Fisher Calls on Settlement Worker to Talk of Social Conditions Here

Secretary of the Interior Fisher today switched his line of inquiry into Hawaiian conditions from the commercial and industrial side to the human and sociological side. Getting James A. Rath upon the stand near the end of the morning session, the secretary began to delve into social conditions here with the frankness that has distinguished his inquiry from the start.

Rath was equally frank in his answers, and some of these answers were rather startling in their content upon life in Hawaii. For instance:

The secretary took upon a line of inquiry as to the probability or possibility of Anglo-Saxons tilling the soil, and Rath, after declaring that most of the races mingled here with a great degree of freedom, gave as his opinion that Anglo-Saxons would not remain as part of a working settlement, that they would not mix to this extent with Japanese, Chinese, and others. Then Mr. Fisher asked him why this would be the case, and if the Anglo-Saxons would not mingle socially with people of another race.

"They're perfectly willing to give money to Christianize him," commented Rath, speaking to the relations of Anglo-Saxons here to an individual of another race, "but they don't want him in their midst." He stated further that in regard to this feeling, he sees little difference between the Anglo-Saxon born here and the Anglo-Saxon who comes here.

Rath was called by Mr. Fisher with this suggestion: "We've heard a good deal of the commercial side in this investigation. Now let's hear something of the human side," and Rath gave it. He gave as his opinion that the Filipino plantation laborer tends to drift toward the cities and that they seem physically unable to do the work. He doubted if homesteading under present conditions is practical. One of the features of his statement was that he absolved the governor from responsibility for conditions here. "I don't see how governor Frear is any more responsible for conditions here than I am," declared Rath. He doubted if social isolation here cuts much figure in the lack of independent small land-holders, stating that aside from the Anglo-Saxon race, the other races mingle freely. Furthermore, he gave as his unqualified opinion there is no more discontent among the masses here than in parts of New England with whose conditions he is familiar. He regards the present industrial conditions as the natural result of industrial development, saying that it has worked out here about as elsewhere.

A question from Mr. Ashford turned Mr. Rath to the subject of intermarriage between races and the consequent result. Rath said that there is much intermarriage here between Hawaiians and Anglo-Saxons, as there is in India between Indians and Anglo-Saxons. "But I pity the offspring," he commented. A little later he said that when he made this comment he was thinking particularly of the conditions in India, and went on to state that already there are many excellent part-Hawaiian workers and

CALLS CAUCUS TO NAME LANE IN MAYOR RACE

Only Supposed Friendly Delegates Invited to Accept
Kuhio Program

"BOSS" ANDREWS CLAIMS
CONVENTION CONTROL

Says Shingle Must Come Out in Open and Put Name Before Delegates

Ignoring those whom in his opinion are unfriendly to his cause and opposed to raising the race issue in the present campaign Kuhio and his managers have invited 227 out of 337 delegates to the county and district convention to meet at Nottley Hall tomorrow night and the hand there accept his program which calls for the nomination of John Lane for mayor.

Lorrin Andrews, chief engineer of the Kuhio committee, who aspires to become political boss by using and stepping stones which may lie in his way, was brutally frank in making the announcement whereby he claims the control of the convention, this morning.

"We invited only those delegates whom we have reason to think are friendly to us," he said. "We issued about 227 invitations. The other 110 we believe are unfriendly and belong to, or support the star chamber bunch which is attempting to secure control of the party. John Lane's name will go before the caucus as a candidate for mayor. He announced himself this morning. He also agreed to abide by the decision of the caucus and if some other man is selected to make the race, he will withdraw.

JOHN C. LANE
Whose candidacy for mayor depends upon the result of caucus tomorrow night.

"Robert Shingle has been spoken of as a candidate but we have heard nothing from Shingle as to whether he is a candidate or not. If he will announce himself as a candidate we will put his name with that of Lane before the caucus tomorrow night. If Shingle does not come out and say where he stands in this event probably he is the only one presented to the caucus. Whether they will accept him or not, I do not presume to know.

"Shingle would make a strong candidate and I feel confident that Lane too can win.
"I am not aspiring to be a boss of the party and neither are the other members of the committee. Lane showed his deep concern for the welfare of the party this morning, when he met with High Sheriff Henry and myself and volunteered to withdraw from the race if the caucus favored some one else. He is the only man who has announced his candidacy and if there are any others they must come into the open before the caucus."

Lorrin Andrews Man Who Wrote That Card

Here is the call sent out by Kuhio's managers for a Caucus of Kuhio forces in an effort to Seize the County Convention. The word that was scratched out of every Postal-Card, after they had been printed, was "OLIGARCHY."

And Everybody Gets Out from Under Responsibility for Raising Race Issue

OLIGARCHY:
A form of government in which supreme power is restricted to a few persons or a few families.—Standard Dictionary.

"I wrote the postal card through which it is charged an attempt to raise the race issue is made," said Lorrin Andrews, Kuhio's chief engineer, this morning. "I suppose the public is generally interested in learning what the word was that was scratched out. The word was 'oligarchy.' When I used the word in the first draft I intended it to mean the present incompetent officers of the Republican Territorial and County Central Committees. After the card was printed, I thought that possibly the use of the word might be taken to mean the sugar planters or some other large interest here, so I had it erased. We have no quarrel with the planters and we are not raising the race issue. We simply want to put the affairs of the Republican party in this Territory in the hands of men who will attend to business."

"The calling of a caucus for Saturday night was decided upon at a meeting held last Sunday," said Kuhio when asked about the origin of the postal card call. "I never saw the postal card until it was issued. The committee issued it. We called a caucus because it is necessary for us to do something toward getting the party organized. The present committee will do nothing. They will not even answer our letters. There has never been a call issued for the county convention that I am aware of.
"I have not endorsed any candidate for office and I am not going to. If my committee has done so, that does not mean that I have."

DANCE AT MONANA

A dance will be given at the Moana Hotel this evening, in honor of the first-cabin passengers of the transport Thomas. The army, navy, and local society folks are cordially invited.

MAY PUT NAVY RIFLE RANGE BEYOND RUGER

It is possible that the navy rifle range will be located beyond Diamond Head, instead of in the neighborhood of Barber's Point, as originally suggested.

LORRIN ANDREWS
Who wrote postal-card call to caucus planned to control county convention for Kuhio.

Asked if his plan to capture the county and district convention is not somewhat at variance with his oft-repeated statements that he was not meddling with county politics, Kuhio said: "We are going to try and control the county and district convention, solely in the interests of the party. It is the only way in which we can effect a reorganization along strong lines, but the fact that I am interested in securing a strong party organization does not mean that I am endorsing or fighting for any particular candidate."

Although the Kuhio leaders and Kuhio himself denies that the race issue is being raised, the fact is that from Kuhio headquarters the word is still being passed out to Hawaiians to vote a straight Hawaiian ticket and for a few "holes" on whom instructions are to be given at the caucus tomorrow night.

Admiral Cowles and several of the navy and marine officers have been giving the matter of a suitable site serious consideration for several weeks past, and there have been a number of inspection tours to various points on the island. The government wants a first-class range for the navy and marines, and is ready to spend the money for equipping it, but when it comes to acquiring the land, it is quite another matter.

The proposed trolley line to Pearl Harbor would play an important part in the selection of a site beyond Diamond Head, for there must be an easy and economical way of transporting the riflemen and from the range.

TRAIN 13 KILLS HIM FRIDAY 13TH

Cannery Employee on Way to Work Meets Death in the Railway Yards

The number 13, supposed to be representative of all the bad luck in the world, displayed its potency as a malevolent agent this morning in the case of Theodore Alexandrovitch an employe of the Hawaiian Pineapple Co. when on Friday the thirteenth he was run over and killed by freight train No. 13 in the Oahu railway yards.

The engine carrying five cars ahead left the station at an early hour this morning. Shortly after leaving the station, the brakeman stationed on the forward car noticed the man walking in the middle of the track and in the direction of the several canning factories. Despite shouts and calls, as well as the ringing of the engine bell, the man seemingly paid no attention to the warning. Before the heavy train could be brought to a full stop, four cars had passed over Alexandrovitch severing the body and dragging the remains for some distance.

Coroner Charles Rose was summoned and immediately conducted an investigation.

Alexandrovitch is a man of a family, a wife and two daughters and one son surviving. For some time past he has resided at Camp Number 3.

From inquiry made by Coroner Rose, the brakeman claim that every effort possible was made to warn the man of the approach of the train.

He is alleged by a Chinese witness to the tragedy to have turned at one time during the progress of the train and said that there was still plenty of time. Coroner Rose took the statement of a Chinese named Pak Ching this morning, who declares that he was standing upon the platform of a nearby pineapple cannery when the Russian fell beneath the wheels of the car.

Engineer Jacinto Rodriguez, of the freight train besides other members of the crew have been summoned to appear before the coroner at an inquest to be held at 1 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Inquiry made by the coroner this morning developed the fact that the Russian was on his way to work. An examination of his effects brought to light a battered metal badge such as is used at the pineapple canneries, the number being "950."

DEATH IS TRIBUTE TO NATION'S LOSS

THE PHOTOGRAPH ABOVE SHOWS GEN. NOGI AND ADMIRAL TOGO AT THE TIME OF THEIR VISIT TO THE UNITED STATES ABOUT A YEAR AGO.

[Associated Press Cable]
TOKIO, Japan, Sept. 13.—Count General Nogi, hero of the Russo-Japanese war and one of the great men of his nation, died as an act of sacrifice in honor of his beloved emperor, Mutsuhito, and in respect to his funeral, which took place today.

The Countess Nogi died with her husband, both committing suicide immediately following the solemn religious ceremonies.

The emperor's funeral took place amid one of the greatest scenes of mourning the world has ever seen. Literally hundreds of thousands of people, not only Japanese, but men and women of every nationality, stood silent in the streets and before the palace during the progress of the funeral cortege. Sailors, marines and troops representing all divisions of the military took part, the soldiers lining the route.

JAPANESE MOURN BEFORE DEAD EMPEROR'S PORTRAIT

Ranking as among the most impressive ceremonies ever held in Honolulu were the memorial services for the late Emperor Mutsuhito of Japan held in the assembly hall of the Japanese Consulate from eight o'clock until noon today.

The hall had been specially prepared for the ceremony. The back of the stage was draped in black and in the center hung a large photograph of the late Emperor, while above this, hidden by mourning crepe was seen a huge golden chrysanthemum, the emblem of the Imperial Japanese household. To the right of the photograph stood a Japanese pine tree, always used in connection with a ceremony of this kind, while on the left was a large vase containing chrysanthemums. Each side of the front of the stage was draped with Japanese flags. These were all the decorations.

Children Come First.
The ceremonies began at eight o'clock, and from that time on the pupils of the various Japanese schools, accompanied by their teachers and the trustees came to pay their respects to the late Emperor. As the pupils marched in they formed two groups, the boys on one side and the girls on the other, in front of the stage. At a word from one of the teachers, all made a low bow to the photograph, and at another signal marched out in

HEALY'S POPULARITY WINS HIM COMMAND OF TRANSPORT FLAGSHIP

Pointing with pardonable pride to a magnificent silver and golden cup, fourteen and one-half inches high, of Grecian design, and suitably inscribed, Captain J. H. Healy, master of the United States army transport Thomas, recounted some of the thrilling experiences in the treacherous waters and ice pack of the far north, whence, after weeks of hardship, he safely brought the transport Sheridan to her home port at San Francisco.

Captain W. P. Stimson, former skipper in the Thomas, has been transferred to shore duty. Captain Stimson is now rated as chief caretaker of vessels in the transport fleet, remaining at San Francisco.

Captain "Mike" Healy was the center of a group of friends this morning upon his arrival from the Coast. He was the recipient of a volume of sincere congratulation over the successful outcome of the voyage which carried him and his command to the Arctic Circle.

It was with considerable reluctance that Captain Healy told of some of the difficulties that were continually encountered on the memorable trip of the Sheridan, which on that occasion carried eleven hundred officers, soldiers and crew. For days the Sheridan was held hard and fast in a gigantic ice pack. It required much presence of mind as well as a display of skill as a navigator to bring the vessel through without damage or disaster.

The big, handsome navigator highly prized the loving cup that was tendered him on his return from the frozen north, which presentation was made last month at a time when a large representation of the Sixteenth and Thirtieth Infantry, both of which organizations had traveled under the guidance of Captain Healy, then master of the Sheridan, was present.

In addition to the silver token, the rental commander of the Thomas also possesses a written testimonial of his courage, which bears the signatures of thirty or more officers prominent in military affairs of the country.

The Thomas arrived off the port at an early hour this morning and was secured at the new Richards street wharf before 8 o'clock. A fine trip down from the Coast is recorded. The weather was fine and this is said to have contributed to the success of many dances and entertainments given on board.

One of the largest lists of first-class passengers to arrive at Honolulu in an army vessel in many months reached port in the Thomas this morning. There are forty-one passengers who left the transport at Honolulu, including a number of teachers and a delegation of clerks for the quartermaster's department.

For Honolulu four second-class and 43 troop passengers were left. The Thomas will continue the voyage to Manila by way of Guam at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, taking 83 cabin, 50 second class and 200 troop passengers.

Brigadier General H. H. Bandholtz, Philippine Constabulary, is the ranking officer on board the Thomas. Major Thomas G. Hanson of the Eighth Infantry is in command of the troops. The Thomas has been fitted up with a fine new barber shop, a convenience greatly appreciated by travelers. The troopship also brings a new quartermaster in the person of Captain N. K. Taylor, who assumed the duties formerly performed by A. J. McNab.

Captain Taylor has a host of friends on both sides of the Pacific. He is rated as the right man in the right place. Chief Steward W. J. Davies is making his first trip to the Philippines in the Thomas. He has taken the place vacated by T. Peterson, who, it is predicted, will take over the management of the big new hotel at Manila.

The Thomas will be given a large consignment of coal before her departure for the Philippines. In addition to a small amount of mail, the vessel brought a quantity of quartermaster supplies and personal effects.

Honolulu Back Sunday. The Matson Navigation steamer Honolulu, now at Kahului to discharge a quantity of mahland cargo, is expected to return to Honolulu Sunday morning, according to advices received at the agency of Castle & Cooke.

The Honolulu is scheduled to sail for San Francisco at 10 o'clock next Wednesday morning, taking a full quota of cabin passengers and large consignments of sugar and preserved pineapples.

Again Tanker Rosecrans is Refloated. Having been given up for lost, the American oil tanker Rosecrans which figured in a serious fire, has again been refloated and before the Matson Navigation steamer Honolulu sailed from San Francisco the Rosecrans had arrived at the California port to go into dock for a general overhauling and repairs.

Two Liners Collide Off Japan Coast. A Moji dispatch appearing in the Japanese papers reports a collision between the C. P. R. steamer Montezuma and the Shingū Maru of the Osaka Shosen Kaisha, the latter vessel being slightly injured.

EMPEROR'S FUNERAL

perfect order. School after school came and went until about a quarter of ten. From this time on the Japanese residents and subjects called. A committee of local Japanese business men and citizens attended in a body. Many soldiers who had served under the late Emperor were noticed among those who came to pay their respects, some wearing the decorations they had won in battle, and it was an impressive sight to watch these men, some of whom had seen the fire of many battles, as they stood before the photograph of the dead Emperor and gazed for many minutes upon it, before retiring.

Many of the local consuls attended as they were given notice yesterday that the ceremonies would be held today. They were met at the door by members of Consul Mori's staff. Acting Consul-General Mori, with Assistant Vice-Consul Kurusa, stood on the main floor of the hall to the left of the stage, both in full dress uniform and received the visitors.

As the Japanese visitors entered they advanced to the center of the hall about fifteen feet from the stage and made three deep bows. They then advanced toward the stage about four feet and again bowed, stepped back as many steps and retired.

FUNERAL CEREMONIES IN TOKIO MARKABLE FOR COMPLETENESS OF DETAIL

Preparations are complete at Tokio for the funeral of the late Emperor, Mutsuhito, and with Secretary of State Philander C. Knox representing the United States, the solemn ceremonial takes on much interest for Americans.

At the funeral ceremonies, His Majesty the Emperor was represented in the funeral procession by Prince Kanin, and the Empress Dowager by Princess Higashi Fushimi. His Majesty together with the Empress and the Empress Dowager, drove on ahead to the Aoyama ground, where they awaited the imperial coffin at the second torii (Shinto gate). After the funeral service their majesties will witness the entrapment of the body at the Aoyama station. Prince Kanin will also represent the Emperor at the burial service.

The funeral procession, which was to leave the imperial palace at 8 o'clock in the evening, was headed, according to the official program, by thirteen police guards, including the chief of the metropolitan police office, followed by the military and naval guards of honor. After them came in various order court servants carrying torches, banners, spears, bows, arrows, musical instruments, etc.; secretaries and commissioners of the funeral committee, ritualists and assistant ritualists, etc.

In the center of the procession proceeded the chief master of ceremonies and the minister of the imperial household, accompanied by several petty officials in the household department and preceded by a band of twenty-eight musicians and the director of the Bureau of Imperial Mausoleum. After the minister of the imperial household proceeded twelve torch-bearers, then five oxen attended by twenty-eight men and drawing the imperial funeral car. Before it walked two carriage attendants and two chamberlains carrying torches. Beside it walked twenty-eight generals and admirals. Then there followed the grand chamberlain, the chief aide-de-camp to the Emperor, and certain generals of the imperial household. Next comes the Emperor's deputy, attended by certain generals and military aides, and he is followed by the president of the imperial funeral committee, who also are attended by military officers.

The princes of the blood, their attendants, and the nobles related to the late Emperor followed, and after them there were the physicians who attended the late Emperor. Afterwards come the holders of the Grand Cordon of the Chrysanthemum and all others permitted to join the procession, which will be concluded with a military and naval guard of honor and a band of police guards.

The attendants in the procession will number 573, while the soldiers are expected to number 1500 or more, while there are 78 torch-bearers, the torches being made out of pine trees in the famous forests in Kiso, in Shinano province.

Those who were permitted inside the enclosure at Aoyama are, besides the court and government officials, the mayors, chairman of municipal assemblies, members of the Tokyo Aldermen's Council, the heads of wards, the chairman of the ward assemblies in Tokio, the president of the Tokio Chamber of Commerce, the principals of private schools of middle or higher grade, the representatives from Korea, Formosa and Karafuto, members of the diplomatic corps and the consular body, foreign holders of the Order of Merit and orders of higher class, and foreigners employed in the government service who are accorded the privileges of Chokunin rank. Gentlemen must appear in evening dress, bearing a mourning badge, but ladies were allowed to wear ordinary dress with a mourning badge.

The entrance to the enclosure at Aoyama is guarded by a number of soldiers. The imperial coffin was placed at once in the specially constructed chapel. The Emperor, the Empress and the Empress Dowager and other imperial people were then come forth from their resting rooms. Prince Takatsukasa, chief ritualist, was the first to offer prayer, and was followed by the Emperor, the Empress Dowager, and the princes and princesses of the blood. The prime minister and the minister of the household made their devotions next, both representing their subordinates, and then came the high officials, nobles and others.

It is said that the heir apparent and all the other imperial princes and princesses under age did not join the funeral procession, but will merely follow the coffin from the state chamber to the Nijubashi, whence they will proceed to Aoyama ahead of the cortege.

Regulations are already being issued from the central police station as to how people shall conduct themselves on the funeral day. Permission will be granted to individuals or parties to witness the funeral, but as there will be many applications, those who wish for such permission must apply as early as possible. Punishment is to be meted out for offenses such as looking out of second-story windows or peering rooms that people may watch the procession therefrom.

Prince Yi at Fuzhou. It is said to have been privately determined by the household department and General Count Terachi that Prince Yi shall proceed to Tokio to attend the funeral, as so many princes and other important persons are to be dispatched from foreign countries.

FISHER PLANS TO SEE "MELTING POT" OPERATING. Secretary of the Interior Fish will have an opportunity tomorrow afternoon and evening to see the famous "melting pot" of the world in actual operation, and during the inquiry this morning expressed his intention, if he can make arrangements, to attend the exercises given by the boys and girls at the Palama social settlement.

He was informed, during his public discussion with James A. Rath, that the last census of the Settlement school showed that children of about twenty-four nationalities are associated together there. The Secretary expressed deep interest in the affair, and said he would gladly accept Mr. Rath's invitation to attend the autumnal children's program tomorrow evening with Mrs. Fish, if his time will permit.

Schooner Not For Sale. Despite the statement that attempts had been made to purchase the American schooner William Nottingham, the reported sale of this vessel has been denied.

Three offers have been made to purchase the dismantled schooner William Nottingham, which the Globe Navigation Company has replied that she is not for sale. The vessel has been re-released by the underwriters and it is supposed that her repairs will be undertaken soon.

Los Angeles for Another Steamer Line. BOSTON, Mass., Aug. 26.—According to an announcement by Daniel O. Ives, transportation expert of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, a line of steamships—seven vessels costing $1,000,000 each—is to be put in operation between Boston and Los Angeles, via the Panama Canal. The promoters of the enterprise have received the approval of the Chamber of Commerce and of the port directors.

Wireless Long Distance. VALLEJO, Aug. 25.—The first direct communication between the Mare Island Navy Yard and the recently completed Pribilof wireless station in Alaska was established today. The operators conversed freely over the distance of 3100 miles. The Alaska station recently was overhauled by wireless experts from Mare Island under command of Lieut. Edwin H. Dodd. The party has been in Alaska three months.

SIEGE GUNS AND HOWITZERS WERE FIRED TO GOOD EFFECT

Coast Artillery Practice Yesterday at Schofield Barracks Satisfactory to the Department Commander and to Major Timberlake—Firing More a Test of Material Than Regulation Target Practice—Oahu's Defenses Strengthened

The 105th company of Coast Artillery has taken its turn at firing the big siege guns and howitzers, and on the whole, has "done itself proud." Drag a coast defense soldier away from his rocky stronghold behind Diamond Head, load him down with equipment, march him 30 miles, and then turn him loose on unfamiliar ordnance, and he is at considerable disadvantage. In spite of all this, the gunners of Capt. Johnson's company made a good showing at the practice yesterday with the 5-inch siege guns and 7-inch howitzers, and the point on the hillside against which the fire of shot and shell was directed, has been a mighty uncomfortable one for any of the theoretical enemy serving the imaginary guns.

Tough looking customers are the big siege guns, giants alongside of the pieces of the Field Artillery. The howitzers are business-like appearing guns, short and chunky, like the Ruger mortars, but capable of being laid for either direct or indirect fire. They have more elevation than a rifle, but not as much as a regular mortar, and are effective up to about 6000 yards.

With the dust of months of disuse upon them, eight siege guns and four howitzers have been lying idle in the gunsheds at Schofield. Yesterday they were fired for the first time, and the practice was more a test of material than a target practice in the accepted sense of the word. The idea was to see what the guns were good for, and also to train the coast Artillerymen in handling them. His were of secondary importance, and the showing was quite satisfactory.

The 105th company brought into action only four siege guns, and two howitzers, leaving a like number for the 15th company, under Lieutenant Vaughan, to assemble and fire next week.

On a small knoll across the ravine from the Field Artillery entrenchment, their sinister muzzles pointed to the distant slopes, the guns of the siege battery made a warlike showing yesterday. Half of Schofield Barracks turned out to see the firing, a general invitation having been extended to all the officers of the post, and the enlisted men turning out in force to see the fun, and observe the "red-legged infantry" in action.

General acomb, who was a Field Artilleryman before he won his star, was on hand early, accompanied by his aide, Lieutenant Andrews, and by Lieutenant Campanile. Major Timberlake, commanding the Artillery District of Hawaii, motored out from Fort Ruger to observe results, while Major Crikshank, and Captain Appel and Hand of the First Field Artillery were interested onlookers, rendering considerable assistance in supplying transportation for the guns, and otherwise giving a friendly hand to the Coast Artillerymen.

These siege guns are similar to the ones used by the Russians during the Japanese war," said General Macomb, who was attached to the Russian army as one of the military observers of the United States. "They are effective pieces, and it is possible to do very accurate shooting with them. It should be understood that the firing this afternoon is more a test of material than anything else. The guns have been fired before, but not here, and it is necessary to see in what sort of condition they are in."

Just what constituted a hit was not decided, the firing being directed at a group of four small targets, barely discernible to the naked eye, of the same size as a gun and limber, at a range of 3700 yards. The howitzers were fired at a group of two targets 700 yards nearer. This range was mere play for the siege guns, which are designed up to 9800 yards. The odd shot dropped close round the targets, but the sharpshooters of the post, with the targets marked the corners and center, and communicated with the battery by field telephone, which was strung just prior to the firing. The howitzer firing was quite accurate, one of the shots dropping within 7 yards of the target.

"These are some guns," said a busy Coast Artilleryman after the last shot had whistled toward the hills on its errand of destruction. "But give me the old mortars every time. This business of getting the line with a cross-hair yanking against the trail isn't scientific. Then again, it don't seem natural to see what you're firing at. And they don't make enough noise. Why I could stand right next to one of these siege guns and not get my ear drums busted. It don't seem right."

The 105th company will start its long hike back to Kaneohe tomorrow, and Monday the 15th company will hit the grit for the two-day march. The camp will be left standing, and the second company will right into the tents of the first.

Twenty-five per cent. was being quoted for reinsurance in London on the Glenroy at the beginning of that month, when news of her stranding in the Straits of Asumbina was received. The value of the ship was stated to be $265,000.

Japanese Take Over Latest Purchase. The British steamer Indravelli, which has been sold to Japanese, arrived at Kobe from Kokojama on the 16th inst. The buyers are the Mitsui Bussan Kaisha, and the sum paid for the vessel is reported to be $140,000. The Indravelli is a steel steamer of 4825 tons gross, and was built at Glasgow in 1897.

FISHER HEARING

business people here, and that as a whole the part-Hawaiians are becoming better.

Besides Mr. Rath, the others who were called upon this morning were B. F. Dillingham, who told extensively of his railroad operations here; A. W. T. Bottomley, of Bishop & Co., who was asked about the homesteading operations around Olaa, and H. Gooding Field, the expert accountant, who was called on briefly to comment on what he considers local conditions to need remedy.

Mr. Dillingham then gave a history of the development of the Hilo railway. That was an economical line, easily constructed, he asserted, costing only about $20,000 a mile. He told how he and his associates withdrew in favor of some others who claimed to have several millions to begin work immediately.

Mr. Dillingham then told of going to Governor Carter and taking up with him the matter of the Hilo Railroad construction, asking 20 years' exemption from taxation as one of the encouragements. Carter favored this for ten years anyway, and the Legislature passed a bill to this effect.

Mr. Dillingham stated briefly how he suggested to Gov. Carter that in view of the obstacles of building the road, the Government get, if possible, the organic act changed so that the Territory could guarantee four per cent on bonds for railroads authorized, and that the road itself should pay six per cent on its bonds, two per cent of which should go for a specific purpose—building and development of interior carriage roads on Hawaii.

He thought it a very improper proposition, said Mr. Dillingham, saying there were a few holders of government bonds here who wouldn't like it. So we went ahead on our own arrangement.

A four percent dividend was paid early in the history of the line, but no dividend has been declared in recent years, because the earnings did not warrant it. The net profits last year, however, were about $30,000 to $35,000, while this year they were $48,000.

Asked about homesteading, Dillingham said he believed it would be a good thing to have more people here if they could make a living. He would naturally desire to form a railroad standpoint.

But I cannot see how it is going to do any good to uproot a system that has cost so much to establish and which is proving so successful in a financial way, to make room for a lot of malcontents who don't understand conditions.

Regarding pineapples as a crop, he said it has been only within the last few years it has had a real test, but though it would not prove practical to the small homesteader, because of the great expense it entails.

Of the government lands on which leases are expiring, he thought it would be a rather dangerous experiment to open these for homesteading, seriously crippling the plantations. The mills are expensive propositions and the owners need control of sufficient land to insure enough business for the mills to make them pay for themselves.

He admitted, however, that there are limitations to the land, that about the only alternate crop is the pineapple. The Secretary informed him that others have testified that land best suited for sugar is generally not a success as pineapple land.

Attorney Ashford then questioned the railway man regarding the establishment of the plantations along the Oahu railway line. Asked if any promoters' stock was issued on the Ewa plantation, he replied:

Mr. Dillingham went into Ewa's financial history, saying it was capitalized originally for a half million, which was a million or a million and a half too low, and when Castle & Cooke had carried the plantation off to the point of suspension they were finally able to raise more money and later the capitalization was increased.

As to the financial results, he said the Oahu line was started with a capitalization of $700,000 and intended to extend only about 20 miles, or to Ewa. There was no apparent business in sight beyond that point.

The net earnings, he said, are about $1,000,000. The surplus dividend has largely gone into new rolling stock and extending the line.

Fisher asked if any of the original stockholders ever paid into the treasury. Dillingham answered he could not remember any large amounts thus paid by stockholders. The Secretary again asked if any of the stock now outstanding had been paid for by actual cash, turned into the company's treasury.

Mr. Dillingham then told of going to Governor Carter and taking up with him the matter of the Hilo Railroad construction, asking 20 years' exemption from taxation as one of the encouragements.

made on the freight, upon a schedule previously agreed upon. What Railroad Has Done. Ashford questioned Dillingham further on the stock issues and dividends of the O. R. & L. Co.

"I'll tell you what we paid for our franchise," said Dillingham. "The Government granted us this franchise and we've built up the taxes on all this island from $220,000 in 1892 to between a million and a half or two millions, which this government receives from the efforts of one or two men. Beyond the point where the railroad reaches on this island, the taxes have remained about as they were. That's what we paid for the stock."

Questioned further, Mr. Dillingham said warmly: "I don't own all the stock, Mr. Ashford. Humanity has enjoyed the blessings of this railroad."

Ashford asked as to the trustees of the bondholders and Mr. Dillingham said Governor Frear and R. W. Atkinson. Fisher asked Dillingham if any statement has been prepared and made public showing the financial condition of the Oahu railroad, including the capital account.

Mr. Dillingham said he did not know whether this had been publicly shown since the start because of organization and reorganization in the early stages of the road, but that it can all be determined from an examination of the books. The annual reports, he said, show these accounts in all their details.

Mr. Fisher said he is anxious to get an accurate report showing to what amount of cash money has been actually put into the road in construction, extension, etc.

On examination by Attorney Olson Mr. Dillingham said that Governor Frear has been trustee for the Oahu bondholders for some eight years.

"Well, Mr. Dillingham," said Fisher good humoredly, "if you've got a road with the capitalization you've mentioned, your stock selling at 140, and only two millions of bonds outstanding, we can safely assume that the duties of a trustee for the bondholders would be rather perfunctory."

Rath Talks on Social Problems. Mr. J. A. Kennedy was then called for, but was not present. James A. Rath, head of Palama Settlement, was called. He said he came here from Springfield, Mass., where he had acquired training in social work.

He came here in March, 1905, and since that time has been engaged in settlement work. He stated that the settlement or mission work into which he entered was started by the Central Union church. He described the general nature of the work, declaring that it sometimes even extended to finding wives for the men.

The population in the settlement is largely Japanese, though there are large numbers of Chinese, Hawaiians, etc., the records last year showing 24 nationalities.

Asked regarding the report that plantation workers are drifting into the city and going into other lines of work, he said the Filipinos are the only noticeable race in this respect. He admitted that in many instances the Filipinos are not strong enough for it. He said their complaint is usually that the work is too hard.

While the Filipinos make little complaint of small wages, many Spaniards enter that objection to plantation life. They often say, he asserted, that they have to pay so much as the plantation stores that they cannot make a living. He had made no comparison of the prices at the plantation stores with prices in the city.

Doubted Homestead Plans. He thought homesteading under present conditions is a difficult proposition. "I don't see how it can be made a success," he said. "My father-in-law aptly explained the situation when I sought to get him to come here from his home near Boston. He said if he came here and raised cane, his only crop, he would be at the mercy of one man, while at his own home he could haul diversified crops to the Boston market and get good prices, being at the mercy of no one man."

"I can't see how Governor Frear has anything to do with the condition present here," he added a minute later. Concerning the shifting of immigrants from the islands to the mainland, he said he could not explain it more than that they are drawn by the glamour of going to "the white man's land."

He gave an interesting narrative of the manner in which the different races mix here, declaring that the mixture is very free and unlimited. Asked as to the effect where Anglo-Saxons took homesteads on land and found themselves neighbors of Orientals, he said he thought the Anglo-Saxon would eventually move out. They don't like the close social position, though they are willing to give money to Christianize the Orientals.

He thought there is a tendency here to regard all manual labor as peculiar to the Oriental, and told a story of a proposed partnership in a lawn mower between a white and Chinese boy, which was upended by the white lad, as being beneath him. Asked regarding the so-called Japanese strike, he said he noticed the Japanese places were taken by men in the city, who were paid about $1.50 a day, and that there was considerable competition for the jobs. He said the larger boys rushed to get tickets early and reach the plantations before others, to get work.

Asked by Attorney Ashford what he thought the effect of $1.50 steady wages would have on Honolulu, Mr. Rath said he could not answer, not knowing. In answer to a question by Attorney Olson, he declared that if a tract is to be settled by Anglo-Saxons, the Oriental race would have to be denied holding on the same section; otherwise the Anglo-Saxon would not stay.

"If you want to keep the Anglo-Saxon you cannot mix them with the other races. He stands aloof from them." He admitted it was true there are many intermarriages between them and the other races, but added: "I pity the offspring." At the same time he admitted many of these had been successful and said he had in view when he spoke, of the admixtures in East India.

Field Says Too Much Politics. H. Gooding Field, the expert accountant and efficiency expert, was then summoned. He told of his coming here, his work for the Honolulu Chamber of Commerce and the Hilo Chamber of Commerce.

"I came to the conclusion that the local governments were inefficient," he said in answer to the query as to his conclusions, "due to the inefficiency of the individuals in the various offices." He stated that his views had been brought publicly in reports on his investigations.

He said he did not know that any action had been taken on his recommendations, to improve conditions. He admitted, on questions by the Secretary, that he had not had occasion to investigate the public utilities companies.

He said he believed there is too much politics in the islands, and that it is impossible for the larger interests to effect changes because they are not in a majority at the polls. Attorney Ashford then asked him if he understood the testimony given yesterday by W. W. Goodale, on the Waiwala plantations, and if there are laws providing against fictitious returns of property values.

He replied that there is at present no law providing for independent audits, which must be made to ascertain the verity of returned values. A. W. T. Bottomley of Bishop & Co., was asked regarding prices or wages paid homesteaders, replying that most of the labor was handled by the Japanese, on contract. He thought one man could care for about 10 acres of cane. His concern had about 20 or 30 such laborers, most of the others holding smaller tracts.

"We prefer to rent less than 10 acres, so that one man will produce larger, better crops," he said. "We started in about ten years ago with the idea of getting the coffee planter to stay as a homesteader. When the coffee boom failed we turned to sugar and adopted the leasing system."

Where his plantation had to adopt a policy, it used the contract, being willing to give long contracts when they are desired. The prices paid the producer vary with the market, at present being $4 a ton, as sugar is worth 4 cents at New York. The Secretary then began figuring in detail the cost of sugar production on Bottomley's figures.

Bottomley thought the small producers could produce cane as cheap, or cheaper, than the large plantation, under these conditions, largely because the homesteaders in this section have better land and have been able to give the crop more attention. He thought that this year, however, his company and the small producers are going to get about the same yield.

"Who will be raising the cane at the smaller price?" he was asked. "That's a question. It's about a standoff." He thought the small man working for himself will work longer hours and harder than for wages. Most of these he was thinking of are Japanese. He said there were three or four white homesteaders there, and gave the Secretary their names. There is one large Hawaiian planter who has about 400 acres and sublets it to laborers. All the others are Japanese, he asserted.

"Our manager considers he can grow cane cheaper by day labor than by contract or leasing," Bottomley said. He admitted he and the manager differed on that point. Secretary Fisher then adjourned the hearing until 9:30 o'clock tomorrow morning.

A STRONG SUGAR MARKET PREDICTED. Willett & Gray's review of the raw sugar market under date of August 29 is in part as follows:

As anticipated by us, our market has continued to advance as a result of the temporary scarcity of raw sugar supplies. Centrifugals were quoted last week at 2 3/4 c. & f. for Cubas or 4.11c. landed, basis 96 deg. test, but holders became much firmer and obtained 2.13-1.6c. c. & f. (4.17c.) for some 50,000 bags early September. Cubas, sold to Federal, with a further advance, a day or two later, to 4.25c. for small lots of nearby Surinams and Porto Rico, also sold to Federal.

The latter extreme price was only paid because of delay in the arrival of previous purchases. Other returns are not in urgent need of supplies and are not disposed to pay the last advance, at which they could secure a moderate quantity of Cubas, nearby and for shipment, say at 2 3/4 c. & f. and a cargo of Javas, due to arrive in September, say at 1 1/2 c. & f. & L., each being the equivalent of 4.25c. landed. Some holders ask 2 1/2-1.6c. to 3c. c. & f.

It is a question, therefore, whether or not a cargo arriving in the next few days, unsold, could be disposed of at 4.25c., yet this price may look cheap some time before the middle of October, during which there may be further delays in arrival of supplies. The supply and demand outlook for the next six weeks is such that we may have a very irregular market, with many fluctuations, ranging, possibly, from 4.11c. to 4.36c. for 96 deg. test.

It is reported that but few charters for August loading in Java have been made, large stocks being held the island by speculators who may overstay the market; also, that freight from Java is now 40 to 45 shillings (double normal rates), and present indications are that Cane sugars will be very scarce in October-November, thus making us dependent largely upon European Beet for deficiencies in supplies of privileged sugars at that time, which insures a continued strong market until there is a pressure of new crop Beet. The Louisiana crop will be small and cannot help us out as much as usual. Shipments from Philippine Islands have been smaller than last year, 130,000 tons against 98,900 tons to end of June, but the holders there have finally decided to let their sugar come forward freely to the United States.

Stock of unsold sugar in Cuba is small, probably not more than 70,000 nothing to offer until October, and West Indies have disposed of about all their crops; Brazil mail advices report some Centrifugals in stock, but have not yet offered them here.

European markets advanced 10 1/2 c. on prompt Beet, but reached 7 1/2 d. at the close; October-December Beet fluctuated narrowly. Cuba reports favorable to 1,850,000 tons with a small quantity still making and on plantations.

Our cables from Germany and London report favorable weather for the beet crop in some sections, but partially suffering from rain and needing sunshine and warmth. The weather in September-October especially will be of importance as affecting the quality, and meanwhile no close estimates of the output can be made. Thus far the weight is good but sugar content backward.

Visible Sugar Supply. Stocks in the United States and Cuba together of 357,860 tons, against 386,028 tons last week and 190,845 tons last year, an increase of 166,315 tons from last year. Stock in Europe, 953,000 tons, against 1,093,000 tons last year. Total stock of Europe and America, 1,310,000 tons against 1,283,845 tons last year at the same unladen dates. The increase of stock is 26,155 tons against an increase of 115,586 tons last week. Total stocks and floats together show a visible supply of 1,569,660 tons against 1,590,344 tons last year, or a decrease of 20,684 tons.

ARMY AND NAVY NOTES

Naval demonstrations at San Francisco, Manila and New York October 14 and 15 have been ordered by the Navy Department. Simultaneously with a review of the Atlantic fleet at New York the Pacific fleet will rendezvous at San Francisco and the Asiatic fleet at Manila. Officials say there is no political significance in the order.

The demonstrations will follow the program of exercises of the Atlantic fleet now in progress off the coast of New England. The vessels will assemble in the lower Hudson river at New York for review by President Taft and the Secretary of the Navy. The new naval monsters, Arkansas and Wyoming, the latest additions to the navy, will be commissioned in time to take part.

The President and his guests, including prominent officials and members of the diplomatic corps, will review the fleet from aboard the Arkansas, and Rear Admiral Osterhaus, commanding the fleet, will use the Wyoming as his flagship.

In number and tonnage the fleet will exceed that which was reviewed in the same waters last year. In addition to the new ships it will include the vessels of the Atlantic reserve fleet and the torpedo and submarine flotillas. Arrangements for the review are now being made by the officials of the Navy Department and the officers of the fleet.

It is said that the plans of assembling and review will be materially different from the ones carried out at the demonstration last November. According to the estimate made at the Navy Department, there will be about 120 vessels gathered in New York harbor. This is approximately twenty-one more than were present at the great demonstration last November.

The rendezvous of the Asiatic fleet is dependent upon the conditions then prevailing in China, it was said at the Navy Department. At San Francisco about fifty vessels will be called together under command of Rear Admiral Southard. The Asiatic fleet will assemble approximately twenty vessels, under command of Rear Admiral R. F. Nicholson.

The entire Atlantic fleet with the torpedo flotilla and a number of Auxiliary vessels has left Newport and put out to sea for the annual summer practice. Later in the month the will cruise to the Southern drill grounds, off the Virginia capes.

The revenue cutter service received full measure of official commendation by President Taft and Secretary MacVeagh for the work of Capt. K. W. Perry and the officers and crew of the revenue cutter Manning, on Kodiak Island, Alaska, during the volcanic eruption of Mount Katmai from June 5 to 9.

The Manning rescued 500 people, many of whom would have perished but for this timely aid, which the President wrote "compels admiration and deserves praise." Instead of putting to sea beyond the zone of danger, the President pointed out, the Manning remained in port in the face of apparent destruction.

In addition to Capt. Perry, Secretary MacVeagh commended Lieut. W. K. Thompson, J. F. Hahn and K. W. Kraft, Shipwright F. R. Bred, Assistant Master-at-Arms R. J. Madden, Coxswain O. Hatfield and Seaman F. Campbell.

GETTING UNDER COVER

Caught yesterday in as brazen a political trick as was ever tried in this territory, Kuhio and his managers are "getting under cover" just as fast as they can.

Kuhio backs out of any responsibility for that appeal to race prejudice contained in the "postal card call" by declaring that he didn't see the card sent out, that his committee did it all.

And his committee, composed of the saintly and sweet-scented Mr. Andrews and three others, issue a statement this morning in which they also back out of responsibility for raising the race issue.

Incidentally, they characterize as "utterly false and untrue" the statement in this paper that instructions are being given by Kuhio's managers to Hawaiians to vote a straight Hawaiian ticket with the exception of a few favored haoles. However, this doesn't happen to be either false or untrue, whatever the difference in the two words may mean to Kuhio's sputtering indignant managers. It is true. It has been repeated outside Kuhio headquarters and repeated by men so prominent in the Kuhio camp that their information is not to be questioned.

Now as to the claim that the prince is not attempting to get control of the county convention. Just one quotation from the postal card so unwisely sent out disposes of that claim forever: "You are requested to attend a caucus of all delegates to the Republican county and district convention who are favorable to the Hon. Jonah Kuhio Kalaniana'ole."

There is no call here for a general caucus, no appeal on broad lines. It is a call of Kuhio men only. It is a naked appeal to irresponsibility. It is a calculated attempt on the part of three or four men to hold up the Republican party at the point of a gun loaded with race-prejudice, and deliver the government of this city into the hands of incompetent, inefficient nondescripts whose only claim to consideration is the fact that they will vote as Kuhio's managers dictate.

ANDREWS

Lorin Andrews and his part in this campaign can be summed up in a few words. Andrews is the busy little chap who tried to edge his way into the Taft league this spring to fight Kuhio. Getting nothing from the Taft league but the polite intimation that it couldn't afford to be mixed up with him, he promptly ran over to the Kuhio camp to sit up and beg for an encouraging look or a bone. What he got there is a matter of history, and the glorious licking he took in his precinct, the eighth of the fourth, was only equalled by the glorious licking he had been given in another precinct, the third of the fourth, two years previously. Now he has dodged through the back door into the Kuhio camp, where a few bones have doubtless been flung to him.

Scuttling around from door to door, wherever there are bones for himself to be picked up, is not particularly nice, but political mongrels cannot afford to be nice.

WHAT IS KUHIO'S CASE?

Delegate Kuhio again yesterday, as he has done repeatedly during the hearings before Mr. Fisher, exhibited a lack of constructive criticism for the present conditions that would be ridiculous were it not so serious.

It was so serious that it drew from Mr. Fisher a comment that amounted to rebuke,—the comment that it does not do for one man to impugn the motives of another who has not done something that the first man cannot tell how to do.

Moreover, the delegate, backed into a corner quickly by a few very simple questions put for information by the secretary, got himself on record in a way that does no good to his own personal fight by saying this:

"Perhaps the fault is not very much on the administration here—perhaps the fault is in Washington."

And again:

"I think something should be done."

But just who is to blame the delegate is unable to prove; just what should be done, he is unable to point out. He made one half-hearted suggestion yesterday, and that was government reclamation for Hawaii, but when Fisher asked him what he himself had done to secure an extension of the federal reclamation service to Hawaii, or what he had done toward putting into effect in this territory some such system as the Carey act provides, the delegate, who points with pride to his ten years' record in Washington, actually stammered and plainly found the question not to his liking.

The truth is that so far neither Kuhio nor his counsel have had any real constructive criticism to make.

Have they any at all? The hearings are well advanced, and as yet Kuhio's "case" looks mighty flimsy.

BLOOD IN ULSTER'S EYE

Civil war in England!

It sounds incredible, but that is just what "fighting Ulster" is threatening if the Irish Home Rule bill is passed by the next parliament. Within the last two months conditions have become so nearly chaotic that the talk of civil war is no longer regarded as an outburst of hysterics.

The case for Ulster is stated by the late Duke of Devonshire on the same lines, as quoted by Sir Edward Carson, M. P. for Dublin University, in a letter to the London Times. The passage runs as follows:

"The people of Ulster believe, rightly or wrongly, that under a government responsible to an imperial parliament they possess at present the fullest security which they can possess of their personal freedom, their liberties, and their right to transact their own business in their own way. You have no right to offer them any inferior security to that; and if, after weighing the character of the government which it is sought to impose upon them, they resolve that they are no longer bound to obey a law which does not give them equal and just protection with their fellow-subjects, who can say—how, at all events, can the descendants of those who resisted King James II. say—that they have not a right, if they think fit, to resist, if they think they have the power, the imposition of a government put upon them by force?"

D. Kalanokalani, Sr., is somewhat of an uncertain quantity in politics. He joined the Progressives when George R. Carter headed the organization of the fourteen immortals, he is claimed by the Democrats, has been talking things over with the Kuhio Republicans and yesterday was boosting for Home Rule forever.

J. M. Dowsett is the right kind of senatorial timber. There ought to be no question of the nomination and election of such an eminently capable citizen and legislator as he has proven himself to be.

Why talk about naming a governor from the mainland until it is proved that the present governor has not been a success in office? That is the point under consideration just now.

Local Democrats believe Sheriff Jarrett is sure of reelection, but they are worrying over the prospect that Mayor Fern may have to run against Bob Shingle.

Kuhio naively denies any responsibility for the call to a caucus issued by his manager, Andrews, et al. Perhaps they are only taking his name in vain.

If this trial of "vets" at Schofield Barracks keeps going much longer, there'll be a new angle on the movement for a recall of the judiciary.

Secretary Fisher seems to have no particular trouble extracting the information on Hawaiian sugar conditions that he is after.

In view of recent developments in China, nobody can blame Dr. Sun Yat Sen for declining to stay in as president.

When politicians of the Andrews stripe begin to call caucuses, decent men may well have a care.

The best place to see that total eclipse next November will probably be Oyster Bay.

Is the Kuhio-Frear controversy going to be forced into the county convention also?

LITTLE INTERVIEWS

ATTORNEY C. W. ASHFORD—I want to congratulate the Star-Bulletin on its journalistic enterprise in publishing such a complete report of the hearings before Secretary Fisher.

C. H. BROWN—I have been away six weeks, going as far as Chicago, and Diamond Head looked good to me on coming in. Kansas, Washington, California and Illinois are strong for Roosevelt. Wilson will be elected. Taft will hardly have a look-in, as thousands of Republicans all over the country are going to vote for Wilson.

ALEXANDER YOUNG—The rice-planters of the Pawaia flats are complaining of the serious lack of water and an investigation disclosed the fact that Manoa stream is at an almost record-breaking ebb. Did Kapiolani Park have enough water for a thorough flushing each day the mud there would be a little fresher, smelling, anyway. Pinkham's plan wasn't so bad after all.

PERSONALITIES

CAPT. J. E. BELL of the Second Infantry returned from the coast in the Thomas this morning.

MISS I. UNDERHILL, Herbert A. Wade, Mrs. G. A. Hoffgaard, and Miss Helen Burton are returning teachers in the transport Thomas.

Daniel D. Fish, of the quartermaster department, comes to Honolulu to enter the property division in a similar capacity. He is accompanied by his wife, and were passengers in the troopship Thomas.

R. F. CLAYTON, headquarters clerk, has joined the ranks of the benedictines. Clayton returned from the mainland in the troopship Thomas this morning and introduced Mrs. Clayton to a group of inquiring friends.

RICHARD BOLTON, one of the old timers in the clerical division of the U. S. quartermaster department, has been transferred to Honolulu and is an arrival in the transport Thomas. "Dick" Bolton has a long experience in the Philippines and on the mainland to his credit. He is accompanied by Mrs. Bolton and their son.

TWAIN'S TRIBUTE TO GRANT

Lodge Quotes Diary of Adams to Prove Statement of the Profanity of George.

Albert Bigelow Paine tells of Mark Twain's now forgotten speech at the great Grant dinner in Chicago in 1872. He had been asked to respond to "The Ladies," but changed his toast to "The Babies."

Mark Twain's decision afterward that he listened to both speeches that night which he would remember as long as he lived. One of them was by Emory Storrs, another by General Vilas, another by Logan, and the last and greatest by Robert Ingersoll, whose eloquence swept the house like a flame.

"Clemens' own speech came last. He had been placed at the end to hold the house. He was precepted by a dull speaker, and his heart sank. It was 2 o'clock and the diners were weary and sleepy and the dreary speech had made them unresponsive."

"They gave him a round of applause when he stepped up upon the table in front of him—a tribute to his name. Then he began the opening words of that memorable, delightful fancy."

"We haven't all had the good-fortune to be ladies; we haven't all beer generals, or poets, or statesmen, but when the toast works down to the babies—we stand on common ground."

"The tired audience had listened in respectful silence through the first half of the sentence. He made one of his effective pauses on the word 'babies,' and when he added, in that slow rich measure of his, 'we stand on common ground,' they let go a storm of applause. There was no weariness and natteration after that. At the end of each sentence he had to stop to let the tornado roar itself out and sweep by. When he reached the beginning of the final paragraph, 'Among the three or four million cradles now rocking in the land are some which this nation would preserve for ages as sacred things if we could know which one they are,' the vast audience waited breathless for his conclusion. Step by step he led toward some unseen climax—some surprise, of course, for that would be his way. Then steadily almost without emphasis, he delivered the opening of his final sentence:

"And now in his cradle somewhere under the flag, the future illustrious commander-in-chief of the American armies is so little burdened with his approaching grandeur and responsibilities as to be giving his whole strategic mind at this moment to get in to find out some way to get his own leg into his mouth, an achievement which (meaning no disrespect) the illustrious guest of this evening also turned his attention to some 56 years ago."

a chill of fear. After all, he seemed likely to overdo it—to spoil everything with a cheap joke at the end.

"No one ever knew better than Mark Twain the value of a pause. He waited now long enough to let the silence become absolute, until the tension was painful; then wheeling to Grant himself, he said, with all that dramatic power of which he was master:

"And if the child is but the father of the man, there are but few who will doubt that he succeeded!"

"The house came down with a crash. The inkling of their hero's great military triumphs with that earliest of all conquests seemed to them so grand a figure that they went mad with the joy of it. Even Grant's iron serenity broke; he rocked and laughed while the tears streamed down his cheeks."

TRADE EXPANSION IN FULL SWING

Bradstreet's, August 24: Expansion is the key word of the trade situation as the month draws to a close and buyers feel the seasonal spur to the laying in of supplies for fall and winter. This is, of course, largely predicted upon the prospect of assured or expected large crop yields, and finds chief expression in the west, northwest and southwest, where crop certainty has, generally speaking, supplanted prediction. Coincidentally with the marketing of the early gathered crops, collections show a tendency to improve, and the money market likewise gives evidence of increased activity and strength of quotations. Perhaps the only possible check to full present or near future activity is found in the gradually evening political campaign, but it is a matter of widespread remark that political discussion is apparently given less than expected weight, while trade and industrial attention is largely riveted upon the more solid assurance of good crops and the expansion of human activities that usher in the autumn season.

Weather conditions have not been altogether favorable to trade this week, heavy rains having visited most sections of the country, but particularly the northwest, where spring-wheat harvesting, threshing and movement have been interfered with, and also the corn belt, where, however, the rains are regarded as a favorable feature, in that a supply of moisture sufficient to mature that crop has now fallen. Warm, dry weather is the chief desideratum here and in the south, where cotton is conceded to have gained ground during August, and a next-to-record crop of the south's chief staple is apparently in the making. Trade demand has expanded noticeably in dry goods, lumber, coal, wool, shoes, leather, and last, but by no means least, iron and steel, where higher prices have apparently not acted as a bar to further booking.

FOR THE CHILD

Here is a Unique Way of Saving Money

A company is doing business in the middle west on a plan new to me. It is taking advantage of the general desire of parents to save for the education and future benefit of the child to market coupons redeemable after a certain amount of goods are purchased from indicated stores.

Here is the explanation of the company's plan: Your most reliable and responsible merchants will pay into your child's bank account 2-3 per cent of all cash purchases of 50 cents or more made by you and by your friends at their stores. If you run an account many of these merchants give you 2-3 per cent of your bill when you pay it.

Payment of this 2-3 per cent. is made in the form of coupons, to be deposited in a bank. The coupons are non-negotiable; that is, they cannot be converted into cash. No cumbersome method of registering the child is necessary. The coupons are good only or deposit in a sound bank. Here they are accepted as cash deposited in the name of your child. The coupons or deposit are to be taken to the bank in an amount not less than $1. The banker accepts the coupons as cash deposited and makes out in the child's name a regular bank passbook, at the same time issuing a certificate of membership. The bankbook remains in possession of the child and shows the amount deposited.

This money cannot be drawn from the bank until the child has arrived at the age of 21. On that day the banker will pay over the money the child deposited, with a smile of encouragement and a wish for the success of the boy or girl.

This is an interesting variation of the merchandise coupon idea; it is one which, in good hands, ought to work well to encourage the growth of thrift.

IN THE WOMAN'S WORLD

ANNA KLUMPKE LECTURES ON ROSA BONHEUR TO LARGE CROWD

Kiuhana Art League Rooms Filled by Audience That Hears with Interest of Great Woman Animal Painter—Pictures on Exhibition

It is so seldom that lovers of art in Honolulu have an opportunity to meet so distinguished an artist as Miss Anna Klumpke that the reason for filling the rooms of the Kiuhana Art League last night is easy to find. The occasion was an illustrated lecture on the life of Rosa Bonheur, the greatest painter of animal life the world has ever known. Miss Klumpke is particularly well fitted for the subject for she was a close friend and companion of Miss Bonheur and is her biographer.

Forty-five slides were thrown on the screen showing paintings of the famous artist from her earliest work to that done at the closing of her life. Particularly noteworthy and interesting was that of a horse's head painted by Miss Bonheur when but thirteen years old. Included in the number were the most famous canvases, most famous at least from the point of view of the audience who has become familiar with her work through reproductions. These included the "Horse Fair," "The Stag," "The Lion," "Highland Cattle" and there were a number of canvases of sheep shown. Local color was easy for Miss Bonheur because she surrounded herself with her subjects rather than depending on her memory after visits to the manageries.

The description of the pictures often coupled with humorous reminiscence was at once illuminating and interesting to the audience. At the close of the lantern slide exhibition Miss Klumpke was introduced to the hundreds who were present by invitation by Mrs. Frederick J. Lowrey, representatives of Honolulu's social set were present and met the little lady upon whom fell the task of writing the life of a wonderful and a famous French woman. Following the reception the genuine Bonheur pictures, ten in number, were uncovered and the audience was permitted, many for the first time, to inspect paintings, the like of which has never been shown here. These included many celebrated pictures known to the world through art works published abroad. There were three of these that were quite tiny but full of feeling of the respective subjects. "Waiting Patiently" represented a doggy waiting meal time. There is a depth of color in the pictures which is not always familiar to many who were present but which they were told was Miss Bonheur's feature. Four paintings by Miss Klumpke were also much admired and in some quarters honors were divided if expression is to be accepted as indicating value. One of a fair young girl posing among Easter lilies, a large canvas, was much admired as was the portrait of Miss Klumpke's father a venerable looking old gentleman whose white hair was intensified by the dark background. The handling of the subjects showed a development of talent through an almost life time with the famous Bonheur. No young woman with talent ever had such an opportunity as had Miss Klumpke and she apparently let none get by.

There is to be a public lecture on Monday night at the same place at which a fee of admission will be charged. The pictures are wonderful and no one who cares for art even the

Y. M. C. A. DIRECTORS FORM PLANS FOR YEAR

At a banquet tendered them by the association's executive officers, the directors and trustees of the Y. M. C. A. met last night and discussed plans for the coming year. Each secretary gave an outline of the plans for his department and following the meeting the regular meeting of directors was held at which many of the ideas were acted on.

Two important matters were taken up at the directors' meeting, the first being the budget, which was passed with a total of $26,000 for the year, and the second being the adoption of the plans for the campaign for 1913 members by May 1.

Several addresses were made during the evening. Mr. Wisdom gave an outline of the social work of the organization in detail; A. F. Larimer spoke on the educational work; Loomis and Cross spoke on the boys' work and J. A. Ulrich gave a talk on an apprentice in the association.

WOMAN IN CHARGE

For the first time a directress is to be appointed who will assume entire control of the women's prison in Berlin, writes a contributor to the Monitor. There have long been women officials in the prison service, but no woman could obtain a higher post than that of matron. The Prussian authorities therefore consider the present departure in the light of an experiment. From Oct. 1 the women's prison will be organized as a separate institution, entirely free from male control. The directress will receive a salary of $500, rising to $1020 per annum with an official residence.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH TONIGHT

An informal gathering of the members and friends of the Christian Church will be held this evening at 7:30 at the church to meet the Taggard family, just returned to Hawaii to live, and a party of missionaries being sent out by the Foreign Christian Missionary Society to various stations in the Orient. MOSS ROCK DISAPPEARS

Moss covered rock so dear to the heart of the builder of the modern bungalow was a matter that brought two Japanese named Yamamoto and Yoshida Fugimoto, represented by Attorney Bert Lightfoot before the bar of police court justice this morning.

Charged with the removal of one or more wagon loads of this material used in the beautifying of Honolulu homes, the Japanese a plea of not guilty.

Attorney Lightfoot filed a demand for a preliminary hearing before Judge Monsarrat and also a trial by jury.

H. F. Wichman was among the witnesses called to the stand at the instance of the prosecution. It is claimed that the Japanese with a wagon called at the Hind premises on Twentieth Avenue, Kaimuki, and were seen to load the vehicle with rock alleged to have been removed from inside the property line. The Japanese were placed under arrest and according to testimony from Chief of Detectives McDuffie the rock is valued at about three dollars a load.

Prosecuting Attorney Brown and Lightfoot entered into a brief verbal tilt before the court ruled that both defendants be held for trial before the circuit court. The Japanese are out under nominal bond.

STOVES PRODUCE HEAT IN COURT

Three stoves, while innocent of fuel, served to produce considerable heat in Judge Monsarrat's court room during the course of a hearing of a case in which a Chinese named Chung Yau Heong, is alleged by the police as having secured the possession of the articles of domestic necessity through process other than legal.

Defended by Attorney Charles Chillingworth, the Chinese entered a plea of not guilty as charged.

Chillingworth and prosecuting Attorney Brown enlivened the dull monotony of an "off day" at police court with frequent sallies, in the course of a grilling cross questioning of a principal witness for the prosecution.

The claim is made that the Chinese took possession of the stoves and at a later date attempted to dispose of them.

The case was not completed this morning owing to the absence of one or more witnesses, who were at present employed on a nearby plantation.

ONE MILLION DOLLARS FOR A GOOD STOMACH

This Offer Should Be a Warning to Every Man and Woman.

The newspapers and medical journals recently have had much to say relative to a famous millionaire's offer of a million dollars for a new stomach.

This great multi-millionaire was too busy to worry about the condition of his stomach. He allowed his dyspepsia to run from bad to worse until in the end it became incurable. His misfortune serves as a warning to others.

Every one who suffers with dyspepsia for a few years will give everything he owns for a new stomach.

Dyspepsia is commonly caused by an abnormal state of the gastric juices, or by lack of tone in the walls of the stomach. The result is that the stomach loses its power to digest food.

We are now able to supply certain missing elements—to help to restore to the gastric juices their digestive power, and to aid in making the stomach strong and well.

We know that Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets are a most dependable remedy for disordered stomachs, indigestion, and dyspepsia.

We want you to try them and will return your money if you are not more than satisfied with the result.

Three sizes, 25 cents, 50 cents, and $1.00. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store, Benson, Smith & Co., Ltd., Fort and Hotel Sts.

WILD PHILIPPINE TRIBES BEING TAMED

The southernmost peninsula of Mindanao, including the Sarangani Islands, is as yet very sparsely settled by planters and traders. This territory is occupied by Manobos, Bilanos, Tagacaolas, Calagans and Sanghils Moros, the latter being traders who are peaceful and very lazy, being too wise to work.

The Calagans are a detached tribe situated on the largest island of the Sarangani group. They are quite peaceful. Their folk-lore indicates that several generations ago they came from islands to the south.

Portions of the Manobo, Bilano and Tagacaola tribes are, as yet, rather wild and treacherous. Most of the renegade leaders who have during the past years swept down upon the peaceful coast people from time to time, have been captured or killed. Many of the followers have, under stress of periodical hunger, made friends with the planters and traders along the coast. During the past year the various commanding officers at Butuan Cove have gained the confidence of large numbers of these people and under the stress of food shortage now prevailing many of them have indicated a willingness to move to the plan-

RECREATIONS
BID FAREWELL TO HARTMAN CO.

Many people from the army, navy and social sets gathered at the Hawaiian opera house last night to extend a befitting farewell to the popular Ferris Hartman company. They didn't neglect to bring souvenirs of the islands, either, and there were huge bouquets, ukuleles, boxes of candy and of course for the pretty chorus girls bits of jewelry and a large assortment of rings.

"The Toymaker" was their final production and from the continued curtain calls one would conclude that the audience was loath to have them go. Arthur Fox, manager of the Oriental theatrical company, Ferris Hartman and W. Adams all expressed themselves as more than pleased and repaid for their efforts to entertain the people of Honolulu. Hartman spoke of his engagement here as a holiday and Fox said he felt encouraged to bring through another company, as their willing support proved that theater-goers here appreciated high-class productions. He concluded by thanking all his patrons.

It is rumored that the company will return in February and from the many friends they have made during their three weeks in the islands it is safe to say they will be greeted with a rousing welcome.

GOVERNOR CREATES NEW FOREST RESERVES

In accordance with the recommendations of the Board of Agriculture and Forestry, the Governor has issued proclamations creating new forest reserves on Maui and Molokai and adding 396 acres to the Waianae Kai reserve on Oahu. The proclamations are merely the formal fulfillment of the promise made several weeks ago by the Governor, as published in the Star-Bulletin at the time, on the report of Superintendent of Forestry Ralph Hosmer.

All persons interested are cordially invited to come, and persons wishing to place blossoms in the exhibition are requested to have them at the hall by nine o'clock tomorrow morning. The admission will be free.

It was deemed unnecessary to comply with this request in view of the fact that the secretary had already procured from Governor Frear proper credentials for Dr. Clark.

A letter from Mr. Halsey, U. S. Inspector of Immigration here, covering a letter from Commissioner Backus in San Francisco, was submitted, which asked the local board to pay the expense of deporting a certain Russian immigrant, who arrived at Honolulu in the steamer Siberia on March 25, 1910, and was now a public charge and suffering from a chronic disease in San Francisco. Secretary Kearns having verified the facts, the board allowed the claim.

It was ordered that cabled instructions be sent to Raymond C. Brown in London to John Dr. Clark in St. Petersburg. Also, it was voted that Mr. Brown's engagement be continued until June 30 next.

STARRETT WOULD GIVE GRATES TO ONION-GROWERS

A meeting of the Board of Immigration was held in the directors' room of T. H. Davies & Co. yesterday afternoon. There was not a quorum present, and the only business that could be done was whatever secured unanimous consent. Thus it was that a proposition, submitted by Market Superintendent Starrett, to furnish crates to onion growers for their shipments, on the credit of the board, was, after a long discussion, deferred to another meeting.

President Ivers and E. H. Wodehouse were strongly in favor of giving this kind of encouragement to the growers, especially the smaller ones, as being in line with the intent of the Legislature in creating the marketing division of the board.

Mr. Starrett exhibited a sample of a neat crate, which can be supplied at the Puna lumber mill at the rate of 10,000 crates for $2000. The sample came from Cadillac, Mich.

Secretary Ralph A. Kearns submitted a cablegram from Dr. Victor S. Clark, dated St. Petersburg, September 1, saying: "I think the immediate prospect good. Please wire instructions to McClellan to ask the State Department to please send me a letter of instructions to the embassies of Europe."

It was deemed unnecessary to comply with this request in view of the fact that the secretary had already procured from Governor Frear proper credentials for Dr. Clark.

A letter from Mr. Halsey, U. S. Inspector of Immigration here, covering a letter from Commissioner Backus in San Francisco, was submitted, which asked the local board to pay the expense of deporting a certain Russian immigrant, who arrived at Honolulu in the steamer Siberia on March 25, 1910, and was now a public charge and suffering from a chronic disease in San Francisco. JORDAN'S

PALAMA SETTLEMENT WILL HOLD ITS ANNUAL FIELD DAY

Ball Games, Races and Big Rally To Be Features of Event Tomorrow

Tomorrow, during the whole day at the Palama Settlement, the annual rally and field day will be celebrated by basket ball and baseball games, swimming events, obstacle races, etc. The evening will be devoted to moving pictures, the awarding of the prizes and a concert by the Royal Hawaiian Band. The opening event takes place at nine o'clock with a basket ball game between the Senior girls and the Junior boys of the settlement and the prize given to the winner will be a pennant. At the same time eight games of playground ball will be played by the Palama boys. A swimming meet will immediately follow this. The afternoon events will take the form of a track meet among both girls and boys. A great many entries have been made as there is a great deal of enthusiasm among the boys and girls of the neighborhood. The prizes will be awarded in the evening in addition to which several reels of motion pictures will be shown by Mr. Bohne and after this the band will give a concert. The entire neighborhood of Palama is invited as well as those interested in the work of the settlement. The grounds will be decorated and lighted during the evening my Japanese lanterns. No admission will be charged and up to date 2500 tickets have been issued, and altogether the day will mark the closing of the summer session and the opening of the fall and winter work of the Palama Settlement.

POLITICAL NEWS AND NOTES

With the approach of the sitting of the county convention next Thursday morning, the political aspirants for various offices are sharpening their knives with a view to cutting down the weeds which have been obstructing their pathway. John C. Lane, who has been silent, politically, for some time, this morning announced his candidacy for the office of mayor. It is reported by his associates that he will have the unanimous support of the majority of the precinct delegates of the Fifth district. From the Fourth district, the names of Robert W. Shingle, county treasurer, and E. A. C. Long have been mentioned quite extensively among the precinct delegates to the convention. Single is well known to the county employes, who have nothing but words of praise for him. The Hawaiians call him their "savior." They say that whenever they are in need of financial assistance they go to Shingle and are promptly kokuaued by him. This act of kindness on the part of "Pill-hale", as the Hawaiians call him, places Shingle in a position where he may reliably expect support from them on election day. Long, chairman of the education committee of the last House of Representatives, has made a record on which he can depend for support.

Young received the kokua of his fellow delegates for representatives. Benjamin Kane and W. C. Achi were the choice of the precinct for senator. From the Fourth district comes the report that Jack Dowsett, who received the endorsement of the businessmen for the candidacy for delegate to Congress, will run for senator. Dowsett made good while senator some years ago, and it is expected that if he gets the nomination he will be elected. Aside from Dowsett, other candidates for the same honor are John Hughes, J. C. Cohen, A. D. Castro and Clarence Crabbe. The Fourth district is entitled to one senator, and it will be interesting to watch how these men will come out in the convention. It is reported authoritatively that Cohen has been promised the support of the poolas. The Kakaakotes, according to their leader, will come out strong in favor of C. G. Bartlett for supervisor. J. C. Quinn is also out for supervisor. At a caucus of delegates of the Thirteenth precinct of the Fifth district in the residence of W. O. Smith last night, the candidacy of the following persons was endorsed: For senator, S. P. Correa; Representatives, Alfred Castle, W. E. Paquill; Supervisor, M. C. Amama. The name of Oscar Cox of Waihua for the chairmanship of the convention was endorsed.

At a meeting of the local unions of the International Longshoremen's Association held last night, the organization voted to support the following candidates if they are nominated: City and County—Mayor, J. J. Fern; sheriff, W. P. Jarrett; Deputy sheriff, Chas. Rose; attorney, Carlos A. Long; treasurer, R. W. Shingle; auditor, Joe Bicknell; clerk, David Kalanokalani, Jr.; supervisors, W. H. McClellan, C. G. Bartlett, Wm. Ahia, W. A. Kane, E. H. F. Wolters, Lester Petrie, David Notley; senatorial, J. C. Cohen, J. H. Boyd, J. C. Lane; representative, Gab. K. Keaweakua, David Kalanokalani, Norman Watkins, C. F. Benevedet, John K. Kama-noulu, Chas. Lake.

DR. SUN'S STAR NOW ON WANE

First Provisional President of China Is the Target for Much Criticism

By HIN WONG. CANTON, China, Aug. 15.—The work of a destroyer is applauded only for a time by the populace, but the world will remember the builders of manhood and the makers of righteous nations. Before the departure of Dr. Sun Yat Sen for Shanghai he was hailed in Kwangtung, his native province, as a national hero, one who had given seventeen of his best years to advocating first, the overthrowing of the Manchu dynasty and then, finding such program impossible, working for a republican form of government for China. The mass of people in the interior of Kwangtung, although not familiar with his name except through the notice of his previous failures in revolutionary attempts, gave him and his relatives honor while he was in their midst last month; but as soon as he left Canton the public seems to have forgotten there is such a man as Dr. Sun Yat Sen, the first provisional president of the republic of China. Public Opinion Is Fickle. This lack of formal farewell to mark the departure of a national hero is not the fault of Dr. Sun, but is due to the changeability of public opinion usually found in an unequally educated race. There is no other provincial government in China that has so many college trained men at the heads of departments as Kwangtung, but the simple, honest, poor, illiterate mass will not consider any form of government as good as that which can provide for their immediate interests. Today the importance of the part played by Dr. Sun in the recent revolution is still a question in the south. Dr. Sun's mission in returning to Kwangtung last month was to head the situation in the two provinces, Kwangtung and Kwangsi; to reconcile the different factions to the main issue of putting the governments in the south on a permanent and efficient basis. Dr. Sun has failed in the purpose of his mission. He could not command the attention of the leaders concerned in the struggle for power and for right of individual opinion. Although it is dangerous to make public utterance in Canton relative to the influence of Dr. Sun unless favorable to him, many high officials here know and are not afraid to say that they have been fooled as the world has, in believing that he is working for unselfish service to his people, and that he is one of the few who have made the overthrowing of the late dynasty possible. In freedom of speech and in political rights, the people had more rights under the dynasty than they have today. The reason for this is that the laws of the provinces are unsettled, that many officials possess both civil and military power, that the fear of another revolution from the pro-Manchu makes censorship of conduct and communication of persons necessary. One Who Makes Noise Wins. Because of willingness on the part of the people to support whatever appears to be good on its face, and of the inability of many to differentiate between right and wrong, it will not be one who can present the best argument, but one who can make the biggest noise and attract the biggest crowd, who will win. To the followers of Dr. Sun, a comment unfavorable to the person of their leader is a speech against republicanism. To the simple mass, the failures of the present administration to bring immediate relief and prosperity to the people indicate the impracticability of the republican principles in China. Because of a lack of common education, a few idealistic speeches that promise happiness would attract universal support, and a blunder in administration of organization affairs that has nothing to do with the principles to be promoted would disrupt

BOWELS BAD, LIVER TORPID? CASCARETS

If Constipated, Bilious, Headachy, Stomach Sour, get a 10 cent box of Cascares—take one tonight. You men and women who can't get feeling right—who have headaches, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath, dizziness, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have back-ache and feel worn out. Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascares, or merely forcing a passage every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? This is important. Cascares work while you sleep; cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poison in the intestines and bowels. A Cascares tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box from any drug store will keep your stomach sweet; liver and bowels regular and head clear for months. Don't forget the children. They love Cascares because they taste good—do good—never grip or sicken.

ROWING ASSOCIATION AND A. A. U. REFUSE TO GIVE WAY IN DISPUTE

Chances of Serious Clash Monday When Hawaiian Athletic Association Considers the Question of Giving A. A. U. Sanction to Regatta Day Races—Boating Men Say They Will Run Their Own Meet Without Assistance or Interference

It looks as though there would be "doins" Monday afternoon, when the Hawaiian Athletic Association holds its annual meeting. At that time the matter of sanction for the Regatta rowing meeting will come up for discussion, and both the local representatives of the A. A. U. and the Hawaiian Rowing Association have taken firm stands from which it will be hard to dislodge them. There is a good chance of a split between the two organizations, with the rowing events going merrily along in spite of A. A. U. displeasure.

President Tuttle of the H. A. A. is uncompromising in his attitude. He says there must be no cash prizes whatever on the list, and that any athlete who competes in any event will lose his A. A. U. standing unless the prizes are abolished. Officials of the rowing association say that the prize list will remain just as it is at present and that it will run its own meeting without interference or assistance from the H. A. A.

THE A. A. U. SIDE.
"I hope this matter can be adjusted without friction," said President Tuttle, of the H. A. A., this morning, "but if the Myrtle and Healan clubs persist in taking part in a regatta where cash prizes are offered, the H. A. A. will have to suspend them. They will be served with a notice to this effect."
"It should be plainly understood in this connection that it is not a question of A. A. U. sanction for the regatta, for it is not the governing body of rowing in the United States. If, however, registered amateur athletes take part in a regatta where cash prizes are offered, they jeopardize their amateur standing, and become ineligible to compete in any track or swimming meets held under the auspices of the A. A. U. We have nothing to do with the Hawaiian Rowing Association, but the Healan and Myrtle clubs are affiliated with the H. A. A. and it is with them that we have to deal. This matter of cash prizes came up last year, and of twelve assurances that this year there would be no prizes on the card. Evidently the association officers changed their minds."

"Regatta Day as conducted by the Hawaiian Rowing Association has always been a big success," said J. B. Lightfoot, secretary of the association, this morning. "We are going to hold the meeting under our own rules as we have always done, and we do not need or want the assistance of the A. A. U. nor are we afraid of its displeasure."

Association's Stand.
"In regard to these cash prizes over which there is all this talk, it should be remembered that the merchants and others of the city subscribe the money for the annual regatta for the benefit of all Honolulu. The Hawaiian entries in the paddling and sailing races don't want cups or trophies. They want the cash, and there is no reason why they shouldn't get it as heretofore. These canoe races are the principal attraction to many visitors here, and it would be a shame to cut them out, as we would probably have to do if all the purses were eliminated. Regatta Day would then lose its typically Hawaiian features, and would become like any other rowing meet in the States, with nothing distinctive to mark it. It would become a class affair, instead of a day of keen, clean sport for all classes."

Lightfoot seems to be expressing the general sentiment of rowing men as a body, on this controversy with the A. A. U. and the boat clubs will stand out solid against interference. As to the Alameda crew's refusing to row if A. A. U. sanction is withheld, they regard this supposition as rather of a joke, and are not inclined to discuss it seriously. As a matter of fact, the boat clubs are the backbone of the local A. A. U., for such organizations as the Trail and Mountain club, and the Outrigger Club can hardly be considered as bona fide athletic associations, in the spirit of the A. A. U. organization. Without the boat clubs, the H. A. A. would be in a bad way for athletes, and would be likely to go on the rocks.

CLAM 'SHELL TAUGHT CURVE

ATHOL, Mass.—William Arthur Cummings, reputed inventor of the curve ball, is now living in a small cottage in this town. There have been other claimants of the honor, but Cummings has the support of most of the recognized authorities. Among them are George Wright, John C. Chapman, A. C. Spalding, Douglas Allison, N. E. Young, A. C. Anson, Weston Flier, Thomas Pratt and James White, all of whom made baseball history in the '70s. Here is Cummings' own story of the discovery of the curve ball:
"It was in the '60s that I discovered the curve ball, and, strange to say, it was the idle throwing of half a clam shell that gave birth to such an idea. As I watched the shells sail through their irregular course, the theory developed in my mind that I might apply it in baseball."
Clam Shell Gives Idea.
"After watching the shells follow their snaky course, I decided that I would try to see if I could throw a ball in a similar manner. I was laughed at by scientific men and baseball experts, but I finally proved to them that the stunt could be done, and for a long time I was known as the boy wonder."
"My first experience in a club of any note was with an organization called the Carrolls, after Carroll Park, in Brooklyn. In the following spring I joined the Star Juniors, which won 27 out of 39 games played. No regulation suits were worn at that time. It was while I was with the Stars that Joseph Leggett, of the Excelsior club, got me to join his team."
"At this time there were no big leagues. The Excelsior was considered one of the strongest clubs in New York. I participated in these games during part of '86 and '87, and pitched in a few of them."
Remembers First Game.
"I remember the first game I pitched. Brainhard, who held a National reputation as a boxman, failed to show up, and I was substituted. I only weighed 117 pounds, and my opponents—the Eureka of Newark, N. J., a strong nine—expected an easy victory, but they went home with a defeat of 24 to 12."
"It was while I was with the Excelsiors that I went to Washington to play the annual game with the Nationals. We won."
"The following year I went to Boston and played with such teams as the Lowell, Tri-Mountains and Harvard College. It was in a game with the latter that I first used the curve ball effectively before experts and spectators of note. This game was played in 1867."

COUNTRY CLUB INTERISLAND BALL GAMES

The Oahu Country Club held its regular annual meeting last night, nearly 100 members and guests sitting down to the dinner that preceded the business session.

New officers were elected for the ensuing year, and the reports of the retiring officers listened to with great interest. In brief, they showed the Country Club to be in a most prosperous condition, with a new and commodious club house, and an extension to the golf links now under way. The property itself has greatly increased in value, and there is every prospect of a record year in club prosperity and social and sporting activity. The report of the retiring president, James D. McInerney, dealing with general club conditions, and of F. W. Klebahn, retiring chairman of the grounds committee, which has had active charge of the golf, were of special interest.

H. H. Walker was elected president at last night's meeting, the other officers to serve for the ensuing year being: First vice president, George Porter; second vice president, C. H. Cooke; third vice president, C. H. Cooke; P. W. Gray; auditor, Wm. Simpson; directors, B. L. Marx, F. L. Waldron, John Waterhouse, W. H. Babbitt.

What would Johnson have thought four years ago if someone had told him that he would be getting $833 a minute for boxing no-decision bouts? That's what Johnson would have got ten in cash for fighting ten rounds with Jeannette. He would have gotten the full amount if the fight had gone only a minute—and then he would have got his 50 per cent. of the moving-picture money and his privilege of taking 50 per cent. of the gate money.

HARD WORK FIRST THEN FUN FOR ALAMEDANS

Fourteen Alamedans are now en route to Honolulu on the liner Sierra, due here September 16, according to a letter received by J. B. Lightfoot, this morning from E. B. Thorning, who is managing the trip. Rooms for the crew and the ladies of the party have been engaged at the Young, and plans are already under way for giving the visitors a royal good time after the races.

Mr. Thorning writes that the Alameda oarsmen will attend strictly to business, and be under rigid training rules until after Regatta Day, when the athletes will begin on the pleasure end of their trip. No date has been set for the return, and there is a chance of some members of the party spending several weeks in Honolulu.

The following are in the Alameda party:
Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Thorning, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hess, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nielsen, Mrs. J. H. Sommers, Mrs. Celia Haskins, John Lewis, O. Sommers, Fred Hacks Jr. and Herman Kihn.
The harbor was so full of racing craft yesterday evening that a stone tossed off any deck would have gone through the bottom of a barge. The Healanis, Myrtles, and Punuenes are all out, and with the several crews at each organization, the course was well filled.
Considerable interest was shown in the work of the Maui oarsmen, and it must be admitted that yesterday this was not very impressive. The visitors don't seem to stack up with the Honolulu crews either in form or execution, although they were apparently under wraps and not extending fully themselves. Still, they may spring a surprise on Regatta Day, although the local senior crews are worrying more over the oarsmen from the Coast than over the Maui men.

HOW THEY STAND

"Mugsy" McGraw and Husk Chance are again the prominent figures in the struggle for the National League pennant. The Giants are in the lead, but the fight is not over, and Chance declares that he is hopeful of coming out in front. The big lead that the Giants had earlier in the season has been lost, and in recent weeks the Cubs have been gaining. To be sure, the distance to be gained is considerable, but if Chance did not have the fighting spirit he would never have created the splendid baseball machine that has been battling for Chicago for so long. McGraw is also confident, and, though he knows that he has a lead, still he realizes that Chicago is a dangerous contender, and with the fighting Californian at its head, the team is liable to come with a cyclonic burst of speed in the stretch and nose out its pennant winners.

PLANS 1,000-MILE WALK AS HIS VACATION SPORT

NEW YORK, N. Y., Sept. 4.—John J. Kiernan, one of the district superintendents of the New York City department of streets, will spend his twenty-day vacation, beginning next Saturday, in walking from Chicago to this city.

Kiernan leaves for Chicago September 7 by train. He will there receive a letter from Mayor Harrison of Chicago to Street Commissioner Edwards of New York, and will at once begin his 1000-mile walk.

He is a veteran athlete and holds several militia records for long hikes. He hopes to break the amateur pedestrian record between Chicago and this city.

GOVERNOR FREAR THINKS PLENTY GUBERNATORIAL TIMBER IS HERE

Secretary Fisher drew some interesting statements from Gov. Frear yesterday as to the gubernatorial timber in the islands. After questioning the Governor as to what classes of men here might be searched to find a suitable Governor, the Secretary said:
Q. Now, don't misunderstand me—we all appreciate the fact that we might take the most prominent planter on the islands and make him governor and he might make the best governor the islands have ever seen and better than any governor from the mainland. What I wanted to find was whether or not there were many men qualified here who were in that class—that is, are there any men here who are not identified with these large interests?
A. Well, yes, I think there are.
Q. Well, you suggested lawyers and bankers and merchants and real estate men—are there any other classes of business besides those you mentioned which you think might produce such a man?
A. Well, you don't want to leave out the doctors—some of them are men of a good deal of prominence in general affairs.
Q. I know—but it is not usual that a physician has an opportunity in the practice of his profession to demonstrate his ability to handle business affairs.
A. There are exceptions.
Q. There are exceptions, but they are rare.
A. You don't have to appoint a governor very often.
Q. But you want to be sure of him when you do appoint him.
A. Certainly.
Q. Well, I think that is—is there any other class that occurs to you besides those you mentioned—ranchmen, cattlemen?
A. I think I mentioned ranchmen.
Q. No, at least, I do not recollect that you did.
Q. Mr. Bishop, do you know of any men who are not affiliated with the interests who would be available?
Mr. Bishop: If you want somebody with not even one share in the sugar industry it might be hard to find one.
Governor: I would pick out the man who is best suited to the place, all things considered.
Mr. Fisher: One of the objections made with regard to you is the fact that you have these affiliations, and I want to see whether it would be possible to get a man against whom this cannot be said. In other words, to see whether the mere fact of the affiliations is the thing which disqualifies the Governor. Mr. Bishop, you said you thought the time in which to acquire title was too long, that if discouraged homesteading—how long a time do you think the homesteader would regard as a fair period to reside on his land before he got a patent?
Mr. Bishop: Not over five years.
Q. Suppose we reduced it to five years; that was the usual time on the mainland until the last Congress reduced it to three years. Do you think if the homesteader got his title after five years it would help homesteading?

PULLMAN PORTERS

By GEORGE FITCH

A pullman porter is a sad Senegambian who makes beds in a sleeping car for a living. He makes 24 beds each night and gets done just in time to begin unmaking them in the morning. When business is brisk a porter sometimes has to go without food for three days, because he cannot take the end of a pillow slip from between his teeth long enough to snatch a bite.

Beside making up beds, the porter has to blacken shoes. All night long he blackens shoes, putting black blackening on the tan ones and tan blackening on the black ones with great care. He blackens all the shoes he can find and then puts them away in a pile. Then he goes away himself and stands out in the cold gray dawn on the station platform for hours on a time, while his guests ring the bell that has been disconnected. However, he always gives the shoes back when he gets around to it. Sometimes a greedy guest takes a second helping of shoes and the last man gets left, but this is not the porter's fault, and those who blame him wrong him cruelly.

Porters are always dark men but they are not as dark as their deeds. A porter likes nothing better than to steal the whisk broom out of the wash room and then rent his own broom to the passengers for a quarter apiece.

Porters are also absent minded. While thinking about their wrongs, they forget to waken the sleeping passenger until the train is slowing down for his town, thus compelling him to dress lightly in his trousers and leap for life with a bushel of clothes in his arms. But porters are very faithful. All night long when he is not making up beds, he is always watching and ill-natured mankind in its stocking feet and without its collar on, he cannot help rousing a little. So we should be kind to the porter at least a quarter's worth each trip and should not forget, when retiring, to attach a string to a great toe and hang it outside the berth curtain in order that he may not be compelled to feel around for our hear in the dark while wakening us.

A. That is, clear title in five years?
Q. Yes.
A. Well, I don't know.
Q. I understand your laws entitle a man to acquire title in three years, if he lives there continuously. Well, if that is true, apparently the homesteader can get title two years sooner than you think.
A. Restricted title. I don't approve of that at all. The way I work it out is this: I don't think any artificial barriers ought to be created to keep a man from doing as he pleases with his land. It would not be sufficiently attractive.

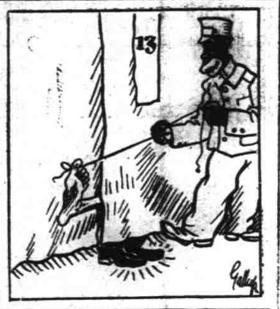

A TRANS-ANDINE WIRELESS TELEGRAPH

To the credit of building the first great transandine railway, even today the most remarkable feat of railway engineering extant, Peru now adds the first direct transandine wireless telegraph—indeed, the first wireless telegraph across any great mountain range in the world.

The Lima-Iquitos wireless towers and power plants, which were formally dedicated to the Government and public service on Sunday, June 16th, by the President of the republic, constitute the latest notable advance in the science of communication. So great was the innovation that the Telefonken Company itself would not guarantee the success of the project in its contract, no precedent existing which would justify their doing so. So great was the faith, however, of the Director of Pomento and Dr. Tamayo, who made the early experiments leading up to the determination to make the essay and of the engineers of the company mentioned in the range of their "singing spark" that President Leguia did not hesitate to authorize the expenditure.

The Government had intended to replace the three intermediate stations of the original Lima-Iquitos wireless telegraph by one station at Chiclaya. After tests made by Dr. Tamayo of the Hoiger of the Roland line, acting under authority of the Government, the decision was reached to eliminate all intermediate stations. The success attained has been flawless, communication being maintained throughout the twenty-four hours, in good weather and in mountain thunderstorms, and always with a good percentage of reserve power at both terminals. The Itaya and San Cristobal stations are the highest powered in South America, and the latter is unique in the world in its location. The radius extends over all Peruvian territory and probably will be found to reach the east coast when, if ever, corresponding stations are erected there.

The time saved by direct telegraphing without repetition, resulting in the handling of a greatly increased volume of business, is as valuable a gain as the assurance of perfect sending and receiving at all times. The low rates at which the service has been thrown open to the public furnish a further evidence of the Government's idea of making useful improvements, and, further making their use possible to all. The positive telegraphic connection now established between the capital

A REAL LINE ON PLAY OF THE CHINESE

Detroit Sport Writer Sizes Up Honolulu Players and Pays a High Tribute to Ayau's Ability and Class

The Detroit News, which publishes a readable and always reliable sporting "green," prints a careful analysis of the play of the All-Chinese ball team that is of great interest to fans in Honolulu. The News sport writer looked at the playing of the Chinese from a serious and analytical angle, and canned all that stuff about the yellow peril and laundrymen that other papers have been printing by the yard.

Local ball enthusiasts have been wondering just what brand the Chinese are playing, after six months' practically continuous work together, and the Detroit News answers the question very fully. Also, it pays high tribute to Ayau, the speedy shortstop, ranking him with some of the best infielders in the big leagues.

Here is what the News has to say: Before the Chinese bring the world's series to Hongkong or Honolulu they must develop some pitchers and learn how to bat. The Celestials have defeated the B. & O. yesterday had everything else. They fielded brilliantly, showed a lot of speed on the sacks, but as batters they were just about nil.

Only Ayau, the little shortstop, has a free swing. The rest right-handed batters with one exception pulled the ball into left field by hitting rather stiff-armed and swinging their bodies away as they meet the pill. Their eyes are good, and they hit the ball "right on the nose," but before a pitcher with a good curve they would be helpless.

All seven hits were made on fast balls either in the groove or on the inside. Not one was hit towards right field. A good change of pace would have them swinging their heads off.

As for the pitcher, got away on his control and steadiness. He did not have a great deal of speed, and his delivery is curious, inasmuch as his windup is practically for show purposes only. Having wound up he stops short and then leaves the ball. With men on bases his motion is still more peculiar, as on the strictest technical interpretation of the rules he makes a batz every time he throws to the plate. He pitches without as much as looking at the batter.

Outfielders Are Good.
Kan Yen, the catcher, could show up a lot of American college catchers. He does not throw well, getting the ball away rather slowly, but that men can steal nine-tenths of the college catchers in this country deaf, dumb and blind.

In the field, however, the Chinese show brilliantly. The two outfielders who had chances are perfect judges of fly balls. Both L. Akana and Sing Hung made difficult catches, starting a little slowly, but being under the ball when it got there. Their throwing arms are good, and in spite of the rank, high grass at Mack Park they covered an unusually large amount of ground.

WHAT MR. PUPP DID

SOME MEN GET UP AND GIVE THEIR SEATS TO LADIES IN A CAR. I'VE OFTEN THOUGHT HOW FOOLISH TOO SOME FELLOWS REALLY ARE.

"A DUDE ONCE CALLED TO SEE THE GIRL WHO IS MY MISTRESS SWEET IT MADE ME MAD AS I COULD BE. AND SO I TOOK HIS SEAT."

BRIGHT'S DISEASE

We submit the following as our ideas of the probabilities under Ful-ton's Renal Compound in Bright's and kidney disease:

Where patients are seriously weakened and crises are expected, probably not more than ten to twenty per cent respond. Where physicians aid by holding up the heart, increasing the eliminations, etc., the efficiency can be increased. In cases where patients have from thirty to sixty days of life we look for correspondingly better results.

Where patients do not wait until bedridden and take the treatment on the appearance of the disease it is our belief that most cases respond with final recovery or prolongation of life.

Albumen, casts and dropsy do not prevent recovery, provided the renal inflammation is attacked before the heart and recuperative powers are too greatly weakened.

Fulton's Renal Compound is used both with and without physicians' prescriptions. The motive of the Renal Compound being to relax the kidney (the Old School having nothing to reduce inflamed kidneys) it will be seen that the heart, eliminative and tonic treatment usually prescribed in Bright's and kidney disease do not conflict but are often required in extreme cases. It can be had at Honolulu Drug Co.

Ask for pamphlet or write John J. Fulton Company, San Francisco, Cal. We invite correspondence with physicians and patients not improving the third week to write us.

Everything in the printing line at Star-Bulletin, Alaekaa street; branch, Merchant street.

MAUI NOTES

WAILUKU, Sept. 10.—Mrs. Charlotte Baldwin Rice left last Friday evening for Honolulu, where she joined her husband on the four or five months' trip to the mainland and Europe.

Miss Haynes, the new teacher for Maunaloa Seminary arrived last week from Kona. She went immediately to Makawao, where her duties will begin next week.

H. B. Peniallow cabled last week that he and his family would be back this week, probably arriving in Honolulu Wednesday. The family are well and have greatly enjoyed the vacation experiences.

Mrs. W. A. McKay returned last week from Honolulu. She is very much better in health.

Rev. A. Craig Bowditch, the new minister of the Paia Union Church, will preach at the Wailuku Union Church next Sunday evening. Rev. Mr. Dodge will be on Molokai that Sunday at the meeting of the Maui Association of churches.

The lot of D. H. Case's between the Wailuku Union Church and the school has been beautifully graded, and all the ugly looking trees in the front portion of the lot removed. The improvement is great. The school house is also being graded in a similar way so that as soon as this work is finished all the lots running from the corner of the street opposite the building of the Supervisors through the school lot will be uniform.

The old Gies building on the corner of Main Street and Kalua lane has been torn down. The street will come up straight to Main. This will vastly improve this portion of Wailuku. A few more fences have been torn down this past week, so that Wailuku has been making rapid strides toward coming into its own.

The Chamber of Commerce held a lengthy meeting last week on Thursday, at which a great deal of discussion took place in reference to the Kahului wharf and the new boat landing at Kihel. It was at last voted that the consensus of opinion was that the money available—$32,000—should be spent toward the Kahului wharf, so that from now on it be a public wharf, and that the money that could be spared be put into making a safe boat landing at Kihel, and then a little later that a safe and convenient wharf be erected at Kihel. This conclusion pleased everyone, and it is the hope of Maui that such action will be taken.

SCHOFIELD NOTES

The enlisted strength of this garrison was 2771 present on the morning report of the 10th.

Batteries E and F of the Field Artillery have their horses quarantined by reason of an outbreak of influenza and in consequence only foot drills can be carried on. It is supposed that the new horses recently received from off the Dix brought the affection to the Post. Headquarters and D Battery horses have escaped.

The First Infantry is now on the preliminary work for the expert rifleman's test, the last stage of individual range work. The regiment has a total of 206 sharpshooters.

Companies B and C of the Second Infantry left for the Koolau country on the morning of the 11th and will be absent on exploring work for a week, to be followed by the second battalion, Capt. P. E. Marquart commanding.

A recent conference between Colonel McGunagle and Mr. F. C. Smith of the Oahu railway in reference to an improved train schedule promises needed changes. The completion of the cutoff at Ewa Mill and the elimination of the side journey to Waiawa and at least one additional train daily and the establishment of a special Saturday to Monday rate to Honolulu are some of the proposed changes.

Owing to the absence in the field of the first battalion of the Second Infantry, the baseball schedule has been disarranged and will receive a further upset by the proposed absence on similar duty of the second battalion. The remaining teams of the league will play only Sunday games until the return of the second.

A board of officers consisting of Major E. V. Smith, Second Infantry, Major Wallace De Witt, Medical Corps and Major W. R. Cruikshank, Field Artillery, has been convened by Post orders to examine into the water supply question and make report on the whole matter of supply, including possible new sources therefor.

Captain James Bell, Second Infantry, is an expected arrival at this Post and will expect the usual flurry of a senior's coming since the number of quarters along the officers' line is limited, though the three additional sets now under construction by Mr. A. R. Robertson will relieve the situation when completed.

Captain Daniel Hand of the Field Artillery expects to leave for the States shortly and will spend his leave with Mrs. Hand in Berkeley, where Mrs. Hand has taken a residence and placed her son and daughter in school.

The mainstay of the First Infantry's pitching staff, Sergt. Kidd, has received a serious injury in his arm that may keep that fine player out of the game for some weeks.

Assertive Wife—John Henry, I need a new gown, hat, shoes, gloves, lace collar and feather boa. Husband—Oh! Why—why, what's all that for? Assertive Wife—Tuesday next I lecture on "The Simplicity of Dress."—Judge.

Over-Night Wireless To the Advertiser

When Col. Theodore Roosevelt reached La Grande today he was met by a squad of cowboys who rode with him to the fair grounds. When Colonel Roosevelt began to speak, a man in the grandstand arose and shouted: "Hurrah for Debs!" He kept up his cries whenever Colonel Roosevelt attempted to speak. The crowd shouted: "Put him out!"

The Turks, who on several occasions have tried vainly to smuggle into Tripoli an aeroplane for scouting purposes, are at last in possession of a machine through a mishap to Captain Moizo of the Italian army. Captain Moizo was making a flight from Zouara to Tripoli when the motor of his machine stopped and he was obliged to descend in a hostile country. He was captured.

James Prushaw, thirty-one years old, a resident of San Francisco, was today declared officially dead, by Judge Graham, in the probate department of the Superior Court. Prushaw's sister, Mrs. Anna Ingersoll, of Honolulu, by the judgment inherits all of the estate of her aunt, Miss Eliza McEachern, a pioneer resident, whose death occurred here several years ago.

A column of 900 Federal troops was secretly dispatched through American territory today for the relief of Agua Prieta, now held by a force of rebels. The garrison at the latter place has been reinforced through the arrival of 470 men of another command and the long deferred battle for the possession of the city is expected to take place soon.

A SOUR, GASSY, UPSET STOMACH

"Pape's Diapepsin" Overcomes Your Indigestion in Five Minutes

Wonder what upset your stomach?—which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt, if sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; your head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul; tongue coated—just take a little Diapepsin and in five minutes you truly will wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapepsin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion, if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapepsin which costs only fifty-cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. Please, for your sake, don't go on and on with a weak disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary.

SLAYER'S IMAGE IN GIRL'S EYE

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa, Aug. 21.—C. M. Brown of Villisca, Iowa, who is in this city, declares that the detectives at Villisca, working to solve the mystery in the recent murder of eight persons in Villisca have obtained a photograph of the murderer from the retina of the eyes of one of the Stillinger sisters. The girl, circumstances at the time indicated, was the only one of the eight, all of whom were killed with a hatchet, who had awakened during the attack.

Mr. Brown says that the photograph indicates a man of stout build, broad shoulders and extraordinary length between the shoulders and hips. He asserts that the murderer wore a mask and an apron, the apron evidently to prevent his clothing becoming spattered with blood.

Some girls are given away in marriage and some throw themselves away.

DRIVE OUT THE RHEUMATISM

You Will Never Be Well While the Poisons of This Disease Are In Your Blood.

"Last winter was the first time in twenty years that I did not have an attack of rheumatism," said a man who was recommending Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for this painful disease.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People do the only thing that will permanently cure rheumatism. They build up the greatly thinned blood and purify and cleanse it of every trace of the rheumatic poison. They are invaluable both during an attack of the disease and during the intervals between attacks. If you have already passed through one or more seasons of the disease it is advisable not to wait for an attack before using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills but to start taking them now and prevent a relapse of the trouble. Don't be satisfied until you have thoroughly cleansed your blood, for until this is done you will never be free from rheumatism.

Mrs. N. Robison, of No. 144 West 14th street, Denver, Colo., says: "After suffering for six months from muscular rheumatism, and using all sorts of external applications with no relief I was about hopeless of a cure. I was unable to work and about discouraged. The rheumatism was in my limbs and my kneejoints. I suffered constantly with sharp pains as if pins were sticking in my feet. I was sore and stiff and had but little use of my legs. When I got up out of a chair I would have to use my hands and arms to raise my body. My kneejoints would swell at night, causing me intense pain. I had almost resigned myself to a life of pain when I read about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills curing a case similar to mine."

"I bought some and after taking a few boxes I noticed a great improvement in my condition. I could walk some and the pains were not so severe. I took the pills until cured. I have never had a touch of the rheumatism since and I am always glad to tell others what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills did for me."

Start today to cure yourself with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. They are for sale by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, upon receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y. Send for free booklet, "Building Up the Blood."

REGULATIONS GOVERNING USE OF THE 10" FUEL OIL PIPE LINE OWNED BY AND LOCATED ON THE HONOLULU WATERFRONT AND WHARVES.

Adopted by the Board of Harbor Commissioners, September 11, 1912. Control of Pipe Line.

(1) The pipe line shall be under the control of the Board of Harbor Commissioners, whose employees shall work in conjunction with the firms, corporations, or individuals using the pipe line; so that every facility will be secured for the prompt and accurate despatch of the delivery of oil to or from ships or other users of fuel oil.

Charges for Use of Line. (2) For the first six months of its use, the charge shall be at the rate of .01 1/2 per barrel of oil pumped through the line either from ships to tanks, or from tanks to ships, or other users of fuel oil. After this period, the charge for the use of the line shall be based on cover—

1st. Cost of operation, maintenance and repair.

2nd. Interest on investment and depreciation.

3rd. Refunding annually an amount equal to 1-30 of bonded debt for line, said charge to be determined by the Board of Harbor Commissioners.

Permits to Use Line. (3) Permits to use the pipe line will be granted only to those firms, corporations or individuals who are in a position to deliver oil to or from vessels berthed at Government wharves at a minimum volume of 1000 barrels per hour. Delivery of Oil To and From Vessels. (4) To regulate delivery of fuel oil to ships, berthed at Government wharves, on barge or oil tank, vessel or other container, will be permitted to discharge oil to, or receive oil from any vessel berthed at a Government wharf in the Harbor of Honolulu during such time as the 10" Fuel Oil Pipe Line is in condition to properly receive oil from or deliver oil to ships berthed at wharves owned or controlled by the Territory of Hawaii.

REGULATIONS GOVERNING THE DISCHARGE OF NITRATE OF SODA, SULPHUR AND OTHER SIMILAR MATERIALS UPON THE WHARVES OF HAWAII, AS AMENDED AUGUST 28, 1912.

21. No nitrate of soda, sulphur, or other similar materials shall be stored, awaiting transportation, upon any wharf within the Territory of Hawaii, unless the same be packed in sound and non-leaky containers. All nitrate of soda, sulphur or other similar materials so stored shall, at the expense of the consignee, be under the continuous care of a competent watchman until removed.

Masters, owners and consignees of nitrate of soda cargoes, sulphur or other similar materials must keep the wharf at all times swept clean and free of any loose nitrate of soda, sulphur or other similar materials during the entire process of unloading and removing the cargo. No loose nitrate of soda, sulphur or other similar materials will be permitted to be landed in all cases nitrate of soda, sulphur or other similar materials must be landed from ships in sound containers.

During the process of discharging or removing said cargoes, it shall be obligatory on the part of the ship or agents of said vessel, to provide water containers of not less than fifty (50) gallons each at intervals of not less than fifty (50) feet apart with suitable buckets placed alongside each container; said containers to be filled with a solution of water and nitrate of soda to be used in the case of fire. Any person or persons who shall violate the above Regulation shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be subject to the penalties as provided by Section 9, Act 163 of the Session Laws of 1911.

ARMY AND NAVY

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. — Structural work has been completed on the three big iron towers back of Fort Myer that are to form the biggest wireless station in the world. Two of the towers are 450 feet high and the last one that has just been finished is 600 feet, but to look at it this tower seems scarcely higher than the others. The power plant at the base is also nearly finished. Some of the machinery has been installed and other pieces are ready to be set up.

During the completion of the big tower, curiously enough, there has been some trouble getting painters who could endure the altitude while painting them. There was no trouble about the structural ironworkers, but many of the painters got chills when sent up the big tower.

One of them the other day got up 300 feet and, hastily descending, cut across the fields for Washington, it is said, and did not even stop for any of the wages due him.

The station is being built by the Bureau of Yards and Docks. When completed it will be turned over to the naval officers to work. The range ordinarily is expected to be from 2,000 to 2,500 miles, but occasionally what is known as a "freak message" will be picked up at much greater distances. One purpose of the station will be to act as an experimental station and laboratory for much of the navy wireless work.

Through a little proviso attached to that section of the naval appropriation act which was intended to prevent the crew of a naval vessel from doing any work upon her while in a navy yard that might deprive the civilian shopmen of employment, it appears that no considerable increase in the navy yard work will be available after all. This proviso was that the provision "shall not apply to such ordinary duties as are engaged in by the crew while at sea."

Now, as a matter of fact, while seeking to find a means to effect all of the needed ship repairs within the narrow limits of the available appropriations, the Navy Department officials discovered that the duties in a repair yard that a modern ship's crew can perform "while at sea" comprise practically nine-tenths of the work required to be done upon a ship. Boilers can be retubed at sea, electric wiring can be done, machinery can be overhauled and new parts made, and, in fact, save painting the ship's bottom, which must be done in dock, and lifting off the big turret guns, the modern bluejacket can do most everything while afloat on the blue sea that could be done in a navy yard.

So the ship's mechanics will continue to keep their vessels in repair without calling upon the navy yard workmen more than they have done in the past.

Fireman Ben. P. Spindler, attached to the U. S. S. Nashville, and Seaman John B. McGuire and Henry O. Mahn, attached to the U. S. S. Connecticut, have been officially commended by the acting secretary of the navy for heroism in rescuing from drowning shipmates who had accidentally fallen overboard. They are young men and have been in the navy about three years. Spindler hails from Phillips, Wis.; McGuire from East Braintree, Mass., and Mahn from Jamaica Plains, Mass.

Col. Henry P. Birmingham of the Medical Corps has been relieved from duty in the surgeon general's office, War Department, and placed in command of the Walter Reed General Hospital near Brightwood. He relieves Col. Charles Richard, who is transferred to duty in charge of the Army Medical School in this city as the relief of Col. Louis A. La Garde of the Medical Corps.

Col. H. C. Lauchheimer, adjutant and inspector of the Marine Corps, who was one of the officers of that corps transferred from this city to the Philippines as a result of an investigation several years ago, and is now at San Francisco, in charge of the Pacific inspection district, has been ordered back to this city for duty at headquarters of the corps. He will be relieved of charge of the marine Pacific inspection district by Col. H. C. Haines, assistant adjutant and inspector, now on duty at marine headquarters in this city.

Lieut. Col. Peyton C. March of the 6th Field Artillery, who has been detailed for service in the adjutant general's department, has been assigned to duty as adjutant general of the Central Division, with headquarters at Chicago. He relieves Col. William A. Simpson, who has been assigned to duty at New York as adjutant general of the Eastern Division.

Lieut. Gen. S. B. M. Young, retired, governor of the Soldiers' Home, and Gen. George H. Torney, surgeon general, have been ordered to make an inspection of the United States military prison at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., and the branch military prison at Alcatraz, Cal.

For the first time in a year the American flag will be carried into Mexican ports by the friendly visit of warships. The gunboat Vicksburg has been ordered to proceed at once down the west coast of Mexico and the cruiser Des Moines will proceed as early as possible down the east coast.

It is stated officially at the State Department that the dispatch of warships to Mexico at this time is not for the purpose of looking after American interests nor to investigate conditions. Mexico has been officially notified of the forthcoming visits of the warship. It is understood the Madero government has sent a friendly reply to the notification.

A report which has appeared in various newspapers to the effect that the fourth class of midshipmen at the Naval Academy admitted during the year 1913 would enter in February next was declared to be erroneous. The first examination should be held in February and the second examination in April, but no medical examination will be held until early in June, so that no midshipman of that class will enter until June.

It is hoped at the Navy Department that the entire class may be installed by July 1, in order that all may have the full benefit of three months' instructions before the beginning of the academic terms, in October.

Nine bandsmen in the United States Army have been ordered to proceed to Fort Jay on Governor's Island, N. Y., not later than September 26 in order to compete for five scholarships at the Institute of Musical Art of New York city for the year 1913-14. They are Corp. James G. Prewitt, mand. 26th Infantry, Fort Wayne, Mich.; Sergt. Frank A. Bowen, band, 6th Cavalry, Fort Des Moines, Iowa; Chief Musician Alfred J. Thomas, band, 10th Cavalry, Fort Ethan Allen, Vt.; Principal Musician Augustus C. Pentland, 24th Recruit Company (band), Fort Logan, Colo.; Sergt. Frank Frank, band, 6th Field Artillery, Fort Riley, Kan.; Privates Einar V. Sorensen and Manuel Comulada, 5th Band, Coast Artillery Corps, Fort Hamilton, N. Y.; Private Chris C. Hunter, 7th Band, Coast Artillery Corps, Fort Adams, R. I.; Private William C. Whit, 10th Band, Coast Artillery Corps, Fort Banks, Mass.; Principal Musician Geo. A. Horton, band, 3d Cavalry, Fort San Houston, Tex.

A booklet of "plain talk" to ship captains, telling how they may keep their craft clean of plague, yellow fever, smallpox, cholera, typhus and other scourges, has just been issued by the United States public health service. The booklet is termed "an open letter to ship captains," and was written by L. E. Cofer, assistant surgeon general and chief of the bureau of foreign and insular quarantine.

Going on the theory that every master wants to keep his ship out of quarantine, the service has published the little talk to convince shipmasters how they may make quarantine unnecessary. How the immense cost and loss which goes with fumigating a ship after disease may be avoided is fully explained.

In language that a layman may understand, the booklet explains the causes and symptoms of the plagues, how the infections are carried and how they may be defeated. The booklet says that captains who follow its instructions may keep their ships clean of disease and save much money for their owners.

Printed on the cover of the booklet are the following words:

"Rate carry plague, mosquitoes carry yellow fever."

"Plague and yellow fever cause quarantine."

"Quarantine means expense."

"Ship captains destroy your rats and mosquitoes, and not only save your owners money, but save lives."

Secretary Meyer has philosophically accepted the one battleship program of Congress, and has already named the new marine monster the Pennsylvania. The armored cruiser of that name will be rechristened probably Harrisburg, or given the name of some other city. The Secretary points out that notwithstanding all the talk in Congress about a "terror of the seas," the new vessel will be of normal development, and if she is larger than any battleship afloat it will be no more than could be said of each of the other big ships launched and commissioned in succession since he has been Secretary of the Navy, in accordance with the harmonious system of development which the naval constructors have been consistently following for years.

The general features of the Pennsylvania were worked out and adopted in the early spring, and formed the basis for the department's estimate for the construction of two such ships. She will be 630 feet long, of about 31,000 tons, with twelve four-teen-inch guns and exceptionally heavy armor.

Col. Rogers Birnie of the ordnance department, in charge of ordnance work at the army proving ground at Sandy Hook, N. J., has been selected to act as chief of the ordnance at the War Department while Brig. Gen. William Crozier, chief of ordnance, serves his detail as president of the Army War College, at the Washington barracks. The change takes effect September 1 next.

Col. Birnie graduated at the head of his class at the Military Academy in 1872, and after two years of service in the infantry arm was transferred to the ordnance department, and has served therein to date. During his early career he commanded one of the parties of the Wheeler survey and travelled about 5,000 miles on muleback. He has been prominently identified with the development of modern ordnance and has contributed materially to improvements in guns, projectiles and ammunition. He has spent several years in Europe in ordnance study and is the author of several standard works on technical subjects.

During the Spanish war he was chief ordnance officer of the 7th Army Corps and of the Division of Cuba. Since then he has had charge of many important ordnance tests at Sandy Hook.

Capt. John Hood, commanding the battleship Delaware, received the battleship efficiency pennant from Assistant Secretary of the Navy Beekman Winthrop. Mr. Winthrop left Washington on the President's yacht Mayflower for Hampton roads, where the battleship fleet is rendezvoused. Accompanying the secretary were rear Admiral Hutch I. Cone, chief of the bureau of steam engineering, and Lieut. Commander Thomas T. Craven, director of target practice and engineering competition. The battleship efficiency pennant is the most prized of the awards given for excellence in competition. A pennant is given to the vessel having the highest combined averages in the gunnery and engineering competitions for the year. The pennant is carried by the winning vessel for a year. The U. S. S. Michigan has held the pennant for the last year.

Polish the Bath Tub with Dearline Removes All Stains

Assistant Secretary Winthrop presented to Capt. Hood a letter of congratulation from the President, and Capt. Hood was directed to submit to the department the names of nine officers of his ship who, in his opinion, contributed the most to the success of his vessel.

RELATION BETWEEN FORESTS AND FLOODS

Bradstreet's, August 24: We have before this directed attention to some differences of opinion between experts regarding the relation between forestation and floods. Some time ago Chief Moore of the National Weather Bureau, in a report prepared for the House Committee on Agriculture, declared that precipitation controls forestation, but that forestation has little or no effect upon precipitation; that spring floods come oftener from the forest than from the open; that the disastrous effects of soil erosion have been exaggerated, and that erosion is not always an unmixed evil. Among other things, he said in the report referred to that the evidence was strong that the cutting away of the forests had had nothing to do with creating or augmenting droughts. A different view appears to be taken in a report just made to the National Forest Commission by Director George Otis Smith of the Geological Survey. The last mentioned report is based upon studies which experts have been making for over a year in New Hampshire on large adjacent tracts of forested and deforested areas similar in every other respect, geologically, in altitude, and in average slope of land. The report concludes that a direct relation exists between forest cover and stream regulation, and that there is a pronounced difference in the rate of disappearance of snow from the forested and the cutover areas. It was observed that forested streams are steadier, and in proportion to their drainage area they tend, at least in the spring months, to promote a steady flow of water to the main streams of which they are tributaries. The experts noted in the tracts observed by them that the forested areas added to its ground water storage while the other drew in large amounts upon its storage water. The maximum flow in the forested area was only from 45 to 71 per cent. of that in the other area, and the runoff only from 42 to 63 per cent. These results are of decided interest; it is needless to say that they are more in consonance with previously accepted views than are those of Chief Moore.

ENGLAND MUSTERS TERRITORIAL FORCES

LONDON, Eng.—The recent muster of the territorial force for annual training brought out some 150,000 officers and men. Nearly two-thirds of the infantry of the force were under canvas, and there was a considerable turn-out of the other arms as well. In addition to these three school camps were formed, two for the junior division of the officers' training corps and one for the secondary schools. A marked feature of the present muster was the large number of camps along the coast line. This had the double advantage of giving the men a short time by the sea, and also of familiarizing them with the coast countries, where it is to be presumed they would be engaged in case of an invasion of Great Britain.

The instruction given during the recent training was of a more elementary character than that which was imparted a few years ago, and the idea of working the troops as "war divisions" has been abandoned in favor of the less showy but more practical company drill, followed by battalion instruction, and concluding with just a glimpse of higher work, with the object, doubtless, of showing what the previous preparation was leading up to.

BACILLUS FOR CATTLE DISEASE IS FOUND

Doctor Siegel, a Prussian physician, has announced the discovery of the germ of foot-and-mouth disease which has been so destructive to domestic animals in the Philippines. The germ has been submitted to all of the tests which the fundamental law of Koch demands. The germs can be recovered from the blood as well as from the vesicles on the gums of the animals affected. It can be grown in pure culture, and an animal inoculated by the culture develops the foot-and-mouth disease. The germ has been named cytorrhynchus.—Mindanao, P. I. Herald.
