The Facts About Quarantine Here

The Star-Bulletin gives considerable space to a treaty signed by two passengers of the steamer Kingston on board of which a case of quarantine last spring was discovered. The treaty provides for a system of inspection at the ports of entry and renunciation of reciprocal claims in case of disputes. The treaty is in the hands of the Secretary of State and will be discussed by the Cabinet before it is presented to Congress.

A couple of weeks ago, the Wisconsin legislators had a discussion on the treaty, but they were not able to come to any agreement. The treaty is expected to be presented to Congress next month.
