Plans To Extend Local Wirelessness

NAVAL STATION RECEIVES A NEW METER AND WILL DO SOME EXPERIMENTING TO INCREASE THE DISTANCE OF SERVICE FROM HERE—A POLE NEEDED SOMEWHERE ON THE MOUNTAINS FOR LONG DISTANCE.

A new wireless wave meter has been received at the wireless office of the United States Naval Station here and experiments are soon to be made with a view to ascertaining the reason of the present difficulty in receiving wireless messages at the local station from vessels at sea when the mountains of this island lie between the operators.

This meter will be installed at once and experiments will start as soon as installation is complete. A study of the electric waves as affected by different atmospheric pressure and terrestrial influences is a delicate research. The experiments will be made with a view to determining what must be done to enable the local wireless at the Naval station to communicate, for example, with a battleship half-way or more between here and San Francisco.

It may be necessary to establish a pole on the top of one of the mountains and so transfer the electric jolt.

It is not likely that the U. S. S. West Virginia, which the other day talked with San Francisco 850 miles out, made any attempt to reach Honolulu, for her operator well knew that it has heretofore proved impossible to connect with the Naval station with the present incomplete apparatus. The Naval instruments are complete enough but they have no good opportunity to manifest for the reason that there is no pole on the mountain top, nor on the other side of the island.

The West Virginia holds all kinds of wireless records and her feats only go to show that communication by wireless between Hawaii and California is possible if a little money is spent to accomplish it. The West Virginia, it is interesting to note, when she communicated with Manila while she was at Chefoo, communicated at night and found it impossible to do so in the daytime.

Girl Pickets Help Striking Telegraphers

The girl members of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union of America are having a picnic during the telegraph strike. Few of them are dependent upon their own exertions for a living and they are helping in every way to arouse public sympathy for their cause. There are more of them in New York than elsewhere and their proselyting work is there most conspicuous.

CHICAGO SENDS ENCOURAGEMENT

ASSOCIATION OF COMMERCE OF AMERICA'S SECOND CITY WRITES OF HAWAII ALLIGATOR PEARS AND PINEAPPLES AND EXPRESSES WISH FOR CLOSER TRADE RELATIONS WITH THE ISLANDS—PROPOSED NEWSPAPER EXCURSION TO HAWAII.

The weekly report of Secretary H. P. Wood of the Promotion Committee contains the following this week: The following letter from Mr. H. C. Barlow, executive director of the Chicago Association of Commerce, is of general interest:

"Chicago, Sept. 12, 1907.

"Mr. H. P. Wood, Secretary, Hawaii Promotion Committee, Honolulu.

"Dear Sir:—I take great pleasure in formally acknowledging for the Chicago Association of Commerce, receipt of the carload of pineapples and avocados consigned to this market and Association, in charge of Mr. J. E. Higgins, and judiciously advertised and distributed here, through Mr. T. Edw. Wilder, chairman of the Publicity Committee of this Association.

"The Association, represented by its largest committee, the Ways and Means Committee, tasted your delightful fruit with much interest, and through this demonstration of your remarkable resources, and the opportunity remarks by Mr. Higgins, were led to think of the islands as trade territory worthy closer union with the Great Central Market.

"May this reciprocity be steadily cultivated on both sides. With best wishes for the work of your Association, I am, very truly yours, H. C. BARLOW, "Executive Director."

Mr. J. P. Baumgartner of the Santa Ana Daily Register writes that his plans for sending a party of several young ladies to Hawaii are not definitely decided upon as yet, but he hopes to be able to win out.

Mr. Jared G. Smith informs me that the revised manuscript for pamphlet on "Agricultural Possibilities of Hawaii" will be ready about October 1st.

I am pleased to say that our efforts looking to the securing of two or three characteristic photographs of the different parts of the Pacific—which we hope to have bound in album form—are meeting with encouragement. The secretaries of the Seattle and San Diego Chambers of Commerce write that they will secure the desired photographs and forward them at an early date. Respectfully submitted, H. P. WOODS, Secretary.

AVOIDING THE SUITS

Harmony again reigns between the Tax Office and the Road Department. The employees of the County departments are to be made to pay their taxes, and it is probable that the money will be collected without bringing suits and garnishment proceedings to secure it.

Tax Collector Holt has received the following letter:

Honolulu, T. H., Sept. 25, 1907.

James L. Molt, Esq., Assessor, First Taxation Division, Honolulu, T. H.

Dear Sir:—Answering your favor of the 19th instant, in re employees in the several County Department who failed to pay their personal taxes for the current year, etc., would say that the several heads of the departments have been notified to instruct their men to pay said tax. Respectfully yours, D. KALAUOKALANI, County Clerk, County of Oahu.

As a result of this letter the Road Department got in touch with the Collector with the result that it was agreed that a number of deputies from the Tax office shall be on hand at the next pay day, and the employees of the Road Department will be instructed by Supervisor Johnson to cough up to them to the extent of their ability.

Assessor Holt expects to be able to get the $5 poll tax from each of the 150 or more delinquents in the Road Department in two instalments, and thus in the course of a month's time be able to turn into the treasury the full amount of such delinquency, without putting the men to the almost double expense of being sued for it.

"There should be no great hardship in this way of collecting from the laborers of the County, said Mr. Holt, "because most of the delinquents have been having pretty steady work, and should continue to have. The decision to turn over to the Counties half of the license fees collected will add very materially to the resources, and should make possible a great deal of road work which could not be anticipated. By the first of next month Oahu should have for disposal something like $40,000 more money, and this should pay for a good deal of work."

BROWN'S CHANCE

The matter of salary for Arthur M. Brown, prosecuting attorney, will come up at to-night's meeting of the Board of Supervisors, and the chances are that the vote will be very close. In any event Brown will still be in the employ of the County tomorrow morning. He will prosecute the case of the Territory against Mapu and Joe before Judge Lindsay, while County Attorney Cathcart will have charge of the work at the Police Court. Rumor has it on good authority that one of the Board will come over on Brown's side tonight, and if he does Brown's appointment will stand.

RECEPTION TO HART

The reception and dance given last night at the Young Hotel, in honor of the visiting Grand Master Mason of California Edward H. Hart, was one of the largest affairs that have been given here for some time. Both the dancing pavilion and the roof garden were very beautifully decorated for the event, the masonic emblems worked out in electric incandescents being very effective. The members of the several Masonic Lodges were with their wives were out in large number, in addition to a large number of local people who are not Masons. Grand Master Hart assisted by Tyler J. D. Tucker and Worshipful Master Robert Hart received the guests in the maula pavilion and after the last guest had been presented dancing to the music of Kani's quintette club was indulged in up to a late hour.

HELENE'S QUICK RUN.

I. I. S. N. Co.'s S. S. Helene has been doing some lively moving this week. Yesterday morning she delivered 23 fine bulls and 12 mules to the Parker ranch, returning to port this morning with cattle and a lot of wool, completing a shipment of 50 tons of wool to be sent to the Coast in the Sierra tomorrow. Today she left again on a special trip to Punaluu for sugar.

CONDOR PICNIC

The Germans of Honolulu are preparing to give a grand picnic at Pearl Harbor on Saturday, October 5, in honor of the men of the German cruiser Condor now in port. On the last occasion of the Condor's calling here, two years ago, a similar entertainment was arranged. This coming event will surpass the previous function and will serve to assist the jolly tars aboard the Condor to retain Honolulu in their memories. A special train will be chartered; music of the best will be furnished; the refreshments, liquid and solid, will be such as to delight and there will be dancing, games, matches of different kinds and an all-round joyous time generally.

COMMODORE SINCLAIR EXPECTS TO SAIL THE LURLINE TO HAWAII AGAIN.

Secretary Woods of the Promotion Committee reports to the committee as follows:

By the Sierra we received a few lines from Commodore Sinclair of the South Coast Yacht Club stating that his Club has added two new boats to its list this season, both of which are probable entries for the 1908 race. One of the boats is about 58 feet water line the other about 80 feet. Mr. Sinclair closes his letter by saying: "I expect to sail the 'Lurline' again though perhaps not to victory."

AN AD. TELLING HOW TO HAVE SERVANTS PURSUADED TO BEHAVE WELL.

A local Japanese newspaper has developed something new in the way of making servants "be good." If you have a Jap servant and he is too lippy and you can't get along very well with him, just dig up $5 and have the editor of the Shinbun call on him and tell him to behave.

The scheme is given publicity in the following advertisement: "AMERICANS! 'The Jiyu Shinbun' "Asks your assistance in furthering friendship between Japan and America; send it $5.00 and it will come to your Japanese servant, teaching him moderation and right-thinking."

OPPOSE THE SALE

COMMITTEE TO CALL ON THE GOVERNOR TO OPPOSE THE SALE OF THE FISH MARKET PROPERTY—DECLARE THAT THE GOVERNMENT OUGHT NOT TO LET PRIVATE PARTIES HAVE IT.

A committee of the Civic Federation will call on Governor Frear at 3 o'clock this afternoon for the purpose of presenting their views on the matter of the proposition of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company to purchase the old Fish Market property at the foot of Alakea street. The views of the committee are against the sale of the property to private parties and the Governor will be urged not to consent to a disposal of it.

In speaking of the matter this afternoon one of the prominent members of the Federation said: "The Civic Federation will oppose the sale of the Fish Market property to the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, or to any other private corporation. We propose to urge the carrying out of the idea embodied in the Robinson report (the report made on various park improvements by an expert brought here for the purpose a year or two ago) which is for making the splendid lot in question a great decorative gateway for the city opening off the new government wharves. The city has more need of the property than of the few thousand dollars which it will bring."

Governor Frear was non-committal when asked about the offer which had been made for the property. He stated that he had not had time to look into the matter and that there was much to be said on both sides. He stated that it was only right that a big transportation company, such as the Pacific Mail, should be given all the opportunity it needed for carrying on its business. As to the price offered ($60,000) he was not in position to say whether it was reasonable or not. At any rate the property has not been of any value, to speak of since it was abandoned as a market, and some use should be made of it.

FIRST HART STORY

SAID IN HIS ORIGINAL CONFESSION OF SHORTAGE THAT NO ONE WAS IMPLICATED WITH HIM—DENIED ANY IRREGULARITIES UNTIL CONFRONTED WITH THE EVIDENCE OF $555 THAT WERE MISSING.

Expert Accountant Henry Davis has practically completed the examination of the books of the local office of the Standard Oil Company and every dollar has been accounted for either by checking the cash and orders or by Davis going around among customers and tallying deliveries and payments. Lionel Hart received much money by check or in cash that he did not account for, but which is now known to have been received by him. One of Hart's confessions was repeated this morning, by the man to whom he confessed, to a Star man.

"Isn't there something wrong in your accounts?" was asked of Hart soon after the kerosene warehouse fire. "No, there is nothing wrong. Everything is all right."

"How about this check for 300 cases of kerosene delivered to Ewa plantation which you cashed and the money for which, $555, you put in your own pocket?"

"Save me!" cried Hart.

"Who is implicated with you?"

"Nobody."

"Are you alone responsible for the crookedness that has been going on?"

"Nobody else knew anything about it," said Hart.

This, in brief, constituted the confession referred to.

Another development in the matter of the disappearance of oil from the

Kakasko kerosene warehouse, learned by inquiry in the neighborhood of the warehouse, is that for a long time small lots of oil, a can or a case at a time, have been taken from the warehouse for use in the immediate neighborhood.

M. A. Silva and Henry Vida have been commissioned to accompany the departed Spaniards and Portuguese, 51 in all, who are to be sent back to Europe via San Francisco per S. S. Sierra tomorrow. There are 36 Spaniards and 15 Portuguese. About half of these were refused admission to the Territory because they are afflicted with trachoma. The immigrants have been royally treated since their arrival here.

A. H. S. S. Missouri, Captain Lyons, shifted from the American-Hawaiian wharf between 6 and 7 o'clock this morning to the Bishop wharf to discharge 1,200 tons of coal which she had aboard to take her around to the Atlantic through the Straits of Magellan. Since she is to go to Salina Cruz instead, she is throwing out her now superfluous fuel in order to make room for that much more sugar. She was shifted from the Ewa to the Walkiki end of the harbor by means of the tug Intrepid and the Young Brothers launches, the Intrepid shouldering her under the starboard bow and the Young mosquito fleet yanking forward. She touched the wharf with a bump, but did nothing more than scrape a little paint.

The sailors of the German third-class cruiser Condor are not heavy drinkers. They get their grog aboard with every meal and so become accustomed to beer that when they go ashore they are not as likely to get "tanked" as are men who never taste anything in the liquor line on ship-board. They are putting considerable money into the purchase of picture-post-cards and photographs of Honolulu, Hawaiian types of beauty and Hawaiian scenes. They are a most orderly and gentlemanly crowd. As compared with the men of the American Big Four squadron in physical appearance they are not as tall, nor as quick in their movements, but they probably tip the scales to a greater extent in proportion to their height, having more flesh to the inch, though they are not as wiry as the Yankees.

Fred Weed is an enthusiastic fisherman, possessing above all other virtues that of patience. Last night he sat for several hours in the delightful cool of the evening at the Aloha boathouse with a rod and line, but caught only two fish and both were blind. It is believed that Fred would not have caught these two if they had not been blind. Fred did not like to take advantage of blind fishes and was about to restore them to the water, when he considered that, being blind, they would only come for his hook again and he thought it was better to let them die once than go through the process several times.

AND OLD SUGAR FORECAST RECALLED

INTERESTING FIGURES REGARDING THE EXPECTED GROWTH OF SUGAR PRODUCTION IN HAWAII AND THE ACTUAL PROGRESS MADE—THE PHILIPPINE SITUATION NOW LIKE THAT OF HAWAII TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO.

The Planters' Monthly republishes part of a pamphlet issued in 1882 which after long discussion of land conditions here gave the conclusion that 44,000 tons was the maximum possible sugar production of all the Hawaiian Islands—divided as follows: Hawaii, 40,000; Maui, 25,000; Oahu, 4,000, and Kauai, 15,000. This was all, the writer decided, that the islands could produce when all sugar lands were developed. In comment the Monthly says:

"The foregoing report very well shows the general understanding of well informed people of that time. Referring particularly to the island of Oahu one of Hawaii's most successful and capable sugar men, after a careful investigation reported on or about the time of the publication of the foregoing, that Ewa plantation (for many years last past the premier sugar plantation of the world with a present output of thirty thousand tons) could possibly be developed into a five thousand-ton plantation.

"The analogy between the Hawaiian situation at that time, and the Philippine situation now is therefore complete, and let us look for a moment at the Hawaiian development and results. We should explain that we are not attempting an argument for or against a reduction of the duty on Philippine sugars, nor to furnish war material for the advocates or opponents of the measure; our object merely to establish the fallacy of attempting to show by a statement of present results what the future production in any country may be of a product naturally adapted to the climatic and soil conditions of that country, and where all that is necessary to increase such production is, as was the case in Hawaii, an application of capital and brains, backed by the American spirit of 'get there.'

"To resume: The report of Engineers Schuyler and Allardt on the water supply for irrigation on the Honolulu and Kahuku ranches, island of Oahu, came in 1889, the purpose of asking for the report being to obtain the opinion of qualified engineers as to the water supply available for irrigation in certain portions of the island of Oahu, and the probability of establishing extensive plantations of sugar cane, therein, to be supplied with water for irrigation from pumps or storage reservoirs.

"These engineers investigated particularly the artesian well supply, it having been theretofore demonstrated that such a supply existed, and reached the conclusion that the supply of water from this source was practically unlimited.

"This marked the beginning of the establishment of the large plantations bordering Pearl Harbor, and in 1902, 20 years after the report on the sugar producing capacity of the Hawaiian Islands was issued and 12 years after the investigations of Schuyler and Allardt the area of land devoted to cane on the island of Oahu was possibly 40,000 acres, with an annual output of about 108,000 tons, and those plantations represent an investment in irrigation enterprises alone of four and one-half millions of dollars.

"The increase in production has taken place in the same ratio on the other islands. On Maui the maximum of yield established by the report above quoted, has been exceeded for some years past by one plantation alone.

"On Hawaii the Hamakua district so disparagingly spoken of long ago exceeded the maximum placed for the entire island.

"New lands have been opened, great irrigation works have been constructed, improvements have been made in manufacture, nine and twelve roller mills have taken the place of three roller mills, and extraction of 93-95 per cent has taken the place of an extraction of 72-75 per cent; great advances have been made in cultivation and fertilization until we find in 1906 a crop of 429,213 tons, divided as follows:

"Hawaii, 137,750 tons; Maui, 102,960 tons; Oahu, 113,750 tons; Kauai, 74,753 tons."

Queen Of The Carnival

One of the most picturesque society events in this country was the annual carnival at Asbury Park, N. J., and one of the most coveted honors is that of Queen Titania. This year the honor has fallen on Miss May Hazelrigg, the 18-years-old daughter of Scott F. Hazelrigg, of Staten Island, New York. She is a graduate of Hollins Institute, Va., and a lover of outdoor sports. Her father is vice president of the Richmond Electric Light and Railroad Company and president of the Midland Beach Railroad and the Atlantic Coast Electric Railway at Asbury Park.

The carnival week was from August 23 to 30 and among the imposing spectacles in addition to the parade, headed by the Queen, was a Children's Festival chorus of 1,000 voices. Friday night, August 30, the grand boardwalk masque fete was held.

ROCHESTER, Minn., Sept. 11.—Dr. C. B. Penrose, of the faculty of the University of Pennsylvania, is at St. Mary's hospital as the result of a fight with a wounded bear while hunting in the Rocky mountains. Dr. Penrose came upon several bears and shot one, wounding it severely. The bear mauling for the doctor and with his hunting knife, he put up a defense, but was badly chewed and clawed, sustaining several gaping wounds. The bear suddenly fell dead when the doctor was exhausted and his life was saved. The rifle bullet caused bear's death. Penrose was brought here on a special car and is being treated by the Mayo brothers, who say he will recover. He is a brother of Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania.

TRUSTS AFTER THEM.
NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—At the sixth annual convention of the New Jersey State Funeral Directors' association, which began in Newark yesterday, President John F. Matthews warned the members that the trust was after the individual members of the association, and advised all to stick closer to the organization.

"The trusts are after us," said the president, "and if we do not keep well banded together they will absorb us one by one until they own us body and soul. Only perfect organization can check and prevent the advances of the trusts."

POLICE COURT HAS A FEW CASES

KOREANS WHO STOLE HONOLULU PLANTATION JUNK ARE SENT TO JAIL.

There were only a few cases in the Police Court this morning, but the ones who were unfortunate enough to be present at the hall of Justice will have a chance to reflect on their wrong doings. The three Koreans Ching Sung Chan, Yi Shee Kim and Yi Yong Tai who were caught yesterday at the Honolulu plantation removing metal, were each given a chance to explain their reasons for their wrong doings and the result was that Chan and Tai were given 90 days while the youngest one of the culprits was given 60 days over on the reef. It seems that Kim did not know what was doing yesterday morning, when he was asked to go down on a little trip to the junk pile outside of the plantation office, but he is well aware of the fact now. Detective Taylor was there yesterday morning, when the plantation policeman requested him to come over and arrest a trio of men who were filling up a couple of wheel barrows with some metal that would mean a good profit in town. Taylor as was requested came over and took the three men without any trouble and brought them up safely to the cooler, so that they would not be in any more temptation.

A charge of larceny in the second degree was entered against them, and at the bar this morning the trio pleaded "not guilty." Each was given a chance to explain the reason for taking over 225 pounds of different metals valued from 7 to 8 cents a pound, but they could not explain to the satisfaction of the court.

Nini, an old Hawaiian, was called upon to answer to a charge of being drunk last night. He was given a fine of $3 and costs.

The next case was Frank Brown, charged with using profane, vulgar and obscene language in front of his home. Officer Espinoza was called on the stand to tell the court what he knew about the case. Brown, when questioned by the judge, denied ever using any vulgar and obscene language, but admitted using a few choice swear words. Judge Andrade asked him if he was drunk, but Brown answered him by saying that he was only "half shot." The judge called him before him and told him that the law did not allow swearing, and that if he wished to swear he had better whisper in the future. Brown was fined $2 and costs.

In the case of Hee Tuck, charged with vagrancy, the witnesses were not present, and the case at request of counsel was put over until Tuesday October the first.

The case of Mago and Harada, on the charge of abduction was put over until tomorrow morning at the request of Attorney Brown.

The case of George Hall alias George Ho Lim, on the charge of assault and battery was at the request of Attorney Brown nolle prossed, as no witnesses were present in court to testify. J. Holmberg was the next one, to answer a charge of selling booze without a license. Judge Andrade told him that he had looked up all the law in the matter, and found that he was guilty as charged and that he would have to pay a fine of $100 if he wished to go free. Holmberg paid his fine and in the future will probably be more careful in his ways that he gives drink around his premises.

COAL SHEDS AND NOT REPAIR SHOP

MUCH OPPOSITION TO THE TERRITORY DISPOSING OF THE OLD FISH MARKET SITE—NO TRUTH IN THE REPORT THAT THE PACIFIC MAIL WANTS TO ESTABLISH REPAIR SHOPS IN HONOLULU—WANTS COAL SHEDS.

The proposition to dispose of the Fish Market property to the Pacific Mail Company will meet with much opposition. As one prominent man puts it: "The Government is asked to dispose of one of its most valuable assets and receive in return about one-half of its value; I hope Governor Frear will turn down the proposition. The statement that the Mail Company will start a repair shop is an inspired one and is positively untrue. The company has never shown any regard for Honolulu or its people. Their steamers touch here, because it is profitable; take away the profit and the ships will cut out Honolulu."

The foregoing gives a good idea of the feeling about town this morning. Many people believe it would be a great blunder to dispose of the Fish Market property; as time goes on, the land is improving in value; the Government does not need the money, it is argued, and why should the land be sacrificed to please a big corporation? There is very little Government land on the waterfront; most of it has been acquired through questionable land exchanges. The time will come when the Territory will be compelled to buy back valuable land which was disposed of for a song. "The Fish Market property is the Territory's one best holding and should be kept for future use and not disposed of for one-half its value," is the way one citizen sizes up the situation.

For some years the Pacific Mail Steamship Company has had in mind the purchase or lease from the Territory of the old fish market shed and site between Alakea and Richards streets on the waterfront, for use as a coal shed, and the coming of the Atlantic fleet to these waters within a few months and the consequent necessity of the Navy having all available space in its reservation here, for the storage of coal, hastens the consideration of the matter, for the Pacific Mail Company will soon have to vacate the site on the Naval reservation where it has been piling its coal.

Through A. L. C. Atkinson the Pacific Mail has made an application for the purchase of the fish market property, the application being made to Superintendent of Public Works Holloway, whose department controls the land and structure, and the matter has been referred to Governor Frear. The negotiations are not being carried on with the establishment of any repair shop in view. The fish market is wanted for nothing more nor less than the storage of coal and for this the big fish market structure of steel is peculiarly fitted and very few alterations would have to be made to convert it into an ideal place for the storage of fuel. The company, should the purchase or lease materialize, would erect a high fence around the property and there would be little else to do except arrange some modern device for the transportation of the coal from the shed to the new Alakea street wharf, almost immediately adjoining, where the steamships of the Pacific Mail S. S. Co. will dock as soon as the wharf has been completed. This device will probably consist of an overhead way for the conveyance of coal from the shed direct to the ship.

There have been many suggestions for the utilization of the old fish market. Park Expert Robinson from New York, imported a year or so ago to map out city beautification plans, suggested that it be made into a park and that on the waterfront an ornamental gateway be erected with a handstand over the arch. It has been considered also as an armory and as a warehouse. The talk of the United States Navy gobbling up the fish market for a coal shed is not consistent with the facts, for the Navy does not need it, having a large reservation near at hand and, incidentally, the Navy headquarters at Honolulu are only temporary and everything will be transferred to Pearl Harbor before the Territory is much older.

NEW KIND OF STRIKE

VACAVILLE JAPANESE SUCCESSFULLY DEMAND DISCHARGE OF WHITE LABORERS.

VACAVILLE, Sept. 10.—Vacaville is within a short ride of San Francisco, yet you could easily imagine yourself in a suburb of Tokyo.

Opponents of Japanese exclusion find Vacaville extremely interesting, as it has reached a more advanced state of Japanization than any other town in the United States. Ninety per cent of the people met walking or driving about Vacaville are Japanese.

Fifteen years ago the Japanese began quietly gathering in this beautiful valley, made up of California's most fertile fruit farms.

Today the Japanese control everything. They are as much a power in this valley as they are in the land of the Mikado.

Vacaville has 1200 inhabitants, the majority of whom are Japanese. Extensive laundries, large general merchandise stores and employment agencies elbow each other at every turn in Japtown. There are six billiard parlors, ice cream parlors and the ubiquitous Japanese bank.

Japtown—it is in the center of Vacaville—is built in true Oriental style. The rooms are tiny and dingy. One building contains 26 rooms and houses 26 families. All members except the very small children work in the fruit fields and live, eat and sleep in the same room.

The postoffice does a money order business approximating $30,000 a year, 75 per cent of which goes to Japan. A local bank paid $40,000 to Japanese laborers in two weeks. Most of it went to Japan to enable uncles and brothers and cousins to make the trip to America.

"What wages are paid the Japanese fruit pickers?" was asked of one of the few American ranchers near Vacaville. "We now have to pay from $1.50 to $1.75 per day," was the answer. "Five or six years ago they were willing to work for $1.2 a month and find their own food."

"The Japs run the valley, now, however. One rancher was employing 500 Japanese fruit pickers. One morning

GERMANS HAVE HAPPY RECEPTION

ENTERTAINMENT AT THE LUTHERAN CHURCH IN HONOR OF VISITORS ON CONDOR.

Last night at the German Church the officers and crew of the German man-of-war Condor which is in port, were tendered a reception by the Pastor and members of the church.

Pastor Feiny of the church opened the evening's entertainment by making a short address to the sailors present, assuring them how welcome they were in the community, and also telling them how much the German residents here thought of the visitors from the Fatherland. He told them that the room which they were at present in would be open to them every afternoon and evening while the ship was in port where they could come and meet some of their own countrymen and enjoy a pleasant evening in playing games. He also spoke of the special services that would be held on Sunday, and closed by complimenting the ship, officers and men.

After this little talk had ended, the ladies of the church served refreshments and the rest of the evening was spent in recitations, songs and music. Everyone seemed to enjoy the evening very much. One of the most interesting numbers on the programme was the singing of Miss Ulrich, a young lady who has a soprano voice of no little sweetness. Miss Ulrich is to be married on Tuesday to Professor Kahl, the organist and musical director of the church, whom she has known since childhood. The Captain, Lieutenant and the First Lieutenant of the Condor were present and took a good deal of delight in renewing old friendships for some of the local German colony in Honolulu.

WALLACH AGAIN

Honolulu, T. H., Sept. 25, 1907. EDITOR STAR. I would be much obliged if you would publish this letter. I will know that in writing it I am giving evidence against myself, but if it is a crime to relieve such suffering as existed in the following case, all I can say is that only the heaviest punishment shall cause me to cease curing. There was a little 11-year-old girl in Hilo, who was condemned by the Hilo Board of Health seven months ago as a leper. She had an oval spot 4 inches in diameter on her left cheek with no feeling in the center. She also had a sore 3 1/2 inches in diameter on the sole of her left foot. She was a very poor suffering thing. The Hilo Board wanted to send her, this little girl, to Kalaupapa, but somehow her father and mother managed to leave Hilo with her and brought her to Honolulu, and her case was brought to my attention, and after 3 months treatment I pronounced her cured. She is now on Maui, and very well. I would ask the local Board of Health to furnish me with a similar case to cure, but the patient must have been condemned and pronounced hopeless under oath.

I wish that President Pinkham should have an opportunity to prove me the fraud that he has publicly declared me to be. With very many thanks, I have the honor to be, your obedient servant.

J. LOR WALLACH.

UNCLE SAM TO HELP THE COLLEGE

HOPE FOR A GOOD APPROPRIATION FROM CONGRESS DURING NEXT SESSION.

Governor Frear was engaged today in looking into the matter of getting an appropriation from the Federal Government for the newly established College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts, the establishment of which was made by the last Legislature. The Governor finds that it will require a separate act of Congress or an amendment to the present act by which funds are supplied to the Agricultural colleges of the several states and territories, in order for Hawaii to get her share. Up to the last session of Congress the United States had been appropriating under an act to establish and maintain such schools, $15,000 per year for the first year, with increase from year to year up to $30,000. The last session, however, increased this appropriation so that now the Agricultural and Mechanic Arts colleges of the different states are assisted to the extent of $25,000 for the first year, with an annual increase of the amount of $5,000, up to $50,000 per year each.

Governor Frear expects to make this one of his special matters to push forward in case he is able to get away to Washington next month as he hopes to do. He will try to get a bill through Congress by which the new college for Hawaii will start off with $30,000 the same as other schools already established will get next year. This amount, with the increase, up to $50,000 per year will give the new school a good start, and should bring it rapidly to the front as an educational institution. The appropriation for the next two years made by the last Legislature was only $15,000, of which $10,000 was for salaries and $5,000 for maintenance.

If Governor Frear is able to get away on his contemplated trip to Washington, he expects to leave here in about a month.

"The rancher had to let the white help go." The fruit was ripe and if it hadn't been picked at once would have been ruined.

CONNOR WINS THE CHALLENGE CUP

TIES WITH WALL AT 21 BIRDS AND WINS IN THE SHOOT-OFF—OTHER SCORES.

After thirteen weeks of hard work at the Kakaako traps the members of the Hawaiian Gun Club were rewarded yesterday by seeing Connor win the Challenge Cup from W. E. Wall after a hard struggle. Connor had to do some good shooting yesterday to laud the trophy, both he and Wall were tied at 21 birds, and in the shoot-off of ten birds Wall fell down by missing two birds while Connor got all ten safely. The cup now belongs to Connor, he having won it three times. The other members who have won the cup which have been offered by the Club are Robb and Harvey. The Club will offer another cup, but it will have to be won under different conditions. Darkness comes so soon now, that the number of birds will be limited to ten, which will have to be shot at from different angles. This will make the shoot much more interesting.

The following scores were made yesterday:
 J. W. Harvey, 17 out of 20.
 J. E. Whitney, 20 out of 21.
 K. B. Porter, 19 out of 20.
 E. Kopke, 17 out of 23.
 I. Spalding, 18 out of 20.
 W. E. Wall, 21 out of 21.
 J. Connor, 21 out of 22.
 The following scores have been made by the members at the matches for the last thirteen weeks:
 J. Connor, July 3, 25 out of 30.
 K. B. Porter, July 10, 19 out of 20.
 J. Connor, July 17, 20 out of 25.
 W. E. Wall, July 24, 21 out of 24.
 T. Treadway, July 31, 21 out of 27.
 J. E. Whitney, August 7, 20 out of 26.
 K. B. Porter, August 14, 20 out of 20.
 J. W. Harvey, August 21, 20 out of 20.
 E. Kopke, August 28, 22 out of 30.
 J. W. Harvey, Sept. 4, 20 out of 20.
 E. Kopke, Sept. 11, 22 out of 27.

 J. Connor, Sept. 25, 21 out of 22.

LOS ANGELES TO HAVE OCEAN LINE

A COMPANY IS FORMED TO RUN STEAMERS TO MEXICO AND THE ORIENT.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 14.—A direct line of steamers and sailing vessels between Los Angeles and Mexican ports, and the inauguration of an Oriental steamship line from Southern California, are the objects of a new Los Angeles company that has filed articles of incorporation with the Secretary of State and which proposes having vessels in commission within thirty days. The company is capitalized for $1,000,000 and is to be known as the Mexican Trading Company with general offices in Los Angeles. The Stillwells of Kansas City, who are building the Oriental Railroad to Topolobampo, Mexico, and Major Henry Phipps of Pittsburg, are also said to be interested in the new enterprise.

ABOUT MOLOKAI
 "I am tired," said President Pinkham of the Board of Health at Honolulu, to a newspaper man recently, "of all this talk about the martyrdom of those who go to Molokai to work for the lepers there. The superintendent of the settlement, the doctors, nurses, sisters and brothers who live and work there, do not look upon it as martyrdom, and there is no reason why any one else should. There has been enough talk of this kind, and it is time it stopped. The magazines don't want to print anything about the settlement unless it is sensational."—Argonaut.

"RIPPER" ESCAPES.
 BERLIN, Sept. 12.—An insane man named Lelsky, arrested on suspicion that he was the "ripper" who murdered several school girls recently, has escaped from the observation ward of the prison hospital. The news of his escape created consternation and the fear prevails that fresh crimes will be perpetrated.

SPORT NOTES

Football seems to be suffering a draw back this year, and the Punahou team is the only team so far that is ready for the coming battles on the gridiron this season. There is a lot of good material at Punahou this year, and with the hard coaching that the team will get from Manager Lidgate, this year's team should be able to win nearly all the games as they did last year.

On Saturday night the Myrtle Boat Club will give a smoker to its members and friends. This smoker will be a sort of love feast, to celebrate the decisive victory that was won by the Myrtles over the Healanis last Saturday. Invitations of a very pretty design have already been sent out and the Myrtle members promise a good time to all that come.

No word has been received so far from Japan in reference to the trip of the Saints to the Land of the Rising Sun, and unless some word is received by the China, the chances of the team going this year are very slim. Letters have been received here by local Japanese, and in them the news comes, that the baseball team of Keo University will make a trip to America this coming spring or summer, and the chances are that they will stop off here for at least one steamer and play a series of games. The sailors from the Big Four think that the Japs would have very little chance of winning a game, as the team from the battleship Wisconsin one of the poorest teams in the fleet had very little trouble in winning from the best teams in Japan without any practice.

The second class yacht Princess owned by Prince Cupid, will not be able to take part in the race on Sunday for the Macfarlane trophy, as the injuries she sustained last Saturday in the race for second class yachts have been found to be so serious that it will be impossible to get her ready in time for the race. A good deal of interest is being taken in the coming race, and the entries are coming in very fast to Henry Roth who has charge of them. The new course that will be used for the first time should be a very interesting one to the people on shore, as the yacht will turn at a stake boat anchored off the Moana Hotel, and therefore will give the land folks a chance to see the yachts when they are bunched together. It is very probable that over six yachts will be entered for the race.

The new tennis courts that have been built at the Country Club are very nearly ready for play, and by the end of the week it is hoped that the members will be able to get out and enjoy their favorite game. The court has been built under the supervision of A. T. Brock the veteran tennis player, and nothing that he knows about courts have been spared in the making of these new courts, which will be the best in the Territory when they are completed. The back nets are in place, and every thing has been done to make it comfortable for the players so that the strong winds that blow from over the Paik, will be broken to a certain extent by the vines and trees that have been planted. It is very possible that an open tournament will be held in the near future on the courts of the Country Club, which will be looked forward to by all the tennis players in the Territory.

Jess Woods who has charge of the coming series of baseball games with the coast team, has decided on the make up of the committee that will help him in picking out the team that will represent Hawaii in the series. He has asked Bert Bowers and Dr. Raymond to act with him, and with the captain that will be elected by all the players, he will have an impartial collection of men to decide the team. Practice will start in the near future and every one will have a chance to make the team. The selection of Bert Bowers seems to meet with a good deal of approval from all concerned. In the case of Dr. Raymond as he is not connected with any of the local teams he will be able to act in a fair and impartial manner in the selection of players. There will be no appeal from the selection of the committee, and it is up to every player to get out and show what he is worth, so that when the coast team arrives, the best collection of players in the Territory will be ready for the cry "Play ball."

ONE OF ABLEST STATE DOCUMENTS

GOVERNOR FREAR'S RECENT INAUGURAL ADDRESS IS VERY WARMLY COMMENDED.

In our opinion Governor Frear's inaugural address is one of the ablest state documents produced during the existence of Hawaiian government and in its analysis of the existing situation with regard to the most vital matters of land settlement, the sugar industry, diversified industries and immigration, is very reassuring.

The governor has a complete understanding of all the conditions simple and complex in this regard. His discussion of them, revealing his intended policy, is both inspiring of confidence that established industries will be conserved and encouraging of hope that the newer sources of wealth will be stimulated by all legitimate means the administration can bring into play.—Planters' Monthly.

WELCOME TO THE NEW PASTOR

METHODIST CHURCH GIVES WARM GREETING TO THE REV. DAVID CRANE.

Nearly all the members of the Methodist church were present last night at the church, to welcome the Rev. David Crane, the newly arrived pastor, who has come to take charge of the church's work, and to also hear an address from the Rev. J. W. Wadman. The address made by the Rev. Mr. Wadman was very interesting to the congregation, as he told them that in nearly every city he visited he either met some one from Honolulu, or some one who had been here and who were constantly singing the praises of the charming spot, as they called it.

Mr. Crane said that he had always heard about the beauties of Honolulu, but he did not know how to express the feeling he had for the place now, that he had seen it. He said that he was very much pleased with the church building and parsonage, and he earnestly hoped that he and the people would get along well together, and that everything would be done in harmony and concord, for the general good of everyone concerned.

DIED.

RENOUNCES HUSBAND TO GET FORTUNE

NEWS OF FINAL SEPARATION MEETS WITH APPROVAL OF NEWPORT.

NORFOLK, September 11.—Society has been semi-officially informed that Mrs. Burke-Roche Batonyi and her husband, formerly a professional whip have separated. No scandal is attached to the separation, it is understood nor is there any reference to that old social standby "incompatibility of temper."

Aged Frank Work, a millionaire many times over, now on his deathbed in New York, has been implacable in his hatred of Batonyi ever since the marriage of the former whip and Mrs. Burke-Roche was announced. Since the ceremony he has refused to see his daughter. Recently, he issued an ultimatum. His daughter must either renounce her husband and sign a pledge never to live with him again, or suffer disinheritance, not for herself alone, but for her two sons as well.

It is the thought of condemning her boys to poverty that is said to have caused Mrs. Batonyi to decide upon the renunciation.
 Meanwhile Batonyi has parted with his wife here and is living in bachelor lodgings.
 The affair is creating all sorts of talk in the social set here, few members of which have ever consented to meet Batonyi, save in his capacity as a teacher of four-in-hand driving. Great sympathy is felt for his wife, who prior to her second marriage, was the divorced wife of W. Burke-Roche.

JUST LIKE FEMALE ROCKS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—The United States National museum has just published a report on the diatoms, known as the jewels of the plant world dredged from the bottom of the Pacific ocean by the fish commission steamer Albatross in its annual cruises in search of scientific and other material. The title of the volume is "Report on the Diatoms of the Albatross Voyages in the Pacific Ocean, 1888-1904," by Dr. Albert Mann, a collaborator with the museum in biological investigations. From the great mass of material, grotesque fishes caught far down in the sea, peculiarly shaped animals brought for the first time to the light of day, and plants of sorts unknown to botanists, Dr. Mann has singled out diatoms as especially worthy of a report, both from a scientific and from a general point of view. In the report are described myriads of tiny growths, many of them invisible to the naked eye, but which, placed under a microscope, appear marvels of symmetry and color.

These minute plants, some covering a pin point and a few giants rivaling a pin head, although found everywhere, under rocks, in rivers, along the sea shore, in lakes, in the gulf of Mexico or the Arctic ocean, have received comparatively little systematic study from botanists. And this is true in spite of the fact, rarely known, that they are on the market, as polishing powders sold either as "tripoli" or, mixed with soap under some fancy name, that one widely known brand of tooth powder is composed entirely of diatom shells, that they are employed as a substitute for asbestos in most of its uses, and that at least indirectly they form a not inconsiderable part of the world's food supply.

Among the more abject inhabitants of Lapland and Bohemia, says Dr. Mann, the diatoms are actually used as an adulterant for food. Under the name of "berg mehl" earth rice in diatoms is mixed with flour, fat, etc., and eaten. Commenting upon this Dr. Mann says:

"It is hardly supposable that this fossil earth contains any appreciable amount of nourishment. The philosophy of the practice is probably the fact that where a hungry man has a stomach capacity of two quarts and a food supply of only a pint he can cajole himself and gain a sense of plethoric bounty by adding three pints of inert matter to his supply—a sort of square meal, it is true, but a very hollow one."

In connection with the general food value of diatoms, he says: "The diatoms do, however, form a considerable part of the world's food supply, at least in an indirect way, for they are one of the principal sources of nourishment for mollusks, that is, clams and oysters, whose stomachs always contain large quantities of these plants, as well as constituting a good part of the food of small fishes and of the animal organisms on which larger fish feed. Thus they are a sort of primary source of organic food on the abundance of which many of our most valued food products depend."

These quotations are taken from a descriptive pamphlet on diatoms published two years ago by the Smithsonian Institution, which now has especial present interest in connection with the "Albatross" dredgings. It is not so much the industrial value however, of these little known plant jewels that presents them to investigators, as the unique place they occupy in the biological world. Researches have been conducted recently into their value in determining the origin of sea bottoms and the direction and extent of the currents which carry them.

Standard works describe a diatom as one of a family of "minute unicellular algae having a siliceous covering of great delicacy, each individual multiplying by spontaneous division." That is perfectly true. In other words, it is a very tiny water plant with a protecting case of sparkling glass-like substance. To appreciate its beauty one must put it under a microscope. Then enlarged from 25 to 600 diameters, it appears a glistening jewel of a rare order.

Although diatoms, when examined closely are known to be constructed not very artistically, like the lid and bottom of a pasteboard box they still have not been neglected in their finish. "Indeed, it may be stated safely," says Dr. Mann, "that there is hardly a kind of surface ornamentation known that has not been utilized in beautifying these structures. Polished beads of varying sizes arranged in radiating or concentric rows, shining bars, wavy ridges, delicate watch case milling, hexagonal network, the interspaces of which are often further ornamented with secondary sculpture, intricate arabesque designs, in short, a diversity and delicacy of embellishment that makes these plants the most ornate of all living objects." And none of them larger than a pinhead.

A study of their life in the water has revealed the fact that they feed upon inorganic substances in solution in the water about them. Their food must have sunlight, and, therefore subterranean streams and the deeper parts of the sea are forbidden them while they are alive.

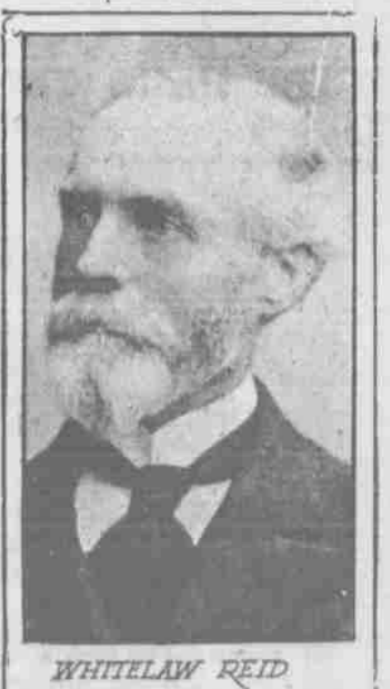

They are able to multiply merely by a single plant splitting down the middle and forming two plants, which in turn after a little development and separate nourishment, split again.

Some diatoms grow fixed to the bottom or to other plants, but there are large numbers of them which move about from place to place in the water. Their motion for a long time, puzzled biologists and botanists. It is conceded generally however, that these tiny plants creep about by themselves. Some investigators have gone so far as to say that they swim, but they are found helpless and inert if not in contact with some fixed substance.

"There will be no difficulty for any one interested in the examination of these plants in finding them," says Dr. Mann, "either as living or as fossil forms. Whatever there is a brown coloration of the surface of the mud, submerged stones, or twigs, not a red yellow which is due to iron, but a brown yellow to almost black, there are diatoms in abundance. It is their characteristic color when found in masses, and a little of the material placed under the microscope will reveal thousands of them. Or if fossil material is needed, diatomaceous earth can be found in almost every state of the Union, and almost every land on earth."

Dr. Albert Mann is the only American investigator on record who has made a thorough study of these plant jewels.

WHITELAW REID

Rumors are once more afloat that Mr. Reid is about to withdraw from the position of American Ambassador to Great Britain. The reason is given plainly. He can not afford to go on as he began, and even his great income can not stand the strain involved by ceaseless hospitalities upon the largest scale.

This is a matter that ought to be placed upon a different basis. It is easy to say that Mr. Reid's position does not demand a display that only immense private resources can accomplish, and that entertainments upon a lavish and princely scale are incompatible with the traditional simplicity of the republic. As a matter of fact, Mr. Reid is doing precisely what he is expected to do by the vast number of Americans who visit England and who would be annoyed if the American embassy took other than a first place in the social competition. On Independence Day, for example, Mr. Reid gave a garden party to 4,000 guests, most of whom were Americans. That party could not have cost him a cent less than $10,000, and this particular party was but one of an interminable series. Mr. Reid pays $60,000 a year for house rent alone and yet the only entry upon the other side of his balance sheet is his salary of $17,500 a year.

Of course, Mr. Reid is a rich man, but if he finds the financial strain of social entertainments too heavy even for him, what must be the lot of other ambassadors upon whom the calls are nearly as heavy and who are relatively poor men? Mr. White's predicament at Paris, for example, was a painful one. He also had to do the "right thing" on Independence Day. The embassy was far too small to accommodate the crowds of Americans who expected an invitation, and therefore Mr. White had to hire an hotel for the occasion and pay the ruinous cost from his own by no means well stocked pocket.

It is not good that any position under the American government should be open only to very wealthy men. Neither is it good that the country's need for the best diplomatic intelligence should be hampered by considerations of personal fortune. The question ought to be faced in a practical manner, and not by mere platitudes about democratic institutions and republican simplicity. Every American official in Europe knows the kind of temper aroused in the average tourist by what seems a failure to extend the courtesies of the embassy. It may be that a lavish social display was not necessary fifty years ago, but it is necessary today, and no one knows this better than those who are practically responsible for the good name of the country. It may be difficult to solve the problem, but it ought not to be impossible and America can well afford to pay for the solution.—Argonaut.

SAVE ADDICKS' CASINO STOCK. NEWPORT, September 10.—Two shares of Newport Casino stock belonging to J. Edwards Addicks, which had been levied on to satisfy a judgment obtained by a Newport firm, were saved from the auctioneer's hammer yesterday by the settlement of the claim with interest and costs, amounting to nearly $500. The stock is valued at about twice that amount.

MOTIONS DENIED
Judge Robinson denied two motions in the case of the Oahu Railway & Land Company vs. James Armstrong this morning, and appeals have been taken to the Supreme Court.
One of these motions was to allow the introduction of more testimony in the case, and the other was to let L. L. McCandless get into the suit as a party defendant. Both of these motions were made through Attorney A. G. M. Robertson.
Judge Robinson denied the motions on the grounds that he no longer has jurisdiction to that extent, the matter having been passed on by the Supreme Court. On the appeals being taken, however, the injunction against Armstrong will be stayed pending a decision.
The case is one in which the railway company secured a permanent injunction against Armstrong to prevent him from maintaining a certain pipe line across a street in Pearl City. McCandless went into the case because he is interested in the property affected.

MAGOON ANSWERS IN LAUNDRY CASE

DENIES THAT THERE WAS NOT ADEQUATE CONSIDERATION FOR THE TRANSFER.

J. Alfred Magoon, one of the defendants in the case of the Troy Laundry Machinery Co. vs. The Sanitary Steam Laundry Company and J. Alfred Magoon, today filed his answer to the bill of complaint filed by the plaintiff.
In his answer Magoon denies that he was general manager of the Sanitary Steam Laundry Company at any time, that the Company ever owned any lands, and says that the sale of the property to himself was bona fide.
He further denies that the transfer of the property to himself was made without his assuming any obligations, but that rather he had assumed liabilities amounting to nearly $5,000. Also that there was nearly $2,000 due for rent which he was obliged to pay to keep the property; and denies that the sale was a secret preference.
The answer also declares that he took open and ostensible charge of the business, and operated it under the name of the Sanitary Steam Laundry, and not as the Sanitary Steam Laundry Company.
It is further denied that the plant and buildings of the Company cost over $90,000.
The answer declares that the plaintiff Company never secured a valid judgment against the property, and that it had imposed on the defendant Company by foisting a lot of non-suitable machinery on it.
The property, according to the answer filed never cost more than $50,000, and it had greatly depreciated in value when Magoon was obliged to take it over, having advanced large sums of money to keep it afloat and been unable to secure the co-operation of other responsible stockholders.
The business, it is alleged has never paid, and in fact the petitioner does not believe that it can pay with Asiatic competition.

FINED FIFTEEN FOR BITING KNOX

JUDGE ANDRADE FINES AND LETS TURES THE COOK OF THE CABLESHIP RESTORER.

The assault and battery case of Sam Davidson, alias Johnson, cook of the cableship Restorer, against Colonel James Knox, both being gentlemen of the colored class, was heard in police court this morning.
According to the Colonel's version of the story, a woman owed him 75 cents which he was anxious to collect, being rather in need for some of the ready. "I went and told her that I wanted the money, she handed me a dollar and told me to get the change for her," said Knox. "The defendant, whom I do not know except for the fact that I bear the marks of his ivory on my nose, told me that I had better be — about getting the change. At the same time that he made this remark he came after me and not being as young as I used to be, I tripped and fell, the defendant landing on top of me with full force. For some reason that I do not know he started to bite my nose, which you can still see."
"Somebody came in and pulled him off, but who it was I do not know. I had never had any words with him and I do not see why he should have done it, as it was none of his business."
Lawyer Marks, who was defending Johnson, asked Knox a number of questions that were objected to by Brown, whom the court sustained.
The next witness was Johnson, who said that Knox had called the woman some names and that he had only acted in her defense, as Knox was trying to strike her. Sam admitted that he had bitten Knox.
Judge Andrade told Sam that he could fine him $50, but taking into consideration that it was his first offense would let him off easily, and the result was that Sam was fined $15 and costs.
