BIG BALL CONTEST IS PLAYED

Many people, lined up in autos, saw the Kilauea defeat McBryde's Sunday. Eleele by the score of 9 to 2. The game at all times was never in doubt, the visitors stringing up a series of eight goose eggs for the home team. Only in the last did they let up and McBryde scored their two runs. Rain interfered with the game at several times, the game being called for a few moments. In the initial inning the visitors scored four runs, Kerr died second to first. G. Akana made first on error short stop. Sanborn singled and on a passed ball, both runners moved up a base. G. Akana scored on another passed ball, Sanborn going to third. J. Pacheco stroled to first and stole second. T. Pacheco singled scoring sanborn, J. Pacheco making third. On a passed ball the latter scored. T. Pacheco reached third on the play, Gabriel singled scoring T. Pacheco. Lorenzo hit into a double play second to short to first, returning both himself and Gabriel. The McBrydes failed to register in the same inning. Kilauea did not score again until the fifth inning when they got three men across the plate. G. Akana died third to first Sanborn singled and made second on wild pitch and scored when Andrade dropped, J. Pacheco's fly, the latter making third. Pacheco scored on error short, T. Pacheco reaching second Gabriel made second, error short T. Pacheco scoring, Lorenzo fanned, Sam Kaai walked, J. Akana flew to Denichi. With the beginning of the sixth Richardson went into the box for McBryde, Aki covering first and Robello catching. The visitors scored two in the seventh when T. Pacheco singled. Gabriel flew to center Lorenzo got around the circuit scoring T. Pacheco on a series of errors. Sam Kaai died short to first. The next two outs were disposed of without any further runs. In the ninth McBryde got their two runs when Denichi stroled Spaulding made third on error Denichi dying there before him. Spaulding scored on error first Aki making second Perreira went out pitcher to first Andrade singled scoring Aki. Medeiros fanned.

PROMINENT ATTORNEY DECLARES HIMSELF

A. G. Kaulukou, in reply to the question as to whether or not he intended to run for County Attorney, said:

"Yes, I have decided to enter the race, and you are at liberty to say as much. I believe I have an even chance and win or lose the goal is worth the trial."

School Children Need Doctors

Fifteen million American school children need a doctor's attention. This is the estimate furnished the United States Bureau of Education by Dr. Thomas D. Wood, professor of physical education in the Columbia University Teacher's college.

"Of the 20,000,000 school children in this country," says Dr. Wood, "not less than 75 per cent need attention for physical defects which are prejudicial to health and which are partially or completely remedial."

Some of the doctor's conclusions are as follows:

Several million children have two or more handicapping defects; 400,000 have organic heart disease; at least 1,000,000 have or have had tuberculosis; about 1,000,000 have spinal curvatures, flat foot or some other moderate deformity; more than 1,000,000 have defective hearing; about 5,000,000 have defective vision; about 5,000,000 are suffering from malnutrition; 6,000,000 or 7,000,000 have enlarged tonsils, adenoids or enlarged cervical glands; more than 10,000,000 have defective teeth which are interfering with health; about 100 cities have as many different kinds of organizations for the care of health in the schools.

How To Knock Your Town

Buy from peddlers as much and as often as possible.

Denounce your merchant because he make a profit on his goods.

Glory in the downfall of a man who had done much to build up your town, make your town out a bad place and stab it every chance you get, refuse to unite in any scheme for the betterment of the material interest of the people. If a stranger comes to town tell him everything is overdone and predict a crash in the near future. Tell your merchants that you can buy goods a great deal cheaper in some other town and charge them with extortion. Patronize outside newspapers to the exclusion of your own and then denounce yours for not being as large and as cheap as the city paper. If you are a merchant don't advertise in the home paper, but compel the Editor to go elsewhere for advertising and howl because he did so.

oil and were unable to put on a blaze which might sniff out their antagonists. Everybody rooted to heat the band and the old weather man had so arranged his weather schedule as to allow for ideal weather. A return game will probably be played next Sunday.

The Lihue Juniors are putting up a class of ball which is attracting a great deal of very commendable attention. Visitors who returned from the big game at McBryde last Sunday, in time to see a part of the last game, were astonished to see such excellent work by the amateur teams.

The Mokihanas defeated the L. J. C. team in an exciting game with a score of 10-9.

The J. A. C.'s vs. the Rizals, another two of the Junior League teams, gave an interesting exhibition of the game, ending with a score of 12 to 10 in favor of the J. A. C. aggregation. Interest in the Junior Leagues of the island is on the increase and there is some likelihood of arranging transportation for some exchange games.

"Kawaihau Junior too sassy," remarked a Lihue Junior, which would indicate that it would re-

THOUSANDS GATHER AT SPALDING LUAU

Standing beneath the spreading branches of stately monkey pod trees which threw their welcoming shades over an area of several acres of the beautiful lawn surrounding the Spalding Valley House, and identically where he stood on receiving his friends in celebrating his 50th birthday anniversary. Col. Z. S. Spalding, was host at an informal luau to two thousands five hundred of his Kauai friends from one to five p. m. yesterday, on his 75th anniversary.

Fifty tables, with a seating capacity of fifty each, literally groaning with every delicacy imaginable; a brass band played enchanting music; and a stringed orchestra entertained the throng during the feast.

Hon. A. S. Wilcox delivered an appropriate after-dinner address, which was ably responded to by the Rev. Hans Isenberg.

The elaborateness of the luau has never yet been surpassed on Kauai. Never yet was there such an abundance of provisions, nor such painstaking care displayed in even the slightest details. Invitations by the hundreds were issued, and as the Spalding affairs are always nothing short of marvelous, needless to say that the invitations were appreciated and gladly accepted. A large tent had been constructed over the table to prevent interference by rain showers. The wisdom of this thoughtfulness of the hostess was clearly demonstrated near the close of the festivities when, for several minutes a perfect deluge fell upon the taught canvas roof.

A pleasing feature of the reception and one which probably most of all portrayed the real character of the man whom thousands had gathered to congratulate, was the special provision which had been made for conveying the plantation employes from their homes to the grounds. THE GARDEN ISLAND joins the multitude of Col. Spalding's friends in wishing him many returns of the happy event

SERIOUS AUTO ACCIDENT BREAKS A LEG

An auto accident which resulted in a compound fracture of a leg and the arrest of the driver, occurred in Hanapepe last Saturday. A Japanese named Narusi was passing through town and by a very small margin, missed striking a Japanese child who had wandered into the road, the mother of whom, being frightened, screamed. The father, evidently not waiting to see why, rushed into the street and in front of the automobile. He was knocked down and at first thought to be fatally injured, but on closer examination, found to have only received a compound fracture of the leg, which while very painful, is not necessarily fatal. The driver who was arrested has since been released on his own recognizance.

DEAR EDITOR:

Am very sorry to think that there is such a man on the world who hold Bible in his left hand and conducts the way of contradiction with his right hand.

It is not vanished away from our eyes yet that Mr. Blank advertised in your paper for his lost book offering Five Dollars for the reward.

God took pity on him, and returned his lost book back to his hand again through a Japanese.

Now, Dear Editor, do you suppose Mr. Blank gave to the Japanese $5 the promised reward?

Poh! Just imagine, this Hon. Reverend cut his promised reward down into half and gave the Japanese $2.50.

Alas! This pious gentle man of haole, did gain $2.50 in this smart way cheating God and men. Is this the way who obey the will of God?

I made a "Bill" for him to be paid back the sum of money.

The articles are as follows:

1. Confidence of your paper advertisement.

The conduct destroyed the confidence of your paper advertisement. $ 50

2. Fame of haoles.

He spoiled the "Fame of Haoles" 50

3. Christianity.

This deed made people begin to doubt "Christianity." 50

4. The other men's benefit.

If some body lost something afterward nobody return it back to the former owner willingly lest he lose his half reward in this way. 50

5. His name's sake.

If he do not pay the other half of the promised reward. 50

$2.50

The above described articles are very cheap, I dare say Dear Editor, give him strong suggestion to make him pay it.

I report you for moral, social and God's sake. I watch out.

Yours truly,

HYPOCRITE.

EDITOR'S NOTE:

The writer of the above is mistaken in so far as such an ad ever appearing in this paper. The defence in regard to the reputation of the paper, of course, while in this case, unnecessary, is nevertheless appreciated.

Stork On Board S. S. Kinau

When the Kinau left her dock in Honolulu last Tuesday afternoon, it carried a passenger who stowed away and whose discovery was not made until 10 o'clock. It was a member of Mr. Stork's family and had hidden away in the stateroom occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Hipa of Koloa who were en route home. The baby girl left by the Stork was a plump cherub and has decided to make its permanent home with Mr. and Mrs. Hipa, whom she will call mama and papa as soon as able.

DIES IN THE LIHUE HOSPITAL AT 9

Anton Borreto a cowboy for the Lihue Plantation Company for the past ten years died at the Lihue hospital this morning as the result of an accident which occurred yesterday morning near the Lihue Mill. He had roped a cow which in some unknown manner, got the rope wound round his horse in such a way as to throw it. Borreto fell beneath his horse from where he was removed in an unconscious state from which he never rallied.

Mr. Borreto leaves a widow, parents and a number of brothers and sisters to mourn his untimely death, one of whom—a sister—is at present in the hospital and whose life is dispaired of owing to the shock caused by her brother's death.

LATER, 2 P. M.:

News reached this office as we go to press, that Mr. Borreto still lives though very low.

Concrete Posts For County

The county is evidently experimenting with concrete line posts as a number of such posts appear along the roadside at a point between here and Koloa.

Can concrete line fence posts be made to take the place of wood posts? If they can, there will be a great saving of our forests; and it will be much more economical for the consumer. Their use will also modify to some extent the management of the woodlot and the abandonment of the planting of iron wood and eucalyptus etc., post purposes.

THE GARDEN ISLAND is gathering information on their use in Kauai. We desire to learn to what extent they are used and with what success. We will greatly appreciate the favor of a report from those who read this article and have had experience with concrete line posts. Write to us, stating how many posts you have and how long they have been set; whether you bought ready made posts or if you made them yourself; if purchased, at what price; give size, how reinforced, and any other information you deem of importance.

Concrete line fence posts are already used in many parts of the states and it is confidently believed that their use will be general. It was only a few years ago that concrete sidewalks were considered a failure, and we shall not be surprised if it will take sometime to learn how to make a durable fence post. It is an important thing to perfect a concrete post, when it is considered that there are at least a million fence posts used each year in this Territory.

Thieves Busy In Nawiliwili

A sneak-thief paid his respects to several Nawiliwili residents last Thursday night getting a watch from Tanaka, $50.00 from Takota and an unknown quantity of more or less valuables from Kikushigi. No clue has as yet been discovered which might lead to the discovery of the thieves. The work is similar to that recently done at Kapaia and it is generally supposed that the deed was done by the same gang.

A Cold Storage For Lihue

The cold storage plant which is contemplated by the Lihue Plantation will fill a long felt want. With this plant in operation it will be possible to obtain Australian beef and mutton, great, juicy two-by-four mainland steaks and real cream—from Honolulu. The Lihue Plantation, in establishing such a plant, is also establishing a precedent in progressiveness which might well be followed by other public spirited citizens of local fame.

ANOTHER HOMESTEADER IS GONE

HOMESTEADER Brown, another of the would-be settlers, has left his interests and hit a trail for pastures new. Nearly a million dollars has been spent in getting labor into the Territory and still there is a constant clamor for more. If the government would spend two or three hundred thousand dollars in assisting these homesteaders in getting a start on their new holdings, chances are, in the future these very homesteaders would develop into a supply of labor superior to any which has ever yet been located.

The public is gradually awakening to the fact that by confining homesteaders to a tract of land from 5 to 20 acres, such homesteader can't by the largest stretch of his imagination, become an independent farmer, but must remain dependent on the plantation for employment while not working on his own land. Another thing, is the peculiar way in which the land laws are applied. For instance: A plantation can lease a large tract of land from the government at from one to five dollars per acre while the small farmer finds that he cannot lease land of a sufficient amount to make a profit out of cane growing or any other agricultural pursuit. Give the homesteaders the same show which you do the plantations and they'll all thrive—and so will the plantations.

Let every man take up at least forty acres of cane land (don't bunt him up against the mountain side) and then allow him to lease as much more land around him as he can conveniently handle, at the rental which the plantations are paying, and see if you do not get the best class of homesteaders in the country. This method of shoving homesteaders onto land which will not grow cane; (or anything else) where there is no water, no roads—but hords of promises—is about to be properly exposed and the blame properly placed. Our belief in the small farmer proposition in so far as growing cane is concerned, is that it could be successfully done, providing our fool laws can be changed to take on the appearance of freedom from an influence which is arrayed in opposition to the idea, yet with every outward appearance of holding out a helping hand. The land laws as they stand today, are either a bluff or an indication of a decided lack of intelligence upon the part of those responsible for the creation of such.

FOR CHAMPIONSHIP

The two leading baseball teams of the 1st. and 2nd. series which pulled off their first tie game on the McBryde diamond last Sunday were greeted by a bumper crowd that had gathered with the expectation of seeing these two bunches of big slabbers contest for the 1912 championship. Nor was the crowd disappointed for the game throughout, was all that could be desired to make it an interesting game—save, however, the fact that the visitors were dangerously close to the vicinity of the whitewash pail when the McBrydes, in the 9th., annexed two runs. As it now stands, the Kilaueas have the advantage, since their opponents must necessarily win both of the remaining games to entitle them to the coveted prize. This, they surely will strain every effort to accomplish and though the Kilaueas are known to be among the leading big stickers, this fact will not have any effect on the ambition of the McBryde's to do their best, and it will not pay the Kilaueas to do other than their best regardless of the fact that they have a leg on the championship. May the best team win.

WHAT'S the matter with a policeman at Hanamaulu? Do we need him? Guess we do.

SOME ROTTEN POLITICS

SOMETHING like two weeks ago, this office was informed that all the carpenters engaged on the public school buildings under construction, were orientals—not citizens. A n investigation proved the assertion to be a mistake, and in so far as this paper is concerned, the matter was dropped. However, a well founded report is now in circulation to the effect that the man responsible for the charge against the county, was and is, no other than a Link McCandles stool-pigeon. It will be remembered by nearly all of us—and by Link more particularly—that in the last campaign, his personal interests were rather neglected here, hence the sending of a runner over here, whose duty it seems to have been to bring charges against our board of supervisors, which might spell ultimate ruin to their chances for reelection. That Kauai county's supervisors are not angels we'll freely concede, but they are so far ahead of any politicians of the Link McCandles brand, that it would take considerably more than the bluff which this individual is putting up or that he may ever be able to produce, to injure them.

ON THE RIGHT SIDE

How often do we meet people, both pedestrians and drivers of vehicles—plodding along, un-mindful as to whether they are on the proper side of the road or not. Did you ever jerk your car up with a terrific suddenness as you came face to face with someone who didn't know any better than to trespass upon your rights? Of course you have. Why, you do it most every day repeatedly though you've done it so often, that you do so partly mechanically as "everybody's doin' it."

The Eleele Club at a recent club meeting, appointed ex-representative J. I. Silva a committee of one to confer with Ye Editor as to the best means of instructing the masses in the proper course to pursue. An agreement was reached whereby posters bearing instructions printed or painted, in as many languages as there are nationalities, should be generously displayed in all camps, and that a small ad be run in the newspapers for a term of not less than six months. The whole trouble results from lack of knowledge and the sooner the public is thoroughly enlightened, the sooner will this danger be avoided.

A COUNTY CARPENTER

LAST year there was some little agitation concerning a regularly employed carpenter whose duties would be to look after the school repairs of the county. During the closing vacation we have been so occupied with our buildings that we have naturally, and wholly unintentionally neglected "repairs to buildings." There are schools with broken glass, floors requiring painting, etc., all of which is known to the proper officers, yet nothing has been done. Had the county carried out the proposition suggested by this paper last year, everything would have been in tip-top shape for the fall term of 1912. There is sufficient repair work to keep a carpenter constantly busy and surely if we can pay $600.00 per month for our roads, it doesn't seem unreasonable to propose that a county carpenter be furnished for school purposes.

SCHOOL BUILDINGS BUILT

WITH more than a score of school buildings nearing completion, and thousands of desks arriving, the local department of education presents a scene of activity which betokens the progressive spirit of the Kanaian. New teachers are appearing on the horizon, and the former ones are beginning to reassemble their belongings preparatory to their coming year's work. A transfer here, a change there, etc., have caused some little delay in the final assignment of teachers, but this has about all been arranged to the satisfaction of all and when time comes to jingle, jingle the assemble bell for the first of the autumn day school, everything will be ready to start with a bang! The new course of study which has met with the approval of the Commission, settles the question definitely and the required new text books will be gradually brought into use.

NO EFFORT MADE

Nor the slightest pretense has as yet been made to enforce the stock law. If, as Attorney Kaneakua says, the Board of Supervisors is the only power behind the throne, then why does it not authorize the enforcement of this law at once? Does the Board imagine the people can be hoodwinked into inactivity? Take the Kawaihau district, for instance. Why, every tree which has been planted, has been eaten down. During the afternoon and evening the road is lined with horses and cattle. This is, however, no exception, for the same can be said of the public roads around Lihue and between Lihue and Kealia.

It is very evident to the people all over the island, that those responsible for the present conditions, do not fully realize it or else don't give a hang—either of which amounts to the same thing in so far as the voters and taxpayers are concerned. If the members of the Board of Supervisors are wholly responsible for the enforcement of the stock laws and persist in taking no heed of the complaints of the people, it will surely be among the extraordinary happenings if these same gentry should solicit aid in their reelection this fall, from these self-same people.

This paper has no bone to pick with the present members of the Board of Supervisors.—they are all good, capable, well-meaning men. This being the case we naturally

HANAMAULU POST OFFICE

HANAMAULU needs a post office and she ought to have it.

There are nearly a thousand people in that vicinity who are compelled to come to Lihue for their mail. There has been an attempt to have a postoffice there, but it is said that the plantation objected to such an arrangement. Why the plantation should object should not greatly worry the people. Just get out your petitions and get them signed and if you don't get a postoffice there, you'll be found trying at any rate.

LIHUE Plantation is to have an ice plant, and according to rumor, the product will be bumped onto the market at 50 cents per hundred, which is just half the price now charged by the present Company. Since about 2 per cent of the plantation employes consume ice, what's the matter with a flour mill, a meat canning factory, etc., which, if prices were cut in half, would give the other 98 per cent a chance at some ice, too?

We are not a policeman, in consequence thereof, must suggest to the writer of the communication received on blind pigs in Koloa, to take his case to the proper authorities.

Sperry flour—the best everywhere, the bakers declare. tf.

Hans Doden, for the past few years head luna for the Kilauea Sugar Co., sailed for Honolulu Tuesday, where he took the Manchuria to Manila, having accepted a position on a sugar estate for which Mr. Fairchild is acting as agent.

The Hall experienced one of the roughest trips in many a day on her last trip from Honolulu. She got here on schedule time, though one passenger declared she traveled more perpendicularly than horizontally.

Rev. J. M. Lydgate and son, returned Friday from Hawaii where they have been spending sometime with his brother Tony, manager of the Paulo Plantation. Mr. Lydgate reports Hawaii is about as badly off for rain as is Kauai.

Contractor Geo. Marshall of the Hanapepe School, returned to Kauai Friday, having run up to Honolulu on business connected with the new school building.

Geo. Libbey, representing the Circulation department of the Morning Advertiser, arrived on the Hall and will spend at least two weeks on Kauai in the interest of his firm.

Mrs. Cliffe, accompanied by her son and daughter arrived on the Hall Friday. Mrs. Cliffe is to be the principal of the Hanalei school for the ensuing year.

Mrs. G. E. Bruns (nee Akana) of Honolulu, a former Kalihiwai belle, arrived on the Hall last Friday, accompanied by her sister Mary, and is the guest of her mother.

H. Rohrig, manager of the Lihue store, and who has been absent for several months during which he toured Europe, was a returning passenger on the Hall Friday. Mrs. Rohrig will return in November.

We believe in Sperry Flour—every day and every hour. tf.

The Kinau sailed last Friday instead of Saturday, the change being due to the desire of many Kauains to take in the races. The S. S. Noeau left on the Kinau's time at 5 p. m. Saturday.

The best flour known, in every home—Sperry flour. tf.

"Oh, you will learn to forget me in time," she said.

"I know I shall," he replied "but I shall never forget the money I have spent trying to make you think me a prince."

Drummer (in wine)—Have you tasted that sample of wine I left with you madame?

Madame—No, I haven't, but I don't think it can be any great shakes, for its been here three days and the servants have barley touched it.—Pele Mele.

SOME CLASS TO THIS WARE

A committee of experts recently valued the cutlery and kitchen utensils of the Shah of Persia at $25,000,000. No other court in the world, not even Spain, has such an elaborate collection of valuable pots and pans as the Persian monarch. They are all covered with a heavy coating of gilt on the inside. Even the plainest of the utensils in the Shah's kitchen is of silver.

The salt and sugar canisters that are used in the kitchen are massive silver devices, while the spoons, forks, plates and dishes used in the dining rooms are of solid gold, and the majority of the knives have handles encrusted with many precious stones.

The lovers whispered together before the doors of her father's hangar, planning the last details of their elopement.

"Hurry, dearest," he urged. "We will wheel out your runabout monoplane and together we'll fly away on the wings of the night, nevermore to be separated!"

"Wait," she exclaimed. "I have a better plan. We will run it out and hide it in the old stable; then we will walk to the trolley and papa will never suspect us." They were hardly half a mile on their way down the road when, from overhead, came the roar of the triple propellers of the racing monoplane as papa dashed out into the darkness in hot pursuit.—Puck.

Sketches of Young Couples

The Loving Couple

DO YOU RECOGNIZE THIS COUPLE?

There cannot be a better practical illustration of the wise saw and ancient accident, that there may be too much of a good thing, than is presented by a loving couple. Undoubtedly it is meet and proper, that two persons joined together in holy matrimony should be loving, and unquestionably it is pleasant to know and see that they are so; but there is a time for all things, and the couple who happen to be always in a loving state before company are well nigh intolerable.

And in taking up this position we would have it distinctly understood, that we do not seek along the sympathy of bachelors, in whose objection to loving couples we recognize interested motives and personal considerations. We grant that to that unfortunate class of society there may be something very irritating, tantalizing, and provoking, in being compelled to witness those gentle endearments and chaste interchanges which to loving couples are quite the ordinary business of life. But while we recognize the natural character of the prejudice to which these unhappy men are subject, we can neither receive their biased evidence, nor address ourselves to their inflamed and angered minds. Dispassionate experience is our only guide; and in these moral essays we seek no less to reform hyphenated offenders than to hold out a timely warning to all rising couples, and even to those who have not yet set forth upon their pilgrimage towards the matrimonial altar.

Let all couples present or to come, therefore, profit by the example of Mr. and Mrs. Leaver, themselves a loving couple in the first degree.

Mr. and Mrs. Leaver are pronounced by Mrs. Starling, a widow lady who lost her husband when she was young, and lost herself about the same time (for by her own count she has never since grown five years older,) to be a perfect model of wedded felicity. "You would suppose," says the romantic lady, "that they were lovers only just now engaged. Never was such happiness! They are so tender, so affectionate, so attached to each other, so enamoured, that positively nothing can be more charming!"

"Augusta, my soul," says Mr. Leaver. "Augustus, my life," replies Mrs. Leaver. "Sing some little ballad, darling," quoth Mr. Leaver. "I couldn't, indeed, dearest," returns Mrs. Leaver. "Do, my dove," says Mr. Leaver. "I couldn't possibly, my love," replied Mrs. Leaver; "and it's very naughty of you to ask me."—"Naughty, darling!" cries Mr. Leaver. "Yes, very naughty, and very cruel," returns Mrs. Leaver; "for you know I have a sore throat, and that to sing would give me great pain. You're a monster, and I hate you. Go away!" Mrs. Leaver has said "Go away," because Mr. Leaver has tapped her under the chin; Mr. Leaver not doing as he is bid, but, on the contrary, sitting down beside her, Mrs. Leaver slaps Mr. Leaver, and Mr. Leaver in return slaps Mrs. Leaver; and, it being now time for all persons present to look the other way, they look the other way, and hear a still small sound as of kissing, at which Mrs. Starling is thoroughly enraptured, and whispers her neighbor that if all married couples were like that, what a heaven this earth would be!

The loving couple are at home when this occurs, and maybe only three or four friends are present; but, unaccustomed to reserve upon this interesting point, they are pretty much the same abroad. Indeed, upon some occasions, such as a picnic or a water-party, their lovingness is even more developed, as we had an opportunity last summer of observing in person.

There was a great water-party made up to go to the big city and dine, and afterwards dance in an empty villa by the riverside, hired expressly for the purpose. Mr. and Mrs. Leaver were of the company; and it was our fortune to have a seat in the same boat, which was an eight-oared galley, manned by amateurs, with a blue striped awning of the same pattern as their Guernsey shirts, and a dingy red flag of the same shade as the whiskers of the stroke-oar. A coxswain being appointed, and all other matters adjusted, the eight gentlemen threw themselves into strong paroxysms, and pulled up with the tide, stimulated by the compassionate remarks of the ladies, who one and all exclaimed that it seemed an immense exertion,—as indeed it did. At first we raced the other boat, which came alongside, in gallant style; but this being found an unpleasant amusement, as giving rise to a great quantity of splashing, and rendering the cold pies and other viands very moist, it was unanimously voted down, and we were suffered to shoot ahead, while the second boat followed ingloriously in our wake.

It was at this time that we first recognized Mr. Leaver. There were two firemen watermen in the boat, lying by until somebody was exhausted; and one of them, who had taken upon him, if the direction of affairs, was heard to cry in a gruff voice, "Pull away, number two; give it her, number two; take a long reach, number two; now, number two, sir! think you're winning a boat." The greater part of the company had no doubt begun to wonder which of the striped Guernseys it might be that stood in need of such encouragement, when a stifled shriek from Mrs. Leaver confirmed the doubtful and informed the ignorant; and Mr. Leaver, still further disguised in a straw hat and no neck-cloth, was observed to be in a fearful perspiration, and failing visibly. Nor was the general consternation diminished at this instant by the same gentleman (in the performance of an accidental aquatic feat, termed "catching a crab") plunging suddenly backward, and displaying nothing of himself to the company but two violently struggling legs. Mrs. Leaver shrieked again several times, and cried piteously, "Is he dead? Tell me the worst—is he dead?"

Now, a moment's reflection might have convinced the loving wife, that, unless her husband were endowed with some most surprising powers of muscular action, he never could be dead while he kicked so hard; but still Mrs. Leaver cried, "is he dead? is he dead?" and still everybody else cried, "No, no, no,"—until such time as Mr. Leaver was replaced in a sitting posture, and his oar (which had been going through all kinds of wrong-headed performances on its own account) was once more put in his hand by the exertions of the two firemen-watermen. Mrs. Leaver then exclaimed, "Augustus, my child, come to me;" and Mr. Leaver said, (To be continued.)
