WELL-KNOWN KAMAANA DIES

J. K. Gandall "Honest John"
Answers Last Roll Call
Saturday

Mr. J. K. Gandall, who had been in a precarious condition for some weeks, passed away on Saturday morning and was buried on Sunday afternoon from the Union Church, which was most beautifully decorated for the occasion. The services were conducted by Rev. J. M. Lydgate, and were most fitting and impressive. The music was rendered by the Hawaiian church choir, strikingly appropriate and harmonious.

Mr. J. K. Gandall was one of the honored landmarks of a time gone by, whose importance we of this later generation do not fully appreciate perhaps.

A carpenter by trade, he served the Lihue plantation in that capacity for many years, and there gained that intimate knowledge of the sugar business, which fitted him ultimately for the position of head luhua on the Hanamaulu plantation, under Mr. A. S. Wilcox. This responsible position he held until the amalgamation of this plantation with Lihue.

During the period of political unrest and upheaval, when it was exceedingly important to have good men in Legislature, and when too, it was difficult to elect good men, he was prevailed upon to run for the Senate, was elected by a large majority, and served in that capacity for several years, proving an excellent and valuable man because of the general respect which he commanded for integrity, temper, and judgment and because of his skill in handling the large Hawaiian contingent.

As a political speaker appealing to the Hawaiian vote, he has perhaps had no equal, certainly no superior, in modern times. His use of the simple, graphic, homely Hawaiian of the older time, is said to have been a revelation of the power of the language. It is an art of which he was one of the last, as well as most gifted masters.

Personally he was a man of many rare and admirable qualities. Genial, generous, kindly and courteous he commended himself to all who met him. A simple, honest, large hearted man, he earned his character in his face so that you felt that you wanted to know him from the first moment that you saw him. And those who knew him best are most sincere in their respect for him.

By a Friend

J. K. Gandall, better known as "Honest John," and one of the most highly respected citizens of Kauai, died at his home in Lihue last Saturday morning at eleven o'clock, death being due to acute kidney trouble. Funeral services were held both at the residence and the Lihue church, the former taking place at half past two and the latter at three p. m., interment taking place in the Lihue cemetery.

Mr. Gandall was considered one of the best Hawaiian orators in the Territory, having until but recent years been known as one of the chief political live wires of the community. He served as representative for one term, and was later sent to the Senate for the term from 1905-1907, distinguishing himself as an able and highly capable worker for the public's interests. He was for a number of years head luhua at Hanamaulu when the plantation was the property of Hon. A. S. Wilcox. Retiring when the plantation changed ownership, Mr. Gandall embarked in the wholesale liquor business with which he has con-

FILIPINOS ATTACK 'LONE JAPANESE'

Escapes by Knocking Assailant
Down and Making a
Get-a-way

An attempted hold-up occurred on the public road near Hanamaulu about six o'clock Sunday evening, and but for the suppleness of the would-be-victim the attempt might have proven successful. Yamaguchi, a laborer on the Hanamaulu Plantation had been to Wailua for the purpose of collecting some money, and as he approached the ironwood trees on his return, he was attacked by two Filipinos with whom he grappled and succeeded in knocking one of the assailants down, he managed to extricate himself from the other after which he escaped by running. On reaching the camp Yamaguchi reported the matter to his friends who upon returning to the place of encounter, could find no trace of the Filipinos.

Some of these days these loafers will shout at the wrong girl, peep into the wrong window or attempt a hold-up on the wrong person.

Morgan--Thornton

The Hanamaulu school cottage was the setting for a quiet wedding at 5 o'clock last night when Miss Jessie A. Thornton and Harold Morgan were united in marriage. Rev. J. M. Lydgate officiating. It was a private affair, only a few of the most intimate friends of the couple being present. The bride is a native of Ohio, and a recent arrival in the islands, having been on the Hanamaulu teaching staff since September, while the groom is our popular County treasurer and assistant cashier of the Lihue Bank. Following the ceremony a bridal cake was cut and light refreshments served. Mr. and Mrs. Morgan will make their home temporarily at the Hotel Fairview. THE GARDEN ISLAND joins their many friends in best wishes for a happy and prosperous future.

Kauai Cets Theaters

Eddie Fernandez, the moving picture wizzard of the Territory, and the head of a circuit of moving picture theaters throughout the various islands, has completed negotiations for play houses in every plantation from Kekaha to Lihue, and to a reporter, Mr. Fernandez stated that negotiations pointing to satisfactory arrangements for a theater in Lihue were well under way, and that as soon as it were possible, he would have buildings in Kealia and Kilauea. Once the circuit is started, it is his intention to secure some of the good show talent which comes to Honolulu for his theaters.

We understand that Mr. Fernandez is receiving generous support from the various plantations, who are said to be putting up his buildings. The public has been stung about as often as it can stand, and Mr. Fernandez's coming is hailed with delight. THE GARDEN ISLAND has been requested to announce the opening night as soon as the first house is completed.

Light On The Subject

A plan is foot which seems to have met general approval, is one which will give the community a lighting system second to none in the Territory. Supervisor Wishard is quoted as favoring the scheme from the county's point of view in case the expense will not amount to more than one hundred dollars per month. The scheme would provide wires from Hanamaulu to Nawiliwili, with lamps at intervals which will light the road from end to end. The idea is a bright one and it is to be hoped will materialize.

Inspector Gibson Here

T. H. Gibson Inspector of schools of the Territory leaves for Honolulu this afternoon after a week with our local schools during which time he has given educational matters a close scrutiny, from Haena to Mana. He was accompanied by Supervising Principal H. H. Brodie. It is Mr. Gibson's intention to visit the various schools in the Territory during each term.

John Gonzalves, a former teacher in the Hanapepe school has been transferred to the Hanamaulu school.

KAUAI RAILWAY IN BIG DEAL

Koloa Sugar Direct to The Coast By Big Hawaiian
Freighter

The Kauai Railway Co., has received by the Alaskan, ten big regulation freight cars of the box car type which will be placed on the run from Koloa and McBryde. Heretofore the sugar has been conveyed in open cars which while a trifle more convenient for speedy handling, was not so satisfactory otherwise. The railroad has been placed under the interstate commerce law and therefore must conform with the requirements, hence the additional stock of modern carriers.

The cars were bought from Orenstein Arthur Kappel Co. Pittsburg, Kappel, Pa., which is one of the largest railway equipment plants in the States. H. Hackfeld & Co., Honolulu, are the general agents through which the sale was made, while the popular local representative Fred F. Lacks engineered the sale. The company is also adding two modern Baldwin locomotives to its rolling stock.

Koloa Ships Direct

Arrangements have been perfected between H. Hackfeld & Co., and Alexander & Baldwin, agents for the McBryde Sugar Company, whereby the output of the Koloa plantation, adjoining the McBryde plantation on Kauai, will be handled by the American-Hawaiian Steamship line, the sugar being loaded on the ocean going vessels at Port Allen.

The Koloa is a 7,500 ton plantation, and its sugar heretofore has been handled by the Inter-Island vessels, bringing the cargo to Honolulu, where it was re-shipped on the larger vessels bound for the Pacific or Atlantic coasts. Under the new arrangement the sugar will be transferred direct by rail from the plantation mill to Port Allen, loaded on the big ships and sent direct to the mainland, thus effecting a large saving for the producers.

Popular Girl Returns

Miss Agnes O'Connell, sister of Mrs. A. D. Hills, and an accomplished San Francisco teacher who has been spending an extended leave of absence as Mrs. Hill's house-guest, left for Honolulu last week, from whence she sailed for her home in San Francisco. While here, Miss O'Connell's pleasing personality won her hosts of friends who regretted her departure. Miss O'Connell was the motif of a number of delightful social functions and like everybody else who comes to Kauai, was enthusiastic over the beautiful island and its hospitable people. She was accompanied to Honolulu by Miss Mary Erhorn, who had been the guest of the Hills for the past three weeks and Mr. Hills.

Main Street Macadam

Engineer Moragne with his gang of expert road builders arrived from Wailua yesterday afternoon and for the next two or three weeks, will be engaged in re-macadamizing the Main Street. The recent donation by the Lihue Plantation to the County, of a ten foot strip of land fronting the new town site lots has added sufficient width to make Main Street one of the most desirable driveways in the Territory.

Fire In Koloa

Last Friday night about ten o'clock, fire was discovered in a Koloa cane field, which fortunately was extinguished before much damage was done, about an acre of cane in all being destroyed.

SUGAR DIRECT FROM KOLOA

With a view to concentrating the system of shipments of sugar from the outer islands and the consignments at one base port for each island, Alexander & Baldwin, sugar agents, have just completed arrangements on Kauai which will go far toward making Port Allen one of the most important shipping ports in the other islands, and at the same time will make the American-Hawaiian Steamship line a more powerful factor there, while materially reducing the carrying business of the Inter-Island company.

Alexander & Baldwin, who are agents for the McBryde Sugar Company and Makaweli, have succeeded in making arrangements with H. Hackfeld & Company, whereby the sugar output of the Koloa plantation, adjoining McBryde plantation, will be shipped direct from Port Allen to the destinations on the Pacific and Atlantic coasts selected.

Heretofore, the sugar of the Koloa plantation has always been shipped to Honolulu by the fleet of the Inter Island company, and during the sugar season the steamers of the local company have been kept busy bringing in cargoes from the various Garden Island ports.

As Koloa is a seven thousand five hundred ton plantation the withdrawal of the shipments from the Inter-Island service will make quite a hole, but it is stated by those in control of the plantation that it will also make a material difference to them, first by saving several handlings before being eventually shipped to the mainland.

Port Allen, which was originally known as Eleele, has become an important shipping port for the Garden Island and the new arrangement for deep sea steam freighters will make it of greater importance than ever and will cause more activity at that port, which a number of plantation interests hoped at one time to be selected as the principal port by the favorably on Nawiliwili. The matter of getting the Koloa sugar to Port Allen is simply one of connecting up the railroad systems of the two estates.

The matter of concentrating ships from one or two ports on an island is exemplified at Kahului on Maui, where railroad connections are making that port one of vast importance to the commerce of the Islands and the upbuilding of that side of the island. The United States government is now engaged in building a break-water and deepening the harbor within its boundary.

Hilo, for the same reason, is being built up by its railroad connections through the Hamakua districts. At the present time much of the sugar from the region of Kakuhihale is being brought to Honolulu, and much going to Hilo. Within a year the new $200,000 wharf at Kuliou Bay, Hilo, with its newly dredged approach will permit the deep-sea freighters to take sugar directly from the United States army engineers, who, however, eventually reported

If this were literally true the twenty-four hours would have been spent thusly: One hour digging out a rat, two hours gnawing a bone, one hour waiting for a cat to come down from a tree, half an hour begging to get into the house and the rest of the time sleeping on a mat in front of the door, fighting fleas.

THE Daily Hochi a new Japanese 8 page daily published in Honolulu, is our latest exchange. The paper is neat typographically and contains a goodly share of ads. The editor in outlining his policy declares himself unfettered and unsubsidized by the plantation interests while at the same time he also announces emphatically that the paper will tolerate no interference from labor trouble sources. In other words the Hochi starts its career as an independent Japanese publication.

"HAWAII and Maui to get daily mail," says an exchange. What does Kauai get? With our miles of good roads, there is no reason why Kauai should not have a daily mail service of her own which would promptly place her in a position to request the Inter-Island to extend its daily service to Nawiliwili. "What was good enough for grandfather, etc." won't wash down. We want the commodities to which we are entitled as a modern, prosperous, peaceful, happy and industrious community.

As to who owns the Nawiliwili landing is of no concern to the public, but when passengers in getting to the steamers are compelled to board the small boats from a rickety old platform which might go down any second, then the public is concerned, and considerably so, too. If it is a government wharf, then government officials should be awakened to their duty to the public, and if the Inter Island is responsible, some one ought to throw a big lava brick at the Company. The old saying that a house must tumble down on some people before they can see things is exemplified in this instance.

A RECENT mail brought a copy of a Georgia paper to us which contained an article on "two Hawaiian papers." The two alluded to were THE GARDEN ISLAND and the Star-Bulletin. In referring to the papers the editor among other things said: "The two papers are published in our far-off Pacific Island possessions. THE GARDEN ISLAND is a very good paper, printed half in native and half in English, and published in Lihue Territory, while the Bulletin is a trade paper published in Honolulu. It is a daily and has connection by cable to Frisco. Their up-to-dateness is indicated in the fact that a full report of the particulars of Roosevelt's shooting is given." Oh, you Georgia Cracker!

PERHAPS when someone is murdered by the thugs which infect the Hanamaulu District the authorities will decide to give the district police protection. The attempted hold-up on the main road within half a mile of the plantation office should be sufficient indication of the necessity of the presence of an official of the police department. Hanamaulu has nearly a thousand population among whom are a number of new arrivals from the Philippines.

A community of such a large population without police protection, invites violation of the law.

THE establishment of moving picture show houses by the various plantations is a move in keeping with the interest which is generally displayed by our local plantation managers. The generosity of the plantations without which our baseball series could not have come into existence, was and is an example of public spiritedness found on no other island in the Territory. The contentment of the labor goes far towards permanency of a class without which, our chief industry would be brought to ultimate ruin. Realizing this fact, the plantations are ever on the alert to provide, at any cost, that which will have for its chief object, the welfare and contentment of the working man.

It will be remembered that in a recent issue a correspondent requested us to interest the public in a daily wireless scheme. It will also be remembered that he said he would personally help out in the matter. And now the most unfortunate part is the fact that he forgot to add his signature to the communication. Unfortunate, he cause from the success we have met with so far, it begins to appear as though "Herald," will be given the chance of contributing the snug little sum of 50 plunks per month himself. If, in writing for publication, correspondence would have the thoughtfulness to sign their articles, the editor would have less grey hair and less need for Sunday School lessons.

A two-hour school day and a "teacherage," to be the home of the principal of the rural school as a parsonage as the residence of the church pastor, are among the things seen in the future development of the country's educational system by Dr. P. P. Claxton, United States' commissioner of education. The pupils will get their lessons during the short school session, he said, and spend the remainder of the day at some useful occupation. He said:

"School will last 300 days in the year, and the ages of the pupils will range from 4 to 80 or 90 years. The principals learned in school will be carried out in practical life, and teachers will cease trying to teach young children things they can not understand."

AND now comes a New York doctor who recently gave John Hopkins University $500,000 for putting in working order a ruined digestive apparatus—and says that 30 cents is enough for any man to spend on his lunch. He also contends that a man can get all he needs to eat for $6 a week—at least all that is good for him. It strikes us that there is a vast difference in the matter of eating between "all a man wants," and "all that is good for him." Doubtless, the man who labors long hours in the open air and literally lives by the sweat of his brow, is in no danger of eating too much. But the man who works indoors with his mind rather than his muscles, finds it the easiest thing in the world to eat too much. It was a wise physician who said "a man digs his grave with his teeth."

PRIOR to their closing for the Christmas holidays on December 20, the end of the fall term, examinations will be held this week in the public schools of the Territory. The winter term begins on January 10, and the schools will reopen on that date.

The budget for the next biennial period has been completed as passed upon by the commissioners of education at their regular meeting last week, and copies have been sent to the various members of the committee of estimates which consists of Secretary Mott-Smith, W. T. Pope, superintendent of education, Mayor Fern, and the chairman of each board of supervisors. The general fund amounts to $278,560, and the special fund $584,701, making the total of $873,261, under the new school laws which went into effect at the beginning of the present biennial period.

WHAT seems about one of the most sensible organizations effecting local society, is the newly formed bridge club, which includes residents from both sides of the gulch.

There's no water wagon joy riding.
You can't insult a man by calling him a liar unless he is.
When a fat woman cuts out potatoes she calls it eating no more than a bird.
What makes a girl afraid to be in the dark with a man is if he's the wrong one.
When a man can write big checks it never worries him not to be able to write poetry.
A woman's idea of a successful hat is if it looks to her husband as if it cost two dollars and to her friends two hundred.
The most extreme insanity is being engaged, but a sure cure for it is marriage.
If a man can button his wife up the back it's proof to her how smart he must be in business.
The thanks a man gets for paying for ducks for his family is he also gets the job of carving them.
Maybe even the coal man raves about what it costs him to heat his house.
Doctors make a lot more money
out of midnight suppers than out of people working themselves to death.
The reason a woman wants to walk so fast in tight skirts is she would want to walk slow if they were loose.
What inspires a very tall, thin girl is she doesn't look so to anybody the way she would if she were short and fat.
The first time a baby comes a man gives his wife a set of jewels;
the seventh time an expense account book.
It takes a man's family a month
before to get the Christmas gifts, and him eleven months after to get over paying for them.

1913 MODELS OF THE INDIAN MOTORCYCLE

Following the "14 Important Improvements" of 1912, the Hendee Mfg.
Company announce no less than a dozen additional new features in their 1913
model of the Indian Motorcycle.
By far the most significant feature of the new machine is the Cradle Spring Frame. It is something entirely new, a radical departure from the conventional bicycle and recent motorcycle systems of "springing." Briefly, the new device consists of the application to the rear wheel of the Indian Cradle Spring device
as used on the front fork for the past three years.
Extending back horizontally from the frame joint cluster under the saddle, flanking the rear mud guard, are two 7-leaf Chrome Vanadium steel springs. The "C" shaped curls at the rear end of these springs are connected by stays to bell-cranks on which the rear axle is hung. The forward end of the rear fork has a hinge joint which enables the rear wheel to yield to imperfections of road surface. All shocks are completely absorbed by the leaf springs. The rear wheel can go through almost any vertical motion without affecting the body of the machine. There is no "bottom" to this spring device. The life of the machine is greatly increased.
The Engineering Department of the Hendee Mfg. Co. devoted 18 months of exhaustive test to the Cradle Spring Frame before finally deciding on its adoption for all models of the 1913 Indian.
In addition to the Cradle Spring Frame,
the 1913 Indian embodies 10 other important improvements which will be appreciated by motorcycle riders in general.
Prices remain the same as last year.
Now style, single clinch rims; larger tires, wider mud guards front and rear with larger splashers; casing for upper stretch of transmission chain and curve of sprocket; larger luggage carrier in rear, fitted to all models; foot rests, as well as pedals, fitted to regulate 4 h. p.
and 7 h. p. models; foot break lever fitted on left side now operates hand brake as well as the pedal action; larger size multiple disc clutch now fitted to all models
alike; improved Indian type saddle.
All 1913 Indians will be chain driven and finished in Indian red only.

THE FORD

Is the light weight champion of the world. In a fair and open fight the sturdy Ford has won its title--and holds it--because it has more strength for its weight, and can deliver more power for its size, than any car in the world's arena. The Ford will go farther on a gallon of gasoline, run longer on a set of tires, and be less expensive for monthly upkeep than any other. What more can you ask for in a car? These are irrefutable facts established by the car itself, and must be maintained. Catalogue on application.

A FEW REMARKS

The Wise Men About Town

Cleaning House.

I heard of somebody the other day who was cleaning house. I could hardly believe my ears! I didn't know there was a woman living who still startled people with those awful words. Cleaning house! They strike terror to my soul, though years have passed since I have seen them actually in operation. Among most people cleaning house has come to be a slight, gradual, almost insensible happening in the household. A room is cleaned, the floor mopped and the curtains brushed tomorrow. Another day the kitchen is cleaned, but the mind is still in a state of cleaning house. This is the plan, if you prefer, to do not let your house be a mess.

Earthquake

Honolulu thought it felt an earthquake. I hear that the inhabitants were badly scared, till they found it was a false alarm. I think San Francisco frightened us more than all the other earthquakes. It came so near home to us that we were all in San Francisco that they have the right idea on the subject. They won't admit that they have had an earthquake. They refer to "a disaster." Just let them rule out even that admission and they'll have carried Spartan courage to the heights. Honolulu and the rest of us should do likewise. Ignore danger! Past, present or future! Like Roosevelt. "Fear God and fear nothing else in the universe!"

Day Labor.

It is reported that work is waiting because day laborers are scarce. Shall we send to Europe for some more? Possibly! Probably! But I've been interested in what a contractor says on the subject. He insists that there are plenty of day laborers in the country, but not plenty who will labor! They stop at home or stop elsewhere, just because it's less exertion than to go and do the work. In other words, some people would rather go hungry than go hustling. Ah! But what if they were laboring for something other than just to keep from going hungry? People who do not want to work are those who have not yet seen the possibilities in work. They have not yet arrived at the stage in their evolution when they realize that they are evolving. The instant they realize that, they want to work. And the devil himself can't keep them from it.

Every Comfort.

Some one I know had something of a shock when she tried to induce some old gentlemen in a philanthropic institution to pose for her. She offered three dollars a day, which she faced almost all of the men would snap at. But did they? Well, I guess not! The person in charge of the institution explained that the inmates didn't have to do "that sort of thing." She said she had every comfort, even "a number of rich folks." So why doesn't she do the easiest easy work? Why indeed if you don't have to and don't want to!

A Girl Baby.

The troubles which culminated in a recent divorce are said to have been why the baby wasn't a boy. Poor little thing, it was a girl! This news seems to me a rather silly source of disappointment. It would be the part of reason not to get one's mind on either sex. Take what the gods give and let go of that! Unless "an heir to the throne" is wanted, a Czar of all the Russias or something of that sort, is it after all a very crucial matter? We seldom wish the child were anything but what it is when we have had it for a time. Why doesn't father wait a bit before he feels so disappointed?

Woman Suffrage

An elderly gentleman of my acquaintance said in all seriousness before the election that he didn't see why Mrs. Taft didn't just write a nice note to the papers and say he wouldn't be elected, and why not save a lot of trouble? I would make a somewhat similar suggestion to those who do not yet grant woman suffrage. Just write a nice note to the papers and say that the women may vote! For surely all now see that they must give in!
