

A "BECKY SHARP" IN THE NOTLEY WILL CASE

A BRIEF WHICH READS LIKE A NOVEL

CONTESTANTS IN THE NOTLEY WILL CASE FILE A BRIEF CONTAINING 163 TYPE-WRITTEN PAGES IN WHICH THEY SEEK TO SHOW THAT NOTLEY'S NIECE DESIGNEDLY ESTRANGED HIM FROM HIS WIFE AND CHILDREN.

A brief which reads like the pages of a novel has been filed in the Supreme Court in the Notley will case in which the attorneys for contestants are now seeking to perfect an appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States. The brief covers 163 type-written pages, in which counsel seek, with much literary skill and eloquence, to paint one of the principal beneficiaries of the will as a sort of Becky Sharp who for over fifteen years devoted herself to turning an old man's mind against his family to the end that she might gain his wealth. The brief is signed by Ballou & Marx and Kinney, McClanahan & Cooper, attorneys for William Notley, Charles Notley, Maria Hughes and David F. Notley who are seeking to set aside the will of the late C. Notley disposing of an estate worth $300,000 and utterly disinheriting his son Charles. The respondents are Cecil Brown and A. Lidgate as proponents of the will, and John, Victoria, M. K., Lily and William Notley, minors, and Emma Danford, the latter being the real object of attack.

A HAPPY HOME.

The brief begins with romance-like picture of the happy home of Notley up to 1885. "Prior to that time no friction disturbed the placid serenity of that home life," say the lawyers, "no home could be more harmonious. Never was a family more closely bound together."

After this comes a description of a change which the attorneys by no means spare words in describing. Notley went to England on a trip and re-

COINCIDENCE ABOUT ONOMEA MILL FIRE

THE MAN WHO HELPED TO TAKE FIRST MILL TO PAPAÏKOU TELLS NEWS OF RECENT FIRE.

It seems rather a strange coincidence that the man who helped to take the first mill to Papaïkou plantation in the seventies should be the man who should bring the news to Honolulu of the all but destruction of the mill by fire last Saturday. This is what occurred in the recent Onomea Sugar Company fire. Frank Wilberton, the pursuer of the steamer Norea, is the man.

When he was mate on the old schooner Ida in about 1878, the vessel brought the boiler and entire material for the construction of the first mill at Papaïkou. The material was from San Francisco. E. G. Hitchcock owned the mill at that time.

Naturally the old mill has been a memory for years past as new machinery has been installed at Onomea. Wilberton was told by telephone while at Kiholo last Saturday of the fire at the Onomea mill and he brought the news to the Honolulu public on the arrival of the Norea at this place last Monday.

PRISON YAWNS FOR ANIN

GRAND JURY CONTEMPT CASE IS SPEEDING ITS WAY THROUGH THE SUPREME COURT WITH SMALL SIGNS OF COMFORT FOR THE WITNESS ANIN—ATTORNEYS PROPOSE TO APPEAL TO THE UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT.

The attorneys for Y. Anin state that his case will be taken to the Supreme Court of the United States if necessary before he will either submit to a contempt sentence or agree to answer the question which was put to him by the Grand jury and which he refused to answer. Another attorney has been added to Humphreys, Whiting and Thompson, ex-Judge George D. Gear is now additional counsel for Anin. The case occupied all this morning in the Supreme Court with the result that by noon the chances of Anin going back to jail before night appeared to be excellent, for the court had intimated its ruling against all the points raised in his favor, with one exception, and that point was one which is regarded as very doubtfully effective.

High Sheriff Henry, by Deputy Attorney General Milverton, made a return to the habeas corpus writ setting forth the judgment and mittimus under which Anin was detained, and the sheriff appeared personally in court. It was explained that the reason he did not obey the writ and bring the body of Anin was that the latter was out on bail. Anin, however, attended the hearing, with a number of Chinese friends.

Judge Humphreys stated to the court that his client's petition for a writ of habeas corpus was based on the grounds that there was no judgment on which to base a sentence for contempt, that the defendant had a constitutional right to refuse to answer the Grand jury's question, and that the question was immaterial. Humphreys said that the judgment against Anin had been written out by the deputy attorney general after sentence, and signed by Judge Lindsay on the day after.

Milverton declared that this statement was utterly false, and that Lindsay had signed the judgment on the same day as the sentence. Humphreys offered to prove that there had been no adjudication that Anin was guilty of contempt, before the sentence, and therefore nothing on which to predicate a sentence. Stenographer Bell, Thompson, Whiting and Humphreys were sworn in turn and testified that Judge Lindsay had never adjudged Anin guilty but had simply sentenced him. G. F. Henshall and H. W. Kinney were called as witnesses to the same effect, but their evidence being merely cumulative, their testimony was not taken. The Supreme Court sent for Lindsay and he testified that he had no independent recollection of saying more than the record, as given by Bell, showed.

The testimony all went in subject to the objection that the record, which shows a judgment, could not be attacked, the court having intimated that no attack on the record could be made.

Humphreys argued for the petitioner, and is to be followed by Thompson. The court stated that it did not care to hear from the attorney general except on one point, and that related to the question of a judgment preceding the sentence. The hearing is being continued this afternoon. In the event of the decision being against Anin, it is said that his attorneys will apply to United States Judge Dole for a writ of habeas corpus and if he agrees with the Territorial courts, an appeal to the Supreme court written out by the deputy attorney

A PIPE DREAM OF WATER PIPE

KAIMUKI PEOPLE WONDERED ABOUT THEIR MISSING WATER MAIN AND NOW THEY KNOW.

A plaint has been put up by the Waialae, Kaimuki and Palolo people against the Department of Public Works and the County Road department regarding the improvement of the Waialae road. It will be remembered that quite recently the County Supervisors made an appropriation for the repair of that much used thoroughfare upon which the improvement club which represents the district passed a fervent vote of thanks to the County solons.

Afterwards the suburbanites were sorry. Some men with picks and other enthusiasts with shovels went out to Kaimuki, it is said, and after a little prospecting made a discovery.

The water main was not in. "What?" said the indignant small farmers. "No water main? Why that water main was arranged for by the Territorial officials long ago. Where is it?"

Then some one saw a lot of pipe in rear of the Beretania street pumping station. Just to mix metaphors a little, he put two and two together and smelled a large sized mice! He concluded that the water main which should be slumbering beneath the classic soil of Kaimuki was the pipe behind the pumping station, but here's where the pipe goes out, figuratively speaking again.

"The trouble with the County people is that they sometimes go ahead with the road work without consulting with this department at all," remarked Su-

MERRIAM ANSWERS

An answer was filed in the United States District Court this morning by Territorial Registrar C. H. Merriam, in the suit brought against him by the United States to compel the recording of plans to property which the United States has acquired. Merriam sets up the law passed by the last legislature regarding the business of his office, as reason why he cannot record the plans and blue prints as requested by the federal authorities.

perintendent Holloway of the Public Works department when asked about the matter this morning. "The road supervisor knew that the main was not in and so did Jack Lucas. As for the pipe at the Beretania street station that has nothing to do with the Waialae road. An appropriation was made for the Waialae pipe and the Honolulu Iron Works secured the contract about two months ago. It was made in Philadelphia and is now on its way here. It will arrive in about a month I expect. We will put in a six-inch cast iron pipe from Modillil church to the Zoo and a four-inch pipe to 21st Avenue, Kaimuki. As far as the road grading goes, the County might just as well go ahead for the grading can be completed without reference to the water main as long as the top dressing is not put on."

CHE FA GAMES KEPT UP

EVEN THE SENSATIONAL GRAND JURY INVESTIGATION HAS NOT STOPPED THE DRAWINGS.

Che fa has not been stopped by the Grand jury investigation of the game and its leaders. In fact through all the investigations and the court proceedings against Y. Anin, reputed boss of the game here, the drawings have gone on just the same, and yesterday afternoon when Anin was temporarily in jail, the usual drawing is said to have taken place. The Grand jury is carrying on a very energetic campaign against it, and is believed to have secured much valuable evidence, but the players go on in spite of all.

Yesterday afternoon's drawing is said to have been had as usual, the result being announced shortly after five o'clock. The winning word is said to have been a Hawaiian word meaning "ocean," and those who played "ocean" are reported to have drawn down winnings. It evidently takes more than a Grand jury investigation to stop che fa, even if the leaders are drawn into the net.

TUMORS CONQUERED

SERIOUS OPERATIONS AVOIDED. Unqualified Success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the Case of Mrs. Fannie D. Fox.

One of the greatest triumphs of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the conquering of woman's dread enemy, Tumor. The growth of a tumor is so sly that frequently its presence is not suspected until it is far advanced.

So-called "wandering pains" may come from its early stages, or the presence of danger may be made manifest by profuse monthly periods, accompanied by unusual pain, from the abdomen through the groin and thighs.

If you have mysterious pains, if there are indications of inflammation or displacement, secure a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound right away and begin its use.

Mrs. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., will give you her advice if you will write her about yourself. She is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years has been advising sick women free of charge.

I take the liberty to congratulate you on the success I have had with your wonderful medicine. Eighteen months ago my periods stopped. Shortly after I felt so badly that I submitted to a thorough examination by a physician and was told that I had a tumor and would have to undergo an operation.

After the verdict had been rendered, Judge De Bolt commented upon the presence of a lot of bottles of sake on the desk in front of the jury, apparently there as exhibits, but never called for.

Your disagreeable feeling when travelling, such as headache, car-sickness, sea-sickness, or nervousness, are all due to agitated nerves. Quick relief is invariably obtained by taking Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills.

MISS LYDIA J. FARRELL.

A Case of Dyspepsia.

Dyspepsia is caused by acute inflammation of the nerves of the stomach.

It is by nervous energy that the muscles of the stomach contract and expand, and the digestive fluids are secreted. The muscular walls of the stomach must be kept in vigorous action until the process of digestion is made complete.

The nerve fibres, like other tissues of the body, may become inflamed and diseased by neglect or other causes; then they must be nourished and their strength restored. It is when the nerve fibres are overstrained by worry of mind, overtaking or neglect that they become exhausted and weak.

Dyspepsia is but one instance where the vital nerve force is necessary.

Discontent, ill-temper, low spirits, despondency, dizziness, sick headache, heartburn, palpitation of the heart, distension of the stomach, are some of the many forms that dyspepsia takes.

The true cure must be the restoration to strength of the nerves which govern the digestive organs.

MISS FARRELL'S CASE AN EXAMPLE OF THOUSANDS.

"I have been greatly benefited by the use of Paine's Celery Compound. Until I tried it I was a great sufferer from dyspepsia and constipation. I spent considerable money trying various preparations without success, until I tried the Compound. Before I completed the first bottle I noticed a change for the better, but I continued until I had taken six bottles in all, which effected an entire cure. I feel better to-day than I have at any period of my life. It affords me great pleasure to endorse Paine's Celery Compound." Lydia J. Farrell, 129 DeKalb Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y., August 12, 1904.

Paine's Celery Compound is curing thousands of dyspeptics every day, in just this way. By feeding and restoring the nerves to their full strength. It never fails to cure.

Sick headache, palpitation, dizziness, and heartburn are usually relieved by a single dose of Paine's Celery Compound.

Remember this.—Paine's Celery Compound is the prescription of one of the most famous physicians this country has ever known, and all reputable Druggists sell and recommend it.

Koolauoko road district pay roll $686; Koolauoko road district, special $2659; garbage department pay roll $682.79; Koolauoko road district No. 1 supply $17.50; Ewa road district pay roll $242; Waianae road district supply $732; Honolulu road department pay roll $3,833.85; Honolulu road department $1,408.84; county office rent $160; Ewa road district supply $3336.15; Waianae road district supply $47; Kapiolani park supply $635.73; county clerk $193; fire department supply $871.06; county attorney $163.65; county treasurer supply $9.80; county auditor $185.25; Aala park band stand $52.50; street line expense $5.75; Kailua bridge $118.55; keeper of parks $21.50; county clerk $10; garbage department supply $391.78; Koolauoko road district $677.63; Honolulu road department $573.36; Hawaiian band supply $90.40; Pupukea homestead road $414.24; Pali road $79; road department $6612.10.

Warren Thayer the attorney relative to Deputy Sheriff George Kekauoha of Koolauola in which rascality was charged against the officer, was presented. There was considerable discussion over the matter. Moore said that it was useless to send a committee over to Koolauola to investigate the matter for the reason that the deputy sheriff might put them in jail just as he had threatened to do to Moore during a recent supervisory visit. After some discussion it was decided upon recommendation of County Attorney Doubtless, that Thayer be communicated with and requested if he desired, to present the charges in a formal manner against the officer so that the board could try the officer.

The monthly report of Road Supervisors Sam Johnson relative to the principal work done during January and the work now on hand was read. His estimate for the February expenses was $20,000.

A communication from Alexander Young asking that the county build a retaining wall in front of the native church at Waikiki as he and Robert Lewers would put in a new picket fence in front of the place was read. It was decided that the county could not make the requested improvement. Similar action was taken in regard to a request from School Agent Cox relative to some school land in the same section.

Chief Thurston made his monthly report stating that there had been 6 alarms of fire during January. A petition from property owners and residents along the Kalakaua Avenue protesting against any park in the center of the road was read. The petitioners wanted a wide open road with wide sidewalks. The matter was referred to the road committee. A communication from W. F. Dillingham was received, relative to the demand made by the road department that a new curb be placed in front of the B. F. Dillingham property on Punahou street. The communication stated that the agreement had been made originally some years ago, that the Territorial government was to put in the curb in return for certain property being deeded to it. Lucas did not think that the government should ask the Dillingham's to put in a curb when the Territory was under obligation to do so. The communication was placed on file.

A communication from the Manoa Improvement Club asked for the improvement of the two roads in that section was read and referred to the committee on roads, park and bridges.

The monthly report of the county treasurer which was read during the meeting showed that the total receipts during January had been $169,998.19 and the disbursement $29,974.88 leaving cash on hand and in banks $143,023.31. It was stated by Adams that while the balance showed the finances of the territory to be in splendid condition, there was considerable outstanding indebtedness that would bring down this cash account considerably.

The Board adjourned to February 19 at 7:20 p. m.

DIED.

McDOUGALL—At the Queen's Hospital, Honolulu, Hawaii, February 5, 1906, William McDougall, of Truckee, Cal., following an operation for appendicitis.

The deceased, who was about fifty years of age, arrived on the steamship Sierra last week, accompanied by Morris Franzini. Two days before reaching Honolulu Mr. McDougall was taken quite ill. The gentlemen registered at the Hawaiian Hotel, and on the night of their arrival Mr. McDougall's illness required a consultation of physicians, who diagnosed his case as appendicitis, and he was removed to the hospital, where the operation developed a very bad case.

The deceased had been a member of the Knights of Pythias, Odd Fellows and Eagles, and, with Mr. Franzini, these organizations will probably assume charge of the remains. In all probability the body will be embalmed and shipped back to the Coast. Mr. McDougall and Mr. Franzini were at one time partners in business. For some years they had been engaged in business separately, and recently they decided to visit the islands together for a few weeks' outing.

Municipal Ownership

In spite of gigantic opposition, Mayor Dunne of Chicago, and the influences which are co-operating with him, are making substantial progress in the direction of municipal ownership and operation of street railways. The Common Council of the City of Chicago by a vote of 37 to 28 adopted an ordinance authorizing the issue of $75,000,000 of Mueller Law certificates with which to purchase the present street railways of the city, and by a vote of 38 to 27 adopted another ordinance providing for municipal operation of the roads after they are purchased. For the ordinance authorizing municipal ownership, 27 Democrats and 10 Republicans voted. Against it, there were 25 Republicans and 3 Democrats. Mayor Dunne was elected a year ago on the municipal ownership issue. Chicago for nearly ten years had been in the throes of controversy and belligerency with the street car companies. Their franchises were expiring, and they insisted on renewal on terms which no considerable part of the public was willing to accept. The street car companies had tried to defeat public sentiment in Chicago by going to the legislature for a bill that would give them what they wanted. They nearly succeeded there, but in the end were defeated and only succeeded in arousing public opinion more strongly against them. Meanwhile the sentiment in favor of municipal ownership was growing. One of Mayor Dunne's first acts was to send for Mr. Dalrymple of the Glasgow municipal street railways to come to Chicago, and give expert advice. Mr. Dalrymple, after a brief stay, gave it as his opinion that Chicago was too corrupt and inefficient in its government to be ready for municipal ownership. This was the occasion of much ribald laughter on the part of the opponents of municipal ownership, and of a general smile all over the country. But it did not discourage Mayor Dunne nor dishearten his supporters. The truth is, it touched the civic pride of Chicago, and made that community more than ever determined to carry out its plans.

The passage of these ordinances, however, is only one stage of the proceeding. Before the ordinances become operative they have to be approved by the voters of the city, to whom they will be submitted at the municipal election in April. The ordinance for providing for municipal operation of the roads has to be approved by three-fifths of the voters voting on the question.

The principal features of the two ordinances just passed are as follows: The municipal ownership ordinance provides for the issuance of $75,000,000 of Mueller law certificates for the purpose of acquiring the street railways of Chicago. The railways may be acquired by purchase, condemnation, or otherwise.

It is provided that the Mueller law certificates shall not become an obligation or liability of the city, but that they shall be paid out of the revenue derived from the street railway properties. A sinking fund is provided for to be used to retire the certificates. The certificates are to be secured by a trust deed or mortgage on the properties and a twenty year franchise. In case of foreclosure and sale purchaser obtains the right to operate the street railways of Chicago for twenty years from date of sale. The ordinance does not go into effect until it has been submitted to the voters and approved by a majority of those voting thereon. The other ordinance provides for submitting to the voters at the April election the question of municipal operation of street railways. This ordinance does not become operative until approved by three-fifths of the votes polled on the proposition.

The Waikiki Marshes

The local improvement fervor might well be spent in part upon the McCully tract proposition and the Waikiki swamp generally. President Pinkham of the Board of Health is at work on plans to remedy evils in this part of Honolulu, which may offer a complete and satisfactory solution of present problems, but the Board is not in a position financially to carry them out.

This McCully tract proposition is important as a matter of sanitation as well as for its possibilities in beautifying the city. A splendid portion of the city is all the time more or less marred by the swampy atmosphere which arises from the almost stagnant pools. In case of an epidemic it would be one of the first spots to be suspected. This is the reason for the Board of Health's activity and it is quite sufficient.

But the civic improvement leaders can bring additional notions to bear on the proposition. The land is capable of becoming very fine property. Some time ago a suggestion was made that a central lake might be dug out, the earth so excavated being used to make the surrounding land higher, and thus a very attractive spot might be made. The practicableness of this idea is a matter for investigation, but it would seem that even if the expense is great the resulting increase of property values would justify the outlay. Any sort of filling in of the McCully tract to make land out of the swamps will add a large area of valuable land to the city, besides greatly adding to the desirableness of property throughout all Waikiki. It will also make possible the beautifying of this part of the city. There is no problem to which improvement clubs can better devote themselves than that of getting rid of the McCully and Waikiki swamps and duck ponds.

The Hague Tribunal

Bradstreets says that the notion seems to be gradually taking form that The Hague tribunal should become a permanent international body, sitting periodically instead of spasmodically, and should have as its chief function the development of a definite code of international law. This is the substance of the suggestion made by the executive committee of the Interparliamentary Congress lately held at Brussels. It is urged that the tribunal will thus serve as an international senate, to which the interparliamentary union may be attached in the form of a popular branch or International House of Representatives. This proposition seems to bear traces of American origin; whether it will be adopted ultimately is a matter that the future must determine.

Apparently the Chinese boycott is not subsiding; the Senate has provided for a commission to investigate it.

The Hutchins grand jury does not seem deterred in its work simply because Anin did not go to jail on the first onslaught. Apparently it is after

SONGS AND MUSIC SWEET AS VOICE

THE COLUMBIA GRAPHOPHONE IS A WHOLE LITTLE WORLD OF MUSIC IN ITSELF.

A million years may come and go and still the Columbia Graphophone will repeat the sayings, the songs and the music of today as sweet as the voice itself, as strong and impressive as the very words out of the mouths of powerful speakers, as rich and enchanting as the music direct from the instruments in the hands of the great masters.

Do you want entertainment in your home? It's mighty nice to know that you can have it at any hour in the day or night, and with no expense or exertion. Have you a baby in your home? If you have, it will be worth $50.00 to let that baby hear the Columbia Graphophone,—such sport you never heard of.

You can secure a Columbia Graphophone free of charge by becoming a subscriber to The Star. The plan will be explained at this office.

Ties Hands Supervisors

USELESS FOR THEM TO PASS ANY MORE CRIMINAL ORDINANCES UNDER LATE RULING.

County Attorney Douthitt gave some advice to the board of supervisors last night that is of more than passing interest. He told them that it was practically a waste of time for them to enact any more ordinances imposing imprisonment or fines for criminal offenses.

He said that under the recent decision of the Supreme Court in the spraying ordinance, knocking out the imprisonment clause, county ordinances were a dead letter. In event of a fine being levied and the defendant refused to pay, there was nothing that could be done.

Douthitt suggested that it would be all right to pass ordinances similar to the curbing law, for a lien could be obtained on the property for the expense, in event of the property owner refusing to put down the curb on his own account. But it was useless in other character of offenses.

Ah WA WAS CRAZY. Ah Wa formerly assistant cook on the steamer W. G. Hall, was committed to the insane asylum yesterday. Wa tried to jump overboard from the boat sometime ago. A BRIEF WHICH READS LIKE A NOVEL

"The advent of this niece marks the entrance of discord and trouble into the previously harmonious and affectionate home life of the Notleys; the faithful old wife who had loved and lived and worked by Notley's side during the long and weary years that went to the making of the Notley fortune, was thrust from her place as mistress of the home, was grossly taunted as a 'black woman' by the stranger in her own home and was subjected to personal violence at the hands of the man who never before touched her save in the way of kindness; the old love of the father for the children of that mother—the children who had helped to make the family fortune—became obscured; the happiness of former years was replaced by the quarrels, distrust and dislike which almost invariably accompany the entrance of a designing stranger into a home; the old conditions of affectionate family unity departed upon the appearance of Emma Danford and as such things unfortunately always do, the subservient of Notley to her views grew with the flight of time. She had no love for the 'black woman'; she had no love for the children of that 'black woman'; she felt so secure in her position of dominance and control over Notley that, when stung and spurred by anger, she did not hesitate to make declarations concerning the disposition of his property, and in the will which is attacked here, her boasts are made good and her predictions are verified to the letter,—she knew whereof she spoke."

The brief sets out that after the niece's marriage her influence remained and charges cruel treatment and neglect of Mrs. Notley, continuing as follows: THE WIFE DISPLACED. "What reason can be assigned for this degradation of a worthy woman except the distorting influence of the woman in whose house the second codicil and will were written and his death occurred? Of what high crime had this worthy old lady been guilty, that she should have been subjected to such unseemable treatment as this? How could Notley justify the cruel wrong, how could he explain it away, except by pointing to the woman who controlled him from the first, who introduced discord into his home, whose machinations disrupted his family, who made her boasts about his will, and who made good those boasts and verified them to the last bitter letter. If Mrs. Notley had been a wicked woman, if she had been incompetent as a mother or a failure as a help mate, one could understand this outrageous supplanting of the wife who was good enough until Emma Danford appeared; but from one end of this record to the other not one word can be found in the way of criticism and disparagement of this lady. ***

TROUBLE IN THE HOME. "The sharp contrast between the antecedent home life and the home life under the Danford regime; the strife, trouble and antagonism that ensued upon her appearance; Notley's significant change of attitude towards his family; his dastardly treatment of his wife; his equally dastardly treatment of his old friends; Emma Danford's despicable treatment of Mrs. Notley and her children; Notley's submission to Emma Danford; his lavish attention to her; his withdrawal of confidence from his family to transfer it to her; his continuous and habitual acquiescence in her will; the relation of confidential intimacy that obtained between him and her, as all these things are attributable to some cause; somebody brought them about and is it too much to say that there is evidence from which a candid jury could have identified the originator of those wretched but characteristic conditions? Is there not evidence from which a candid jury could have readily inferred that Emma Danford was the cause of this situation so reeking and dripping with undue influence? *** Even those who practice the arts and employ the subterranean agencies of undue influence act upon some motive; and unfortunately as observed in the Parish will case, a pecuniary motive is usually found too strong for most other human motives to contend with; and the difficulty of resisting temptation of this sort is universally acknowledged. Where the path to wealth lies through the smooth and easy road of acting upon such a submissive acquiescence as this testator whether by attentions or importunities, where for a long time the opportunities for using such appliances are continued and the chance for interference therewith are slight and at rare intervals, it is cause for regret rather than for surprise when we found that the means have been used and the result attained."

A SINISTER INFLUENCE. Finally, the attorneys close by declaring that Notley wrote falsehoods to his son about dispositions of his property and they end with the following: "What influence was leading the old man after he had lived the allotted time of life, to prevaricate and lie—a man who Mr. Brown testified was as honest a man as ever walked and which statement we concede to be the truth? Why was he commencing to lie in his old age and prevaricate and conceal? Not certainly from any impulse from within. His heart had been honest all his life. From where did it come if not from the same individual who evidently induced him for seven years to conceal the articles of adoption from his wife and children and who by arrangement was called his niece and who called him uncle when they stood in the relation of father and daughter by solemn obligations duly attested and placed in her possession? Who led him to prevaricate and lie in his old age but the one whose letters were

The "Great Diamond Robbery," a melodrama of the intense kind will be given to-night by the Buhler Company at the Orpheum. The play deals with the robbery of some very valuable diamonds as well as the love affairs of the villain, hero and heroine. There is plenty of comedy, so on the whole "The Great Diamond Robbery" is sure to please. Next week Radium Dance will be introduced.

MUSIC OF A VERY HIGH ORDER

SCHUBERT'S B MINOR SYMPHONY. PEER GYNT SUITE BY GREIG. INDICATES ITS CHARACTER.

The program of the concert to be given by the Honolulu Symphony Society includes some musical numbers of a high order. The B Minor symphony of Schubert is acknowledged to be one of the most beautiful symphonies ever written. Another rare number will be the Peer Gynt suite by Grieg. A string quartet will play the allegro con trio from Beethoven's quartette number one. The Symphony Society is living up to its promise of presenting music of the highest standard in its concerts.

Miss Maud Kinney, solo pianist, will play Chopin's B Minor Scherzo, which will give her an opportunity to show her exquisite interpretation of this masterpiece.

Miss Drusilla Marx, vocal soloist, will be accompanied by the full orchestra in Siebel's song from Gounod's opera Faust.

A Mannerchor is not often heard in Honolulu. The men singing in this chorus are our best soloists, so their ensemble singing should produce a fine effect.

COURT UPHOLDS NEWSPAPER MEN

FRESNO JUDGE DECIDES GRAND JURY HAD NO RIGHT TO ASK THEM TO REVEAL INFORMANT.

FRESNO, January 25.—The contempt proceedings against W. A. Fitzgerald city editor of the Fresno Morning Republican, and B. R. Walker, a reporter, were today dismissed by Superior Judge George E. Church. Fitzgerald and Walker were cited for contempt because they refused to reveal the source of their information on which was based an article concerning the doings of the Grand Jury. The Judge ruled that a Grand Jury has no right to investigate a charge of disclosing to the jury secrets, because the offense is a misdemeanor, and should be taken up by proceedings in a Justice's court, rather than in an investigation in the Grand Jury room. The Grand Jury having no jurisdiction, had no right to ask questions of the newspaper men.

MURDERER MAKES TOY SCAFFOLD

MECHANICAL DEVICE SHOWING AN EXECUTION BRINGS HARVEST OF NICKELS TO MAN.

LOUISVILLE (Ky) December 25.—Perhaps the most gruesome means ever employed by any one to gather in a few shakels is that engineered by William Vandalkan who is to be hanged January 19th for the murder of Fanny Porter. Vandalkan has for weeks been laboring with his pocket-knife making a scaffold. He made a dummy figure and by a simple mechanical device arranged that the trap would open only when a nickel was dropped in the slot. Over the scaffold Vandalkan has placed a sign which reads: "Drop a nickel in the slot and see how it looks for a man to be hanged." Nearly every visitor who calls at the jail puts in a nickel.

ANTI-SALOON CRUSADE. The Anti-Saloon League is at present bending its efforts towards the suppression of illicit selling by small dealers. The Notley will was sustained by Judges Little and Robinson and also on appeal in the Supreme Court and a writ of error is now asked, for the purpose of an appeal to Washington.

Band Will Make Tour

SUPERVISORS UNANIMOUSLY DECIDE IN FAVOR OF ALLOWING THE BAND TO GO.

And the band goes to the mainland to drum up the tourists, as Captain Berger the leader, expressed it last night. The authority for the band to make the trip and be absent four months from the Territory, was given at a meeting of the board of supervisors last night. The matter was introduced and supported by Supervisor Moore, although the motion to appropriate the necessary money and allow the band to be absent the desired period was passed unanimously.

Moore in introducing the subject said that he was in favor of the idea for he felt sure that it would be one of the finest means of advertising these islands, that could be undertaken. Captain Berger the leader and J. C. Cohen who will manage the band and furnish the cash to make the tour, were present and were called upon to speak. "Gentlemen," said Captain Berger, "I don't want any of you to think that if the band is allowed to go to the mainland that we will go on any pleasure trip. We will go as missionaries to drum up the tourists for Hawaii."

He submitted a statement showing the increase in expenses that would be necessary. The monthly pay roll for the band is $1500 and the incidentals $100, so for the four months that the band would be absent a saving of $5,000 would be made for the county. It was desired to have an appropriation of $750 for four months in order that new music, new uniforms, instruments and twelve additional players could be added to the band. This would bring the standard of the band up and while the cost would be $3,000, there would still be a saving of $3,000 to the county.

Manager Cohen spoke in favor of the plan and said that it had the support of the business community, the press and in fact the general community favored it. Cohen said that the Promotion Committee would have taken favorable action endorsing the proposition that afternoon had not the funeral of Col. Allen prevented such action being taken. Cohen spoke of the splendid advertising that the band's previous trip to the Portland exposition had proved for Hawaii.

Adams inquired the character of music that would be wanted, what kind of program pleased the public. Captain Berger, with a burst of enthusiasm interrupted and craved permission to again speak.

"Rapid changes," said he. "That was the secret of our success. We started with a piece by the brasses, and the people said 'Ah,' the first surprise, then we had the girl sing and then the people said 'Ah,' another surprise; then we changed and had the stringed instruments and the people said 'Ah' and there was the third surprise."

Continuing, Cohen outlined his idea for extensive pictures for his show, showing the band as a group then smaller posters showing Captain Berger, the soloists and the quintette clubs. He said that the cost of the paper alone would be $12,000. He explained that the reason there was so much need for prompt action now was to enable him to get his bookings arranged.

The plan is to have the band absent in June, July, August and September. The increased appropriation authorized would give four months in which to prepare for the trip. Cohen also proposed to have scenery showing Hawaiian views and to carry that with the band.

Moore moved that the desired appropriation be allowed and that the band be permitted to make the trip and that the increase in the appropriation be expended under the supervision of a committee of two of the supervisors. Cox seconded the motion.

Lucas said that while he did not wish to oppose anything that would be for the interest of Hawaii, still he thought that the sentiment of the public and the business community in particular, should be ascertained regarding the absence of the band. The motion finally passed unanimously. Lucas and Adams explaining that they voted aye, subject to the wishes of the business community, and if it were developed later that the sentiment was against the band being allowed to make the trip, then they would withdraw their support of the measure. Adams as vice chairman appointed Chairman George W. Smith and Moore to serve on the music committee.

ALEXANDER'S HISTORY. Professor W. D. Alexander has announced his intention of re-writing his history of Hawaii. The work will, as planned, be much broader in its scope than the existing history. This is made practicable by the discovery of much new material in the public archives.

WOMAN'S BOARD. The Woman's Board of Missions met at 2:30 yesterday afternoon, and immediately adjourned for one week as an expression of sympathy for Mrs. W. F. Allen, who has long been associated with the work of the organization.

NOTHING DOING ABOUT PASTOR

IT WILL BE TWO WEEKS BEFORE COMMITTEE MEETS TO CHOOSE A NEW MINISTER.

Nothing so far has been done by the committee appointed by the Central Union congregation for the purpose of selecting a successor to Rev. Dr. Kincaid, the present pastor, who has announced his retirement. The committee consists of P. C. Jones, J. P. Cooke and P. L. Horne of the Kamehameha Schools.

"We have not yet had a meeting," said P. C. Jones, chairman of the committee, this morning. "Nor do I think that I will call any for at least a couple of weeks. I have written east for some information which should be forthcoming in about that time. In any event I do not think that the committee would feel justified in making any public announcement before discussing matters with the congregation."

REPUBLICANS MEET TONIGHT

AGREEMENT REACHED OVER THE BASIS OF REPRESENTATION AT THE CONVENTION.

To-night at 7:30 the Republican Central Committee will meet for the purpose of finally adopting rules.

A meeting is called an adjourned monthly meeting but as a matter of fact it should have been held last Saturday evening. There was no quorum then and an adjournment had to be taken.

The principal source of discussion among members of the party has been over the representation in convention. One section wished one representative for every fifteen Republican votes cast at the last election and others wanted one in twelve. The other trouble was as to the votes, whether these should be reckoned on the vote for representatives or for the Senate. Both these matters have been agreed upon. The test will be taken on the vote for the Senate and the representation will be one in twelve.

A rule suggested which will unquestionably be adopted is that providing that any delegate to a convention who opposes a regularly nominated candidate shall forfeit his position as delegate.

Verbal changes all through the rules, necessitated by the County law now in effect, will alter the word "district" throughout.

Other amendments to the rules have already been made and thus to-night's meeting will be largely a matter of form, all points of possible dispute having been agreed upon.

PATHETIC CASE OF W. G. CHALMERS

WAS SEVERELY INJURED JUST AS HIS FAMILY WAS ARRIVING FROM THE MAINLAND.

W. G. Chalmers, the superintendent of construction at the Kahauiki military reservation, was conveyed to a private sanitarium yesterday. He has been suffering very much since his accident last Wednesday when his right leg was cut by a band saw just above the knee.

There are circumstances connected with the accident that make it especially pathetic. His wife and two children that he had not seen for a year past were coming to Honolulu on the S. S. Siberia. Some one had just told him that the vessel was coming into the harbor and he turned to wave his hand in a distant welcome to his dear ones. Within a few minutes he was called upon to help get a piece of log out of the band saw. The wood was released but the saw flew out and cut him in the muscles.

One of the children was very ill on arriving in the city and for several days its recovery was considered doubtful.

DICE GAME WITH BIG BETS

WHY RICHARDSON IS SAID TO HAVE EMBEZZLED MONEY FROM THE WATER WORKS.

A big dice game, with five and ten-dollar bets "on the side," is the most striking feature of the Richardson embezzlement trial so far developed.

The game was played at the Anchor Saloon, according to the witnesses, on the night of February 17, 1904, and the theory of the prosecution is that it was Richardson's losses in this game that made him tap the safe of the water works department for $100.

Hackman John Gouviea, who drove the defendant to the water works and back when the money is alleged to have been secured, testified to watching the game. After getting the money Richardson asked him to come in and have a drink, and he went with Richardson. The latter paid some debts among the other players and then entered the game. Gouviea testified to the bets on the side.

R. A. Woodward, a clerk in the office, was the witness on the stand nearly all this morning. He gave testimony from the books of the office.
