CLOSE OF THE SCHOOLS COMPOSITIONS CONTEST

Scheme Of Maui Ladies To Interest Pupils In Conservation Brings Out Flood Of Papers, Giving Judges Immense Job--Full List Of Victors And Standing Of Respective Schools In Contest

The contest in the schools, consisting of written compositions on local food conservation, has been determined by the judges—C. E. Barter, F. B. Cameron and Miss Abbie Dow. In this contest the schools were grouped, and first, second and third certificates offered in each grade above the first. Each school selected three of the best compositions from each grade, and upon these the awards were made. As may be imagined, the committee of judges had a very large number of compositions to go through and experienced much difficulty in arriving at conclusions in many cases. By groups and schools the prizes were awarded as follows:

The Maui Boy Who Died On Tuscania

Something About Manuel Ramos, Of Paia, Who Was Murdered By The Germans

A great deal of interest is being felt locally in the history of Manuel Ramos, Maui's soldier boy who is believed to have gone down with the steamship Tuscania off the coast of Ireland last week. He was a Paia boy. His father was Manuel Ramos, who came with his wife, Mary, from Portugal about 30 years ago to work for what is now known as the Maui Agricultural Company, and who, aside from a short period when he was employed at Wailuku plantation on Oahu, had always been on Maui and with the employers for whom he first worked.

The elder Ramos died about 16 years ago, leaving his widow and five children. Five years ago the widow married John Martins, of Paia. The son who went down on the Tuscania was the third child of Manuel and Mary Ramos, and was born September 20, 1890. An older sister, Georgina, married John M. Medeiros, manager of the wholesale liquor house at Paia. There are two other sisters—Mrs. Manuel V. Correia and Mrs. M. M. Feteira; and one brother, Gordon Ramos, aged 19.

Manuel Ramos had been away from home about five years, during the whole of which time he was in California, engaged a part of the while on a ranch as the driver of a steam

Official Inspection Of Maui Battalion

General Samuel I. Johnson, head of the first brigade National Guard, arrived on Maui Monday night, coming from Hilo. He is accompanied by Captain G. J. Gonsler, U. S. A. In the period since their arrival the officers have conducted the annual inspection of the Maui battalion of the Guard.

General Johnson has visited Maui many times and is well known. Captain Gonsler was, for about two years, instructor of the Fourth Infantry, on the island of Kauai. He is a West Pointer and has seen much service.

The officers will leave in the Mauna Kea tonight for Honolulu.

BASEBALL SATURDAY

The Maui High School baseball team will play the game with St. Anthony's School, which was postponed from last Saturday on account of rain, at the Wailuku field on Saturday afternoon. This will be the second game of the series between the two institutions.

PLANTERS MAY ASK RECEIVER FOR HANA CANE

Attorney Eugene Murphy Talks Of Taking The Controversy Up To Washington

SAYS LABORERS ARE PATRIOTIC

Attorney Eugene Murphy went over to Hana again on Tuesday to try to get a settlement of the difficulties there between the contract growers of cane and the plantation. He returned Wednesday.

According to Mr. Murphy, the men are working their fields as a matter of pure patriotism. They realize, he says, that the country needs the sugar and do not wish or intend to do anything that might delay its shipment to the mainland.

He says that the next step will probably be to apply for a receiver for the cane. Just when such an application may be filed, however, will depend on how long Judge Edings may remain here. If it develops that he will be leaving soon, it may be decided to wait until Judge Burr takes office and then lay the matter before the latter.

The idea of a receiver is to conserve the rights of the men while the questions involved are pending. They have about 90,000 tons of cane in the fields, a part of which is mature and a part growing.

Another step that may be taken, says Mr. Murphy, is to apply to the secretary of commerce and labor for a mediator to handle matters until the present crop is entirely marketed. In the meanwhile, the differences now existing may be settled by the court or otherwise.

Mr. Murphy told of a banner which sympathizers with the contract plant-

Poi Also Takes To Near-Sky Altitudes

Conservation on wheat flour has had the effect of so greatly increasing the use of poi that the price for that Hawaiian staple has gone up to a record height. Taro, which has sold around 75 cents a bag for years, is now $2.25 a bag, and reports are that it may go higher.

It is claimed that many laborers who formerly used poi in small quantities only have lately, on account of the high price of and the campaign to save flour, turned to the native specialty, with the result that taro growers have been swamped by the demand.

In the past few days, in Wailuku, concern has started to the question of increasing the acreage in taro in order to meet the situation.

WEINZHEIMER ON GRILL AT PIONEER MEETING

Assailed For Disloyal Utterances And Attitude By Persons Who Demand His Discharge From Plantation. Matter Referred To Committee For Investigation--Russian Peace Fails--Norway Insists On Feeding Germany

(TODAY)

Honolulu—Former Judge Cooper, Al. Castle, Albert Horner, former Judge W. L. Stanley and Attorney E. White Sutton have been named as a committee to investigate the charges against Manager Weinzheimer. This committee issue a notice asking anyone having knowledge of disloyalty of Weinzheimer to submit the same in writing, signed with dates and names of witnesses. Among other charges the committee will look into a report that the Pioneer manager brought his child to Honolulu to be christened aboard the German gunboat Geier so as to be under the German flag.

At the annual meeting of Oahu Sugar Company tomorrow the stockholders may take up the question of the attitude of Manager E. K. Bull in desiring that J. A. Balch not announce his name in connection with the "Hoch der Kaiser" toast of Manager Weinzheimer.

(LAST NIGHT)

Honolulu—At the meeting of Pioneer Mill stockholders this morning, J. A. Balch preferred charges of disloyalty against L. Weinzheimer, manager of Pioneer, backed by affidavits from B. E. Fenn and wife, late residents of Lahaina, where Fenn was wireless operator. Balch described Weinzheimer as a "late officer in the Imperial German army, serving under von Hindenberg." He said that the charges had been made after serious deliberation and for the fact that it was his duty as chairman of the district exemption board. He was thoroughly impressed with the seriousness of the country's situation in this terrible war cataclysm.

Fenn's affidavit says that Weinzheimer visited the wireless station at Lahaina to get war news, where he discussed it with reference to the possible entry of America into the war. Weinzheimer sneered at America, saying Wilson had better keep his nose out of it because Germany would just eat the United States up. The United States, he said, had no army and no navy and would be absolutely useless in the field. Referring to the sinking of the Lusitania he said: "These people are raising an awful fuss about the few Americans lost on the Lusitania. You would think the fishes could distinguish between the taste of the American flag and other people's."

Balch said many utterances of Weinzheimer show him not a true American; that since diplomatic relations were broken with Germany he toasted the Kaiser in the presence of E. K. Bull, manager of the Oahu Sugar Company, who rebuked him; that Weinzheimer is under Federal surveillance. Balch, as an American, demanded his immediate discharge as manager of the Pioneer Mill. The nation's cause demanded that no enemy be employed in the rear of American soldiers at the front.

At the meeting there was confusion when Manager Bull was accused by Balch of threatening to "get even" if he used information involving his name. Bull denied this, and Balch replied that the denial was a lie. Bull declared that he did not threaten, but said he would come back with an explanation.

Weinzheimer said he had notified the German consul that it was his intention to become an American citizen.

Soper said this was an admission that he was a German subject. Weinzheimer said that his "hocking" the Kaiser was nothing but a joke.

Following the meeting it was rumored that Weinzheimer's resignation was in the hands of the directors. This Hagens denied.

RUSSIAN PEACE DEAL FAILS

Amsterdam—A Vienna despatch to the Lokal Anzeiger says that the line of demarcation along the eastern front is still necessary and must be maintained on account of the refusal of Russia to sign the peace treaty.

NORWAY STILL EVASIVE

Washington—Norway, in reply to American proposals that food from America will not be permitted to be shipped to neutral countries of northern Europe until assurances are given that such may not reach Germany by re-export, says that she is ready to offer guarantees that American food will not reach Germany across Denmark, but declines to meet the full demands for restricted exports from Norway into Germany.

Final Meeting Of The Supervisors

Much Business Finished Up—Mr. Low Is The New County Engineer

After sessions covering parts of three days, the county supervisors finished their work Friday afternoon and adjourned to the regular date in March. Most of the final session was given over to the passage of financial items contained in resolutions.

Among the more important matters disposed of was the appointment of A. P. Low to be county engineer, succeeding Joel B. Cox, who has left for the front in France. Mr. Low will be paid $200 a month.

Mr. Cockett moved that the County Auditor arrange with the Territorial treasurer for advance to the County of Maui for the months of February, March and April, same to be charged up to the County of Maui for the same period. Seconded by Mr. Drummond and carried.

Pneumonia Claims Young Portuguese

John Correa, a well-known, young Portuguese of Wailuku, truck driver for the Wailuku Sugar Company, died Wednesday of pneumonia, after a short illness. The funeral took place the following day, being conducted by the Foresters. Interment was in the Catholic cemetery. Deceased left a widow and a number of close relations.

The widow and relations have requested the Maui News to extend thanks to the Foresters and other friends who have been so kind to them in their bereavement.

WINDY NEAR OLOWALU

While returning from Lahaina to Wailuku Saturday night, on the road near Olowalu, Engineer Hugh Howell struck into a high wind which ripped off the top of his auto. Another auto, driven by an Oriental whose name could not be learned, had a like experience at the same place.

Children's Party At The Maui Hotel

Little Miss Francis Field observed her twelfth anniversary last Saturday, and that evening had one of the biggest and jolliest children's parties imaginable in the large dining hall of the Maui hotel. Over a hundred friends, some large, some smaller and some tiny, enjoyed the occasion very, very much.

Mrs. Field had general charge of the program, which opened with a piano solo by Karine Wilbur, followed by the grand march. Features were an Irish jig by Margaret Sparks and Marion Field; song and dance by Alma Ross; Turkish dance by Eva Rodrigues; club swinging by Major Camara, of Honolulu; tricks, by P. H. Ross; French song by Margaret Sloggett, Lucy Baldwin and Francis Field; dance by Gladys Venhuizen and Frances Baldwin, and a story by Mr. Field.

Dancing was the order of the later evening. Ice cream and other light refreshments were abundantly provided, and at about 11 o'clock the merry party broke up.

Mr. Hale is now in Honolulu and when he returns it will be with the intention of "settling down".

Lieutenant E. B. Blanchard, U. S. Gas and Flame Corps, accompanied by Mrs. Blanchard, left Monday night for Honolulu. The Lieutenant is proceeding to his post in Virginia.

HONOLULU MAY FEAST ON GOATS OF KAHOO LAWE

Vigilance Committee Wants Animals Killed Gradually And Meat Sent To City

EBEN LOW SUPPORTS SUGGESTION

The following interesting information appeared in a city paper a few days ago:

The Vigilance Committee of the local branch of the National Defense League is about to appeal to the members of the board of agriculture and forestry to repeal in part its death sentence on the goats of Kahoolawe. The idea is that these goats should not be slaughtered and the meat allowed to rot or be thrown into the sea for shark food, but that they should be killed off only as fast as the meat can be brought to Honolulu for sale.

Kahoolawe goat meat is wanted to fight the mounting cost of living. It is good, palatable meat, as many hundreds in Hawaii can testify, and it can be put on the market here at a price that will bring it within the reach of the poorest.

No More "Dog Meat"

Cheap meat has disappeared from the market, according to the investigations of some members of the Vigilance Committee. This investigation was started when a complaint was made that the butchers no longer were selling "dog meat"—not the flesh of canines, but their accustomed kaukau.

"Why do you want to spend your money on buying meat for your dog, anyhow?" one of the complaining ones was asked.

"We don't buy dog meat to feed to the dog," was the reply. "We buy it to make stew out of. That's the only kind of meat we can afford to buy."

Now, with this cheapest of meat off the market, many are able to buy no meat at all. Hence the importance that goat meat now assumes and hence the recent decision to conserve the goats on Kahoolawe.

Swarms With Goats

The little island swarms with goats, from the bearded Billies down to bleating, frolicsome kids; swarms so thickly that the vegetation on the island is fast disappearing and the island itself, deprived of its covering of forest, vine and grass, is blowing away in great clouds of red dust. The board of agriculture and forestry, to preserve the island and give what vegetation remains a chance to "come back", has long sought for means to kill off the goats, and some time ago leased the island to Eben Low on condition that he would invade Kahoolawe and do the Kaiser act to the Billies and their large families.

Recently the board of agriculture has become insistent and has put a time limit on the slaughter. Low either has to kill the goats or have his lease cancelled, and he is grimly preparing to perform the extermination act.

And now crops up the demand for goat meat. Low has notified the Vigilance Committee that he can transport the goat carcasses to Honolulu and get them here in good shape for market, while Lee Todd, of the Co-operative Store, announces his readiness to handle the goat flesh over his counters and give Honolulu its cheap meat.

Today members of the Vigilance Committee will start out to soften the hearts of the members of the board of agriculture and ask for a period of grace for the goats, petitioning that they be allowed to live until their deaths will mean a resumption of the stew diet in many Honolulu homes. If the goats be killed off in big batches, only their hides can be saved.

Puck Preparing To Change Base

Ensign Puck, of the Salvation Army, bade farewell to the local post Sunday evening and Wednesday night left for Honolulu to turn over his books, etc., at headquarters. He will be in the city for some days for the purpose of looking into the work of the Palama Settlement, similar organizations and the Y. M. C. A.

Upon his return to Maui, Mr. Puck will take charge of a section of the inside social service work of the Alexander House Settlement, assuming a part of the duties of Mr. Corson, who left Saturday for his old home and the front in France. Mr. Mathews will continue with the general and outside work.

Chinese For Hawaii Seems To Be Doomed

Government Looking To Virgin Islands And Porto Rico For Laborers

The Department of Labor authorizes the following:

Louis F. Post, Assistant Secretary of the Department of Labor, in a statement, criticized the present agitation of Chinese and Mexican labor for railroad maintenance, agriculture, and other unskilled work as "unnecessary and prejudicial." All requirements for common labor, he declared, can be met by the proper distribution of the domestic supply and by the use of American citizens from Porto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

For South And Southwest

Mr. Post disclosed the fact that the Department of Labor through the United States Employment Service, which has been made the national war labor mobilizing and distributing machine, is now arranging to bring into the country approximately 110,000 common laborers from these two territories. Director General of Railroads McAdoo has asked the Federal Employment Service to assist in supplying the roads with labor for maintenance and shop work, and the immediate needs of several roads were turned over to the employment service by Assistant Director A. H. Smith.

The United States Employment Service is now arranging with the railroads in the South and Southwest for the employment of these territorial common laborers in maintenance work and for their release for farm service during the press of the agricultural season in those regions. As soon as tonnage is available, Mr. Post announced, 50,000 common laborers will be transported from Porto Rico, and E. C. Roberts, special agent of the Labor Department, will leave for the island this week to make the transportation arrangements.

Statement By Mr. Post

Mr. Post said: "There is absolutely no necessity for the importation of common laborers from Mexico and China. The agitation for such action is prejudiced because it increases the false impression that there is not a sufficient supply of domestic labor. The war problem will be solved just as soon as the country as a whole realizes that there is no general labor shortage, and devotes all efforts to distribution of the available supply."

RED CROSS ITEMS

Knitters Please Take Notice

The Maui Auxiliary wishes to send a case of knitted garments in a few days, in order that it may reach the East during the cold weather. All knitters are urged to finish work in hand and turn it in as soon as possible.

Two rag-cutting machines arrived last week and have been tried out very successfully in several of the units.

Haiku and Hamakua-poko units are now working all day Thursday instead of half a day.

The preparation of surgical dressings keeps some dozen women busy at Mrs. Penhallow's on Monday afternoons. The rolls of gauze are first wound off into bolts on a wooden frame; this apparatus was designed and worked out by Mrs. Missner and Mrs. Penhallow. The bolts are then taken to the Maui News office and cut by machines into the desired sizes. They are then returned to Mrs. Penhallow's where the dressings are sorted, counted and packed ready to be sent to units needing supplies.

"Maui Sausage" Is The Latest Dainty

The following was a "Bystander" item in last Sunday's Honolulu advertiser:

The steward at the Commercial Club is somewhat of a joker. On a recent "Meatless Day" he wrote down "Maui Sausage" on his menu and then watched the result. Quite a few of the luncheon guests, after throwing hurried glances around the dining room, gave their whispered orders for sausage. One or two, who had near neighbors at table, simply pointed out the item on the card. Many in the dining room, it appears, were "on" and every man who ordered sausage was carefully but unostentatiously watched. The sausages looked beautiful for a meatless day item, nicely brown and carefully gravied, but the stuffing was Maui red beans and corn meal.

Every time a sausage orderer took the first bite the dining room roared with glee, and then the victim sat tight and roared at the next one.

Service For Inmates Of The Settlement

Rev. Frank S. Soudder, superintendent of the Japanese department of the Hawaiian Board of Missions, will be on Maui for about a week beginning tomorrow. He will be a guest of Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Dodge while here. His principal work will be to visit the Japanese churches of Central Maui and also the Wailuku Japanese Girls' Home.

Rev. John P. Erdman, superintendent of the Hawaiian Department of the Hawaiian Board, and Rev. Rowland B. Dodge, of Wailuku, have been appointed a special committee of two to arrange for regular preaching services in English every month at the Kalaupapa Protestant Church at the Settlement. Mr. Dodge will probably be the preacher for the first Sunday in March and it is expected that Rev. Leon Loofbourrow pastor of the First Methodist Church of Honolulu, will be the preacher the month of April. Thereafter the preachers have not been settled upon, but each month one preacher will be selected by the committee to comply with the request of the people of the church or one service a month in English.

Miss Elizabeth A. Camer was appointed by the Japanese committee of the Hawaiian Board to take charge of the Japanese work in Wailuku as missionary. Miss Camer is the teacher of the William and Mary Alexander Parsonage School, and will devote only a portion of her time to the work of missionary in the Japanese Church of Wailuku. Her work will consist of calling among the women of the parish and teaching on Sunday in the Sunday School, and also assisting in the work of the Christian Endeavor.

Mathews Entertains Gymnasium Workers

The Head Worker of the Alexander House Settlement entertained at dinner this week a group of the leaders in the Gymnasium work. Those present were: Dr. W. D. Baldwin, president of the Settlement; Caleb Burns, chairman of the Gymnasium Committee; A. P. Low, J. S. Wilington, Jr., Jacinth Correa, Frank Crockett, E. L. Corson and Alfred Do Rego.

After dinner an informal discussion of the problems created by Mr. Corson's absence was had, and these young men expressed their appreciation of the gymnasium and a willingness to help out. A gymnasium council was formed with the following officers: A. P. Low, president, Frank Crockett, secretary. This council pledged itself to be responsible for the carrying on of the gymnasium work, making programs and schedules; and each man was assigned one night, in which he will take personal charge.

The council presented Mr. Corson with a handsome token of their appreciation of his friendliness to them in the past year and a half. Mr. Corson also received a parting gift from the Kahului woman's gymnasium class, of which he has had charge.

International League To Start Monday

Monday night, at seven o'clock, will see the opening of the International League for this season, the first game being between the Giants and White Sox. Interest in these league games last year was intense and the prospects are that there will be as much enthusiasm this year.

Plans are now being made to entertain the International League at the beach house of the Alexander House Settlement on Saturday, February 23. A "bean supper" will be served. All former members of this League and all prospective members have been invited to give their names to their team captains as soon as possible, so that the Settlement may know how many to plan for.

On Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, there will be a new class of junior Japanese boys formed in the Gymnasium.

"KONOHI" ON MAUI

Chinese New Year was observed in a very modest way on Maui, many of the frills being eliminated as a result of republican ideas, which the Chinese are absorbing. Saturday night there were the usual fireworks, to scare the devils away, and music in the most approved Chinese style at the various club houses in the town. Store business opened again Monday night, and house servants returned the same day.

Education Committee Holds General Meeting

The education committee of the conservation committee, Maui Branch of the Vigilance Corps, held a meeting in the Chamber of Commerce rooms Saturday afternoon with plantation managers and lunas of the island. Food pledge posters and cards were distributed and arrangements completed for a systematic drive.

The plantation managers of central Maui promised their fullest co-operation, and Manager Weinheimer, of Pioneer Mill, also promised the complete co-operation of the Lahaina side.

Mr. Thompson, chairman of the education committee, expressed himself as well satisfied with the progress being made in instructing plantation laborers in the necessity of conserving food.

"Conservation" In The Local Theaters

The committee having in charge the matter of short addresses in the theaters on conservation, the war saving stamps and kindred topics have begun work with a bang, and the good effects, are already being noted.

Saturday evening the speaker at the Orpheum theater, in Wailuku, was D. H. Case. Monday evening C. D. Lufkin was the speaker and Wednesday evening Rev. Rowland B. Dodge addressed the audience.

The Japanese are entering into the spirit of the campaign in fine style Saturday evening Rev. S. Konda will be the speaker at the Orpheum, and Monday evening Mr. Otsuka will speak at Kahului.

The Mass Meeting Saturday Afternoon

The following letter, issued by Secretary J. J. Walsh to members of the conservation committee of the Vigilance Corps, fully outlines the call for the mass meeting at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon:

"I am directed by Dr. Baldwin to advise you that there will be a mass meeting at the Kahului Community House, Saturday afternoon, February 16, at four o'clock, under the auspices of the Food Conservation Committee of the Vigilance Corps and you are requested to make an effort to see that there is a large attendance, particularly of men—the ladies always have turned out very well to these meetings, but the men have been a little backward.

"Kindly speak to as many of your friends as you can and try to get them to attend the meeting."

Satisfactorily Explained

Mrs. Young-Bride—"Our cook says those eggs you sent yesterday were quite old."

Grocer—"Very sorry, ma'am. They were the best we could get. You see, all the young chickens were killed off for the holiday trade so the old hens are the only ones left to do the laying." Mrs. Youngbride—"Oh, to be sure! I hadn't thought of that."—Omaha News.

Food Administrator Is Asked For Advice

A well known small farmer of Maui has written the following letter to the food administrator:

Haiuku, Maui, Feb. 10, 1918.
Mr. J. F. Child,
Food Administrator,
Honolulu.

Dear Mr. Child:

We are having difficulty in getting substitute flour. Can you help us out? We can secure white wheat flour, Graham flour and cornmeal. It is desirable as I understand it, not to use any more than absolutely necessary of the two former, while the maintenance of health prevents us from using very much of the last. In our family if we try to use cornmeal straight, we break out with hives. I have heard of barley flour, banana and sweet potato flours and cassava flour but none of these can we buy. I take it up with the store, but can get no satisfaction. Although I have never seen it, I should think that barley flour would make the nearest substitute to wheat flour, as the two grains analyse very nearly the same. Why can't we get this?

I recently read in the paper that there was quite a large patch of cassava on windward Oahu for sale, and the federal experiment station was urging that it be bought and made into flour. Was anything done about this? Will we be able to get some of that cassava as flour? It would be possible, would it not, with machinery now on Oahu to make this flour? The sugar mills and at least one feed company have driers.

The great need for saving wheat is right now, and up to the harvesting of the next crop in July, is it not?

We have not tasted white bread in our home for many a long day. We make the bread now of 9 parts Graham, 1 cornmeal, 1 rice and 4 parts white wheat flour (by measure). We use this all the time rather than observing wheatless days and using white bread on other days, because, as I said above, when we tried the wheatless day with the substitutes available, the results were unhappy. But we are not satisfied. We use too much wheat, we want to get away from it, and being unable to get the substitutes locally we now appeal to you.

We do not want our substitute flour in 5 lb. tins at 65 cents a tin. That may be alright for people in the sugar business but it is not for homesteaders in the chicken business. The substitute flour must not cost more than wheat, and ought to cost less, considering the value of the grains.

Very truly yours,

P. S.—We tried an experiment with sugar which it might be well for others to try. When we read that it was desired that we use not over 3 lbs. per person per month we felt that we were already on the safe side, but measured out 5 lbs. and used that for all purposes to see how long it would last. It was gone in just a week,—we found ourselves using at the rate of 20 lbs. a month. There being but 5 of us this was 5 lbs. a month more than we should use. So, of course we began to cut, and shall check ourselves by noting how long the 5 lbs. last from time to time.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

The following have been issued since last report:
Keuzo Kano, Japanese, Wailuku, 36;
Asae Orita, Japanese, Puanene, 22.
Sam Kuoha, Hawaiian, 23; Helen Makahilahila, Hawaiian, Hana, 19.

Proclamation.

The Government of the United States of America, having found its war finances and citizen interest require the loyal assistance of the people of moderate means, or no means except their daily income, has devised a unique financial scheme, whereby both subscribers and the Government may benefit and the day of settlement and payment be deferred for five years, or in the year 1923, a date undoubtedly beyond the end of the war.

By means of thrift stamps of the denomination of twenty-five cents, an accumulation can be made so that within the year 1918, a minimum War Saving Certificate of a $5.00 denomination, may be secured. The Certificate may be increased, if desired, to one Thousand Dollars.

No more effective way of saving and acquiring the habit of saving has ever been placed before a people.

Every Certificate is also a certificate of partnership with the United States of America in carrying on this War for Liberty.

I recommend and urge the Citizens to promptly begin this campaign of Savings and partnership.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the Territory of Hawaii to be affixed.

DONE at the capital in Honolulu this 4th day of February, A. D. 1918.

(Sgd.) Lucius E. Pinkham,
Governor of Hawaii.

By the Governor
(Sgd.) Curtis P. Iaukea,

THAT MEANS YOU

It is variously asserted, with vigor and emphasis, that the war will be won by ships, by munitions, by food, by money, by soldiers. Some say one thing, some another. None of them is wrong—but no one of them is right.

The war will be won by the spirit, by vision and courage and sacrifice. In proportion as the peoples united against German barbarism see clearly, act fearlessly and give themselves generously, will the victory for humanity and the world come quickly.

Ships and munitions and food and money and men are indispensable. But unless the spirit of devotion and sacrifice infuses itself thru every part of the nations that must provide them all their providing will be of no avail.

The peoples of our Allies have learned this truth in bitterness and travail. It has been burned into their souls with the searing iron of frightfulness. We Americans are the quick ones, the ready ones, the "nustling" ones. We have gone rapidly along the appointed road that leads against the enemy's lines once we set our foot upon it. But this vital truth we have not yet learned in fullness and "by heart". It is thus that we must learn it. It must come to glow with a quenchless fire in a hundred million hearts if the nation that is theirs is to take its full part in the salvation of the world for the ideals that are theirs.

The war, as far as we are concerned in it, will not be won by ships or troops or guns or supplies or dollars, tho it might be lost for the want of them. It will be won by the man in the street and the woman in the home. It will be won by you and your like, by yourself and family, your friends, your neighbors, your associates, your fellow-workers.

Is this your war? Do you feel it yours, believe it yours, know it yours? Have you done something to make it yours—something definite, something real, something that hurts?

This is democracy's war. It is waged for democracy; it must be won by democracy.

Democracy—that means you.—The Independent.

THE CASE OF MR. WEINZHEIMER

It is with feelings of extreme regret that we learn of the charges of disloyalty preferred against Mr. L. Weinzheimer, manager of Pioneer Mill, if for no other reasons than that he is a Maui resident and is at the head of the business of a large, Maui enterprise. Whether or not all of the charges are true, we do not know; but enough has been admitted to convince us that there has not been sufficient loyalty to the United States since April 6 last and, on the contrary, too much sympathy with and for the arch enemy of our country and civilization—Germany.

This war is very serious business with every American. Outrages after outrages had been committed by Germany against American ideals, and insults and defiance hurled into our teeth. The "fighting spirit" of America has been forced up, against our wishes, and we are now prepared to sacrifice millions of lives, if need be, and fabulous treasure to bring about the triumph of right in the world. In the struggle we cannot tolerate disloyalty, or German sympathies (which mean the same thing) in any part of the United States, including Hawaii. Mr. Weinzheimer is a man of more than average intelligence, and should know that. If he does not know it, he should be taught it.

Mr. Weinzheimer has many friends on Maui between whom and he there has developed a breach in the past few days—of his making. The latter regret that such is the case, and would have it otherwise if they could. But it is his next move. It is for him to undo, or satisfactorily explain.

We positively will not tolerate disloyalty to the United States, or disloyal remarks, on this island. We will turn Haleakala upside down first.

Mr. Weinzheimer, or anyone having ideas foreign thereto, may wisely memorize every word of that, and profitably act accordingly.

THE PEOPLE ARE SAVING

We have no figures to go on at present but indications are that despite the fact that the people of this Territory have invested heavily in Liberty Bonds, War Savings Stamps, etc., savings deposits in the banks and other institutions have greatly increased since our part of the war began last April. This goes to show that the patriots of this Territory have been conserving their finances as well as saving food for the Allies. And the same condition of affairs appears to have obtained throughout the nation, as witness the following semi-official announcement from Washington:

"The English have not been considered a saving nation, and one of the most notable examples of the effect of patriotism on a whole people was the fact that during the year 1916, although purchasing billions of dollars of war bonds, the small savings banks depositors in England increased their deposits over $60,000,000.

"The patriotic appeal to the American people for war savings has met with a similar response. Statistics for the year 1917 are not yet available, but reports from various sections of the United States indicate that membership and assets in co-operative building, or savings and loan associations, increased at least 10 percent., the same rate of increase for the year 1916 and about the average rate of increase for the last 10 years.

"The small savings-bank accounts show a similar increase in numbers of depositors and amounts of deposits. Sales of war-savings stamps also show a great growth of the habit of saving.

"The American people have responded to the call of duty to economize and save. They have not only purchased nearly $6,000,000,000 of liberty-loan bonds and war-savings stamps, but in addition they have increased their savings as above shown. Patriotism and saving are synonymous now, and economy is a duty, and many millions of American citizens are doing their duty in this particular."

THE NEW COURT JUDGES

If it had been the determination of the President to appoint a Democrat to the office of chief justice of this Territory we do not feel that a better selection could have been made than Justice James L. Coke. The appointee has made good as a lawyer, a legislator, a judge and as a citizen, and it is a well-known fact in this Territory that he has the confidence of everyone having the good fortune to know him. Only the more cautious individual expresses any other view, and the carping of such amounts to little against the weight of the intelligent, conservative, majority of opinion. We confidently believe that Mr. Coke, as chief justice, will more than make good—he will prove a credit to our higher court and to the Territory.

Maui regrets exceedingly to lose Judge Edings, and is reconciled only by the thought that there may be improved possibilities for him in the city. Judge Edings came here at a time when court conditions were not satisfactory, and it was freely predicted that he would have "a hard time of it." On the contrary, by virtue of his splendid legal knowledge, which was at once apparent; his unswerving honesty and a pleasing court personality, he won the complete confidence of everybody—high and low, rich and poor, alike; and a prominent attorney said only yesterday: "Judge Edings is leaving here without a single bad, or even indifferent, friend. All of the lawyers of this island consider him the best judge we have ever had."

Judge Burr, who will come to take the place of Judge Edings, is not personally known to us. We are pleased to say, however, that inquiries have brought information of an assuring character. In following a man like Judge Edings, we are of the opinion that any court head here will have his difficulties for a time; but as the disposition of Maui is to warmly welcome and assist Judge Burr, these difficulties will probably, in the nature of things, disappear in reasonable course.

Just the same, up to this moment, we feel that Maui is losing and that Honolulu is, correspondingly, gaining in the latter matter.

FOLLOW DIRECTIONS

You would give your life for your country. You would scorn an American whose patriotism ended with waving flags, cheering the troops and standing up when the band plays. You want to serve your country.

Are you willing to do what your Government asks? Are you willing to follow directions?

Are you so comfortably fixed that you can afford to eat what you please? Ah, but you can't afford to eat what your country needs. FOLLOW DIRECTIONS.

Are you saving now of your slender means all you possibly can? Still, as far as your circumstances permit, FOLLOW DIRECTIONS.

Have your servants who can't be made to understand? It is your chore to see that they do. FOLLOW DIRECTIONS.

Following directions. Today the direction is to save two slices of bread, an ounce of meat, an ounce of sugar, a snitch of butter. Tomorrow as conditions change there will be new directions. FOLLOW DIRECTIONS.

Follow directions. If Germany wins you will be obeying orders given by some one you will not care to obey. Your Government asks you to prove that free people can follow directions.

Follow directions. If we fail in this the war will drag on. As we succeed, we shall sooner have peace. FOLLOW DIRECTIONS.

COL. McCARTHY FOR GOVERNOR

If the wireless report from Honolulu last night is to be credited, Colonel Chas. J. McCarthy, Territorial treasurer, would, under certain circumstances, become a candidate for the office of Governor.

The idea strikes us favorably for two reasons. First, we do not consider that the Democratic party in the Islands contains a better man for the position than the Colonel; and, second, we believe that factions would come nearer uniting on McCarthy than on any of the candidates now in the field. The other candidates may not be aware of the fact, but we are positive that each and all of them have—strong, determined opposition; and that more or less bad feeling would follow the choice of either. As to McCarthy, the situation is quite different.

A governor capable of satisfying everybody in this Territory is a dream which will never come true. We might realize it under statehood, but not before; and it is doubtful that even under statehood we could elect such a man. The only thing we can do wisely is to unite on a man giving promise of being able to satisfy the largest number who may be in line for appointment, back him up—and support him after he is in office.

As to Colonel McCarthy we are satisfied that it is a case of the office seeking the man, and that is a big point in his favor to start with.

On the other hand, looking at the matter broadly, there is considerable difference between the position of a man who, prior to our declaration of war on Germany in April last, disliked the Allies and said so, and the position of the man who since April 6 has sympathized with the cause of Germany as against the United States. We need to be careful right there, or injustice may be done, which is un-American to begin with. There has been feeling in Germany against the French for fifty years, and against the Englishman longer than that, and in the days of our neutrality that feeling among the Germans undoubtedly did manifest itself all over our country. There is every reason to believe, however, that there are some so-called German-Americans, who, when it became a case of Germany against the United States, in April last, recognized it as an entirely different proposition, cut loose from their German sympathies and have been loyal to the land of their adoption ever since. This suggestion is thrown out at this time solely for the reason that in the fervor of our own loyalty and the earnestness we feel in the cause of our country, there may be danger in some instances, of being unfair by questioning loyalty and basing our fears solely upon incidents having to do with a time when our own interests as a nation were not officially involved.

THE MAUI NEWS stretched the tail of that famous Kihei shark a little in order to make the big fish measure exactly fourteen feet, but that was nothing to what the Honolulu papers did to the poor man-eater. Why, they stretched him at both ends and in the middle until he showed 20 feet on the tape! A little more enterprise of that sort ought to be able to settle the fish problems of Honolulu without going to the expense and trouble of a new municipal market.

The Honolulu Advertiser, speaking of Judge W. S. Edings, says: "He has long been a prominent figure in Democratic politics." That judge Edings has been, and is, a Democrat is generally understood; but that the reserved gentleman has been a prominent figure in politics will come as a surprise to friends who have known him for a quarter of a century.

The food conservation workers of Maui do not feel that they have a just and necessary proportion of support from the men of the island. The ladies are doing their part, and well; but there are many near "slackers" among the men. It is true that quite a few business men are giving their time, talents and general influence to the cause, but there are those who, although in position to do so, are not helping. This is a very important matter and it must have the support of everybody.

The potato crop for the year closing with December was the biggest in the history of the United States, reaching an estimated total of 422,536,000 bushels, and yet we are informed that prices are higher than in many years past. Impaired facilities for moving the enormous crop is given as the reason for the high prices, the bulk of the yield being still in the hands of the farmers. But the fact that the potatoes are in the country is encouraging, for it means that sooner or later this substitute for so much wheat flour will be abundant.

Attorney D. L. Withington thinks that Hon. James L. Coke has gone nothing to entitle him to the office of chief justice. That is purely a personal opinion, dependent for its existence upon the view-point. A man might, with equal cause, say the same of any other candidate whom he did not happen to like.

We are gratified to learn that Kuhio has again been "converted" and is on his way to Washington to work for prohibition for the Islands. If he does not once more change his mind all may go well.

Just as a slight indication of the solidarity of our country the following, sent out from Petersburg, Virginia, last Tuesday is interesting: "The Virginia general assembly today attended the exercises at Camp Lee in observance of the birthday of Abraham Lincoln."

The Price Of Eggs
 Editor Maui News:
 The government has fixed a price for hogs based upon the price of corn. This is expressed by the ratio "thirteen to one", and means that if a farmer will keep his hog until it weighs 250 lbs. he will receive for it thirteen times the value of a bushel of hard corn more than he would have received for it if he had sold it when it weighed 150 lbs. This represents a sound principle,—that of adjusting the price of the finished product to the cost of the raw materials required to produce it.

Why not apply it to eggs? In determining what is a fair price for eggs why not base it upon the cost of corn? What would be the result if this were done? Before the U. S. entered the war Kula corn was the main grain of my egg ration. It cost me at Haiku from $1.80 to $2.00 per 100 lbs. At that time 50 cents a dozen was regarded as a fair average price for eggs. This was 25 times the price of a pound of corn. Today Kula corn costs $4.00 a bag at Haiku, or 4 cents a pound, and the price of eggs, at the same ratio that prevailed before the war, would be 25 times 4 cents, or $1.00 a dozen. And as a matter of fact I believe that that would be just about a fair price for eggs under present conditions,—a price that in the egg business would correspond to sugar at 4 1/4 cents in the sugar business.

No matter how fair we may believe it to be we cannot get that price for our eggs now, and the Haiku Egg Circle has at no time put the price above 80 cents. If that price could be maintained throughout this year I think it would be satisfactory, and encourage the increase of the flocks. If it falls much below that there will be no encouragement to raise young stock, and the market will be as short of eggs next fall as ever.

Weather On Maui

The weather in Wailuku the past week has been generally clear, rainfall being light. Cold nights have prevailed, the thermometer twice going down to 60, causing people to look to the mountain to see if it were snow-capped. General conditions have been highly favorable to cane, there being ample moisture in the soil.

Sandwiches And Sense

At all the affairs, formal and informal, one is beginning to find evidences of Hooverizing. Sandwiches no longer take on new and strange costumes, and the airs and graces of former days have departed. The fantastic shapes which required much waste of bread are tabu. As evidence of this, there is a good tale that comes from the inner circle of the Burlingame set. The chateleine of one of the beautiful homes down there had a group of friends come in to make comfort bags for the soldiers. At tea time the maids arrived, and the first sandwiches which were offered brought Ohs! and Ahs! of admirers were perfect miniature replica of American flags. The first woman to whom they were passed was a quiet but much beloved and respected person, who refused them. "Oh, take one!" urged the hostess. "I can't," very simply answered the conscientious objector. "I've signed the Hoover pledge, and nothing could be more wasteful of material and effort than such sandwiches. Think of the number of imperfect ones which must have been thrown away, to say nothing of the time and material wasted in the production of these perfect ones."

Whereupon the hostess, being of the right sort, herself admitted that it was ridiculous to serve refreshments of that sort, or of the kind that made up the rest of her tea menu, and still think that one was doing one's patriotic duty, and every woman there got a more practical idea of food conservation.—San Francisco News-Letter.

"Hashimura Togo"

Hashimura Togo, in reality young Baron Katzu, the hero of Wallace Irwin's Japanese schoolboy tales, familiar to magazine and newspaper readers of America, makes his screen bow on Saturday next at the Wailuku Orpheum. "Hashimura Togo" is a Paramount picture.

Sesue Hayakawa, celebrated Japanese screen actor, will impersonate the amusing young Jap under the able direction of William C. De Mille, scenario writer and director who has been responsible for many of the screen's greatest productions, such as "Carmen", starring Geraldine Farrar, and many others.

Driven from his native land by the wiles of a treacherous brother, the young Baron finds himself compelled to take a position as "ship's boy" on a boat bound for America. He does this partly in order to be near a wonderful young American "moon maiden" as he calls her and partly to see his friend "the honorable George Washington", whom he fondly believes will welcome him with a small ax in his hand.

His adventures in America are unique and much has been added to their charm by the clever acting of Mr. Hayakawa and the excellent cast, which includes such well-known names as Florence Vidor, Mabel Van Buren, Walter Long, Tom Forman, Raymond Hatton, Ernest Joy, Margaret Loomis, and two Japanese actors, Kuwahara and Konishi.

Imagine a slender, graceful and well-bred Japanese count struggling with the intricacies of American cooking; later studying the "most reverend typewriter"; making his debut as a writer of "newsplay talk"; or acting as a clever amateur detective with his friend from "headly quarters".

There is a very interesting love theme interwoven throughout his adventures, both in old Japan, where there is a tiny cousin, O Noto San, waiting for him 'neath the cherry blossoms during his somewhat hectic career in America; and also in this country where he worships from afar at the shrine of Corinne Reynolds, a wealthy American girl, whom he calls his "moon maiden".

The treacherous brother and the wily old father are at last brought to terms by the aid of a clever young American reporter and "Baron Katzu" whom we have known so long as "Togo" comes back to his own in fair Japan where he finds little O Noto San faithfully waiting.

Nance O'Neil in "The Final Payment"

Nance O'Neil, the Fox star who has been seen here in a list of notable successes, returns in the feature picture of the new bill at the Orpheum on Monday next. The picture is "The Final Payment", written by Frank Powell, whose screen stories have won high rank.

The scenes of the narrative are laid in the Sicilian fishing village of Ajaccio, where Nance O'Neil, in the character of a young matron, is the happy wife of Caesar, one of the crew of a schooner. The theme of the tale is developed from the attempts of the captain of Caesar's schooner to steal the affections of the woman. In a series of gripping scenes his efforts are defeated and he is forced to make "The Final Payment". Travelers who have visited the historic land will recognize scenes showing the harbor of Ajaccio, as these were produced in exact counterpart from sketches and photographs obtained especially for the purposes of the Fox production. The costumes also are those worn by the fisher folk of Sicily.

"The Last Of The Ingrams"

"The Last of the Ingrams" marks the return to the theater of the widely famed Triangle pictures, the present picture being an Ince-Kay Bee production. The tale follows the life of a temperamental youth reared in the bleak, unsmiling atmosphere of a New England village, the scion and last representative of a family noted for its austere outlook in life. Jules Ingram, play by William Desmond, besmirches his family escutcheon and then, a victim to drink, parts with his properties. When the world is at its bleakest for the youth through the agency of a girl of the village, another victim of the Puritan standards of the community, Ingram is able to rehabilitate his fortunes. The realistic New England settings of the story give it an added interest.

"Seven Keys To Baldpate"

George Cohan's great mystery farce, "Seven Keys to Baldpate", which was adapted from the book by Earl Deer Biggers and then made into a photoplay by the Paramount people, comes to the Orpheum next Wednesday.

It is stated that the screen version of the play marks a real improvement over the stage production, which had a long successful run on Broadway, and is still being played by a number of road companies. In the original play on the stage George M. Cohan, who dramatized the tale, did not appear. He is the leading character in the picture play, however, and in filming the production it was found that the moving picture camera was equal to the purpose of bringing out situations that were impossible on the speaking stage. The story is a clever blending of mystery, thrills, and laughter, with a sweetening dash in the shape of a pleasing love story. Advt.

He enlisted in the Engineer Corps of Company E, 6th Battalion.

Two letters were lately received from him. On Nov. 24th he wrote from Camp Lewis, Washington, and ended by saying, "Many loves and kisses to my mother. Well, good bye, till we see each other in France. Ha! Ha!"

The last letter he wrote home was sent to J. M. Medeiros, his brother-in-law and was written on Y.M.C.A. stationery with the heading "Co. E-6 B'n-20 Engineers, Camp American University, W. D. C. 1/2/18. This letter described the trip East, and the camp. He said: "The ground here is all covered with snow and ice. The snow drops down like as if it was raining. Some of the boys that came up with me on the same trip are going to leave tonight for France. I suppose I'll be going, too, in a few days. From now on it's hell, but it's all in a life time."

Mrs. Martins and her children are the center of a great deal of sympathy expressed by all the people of this island. Particularly since the news was published in the Daily Wireless the people of Paia have constantly been asking the question, "Is it true?" ### A Young Hawaiian Observes Konohi

A well known, young Hawaiian, of Wailuku, caused his friends considerable anxiety early in the week by pulling off a "mysterious disappearance" act.

The fellow is employed by the Kahului railway in connection with the shipping end of the business. Before going out last Saturday the Claudine accidentally rammed a scow. This man and others were set to work on Monday repairing it. The hero of this story, if such he may be called, got very wet and was given a dollar by the luna and told to go home, get some dry clothes and "rest up."

He started out and changed clothes all right, but that was the last seen of him at Kahului or even at his home for more than two days. A search was instituted, but without avail, and the police were notified. No trace of the missing man could be found, so drowning, foul play and all sorts of bad things were being suspected.

Thursday morning, however, he showed up for work, in fit condition and as calm as though nothing had happened.

He explained that when he went out in Wailuku he found his Chinese friends celebrating "konohi," and as he did not like to see a good thing like that drag for lack of support he jumped in to help it along. It took him the two days to make a good job of it.

Planters May Ask Receiver For Hana Cane

ers had thrown across the street in Hana, calling attention to the patriotic duty of everybody in the present war emergency and charging officials of the plantation with disloyalty to those principles. This banner was, upon advice, taken down.

The gratifying news is brought that any possibility of an open strike is past and that all differences will be determined by the courts.

The trouble at Hana, between the plantation and the contract growers of cane, started several months ago, when dissatisfaction was expressed by the latter with the agreements under which they were growing cane for the mill. It developed in time that some of the growers had no contracts at all, and were operating under verbal agreements only. However, they all agreed to make common cause of the matter, and a near-strike came about. In course of time matters quieted down, and the questions involved have been moving slowly toward the courts.

Leadership Of Lincoln

"The Leadership of Lincoln" was the sermon topic at the Makawao Union Church Sunday morning. The Rev. A. Craig Bowdish said in part that there are three phases of Lincoln's leadership which stand out with great clearness. First, that any faithful home may furnish a leader of the people. The log cabin in which he was born and which is now preserved as a memorial is a symbol of democracy and the worth of humanity. Second, that his mother, Nancy Hanks, was a large factor in Lincoln's early history and getting started right in life. His fundamental principles of morality and justice he gained from her. She was from an obscure family, but a woman of noble purpose which she was able to impart to her son. She represents the type of friendship, of comradeship which gives right inspiration and direction to young life. Third, that as the years go by there is a greater appreciation of moral and spiritual leadership of Lincoln. He has a sane and simple analysis of life that rings true in all his varied activities, whether splitting rails or keeping store or studying law or as captain in the Blackhawk war or in public speaking. For high principle he was willing to fail of election to the legislature. It was the same when Stephen A. Douglas defeated him for the United States Senate. He was inflexible for the right. In time the nation saw it and claimed his leadership.

Other men have been in high favor for a time, but have been forgotten later. Not so Lincoln. No one else perhaps has been so much quoted during this Great War by the British leaders. Britain herself has chosen the leader for her hour of crisis from a little known Welsh home. Mr. Lloyd George has time and again quoted from and referred to Lincoln's career and his writings. Lincoln's patience, his calm insight, his sense of justice and mercy, were never more appreciated than today when the spirit, the morale, the noble purpose of a race or people mean so much in the international questions and struggle of the world.

"The Greatest Thing In The World"

The text for the sermon, preached by Rev. J. Charles Villiers, at the Church of the Good Shepherd, on Sunday morning, was taken from the epistle for the Sunday before Lent, I Corinthians, chapter 13, as he said, a remarkable chapter, in a remarkable epistle. The text was the last verse of the chapter: "And now abideth faith, hope, love, these three; and the greatest of these is love."

There are sometexts of scripture that are infinitely greater in their own simplicity of statement than any exposition of them, by modern priest or prophet, could ever make them. That might, perhaps, be said of any text chosen from this thirteenth chapter of St. Paul's first epistle to the Corinthians, whose teachings if sincerely believed in, and practiced, by every member of the Church would have a wonderful, moral effect on a multitude of men and women, who, at present, pay no serious heed to the Church. In writing as he did in this chapter, St. Paul beautifully exemplified his own teaching, for the treatment which had been accorded him, by not a few members of the Corinthian church, had been as might well have turned his thought from "faith, hope, and love" to doubt, despair, and hatred. The secret of his willingness, and power, to write as he did, is in the love of which he writes.

To feel love in our hearts, is to be able to express it in our lives, in word, and in deed. When love is in the soul, God is, and when God is in the soul, then the spirit of His will, is, also. It is when we steel our hearts against love that we become wrong-headed, as well as wrong-hearted.

Of all things to be feared in connection with the present war, nothing is more to be feared, than that it may lead the victorious nations to pursue, under the plea of self-interest, a policy of international commercial, and industrial relations, fundamentally at variance with the true principles of the brotherhood of man. A league of nations is desirable, and most desirable, if its supreme aim is to make the world safe for democracy, and to secure a better application, than the world has yet had, of the principles of brotherhood and love, to international politics, commerce, and industry. If the war aims enunciated by President Wilson, by Lloyd George, and other leaders, are to be carried out with any breadth of moral vision, brotherhood and love must play a larger part, around the coming peace table, than national self interest and gain. That is not to say that there must not be reparation for wanton destruction, and wicked wrong, to Belgium, to Serbia, and to other nations, by those who have been the aggressors in this war. Love itself, the common love of humanity, would demand that. But it does mean that in the negotiations at the peace conference, to which we all are anxiously looking forward, justice may be tempered with mercy, however underserved the supplicants may be, and all attempts to gain some selfish end may be ruled out. That for which we and our allies are fighting concerns itself with the souls and spirits of men, with their lives and liberties. We are in war, impelled by inner constraint, as much, and more, than we are by outward compulsion. And that inner constraint, writ large, spells love, far more than it does hatred. Whatever of fear we had as to our own future, should Germany be victorious in the present war, we were called to arms by the ties of brotherhood and love against the wrongs of our fellow men, against a tyranny which, if it is not curbed, and broken will debase, degrade, and ruin civilization. We are confronted, not with a theory, but with a condition, which threatens the enslavement of the lives and liberties of men and nations. It was the noted Frenchman, author of "The Simple Life," whose name and whose book, twenty years ago, was a household word, who said, "what is the disease from which our entire civilization suffers, but want of love?" Yes, that is what ails civilization, and so serious has become the disease that, in the words of Isaiah: "the whole head is sick, and the whole heart faint." But there is hope of recovery, and of new life for civilization in the very sacrifice and brotherly love which the war is demanding. To talk about love in connection with war may seem strange. What possible connection can there be between the two? Hate in war, we know there is. Abominable hate, disgusting, degrading, destroying hate. But the obverse side of hate in war, is love, and love is greater than hate. Love is of God, the Divine, and enduring principle of life. Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friend. The war as it is waged by the allied nations, and by no nation more than by America, is waged, not for territory, nor perishable wealth, but for humanity, and right. It is for this reason that the future is with the Allies for Love will outlive hate and triumph over it at the last, and Love has faith and hope on its side.
