INSULT PRESIDENT'S MOTHER

Gov.
J. K.
VARDEMAN

Postmaster General Payne has just refused to name a post office Vardeman, after the governor of Mississippi, on the ground that Vardeman, who owns a newspaper, had written an insulting article about the President's mother. Vardeman is being most bitterly attacked even by Democrats of his home state. General Payne in refusing the petition said he did not think it proper to give a post office the name of "any man who has had used such language regarding any woman." In commenting on the case the New York Times said: "If some Mississippians should desire their post office to be called Blackguardville the Postmaster General would probably refuse his consent to such an act of self-stultification. And really that is virtually what they have done in asking to have it called Vardeman." Vardeman denies having written the article.

MOTT-SMITH IS HANA RECEIVER

JUDGE ROBINSON PLACES HIM IN CHARGE OF THE PLANTATION UNDER $10,000 BONDS.

E. A. Mott-Smith was today appointed receiver for the Hana Plantation Company and was placed under bonds of $10,000 in the matter. The appointment was made by Judge Robinson at the request of all parties concerned in the suit brought by Sigmund Greenbaum and Charles Altschul, trustees, against the Hana Plantation Company, M. S. Grisbaum & Co., and the Union Trust Company. The matter has been continued for a week in order to permit one of the counsel to receive by mail full instructions which he has been notified by cable are coming.

ORGANIC ACT IN PARKER CASE

THE QUESTION OF GEAR'S JURISDICTION AT CHAMBERS TO REMOVE CARTER AS GUARDIAN.

A motion for further argument on the demurrer in the Parker ranch case made by A. W. Carter to the amended petition filed by J. S. Low, asking for Carter's removal, was filed today. Judge Gear dismissed the demurrer and decided that he had jurisdiction to go on with the case. The point to be presented by counsel is that under the Organic Act, the legislature had no power to vest the jurisdiction to remove guardians in Circuit Judges at Chambers or otherwise, and that therefore Carter's demurrer should be sustained.

SAVAGE CONVICT ATTACKED GUARD

TRYED TO BRAIN OFFICER WITH A PICKAX—WAS OVERPOWERED AFTER DESPERATE FIGHT—BECAME WILD WITH FURY AND STRUGGLED SO FURIOUSLY THAT HE HAD TO BE HELD ON THE GROUND.

A Porto Rican who is serving a ten year sentence for burglary committed on Hawaii, attacked a prison guard this afternoon at the quarry. The Porto Rican used a pickax. The guard dodged the blow and then closed in and grappled with his assailant. A fierce struggle ensued, the Porto Rican stabbing and striking at the guard. Other guards went to the assistance of the man who was attacked and soon separated them.

Neither were specially hurt. The Porto Rican became wild with fury and struggled violently, even when held by several men. It was finally necessary to throw him on the ground and hold him down, in order to restrain him from further violence.

The Porto Rican is thought to have wanted to escape. It was surmised by the police that perhaps, he had become angry at the guard for some fancied wrong.

WANTS COURT ROOM BRACED

JUDGE GEAR TAKES ACTION OVER THE REPORTED UNSAFENESS OF THE JUDICIARY BUILDING.

Judge Gear has not the slightest objection to administering the law as he sees it but he has a deep seated objection to taking part in any proceedings which may be calculated to end in a catastrophe and the condition of the floor of his court room in the Judiciary building has become a matter of serious thought with him since the Superintendent of Public Works declared the building unsafe. It is no easy feat to poised the scales of justice with an equal hand when the floor is apt to give way any minute and land you on the head of the Superintendent of Public Instruction in the office below.

As the September term is to open a week from Monday and there will be a big crowd in the court room the judge states plainly that in the face of the warning of competent authorities it would be practically criminal of him to bring the crowd there without some precautions being taken. He called on Governor Carter this afternoon and also looked in on Superintendent of Public Works Holloway. It is the judge's opinion that his room can be rendered perfectly safe by putting in some temporary posts to support the floor from the rooms below. The matter was promised consideration.

ON THE ROOF

The Moana Golf club will give its first ball this evening at the Alexander Young hotel, and there will be a large crowd in the ball room and on the moonlit roof garden. A large number of invitations have been sent out, but to those who have not received any it is announced that all golfers and their friends are welcome. Manager Lake has arranged for the Ellis quintette to furnish music. The executive committee of the golf club will act as a reception committee and members of the Manna and Haleiwa golf clubs generally will attend.

IN CHARGE AT PORT ARTHUR

GENERAL BARON NOGI.

General Nogi is the commander of the Japanese forces which have been investing Port Arthur and slowly drawing nearer to its forts for some weeks past. He was promoted to a general shortly after the outbreak of the war and was given charge of the operations immediately in the vicinity of Port Arthur. A telegram from Russian sources two days ago stated that he had been recalled and was to be succeeded by Yamagata. As Yamagata is a ranking officer with Oyama, who has charge of all the army operations, this report is not credited, Yamagata being unlikely to assume charge of one of the divisions under Oyama. Baron Nogi lost a son at Nanshan and has another son who is a lieutenant in the First Division.

Hearst Thanks Hawaii For Loyal Support

DEMOCRATIC PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE EXPRESSES HEARTY THANKS TO HIS FRIENDS IN HAWAII AND REFERS TO LOYAL SUPPORT GIVEN HIM BY HAWAII IN CONVENTION—HAS HAWAII'S INTERESTS AT HEART.

B. Kidd who conducted the recent campaign in these islands, which resulted in Hawaii instructing her six delegates to the Democratic national convention to vote for the nomination of W. R. Hearst for president, has received a personal letter from Hearst expressing thanks for the support which was accorded Hearst by the Hawaii delegation. As the representative of Hearst, the letter was sent to Kidd and through him are conveyed the thanks of Hearst to Hawaii.

The letter is as follows:

New York, August 4, 1904.
Dear Mr. Kidd—I wish to express to you my sincere appreciation of your personal efforts in my behalf, and through you of the steadfast support accorded me by the delegation from Hawaii in the recent National Convention. It is a matter of great gratification to me that, while the convention did not see fit to honor me with the nomination for president, I have gained the friendship and encouragement of so many Democrats even in far off Hawaii. In taking up the fight I have made against special class privileges and illegal combinations of capital, I expected, of course, that I would lose some friendships formed in earlier days, and my expectations have come true. But I am more than repaid by new friends such as yourself and my other Hawaiian supporters. I shall never forget their loyalty, and their interests will ever be a matter of personal concern to me.

Yours sincerely,

W. R. HEARST.

THEY SAW BIG CHIEF

ROOSEVELT RECEIVES AN OFFER OF MILITARY ASSISTANCE FROM AN IGORROTE CHIEF—ANXIOUS TO GO BACK TO HIS HOME AND KILL THE LITTLE CHIEFS WHO ARE STILL FIGHTING AGAINST AMERICANS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 9—pointed out the various points of interest in railroads sufficiently modest to test. In the great lobby they were shown the portrait of the martyred McKinley. As they looked carefully at it they were told of the tragedy at Buffalo and the untimely end of the great President who was assassinated at the exposition. They listened attentively and with great interest.

After hearing the story of McKinley the party started off further views of the White House. For a moment the visitors stuck their heads together and there was a great murmuring in their native tongue. Finally the interpreter got on to what they were saying.

"They want to see a picture of George Washington," said the interpreter, who got his cue from little Antero, the Igorrote who has an excellent command of English, despite the fact that he is quite young and has never been in this country before. "They want to see the man who saved the country for the Americans, the man with whom they have heard their Aguinaldo compared."

Forthwith they were marched to the diplomatic rooms, in which hangs the life-size portrait of the father of America. When they got in front of the portrait they stood and gazed at it rapturously for several minutes. They remained silent and thoughtful. When asked what they thought of him they spoke in words of great praise. "Good man to look at. Big, strong man. Much better than Aguinaldo," said little Antero, the interpreter, after hearing the comments of his associates.

The President addressed them in English and his remarks were repeated by an interpreter. He told them he was glad to see them and that he appreciated the friendly spirit of their desire to come to Washington that the people of the United States were friendly to the Filipinos and would always help them if allowed to do so. He spoke of what had been accomplished during the American regime in the Philippines and what it was hoped would be accomplished with the further aid of the natives.

A reference was made to the tribes that are still fighting against the control of the Americans, and it was pointed out that a continuance of such opposition to American rule would prove of no avail.

When the President had concluded his remarks there was an ominous silence for a few moments when Antonio, an Igorrote chief stepped forward and asked permission to speak. Literally translated this is what he said:

"I know big chief who fight Americans. If you great chief want me go back to home and bring head of little chief to big chief. This stop little chief doing more damage. Me go right away if big chief say so. Me kill little chief or die."

While the President is said to have appreciated this sentiment, he said to Antonio that the Americans were perfectly capable of caring for such of the little chiefs as were causing trouble, and that all would come out well before the end.

"They are worse," responded Datto Fecundi. "They know not what they do. I have frequently told them they must give in; that the Americans will make them do so before they are much older."

Antonio reiterated his desire to be of assistance to the President, and murmuring in his native lingo that he would fix the little chief if he got the chance, the party was ushered out of the President's private office. With the President when he received the Filipinos was Secretary of War Taft, Secretaries Hay, Shaw and Metcalf arrived at the executive offices before the departure of the Filipinos and were able to see them for a short while.

From the executive offices the Filipinos were taken over for a view of the White House. They were taken through the house by Chief Usher Stone, who

FRIDAY..... AUGUST 26, 1904

The heaviest attendance record for any month since the World's Fair opened was that of July 2, 343,557 persons having passed the turnstile, or more than twice as many as attended in the month of May. The number of visitors last month exceeded the June figures by 218,721. During the last week of July, 551,842 persons visited the Fair in the six days; exceeding the attendance of any previous week by almost 40,000. The exposition officials express themselves as confident that the attendance will continue to increase at a steady ratio from now until the Fair closes. The fact is, the publicity given the great enterprise through the courtesy of the press is constantly increasing, and the present large influx of mid-summer visitors is thought to indicate much larger crowds later. They are big, even now, and will be bigger as the weeks go by, and this evidences to every intelligent person that a complete and accurate knowledge of the event becomes almost a necessity, and this is the reason why readers so highly appreciate our magnificent series of Forest City Exposition views, which have been so widely distributed among them.

Kuropatkin
a Great Hero

While the American and British press continue to feel quite satisfied that General Kuropatkin is practically defeated and even in danger of annihilation—a conclusion made plausible by yesterday's cable giving the number of men opposed to him as 240,000.—French opinion is enthusiastic enough over the work of the Russian general to use such terms as "Napoleonic triumphs" in referring to his campaign. The Frenchmen continue to regard his movements as a part of the original plan which he announced before leaving St. Petersburg, when he said that his country must expect some defeats and that he expected to be denounced and even called a traitor, but that he would not fight until he had overwhelming numbers.

While the experts quarrel, Kuropatkin slowly falls back and the cartoonists make fun of the idea that he is "luring on" the Japanese. Little or no accurate information comes from the actual scene of war to inform the world how far the Japanese have advanced northward, but now and then there are significant encounters at such places as Mukden, which give satisfaction to the British and American military critics who have for some time urged that the Russian should long ago have fallen back at least to Harbin. So while the one class of experts looks for an "another Sedan" the other class is waiting for the day when Kuropatkin turns against the Japs. The following is one friendly French journal's view of the dilemma in which the Russian finds himself:

"Kuropatkin is to be pitied. As long as he has not at his disposal the necessary troops for a great battle, he is compelled to retire step by step as far as Mukden, as far as Harbin, perhaps. He will not be ready until September. Between now and then he realizes that any general movement of an offensive or even of a defensive nature would be premature, perilous, mad. His duty is to avoid it, and this duty he accepts with an abnegation and a talent to which we must render homage. His operations, since he became once more master of his actions, defy criticism, so far as can be judged from the confused accounts which are too often given of them. And because he makes war like a soldier he is exposing his country, Europe itself—the world, it may be—to the most serious possibility. It may be doubted if ever a commander was subjected to so trying an ordeal. If he triumphs, as we hope, no one will put limits to the admiration thus merited, or to the gratitude in particular. It is not for his own country alone that he struggles in the midst of such formidable difficulties. It is for Europe. It is for ourselves."

If this view should turn out to be correct,—which certainly seems scarcely possible at this time,—Kuropatkin would indeed be a world's military hero. His triumph over the armies under Oyama now would probably amaze even those who have so steadily insisted that the Russian plan was being safely carried out. As for the French suggestion that Kuropatkin's campaign "is for ourselves" that represents the "yellow peril" idea, which has been practically dropped in both America and Great Britain.

Successor To Major Andre

The latest plan to reach the North Pole is in a gigantic air-bag, which is to roll to its destination pushed by arctic breezes. The traveler is to be inside. The plan is that of Peter Nissen, of Chicago, who has been doing some experimenting on Lake Michigan, and at least has demonstrated that he can travel in a ball of the kind he wants to attempt to reach the pole in.

Nissen's queer traveling car is 32 feet long and 22 feet in diameter. Through the center runs a steel axle, which is held in place by numerous ropes, which radiate out like the spokes of a bicycle. On this axle a boat is suspended, in which the traveler sits. At one end is a window, and at the other end is a small door that will just admit the body of a man. A contraction of about six inches takes place every time one goes in or out. On the inside there is a suction-pump to be used to replace the air that escapes and also supply the necessary fresh air for the existence of the man. The ball is made of heavy canvas, of a fine texture, the seams being carefully sewed with silk and the outside treated with several coats of waterproof varnish.

Safely locked in a ball of this kind, Nissen thinks he can roll along in the path of a northern blizzard, faster than the fastest Empire express. There would seem to be some problems to be disposed of, however. Nissen has not explained how he expects to stop, nor how he can steer his queer device. A ball rolling along at the rate of 75 miles an hour would require a good deal of stopping. One might imagine Nissen, successful in reaching the coveted spot, making a wild bound over it and in five minutes being hundreds of miles beyond. Or if the wind wasn't just right, he might go to the right or left of the pole. It is a great scheme. Nissen wants backers and doubtless he will get them. He will also have no difficulty in getting traveling companions. The dangers of his rolling ball are not of such an appalling nature as those to which poor Andre exposed himself. But before Nissen and his companions start on their record breaking bounces over the floes of the far north, they had better make their wills.

Philippines Will Help Hawaii

The terrible business depression in the Philippines will serve to make those islands allies of Hawaii in some of the requests we have already made for special legislation, to modify American laws which were made for the Mainland and not for outlying territories or possessions, whichever they may be called. An article published recently in The Star showed that three years ago there was an American population of 20,000 in Manila, two years ago it fell to 12,000, then to 8,000, and now it is less than 5,000. The private losses represented by this falling off must be tremendous. It is beginning to be realized that the progress of the islands is being stopped by the American labor and tariff laws, and that it will soon be further stopped, if present intentions are carried out, by the shipping laws.

Protests have been made against extension of the shipping laws to the Philippines, on the ground that such action will certainly cause a big rise in freights, as it will shut out foreign vessels and leave the business exclusively to Americans, of which there are not enough. This is not a matter that Hawaii is so much danger from, but the other two propositions concern us vitally. The labor situation is worse in the Philippines than it is here, except that Hawaii has greater possibilities of loss, owing to the immense capital invested here. The Filipinos will not work, at least not satisfactorily, and Chinese cannot be obtained. Whites of course cannot work in a climate which is more tropical than Hawaii. The result is that industries stagnate and vast resources of natural wealth remain untouched.

Admiral Cooper, the former commander of the Pacific squadron, who recently remained some time in Honolulu, on returning from his station to Washington, expressed his "disappointment" at what he saw in the Philippines. The cost of living he describes as "almost prohibitive," whatever that means, while the tariff on imported goods is so high that nothing is imported except for the use of the American naval and army forces and government employees in the islands. And thus the islands, stored as they are with inestimable wealth, jog along in unsurpassable depression and neither American nor Filipino enjoys the resources nature placed in the valleys and mountains.

The American government cannot seem to have these conditions to prevail. In the agitation that must come for reasonable litigation regarding labor supply and other matters, Hawaii may stand with the Philippines, for though legally a Territory, these islands are practically in much the same fix.

Having become a nation the little republic of Panama naturally wants a flag and a coat of arms, and a competition has been authorized for the submission of designs. Prizes of $200 are to be awarded to the successful competitors.

There has been a Democratic primary in San Francisco, in which Hearst has been after the scalp of one McNab. After reading in the rest of the dailies of the election of the McNab ticket, it is a bit startling to pick up the Examiner and learn from big headlines that McNab is shorn of his power. It reminds one of the ante-convention news of Hearst's strength for the presidency.

The mortality on the Rurik does not seem to have been very great. After a long fight in which she was seriously crippled, and finally sank amid showers of shells, 600 men out of less than 800 on board to begin with, were saved. Probably she did not sink very quickly and the Japanese were quick in going to the rescue. As usual, there is nothing given out about the Japanese losses.

Russia has dismantled and laid up quite a number of vessels now. This insures her having some navy to start with when peace comes.

The world's fair attendance is climbing up until it begins to look as if the great exposition would be much more of a financial success than has been commonly predicted.

The Republican national campaign committee is making good use of Bryan's statement announcing his support of Parker. It is full of hard knocks at the Democratic candidate, and is about the same sort of support that Republicans are giving to Parker.

Sale of Lease

Land of Kawaihae 2d--Kohala, Hawaii

By direction of the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees of the Queen's Hospital, I will offer at public auction a leasehold of the Land of Kawaihae 2d, Kohala, Hawaii, on Monday, September 19, 1904, at my sales-rooms, in Kaahumanu street, Honolulu, at 12 o'clock noon.

This property comprises one of the most desirable grazing tracts of the District and the source of the Keawenui stream, an unfailing water supply, is located on the upper or mauka portion of the property which is considered the best fattening land in the neighborhood.

The property extends from a point near Kawaihae Landing to the mountain known as Kaumu o Kaleihoehoa, a distance of about eight miles, varying in width from one to two miles.

At Kawaihae there is on the property, adjoining the Parker place, a very desirable House lot.

The area of this land is 10,600 Acres, more or less.

The purchaser will be required under the terms of the lease to fence the forest portion of the property in the vicinity of the water heads or source of the Keawenui stream, and otherwise provide for the exclusion of cattle from the forest portion by the erection of a five-wire fence so constructed to keep the cattle out.

Lessee must also keep down the lan-tana on the property. No live timber to be cut on the forest portion except for fence posts to be used on the ground, and the cutting of algarobos on the lower portion must be confined to thinning out and trimming.

Leased price for 10 year term, $2500.00 per annum, payable quarterly in advance.

A Map of the property is now posted at my salesroom.

For further particulars apply to the undersigned or A. B. Loebenstein, Surveyor, Hilo.

MEN WHO ARE AFTER THE SENATORSHIPS

FIFTH DISTRICT STARTING A BOOM FOR C. A. LONG OF THE FOURTH—MORGAN'S WITHDRAWAL LEAVES THE FIGHT TO FAXON BISHOP, SAM DWIGHT AND CECIL BROWN, WITH SEVERAL OTHERS AS POSSIBILITIES.

The withdrawal of J. F. Morgan as a possible candidate for the Territorial Senate, leaves an additional nomination for the other aspirants to fight for, as it had been regarded as very likely that Morgan would get one of the nominations if he went after it. The principal men now talked of are Faxon Bishop, Cecil Brown, Sam Dwight, H. E. Cooper and C. A. Long.

C. A. Long is being pushed by some of the Fifth District men, though he is in the Fourth. The fourth is to have two nominations and one of them is not unlikely to be Long, if he gains additional strength in the Fifth, as he has some strength in the Fourth already. Senator Brown is openly a candidate, and is thought likely to land a nomination. Cooper is not making any active fight, but it is understood that he would accept a nomination if it were tendered.

Faxon Bishop has strong support in the party and will probably go to the convention heavily backed for one of the nominations. Bishop has agreed to run and is warmly supported by Governor Carter, who regards Bishop's big business experience as a valuable asset in the Senate. One argument being used in favor of both Cecil Brown and C. A. Long is that the Senate is badly in need of lawyers.

In the Fifth district the greatest present strength is shown by Dwight, and it is predicted by some of the knowing ones that Dwight and Faxon Bishop will be on the ticket with Cecil Brown, or with Long. T. McCants Stewart, who has been mentioned for the senate, says he is not out for a nomination and does not want to run.

Philadelphia, August 4, 1904.

Dear Father: I now arrived after my tedious deep water trip of 136 weary days. Well we got the tug boat at 12:30 p. m. on Tuesday August 2, twenty-five miles from the Breakwater. It was raining great guns then, and you can imagine what a hard job we had making them heavy wet sails fast. I brought the ship in, that is, I was at the wheel from 4 to 6. We past the Breakwater at about 5 o'clock that same afternoon and towed up the Delaware as far as Lukes Island where we anchored to wait for the tide to run in, that was 2:30 o'clock Wednesday morning that we anchored. We layed there until 11 a. m. then towed to Philadelphia and docked at the sugar wharf. *

A little about the voyage. We were 15 days to the equator and during that time we had nothing but calms, and light breezes. On Saturday April 16 we sighted the Mauki Islands at 5:30 p. m. bearing W. N. W. 30 miles Lat. 30° 3' S. Long. 156° 53' W. On May 9 we got our first gale and Cape Horn weather. We were making 10 knots under foresail and topsails, good weather next day.

On May 14, at 4 o'clock in the morning all hands on deck, made everything fast but fore and main lower topsails which we have too under. We were home to until May 18, then we got a strong blow from the E. We'll take it as a whole we had real good weather, no icebergs. We had one half squall that's all we saw of ice. I tell you it was cold off the Horn. I never lost a wheel the whole trip and never had to lay up, but I suffered terribly from the dashing seas hitting me. In bad weather we had to pump ship the whole watch night and day. The seas would come over the ship like a shot and I tell you, you had to hang on. I was only washed once by a sea, that was at 15 minutes to 12 one night when we were pumping ship. The sea pulled me right off the life line which is stretched around the deck. The pump handle hit me on the head and the sea threw me head first against the capstan, which knocked me senseless. I washed across the deck a couple of times then got up on the life line. I was glad to get up into warm weather I tell you. *

The September term will begin on Monday, 5th prox, the criminal cases going before Judge Gear. The Attorney General, Lorrin Andrews, will take charge of the Grand Jury work. M. F. Prosser, assistant Attorney General will handle the prosecution for the territory, W. F. Fleming, assistant attorney general, taking the tax cases and E. C. Peters, assistant attorney general remaining in office charge.

THE LEAF HOPPER.

The following is an extract from letter of Messrs. Perkins and Koebel to Planters' Association, dated 30th July, 1904: "We shall be in the neighborhood of Queensland for a month or more as results are so far satisfactory and the weather south is too cold as yet, though that is a much more valuable point for the shipment of insects. We shall be anxious to hear from the Station Entomologists as to the condition in which the consignments arrive from this point, the journey being so long and slow. If we can establish the conditions that obtain here in Queensland in the matter of leaf hopper, in the islands, there will be no more trouble with this pest."

The first consignment of parasites of leaf hopper eggs arrived by the Sierra on the 22nd inst. The condition of the consignment cannot be ascertained until after same has been bred up by the entomologists.

First editor—"Say where is that editor?"

Other editors—"Got no ink, no pens, no paper."

First editor—"Then go out and borrow a lead pencil and rush that editorial along. We haven't got but six columns of roasts on the Republican to-day."

Editor—"All right, hereafter we will translate them into Hawaiian. I wish to make an important announcement, all those having—"

Chorus eagerly—"Does the ghost walk?"

Editor (ignoring insinuation of chorus)—"As I was about to remark, all those having claims against the Daily Democratic Spot will please present them at any time except when they are due. Pay day this week is postponed until next week."

Chorus—"That's what you said last week."

Editor—"I know, but payday on this paper is a moveable feast. Some of you will write an article on the growing prosperity of our pineapple industry."

Chorus (in despair—"Then we don't eat!"

Editor (severely in business like way)—"I have nothing to do with the wants of the inner man. I am not running a restaurant. I tell you what I will do, in lieu of your $3.50 per week salaries, I will give you each a block of $10,000 in stock in this paper."

Chorus—"We want pol not stock; we want raw fish not air. If you want us in this shop again, you will have to coax us in with a squid apiece and a bottle of square face. Let's strike."

Edito (everybody and rush over to Col. McParty's resort to cash their strings at the free lunch counter.

Notice—Owing to the non-arrival of an important part of our material, the Daily Democratic Spot will not appear this week, in its usual form. If the subscribers will assemble before the office every morning at 9 o'clock, they will be supplied with all the news, through a megaphone.

"DEDE" DOW HAS EXCITING TIME

PICKED UP BY SEA ON SHIP I. F. CHAPMAN, DASHED AGAINST THE CAPSTAN.

The ship I. F. Chapman which recently arrived at Delware Breakwater from Honolulu with a cargo of sugar, had quite an exciting experience during a portion of her trip. "Dede" Dow son of H. M. Dow, clerk to the high sheriff, shipped on the vessel at Honolulu as an able seaman. Young Dow has written to his father and mother regarding his experience on the recent voyage. The vessel went to Philadelphia after being reported off the Breakwater, so young Dow writes from that place. In speaking of his trip, he says in part, in a letter to his father.

Philadelphia, August 4, 1904.

Dear Father: I now arrived after my tedious deep water trip of 136 weary days.

Well we got the tug boat at 12:30 p. m. on Tuesday August 2, twenty-

I have kept my diary all the time, I have done some terrible hard work this trip I tell you, and I consider myself a good a sailor as any of them.

The officers and crew have treated me grand, first straight. *

With much love and kisses to all the dear folks at home, I remain your tattered down, salted up, and washed about sailor son.

HERBERT M. DOW.

When "Dede" says he thinks he is as good a sailor as the rest of them, he is not indulging in any idle boast, for he certainly is a remarkable youngster for a boy turned 17 years of age. He has been going to sea ever since he was 14 years of age. He has sailed on the bark Albert, R. P. Rithet, Olympic and George Curtis and S. S. Arizona between the islands and San Francisco and has also been on the bark Nuuanu and the ill-fated ship Helen Brewster between the islands. Shipped on all of those vessels during his vacations, so the Chapman is the first long voyage that he has made. He intends to re-ship on her and go to Hong Kong. The vessel will return to Honolulu to load sugar next season. She will either go from Hong Kong to Newcastle to get coal for some Hawaiian port, or else come to Honolulu in ballast directly for Hong Kong. The vessel is to load at New York for Hong Kong.

WASHINGTON BOW. WONGS

CHINESE MEMBERS OF THE REFORM SOCIETY WHICH ORGAN-IZED HERE SEVERAL YEARS AGO ARE CUTTING OFF THEIR QUEUES—HOLD ENTHUSIASTIC MEETINGS AND SAY THEY WILL MAKE CHINA LIKE AMERICA.

WASHINGTON, August 11.—The Chinese barber in Washington has been doing a rushing business lately, and has taken from the heads of the local laundrymen and other Celestials more than a score of queues. This sudden taking off or hirsute adornment is the result of the teaching of the Bow Wong Woy Society. This organization has branches in all large cities. The organization already numbers several thousand, and its teachings have made quite an impression on Chinese of all classes. The meetings held in this city are largely attended. All the talking is done in the tongue of the Flower Kingdom. Speakers from New York and San Francisco do the speech-making.

"They are good talkers," said one of the prominent "Chinatown" residents, "and they know what they are talking about. They want to make China like America—progressive and without superstition. Our people are too full of superstition and are kept in ignorance in our country. The Dowager Empress has too much authority, and we want to have it taken from her."

This Chinese said his countrymen were more anxious than ever to get into this country, and said many smuggled their way across the border in a manure wagon, hidden under manure.

THRILLING STORY

THE FIERCE BATTLE WHICH RUSSIANS WENT THROUGH ON BOARD THE CRUISER RURIK—THE ROSSIA AND GROMOBOL FIVE TIMES TRIED TO HELP, BUT WERE DRIVEN AWAY BY THE JAPANESE FIRE.

TOKIO, August 17.—The surviving sailors of the Russian cruiser Rurik, who were landed at Sasebo, the Japanese naval base, have thrilling stories to tell of Sunday's sea fight in the Korean straits.

The three cruisers of the Vladivostok squadron, the Rurik, Rossia and Gromobol, steamed out of port on Saturday with the intention of effecting a junction with the Port Arthur squadron.

"We had reached the latitude of Fuson on Sunday morning," said a lieutenant, who is among the survivors, "when we saw four Japanese cruisers off the Korean coast, evidently patrolling the channel. Signals were displayed from our flagship, in response to which our squadron turned and steamed north at full speed.

"Immediately the Japanese cruisers pointed northwest evidently with the intention of heading us off. The reason for our retreat was that the presence of the Japanese fleet showed us that the sortie from Port Arthur had failed.

"For some reason the Rurik made steam slowly and when the Japanese cruisers began firing, which was a little after 5 o'clock in the morning, our boat was the target for the four guns of all the pursuers.

"They got our range and then the shells bid fair to blow us out of the water. I don't know how many times we were hit, but so terrible and accurate was the Japanese fire that I only wonder there was a man of us left.

"Soon the Rossia and Gromobol showed the effects of the enemy's fire.
They were hit a number of times. Flames started from the Rossia and we signaled 'good by save yourselves.' At this time the enemy was heading in so dangerously that the Rossia and the Gromobol steamed away, and we got safely back to port. We were settling badly, and were making preparations to leave the vessel when the Japanese cruisers steamed out from behind the island of Tsushima and attacked us. We returned their fire as bravely as possible, but in a few minutes we had not a gun left. The two new cruisers showed shell after shell into us; we settled more and more, so a last command was given to 'stand to quarters,' and then her bow went up and the Rurik went down.

"There were 775 of us when we left Vladivostok and the enemy saved about 600. Their conduct was most kind. They claimed that their cruisers were not injured, but I do not believe that possible. Anyhow, there are 600 of us here that won't fight for the Czar again for some time."

The Japanese generally are comparing the treatment accorded the crew of the Rurik to that given by the Vladivostok squadron to those on the transport Hitachi, which the squadron sank on June 15th during its raid.

A prominent official said today: "We did the best we could in the running fight, but we were afire in a dozen places. When the Rossia and the Gromobol saw our plight they steamed back five times to help. But it was not good. A shell from the leading Japanese cruiser struck us just at the water line and another burst in the engine room.

"Japan has avenged the Hitachi. Admiral Kamimura rescued and succored those who aided in sinking the Hitachi and sailed away from hundreds of drowning victims. We offer their living for our dead."

WAR, RELATED BY A RUSSIAN OFFICER.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 6.—The following letter by a Russian officer has made a great impression here: "On our retreat we encountered a number of wounded Japs, among others a young infantry soldier, having an improvised bandage around his left arm. He squatted at the side of a pool of blood. His face was torn by painful emotions while he tried to stifle when he saw our eyes resting upon him. His knapsack was on his knees and spread out on it a map of Manchuria, upside down. He was tracing on the unprinted page the
battery, his own name and father's address.
His own life blood, in the pool before him, was his ink, a toothpick his pen. I was so overcome by the heroism of the enemy that I rode up to him and left him a bottle of cold tea I had saved for my supper."

SEIZURES ON NAVAL VESSELS.
In speaking of the recent seizures of alleged stuff on the Naval transport Solace at San Francisco, Captain Nib-lack of the local Naval Station pointed out an instance of how unreasonable the customs regulations are as regards the application to war vessels.

"When the flagship Kentucky was here last December" he said, "she had to pay duty on one of her armored gun shields which she left in Japan for necessary alterations to improve her gun fire. When a cargo of coal arrives here from Cardiff, the Naval Station has to deposit the duty, (although it is against the Navy Regulations to do so), and give a straw bond that the Navy Department will be good for any further duty that may crop up. All this is the law and there is no fault to be found with it, as it is nominally done in the interest of statistics."

MORNING STARS WON.
WAIKU, August 22.—The game played at Wells' Park yesterday between the Morning Stars and Kahuluis was won by the former in a score of 11 to 9. The Stars held their opponents down to 2 runs up to the seventh inning, when somehow or other they went to pieces, and allowed them to score 4 runs in the eighth, and 3 runs in the ninth. The Kahuluis made great efforts to score in the ninth, but did not succeed in chalking up five runs, which would have tied the score. For the first five or six innings the Stars played great ball, making only but one or two errors. The result of yesterday's game practically gives the Stars the pennant for this year's series. They are at present three games ahead of the Kahuluis.

PUNA SUGAR CO. IN A BAD WAY

FORECLOSURE SUIT BROUGHT YESTERDAY AND NO OPPOSITION WILL BE BROUGHT TO IT.

Suit has been commenced in the Circuit Court against the Puna Sugar Company, Limited, for the foreclosure of the mortgage on the million dollar bond issue of the concern. Of this million, half are now outstanding in the hands of bona fide holders and half are held in trust. The Puna company held a meeting yesterday afternoon and decided that the suit should not be contested as the company has not the means to go further in the matter. Oahu had been making advances to Puna but these ceased on the 15th inst.

In the suit now entered the plaintiffs are the First National Bank of Hawaii

at Honolulu, a corporation; H. Hackfeld & Company, Limited, a corporation;

M. P. Robinson; H. M. von Holt, trustee for W. S. Chambré and A. Ahrens.

The defendants are: Puna Sugar Company, Limited, a corporation; S. M. Damon and S. E. Damon, copartners doing business under the name of Bishop & Company; Oahu Sugar Company, Limited, and B. F. Dillingham & Company, Limited.

The cause of action is stated to be the neglect of the Puna company to pay the interest on the bonds which came due on July 1st last and that the taxes on the property for 1903 are still outstanding. It is stated that the Puna Sugar Company has planted and growing upon its plantation at Puna Island of Hawaii, over 700 acres of plant cane and long ratoons and over 250 acres of short ratoons, and that the sugar cane when in condition to be harvested will be of the value of from $30,000 to $35,000.

Such growing crop, it is shown, requires immediate care and attention as also does the large stock of horses and mules for which the company is without means to buy feed stuffs. There are also laborers on the plantation who will leave if not paid. The great danger from these conditions, that the already shrinking assets of the company will be dissipated and destroyed is pointed out as making it necessary that a receiver should be appointed. It is regarded as desirable, as well for the welfare of the public as the interests of the bondholders, that the entire enterprise should be held together and maintained as one entire property.

It is prayed that the receiver be authorized to issue certificates for the purposes of his office, to constitute a first and paramount lien upon the es-</

The latter denied such a statement and declared that the girl had lived with ten different families and that she had been so incorrigible that none of them had been able to keep her. She was in the habit of running away at night. The court continued the case until tomorrow.

him the most beautiful country in the world. His first visit was eminently successful and when the way was opened by J. C. Cohen for the present engagement Zamloch now en route easily made it fit in with his plans.

He comes at a dull time in matters of entertainment and will undoubtedly find a warm welcome at the Orpheum. His programmes are markedly first class and contain plenty of comedy to set off the elaborate amplifications. As a palmist Zamloch has no superior and his entertainments are throughout given on a lavish and elaborate scale.

REPUBLICANHAS A KICK

To the Editor Hawaiian Star—I see by the Honolulu papers this week that it has pleased the governor to appoint C. H. Lindsey as District Magistrate of Lahaina.

Did the Governor, before making this appointment, enquire into Lindsey's record as Deputy Sheriff here?

Did he ask Sheriff Baldwin why Lindsey was discharged from the police force?

When Lindsey was deputy sheriff the plantation used to pay him $25 a month (as their books will show) "to keep estrays out of the cane."

Query—How much will they pay the District Magistrates "to keep estrays out of the cane?"

If the executive committee of the Lahaina Republican Club want to damn what little chance, if any, that they have for getting a Republican majority at the next election, they are surely doing it by making such nominations as this:

A GOOD REPUBLICAN.

Lahaina, 26 August, 1904.

HER RIBS FELT HIS LEATHER HEELS

Caroline Bailey has instituted proceedings for divorce. She names two grounds, cruelty and failure to provide. She avers in her libel against Harrison S. Bailey, that they were married on May 21, 1895, and that shortly after their marriage, the respondent began to act in a very cruel manner toward her. His cruelty culminated she claims on February 20 of the present year, when he gave her a severe beating, the libel setting forth the following allegations:

"That on or about the 20th day of February, 1904, respondent made a cruel and unprovoked attack upon libellant, struck her on the face and back with his clenched fist, knocked her to the floor, pulled her hair, kicked her with his feet, and inflicted severe pain and suffering upon libellant and threatened to kill her in consequence of which cruel treatment, and being in fear of her life, libellant was compelled to leave the house of respondent, and has since resided with her relatives and friends."

She asks for absolute divorce and that the respondent be compelled to pay the costs of the action.

FIGHT BULLETINS

Tonight is the night of the great pugilistic contest in San Francisco between Jim Jeffries and Munro. The men signed for twenty rounds, but it is not likely that two such aggressive heavyweights will be in the ring that long. The results of the fight will be cabled round by round to the Columbia Saloon on Hotel street and those who are interested in the result of the great contest will be able to get the news as quickly there as anywhere in the world. In fact Honolulu, by reason of the difference in time, will know the finish a couple of hours before it occurs in San Francisco time.

BOYDEN RESIGNS.

The resignation of R. F. Boyden as Noble Grand of Harmony Lodge, No. 3,

WHO CAUSED THE DIVORCE?

OAKLAND, Aug. 16.—Because a Hawaiian woman, a friend of her husband, called her a "fat, fussy old thing" over the telephone, Clara King Graham was granted a divorce today by Judge Melvin from Joseph A. Graham, a government engineer, employed in San Francisco at a salary of $125 a month.

The first intimation Mrs. Graham had that her husband was not true to her was one day when, she says, a dark complexioned woman called at the house and asked for him. The woman made no secret of her regard for Graham and the wife had a fit of nervous prostration when the truth dawned upon her.

The divorce was granted on the ground of cruelty and was not contested by Graham. They were married in Sacramento in 1893. For the last few years they have been living in Berkeley. They have three children, of which she was awarded the custody and was also allowed $60 a month alimony.

Her allegations of cruelty consisted in the fact of the mental anguish caused by her husband's actions and because the woman of whom he was enamored would call him up at his home and often she talked rudely to the plaintiff.
