N. G. OFFICERS HOLD MEETING

In answer to a call by Colonel Gaylord P. Wilcox, the officers of the 4th Reg. N. G. H. assembled at the armory at Lihue, at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon for the purpose of receiving instructions on mobilization. Practically every officer of the regiment was present. After calling the assemblage to order Col. Wilcox explained the purpose of the meeting, stating that as the Guard would in all probability be called into service in the very near future, it was necessary, in order to cause as little delay and confusion as possible, for every officer to know just what was to be done when the order came.

Captain Gustav Gonsler, Inspector-Instructor taking extracts from Special Regulations No. 55, Mobilization of the National Guard, gave a comprehensive lecture on mobilization, explaining in detail the different steps to be taken by each unit of the regiment.

Kapaa Wins Victory

The last game in the Interscholastic Soccer League was played off at the new Kapaa playground on Saturday. The game was postponed at the first of the season and this was the first opportunity that the teams have had for getting together.

The Kalahoe team, accompanied by a band of rooters and several teachers, reached Kapaa Saturday morning, and the game started at once. Caesar Gonsalves, the Koloa captain, refereed the game.

The Kapaa boys went into the game with a will and at once put the Kalahoe team on the defensive. There were many times when it seemed that a score was certain, but Kalahoe always managed to get the ball away from the goal before the damage was done.

The first half kept the large crowd of Kapaa rooters on their toes every minute and they gave unsparingly of vocal encouragement. The winning score, however, was not made.

In the second period Kalahoe was penalized for holding and the referee awarded a free kick. On this play a Kapaa player received the kick and drove it through the goal posts for a score.

The Kapaa followers cheered wildly and when time was called with the Kapaa boys in the lead they gave the team an ovation.

This game adds two points to the Kapaa score and takes them out of last place in the league. Great credit is due these boys for their fine showing and sportsmanship.

Score: Kapaa 1, Kalahoe 0.

THE SCAVENIUS RECITAL

The Scavenius piano recital Friday evening at Hoena, the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Knudsen, was decidedly a success, even beyond the expectations of those who knew that it was going to be so. There were some forty select guests, the kind of people who know a good thing and appreciate it when they get it. They were enthusiastic listeners on this occasion, and were eager for more, up to the very end of the musician's generosity, when the lateness of the hour counselled a break up.

Mr. Scavenius is of Danish parentage, but of English birth and speech, combining, we judge, the best qualities of both races. He has been on the Islands some eighteen months, and has made a good record wherever he has gone. He is an enthusiastic champion of the Islands and rates Kauai as the best of the bunch, as any discerning man must.

He will give a recital at the Lihue Social Hall Friday evening, at which he hopes to see most of the good people of Kauai. He will vary the program, as well as add to the interest of it, by giving a brief characterization of each composer as he renders his music.

COMFORT BAGS FOR THE KHAKI BOYS

The "luncheon shed," at the back of the church, was the scene of great activity all day Saturday. There were ladies, and lunch, and sewing machines, and dry goods, and chatter and good cheer, and through it all that effective industry that turned out, in the late afternoon, 200 comfort bags for the soldiers.

These bags are about 12x14, and contain the following useful articles: Bull Durham tobacco, cigarette paper, writing paper, envelopes, memo book, playing cards, soap and wash-rag, safety-pins, pencil, handkerchief, tooth brush and paste, comb, buttons, knife, shoe laces and bandana.

During the day, while the rest worked, one of the ladies read most interesting extracts from letters from Paris, describing the needs of the wounded, and the efforts that are being made to alleviate the same.

These bags, we understand, are to be sent to France to be distributed among the boys there. It is such a very attractive bunch of things that we are almost minded to start for France straightway, that we may get one of them ourselves.

And Once Again

A uncommonly pleasant dance was that given by Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Stewart for Mr. and Mrs. Allen C. Wilcox and Col. and Mrs. G. P. Wilcox at the Lihue Hall on Saturday evening. The Hall makes an excellent place for such an affair, their being plenty of sea-room for the dancers as well as comfortable provision for the onlookers, and generous ventilation for all concerned.

The decorations were at once commendably simple and strikingly effective, revealing the artistic hand of Mrs. W. N. Stewart whose endowment along this line is well known.

The devotees of the graceful art found it very hard to tear themselves away, and when the musicians went sleepily away, about midnight, a few choice spirits stayed on for a few more "one last" dances, which they managed with the help of the mechanical music of the nickelodeon. Altogether it was a most successful affair.

Those invited were:— Mr. and Mrs. Allen C. Wilcox, Col. and Mrs. G. P. Wilcox, Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Rice, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Henry Rice, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Rice, Dr. and Mrs. F. H. TENNIS

Miss Meta Mengler was victorious over Mrs. Philip Rice in the finals of the ladies singles, at Hoena last Thursday. The sets, with the exception of the last one, were very close, and each game was fought to a finish. The score was 4-6, 6-3, 6-4, 6-1.

The match was witnessed by some sixty tennis enthusiasts. The ladies doubles finals will be played off at Hoena this coming Thursday at 3:30 o'clock, between the Misses Meta and Wilhelmina Mengler and Mrs. Philip Rice and Miss Katherine McIntyre.

Mrs. H. C. Brown is acting as special governess for the Waterhouse children in Koloa. Her beloved profession holds her devotion through all other interests.

Ominous Situation In Russia

The Associated Press today sent the following summary of events in Europe to the Star-Bulletin:

While military interest continues to center on the great battle on the French front, where the British are steadily pressing in on the Germans and both sides are fighting desperately for every foothold, the political situation in Russia is so ominous that it demands the attention of the Allies.

Not only their attention is demanded but also their concern, owing to the possibilities wrapped up in the welter of forces in the new government.

Under the continued course of the radical elements in Petrograd who are harassing the ministers, the provisional government shows signs of breaking up.

An encouraging note today is the emphatic denial of the report that the council of soldiers and workmen and Duma delegates favored an armistice with the Central Powers.

PETROGRAD, Russia, May 14.—Minister of War Guchkoff has resigned, declaring that in view of the condition in which the powers of government have been placed, he can no longer exercise his functions properly.

A Linen Shower

Miss Ruth Stanley Douglas was the recipient of a linen shower last week at the home of Mrs. William George Pillar, of McBryde Plantation. Miss Douglas will be a mid-summer bride at home in California.

Needlework and a guessing contest were the means of entertainment. Prizes for the latter were given to Mrs. F. A. Alexander and Mrs. J. I. Silva. The guests at this pleasant party were:—

Mrs. F. A. Alexander, Mrs. Hastie, Mrs. K. Roodahl, Mrs. R. D. Moler, Mrs. G. B. Leavitt, Mrs. C. F. Loomis, Mrs. A. B. Melancon, Mrs. J. Fritsch, Mrs. H. J. Eby, Mrs. A. R. Glaisyer, Mrs. Wm. Kruse, Mrs. F. Wolf, Mrs. J. I. Silva, Mrs. A. Creevey, and the Misses Douglas, Resor, Schrepper, Litchens, Hastie, Stevenson, Pillar, Martin, Melancon, Strand, Mitchell, Wilkins, Ing, Akana, Anderson and the hostess. The refreshments were delicious, the catering being from Honolulu.

An Old Resident Passes Away

Mr. Gerhard Brandt died at the home of his son Hermann Brandt, head luna of the Koloa Plantation Co. on Sunday. The deceased had been a continuous resident of Koloa for over thirty years, where he was universally respected, and where he raised a large family of exemplary children who remain to cherish his memory. In the absence of Mr. Isenberg, Mr. Lydgate conducted the funeral service.

Recruiting Campaign

In view of the fact that the recent order to discharge all married enlisted men has seriously reduced most of the companies, Col. Wilcox has instructed all company commanders to commence an active recruiting campaign in order to get the companies as near full strength as possible before mobilization.

Don't forget to pay your taxes; this is the last day that you can do so without liability to penalty.

Public Schools Attention!

THE GARDEN ISLAND begs to make the following offer to the Public Schools of the Island:

It will offer prizes for the best compositions on the subject "Kauai at the Garden Island—Why?" according to the following conditions: Any ordinary school, not including the High School, may compete; the principal of any competing school shall decide which contestant shall be entitled to the prize in that school, and shall forward the successful composition to the Garden Island.

The prize for the best composition in any school shall be a year's subscription to the Garden Island. The best composition among these contestants shall be entitled to a gold nib fountain pen by way of prize, and the next best a glass nib fountain pen.

The compositions should be not less than 250 words in length nor more than 500, and must be the work exclusively of the contestant. Any of the compositions shall be eligible for publication in the Garden Island.

The compositions to be handed in to the principal of each competing school on or before the 15th of May 1917.

Local and Personal Notes

Miss Mumford and Mrs. Burke weekend at Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brown at Makaweli this last week.

Mr. L. D. Timmons leaves for Honolulu by the steamer today for a much needed rest and vacation. He will be absent several weeks.

The Garden Island is the appreciative and grateful recipient of a box of beautiful roses from the garden of Mrs. Glaisyer, the rose-growing connoisseur of Homestead.

Mr. Francis Gay is back on Kauai for a few days. He will shortly return to the Coast, where he will spend the Summer with his family at their Lake Tahoe home. He is looking well.

Mr. Albert Horner came to Kauai for a couple of days last week. He reports a very brisk demand for all pineapple products, at very generous prices; in fact the coming crop is already entirely sold out, and many orders cannot be filled.

We have another apology to make;—the Hanapepe post office flies a flag, and has from the start; it is one more good example to those dilatory offices that do not. All ye patriots of Hanapepe and thereabouts, steer your trade towards Jose Gomes of the Hanapepe Store.

Lieut. Gustav Gonsler, Inspector-Instructor of the Regiment N. G. H., was called to Honolulu last week for the purpose of taking an examination for the grade of captain. He returned last Wednesday with the good news that he had successfully passed the same.

Some days ago an unusual accident happened at Port Allen. A car containing the outgoing mail and express got away on the grade and ran down onto the dock and over the end of the wharf into the sea. In due time every thing was fished out, but in a much damaged condition.

A beautiful tree, and one that is as rare as it is beautiful, is the Tulip tree in the grounds of Mrs. R. L. Wilcox. It has grown so tall that it dominates the landscape, and its brilliant crown of glory may be seen far and wide. It is also called the Fountain tree because the buds contain considerable water.

Mr. Albert Horner Sr. is confident that the National Guard, if mobilized, will not be taken off the Island. He thinks that we need all our men here at home to raise food products and conduct the necessary affairs of life, and that it would be folly to render the situation more acute, by the removal of that much needed labor.

McBryde rejoices in the phenomenal yield of 91 and a half tons of cane to the acre on a field of large extent. This will be equivalent to about nine tons of manufactured sugar to the acre, which is a rattling good yield for any place. It was "1135," one of the comparatively new varieties, steadily growing in favor, and greedily extending in area.

C. B. Gage, whom many will remember as formerly connected with the Greig Company of Honolulu, has returned to the Islands as the Territorial manager of the Magor Car Corporation, whose specialty is plantation railway cars. Mr. Gage will soon be shaking hands with friends on Kauai.

THE COST OF WAR --HOW TO MEET IT

It is proposed that the cost of the war, for the first year, will be met, in part by a bond issue of two billion dollars, and in part by increased taxation, that is estimated to yield a like amount.

This latter burden is the one which most nearly affects us, it will fall substantially in the following way:

The Income Tax exemption may be lowered to $1500, for unmarried, and $2,000 for married. Large incomes will be subjected to a very drastic increase for the super tax. The standard for the normal income proposed is 8%. All incomes above this will be taxed heavily, with a rapidly increasing burden.

New duties will be imposed on various classes of imports. Excise taxes will be imposed on liquor, tobacco, mineral waters, and other commodities, including perhaps sugar, though this now seems unlikely.

Assessments may be made on motor vehicles, and musical instruments; taxes levied on passenger and freight fares; stamp taxes collected on tickets to places of amusement; and undoubtedly there will be a substantial increase in the rates of postage.

A Child Investment In France

A novel appeal has reached this community in the interest of the fatherless children of France. There are reported to be 150,000 such children, orphaned by the war, who are being kept alive by the Government at a cost of ten cents a day.

It is proposed that kindly people may feel moved to partially adopt some of these children, by contributing to their support in their own homes. The plan is to have them remain under the care of their mothers, amid the surroundings and conditions which they love, but that these mothers be helped in caring for them. To this end it is suggested that generous people adopt these children for a term of two years, at a cost of $36.50 per year. A choice of children will be given as far as possible, and every effort given to come into close contact with the children by corresponding and otherwise. Now we will have to get out our phrase books and grammars and brush up our French.

The Excess Profits Tax Law

Among the new measures being instituted to provide for the cost of the war on which we are embarked, the Excess Profits Tax will cut a large figure for Hawaii.

In a nut-shell it is as follows: A tax of eight per cent will be levied upon the amount of actual net income in excess of eight per cent of the actual capital invested. In addition to this eight per cent exemption, there is also a special exemption of $5,000.

To illustrate the working of this law, which went into effect in March of this year Territorial trustees apply it to the profits of Ewa for 1916 as follows:

Net income	$ 5,000,000
Amount exempt.
Capital	5,000,000
Surplus	1,223,271
Reserves	674,657
	6,897,928
8% exemption on above	551,834
Specific exemption	5,000
Total exemption	556,834
Bal. subject to 8% tax	1,197,935.50
Amount of tax	95,834.84

Girls Are No Good

A Lihue lady of kindly instincts, having in mind the adoption of a little dark eyed daughter from among the 150,000 French orphans, betrayed her fancy to her family of boys. "Aw, Mama, make it a kid! Girls are no good, they can't play ball!"

GUARDSMEN DISCHARGED

The "dependent family" order recently issued by the War Department has hit some of the Companies of the 4th Regiment rather hard. Company "F" of Kalaia is the greatest sufferer and Company "G" of Kilauea is next with twenty-six.

Following is list of men lost by each company.

Our apologies are due the Koloa post-office for not awarding to them the first place in the matter of raising the flag. It seems that it was due to their good example that the Homestead office did the same. We trust that the rest will follow.

Hanalei In History

Historical Society Paper read April 27, 1917.
By Elsie Wilcox.

There she would remain for hours it is said, lost in contemplation of the glorious scene, spread out before her, with thoughts wandering often no doubt to distant days, and scanning mayhap the horizon again and again with eager eyes for the white sail she knew could never come. The spot was named "Crow's Nest", probably by Wyllie, who is said to have given it to Lady Franklin, when he found how attached to it she had become. For many years a wooden sign about three feet long marked the place. Upon Lady Franklin's death about 1873, her residuary legatee wrote to Bishop Willis of the Anglican Church in Honolulu that she would donate "Crow's Nest" to the church as the site for a chapel. The Bishop replied, stating that it was useless as a church site, as people would never climb that hill for worship, but asked permission to exchange it. Consent was given, but on pursuing the matter further, it was found that Lady Franklin had no title, no conveyance have been recorded. The site has been reabsorbed into the plantation. The name "Crow's Nest" was later applied to the Transit of Venus Station at Pooku, as being an easier name for "malihini's" to master. The real "Crow's Nest" is, however, some distance makai of Rooke, and should not be confused with it.

Other visitors to Mr. Wyllie were Mr. and Mrs. Sterling and Mr. W. T. Brigham, who were there in the summer of 1865. By that time, 1865, Mr. John Low had become manager of the plantation. Mr. Wundenberg had overseen the change from coffee to sugar and the construction of the mill, which ran by steam, and the machinery for which was brought out from Glasgow and set up by Mr. John Webster, who came out from Scotland for that purpose. This mill stood where the old chimney still stands, a relic of those days of hopeful enterprise. The first crop of sugar had been taken off in 1863. Mr. Wundenberg moved in the following year, 1864, to Honolulu. Mr. McGregor, the sugar-boiler, assumed the management for a few months and was followed by Mr. H. Wiedemann, who came in November, 1864, just after leaving Lihue, and who stayed until Mr. Low's arrival in the Spring of 1865. It was during Mr. Low's time that, owing to some trouble with Chinese coolies, rows of layonets were installed in the hall-way of the Kikiula house. These presented a very warlike appearance, indeed, but were never used, although Mr. Conradt also had trouble with his Chinese labor. They were finally removed in Mr. Willis' time. Several small cane-growers were in the valley at that time. Mr. Friderberg, a Portuguese named Antonio Brooks, and a man named Hanson, from whose early efforts Waipaa Plantation developed, and possibly others. There was a cooper named Neumann and another named Bruns, for in those days sugar was shipped in casks or barrels, and a cooper was a necessary hand on a plantation. Bruns was interested in making furniture and some of the best articles handed down from that time are his work. There was also a carpenter named John Cook, who had a house on the hill.

Mr. Wyllie died on Oct. 19, 1865, and his estate was found to be in a somewhat involved condition. Shortly before his death, a nephew, Robert Crichton Cochrane, had come out to join him. Wyllie intended making him his heir, and had sent him to Princeville to learn the business under Mr. Low. Becoming depressed, supposedly of the serious financial difficulties of the estate, this young man one day cut his throat. He lived for several days thereafter. Dr. Smith, the nearest physician, was summoned from Koloa, and made a record-breaking ride with relays of horses, covering the forty-five miles in three hours. Doctors were also sent down from Honolulu, but their skill was of no avail. The young fellow died. He was buried in the Waioli cemetery, and his unmarked grave, surrounded by an iron fence, is still to be seen there.

Princess Ruth visited Hanalei during Mr. Low's time. This was in 1867, and she came on the American man-o-war, "Lackawanna" which was commanded by Captain Reynolds, who, before his return, to the navy at the time of the Civil War, had lived at Malunahu. Mrs. Reynolds was also on board. The Lows entertained the party with an elaborate picnic up at the "Kahi."

On October 2, 1867, S. N. Castle et al, executor of Wyllie's estate, sold Princeville to Judge Elisha H. Allen, of the Supreme Court of Honolulu. Mr. Low continued as a manager until 1869, when he was followed by Mr. Frank Bindt. Mr. Bindt had been in the employ of Hofschlaeger & Co. in Honolulu, and had been sent by the firm to Waipaa Plantation, where he had served as sugar-boiler and manager. He married Louisa Johnson, the daughter of Rev. Mr. Johnson, in 1886. Mr. Bindt was in Princeville until about 1871. He was succeeded by Mr. William Kinney, [father of W. A. Kinney, the lawyer] who had been book-keeper on the place, but who acted as manager for a very short time only, for on July 9, 1872, Judge Allen sold one-eighth of his interest in Princeville to Captain John Ross, who took over the management. Captain Ross was a retired American naval officer.

On October 4, 1872, Judge Allen sold a one-quarter interest in the plantation to John S. Walker and Samuel C. Allen, doing business as Walker & Allen. Walker & Allen's share was mortgaged to Andrew Welsh, and upon the failure of the firm of Walker & Allen in June, 1874, this one-fourth interest was sold to E. P. Adams by assignment, who in turn sold it on May 1, 1875, to Andrew Welsh. The plantation was incorporated on October 6, 1875. E. H. Allen holding five-eighths, Andrew Welsh one-fourth, and John Ross one-eighth. In 1872 the average crop was 400 tons, capacity of the mill, 1000 tons.

Captain Ross left Princeville in 1876, and in partnership with E. P. Adams, bought out Mr. Titcomb's interests in Kilauea in 1877, and planted cane there. Mr. Conradt, who had come out from Hanover in 1864 to Hofschlaeger & Co. to superintend their cotton enterprise at Kealia, and who had also been in Koloa, became the manager of Princeville following Mr. Ross. Mr. Carl Koelling was associated with him, Conradt attending to the agricultural part of the work and Koelling having charge of the mill. Each took up a one-sixteenth interest in the plantation, the amount to be paid off gradually. Mr. Conradt lived, however, for only one year, and Mr. Koelling took over the entire management. Brewer & Co. were now the agents and on July 1st, 1889, Mr. Koelling leased the place from them for 11 years at $3000.00 per year, organized a stock company, the Hanalei Sugar Mill Co., and put in the Diffusion system. The company was as follows: Colonel Spalding one-eighth, S. G. Allen one-eighth, Carl Tuck one-eighth, C. Koelling five-eighths. Diffusion proved a costly experiment, and combined with this was the fact that the cane had never done well in that cool, wet climate. Much of it rotted in the lower fields, the upper fields were, it is said, not plowed deeply enough, and at times there was not water enough to flume the cane down to the mill. These many difficulties caused the failure of the company, Mr. Koelling left in 1882, Brewer & Co. sold the ratoon crop to a Chinaman, Wong Gun, who took off the last crop, 497 tons, in 1893. Mr. Riedel, who had been the engineer for many years, stayed until the end, as did also Mr. Rodway, the book-keeper, who remained in charge for some little time thereafter.

By 1895 Mr. A. S. Wilcox had secured control of all except the Allen interests, which latter he secured finally by May, 1899. Mr. C. H. Willis became manager in 1896. The lower lands were rented out to Chinese rice-planters, and the upper lands, between Hanalei and Kalihiwai were planted to imported grasses and turned into a cattle-ranch. Mr. Willis died in 1905, and was succeeded by Mr. W. F. Sanborn. In June, 1916, Mr. Wilcox sold the Princeville lands to the Lihue Plantation Co., and W. F. Sanborn (one-fourth), reserving for himself his own beach residence, which had been built in 1896, the old Mission House, and some kuleanas along the beach.

Food Or Drink?

We must conserve our food supply. The Great War is being fought on both sides on short rations, and the pinch of privation will sooner or later be at our own vitals. The world's food crops were lamentably short at the last harvest and they promise to be no better this year.

Our first great duty of cooperation in the war is to feed our allies; for it would be fatuous to refuse to admit that the German submarine campaign is forcing the British and French peoples to tighten their belts. What must we do to meet this obligation without imposing too great suffering or unnecessary sacrifice on our own people?

We must raise every pound of food we can.

We must eliminate every ounce of waste and extravagance we can.

We must save food by abolishing drink.

Drink is made from food. Beer is made from barely and sugar; whiskey from rye or corn. What we drink we cannot have to eat.

England cut her production of beer in half and saved five hundred and seventy million pounds of barley, seventy-two million pounds of sugar, and thirty-three million pounds of other grain products a year.

If the United States were to cut its consumption of drink only in half, enough breadstuffs would be saved to provide eleven million loaves of bread a day.

In this great national crisis, shall men drink or women and children eat?

Why Worry?

The common soldier, whatever his nationality, is generally a cheerful philosopher. Especially if he is a Frenchman. Here is the newest statement of the philosophy of the French poilu:

Of two things one is certain: Either you're mobilized or you're not mobilized.

If you're not mobilized there's no need to worry; if you're on the front, of two things one is certain: Either you're behind the lines or you're on the front.

If you're behind the lines there is no need to worry; if you're on the front, of two things one is certain: Either you're resting in a safe place or you're exposed to danger.

If you're resting in a safe place there is no need to worry; if you're exposed to danger, of two things one is certain: Either you're wounded or you're not wounded.

If you're not wounded there is no need to worry; if you are wounded, of two things one is certain: Either you're wounded seriously or you're wounded slightly.

If you're wounded slightly there is no need to worry; if you're wounded seriously, of two things one is certain: Either you'll recover or you'll die.

If you recover there is no need to worry; if you die you can't worry.

No bad philosophy, in the trenches or out.

Valuable Information

The United States Government has for years employed the most skillful food experts and spent hundreds of thousands of dollars to meet exactly such a condition of high prices as now confronts the American housewife. Here is where Uncle Sam builded better than he knew. But what he found out has reached only a small part of the public. Now, however, this valuable information will reach millions. All the departments at Washington have now cooperated to give THE LADIES HOME JOURNAL all the information they have secured, and the magazine will give the most timely parts of it to the public in easily readable and popular form.

Dick Whittington, well known here as the former head luma of Koloa, is now in charge of the Honouapo Landing in Kau, Hawaii. Mrs. Whittington is a Kau girl where she has valuable estates; she was never quite at home on Kauai, and is glad to get back in Kau.

Coach I. Ray Martin, for the past three years director of athletics at Heidelberg University, Tiffin, Ohio, has just been appointed Athletic director of the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., at Akron, Ohio. Athletics occupy a very prominent place at the Goodyear plant and embrace every branch of sport. A magnificent athletic field of 40 acres is at the disposal of the different teams. Coach Martin's efforts at Heidelberg were crowned last season by the best athletic record ever made at that university, and he is therefore expected to continue the present high athletic standing of the Goodyear company.

Billy Sunday As a Recruiting Agent

Billy Sunday is conducting a big campaign in New York, after his usual manner and with his usual success. But this time he is apparently bent not only on filling up the churches, but also on filling up the ranks. He says, "when we sing 'My Country tis of Thee', it is because somebody at Lexington and Concord and Bunker Hill made a sacrifice for us! I want you to understand that Christianity means sufferings as well as delight. Don't forget that a minute. "I hate a poor church member, but he is better than a non-church member, just as a man who breaks every military regulation and then goes into the trenches to face shot and shell, is better than the miserable mutt who wont enlist—and who tells others not to enlist. In these days a man must be a patriot or a traitor."

As one emerges from the tabernacle where he speaks to the great crowds two sights stand insistently in the way. One is an eruiting station for the army and the other is a recruiting station for the navy.

SOME NORWEGIAN RECIPES

Made from Round Steak.

In these days of high cost of living, any suggestions as to how to cut this cost without unduly lowering the standard of living should be welcomed by all house-wives. Mrs. C. B. Hofgaard, of Waimea, has very kindly supplied the Garden Island with a number of valuable Norwegian recipes, two of which appear below:

BEATEN MEAT

Cut even pieces of meat, about 2 1/2 inches square and 1/2 inch thick, pound each piece well.

In a soup plate mix 4 tablespoons flour 1 teaspoon pepper 2 " salt 1 " ginger 1/4 " cloves

Dip your pounded pieces of meat in this.

Fry one big sliced onion in crisco, put it into a black iron pot. Then fry your pounded pieces of meat brown in your irying pan, add them when done to your onion, add one bay-leaf, and hot water enough for gravy, cook slowly till tender, on the back of your stove, add more water if necessary. If the gravy does not look thick enough when meat is cooked, mix a little flour and water, strain this, and thicken the gravy, add salt, (the meat has first been taken out and put in a closed dish, before gravy is thickened.)

Serve the beaten meat hot with the gravy poured over it and garnish the dish with boiled carrots, cut in long narrow strips.

Round Steak a la Veal

Take a piece of Round Steak, at least 2 inches thick, brown it well in crisco on all sides, put it in a black iron pot. Brown a good sized onion, add this to your meat, also salt and a few whole corns of pepper, add 2 cups hot water, let it come to a quick boil, then set it on the side of stove, and let it just simmer, if you have an oil stove it is good to use it for this dish, as it needs a slow fire. When the meat is tender, take your meat out, thicken gravy with flour mixed with sour cream, salt to taste, and add 1 teaspoon Richer bouquet. Serve the meat, with gravy poured on top.

A Suggestion To The Historical Society

In addition to the very commendable work which the Kanae Historical Society is doing, in the preservation of historical data, facts and memories, we would suggest that measures be taken to preserve the identity of historic places. In the papers that was read at a late meeting there were frequent references to Kikiula, Emmasville, the Kellet place, etc., and very few of those present knew where those places were; the next generation will not know at all.

The Catholic Mission at Moloaa, the Brown place at Wailua, the sites of the old Mission houses at Koloa, the location of the first churches, the first sugar mills, the principal heiaus, the places famous in Hawaiian legend and story; these as far as possible should be located and put on the map, while the information is available, so that a future age, which may be more interested in these things than we are, may be able to say; these things happened here and here.

"Slackers Failing In Their Duty"

Under this head there is more or less caustic complaint of the indifference that is being displayed in these Islands in the matter of taking up our share of the "Liberty Loan."

It seems that our share of this Loan, based on a population of 228,000, is $19,179,360, or a per capita charge of $84.47. Now this is a very large per capita amount, since it means $84.47 for every man, woman, and child in the Territory, the overwhelming majority of whom are not in any position to take up loans of any kind.

But of this 228,000 only some 26,000 are whites, including 11,000 soldiers. Naturally and necessarily this must be mainly a white man's burden. On the basis of this more restricted population the per capita amount will be $737; and when all the children, and most women, and many men, are eliminated, it must mean a fairly staggering per capita charge.

Three and a half per cent seems to us an exceedingly low rate of interest on an investment; we have long been used to better things, so that it seems much lower to us than to investors elsewhere, so low indeed that it doesn't look like an investment at all, but like charity. And doubtless that is the point of view to which we will have to come, and the sooner we reconcile ourselves to it the better.

Give us a little time to adjust our minds to these unfamiliar things and we will do our duty. Hawaii has never yet failed in the hour of need especially in the matter of money and she will not fail now.

Patriotism And Its Expression

At the last meeting of the Chamber of Commerce a resolution was passed, unanimously and with spirit, calling upon all good people, especially all citizens, to fly the national ensign. Apparently this response was, to a large degree, the ready indifference of the man in the parable, "I go sir, but went not." A good many, to be sure, meant what they voted, and they are flying the flag, but many others are keeping mum in regard to their patriotism.

Now some one objects, "You can be patriotic without flying a flag." Quite right, you can, but it is the simple, and natural, and conventional expression of patriotism, for which there is every good reason, and against which there is none. You can be courteous without lifting your hat to a lady, perhaps, but you don't get the reputation for it, and your lady friends vote you "an old bear." This is the conventional expression of courtesy which custom demands, and which may not be neglected without some good reason, and without becoming the natural object of invidious criticism. You can be affectionate without being responsive, perhaps; you can bank the fires of love in your heart, and look as grim as a November morning, but what's the matter with a smile, as a pleasant indication of what is going on down in the depths of your being. Of course if you feel mean and nasty, don't belie yourself; but if you feel happy and kindly why not show it?

You can be patriotic without flying the flag, certainly, but the flag is the emblem of patriotism, and the display of the flag is the customary expression of patriotism; of course if you don't feel patriotic don't belie your indifference, but if you do, show your colors that we may know where you stand.

Snow-White And The Seven Dwarfs

Synopsis

SCENE 1—IN THE WOODS

Snow-White meets the forest children who gather to celebrate her birthday. Queen-mother enters and is displeased at the admiration given Snow-White. She dismisses the party. Alone, she consults her magic mirror as to who is the most beautiful woman. The magic mirror gives that right to Snow-White. The Queen-mother in her rage and jealousy, plans to dispose of Snow-White.

SCENE 2—IN THE FOREST

Enter Carl the huntsman with Snow-White, the intended victim; but through sympathy he spares her life. She wanders in the forest. He returns to the palace. He carries with him the heart and eyes of a deer as evidence that he has carried out his commission. Snow-White meets the forest children but soon they leave her with a promise that they will guard her from all harm and danger. Enters the Prince who is lost, and through jealousy his uncle has made no effort to find him. Re-enters Carl with food for Snow-White. He meets the Prince and tells him the story of the persecuted Snow-White.

SCENE 3—DWARF'S HOME WHERE SNOW-WHITE FOUND SHELTER

Enter the dwarfs who listen to her story. Before departing they warn her against admitting strangers. Enters Queen-mother disguised as a peddler who presents her with a magic girdle. The dwarfs return and rescue her. Re-enters Queen-mother disguised as a vegetable vendor, who offers Snow-White a poisoned apple. The efforts of both the forest children and dwarfs prove unavailing to restore her. The Prince enters. He lifts Snow-White and the poisoned apple falls to the floor.

SCENE 4—THE GROUND NEAR THE YOUNG KING'S PALACE

The wedding of Snow-White and the Prince.

A Crystal Slipper and the Prince of Egypt

Once upon a time—nearly four thousand years before the birth of Christ—when the fair land of Egypt was rich in jewels and power, lived Menkaurah, Prince of the reigning house of the Pharaohs. He was a wonderfully handsome young man and as good as he was brave. He lived, of course, in the beautiful white marble palace of his father, the King. One day the Prince was reclining on a divan by the side of a large fountain in the courtyard of the palace amusing himself by feeding the swans that swam about on the surface of the crystal water. Presently, he tired of this, for the day was warm indeed and not even the fens of the hurling downward through the clear air. Whirling and spinning—and glistening as it fell—it shot straight downward until it landed upon the broad leaf of a palm tree within the royal courtyard. Then, the force of its fall broken, it slipped to another leaf, then down to another and so on until it lay, unbroken, at the feet of Prince Menkaurah.

Amazed, the young nobleman stooped and picked it up. It was a wonderfully wrought slipper of crystal, so tiny and delicately fashioned that it seemed it must have been made for a child. But, despite its size, it was clearly a woman's shoe. And the Prince to make exact measurements of the slipper and then commanded his four favorite officers to each take an escort of soldiery and set out on the morrow, in different directions, to find a damsel whose foot measurements tallied with those of the crystal slipper. They were to report to him by courier, straightway they found the maid.

One of the officers led his men into Ethiopia, which lay to the south, and searched diligently—but to no avail. Not a damsel they approached had a foot so small as that which would fit the slipper.

Another struck out eastward to the Abyssinian desert and crossed it clear to the sea. But they, too, found their search a futile one.

The third set his face to the north and traversed the fertile plains until he came to the Mediterranean Ocean. But he, likewise, found no maid who would suit, though his soldiers measured the feet of many.

But the fourth officer marched with his men across the great Sahara desert—over desolate leagues and leagues of burning sand. After awhile, almost dead from thirst, they came upon what is called an oasis. This, you will recall, is a green spot, with towering palm trees and springs of pure water, to be found here and there in the waste of sand.

With a shout they rushed to it; and there they found a well of cool, sweet water at which they quenched their thirst. And not far from the well they came upon a company of fair maidens, laughing and dancing in the cool shade of the palm trees. One of the maids—who seemed to be particularly honored and petted by the rest—was exceedingly fair and beautiful.

The young officer, mindful of his master's command, stepped up to her and knelt to measure her foot. But she, with a laugh, boxed him soundly upon his ears. Then he explained and, while the other girls crowded around, giggling and laughing, he took the measure of their leader's foot. Behold—it tallied! She, indeed, could wear the crystal slipper!

Straightway the young officer invited the maid and her kinsmen and all the girls to come with him to the palace of Prince Menkaurah. And, you may be sure, there was great rejoicing when the Prince received word by courier that the party was approaching—with the damsel who should wear the crystal slipper and become his queen!

With great pomp and ceremony they were married in the palace. And later, when the old king died, Prince Menkaurah and his queen ascended the throne and ruled wisely and happily for many, many years. When she died, she was buried in a great pyramid which, mind you, exists even to this day. Oho! Very much like the old!

Amazed, He Stooped and Picked It Up slaves in attendance upon him could keep him cool.

Quite casually he glanced up and there, high in the heavens, circling above him, he beheld a huge eagle. The prince sat up on his coach; not because it was strange to see an eagle, but because in the beak of the one soaring above him was something glistening and sparkling that looked as though it might be a great jewel.

Suddenly the eagle swerved sharply—and the shining thing fell from out its beak and came fell to meditating upon this and the strange way in which he had secured possession of it.

One thought led to another, and presently Prince Menkaurah felt something within him tell him to find a woman who could wear that slipper and make her his wife—his queen when the good King, his father, should die and he himself become ruler of Egypt.

To think, with the Prince, was to act. Hastily he summoned his servants and his soldiers. He ordered the old priest of the Court

DELCO-LIGHT MAKES ELECTRICITY UNIVERSAL

For the first time electric light and power are available to anyone—anywhere. Heretofore, the benefits of electricity have been confined to those who live in the larger towns and cities. Now Delco-Light makes electric current universally available.

Delco-Light is today furnishing thousands of farm-houses with brilliant, convenient, safe and economical light. It is furnishing power to operate pumps, washing machines, churns, cream separators, milking machines, vacuum cleaners, etc. It is lighting country churches, stores and public halls. It is furnishing light and power to summer homes and camps, to houseboats and yachts, etc.

It is lighting rural railway stations and construction camps.

It is lighting the camps of United States troops on the Mexican border and is disclosing heretofore undreamed-of beauties in the depths of Mammoth Cave, Kentucky.

Altogether, over 15,000 Delco-Light plants are in operation, and Delco-Light offices are to be found in almost every part of the world.

Delco-Light is a complete electric plant—the engine and dynamo in one compact unit combined with a set of specially built and wonderfully efficient batteries for the storing of current. The plant is so simple a child can care for it, and so economical that it actually pays for itself in time and labor saved. It operates on either kerosene, gasoline or natural gas.

old story of Cinderella, isn't it. Indeed yes! But more than that, it is the self-same story. Only, that was the version of it popular in Egypt many centuries ago; as a matter of fact, the story of Cinderella as we know it is really but a variation of this old, old story.

How do we know that? Why, a celebrated archeologist, Dr. Henry White Callahan, some time ago found the tale chiseled on stone. It is one of the stories of the three great pyramid of Gizeh. He was able to translate it, because of a certain famous key-stone that archeologists have found.

So, you see, little Egyptian children knew the story of Cinderella ages and ages ago.

Loyal American of German Birth Points Out Duty of Naturalized

The author of the following interesting and temperate article, visited the Islands a year or so ago, in the interest of certain actuary investigations, gathering statistics of the manner of life etc. of different people. He spent a few days in Lihue as the guest of Rev. and Mrs. Hans Isenberg and was taken about somewhat by Mr. Wm. Hyde Rice. He was a man of exceptional intelligence and culture; and those who were fortunate enough to meet him will read the following article with special interest:

New York—Born in Germany, I have for more than thirty years been a resident of this country and for twenty-five years a citizen thereof. The oath of allegiance requires "the support of the Constitution of the United States and the renunciation and abjuration of all allegiance and fidelity to every foreign prince, potentate, State or sovereignty whatsoever."

This oath is binding upon millions of Americans of German birth, who are today confronted by a crisis which demands actions and not words. They are called upon to square their conduct with their oath of allegiance and to prove themselves worthy of the priceless privilege of American citizenship in behalf of the cause of national defense against a foreign foe.

It is the tragedy of history that by wanton acts of deliberate aggression against the lives and property of American citizens and the crowning infamy of conspiracy against our territorial integrity the German government should have forfeited our confidence and good will. It is therefore obviously the patriotic duty of every American of German birth to render the fullest measure of conditional loyalty to the national cause and whatever active assistance may be essential to the attainment of a final victory which shall guarantee to the world a lasting peace.

The duty of the hour is unequivocal, and it is for each and every one of the foreign birth to prove that oaths of allegiance are not meaningless and that their application to American citizenship can be effectively visualized into actions of enduring worth. The loyalty of Americans of German birth includes the duty, however trying, of active resistance against any and every foe of the American republic, including the government of their native country, specifically and unconditionally renounced in the solemn obligation to protect and preserve the government of the United States. By its own deliberate and wrongful policy of indifference to international law and treaty obligations the German government has forfeited the good faith and confidence of the Western world. By insidious methods and means it has attempted to sow the seeds of disloyalty and discontent among our foreign born element while still maintaining diplomatic and friendly relations with the government and the people of the United States.

There could not possibly be a more humiliating admission than this involving the national integrity of a truly great people; but the facts are beyond controversy, and it is the truth alone that can make us free. It is for Americans of German birth and ancestry to do even more than their required share in behalf of the national cause, so that the world's vanishing faith in German honor may be redeemed by those who had themselves to be accountable only to the Supreme Being and the government and the people of their adopted country.

The world is not at war with the German people, but with the German government and its ruthless and ill considered military policy, without a parallel in modern history. Already at war with the leading powers of the European continent, the German government has also broken faith with the one nation whose good will more than that of any other she will be most in need of when the seemingly hopeless task of reconstruction will have to be attempted for the good of the generations yet to be.

Never was it more true than of the German government in this most trying hour of its history that verily those whom the gods would destroy they first make mad. For only the conception of national madness can explain a course of wrongful conduct, symbolizing a sinful theory of self-righteousness and self-sufficiency obviously incompatible with time honored convictions and universally accepted rules of action and principles of law in international relations. Never was it more true of any government or people than that there are none so blind as those who will not see. Never before has the world beheld a people truly great in all the essentials of a highly developed Christian and social life lowered to the status of national degradation by its own ill considered adherence to a governmental policy of specious defence of obvious wrong. From the treaty violation of the land of the Belgians and the criminal destruction of the Lusitania to the treacherous conspiracy against the political integrity of a friendly power and the wanton destruction of its neutral shipping Germany has contemptuously disregarded the united judgment of the civilized world and made a needless sacrifice of her national honor and the present and future interests of the German people.

Many millions of Germans have come to these friendly shores, practically from the very settlement of the country, firm in the intention and belief that in some small measure they might by their loyalty, intelligence and industry give furtherance to the high aims and ideals of the American republic. That faith lies rooted deep in the hearts of those who are well aware of the constructive and elevating influence of German traits in American life; influences far-reaching on the progress of literature, the fine arts, the music, the education, the religion, the philanthropy and the social and moral conduct of the American people. The German element by common consent has rendered substantial services in the national struggle for independence in the second war against England and in the war for the preservation of the Union, and it will not be found wanting in the present crisis, which concerns the future destiny of mankind for all time to come.

In a large measure the Germans of this country have shared in the most arduous labor of converting a continental wilderness into an earthly paradise, and they and their descendants may be relied upon to protect and conserve for the benefit of future generations what, in part at least, has been created by their toil. They have ever been conservative in their political influence, and their traits of home life, industry, thrift and obedience to law and order are proverbial and a guarantee that as a people they will not be found wanting, however, shamelessly the interests of a higher civilization have been betrayed by the government of their native land.

By the actions of the German military government in power, indescribable sorrow and disaster has been brought upon the world, which has made patience on our part cease to be a virtue and which demands drastic and far reaching action in behalf of the ultimate attainment of the cause of universal peace. It is with a sense of deep humiliation that every American of German ancestry or birth must share in the universal condemnation of the wrongful actions of the responsible powers which have misguided the destiny of the German Empire and lowered it from a position of preeminence in public morality and the arts of life to one of incredible indifference to the recognized rules of rational and honorable conduct in international relations without which the world cannot exist and remain at peace.

However deeply attached to the country of their origin, which gave birth to Martin Luther and the Reformation, the land of Immanuel Kant, who was the first to propose a plan for an everlasting peace; of Lessing, Wieland, Lavater, Von Herder, Goethe Schiller, Fichte, Richter, Von Schlegel, Hegel, Chamisso and Heine, whose every word breathes the spirit of a true civilization, it is for all Americans of German ancestry or birth to realize the duty which confronts them and solemnly and unreservedly to consecrate their aims, their efforts and their possessions in the furtherance of the national cause.

He needs must fight
To make true peace his own;
He needs must combat might with might

Or might would rule alone.
—ALFRED TENNYSON.

In all the world there is no flag more inspiring than the Stars and Stripes; the fairest symbol of unstained honor after more than a century of national life and international relations. Life and service under that Flag is a priceless privilege and a guarantee of good faith in peace and war. Loyalty to that Flag is the supreme duty not only to the American republic but to the cause of government by the consent of the governed and liberty and democracy throughout the world. Under this Flag Americans of German ancestry and birth, with the countless millions of other origins, have found a new freedom, which to conserve and maintain is enough to have lived for and if needed be to have suffered and to have died for. Above and beyond the glory of empire and the achievements of military power lies the higher duty to the cause of truth and "the righteousness that exalteth a nation."

CRISCO

For Frying—For Shortening
For Cake Making

Frying

There is no smoke nor odor. Fried foods are free from the taste of grease. They now are tasty and crisp. They are made more digestible, for Crisco is all vegetable. The same Crisco can be used to fry fish, onions, doughnuts, etc., merely by straining out the food particles after each frying.

Shortening

Crisco gives pastry a new flakiness and digestibility. Crisco always is of the same freshness and consistency. It's uniform quality makes for uniform results.

Cake Making

Crisco gives richness at smaller cost. It brings cake-making back to popularity. Butter bills are reduced and cakes stay fresh and moist longer.

BY AUTHORITY

Public Lands For Homesteads

Opening of Public Lands for Homesteads on the Island of Kauai.

Notice is hereby given that the public land hereinafter described will be opened for homesteading as follows, in accordance with law and subject to withdrawal before their selection:

1. LOCATION OF LAND. The land to be opened is on the Island of Kauai, and is known as the Kapaa Homesteads, Fourth Series, in the District of Kawaihau.

2. CHARACTER OF LAND. The land in this tract is first-class agricultural land and has been under Sugar Cane Cultivation.

3. TERMS AND METHODS OF DISPOSITION. The persons entitled to take up said land will be determined by drawing or allotment.

Each person may take one or two adjoining lots. These lots may be taken only by Special Homestead Agreement, the principal terms of the same being as follows:

(a) PAYMENT. 5 per cent down, 5 per cent in one year, 10 per cent each year thereafter until the full purchase price is paid, with interest at 6 per cent per annum, but with the privilege of paying any or all installments at any time and thereby stop the corresponding interest.

(b) RESIDENCE. Five years during the first ten years in periods of not less than six months at a time; or, three years continuously; residence to begin within two years.

(c) CULTIVATION. 20, 30, 40, 50 and 60 per cent of the land, and 5, 10, 15, 20 and 25 trees per acre on the remaining 40 per cent of the land, from the end of the first, second, third, fourth and fifth years, respectively, until the homesteader becomes entitled to a patent; or, 40 per cent of the land and 25 trees per acre on the remainder for three years continuously, other conditions having been fulfilled up to time of beginning of said three years.

(d) TRANSFERS. Restrictions on selling, leasing, etc., as prescribed by law.

(e) PATENT. In from three to ten years according to the time within which the provisions as to payment, residence and cultivation are fulfilled.

Possession will be given at once or when growing crops, if any, have been harvested. Exceptions and reservations will be made for existing flumes, ditches, reservoirs, streams, wire and pipe lines, roads, trails and railroads. No lots will be sold as wet lands with appurtenant water rights, all waters are reserved for the public or common use and benefit.

4. APPLICATION FOR PARTICIPATION IN THE DRAWING. All persons qualified to take homesteads may, on or before Monday, July 2nd, 1917, but not thereafter, present to the commissioner of Public Lands, Honolulu, by ordinary mail, but not in person or by registered mail, or otherwise, sealed envelopes containing their applications for participation in the drawing herein provided for; but no envelope shall contain more than one application or any other paper than the application and no person shall present more than one application for this drawing.

All such applications must be made on blank forms furnished by the Commissioner of Public Lands or his agent, and must show the full name, mail address, age, height, weight and sex of the applicant, and whether he or she is single or married, and be sworn to by him or her before a sub-agent of public lands, notary public, judge or other officer authorized to administer oaths, and must be mailed in envelopes furnished by the Commissioner or any such agent,

All such envelopes shall have printed upon them the Commissioner's address and the words "Application, Drawing for District of _____," the blank in which quotation must be filled in with the district in which the land desired is situated; and no such envelope shall indicate the person by whom it was presented or mailed or bear any mark of identification. All envelopes must be securely sealed and should have the requisite stamps attached thereto before they are placed in the mail.

Any person who presents more than one application for this land drawing, or any application in any other than his true name, shall not be permitted to participate in such drawing.

All envelopes which indicate by whom they were presented or mailed will be opened as soon as received, and the applications therein will forthwith be returned to the applicant.

5. DRAWING AND ASSIGNMENT OF ORDER OF SELECTION. Upon receiving any such envelope properly addressed and properly indorsed as above required, the Commissioner will deposit it in a suitable container, into which will be deposited only and all such envelopes as are properly indorsed for the drawing, and such container will be so constructed and so kept as to prevent envelopes deposited therein from being removed therefrom without detection until they are publicly opened on the day when the drawing and assignment are made.

At 9 o'clock a. m., at the Capitol Building, Honolulu, on Tuesday, July 3rd, 1917, or as soon thereafter as may be, the container for such land drawing will be publicly opened and all the envelopes therein will be thoroughly mixed, and will then be taken, one at a time, impartially and indiscriminately, from such container, and the applications contained in such envelopes when correct in form and execution, will be numbered serially in the order in which they are taken, beginning with number one, and the numbers thus assigned shall determine the order in which the persons named therein may select and take lots.

A list of the applicants to whom numbers are assigned showing the number assigned to each of them, will be conspicuously posted, and furnished to the papers for publication as a matter of news, and notice of the number assigned and the time and place he must appear to make his selection will be promptly mailed to the address set forth in the application of each person to whom a number is assigned.

All applications which are not correct in form and execution will be marked "Rejected, imperfectly executed," and filed in the order in which they are rejected, and notice thereof will be sent to the persons who presented such applications.

6. SELECTION OF LOTS. Beginning at 9 o'clock a. m., on Wednesday, July 11th, 1917, at the Court House, Kapaa, Kauai.

Any persons holding numbers assigned to them for any such land drawing may make their selection of the lots that are open to selection and desired by them in the order in which their applications for participation are numbered.

If any person who has been assigned a number at the drawing fails to appear and make his selection when the number assigned to him is reached and his name is called, his right to select will be passed until the other applicants assigned have been disposed of, when his name will be called again, and if he then fails to appear and make his selection, he will be deemed to have abandoned his right to select.

7. PROOF AT TIME OF SELECTION. At the time he appears to make his selection, each applicant must be prepared to show his qualifications to take a homestead by affidavit in the form prescribed by the Commissioner, and otherwise. If any applicant is not a citizen of the United States by birth, he must present at the same time either the original or a certified copy of his declaration of intention to become a citizen, or of the order of the court admitting him to citizenship; and if an applicant who is not born in the United States claims citizenship through his father's naturalization while he was under twenty-one years of age, he must present a certified copy of the order of the court admitting his father to citizenship.

No person who appears to be disqualified to take a homestead will be permitted to make a selection, or in case he has made a selection, to receive the necessary papers or take or retain possession of the lot selected.

8. FORMS, MAPS, INFORMATION. Blank forms of applications, addressed envelopes for applications, blank forms of affidavits of qualifications, other necessary forms and information in regard to the lands to be opened and the terms under which they may be taken, may be obtained from the Commissioner of Public Lands at Honolulu, or from the Sub-Agents, Bernice E. L. Hundley, Kapaa, Kauai, and W. D. McBryde, Homestead, Kauai.

MARCELLE ENDS WEEK OF MYSTERY

Capacity business reigned throughout the entire engagement at the Tip Top Theater, where the public viewed the many mysterious facts formed by Marcelle and his Company of talented artists.

The company opened their engagement Wednesday night to a large and very appreciative audience.

La Viola, the comedy cartoonist, who, none other than Marcelle proved himself quite versatile, opened the show with a series of cartoons in color which caused considerable merriment and brought an unusual amount of applause.

His closing rendition of Honolulu with a United States battleship rounding Diamond Head at sunset aroused enormous applause as the picture, executed upside down was reserved and a salute fired from the battleship.

Kajahara, the Burmese Dancer who followed on the bill, presented an East Indian Dance, which unlike many of the so-called dances was heartily received.

This accomplished and beautifully gowned lady displayed unusual grace and talent, considering the misfortune in her being unable to have her own music rendered.

Marcelle closed the evenings performance in freeing himself from all sorts of manacles, restraint devices etc., which were furnished by Sheriff Rice, Jr., his deputies, and a committee secured from the audience, who examined all articles before and after each test.

Several pairs of handcuffs were placed on Marcelle's wrist after which he entered a cabinet, only to return in a few moments free from bondage.

The Russian Torture Box performed by Mme Merne proved unusually mystifying as to the manner in which it was executed. Mme Merne after entering the torture box was secured with nine sealed padlocks. Marcelle himself being placed in a mail bag which was closed by the committee and each lock sealed.

Hardly were the curtains drawn when Mme Merne rushes from the cabinet with the mail sack in her arms and Marcelle found in the box which was still securely locked and not a seal disturbed.

Though the courtesy of Mr. Rohrig, Manager of the Lihue Entertainment, a packing case was built on the stage Saturday night by his carpenters into which Marcelle was nailed. Two minutes and twenty seconds were consumed before his reappearance, the box being examined and no trace found as to how it was accomplished, which gained unusual applause.

The Company leave Lihue Tuesday for a tour of the Island before leaving for the Mainland where they fill a contract for the coming season.

Local and Personal Notes

The special feature of the music at the Lihue Union church on Sunday was an anthem "Sun of my Soul", by Parker, in which Mrs. Wm. Grote took the fine solo part with her accustomed grace and ease. The characteristic feature of the decorations was the fine display of magnolia flowers.

Miss Grace Pillar and Miss Janet Hastie of Eleele spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Lydgate and took in the dissipations of our Island metropolis, in this case the moving picture show and the Sunday morning service. The one, sort of balance up the other. Miss Pillar has a very "cute" little Ford, of the new and improved type which she drives with skill and facility.

The High School, it seems, has been without a flag for some time; they now have one again, and concerning it they write in their little paper, the "Item" as follows: Monday morning we blossomed out with a new flag. How good it is to once more march round the yard, although it is not so pleasant on wet mornings. We do not have to fear them, because Summer is coming and also the end of the year.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Rohrig and daughter, are leaving today for a trip to the Volcano. They will land at Kailua on the Kona coast and will make the journey overland through the Kona and Kau districts to the Volcano, where they will remain for a few days. Mr. and Mrs. Isenberg will join them in Honolulu for this trip; our best wishes follow them.

News has been received from Leslie Wishard to the effect that he has been transferred from Harvard to the Pacific Coast for military training. Mrs. Wishard goes to Honolulu on Saturday on her way to join him as soon as he is definitely located. He has been away from home for four years now, first at Michigan University for his academic training, and then later at Harvard for his law course, which he has just finished.

Mr. E. R. Cameron, Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue, is on Island, in the interest of that Department, checking up the Federal Tax returns of the various corporations. He reports that in some cases he has found material errors in these returns, but that was on the other Islands; such a possibility, he judges, is foreign to our corporations. He will be on the Island for about three weeks.

There was a flag raising at Haleulu-uehe the residence of C. S. Dole, on Sunday afternoon, after church. A few guests assisted in the simple ceremony, and the flag went up with the easy grace of one that belonged there. The flag-staff is rooted in the stump of a historic tree planted by Governor Kamea in the old days of the Monarchy; at least that is the story; the Historical Society does not vouch for it, however.

No Flag: Why

Mr. Crawford of the Lihue Post Office, explains that he is patriotic down to the soles of his boots, and that the office is patriotic down to the last one cent postage stamp but that the fool contractor who put up the building was some kind of an alien, who had no use for an American flag, so there was no provision made for one; and being a concrete building it is mighty hard to find the place to attach a flag. He is working over the problem, however, and hopes soon to have a satisfactory solution of the same. Sooner or later there will be a flag on the Lihue Post Office; meantime will the Public kindly take the will for the deed.

Kauai Historical Society

The Kauai Historical Society held its annual meeting on Thursday evening, May the tenth. The following officers were re-elected for the ensuing year:
 Mr. M. H. Rice, President
 Mr. J. M. Lydgate, Vice President
 Miss Elsie H. Wilcox, Secretary-Treasurer.

The program was informal, and many interesting and lively anecdotes were related and amusing character-sketches of old-timers on Kauai drawn by Mrs. T. J. King, Mr. W. H. Rice, Mr. S. W. Wilcox, and Mr. C. B. Hofgaard.

Mr. E. A. Knudsen has made a move in the right direction by utilizing the school children for his plantation at Hi-laau, in the Gap. Having enlisted 25 or so of them in advance, he conveyed them by truck from Koloa to his plantation where they spent the forenoon planting cane, in which work they are very apt. At none he gave them a five-cent lunch, and after lunch delivered them back to their homes, richer by 40 cents and a rousing good time.

To The Voters of the County of Kauai

The undersigned, Candidate for the office of County Clerk to be held at the Primary Election on Saturday the 19th day of May A. D. 1917, wish to explain the reasons why I am running for the same: They are as follows:
 Rumors came and was reported that the present incumbent County Clerk, Mr. J. Mahiai Kaneakua was under the indictment by the Federal Grand Jury which fact I presume the Kauai people are all aware of.

The uncertainty of the date of his trial and while the office of County Clerk is an elective office at the coming election and whether a candidate has been assured to fill the said office as a County Clerk or not, the undersigned and the rest of the honorable members of the Kauai Delegation then attending the Legislature at Honolulu, met and decided that the undersigned will be a candidate for the aforesaid office, provided however that, if the charges brought against the present incumbent proves a failure, then the undersigned will resign in his favor, provided said resignation meets with the approval of the Board of Supervisors.

Correspondence took place between the undersigned and some of the prominent people of Kauai in which some of the replies came to the undersigned expressing their approval of the action taken by the said delegation and earnestly requested the undersigned to enter the race for the said office.

The jealousy of the Kauaians for the good name of its County after years of hard work in establishing the same may be marred by this mishap, and the undersigned feels that the good people of Kauai are not going to take any chance to damage the same; and for the above reasons, prompted me to enter the race.

The undersigned has based his candidacy in entering this race for the office of County Clerk, for the County of Kauai while in Honolulu attending the duties as a legislator as one of its members from Kauai.

Hoping that I have made myself clear as to my candidacy for the office of County Clerk, I beg your unanimous support.

For references as to the above statements, I beg you to refer to the Kauai Delegation to the Legislature.

Respectfully yours,
JAMES K. KULA,
 Candidate for County Clerk.
 -Advt.

Ash Your Goodyear Service Station Dealer about the Goodyear Tire-Saver Kit.

A REPAIR in ankle-deep mud, under a streaming sky, is easily the most vivid and disagreeable way to learn the wisdom and worth of Goodyear All-Weather type Cord Tires. A far better way is to have them on your car in the first place, and count their value by the trouble you miss.

Goodyear Cord Tires do their work best when outside Goodyear Tubes. Tubes that do not leak, seep or creep—that enforce the best service of which a casing is capable.

You can buy both Tires and Tubes from a Goodyear Service Station Dealer—likely there's one in your neighborhood. You will be glad you know him, once you've dealt with him. His interest in your tires, and the service they give you, keeps right on after the purchase. He helps you—you can figure how much in miles.
