Every Dollar Contributed Toward The Support of The Band is Helpful

BOOST BAND BOYS
By Giving All You Can Spare To Show Your Appreciation Of Good Music

The Band boys are mailing the following circular to the patrons of the band:

As another year is drawing to a close, we, the Lihue Band Boys wish to thank our patrons for the hearty support given us in the past and hope for a continuation of their generosity in the interest of the Band.

We have endeavored to please the public with our concerts, and trust that we have been successful in our attempts.

We are now before the public for its annual contribution and would, therefore, respectfully ask our donors to kindly remember the band to the fullest extent of their ability, with the assurance of the appreciation of the band boys.

Contributions will be received by our treasurer, Mr. F. Rutsch, P. O. Box 66, Lihue, Kauai, and will close December 15th, 1912. By keeping this date in mind and giving your very best in helping a good cause you will be greatly obliging.

Yours, very truly,

THE MEMBERS OF THE LIHUE BAND.

Hanamaulu Weddings

Mr. Frank Mandonca and Mrs. Marie Camara were married at the Catholic Church in Kapaia last Thursday morning. Father Hermann officiating. The couple are well known members of the Portuguese colony, the groom having been an employee of the plantation for the last eight years.

Manuel Gonzalves and Miss Isabella Rodrigues were united in the holy bonds of wedlock Saturday morning at the Catholic church in Kapaia. Mr. Gonzalves is occupying a responsible position in Honolulu, while the bride is one of the most popular young ladies of Hanamaulu.

H. T. Truscott of Makaweli is on a business trip to Honolulu.

Max Greenbaugh, one of Honolulu's prominent commission merchants is making the island in the interest of his concern.

Hanalei's Beautiful New Church Edifice

HANALEI'S PRESENT FROM WILCOX BROTHERS.

A new building to stand where the first of our churches was built, more than seventy-five years ago. The new home is modern to the last degree. It is probably the finest of all church buildings outside of Honolulu, barring none—even Hilo.

The New Church Building just dedicated at Hanalei is one of the most artistic and graceful churches on the Islands. But even more important, perhaps, it is an exceedingly well built church. Whenever the Wilcox's lay hand to anything they do it well. Not only has utmost care been exercised to put nothing but the best material into the building but also not a stroke of contract work of any kind has gone into the job. "Take time enough to make everything first-class" has been the motto and if anything wasn't done in just the best way, it had to come out and be done over.

The church is of a modified

Basilica plan which after all is not only the simplest, but acoustically the best type of building with a charming gothic finish of steep roof and pointed windows. On the front exposure there is a fine compound rose window in very delicate and harmonious tones of stained glass, the side windows being also in harmonious colors.

Within the vaulted roof and the massive tie beams give a very happy effect, while the seating accommodation and acoustic properties of the church are excellent.

The only factor transferred from the old church to the new is the Bell, made in New England in 1842, of such material as they don't put into bells in these degenerate days. It shows scarcely any signs of age and is quite as good as new.

The plans of the church were furnished by Ripley and Reynolds. C. E. Haynes was the carpenter in charge of the construction and W. F. Sanborn did a lot of effective rustling to keep things going.

The Building as it stands including furniture is reported to have cost about $10,500.00.

It is the gift of the Wilcox Brothers under the leadership of Mr. A. S. Wilcox, to the Hanalei community. Long may the donors be spared to continue such generous deeds of philanthropy.

A Generous Act

It would indeed be hard to imagine a gift that would do greater good or create wider interest in the work than the splendid donation to the young people of the Kawaihau District through the generosity of Mr. Spalding in founding the Wilhelmina Harris Spalding Memorial Fund to be used in supplying further training to worthy graduates of the Kapaia School and fitting them for a life of teaching.

Wishing the devote the sum of ten thousand dollars to some worthy object in the District in memory of his mother, the late Mrs. W. H. Spalding, Mr. Rufus Spalding has decided that the income from the above mentioned sum shall be set aside to pay the expenses of girls whose faithful work in the past seems to warrant assistance, and from now on, not fewer than four young ladies will have all their expenses paid in The Kainani Home For Girls in Honolulu until such time as they graduate from the Territorial Normal and Training School and are ready to assume their duties as teachers,—after which others will be sent to The Home to fill the places thus vacated.

The two first beneficiaries under this Fund have already entered on their work in the Normal, while two others will be sent as soon as practicable.

To merely express our thanks for this magnificent gift seems small and inadequate, but utterly inadequate as we know our thanks to be, they are still most gratefully offered by scholars, parents and teachers alike.

Ed. Dekum Here

Ed. Dekum of the Gazette Co., Honolulu, returns to Honolulu this afternoon after a week's visit with his sister, Mrs. Jack Meyers of Kilauea.

Ed. called to see us this morning and the good things he said about things in general and THE GARDEN ISLAND in particular, caused us to douse our lid and set up the soda water. He informed us that he had paid his annual visit to the Kilauea school and that he is beginning to have a paternal feeling for the children, all of which leads us to believe Ed. has missed his vocation—he should be a school master. However, he is all right as he is, and we hope he'll never fail to swing onto our latch string when he visits Kauai.

In Memoriam

Born at Kawaihau, Honolulu Mar. 7, 1884, Sam Mahelona was thus in the very prime of life when he was called hence. As a very little boy he began his education at Honolulu's first Kindergarten and continued it successively at Punahou, Behmont and San Jose, fitting himself carefully for the business career which he had chosen. With a physical constitution none too robust at the best, it was perhaps unfortunate that he should have chosen an occupation involving sedentary life which in conjunction with great social popularity, left him little time for fresh air and exercise. Immediately on his return from school he secured the position of assistant cashier in the Lihue Branch of the Bank of Hawaii, which he resigned only to accept the responsible position of receiver in the First National Bank of Hawaii, a position which he held until failing health compelled him to resign.

To a rare degree he was gifted with the kindly generous graces of frankness, courtesy, geniality and responsiveness, qualities which commend their owners to all about them. And with him these were not acquired graces, worn more or less awkwardly but natural and easy, because inherent.

These qualities win favor and make friends at every turn. This was eminently the case with Sam Mahelona. Wherever he went he made friends even up to the last hours of his life, and under the most trying circumstances.

To know him at all even casually was to like him; to know him intimately was to love him and this must explain the enthusiastic admiration of a very wide circle of acquaintances, as well as the deeper devotion of more intimate friends.

Green be the grass above Thee
Friend of our bye gone days,
None knew thee but to love thee
None named thee but to praise.

WAIMEA, Oct. 28.—One of the big social affairs of Waimea this season was the wedding which took place in the Foreign church at 7:30 P. The church was tastefully decorated and guests to the number of more than a hun-

MORMONISM

IS SWEEPING OUR ISLES?

Prominent Magazine Lets Its Readers Know What Our Paradise Is

BUT 594 DISAGREES

"No Taro Patches For Our Women—Hats And Dresses," Says "594."

A prominent Eastern magazine to wit The Independent is very much exercised over the prevalence of Mormonism in Hawaii. We are constrained to believe that the Mormon propaganda has spread like wild-fire through the Islands; that "hundreds of plural marriages" have been performed by the Elders of this faith; that "the only limit to the number of wives a man may have is his ability to support them" and that "in the remote districts, where women as well as men work in the fields, raise taro, make mats and brooms and curios, it is very easy for a man to figure out that the number of wives he may possess is limited only by the number of women who will consent to live in his house, where they herd together like concubines."

All this is news to us. We had always supposed that this was one of the most monogamic countries in the world, where a man was mighty lucky if he got even one wife all to himself; and he had to be mighty "smooth" and mighty civil and mighty docile to do it! Brooms and mats and taro for sooth! Nav, gowns, and hats and doctors' bills!

And the women of Hawaii, little does The Independent know them, if it thinks they will put up with any fractional part of a man. Not only the whole man but a picked man; Scrutinized, Challenged and pawed over, disparagingly—and then left! If we know the women of Hawaii, there isn't much danger of plural marriage, and the would-be-Mormon will get turned down every time he tries, and will end up with none, rather than many wives. —594.

A Rare Curio

Among the articles deposited in the corner stone of the new Hanalei church were two Hawaiian Copper Cent pieces of the comage of 1847. They were taken from the corner stone of the Keanai church Maui where they had reposed in peace for over 50 years. They now have a long rest ahead of them at Hanalei.

dred, witnessed the ceremony, after which an elaborate reception followed at the home of the bride's parents. The reception over, genial Dick Oliver invited the young couple and their guests to the Waimea Hotel where the big lanai had been prepared for dancing and the hour of 1 A. M. had been tolled off ere the end came. Manager Crowell of the Waimea Electric works kindly allowed his plant to run until the dance ended.

The groom is a well known Honolulu resident, being at present conductor on the H. R. T. & L. Co., while the bride, as we all know, is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Silva of this city. The host of friends of the young couple wish them health, prosperity and happiness.

GOV. FREAR may not know a dog-goned thing about land laws, but when it comes to appointing Territorial officials he delivers the goods as is indicated by the appointment of Wallace Farrington as Commissioner of Education to fill the unexpired term of Judge Stanley, resigned. Farrington is thoroughly conversant with educational affairs in all their eccentricities and his appointment as a commissioner of education places a mighty good man in a most important position.

THE reappointment of Governor
Frear would indicate that official Washington is satisfied with the manner in which the Territorial executive has administered the affairs of the Territory. Aside from the sorry land laws for which he is said to be chiefly responsible and the charges that he is too closely allied with the corporation interests, Governor Frear has conducted the affairs of the government in a highly satisfactory manner. He is one of the most capable men in the Territory and Taft evidently could not have done better than to have selected him.

AN irigenious investigator has been looking into the cost of books by the word, which is a sensible point of view. A really small book may be very heavy, or very big, and so may seem to be worth a considerable price, thereby deceiv-ing the unwary reader. The said irigenious investigator finds that fiction is the cheapest of all book fodder on the market viz: 12 cents per thousand words. Religion runs to 26 cents in spite of the tracts that are given away. Travel, is 3 cents largely on account of illustration. Poetry is the most expensive, ranging from 4 to 15 cents, a figure which is seldom justified by the quality.

Some of the weekly Journals sell words hot off the griddle at 12 mills per thousand and a mill is only one tenth of a cent.

quality rather than quantity for the money. Skim milk is always cheap.

Public Schools

To Fittingly Observe Arbor Day

To the Teachers and Pupils,
Public Schools of Hawaii.

As the tree planting season is approaching, this Department wishes to call to the attention of teachers and pupils the importance of tree planting on school grounds.
Not only are well developed trees
a great benefit for shade and ornamental purposes, but their planting and culture affords one of the best opportunities for lessons on the care and development of plants. It is hoped that you will bear in mind that it is far better to plant but a very few trees and take proper care of them than it is to make a display of planting many trees and then become careless and neglect them.

The Department of Agriculture and Forestry will furnish the trees free of charge and the Department of Public Instruction will pay freight charges. It is hoped that the teachers and pupils will take interest in Arbor Day planting and that they will order, plant and care for such trees as will be best suited for their school premises.

Principals of schools on Hawaii in the Puna District and from Olaa to Laupahoehoe should apply directly to Brother Matthias Newell, Hilo, Hawaii, for their trees.
Those on the leeward side of Kauai, from Mana to Koloa, should apply to Mr. Walter McBryde, Homestead, Kauai, and applications from all other schools should be addressed to Division of Forestry, Board of Agriculture and Forestry, Box 331, Honolulu, T.H.

The Governor has proclaimed
Friday, November 8th, as Arbor Day and we trust that all schools will observe the day appropriately.

Enclosed herewith is a circular prepared by the Division of Forestry of this Territory, which we trust you will read and follow carefully in your tree planting work. The list of trees that can be furnished by the Division of Forestry, from which you may select in ordering, is to be found on pages 2 and 3 of the circular.

Very truly yours,
WILLIS T. POPE
Superintendent of Public Instruction.

A Teacher's Resolutions

I will try to keep throughout the year the enthusiasm I start with.

I will try to develop character and strength of personality in my pupils as much by my life as by my words.

I will dress tastily, neatly and moderately every day I teach school, but I will not be a fop and will not dress beyond my income.

I will prepare my work and will try to know my subject before teaching it.

I will not work "by the clock," but will be willing to stay over time when necessary, or to do extra work in my room.

I will do my best to look at my pupils from a parent's standpoint, as nearly as I can.

I will try to guide the children's activity in the right direction, rather than stifle any of it.

I will not dance, go to card parties, blowouts, church bazars or any other place, during the week, that demands late hours, thus making my temper like a buzz-saw the next day and my eyes like a new moon.

I will not if a woman, wear the same faded waist more than two weeks in succession; if a man, I will have my shoes polished at least three times a year, and four if needed.

I will not lose my temper when reproving a pupil.

I will be a "good mixer" with the pupils.

I will try to get acquainted.

I will take exercise.

I will breathe deep.

I will work hard.

I will read.

"It is a queer-looking bone," said the professor of osteology, "and I hardly know what it is. I can't make head nor tail of it."
"Of course you can't," said the other man. "It's a piece from the middle of a backbone."

"Geese are supposed to be symbolic of all that is foolish."

"Well, go on."
"But you never see an old gander hoard up a million kernels of corn and then go around trying to mate with a gosling."

DR. KARL HOPMANN, Gov't. Physician.

A man walking along the street of a village stepped into a hole in the sidewalk and broke his leg. He engaged a famous lawyer, brought suit against the village for one thousand dollars and won the case. The city appealed to the Supreme Court, but again the great lawyer won.

After the claim was settled the lawyer sent for his client and handed him one dollar.

"What's this?" asked the man.

"That's your damages, after taking out my fee, the cost of appeal and other expenses, replied the counsel.

The man looked at the dollar, turned it over and carefully examined the other side. Then he looked up at the lawyer and said, "What's the matter with this dollar? Is it a counterfeit?"
