GOING HOME

BARON MATSUOIRA.

Baron Matsudoira, the Japanese representative at the St. Louis Exposition, is a returning passenger on the steamer Manchuria. The baron was much interviewed while in the states. He is a distinguished member of the Japanese nobility and proved an excellent representative of the emperor.

MAUI'S TURN COMES NOW

GOVERNOR CARTER, LAND COMMISSIONER PRATT AND FORESTER HOSMER TO LEAVE FOR THEIR TOUR NEXT WEDNESDAY AND WILL BE JOINED ON MAUI BY SECRETARY ATKINSON—MANY PLACES TO VISIT.

Governor Carter, accompanied by Land Commissioner Pratt and Forester Hosmer, will leave for Maui on the Kinau on Wednesday, and will only return after going thoroughly over the island. Secretary Atkinson, who is at present on Hawaii, will take the Mauna Loa and meet the governor's party on Maui.

The itinerary as arranged by the Maui people is a long one and judging from the number of luau to be given the governor's honor he will need a large consignment of pepin to help him along. He will commence his inspection tour at Lahaina and will then pass round by the southerly route to East Maui. One matter that he will take up particularly on his trip will be the dispute over the Polipoli springs. A license to these springs was given to Waterhouse & Co. for Dr. Raymond, but the question as to the use of the water has been constantly in dispute between the licensee and different settlers who want to use water for their stock in larger quantities than they have been able to obtain it. The proposed construction of a pipe line for a trough at the main road has been a source of contention as has the action of the licensee in putting up a line which takes the water to an entirely different watershed. The governor hopes that after an inspection has been made of the property some plan may be hit upon for the satisfaction of all parties concerned. The development of McGregor's landing and the necessity for the construction of different trails and roads will also be matters for the governor's concern.

"I want to get a comprehensive idea of the nature and extent of government lands on Maui," said the governor this morning. "Looking at maps is all very well in its way, but land can only be judged by personal observation. A place often looks very different from what one pictures it after looking at its location on a map. The program as it has been mapped out for me by the Maui people, is, I am afraid, rather a long one, and may have to be cut in some details, but I will cover all of it that I possibly can. This trip is in no sense one of a political nature, but it is simply part of my program for becoming acquainted as far as possible with the needs of every part of the territory. No, I am not afraid of the luau. I have a good appetite and will have no trouble in that score."

Kuropatkin Is Pursued By Oyama

(Associated Press Cable to The Star.)

ST. PETERSBURG, September 5.—Marshal Oyama's entire army has crossed the Taitse river and is pursuing Kuropatkin's forces. The Russians are retiring and rear guard hostilities between the Russian rear guard and the Japanese are progressing.

An unconfirmed report has been received to the effect that the Russians dismantled and then abandoned 200 guns at Liaoyang previous to the retreat from Liaoyang battlefield. Fighting is now in progress near Mukden.

A new mobilization scheme will soon be announced. It is again reported that Czar Nicholas will go to the front. The Russian losses in the Liaoyang fighting are placed at 15,000.

AN EXPERT'S VIEW OF RUSSIAN WAR PROSPECTS

IMPEDES CORRESPONDENTS IN THEIR WORK AND TREATS THEM MORE STRICTLY THAN THE JAPANESE—WHAT THOMAS F. MILLARD THINKS OF THE RECENT FIGHTING AT LIAOYANG AND VICINITY.

Returning from his ninth campaign, Thomas F. Millard, the special war correspondent of Scribner's Magazine and the New York World, is aboard the S. S. Korea en route to New York. He has come from the front with anything but an encouraging story to relate of treatment accorded to the pressmen by the Russians. Millard was stationed with the Russian forces at Liaoyang and was in that city until the early part of August. He was attached to the division of General Keller who was killed some weeks ago during the fighting at one of the passes.

In speaking of the recent fight that ended in the evacuation of Liaoyang by the Russians, Millard said: "I am not inclined to think that that fight was a general engagement. It is my opinion that it was rather a fight between the Japanese forces and a strong rear guard of the Russians. From what I learned of Kuropatkin's plan and know of the situation at Liaoyang, I do not think that he will be apt to risk a general engagement with the Japanese at that place. His general purpose in having that fight was probably to delay the Japanese as much as possible so that he could remove his stores and main body of men further north. No doubt considerable stores had to be destroyed before he evacuated the place. Kuropatkin had forced his way up along the left flank of Kuropatkin and was threatening him in that direction, so the Russian forces were withdrawn as it is unlikely that Kuropatkin would risk a battle with Kuropatkin threatening his flank and rear.

"The retreat northward will, I think, be deliberate. But I do not think that there will be any grand stand made at Mukden. My opinion is that the Russians will be apt to retire further northward to a point about 20 to 30 miles beyond Mukden where the railroad turns off to the eastward into the hills. Strong positions can be secured in those hills and there I think will be the place where Kuropatkin will be apt to make his first decisive battle.

"From a military standpoint Mukden is worthless. It is situated in a wide plain. When I passed through there, redoubts were being constructed outside of Mukden for the evident purpose of mounting artillery. Still I do not think that a decisive battle will be risked by Kuropatkin at that place. The moral effect of taking Mukden will be considerable however. When I was at Liaoyang about the first part of August the Russians had then about 125,000 men and I presume that the force under Kuropatkin now amounts to about 140,000 men.

"Kuropatkin has been in some very tight holes, but he has succeeded in extricating himself from all of them. During the first part of July Kuropatkin's army had forced its way up northward along the Seoul road until it was in a position to get between the main body of the Russian and Liaoyang.

How to Avoid the Dangers of a Cold.

—Everyone must realize the dangers attending a severe cold, and that it is always prudent to remain in-doors until the danger is passed. Many, however, do not feel able to lose the time and will be interested in knowing that a severe cold may be broken up and all danger avoided by the prompt use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It not only cures, but cures quickly and counteracts any tendency toward pneumonia. For sale by all dealers, Benson, Smith & Co., agents for Hawaii.

A PRINCE'S FORMER LOVE

GERALDINE FARRAR

Miss Geraldine Farrar is an American singer whose name was much linked with that of the young Crown Prince of Germany, news of whose engagement to the Duchess Cecilia was public this morning. Miss Farrar visited Germany only recently and was treated with royal favor by the Kaiser. The young crown prince was reported to have been so charmed by the American beauty that he was ready to throw up his chances of a crown and wed for love. Miss Farrar left the German empire and the royal match making went on. She is not the only young woman who has been reported to have won the heart of the Kaiser's heir.

COURT WAS IN REAL DANGER

WORK ON THE JUDICIAL BUILDING SHOWS THE URGENT NEED OF THE REPAIRS.

The absolute necessity for the bracing up of the floor of Judge Gear's court room in anticipation of the attendance at the opening of the term tomorrow was shown this morning when the carpenters engaged on the work came to tear up the flooring on the mauka side of the room. Here it was found that the rafters which support the floor instead of being sunk into the main beams, were supported merely on narrow strips of scantling which were nailed to the side of the beam. The support thus given was sufficient to make a showing but was plainly inadequate for any strain. Iron braces were obtained these being placed under each rafter and secured to the beams. It was found that nearly all of the wood had suffered from the ravages of borers and the fact that all of the wood throughout the building is in a similar quite justifies the theory of Superintendent of Public Works Holloway that the place will either have to be reconstructed or razed in the near future.

PORTO RICANS PARDONED

SECRETARY ATKINSON PRESENTS THE GOVERNOR'S PARDONS TO TWO HAWAII PRISONERS.

Governor Carter has received word from Sheriff Andrews of Hilo stating that the recent pardons granted by him to the two Porto Ricans, Jose Maria Rodriguez and Manedo Monlo were bestowed on the men by Secretary Atkinson in the presence of the other prisoners and the men were forth with released. They were convicted on a charge of holding up a Japanese hack driver but recently sufficient doubt has sprung up to justify the executive in believing that there may be a chance of their having pleaded guilty through a misunderstanding owing to their ignorance of English. The sheriff endorses the governor's action in refusing to restore civil rights to B. H. Brown who was convicted for grafting while connected with the Hilo police.

We are pleased to see signs already of a better feeling between Russians and Japanese. I have used it once a day since, and have experienced wonderful relief. CALL OF M'CAN'TS STEWART

PROBABLE POLITICAL SIGNIFICANCE OF THE EMPLOYMENT OF THE LOCAL COLORED ORATOR BY THE REPUBLICAN NATIONAL COMMITTEE—THE NEGRO QUESTION HAS COME TO THE FRONT AS A NATIONAL ISSUE.

The acceptance of the services of T. McCants Stewart as a speaker for the Republican National Committee will, it is believed, add to the prominence of the negro issue in the present national campaign. Ever since Roosevelt had Booker Washington as a guest at dinner, and since he forced the appointed and insisted on retaining the negro Crum as Collector of Customs of Charleston, the negro question has been coming to the front, and now it is recognized in all the leading American journals as one of the prominent campaign issues. The South is inflamed by the President's attitude.

The appearance of McCants Stewart on the list of the national committee's speakers and his appearance on its platforms will be to an extent Cortelyou's answer to the widespread criticism of Roosevelt's firm attitude towards the negro. Stewart is an orator of ability and his appearance, in the minds of many, will show the Republican intention to stick to the policy of attempting to raise the negro's chances in American affairs generally. In connection with the issue and the way it is being raised in some states, the Washington Star of August 17 has the following:

The negro question in politics came before the President again today, the trouble this time being another phase of the "lily white" and "black and tan" fight in Louisiana. The President, in most of the southern states, has given little recognition to the "lily whites" in the last year, and the "regulars" are in control in a majority of the states. The "regulars" in Louisiana are now trying to force the President to punish the "lily whites" there by declaring that they refuse to amalgamate with the regulars in any proceeding if the negro is to be allowed to take part in the "regular" convention and caucuses. The regulars won't consent to this, and say that as the situation stands there will be two sets of Republican nominees for Congress in each district in the state and two tickets of Republican electors.

The trouble was laid before the President this afternoon by a delegation of the "regulars," consisting of Emile Kuntz, P. F. Herwig, D. A. Lines, Armand Romain, Joseph Fabacher, J. M. Haggerty, Jirault Farrar and J. H. Gregory. They laid before the President the whole fight between their faction and the "lily whites," and bitterly resented the attitude of the "lily whites" in refusing to take part in any movement for Republican unanimity if the negro was to be allowed a conspicuous part in the proceedings. The President referred the committee to Chairman Cortelyou, who will have to handle the questions that have been raised.

One of the main questions is as to who is the Republican national committeeman from the state—a negro or a white man. When the "regular" and "lily white" delegations met at the Chicago convention, demanding recognition as to the real Republican organization of Louisiana, the convention gave each delegation a half vote. The "regular" delegation decided upon Walter Cohen, the colored register of the land office at New Orleans, for national committeeman, while the "lily whites" picked ex-Governor Wrentham. The regulars claim they have tried to reach an agreement with the "lily whites" as to a national committeeman, but the latter refuse to agree upon anything. Mr. Cortelyou is to be asked to name Cohen as the national committeeman, so that a recognized head to the Republicans of the state may be known.

The delegation stated that they had asked the "lily whites" to participate in a ratification meeting with them, but the opposition faction refused; "This is not right," said Emile Kuntz, the spokesman. "The President has been good to the men of this faction. In fact, they have 95 per cent of the federal offices in the state and they are not acting in the proper spirit." Indirectly the President was made to feel that some of the offices of the "lily whites" ought to go to the regulars.

Representative Woodyard said it was generally understood that the negro issue is to be an important one in West Virginia this year. The Democrats propose to make a vigorous campaign on that issue and will promise to restrict suffrage if they are placed in power. Mr. Woodyard stated that the reason a "white man's plank" was not placed in the platform adopted by the recent state convention was because the friends of ex-Senator Davis feared that it would be construed as having a national bearing. They did not care to face the issue in the north. The negro question will, however, be put to the front by the West Virginia Democrats from now on, and upon that they expect to unite the Democrats of the state and to gain many Republican votes. The Republicans will meet the issue squarely.

Collier's Weekly of New York, says that "it is to be deeply regretted" that the negro question has become a national issue, but that the issue can no longer be kept out of the campaign.

DR. CRAIG ON THE JONES LETTER

DENVER MINISTER EXPRESSES SATISFACTION AT THE SENTIMENTS EXPRESSED BY JONES.

Dr. Bayard Craig of Denver occupied the pulpit of Central Union Church last night. He spoke on annexation, taking for his subject in part the recent letter of J. C. Jones, in which the latter expressed satisfaction over annexation and confidence in the future of the islands. Dr. Craig said that he had been delighted by Jones' letter, and added that the hard times in Hawaii had not been as hard as hard times had been in Denver after the collapse of the boom there. Regarding annexation the preacher said:

"Neither the ex-Queen nor her retainers nor the Hawaiian people should have a grudge against the United States on account of annexation. It was not America, it was destiny, and in the event we can see the work of a hand mightier than man's. Destiny placed these fair islands under the Stars and Stripes and it is wise for all to recognize the hand of destiny and adapt themselves to the conditions that are."

MONDAY SEPTEMBER 5, 1904

Within the World's Fair is a university which in completeness surpasses the regular university in many ways, because there are assembled at the great St. Louis Exposition many valuable and instructive features which no university acquires. For this reason, university students, and even professors, are taking advantage of the exceptional opportunity afforded. Each exhibit of an educational character is demonstrated; thus the higher education is made to appeal to all visitors. For instance, the Exposition does not merely exhibit implements with placards showing that they are used for life-saving, but it builds a lake and shows how the work is done. Currency and coins are exhibited, but there are also places where money is made in the sight of all. It is this method of conveying knowledge by means of exhibits that makes this great St. Louis World's Fair a university. If you can not visit the Exposition in person, the next best thing is to secure our magnificent series of photographic reproductions which cover every important feature of the event, and which constitute a most potent educational feature in every home.

New Zealand In Exclusion

Over the Canadian border, all along the line from Vancouver to Montreal, Chinamen of the much dreaded coolie class stream into the United States. The Canadian government collects a poll tax of $500 as they land and it is a standing joke with our friends up north that "Canada gets $500 and the United States gets the Chinaman!" From the Mexican frontier the immigration of Chinese coolies goes on uninterruptedly save for an occasional raid when the officials save their consciences by delivering up a prisoner or two who obviously did not "deliver up." Despite this, and with an utter disregard of the eternal fitness of things, a cheap inspector in San Francisco deliberately insults a lady of standing by making a pretence at deporting her. The exasperating part of the application of the Federal exclusion law lies in the manner in which it is handled by a few officials who do little more than sit on a wharf and read over passenger lists. The exclusion law is intended for the exclusion of coolie labor from the United States and the official who goes out of his way to apply it further is deserving of severe censure if not of instant dismissal.

A peculiar fact in connection with the recent difficulties of some well known Honolulu travelers at San Francisco is that the persons affected have been going to and fro between here and San Francisco for twenty years or more. They have landed over and over again and traveled all over the Union. Before annexation, when it would seem that examinations of Honolulu passengers must have been more careful if anything than it is now, they freely entered San Francisco. What can have happened at that city to cause this recent change? The conclusion seems irresistible that official zeal has been in some way reinforced by new motives. Incidentally the recent indignities heaped upon passengers from here serve to show the utter indecency and barbarism of some of the provisions of the Chinese exclusion law.

Still Awaiting Decisive Battle

Kuropatkin has apparently succeeded again in evading envelopment by the Japanese armies, and seems to have a safe line of retreat open to the northward. His handling of his forces in the recent battle will undoubtedly call forth the most enthusiastic praise from the French critics and others who have all along seen little else than masterly strategy in his movements. He was heavily outnumbered at Liaoyang, but he fought an engagement lasting several days, inflicted very great loss on the enemy, and seems to be retreating safely to the north, according to programme. It is the much ridiculed "luring on" policy again.

The great battle at Liaoyang has proved after all to be not the "decisive" battle. There must be another, still farther north. Kuropatkin has probably planned his next stand and his next retreat and perhaps the game will be continued to Mukden, even to Harbin. Then, if not before, the decisive battle must come. In view of the size of Japan's population and the intense war spirit, the Mikado will probably have no difficulty in meeting all the reinforcements which can have reached Harbin by the time Kuropatkin arrives, with a superior force. Probably Kuropatkin's repeated battles are designed to delay the Japanese advance north, while every day is employed in rushing reinforcements to Harbin. If this is the plan Kuropatkin is fairly successful. But with her control of the sea assured Japan can send men into Manchuria more quickly than Russia, and she has all the men necessary. They are willing to fight and die, and the loss of a few hundred thousand lives to their overpopulated country will not be felt. In fact it is referred to by some critics as an actual benefit.

In the engagement just fought it appears from first accounts that the Russians somewhat vindicated their fighting reputation. They at first repulsed Japanese at some points and captured some guns and two battalions, and their final defeat seems to have been by no means a rout. Tokio up to today claims little more than to have forced the retreat. There were no large captures of prisoners and no important abandonment of Russian guns. Possibly for the first time in the war, a force of Russians has withstood a large general attack from Japanese armies and after inflicting almost blow for blow, has retired to its next chosen position. At Port Arthur, the Russian garrison holds on with grim determination, under conditions of terrible danger and hardship. All in all, Russia shows a slow improvement as the war wears on. As has been said before, it is well that this is so. It is better for the peace of the world that the contest should be more even than it has been.

Fortunes Made In Copra

Now and then a small schooner crossing the Pacific calls here with a load of copra en route to San Francisco from some of the many islands on which coconuts grow. At the present time the indefatigable Captain Weisbarth is here preparing to go to Palmyra island for a cargo of coconuts. In this connection a good deal of interest attaches to a report of the German American consul at Marseille, who reports large fortunes made from copra in a single year, even during a period of depression. Copra is the meat of the coconut and is used in the manufacture of coconut oil. Says the consul: "The nut is broken by hand, the meat is extracted and either dried in kilns, as in the Philippine Islands, or in the sun, as in Cochinchina. The oil is generally used for the manufacture of soap, but of late years methods of refining it have been perfected, with the result that a considerable proportion of the Marseille oil is now sold for alimentary purposes.

"The inquiry as to the cost of working copra is difficult to answer satisfactorily. The Marseille manufacturers have made very large profits during the last four or five years. This has been true of manufacturers of all grades of vegetable oils as well. In a period of general stagnation, the best-equipped manufacturers have made handsome fortunes in a single year. The present cost of copra in Marseille is: Ceylon, $85.16 a ton; Manila and Singapore, $83.94 a ton.

"Copra is not treated to a first and second pressing as are most oil seeds. The raw material is first passed through a cylinder press, very much as paper is fed from an endless roll through the revolving cylinders of a printing press, and no distinction is made between the oils resulting from the two processes. The high-grade oils are obtained by clarification and filtration, in regard to which little really satisfactory information can be obtained. The method was guarded as a secret by one firm for some time, but at present several firms claim to be turning out equally good edible oil.

There is a vast quantity of copra scattered about the Pacific. It would seem that there is money in gathering it up, in view of the statements of this American consul. Probably anyone who could get together a good-sized cargo of copra would find it easily saleable at a good figure.

"Quite a colony of people well known in Honolulu are now in Mexico," says the Advertiser, "and without one exception all wish themselves back in Honolulu." An exception may be noted in the case of Mr. William H. Wright.

Senator Foraker should have been in time to see the Manchuria come here and anchor off port, unable to enter because Congress has neglected to dredge our harbor.

Henry G. Davis is not failing to take a proper part in the campaign. He led the german a couple of weeks ago at an entertainment at White Sulphur springs. Poor strenuous Teddy is the only one who can't do things. He has been told to go somewhere and quietly sit down and convince the country that he is "safe."

Today was a very quiet labor day in Hawaii. It was probably lively enough in a majority of mainland cities. Long parades of workmen, in which many of the labor unions make very elaborate displays, are a feature of the day. Three years ago we had a respectable parade here. That was during the building boom and could not be duplicated today.

The Minnesota is launched and will soon be coming this way. There has been no definite announcement of what route she will take to the Orient from Seattle. The fast intimations were that she and the others being built by Hill would not call at Honolulu.

The Russian press contains some interesting comments on the war. For example the Petersburgskiya Vyed-most had the following shortly before the recent Japanese naval victories: "Supplemented by the ships which were till lately hors de combat, the Port Arthur fleet appears once more as a formidable force, with which the Japanese will have to reckon in open combat, when no quarter will be given. They will not have long to wait; we are on the threshold of great events." The Novoe Vremya, the government organ at St. Petersburg, said: "Henceforth the Japanese are deprived of their confidence in their command of the sea. In future their vessels can only move with the greatest caution from the shores of Japan to the Gulf of Peehli, and to Korea. And who knows whether the time is not at hand when Togo and his fleet will be filled with anxiety for the security of their base in the Elliot Islands, and as to their capability of maintaining a strict blockade of Port Arthur and the southern portion of the Kwantung peninsula." The same paper published the following, which is certainly almost as far from correct as its predictions: "The whole of Europe now wishes for the success of the Russian arms. Not because Europe loves Russia, but because she understands that great historical mission which it has fallen to the lot of Russia to fulfill in the East, and with the accomplishment of which is bound up the moral, economic and political welfare of all the white races." As for land operation, the Russ, nearer the truth than his contemporaries, says "The extraordinary slowness, with which the Japanese are carrying out their advance is evidence that they are well aware of the extreme danger of their whole strategical plan of operations."

STANDARD OIL SUED

Wm. ROCKEFELLER.

TRENTON, N. J., August 19.—George Rice's threatened suit against the Standard Oil Company for damages estimated by the plaintiff at $3,000,000 was filed here today in the United States Circuit Court, under the provisions of the interstate law. The personal defendants named in the suit are John D. Rockefeller, William Rockefeller, H. M. Flagler, Henry H. Rogers and the other stockholders and officers and directors of the standard Oil Company.

Rice, in his complaint, says that his business was destroyed, and he financially ruined by a conspiracy on the part of the constituent companies of the Standard Oil Company. He says the Standard formed the railroads to charge him freight rates from 50 to 33 per cent higher than the Standard was paying, while the roads, still under the influence of the Standard, gave it rebates and commissions on rates not obtainable by Rice.

Rice also charges that his customers were threatened and oppressed by the Standard Oil Company. Rice, in his complaint, says that his business was destroyed, and he financially ruined by a conspiracy on the part of the constituent companies of the Standard Oil Company. He says the Standard formed the railroads to charge him freight rates from 50 to 33 per cent higher than the Standard was paying, while the roads, still under the influence of the Standard, gave it rebates and commissions on rates not obtainable by Rice.

"I was with the Russian forces for five months. There were fifteen other correspondents. The Russians were very strict with us and made it impossible to send out stuff that was worth anything to a newspaper. After imposing pledges and restrictions upon us before we were granted permission to join the army, we were subjected to many petty inconveniences. We were under constant surveillance and were, in fact, regarded as little better than spies. From what I have heard since I left Manchuria, the Russians have made it more difficult for the correspondents than even the Japanese. I had expected that the Japanese would be more liberal though than they have, for they have been constantly successful. There was no use in my remaining, so I wrote to my papers and advised that I be recalled. All of the other men were trying to leave too, for they realized that it was useless for them to remain.

"The Russians have a rule by which they require a correspondent leaving the army to secure permission so to do, and they insist that he return by way of St. Petersburg. I did not wish to return that way, so I went up to Mukden and was smuggled in a Chinese cart and hidden under a cloth, out of Manchuria into neutral Chinese territory and in that way made my way down to Peking."

THINK WEATHER SAVED KOREA.

After the narrowest escape in her career the S. S. Korea, Captain Seabury, arrived off the port this morning at 5:30 o'clock from the Orient en route to San Francisco. But for good luck that sent thick weather on the outward trip of the Korea, the crack liner would have been out of commission, for she would have fallen a prey to the Vladivostok fleet.

GREAT TRADE WITH JAPANESE

SEATTLE MAN PREDICTS THAT THEIR COUNTRY WILL NEED MUCH AMERICAN GOODS.

SEATTLE, August 13.—H. H. Dearborn, a real estate man of this city, who has lately returned from a tour of Japan, tells some interesting facts regarding the conditions as they exist at the present time in that country. He also prophesies that the Orient affords a wonderfully rich field for commerce for the cities of Puget sound on the close of the conflict now waging in the far east. "Japan," said Mr. Dearborn, will on the close of the war, throw an enormous amount of trade to the United States and is of far more importance in the near future to the merchants of Seattle than Alaska ever has been. I have nothing against Alaska," continued Mr. Dearborn, "but a foothold in the Japanese trade will be worth more to the city than the merchants of Seattle than the Alaska trade by a hundred fold. "The reason for this is clearly apparent when one journeys through the streets of Tokio. Here the Japanese clothes swarm by the thousands, with nothing more than a piece of rag which consists of their entire wearing apparel. With the rapid progress in civilization that is going on in Japan the time will come, at no distant date, when this custom will be abolished and the laboring class, which now goes about almost naked, will be clothed like the American or English laborer.

"In the clothing and dry goods line, too, Japan affords a great field for future trade. The Japanese like to dress and dress well. Those who have the money of course dress well now, but hundreds of thousands of Japanese subjects do not, but will when the chance to do so at a reasonable cost is given them."

In speaking of the conditions in regard to the shipping in Japan, Mr. Dearborn said: "Domestic shipping all through Japan is rather dull now, but the foreign commerce is very active. This is more especially noticeable in Yokohama, which is the principal shipping port of Japan. Here the foreign vessels are going and coming, regardless of the fact that a war is in progress. The wharves and docks along the water front thrive, with busy longshoremen hustling the freight here and there, unloading and loading large steam and sailing vessels for all parts of the world."

"The Japanese government is doing its best to see that all possible care is taken of the vessels engaging in international commerce with that country. In cases where it is known that a foreign vessel is about due to arrive in Yokohama the government dispatches a torpedo boat to meet the incoming vessel. In this manner all vessels are warned if there be any immediate danger from hostile ships, and if there should be the merchantman can return to her port of departure or some other port, without danger of being captured. "In the farming districts the people are engaging in their different occupations, seemingly caring little about a war that is going on. But that they do care is manifested by the money which they are continually subscribing to the war fund, and sometimes depriving themselves of articles of absolute necessity."

"The Japanese are confident of victory," said Mr. Dearborn, "and they are expecting a large indemnity from the Russian government when the war ends. This money will be spent by the government for the purpose of building up the country, advancing the interests of the people and stimulating trade with the other nations."

"The people over there look to the United States as the great source of supply and favorably consider every advancement made by our traders for business there. For this reason, the Puget Sound country has a wonderful opening in Japan and one we should not be backward in accepting."

APPROPRIATE DRESSING.

Henry Irving once preached quite a terse sermon on appropriate dressing. A clever young woman belonging to his company appeared at a rehearsal one morning dressed in a lovely gown and a stunning hat. Irving commented on the unusual splendor of her get-up, whereupon the actress explained that she was going to a swell luncheon that afternoon and had saved time by dressing in advance. "Then run away to the luncheon first, my dear young lady," said the star. "Just now your mind, too is dressed up for the luncheon and not for work. When you come to rehearsal come looking the part." The young woman, who is now a star, never forgot the lesson she learned that morning.

STOESSEL WAS PROFANE

Reports by mail of the reception of the Japanese emissary who went to demand the surrender of Port Arthur say that General Stoessel indulged in a storm of profanity when the message was delivered to him. A Japanese major was sent, and he was received with courtesy. When the terms of the message were made known, however, Stoessel, who is usually a man of reserve, was eloquent with Russian profanity, and his language shocked all who heard it. The major was politely sent away with a refusal.

RUSSIAN WAR PROSPECTS

There were scarcely 5,000 Russian at Liaoyang to oppose him. The situation was critical and if Kuroki had been able to continue those operations, he would have shut off the main body of the Russians. Heavy rains came up and saved the Russians. There was a steady downpour for seven days that effectually checked the advance of Kuroki's forces. By extraordinary exertions Kuropatkin was able to concentrate about 25,000 men at Liaoyang by sending men backward and stopping reinforcements at Liaoyang from the north.

"Kuropatkin has been laboring under great difficulties ever since he went out there in March. I believe firmly although I have no documentary proof of such a thing, that when he first went out to Manchuria and looked over the situation, he advised that Port Arthur be heavily garrisoned and left to make its own defence, and that Manchuria be abandoned as far north as Harbin. The Russian forces were badly scattered at that time. This advice was disregarded and he was ordered to contest the territory. He has succeeded in concentrating his army now, until he has practically all of the forces in Manchuria in hand to operate against the Japanese. In all of the operations, though, he had been handicapped, because the Japanese have had more men than the Russians.

"So far as the conditions of affairs in Manchuria is concerned, Viceroy Alexieff is to blame. He and Kuropatkin are not working in harmony and before I left Manchuria they had reached the point where they declined to exchange communications. Kuropatkin has also been handicapped by lack of efficient lieutenants. No doubt there are undoubtedly able men, but they have not yet had the opportunity to demonstrate who they are. General Keller, who was killed, was, I think, the most able of his commanders and was, I believe, Kuropatkin's favorite among the generals.

"So far as the outcome of the war is concerned, I think that it will be impossible for the Japanese to dislodge the Russians from Manchuria. There is a limit to the point where the Japanese can drive the Russians northward and at the same time the Russians will hardly, I think, succeed in driving the Japanese out of Manchuria. I think that the war will drag along for about another year and then some other nations will offer intervention. In my opinion the result of the war will be victory for Japan, although Russia will retain control of Manchuria. That country is of no particular use to her though. She merely wanted it on account of the open ports, but as

VICTOR LAWSON AND "HIGH FINANCE"

THOMAS W. LAWSON IN HIS STATE ST. OFFICE AT WORK

Victor H. Lawson is said to have been warned that his life is in danger, as a result of the sensational exposures he is making under the title of "Frenzied Finance" in Everybody's Magazine. His last exposure of the system of high finance shows the promoters of Amalgamated Copper making $36,000,000 by a single day's work, in manipulation of stocks which were floated with the aid of the tremendous capital of the National City Bank. The bank was chartered in 1812, with $1,000,000 paid in capital. It now has $25,000,000 capital and resources aggregating $235,213,140.78. Lawson promises to show that the bank has been in other deals far worse than the Amalgamated Copper in which $36,000,000 were taken from the public in a single deal, by a few of the leading members of what he calls "the system." Lawson took part in the deal himself and acknowledges some of the blame, but he claims to have believed that the Amalgamated Copper properties which were unloaded on the public at a $36,700,000 profit were really to be worked prosperously, whereas the result showed an immediate collapse with the promoters safe, as in the case of Morgan's big ship building trust.

GAIN FOR ROOSEVELT

EXTRAORDINARY GAIN FOR ROOSEVELT SHOWN BY BALLOTS COLLECTED BY THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE—THE PROPORTION OF ROOSEVELT MEN AMONG THE LABORERS SHOWS INCREASE, IN SPITE OF THE UNIONS' ATTITUDE.

CHICAGO, August 22.—Of 10,988 voters personally requested by the Chicago Tribune to announce their preference for President, 6504 named Roosevelt, 3789 were for Parker and 548 expressed themselves for Debs, the Socialist candidate. This is a gain of 498 in the usual Republican vote and a loss of 420 from the usual Democratic vote.

Many union men said the Democratic or Socialistic party held out the greatest hopes to union labor and expressed bitterness toward President Roosevelt for what they called his share in the responsibility for the use of troops in the Colorado strike troubles.

The proportion of Roosevelt men among the laborers was large and there was a Democratic loss. The Socialist vote showed a considerable increase.
The two large parties ran close among the teamsters, there being 280 for Parker and 277 for Roosevelt.

FARM LANDS TO BE SOLD

PUPUKEA AND PAUMALU AREAS
TO BE PLACED ON THE MARKET
IN 300 ACRE LOTS.

It is the intention of Land Commissioner Pratt to open for settlement in a short time some four thousand acres of land known as Pupu-kea and Paumalu on Oahu. The land is about five miles from Haleiwa and has a frontage of three miles on the Oahu Railroad. A government reserve of 400 acres will be maintained for the protection of the water sources.

The tract will be divided into 200 acre lots and will be offered to bona fide cultivators probably on the 21 year lease system with a right to subsequent purchase. The land is well watered and will be easily available for small farmers. An application to have the land cut up into 500 acre allotments has been refused by the commissioner.

ORIGIN OF THE HANSON.

The hansom was the invention of Joseph Hanson, the architect of the Birmingham town hall. But the two-wheeled cab which he patented in 1834 little resembles the vehicle which now bears his name. It had a square, sedan-chair-shaped body, hung between two wheels nearly eight feet high. The driver's seat was in front, as also was the door; the fare entered the cab between the wheel and shaft. The modern hansom was adapted from this original by Messrs. Gillet & Chapman. It is a peculiarly English vehicle and no foreign nation has ever compassed the dogged courage of the Briton who can sit calmly inside it.

MISFORTUNE FOR SHAKESPEARE.

Herbert Spencer told this story of a woman acquaintance: "Vain as well as vulgar minded, she professed to have a high admiration of Shakespeare and was partial to reading his plays aloud, and considered that she declaimed the speeches extremely well. On one occasion after enlarging upon her reverence for him, she ended by saying:
"Ah I often wish that he were alive, and that I had him here. How we would enjoy one another's conversation."

BOTH WON BY BIG SCORES

HONOLULU AND KAMS WERE THE VICTORS IN TWO GAMES OF BASEBALL ON SATURDAY.

Saturday's ball could only be classed as fair for neither game provided the usual amount of interest and excitement. In the first the Honolulu put it over the Punahou to the tune of 11 to 4. The second match was won by the Kams from the Mailes by 10 to 1.
Several of the Mailes best men were absent from the field and their work was not at all up to the usual form as a consequence.

In the winter series played yesterday at Kapiolani park the Aalas beat the Artillery by 14 to 9 and the Makikis had an easy thing in the Iron Works team beating them by 21 to 1.
The Railroaders beat the Advertisers yesterday morning by 6 to 4.

THE YOUNGEST KING

The youngest king in the world is Daudi Shua, king of Uganda, who is now about eight. He holds his court seated on a scarlet throne, with a leopard skin mat under his feet, and bearing in his hand a toy gun. The British exercise a protectorate over the young king and his kingdom, and have established for him a sort of Parliament, which he opens regularly with much pomp. Little Daudi Chui speaks English and gives state dinners at which there is curious mixture of African and European foods and customs, though the royal table is supplied with fine linen, cut glass and silver brought from London.

PARKER A POLITICIAN.

Judge Parker is quite as much of a politician as any man who has been nominated for the presidency for years by either of the great parties. This isn't to his discredit but in the interest of the truth it should be known. The attempt to create an ideal personage and palm it off on the public as the real Parker will fail, as all such attempts deserve to fail.—From the Minneapolis Journal.

A GREUSOME COLLISION

ELECTRIC CAR STRIKES HEARSE YESTERDAY. BREAKS COFFIN AND EXPOSES CORPSE.

A collision that was gruesome in its results, occurred yesterday afternoon at the corner of King street and Aala Lane, between a Liliha street electric car and Williams' hearse in which was a body being conveyed to burial. The hearse was overturned by the electric car, the coffin broken and the corpse tumbled out. Statements by different people who witnessed the accident vary, some blaming Alfred Bond, the motorman of the electric car, while others insist that August Perry, the driver of the hearse, was to blame.

The funeral was that of Mrs. Frank Joseph of Quarry and Alapai streets. The funeral procession was headed by a hack in which was the priest, then came a double line of marchers and then the hearse, about which marched the pallbearers on either side. The procession was crossing the tracks of the Liliha street electric line on King street from Aala Lane to reach the Pearl City cemetery at the time that the collision occurred.

The first hack cleared the track safely, but when the hearse was driven onto the track it was seen that electric car No. 20 was approaching from an Ewa direction. The pallbearers saw the danger of collision and while some shouted to the driver of the hearse to hurry across, others called to the motorman to stop the car. J. P. Rego Jr., one of the pallbearers says that the driver of the hearse tried to avoid the collision by hurrying the hearse across the track. It was too late, for the car hit the rear wheel of the hearse. The hearse was overturned and broken, the coffin broken exposing the corpse. Antone Medeiros, Jr., a pallbearer was struck by the overturning hearse and hurt.

Patrick Rego another pallbearer, got the corpse from the wreckage and had the body conveyed on a board to the depot to await another coffin. A second coffin was soon brought to the depot. A large crowd of excited Portuguese gathered about the depot for a time. It was feared that they might attempt to do bodily harm of the motorman and conductor of the car that had caused the wreck. Bond was arrested by the police and charged with reckless driving. He was released under $500 bonds.

DEATH OF C. B. DWIGHT.

Former Road Supervisor Passed Away on Saturday.

Charles B. Dwight, formerly road supervisor, died on Saturday afternoon of heart disease and pneumonia. He was a brother of Samuel C. Dwight, who is a probably nominee for the Senate this time, and was active in politics for many years. The deceased was born in Kalaheo, Molokai, in 1859. He leaves a widow two daughters and five sons, also a sister, Mrs. Joseph Lovejoy of Berkeley, California. He was a son of the Rev. S. G. Dwight, one of the early missionaries.

The funeral took place yesterday afternoon from the residence in Desha lane, Palama, and was largely attended. The Rev. H. E. Parker officiated and Chancellor Abraham Fernandez, of the Kamahameha Order, made a few remarks followed by a prayer by D. Kanuha, chaplain of the lodge. Members of the order joined in singing Hawaii Hymn.

The pall bearers were: Joseph Fern, James L. Holt, G. L. Desha Sr., Charles Oio, Enoch Johnson, Carlos Long, S. L. Kakumano and William Jarrett.

Sale of Lease

Land of Kawaihae 2d--Kohala, Hawaii

By direction of the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees of the Queen's Hospital, I will offer at public auction a leasehold of the Land of Kawaihae 2d, Kohala, Hawaii, on Monday, September 19, 1904, at my salesrooms, in Kaahumanu street, Honolulu, at 12 o'clock noon.

This property comprises one of the most desirable grazing tracts of the District and the sour of the Keawenui stream, an unfailing water supply, is located on the upper or mauka portion of the property which is considered the best fattening land in the neighborhood.

The property extends from a point near Kawaihae Landing to the mountain known as Kaumu o Kaleihoohie, a distance of about eight miles, varying in width from one to two miles.

At Kawaihae there is on the property, adjoining the Parker place, a very desirable House lot.

The area of this land is 10,600 Acres, more or less. The purchaser will be required under the terms of the lease to fence the forest portion of the property in the vicinity of the water heads or source of the Keawenui stream, and otherwise provide for the exclusion of cattle from the forest portion by the erection of a five-wire fence so constructed to keep the cattle out.

Lessee must also keep down the lanterns on the property. No live timber to be cut on the forest portion except for fence posts to be used on the ground, and the cutting of algaroba on the lower portion must be confined to thinning out and trimming.

THE FLEET WHICH KAMIMURA DEFEATED

The above picture shows the famous Vladivostok squadron, which eluded the Japanese for months and was finally encountered by Admiral Kamimura's squadron. The Grombol is the one in the lead in the picture, the other two being the Rossia and Rurik. The Rurik was sunk and a total loss, while the Grombol and Rossia, terribly damaged, steamed away. Both finally reached Vladivostok, where their crews told thrilling tales of the battle. Hundreds of shells struck them and the men on the upper decks were practically all killed or wounded. Repairs are being made as fast as possible and the Grombol and Rossia may be heard from again.

ALLEN HERBERT MADE PROTEST

OBJECTS TO THE SALE OF A LARGE TRACT OF GOVERNMENT LAND.

The solemn protest filed by Allen Herbert was the one interesting feature of the sale of government lands on Kauai which was conducted by Land Commissioner Pratt at the steps of the Judiciary building Saturday. The land in question comprises some 16,400 acres and it was finally bought in by the Wilcox interests on Kauai for $9,100 and $4,000 in all.

As the sale commenced Herbert stepped to the front and presented a written protest which he read and then filed. The document stated that as a citizen and a taxpayer and also as a representative of public opinion, he objected to the sale of public lands in large holdings to persons or corporations representing great wealth as against the best interests of the Territory. This policy, he protested was inimical to the interests of settlers who wished to take up small holdings.

The protest having been read the sale proceeded with the result as recorded.

"My protest is simply in line with the views of those who have the best interests of Hawaii at heart," said Herbert as he walked away. "There was no necessity to sell the land now as the lease did not fall in until 1906 in any event."
