150 BUSINESSMEN PLAN EXCURSION TO HAWAII

BOOSTERS' CRUISE TO HAWAII

Coast Chambers of Commerce Plan Round-Pacific Voyage This Fall

On the most elaborate tour ever undertaken by commercial bodies, the Associated Chambers of Commerce of the Pacific Coast will send 150 businessmen to Honolulu in a specially chartered steamer, to promote trade relations, boost the San Francisco exposition and exploit the advantages of the Panama canal.

News of the forthcoming cruise which is to include every important port in the Pacific and in which Honolulu is the first objective point, reached this city yesterday from the coast Secretary H. P. Wood of the Chamber of Commerce, asked about the plan this morning stated that he had heard of it while on the coast recently but that it had not progressed far enough to make the report authentic. He immediately called to the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce to learn whether or not the plans are definitely settled.

The plans have now progressed as far that those in charge have picked the steamer for their cruise, and are negotiating with the officials of the Alaska Steamship Company at Seattle for the vessel, the steamship Victoria, which has been in Hawaiian waters and is finely fitted for excursion purposes. The steamer is to be chartered to sail from San Francisco on November 15, touching first at Honolulu and will visit Hilo during its Pacific cruise.

The Chambers of Commerce of San Francisco, Los Angeles, Portland, Oakland and Seattle will participate in the cruise and it is expected that about 150 business and commercial men, accompanied by members of their families, will make the voyage. It is planned to visit Honolulu, Auckland, Wellington, Christ Church, Melbourne, Sydney, Brisbane, Manila, Hongkong, Shanghai, Kobe, Osaka and Yokohama, returning by way of Seattle.

Vice President R. W. Baxter, of the Alaska Steamship Company, offered the steamship Northwestern for the

Pratt To Represent Hawaiian Islands At Hygiene Congress

DR. J. S. B. PRATT, President Board of Health.

That Dr. J. S. B. Pratt, president of the Territorial Board of Health, will represent Hawaii at the International Congress of Hygiene and Demography at Washington, D. C., the latter part of this month, is now regarded as quite certain. This probably will be determined within the next few hours, and he probably will leave Honolulu September 11.

It is principally a question of finance and whether his presence will be desired by Secretary of the Interior Fisher during the latter's visit here. That however, can be ascertained after Secretary Fisher's arrival. It is thought the Secretary will desire Dr. Pratt's attendance at the Congress more than his presence here, and that he will consider it part of his Territory's duty to have a representative at the big gathering at the national capital.

The international Congress will be attended by scientists and representatives of twenty-six foreign governments, as well as representatives from every state in the Union. Among the questions of large importance to Hawaii which are to be discussed at the sessions will be that of sanitation and health in the Panama Canal zone. Because the climate and general conditions of the Canal Zone so closely pertain to Hawaii and because a large percent of the laborers now employed there may be brought to this Territory at the conclusion of their job on the Big Ditch, these discussions are expected to prove a source of highly

HILO LABOR DAY SPEAKER HITS IMMIGRATION

Union Movement to Change the Present System Is Urged

ORGANIZATION ASKED TO LET PARTIES ALONE

Attack on Filipino Laborers Is Made by Bohnerberg, who Suggests Boycott

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence) HILO, Sept. 2.—In a speech during the course of which he bitterly attacked the present system of immigration to the Territory and the class of immigrants who are being brought here, John Bohnerberg, the veteran politician, seemed to find a sympathetic note among the members of the Hilo Labor Union, who met in the Y. M. I. Hall this morning to celebrate Labor Day. It was originally planned to hold a procession, but the weather was threatening and the idea was abandoned in favor of a meeting in the hall and speeches.

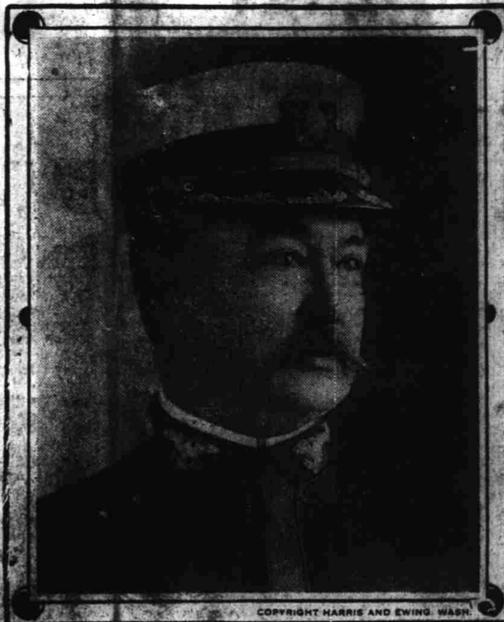

Bohnerberg bitterly attacked the system of immigration in vogue here at the present time, and under which what he terms the lowest class of Asiatics are being brought into the Territory to work in competition with citizens. "One of our main ideas," he stated, "is to elevate humanity. Can we do this when people are shipping into this country month after month the lowest class of Asiatics? When they are bringing in here to place in competition with us a lot of naked humanity? I tell you we can not do it."

He dwelt on a case that had come to his knowledge when a shipment of Filipinos had arrived at Hilo most of whom were practically naked. "Proposing what amounts practically to a boycott of Filipino labor, and asking the members of the union to stand together and pay a citizen more wages rather than have the work done by Filipinos at a cheaper cost, he wound up with, "In order to stop this infamous immigration we will have to stand together. We will have to vote together."

The tone of the meeting generally was to keep the union as a separate union in the coming political campaign. The members were unanimous in their opinion that they should stand together and vote together. At

Southerland Head Of Forces in Nicaragua

REAR ADMIRAL W. H. H. SOUTHERLAND

Disturbances in Central America May Prevent Review of the Pacific Fleet

The plans for a great naval demonstration by the fleets of the United States simultaneously at San Francisco, Manila and New York on October 14 and 15 may be upset as far as the Pacific fleet's part in the program is concerned, through the trouble in Nicaragua. Rear Admiral Southerland, in command of the Pacific fleet, is now at Nicaragua, where he is in command of the United States forces, soon to number 2000 marines.

According to advices received here this morning, if the uprising in Nicaragua continues, the Pacific fleet, with Southerland, will be needed off Central America at the time set for the review. The demonstrations on the Atlantic as planned will follow the program of exercises of the Atlantic fleet now in progress off the coast of New England. The vessels will assemble in the lower Hudson river at New York for review by President Taft and the Secretary of the Navy. The new naval monsters, Arkansas and Wyoming, the latest additions to the navy, will be commissioner in time to take part.

The president and his guests, including prominent officials and members of the diplomatic corps, will review the fleet from aboard the Arkansas, and Rear Admiral Osterhaus, commanding the fleet, will use the Wyoming as his flagship.

In number and tonnage the fleet will exceed that which was reviewed in the same waters last year. In addition to the new ships, it will include the vessels of the Atlantic reserve fleet and the torpedo and submarine flotillas. Arrangements for the review are now being made by the officials of the Navy Department and the officers of the fleet.

Plans To Differ This Year.

It is said that the plans of assembling and review will be materially different from the ones carried out at the demonstration last November. It is said that the plans of assembling and review will be materially different from the ones carried out at the demonstration last November.

According to the estimate made at the Navy Department, there will be about 120 vessels gathered in New York harbor. This is approximately 21 more ships than were present at the great demonstration last November.

The rendezvous of the Asiatic fleet is dependent upon the conditions then prevailing in China, it was said at the Navy Department today.

At San Francisco about fifty vessels may be called together under command of Rear Admiral Southerland. The Asiatic fleet will assemble approximately twenty vessels, under command of Rear Admiral R. F. Nicholson.

SAHM, LAST NAVAL OFFICER TO QUIT LIGHTHOUSE SERVICE

Lieutenant Retires as Inspector and Will Report to Battleship

At noon today the last United States naval officer to hold the post of lighthouse inspector was relieved from that duty. Hawaii has the distinction of having the last naval officer as the head of a lighthouse district, Lieutenant Leo Sahm being the man to relinquish command of the Nineteenth district.

About two years ago the government decided to withdraw all naval officers from duty with the lighthouse service, and return them to actual navy service, whether afloat or ashore. One by one the inspectors were withdrawn, until Lieutenant Sahm alone remained. Bravely he stood on the burning deck of the Kukui whence all but he had fled, and finally, a week ago, an order came along detaching him, and sending him to the cruiser South Dakota as chief engineer officer.

OPIMUM SMUGGLER ADMITS HIS GUILT

Man Caught With Contraband in Clothes To Be Sentenced by Court Tomorrow

The new head of the Nineteenth district is Arthur E. Arledge, who has been here for two years past as superintendent of construction. Mr. Arledge is well qualified for the important post, having been in the lighthouse service a number of years.

traband merchandise were found concealed in his clothes. Chris Cora-george and George Chrones were arraigned this morning, but were granted permission to reserve their pleas until next Tuesday morning. Their attorneys have asked that the bail of $1000 be reduced to $750, and the court will announce its decision on the request tomorrow morning. Meantime both are held in jail.

Two of the four indictments that were returned by the Federal grand jury just before it was dismissed last week, and which were placed on the secret file, prove to be charges of a statutory nature against Klichii Sakuma and Kin Sato, a Japanese man and woman of Waialua, who were arrested by U. S. Marshal Hendry yesterday morning. Both pleaded not guilty on arraignment this morning and the hearing has been continued until called. Both are detained in jail in default of bail.

Becker Refuses To Plead

(Associated Press Cable) NEW YORK, N. Y., September 3.—When Lieut. Charis Becker of the police force was taken today to plead before Justice Goff to the charge of complicity in the murder of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler, the man who is accused of profiting by more than a half million dollars in the operations of the "graft syndicate" refused to enter a plea. Justice Goff thereupon caused a technical plea of not guilty to be entered for him. The beginning of his trial is set for September 12.

Guardsmen Given $2.50 For Five Days Hard Labor

Territory Fails To Pay Militia Who Are Expected To Aid in Defense

Yesterday afternoon the First Infantry, National Guard of Hawaii, broke camp at Moanalua and marched back to town, falling out at the Armory after having been doing duty in the field since last Wednesday night. All the men, with the exception of the Maui companies, were paid off, receiving the Federal pay only, and getting no added compensation from the Territory, as has been the case in former years. The Maui men received their stipend this morning.

There has been considerable grumbling over the cut in pay this year, and the guardsmen as a whole fail to understand why they should not get the money which has always been promised them. Heretofore the Territory has paid out of the contingent fund $1.50 to each private, to bring the minimum compensation up to $2 per day, when the Federal stipend of 50 cents is counted in. The money which would have been coming to the militia for this year's encampment was used up in the mosquito campaign last year, at the time of the yellow fever scare. There is considerable dissatisfaction, the pay mix-up taking the edge off an otherwise successful camp, and there is a good chance that enough pressure will be brought to bear to secure the passage of a special appropriation by the next Legislature, to provide funds for paying the troops for the field work just completed. Encampment a Success. As far as soldiering went, the encampment was all that could be asked for. The men have few chances to drill as a regiment, and they had a lot to learn, which they cheerfully went about learning. Camp Damon, which was again available through the friendliness of Sam Damon, the owner of Moanalua, proved an ideal site. The only drawback was the lack of bathing facilities, all the water having to be hauled more than half a mile. Had the period in the field been for more than five days, this inconvenience would have been of considerable moment.

Colonel Siegler, commanding the regiment, kept good discipline and saw to it that everything was up to military standards, while the sanitary end of the affair was well handled by Major Moore and Captain Morong, surgeons of the Guard, under the supervision of Colonel Cooper, surgeon general of the Territorial forces. Praise for Johnson.

Much credit, according to the officers of the regiment, must be given to Captain Walter H. Johnson, the regular army officer, who has held the post of inspector-instructor for the past year. Following the presentation of a gold watch to Captain Johnson as a mark of appreciation and friendship, the officers each took occasion to wish him good luck and thank him personally for the hard work that he had done with the Guard.

"It isn't only what he's taught us, but the way he's done it," said one officer, in speaking of Captain Johnson's popularity with both officers and men. "Sometimes he jumps us pretty hard, but we always know that he is right and we are wrong, and that he is doing it for the general good of the militia. Then, again, he is always careful never to 'bawl us out' before the men, and that's more than some regular officers think of."

"NOT PREPARING EVIDENCE FOR FISHER," SAYS GOVERNOR

Frear Busy Finishing Annual Report, but Not Filing Statistics

Governor Frear denies the report that he is preparing statistics and statements calculated to defend his administrative actions in the coming inquiry to be instituted by Secretary of the Interior Fisher. On the contrary, he asserts he is making no arrangements to produce evidence for the government official and will prepare none until it is asked by the latter on charges preferred by the Governor's enemies seem to warrant it.

However, in preparation for Fisher's visit, two stenographers and three typewriting machines have been brought into use on the Governor's annual report, which he expects to have complete by Thursday, the day before the Secretary of the Interior's arrival.

It is possible that a copy of this may be placed in the Secretary's hands, and that some of the charges expected to be brought against the administration may be answered by the official statements set forth in this report.

Other arrangements for this important visit and its attendant business, even though tentative, must be held in abeyance until definite word comes from Fisher. This information may not be obtained until he reaches the city. It is thought he may desire to establish headquarters for his inquiry. If he does, either the office of the Territorial Secretary or the Senate chamber in the government building will be placed at his disposal. It is not known whether he will desire a transcript of the evidence, or whether his private secretary will attend to that feature of the business.

BENCH AND BAR MEMORIAL FOR JUDGE HARTWELL

Supreme Court Will Meet Tomorrow Morning in Senate Chamber

With the Justices of the Supreme Court of Hawaii assembled in solemn session, honor will be paid to the memory of the late Judge A. S. Hartwell by his associates of the bench and bar tomorrow.

At 10 o'clock in the morning the Supreme Court Justices will sit in the Senate chamber, which is to be utilized because of the small size of the courtroom and the fact that the services will be open to the general public. The program for tomorrow's commemoration has been completed and was announced today by President F. E. Thompson of the Hawaiian Bar Association. President Thompson will present a memorial resolution for the Bar Association. Federal Judge Sanford B. Dole will speak, representing the bench of Hawaii, and City and County Attorney John W. Cathcart will speak for the bar. Attorney-General Lindsay will be the next speaker, to be followed by the Hon. Cecil Brown and C. W. Ashford, whose addresses will be along personal lines. This will end the memorial program.

ARTILLERYMEN OUT TO PRACTICE WITH SIEGE GUNS

The 105th Company, Coast Artillery Corps, Captain Johnson commanding, started this morning to hike from Fort Ruger to Schofield Barracks, there to be in camp for ten days, receiving instruction in serving the big siege guns. Lieutenant Pratt, district quartermaster and commissary, accompanied the column.

The siege guns and howitzers will be fired on Thursday, September 12. This will be the first time that either style of ordnance has been fired in Hawaii; and artillery officers of both branches are looking forward with interest to the tests. The 105th will be away from Ruger for two weeks, and on its return the 159th, commanded by Lieutenant Vaughan, will take its place at the Schofield instruction camp.

There are eight 5-inch siege guns and four 7-inch howitzers at Schofield. Two shots are allowed per piece for the practice firing, but only two pieces will actually be fired, each company firing eight shots from one siege rifle, and four from one howitzer. The theoretical and practical part of siege-gun work will be taught, and the men instructed in making the proper earth emplacements.

BROKEN STEERING GEAR DELAYED LINER WILHELMINA AT QUARANTINE

The fracture of a casting belonging to the little engine that serves to move the massive rudder of the Matson Navigation liner Wilhelmina at an early hour this morning resulted in the delay of an hour or more in the berthing of that vessel at Hackfield wharf.

The Wilhelmina appeared off the quarantine at daybreak. The steamer was visited by Dr. Trotter of the Federal quarantine service and pratique was granted the vessel before 7 o'clock. The several hundred anxious watchers at the wharf awaited the approach of the Wilhelmina for an hour before the fact was made known that an accident to the steering apparatus would necessitate the services of the tug Intrepid to bring the liner safely through the channel and inside the harbor.

According to Captain Peter Johnson and the officers of the steamship, the damage to the machinery is nominal.

"Sixty per cent of the 121 cabin passengers in this steamer are school teachers," commented Purser Charlie Drew. The trip down from the Coast was a pleasant one. The crowd was lively and the regular program of entertainments, dances, and dinners proved pleasing to the travelers.

Captain Johnson is suffering from a badly sprained ankle. "Now, when an old seadog like me becomes maimed through a fall of but a few feet from a stepladder at home, after spending all his days at sea, where climbing aloft is a daily diversion, wouldn't it peeve you?" mused the veteran skipper as he set in his cabin and sadly contemplated a pair of crutches used by him in getting about the deck.

"I will be all right again very soon, but I certainly did not lead the German in the last big dance that we held on board just before coming into Honolulu."

The Wilhelmina steamed from San Francisco to Honolulu in fine weather.

The Wilhelmina brought 4800 tons of cargo, of which 3000 tons will be discharged at Honolulu and 1800 tons carried to Hilo. The liner brought 22 autos, which is considered a record shipment of machines. All but eight of the cars will be discharged at Hilo.

A later mail amounting to 58 sacks arrived in the vessel. In the cabin there traveled 121 passengers, while five arrived here in the steerage.

James A. Russel, former mate in the Wilhelmina, is back in that vessel after a brief vacation spent on shore. A few minor changes have been made in the engineering staff. On the way to San Francisco on the last voyage it was reported that the Wilhelmina lost a blade in her propeller. The accident, however, did not delay the vessel in her arrival at San Francisco.

The Wilhelmina is expected to sail for Hilo on Thursday evening, there to discharge cargo and take on a large shipment of sugar destined for the Coast.

Hilo Shipping on the Increase.

Shipping at Hilo is reported on the increase with the arrival of the Matson Navigation steamer Enterprise with a large general cargo from the mainland. The American schooner E. K. Wood, with material for the Breakwater Company, was brought inside the inner harbor on Friday and new rides at anchor in Reed's Bay. The schooner A. F. Coates, with a large shipment of lumber, was discharging at the railway wharf at the time the Inter-Island steamer Mauna Kea departed for Honolulu.

Purser Phillips reported a fair trip with fresh trades and moderate seas. The Mauna Kea arrived at an early hour this morning with over one hundred cabin passengers. The vessel brought a small cargo, including 3 autos, 10 cords wood and 125 packages sundries.

Inter-Island steamers along the coast of Hawaii were reported as follows: The steamers Kaitiani and Kauai at Hilo, the Maui off Papaoua, and the Helepe at Kohalaalele.

Sugar on Hawaii.

Sugar awaiting shipment on Hawaii includes the following consignments, according to a report which has reached this city with the arrival of the steamer Mauna Kea: Waiakae 5,000, Hilo Sugar Co. 3,600, Onomea 8,678, Pepeekeea 3,900, Honolulu 2,640, Hakalau 14,000, Hanakoa Mill 8,700, Paauhau 8,000, Honokaa 4,000, Punaluu 7,714, Honoupa 7,200 sacks; no sugar at Oloa, Hawaii Mill, Laupahoehoe, Kawaihi, Kuakalau.

Inter-Island Sailings This Day.

Inter-Island steamers booked for departure today include the steamer Iwawani, which got away shortly after the noon hour for Maunaloa, Kawaihae and Holoipu with a large general cargo. The Iwawani carried mails but no passengers.

The Kauai liner Kinai is to sail at five o'clock this evening with passengers, mails and freight for the regulation ports of call along the coast of the Garden Island.

The Mikhala is also scheduled to sail at five o'clock for Mauk Molo-

A GREAT PHYSICIAN DECIDE D IT

It was decided that the late Dr. M. Gardner, at that time Surgeon General of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, should be asked to select a theoretically intractable case of chronic Bright's Disease. He picked out an employee in Arizona whose case had been passed on by three S. P. R. R. physicians. Case involved albumen, casts, dropsy, and patient was so weak he was in night sweats. Dr. Gardner did not believe he could live sixty days. He was put on Fulton's Renal Compound and we waited. In thirty days improvement was reported and less than six months later patient was recommended for light employment, tests by the local physicians whom we never saw reporting disappearance of the albumen and casts. Dr. Gardner's favorable report (our thirty-fourth test case) caused the closure of the negotiations and the determination to announce the results. Fulton's Renal Compound is getting in kidney disease. It can be had at Honolulu Drug Co., Fort street.

Ask for pamphlet or write to John J. Fulton Company, San Francisco.

Baron Speck von Sternburg of Germany, a nephew and namesake of the late Baron von Sternburg, former German ambassador to this country, was one of the passengers who arrived off the steamer Koln at Baltimore last night from Bremen.

The baron expects to remain in this country a long time to study agricultural conditions. He is much interested in the subject and hopes to gather some important data in his investigation to be used on his return home.

BELLBOY, WOULD-BE PREACHER, STOWS AWAY ON MANCHURIA

If Harold Yates, recently employed as call boy at the Hotel Sutter, San Francisco, had not received a "call" to preach to the Chinese, he would not have returned to that port as prisoner on board the Pacific Mail steamer Nippon Maru.

Yates was born in Manchester, England, 25 years ago, and had only been in this country for a few years when he found himself at the San Francisco hotel.

One morning he awoke when one of the bell boys came to his room with a call. Yates opened his eyes and at the same moment the thought that had been uppermost in his mind, for some days presented itself. He decided that the Chinese needed him as a missionary.

As a consequence he hurriedly packed a few belongings and hastened down to the Pacific Mail dock and walked on board the big liner Manchuria. When the ship proceeded to sea Yates hid himself.

ATTEMPTS NOW MADE TO SMUGGLE MORPHIA ABOARD PACIFIC LINERS

After meeting with a disastrous series of failures, which are declared to have made serious inroads into the funds placed at their disposal, several organized bands of smugglers from along the China coast are now said to have turned their attention from the handling of contraband opium to a more easily marketed drug.

Morphine is a commodity that is being successfully stowed aboard a number of trans-Pacific liners during the more or less extended stay of these vessels at Hongkong. With the arrival of the Japanese liner Nippon Maru from the coast of Asia this morning, the statement was freely made by those in a position to speak authoritatively that a few days before the Nippon Maru sailed from Hongkong for Honolulu and San Francisco, a bevy of customs officers at the Chinese port completed a raid on a number of steamers riding at anchor in the harbor, with the result that eighty-two pounds of morphia were discovered by an officer, the drug having been confiscated.

The contraband had been smuggled in very cleverly and might quite easily have escaped notice. Notice was sent to the Governor and a reward of 50 taels given for the discovery.

Shortly afterward he was discovered and taken before Captain Friele, the commodore of the fleet. The interview was unsatisfactory and at its conclusion Yates was made a prisoner.

Early Sunday morning, August 23, the Nippon Maru, which was proceeding toward San Francisco from the Orient, hove into view, and after an exchange of wireless messages, the ships came to a stop close together and a small boat was launched from the Manchuria with Yates as a lone passenger.

Captain George S. LaPraik of the Nippon Maru welcomed the young man, who told about his call to China. LaPraik locked stern and remarked as Yates was led away.

"It seems to me that in attempting to travel to your future fields of endeavor in the way you did you began in the wrong way, for you were certainly violating one of the ten commandments. 'Thou shalt not steal.' You were trying to steal a ride on the Manchuria."

Col. William A. Shunk, U. S. A., and Mrs. Shunk have given up their apartment in the Brighton, and will leave for Chicago, their new station, the end of the week. Mrs. Shunk was an interested helper in the entertainments given in the reading rooms for the blind last winter, and will be much missed by the patrons of that library.

The Duke and Duchess of Sutherland and their daughter, Lady Rosemary Leveson-Gower, are to arrive in New York from England this week, en route to Alberta, Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Legare are at Col. William A. Shunk, U. S. A., Naragansett, R.I.

NEWS AND NOTES FROM WASHINGTON

(By C. S. ALBERT.)
[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence.]
WASHINGTON, August 16.—One day last week was marked by two navy weddings, an unusual event for mid-August, although both were house events and the companies present restricted to relatives and the personal friends of the couple happening to be in town. The bride and bridegroom of the noon wedding were Miss Mary Kennedy Graham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Worden Graham, of old residential families, and Ensign Raymond Gifford Payne, U. S. N. Rev. Edward S. Hale, assistant pastor of the Church of the Ascension, officiated. The national colors and many flowers adorned the family apartment at the Troquois and an orchestra played the wedding march and throughout the pleasant informal reception which followed.

The bride, a greatly feted debutante of last winter, who was escorted to the bridal bower by her father, was beautifully gowned in white satin, draped with embroidered white chiffon, caught with orange blossoms. Her jewels were pearls. A tulle veil and a coronet of orange blossoms were also worn and a shower bouquet of bride roses and lillies of the valley was carried.

Her only attendant was Miss Marion Wellman, her cousin. Mrs. Graham wore an embroidered canton crepe, trimmed with duchess lace, with diamond jewelry.

When Ensign and Mrs. Payne started for their wedding journey the latter wore a very smart dress of changeable brown and gold taffeta.

Chaplain G. Livingston Bayard, U. S. N., officiated at the wedding at 1 o'clock of Miss Helen Du Bose, daughter of Medical Director and Mrs. W. R. Du Bose, and Dr. Luther Sheldon, Jr., assistant surgeon, U. S. N., which took place at the Du Bose home. A floral decoration was in place and an assemblage of about sixty people was present.

The bride was escorted by her father and attended only by her sister, Miss Katherine Du Bose, while Dr. Sheldon was best man for his brother. The bride was dressed in white crepe meteor and duchess lace, and wore a tulle veil, with lillies of the valley holding it in place, and also forming her shower bouquet. The bridesmaid wore white marquisette with pink roses in her bouquet.

Dr. and Mrs. Sheldon left later for their honeymoon jaunt, the bride's going-away costume being of navy blue serge.

An interesting visitor at Prides Crossing Mass. is Mrs. Horace Wylie of this city, who is the guest at Switzmoore of Mrs. Clarence Moore. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Moore are expected at Prides Crossing for the remainder of the summer, and with their infant son will be the guest of Judge and Mrs. Moore at Rocknarge. The Moores have been at Morrilstown since the opening of the season.

COMMISSION TO GO AHEAD ON SCHOOL BLDGS.

It was decided by the Loan Fund Commission, at a meeting this morning, to go ahead with the building of the Kaula schoolhouse, for which $20,000 is appropriated. Bids will be invited forthwith for the work.

Governor Frear was consulted by telephone to ascertain if a road proposition related to this school was settled, and he replied that all was right and the commission might proceed with the building.

Land Commissioner Tucker was reported as saying that no doubt negotiations for the site for the proposed Kaula $8000 schoolhouse would be satisfactorily concluded.

Mr. Petrie expressed a fear that trains would disturb the school on the proposed site, it being near the railway.

Mr. Fern said most of the people at Kaula Camp had been driven out by the Board of Health. He thought the noise of trains would be so brief as not to amount to a serious disturbance.

Chairman Adams did not regard either objection as sufficient reason for rejecting the site. There was no doubt the place around the school would build up.

No further action was taken. A new courthouse, jail and jailor's cottage at Waialua on the site of the present buildings, and a similar group of buildings at Ewa, for which a new site has to be sought, were considered together.

Mr. Fern made the suggestion, which was entertained by the other commissioners, that the material in the old courthouse might be utilized in building the jailor's cottage.

There is $6000 appropriated for the Waialua structures, and $10,000 for the Ewa, including the site.

Mr. Johnson reported on the Ewa site, saying four lots were available but advised that a fifth be bought also, which would make the site 225 feet square, fronting on the main Ewa road. The entire cost would not exceed $7500.

Messrs. Fern, Petrie and Johnson were appointed to attend further to the matter and report back to the commission.

On motion of Mr. Petrie, it was voted to employ Emory & Webb, architects, to draw plans and specifications for both sets of buildings.

It was reported that the Pohukaina schoolhouse was finished but not yet accepted, although its members were satisfied that a good job had been done.

Mr. Fern promised to have data on school street extension completed for next meeting. Cecil Brown and Abraham Fernandez were the only ones holding out for better terms than were offered. Replying to a suggestion by the chairman, that condemnation proceedings be taken once, Mr. Fern advised waiting for the outcome of pending negotiations.

Mr. Adams made the remark that the figures given amounted to nearly one-third of the appropriation of $10,000 for the work.

"People are veering to get roads, but they don't want to pay for them," Mr. Fern observed.

"Frog lane!" conically exclaimed the chairman.

A resolution bringing on No. 1 contract of the bejroad, to adjust the work to the money available, was at Mr. Fern's request deferred till next meeting.

At the close of the meeting the other

POLITICAL NEWS AND NOTES

With what his friends considered an excellent chance of beating Kuhio for Delegate, Link McCandless, blundering around like the proverbial bull in a china shop, has essayed to drive a nail into his own political coffin by denouncing Jim Coke's candidacy for the Senate in scathing terms and declaring that he would not permit Coke to appear on the Democratic ticket under any conditions. "I'll fight Coke to the end if I lose," McCandless is reported to have said.

Now, it appears that Coke is not a lowly needer for any political boss; that, in fact, he holds the Democratic party on Maui in his vest pocket, and that his friends on Oahu number more than a centurion's command. Consequently, the advisers of McCandless are aggrieved at the lack of tact and diplomacy shown by their leader and are pleading with him earnestly to leave Oahu and go to some other island, there to stay until the conventions are over. Otherwise they fear he will take another slam at his hitherto bright prospects.

Because of the statements credited to prominent members of the anti-Jarrett faction that they will enroll themselves as members of the Republican party, a movement is on foot in the various precinct clubs where the Jarrett forces are in control, to anticipate the threat of the Antis and read them out of the Democratic party before the conventions.

The plans for the wholesale ousting are being considered secretly, it is said, but there is every indication that they will be carried out. Jarrett is strong in the majority of the precinct clubs, and so wide is the chasm between the two factions, and so bitter the feeling, that it is believed the proposal to cast the Antis into outer darkness will receive hearty approval.

HOME RULERS MAKE COMMISSION GOVERNMENT PLATFORM ISSUE

Charles K. Notley, Home Rule leader, and aspirant for Delegate to Congress on the Home Rule ticket, is opposed to the introduction in Hawaii of the commission or military form of government.

Notley, who will unquestionably receive the nomination of his party for Delegate to Congress, according to the Kuokoa Home Rule, is determined to fight against such government.

The Home Rule platform, which is being drafted by the executive committee, will be introduced in the Home Rule Territorial convention, which meets on the seventeenth of this month in Notley Hall.

In its editorial of last month, the Home Rule organ intimates that Link McCandless, who received the unanimous endorsement of his party for Delegate to Congress, was conspicuously silent as to the commission ers present took leave of Chairman Adams, with cordial wishes for a pleasant journey and safe return, as he is leaving tonight for a tour abroad which will occupy three months.

Those in attendance were Chairman Andrew Adams, Secretary T. H. Petrie and Mayor J. J. Fern, members, and H. Stuart Johnson, consulting engineer.

HAWAII COUNTY POLITICS BUZZ

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence] HILO, September 2.—Although on the surface matters political are quiet there are very fierce fires burning down below and every candidate for nomination at the county convention is working his hardest to make sure of his domination.

One of the features of the local political game this year is whether or not John Kealoha, the road supervisor, can hold enough of his road laborers in line to make certain his nomination as supervisor. At the present time he is confident that he can do so, but whether he will or not remains to be seen.

He certainly has a very strong organization, if any weight can be given

The voters of Kau, Hawaii, are opposed to Senator Makekau, because he turned his back to them, and supported Frear, who did not vote for him.

"Had it not been for Prince Kuhio our homesteads would have been sold at auction, the same as those lands on Puncbowl, whose owners said tears, as they left them and went to other places," is said to be one statement given much emphasis.

D. Kauauokalani Sr., and S. K. M. hoe, Home Rule leaders, and Levi Kauai, Progressive, called in the Kauai Headquarters yesterday and had a long conference with secretary H. Kooole.

Registration of voters is proceeding briskly these days, as the time for closing the great register approaches. By noon today the 5900 mark was passed, leaving a matter of about 2100 of the free and enlightened still to be corralled.

Rumor has it, that certain persons claiming to represent the "Business Men," recently called on the Kuhio leaders and proposed that the name of Charles Hustace, Jr., as "Business Men's" candidate for mayor be ratified by the Kuhio people and that in return the "Business Men" would drop the fight against Kuhio.

The rumor finds no authentication either among the Kuhio forces or the mysterious "Business Men."

Charles Costa, inspector in the garbage department has been selected by the Kuhlotes to run for sheriff against Jarrett. This is declared to be the final unalterable selection and John Lan's candidacy has been zrighted accordingly.

It is understood an effort was made to induce Andrew Cox to jump into the arena again, but he replied "Once is enough," and waived aside the proffered honor with more emphasis than dignity.

or military government for Hawaii. The Home Rule leaders therefore believe that McCandless would be a dangerous man for the voters of Hawaii to support for Delegate to Congress.

Acting on that belief, they are now advocating the Hawaiian voters to vote for Notley (Kahiliulani) as their next representative in Congress.

The editorial also mentions the fact that in his speech at Aala Park on the night of August 22, Delegate Kuhio stated that the commission or military form of government was at hand, but added that as long as he is Hawaii's Delegate to Congress he will fight against it.

According to a Home Rule leader, the platform under which Notley will run at the coming campaign will include a clause pertaining to the laws of the Territory.

the way in which he has controlled everything at Waialua up to the present time.

Supervisor Austin states that if he is elected he will take the job again but that he is not going to fight for it. His name will be one of those which will go before the county convention, however, and it is generally thought that Austin will fight in spite of the denials he makes to the contrary.

M. S. Pacheco is the Portuguese candidate for supervisor and there is no doubt but that he will make a very strong fight and has every chance of being elected. He missed by a few votes last election and it is understood this year that he has the labor union behind him as well as the Portuguese vote. If this is so, then it is very hard to see where David Ewaliko gets off. As usual, David is trying for election as supervisor and will naturally enough want the votes of the labor union behind him. This puts the union in rather a tight corner, as there will be Kealoha, Ewaliko and Pacheco to choose from. At the present time it looks as though Kealoha and Pacheco are standing the best chance, although it is impossible to say anything definite, as all the work is being done underground, and it is only now and then that an occasional glimpse can be obtained.

VEGETABLE DINNER A LA CASEROLE.

To those who may not have a casserole dish a good-sized bean pot will prove a good substitute, but be sure to have it covered tightly. A boiled dinner prepared in this way and cooked in the oven does away with the disagreeable odor which penetrates every part of the house. One large head of cabbage, one turnip, two carrots, two beets (if small), two parsnips. Put all in casserole with water sufficient to cook, and on top put one pound sausage; cover tightly and cook four and a half hours; at the end of that time uncover and lay in potatoes that have been parboiled, half an hour longer. Liver and bacon can be used in place of sausage.

POOR MAN'S CAKE.

One egg, one cup sugar, one cup milk, two tablespoons butter, one teaspoon vanilla or other extract, two cups flour, two teaspoons baking powder. Beat together the egg and sugar till light; add milk, then the melted butter and extract. Sift the flour and baking powder twice; add liquid mixture to them and beat well. Bake about 45 minutes in a moderate oven. —San Francisco Call.

Culture is not an accident of birth, although our surroundings advance or retard it; it is always a matter of individual education.—Hamilton W. Mabie.

LET HAWAII BE REPRESENTED

The move to send Dr. J. S. B. Pratt, president of the territorial board of health, to the International Congress of Hygiene at Washington next month is the right move for this territory to make.

Hawaii has a reputation to guard and to herald to the world—a reputation for healthfulness. That is the kind of a reputation that will bring thousands of tourists here. If this city can once establish itself in the eyes of the world as the safest port on the Pacific, the most healthful spot to be found in the tropics and sub-tropics, it will mean millions of dollars of income for the entire territory.

ENCOURAGING THE NATIONAL GUARD

The maneuvers of the Hawaiian guardsmen, ending yesterday again showed that the local militiamen take readily to the "war game" and prove themselves apt in the field. The national guard has not had a great deal of encouragement in the past. Up to the time when Col. Bullard came here for the first instruction camp, two years ago this month, there was little attention paid the territorial guardsmen by Uncle Sam.

THAT CUBAN AFFAIR

Talk of complications between the United States and Cuba because of the assault on Hugh S. Gibson, the charge d'affaires of the American legation, will probably not incite either party to actual hostility, for the attack turns out to be merely the act of an overwrought newspaper reporter.

Gibson was set upon in a Havana hotel by the Cuban newspaperman, and while he figured in the center of a whirl of arms, legs and Cuban expletives, he was not seriously injured. His assailant was arrested and the Cuban secretary of state immediately tendered an apology.

There is no evidence that anything was behind the affair except the hot-headedness of the Cuban reporter. Apparently newspaper work in Havana is even more strenuous than elsewhere.

THE CHURCH AND INDUSTRY

Labor and capital alike will find food for serious thought in the statement read last Sunday night at the Labor Day services as the attitude of the federal council of churches upon modern industry.

"We hold that the organization of capital or the organization of labor cannot make wrong right nor right wrong; that essential righteousness is not determined by numbers either of men or dollars" is the ringing declaration of this inter-church federation, which already has won allegiance in every part of the United States.

activity, activity of a practical kind. It does not agree that ministers or congregations can rest content with the academic discussion of ethical problems, to the exclusion of action toward settling these problems. Its spirit is not supine, but militant; not fearful, but daring. In these columns a few days ago comment was made upon the fact that political parties are coming to realize the importance of legislation against irksome female and child-labor, of legislation that will better the conditions under which modern industry now weighs down the worker.

We deem it the duty of all Christian people to concern themselves directly with certain practical industrial problems. To us it seems the church must stand—

For equal rights and complete justice for all men in all walks of life.

For the right of all men to the opportunity for self-maintenance, a right to be ever wisely and strongly safeguarded against encroachments of every kind.

For the right of workers to some protection against hardships often resulting from the swift crises of industrial change.

For the principle of conciliation and arbitration in industrial dissensions.

For the protection of the worker from dangerous machinery, occupational disease, injuries and mortality.

For the abolition of child-labor. For such regulations for the conditions of toil for women as shall safeguard the physical and moral welfare of the community.

For the suppression of the "sweating system."

For the gradual and reasonable reduction of the hours of labor to the lowest practicable point, and for that degree of leisure for all which is the condition of the highest human life.

For a release from employment one day in seven.

For a living wage as a minimum in every industry, and for the highest wage that every industry can afford.

For the most equitable division of the products of industry that can ultimately be devised.

For suitable provision for the old age of workers and those incapacitated by injury.

For the abatement of poverty.

To the toilers of America and to those who by organized effort are seeking to lift the crushing burdens of the poor, and to reduce the hardships and uphold the dignity of labor, this council sends the greeting of human brotherhood and the pledge of sympathy and of help in a cause which belongs to all of those who follow Christ.

This is a mighty battle to be fought, and the churches are beginning to fight with a faith as splendid as the faith of the Crusades and far nobler in sincerity of aim.

Mayer Fern has now before him for action the ordinance which, under the pretense of establishing a "municipal record", cloaks a political scheme devised by certain supervisors for personal purposes. The community at large will applaud the mayor if he vetoes this bill. The chamber of commerce has made a strong protest against its passage, a member of the merchants' association points out that it is unwise at this time. Not a defender for it has appeared, except those whose own selfish purposes are to be served. There is not the slightest question of the mayor's duty in the matter; his duty is to return the ordinance to the board of supervisors without his approval.

Kansas has returned a popular majority for Curtis, Republican candidate for senator, of 10,000 votes over Gov. Stubbs, the Bull Moose leader in that state. Stubbs is the nominee, however, because under a Kansas technicality the nomination goes by majority of legislative districts carried instead of a popular majority of votes. So this is hailed as a great Roosevelt victory!

Gov. Wilson's speech of acceptance is called by the Democrats a masterly document, on a lofty plane of Jeffersonian thought, by the Bull Moose a flaccid and invertebrate attempt to carry water on both shoulders, and by the Republicans a plain effort to conciliate the New York money barons and the Southern voters at the expense of western progressivism. Take your choice.

Racing at Kapiolani park received an encouraging revival yesterday, and with capable, intelligent management it should become a feature of Hawaii's varied sport-life.

As the blue-bird is the harbinger of spring in the states, so is the home-coming schoolteacher the harbinger of fall in Hawaii.

China "regrets" that Great Britain will not allow her to seize Tibet as a province. Naturally.

The political trouble-makers did not take a holiday on Labor Day. They are always on the job.

Gov. Wilson has now opened his campaign in seven different places.

ATTORNEYS ARRANGE BIG CALENDAR FOR COOPER. The majority of Honolulu's leading attorneys, twenty-three to be exact, gathered in Judge Cooper's court this morning to aid in the arrangement of the court's calendar of civil cases.

Fifty-one of these suits were set for hearing, making the calendar so heavy that Judge Cooper probably will be kept busy every legal working day from now until the latter part of October.

The last case is set for November 18, and it is considered likely that many of the hearings will not be finished before the last of the year. The length of some may conflict with the date set for others and continuances may be found necessary.

Also, for the next fortnight Judge Cooper may be called upon to handle some criminal cases as Judge Whitney is leaving for a vacation on Kauai and Judge Robinson is on the Coast on a three months' leave of absence. There are now hearings set for the next two weeks in Whitney's court, however, and the probation officers will handle such juvenile cases as may require attention before Judge Whitney's return.

SATAN "USED TO HOT WEATHER." August, we are told, is the favorite month for the vacation of Philadelphia ministers, and few will begrudge them their well-earned holidays. To those who say that Satan never takes a vacation in the summer, the classic reply of the clergyman may be quoted: "Yes, but he is not used to hot weather."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Lieut. Gen. Green Clay Goodloe, U. S. M. C., and Mrs. Goodloe are making a motor trip in Maryland, Virginia, and West Virginia. They will spend a short time in Braddock Heights, Buena Vista, Berkeley Springs, and Winchester.

Woman's Board of Missions Opens Annual Series Today

Activities Of Year To Be Reviewed—Course Of Study For Next Year Is Outlined

The Woman's Board of Missions of Central Union Church opens its forty-second annual series of sessions this afternoon at half after two o'clock in the Church parlors. The meeting begins with the reading of the vacation reports from the Hawaiian and Japanese Departments. Miss Laura Green will tell of the work that has been done among the Hawaiians during the summer months and Miss Julia Guller will speak of the work among the Japanese.

The course of study that will be taken up by the board this year will be on "The Comparative Religions of the World." The first paper is to be read this afternoon by Mrs. Joseph Emerson. The subject of her paper is "How the World Goes to Church." An invitation is extended by the President and members of the Board to all residents in Honolulu and strangers who are visiting in the city who may be interested in the missionary work, to be present at this meeting.

ONE OF SECRETARY KNOX'S RIGHT-HAND MEN IS A WOMAN

One of the foreign diplomatists called at the State Department recently in a great hurry in quest of information concerning an intricate question of diplomatic procedure. He paid his respects at the Secretary's office and asked for the quickest, most direct way of getting an answer to his inquiry.

"The quickest and simplest way," said one of Mr. Knox's secretaries, "will be for me to take you right to Miss Hanna, in the office of the Second Assistant Secretary of State."

"Miss Hanna, Second Assistant Secretary of State?" repeated the puzzled diplomatist.

"Of course, that isn't her official title," was the reply, "but now that Mr. Ade'e is away in Europe she is acting, so to speak—that is, she is our authority on matters of this kind. I doubt if anyone else in the department could answer your question."

The diplomatist was escorted through the double doors to Mr. Ade'e's sanctum, where he was presented to a young woman who looked as if she would be more at home on a tennis court than in a sweltering office on a hot summer day. There was just the suggestion of a blush as Miss Hanna listened to the questions propounded to her. Then she proceeded with a detailed answer, citing precedent after precedent to make her point clear, and referring the diplomatist to pages 374 to 378 of the Foreign Relations volumes.

Leading Woman Diplomatist.

The diplomatist now shares the view of State Department officials that Miss Hanna is by all odds the leading woman diplomatist of the United States. Indeed, her close association with Mr. Alvey A. Ade'e as confidential secretary, together with her natural aptitude and interest in her work, has made her an indispensable part of the government machinery. She has accompanied American delegations on two foreign missions, where her work proved most helpful, and her services are so valuable in Washington that during Mr. Ade'e's absence in the summer she can not be spared for even a few days' vacation, which, incidentally, she would like very much to get.

Miss Hanna is the daughter of the late Edwin P. Hanna, Solicitor of the Navy Department. She is not the type of girl who starts out to make a career. Her efficiency and development came through fondness for her work after she had started it and from a natural desire to do well anything she undertakes. She has absorbed something of Mr. Ade'e's remarkable and logical power of reasoning, has profited by her experience in diplomatic matters and incidentally has become a proficient French and Spanish scholar because she found this would help her in her work.

Has Been to The Hague.

She accompanied the American delegation to The Hague several years ago, and her French was a "life saver" to several of the Americans who could not speak a word of it. On the trip of the American delegation to the Pan-American conference at Buenos Ayres in 1910 Miss Hanna went along, and among her other duties taught the families of several of the delegates and several of the delegates themselves enough Spanish to get on with.

Miss Hanna's work on this trip was a splendid example of her versatility. She would be found in the midst of the brilliant receptions at the opera and in the workroom helping the delegates in their official reports in the course of the same evening, and her opinions were solicited on questions ranging from the proper method of addressing an official in Spanish to the correct dress for women at such and such a function.

When the delegates first arrived at the Hotel Plaza, in Buenos Ayres, for the official afternoon reception, the question came up as to the proper dress for men. The same dress as in the United States, correct afternoon attire, was the information volunteered from a dozen sources. While some of the delegates were in their rooms getting ready Miss Hanna telephoned to Mr. W. T. S. Doyle of the American delegation.

"Mr. Doyle," she said, "I am afraid some of our delegates are going to make a mistake in their dress. Of course, you know that full evening dress is the proper attire for the President's afternoon reception."

Mr. Doyle quietly relayed the message from room to room. The delegates appeared in full evening dress. They would have been greatly embarrassed had they not followed Miss Hanna's advice.

Not Self-Assertive.

There is nothing dictatorial or self-assertive about Miss Hanna's manner. She would never do as a speaker in a fiery suffragette meeting. Her manner is modest to a degree, essentially girlish at times, especially when she bubbles over in appreciation of a joke, even though the joke be on herself.

A reporter who called on Miss Hanna the other day tried hard to get her picture, and she finally decided not to give it up. Persistent requests brought another semblance of a blush which was later explained by one of Miss Hanna's friends.

It seems that a newspaper several years ago printed a picture of Miss Hanna which brought her a deluge of letters from different parts of the country. One in particular embarrassed her. It was from a man in Texas who wrote that he had seen the picture and wished to propose to her by mail. He added that he was taking the next train for Washington.—New York Herald.

PROF.'S SPANKING MACHINE MAKES WIFE ANGRY

CHAMPAIGN, Ill.—Because his wife objected to his using a mechanical device invented by him at the University of Illinois for punishing their child, Professor Duff Andrew Abrams beat her and she, had him arrested. He pleaded guilty and paid a fine of $12.50.

Mr. Abrams is associate professor at the university in applied and theoretical mechanics. He applied his theoretical mechanics to the erection of a spanking machine for the chastisement of children without the use of manual labor. When he tried to demonstrate the practicability of the device on his little son the mother objected.

A quarrel ensued, neighbors interfered, saving the child from a spanking and allowing the mother to escape. Mrs. Abrams called in two policemen and a constable. She said today:

"The matter is closed as far as I am concerned."

She got a portion of the furniture and took the child with her.

It is said the council of administration of the university and the

CHILD IS SPOILED BY PARENTS' LAXITY

A Young mother with her only child, who had not seen more than five summers, called at the home of a friend the other day, who was much put out at his behavior. From the moment the young matron arrived until the time of her departure, the youngster was a nuisance.

"Mama, what's that, and where's the rest of her arm?" he inquired, after having carefully examined a statue of Venus of Milo.

"It's a statue, dear; don't disturb mother while she is talking."

For a few moments the lady and her friend were permitted to indulge in peaceful conversation, when again the young one interrupted them with "Mama, when you step hard on this floor it makes a scratch; see, mama?"

Again the mother patiently admonished him and turned to talk with her hostess. These interruptions in a most interesting conversation continued the whole afternoon. Both mother and hostess made heroic efforts to cover over with smiles their displeasure. The child was spoiled, and although everyone else knew it, the mother herself seemed utterly unconscious of the fact and often spoke of some of her friends' children, who, in reality, were not so bad as her own young hopeful and yet were to her mind badly spoiled. It is said sometimes that children misbehave only in the presence of some one whom they do not like. If this be true there are many tots who evince a grudge against many of their acquaintances.

Realize Too Late.

Probably the mothers of over-indulged children do not realize how spoiled they are until it is almost too late to take another tack with them. The old saying that "children should be seen and not heard" seems to have been quite forgotten of recent years and the young ones are more often heard than seen though they are much in evidence when they are not wanted. Strange to say, it is the small boy who most frequently misbehaves in company, notwithstanding the fact that it was Eve who first sinned the traditional apple. The little Miss usually plots and schemes until she has had her own way and then sits with folded hands, and the expression on her sweet face can only be likened to the cat who has just swallowed the canary.

Some years ago a young matron ran into the nursery to kiss the tots goodbye before going to church to hear a discourse by a noted speaker, and the little boy insisted upon going along, though it was his bed time. There was a lengthy discussion and baby boy had his way, after promising solemnly to be good and "not talk." They were comfortably seated as near the choir as possible, and so long as the music lasted everything was lovely, but when quiet reigned and the speaker opened his address the little fellow piped up in the sweetest voice: "You see, mama, I not talk; I good boy." The little voice sounded sweet to the mother and to others seated near—the first time—but as the discourse proceeded and the cherub continued to interrupt his mother that he "no talk," raising his voice above that of the speaker, the glances directed toward the mother were not admiring ones, and she was forced to gather up her young hopeful and take him home. Baby had gained his own way and willingly went home to bed, and his mother missed the sermon that she had been looking forward to for a long time.

Big Sister Suffers.

Just why and just how mothers spoil their children no one seems to know, yet everyone, including the mothers themselves, deplore the fact that there are refractory children. The child who misbehaves when he is little is annoying, but the youngster of ten or twelve who is potted at home is tiresome and troublesome to one who is not accustomed to making excuses for his faults. Some times it is big sister who suffers, as is the case of a friend on a recent occasion. A young girl was asked by a friend to go to the theatre. As usual they were accompanied by small brother. All evening he made remarks that embarrassed both his sister and her friend, but at the ice cream parlor when the young man suggested a certain delicacy on the menu card the youngster burst out with: "Gee, that costs too much—twenty cents." When the tab was laid on the table the boy immediately reached for it and at the top of his voice cried: "Golly! a dollar!"

Naturally every word that is uttered by her baby seems wonderful to a mother, but not so to those around her, and when once a child has said something that is in a way funny, the next door neighbor is not always anxious to hear of it, and, too, when his smart sayings are constantly repeated within young America's hearing, the results are not always desirable.

One way to become popular is to let other people impose on you.

"BOY AND GIRL" SCORES HEAVILY

With the catchy words and music of "O, Gee, We're Married" ringing in their ears the audience which filled out the Hawaiian opera house at the close of the performance last night was unanimous in voting "The Boy and the Girl" the best play staged by the Ferris Hartman Opera Company since its arrival here.

Walter DeLeon, the author, with Miss Muggins Davies, scored the high honors for the evening and received a truly royal reception. Of course Ferris Hartman as the traveling salesman was as popular as ever.

"Slats," the fat boy, made a hit with his singing of "Hesitate" and was called back so many times for extra verses that his singing time covered fifteen minutes.

"The Boy and the Girl" is excellently staged and the company moves through it with vim and dash so that there is not one dull or dragging moment during the evening. It is replete with tureful musical numbers and the humor is refreshing.

"JUST FOR A KID" GETS CROWDED HOUSE

"Just for a Kid," undoubtedly the best skit staged here by the Teal company, played to a packed house last night. The sketch abounds with amusing situations and the lines are good, so that the performance is one well worth seeing.

The Teals will close their Honolulu engagement tomorrow night with a chorus girl competition for a prize offered by Raymond Teal. The girls are expected to present their best stunts and the one scoring the most approval from the public will be the winner.

WIFE'S HEALTH RESTORED
Husband Declared Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Would Restore Her Health, And It Did.

Ashland, Ky. — "Four years ago I seemed to have everything the matter with me. I had female and kidney trouble and was so bad off I could hardly rest day or night. I doctored with all the best doctors in town and took many kinds of medicine but nothing did any good until I tried your wonderful remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My husband said it would restore my health and it has." — Mrs. MAY WYATT, Ashland, Ky.

There are probably hundreds of thousands of women in the United States who have been benefited by this famous old remedy, which was produced from roots and herbs over thirty years ago by a woman to relieve woman's suffering.

Read What Another Woman says:
 Camden, N. J. — "I had female trouble and a serious displacement and was tired and discouraged and unable to do my work. My doctors told me I never could be cured without an operation, but thanks to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I am cured of that affliction and have recommended it to more than one of my friends with the best results." — Mrs. ELLA JOHNSON, 324 Vine St.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

OAHU COLLEGE TEACHERS, NEW AND OLD, COME

Punahou teachers, new and old, are now gathering from the ends of the earth to take up the year's duties. The Manchuria, Sonoma and Wilhelmina brought large contingents; the Wilhelmina especially, which arrived this morning, was loaded with "school neams."

Among the old teachers who returned from summer vacations on the mainland were Miss Margaret E. Clarke, Miss Helen C. Cadwell and Miss Edith R. Collins of the Music Department, Miss Mary G. Borden, Miss Florence N. Carter and Miss Helen Watkins of the Preparatory school staff.

There are an unusually large number of new teachers this year owing to an increase of five in the teaching force of the school, and to two leaves of absence as well as to the necessity of making up the gaps in the ranks made by the little god Cupid.

Miss Ethel M. Damon of the well known Honolulu family returns to Punahou after years of study in Wellesley and in Europe to a position in languages. Miss Ada E. Bentley of Salt Lake City, Miss Anna Lucille Alderdice of Pueblo, Col., Miss Ulineola Clough of Winthrop Center, Maine, Miss Clara A. Wilson of Hotchkiss, Cal., Miss Sue K. Eubank of Oakland, Cal., Miss Frederica Davis of Berkeley, Cal., all arrived on the Manchuria and have grade positions in the Preparatory school. Miss C. Lucy Maxwell of Oakland, Cal., Miss Emma C. Barnard of Tacoma, Wash., and Miss Maude Martin of Berkeley, Cal. came this morning on the Wilhelmina. They will also have work in the Punahou Preparatory school.

New Teachers Arrive.
 The new college teachers who came this morning on the Wilhelmina are Miss Clara M. Erowthen a graduate of Northwestern, of Juliet, Ill., who takes the stenography and type writing. Mr. John C. Wine, a graduate of Oberlin College who has worked in English. Miss Ethel M. Damon, returning to Honolulu after several years absence at Wellesley and abroad in a special study of German and French which she is to teach at Punahou.

Wm. Serry Burdick came Monday on the Sonoma. He is a Yale man and is to teach mathematics and science. He is an athlete and knows football, baseball and basketball so that he will be able to help the boys to some more athletic victories.

The two special teachers are Miss Ethel V. Crosby of Warren, Mass., the teacher of art who is yet to arrive and Miss Helen L. Latham of Minneapolis, Minn., the teacher of singing in the grades and choruses. Miss Latham made quick connections from her home and just caught the Wilhelmina.

WHOOPING COUGH.

GETTING READY FOR OPENING OF PUNAHOU SCHOOL

President A. F. Griffiths is getting things in shape for the opening of school at Punahou on Monday, September 9. He begins tomorrow to hold regular office hours every morning for conferences with parents and pupils. Principal Fitts is also at his office every morning for the purpose of meeting any parents of children who intend to enter the preparatory school.

All the buildings have been gone over during the summer, and by repairs and paint made ready for the year. The fire escape has been put on the Charles H. Bishop Hall, which now has three widely distributed means of exit. The trustees are especially pleased that the stairs and fire escapes in this building, which contains the younger pupils, are so ample and satisfactory.

The new girls' dormitory is growing fast. The foundations are practically completed and work on the first floor will soon begin. When Castle Hall is finished it will have rooms for both girls and women teachers, who for this year will live in Dole Hall and the cottages. The applications for places in the boarding department have been so many this year that a waiting list of girls and boys has been formed.

The college is building a new laundry for the boarding department. It is located on the Diamond Head corner of the grounds, not far from Dole Hall. It is a one-storied building, with a large, well-lighted basement, and will have all the modern conveniences for laundry work.

BOOSTERS TO CRUISE

voyage, but representatives of the Chambers of Commerce at San Francisco insist that they be allowed to charter the Victoria.

About a year ago an excursion of businessmen was planned from Portland to Honolulu, and was promoted as a private venture. The promoters chartered a vessel and made elaborate preparations for the cruise, but finally were compelled to abandon it owing to the fact that the bookings did not reach the necessary number to pay for the trip. After that various chambers of commerce discussed the matter, but nothing materialized. No it appears that the associated chambers of commerce, a strong and vigorous organization is backing the plan, and as part of it is to boost the exposition, the San Francisco leaders will probably carry it through.

"I heard of this while I was on the coast," said Secretary o'Wood today. "but the matter was then so incomplete that I did not think it worth while to make a report of it. Such an excursion would certainly be a fine thing for Hawaii."

SOUZA PAID STIFF FINE

J. J. Souza, arrested by Liquor Inspector Fennell, and convicted upon a charge of running a blind pig in Kakaako district, contributed one hundred dollars to the maintenance of municipal government, following the hearing of his case before Police Judge Monsarrat this morning.

After five years' endeavor upon the part of Fennell and his sleuths, Souza was caught with the goods yesterday. Two jugs of "evidence" were confiscated, and repose in the storage tanks at the central station.

The allegation is made by the police that for a number of years Souza has conducted a place of business where liquor was sold in large and small quantities. It was discovered that while the booze came from the premises, none could be found in the store owned by Souza. Through the efforts of an informer, the Souza residence near by was spotted and liquor was supplied the man at a time when Fennell and Officer Belmont appeared on the scene. The arrest of Souza then followed.

The presence of the Russian ambassador and Mme. Bakmeteff at Newport this summer adds interesting daily news items, as the couple are quite as assiduous in offering as in accepting hospitality. When the Russian flag is flying over their villa it is accepted as evidence that somebody is being honored or something going on out of the ordinary. Sunday last it was flying to the breeze because that was the name day of the czarina as well as that of Mme. Bakmeteff, and a luncheon was going on. Yesterday was the birthday of the tsaritsa and again the royal flag floated over "one villa. A message of congratulation was sent to St. Petersburg by cable, and at 1 o'clock the members of the embassy staff sat at about the luncheon board. In the party were Col. Baron de Bode and Baroness Elizabeth de Bode, who have a cottage in Jamestown; Capt. and Mme. Vassilief, Messrs. Ivan Dmitroff, H. De Bach and Andrew Kampasnikoff, attache.

LOCAL KINDERGARTEN ON MONTESSORI PLAN

With the view of supplying the need for a private kindergarten in Honolulu, one is about to be started at Waikiki under the direction of Miss Sarah M. Pratt, who recently received her diploma upon the completion of a two years' training course in the free kindergartens of this city.

This private kindergarten will be established on the property of George P. Castle, where a building has been equipped for the purpose, with a number of pleasing features, including a daily bath in salt water under supervision. A large tank knee-deep has been kindly offered for the use of the children. The Montessori method will be used, modified to suit local conditions.

Miss Pratt has enrolled a number of children, and further applications will be received by her until the opening of the kindergarten on September 9.

MANY GAMBLERS FACE JUDGMENT

Judge Monsarrat sat in judgment upon a score of more Asiatics charged by the police department with gambling. A party of ten Chinese arrested a few evenings ago were let off with a nolle prosequi.

Nine Filipinos caught while engaged in the pleasing pastime of monte were assessed fines of five dollars and the court costs.

Seven little brown brothers, who apparently fled from plantation labor to the more lucrative life afforded in Honolulu were arrested and fined for gambling, each paying a fine of five dollars with a dollar added as cost of prosecution.

JORDAN'S

10,000 MANILA CHILDREN GET DAILY MEALS AT SCHOOL

MANILA, July 31.—More than ten thousand Manila school children each day of the school week eat a substantial lunch of soup, bread, and meat, cooked and served by the children themselves. The lunches cost them a standard price of one centavo per unit for each item on the bill of fare. For three centavos they are served with a meal, which, for actual sustaining qualities, cannot be equaled in any commercial restaurant in Manila for twenty times its cost to the children.

Each public school in the city serves a midday lunch to the pupils attending that school, the meals being served at actual cost price of the materials used, and the cooking and serving of the lunches is one of the branches of the domestic science course, which every girl student must take. The marketing is arranged for daily by the committee of cooks, who are changed at stated intervals, and the income is made to correspond to the expenditures, with the exception of a small profit, which is applied to the purchase of fuel.

This is one of the most important branches of the school course, in that a well fed and nourished child has a much greater ability and aptitude for the absorption of knowledge, than an ill-nourished one. Statistics from the United States, and those collected since the beginning of the lunch system in Manila, show without question that this is the case. Especially among the poorer classes the difference is noticed within a few weeks, between the children who are nourished by the substantial food served at the schools, and those who are not, not only in their appearance, but in their aptitude for study.

SOUTH SEA TRADE IS INCONSEQUENTIAL

(From Consul General George E. Anderson, Hongkong, China.)

Trade to and from the South Sea Islands is likely to be no great factor of the near future, according to the report of a Hongkong business man who has recently toured that part of the world with a view of developing trade through Hongkong.

For some time several Hongkong houses, chiefly German in their connections, have been endeavoring to develop trade in those islands of the Pacific which are reached by lines to and from Australia and also by German and Japanese lines to certain islands reached from Hongkong in a more or less regular service which has been supported by subsidies and special grants from the governments concerned. There has been considerable trade at times with these islands from Hongkong, chiefly in the way of exporting rice and cotton goods to the islands and importing copra, line phosphate, and other products from the islands. Efforts so far to increase the trade have not been very successful, and this representative of a German house (Mr. A. Lamberski, of Melchers & Co.), who has investigated the matter, seems to think that any great development in the immediate future is unlikely. The exports of copra, rubber, phosphate, and the like have been increasing for a number of years, but it is likely that this increase will soon stop, for the reason that the native races are rapidly dying out and the supply of native labor is falling; in fact, the lack of native labor is the greatest drawback to any development whatever of that part of the world. This lack of population and failure of what now exists not only restricts possible demand for foreign goods, but the population now existing is such as to demand little. Clothing is next to nothing, foreign foodstuffs other than rice are practically unknown, and knowledge of other goods is practically nil.

Phosphate and Copra Output of the Islands.

The trade route visited includes Anguar, on Pulao Island, which has a European population of about 20 persons serving in connection with the export of phosphate. The island is only about 4 by 5 miles in extent, but the deposits of phosphate are enormous, and there is an elaborate plant for handling the product, including sheds for drying the phosphate, one of which will accommodate 12,000 tons at a time. The phosphate is shipped chiefly to Japan and Australia. The labor in the phosphate establishments was recruited from neighboring islands, the chief plant employing about 200 men, who represented about 15 different tribes from as many different localities. The dying out of the natives seems to be due chiefly to intermarriage with members of their own tribes only. The tribes are small, generally inhabiting a small island. There is constant warfare, due to intertribal feuds, and the loss of life from this cause is large.

A visit was paid to Yap and Maron coral islands devoted chiefly to the production of copra. All the islands in that vicinity are devoted to copra production. The chief point visited was Frederikshafen in German New Guinea, where trade and production are controlled by the New Guinea Co., a German corporation.

BLACK BASS AT WAHIAWA

Last year the Wahiawa Water Co., Ltd., of which E. D. Tenney is president, imported a quantity of black bass spawn to stock the Wahiawa stream and reservoir with that desirable food fish.

Evidently the plant is a complete success, as the other day a five-pound specimen of the fish was pulled out. Quite a number of three-pound fellows have been caught, while, it is said, small fry black bass is in great abundance. Fishing for a few days has been allowed. There are thirty-three feet of water in the reservoir. It came up six feet after a recent shower, but went down again. Rains are expected now through all the tributary region, which will insure an abundant supply of water.

No. Cordelia, blondes are not necessarily light sleepers.

Labor Shortage—Shells Used for Money

The exports of rubber, copra, coffee, cocoa, sago, and other tropical products are increasing and have reached a considerable volume. The labor situation in German New Guinea is similar to that in other islands, though the difficulty seems to lie more in the indisposition of the native to work on his native soil than to any actual deficiency in the supply. Labor is recruited from neighboring islands generally on short-term contracts, and nearly all the prominent planters have their own steamers for recruiting their employees. Demand for foreign goods is confined largely to strong American tobacco, the natives not appreciating their own product.

Shells are used for money to a considerable extent as yet, though the colonial government is gradually forcing the use of real coins. The native workmen are generally paid for their services partly in money, partly in cheap calico, and partly in cheap, strong tobacco. The principal islands in all that portion of the Pacific are reached by wireless telegraph systems established by German interests. The steamer service to and from Hongkong is confined at present to one steamer every two months. There is a service of an alternate steamer every two months from Sydney. A Japanese company is preparing to establish a monthly service to the islands under subsidy from the Japanese Government. Hongkong firms trading to these islands include Melchers & Co., Gibb, Livingston & Co., Wendt & Co.

AN ENEMY OF YOUTH

Lack of Blood During Years of Growth Lays Foundation for Much Ill Health

Youth is the time to lay the foundation for health. Every boy and girl should have plenty of pure, red blood and strong nerves. With thin, impure blood, they start life with a handicap great to win success and happiness. Pure, red blood means healthful growth, strong nerves, a clear brain and a good digestion. In a word pure blood is the foundation of health.

The pale, irritable boy or girl, who has no appetite or ambition, is sleepless, always tired out, melancholy, short of breath and who does not grow strong, is the victim of bloodlessness, the greatest enemy of youth.

There is just one thing to do for these boys and girls—build up the blood with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. You can't afford to experiment with unproven remedies. Through neglect or wrong treatment anaemia gradually developed into the pernicious form, which is incurable. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills work directly on the blood, cleansing it and giving it just the elements which it lacks. As the pure blood goes everywhere, the entire body, every nerve, muscle and tissue, shares in the health-giving properties of the pills.

Miss Helen Mattis, of No. 222 West Fifth South street, Salt Lake City, Utah, relates her experience gladly in the hope that others will be helped. She says:

"I was all run down, thin, bloodless and had no color whatever. Two doctors treated me but did not help me that I could see. I kept losing in flesh and weight. I had severe palpitations of the heart and often had to gasp for breath. It seemed that I was being smothered, my heart would beat so fast, I had no appetite and the least exertion tired me all out. I got discouraged with taking so much medicine, but my mother urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I felt some improvement from the first box and as I continued to use them my strength and weight increased and my color returned. I became real healthy again and I shall always speak highly of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

A free booklet, "Building Up the Blood," will be sent on request.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

HEALANI CLUB GETS NEW BARGE AT LAST

There was joy unconfined among the members of the Healani Boat Club for this morning the steamer Wilhelmina safely landed the new racing barge that the club oarsmen have been waiting for so long. The sixoared barge, which was built by Alf Rogers, of Alameda, the veteran builder of racing boats and shells, is a beauty, and drew the admiration of strengthening plasters. Chamberlain's club members and others who were at Pain Balm is cheaper and better the dock to see it slung over the side. Dampen a piece of flannel with it and water as soon as it is thoroughly over will relieve the pain and soreness. For ha'd to see that it is in no way safe by all dealers, Benson, Smith & Co., agents for Hawaii.

HO WAH CHAN, RICE PLANTER, CELEBRATES 61ST BIRTHDAY

Gives Great Feast at His Home in Waipio, to 120 Clansmen and Friends; Tells of His Arrival in Islands Thirty-six Years Ago, When Things Were Different

Waipio was the scene of a big celebration Sunday, for it was the sixty-first anniversary of the birth of a well-known Chinese rice planter, Ho Wah Chan, who for thirty-six years has made his home in the islands. According to an old-fashioned tradition which is common among the Chinese of all classes, the first year in every new decade of the birth is always more fittingly observed by a person who has attained the age of fifty-one, sixty-one or seventy-one. Therefore, Sunday's occasion was a memorable one, which may not be duplicated until the venerable gentleman reaches his seventy-first or his eighty-first anniversary.

Ho Wah Chan invited over one hundred and twenty guests to partake of his hospitality. Many of these were his clansmen from the Ho family. They began to leave the city as early as last Saturday afternoon in order to be present at the birthday feast. All the relatives and close friends within a radius of fifteen miles managed to get to the little farmhouse at Waipio to offer their congratulations. "Koon-hee-chong-fook-chong-seu!" was the greeting, which, interpreted, means "long years of happiness."

The guests were not disappointed, for they were treated to a rare twelve-course dinner, with birds' nest soup, sharks' fins, stewed ducks, chicken cutlets, fish balls, golden pork, fancy hotsters and other palatial dishes and delicacies. There was no band to entertain the host, but the afternoon was enlivened by the discharge of fifteen thousand firecrackers.

The host appeared robust and was in good humor throughout the day. He could not speak English, but his son, Sinf How, is an intelligent young man, eighteen years old, and educated in the public schools. It was a treat to hear the elder Ho relate of the good old days when he first came to the islands. The story of the shipwreck which has never been published is especially interesting, because the name of a prominent Chinese in the person of Ho Fon of Bishop & Co. is involved. "I came to the islands over thirty-five years ago with my nephew, Ho Fon, who was then a little bit of a chap," said Ho Wah Chan. "This was the day of the sailing vessels and schooners. Our ill-fated ship ran up against certain big rocks off the Molokai shores and was soon smashed. The water there was not very deep, but we managed to do the best we could until we were rescued twelve hours later by some Hawaiians in a little boat. Previous to our rescuing, I and my brother had our hands full in taking care of our little nephew. For over forty hours we had nothing to drink or eat, except some brown sugar. We surely leaped with joy to be present at the birthday feast, when we finally reached Honolulu."

Ho Fon, verified the story and added, "I owe my life to my two uncles who were very kind to me. I can remember how they took relays in carrying me on their backs, similar to what my mother and grandma used to do."

Ho Wah will soon retire. He has toiled diligently for years. He intends to make a trip to his early boyhood home in China.

"I am glad that I have lived to see China transformed into a republic," he said. "This is the age for the young generations to do things. I shall not return to the islands. What is the use? My brothers, sisters, and relatives cannot come on account of the unjust exclusion law. I do not care to be subjected to the unusual amount of red tape should I return to the islands. I hope to be able to live to the day when no harsh restrictions will be imposed by any nation to retard the movement of the desirable classes."

CHICAGO GIRL LEADS FEARLESS WAR ON VICE AND GRAFTERS

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 29.—They call her the "Joan of Arc of West Hammond."

It sounds like a joke, but it wasn't anything like that when she started to clean out the grafters.

No, no. It was no joke. Miss Virginia Brooks, a Chicago girl, who has dedicated her life to the uprooting of the Polish women—a little twenty-three-year-old girl—a girl with no previous training in politics, is this Joan of Arc.

Her father, on his death, left her $30,000 worth of property in this Illinois town. She received a letter from the assessor of West Hammond, assessing her $2000 for some vacant lots, and she scented graft. She had received information that all was not what it should be. This helped to confirm her suspicions. It also gave her resolution.

Once a Gay Society Girl. Mind you, Virginia Brooks was at that time, a year and a half ago, a society girl—parties, music, interpretative dances and all that sort of thing. She turned her back on all frivolity and became a reformer. She and her mother closed up their house in Chicago and moved to a cottage in Hammond—a town with a voting population of 750, with 55 saloons and un-speakable vice.

The town was largely Polish. She set to work to learn the language. Finally, having mastered the tongue, she called a meeting of the people—the graft-ridden people who, almost entirely, occupied mortgage-covered homes. The Poles are an emotional, impulsive people. She stirred them in their own language. In the ensuing election, Miss Brooks won.

The surprised politicians, bestirred to action, tried to reverse the vote, by which she won, but they couldn't muster the votes. The town was with Virginia Brooks. The women turned out to help her. They marched in her processions. They talked from the same platform with her. They weren't afraid to indulge in militant tactics. The politicians, in terror, fought in their last ditch. She won overwhelmingly. Here is how she describes her own campaign:

Used Power of Press. "To attract attention to our idea of what government should be, we campaigned vigorously to arouse the people. We did this by publishing in a weekly newspaper, started for the purpose, exposures of graft we had discovered among the thieves of officials who were protecting the dive-keepers. "We reproduced in this paper's columns contracts that were nothing but graft, and we even went to the extent of driving off contractors by force when they tried to put down inferior pavement.

"Another method that I used to arouse public attention and indignation was to read at mass meetings the names of all property-owners who had leased their places for saloons and resorts in West Hammond and in Hammond, Ind. It created a sensation at one woman's club, where I read it, and at some of whose members it struck very closely, but it all served to awaken the public conscience. People began to inquire why the police didn't clean them out, and gradually all classes, especially the more ignorant, whom we were having difficulty in arousing, comprehended the true situation.

The desperate dive-keepers not only threatened her with harm. They actually assaulted her, beat her and kicked her. But she had her teeth in the

IRWIN'S OLD PLACE SOLD

Three Separate Purchases at Rate of $125 a Front Foot

In three separate sales the old homestead of William G. Irwin at Kapiolani Park, which he occupied before his great mansion nearby was built, has passed into the hands of new owners. The price of the land was at the rate of $125 a front foot on the beach, the aggregate amount realized being about $32,000.

Through the agency of Percy M. Pond two subdivisions of the property were purchased. Rev. and Mrs. W. D. Westervelt bought the portion next to George P. Castle's place, having 150 feet of frontage and containing the dwelling house, for $22,000. Miss Cross bought the adjoining or middle lot, with 120 feet of frontage for about $15,000.

The third portion, adjoining the premises of General Davis, was bought by Mrs. David Center through the Henry Waterhouse Trust Co., Ltd. It has a frontage of 120 feet and the price was around $15,000.

These sales indicate an advance in Waikiki beach property.

ABSINTH IS PROHIBITED

(Food-inspection decision 147 by United States Board of Food and Drug Inspection.) It is generally recognized in countries which have had experience with the sale and consumption of absinth that this beverage is dangerous to health. Belgium, Switzerland, and Holland have forbidden its manufacture and importation; absinth is also condemned by the laws of Brazil and its importation forbidden.

The food and drugs act of June 30, 1906, section 11, forbids the importation of any food or drug which is "of a kind forbidden entry into, or forbidden to be sold or restricted in sale in the country in which it is made, or from which it is exported," and also of any food or drug which is "otherwise dangerous to the health of the people of the United States."

Importations of absinth into the United States, therefore, are prohibited, both because they come from countries which forbid or restrict its manufacture and sale, and because these products are injurious to the health of the people of the United States.

Section 7, paragraph 5, in the case of foods, of the food and drugs act, June 30, 1906, provides further that an article shall be deemed to be adulterated within the meaning of the act "if it contains any added poisonous or other added deleterious ingredient injurious to health."

The beverage commonly known as absinth is a manufactured product containing wormwood, or absinth (Artemisia absinthum), an added deleterious ingredient. The interstate shipment of this product is, therefore, prohibited under this provision of the food and drugs act.

The Secretary of Agriculture, therefore, will regard as adulterated under the food and drugs act absinth which, on and after October 1, 1912, is manufactured or offered for sale in the District of Columbia or the Territories, or shipped in interstate commerce or offered for importation into the United States.

Job and she didn't give up. "Warning to Dives! Twenty Days to Vacate."

That's the way she served notice on the corruptionists. They became frantic. Here is her own story of what followed:

"They threatened a variety of retaliation, and tried to embarrass the work by starting suits against me, but it only served to arouse the people more.

"For our part, we tried in every way to interest the courts and the prosecuting attorney, but we never could get an official to act against them. It seemed discouraging at times, and we even contemplated, in the event of ultimate defeat, to organize a rival town.

"No one knows how powerful such a ring organization can be until an effort is made to clean it out.

"However, the time came when every one was up and fighting and determined that West Hammond must be clean, courts or no courts.

"I told the people with all the emphasis I could command that they should rule, and, after studying over the situation, they, too, began to preach the same doctrine. We soon outnumbered the forces of the saloon and resort-keepers—as the good citizenship does in every community."

She Became Political Power. The result of it all was that she became a political power in West Hammond—did this little, bright-eyed, smiling girl who started out single-handed against the grafters. What she accomplished can best be told in her own words:

"I have saved for the Poles nearly $21,000 on reductions of overcharged assessments. I have succeeded in ousting an old clique who for many years had been grafting on the school board, and being elected myself to the office of president. This means that I will introduce into the neglected school manual training, domestic science, free night school, free kindergarten, and a playground.

"I have established a settlement house in Hammond, Ind., right across the State line, where the boys and girls have night classes and where mothers who work can take their babies for care. There are some 32,000 Poles in this region; and the future looks to great achievement."

IDAHO

By GEORGE FITCH

Idaho consists of a number of hopeful but lonesome communities bound together by a state election. It is one of the largest states in area, but is so sparsely settled by railroad depots that when a statesman in a northern county wishes to visit his constituents in the southern part of the state, he has to change cars four times and borrow a right of way through two neighboring states to get there. Thanks to the telegraph and the magazines, however, all Idahans speak the same dialect, eat the same kinds of breakfast food, and get mad at the same varieties of oppression by Wall street.

Idaho has 85,000 square, but by no means flat miles, and has 325,000 people, or one for each quarter section. However, over ten thousand of these people are crowded together in Boise, the capital and metropolis, and other thousands have massed together in Pocatello, Lewiston, Cour d'Alene and other BB towns with howling voices. Thus a great many square miles in Idaho are deprived of their rightful four inhabitants and it is possible to wander for hundreds of miles in the central part of the state without meeting a candidate with a petition or a man who wants to borrow a match.

Idaho is the last stopping place on transcontinental trains before the recall is reached. It is 400 miles long and two miles high in spots and most of it is only rained on biennially. In its virgin state it is so dry that even the telegraph poles have to be watered to keep them from wilting. However, irrigation is being applied in the valleys with much success and Idaho land is being sold as far west as Illinois in large quantities.

Idaho has vast natural deposits of gold, lead, timber, jackrabbits, Mormons and waterfalls. The waterfalls work well in harness and the Mormons have boosted the census tremendously, but no use has as yet been found for the jackrabbits, who are so intelligent that they can dig a young potato out of the sandy soil with one well-directed kick of a hind leg.

Until 1890 Idaho was a territory, with only a few scattering patriots, but it is now a flourishing state, which is growing rapidly and in loud tones. Most of its inhabitants go back east for old home week or college commencements, but the society of native-born Idahans is prospering and now has a chapter in almost every Idaho town.

NINE BILLIONS OF NEW WEALTH

Henry Clews of New York, in his special letter of August 17, has the following stimulating observations on the prodigious crops promised this season:

Nine Times The National Debt.

"This is pre-eminently a crop market. The West cannot be expected to quietly sit down and ignore the value of $9,000,000,000 of new wealth produced from the soil in a single year; a sum equal to nine times the national debt. To the great agricultural sections of the Northwest this will prove an irresistible stimulus. Merchants and bankers and manufacturers alike are prepared for a good business season. Our railroad managers anticipate a heavy traffic and are distributing their equipment accordingly. A month hence we may expect to hear loud complaints of car shortage. Some time ago the railroads placed liberal orders for cars and locomotives, and a crush of freight seems inevitable when the crop movement Eastward reaches its height in September and October. Two or three months hence the Western lines are sure to report satisfactory gains in earnings. The railroads, however, will not benefit merely from the large crops, they will benefit incidentally quite as much by what the crops are turned into (meat, etc.), by the general stimulus to manufacturing industries and by the vast quantities of manufactured products sent back from the East in return for the golden harvest and raw products of the West. No serious injury can now happen to corn, for only the northern section of the crop is in danger of early frosts. Cotton is more exposed to this risk than any other crop, and the next two or three weeks may prove a critical period. But at present there is no cause for anxiety and the outlook is for a very large yield—14,000,000 bales or over."

Mr. Clews gives reasons in detail for saying that the industrial outlook is very satisfactory. He then discusses the railroading situation, mentioning the necessity of large outlays for construction and reconstruction purposes. From which he goes on to say: Effect of Politics.

"General trade prospects are encouraging for the reasons stated above. Larger offerings of commercial paper testify that merchants are well prepared for increased activity. The opinion as to the effect of politics on business is divided. The majority believe, and with reason, that politics have done their worst and have been amply discounted. Western business men are certainly paying little attention to politics. In the East, however, the situation is somewhat different. Big financial interests do not like the attitude of labor and the Government towards the railroads. Two months ago hot tariff discussion are closely associated with us. Many of our great industries would be seriously disturbed by any radical revision of the tariff, which will be the main issue during the campaign this fall. Such a disturbance would be reflected in financial quarters. While the West is controlled chiefly by local influences, the East is unavoidably controlled by national and international interests; hence its sluggishness in responding to Western optimism. After all, it is possible that too much attention is being paid to political considerations. Congress will shortly adjourn. Then the opportunity for legislative disturbance will be over, and after the November election the necessities for political fireworks will be less urgent. Considering this fact, and that radicalism, though not dead, is declining in all parts of the country, there is reason for having more hopeful views regarding national political affairs."

According to a fashion paper, women's stockings made from real gold thread and silk are to be the proper thing abroad this autumn. They come from Vienna and cost $25 a pair.

MORMON CAMPAIGN IN LONDON SUBURBS

LONDON, August 30.—Mormon missionaries are again coming into the limelight in Great Britain, partly owing to the publicity given to the trial of a Liverpool woman, charged with trying to induce her 17-year-old daughter to accompany a Latter Day Saint to Salt Lake City. Little has recently been heard of the crusading Mormons in this country, owing to the wave of indignation their activities previously aroused. There were threats of parliamentary procedure against them some few months ago, and the storm of disapproval had the consequent effect of stemming the campaign for a while.

While Liverpool and Manchester have hitherto been the happiest hunting-grounds for converts, it now appears to be the intention of the Latter Day spellbinders to beat up Latter Day recruits in the suburbs of London, a start having been made in Stockwell and Brixton. There, as elsewhere in the country, this propagandist movement has been promptly attacked by members of various religious denominations. The counter tactics most in favor are to form young men into a light brigade of protest and persuasion. In Stockwell they successfully copy the methods of strikers, by establishing themselves as peaceful pickets outside the hall where the Mormon meetings take place and intercepting the girls, mostly of the servant class, whose curiosity about the faith of Utah has been appealed to previously by means of tracts.

So far most of the meetings have broken up in disorder, but undeterred by interruptions and threats of personal violence, the Mormon missionaries stick to their campaign until they are literally hounded from one district, when they proceed to another, where the same history repeats itself.

WHEN A LAXATIVE IS NEEDED—"CASCARETS"

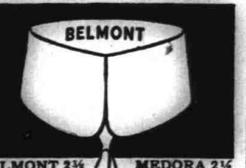

Salts, Calomel and Cathartic Pills are violent—they act on bowels as pepper acts in nostrils.

Take a Cascaret tonight and thoroughly cleanse your Liver, Stomach and Bowels, and you will surely feel great by morning. You men and women who have headache, coated tongue, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have backache and feel all worn out.

Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets—or merely forcing a passage every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? This is important.

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the intestines and bowels.

Remember, a Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning. A 10-cent box from your druggist means healthy bowel action; a clear head and cheerfulness for months. Don't forget the children.

MEN ARE HELPLESS AS CHILDREN

When Taken Suddenly Ill—Here Is a Common-Sense Safeguard.

Big, strong man is as helpless infant when he is suddenly ill.

The sturdiest chap in town usually loses his self-control, and is utterly unable to regard his condition with the common sense that characterizes his every-day actions.

For example: He comes home tired, eats a heavy dinner and sits down to read and smoke away a quiet evening.

Suddenly he notices a weight on his stomach; then sharp pains around his heart, and a feeling of suffocation. Thoughts of "heart disease" rush over him, and in his agony he fears the worst.

His trouble was acute indigestion brought on by overloading his tired stomach.

A couple of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets might have given him relief—might have saved him hours of suffering.

Carry a package of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets in your vest pocket or keep them in your room. Take one after each heavy meal, and ward off indigestion.

Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets relieve stomach troubles by aiding nature to supply those elements, the absence of which in the gastric juices, causes indigestion and dyspepsia. They tend to aid the stomach to digest all kinds of food and to quickly convert it into rich red blood.

We know what Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets are and what they will do. We guarantee them to relieve indigestion and dyspepsia. If they fail, we will refund your money.

Three sizes, 25 cents, 50 cents, and $1.00. Sold only at our stores or by mail. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store, Benson, Smith & Co., Ltd., Fort and Hotel Sts.

Mrs. Cook was drowned while rescuing a horse.

HER GREAT FEAR

By GERALD DAVIS

Colonel Rogers of Virginia was a man of the world, a bachelor and an excellent fellow at heart, though he was only understood by his intimate friends. No one ever thought of Rogers as a husband or a father. As to living with man, woman or child or having his affairs mixed with those of any one else than himself, the idea was preposterous. He was very fond of women's society and was popular with them, but always in a general, never in a particular, way. He had reached the age of fifty without any entanglements, but was not disposed to consider himself "out of the woods" so long as he lived. His one aim was to so conduct himself that no woman could get an advantage of him, for, though he admired the sex, he held the theory that no man could stand against any one of them either in duplicity or to prevent the accomplishment of any purpose on which she might have set her mind.

Rogers was very fond of play—this is, among gentlemen. He never played at a gambling house. Indeed, he once spent a week at Monte Carlo without investing a franc. "I never play to make money," he said. "I play only a gentleman's game for the purpose of passing the time."

Rogers went to Paris and was introduced at an aristocratic club there. One night at a social game he won from a young man named Rutan some ten or twelve thousand francs. The amount expressed in the French coinage sounds large, but it was a little over $2,000. Rutan was understood to be well off and did not seem to take his loss to heart, and, as for Rogers, there was nothing unusual in his winning or losing such an amount at any time. The settlement was made by Rutan's paying Rogers his winnings in new crisp bills of 1,000 francs denomination.

The next morning Rogers was sitting in the reading room of his hotel scanning a newspaper when a waiter announced to him that a lady desired to see him in a reception parlor.

"A lady to see me," exclaimed the colonel. "Are you sure you have come to the right man?"

"She wishes to see Colonel Rogers of Virginia."

Being the only and original Rogers of Virginia, the colonel raised himself from his comfortable leather covered chair and followed the servant to the lady. He found a very attractive looking person about thirty years old, but with a worried expression on her face.

"Colonel Rogers, I believe," she began in tolerable English.

"At your service, madame."

"You won last night from my husband 12,000 francs?"

"I believe I did, madame, win some money from a Mr. Rutan."

"Would you mind taking from me in place of the notes he gave you other notes to a similar amount?"

"I would gladly do anything to oblige you, madame, but I would like to be enlightened as to the reason for the change."

"And I would not think of permitting you to do me a favor without giving you some inkling as to the cause. I have always heard that the chivalry of Americans toward our sex comes largely from you southerners. Every one knows what may be expected from Colonel Rogers of Virginia."

The colonel bowed.

"I will trust you with the secret on that account. I know it will remain with you. My husband's father is wealthy, and my husband has nothing. I have, fortunately, some money of my own. My husband is an inveterate gambler. He has lost all the money his father has given him and broken every promise to reform. Yesterday, on his promise not to gamble, Mr. Rutan, Sr., gave him 12,000 francs, marked some of the bills and set a detective to watch his son. I discovered through an accident that the bills were marked, and my husband told me that he had lost them to you. I desire to save him from a break with his father, which, if it occurs, will never be healed. By replacing these notes he has given you with others I can avert this calamity."

There was nothing for the colonel to do but make the exchange. Indeed, he was glad enough to do so, for he was terror stricken lest he be connected with a family scandal. Taking the notes from his pocketbook, he counted 12,000 francs and handed them to the lady, receiving in return those she took from her own portmanteau. Then, with a profusion of thanks, she left him.

The next day a gendarme called at the hotel, and the colonel was charged with passing counterfeit money. Every note the lady had given him was spurious.

To Colonel Rogers his loss was nothing, nor was the position in which he was placed especially appalling, for he was above suspicion. It was the fact that after all his fears and all his caution he had been made the dupe of a woman. From that time forward he gave strict orders that no woman should ever be admitted to his presence, and he parried all efforts on the part of those who endeavored to have him come to them. He never quite recovered from the shock.

He played a number of times after that with M. Rutan, whom he discovered was a bachelor. Who informed the woman of the colonel's winnings was never discovered. It was doubtless one of the club servants.
