

The Oahu Nominees Of The Democrats

The Democratic delegates from the Fourth District met in caucus last night at Waverley Hall. There was a large attendance. The meeting was an executive session. Probably anticipating that the deliberations might be characterized by the usual Democratic assemblages where discordant souls rage and disgruntled elements gather, the delegates decided not to allow any of the details of the meeting to be announced. The meeting lasted several hours. Strange to relate, however, there does not appear from the little that could be learned of the proceedings, to have been any very acrimonious debates.

It was thought that there would be a fight over the proposition to endorse Cecil Brown, the standard-bearer of the Brown Republicans who still insists that he has not left the party. But from the statements of those who were present at the caucus, Brown was among the also rans, or rather, he did not start. Nobody tried to have him endorsed nor do there appear to have been any attempts to nominate him.

The senatorial situation was discussed and it was finally decided, it was understood, to nominate only two senators, leaving the third place vacant. The following were nominated: Frank Harvey and Col. E. H. F. Wolters. These appear to have been the only names presented, at least so far as could be learned, and the friends of the two men state that the nominations were unanimous. Harvey is from the Fifth District and Wolters from the Fourth.

The representative ticket is understood to have been selected as follows: C. J. Campbell, Clinton J. Hutchins, Joseph Aea, William Jarrett, I. Nauha and L. R. Medeiros. Whether there was a fight over any of these candidates or any others that were mentioned is not known. Several names are reported to have been selected but the majority of the delegates interviewed agreed upon the above list as the ones who received the endorsement at the caucus. Medeiros is a Portuguese, Hutchins and Campbell are white men, Nauha and Aea are natives, and Jarret is three-quarter white. The delegates claimed that there was harmony throughout the caucus and that the tickets as given will be supported in the convention next Saturday.

The Fifth District delegates held a meeting several nights ago but did not come to any definite conclusion. Some of the delegates seemed to favor endorsing Brown while others did not. Wolters and Harvey will undoubtedly receive the support from the Fifth, but whether the example of the Fourth District caucus to leave the third nomination vacant will be followed is uncertain. The following are said to be the most probable names to be put in nomination by the Fifth: R. H. Trent, Dr. W. S. Noblitt, John Emmeluth, Jesse Makainai, Naukana and David Kupihea. The first three mentioned are white men. The others were Home Rulers but have affiliated with the Democratic party. The Fifth is to caucus, it is understood, tonight.

NOMURA HAD MISS HERRICK'S SPOONS

SO THE POLICE CLAIM—SAY THAT THE JAP COMMITTED TWO BURGLARIES LAST SATURDAY.

Trace of two more robberies was secured today by Detective McDuffie. To the door of Nomura is laid the guilt. Nomura was caught yesterday trying to sell silver knives, forks and spoons. The Jap was placed under arrest. McDuffie questioned him and learned that the fellow had entered the residence of Miss Herrick on School street last Saturday and taken some spoons, and then entered the house of Mrs. Hughes next door, and taken the knives and forks. Hughes is the man who won the second prize in the recent Examiner Weekly drawing, getting his weight in silver. The watch which the Jap was trying to sell, was taken from the residence of a police officer.

NO MORE USE OF RUBBER STAMPS

BALLOT-MARKING BY PENCILS TO BE THE RULE IN THE COMING ELECTION.

"Do not use rubber stamp" was the seemingly oracular message received by Chief Clerk Buckland from Secretary Atkinson by wireless this afternoon. This means when expanded that the rubber stamps for marking the "X" on the ballot papers which were used at the last elections will be discarded, and the return will be made to the more primitive lead pencil. Many complaints were made over the use of the stamps, the principal one being that in folding the ballots the ink was very apt to smudge and either render it doubtful or unintelligible.

JUDGMENT FOR KALANIANOAE.

In the case of Middleditch, trustee for the C. F. Herrick Carriage Company against J. Kalanianoae, a suit for $518 and interest, which was tried before Judge Robinson without a jury this morning, judgment was entered for the defendant, the plaintiff not proving the registration of his appointment as trustee in bankruptcy.

OUT OF THE RACE?

INTER-ISLAND OFFICIALS DECLINE TO CONSENT TO HARVEY RUNNING FOR SENATOR WHILE ANOTHER EMPLOYEE OF THAT CONCERN IS RUNNING ON GROUNDS THAT THEY DO NOT WANT TWO OF THEIR EMPLOYEES TO RUN IN OPPOSITION TO EACH OTHER.

A peculiar complication in Democratic politics arose this afternoon. The Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company in which Frank Harvey holds a position of importance, declined to consent to his running as a candidate for the Senate. A conference on this subject was held between General Manager J. A. Kennedy of the company and several directors of the company with a representative of the Democratic party, as Harvey has been unanimously selected by Democratic caucuses.

The consent of the company to allow him to serve in the Senate if elected and to retain his position in the service of the concern, was necessary. The Inter-Island people stated that as John Lane, one of their employes was now running for the Senate on the Republican ticket, they did not consider that the public interests demanded that a second employe should run in opposition to the first employe. It was suggested that they were willing to have Harvey run for the House.

Harvey has the matter under consideration. He will make his answer to the Fifth District caucus tonight.

In case he would prefer to remain with the Inter-Island company instead of going into politics, he will not consent to allow himself to be nominated at the coming convention Saturday. If Harvey withdraws the Democratic legislative ticket will have sustained a very vital blow. He is the strongest man they have mentioned and according to the present indications, there is little prospect of securing any more men to take his place on the ticket.

OLD MARKET GIVEN UP

JAPANESE PLAN TO RUN THE OLD FISHMARKET NOT A SUCCESS—THE CHINESE STALL KEEPERS IN THE NEW MARKETS RETAIN THE RETAIL BUSINESS WHILE JAPS GIVE UP STALLS AND SELL TO CHINESE AT WHOLESALE.

The recent attempt of the Japanese fish takers to start a fish trust of their own has come to an end. They refused to sell to the Chinese dealers at the new King street market and formed a combination going to the old government market on Alakea street. It was supposed that the Alakea street combination would control everything. The attempt appears to have been a failure and the Japs have begun to surrender their government market stalls and to go back to the Chinese dealers at the new market.

The old government market is again practically closed and Chinese are doing all the retail business.

WOULD BOOM THEATRICALS

PLAN TO ORGANIZE AN AMATEUR DRAMATIC SOCIETY AMONG LOCAL PEOPLE WHO HAVE SHOWN TALENT ON THE STAGE—SYMPHONY CLUB MAY FORM THE NUCLEUS OF A MUCH LARGER MUSICAL AND DRAMATIC ASSOCIATION.

A plan to organize another dramatic and musical society is being discussed among members of the Honolulu Symphony Club and those who are interested in the "Said Pasha" and "Charley's Aunt" productions. In a long series of amateur performances, of opera and comedy, it has been shown that Honolulu has much excellent stage talent, and it is thought by the projectors of the plan that an amateur dramatic society would have large membership and would prosper.

The plan is partly a result of the Symphony Club plan to have Leader Stockton of the cruiser New York band come here as leader of the club. Stockton is also a dramatic instructor, and it is proposed if he comes to form a choral society in connection with the instrumental society now existing, as well as a dramatic section, or an independent dramatic society.

Honolulu has so few visits from outside stage attractions that it is believed that a local society would get liberal patronage for many more productions than are given here yearly at present. The town would "stand for" such a show quite frequently, as far as financial matters are concerned, in the opinion of many, and it is proposed to get the leaders in such matters together and form an organization.

Arraignments On New Indictments

JUDGE GEAR DISPOSES OF SOME OF THE CASES BROUGHT BY THE PRESENT GRAND JURY—A JAPANESE BURGLAR MAKES A POLITE PLEA FOR CLEMENCY—THE GENEAU MURDER CASE SET FOR PLEA.

This was a dull day in Judge Gear's court, for the whole morning was taken up in the arraignment of prisoners who had been indicted by the grand jury. As in nearly every case the services of an interpreter were required, the length of time ordinarily necessary was doubled or tripled and once more the trial jury was in attendance with nothing to do.

Fujimoto, accused of breaking into the store of another Japanese, pleaded guilty to a charge of burglary in the first degree. In answer to the judge's interpreted question as to whether he had anything to say, Fujimoto smiled and replied that he was a married man with a family and was very happy, he was sorry that he had stolen the goods and therefore he hoped the honorable judge would deal with him as lightly as possible.

Assistant Attorney General Fleming, who was taking the cases for his confrere Prosser today, said he would look into the case and see what the man's record was, so the judge deferred sentence until tomorrow.

E. Geneau, the U. S. sailor from the Wheeling charged with having murdered the negro prize fighter U. S. Harris, was represented by Attorney E.

CONDEMNED BY COPY BOOK.

VLADIVOSTOK, August 31.—The evidence on which the British steamer Knight Commander, sunk by the Vladivostok squadron, was condemned by the prize court, was contained in a letter copying book taken from a press in the captain's cabin by Midshipman Baron Ert, after the officers and crew had left the vessel. This book was not delivered when the captain surrendered the other documents, and it proved conclusively to the Russians that the cargo of railway material carried by the Knight Commander was destined for Chemulpo, and not for private firms in Japan.
 Before the prize court the captain was not compelled to take an oath, the president of the court saying that he would accept his word of honor as a gentleman. The captain testified that neither he nor the owners of the Knight Commander knew that the cargo was contraband and that they believed it was not destined to be used as war material. He was then confronted with his own letter book and was dazed for a moment. He then exclaimed, "Heavens! I thought that book was at the bottom of the sea."
 The Knight Commander was promptly condemned.

GERMAN SAUSAGE MAY BE TABU

LITTLE REAL SCOTCH WHISKY IMPORTED INTO THE UNITED STATES, SAYS DR. WILEY, CHIEF OF THE NATIONAL BUREAU OF CHEMISTRY—GERMAN SAUSAGES MAY BE EXCLUDED ALTOGETHER AND PATE DE FOIE GRAS IS PREPARED VEAL.

WASHINGTON, August 31.—Pate de Foie Gras made of veal or tender beef costing 15 cents a pound and selling for $2, sausages made from dog meat, horse flesh and other unnamable waste scraps of meat, and Scotch whisky unblended with creosote to give it a smoky flavor are being imported into the United States, according to Dr. Wiley, chief of the bureau of chemistry. To stop this wholesale trade in adulterated food products is the purpose of Dr. Wiley's establishment at the Appraisers' Stores building in New York of a committee of five expert chemists to investigate all incoming shipments. Dr. Wiley is nearly ready to take immediate action in excluding alleged Scotch whisky. In his opinion, there is little real Scotch whisky in this country.

"The correct formula for making Scotch whisky," he said today, "is to treat the malt from which the beverage is made with smoky peat. This gives it that coveted smoky flavor. I firmly believe that most of the Scotch sent to this country today is treated with creosote to produce the same effect. I think such liquor should be forbidden entrance on the ground that it is diluted."

"The question of German sausages is now in the hands of the attorney general. This product may be excluded from this country altogether. Under the German law no sausages or mixed meats are allowed entrance whatever. Under our law no products can be admitted from a country which that country excludes.

"It is practically impossible to inspect such food products. When meat is all cut up and specially prepared, how is one to know what it is made of without examining every piece? For instance, we have found great quantities of that delicacy, pate de foie gras, which consisted of veal and other tender meats prepared with spices and other ingredients to make it taste like the real product. Real pate de foie gras is made from goose liver.

"Hereafter we shall require with all importations of specially prepared foods of this sort a certificate of inspection from the health officials at the point at which they were made. It is surely fair to enforce on foreign manufacturers the same rules that we enforce on those in our own country."

Dr. Wiley said that he supposed his action would cause some excitement. He added, however, that he had tried for one year being lenient with foreign importers, and found that it did not work satisfactorily.

AN ADVOCATE OF BIGAMY

EXTRAORDINARY DOCTRINE TAUGHT BY A EUROPEAN PRINCESS WHO SAYS THE BETTER CLASS ARE NOT MULTIPLYING QUICKLY ENOUGH—WOULD HAVE MEMBERS OF ARISTOCRACY PRACTICE BIGAMY AND IS DISAPPROVED BY CRITICS.

CHICAGO, Sept. 3.—The furor caused in Europe by the publication of the book of Princess Charlotte of Saxe-Meininingen, advocating the sanction of bigamy among the upper classes, has reached Chicago and is calling forth a storm of protest from reformers, scientists, and others who are interested in sociological problems. Well known Chicagoans, such as Miss Eva Shontz and Professor Albion W. Small of the University of Chicago, condemn the theories of the Princess as demoralizing and utterly without reason.

The poorer classes, the Princess says, are multiplying more rapidly than the rich and intelligent class, and unless some method is adopted to increase the multiplication of the cultured people, the latter will soon be engulfed by the larger portion of the population, and their influence in the political history of Europe will become void.

The publication, which appeared in the public book stalls of Berlin a few days ago, has given rise to much discussion and controversy. Churchmen, scientists, and government officials have all taken a deep interest in the views of the author, and almost without exception, the work is condemned as a literary scourge. A few scientists alone support the views of the royal authoress in the contention, all other classes of men frowning upon and denouncing the novel theories advanced as demoralizing.

From statistics Princess Charlotte quotes to show that the proportionate rate at which the peasantry of European principalities is increasing is far in excess of the rate at which the better class increases. The poorer classes, too, she points out, are often unable to support their large families. In well to do families and in the nobility, she declares, where large families could be best supported and educated, the increase per cent is far below what it should be.

The logical result of this system of society can only be the extinction of the classes and the supremacy of the masses, and, in her opinion, the dominance of the grosser elements of European society would mean an irreparable blow to modern civilization.

Professor Shailer Mathews, dean of the divinity schools of the University of Chicago and editor of the World Today, said last night in reference to the book:

"The theory of Princess Charlotte has been proven wrong time and again. The whole course of history shows that the foremost races in the world have been opposed to a polygamous state of society. And, on the other hand, plurality of wives has always been concomitant with the lower stages of civilization. The cry of this new theorist is absurd. It is so unusual that one can scarcely believe that it is sincere."

Miss Eva M. Shontz, president of the Illinois State Society of the Young People's Christian Union, denounced the work strongly.

"The theory is unthinkable and almost incredible," she said. "I think the mental state of one who could urge such a condition of society is pitiable. If followed it would result in a state of affairs which we have been fighting in Utah for years."

Albion W. Small, head of the department of sociology in the University of Chicago, said: "I have not yet read a copy of the book, and cannot speak too definitely regarding it. But it seems to me that the object of the Princess wishes to accomplish is not worth while, for the class she wishes to preserve is, in my mind, the least worth saving."

GRAND SPECTACLE IN THE JAPANESE NIGHT ASSAULT ON A LIAOYANG POSITION.

ST. PETERSBURG, September 8.—A delayed dispatch to the Official Messenger of St. Petersburg from Liaoyang, under date of August 31, gives some details of the three-days' fighting from August 28. The dispatch fails, however to throw additional light on the state of telegraphic communication because it arrived Thursday morning, too late for publication. Nevertheless, it is among the last communications before the suspension of press messages. The dispatch indicates that the Russians were holding out well and probably could not be dislodged without Gen. Kuroki's flank movement. The correspondent states that he was with a battery on Koulack hill, to the left of the railway line, at dawn Monday when the Japanese guns opened. "It was," he continues, "a simultaneous salute by hundreds of canon, and during the first hour the firing was simply terrific. We were under a perfect rain of shrapnel, bullets and splinters of shells. The Japanese did not know the country or the location of our defenses, so they constantly shifted their batteries, trying to search out our positions. It was in the course of these maneuvers that Koulack hill became the object of interest to the Japanese artillerymen. The sight was a beautiful but terrifying one. Although we were masked and tolerably protected the sides of our hill were rent and torn by bursting shells. Direct, dust and rocks filled the air with sand, and smoke hung like a golden halo overhead. We watched the shells fall upon the ruins of the thousand-year old watch tower, where they completed the ravages of the centuries. "The Japanese got our range and tried to enfilade us from a village on the right. Here we had the advantage in knowing the ranges and simply smothered them with shells. Consequently the Japanese withdrew hurriedly. A second attempt to enfilade us was made at 10 o'clock in the morning, but again it failed. We swept the Chinese cornfields, whence the fire came, and turned out the Japanese gunners like a nest of vengeful wasps. Our rifle brigade held the village of Maletung against the rolling waves of Japanese infantry thrown out against that position time and again until our reserves swept down and cleared the front at the point of the bayonet.

"The roar of the fight was not stopped by darkness. The scene became infinitely more beautiful as the hills were lighted by the glare from flame-spitting batteries which had been scarcely visible in the daylight. Each of the thousands of shells became a pyrotechnic spectacle, while lines of fire raked and quivered back and forth where the infantry was holding our trenches against the creeping Japanese columns. The latter had almost reached the trenches of the 24th regiment, aided by the darkness. The men, who were at supper, dropped their soup and black bread, turned out quickly and drove off the Japanese with their bayonets. Then they returned to their sorely needed meal. The fighting on Tuesday was heavy on the right flank. A spy, captured while attempting to pass the lines, said the Japanese guard division suffered terribly!"

NAVAL LESSONS OF THE WAR

RUSSIAN OFFICER SAYS SEARCHLIGHTS CANNOT DISCLOSE THE FLOTTING MINES.

NEW YORK, September 3.—Captain Matousevitch, the late Admiral Witthoff's chief of staff, who arrived at Tsingtau wounded on the Russian battleship Czarevitch, August 12, in an interview yesterday with a correspondent of the Associated Press on the naval lessons of the war said: "I do not believe that the operations of either navy have demonstrated anything, which will materially change naval warfare. The greatest lesson has been the usefulness of wireless telegraphy. In the fight of August 10 we used the wireless system in signaling until the apparatus was shot away. We found it worked more reliably and quicker than the flags. I believe that in the near future every ship in all the navies even gunboats, will be fitted with wireless apparatus. Much has been learned about mines and torpedoes. The only defense against mines is good judgment or insight as to where they are likely to be placed by the enemy. If it is imperative that ships must go to that vicinity send 'sweepers' in advance. The sea demonstrated that the most powerful searchlights cannot pick up floating mines, which was unknown before this war.

"The Japanese made as many as 15 ineffectual torpedo attacks in one night. Torpedo nets are of very little use. When a ship is in action they cannot be used successfully as they retard her speed and hamper her movements. If several ships are together and they concentrate their searchlights it is almost impossible to successfully attack them with torpedoes. I do not agree with the critics who say the battleship is a thing of the past. In the Port Arthur movements the battleships, cruisers and torpedo boats did the work out for them.

"Since I have been at Tsingtau I have had an opportunity to read the Japanese reports of the Port Arthur engagements and find them inaccurate. The Russians have done much damage to the Japanese boats which has not been reported by either side." Captain Matousevitch is still in the hospital, but is improving. The other Russian wounded are convalescing.

The business of the Manchester ship canal gradually increases, and for the first half of the current year its net income was equal to about one-half of 1 per cent of the cost of the canal. That is not very encouraging to projectors of such works, but it must be noted that the benefits were always expected to be indirect, rather than in the form of cash dividends.

Look Out
For a Fight

Major General Corbin is in for a pretty row. His two recommendations that the canteen be restored to army posts and that army officers be not permitted to marry until they have satisfied the War Department that they have sufficient income, are enough to set the country by the ears. The intrepid general has challenged at once the W. C. T. U. and the right of the fair sex,—sometimes called the unfair sex,—to make conquests at all hours and seasons and under all circumstances. The general must have foreseen the roasting he was about to receive, and must be given credit for moral bravery which well matches the American army reputation for physical courage.

The canteen question is an old one. It was fought out in Congress several years ago, with the earnest, eloquent and well meaning champions of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, aided by a portion of the army, on the one hand, and a large number of army officers and most of the privates, albeit the latter had little to say, on the other. When the temperance advocates won, and persuaded Congress to abolish the harmless canteens in which soldiers were wont to drink good beer, the prediction was made all over the country that every army post would soon be surrounded by demoralizing saloons, at which the men would destroy both physique and character with cheap, fiery liquors. If the reports recently made are true, the prediction has been verified to an unfortunate extent in the Philippines, and it is well known that the Presidio, at San Francisco, supports a collection of vile saloons that were not able to make ends meet in the days of the canteen. Even in our small army post here a similar effect could be observed among the artillery which recently left. The conduct of the men after they lost their canteen compares unfavorably with their conduct before,—they were more frequently seen drunk about Honolulu at night, they patronized illicit joints along the beach and in one case a crowd of them broke into a saloon which had closed for the night and burglarized it to get beer. It is not improbable that the few years for which the well-meaning temperance advocates succeeded in having the canteen abolished have done untold and irreparable injury to hundreds of young men turned from the quiet respectability of an army canteen to the depravity of a secret brothel near camp.

Corbin will have company in throwing down the gauntlet to the W. C. T. U., though it is safe to say that the ladies will give him and all who stand with him all the fighting they want before Congress restores the canteen. The army itself cannot do any bombarding more thorough than the women will do through the mails, with Congressmen as the targets, in the fight against canteens. But in trying to stop marriages Corbin deliberately invites another battle. How does he propose to stop army officers from marrying? Does he want to make rules preventing them from entering society at all, or meeting any of the tender sex? Everyone knows that it cannot be done, and everyone knows that when once a gallant youth in uniform has met his ideal, Cupid does the most rapid work he ever does. Everyone also knows that when the work has been done no army rules can interfere, and that the wedding will take place whether Corbin, or the Secretary of War, wants it or not, even if the uniform has to be discarded for a costume in which more money can be made.

Since the Spanish war, the influence of women in the American army has seemed very prominent. We in Honolulu have seen for years transports passing through in the Philippine business, on which the proportion of women has been very large. A glance over the deck of a typical American army transport shows a scene that looks like the happiest kind of peace, rather than like a part of war's grim business. There are spunky couples on every hand, brides and grooms patrol the decks, elderly married couples sit in reclining chairs, even children run to and fro amid the peaceful, summer-resort-like calm, while couples who soon will be brides and grooms steal away to quiet corners to blissfully forecast the happier days to come,—military officers, by the grace of the war department making love en route to the front! It is all very pleasant and romantic and there has not been much war in the Philippines anyhow. The government has seemed to do all in its power to encourage its officers to wed. It has transported maidens over the six thousand miles of ocean between San Francisco and Manila, in order that their uniformed lovers might claim them at once. If Corbin wants to change all this, if he wants to stop even one free born American army officer from taking the great Plunge, he will find that he has even a more powerful enemy to reckon with than the esteemed W. C. T. U.

May Outlast Kuropatkin

There is an interesting possibility that Stoessel may outlast Kuropatkin and that the splendid resistance at Port Arthur may be made useless by a gigantic Russian failure in the north. If Kuropatkin suffers an overwhelming defeat, which he very nearly did in the battle of Liaoyang, there will be no use in trying to hold Port Arthur longer, unless the Russians hope to hold it until the Baltic fleet and a new army reach the scene, which seems quite incredible. The results at Liaoyang show how wrongly Kuropatkin gauged the Japanese power of advance and attack. The enormous quantities of supplies abandoned by the Russian army show that the tactics of Oyama made it suddenly necessary for the Russians to devote every energy to getting away, without giving a thought to arms, ammunition and army supplies of tremendous value. Kuropatkin did not even stop to destroy them. He withdrew without ceremony and this shows conclusively, no matter what his reports may say about retiring in excellent order and with perfect morale, that the Japanese overcame his army far more quickly than he had the least idea of.

The hard fighting has not stopped Japanese operations. Every day brings reports, more or less inaccurate and cloudy as to detail, of new movements which make battle seem imminent and show that Oyama, not content with his victory, intends to force the issue with all possible rapidity and make Kuropatkin fight the "decisive battle." With all their recklessness in actual battle, the Japanese are extremely cautious in strategic movements. They are criticized by their admirers for a carelessness before making attack that is costly in delays, and it is pointed out that if Kuroki and the others associated with him had moved north more rapidly and fought the great battle sooner, the Russians would have been less able to resist. But the Japanese habit is to spend all necessary time in preparation, and though in battles there have been attacks showing the utmost recklessness, in tactics there have been no hasty movements. It is evident that during the present lull in actual fighting they are bending every energy to the preparations for another engagement. One feature of the interval which seems to require explanation is the apparent superior rapidity of the Russian movements. "A race for Mukden," was the description of the situation after Liaoyang,—and Kuropatkin won. In view of the universal praise given by military critics to the Japanese in the Boxer troubles and since, for extraordinary marching powers, this was hardly to be expected, though the defeated army had greater incentive to haste and doubtless knew the country better.

If Kuropatkin is to be forced to fight again, and loses again, it will probably be against a reinforced Japanese army. How many times can he escape? And if he fails to escape, what will be the use of Stoessel holding on longer to his awful post of duty? It would be a strange development if the fall of Port Arthur should finally come because the failure of Kuropatkin had made its defense no longer of any use. The Russian nation would have one great hero and one army to honor with the approval of all the world.

Major General Corbin is in for a pretty row. His two recommendations that the canteen be restored to army posts and that army officers be not permitted to marry until they have satisfied the War Department that they have sufficient income, are enough to set the country by the ears. The intrepid general has challenged at once the W. C. T. U. and the right of the fair sex,—sometimes called the unfair sex,—to make conquests at all hours and seasons and under all circumstances. The general must have foreseen the roasting he was about to receive, and must be given credit for moral bravery which well matches the American army reputation for physical courage.

The Associated Press has made very frank and comprehensive amends to David B. Hill of New York, for misquoting his utterances regarding President Roosevelt. The country was engaged with tolerable unanimity in roasting Hill unmercifully for using most intemperate and unfit language about the President. Hill's speech as published referred to him as a fraud, which is certainly the last accusation to be brought against Roosevelt. The following explanation has been made: "NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—An investigation by The Associated Press discloses the fact that a number of serious errors were made in its report of ex-Senator D. B. Hill's speech at Deposit, N. Y., on Thursday, Aug. 25. It seems that a reporter of a local Democratic paper, upon whom The Associated Press depended for a report, failed to attend the meeting, but instead invented a speech for ex-Senator Hill which contained several statements wholly misrepresenting the senator's views and quite at variance with his utterances. "Among the phrases thus inserted as a part of the speech was one to the effect that ex-Senator Hill had charged President Roosevelt with being a "fraud." Ex-Senator Hill said nothing of the kind. This correction is made without the knowledge of Mr. Hill or any of his friends, but in the interest of accuracy for The Associated Press service.

"THE ASSOCIATED PRESS."
The negro candidate for the Presidency is preparing a letter of acceptance. What would happen if the solid negro vote of the South should be gathered together under a negro party's banner? What will happen when education of the negro makes the present laws of many states, providing educational qualifications for suffrage, ineffective? There are states where the negro vote which is actually cast is an important one.

The Chinese request that no fighting take place at Mukden, lest the tombs of the Manchus be damaged, sound very innocent and simple. It must have made Oyama and Kuropatkin smile. If there is anything left of the tombs when the armies get through it will probably not be because the combatants have refrained from making enough noise and disturbance around them to almost wake the occupants. The long period of stagnation through which these old conquerors of China have slept draws to an end. A battle beyond Hayashida, the Japanese accused of the murder of a fellow plantation laborer, was again brought up, his former trial having proved abortive through an error in the original indictment. His attorney, J. W. Cathcart, presented a plea in bar taking the ground that the prisoner should be released on the failure of the former indictment. This was promptly overruled by Judge Gear, upon which Cathcart moved to quash the present indictment on the ground that it was vague and insufficient. The motion was taken under advisement.

USELESS FOR SMALL FARMERS

KAUAI LAND OF WHICH SALE WAS PROTESTED DECLARED TO BE WELL DISPOSED OF.

LIHUE, September 19.—The Garden Island has the following about the land sale recently held in Honolulu, at which Allan Herbert made a protest, on the ground that the land should have been left for settlers, or "small farmers."

"It would have been a positive unkindness to a citizen of the Territory had the Government induced him to pre-empt as a farm any of this Hamalei land. The land is profusely overgrown with lanana which will cost at least forty dollars an acre to clear away. The land is without any water supply, and it would cost barrels of money to get water on the land, even if it be possible, which we very much doubt. The land is a high plateau between the Hamalei and Kailiwal rivers and is thickly studded with blocks of lava rock. The Wilcoxes, who had it under lease, with two years still to run, could not afford to clear the land and plant it to buffalo grass, about the only crop it will grow, on a two year lease. By selling the land to its present owners the government unburdens itself of a piece of land absolutely unavailable for all home-stead purposes, and at the same time benefits the Territory of Hawaii and the island of Kauai by passing the land into hands which will spend forty dollars an acre in having it cleared and will then plant it to buffalo grass, upon which large herds of cattle will fatten for island markets. The taxable property of the island will thus be increased $50 per acre for all this land and large sums for the cattle which will be raised on its pasturage, besides opening the way for the employment of a large number of citizens in clearing the land and planting it to grass."

His Skin Is Republican But Heart Home Ruler

ONE OF THE RECENT CONVERTS ON KAUAI TO REPUBLICANISM BECOMES EXCITED AT A MEETING AT WAIMEA AND SPEAKS HIS MIND—SAID HIS HEART WAS STILL HOME RULE—SPEECHES BY OTHER HOME RULERS ON THE GARDEN ISLE.

When Senator Nakapahu of Waimea, Kauai, was recently converted to the ranks of Republicanism, this defection from the Home Rule ranks was heralded abroad as a great victory for the Republican workers. They had inoculated the Home Rule flesh with the virus of Republicanism and the germ had taken hold. But, according to advice brought this morning from Kauai by the steamer Mikahala, the conversion of the Senator appears to have been only skin deep. In fact his Republicanism appears to be only as transitory and frail a thing as human being. His own words are given as authority for this condition of political mind and body.

The declaration by the Senator occurred at Waimea last week. A meeting was held by Charles Notley and other Home Rule spell binders. Among those who addressed the meeting was Kahuokalani. He spoke eloquently and long in Hawaiian. He seemed to make a marked impression among his hearers. While his conclusion was not perhaps so flowery as other orations have been, it was nevertheless most eloquent and significant, for after speaking entirely in the Hawaiian language he concluded with attributing the following to Nakapahu: "My tongue speaks Republican but my heart is Home Rule."

The Garden Island, of Lihue, publishes the following communication on the subject:

Friday evening C. Notley, Senator Kahuokalani and D. H. Kahualelo of Maui held a Home Rule meeting in Waimea, by the court house in the open air. The meeting was well attended and applause was generously given the speakers. C. Notley, candidate for delegate to Congress spent most of his time running down Senator Paul Isenberg, telling how he introduced a bill into the legislature to stop all the Hawaiians from fishing. That he pretended to be a friend of the natives, but that his actions showed him to be their enemy.

Notley said he was against the Republicans, and thought the Hawaiians should consider that enough. He said he was sure of election and if elected he would show the Hawaiians that he was a true friend to them. The audience seemed much pleased with Notley's speech and cheered him lustily.

Kahualelo of the crooked mouth made a bitter speech against the holed and said the Hawaiians should get the better of the holed every time by hook or crook.

Senator Kahuokalani made the longest speech of the evening and admonishing the Hawaiians to hang together against their enemies, the holed, and the Republican party he closed in this manner: "I am sorry that our friend Senator Nakapahu is indisposed this evening and unable to be with us, but still we know him to be one of us."

"This he told he himself, saying: 'My tongue is Republican, but my heart is and will ever be Home Rule.'"

This closing speech was greeted by the crowd with loud cheers, and the meeting broke up after this decided hit by Senator Kahuokalani.

The Home Rule speakers stated that they intend to work around to Hanalei and speak at Lihue next Saturday afternoon at Nawiliwili.

Yours truly,
OBSERVER.

CANDIDATES NOT WILLING

KAUAI REPUBLICANS OP PROMINENCE DECLINE TO TAKE LEGISLATIVE NOMINATIONS.

LIHUE, September 19.—The Garden Island says: The Garden Island is able to state positively that neither Alexander McBryde nor George H. Fairchild will accept a nomination for the legislature, if tendered. McBryde may go to the coast before long to spend the winter. Fairchild says it is simply out of the question for him to think of leaving the plantation he is manager of for long service in the legislature, much as he would like to do so.

How can Kauai expect to make a showing in the legislature if the fit and efficient candidates who are spoken of for the Senate and the House one by one decline to serve on account of inconvenience or business loss? If these men wanted to take a pleasure trip no such considerations would stand for a moment in the way. They would get some competent person to take their places. Why can't that be done for the sake of a capable delegation to the legislature? Why can't the Republican party do something to make it worth while for these good men to run? This next legislature will be the most important session for many years to come. If important offices are going to be turned over by default to anybody who will take them it becomes foolish to take any pride or interest in political matters.

today out of respect to the memory of the deceased mariner.

DEMOCRATS IN EVERY PRECINCT

ORGANIZATION OF THE PARTY HAS BEEN COMPLETED IN THE GARDEN ISLAND.

LIHUE, September 19.—W. A. Kinney returned from Kauai this morning, whither he went on business in connection with the proposed new electrical plant at Waiiala. Incidentally he distributed a large lot of Democratic literature, made speeches, helped to organize clubs and did other important work for the party. He reports that S. K. Koloa, the Democratic spell-binder, is meeting with tremendous success among the larger clubs organized are those of Hanapepe, Hanalei, Kapaa, Waimea and Lihue. Kinney feels that the Democrats have a fine chance of winning out on Kauai as a change is much desired.

On Wednesday evening September 14, about a dozen citizens met at the residence of George Mookani for the purpose of organizing a Democratic Precinct Club in Koloa. At 8 o'clock W. H. Kahiku called the meeting to order and called for the nomination of a temporary chairman. On motion of Mookani William Brown was appointed temporary chairman and J. L. K. Pahuilama temporary secretary.

The following were made permanent officers: President, William Brown; vice president, Kimokeo; secretary, J. L. K. Pahuilama; treasurer, William Charman. Members of the Executive Committee, V. H. Kahiku, M. K. Kalua, K. Ainaike, Buelio Lucas and S. K. Kaumalu.

It is understood that Democrats have organized in every precinct of this island. Besides those mentioned in the last issue of the Garden Island, are Kekaha, Waimea, Makawili, Hanapepe and Kilauea.

Detective McDuffie has arrested a Jap named Nemura on suspicion of stealing some silver spoons and a gold watch. The watch was sold to a Chinese at the corner of Punchbowl and King streets. The watch was lost by Police Officer Ponohu in the New Era lavatory and Noura is thought to have found the watch at that place. The Jap has been sleeping in the Capitol grounds for the last three weeks.

GOVERNMENT JOBS AND DEBTS

DE BOLT SUSTAINS THE LAW REGARDING GARNISHEE OF GOVERNMENT SALARIES.

In Judge De Bolt's view of human affairs, there is no reason why government officials should not pay their debts, even though the lofty office they hold happens to be that of policeman. That is how he ruled today, to the undoing of Ah On. Ever since June 27, 1903, Ah On has owed Ah Hing $154.35 for damages for false imprisonment and costs, judgment having been entered for that amount on October 7, 1902, and confirmed by the Supreme Court on June 4, 1903.

Ah On is a police officer employed at a salary of $60 a month, so suit was brought against him with Territorial Auditor J. H. Fisher as garnishee. The case went against the defendant who appealed on the ground that a government official's salary could not be garnished, the act being unconstitutional. Judge De Bolt gave his decision this morning as follows:

"Defendant, a government beneficiary, to wit: a police officer, admits that he owes the plaintiff the amount sued for, to wit: $145.35, with interest thereon from June 27, 1903, but he contends that the garnishment of his salary in the hands of the Auditor cannot be maintained because Act 53, Laws of 1903, is unconstitutional in that it is class legislation and contrary to public policy. In my opinion the point is not well taken. Judgment, therefore, may be entered as prayed for."

CAMPAIGN TO START.

On Monday the Republican Senators for Oahu will start over the Pali with Prince Kuhio for a campaign of this island. They will hold meetings as far as Waiiala. At Waimea the campaign will be started tonight. Prince Kuhio, John Lane, J. M. Dowsett and others will speak.

FISHING IS GOOD.

The boat boys have discovered a fine fishing bank where the haahalu can be caught in great number. The boys, for a modest compensation, will take disciples of Isaac Walton out to the banks and guarantee them good sized catches of fish.

HAS LAND IN BRAZIL

Rudolph Seyler of New York has obtained from Brazil the concession of more than 20,000 square miles of land in the State of Maranhao, extending more than one hundred miles along the ocean and back three hundred miles from the coast. There is now quite a rush of American capital to Brazil. A Western syndicate has gone down there to mine for gold, and a Chicago syndicate is locating on the river Jeguitinhauha, where there are diamonds as well as gold. Representatives of a New York syndicate are investigating the region along the river Minasgerais. A New Zealand syndicate has also recently gone into Brazil.

across the street to the telephone building so that it will be visible from all points.

Meanwhile seats will be placed in the vacant lot Waikiki of the building and there the crowd will sit to see the rockets bursting in the air, to listen to the melodious notes of the flute, sackbut, harp dulcimer or whatever more modern instruments have taken their places and further to absorb slices of Republican wisdom which will be passed out by some of the party's most gifted orators.

Altogether the occasion will be most festive and the managers of the Fourth are determined that it will be one that will live in history.

A meeting of the Executive Committee of the Fourth, together with the presidents of the precinct clubs will be held this evening in order to decide upon different important details of the campaign.

A NATIONAL NEGRO PARTY

A COLORED CANDIDATE NAMED, GHT BY A EUROPEAN PRINCESS
ANCE OF THE NOMINATION. FOR PRESIDENT—THE PARTY EX-PECTS THE NEGROES TO STAND TOGETHER AND VOTE FOR ITS CANDIDATE, WHO IS WRITING A LETTER OF ACCEPTANCE.

DES MOINES, Iowa, September 3.—
Last but by no means of least importance the lone Iowa candidate, will present in due time in the form of a letter of acceptance his reasons why he and his party should receive the support of the colored people of the United States in the coming election. Mr. Taylor has been duly notified of his nomination and his acceptance letter is in course of preparation. As the candidate for presidency on the national liberty party
Mr. Taylor and his associates believe that they may hold the balance of power which will decide who shall be president. The letter of acceptance will therefore be an address to the American people carefully worded and of great importance.

The national liberty party, composed wholly of negroes, assembled in St.
Louis July 5 and adopted a platform of principles. Mr. Taylor will enlarge upon this statement; but more especially will he deal with the attitude of political parties toward the colored vote of the country and with disfranchisement in the south. He will condemn the movement for disfranchisement as utterly unconstitutional and revolutionary.
He will arraign the Southern states for their attitude but will not attempt to deny that there is some excuse for them. But he will be especially severe on the republican party and the present administration. He will point out that the republicans, without any real excuse are preparing to join the democrats of the South in the movement.

Mr. Taylor believes that the constitution should be upheld no matter what happens and that men should not be deprived of their rights on account of color. But he also believes that the republicans have set out on a policy which is virtually that of acquiescing in the disfranchisement of negroes in the South and that all they are going to ask in return for this is that the Southern democrats shall agree to a policy of reducing the congressional representation in congress and the electoral college. This, then, is a scheme to barter away principles in return for the right to perpetuate the republican party in spite of the majority of the people. This plan of President Roosevelt and his associates is denounced as mercenary and corrupt and unworthy any great political party.

Candidate Taylor, in his letter of acceptance, will also devote some attention to the Philippine problem and will indicate that in the Philippines the plan has protested against the Anglo-Tibet treaty and contends that it creates a virtual British protectorate and restricts the sovereignty of China.

MARRIED AT ST. ANDREW'S

MISS HAPUENA SMITH BECAME THE BRIDE OF EMIL C. PETERS LAST EVENING.

The wedding of Emil C. Peters, Deputy Attorney General, and Miss Hapuna Smith which took place last evening at St. Andrew's Cathedral was attended by a large crowd of friends of the young couple. The altar was beautifully trimmed for the occasion with white flowers.

At half past eight the strains of the wedding march from Liszt's "The Bride" announced the arrival of the bride, Miss Smith entered on the arm of her father, proceeded by the altar of St. Andrew's and the girls of St. Andrew's Society. Her wedding gown was a beautiful creation and she wore the groom's gift, a diamond pendant, at her throat. The groom and the officiating clergyman, Rev. Mr. Simpson of St. Andrew's met the bride at the altar steps and the Episcopal service was then pronounced.

Gerard Barton, organist, played "The Voice that Breathed O'er Eden" as the wedding party retired to the vestry to sign the register, and at Mr. and Mrs. Peters came down the aisle the familiar strains of the Mendelssohn march rang out. A large crowd waited at the doors and the young couple were liberally pelted with rice as they made their way to their carriage.

Mr. and Mrs. Peters will leave for the mainland on the Monguon and will spend considerable time in touring through the States.

HARRY TO FIGHT AGAIN.

Champion Thinks He Fought a Draw With Sullivan.

Dave Barry has written a letter to Billy Woods about the fight with Twin Sullivan at Los Angeles. The letter is as follows:

Friend Bill: Last after one of the finest fights ever seen in Los Angeles, Bill, I should have got a draw. I fought with one lamp for ten rounds and did all the fighting. He could not hurt me so I took his punches and walked in to him and made him fight all the way. He was a 10 to 4 favorite over me and the papers had him tipped to win in ten rounds. I surprised the public by the fight but they did not give me any credit before the fight and now they don't want to say that I should have had a draw. I was as much as Sullivan, but he was touted before the fight by the papers. We fight again pretty soon and then you watch how the decision will go. Bill, I let him hit me too much but he could not hurt me. But it looked bad. The next time he won't hit me so easy. I stand better now than ever and can get all kinds of work. I will take a rest for a month if I can. I have done a lot of fighting in a year. I made 100 easy for Sullivan. We fought at catch weights, but 155 was all I weighed. Bill, the big fight was a fake. The Route miner did not have a chance; he could not hold his hands up.

Respectfully,
DAVE BARRY.

FROM REPUBLICANS' NATIONAL PLATFORM

PROTECTION.
Protection which guards and develops our industries is a cardinal policy of the Republican party. The measure of protection should always at least equal the difference in the cost of production at home and abroad. We insist upon the maintenance of the principles of protection, and, therefore, rates of duty should be readjusted only when conditions have so changed that the public interest demands their alteration. But this work cannot safely be committed to any other hands than those of the Republican party. To intrust it to the Democratic party is to invite disaster. Whether, as in 1892, the Democratic party declares the protective tariff unconstitutional, or whether it demands tariff reform or tariff revision, its real object is always the destruction of the protective system. However specious the name, the purpose is ever the same. A Democratic tariff by business prosperity. To a Republican Congress and a Republican President this great question can be safely intrusted. When the only free trade country among the great nations agitates a return to protection the chief protective country should not falter in maintaining it.

RECIPROCITY.
We have extended widely our foreign markets and we believe in the adoption of all practicable methods for their further extension, including commercial reciprocity whenever reciprocal arrangements can be effected consistent with the principles of protection and without injury to American agriculture, American labor, or any American industry.

THE TRUSTS.
Combinations of capital and of labor are the results of the economic movement of the age, but neither must be permitted to infringe upon the rights and interests of the people. Such combinations when lawfully formed for lawful purposes are alike entitled to the protection of the laws, but both are subject to the laws and neither can be permitted to break them.

AORANGI STOPPED FOR FIJI SUGAR

STEAMER WILL SAIL AT 2 P M TODAY FOR VICTORIA AND VANCOUVER.

The P. S. Aorangi arrived this morning from the Colonies after an uneventful trip. She left Sydney September 6, Brisbane September 8, Suva September 12 and Lantolau Bay the following day. The vessel made a special trip to the latter place, to load 600 tons of sugar. She called at Hull Island on September 15. Moderate trades and moderate seas and fine weather were experienced from Suva to this port.

The vessel brought two passengers for Honolulu. As through passengers, she has the twenty members of the All-British football eleven, who have been in Australia and New Zealand playing the Colonial teams. The British team did well in Australia but was defeated on several occasions in New Zealand.

A. W. Jones of the New York Electric Company is going to the main office, accompanied by his wife and two children. Lieutenant C. Francis of the British army is going home. The vessel sails at 2 p. m. today from the Oceanic wharf, for Victoria and Vancouver.

AN OLD CORRESPONDENT.

A war correspondent who worked in the days when war correspondents were somebody, was the same Sir William Russell, now living in England, in his 84th year. He reported the Crimean war our civil war, and the later wars down to 1885, for the London Times. Interviewed the other day, he was asked to explain the difference between war correspondents then and now, and this was the prompt answer: "In my time we were free to go everywhere. Now correspondents are not free to go anywhere, apparently."

TWO MILLION SUITS.

There are fully 2,000,000 civil suits of law brought in the country every year. If the plaintiffs were different in every case, one in eight of the voting population could be said to be a litigant. As it is, the actual number of different litigants is not in excess of 250,000—600 plaintiffs and 400,000 defendants—which is 1 per cent of the total population of the country, now about 30,000,000.

GARDEN ISLAND WANTS SCHOOLS

ONE DEMANDED AT HULEIA AND THE ISLAND ALSO WANTS A HIGH SCHOOL.

LIHUE, September 19.—The Garden Island says:

The Garden Island calls the attention of the people, of the Governor, of the Superintendent of Public Works and of the Senators and Representatives who secured the appropriation, very modestly and very gently to the fact that the entire summer has passed, the rainy winter will soon be upon us, and no steps have been taken to build the new school house and teacher's cottage at Huleia for which the legislature appropriated $5,500. Kauai has been trying to get a school house at Huleia for fifteen years, and Kauai ought to know if the department in Honolulu intends to beat us out of this school again?

Is it a part of the Governor's plan to cut this greatly needed school out of Kauai's appropriation? Does the Governor and Superintendent of Public Works know that between twenty and twenty-five school children from Huleia have to walk at present between four and five miles to school over at Lihue? Do they know that in winter it rains on that side nearly every morning and these children either have to stay at home or else come to school soaking wet, through mud a foot deep on the government road? This lack of a Huleia school has for many years been one of Lihue's public grievances, and 11 up to the people of Kauai and the Kauai members of the legislature to look into this matter at once, and see to it that Kauai gets this long needed and long sought school.

Hilo is now exercising itself over a demand for a High School. Hilo should and will have a High School within a reasonable time, and Kauai should have an island High School also. We need one very much to give our school children an opportunity to pursue higher studies without leaving their home island. Many Kauai scholars go to Honolulu every year to attend the institutions of higher education, involving considerable expense to their parents, and separating them from their relatives in most cases for an entire school year.

Kauai has enough school children who would be glad to avail themselves of an opportunity to pursue higher studies in an island High School to keep a fair sized school going. Many who desire better educations are denied by the expense and inconvenience of sojourning in Honolulu to pursue their studies. Why do not the public spirited citizens of Kauai become alive to this High School need, and do something about it? Away with this "innocuous desuetude" which pervades our civic life.

PINKHAM RETURNS.

President Pinkham of the Board of Health returned today from his brief inspectional trip on the island of Kauai. He visited the hospitals at Lihue, Eleie, Waimea and Kealia and found everything to his liking. He also inspected other branches of the board's work and will report in full on these at the next meeting.

THE GRAFTER IS ABROAD

MITTS ARE OUT FOR POLITICAL GREASE AND CANDIDATES ARE FINDING SUBSCRIPTION LIST'S VERY NUMEROUS—THE SUNDAY SCHOOL TOUCH, THE LU'AU TOUCH AND THE TOUCH FOR OIL FOR PRECINCT MEETING LAMPS.

Now is the time that the small politician girds up his political loins as it were, and sallies forth into the vineyard of petty grafting. All candidates are hah to him and every political "leader" is singled out for attention. It is strange how the mits get so much dryer during a political campaign than they do at any other known time, and the political "gresse" that the candidate and leader has to rub on the aforesaid mit, is a constant drain on his sinews of war and more especially on his patience. Some of the schemes worked for getting money out of the candidates, are clever enough and are deserving of being used for bigger and more extensive financial measures than the average native politician applies them to. The most favorite way is to have a subscription list to defray the expenses of raising a debt on a church or else giving a luau for the benefit of some Sunday school. It is a case of every day being a Sunday right now with the candidate in frequent instances. Nobody ever heard of these Sunday schools, nobody ever sees any of the members and nobody, furthermore, ever learns any lessons to say at those Sunday schools. Only the politician learns a lesson from them but not until after the campaign. It is a marvel the eagerness that possesses some grafters to raise the debt on their church or help along their Sunday school about campaign times. A subscription list is handed to some candidate by some person the candidate never saw before, never heard of before and never hopes to see again. This list announces, sometimes in native, sometimes in English, that a Sunday school is going to have a picnic at some distant spot. "Cash" has contributed $2.50, another "Cash" has contributed another $2.50. Mr. Somebody else has pledged for another $2.50 and all are marked "paid." The candidate sees the amount of subscriptions, reasons that it will not do for him to seem cheap or lopsided as the natives call it, so he coughs up a similar amount. Sometimes when the candidate is thought to be pretty strong the subscription lists show greater liberality and of course Mr. Candidate has to produce an equal amount. The luau that are to be given are prodigious. Sometimes it is a muck and lowly one, a sort of sandpaper gin and pig menu, while at other times the candidate is taxed for an elaborate affair. An old game for getting a stray half dollar or two, is the lighting proposition for the precinct clubs. The lamps for those clubs need more oil than it was thought possible any single lamp could burn. Judging from the frequency of the assessments and the numbers of collectors for this light, nothing short of the most expensive salad oil must be burned. If every lamp was to use oil as rapidly as the lamps of some of the precinct clubs do, Rockefeller's wealth would pass all bounds of human conception. And so the game goes on. Everybody is not in politics to graft but a busy gang of petty "politicians" who try to work the candidates, serve to give the impression that the cheap grafters are legion and that every hand shake must mean a hand out.
