TO INVESTIGATE HANAIEI WHARF

Attorney Rawlins and W. F. Drake came up on Wednesday's Kinou on an investigating trip regarding the Hanalei wharf. It is claimed that while the same is substantially constructed it is so low as to be entirely submerged during high tide. A suggestion will probably be made in the report of the investigating committee to add at least three feet in height to the present structure.

Pretty Birthday Party

The Carter home was the scene of juvenile festivities last Saturday afternoon when Charlotte Eileen celebrated her fifth birthday. The little hostess, a dainty picture in pale blue mull, received her small guests at three o'clock with great enthusiasm and was a happy recipient of many pretty remembrances.

The table, spread on the broad lanai midst potted plants, was prettily decorated with nasturtiums and maiden hair fern, and the little favors, consisting of a variety of small toys and ribbon-trimmed baskets, filled with candy, delighted the eyes of the little folk. After regaling themselves with ice cream and cake, the children proceeded to the garden while their mothers partook of refreshments daintily arranged at small tables placed on the front lanai. The invited guests were: the little Misses Leilani Rohrig, Alice Broadbent, Catherine Moragne, Thelma Hopper, Isabella Hogg, Dora Rice, Harriet Rice, Alice Wilcox, Barbara Hofmann, Florence Waterhouse and Masters William Allen Waterhouse, Sam Wilcox, Glen Hopper, James Hogg, Arthur Hyde Rice, Albert Wilcox, Reinhard Hofmann.

The Waimea Concert Program

As the time for the Waimea concert draws near, the clever little Misses who will take part, are bending every effort towards perfecting themselves in that particular line which is to be her lot. A special treat is being planned by Miss Silva who is preparing special music for the dance which is to follow the concert. April 5th, will be red-letter day for Waimea theatrical goers, who should, by way of showing appreciation for good music and encouragement of local talent, turn out en masse to hear them.

JUSTICE DONE

The following communication has been forwarded to various legislators by the Kalaheo Homestead Association, and it speaks volumes for those with the courage of their convictions:

Waimea, Kauai, T. H.,
March 21st, 1913.
Honorable Charles A. Rice, Honolulu, Oahu.

Dear Sirs:—
A mutual friend from your district, called the other day and in discussing the matter of homesteading he very strongly advised us to write to you and place before you a homesteading proposition which a number of us are interested in. He spoke so convincingly of your willingness to take this matter in hand that we are more than pleased to have the opportunity of forwarding to you, various data of information which I hope will be useful to you.

I am glad to note that you also are interested in the successful outcome of homesteading and I wish to thank you on behalf of myself and associates for any and all efforts which you will put forward on this homesteading measure.

You are undoubtedly aware that a Settlement Association was recently formed here, applying for Homesteads in the Kalaheo Tract, the applicants comprising residents of Waimea, Makaweli, Eleele and Koloa. A request was extended to a great number of people to join this association. A great many refused; some for lack of means, others fearing they could not live up to requirements and others declined, stating as their reason that they feared to do so on account of the positions they held with different plantations, who they feared were not in favor of homesteaders of our caliber. The membership was not restricted to any class or nationality.

The membership as it now stands consists of Portuguese, Hawaiians, Part Hawaiians, Part Chinese and Americans. All, however, are citizens. In fact any one who was at all desirous of becoming an applicant was taken, none refused. Will further state that this Association had been discussed for more than three months, by people from Waimea to Lihue, and no attempt was made to keep the matter a secret.

When this proposition was first broached, we received only words of encouragement from almost everyone, especially so from the Sub Land Agent, Mr. W. D. McBryde, who seemed more than anxious that such a n association be successfully put through, and gave it as his opinion that this was the only way that homesteading could be made a success with any degree of certainty, further stating that it was practically the only way that the better class of homesteader could be secured at all, as in this way homesteaders would be assured of a fair size tract, and all the members of the Association would be congenial, which would be conducive of success in a n enterprise.

Upon his, Mr. W. D. McBryde, application to the Land Office, steps were taken toward the survey of said tract; the Land Commissioner, Mr. J. D. Tucker coming to Kauai in person. While in Waimea, Mr. Tucker stated to a number of residents, most of whom were signers to our application, that he very much favored the Association Plan, and if he had his say in the matter of size of homesteads, none would be smaller than 60 acres. That evening Mr. Tucker stopped with a prominent citizen of Eleele for the night, and during their conversation regarding the matter of homesteading, his talk was all in favor of the Association Plan, and the large size holdings.

This was on Friday at this time the Sub Land Agent, Mr. McBryde was in Honolulu, but returned the next morning, Saturday and Mr. Tucker called upon him at his home. After leaving Mr. McBryde, the Land Commissioner was approached by a member of our association and was greatly surprised to learn that his views of the day previous were entirely changed. He stated that the lots would be only 20 acres each, and would not be given out to an Association. He was immediately taxed with being influenced, by having pressure brought to bear upon him, which accusations he did not deny, merely stating that he had to do as he was told. The attitude of Mr. Tucker is better explained by his own letter which reads as follows:

"I have for acknowledgment your letter. Upon my return to Honolulu, the matter of the size of the new Kalaheo lots was gone into very thoroughly, and it was deemed best for all concerned to have those lots divided into an area of twenty acres. And again, these lots will be opened only under the special homestead agreement form and not under the settlement association plan. It was at first intended to have them in larger areas but all matters having been taken into consideration, this final decision was arrived at—that is, twenty acres each.

Yours very truly,
JOSHUA D. TUCKER,
Commissioner of Public Lands.

The Sub Land Agent was then sought and asked for an explanation, and was also asked if he had recommended lots of 20 acres each and whether he had objected to the Association Plan. He stated that he had strongly advised Mr. Tucker to grant no association request, and recommended lots of a size of not more than 20 acres. Each questioned for a reason for so doing in view of his former assurance of goodwill, he stated that his reasons for so doing were; The granting of lots of a larger size than 20 acres would be an injustice to, first: The Kauai Fruit & Land Co. Secondly The McBryde Sugar Co., and last the Present Homesteaders.

We cannot see where the Cannery or the Plantation should be considered at all, in the slightest degree. The matter of the present Homesteaders, certainly has some merit. But inasmuch as it is conclusively proven by these same present Homesteaders that homesteads on the present plan and size, can only result in failure, we take it that the Government should profit by this very example and not persist in its present suicidal policy regarding future homesteads. The size of future homesteads, be they large or small cannot possibly benefit the former homesteaders at Kalaheo. If smaller it will only mean the anchoring of 40 more laborers in that vicinity, where they will be of benefit only to the interests who are opposed to successful homesteading, and upon whom the present homesteaders are dependent, and would only serve to put the homesteading question in a worse light, which seems to be the desire of many. In fact the desire of those whom we should reasonably expect to be interested in making homesteading as attractive and as profitable as is consistent with good government, and not a land policy that serves merely to anchor labor to some plantation.

It would seem to be the aim of the Sub Land Agent, the Land Commissioner and others, that by refusing an association, and granting only small lots, the members of our association would not wish to obtain homesteads in this district. We however proceeded toward the forming of our association; two of the members going to the expense of making four trips to the district securing the signatures of those who had expressed a desire to participate.

One of the members again called on Mr. McBryde at his office at the Cannery and contrary to his former expressions to another member, he again seemed to be in favor of the association plan; even suggesting that we employ a good attorney to handle the matter for us in Honolulu. He was asked regarding some names he had proposed, and stated that he would call up by phone after he had consulted with them again, and in case they still wished to join, he would so report, which he did the next day and the form was sent over for their signatures.

A few days after this the Directors of the Kauai Fruit & Land Co., McBryde Sugar Co., and the Hawaiian Sugar Co., visited Kauai, and immediately after their departure Mr. McBryde experienced another change of heart. The counter petition was then started by Mr. McBryde and one J. S. Chandler who was supposed to circulate same. That McBryde was instrumental in circulating this petition is proven by his own letter which reads:

Honorable W. J. Sheldon,
House of Representatives,
Honolulu.

Dear Sir:
I enclose herewith petition to the Governor and Commissioner of Public Lands signed by some one hundred and fifty citizens and prospective citizens of the District of Koloa and Territory of Hawaii.

The petition, as you will note, requests that the lands of Kalaheo now being surveyed by the Government be opened to settlement by anyone entitled to a home and that they be not allotted to any Association to be formed to take them over.

I would call your attention to the fact that the signers to this petition are all residents within the district of Koloa. The land of Kalaheo being within the said district it was not deemed advisable to secure petitioners without the district.

I would most respectfully request of you that you, as one of the duly elected Representatives from this Island, present this petition to the Governor and to the Commissioner of Public Lands of the Territory of Hawaii, and request of them its consideration.

Very respectfully,
W. D. MCBRYDE,
Manager Kauai Fruit & Land Company.

Upon submitting our application to the Land Office, we requested the Representative from this district, Honorable W. J. Sheldon, to call upon the Land Commissioner and the Governor and put the matter before them. We have been informed by Mr. Sheldon that the Land Commissioner from the first positively refused to consider the association plan, giving no reason for his objection, and well knowing that this very week drawings for a like association on Maui had taken place. Neither the Commissioner or the Governor has given us a reason for refusing us, or have they offered to explain the difference between our association and that on Maui. The Commissioner did state however, that he was not adverse to the granting of 40 acres, and further stated that he would place the matter before the Governor. Mr. Sheldon then interviewed the Governor, who in turn stated he would confer with the Land Commissioner and give his answer later. The Governor also stated that he was not adverse to the granting of the privilege of selecting one, two or even three lots, if it was desired.

We are just in receipt of the final answer of both the Governor and the Land Commissioner, which speaks for themselves. The Governor's letter is as follows:

Honorable J. D. Tucker,
Commissioner of Public Lands,
Honolulu, T. H.

Dear Sir:
I have received your letter of the 25th ult., transmitting for my consideration the application of James McClellan and others, forming the Kalaheo Settlement Association, for lots of not less than 40 acres each in the land of Kalaheo Kauai, which is about to be opened for homesteads.

Honorably W. J. Sheldon also on the 4th inst. urged upon me the granting of these lands to this settlement association. I acknowledge also the receipt this day of a petition signed by J. S. Chandler and many others requesting that these lands be opened to all and that no association be given the preference to them.

It seems to me that under all the circumstances these lands should be opened to all and that every one should be given an equal opportunity to secure a homestead in this tract and that the settlement of the homesteads should not be confined to the members of any particular association.

Respectfully yours,
Governor of Hawaii,
Mr. Tucker's letter is as follows:

EASTER SERVICES WELL ATTENDED

The special vesper services held in the church during the past week have been more than usually well attended and more than usually interesting and helpful. The meeting on Thursday afternoon was made more strictly vesper with the setting sun for a back-ground, and some of the finer evening hymns sympathetically rendered.

On Easter Sunday, the church was more than ever beautifully decorated with white carnations, lilies and daisies, against a rich back-ground of Johannis-brod in generous masses of green. The service was well attended in spite of the steady down-pour of rain which lasted through the whole service and into the afternoon. Those with automobiles, played the good Samaritan with most welcome grace in conveying the audience home in relays.

Ball Directors Meet

The annual meeting of the K. A. A. was held in the parlors of the Fairview Hotel last Saturday evening, and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, B. D. Baldwin; Vice-President, G. P. Wilcox; secretary, A. R. Glaisyer; treasurer, H. D. Wishard. Representatives were present as follows: Makaweli: B. D. Baldwin, J. K. Hayselden, J. Hayselden, H. A. B. Fergie, M. Johnson. From McBryde: R. Smith, R. Pillar. From Koloa: R. Whittington, C. Girvin, H. Honan, H. Richert. From Lihue: William Dean, H. D. Wishard, R. L. Wilcox, C. S. Dole, A. R. Glaisyer. From Kealia: G. Wilcox, Allen Wilcox, H. Sheldon, Mr. Baer, Charley Gray.

The Kilauea representatives were unable to be present, but the directors were assured that they would have a team in the field. The treasurer's report showed a deficit of approximately $605.00, a part of which is covered by unpaid pledges, reducing the indebtedness to about $500.00. The deficit is said to be due to the fact that the greater part of the monies raise by subscription in 1912, was used to make up a deficit accruing in 1911 which amounted to about $850.00. The president named the following as a committee on finance to raise funds and to report at a meeting which will be held April 5th: Charlie Gray, G. P. Wilcox, C. Girvin and H. D. Wishard. The question of supplying umpires was taken up and after considerable discussion, it was decided to allow the umpires a salary of $2.50 per day, pay their transportation and lunch bills.

The selection of Ben Baldwin as the new president for the association, is most commendable, since Mr. Baldwin has been one of the prime movers and most strenuous advocates of the ball game since its first inception, and it would have been impossible to have appointed a man which would give more universal satisfaction to the people. The new officers are, in every instance, from among the best men on the island and their election assures the people of a continuation of our record as the leading baseball island of the group.

An Interesting Performance

Rev. Johns, assisted by Ensign Lyman, gave an interesting stereoptical exhibition in the Hanamaulu school. More than four hundred persons attended, which indicate the wisdom of the bill which was recently passed allowing the use of our public school buildings for exhibition purposes. The exhibition was the first of the kind to take place under the new law. No admission fee was charged.

The Cleveland Buffalo Transit Co. wishes to exchange a transportation ticket between Cleveland and Buffalo for advertising. That looks good, but how the dickens will we get to Cleveland?

The successful exhibition at the Honolulu school house last Thursday evening was a mighty good indication of the many happy events that are coming to the children who have so far been compelled to roost in barn-yards and gaze upon cheap moving picture shows.

Now that the Hilo graft case has become worn thread-bare, Honolulu is doing its utmost to stir up a graft case of its own by accusing one of its supervisors of committing a crime by accepting a job from the government which he serves. Funny old world, this, and for ridiculousness, Honolulu has the rest of the world backed clear off the stage.

The suggestion by Promotion Commissioner Z. K. Myers, to the effect that the promotion committee should have a representative on each island, is one of the best promotion ideas that has ever been brought out. There may not be grounds for the many charges that Honolulu knocks the outside islands, but the fact remains that there is not much doing in the tourist business outside of Hilo and Oahu. This, it has been charged by pretty good authority, is due in a great measure, to the lack of interest given the islands in question by the members of the promotion committee. With a member of this body on Kauai, the people would have every reason to expect better results. Not on account of the apparent lack of interest which is now shown by the committee, but such a man would be in the field and would therefore be in a position to see that we got fair play. The difficulty in the selection of the Kauai member, however, would be considerable since there are so many men qualified for the work. An amendment to Mr. Myer's suggestion to the effect that each county have a promotion committee, the members of which would work in conjunction with the main body in Honolulu, might allow of greater accomplishments.

"Are School Rolls Padded?" asks an exchange. Well, we are in a position to answer definitely in the negative form in so far as one particular school is concerned, and if the editor of the exchange will investigate matters just a bit closer than he is in the habit of doing before he pursues the subject further he will find that if the rolls are "padded" that the teacher will not be found to be so much to blame as the department of public instruction. At the end of the last school year, orders were issued to the principals requesting them to round up every child of school age in the community of their respective schools, with the view to increasing the enrollment to a certain limit in order to secure larger appropriations for the coming year. As a result, many principals, as is only natural to suppose, in their desire to carry out the instructions they had received, probably gathered in a few who were not yet of school age, or we will say, six years of age. At least such was the condition in the school referred to above, at the opening of the fall term. As soon as the discovery was made, the present principal sorted out those whom he considered "under five," and instructed their larger brothers and sisters to inform their mothers that the children were not to return to school until six years of age.

Mention is also made in our contemporary, that children of parents who are ill, and who have no other means of support other than the child's labor, are frequently compelled to attend school for the sole purpose of "keeping up the attendance" so the teacher's salary will not suffer. All of which is pure nonsense. There are few principals but who receive daily requests from parents who ask that their daughter or son may be excused "today" or it may be for a "week." In many cases, a daughter is granted permission to remain at home every Monday that she may help with the family washing. Or it may be the "boy" must take lunch to his father, or go for poi. The excuses which are put up to the principal of our public schools are so numerous and frequent that it taxes his judgment in meeting out justice to the department, himself and the pupils. It is difficult to draw the line. At any rate, the requests of parents are generally granted, and we have not the least hesitancy in stating that the question of the salary never enters the mind of the principal granting such.

Not wishing to grant permission to pupils upon the request of parents or guardians, the principal generally carries on a system of investigation concerning the child, and if after all is known, it is deemed advisable to excuse the child, he does so with the knowledge gained at first hand and with the conviction that he is pursuing the right course. On the other hand, the principal may find on investigation that the case is one in which merit does not justify the granting of the request, and as a result it is denied. It is pretty safe to predict that an investigating committee will find that as a general thing, the principals are capable of administering the affairs of our public schools in a much less unselfish light than the proposed bill before the legislature would indicate.

When all has been discovered concerning that counter-petition, relative to the Kalaheo homestead proposition, the McBryde Plantation interests loom up on the screen as a formidable background. The signatures on the petition in question, while they are not known, are said by one of our representatives to be those of irresponsible parties. That the plantation is doing its utmost to head off the homesteading scheme is thereby sufficiently indicated to emphasize its stand in the matter. Naturally enough, this attitude upon the part of the plantation interests, is, from its point of view, very good and well, but what are the homesteaders to do in the matter? Sit idly by and allow corporations to run the officials whose duty it is to carry out the wishes of the people in preference to a few frenzied financiers?

If J. P. Cook, or any other individual takes it upon himself to shape the destiny of our people, he will find that the undertaking is far beyond any expectations which his little mutt can imagine. When our readers recall to mind the fact that all but three homesteads in Kalaheo are, under mortgage to the pineapple company, it will not require very much thinking to see just why the petition has been confined to that district. With a few more hundred acres of land cut up into small acre tracts, mortgaged to the above company, would look mighty good to them for it would mean a short time when foreclosure proceedings would issue, and, presto-change, the whole bag of tricks is the property of the "big gun." This is no fairy tale, and if there are those who deem it such let them investigate matters for themselves.

To learn that those who signed the counter-petition are "irresponsible," is not at all surprising, since ordinary intelligence will tell a man that if one man cannot make good on a small acreage, it would be a pretty sure thing that another could not. The land commissioner, and the governor, before whom the Waimea petition as well as the Kalaheo petition came before, have, by favoring the latter against the former, shown themselves absolutely incapable of consideration for the homesteader. They both denied a right to the citizens of this island which they had not the power to do. For fear of offending a certain influential crowd, men who have made themselves objects of derision; they have caused the people to lose all confidence in them and fully warrant the adverse criticism which is heard from every source.

THE OTHER WOMAN

—By—

Richard Washburn Child

Captain Nathan Hazard had a daughter. I saw her once at Porto San Carlos in the middle of a West Indian winter, and I must say that she was a pretty girl—as pretty as any who ever had the salt spray on her face. I certainly would not have blamed any one who fell in love with her.
They used to say at the Planters' Club that the old New Englander had married the daughter of Jose Petronius Manulez, the head of the Spanish merchandising firm which did business in San Juan and Havana, also in half a dozen other ports of call in those waters. The story ran that she had set sail with him one black night in the schooner Agnes May, of Bangor; that she was married by a sky pilot who brought bad luck to the voyage, there being nothing but storms and doldrums all the way around the Horn and up the Chilean and Peruvian coasts; and that after twelve months the Spanish wife died in the midst of clear weather and a spanking breeze off Cape San Eugenio.

However that may be she left a strange and wonderful legacy in this girl who was called, after the place she was born "Eugenie." Captain Nathan grew out of his youth and old without ever taking so much as a look of interest at any other creature in petticoats. He had never had an eye for a pretty face but once, he had loved the mother with all his heart and soul, and there was an end of it. The daughter was left, and she and the Agnes May were his life.

The girl took her looks from her Spanish blood and her character from ancestors who had wrestled with thin soil and slapping seas and codfish trawls, and had shipped under Bainbridge and Farragut and gone on their knees to God at bedtime. Think it foolish, if you will, when I say that she had eyes like deep pools of water, a mouth dedicated to tenderness, a skin the color of well-seasoned ivory, hair blacker than an overcast night, and the mold of arms that would make a man wonder at how fine could be the touch of Nature's fingers. Then, in spite of all and contradicting all, her mind was carved out of a sense of duty and framed in a setting of the stern virtues; the British Consul spoke well when he pointed out that she was a Saint Agatha in Cleopatra's skin.

The Agnes May, for her part, was no beauty at all. She had seen her best years, and though Hazard, in memory of her past speed and glory, kept her painted like an ancient countess and spick and span as a training ship, it seemed to many a seafaring man in and around the Cribbean and the Gulf that she must be near the end of her life, and a bad insurance risk. None the less, on every third voyage Captain Nathan would bring Eugenie with him, and there would be the ends of embroidery threads on the sand-scrubbed after-deck and two places set on the mahogany in the Captain's room, with its white panels and gilt arabesques running along the edge of the ceiling and a picture of the mother hung on the wall.

Perhaps the idea of her marrying never occurred to Captain Nathan; certainly according to all that I can hear I believe it never had occurred to her. A baker's dozen of young Spaniards and rich sugar-growers had tried their hands without so much as having Eugenie recognize that they were anything more than well disposed and polite. This was true in our end of the world and no doubt was true in the cold North too; for that very reason the stop at Porto San Carlos, to which I have referred, raised a hurricane of unexpected affairs that ended wildly enough to suit all hands.

San Carlos is one of the old fortified seats of Spanish misrule and romance. There is a morro built on the tongue of the harbor about the size of a Newark chair factory, with pink and yellow walls on which the green sea-slime climbs up from the licking waves below, and the green wind grass climbs down the cracks and crevices from the earth mounds above. Behind it a town with crumbling ramparts clings for dear life to the slopes and overlooks a wide expanse of marshes where the pelicans scream; and beyond, clumps of palms and cedars and thatched huts at the foot of the smoky hills.

Captain Nathan always stood in the bow of the Agnes May when she made a passage between the Tarantulas—as the rocks at the mouth were called—a lean man, with shoulders sloping from his ancient frame, a hawk nose, a sparkling, Atlantic-blue eye loving the world, a skin as fine as your grandmother's, and a sinewy strength which many a spigoty sailorman had learned to fear as he feared the "evil eye." Captain Nathan always made a berth opposite the Machina del Norte and picked up his cargo over the side from the bumboats and lighters, but this time he gave a snort as he came in, because at the place he had chosen for good anchor bottom a steam yacht, white and shiny brass, was lying there looking into the mirror of the water like a vain lady dressed in linen and gold.

CITIZENS ASK HELP

Honolulu, March 7th, 1913.
Honorable W. J. Sheldon,
House of Representatives,
Honolulu.

Dear Sir:

Referring to the two petitions respectively for and against the opening of the Kalahoe lands to all and under the settlement association plan, I enclose herewith a copy of a letter from the Governor, which is self-explanatory and which, as you will notice, is in line with the views which I have previously expressed to you orally.

Very respectfully,
Joshua D. Tucker,
Commissioner of Public Lands.

You will please note from the Governor's letter that our application was in his hands from the 25th. of February, but it took until the 7th. instant for him to arrive at a decision, but the Chandler petition which is supposed to have influenced his decision could only have been in his hands for a few hours at the most. We are compelled therefore, to infer that his mind was already made up to refuse our petition for reasons best known to himself. Or that he was already aware that the Chandler petition would be presented, and was fully aware of its import.
The Governor states "it seems to me that under all the circumstances etc." We would very much like to know what these circumstances are as he refers to. Certainly not to the Chandler petition, as he had no opportunity to ascertain what weight should be accorded such petition, nor under what conditions and at whose instance same was obtained; unless as already stated, he was already aware that same was being circulated.

It is very obvious to us that instead of the Chandler petition being the cause of the Governor's decision in this matter, it was used only as an excuse upon which to base his refusal, which excuse was furnished him by those interested in having those homesteads settled by laborers. And he only waited until the Chandler petition was safely in his hands, when he refused our request for an associate.

We contend that this Chandler petition is not worthy of a moments consideration, in that same was not prompted by any individual desire on the part of the signers thereto, for a homestead of their own. This land has been available for years and never an attempt made to settle same, but the moment an association of citizens who desire a homestead, and who are willing to put forth their best efforts to make them self supporting and successful, make application, it is suddenly discovered that more than 150 residents (Mr.
McBryde does not even pretend to call them all citizens) desire these very same lands. Mr. McBryde states that it was thought best to confine the applications to residents of the Koloa district. (This he evidently considers a very strong argument in its favor) he could have safely stated they were mostly laborers on the McBryde or Koloa Sugar Company's plantations. It is conclusively proven by Mr. McBryde's letter that he was instrumental in circulating this petition. And for this very reason not the slightest consideration should be given this petition, for reason of his being a heavy stockholder in the McBryde Sugar Company and the Kauai Fruit & Land Co., and he as the manager of the latter concern is paid by employers of the interests who would most benefit should these lands be settled by laborers on 80 acre lots.
It is therefore obvious that any petition fathered by Mr. McBryde is prompted by a desire to further the interests of his employers as well as his own personal interests, and are not to be attributed to any magnanimous impulse on his part to see the residents of his district obtain homesteads, even though he attempts to imply as much.

One of the members of our association everheard Mr. Chandler asking for signatures to his petition. The persons approached, five in number had not heard of his petition until he spoke to them about it. He made very little impression until he singled out a certain member of our association and stated "There's—from—Do you want a man like that over here? He is a rich man already.
We don't want a man like that over here." He finally got them interested enough to sign, which was about all they could do, one of them being a lad of about 16 years of age. But then, Mr. Mryde has stated "Prospective Citizens."

If this is the sort of argument that influences the Governor we are led to believe that it is his policy that if a man is industrious enough to accumulate during 40 years, means sufficient to practically assure the success of a homestead, he should not be given the chance, but a foreigner, a dollar-a-day laborer, a man who will never be anything else, should be given the preference, thereby encouraging shiftlessness and discouraging thrift.

It was also stated that we tried and did refuse certain parties admission to our association. This is absolutely false. Not a single one whose name was handed in or who asked to be admitted was refused.
When we applied for 40 acres, we took into consideration the size of the tract, (we figured on 1,000 acres) out as it now stands there are only 40 lots, and if our application is finally granted, we cannot hope to all obtain 40 acres each, this would have to be settled among ourselves. Therefore we felt it would be inconsistent to apply for 40 acres and admit members until there would not be land enough to go around. After we met and formed, the applications closed, with 36 signers.

At the very best only 40 applicants can be accommodated, and as above stated our application accommodates 36, a difference of 4, and for this difference the Governor and the Land Commissioner would so jeopardize the success of the whole.

We hold, and it is the opinion of the better class of citizens here, that the main point to be considered in homesteading should be in securing the best class of homesteaders possible, those whose sole aim is to make their homestead their permanent homes, and as successful as possible, thereby creating an independent and prosperous class of citizens, the backbone of any country, state or nation, and not try to find the class that are willing to accept the small plots the Land Commissioner is pleased to dole out. This class of homesteader is simply under the disadvantage of having a certain amount sunk in a garden plot, which in most cases is mortgaged, and if by any chance they have an opportunity to better their condition and go elsewhere, it means that they would lose all. The only argument that can be advanced in favor of this arrangement is that it assures a certain amount of labor to some adjacent plantation, which we trust is not the policy of this government.

It may be argued that some, or even all of us, are not bonified homesteaders. We beg to state that we are one and all in favor of the most rigid enforcement of the present land laws, and an amendment thereto, to the effect that no homesteader can sell his homestead to anyone but to the Government.
That is the Government only would have the privileges of buying, paying the homesteader the same price he paid for, plus the cost of improvements, the value of said improvements to be determined by a board of appraisers, the said appraisers to be paid by the homesteader.
The land in this way could be made immediately available for homesteading and could be advertised again for sale. The only way a person could dispose of a homestead under this arrangement would by inheritance.

We are not attempting to agitate an issue of Homesteads vs. Plantations. We are fully aware of the importance of the sugar industry, and what it means to these islands, and we believe the majority of citizens of the Territory are also fully aware of this fact, which is borne out by the class of legislators they have from time to time elected to the House and Senate. The people have unreservedly shown their confidence and good will to this industry, and it is up to the legislators and Government to see that this confidence is not abused. As above stated we are not desirous of making this an issue, but it would seem from the attitude of the present executive that he is desirous of so doing. The policy of the Government and the paramount interests have never been questioned, when this policy has been one of fairness and justice.
All we have done is to ask for homesteads of 40 acres, which is only half of what we are entitled to by law. The Governor has seen fit to refuse this request, giving us no reason for so doing, but intimating by his letter that the Chandler petition was a factor in his refusal. We are not asking for excuses for not granting our request; we are not children who will put with no excuses, from the Governor or any one else. We want homesteads, consider ourselves entitled to them, and mean to have them, or know the reason why. We ask this not as a favor of the Governor or anyone, but as a right. We know almost to a certainty just who the interests who are adverse to the granting of these homesteads, and at whose very instance, and by whom, and under what conditions this counter petition was procured, and it should not merit a moments consideration from any person who is not already prejudiced to the interest of successful homesteading. But on the contrary, it should be the strongest kind of a recommendation for the granting of our association. It is an attempt pure and simple to shut us out, and get small homesteaders settled by laborers, and is a cloak for the instigators, who in this way do not have to come out in the open and show their hands, and can still persist in their hypocritical protestations of being in favor of successful homesteading.

CITIZENS WANT JUSTICE DONE

We respectfully ask that you take this matter up with the Governor and Land Commissioner, and if no assurance is obtained from them that the association will be granted, to carry the issue to the floor of the House and Senate. If same is killed in either the House or Senate, we shall at least learn who the friends of Homesteading are. There are other elections coming, and other lands to be opened, and the Campaign will start the moment this association is turned down, and perhaps when the House and Senate next convenes, it may be in the hands of a representative body of Legislators.

Copies of this letter are being sent to Senators, Coke and Metzger and Representatives, Sheldon, Coney, Lyman, Huddy and Asch, whom we respectfully request to confer with you upon a course of action to pursue.

We are also engaged in compiling another petition of facts and figures, to be used should we not obtain just treatment locally. This petition will contain a resume of the granting of Public Lands from the old days down to the present time, relating to the exchange of Government Land, by the Government with certain plantations, most particularly those exchanges on this Island, during the administration of the Present Executive. A list of Government land on this Island, to whom it is leased, and the rent received. Copies of which shall be forwarded to Prince Kalaniana'ole, Secretary Lane, President Wilson, and also to Senators from North Dakota, South Dakota, Minnesota, Indiana, Ohio, Washington, Oregon and California, who are personally known to certain members of our Association.

Again thanking you for your offer of assistance, and hoping that you may be successful, I beg to remain,

Yours faithfully,
