GEAR CONTINUES DRAWING VENIRES

ANOTHER DAY IN COURT AND NO JURY TO TRY THE HAYASHIDA CASE.

Little progress was made today in Judge Gear's court in the case of Hayashida, the Japanese accused of murder. The bulk of the special venire drawn for jury service could not be located and of those who did appear the usual number were excused for the usual reasons. The progress of the trial was much interrupted by the presentation in the Damon murder case and by the arraignment of the prisoner Miranda.

Attorney Cathcart objected to either proceeding interrupting the trial of his client and did not think that it was proper that these formalities should go on in the presence of the jurors in the Yayashida case. As none of the jurors had been sworn Judge Gear overruled the objection and an exception was noted. Another special venire was drawn to fill up the jury.

All those who are qualified are asked to present themselves at once for registration. The registration board is holding daily sessions in the building adjoining the post office.

A KOOLAU MYSTERY

MUTILATED REMAINS OF UNKNOWN PERSON FOUND IN STREAM OFF WAIMANALO ROAD

Evidence of what is thought to be a brutal murder has been discovered on the Koolau side of the Pali. The partial remains of a man thought to be a Japanese, have been found in a stream of running water just off the government road to Waimanalo about three miles beyond the pali.

The legs and lower portion of the body were found. Nothing else of the body has been located by the officers. When first discovered there was some flesh clinging to the legs but since the object was first noticed the flesh has rotted away and only the bones remain. The remains were clad in a pair of black trousers and on the feet were a pair of good shoes which were of the

The Slayer Of Damon Is Already Indicted

HONOLULU GREATLY SHOCKED BY THE TRAGEDY OF LAST NIGHT —BUSINESS SUSPENDED, FIRMS GENERALLY CLOSING THEIR DOORS IN HONOR OF THE MURDERED YOUNG MAN—PUBLIC SYMPATHY FOR THE BEREAVED ONES.

The brutal and unprovoked murder of S. E. Damon last night by a Porto Rican thief, shocked Honolulu as no other event has done for years. Business was suspended by general accord today, all of the principal firms and most of the small ones closing at noon or before, in honor of the deceased, who, young as he was, had become a leader in the local commercial and financial field. The utter lack of provocation for the crime was one of the most generally commented on features of the case. Flags were half-masted, and there was every sign of genuine mourning about the city. The banks closed with other business places, and crepe marked the doors of Bishop & Company's bank, of which the deceased was a partner. This morning the youngest child of the deceased was still hovering between life and death, with no hope held out by the doctors of final recovery. Mrs. Damon, the widow, was in a condition of prostration. Expressions of sympathy for her and the father, Hon. S. M. Damon, as well as other members of the family, were on every hand, and the funeral this afternoon will be a very large one. The remains are to be interred in Nuanuu cemetery, services being held at the Damon residence. The pallbearers will be A. M. Brown, J. O. Carter, Jr., Alexander Garvie, A. Berg, Fred Damon, R. E. Wright, A. F. Judd and E. I. Spalding.

In just about fifteen hours after the commission of his dastardly crime by which one of the brightest young lives in the community was destroyed, Jose Miranda was indicted by the grand jury of the First District of Hawaii for murder in the first degree and was immediately afterwards arraigned.

The Judiciary building was crowded all the morning with an anxious crowd, for the fear of trouble had not entirely died away. The Attorney General and his assistants had been early at work in order to secure the attendance of the grand jury and in answer to the summons the body met in the stenographers' room promptly at 9 o'clock. The case for the people was presented by Attorney General Andrews. The witnesses called were Dr. Judd, who testified to the nature of the wound which caused the victim's death, Deputy Sheriff Chillingworth who arrested the man and to whom the prisoner confessed, Mary Antonia Colon, the Porto Rican woman of ill repute who was with the assassin when he struck the fatal blow and Detective McDuffie who found the knife where Miranda had thrown it. The evidence that these witnesses gave was more than sufficient to establish a prima facie case and the jury was unanimous in returning a true bill without delay.

The scene in Judge Gear's court as the grand jury, headed by the Attorney General and Foreman J. D. Tucker, filed in and made known the wish to file a report, was an animated one. The Japanese Hiroshida, who is on trial for his life for the killing of a fellow Jap, was sitting with his attorney as the seemingly interminable task of finding a jury went on and over

GOVERNOR CARTER TALKS OF MAUI

THE EXECUTIVE BACK THIS MORNING ON HIS TOUR OF THE ISLAND—BAD ROADS AND USURPATION OF GOVERNMENT LANDS TWO THINGS HE DISCOVERED—THINKS MAUI HAS TOO MANY PETTY JEALOUSIES.

Governor Carter, who returned this morning on the Likelike after an extended tour on the island of Maui was at his chambers in the Capitol bright and early this morning.

"My visit to Maui was in every sense a satisfactory one," he said. "I made a circuit of nearly all the government lands in company with Forester Hosmer and noted one matter that in particular indicates trouble in the future. People seem to have the idea there that public property is common property and hence cattle, pigs and other stock are pastured out on unoccupied or unfenced government lands, and I fear that this will create feeling when the time comes to have the law enforced. On Maui I gathered the general impression that the island has the worst roads in the territory. The standard of public opinion in the matter of good roads seems low, in fact many of the people do not seem to appreciate just what good roads are. Another matter in which Maui is behind is in good school houses, some of them are very poor, but I am glad to say that the members of the legislature set the right pace by the erection of a splendid building at Weather-ton. The forestry situation on Maui is most interesting and the benefits of a careful conservation of forest lands was never better instanced than it is there. The vast forests under the protection of Baldwin preserves insure the future of the productiveness of the island."

The governor rode all along the new dike and fully agrees with all that has been said of the beauty of the trip. He speaks in the highest terms of the kindness with which he was treated everywhere he went, but thinks that Maui would profit much if it were not divided by so many petty local jealousies.

FIFTH CANDIDATES MAY WITHDRAW

EFFORT MADE TO PULL DOWN BOTH SHAW AND MAHELONA AS NOMINEES.

A meeting of the Republican executive committee of the Fifth District was held this afternoon. It is understood that as the result of the publication of James Shaw's record in the Star yesterday, he was asked to withdraw as one of the Republican representative nominees from the Fifth District. Shaw asked for time it is understood in which to consider the matter. He was given until tomorrow. There seems to be a decided demand that he withdraw from the race. There is also criticism directed against S. Mahelona another nominee from the Fifth and he also may be requested to withdraw.

In the anticipation of some withdrawals from the Hila-Che Pa-citizen restoration ticket, there is already discussion of men to be put up in place of the impossible ones originally nominated. There is said to be a vigorous call down in prospect for Mahelona, who is quoted as favoring a law to provide open che fa. The members of the District Committee were very secretive about their doings in the meeting this afternoon, but it is believed that the withdrawals will take place. Even Shaw's most earnest supporters now concede his unfitness.

Among those who have been named for the House in view of the changes are Fred Waterhouse, K. R. G. Wallace, A. F. Judd and E. R. Adams. It is not known at this time whether any of them are willing to run.

KAUAI RIOTERS ARE BOUND OVER

JAPS WHO THREATENED OFFICER TENAKA ARE TO ANSWER TO NEXT GRAND JURY.

LIHUE, September 28.—The participants in the Kilauea riot, that almost cost Officer Tenaka his life have been arrested and brought before Judge Kabele on Friday morning. Everything was hushed up in Kilauea since the riot and it seemed almost impossible to find the offenders; but Sheriff Coney was determined, and the police force under him was active in the effort to bring the wrong doers to justice which resulted on Thursday in the arrest of twelve Japanese from Kilauea Plantation. They are Miyamoto, Kunishima, Mitsui, Kuniyuki, Fujiwara, Kamezawa, and Araki who all pleaded their innocence when brought before the court. Mr. Huddy, Officer Antonio Gomes and Antonio Pacheco with Officer Tenaka were the witnesses for the prosecution which was conducted by Sheriff Coney himself. The testimonies of these witnesses were taken down in Hawaiian. The policeman Antonio Gomes was the principal witness who related in length the whole story of the riot and testified that the defendants all participated in the riot. After the witnesses in behalf of the prosecution, came the examination of Kunishima, one of the defendants. His story was too weak to prove his innocence to Judge Kabele who committed his case as well as the rest to the Grand Jury. The bail for each defendant was fixed at $500 which the Japanese said they will probably raise if given time. The court then adjourned. S. K. Kaao represented the defendants.

The house is rich in a wonderful collection of rugs gathered by Mr. Yerkes in his travels aboard, and also by men working under his instructions.

IN THE TROPICS.

When white Americans get down into the tropics they will be temperamentally changed by the climate, by that master magician, the sun. After two generations they will be as easy-going, as averse to working hard to realize Uncle Joe Cannon's dream of dominancy as any nonchalant and insouciant creole. Nature is against overgrown dominions. She works incessantly for variety of race and temperament, for diversity of speech and ideas. She hates uniformity even as she does, proverbially, a vacuum.—Mexican Herald.

CRUEL MURDER OF S. E. DAMON

A dastardly crime that has shocked the community to an unusual degree, was committed last night. S. E. Damon, son of Hon. S. M. Damon and a member of the banking house of Bishop and Company, was fatally stabbed by a Porto Rican criminal named Jose Miranda while in the act of trying to prevent the Porto Rican from stealing a lamp from the scene of some repairs that were being made to the road near Moanalua. The crime was witnessed by four different people, and as there was not the slightest difficulty in identifying the murderer and a confession has been secured from him by the authorities, the strongest case has evidently been made out against the man. The scene of the murder was near the foot of a hill near the Grace place which adjoins the Damon property at Moanalua. The fatal wound was inflicted by a knife thrust in the abdomen on the left side, the victim dying within an hour after being attacked.

So wanted was the crime and so certain the facts against the murderer, that public indignation was aroused to a high pitch and crowds gathered in the vicinity of the police station last night, and made threats to lynch the man. In fact so threatening was the crowd that the High Sheriff, and Secretary Atkinson who was present at the police station, thought it wiser to transfer the man Miranda to the Oahu prison and, by a ruse, succeeded in getting the man safely away from the crowd over to the Oahu prison before any actual demonstration was made.

The fatal attack occurred shortly after 7 o'clock last night while Mr. Damon was driving home from doing some work on a boat in the bay. Repairs had been in progress on the Moanalua road, and in a flat portion near a hill that rises on the Ewa side of some rice fields near the Grace place, a number of lanterns had been placed by the contractors for the purpose of warning drivers of rick of the rough portion of the road. Mr. Damon who was accompanied in the carriage by a Chinese employee, noticed three people, two men and a woman going from that section in the direction of Honolulu. One of them, a man, carried a lantern. This lantern had been taken from the scene of repairs, where it had been left as a warning, so Mr. Damon at once called to the man not to take the lantern but to replace it.

Jose Miranda was carrying the lantern and he replied "You go to —, no — business you." Mr. Damon then got from the rig and approached Miranda and the two other Porto Ricans, telling the man to replace the light. Evidently Mr. Damon thought the trio were natives and had not the slightest apprehension of any danger of attack, for he spoke to them originally in Hawaiian and made no demonstration of violence against them. Without further warning Miranda, drew a knife and plunged it into the body of Mr. Damon, the blade entering the body on the left side just below the lower rib and penetrating the abdomen very deeply. The knife made a small wound at the point of incision and ran transversely.

The deed was plainly witnessed by the woman companion of the Porto Rican, by Mr. Damon's Chinese employee and by Eugene Sullivan who accompanied by a young Chinese boy appeared upon the scene just as the assault was committed. "I'm stabbed," Mr. Damon is quoted as saying, and then staggered back toward his carriage and got into it without assistance. Sullivan went toward Miranda who still held the knife threateningly. "You leave me alone, I do the same to you," exclaimed Miranda advancing toward Sullivan. The latter was unarmed and did not dare risk closing in on the Porto Rican, so backed away a few paces. An instant later the two Porto Rican men and the woman retreated along the road and disappeared in the darkness. Sullivan then hastened to the rig to ascertain the identity of the victim of the stabbing.

To his astonishment he discovered that it was young Damon. Sullivan realized that Damon was dangerously hurt and getting into the buggy, drove as rapidly as possible to the city. He drove to the police station and from the police station the injured man was taken in the patrol wagon, to the Queen's Hospital. But it was too late. At the police station, the extremities of the injured man were already cold and by the time the hospital was reached Mr. Damon was unconscious. He was past all aid and died at 8:15 o'clock, a few minutes after being taken to the hospital.

In the meanwhile the police had begun to search for the perpetrator of the crime. According to the report first given to Deputy High Sheriff Chillingworth, Mr. Damon had been attacked by three natives, one of whom was a woman wearing a pink dress. Chillingworth drove at once to the scene of the crime and sent a large number of natives living in the different tenement houses and camps had gone out during the evening or had recently returned. A reward of $1,000 was offered for the apprehension of the murderer. Chillingworth made as careful an examination of the scene of the crime, as possible, and in the way of the first clue, discovered a black handkerchief which he brought to town, he intended to use in working as a clue for the blood hounds.

Chillingworth soon drove back to the city and at the corner of King and Liliha saw a native woman wearing a pink dress. The deputy started to take her into custody on suspicion that she might have been the woman who was mixed up in the murder. He soon released the native woman and just as he was about to reenter the hack, he noticed a Porto Rican woman standing at the corner. This woman had been in jail a number of times and knew the deputy and smiled at him. Chillingworth happened

Crime And The Local Courts

Among those who last night clamored for the death of S. E. Damon's murderer by lynching were men who within the present term of court have escaped jury duty by swearing that they were unalterably opposed to capital punishment.

How long shall we wait for reformation of our laws and for establishment of courts that can be relied upon to carry out the purposes for which courts are established? Four years have gone by since the Territorial Organic Act went into effect.

To the technical absurdities with which our criminal jurisprudence abounds,—not differing especially perhaps from other jurisdictions in this respect,—are added delays in which we are almost beyond comparison. Next year some time we are to begin a trial for a murder nearly two years old.

In the case of the vicious murderer whose utterly wanton blow cut short a valuable and honorable life last night, the authorities acted with as much promptness and ability as could have been expected in any great metropolis.

DAMON'S SLAYER INDICTED

in the prisoners' seat was the U. S. sailor Geneau who has yet to stand his trial for murdering the negro Harris. Both men seemed absorbed in the dolings of the court and the crowd that surged in after the admission of the grand jurors blocked the room to the point of suffocation.

"The grand jury wishes to present a true bill against Jose Miranda for murder in the first degree," said Foreman Tucker, addressing the court, "and in presenting this report to your honor, it is the unanimous request of the grand jury that if possible this matter be given precedence on the calendar and be proceeded with at once. The grand jury makes this request in view of the peculiar atrocity of the crime and the aroused state of public feeling."

Assistant Attorney General Prosser immediately moved for the placing of the case on the calendar and this was accordingly done. In answer to the Attorney General, Judge Gear said that he was ready at any time for the arraignment of the defendant, who he understood, was in custody.

There was a respite as the prisoner was sent for and added interest was given when Miranda was brought in, guarded by Deputy Sheriff Chillingworth, Detective McDuffie and a squad of police. The accused was seen to be a man of about twenty-eight, of slight but wiry build and the customary swarthy complexion of the Porto Rican. His face is by no means indicative of a criminal mind, in fact there is nothing forbidding about the man. He was dressed only in trousers and an undershirt and his good muscular development was thus displayed.

He showed no sign of nervousness as the indictment was read over in English and he made no comment when the interpreter Alfred Gomez translated it into Spanish.

Judge Gear instructed the interpreter to tell the prisoner that under the constitution of the United States he was entitled to the advice of counsel and that he would have time if he wished it before entering his plea.

"He says he has no lawyer and he has no money to pay one," returned the interpreter after a brief colloquy with the accused.

Judge Gear's eye roamed over the court room but in anticipation of what might be coming the ordinary attendance of attorneys of attorneys had dwindled materially. Attorney Wade Warren Thayer was the first legal luminary upon whom the court pitched.

"I could not possibly defend the prisoner," said Thayer. "I have represented the murdered man Mr. Damon in many cases and could not think of acting." S. M. Ballou was next asked but he was relieved on the plea that he had not done any criminal practice for four years and was therefore not in a position to give the accused a defence. J. W. Cathcart objected strenuously. He is at present defending the Japanese Hayashida on a charge of murder at the appointment of the court and suggested that he might have a chance of earning a living at a practice which brought him an income.

"I would not defend that man under any circumstances," said J. J. Dunne, when Judge Gear called on him. "I am now Mr. Damon's attorney in several cases and my sympathies are all the other way. I could not bring myself to put up a defence for him such as his case will evidently require."

S. F. Chillingworth had a legitimate plea of excuse in that he has just finished the defence of Dan Kamai Kahili, an assigned case for which he receives no fee.

Judge Gear sent his bailiff out on a search for attorneys, but all had disappeared except J. M. Monsarrat who had been searching a title in the land office. Monsarrat informed the court that criminal work was entirely out of his line and it would not therefore be fair to the prisoner if he were appointed for the defence.

His honor continued the case until tomorrow for pleading and intimated that he would appoint counsel for the defence in the meantime. Miranda was quickly handcuffed and was driven back to his cell in Oahu prison.

The deceased was born in Honolulu June 1, 1873. He was married in Scotland in 1899 to Miss Gertrude McKinnon. They have four children. The report that the infant child which had been so ill had died today is incorrect. Dr. Wood, the family physician, stated that the baby was about as well as it has been the last week.

Chester Doyle, accompanied by Eugene Sullivan and officials from the survey department went to the scene of the murder this morning for the purpose of having a map, giving the details of the murder, prepared for the use of the prosecution in the approaching trial of the murderer.

An investigation of the remains of the deceased showed that there was a triangular cut on the left side of the face, but this is thought not to have been made by the knife. It may have been sustained by the deceased falling against some object.

Miranda, and Chita and the woman are all notorious vagrants and thieves. The following are their records at the Oahu prison: Jose Miranda, sentenced Nov. 7, 1902, to two years for burglary first degree, released Sept. 16, 1904; sentenced Jan. 13, 1902, for vagrancy for 3 months, discharged April 13, 1902. Jose alias Tomasa Miranda sentenced July 29, 1902, to two months for vagrancy, released Oct. 2, 1902.

Chito sentenced to two years Nov. 2, 1902, for burglary first degree, released Sept. 16, 1904. The woman served one year for vagrancy, being discharged last June, and also served three months on a previous conviction. The two men were therefore released together on the 16th of this month.

As the result of the murder the High Sheriff has issued positive orders to round up every Porto Rican who is not working. They will be either given terms of imprisonment or forced to leave the city to seek work.

If ever the hand of fate descended swiftly upon a criminal, it did so last night when Jose Miranda, the murderer of S. E. Damon was run to death by Deputy High Sheriff Chillingworth within two hours after the crime had been perpetrated. The arrest of Miranda and his two companions is one of the most remarkable in the annals of local crime. With scarcely a correct case and with only false information that led the officers to believe that the crime had been the work of natives instead of Porto Ricans, the Deputy by a simple remarkable action of mind seized upon the guilty trio and landed them within the jail.

Deputy High Sheriff has certainly gained distinction by his work last night and deservedly too. To land a murderer within two hours after the crime and in the face of incorrect information is exceptional but the incidents leading up to the arrest are of such a remarkable character as to seem all but incredible. In fact, even the Deputy while modestly receiving compliments over his work, does not take the credit. "It was someone else," he exclaims "I don't know what it was but it seems like the Hand of Providence guided me in making the arrest of that man, for I certainly never had the slightest suspicion that Miranda had killed poor Eddie Damon."

Damon was fatally stabbed by Miranda on the Moanua road last night shortly after 7 o'clock. The young banker had gone sailing during the afternoon and had been later than usual returning home. In fact his wife was surprised at his failure to be home in time for dinner and she was anxiously awaiting him. One of their children, a baby two months old, has been critically ill so she expected her husband home. The sail and other work on the board detained Mr. Damon however and it was not until about 7 o'clock, after darkness had set in, that he got into the carriage driven by Ah Lun the carriage boy, to go home. Mr. Damon was picked up by Ah Lun at a place called The Island not far from the Damon place. It was while driving along the road close to where road repairs had been in progress that Mr. Damon met Miranda and Chito another Porto Rican and a Porto Rican woman named Marie Antonia Caltona walking toward Honolulu. Miranda had stolen one of the lights left on the road to warn pedestrians and drivers of the rough part of the driveway. Mr. Damon thought that they were natives and calling to them told Miranda not to take the lamp away. The Porto Rican told him to go to hell. Mr. Damon turned the carriage around, as he had driven past them and getting out of the vehicle, started back toward the trio, asking Miranda to please replace the light. Mr. Damon evidently thinking that the road should be protected by as much light as possible. For reply Miranda drew a stiletto with a blade six inches in length and plunged the weapon into the body of Mr. Damon. Damon staggered back to ward the carriage saying he had been stabbed. Eugene Sullivan and a Japanese boy came up at this time and saw the occurrence. Miranda warned Sullivan not to approach or he would do to him what he had done to Damon. Sullivan who had started toward Miranda, drew back. The Porto Rican then escaped in the darkness. Sullivan hastily got into the carriage and drove Mr. Damon to the city as rapidly as possible.

The injured man was first taken to the police station and then taken to the Queen's Hospital. When Mr. Damon reached the hospital, he was unconscious. He was pulseless. Dr. Sawyer placed him on the operating table but the injured man was beyond all earthly aid.

On King street near Desha Lane Chillingworth saw a native woman in a pink dress. He stopped her, thinking of the description of the woman who had been at the scene of the murder. He talked with her for a little while, and satisfied that she was not in any way connected with the affair, had her back turn around to continue on toward the police station. It was while turning that the culprits were located. The officer saw a Porto Rican woman in a white dress and white hat standing on the makai side of the street. He did not suspect her of any complicity in the crime but by some strange influence continued to look at her. He thought she might be waiting to talk to some Chinese. She soon beckoned and then a man appeared from behind the wall on the makai side of the street and in an instant later, a second man appeared. The deputy saw that one of them wore his trousers stuffed in his socks which was the way the murderer was said to have worn his clothes. Chillingworth decided to arrest the trio. He started for them. They saw him and ran. Chito who is partially blind, ran into a telephone post. Miranda sought refuge in the culvert on the makai side of the street and there the officer got him. The woman was caught on Liliha street. The trio were bundled down to the police station. At the station, blood stains were found on the sleeve and right side of Miranda's coat and in his pocket was found a bloody handkerchief. Then Chillingworth knew that he had caught the right people. But no knife could be found. It was not until this morning that the knife was found by Detective McDuffie about 300 yards from the scene of the murder. The weapon is now held as evidence.

Owing to the darkness it is doubtful if a very strong case could have been made against Miranda had the woman not promptly confessed, as did the man. He claimed in his statement to the High Sheriff that Damon had turned on the carriage around on the road and nearly ran over the woman and she made Miranda mad when Damon had applied a bad epithet to him too. It appears that the three Porto Ricans had gone down the country to Paoulo yesterday for an outing and were walking home. Miranda had robbed a Porto Rican woman's trunk the night before and secured $40. After Jose stabbed Damon he tried to strike his victim again with the lantern.

Wants a Honolulu Official Sweetheart

DENVER LADY MAKES A RASH PLEDGE AND APPEALS TO GOVERNOR CARTER FOR ASSISTANCE—A BEAUTIFUL AND DISCREET WIDOW, WHO IS BOUND TO MARRY AN OFFICIAL OF THE HAWAIIAN GOVERNMENT WITHIN A YEAR.

Governor Carter had a registered letter awaiting him when he went over his mail this morning upon his return from Maui. For a moment he may have thought that some one was sending him money but when he opened the missive he found that there was something far more precious than mere dross within the envelope. It was the tender outpouring of a woman's heart. The letter ran thus:

"Governor General—I know you will think this a strange request but hope you will help me out in it. I have had a dream and made a banter and want to be the winner. I like romance also. It is this, that within a year, I will marry a government official of Hawaii and that through you I made my conquest. Now I beg you to give this to a refined gentleman, forty years of age or over who can appreciate a sensitive, poetical, musical and refined nature. Am a widow without any income; I am affectionate. The object must be a worthy one and I must love with my whole heart or not at all. I am from a long line of intellectual ancestry. Traits inherited sometimes skip a generation however from both sides of the house, and I love to vaunt of them as aged family pillars illustrious in design.

"I am at present reviewing my music in a conservatory in Denver, Colorado. I can give you the best of references as to my standing and character. This is the only indiscreet act of my life, but I feel that I am intrusting this in the hands of one in whom I can have perfect confidence.

"This must to you seem silly but don't throw it in the waste basket but see what you can do for me and I will forever remember you in my prayers."

"A letter of this sort deserves consideration," remarked the Governor to the press representatives as he handed it over. "I shall look over the list of eligibles and see who is the most deserving."

FUNNY KIND KUMALAE

HE TELLS KAUAI THERE IS A HOME RULE PARTY OPPOSED TO MAINLAND REPUBLICANS.

LIHUE, September 26.—The Home Rulers held a meeting here last Saturday evening. Kalaokalani made the opening address and Kumalae spoke for over an hour.

"I understand," said Kumalae, "that the Republicans and Democrats have made statements that there is no such thing as Home Ruleism in the United States. I take this opportunity to contradict their statement." Producing a book, he continued, "This is a political register published by the Chicago Daily News, and it states that there are thirteen political parties in the United States. I will now read their platforms of 1900, and you will see that both parties were in favor of Home Rule. Now if we are to send a Republican Delegate to Congress, the Democrats will oppose him in Congress, and Vice versa. But, if we will send a Home Rule Delegate to Congress he can do more for us than the Republican or the Democratic Delegate because both of these parties favor Home Rule. I will also state that in 1900 there were only two candidates for President of the United States. The Republican and the Home Rule candidates. I assure you fellow citizens, that the Home Rulers are going to carry this election, because there are three parties in the field. We are going to win like we did in 1900. The reason why we lost in 1902 is simply this, I was then a Republican at the time and was a member of the Central Committee. The Democrats came over to the Republicans and asked, 'How can we defeat R. W. Wilcox?' The only way said the Republicans is for you not to put any men in the field. If you have any candidate for senator or representative, let him run on our ticket, and if we work together we will surely defeat the Home Rule candidate. In 1900 Paul Isenberg and Sam Wilcox ran on the Democratic ticket and both were defeated. In 1902 they ran on the Republican ticket and got elected. Mr. Isenberg pretended to be a good friend to the Hawaiian, but he introduced a bill in the legislature, which, if passed, would stop all the Hawaiians from fishing, and they would be compelled to buy beef and enable Mr. Isenberg to sell some of his old stock of cattle. The majority of you are working under Republican bosses, but I give you this pointer. Should they ask you to what political party do you belong, tell them that you are a Republican, but when the day come to cast your ballot, vote the Home Rule ticket. And the same to the Democratic voters."

Charles Notley took the stand and after greeting the citizens, said: "At the convention held in Honolulu, there were 177 delegates present and I was unanimously nominated candidate for Delegate to Washington. In picking a man to represent Hawaii at Congress you want a well educated man. For instance if it was wanted to build a breakwater for Koloa landing, the delegate must know how to figure so that he will know how much appropriation is needed. The Home Rule party is in favor of getting an appropriation from Congress to build a university in Hawaii, so that our children can get a higher education, without leaving the islands."

"We are in favor of getting an appropriation for the erection of a Federal building in Honolulu for use of the Federal Government. We will again present a bill in Congress assigning the care of the lepers to the Federal Government. When Mr. Wilcox presented this bill in Congress the Republicans of the Territory of Hawaii blamed him. But today they are in favor of it. At first the Republicans thought by handing over the leper settlement to the United States to look after, it meant that Motokai would be turned into dumping ground for lepers from the coast. This is not so. Mr. Wilcox's bill was to let the United States take care of the leper settlement, so that good hospitals and laboratories be erected, and better care can be given to the patients, and not to make it a dumping ground for lepers from the coast. Up to date the Territory of Hawaii has spent $8,000,000 for the curing of leprosy, but not a single soul that landed at Kalaupapa or Kalawao has even been cured. It costs the government $15,000 a month to maintain the leper settlement, but all this money is not honestly spent. Rotten clothing and food are sent to Motokai for these lepers. If the United States had charge of the leper settlement, they will take better care of the lepers than the territory."

"One thing Delegate Kuhio has done detrimental to us is the introduction of a bill in Congress that the Hawaiian and English languages shall be the official languages of the Territory for ten years, and at the expiration of ten years the English language shall be the only official language of this Territory. This would hinder a great many capable Hawaiians from holding government position."

A favorite design for lanterns used in the processions to celebrate the Japanese victories is one having on its four sides the rising sun, the Union Jack, the Italian flag and the stars and stripes.

BOUGHT UP MEAT.

To avenge his defeat in the municipal elections, for the provincial council at Talos Montes, the Marquis de Xanagos cornered the entire stock of the butchers and peddlers of the town. The inhabitants had to subsist without meat for a week.

The schooner Pol's, built in 1895, was in Amesbury last week, loading a cargo of merchandise for points on the coast of the state. The ancient craft is said to be sound and safe yet, although no other vessel in the country is known to be so old.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

You know the story—how good Queen Bess, pointing to the beautiful hair of a peasant girl, said, "There's a real royal crown. I would trade my golden one for it." That was long ago.
Now you can have a "real royal crown" of your own, simply by using Ayer's Hair Vigor. It makes the hair grow thick and long and stops it falling out.
When your hair is rich and heavy,
and when the closest inspection fails to detect a single gray hair, you will certainly look a great deal younger, and you will be much better satisfied with yourself, too. Isn't that so?

SAY PORT ARTHUR CANNOT SURRENDER

GENERAL STOESEL TELLS HIS TROOPS THAT THE TEMPER OF THE JAPANESE SOLDIERS IS NOW SUCH THAT THEY CANNOT BE CONTROLLED—SIX HUNDRED JAPS ATTEMPTING TO SUR-RENDER ARE MERCILESSLY SHOT DOWN.

CHEFOO, Sept. 18, 9:30 p. m.—According to Lieutenant Prince Radzivil of the Russian army, who reached here last night from Port Arthur bearing dispatches from Lieutenant-General Stoessel, the commander in chief of the forces of the Russian stronghold, to General Kuropatkin, the temper of the belligerents at Port Arthur has reached an absolutely merciless stage.
Prince Radzivil served with the British in the Boer war, and he says that until he became aware of the state of affairs at Port Arthur he had no idea that war could be so horrible.

It was set forth in these dispatches some weeks ago that serious suspicions were entertained by both belligerents that the other was misusing the Red Cross flag. These suspicions have been increased by the commission of various acts by the soldiers of both armies until now even flags of truce or surrender are not respected by either side.

Prince Radzivil declares that the men of both armies are absolutely venomous in their antagonism. Lieutenant-General Stoessel has addressed his garrison saying that the present mood of the Japanese indicates clearly the necessity of resisting them to the last drop of Russian blood, because, if the Japanese soldiers entered the fortress, it undoubtedly would be impossible for their officers to control them and prevent a massacre. For this reason Lieutenant-General Stoessel is making no objection to civilians leaving Port Arthur. When the 300 women who are in Port Arthur engaged in hospital work were advised to leave they replied they would rather face the possibility of massacre than desert their posts.

In the course of the assaults which took place in the four last days of August, two companies of Japanese soldiers, according to Prince Radzivil, found themselves at the mercy of the Russians and hoisted a white flag.
To this, however, the Russians paid no attention and continued to volley rapidly into the ranks of the enemy. In the meanwhile, Japanese troops in the rear of the companies that had raised the white flag saw what their comrades had done and expressed their disapproval of the surrender by firing into their rear. As a result of this fire from friend and foe 600 men were annihilated. The dead fell among the decomposing bodies of previous assaults. For days afterward the wounded men in this area raised fluttering handkerchiefs in their hands in plea for help, but the Russians were afraid to venture out to give succor. Within a week the last arm had made its last unregarded prayer for help, and the shambles was a quiet but ghastly field of horror.

Among the heaps of dead the Prince saw two soldiers, one a Russian and the other a Japanese, lying locked in a death embrace. The teeth of the Japanese were sunk in the Russian's throat, while the Russian had forced two of his fingers into the eye socket of his antagonist. The Prince cited this as merely one incident denoting the ferocity of the conflict before Port Arthur. Prince Radzivil will leave here tomorrow to join General Kuropat-kin.

General Stoessel is reported to be giving one thousand roubles reward to every junk which brings provisions to Port Arthur. The communications between Port Arthur and the outside world appear to be maintained. The Novi Krai published at Port Arthur is frequently circulated at Chefoo.

A refugee from Port Arthur stated at Chefoo on September 7th that owing to the recent arrival of steamers with a large quantity of flour the price of that commodity has fallen from ten roubles to four roubles a bag.

Japanese naval circles are anxious that the oft-repeated rumors of the departure of the Baltic fleet may not result in vapour. They say that they are desirous of accordng a memorable reception to the Baltic squadron if it comes.

A junk which arrived at Chefoo on September 14th brought a copy of the Novi Krai for September 8th. According to that paper, Viceroy Alexieff and General Kuropatkin congratulated Lieut.-General Stoessel for the great honor conferred on him by the Czar in giving him the Order of the Cross of St. George and appointing him Military Chamberlain. The Imperial speech appreciating the gallant manner in which the garrison are defending Port Arthur and also the Czar's special favor that one month's service of the officers and men during the siege will count as two years conveyed to General Stoessel on September 5th. The Russian garrisons at Port Arthu, held a celebration on the morning of September 8th.

AFTER BATTLE AT LIAOYANG

JAPANESE LOSSES HEAVY IN RECENT ATTACK ON THE FORTRESS, BUT 80,000 MEN ARE NOW ENGAGED IN THE ATTACK—RUSSIAN SUPPLY OF SMOKELESS POWDER EXHAUSTED AND THEY ARE MAKING POWDER.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 10, 1:30 a. m.—It seems to be definitely settled that Field Marshal Oyama's tired troops abandoned on Wednesday the attempt to head off General Kuropatkin, whose army has arrived safely at Mukden after frightful experiences, floundering through mud and mire over the Mandarian roads. Some description of the scenes along the line of retreat are almost incredible. They tell how men lay down in the mud and slept in a drenching rain. It is evident that the last determined effort of the Japanese to bring Kuropatkin at bay was made on Tuesday, but the Russian commander-in-chief faced about, and, with two corps of artillery, beat off the Japanese, while the remainder of the troops continued to march to Mukden. After that the Japanese could only hang on to the flanks and try to shell the retreating columns from the hills. The outposts are still in contact, but they are not even exchanging shots.

A late dispatch sent to-night from Mukden describes the horrible plight of the tentless and shelterless soldiers. The detailed statement of the Russian losses, which it is promised will be issued on Saturday, is awaited with intense interest. The general expectation is that the losses will approximate 20,000 as against 30,000 for the Japanese.

The work of burying the dead was left to the Japanese, who were forced to attempt the task as a matter of self preservation, but it was an almost impossible undertaking. The awful rains have handicapped the work of cremation which the Japanese relied on and only shallow trench burials were possible in many cases. Not only is such burial one of great difficulty, but it is almost valueless from a sanitary point of view, the storms undoing it soon after it is accomplished.

The care of the wounded has taxed the hospitals to the utmost. One correspondent says that 12,000 wounded had passed through Mukden hospitals up to Monday and only the most severe cases could be attended by the nurses and surgeons. Many, therefore, had to be left to the rough, but well meant care of their comrades.

MUKDEN, Sept. 9.—This evening around Mukden has occurred the greatest downpour of rain of the whole campaign, and with it a terrifying accompaniment of thunder and lightning. There has been the greatest difficulty in preventing the cavalry from stampeding, and all the horse lines have been tied.

One advantage is that the rain has checked the movements of the Japanese Eastern and Southern armies. Quiet reigns over the whole front.

The story is told of a man in a Missouri crowd who declared he could tell a Democrat or a Republican by looking at him. He picked out a Democrat and was asked to show a Republican. He hesitated, but walked up to a man and said, "You are a Republican." "You're a liar," instantly retorted the man, "I've been sick; that's what makes me look like this."

REPUBLICANS MEET AT PAUOA

ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING GATHERS TO ENDORSE THE TICKETS NOMINATED.

Robert Boyd was chairman at the Republican meeting held last evening at the Pauoa school house grounds and in addition to this he acted as interpreter, translating the speeches of different whites into Hawaiian for the benefit of the natives who were present. The attendance was large and the waits between speeches were used by the discoursing of music by the quintette club.

E. Faxon Bishop was the first speaker. He urged the re-election of Prince Kuhio as necessary. He was an experienced man and a Democrat would be of no use whatever at Washington. Bishop endorsed the ticket for the Fifth and made an appeal for support in its entirety.

Prince Kuhio appeared while candidate Liliuokalani was speaking in Hawaiian. The delegate was greeted with cheers and "Hawaii Pono!" was sung. Delegate Kuhio spoke at considerable length referring to the work he had done at Washington. He appealed for support for the entire senatorial ticket. He spoke for some time on the charges he had heard a to his treatment of Morris Keakakalohe and justified all of his transactions with that person.

Chairman A. G. M. Robertson of the Central Committee took Cecil Brown in hand and branded him as a traitor to his party. He warned the audience of the trick played by the Democrats in leaving a blank on their ticket and cautioned them not to fall into the pit prepared.

E. W. Quinn, a candidate for the House closed the meeting with a short speech.

THE HOME RULE PARTY CHOOSES ITS CANDIDATES FOR THE FIFTH DISTRICT.

Jonah Kumalae, now under sentence of one year's imprisonment for having defrauded the Territory while a member of the House, was yesterday nominated on the Home Rule ticket for the Fifth District in company with J. M. Poepeo, J. A. Akina, D. M. Kupheha, Mossman and S. K. Mahoe. The meeting was held at the Home Rule headquarters and for a couple of hours the question of Kumalae's eligibility was thrashed out. After his name had been proposed Kumalae proposed that executive should be delegated to the authority committee to substitute a candidate in case any of the nominees should resign. Thus having prepared a nice soft spot to fall on, Kumalae explained that he had been refused registration by the Board. He thought that he should have been allowed to register as he has appealed from the decision of the jury which branded him as a felon.

Kumalae shared the honors of the occasion with Mon War, the Chinese who tried to get on the Republican ticket as a representative of the Chinese element. He was busy doing politics but he received only two votes beside his own when the polling came.

There were fourteen seeking honors, if they can be called such and the result of the voting was as follows: Poepeo, 41; Kumalae, 40; Akina, 33; Kupheha, 32; Mossman, 27; Mahoe, 20. These were declared elected. The remainder of the vote was as follows: Kealoha, 19; Makainai, 12; Keilihua, 8; Lane, 7; Kahu, 3; Keilihonou, 3; Lowell 3; Mon War 3.

Assistant Attorney General Prosser pressed for a substantial sentence as he believed that the jury's view was that the prisoner was guilty but was not deserving of so severe a punishment as manslaughter calls for. Attorney Chillingworth, who had conducted a clever defence without fee simply at the assignment of the court, demurred at this construction and asked the Judge to set simply on the verdict as found by the jury. This view seemed to be accepted by his honor and a sentence of six months at hard labor was imposed.

NAKAPAAHU GIVES HIS VIEWS

DENIES SAYING HIS HEART IS HOME RULE AND SAYS HE IS REPUBLICAN.

LIHUE, Kauai, September 22.—Last Saturday afternoon a Lihue citizen was called to the telephone by J. K. Kapuni of Waimea, who said to him that Senator Nakapahu wished to have a statement put in the Garden Island denying the assertion of Senator Kalauokalani, President of the Home Rule Party, that Nakapahu had said to him "My tongue is Republican, but my heart is and ever will be Home Rule." Mr. Kapuni said that Nakapahu was there and would speak for himself, when Senator Nakapahu stepped to the telephone and said: "If Kalauokalani said that I told him my tongue was Republican, but my heart was Home Rule, he lied. I never made any such statement to him. I am Republican until I die."

Our informer then said: "How about your being nominated on the Home Rule ticket for Senator?" Nakapahu replied: "I don't know anything about that."

Senator Nakapahu further requested that he see the Garden Island people, and ask them to publish his statement denying Kalauokalani's assertions. This Lihue citizen afterwards saw a Garden Island reporter and repeated Senator Nakapahu's request and his statements as above given.

HOME RULERS MEET AT LIHUE

CAPTAIN THOMPSON PUTS A SUD-DEN END TO A SPEECH BY KAHAULELEO.

LIHUE, September 22.—Last Saturday afternoon the Home Rule campaigners who have been touring Kauai held their last meeting at Nawiliwili with small success. A very small crowd gathered to hear the spouting of Notley, Kumalea, Kalauokalani and the two Kahauleleos. The audience was composed principally of small boys, Democrats and Republicans. Lihue is not a first class place in which to hold a Home Rule meeting. The speakers went over their usual ground and abused the Republican party and the Republican administration. They denounced the administration's method of dealing with government lands and declared that if the Home Rule party should be put in power government lands would be given to every citizen who desired a small farm. The leper settlement was touched upon, the Home Rulers advocating Federal control.

Judge Kahauleleo was in the throes of a very spirited harangue, denouncing the haole, the Republicans, the Carter administration, the Republican legislature and the Republican county bill, when Captain Thompson put an end to his fireworks by shouting "all aboard," which brought the meeting to an abrupt end.

The Garden Island of Kauai publishes the following communication:

Mr. Editor: As Mr. Alexander M. McBryde has emphatically stated that he is not a candidate for Representative, the voters of Koloa have urged Henry Blake to run.

Mr. Blake is one of the first and best Republican party men of Koloa, and was secretary of this precinct for four years.

As there are already three candidates in the field, viz: Eric Knudsen, Charles Rice, and George Mahikoa, I think Mr. Henry Blake as the fourth, representing the Hawaiians with George Mahikoa would make a very good and strong ticket.

With J. Gandall as Senator, Eric Knudsen, Henry Blake, Charles Rice and Mahikoa as representatives, the various districts will be fairly and well represented.

Thank you for your valuable space, I am, yours very truly,

REPUBLICAN.

PLAY NOT POSTPONED.

Directors of the Yacht Club and Charley's Aunt.

A directors' meeting of the Hawaii Yacht Club was held this morning to consider the propriety of again postponing Charley's Aunt, to be given as a benefit for the club tomorrow and Saturday evenings, on account of the death of S. E. Damon, who was a member of that institution. While the sympathy of the directors was strongly in favor of setting off the date, the discussion brought up various phases of the matter and some insuperable obstacles to postponement and it was finally decided that, the seats having been largely sold to the public at large for both performances the matter was now beyond the action of the club which was bound to protect the interests of the public at large who might not enter as closely into the feeling of postponement as the yachtsmen. The performances will therefore be given as advertised.

JAS. F. MORGAN, Auctioneer.

It was found that two members of the present cast, at least, would be unable to participate in a performance if put off until next week. The performance had already been once postponed through death and the directors did not feel like taking the responsibility of again changing the public's engagements.

A resolution was passed to draw up, endorse and send a memorial to the widow of the deceased and a committee was further appointed to send a floral tribute from the yachtsmen to the obsequies this afternoon.

KAUAI WANTS ELECTRIC ROAD

BELIEF THAT A ROAD ROUND THE GARDEN ISLAND WOULD PAY BIG PROFITS.

LIHUE, September 22.—The Garden Island says: The most essential improvement for the welfare and prosperity of Kauai would be an electric railroad around the island.

Kauai has an abundance of water power for the generation of electricity with which to operate such a road and the citizens of Kauai, one and all, should in every possible way give aid and encouragement to the building of an electric railway. Pay! The road would pay beyond the wildest dreams of the promoters! Hundreds of people of the citizen class and of the labor class, are continually moving about Kauai from one end to the other. Such road would be of immense value to transportation, to travel, and would make it possible for the plantations to ship from some central port.

The development of an electric plant has been under way on Kauai for a couple of years, and the hands having this scheme in charge are such as to assure the people that something will be accomplished. But what is required is that the people should feel something more than an assurance that the plan will finally be established; they should put their shoulders to the wheel and help matters along. Every possible encouragement and assistance should be given. The Legislature gave the wireless system a large appropriation to keep it going. Such an electric road would be thousands of times more beneficial to Kauai than the wireless system. Kauai could well afford to contribute two hundred thousand dollars as a bonus to assist in the establishment of an electric railroad. An electric railroad would do for Kauai in a small way what the Union Pacific did for the great west of the United States.
