WILSON APPEALS TO NATION FOR UNITY

Work For Everyman And Woman In Great Trial Before Us--Farmers, Merchants, Railroadmen, Manufacturers, Have Duties To Perform--Economy Should Be Watchword

WASHINGTON, April 16—In a personal appeal to every man woman and child in the United States President Wilson yesterday called upon the nation to sink its differences should there be any and to unite for the triumph of democracy and the preservation of the ideals upon which the fathers of this country founded the nation.

The president's appeal is addressed to all—he draws no distinction, and he shows how each man and woman and child in the entire land can lend his or her weight in the winning of the war against the might of the German oligarchy, the blackest cloud that overshadows civilization.

"The supreme test has come," he said in his statement. "All now must speak, must act and must serve together that this nation and its ideals of equal rights for mankind and that common decency in the affairs of mankind which we stand for and which the Entente Allies have been fighting for, may triumph in the world."

Mr. Wilson points out with especially grave emphasis the need for the farmers of the United States concentrating every effort upon the production of food stuffs, while calling at the same time upon the housewives of the nation to exercise the closest economy and thereby proving to the country and to the world their efficiency and unselfishness.

"The entrance of our beloved country into this war," says the President, "creates for us a problem that calls for immediate consideration. The navy will rapidly become effective against our foes, but we are on the point of creating a great army. Difficult as these two tasks may be they are among the simplest of the many that confront this nation and to which we have addressed ourselves."

"Let us remember the unselfishness of the cause for which we are fighting, and devote ourselves entirely to the task before us without regard to the profit that might be made, and with every ounce of our intelligence and energy rise level to the enterprise."

"We must see to it that an ample supply of food is ready for our army and our navy and for the armies and navies of our Allies, who for two and one-half years have borne the brunt of this fight with the Central Powers."

"We must see to it that there are hundreds of ships prepared to carry that food to the Entente troops and the Entente peoples on the other side of the sea, whether there are submarines or no submarines. There is abundant material in the fields and mines, of this great country to equip ourselves and to aid in the equipments of our Allies. Our factories can clothe and equip our forces and clothe and equip the forces of those who are fighting our fight in Europe."

"There must be a steady stream of coal to the hundreds of factories that to build our guns, our ships. There is steel for us to make into arms and ammunition for our Allies. There are outworn railroad rails that

Maui People Warmly Greet Steamer Maui

Chamber Of Commerce Presents Memento To Ship And Cup To Skipper Johnson—Hundreds Visit Beautiful Ship During Stay At Kahului

The reception of the new steamship Maui on her maiden voyage, by the people of the island for which she was named, was one that will doubtless long be pleasantly remembered by all who had a part in the happy ceremony. As per schedule, the splendid new flagship of the Matson line spent all last Sunday in Kahului harbor, during which time hundreds of Maui people visited her, and were accorded the finest of hospitality by her officers and crew.

The Maui chamber of commerce delegation, accompanied by many ladies, composed the first party to be ferried out to the Maui's anchorage after she had been made fast about 9:30 o'clock. They were received at the gangway by Capt. Peter Johnson and his officers, and in the social lounge of the ship by Capt. William Matson, president and founder of the company, E. D. Tenney, vice-president, and by other officers of the company.

After the visitors had been given time to make an inspection of the splendid ship and her beautiful appointments, the members of the chamber gathered in the social hall and there President R. A. Wadsworth, in the name of the chamber, presented to Capt. Matson for the ship, the beautiful bronze mantle clock set which had been secured in San Francisco through the kindness of Wallace Alexander.

An Appreciated Address
 President Wadsworth's address was almost a personal one to Capt. Matson and there is no doubt that the veteran shipping man duly appreciated it. Mr. Wadsworth stated that he had probably known Capt. Matson for a longer time than anyone else present, and he recalled some of the little incidents connected with the early days of Matson's career in the islands when he was skipper of the sailing vessel Lurline—the beginning of the Matson fleet. He told how Capt. Matson has promised the business men of Hilo to

Baldwin Will Head Fair Association

Directors Elect Officers At Earnest Meeting—Children's Committee, Race Committee And Market Committee Named

That the new Maui County Fair & Racing Association will have a much wider field of usefulness than is usual for such organization, is becoming more and more manifest as the days go by and the ideas of the men who form the board of directors begin to crystallize. It seems quite evident that the Association is planning to inaugurate a lot of measures of a public nature, perhaps but indirectly related to a fair proper, but for which there has long been a demand.

As an example, at the meeting held on Tuesday afternoon of this week, the directors approved a plan and authorized the formation of a standing committee on "Children's Gardens." D. H. Case is the board's representative on this committee, and chairman, but L. R. Mathews, head worker of the Alexander House Settlement, will have general charge of organizing the work proposed. The plan is to appoint local committees in all the communities of Maui county, of persons interested in children and the development of home gardens, and to encourage competitive gardening among the children in each of these districts. Prizes other than money will be awarded to winners in each community. It is proposed that each first prize winner might be given a trip to Honolulu under proper guidance, following the plan of the prizes to winners in the corn and pig contests now so popular in the eastern, middle and southern states, where a trip to Washington is the much coveted first prize.

To get Busy At Once
 Although the next Maui County Fair will not be held till the summer or fall of 1918, the Children's Garden Committee is already at work. It plans to have at least 500 children's gardens under way in the shortest time possible. It believes that through the children it will be possible to do much towards reducing the cost of living on

Hawaiian Boy Tries To Crack Bank Safe

Lands In Jail After Foolish Effort To Force Burglar Proof Vault Of Paia Bank—Little Damage

Pokini Kalawala, a young Hawaiian with a long jail record, in again in the Wailuku bastille, this time with a bank burglary charge against him. He is said to have confessed to Sheriff Crowell that he broke into the Paia branch of the Bank of Maui, last Saturday night, and battered up the combination on the vault with a sledge hammer in an effort to get into the strong-box of the bank. All he did secure was some $3 or $4 in a stamp drawer in a desk. The vault, which is burglar-proof, was uninjured except that the handle and combination knob were somewhat marred. He got in the building by breaking a window.

The burglary took place after midnight last Saturday night, Cashier Worth Aiken having stopped at the bank at about that hour on his way from a reception. Kalawala had been lying in the cane field opposite the bank, and it was there that Sheriff Crowell found the clue which led to his arrest, in the shape of a lei which he had worn on his hat.

Foolish Attempt
 Even could Kalawala have succeeded in breaking through the chilled steel plates of the vault door, he would have had a still harder task ahead of him from the fact that the money in the bank is kept in a massive steel safe inside the vault which is guaranteed to defy any cracksmen's efforts.

Kalawala is a cripple, using a short crutch which he straps beneath his knee. He has quite a record for small burglaries and petty thievery. He has lately been working at the cannery at Haiku.

"See Hawaii First" Is Now Promotionist Slogan

Worth O. Aiken, cashier of the Paia branch of the Bank of Maui, returned on Wednesday night from Honolulu where he attended an important meeting of the Hawaii promotion committee, of which he is Maui's representative. The meeting was devoted largely to plans for pushing the "See Hawaii First" idea.

Maui came in for an unusual amount of attention from the promotionists. With the war scare tending to keep people from ocean travel, the promotion committee will urge our own people to travel more among their own islands, and particularly to investigate the beauties of Maui.

Aiken Reception Was Delightful Affair

Beautiful and unusual floral decorations, a smartly dressed crowd, and most gracious hostesses were the more prominent features of last Saturday evening's reception at the Paia Community House by Mrs. J. S. Aiken, Mr. and Mrs. Worth Aiken, and Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Hardy. The affair was so meet Dr. and Mrs. George Aiken, this being the initial social event for this popular couple since their arrival home following their wedding in Honolulu a few weeks ago.

Dancing was the chief diversion of the evening, following the formal reception and presentation, and it proved to be one of the most really enjoyable dances of the season. The music (by Miss Hoffman's orchestra) was unusually compelling, and it was midnight all too soon for many of the merry dancers. Besides the dancing some of the guests enjoyed the more sedate excitement of the whist tables. Dainty sandwiches and coffee were served during the evening.

Humane Sunday To Be Observed By Nation

Humane Sunday will be observed this year on April 22; the week preceding has been set aside for the annual Be Kind to Animals Week celebration. The widespread observance of this joint movement has been a source of great satisfaction to those who are actively engaged in anticruelty work. Wherever it has been tried the public has taken to it enthusiastically with the result that thousands of people have come in active touch with local humane needs. Several governors and mayors have issued special proclamations calling upon the people to observe both Be Kind to Animals Week and Humane Sunday.

Spanish Murderer Wanted By Police

Stabbed Companion At Honolulu Ranch In Fight Ten Days Ago—Victim Died In Lahaina Hospital Last Night

The police all over Maui are looking for a Spaniard named Vincente Sallinaya, who is wanted at Lahaina on a charge of murder. The killing resulted from a quarrel some 10 days ago on the Honolulu Ranch, in which Sallinaya stabbed another Spaniard with a file, the man dying in the Pioneer Mill hospital last night from his wounds. The police have not yet learned his name, nor what occasioned the quarrel.

Sallinaya is described as a man about 23 years of age, short of stature and heavy set, and was wearing a small moustache when last seen.

Hawaiian Allied Relief Corps Formed On Maui

Tuesday afternoon, the 17th, an enthusiastic meeting of the ladies of Paia and Makawao interested in "Hawaiian Allied Relief" work was held at the residence of Mrs. Harold Rice at Maluhia. Many garments were started and distributed among the nineteen ladies present. Delicious refreshments were served.

It was decided to form a permanent club to meet every two weeks at the Community House, Paia, devoting an entire day to sewing.

It was also suggested that a money-box be placed in a conspicuous place to secure any contribution from those present at these meetings. As Hamakua is to be included with Paia and Makawao—it is thought that the membership of the club will soon number fifty or more.

The following supplies have been shipped in these different cases during the last two months to headquarters in Honolulu by the Maui Branch: compresses, 8 x 8, 336; metre bandages, 465; muslin bandages, 66; abdominal bandages, 177; flannellette, bandages, 58; nightgales, 104; pajamas, 49; cotton night shirts, 42; day shirts, 12; bed socks, 17 pr.; knitted wash cloths, 23; muffler, 1. It is to be hoped that more women will join the ranks of those now at work. For information apply to

Mrs. W. F. J. Dale, Kahului, purchasing agent;
 Mrs. H. D. Sloggett, Hamakua, secretary.
 Mrs. H. W. Rice, Paia, treasurer.

Small Crowd Sees Good Ball Game

Baseball seems to have taken on a new lease on life since the visit of the St. Louis College team. Two picked teams played a very creditable game on the Wailuku diamond last Sunday, though the attendance was small owing to the distraction of the steamer Maui in port. The same teams will play again tomorrow and should have a good crowd. The game will be called at 3 o'clock.

The game last Sunday was between the Mauiis and the All-Stars and the latter put it over the former by the score of 9 to 8.

Keolu of the Mauiis, did not appear on the diamond which of course weakened his side.

The game was an exciting one especially towards the end as the score shows.

The score by innings of last Sunday's game was as follows:
 Maui 4 0 0 1 0 1 1 1 0—8
 All-Star 4 0 2 2 0 0 0 0 1—9

Former Maui Girl To Wed Mauna Kea Purser

Captain and Mrs. C. Wiebert have announced the engagement of their daughter, Margaret, to Mr. M. W. Mitchell, the popular purser of the steamship Mauna Kea, flagship of the Inter-Island fleet. The wedding will be a June one and will take place in Honolulu.

Miss Wiebert is a pretty Honolulu girl who formerly resided on Maui where she has many friends. Her father is the captain of the Inter-Island steamer Hamakua and he has many friends throughout the islands. The wedding will cause a stir in shipping circles, for both the bride to be and the bridegroom are very popular.

After the wedding the young couple will probably settle in Hilo as Mr. Mitchell's duties make it imperative for him to spend more time in this city than in Honolulu. All the friends of the well known purser wish him the great of happiness.—Hawaii Herald.

ALLIES CLAIM GREAT GAINS ON WEST FRONT

Greatest Battle In World's History Both Sides Agree--Plans To Regulate Food Supply In U. S.--Senate Votes Billions Unanimously--Conscription Necessary Says Baker

LONDON, April 18—"The greatest victory since the victory of the Marne," is the way that despatches from the French front describe the tremendous offensive which the troops under the command of General Neville are hurling against the German lines in the Champagne country. "Nivelle is stride and partly around von Hindenburg's line" is the gist of another despatch from the front, which definitely settles the talk of a great German "trap" in which the Allies were to have been hopelessly crushed as was the Russian army after the Battle of The Lakes. This despatch adds that "thousands of prisoners have been taken."

MANY PRISONERS TAKEN
 All told the total of the German prisoners taken by the French offensive during the last two days, Monday and Tuesday, number more than thirteen thousand.

Farther to the west, in the country between the Oise river and the French salient that apex at Conde sur Asine, or a distance of approximately thirty-five miles. The French artillery has been pouring in the fiercest of artillery fires, so hot that the German general staff announces that it is "unparalleled in intensity."

In speaking of this fighting and the French Law, Chancellor of the Exchequer told the house of commons that the "Allies are engaged in the greatest operation of the war and that their success is exceeding all anticipations."

GREATEST BATTLE OF HISTORY
 The Berlin despatches report the German General Staff as announcing to the German people that "one of the greatest battles of the mighty war, and therefore one of the greatest in the history of the world is now in progress on the river Asine."

FORD GIVES TRACTOR RIGHTS TO ALLIES
 DETROIT, April 18—Henry Ford has cabled specifications of his new farm tractor to England and France, to which nations he is giving the manufacturing rights.

GOVERNMENT TO REGULATE FOOD PRICES
 WASHINGTON, April 17—Legislation to empower the Council of National Defense to supervise the distribution of food, and if necessary to fix maximum and minimum prices, is being framed as a result of a conference between Secretary of Agriculture Houston and the Armour Swift and Cudahy packing companies' representatives. The President and the cabinet today discussed legislation to control food prices and commodities, and planned a reception for the British and French commissions.

MEXICO NEUTRAL, SAYS CARRANZA
 CITY OF MEXICO, April 16—President Carranza yesterday addressed congress upon the foreign policy of his government. He declared that "Mexico will maintain a strict and rigorous neutrality" in the war between Germany and the United States.

Thought He Had Killed Chinaman

Celestial Bumped Head So Hard That He Went To Sleep For Half Hour—Assailant Fined $15 In Police Court

When Antonio Silva, who sells milk for Angus McPhee, struck Chung Sing in the face, and the latter bumped his head on the concrete floor so hard that he remained unconscious for over half an hour, it was a badly frightened Antonio. The trouble took place in the Maui Meat Market on Wednesday evening over pay which the Chinaman claimed was due him.

When Chung failed to move after Silva struck him, the crowd about the place grew alarmed, and the police rushed the injured man to the hospital, where he afterwards recovered with nothing worse than a headache. Silva was fined $15 this morning for assault and battery.

Old Chinese Commits Suicide By Hanging

Wong Chan, a kamaaina Chinese aged about 60 years, committed suicide last Friday afternoon at Puohala, near Waihege, by hanging himself in a vacant house near his home. The deed was discovered by Hung Kim, with whom he had been living, and evidence is strong that had he promptly cut the hanging man down, instead of running to Wailuku to notify the police, his friend would still be living today.

When Deputy Sheriff Cummings and Dr. Osmer reached the scene of the tragedy, the body was still warm, but the man was dead. He had fastened a rope around a beam and around his neck, and then kicked the box on which he stood from beneath him. The dead man had been in poor health for a long time, and but recently left the hospital. He was a taro planter. He had no relatives in the Islands.

Creditors Of Grand Hotel Get Judgment

San Francisco Firm To Levy On Fixtures Unless Claim Is Paid Today—May Go Into Bankruptcy—Hotel Making Money

On a judgment and writ of attachment issued by the first circuit court, of Honolulu in favor of Levi Strauss & Company, of San Francisco, for $108,563 with interest and costs bringing the total to $1198,98, Deputy Sheriff George Cummings, will this afternoon levy on the furniture and fixtures of the new Grand Hotel, of Wailuku, unless some arrangement can be made to settle the claim.

It is reported that the hotel company may go into bankruptcy, as a result of various creditors pressing their claims. These unsecured claims amount to several thousand dollars, it is said. The building and the ground on which the hotel stands, are mortgaged.

Bailey Property Is Sold For Good Price

D. C. Lindsay, at his bid of $6050, purchased the real estate constituting the Bailey Estate on Vineyard Street, Wailuku, at the executors' sale last Saturday. The property consists of something over 4 acres of valuable residence property. The price is considered a very fair one. The bidding was started by H. Streubeck, at $4500, and was carried up by J. B. Wilson, J. K. Kahookole, and Lindsay.

Seventeen shares of Maui Drygoods & Grocery Co., stock brought $23.50 a share from Pia Cockett, Jr.; D. C. Lindsay bought 15 shares of Nahiku Rubber Company stock at $1 per share; while 4800 shares of Central Consolidated Mining Company stock was sold to J. K. Kahookole for $25 for the block.

ARE YOU?
GUILTY?

A FARMER carrying an express package from a big mail-order house was accosted by a local dealer.

"Why didn't you buy that bill of goods from me? I could have saved you the express, and besides you would have been patronizing a home store, which helps pay the taxes and builds up this locality."

The farmer looked at the merchant a moment and then said:

"Why don't you patronize your home paper and advertise? I read it and didn't know that you had the stuff I have here."

New Road Bill Proposed
Senator Shingle has introduced a new road bill as a substitute for the civic convention measure, which is believed to be about dead on account of opposition to it. The new bill provides for roads being built by the counties from territorial funds raised through a bond issue, but the roads are to be built and maintained under direction of a commission, of which the county engineers shall be members.
May Still Go To Molokai
Not to be frustrated in their plans for a junket to the leper settlement at Molokai, it is reported that the house members are planning to make the trip a week from tomorrow. The health committee of the house, which gave the majority the slip two weeks ago and made the trip alone, has reported the results of its visit. Speaker Holstein did what he could to block the junket idea, and the irate House attempted to take it out on Clerk Woodward who neglected to charter a steamer for the party last Saturday at cost of $800, by threatening to fire him. Woodward thereupon resigned, but after some persuasion agreed to reconsider his resignation.

Bill Permits Men Called To Colors To Vote

Representative Norman K. Lyman on Tuesday introduced in the house a bill to permit registered voters, while on military service, to exercise the right of suffrage while absent from the precinct in which they are registered. The measure provides that, if National Guardsmen or volunteers are called into active service, the governor shall ascertain where they are stationed and take certain specified steps whereby they shall be allowed to cast their votes.

County Wants Money Back

Representative Tavares has introduced a bill to reimburse the county of Maui in the sum of $9468 for being the cost of a road through the Kulaha homestead built several years ago.

Brown Wants Hawaiian Taught

On the subject of teaching the Hawaiian language in the public schools, Representative Brown has introduced H. J. R. 8, which, in part, reads: "Resolved by the senate and house of representatives of the Territory of Hawaii, that the superintendent of public instruction is herewith instructed to set aside two half-hour periods each week, during which the Hawaiian language shall be taught in any public school where the parents of at least thirty-five youths of Hawaiian parentage apply for the privilege."

School Survey Passes

Governor Pinkham has approved Representative Cooke's H. J. R. 3, which becomes Joint Resolution 1, relative to the federal survey of the schools in Hawaii. The Governor wrote the following note to the legislature: "I have this day approved the Joint Resolution relative to a federal school survey. I am anxious certain surveys be particularly made, believing they would produce strikingly economic results, hence beg to suggest that an appropriation be made of a suitable sum."

Wants Homesteads Opened

The public lands and internal improvements committee yesterday went on record in a report filed favoring the proposition that the land commissioner "be instructed to open up for homestead purposes the government land at Honuaula, Makawao, Maui." The petition was presented some time ago by Representative Brown.

Under a resolution offered by Representative Brown, the commissioner of public lands is instructed to cause an investigation to be made "by the division of hydrography of the water problem of Halawa Valley, Molokai, and to ascertain the feasibility of the acquisition of such water and water rights as might be necessary for the establishment of a water works system in the valley and to make such recommendations to the legislature of 1919, as said commissioner may deem best."

Radical Land Law Changes Proposed

Senator Chillingworth has introduced a resolution, which if it passes will ask the congress to amend the laws of the islands to place the control of the public lands in the hands of the governor and a land board appointed by him. The board will be permitted to determine whether or not lands should be opened for homesteading to bona fide settlers, and to lease the land not needed for homesteading for periods not exceeding 25 years to the highest bidder.

Would Acquire Makena Landing

A resolution calling for negotiations to be entered into by the Territory with Dr. J. H. Raymond, owner of the wharf and landing at Makena, Maui, for the acquisition of this property by the Territory, has been introduced in the house by Representative Brown and referred to the lands and public improvements committee.

High Cost Of Feed Hits Poultry Keepers

Many Selling Flocks—Eggs Advancing—Rice Abnormally High—Hogs In Demand—Grains Advancing Rapidly

HONOLULU, April 16, 1917.

Instead of falling off in price as was expected, island eggs advanced slightly during the week. The demand is good at from 40 to 43 cents a dozen. Poultry is scarce and getting scarcer as the feed prices advance. A great many people who formerly kept a few chickens to supply their own households with poultry and eggs have sold their stocks claiming that the high price of feed made it a losing proposition.

The price of several of the green vegetables has been lower during the week but others have advanced. All dried products such as beans, peas, corn and rice have advanced considerably and there is no telling when prices will be normal again. Rice dealers have been holding this product at abnormally high prices, some as high as $9.00 a bag, but the market seems to be in better condition now with rice selling around $7.75. The price of rice on the coast has also advanced rapidly during the past few weeks.

Fruit prices have dropped a little during the week and unless the steamship companies are able to provide transportation for the banana crop that is now being harvested, the price of this fruit is likely to drop still more. Some very good alligator pears are beginning to come in from Kona. Those are bringing very good prices.

Good butcher hogs weighing about 150 pounds are in good demand at high prices. The Division is now in a position to handle a great many more than is being received at present. Dressed mutton and pork have both advanced during the week. There has been no change in the price of hides in Honolulu.

Purchasers of stock feed will kindly take notice of the big advances on nearly every item in the Quotation Sheet. Small corn has jumped $12.00 and wheat $7.00 in the past week and dealers say that the prices will go still higher. How about planting some corn and forage crops right now?

During the week the Division has received 40 consignments consisting of 20 different articles of produce as follows: 42 Strawberries, 35% carcasses Beef, 7 Veal, 14 1/2 dozen Eggs, 47 bags Sweets, 15 Chickens, 13 Ducks, 3 Dressed Hogs, 1 Live Hog, 500 Limes, 7 bags Beans, 25 dozen Cucumbers, 40lb Butter, 1 bag Sweet Corn, 139 bunches Bananas, 12 bags Onions, 40 bags Rice, 7lb Peppers, 78lb Carrots, and 44lb String Beans. The consignment sales for the week were $2608.61.

The Narrow Path.

Full Speed Ahead

He was the slowest boy on earth, and had been sacked at three places in two weeks, so his parents had apprenticed him to a naturalist. But even he found him slow. It took him two hours to give the canaries their seed, three to stick a pin through a dead butterfly, and four to pick a convolulus. The only point about him was that he was willing. "And what," he asked, having spent a whole afternoon changing the goldfishes' water, "shall I do now, sir?" The naturalist ran his fingers through his locks. "Well, Robert," he replied at length "I think you might now take the tortoise out for run."—Christian Register.

BY AUTHORITY

ORDINANCE NO. 41.

AN ORDINANCE RELATING TO AND REGULATING SHADES AND AWNINGS EXTENDING OVER THE SIDEWALKS WITHIN THE TOWNS OF WAILUKU AND LAHAINA, COUNTY OF MAUI, TERRITORY OF HAWAII.

Be It Ordained by the Board of Supervisors of the County of Maui:

Section 1. That no shade or awning shall be erected, constructed or maintained so as to extend over any sidewalk in the towns of Wailuku and Lahaina, in the County of Maui, Territory of Hawaii, unless the said shade or awning shall extend the full width of such sidewalk or shall be equipped with gutters of such nature or design as to carry off and dispose of water so as to avoid drip of water from said shades or awnings upon the sidewalk.

Section 2. Any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall, upon a conviction thereof, be sentenced to pay a fine not to exceed Five Hundred ($500.00) Dollars, and in default in the payment of such fine may be imprisoned until such fine shall have been discharged by operation of the general law applicable to such cases.

Section 3. This Ordinance shall become effective upon its approval. BOARD OF SUPERVISORS WITHIN AND FOR THE COUNTY OF MAUI. BY S. E. KALAUHA, Chairman and Executive Officer.

Attest: WM. FRED. KAAE, County Clerk.

I, W. F. KAAE, County Clerk for the County of Maui and Ex-Officio Clerk of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Maui, Territory of Hawaii, do hereby certify that the foregoing ordinance was, upon the 14th day of April, 1917, passed by the Board of Supervisors of the County of Maui, Territory of Hawaii, and thereafter a copy thereof was published in the Weekly Times, and Maui News newspapers printed and published in Wailuku, Maui, Territory of Hawaii, for 1 publication thereof, and a true copy of said ordinance was posted on the bulletin board at or near the rooms occupied by the Board of Supervisors for the County of Maui.

WM. FRED. KAAE, County Clerk and Ex-Officio Clerk of the Board of Supervisors, County of Maui, Territory of Hawaii.

DO WE NEED MORE MIDDLEMEN?

During the past week a representative of a Honolulu concern has been touring Kula, and other parts of Maui in an effort to make contracts with farmers for the growing of various kinds of produce.

A commission man or buyer, must make a living, and he does it by selling a product for more than he pays for it. But Maui farmers, with the Territorial Marketing Division at their service, and particularly at the present time with the chamber of commerce and the Maui county fair association keenly alive to the matter of producing and selling farm crops, should feel no need for such aid.

UNREASONABLE REQUIREMENTS

The order to enlist the national guard to a war strength of 150 men per company is of course out of the question for Hawaii at the present time. It was issued from Washington, and was naturally not intended to apply specifically to this territory.

What should be done, is to disband the Hawaii national guard and reorganize it on a basis of about half its present strength, or about a third of the strength now demanded. This would require about one battalion of 4 companies of 150 men each from Maui.

THINK OF YOUR OWN BABY, MR. LEGISLATOR

If the legislature should pass the so-called Belina bill, the territory will stand disgraced in the eyes of an intelligent public opinion. This bill would make it legal for dairymen to keep cows suffering from tuberculosis, and to sell the milk from such animals.

The Miles bill (H. B. 318,) which provides for testing and killing all tuberculous cows, and paying the owners from the territorial treasury for their loss, is an enlightened measure and should pass.

AN ARGUMENT FOR COMMISSION GOVERNMENT

The spectacle of a majority of the members of the house of representatives demanding a junketing trip to the leper settlement in order that they may do politics at public expense, is of the kind that almost makes one despair for popular government in the Islands.

Frank A. Muncey, the magazine publisher and newspaper man, who passed through Honolulu recently on a visit to the Orient, wrote to his publications:

"If New York state had a militia as large in proportion as the militia of these islands, they would have over 225,000 in the militia. This territory is unanimously in favor of universal military training."

For $5 anyone may now manufacture all the wine he pleases for a whole year. This is a new law just signed by the Governor. It takes the place of the old law which limited the amount to 500 gallons. It is a just law. So long as booze is permitted to be used in the Territory it is not right to impose unnecessary hardship on the small grape grower.

John L. Fleming, of Honolulu, is urging the revival of taro planting, and a campaign of education in the United States army on Oahu, and among other newcomers on the subject of taro as a food. At the present time, as Mr. Fleming points out, taro goes begging at from 75 cents to $1.00 per hundred pounds, while white spuds, which are of much lower food value are wholesaling at from $5 to $8 per hundred.

Maui is to be congratulated once more on her ability to get together. She demonstrated her ability in this line in the last county fair, and now she has the nucleus of a bigger and broader organization starting out with even better prospects.

OUR ISLAND CONTEMPORARIES

Believes In Preparedness

The Star-Bulletin indulges in a caustic condemnation of any policy of storing up food supplies against a possible future time of scarcity, as a selfish and ruthless disregard of the interests of others. We fail to see why.

We go to Lihue Store and buy five cases of sugar corn, thereby reducing the stock on hand to such an extent, that the Store immediately puts in a rush order for a new supply, and as there seems to be a surprising demand for that article, they order a double supply. Now, in case of any subsequent shortage of sugar corn supply on the open market, isn't it sure that we are just that five cases ahead anyway? Now let that same thing be done by every house keeper throughout the Islands, and doesn't it mean that we have a supply of corn on hand that will last us pretty well through any ordinary period of shortage or even blockade? And who, in the name of common sense, have we injured or defrauded? The easy-going, improvident, or shiftless man, who might have protected himself but didn't? We haven't taken a single grain of corn away from him, and the time may come when we may be able to invite him around to a corn fritter breakfast, or a succotash dinner, that will taste mighty good to him, as a change from his empty larder; and is grateful comment will be "I wish to goodness more people had done the same!"

Of course when it comes to an actual scarcity, and shut-off sources of supply, that will a different story; but we aren't there yet, and one way to get ready, is to lay in a reasonable stock against that time.—Garden Island.

Closing Of The Saloons

We should permit nothing at this time to hamper in the least the military or naval forces of the United States in their preparations for hostilities.

The least as well as the largest of handicaps to thorough efficiency in operations on a national scale should be promptly and effectively swept aside.

That the consumption of alcoholic liquor lowers the efficiency of consummation is past the argumentative stage. It is time for action.

The Legislature of this Territory is now in session. It has a well-defined path to pursue, if it can, place Patriotism above dollars—Country before Commerce; Duty before Pocketbook.

Let it petition the Congress of the United States also in session, to enact prohibition for Hawaii, and it will place itself upon a high plane of loyalty to its country.—The Service.

Demand Concrete Roads

Action taken by the Board of Supervisors last week in regard to the building of concrete roads in and about Hilo is not only a credit to its intelligent membership, but a satisfaction to practically every citizen in Hilo.

The resolutions passed proposing to reconstruct certain portions of Kilauea avenue and Wainaku avenue, as well as the appropriation for continuing the concrete pavement on Front street, are a guarantee that our supervisors are men who can be trusted with doing what is right and for the best interest of the city and county.

The action by the supervisors last week gives us hope that the proposed road to the Volcano of Kilauea will also be rebuilt of concrete and thus place Hilo among the most attractive little cities of the country for visitors with automobiles, without counting local citizens.—Hilo Tribune.

Don't Disfranchise Guards

Politics are being thrown into the discard now-a-days on account of the war, but still some interest is being taken in the coming elections. That the national guardsmen who may be withdrawn from their own counties and precincts should be allowed to vote wherever they are domiciled in the future, is the only fair thing.

Otherwise some incompetent politician, who has many friends of the stay-at-home sort, might be elected to office. The men who are defending the country should not be disfranchised and arrangements should be made for them to vote. This was done in regard to the great conscription question in Australia, when thousands of men at the front over Europe and Asia, were allowed to vote as they stood in the trenches and the result of the poll was sent back to Australia. Let the Guardsmen vote in any old place. So say all of us.—Hawai! Herald.

A Good Sign

It is a good healthy sign, when stores of the rush to become naturalized American citizens are read in the papers. It shows that men who live in the United States appreciate what real freedom and happiness means and it also means that they are ready to fight for their adopted country against any foe. Many foreign subjects in these islands wanted to become American citizens when the European war began, but refrained from so doing because their actions might be misconstrued. Now that the United States is in the war, these men have at once applied for their naturalization papers. They are willing to assume the obligations that rest upon every American citizen.—Hawai! Herald.

Letters are beginning to reach this office written as complaints against the high cost of food here. Is it possible to get at the exact facts concerning alleged inflation of prices in some commodities, rice, for instance; also at the allegation that a Japanese haul is manipulating the fish market? The price of fish is not only high but outrageously high. Must the people riot before public authority acts?—Star-Bulletin.

Business Methods Needed

Apparently we are in for another plebiscite on the prohibition question, war or no war. Certainly if the claims of the prohibition leaders are well founded, and we believe they are, the vote this time should be strongly in favor of an abolishment of the liquor traffic in Hawaii. There is this to be said in warning to the prohibitionists, however, and it is that the campaign must be conducted in a businesslike way. Any such a fiasco as that of the last prohibition campaign would be fatal. The first thing the prohibitionists should do, after the Governor signs the plebiscite bill, is to call in those of their friends who have some practical knowledge of politics and who understand the machinery of a campaign, and then take their advice. It cannot be repeated too often that elections are not won by prayer.—Advertiser.

Find Out Who Started It

The silly "insurgency" against Speaker Holstein has been beaten in the house of representatives, while those who stirred up the revolt have been openly charged with acting for reasons of personal prejudice, spite and factionalism in politics. Meanwhile, it would not be bad idea for voters to learn exactly who fostered the move to spend a good many hundred dollars on an entirely unnecessary junketing trip to Molokai.—Star-Bulletin.

Some Fool Will Pay Penalty

About twenty members of Company H, Twenty-fifth Infantry, U. S. A., went last Saturday over to the crater and found that the lava stream between Crag Island and the rim bench had cooled enough to permit them to cross over, which they did, and they had their picture taken there, twenty-five minutes after they got away the crust caved in and the stream commenced flowing again. Sooner or later, some foolhardy Crater-baiter will be just one second too late in braving the molten pit.—Kohala Midget.

Of course we must be up-to-date in our censorship, or the regular army and navy officers would think the enemy might learn that there is a National Guard in Hawaii, or some soldiers at Schofield Barracks. Just why it was not permitted that the news of a declaration of war was allowed to be wireless to Hilo last week will probably forever remain one of the mysteries of psychology in our censor.—Hilo Tribune.

Why Not Finish The Job Right?

Editor, Maui News.

Dear Sir: Several months ago the hearts of those running cars over the Paia road were made glad by a very satisfactory overhauling of the lower part of the road leading up to Makawao. The many disagreeable bumps were removed and traveling became a pleasure once again. But probably many have since racked their brains to discover some good reason why half of the road was left in such a deplorable condition near the Paia Meat Market. This half was abundantly strewn with a supply of such rocks as are an abomination to the motorist, and left that way. The consequence has been that all the traffic is thrown to one side of the road, as no careful driver will venture on the "rocky road to Dublin" unless obliged to.

One has often wondered what really happened to cause this affliction. Was it for the purpose of comparison so that we might appreciate all the more that portion of the road which has been fixed, or did some one offend the boss and cause him to leave us in the lurch? It would be interesting to know.

Yours very truly, SUBSCRIBER.

Time Table--Kahului Railroad Co. Daily Passenger Train Schedule (Except Sunday)

The following schedule went into effect June 4th, 1913.

PUUNENE DIVISION

Table with columns for 'TOWARDS PUUNENE' and 'TOWARDS KAHULUI'. It lists stations (L. Kahului, A., Puunene, L.) and train times (PM, AM) with distances in miles.

- 1. All trains daily except Sundays. 2. A Special Train (Labor Train) will leave Wailuku daily, except Sundays, at 5:30 a. m., arriving at Kahului at 6:59 a. m., and connecting with the 6:00 a. m. train for Puunene. 3. BAGGAGE RATES: 150 pounds of personal baggage will be carried free of charge on each whole ticket, and 75 pounds on each half ticket, when baggage is in charge of and on the same train as the holder of the ticket. For excess baggage 25 cents per 100 pounds or part thereof will be charged. For Ticket Fares and other information see Local Passenger Tarif I. C. G. No. 2, or inquire at any of the Depots.

BEANS!

How to Grow Beans for Home and Market.

A valuable food crop eminently suited for planting between newly planted sugar cane and pineapples rows.

Types And Varieties

Dwarf or bush type—These can be grown closely together and do not require support. They mature earlier than the pole or trailing varieties, and are possibly more wind and drought resistant, but do not bear as heavily as do the tall growing varieties.

The best known types of these beans are the green-podded and wax-podded varieties, which are grown for "snap shorts"—the pods being gathered when young and tender, broken and cut into short lengths, and boiled for the table.

Standard varieties of the green-podded bush bean succeeding in Hawaii are—Burpee Stringless Green Pod, Canadian Wonder and Refugee or "1000 to 1." Of the yellow or wax-podded type—Improved Golden Wax, Prolific Black Wax, Davis White Wax and Ventura Wonder Wax, will usually give satisfaction.

Bush beans may be planted in rows eighteen inches to three feet apart, depending whether they are to be cultivated in beds by hand or wheel hoe, or in field culture by horse implements. The seed should be dropped four to six inches apart in the row, closer planting is undesirable. A pound of seed will plant about 100 feet of row. 50 pounds will plant an acre under field culture.

Varieties suitable as dry or shell beans may also be had in the dwarf or bush form. Typical varieties are the Maui Red, Calico and small white navy extensively grown in the Kula region on Maui. Lady Washington is an improvement over the small white navy. The small white Tepary is perhaps more drought resistant than any other bean thus far introduced. California Bayo beans are of semi-running type and thrive in some sections in Hawaii. Pinks and Red Mexican are somewhat similar to the Bayo type. Red Kidney is also an old standard shell bean. All the above varieties are worthy of trial for growing on a commercial scale for export or local consumption. They would be especially well adapted for inter-cropping with newly planted cane and pineapples.

Stress should be laid at this time upon the available resources of the sugar and pineapple plantations for growing food crops in case of emergency. The inter space, averaging about five feet between the rows of newly planted cane and approximately from four to six feet between newly planted pineapples, will often adapt itself admirably for planting single or double rows of beans and similar crops. Aside from the cost of seed, planting and harvesting, comparatively little expense will be entailed for the extra tillage. The bush or dwarf types of beans are preferable for such inter-croppings since the tendrils of the trailing varieties might interfere with the main crop.

Pole or running beans may be had in the various types named under bush beans. In fact many of the bush form have sported from the tall varieties. The season of growth and fruiting is longer in the tall varieties. They bear proportionally heavier, and the pods are easier picked when the plants are supported on poles or trellises. Supporting the vines is of course an added expense and may not be practicable on a large scale. In growing dry shelled beans of the trailing type on a commercial scale, they are not supported, but the vines are cut, cured and the beans thrashed direct from the vines.

Pole beans require a richer soil than the shallow rooted quick maturing bush sorts. It will usually pay to manure and fertilize heavily unless the soil is already very fertile.

Standard varieties of pole beans succeeding well over a wide range under Hawaiian conditions are—Kentucky Wonder or Old Homestead, deservedly one of the most popular early green-podded snap pole beans. Listed by all seedsmen and seed always available at a reasonable price. A white seeded form of the Kentucky Wonder has recently been introduced and has given good satisfaction to the writer, either as a snap or shelled bean. Lazy Wife is another superior green-podded pole variety, but matures much later than the Kentucky Wonder. It bears white seed which makes it desirable for dry shell beans. Kentucky Wonder Wax is one of the few satisfactory pole wax beans. Pole beans should be given at least twice the space allotted to the bush type. Correspondingly less seed is needed.

Lima beans may be had in dwarf or climbing type. Burpee's introduction of Improved Bush and Forhook Bush are very large seeded and of superior quality. Dreeer's Bush or Kumerle is a smaller seeded than the Burpee type. Very prolific, but not suited to wet localities because of pods being close to ground. Should be well suited to rather dry sandy soils. Henderson's Bush Lima is the earliest lima bean we have tested. Appears to stand adverse conditions better than either of the above.

Bush limas develop at least a month earlier than the pole varieties. However, all types of limas beans are gross feeders, and require a rich soil to mature large crops. It is a good plan to plant bush limas several seeds in a hill, hills set about 2 feet apart each way.

Pole limas are the parents of all the bush types. They are characterized by their rank growth and are often very prolific in seed bearing. The comparatively small seeded and early Sieva or Butter bean of the South succeeds well in Hawaii. The larger white limas are often shy bearers. However, King of the Garden, Early Leviathan and Aggler & Musser's "Monstrous," have given good satisfaction. (Although classed as of bush type by the introducers, the latter variety has proved of running type in our trials.)

We have found dropping two or three seeds per hill, hills set four by four feet apart, about right for field culture. If polled in the home garden about the same distances are recommended. About 25 pounds of lima beans will be required to plant an acre of above distances. The very large seeded varieties will germinate better if the 'eye' is turned downward in planting.

Soils and climate best suited for beans—The "Kula" (Maui) deep, light silty soils have proved ideal for commercial growing of shell beans, and the most extensive areas devoted to the bean crop are to be found in that region. The dry climate has also doubtless much to do with the success attained in Kula. The warm dry climate of the plains region about Paia and Paunene on Maui, where the soil is also of a silty nature although much heavier than at Kula, is also well suited for bean culture when water is available for irrigation. In general it may be said that light loamy soils are best for beans. The crop will not tolerate cold or wet, soils or climate beans should be planted to two inches in depth, light dry soils require deep planting, heavy moist soils shallow planting, otherwise the seed will rot, and it is useless to plant under such conditions.

Dependent Upon Soil And Moisture Conditions

Bush beans mature their seed in 50 to 90 days, except some varieties of limas which require longer. Edible snap beans may often be picked in less than forty days when conditions are favorable. Running varieties require a much longer season for growth. Some of the pole limas requiring six months to mature a full crop.

The soil should be well prepared for beans. Deep and thorough tillage, in the process of which large quantities of organic matter should be incorporated with the soil. If green manuring is practiced the green crop should be plowed under some months before the seed is sown. If manure is used it should be well rotted before being applied to the land, or the land left lay for a month before planting. Discharge the land to destroy weeds and thoroughly mellow the soil before planting.

It will often pay to use commercial fertilizers in the plant row. Not more than 300 pounds per acre of a high grade fertilizer rich in phosphates is recommended. Bone meal makes an excellent base and the nitrogen should preferably be in the form of blood or some other quickly available organic form.

Planting is best done with a one or two horse bean cultivator. Such machines do accurate and rapid planting when rightly handled.

Shallow cultivation should be regular and continuous.

Where irrigation is practiced care should be taken not to water to excess as it causes excessive leaf growth at the expense of pod and seed. Cultivation after each irrigation if possible. It conserves moisture and stimulates growth.

The bean crop will not thrive in exposed, windy locations, but require a warm, sheltered position. As an inter-crop with young corn, cane, etc. it finds ideal conditions. But shade is very detrimental as it causes the plants to become drawn and spindly.

Owing to the quick maturity of some varieties, they lend themselves admirably as a catch crop. Beans are also well fitted to rotate with other crops, such as corn and potatoes.

The crop rarely requires artificial inoculation under Hawaiian conditions. However, the bean crop has a number of enemies. The cut worm is especially troublesome some years. This pest is best combated with poisoned bait. We have found that 3 pounds Paris green or an equal amount of white arsenic thoroughly mixed with one bag bran and one bag middlings, or cheap flour, the whole to be moistened with a gallon of molasses, previously thinned with three or four gallons of water, if spread along side the plant rows and excellent remedy. The amount specified is sufficient for two applications on an acre.

Where the bean rust is prevalent the Bordeaux mixture appears to be helpful.

Snap beans must be harvested when young. For family use they may be picked when very young and tender, but for shipment they should be well filled out and firm to prevent excessive wilting. Careful attention to picking will greatly prolong the growing season.

If wanted for dry shell beans, close watchfulness is necessary not to harvest before the majority of the pods are ripe, nor to wait until the pods begin to shatter their seed. Dwarf varieties are best pulled 'roots and all' and spread on sheets to dry. Heavy vine varieties are best cut close to the ground and when reasonably dry they may be stacked for further curing. Thrashing may be done by stall, tramping out by horses or by machine thrashing. A small thrasher capable of handling a ton or two of seed daily can be bought for about $200.00. A six horse-power engine will be required to operate it satisfactorily.

For extensive plantings such as might be undertaken by sugar plantations larger outfits would be practical. For home use the mature pods may be picked by hand as they ripen. While somewhat tedious, this method insures the maximum yields.

The safe storage of beans is somewhat of a problem in Hawaii. The bean weevil is very prevalent and unless kept under control is sure to bring about heavy losses.

We have found an air tight structure built of tongue and groove lumber and lined with tarred felt roofing, quite satisfactory as a fumigating chamber. A space 5' X 5' X 5' will readily hold 20 one hundred pound bags of beans. A half pound carbon bisulphate applied monthly we have found effective in preventing weevil infection.

To bring the highest market price, dry shell beans should be well cleaned and if necessary hand sorted.

Cull beans and bean straw make excellent feed for work mules, cattle and swine. Large quantities of all these by-products have been fed at the Haiku Sub-Station with eminent success.

Emergency Agricultural Information

A Revised Select List of Vegetable Varieties and Food Crops for Hawaiian Conditions. Also Data on Amount of Seed Required for Planting. (Only the more important reasonably early maturing vegetables are here considered. For complete cultural directions and other useful data apply to Extension Division, Hawaii Experiment Station, U. S. Dept. of Agri., Haiku, Maui, or Honolulu, Hawaii.)

BEANS, (Crop matures in about 50 to 90 days).

Bush—1 pound per 100 foot row; 50 pounds per acre. (Dist. 1/4' x 3')

Green-Podded: Stringless Green Pod, Canadian Wonder, Early Refugee.

Yellow-Podded: Improved Golden Wax, Prolific Black Wax, Davis White Wax.

Pole—3/4 pound per foot row; 40 pounds per acre. (Dist. 1 1/2' x 3')

Green and Wax-Podded: Kentucky Wonder or Old Homestead, Kentucky Wonder Wax, White Crease-back.

Lima—1 pound per 100 foot of row; 50 pounds per acre. (Dist. 3/4' x 3')

Bush: Burpee's Improved, Dreeer's Bush or Kumerle, Henderson's Bush.

Pole: King of the Garden, Early Leviathan.

Dry or Shelled—3/4 pound per 100 foot row; 40 pounds per acre. (Dist. 1/4' x 3')

The following varieties of beans are well adapted to intercropping with newly planted sugar cane or pineapples. Approximately half the amount of seed recommended above will be required when planted between 5 foot rows of cane or about two-thirds as much when planted between the more closely set pineapples.

Bush: Maui Red, Calico, Small White Navy, Lady Washington or Large Navy, White Tepary (for driest localities), Bayo, Pink, Red Kidney, Mexican Red, Broad Windsor, Henderson Bush Lima, Lewis Lima.

POTATOES, (Crop matures in about 50 to 100 days).

Plant 1' x 3', 5 pounds per 100 foot row, 500 pounds per acre.

Varieties: American Wonder, Triumph, Early Rose, Burbank's.

SWEET POTATOES, (Crop matures in 4 to 7 months).

Plant 1' x 3', 100 plants per 100 foot row, 10,000 plants per acre.

Varieties: New Era, Kauai or Medera, or any other good Hawaiian varieties.

STOCK BEETS, CARROTS, ETC., (Crop matures in 4 to 6 months).

Plant 1' x 3', 2 ounces of seed per 100 foot row, 8 pounds per acre.

Varieties: Mangel Wurzel; Mammoth Long Red, Golden Tankard.

Sugar Beets: White Sugar Rose Top.

Carrots: (carrots require half the amount of seed as of beets). Long Orange, Large White Belgian, Danver's Half Long. (The latter is excellent for stock or table use.)

FIELD CORN, (Crop matures in 100 to 150 days).

Plant 1' x 4', 8 to 10 pounds per acre.

Varieties: Ninety Day or Early Yellow Dent, King of the Earlies for minimum moisture conditions and warm sections, Large Yellow Dent (Parker Ranch, Yellow Dent), Reed's Yellow Dent, Golden Leaning for intermediate zone. "Kula" seed corn for high altitudes.

COW PEAS, (Suitable for man or stock—Crop matures in 100 to 150 days).

Plant 1' x 1', 50 pounds per acre.

Varieties: (heavy seedling) Groat, Rice, Gulliver, (the last two are especially suited for human consumption—heavy foliaged) Brahham, Iron, Whipperwill.

Much Active Work At Alexander House

Letter By President Tells What Institution Has Been Doing In Past Year—Scope Of Activities Constantly Growing

To the Members of The Alexander House Settlement Association and Friends:

Knowing that many of the Settlement's friends cannot be in close touch with all of its activities we would like to send you a series of monthly letters telling you briefly of the work, problems and plans of the different departments. This letter will deal with the Gymnasium and Kindergarten because they are the oldest and best established phases of the Settlement. Next month will follow the newer fields of interest: Extension Work, Scouting, etc.

The Kindergarten has been such an important part of the Settlement and has done such good work for so long that it is probably well known. The past two years it has been fortunate in keeping the corps of three teachers unchanged and the attendance has steadily increased. Perhaps the most continuously new features have been the introduction of visits to some of the town industries and interests. Among the morning walks have been trips to the poi factory, the fire engine, the carpenters' and blacksmiths' and one particularly eventful day at Mr. Case's to see the bees. More has been made of the holidays than ever before. The Thanksgiving celebration with its live turkey to inspect and its generous supply of apples, oranges and cookies will long stay in the memory of some seventy youngsters of seven, some nationalities. Christmas with Santa Claus and tree, Washington's birthday with soldiers' caps and ice cream cones speaks of the devoted work of the teachers and the generous support of loyal friends that make such occasions successful.

Since September the Gymnasium has been under the direction of Mr. E. L. Corson, who came to Maui especially for this work. During the year a better organization among the men and boys has been possible and the membership has increased until now there are 140 boys and 75 young men enrolled. The attempt to so organize the boys that they would come to the Gymnasium only at definite times for purposes was an experiment which has proven a distinct advantage. No matter how well equipped an institution may be, to have it used for games in a haphazard way eventually makes it a loafing place and nothing more. The Gymnasium has not been open on Sundays until about a year ago. Sunday has now become a very real part of the weekly program and with the building and tank open to all ages and classes the Sunday afternoons have become among the most popular of all the hours in the week. The week day afternoons are largely taken up with classes for the younger boys in calisthenics and games while the evenings are devoted to Club meetings. There are five Clubs of older boys forming the International League. Each Club is made up, mainly, of distinct nationalities. This was done to conserve their group or gang distinctness, but by playing together they are forced to merge with the other groups or nationalities and thus racial lines are not allowed to become closely drawn. There is a growing feeling among the workers that the Settlement, as a whole, should form a broader center of interest in the lives of the young people. Our next step, consequently, is to organize a Craftsman's Club, buy some tools and let the boys, who have a leaning toward manual work make this their hobby.

To foster clean sport and to increase loyalty to the Settlement as an institution trophies have been secured for the Swimming Meets with the Maui High School and plans are now being discussed to form a Basket Ball League. Sports with teams outside of the Gymnasium bring a new responsibility and a new point of view to our boys. On Tuesday and Thursday afternoons from five to six a group of "Business Men" gather in the Gymnasium for "fun." This class affords exhilarating exercise rather than formal "physical culture" and all men who enjoy games and "mixing up" with other men are invited. Following the policy of the Settlement there are no fees for membership in these classes.

A minimum of time has been given to the girls in the Gymnasium. One group of older girls has done splendid work in basket ball as all are aware who have seen their exhibition games. Another group of smaller girls has use of the tank, especially during the warmer weather, but as yet the possibilities of a thoroughly organized work for girls have not been touched. A new committee on Girls' work has been formed consisting of Mrs. H. P. Penhallow, chairman; Mrs. Frank Hoogs, and Mrs. Widdick, and it is thought that a more popular program will result.

The recent policy of making the Gymnasium absolutely free to all individuals has proven a wise one. This part of the equipment has become a "bee hive" of industry and should become more useful to the young people of Wailuku as time goes on. The trustees and the staff of the Settlement will welcome any practical suggestions you can give in the form of active leadership of boys and girls. It is an investment in our young people which will yield rich returns in responsible citizenship in our community.

Very sincerely yours,
W. D. BALDWIN,
President.

Arsenic In Soil Is Beneficial To Crops

The use of arsenite of soda as a weed destroyer is quite common in Hawaii, but there has generally been some fear that the poison would react injuriously through the root system on crops. The following from Facts About Sugar quotes the department of agriculture to effect that arsenic is in reality likely to be beneficial. It says:

Arsenic applied to the soil is actually beneficial and increases nitrogen-fixation, says J. E. Greaves, in the Journal of Agricultural Research, the official organ of the Department of Agriculture at Washington. He publishes the findings of a series of experiments at the Utah experiment stations in which this was proved.

"Arsenic cannot replace phosphorus in the vital process of the nitrogen-fixing organism," Greaves says, "but it can in some manner liberate phosphorus from its insoluble compounds. This may be either a direct or an indirect action."

"Arsenic stimulates the cellulose ferments, and these in turn react upon the activity of the nitrogen-fixing organisms."

Other investigators have found that arsenic enters into direct combination with the iron in the soil, thereby releasing the phosphorus. These findings prove that the use of arsenite of soda for killing weeds in a same field actually increases the fertility of the soil and should, in some measures, help out the phosphate fertilization requirements.

Maui, to educate grown-ups through the children in better methods, and incidentally to prepare the way for a fair exhibit that will excel anything that could be possibly accomplished with shorter preparation.

Immediate Usefulness

Another example of the way in which the Fair Association is getting busy, is in the appointment on Tuesday of Harold W. Rice, as a committee of one to make a careful study of the both the question of supply and demand for various food products here in the Islands. What steps, if any should be taken towards getting the consumer and the producer in touch through the grocers and other middlemen, is one of the things which Mr. Rice will make a study of.

Efforts will also be made to determine what crops will likely be planted under the present stimulus of food scarcity and war demand, and if it will be possible to expect the army on Oahu to take any.

In short the Fair Association deems it within its province to see that Maui County goes into this matter of food preparedness in an intelligent and sensible manner.

Officers Elected

The meeting on Tuesday was the first business meeting that the directors have held since they were elected at the organization two weeks ago, and the first work was to elect officers as follows—F. F. Baldwin, president; R. A. Wodsworth, vice-president; D. C. Lindsay, treasurer, D. H. Case, secretary.

Racing Committee Named

The regular Fourth of July races which for 30 years have been held on Maui under the old Maui Racing Association, which has now merged its identity with that of the Maui county fair, will this year be carried out under direction of the following committee named at Tuesday's meeting: F. B. Cameron, chairman; Dr. J. C. Fitzgerald, and Dan T. Carey.

The fair directors will hold another meeting next Tuesday at which time further standing committees will probably be named, and reports from present committees called for.

Boy Burglars Wind Up In Makawao Jail

Joe Miguel, aged 14, and his brother Nicholas, aged 12, of Kula, were arrested yesterday on charge of burglary. The boys are accused of having broken into the store of Hop Fat, and stolen the contents of cash drawer amounting to $8 or $10, and a quantity of candy. The owner of the store was down at Kahului at the time. The boys were locked up in the Makawao jail.

Fined For Contempt In Jail For Hour

Because District Magistrate Anjo, of Makawao, did not like the manner of District Court Attorney E. O. Born, in connection with the trial of a number of Paia gamblers, last Tuesday, the court fined Born $10 for contempt. The lawyer refused to pay, and the Magistrate issued a mittimus and sent him to jail. After about an hour in duration, Born changed his mind about serving out his fine. He dug up the amount and was released.

DEATH OF FORMER MAUI RESIDENT

Frank G. Correa, a native of Kipahulu, Maui, died in Honolulu on Saturday, April 14. He had not been well for some years, but the death came very suddenly. He is survived by a wife and a 13 year old daughter. He was 34 years of age.

The deceased was a linotype operator. He was for some time employed by the Maui Publishing Company, but most of his life has been spent in Honolulu. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Manuel G. Correa, are now residents of Waianae, Oahu. Frank G. Correa, of Kula, Maui, is an uncle.

A BARRYMORE SATIRE BY LOCAL MAUI TALENT

The play entitled "A Twelve Pound Look," which is to be given under the direction of Helen Lint on April 28th at the Wailuku Town Hall for the benefit of the Women's Aid Society of the Wailuku Union Church, is by Sir James Barrie, the leading dramatist of the age as well as the most popular.

Maui will be given an unusual opportunity to see this most delightful satire, which was played by Ethel Barrymore in New York and on tour.

In the minds of most people Barrie and Maud Adams, America's best loved actress, are closely associated, and fortunate indeed are they who have seen the latter in Barrie's "Little Minister" or "Peter Pan," or Ethel Barrymore in "Alice-Sit-by-the-Fire" or "A Twelve Pound Look." In the last named play Barrie, always master of one act plays, is at his best.

The cast is as follows: Prologue, Mrs. Linton; Sir Harry Sims, Jack Moir; Lady Sims, Gwendolyn von Tempisky; The Typist, Mrs. Rosanne Harbold.

The evening's entertainment will be supplemented by living pictures representing well known subjects, and not the least attractive feature will be a pavalowa gavotte executed by Mrs. Harbold and Mr. Moir. During the evening delicious home-made candy will be on sale.

Maui People Warmly Greet Steamer Maui

furnish them with a steam fleet, and how well that promise had been kept.

He voiced in appropriate terms the appreciation of the people of Maui for the tribute which Capt. Matson had paid their island in naming his latest and finest vessel, and he pointed out the appropriateness of the name by referring to the motto of the Island—"Maui no ka oi" (Maui is the best)—which motto he said, fittingly went with the name.

Matson Fleet Loyal To Hawaii

Capt. Matson, in replying to President Wadsworth, declared his appreciation of what the islands had done for the Matson company, and pointed out that in turn the Matson fleet had stood by the islands against tempting offers from the Atlantic. Today, Capt. Matson declared, the Matson fleet would easily bring $15,000,000 to its owners, was it offered for sale. But the development of the Matson company and the islands has been mutually interdependent, he pointed out, and the fleet will continue to serve the islands unless requisitioned by the government.

A Beautiful Gift

The clock, with its two candlesticks to match, which now occupy a position on the mantle at the foreward end of the social hall on the vessel, attracted much attention. Across its base is engraved the inscription—"From the Chamber of Commerce of Maui to the S. S. Maui, April 15, 1917." Just below the dial of the clock is set a medallion photograph of Capt. Matson.

Capt. Johnson Remembered

Capt. Peter Johnson, the veteran skipper of the Matson line, and now commander of the Maui, was made the recipient of a beautiful loving cup, engraved in strong relief with his name and the occasion of its presentation on one side, and on the other a splendid reproduction of the steamship Maui. The cup is a masterpiece of the silver-smith's craft.

The gift was presented in the name of the Maui chamber of commerce, by Frank F. Baldwin in a very neat little speech that produced much enthusiasm among the hearers and considerable embarrassment to the recipient. Capt. Johnson, though much moved by the tributes of appreciation paid him, was able to express his thanks in entirely convincing manner.

Toasts To Ship

There were cheers given for Capt. Matson, for Capt. Johnson, and for the ship Maui, and there was a pledging of the sincerity of the addresses and eulogies in a number of toasts proposed and drunk.

There were cheers given for Capt. Matson, no effort being spared to please every visitor who came aboard—and they came from all parts of Maui to the number of perhaps a thousand or more. A buffet lunch was served throughout the morning, and several large punchbowls were never permitted to remain empty.

Capt. Matson and Mrs. Matson, and Capt. Johnson, together with other officers of the ship and corporation, and local people to the number of 20 or more, were the guests at lunch of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Baldwin. Other officers and passengers on the ship were entertained in the homes of various Maui folk, while many automobiles of members of the Maui chamber of commerce were placed at the disposal of the visitors for sight seeing during the day.

Maui Took Sugar

The vessel took on board some 1300 tons of Maui sugar before sailing for Hilo at about 6 o'clock Sunday evening.

can still do service on the railroads of the armies that are fighting in France against the common foes, where the supplies of munitions for the guns and the troops means the success or failure of our cause.

"We must supply everything that the people of England, France, Italy and Russia have been supplying for themselves in the past, but for which they can no longer afford the materials.

"Let us remember that the industrial forces of this country are doing as great a service as the men on the battlefields, and act accordingly.

"The supreme need of the nation is cooperation out of our superabundance with the nations who have been fighting for freedom and civilization in Europe. We must, as I have said, keep a stream of supplies going to Europe, that the forces of democracy may not fail. Should we fall short in this first and most important duty, the whole enterprise upon which we have embarked with such high hopes will fail.

"Even after the signing of the treaty of peace, the fact confronts us that a large part of the people of Europe will have to depend upon this country for a great proportion of the food they eat. They will have to depend upon the harvests of America. Upon the farmers of this country, then, depends in no small measure the fate of this war.

"I call upon young men and old men alike—even upon the boys—to turn themselves into hosts of civilization and fight this war out on the fields of this country. I call upon the farmers to make certain that no pains and no labor is spared in this great matter.

"I call upon the men who run the railroads, the great and vital arteries of this country, that there shall be no slackening of their work, that they do away with inefficiency. This is vital in the general scheme of our campaign for freedom.

"Upon the merchants of the nation a great responsibility also rests. I urge them to adopt for their motto small profits and quick service."

Turning to the question of ship building the President said: "Shipbuilders the life of this war depends upon you. Through your work the stream of supplies so necessary for the proper conduct of this conflict must flow. Yours it is to see that no matter what the effort of the submarine commanders may be that stream of supplies be kept flowing unbroken."

The President then turned his attention to the women of the nation. To them he gave a message of strict economy in household expenditures. "The housewife who practises economy," he declared, "ranks high among those who serve the nation best in this time of strain and stress," he declared.
