I am now well, have a good appetite and feel that I owe my life to Hood's Sarsaparilla." W. D. FOMM.

FINE WATER FRONT PARK

PLANS AND WORK ON THE NAVAL RESERVATION.

Decides and Shows how Nearly Completed and Blasting and Deepening Soon to Commence—Naval Station.

The United States Government is now forging rapidly ahead with the improvements being made on its water front reservation.

The reservation, which was secured by the national government through negotiations with the local government soon after annexation, comprises the section of the water front bounded by Richard street, running along the fish market, Halekuanila and Punchbowl streets, in all about eight acres. The government will build wharves inclosing the area, and will also acquire a portion of the land and will park the whole reservation.

Campbell & Buckman, a well known San Francisco firm, has a contract to build a mammoth dredger, which is to have a capacity of not less than 1000 cubic yards of mud a day, and also a dumping scow, both of which are to be completed in the early part of next month. Thirty men are now employed pushing this work ahead. The dredger is nearly completed and as soon as finished, will at once be put to work dredging for the slips to a depth of forty feet. After this is done, the main channel will be dredged to the same depth, it now being only thirty feet.

The harbor basin being of coral formation, a great deal of blasting will be necessary. At least 80,000 cubic yards of coral and mud will be taken out in the immediately vicinity of the proposed wharves. This will be conveyed through fourteen inch pipes to the shore where it will be used for filling in, as the land is to be brought up to adjacent level.

It will be necessary to crush much of the coral after it is dumped on the scow, in order that it may pass through the transmitting pipes.

The dredging will be far enough advanced in September for beginning work on the wharves. The contract for this work is held by Cotton Brothers of San Francisco. They are to construct two mammoth wharves, 400 and 500 feet long respectively, leaving two slips 140 feet wide each. Work on the wharves must be completed by March 15. One of these will be built up against the Ewa line of the reservation at the Walkiki end of the Pacific Mail wharf, while the other will project out, with double frontage. Thus between the two wharves will be one slip and between the wharf of double frontage and the Bishop estate property another slip. The slips will accommodate the largest vessels in the navy.

The eight acre reservation will be laid out in a beautiful park and will add greatly to the attractiveness of the water front. No residences will be put on the reservation. However, a residence is soon to be built for Naval Commander Merry on the slope of Punchbowl. In time, as they are needed, warehouses will be built on the reservation. When the work of improvement to the reservation is completed, the naval vessels will have accommodations here which will be up to the very best the government affords.

GENERAL LAWTON.

The Chicago Inter Ocean thus describes General Lawton: Today, fifty-six years of age, Lawton is as good physically as he ever was. And he is a physical marvel. He stands six feet, three inches and weighs 219 pounds. He is straight, long armed, deep chested and thin flanked. He does not carry an ounce of fat; he is bone and sinew and muscle. His hair is black and his stomach is perfect; his only sign of age is a few gray hairs. Neither starvation in the southwest nor ease in Washington nor the sun or fever of Cuba and the Philippines has left a mark. When he feels like it he works forty-eight hours at a stretch. When the mood takes him he sleeps as long without turning over. He may fast two days and then eat two dozen redbirds at a sitting. He is a bachelor; if he ever had an affair of the heart his friends have never heard of it. He is not a pretty man. His hair stands up like bristles on a brush. His forehead is high and narrow, his cheekbones prominent, his jaw square and his lips thin. His mustache droops. His eye is the fighter's eye—gray—and there is not enough money coined to induce him to write a magazine article. This is the man who leads the firing line in the Philippines. It is easy to see in him the race type that marks the centuries from Viking to American.

RELIGION vs. GOLD.

Not every one on the Yukon, it is pleasant to learn, is devoted body and soul to gold-digging. The spirit of religion is making itself felt, and already Dawson city has three churches, while the Methodists are about to establish a fourth. These are fully organized and well supported, and in the long, cruel winter they perform many deeds of Christian charity. The church buildings appear to have escaped destruction in the conflagration of April 26, the news of which did not reach New York until May 22.

SCINTILLATIONS AND GOOD ADVICE.

"Something must be done with these boys of mine at the college," exclaimed a staid old citizen; "they're wilder than March hares and in hot water all the time." "Oh, well, they're young yet, and you must make allowances." "Make allowances, man? That's what's keeping me poor."

"Look out for the pennies, and the dollars will take care of themselves." Put your dollars into a high-grade Sterling bicycle instead of maintaining somebody's repair shop with the pennies. A good bicycle is a good investment.

THE TOP—"Say, Rubber, you're pretty quiet this a. m. You must have been 'bounced' last week."

RUBBER BALL—"You look rather top-heavy on your 'peg'; evidently the boys have been stringing and throwing you down."

THE TOP—(andly)—"Yes. I wish I were like you—when the boys throw you down you get back at them."

Points to consider when buying a wheel: quality of material used, manner in which it is put together, style, appearance, durability and price. These points considered, the Sterling sold by the P. C. & M. Co. on Fort St. is undoubtedly in the lead.

BOOTS—"Who is Reverend Mr. Gates of Hilo, who criticizes boat-racing?"
JOOTS—"He represents 'Gates a Jaw'."

The P. C. & M. Co. will sell you a built-like-a-watch high-grade Sterling bicycle for $60.00 on small weekly or monthly installments.

The P. C. & M. Co. on Fort St. will make your old wheel like a new for $6.00.

MODERN SYSTEM COMING

TELEPHONE SERVICE ALL RIGHT THIS TIME.

Mr. Cassidy Says He Will Satisfy the Public and Tells How He Will do it. The New Switchboard.

Carpenters are rushing work on the burnt part of the telephone office, which will be occupied by the fine, new switchboard purchased by Mr. Cassidy on the Coast.

"When we are all set," says Mr. Cassidy, "we will have one of the best equipped telephone offices in the world. I feel certain that we are now on the road to giving complete satisfaction to our subscribers."

When all is completed the town will have the latest improved system. It will be metallic, all the ground wires coming up. Each instrument will have two wires, completing a circuit. Connection with central is immediately obtained by simply removing the receiver from the instrument. In this respect the scheme is much like that now in service at Waikiki, except that it is an improvement in several minor ways.

The main big advantage is that no sounds from the central office come into the telephone while a person is calling a number. Each line is cut off absolutely from the others and there is no such thing as hearing a multitude of voices calling at once.

Mr. Cassidy states that the switchboard is now on the way and may be expected by one of the earliest steamers. An expert will come down to install it. The lines will be gradually, but as rapidly as possible, transferred from the old board to the new. There will be room on the new board for more operators and there will not in future be the strain in the central office that has been so vexatious to both ends of a calling line in the past.

TRIBAL FRICTION.

Outbreaks and Quarrels Between the Two Samoan Factions.

Commissioner Tripp in relating the incidents of the work of the commission in Samoa, speaks of outbreaks and quarrels between the two factions after the disarmament, growing out of the high state of feeling existing between them. The following account from the Samoa Weekly Herald, gives a good idea of the causes and character of these outbreaks.

On July 6, at Safotu, while the commissioners were in a fono house, a party of Mataafa men presented their Taalolos, as representatives of the whole district. At the same time or immediately afterwards a band of Tanu adherents came forward with their present of food. This the young men of the Mataafa party resented. The sons of the young Tanu chiefs who carried sticks instead of head knives, had given the knives to their followers of lower rank to be carried. This they did to show that in their estimation the sons of the Mataafa chiefs were on the same social plain as their own common people. A row arose, and the food of the Taalolos together with stones, were thrown on both sides. The chiefs, who were not parties in the dispute, succeeded in separating the contestants, but not until one young fellow was severely cut in the back with a knife. The chiefs apologized to the commissioners for the outbreak for which they were not in the least responsible, and which was due to a momentary outburst of anger.

JOHN BAKER'S OPINION.

John T. Baker has written to friends here that the best way to get to the volcanic flow is via Kawaiahae, horse-back to Waimea and from there up to Hanalei. He describes this as the easiest and most certain route to take. The letters are addressed to prominent native friends.

ENGLISH NAVAL NICKNAMES.

The English bluejackets call the admiral in command of a fleet "the rat," according to the Corahill. The captain is called "the skipper" or "the old man," first lieutenant, "number one," gunnery lieutenant, "gunnery Jack," navigating lieutenant, "the master," (the obsolete actual title); chaplain, "sky pilot," "devil dodger," "fire escape," chief engineer, "the chief," paymaster, "panser," (from purser, the title in former days); assistant paymaster, clerk, etc., "ink slingers," "quill drivers," surgeon, "sawbones," "pills," "dock," gunner, "wads," boatswain, "pipes," carpenter, "chips," "gat-maker," "wood-spoller," master at arms, "jaundly" (jeandry); ship's corporals, "crushers," marines, "jollies." The general term for the bluejacket himself is "flat-foot," or if an elderly man, "shellback." "Jack Tar" is a creation of the landsman, and as such is never used in the service. Although perhaps "Jack" is sometimes used in contradistinction to "Tommy Atkins."

KODAKS.

You are told that "there is no Kodak but the Eastman Kodak." We handle only Eastman Kodaks. Their goods are a guarantee of quality. We have them from $5 to $35, and whether you buy the lowest priced instrument or the highest, they will be found just as represented. Kodaks make the best of Holiday Presents, acceptable to either sex.

FILMS.

Eastman Films are good Films. That is the reason we handle them exclusively. You will always find our Films fresh, and fresh Films insure the best work.

Developing and Printing.

Many amateurs enjoy the work of developing and printing. There are others who have not the time or inclination to do the work themselves. We make a specialty of this branch of the Kodak business. Our customers are kind enough to say we turn out better work than they get elsewhere. We take pride in this department of our business. Every Film developed carefully. If our photographer finds you are making mistakes he will correct you. That's a very important advantage. Let us show you what we can do.

BOILING LAVA

White hot, rushing, roaring, and with a steady thundering as of mighty cannon, is pouring from the new crater on Mauna Loa, and rushing down the mountain, on its mission of destruction, at terrific speed. Boulders of great weight are being hurled to gigantic heights by Pele in her wrath.

Rivers of living fire, fountains of fire, steam, sulphur plumes, and lava, accompanied by continuous explosions and earthquake shakings cause this outbreak to exceed by far any pyrotechnic display ever devised by man. Do not attempt to reach this mighty example of nature's fury without sufficient preparation. The hotels are crowded beyond their limits, and all one can depend upon procuring for the trip to the crater, are horse and guides. All other preparation for the trip must be made here.
