A British-born American business man of Honolulu, whose trade is principally with Japanese, views with considerable alarm the wholesale equipment of Japanese sampans with speedy engines, whoch is now going on at a rapid rate. lnasmuch as his concern has contracted for some of them and has been asked to bid on many others, he may be regarded as an authority when he says that in less than a year 300 Japanese sampans, stationed principally at Honolulu, will have engines of the speedlest kind, costing all the way from $700 to $1,200

"And do you mean to tell me," he inquires, "that the Japanese are spend- from the shocks was slight. ing $300,000 on a luxury of this kind, expecting to make it out of the fish business of a small city like this? The authorities presume that The City Messenger Service ror they have fish only and let it go at silk and other Oriental goods and that prices on such are cheaper than has ever been heard of before.

"Ston it? With what? The cusoms department has its hands full watching the regular shipping that omes into this port. There is no revenue vessel here to watch out for anything, so that smuggling is the easiest thing in the world. This port wide open to just such smuggling as these sampans might be able to carry on, not to mention the absolutely unguarded entrances around the island of

"But when I spoke of the swift sampans being a serious matter, I had in mind something more important than the smuggling of goods. Had you thought of what these same, innocent looking fishing boats could do in event of a sudden trouble with Japan? These same Japanese fishermen know the coast of Oahu be ter than any man or set of men in the Hawaiian Islands, white or native. They know every bay, every shoal, every blind rock, every obscure entrance and every spot at which a landing can be made. And talk about your mines! Why these same innocent, little Japanese fishermen could and would, in case of an approaching battle, move every one of them in a single night. "Then think that there are 300 of them and figure how many men they could land from a hostile fleet. Allow that they could bring ashore fifty men apiece, and you can see that they could land 15,000 men at an obscure point on a single night, before the presence of a fleet a hundred or miles off would be known here.

"I am not an alarmist, but the prospect does not look good to me. Only a few weeks ago we had an order for a twenty horse power engine for a sampan. When it came the Japanese concluded that it was not fast enough and wanted one of twice the power, Did he want this additional speed, with additional cosft, for the sake of his fish business? Not much. He already had an extremely fast engine, but wanted one that could make his little craft fly like the wind. And all this for a little fishing business! I am not exactly from Missouri, but I would certainly like to be shown a little on a proposition of that sort.

"I pray that trouble may never come. But if it should and this fleet of fishing (?) sampans succeed in making the open sea, God help us here for a

Time was when men were ashamed to admit that they owned an interest in a mining proposition.

They bought mining stock on the sly and kept it dark from their friends and families because they regarded their investment as a pure speculation, a bet and a gamble, and a long chance. But times have changed in recent years, and so has mining. The mining business has advanced just the same as has the sugar business. Men of national importance, identified with banking, insurance, railroads and the leading industrials are now interesting themselves in mining because mining has been reduced by modern methods, a knowledge of geology, and the expertness of modern engineers to a science and a sure thing. Mining is today a very important and basic business and it's a good deal safer than most businesses according to the tale of tell-tale statistics. Also it is one of the cleanest business under the sun,

A Methodist minister was recently reproached by one of his flock for identifying himself with a gold-mining proposition, and this was his retort, in substance, in an open letter published in his local broad-

"ed my stock as a matter of principle. The Sermon on the Mount and the ten commandments don't come 'into the matter and theology needn't. The fact is, I admire a miner's wealth. It is clean. There is 'no blood or orphan's or widows' tears on it. It is acquired away from the scheming and cut-throat competition that characterizes ordinary ventures, where the success of one man so often means the disaster

'and downfall of some other man, or, perhaps, a number of men. Nobody has been pinched; nobody has "been wronged. The miner who digs a fortune out of the ground has the satisfaction that he hasn't "robbed a soul, even though he becomes a hundred times a millionaire. As I look at the matter, there are few producers of wealth. The many live on the few. The only man comparable with the miner is

"the farmer. He gets what he has direct from nature, but he produces perishable wealth. While he

"meets a want, his contribution to the world's wealth therefore is not a permanent one like the miner's.

The gold miner is today the king wealth producer of the country, and I honor him above all others. It is no dishonor; it needs no anology to emulate his example or assist him in his efforts. That is the

GEORGE F. HENSHALLMANAGER MONDAY......MARCH 8, 1909

FOREWARNED IS FOREARMED,

Great responsibility devolves upon the authorities with regard to the several new places of amusement about to be erected in Honolulu. None of the existing theaters are too well guarded against the dangers from panic caused by fire or alarm of fire or by any other cause of stampede. There is no need to specify places, the defects are obvious to casual observation. Exits there are in plenty, but seats are ation. This bill relates to the method so crowded together and passages so narrow that any considerable of appeal from tax assessments. It panic would inevitably result in the ways to the exits being jammed, passed third rading unanimously.

Motion pictures have become the most popular form of public entertainment. They are produced as parts of programs in all our theaters where they are not the whole thing. From many disasters arising from fire started by moving picture machines reported elsewhere, Honolulu should take warning and see that every safeguard is provide! against any such calamity here. One of the latest casualties is that of the burning of the Flores theater at Acapulco, Mexico, due to care- consideration. lessness in operating a moving picture machine. A wall of fire barred, the exit and two hundred or more persons were burned to death. Women and children, as too often the case in panics on land and sea, furnished the larger quota of victims.

Before the new theaters here are built is the time to have the necessary precautions executed. Alterations after the operating plant, seats and exits have been installed would be harder to obtain by the authorities and when obtained be a heavy additional cost to the owners,

LOCAL SELF-GOVERNMENT THE AMERICAN IDEAL.

"I do not think that anybody can see these people (the Filipinos) helped step by step on the road to self-government and prosperous development, and not sympathize with what we are doing. I do not believe that any person who believes in the fundamental theories of democracy can find fault withthe general effort which is being made to give the individual his rights and a means of maintaining them.'

The above words are from an article by Vice-Governor Forbes of the Philippines, in the Atlantic Monthly. The article gives much detail regarding the general progress of the Filipino and says that the establishment of the Philippine legislature, which some of our local Legislature may designate with rea- and upon conviction thereof shall be believers in government by the qualified, or by executive commission, are fond of referring to as a mere toy, was the "most important step in the gradual process of giving self-government to the Philippines. In the light of some present local urging of every imperfection of the administration of affairs as a good reason for taking away local selfgovernment and even taking away free suffrage, it is worth noting that Vice-Governor Forbes appears to think that the criticism he may have to meet, among Americans, is not that too much local self-govern- equipment, Hilo. ment is being given to the ignorant Filipino, but not enough. Replying to anticipated criticism he says it is "wise to make haste slowly." The record of the Americans in the Philippines is one of which no American need be ashamed. It is a record upon which we need not hesitate to dwell on Independence Day. We have given to people unused and unaccustomed to such privileges, freedom of speech, kua at $100 per month. freedom of worship, freedom of opportunity, and freedom of labor. We are casting off the shackles which held down the laboring classes of the Philippines, and, with the laboring classes raised, we are raising was desired by resolution that $15,000 had failed. all the people to a higher and nobler plane."

How easy to bring such a discussion down to the local "taxation" level, and show that there is a vast waste in all this American insistence upon Filipinos being taught politics! Just as fast as he can do rt, Uncle Sam is "multiplying governments" in the Philippines. A commissioner who proposed any other policy would last about five minutes in office after Taft learned his views. For the man who ten years ago began this great work and has made its success his great after storage until charges are paid, 27, as a resolution covering the same ideal, is Taft. And when there is a self-governing population in the Philippines, whether it be an independent nation or one linked to the United States but still locally self-governing, it will have Taft for its great patriotic hero, though as a result of the success of the policy he began, it will probably have all sorts of politics, grafters to be fought all the time and taxes far larger than the sums for which "any bustness concern" could run the whole group,

Perhaps some of the supposed Republicans who have helped to build up the Democratic machine are not quite so proud of their work

There is nothing unusual or freakish in a legislative resolution favoring statehood for Hawaii, nor is the resolution a new one here Statehood is supposed to be the ideal at which we aim and there is no harm in expressing the ambition in such a way that it will reach the attention of the proper persons.

Immigration and the conservation of the natural resources of the Territory are subjects to be discussed this evening at a public meeting in the Legislative hall, called by the House committee having legislation on the subject in hand. A more important topic could hardly be mentioned. It has been suggested that Roosevelt's greatest claim to a place in history, as generations pass, will be found to be the work he did in starting the great movement for conservation of natural resources, and immigration is a problem that concerns everyone in these islands.

Bishop P. J. Donaline of Wheeling, West Virginia, is reported in a Chicago interview as saying of the divorce evil:

"Unless the cancer of divorce is cut out of this nation, this, together with the greed of wealth, the mad craze for pleasure, will wreck the ship of state and we shall fall back into paganism of old. The marriage tie, held by the Tounders of our republic as sacred, has now become almost a joke. No state law yet provides for divorce for 'general cussedness,' or being 'just ornery,' or for being 'no good,' but they are getting pretty close to these delectable goals.'

One of the useful measures of the present session of the Legislalocal divorce law and providing against several abuses that had made the granting of divorces here a sheer farce in many cases,

FRANKLIN Automobiles

"Which is the best road?" How often automobilists ask that

ROADS

'We had a fine trip except for the roads' is a remark you have heard many a tourist make—showing that automobilists experience discomfort and fatigue, that there is hard riding and difficulty of manage ment, that their automobile is not suited to road conditions.

THE MISTAKE

Go back to your experience with carriages and road wagons. You were very particular as to their riding quality-the kind of springs they had, their weight and the way they stood up. They had to be light, flexible and strong. They had to stand rough roads and at the same time ride easily.

You have not applied these principles to your automobile. You have accepted it as something totally different-a machine the discomforts of which you were obliged to put up with. A mistake.

You can be as particular about your automobile as you were about your carriage. The Franklin automobile, like your carriage, has a wood chasis frame and full elliptic springs front and back. And like your carriage it rides easily. It is light; it stands up. It is manage able. It meets the conditions of Hawaiian roads, gives the highest comfort and pleasure at all times.

FIFTEENTH DAY-Concluded. House bill to provide fees for counset assigned to the defense of impecunious persons charged with crime came up for second reading.

President Smith, cailing Kalama to the chair, moved to insert the words, 'and in any case of special hardship.' He thought the wisdom of the whole bill was in doubt. As the law now stod a poor defendant might appear to the court to assign an attorney tor his defense. If the bill passed it should be hedged about with every precaution. He was willing it should pass with the amendment and give It a trial for two years, when if it should have proved a mistake it could be repealed. From an experience of some years as attorney general, also as sheriff of Maul, he could recall very few cases of hardship under the exsecond law, but he thought it might be advisable to allow a reasonable fee Wm. G. Irwin in special cases of hardship.

Chillingworth moved an amendment to the amendment to strike out the clause saying the attorney shall use every endeavor on behalf of his client under pain of contempt of court. This was a slur on attorneys, who were bound under oath to do what was there prescribed. The stand taken by the president was all very well, but It was nearly always the young members of the bar who were assigned to defend poor defendants. These had to struggle hard and it was scarcely LONDON-Union of London & Smith's just to require them to give their services free.

> Smith accepted the amendment saving he left the provision as it was in the original bill merely because he wished to make as few changes as possible.
