TEN TINS OF SWEET DOPE AS CANDIES

Ten tins of poppy dope, valued at $500.00 was removed from a box addressed to Lum Kee, Koloa, which bore the "Candy" label last Saturday afternoon. Sheriff Blake had grown suspicious of a couple of Chinese named Leong Hing and Lum Kee, and decided to shadow them. His vigilance was rewarded at five o'clock, when Mr. Lum Kee called for a box of candy which was duly turned over to him by the freight agent, and which was later opened and found to contain ten boxes of opium. The twain were arrested and lodged in jail, after which the matter was referred to the Attorney General's Department, with the result that Deputy U. S. Marshall Sherwood has arrived and will take them to Honolulu this afternoon. With them will go as witnesses, Deputy Sheriff Blake, Customs Inspector W. D. McBryde and the Koloa jailor. The prisoners were brought to the Lihue jail this morning.

THE KILAUEA TEAM WINNERS OF TROPHY

At Kilauea last Sunday, the 1912 series of baseball was brought to a finale when the Kilaueas defeated the McBrydes to the refrain of 15 to 2. The winners of the series championship are to be congratulated on the class of ball they have put up and on their gentlemanly conduct throughout the season. They are an aggregate of clever, gentlemanly players and well deserving of the general praise which is passed out to them from every direction. In getting up a team for the Inter-Island contest which is to be pulled off in Honolulu, Kauai would have more than even chances should she send the Kilauea team instead of a mixed team. Manager Sanborn is a natural born manager which accounts in a large manner for the success of his team. However, the lack of dissent among his players, also counted in their favor, and all in all, they have demonstrated their prowess as all-round good scouts and the public in general, shares the pride which Kilauea feels over the success of her team.

Col. Cox Visits Garden Island

Col. Cox, who has charge of the Salvation Army's work in the Territory, visited Kauai last week. During the visit she stated that the death of Wm. Booth, founder of the organization would make no change in its work. Bramwell Booth, the eldest son, succeeds his father as General Superintendent of the organization throughout the world.

The following delegates were elected by the Kawaihau Precinct Club on Saturday night:

John Hano	43
J. V. Ekekele	39
H. M. Castro	30
J. Opio	29
A. M. Kuhautua	26
J. B. Cummings	25
J. Bettencourt, Jr.	25

The Makaweli precinct has elected the following delegates:
Messrs. Iona, Rankin, Hayselden, Deverill, Panoli and Brodie.

Widening Main Street

The work of widening main street has been begun. This has been made possible by the generosity of the Lihue Plantation, in donating to the county, a strip of valuable land ten feet in width extending the entire length of the new town site. The added strip will be utilized as a roadway for carriages and horseback travel. The gift of this land to the county by the plantation is a most commendable act upon the latter, and one which is highly appreciated.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Morse of Hanapepe school, who have been spending their vacation in California, returned home by the Kinau. They brought a classy little Buick runabout home with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Brown of the Waimea School, returned Wednesday from their Summer vacation among the mountains of California. While away, Mr. Brown purchased a nifty little Flanders.

Arthur Rice Visits Old Home

Arthur Rice, one of the head members of the J. F. Morgan Co. Ltd., Honolulu was a Wednesday's arrival. Arthur's friends were delighted to see him and regretted the necessity of his returning to Honolulu by Saturday's boat.

Bid Is Above Appropriation

At the meeting of the Kauai Loan Fund Commission last Wednesday, there was but one bid for the construction of the County Building, the same being too far in excess of the appropriation to admit of its acceptance.

Directors Meeting

The Directors of the Kauai Athletic Association will hold a directors meeting at the Fairview Hotel at 7:30 P. M. Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Sutton were arrivals on the Kinau Wednesday.

THAT HANAMAULU POSTOFFICE
CONCERNING A recent suggestion that Hanamaulu should have a postoffice, considerable comment has been made, some of which has been to the effect that this paper "is in wrong" on the subject. There is always some foolkiller who is found lined up against progressiveness. The plantation has expressed itself not opposed to a postoffice in Hanamaulu, and the people (not this paper alone) want it and not only this, they are entitled to it.

It has been said that there are no land owners in the district who could bond a postmaster, and that a location would be another consideration. As to a postmaster, two Hanamaulu business men have stated that they would act without salary if only a postoffice could be given the district. As to bondsmen: Is it not just as reasonable to expect the Lihue Plantation to come to the aid of the hundreds of its people in one place as another?

We have been instructed to get a man who will serve as postmaster, secure a location, get a bondsman, then get up our petition. How much better it would be (and we believe it will do so) for the plantation to say: "if you want a postoffice, we will help you by putting it in our store, and bonding you as well. Now get out your petition." This would be a system which is usually followed and one which would be of lasting benefit both to plantation and employees.

The question of free rural delivery has been so worth an argument against the establishment of a postoffice for Hanamaulu, but when we consider that the western march of free rural delivery has only of late invaded the middle western states and that many years may pass before we are entitled to this luxury, the denying ourselves of every-day accommodations which are rightfully ours, seems a folly which is not in keeping with modern times.

A POLITICAL SERMON
Don't alienate your friends because you differ from them in politics. There is particular danger of this now, when political parties are being rent asunder and realignment under way. What makes a man worthy to be your friend is not his opinion on the tariff or on reciprocity, or the integrity of Taft or Roosevelt or Wilson, but his honesty, his integrity; not his head-power, mainly, but his heart power; his sterling manhood. We have had no trouble in finding such friends among Democrats, among Socialists so-called, among Catholics, among Protestants, and among men affiliated with no church. We plead with the democrat not to lose confidence in his democratic friend who cannot see his way clear to vote for Woodrow; and with the republican not to lose confidence in his old-time republican friend who thinks it his duty to stand by "my dear Will," or the one who feels he must support "my dear Theodore." Friendship is too sacred a thing to be sacrificed for a difference of political opinion.

Don't imagine that this campaign will usher in the political millennium. It is after all only a skirmish in the age-long warfare between right or wrong, in which good men often get on the side which they think for a time is right, but which in the end proves to be wrong, themselves being the judges; and in which bad men sometimes get on the right side for the time being, and bring the cause into disrepute. There will be wrongs to right after November and after other Novembers for hundreds of years, even until the end of time.

Therefore, don't waste your breath. You know it will be wasted, if you but stop to think. Don't lose confidence in your friends who do not see it as you do. Make up your mind conscientiously where your duty lies, and do it "with malice toward none and charity toward all."

KAUAI HIGH SCHOOL

AGAIN rumor is rife concerning a high school for Kauai. In all Territorial enterprises—Kauai leads all other counties. Why, then, should we sit idly by and allow ourselves to be outdone in this, the most important of all public institutions? With a town-site in Lihue, it would naturally follow that such a school—if established at all,—should be located here.

Scores of Kauai children are sent to Honolulu schools to-day and the number is rapidly increasing. With high school facilities on our own island, the expenses of educating these same children would be materially lessened. Moreover, parents would be enabled to have their children with them from Fridays until Mondays, since our beautiful roads would mean but a trip of two hours at the longest. Then too, a tract of land sufficient in size to conduct an experimental farm, and on which to keep some cows, etc., would not only serve as further valuable experience to the pupils, but go towards replenishing the school larder—for such an institution must necessarily be a boarding school and therefore always in need of good, rich milk.)

THE PLANTATION LABOR

THE article on "labor etc.," appearing on page 5 of this issue, contains food for much thought on a question which is of vital interest to the future welfare of the Territory. With the Orientals barred out, and the difficulty in procuring satisfactory labor from the only available sources, places the sugar industry in a position where some effort must be made whereby the labor supply can be maintained. The communication contains a few sound, sensible suggestions,—in fact, fairly bristles with facts too well known to the well-posted citizen to require further comment.

"THE Onion Forever," says Small Farmer Starrett.

LOAN FUND MEETS

on this bid and the Secretary was notified to return the certified check enclosed by Mr. McDonald. Motion To Refer to County Attorney Opinion re County Building

After a general discussion it was decided to request of the County Attorney his opinion as to whether bids could be called for the erection of the County Building itself under the Loan Fund Commission and the erection of the vaults within said building under the monies of the County of Kauai, the lowest aggregate bid to be deemed the lowest and successful bid.

County Building New Bids

Motion was further made that in the event that the County Attorney rendered an opinion favorable to the suggested dual erection, that the Vice-Chairman be authorized to again call for bids for the erection of the County Building and vaults separately as suggested.

Sketches of Young Couples

The Loving Couple

DO YOU RECOGNIZE THIS COUPLE?

Concluded from last week.

"Augusta, my love, compose yourself, I am not injured." But Mrs. Leaver cried again more piteously than before. "Augustus, my child, come to me;" and now the company generally, who seemed to be apprehensive that if Mr. Leaver remained where he was, he might contribute more than his proper share towards the drowning of the party, disinterestedly took part with Mrs. Leaver, and said he really ought to go, and that he was not strong enough for such violent exercise, and ought never to have undertaken it. Reluctantly Mr. Leaver went and laid himself down at Mrs. Leaver's feet; and Mrs. Leaver, stooping over him, said, "O Augustus! how could you terrify me so?" and Mr. Leaver said, "Augustus, my sweet, I never meant to terrify you;" and Mrs. Leaver said, "You are faint, my dear;" and Mr. Leaver said, "I am rather so love;" and they were very loving indeed under Mrs. Leaver's veil, until at length Mr. Leaver came forth again, and pleasantly asked if he had not heard something said about bottled stout and sandwiches.

Mrs. Starling, who was one of the party, was perfectly delighted with this scene, and frequently murmured half aside, "What a loving couple you are!" or, "How delightful it is to see man and wife so happy together!" To us she was quite poetical (for we are a kind of cousins;) observing that hearts beating in unison like that made life a paradise of sweets, and that, when kindred creatures were drawn together by sympathies so fine and delicate, what more than mortal happiness did not our souls partake. To all this we answered, "Certainly," or "Very true," or merely sighed, as the case might be. At every new act of the loving couple, the widow's admiration broke out afresh; and when Mrs. Leaver would not permit Mr. Leaver to keep his hat off, lest the sun should strike to his head, and give him a brain-fever, Mrs. Starling actually shed tears, and said it reminded her of Adam and Eve.

The loving couple were thus loving all the way to Twickenham; but when we arrived there (by which time the amateur crew looked very thirsty and vicious) they were more playful than ever; Mrs. Leaver threw stones at Mr. Leaver, and Mr. Leaver ran after Mrs. Leaver on the grass, in a most innocent and enchanting manner. At dinner, too, Mr. Leaver would steal Mrs. Leaver's tongue, and Mrs. Leaver would retaliate upon Mr. Leaver's fowl; and, when Mrs. Leaver was going to take some lobster-salad, Mr. Leaver wouldn't let her have any, saying that it made her ill, and she was always sorry for it afterwards, which afforded Mrs. Leaver an opportunity of pretending to be cross, and showing many other prettinesses. But this was merely the smiling surface of their loves, not the mighty depths of the stream, down to which the company, to say the truth, dived rather unexpectedly, from the following accident: It chanced that Mr. Leaver took upon himself to propose the bachelors who had first originated the notion of that entertainment; in doing which he affected to regret that he was no longer of their body himself, and pretended grievously to lament his fallen state. This Mrs. Leaver's feelings could not brook, even in jest; and consequently exclaiming aloud, "He loves me not, he loves me not!" she fell in a very pitiable state into the arms of Mrs. Starling, and directly becoming insensible was conveyed by that lady and her husband into another room. Presently Mr. Leaver came running back to know if there was a medical gentleman in company; and, as there was (in what company is there not?), both Mr. Leaver and the medical gentleman hurried away together.

The medical gentleman was the first who returned; and among his intimate friends he was observed to laugh and wink, and look as unmedical as might be; but when Mr. Leaver came back he was very solemn, and in answer to all inquiries, shook his head and remarked that Augusta was far too sensitive to be trifled with,—an opinion which the widow subsequently confirmed. Finding that she was in no imminent peril, however, the rest of the party betook themselves to dancing on the green; and very merry and happy they were, and vast quantity of flirtation there was; the last circumstance being no doubt attributable to the fineness of the weather, and partly to the locality, which is well known to be favorable to all harmless recreations.

In the bustle of the scene, Mr. and Mrs. Leaver stole down to the boat, and disposed themselves under the awning; Mrs. Leaver reclining her head on Mr. Leaver's shoulder, and Mr. Leaver grasping her hand with great fervor, and looking in her face from time to time with a melancholy and sympathetic aspect. The widow sat apart, feigning to be occupied with a book, but stealthily observing them from behind her fan; and the two firemen-watermen, smoking their pipes on the banks hard by, nudged each other, and grinned in enjoyment of the joke. Very few of the party missed the loving couple; and the few who did heartily congratulated each other on their disappearance.

Opinions of Some Who Understand The Land Situation Here and Have Courage to Express Them

"There is a saying somewhere 'That whom the Gods wish to destroy they first make mad.' This is surely illustrated in the action of the present government in Honolulu in the sale of the Punch-bowl lots, and the turning out of those people whom the governor is always telling the authorities at Washington that he is so anxious to have settle in this country.

Here was the instance of the paternal desire on the part of the chief executive to aid this little country in preserving as far as possible the few white citizens in their homes. But this line of conduct should not surprise anyone who has watched the actions of our governor in his dealings with all landless citizens. How different would the case have been if it had been the leasing to a large owner, and a very wealthy man on Kauai, four or five thousands acres of rich land, the larger part of which is fine cane lands. These lands were too good for the Portuguese who had labored on this same soil for many years, and when they put in their applications they were ignored, and these lands with many restrictions were offered to Russians who had never seen a stick of cane grow. The consequence of this and many other actions of the land office, so discouraged a large number of the old Portuguese settlers that numbers of them left the islands for the coast where all men have the same chance. It is the same thing today on the island of Kauai, while the governor is always talking of his desire to help keep the laborers in the country, those who are offered a homestead can only find it "maka of the cane lands," and miles away from any landing, while the land office reserves for the plantation, all the good cane land, and whatever spare water there maybe, for the large sum of a dollar per year, and practically such improvements as the plantation may choose to make. Some of the lands opened for homesteads have neither roads to their lots nor water to use. Yet this good and well-wishing government is anxious for men fit for citizens to live on such lands and be satisfied. The continual complaint of a scarcity of plantation labor is brought about entirely by the conditions forced on these islands by the executive working largely in conjunction with the plantations, because it's ever the hope of these plantations to force upon the government at Washington the idea that they must have a large supply of cheap Asiatic labor to continue the growing of cane in these islands. There never was a greater mistake than to say that enough laborers cannot be had in these islands. Had the laborers been treated with the same consideration elsewhere, there would never have been a shortage. Ask any Portuguese man who has bought his ticket for California, and is removing his family there, why he desires to leave Hawaii, and you will find in nine cases out of ten that its because he cannot lease a piece of land suitable to his wants and his means. Why is this so? Simply because we do not have a government which is for the exclusive good of the whole people of this Territory, but for the sole good of the plantations.

For instance, why should the public lands which belong to the people of this country be put up for lease in large acreages, in most cases from 500 to 5000 acres, when the average man who desires to settle here might only need from 10 to 50 acres? Why should this man whom you class as a desirable citizen, be compelled to give up the idea of settling in Hawaii simply because he cannot own a plantation, or because he does not need more than 20 acres to support himself and family? This is the only reason that there is a shortage of labor for both the fields, and also as mechanics, to perform all the necessary work in these islands. As long as the plantations rule in the Territory of Hawaii, they will work for cheap labor and as few American citizens as possible. The present governor, or for that matter any of the other governors that we have had since annexation, have all worked to grant the plantations everything they wanted, and one of the things that these plantations do not want is citizens who desire to own their own homes. As long as you labor for plantation interests and are satisfied to work for wages you may be tolerated for years, but just as soon as you show any inclination to have a home of your own, especially if it will take a few acres of leased government land from them, then you had better look out, for your time is likely to be very short. By this weeding out system of would be settlers, and home-making citizens, the plantations have succeeded in obtaining all the rich cane lands on lease from the government of Hawaii for a fraction of their true worth. Lands which produce on an average 4 1/2 tons of sugar to the acre, and which a very conservative

Journal, the Manual of Hawaiian Securities for 1911, shows that the net profit from most of the plantations averaged 25 dollars per ton.

Can any one looking for easy money see any reason why owners of plantation lands, especially lands rented from the Land Office for a dollar an acre per year, should not use every endeavor to exclude American citizens, when by so doing they can get all the public lands for a mere song, and make $125.00 net profit out of each acre of cane? $125.00 profit from one thousand acres of cane is not to be sneezed at, or looked at with disdain, and when you increase that acreage two or three times it looks pretty good to most people.

So its quite easy to see where the opposition comes from, and why field laborers are not taken much care of, that is, if they are likely to wish to remain and possess themselves with a piece of land.

Public lands yielding such enormous profits to those who are lucky enough to possess them for a fraction of their true rental, will always be a drawback to the settlement of any country where a small minority of rich corporations control the legislature and a governor appointed through their recommendations.

In conclusion I would say, that if we really wish to have settlers in the Hawaiian Islands, the first thing that we must do is to have a law passed by Congress that all the public lands that revert to the Territory by leases, shall be offered for release to any citizen in such quantities as he may wish to cultivate. That all small leases shall take precedent of the larger ones so as to give a larger number of persons a chance to occupy the land. The leases of the public lands should not be put up at auction, but each applicant should send in his application for the desired amount, and at a specified time a drawing should take place in the public land office, or some other place appointed for that purpose, and these names which come out of the drawing, or application box, should be the winning lots, and leased at a stated upset price. This plan is better if you really desire to settle the people on the land, its much better than holding an auction, as it should be the idea of the government to have as many people on the land as possible, and if you put the leases at auction the price is often forced up beyond what it is worth and an injury is done to the one who can ill afford it. Another thing which the government of the Territory seems to have overlooked which adds greatly to the non settlement of this country by those white men that have been employed for many years on the plantation. There is no such thing in this Territory of Hawaii as a townsite. Although the government has leased thousands of acres to plantations of the government land, no provision is made for any townsite where a laborer, or machanic, or in fact any of the citizen employee's on a plantation can own his own home. Nothing has been done for the white, or native citizen to in any way attach him to the soil, or district where he has labored so many years, but as soon as he is no longer capable of performing his regular duties, he must vacate his little shack, or cottage, as the case may be, part with the only friends and acquaintances that he has known for years, and go, a stranger, to a new place. If the plantations owned in fee simple all the government lands which they now lease from the government, it would be a different thing, but the lands are public property, and there is no reason why people willing to reside here should not have the same rights and privileges as elsewhere. The government should, as soon as the legislature meets, suggest to the legislature the necessity of asking Congress to so amend our land law that townsites should be set apart on all the Hawaiian islands, so that people both here, and from abroad, may come and purchase a residence, or open up a business, which under present circumstances it is absolutely impossible for them to do. On the island of Kauai where some of the plantations desire the Federal government to spend a million and quarter of dollars for the improvement of the harbor, there is not such a thing as a townsite.

Recently a few lots were put up for sale at extravagant prices, but as these were only for residences and could not be sold or transferred for any other purposes, therefore the place where they were sold could not by any means be classed as a townsite. Then why should Uncle Sam spend a million and a quarter of dollars in a place where an American cannot purchase, or lease a piece of land to go into business? Outside of Honolulu, or Hilo, one may say that there is no opportunity for anyone to go into business, and until the government condemns land for townsites, or opens up sites on the public lands, no increase of citizens may be expected in Hawaii.—CITIZEN.
