MORGAN CONTROLS MANY BILLIONS

COMMITTEE HEARS SENSATIONAL FIGURES

Stunned By Revelations Of The Supreme Power Of New York Banker And Financier, Who Tells On The Stand Some Secrets Of Might Of The Dollar In United States

[Associated Press Cable]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—None, following the developments of the even among the muckrakers, who are hearing of the committee investigating the so-called "money trust" dreamed of the power of Pierpont Morgan, the banker of Wall street, and, if what was told on the stand here today, the most powerful man in the United States.

Calmly, Mr. Morgan admitted that he controls more than 25 billions of capital in the United States, and that his banking institution on Wall and Broad streets has deposits totaling more than 71 millions and that this sum is growing constantly.

Mr. Morgan outlined for the benefit of the committee the interlocking system of directors, whereby he is enabled to control this stupendous amount of money, and to exercise the power that goes with such control.

In all Mr. Morgan was less than an hour on the stand, but his every word was a fresh sensation, and he held the blase members of the committee voiceless until he was done. There was very little cross-questioning of the Money Mamouth.

COL. GOETHALS TO BE THE FIRST CANAL GOVERNOR

[Associated Press Cable]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18—It became known here today that President Taft has decided to appoint Colonel Goethals the first governor of the Canal Zone. It had been intended to do this some time ago, but it was feared that the change in the present form of administration would delay the completion of the canal. It is probable that the appointment will go to the Senate after the return of the President from his contemplated trip to the canal, and that it will be ratified at once, as there is a general feeling that no better man for the place could be found. It is understood that Colonel Goethals has been asked whether he would accept and has declared that he would.

ONE WOULD-BE ASSAILANT OF WILSON HELD

[Associated Press Cable]

NEWARK, N. J., Dec. 18.—Jacob Dunn, one of three men accused of having sent threatening letters to President-elect Wilson, was held for the grand jury, after the preliminary hearing here this morning. The formal charge against Dunn is blackmailing. His brother and their associate were dismissed, owing to the lack of evidence against them.

REID'S BODY TO BE BROUGHT BACK IN STATE

[Associated Press Cable]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—The offer made this government by Great Britain, to send a warship as convoy for the body of the late Ambassador Whitelaw Reid, has been accepted. No date, as yet, has been set for the departure of the vessel.

BRITAIN WOULD REVERE PEACE ANIVERSARY

[Associated Press Cable]

LONDON, Dec. 18. — The British committee which has in charge the arrangements on this side of the water for the celebration of the 100th anniversary of peace between the United States and Great Britain has decided to urge upon both nations a plan for the building of statues that will commemorate the signing of the treaty between the nations in 1814. One statue will, if the plan is carried into effect, be built at Westminster by the American government, and the other to be raised at Washington by the British.

RAILROAD ASKS COURT TO HELP DISSOLVE MERGER

[Associated Press Cable]

NEW YORK, Dec. 18.—President Lovett, of the Southern Pacific system today forwarded to Washington a request that the Supreme Court formulate a plan for the dissolution of the merger, of which the road was recently found a part. The railroad man states, that inasmuch as the Attorney General has refused to approve of the plans submitted by the road, that corporation is at a loss how to proceed and suggests that the difficulty could be solved by the Supreme Court, the tribunal that found the company guilty of violating the law.

MUTTERINGS OF MUTINY ON THE U. S. R. C. THETIS

Governor and Captain in Dispute Over Origin of Smell—Storm Stilled by a Happy Thought of the Commodore

[By Flought Waves to Star-Bulletin]

ON BOARD THE U. S. R. C. THETIS, with the Governor's Party, Dec. 18.—Anyone who imagines this junket with the Governor and Attorney General Lindsay is monotonous to the point of exhaustion has one more guess.

To begin with, the dot sighted yesterday morning was not Laysan island. So far we are still on the high seas and headed today west by nor'west, the only dry thing in sight being the Governor's smile.

CAVALRY POST GETS BIG SUM IN ESTIMATES

Nearly Half-Million Recommended for Rush Work on Leilehua Construction

Work on the permanent cavalry post at Schofield Barracks will not be held up for lack of funds, as has been feared from time to time. On the contrary, the annual estimates submitted to congress include an even larger appropriation for the work than had been counted on heretofore, and Washington advices indicate that the money will be made available immediately and that all moneys asked for fortifying Oahu will be given without question.

The sum of $472,000 is recommended for the completion of the cavalry post at Leilehua. This is in addition to $200,000 which was made available last year, most of which has already been expended in construction work. This large appropriation is to continue available beyond the fiscal year of which the appropriation act in which it is contained makes provision.

The financial story of the permanent cavalry post here is somewhat complicated, and Major General Ateshire, chief of the quartermaster corps, tells it in a note accompanying the estimate, as follows:

Cavalry Post, Hawaiian Territory.

Estimates for 1914: Purchase of material and hire of labor or job and contract for buildings, the construction of officers' quarters, barracks, storehouses, etc., necessary for the accommodation of headquarters and 2 squadrons of cavalry, $472,750.00

PLUMBING TRUST CHARGED, BUT BILL PASSES

Hot argument and hotter oratory flower freely in the City Hall at noon today where the board of supervisors held a meeting today to discuss the passing of the plumbing ordinance on third reading.

It was not until 1:30 o'clock this afternoon that the supervisors finally got to a vote on the passage of the ordinance, and then it passed by a vote of 5 to 1, Low alone opposing, Arnold was absent, Murray, Kruger Dwight, McClellan and Amana voted in favor of the ordinance.

Mayor Fern opposes the ordinance in its present form and announces that he will veto it. This being the case, there is some question as to whether the mayor, by holding the ordinance to the ten-day limit and returning it with his veto, cannot prevent the board from passing it over his veto before the supervisors go out of office.

Supervisors Low and Murray and Attorney Magoon were the chief actors Low and Magoon opposing the passage of the ordinance while Murray supported it.

The corridor was crowded with interested spectators.

Murray said that the Board intended to suppot the legal opinion of the county attorney, to whom the ordinance was referred.

"I believe there is a nigger on the fence," remarked Supervisor Low, as he arose to oppose the ordinance which passed second reading at the last meeting of the board.

Low said that a plumbing examiner, who may be theoretically good, like Jack Lucas, should not be permitted to pass upon the good workmanship of a practical plumber. He believed that a man who does not understand plumbing should not be allowed by the board to boss the work of a practical plumber.

"It looks to me as if this plumbing ordinance has been planned by a 'trust' consisting of a few men, who want to control the work of the plumbers in Honolulu," declared Low.

NEW TAX ON CARGOES?

TONNAGE REVENUE PLAN

Harbor Commission Gets Report Wharf Improvements Demand Increase in Revenues Somehow

Declaring the present revenues from wharves in the Territory insufficient to meet the demands for improvements made necessary by commerce of the present and immediate future, James Wakefield, special committee of one of the board of harbor commissioners, is this afternoon presenting to the entire board a report recommending that a "tonnage tax" be imposed on all incoming and outgoing cargoes.

Together with these important recommendations, the committee urges that the policy involved is such a vital matter to the commercial interests of the entire Territory that all the available data should be gathered and submitted to the Chamber of Commerce, Merchants' Association and other like organizations in Honolulu, the Hilo Board of Trade, Maui Chamber of Commerce and other civic and business organizations throughout the territory.

The report of Mr. Wakefield is as follows:

Honolulu, December 18th, 1912.

H. K. Bishop, Esq., Chairman, Board of Harbor Commissioners, Honolulu.

Dear Sir:—Your Committee appointed to report on "Revenues" from Territorial Wharves beg to state as follows:

Investment.

After careful investigation of available data the Territory of Hawaii has invested in Wharves in Honolulu Harbor, and landings on the Island of Hawaii, Maui, Kauai and Molokai the sum of $1,396,701.59; this total does not include any portion of the sum appropriated for the Hilo Wharf Contract, of this sum the wharves in Honolulu Harbor absorb $1,247,701. 59, and some 26 landings on the above named Islands account for the balance of $149,000.

Source of Revenue.

The only source of revenue from this large investment is the collection of a charge of .02 per ton per day on the net registered tonnage of steamers when actually lying alongside one of the territorial wharves; landings or wharves which are so situated or constructed that vessels cannot be berthed alongside, yield the Territory absolutely no revenue under the present system of charges, no matter how costly the wharf may have been to the Territory to construct and to maintain.

Actual Revenue.

The total earnings of wharves in Honolulu harbor over the past year from Oct. 1, 1911, to Sept. 30, 1912, was $44,691.18, all landings and wharves owned by the Territory on the islands of Hawaii, Maui, Kauai and Molokai yield no revenue whatever. These gross earnings show a return of 3.20 per cent on the Territory's total wharf investments, or 3.58 per cent on the Territory's investment in Honolulu harbor wharves alone.

Expense.

The last legislature appropriated the sum of $49,500 for repairs to wharves and landings for the present biennial period, $30,000 of which was for the repair of wharves in Honolulu harbor; this sum, as you are aware, was wholly inadequate to maintain the wharves in Honolulu harbor in a fit and proper condition for the traffic they carry. It is safe to say that the present type of wharves and the character of construction, will absorb for repairs only, for some years to come, the whole of the gross earnings of the wharves from the present sources of wharf revenues, and will leave no

M'CARTHY IS IN TROUBLE FOR HELPER

Bourbons Called Upon to Consider Difficulty of Securing Good Men to Fill Vacancies in Treasurer's Office, Owing to Size of Salaries Paid by the County—Economy Program May Go Glimmering When Wheels Start to Turn

Facing the greatest difficulty of their administration before even the wheels begin to turn, the Democratic solons in the new board of supervisors are wondering how they are going to make their economy program jibe with the difficulty some of the elected officers are having in filling vacancies in the departments at the salaries the county stands willing to pay. The man who has had the worst job on his hands, to date, is the County Treasurer to be, Col. McCarthy.

McCarthy, it is understood, spent most of November in a vain hunt for a capable man, who was willing to quit a good, steady job with a private firm to accept the deputy treasurership at $150 per month. Apparently the Colonel has not yet solved the problem, or if he has, he is keeping very mum about it.

He has informed the members of the next board of supervisors that he has asked two men in Honolulu to take the place, now held by Gene Campbell, and that they refused, basing their refusal on the ground that the salary is utterly inadequate, when the duties and responsibilities of the proffered office is considered. And what is the saddest blow of all to the would-be economists, is the statement made by the Colonel, in commenting upon the action of these two possibilities.

"I told the board," said the colonel this morning, "that $150 is not enough to pay a man, asked to assume the responsibilities of that office. It was pointed out that Mr. Campbell, the present deputy in the treasurer's office, is receiving that salary. But that case is altogether different. In the first place Mr. Campbell receives a handsome salary from the Waterhouse Trust Company, a salary amply sufficient for the needs of the average man, and the money he gets from the county is velvet. I shall not be able to do anything like that for the man who becomes my deputy."

The in-coming board admits all this, but is very sorrowful about it and fears, to a man, that the splendid program of retrenchment and slicing of Republican salaries will have to be abandoned.

W. H. C. CAMPBELL GETS SPEEDY COAST PACER

W. H. C. Campbell, one of the moving spirits in the promotion of the New Years race meeting at Kapiolani Park, received this morning by the Lurline a speedy harness animal that will probably be seen in action on the local track. He is a 6-year old pacer, a bay gelding, named Bill C. This horse has some fast marks on Coast tracks, and great things are expected of him, as soon as he becomes acclimated to Hawaii. The horse is the first of quite a string that Mr. Campbell intends to import if the New Year's meeting proves a success.

SUGAR BILLS ALL HELD UP

By C. S. ALBERT

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 8.—No effort whatever will be made at this session of Congress to send a bill to President Taft, revising the sugar schedule of the Payne-Aldrich tariff act. All attempts in that direction have been abandoned.

This is the statement made by Republican and Democratic members of the conference committee having in charge the proposed sugar legislation. Each of them is emphatic in asserting that a meeting of the committee will not be held.

This committee of conference remains in full force and effect until March 4. It has power to report an agreement at any time and ask the approval of the senate and house. It is now hopelessly deadlocked as between the house bill placing sugar on the free list and the senate amendment removing the differential and Dutch color-standard and reducing the duty to $1.60 per 100 pounds on refined sugars.

TWO TOYO KISEN KAISHA LINERS TO ARRIVE BY LAST OF WEEK

Two of the Japan liners of the Toyo Kisen Kaisha will arrive to add to the liveliness of the port by the last of the week, according to late wireless messages received at the agency of Castle & Cooke.

The Shinyo Maru from Hongkong by the way of Japan ports is to reach here early Saturday morning with 1840 tons of oriental freight. Captain H. Stanley Smith has asked that his vessel be given a quick dispatch inasmuch as the vessel has been delayed some five days owing to a break in her machinery.

The Shinyo Maru may be dispatched for San Francisco late Saturday night, though it is believed that an early hour Sunday morning will eventually be decided upon following a conference between the port officials and Captain Smith.

Two hundred and forty Asiatic steerage passengers are en route from the Far East to Honolulu in the liner. Of this number a large percentage are Filipinos.

The Shinyo Maru is to berth at the Oceanic wharf as the Siberia of the Pacific Mail line will be sent to the Alakea wharf.

The Tenyo Maru is to reach here early tomorrow morning and will in all probability be dispatched for Japan ports and Hongkong on or about 5 o'clock tomorrow evening.

The Tenyo Maru is to be supplied with six hundred tons of fuel during the stay at this port.

One hundred steerage passengers have been booked for the Orient at the office of Castle & Cooke.

Advices from the coast are to the effect that the Tenyo Maru will arrive here with her cabins well filled with passengers. A heavy cargo has been supplied the vessel at San Francisco, which includes big shipments of cotton for Japan spinning mills. One hundred and forty carloads of this commodity is said to form the principal item in the cargo.

Hyades To Arrive Thursday.

The Matson Navigation steamer Hyades is evidently ploughing a path through the Pacific and over a route that is far from placid.

The vessel has been delayed in arrival, a late wireless received at the agency of Castle and Cooke today stated that the vessel would arrive at the port on Thursday.

The Hyades will be berthed at Richards street wharf where nearly three thousand tons general cargo besides a quantity of lumber will be discharged.

The Hyades is to proceed to island ports including Port Allen, Kahului, Kaanapali, and Hilo.

American-Hawaiian Movements

General Freight Agent C. P. Morse, representing the American-Hawaiian Line at this port, has been advised that the freighter Columbia will sail from Puget Sound ports for Honolulu on December 25th.

The Mexican to arrive here on or about January 13th is to steam from San Francisco to Honolulu direct, cutting out the regular Sound ports.

Continuing the service from Puget Sound ports, the Arizonian is scheduled to leave Seattle on January 16th fololwed by the Virginian on January 27th.

Transports Made Ready For Sea.

Two trans-Pacific transports belonging to the United States army were being made ready at San Francisco at the time of sailing of the Matson Navigation liner Lurline. The Sheridan and the Logan are scheduled to sail from the coast for Honolulu on January 6th. The Logan is destined for Manila by the way of Guam, the Sheridan will carry the Fourth Cavalry from the mainland to the islands, and in returning will transport the Fifth Cavalry to the homeland.

Lurline For Kahului Friday Evening.

The Matson Navigation freighter Lurline is to sail for Kahului on Friday evening according to the present calculations of Castle and Cooke, representing that vessel. The Lurline will be discharged of three thousand tons freight before proceeding to the Maui port.

Hall Met With Moderate Weather.

Weather conditions along the coast of Kauai had moderated to considerable extent at the time the steamer W. G. Hall sailed for Honolulu. The Hall was on arrival this morning, bringing a few cabin and deck passengers and a cargo including 4,000 sacks sugar, 49 packages sundries, 29 mountain plants, crates of chickens, 24 bales hides. This vessel is to sail for Kauai at five o'clock tomorrow evening.

Kelly Will Surprise Fair Travelers.

Captain Kelly the fashionable skipper of the crack bark Andrew Welch, flying the Matson house flag, has several surprises in store for his passengers on the trip down to Honolulu, which the trim sailing vessel will begin when she squares away Thursday from the Golden Gate, says The Chronicle. Captain Kelly won't tell what the surprises are to be, but it's safe to say the popular master will make good, whether it is in the role of Santa Claus or as a whist player. Among those booked to make the novel sailing trip on the Andrew Welch are Mrs. P. Brizard and son, Dr. and Mrs. Hamilton Weir, Charles F. Black and S. C. Eby. The Andrew Welch will take out the usual cargo of general freight.

Flaurence Ward Has Arrived at Midway

The schooner Flaurence Ward sailing from this port with a large quantity of Christmas supplies as well as general cargo for the Commercial Pacific Cable Company arrived at Midway island today according to advices received here.

The Flaurence Ward is expected to remain at the mid-Pacific cable relay station for several days before returning to Honolulu.

Thomas Reports Position.

The United States army transport was heard from through wireless last night, the vessel then steaming in the direction of Guam and Manila, being 958 miles off Honolulu. The report further stated that the vessel had met with smooth seas, with all well on board.

Kauai Sugar Report.

With the return of the Inter-Island steamer W. G. Hall from Kauai ports this morning the following report of sugar awaiting shipment on the Garden Island was received: Mak. 37, 482. G. & R. 2300, McB. 13,805, K. S. M 2150, V. K. 2000.

HARBOR NOTES

The Inter-Island steamer Mauna Kea sailing for Maui and Hawaii ports this morning carried a fair list of cabin and deck passengers.

Mail forwarded to the mainland in the Oceanic liner Sonoma is reported to have arrived at San Francisco at 2.30 yesterday afternoon.

The Interisland has placed the steamer Maui on the berth for dispatch for Hawaii ports, the vessel taking a large general cargo.

The steamer W. G. Hall is scheduled to depart for Kauai ports at 5 o'clock Thursday morning. The Hall will be supplied with shipments of fertilizer and lumber.

San Francisco decisively defeated the local option amendment at the polls yesterday.

PLUMBING TRUST

"I don't know who loaded you with all these remarks," said Murray, as he answered Low, after the latter closed.

Attorney Magoon appearing as a landlord and owner of tenement houses, said that a large number of the poor people cannot comply with such an ordinance as this.

"I say now," shouted Magoon, "that if this ordinance passes and becomes a law, there would be a plumbing trust in Honolulu. I think it is wrong and unjust for the Board to pass a law licensing any man who may be prepared to do a little plumbing work.

"I tell you, Mr. Mayor, and gentlemen of the board, that this ordinance if tested as to its legality in the Supreme Court, will not have a ghost of a show. This law will surely be declared unconstitutional."

He advised the board to refer the ordinance for legal advice.

Communications

Clerk Kalaukalani read communications which passed between Superintendent of Public Works H. R Bishop and Manager Ballentyne of the Honolulu Rapid Transit Company. The communications referred to the repairs of the Rapid Transit Company's tracks on certain streets in Honolulu.

NEW TONNAGE TAX

earnings available to provide for such vital charges as interest on bonds, and sinking fund for the redemption of bonds.

Source of New Revenue

It is clear from the foregoing brief statements that the collection of additional revenue from the Territory's wharves is an absolute necessity, and your committee recommends that the wharves be placed on a self-sustaining basis, and that a tonnage tax be imposed on all incoming and out-going cargoes, sufficient in amount to cover with the present revenues the following charges:

1. Maintenance and repair of wharves.

2. Interest on funds invested in Territorial wharves.

3. To provide sinking fund for redemption of bonds, proceeds of which have been invested in Territorial wharves.

There is one other possible source of revenue, and that is a further charge against shipping, your committee, however, considers that the present charges against shipping are high, and strongly urge that no attempt be made to increase them.

As the suggestion of your committee, "that a tonnage tax be imposed" is a radical departure from the previous policy of the Territory, in the matter of securing an adequate income from the wharves of the Territory to maintain and finance them, your committee recommends that the whole available data on the subject of wharf income, wharf expenses, and wharf construction, be submitted to the Honolulu Chamber of Commerce and Merchants' Association, the Hilo Board of Trade, the Maui Chamber of Commerce, the Kohala Civic League, the Kona Improvement Club, and the other business organizationse throughout the Territory, with a request that they present to the Board of Harbor Commissioners suggestions and their views of the best method of meeting the present financial obligations of the Territory occasioned by the wharf system of the Territory, and for properly covering and protecting the large expenditures of public funds that will be necessary to use in the immediate future to provide for the development of the commerce of the Territory.

Accompanying this report please find statement of cost of various wharves owned by the Territory; these figurese were compiled as far as possible from the books of the public works department, but in some cases estimates of cost could only be made.

Respectfully submitted,
JAMES WAKEFIELD,
Committee.

WEDNESDAY ..... DECEMBER 18, 1912

The altar stands in the foreground of every life and can be passed by only at the cost of all that is noblest and best.—J. R. Miller.

DEMOCRATS AND THE GOVERNORSHIP

The clans are gathering in Washington with the evident intention of being on the spot when something happens in regard to the governorship. Attorney W. A. Kinney is reported as at the capital, Bertram Rivenburgh has happened in, and there are reports of another prominent Democrat who contemplates booking out of Honolulu soon on a ticket that reads "to Washington."

Locally, one can hear governorship politics buzz with that low, humming sound made by the office-holding bee when it gets under full steam. Half a dozen announced, semi-announced, receptive and passive candidates for the job of succeeding Frear are sitting tight and putting in twenty-five hours a day watering their political hopes. Several other good and true Bourbons would probably be after the governorship had they not in mind less exacting federal offices.

Few people believe that Mr. Kinney is visiting Washington with any plan of looking after a personal candidacy for the governorship. Kinney has thoroughly disposed of the idea here that he is a candidate to succeed Frear. As a matter of fact, Kinney is probably urging the claims of another, and shrewd guesses have been made among Democrats here recently that Kinney will be found supporting G. J. Waller. At any rate, he is to be counted upon to oppose L. L. McCandless.

E. M. Watson, one of the most formidable of the governorship candidates, should he actively seek the office, has indicated that he is not a candidate, though he would consider an offer of the gubernatorial toga a signal honor. Watson has received much strong backing here, but at this time it is very doubtful whether he is to be considered seriously in connection with the governorship, because, and solely because, of ill-health. Should he feel able to undertake the exacting duties that devolve upon a governor of Hawaii, he is then to be regarded as a most important factor.

The work on behalf of Link McCandless is going along with considerable more aggressiveness than most people are aware. McCandless has the advantage of controlling the Democratic machinery of the territory. The precinct clubs are lining up for him one by one. Even the attempt of Hilo Democrats to head off the precinct clubs of Hawaii from indorsing him seems to be going awry, for news has lately arrived here of at least one Big Island club which has declared itself for McCandless. Furthermore, McCandless has the obligated backing of the national committeeman, John H. Wilson, and Chairman McCombs, of the Democratic national committee, has informed local Democrats that he will work heartily in cooperation with the national committeeman of Hawaii. If this means anything, it means that President-elect Wilson will listen attentively to the recommendations of the Democratic organization of the territory.

Judge A. A. Wilder, Col. McCarthy, Harry Irwin of Hilo, and D. E. Metzger have all been mentioned in connection with the governorship, but none has so far manifested either desire for the office or important backing.

The practical result of the present situation is that there is going to be a decided split in the party here. So far there is no indication of any get-together movement to support any one candidate, and the outcome is not unlikely to be the appointment of a man who has no great strength with any faction.

The present governorship situation outlook is neither agreeable to the Democratic party of the territory nor satisfactory to the citizens in general.

PROSECUTION THAT WILL PROTECT

With the cooperation of the prosecuting officers of the city and the territory, the Citizens' Protective Committee will be able to accomplish at least one practical result at the beginning of its work. That result is the aggressive handling of cases involving crime against women and girls. Men who will devote their personal attention to this kind of prosecution and who are inspired by participation in the earnest efforts of the community to stamp out horrible and needless vice are already volunteering their services.

The Star-Bulletin believes that the city and county attorney and the attorney-general will welcome this assistance from prominent attorneys who are members of the Citizens' Protective Committee. The assistance is not at all officious; its spirit is not the spirit of criticism or "butting-in." The committee last night in discussing the matter stated that it is recognized that the prosecuting officers of the city and of the territory are overburdened with work and are afforded little opportunity to "work up" cases to be brought to speedy trial.

There need be no hesitancy, nor will there be, we believe, on the part of prominent lawyers to come forward and volunteer to go into the police court to prosecute gross cases of crime against women and girls. The community is aroused as to the necessity for action. This is a time when spades are being called spades, and when the moral sense of the community is shocked with the revelations of what has been going on while too many of the good citizens have been asleep or indifferent. The aid of the attorneys on the committee is offered in a sincere effort to bring offenders to justice with as little delay as possible, and further, to draw the attention of an apathetic community to the constantly-recurring cases of unspeakable crime.

The Citizens' Protective Committee will fail unless its work is practical, unless it can point to deeds actually achieved. One such achievement will be to secure the active support of the legal profession in prosecuting the beastly criminals who are menace to every family in Honolulu. As one attorney put it last night: "We attorneys can just as well prosecute a human polecat of this type for patriotism as we can defend him for twenty-five dollars!"

GOOD FOR THE DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE!

It is distinctly to the credit of the clear-headed members of the Democratic county committee that this body has repudiated the plan to make office-holding in Honolulu subservient to Democratic politics.

It is distinctly to the credit of members of that committee that they do not intend to carry out the resolutions engineered through late one night by "Soap-box" Barron, whose ideas of politics are worthy a San Francisco wire-puller or a Tammany ward-heeler.

The county committee, in passing upon applications for municipal jobs by the horde of hungry office-seekers who are lining up at the pie-counter, is contenting itself with passing upon the party faithfulness of these men and leaving the supervisors and heads of city departments to pass upon their qualifications.

Barron's resolutions, if carried out, would have bound the new supervisors to put in office only Democrats, or at least, to make Republicans apply for office through the medium of the Democratic committeemen. But the committee has quietly and emphatically shoved aside Barron and his noisy clacking and, if it adheres to its present determination, will allow the supervisors to judge of the qualifications of their appointees.

Any other course would have been a direct blow at municipal efficiency, for it would have put the heel of politics on the neck of individual ability. Any other course would have given the lie to the Democratic assertions that, having been elected to office on the pledge to improve municipal administration, the men elected intend to make a sincere effort to live up to that pledge.

No county committee, Republican or Democratic, has any right to hamper city office-holders by any such absurd rule as the county committee was asked to enforce. By ignoring the attempt to Tammanyize the holding of city offices, the committee has risen above party politics and will win respect from all factions.

Barron's boast a few days ago that if Fire Chief Thurston wanted reappointment, the chief would have to apply for it through him, shows the level on which his ideas of politics play. As a matter of fact, the community, Republican or Democratic, is not interested at all in Barron and is very much interested in the retention of an efficient fire-chief.

Since the Democratic donkey got the ascendancy, Arthur Brisbane's phrase, "the powers that prey," has been changed to "the powers that bray."

All of the good Republicans are sure that the good Democrats are starting the government on its downward path.

There seems to be an idea that the bar association does not bar politics.

LETTERS ON TIMELY TOPICS

A PORTUGUESE SCHOOL.

Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin.

Sir:—The Fort street school, with its well-kept grounds, its dark green lawns, its ornamental row-ring trees and its many other attractions, is one of the most beautiful places or spots to be found in Honolulu at the present time, and it is doubtful if there is any other school, either here or at the Coast, that can compare with it.

The great variety of poinsettias which adorn the walls of the school and the grounds, and which grow in the greatest profusion, would alone make this place famous.

Indeed, there is not to be found anywhere in this city such a vast quantity of these kinds of flowers, or is there any place where they grow so large or so luxuriantly. And it is not only the outside of this school that is attractive, but from every window and from every hallway are to be seen flowers, and foliage and trees of wonderful beauty.

Not the least charm of this school are the children at play during recess and of whom there are nearly a thousand. The sight of so many children, all clean and bright and cheerful and happy, is alone well worth seeing, and a sight never to be forgotten.

Not the least interesting is to see their good conduct, their kind dispositions, and their love and care of the flowers, not one of which is either broken off or in any way destroyed.

Among other things, they are taught to partly take care of these flowers, trees and grounds, and in a measure are held responsible for their good condition.

Another interesting sight is to see them march from the playgrounds into school, which is done by the taps of the drum, in good order, and with military precision.

Inside of the school the same good order, neatness and cleanliness is seen everywhere and for which the children are partially held responsible, as on the outside.

Here the girls, besides their regular lessons, are taught sewing and many useful arts that will be of use to them in their homes, and all through their lives; and the boys are taught, among other things, to sweep and mop and clean the hallways and rooms, and are given many lessons in manual training. Among other things, they have a complete police department, the children themselves being the officers, from policeman to judge, and they try the cases and give the penalties and keep records of the proceedings.

This method seems to be a good idea in discipline and teaching the boys many useful things in city government and in law and order.

Love seems to be the ruling spirit in the government of this school, and its good results are everywhere evident.

No lover of beauty should fail to visit this school, for these flowers are now at their best and a sight so transcendantly beautiful can rarely be seen even in this city beautiful.

Yours very truly,

GEO. OSBORNE.

LITTLE INTERVIEWS

A. C. WHEELER, assistant superintendent of public works—The statement made at the meeting of the board of supervisors last night that this department does not intend constructing the wharf at Waikane was without foundation in fact. The plans for this pier are practically complete now, and the advertisement for tenders for the job will begin tomorrow or Friday.

NON-COMMITTAL

"Who made the rose on the rose bush?"
"God made the red rose tree
And the lilies fair, in the garden there."
The little girl answered me.

"Who made the thorn on the rose bush?"
The little girl hung her head
With a troubled frown and eyes cast down.
"Well—God made the rose," she said.

"Who made the sands at the seaside?"
"God made the sands of the sea,
And the waters blue, and the fishes, too,"
The little girl answered me.

"Who made the dudes at the seaside?"
The little girl raised her head.
With the faintest smile on her face the while:
"Well—God made the sands," she said.

HACK RUNS DOWN A JAPANESE

A Japanese was sent to the hospital this morning, the man having been run down by a hack driven by a Chinese.

The police began an investigation with the result that the Chinese has been locked up pending an investigation and also the recovery of the patient or otherwise.

Should the Japanese die from the result of his wounds, the Chinese hackman may face a charge of manslaughter.

MOTT-SMITH MAPPING 'COMMISSION' CITIES

Acting Governor Mott-Smith, following in the footsteps of his chief, is now engaged in the preparation of a statistical map to be used as a handy reference in the study of the commission, or short ballot system of municipal government.

In it will be tabulated every city now under the new system, with its population, the number of commissioners shown, their method of election, terms of office, salary, etc.; whether a mayor is chosen, how chosen, his term of office, salary, etc.; whether the initiative, referendum and recall are in use; how long the system has been in use, and how many times, if at all, the initiative, referendum and recall have been exercised.

All the data from which this table is to be made is in the governor's office, and when it is complete Mott-Smith believes it will prove of inestimable value in an intelligent study of the general subject.

The three K. of P. lodges in the city—Oahu, Mystic and William McKinley—are giving a joint Christmas tree to their members on Friday evening. Invitations have been mailed to all members.

Six wild ducks were frozen to death while asleep in a Connecticut lake. The mercury fell 45 degrees during the night.

"Revolving Wedge" Aagain.

The popular young collegians who rendered "The Revolving Wedge" at Charles R. Bishop Hall the evening before Thanksgiving will again put on the production at the Hawaiian Opera House on Friday night.

The young people were very successful in the first production and received many compliments. Mr. Clayton Cousens was perhaps the star but Miss Shirley Foster as the Irish servant girl portrayed that character excellently.

The players are giving their performance this time for the benefit of the Malihini Christmas tree and in all probability the opera House will be well filled by those who are in sympathy with the movement.

Next week the young amateurs will visit Maui where they will present the play four times.

"THE STYLE CENTER"

WORLD'S FAIR STOCK CO. HERE TO BEGIN SEASON ON SATURDAY

JAMES DILLON, well-known actor who comes with World's Fair Stock company for season at Bijou theater.

The World's Fair Stock company, of some twenty-two members, headed by Miss Virginia Brissac and John Wray, arrived this morning via the Lurline, and begin a season of dramatic stock plays at the Bijou theater this coming Saturday.

The company comes well equipped as to plays and productions, and brings with them considerable creditable reputation made in such cities as Seattle, Los Angeles, etc., and at the same time, what will perhaps be the greatest advertising feature ever known to Hawaii. In addition to the regular members of the stock company the aggregation is increased by moving picture experts, scenario writers, film developers and a full and complete plant for the taking of moving pictures, the company's management having entered into a contract with the Universal Film company for the "acting" of plays dealing with events in Hawaiian history, plays with Hawaiian [illegible] and [illegible] ing scenes and [illegible] Hawaii [illegible] will in turn be exhibited to hundreds of thousands of persons [illegible], and doubtless advertising Hawaii in a more substantial manner than it has ever been before.

In speaking of this branch of the company's work, James Dillon, the well-known actor, says: "Although the acting of plays for the picture people is not what we are primarily here for, that part of our work will unquestionably be the most important, so far as the islands are concerned, as it will be the best advertising scheme ever evolved for Hawaii. The nature of the plays we are to enact for the picture people are not to be of the heavy melodrama kind, and I can assure you there will be no scenes of cannibalism, 'wild men' or anything of the [illegible]; on the contrary, the background or 'settings' for our picture plays will be chosen from the most picturesque and gorgeous scenes it will be possible for us to find, and as to that, the method is one of the most important parts of the picture business, two artists accompanying us, whose duty it is to hunt out and locate the most beautiful spots on the entire islands, and these scenes being shown in the picture cannot but work good for the islands. We are also to produce scenes depicting episodes in the history of Hawaii, and the advertising value of this can readily be seen."

The company begins their engagement at the Bijou theater Saturday with "Brewester's Millions," and that this engagement will be the most important in local theatricals this season there is no question.

The "Liberty Bell" is being repaired in Philadelphia with the expectation that it will be sent to San Francisco in 1915.

Stocks were decidedly erratic on the New York stock exchange yesterday, although there was an absence of excitement. London selling caused prices to fall in the morning, rallying toward noon to about Monday's closing prices. In the afternoon the recovery was neutralized and the market closed heavy.

An inquiry has been made of the Bishop estate looking to the acquisitio nof the Hotel street end of the grounds opposite the Young Hotel for a building site. No action has yet been taken by the trustees of the estate on the offer for the King street end of the premises. The early settlement of the federal building site litigation may hasten matters.

Instructions were cabled to Raymond C. Brown in London yesterday, acocmpanied by $20,000 as first payment, to charter the steamship Willesden at $135,000 to bring 1600 Portuguese immigrants. It was the Willesden that was mentioned in the offer laid before the board of immigration at its meeting last week, but the board requested that the name be not published then. The Willesden was here before with European immigrants, arriving in such bad condition as to incur a penalty of $10,000.

KAMEHAMEHAS IN CELEBRATION TOMORROW

Twenty-five Years of Progress in Schools To Be Commemorated

President Perley L. Horne of Kamehameha schools this morning announced the program for the twenty-fifth anniversary, which includes the annual Founder's Day exercises. The program is as follows:

Mausoleum exercises — Thursday, Dec. 19, 10 a. m.

Dedication of senior cottage, school for girls—Thursday, Dec. 19, 4 p. m.

Song—"Pauahi o Kalani," prepara- Friday, Dec. 20, 7 p. m.

Chapel Service—Sunday, Dec. 22, 11 a. m.

Kamehameha celebrates her twenty-fifth anniversary this year. Former students are urged to attend these exercises. The Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company offers a three-quarters round trip rate to those coming from the other islands.

Special cars will leave the schools for the Mausoleum, Thursday, at 9 a. m.

Rev. Akaiko Akana, class of 1903, will deliver the Sunday address.

After the dedication of the senior cottage, the building will be open for inspection.

Athletic contests will be held on Thursday and Friday afternoons.

At the luau, only former members of Kamehameha with wife or husband are invited. No children.

The program at the Mausoleum tomorrow at 10 a. m. is as follows:

Song—"He Inoa No Pauahi," by all.

Decoration of Mrs. Bishop's grave by students, in charge of Miss Burgner.

Song—"Pauahi Ke Alii," by all.

Song—Pauahi o Kalani," preparatory and manual boys.

Brief ritual service by K. B. S. P. D.

Brief Ritual service by K. G. S.

Brief ritual service by K. B. S. M. D.

Song—"Only Remembered," by all. Girls' School call—K. G. S.

The public are cordially invited. All former students are urged to come to do honor to the memory of the loved Alii.

The program for the dedication of the senior cottage at 4 p. m. tomorrow is:

Presiding—President Perley L. Horne.

Song—"A Lonely Rose" (Hermes), girls' senior class.

Address—Hon. W. O. Smith, president, board of trustees.

Son—"Mother Love" (Voght), Boys' Glee club.

Acceptance of building for the girls —Miss Ida M. Pope, principal.

Song—"The Rosary" (Nevin), girls' senior class.

Girls' school call—the School for Girls.

Inspection of the new building will follow the exercises.

The pledge taken by the pupils during the Mausoleum exercises is as follows:

"We, the pupils of the Kamehameha school, in the presence of the ashes of our Alii, pledge ourselves for the coming year, to strive to put from us such thoughts and feelings as may tend to degrade our minds and bodies; to give more time and strength to gaining all that she wished us to gain; and to strive to honor her name wherever we may be. And we do this that we may the better prepare ourselves to have such homes and such conditions as shall tend to keep and develop for our race all those noble traits of character she possessed."

WALTER DUISENBERG BACK.

Walte Duisenberg returned home in the Lurline this morning, after an absence of over three months in San Francisco undergoing treatment for his eyes, injured by the explosion of a sodawater bottle in August. He returns in splendid health, but the sight of his right eye is permanently lost. All that is visible to reveal the deprivation, and this only upon close inspection, is reduced size of the pupil in the sightless eye. An artificial eye is therefore unnecessary. Mr. Duisenberg was at the office of Duisenbeg Brothers, Merchant street, soon after arrival, receiving the welcome of his many friends who were delighted to find him not only in the best of health but cheerful despite his misfortune.

SOMETHING DEPENDABLE.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy never disappoints those who use it for obstinate coughs, colds and irritations of the throat and lungs. It stands unrivalled as a remedy for all throat and lung diseases. For sale by all dealers. Benson, Smith & Co., Ltd., agents for Hawaii.—advertisement.

ARMY OFFICERS SEE MANY REASONS FOR CHANGE IN THE MILITARY POLICY

Army officers have seen many reasons why a change in the military policy on Oahu, locating the main strength of the army eventually to be stationed on the island in the vicinity of Pearl Harbor, instead of at Schofield Barracks, will be of enormous practical and tactical advantage. It is generally decided that this would be the logical disposition of a large body of troops, and that if the defense board, which met here last summer made such recommendation in its report, and the report has been approved, then the military future of Oahu is much brighter than formerly.

When the report of the defense board was prepared and forwarded to Washington by General Macomb, Lieutenant Colonel Morrison, Major Blakely and Major Wooten, no word as to its recommendations was allowed to go out, but now that it has reached Washington and has been approved, according to press dispatches, the veil of secrecy has been somewhat lifted. The change of plans regarding Schofield Barracks, told here for the first time in yesterday's issue of the Star-Bulletin, is of the greatest interest to both service people and civilians, for the garrisoning of a large force near the city will not only more effectually protect it in time of war, but will be of tremendous commercial advantage in time of peace. Eight thousand soldiers quartered within twenty minutes' trolley ride of the city will mean a great increase in general business, and keep a large amount of money in constant circulation.

It is said on the best authority that the plans of the defense board contemplate the garrisoning of Schofield Barracks with only its present force, consisting of one regiment of cavalry, two of infantry and a battalion of field artillery. The other four regiments of infantry, included in the plan of general staff for Oahu's mobile army, will be stationed near Honolulu, in what are known as "city barracks," that is, three-story buildings of men without requiring much acreage.

Two regiments will probably go to Fort Shafter, and two to Fort Kamehameha, which, under the original plan, was to be a two-company coast artillery post. There is plenty of land available on both sides of the present fortifications there, and this would be the logical place for a strong garrison on account of its nearness to Pearl Harbor. There is plenty of room on the Shafter reservation, although considerable clearing and a little filling will have to be done before more buildings are erected.

In the plan of the general staff, nine batteries of field artillery are apportioned to Oahu, and probably one battalion will be stationed in the neighborhood of Waialua, to oppose a landing on that portion of the coast. Sea coast fortifications are also planned, it is said, for that point. The other artillery battalion would probably go to Schofield.

The reason for the entire change of plans as regards Schofield Barracks seems to lie in the fact that there is nothing to defend in the center of the island. The main body of troops would be too far from the main line of Pearl Harbor's and Honolulu's defense, and might be entirely cut off from subsistence, and caught between two bodies of invaders. In time of peace it would be more economical to have the main body of troops nearer the city, as the freight rates to Leilehua greatly increase the cost of subsistance and forage.

GRAND LAYOUT OF JEWELRY

A piece of honest jewelry is a joy forever, and nobody makes a mistake who invests in such a token of love and friendship in Christmas buying. Honolulu jewelry stores are among the best evidence of its metropolitanism and wealth, comparing favorably in style and stocks with the finest places of the kind anywhere. The Vieira establishment on Hotel street is this season one of the most brilliant show places in town. J. A. R. Vieira, president of the Vieira Jewelry Co., in mentioning some of the holiday lines in the store, was able to name some articles that express the latest word in jewels on the mainland. The Star-Bulletin man took things dow njust as they were run over by Mr. Vieira as follows:

"For the ladies we have a very large assortment of 14-carat jewelry, necklaces, pendants and bangles. There is also a great variety of brooches in very dainty designs. Combs mounted in gold, bar pins in the very latest designs, gold watches set with diamonds, neck chains in very unique designs and lockets are among our leading attractions. Here, moreover, are mesh bags and purses, together with a wide range of novelties.

"Then, for the men, we have Howard watches, tie clips, scarf pins, locket cuff buttons and studs, all in 14-karat gold. For the household we have a beautiful line of crystal glass with silver trimmings just come in, also a large assortment of photo frames with some of the latest engravings."

HUNT THE GAY SLIPPER HERE

"Business is a little better than last year," said W. H. Smith, manager of the Manufacturers' Shoe Co., Ltd., this morning, "although we are a little handicapped by not having the fleet here. We have the best selection of goods we have ever had for Christmas, and trade started in lively from the first of the month.

"No doubt the public will be interested to know that the prices of all shoes have been going up since the first of September. They have increased 25 per cent, but luckily for our custom our goods were ordered in August, so that the raise has not yet affected this store. A scarcity of leather is the cause of the rise in prices, and on the mainland has produced a strong run on fabrics in place of leather. One manufacturer who caught on to the situation early has cleaned up a little fortune in footwear of fabrics.

"Our special holiday run is on ladies' evening slippers in satins, black, white and blue, beaded and plain. These goods were personally selected by myself when East in August.

"We will keep open evenings starting with Friday and continuing Saturday, Monday and Tuesday.

'KONA NIGHTINGALES' TO SING IN HONOLULU

The "Kona Nightingales," famous for their sweet singing will give a series of concerts in Honolulu during the holiday season. This will afford the music-loving people of Honolulu an opportunity to hear the Konaites sing a number of the famous Hawaiian songs, composed by the old Alii of Hawaii nei.

The "nightingales" are none other than the Kona glee club. C. E. King, supervising principal of the Kona schools, is the director, and with him are Matthew H. Kane, baritone; Lota Kauwe and Thos. Hase, bass singers, S. Toomey, tenor, J. Koomoa, alto and a few other well known singers from the balmy shores of Kona.

The singers, according to the present arrangement, will arrive here next Friday morning in the steamer Kilauea. And after having rehearsals they will give concerts in the K. P. Hall, where it is expected a large audience will greet the Kona nightingales.

One of the songs, composed by Kane, will be sung again. This is a new addition. The singers agreed to come here at the urgent solicitations of their friends in the cosmopolitan.

It is believed also that they will then sing a few selections during the celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Kamehameha Schools, which will be commemorated from tonight of the 20th, when the occasion tomorrow morning, and lasting until the night of the 20th when the occasion will be ended with a grand feast in the dining hall of the Boys' School.

NO MARTYRDOM FOR ATTORNEY

Attorney Correa, of Hilo, who sometime ago openly flouted the fruit fly quarantine on Hawaii, will not be prosecuted—under the present charge, at least. Acting Attorney General A. G. Smith this morning sent word to County Attorney Beers, ordering him to withdraw his petition for a writ of error in the case, informing him that the rule which Correa is accused of violating was reported a month before the alleged violation occurred.

The rule Correa was accused of infringing was Section 4 of Rule 14, passed by the Board of Agriculture and made law by receiving the Governor's signature. But another rule, adopted later, took the place of section 4, thus in effect serving as a repeal, and for that reason Correa will not be prosecuted as originally intended.

The case may not be pushed at all. This does not mean, however, says the acting attorney general, that people may proceed to violate the quarantine with impunity, and that others caught carrying fruit from the prohibited districts into infected sections will be vigoriusly dealt with, under the newer regulations of the board.

MUTTERINGS OF MUTINY

Your correspondent is informed by Capt. Cochran that what we saw yesterday was a marine mirage. That was after he had taken the governor's place in the crow's nest and had shouted down that he smelled Bird island. A furious row ensued, the governor asserting that what the captain smelled was the crow's nest and the latter retorting he had been known to detect the island by its odor long before it hove in sight.

Finally, just as George Willett, the policeman-ornithologist from Los Angeles, had been called up on deck to decide the matter as expert authority, Commodore G. R. Salisbury shouted:

"The sun is over the foreyard!"

Just what this sailing phrase means your correspondent is at a loss to understand. I looked at the sun and it seemed to me to be almost at the zenith and not over any forward part of the ship at all. When I looked around again I saw the entire company rushing pellmell downstairs, and on inquiring from Judge Lindsay, who was in the rear, I was informed that they were going to "box the compass."

Here again your humble correspondent must plead woeful ignorance. Locked out, but lingering near by, I pondered deeply as I heard the mysterious sounds wafted out from time to time. Is this "boxing the compass" an athletic exercise, a millionaires' pastime, or a game of authors? I have heard of rich spendthrifts buying gold watches and then going out and throwing them against brick walls to hear them smash, but I never heard of mariners carrying a stock of compasses to sea merely for the purpose of breaking them up in the privacy of their cabins.

Yet I distinctly heard at frequent intervals the musical tinkle of glass and an occasional small crash, followed by an order from some member of the party to the cabin boy to "bring another." My bewilderment was still further increased when I heard a voice that I positively would swear was Lindsay's, repeat:

"Here's to the happiest hours of my life
"Spent in the arms of another man's wife—
"My mother."

When the two territorial officials emerged an hour later, wiping their foreheads, and your correspondent timidly ventured another query, Lindsay replied non-committally:

"'Tis a braw nicht, the nicht!"

There was a steely glittler in the governor's eye that hinted he would brook no interference, so he was not questioned concerning the phenomenon.

The afternoon was uneventful, all hands remaining in their bunks. After dinner last evening, however, the company again engaged in this mysterious game of "boxing the compass," and your correspondent retired early to rest his shattered nerves and ponder the subject.

It must have been some time after eight bells that I was awakened by a commotion outside. I listened a moment. The boat was riding easily. It couldn't be that we were in danger. Then I distinctly heard a cry of distress, right outside my door. Some one, running rapidly down the deck, was shrieking:

"For Heaven's sake, somebody save me! Take it off!"

I jumped up and rushed outside instantly, to collide with a big black form that knocked me back breathless against the door of my cabin, then hurtled on toward the shouting fugitive. When I had finally gathered myself together and reached the stern I found the crew gathered around Judge Lindsay. They were splashing water in his face.

When he finally came to, he was too weak to talk, and the members of the crew professed deep ignorance of the whole affair. I didn't sleep the rest of the night, but the thing, made plain by the Judge himself this morning, is simple enough.

Getting hungry in the middle of the night he had ventured into the kitchen hoping to steal a light lunch. In the dark he had encountered the big, black, burly form, evidently on the same errand bent, and was chased into the open. This fearsome thing, in the broad light of day, proved to be only Brutus, the Thetis' mascot, the big black bear brought down from Alaska some months ago, and who frequently breaks loose at night and goes on foraging expeditions to the ship's larder.

Capt. Cochran says we will do well if we reach Laysan tomorrow. I think there is some kind of a gentleman's disagreement between the captain and the governor, for the captain repeats that opinion entirely too frequently, and every time he says it the governor scowls blackly. I pray we reach land of some kind soon, or there may be mutiny aboard.

President Taft will start on December 19 for Panama on the Arkansas. Mrs. Taft and several friends will accompany him.

NEXT BASEBALL SERIES LOOKS VERY CLASSY

Chinese and Portuguese Getting Ready for Their Diamond Battle Next Sunday—Punchbowl Contingent Confident

An international baseball carnival is on. Next Sunday ought to settle the supremacy of the different races on the baseball diamond. The Portuguee, the Japanese, or the Chinese—three distinct nationalities—you can take your pick. This is a rare baseball treat, but it is the very kind that the fans want to witness.

The principal contest is creating a great deal of speculation, and everyone is wondering whether Trainer Sam Hop's famous Chinese troupe or of Manager Paresa's Punchbowl wonders, will win out. Since the return of the Chinese boys, the two teams have never met, but there is a great deal of rivalry between them, each claiming to have a superior combination. In order to settle their differences, the two teams have decided to play a series of the best two out of three. The P. A. C.s are out to win, is the war-cry sent around Punchbowl slopes, while the Chinese team intends to add another victory to the six straight games already won since their return from the Staes. There you are, but where will we be next Sunday?

Big Fellow To Pitch.

In all probability, Apau Kau, now weighing 183 pounds, will pitch for the Orientals. The big clabber is not losing any sleep at all and seems to have a terrific amount of steam behind him. With Kan Yen behind the bat, the cool-headed Albert Akana at first, Asam at second, Lai tin and V. Ayau at third and short respectively, Apau will have grand support. The Chinese outfield trio, "Chief" Akana, En Sue and Sing Hung, have not made a single error in the six games played and do not intend to let any chances slip by, if they can help it.

For the P. A. C.s, Captain Freitas will perform in the box, and expects to puzzle the Chinese batters with all his curves. La Mere, Bushnell, Flizer and Souza will form the infield and will be there with the stick. Punchbowl town will turn out in force, for ever since the return of the Chinese, it has touted its favorites as the only ones that can break the winning streak of the speedy boys of Trainer Sam Hop. However, they will have the opportunity to demonstrate their worth next Sunday. Bert Bower will officiate as umpire.

Good Opener.

For the curtain raiser, the Asahis and the C. A. U.s' pennant winners of the first and second series respectfully in the Junior League are starting their championship series. There will be all kinds of fun and excitement when the two Oriental teams fight it out, for each has no love for the other. In the second series in which the Chinese Juniors emerged ahead, they won once from the Asahis and lost the other in a slug-fest 11 to 12. Ping Kong, or "Pinky," brother of the fleet-footed En Sue, is the captain and left fielder of the C. A. U.s and expects to get the jump on Moriyama's teammates.

The seat sale for Sunday's doubleheader will be put on sale at E. O. Hall & Son.

LUTHER M'CARTY REAL 'WHITE HOPE'

Full Details of Go with Flynn Show That He Won Decisively—Palzer Fight Next

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 10.—Luther McCarthy of Springfield, Mo., won the twenty-round heavyweight championship elimination contest at Vernon tonight from Jim Flynn, the Pueblo fireman. The battle ended in the sixteenth round after Flynn had gone down twice. Referee Eyton stopped the fight.

Flynn took a terrific beating. He never had a chance against the Missouri "white hope" whom he had promised to destroy.

Savage smashes on the jaw sent him down three times in the ninth round. At that time it seemed certain that he would go out, but his remarkable vitality, persisting after twelve years of ring battles, remained with him until the middle of the sixteenth, when the referee, hearkening to the vociferous cries of "Stop it!" that had begun in the ninth round, raised McCarthy's gory right glove and proclaimed him the winner.

The end came when Flynn had gone down twice under the ponderous smashes of his youthful and gigantic opponent.

The first time he was knocked to the floor Flynn remained down for nine seconds. He rose staggering, and straight, half arm blows, the thud of which could be heard throughout the arena, sent him sprawling again for the finish. He rose complaining and denouncing Eyton's action in proclaiming McCarty the winner.

Will Meet Palzer.

As a reward of his victory tonight, in addition to the purse, McCarty will have Al Palzer in the Vernon ring for a "heavy-weight championship" battle of twenty rounds on New Year's day. Thus he will have verified the jocular prediction he made to the big New Yorker when the latter was introduced and the two shook hands just before the gong sent Flynn and the young Missourian together.

Absolutely unknown a few months ago, and but a glimmering "hope" even after he had disposed of Kaufman, McCarty by tonight's decisive victory places himself, in view of Jack Johnson's supposed elimination, in direct line for heavy-weight championship honors. He left the ring smiling and practically unmarked, and declaring that, while he never made predictions as to the outcome of fights, he did not believe Palzer was as good as Flynn.

Flynn a Pitiful Sight.

Flynn was a pitiable spectacle as he dragged himself, with the assistance of his seconds, from the ring. His body bore great welts. His face was puffed so that he could hardly open his mouth, and great slits over his eyes oozed blood, despite the repeated application of collodion.

Flynn's chances of winning disappeared almost as soon as the men squared away for the first round. He could not reach McCarty, while the Missourian hit him at will. McCarty eluded his bear-like rushes easily, and planted resounding blows wherever he desired to land them. McCarty's best blows were straight lefts and uppercuts that almost invariably landed flush upon the fireman's jaw or upon his chin. The fireman, however, seldom backed up. When he did give ground it was only for a moment, and then he rushed in for more.

McCarty Too Powerful.

For the first time in his fighting career Flynn met a man against whom his savage infighting was futile. Time after time he rushed and flailed rights and lefts, but the youngster was too strong for him, and the veteran was almost helpless.

Flynn showed his old-time form only in flashes, and then his swings invariably went wild. He was outpointed in every round but the fourth, when he had the Missourian guessing with his bull-like rushes.

McCarty proved a tremendous surprise. Of the two, he appeared to be the veteran, and throughout he fought a cool, heady battle. In the closing rounds McCarty tried repeatedly to put the fireman out. Placing his left hand on Flynn's head he would set and swing his terrific right to the jaw. Flynn would shake off the steadying right hand like an angry bull, but he was unable to defend himself against the crushing right of the youngster.

Decision is Popular.

Referee Eyton's decision was a popular one. Thousands rushed to the ringside when Flynn was sent to his corner, acclaiming the victor, who was hoisted, laughing like a school boy, to the shoulders of his friends and carried about the ring. He never went to the dressing-room after the fight, but getting into his khaki trousers, red sweater and overcoat, he climbed into an automobile and was taken to his training quarters. His only mark was a cut under the right eye.

Once when McCarty sent the fireman staggering with a right to the stomach, the latter indicated that he had been fouled, but he did not protest when the referee overlooked it.

McCarty will begin light training at once for the New Year's day fight with Palzer.

AD WOLGAST TALKS OF QUITTING GAME

Ad Wolgast, whose lightweight crown was snatched away by Willie Ritchie last Thanksgiving Day, is talking of retiring. According to newspaper interviews he has been contemplating such a step for some time, figuring that he has enough of a start financially, and enough business acumen, to make a success in some less strenuous walk of life than the one he has been following of late.

However, Ad's retirement talk started before he lost the title, and there is quite a difference between going out of the game undefeated, and dropping out a beaten man, minus title and glory. It is hardly likely that Wolgast will seriously consider stepping down and out until he has had a try at regaining his lost laurels. In the first place, there's big money in another Ritchie-Wolgast fight, and, in the second, Ad was prouder of his honors than possibly any other lightweight champion of recent years, and he will go the limit to get back his self-esteem.

ATHLETICS LOOK LIKE COME-BACKS

PHILADELPHIA—The playing of the Athletics in Cuba indicates that the great team has found itself, after a disappointing season in the American League.

Connie Mack's club, after disposing of the Giants in the fall of 1911, was almost universally considered as a certain winner of the flag in 1912. But the fall-down of Bender, the cleverest pitcher on the staff, and the deterioration of Rube Oldring, who failed to keep in condition, held the club down, and the steady-going Red Sox beat them out.

In spite of the fact that they wound up in third place in the race, the Athletics continued their great hitting of the previous two years, leading the American League in batting by a comfortable margin of five points over their nearest competitors, the world's champions. Though they played in less games than any other club in the league except the New York Highlanders they made far more base hits than any other team, and were easily the most persistent and consistent hitters in the league.

Their long driving resulted in their leading all rival six three-base hits, of which they garnered twenty-one more than their closest opponent. They were next to Boston in home runs, and excelled only by Boston and Cleveland in two-baggers. With this kind of slugging they might have taken part in the world's series instead of the Red Sox if they had had the pitching which they counted on having when the season opened.

Connie Mack has already declared himself as being right in the hunt for the American League peanant in 1913. From present indications his guess is about right. His infield will be intact and it is a hard quartet to beat, with McInnes, Collins, Baker and Barry around the diamond. Strunk has made good in the outfield, and Oldring has promised to discover the good nearly the coming year.

Mack claims to have picked up a corking good outfielder from the Baltimore club, and who certainly looked like a ball player when the Reds, Cavets, the Orioles last August.

With Connie's excellent scouting system and his numerous connections with the source of supply in baseball, there is little doubt that he will place his team on the field in the spring in perfect order and ready to do battle to the finish.

The Athletics look like the class of the league for next year. They appear to be the strongest proposition that the Bostons will have to solve in their fight for a second flag.

Dr. Frederick A. Cooke, who discovered the North Pole (?), is appearing in vaudeville. He gives 20-minute talks on "how he did it," illustrated with stereopticon views.

Foxhall Keene Sounds Note Of Warning On International Polo

NEW YORK.—"America will have a hard time retaining the international polo trophy in the series of games with the English challengers next year. Our representatives will find that the men they will face are much superior in quality to those who opposed them in 1911. The English players are 100 per cent faster and better players than those that made up the team in the former contest.

"The English ponies rate 100 per cent better than the ponies that the challengers rode in 1911. This is an increase of 200 per cent in quality among the players and horses that the American players defeated in the American games. Can America furnish the native players and ponies to meet this advance?"

In those words Foxhall Keene, one of the greatest polo[illegible] in the country and one of the five nine-point men (the highest handicap in polo in America—the other four men are Harry Payne Whitney, Lawrence Waterbury and Devereaux Milburnet, struck a note of alarm as to the future retention of the blue ribbon polo trophy of the world. Keene was rather pessimistic in his views as to the result of the forthcoming matches.

"We will have to work hard to fill the requirements with first class material, both in players and ponies for 1913," continued Keene. "There is plenty of time to do it and get everything in shape if the players will only buckle down to work. It will mean plenty of hard training of a serious nature. Unless the poloists of the country start with this object in view we will meet with certain defeat.

"We had no such man to face on the English team in 1911 as Walter S. Buckmaster, who will be on the team next year as captain. He is by long odds the greatest poloist in England. He is a "10 point man" in that country."

In England the men are handicapped as high as 10 points. The members of the American team that won and defended the cup in 1909 and 1911 and Keene are rated as 10 point men in England; but with a man like Buckmaster as an opponent, and Captain Leslie St. George Cheape, Captain J. Hardess Lloyd and Captain R. G. Ritzen as assistants, the American players will have as adversaries the greatest team they ever faced.

EVERY CHAMP FEELS HAMMER

Always "a world's champion is cramped, crowded and cornered by a continuous chain of caustic criticism, says the St. Louis Times.

His cleverness will not protect him from the swing of the hammer. He may be able to wish a punch that will canvas a man every time it lands. His ring methods may be perfect, his private life that of the ideal citizen, but the "panning" parties will be his just the same.

Start in with an "also," John L. Sullivan, John Lawrence was stoped because he didn't fight often enough. Corbett, the critics chirped, was a one-fancer, not a fighter. Come right along up the line and look the title holders over—Jeffries, Gans, Ketchel, Papke, Nelson, Attell, Wolgast and Kilbane. Not one of these but what was scorched from ear to instep for some weakness, real or rumored.

One of the longest routes ever taken for a "trip" was taken in connection with the late middleweight champion. Stanley Ketchel. Champions, past and present, were being discussed at a Reno reunion of sport writers. Ketchel's name came up and for a full quarter of an hour it looked as though the 158-pound king was to come in for nothing but praise, when a St. Louis man shot his shaky shaft of abuse:

"Oh, Ketchel is all right. He's game to the heart and a great fighter," said the Missouri man, "but—well, he is—er—oh, I don't like the flashy clothes the big dub wears."

SPORTING NOTES.

A movement is on foot at Oxford and Cambridge to get up a Rugby team to tour the Pacific coast and compete with the university and club teams.

The welter-weight championship title of Great Britain was won by Johnny Sommers. He defeated Sid Burns at the National Sporting Club at London.

Auto polo, the sport which has just made its debut at Madison Square Garden, is agreed by all to far outshine football, racing, aeroplaning and all other death-promising toys in its possibilities for fatalities. Machines going at 40 miles an hour steering directly for each other, undeniably furnish plenty of thrills for the spectators.

A match is scheduled to take place at Kenosha, Wis., Dec. 16 between Packey McFarland and Eddie Murphy.

GIANTS KNEW WHEN TO HIT AND WHEN TO LET 'EM GO.

Whether they "hit 'em out" or "waited," whether they went out in pursuit of hard base hits or "worked" the opposing pitcher, the Giants were the best all-around stick men in the National League last season. According to the official figures the Polo Grounders drew more bases on balls than any other club except Chicago, and had fewer strikeouts charged against them than any other rival except the Reds.

GOOD FIGHT CARD AT SCHOFIELD TONIGHT

A good card of boxing bouts has been arranged for Schofield Barracks tonight, at the new infantry amusement hall. Interest in the ring game was ever greater in local army circles than at the present time, and it is expected that tonight's house will be close to a record.

The main event will be between Sergeant Allen, Battery D, First Field Artillery, and Private Kilsner, K company, First Infantry. They are a shifty pair of scrappers, and are expected to keep thing humming while they are in the ring. Allen got a decision over Willis in a six round affair at the Bijou last Saturday night.

Thirty-four rounds of boxing in all are on the card. All the bouts will be refereed by Color Sergeant M. I. Maher, Second Infantry.

The semi final event will be between Corporal Kibbey, Fifth Cavalry and Private Donovan, First Infantry. Two six round preliminaries have been arranged as follows: Private Mullins vs. Private Hooper, both of the Cavalry; Private Arrellanes vs. Cook Ulrick, Cavalry.

JOEL COX, LOCAL LAD, STARRING AT STANFORD

Joel Cox, son of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac M. Cox of Kaimuki, is another of the Honolulu boys who are making records in mainland colleges. He is combining scholarship and athletics in his achievements. He ranks as one of the best mathematicians at Stanford where he is enrolled as a Junior, having received the big mathematical prize every year, and besides he is doing well in track athletics. In the last long-distance run, in a heart-breaking finish, he came in second to Stanford's best long-distance man. The race was for four and one-half miles and the time was 25 minutes, 6 3-5 seconds. The pace was so fast that both winner and Cox broke the Stanford record.

LYNCH AGAIN PRESIDENT.

NEW York, Dec. 10.—Thomas J. Lynch was re-elected president and John A. Heydler, secretary and treasurer of the National League at a meeting of the league late today. The present board of directors was continued except that C. J. Sullivan of New York, succeeds the late John T. Brush.

Another Madison-Bauersock fight? Well, it listens well, and there is no reason why these two men should not be matched for a fourth and probably final argument in the ring.

The Madison-Bauersock controversy is still unsettled, in spite of the fact that the men have met three times inside the squared circle, and that each man had one mill to his credit, with another called an even break by the referee. However, all these fights have been unsatisfactory from the standpoint of principals and their enthusiastic supporters. After every engagement there has been room for "reasonable doubt," to borrow a legal phrase, as to which was really the better man.

In the first fight, which took place at the Asahi theatre, Bauersock was awarded the fight on a foul in the second round. Madison had hysterics, accompanied by plain and fancy fits, claiming that he was robbed and that there was no low blow struck. The fans were also divided in opinion. The men were matched for a second time, and went fifteen rounds to a draw decision. In this fight many thought that the soldier had the best of it, and that he should have been given the winner's end. So they were matched again, and last Saturday night battled another fifteen rounds, Madison being called the winner. Again there was a large contingent which thought that a draw was the worst that Bauersock should have been given.

Therefore, with the question of supremacy still undecided, a fourth tight would not be amiss. Usually the fans won't stand for seeing the same fighters matched over and over again within a few months, but with the limited talent at hand, and the good scraps that these two have put up in their last couple of fights, another meeting between Madison and Bauersock would prove probably the most popular card that Dick Sullivan could put on.

But a note of warning should be sounded when there is talk of increasing the route. Judging by the actions of the two men in the ring in recent battles, and by the quick effect that comparatively light blows take, neither has any business to go a longer route. If either had taken half the punishments that Green took from Kibbey in one of the preliminaries, he would have been carried out of the ring by his seconds. A few long mills, where a man loses through exhaustion, or is knocked out when too weak to protect himself, and the game will get a black eye here. Honolulu is lucky to be seeing fifteen round boxing contests, and even though Christmas is coming, there's no need of killing the goose that lays the golden egg.

$500—$1000—$5000 Can Be Invested In a Safe Convertible 6% Investment

You have a positive right to insist upon receiving the full earning power of every dollar you invest.

Safety is ALL important—no other consideration can affect the influence of this vital factor. But the income yield is the real reason for making the investment.

The maximum earning power, consistent with safety, of invested money is absolutely fixed by laws of finance which govern every commercial relation. The individual who attempts to secure more must do so at the expense of safety itself, while the investor who is content with less is depriving himself of what is rightfully his own.

Safe 6% First Mortgage Bonds

We own and offer First Mortgage Bonds based on improved, centrally located, income-earning Chicago real estate of the highest class.

Securities of this type offer unquestioned safety, with an unusually attractive income yield. They are the one fundamental investment.

In accordance with the rigid and unvarying policy of this house, the value of the underlying security, conservatively appraised, must be at least double the total amount of the bond issue. The annual income from the property, in every case, is at least three times the greatest annual interest charge. Every issue is covered by a title guarantee policy from a title and trust company of Chicago, guaranteeing these bonds to be absolute first lien on the property.

These bonds may be obtained in denominations of $100, $500, $1,000 and $5,000—to mature serially in from two to fifteen years.

30 Years Without a Dollar Loss

For the past thirty years we have sold this class of securities exclusively, and it is a significant fact that during that entire time not one client has ever lost a single dollar, either of principal or interest, on any security purchased from us.

Quick convertibility into cash is assured through our custom of repurchasing securities from our clients, when requested, at par and accrued interest, less a handling charge of one per cent.

Interesting literature of extreme value to every conservative investor, including a copy of the semi-monthly Investor's Magazine, will be mailed on request.

A very choice list of carefully selected, specific issues has been prepared. Ask for Circular No. 104.

HIS HONOR, THE MAYOR, MAKES FINE DICKER WITH SUPERVISORS

The advantage of trade were made apparent last night when Mayor Fern succeeded in getting the board of supervisors to provide for a number of ornamental lights on Kalakaua avenue in exchange for his signature upon a resolution calling for improvement work upon King street. The lighting of the parkway was the Mayor's own scheme. He told the board he was in favor of placing poles in the center of the parkway, each standard to carry two lights, connected by a conduit system.

Fern added that the work would cost something over $3000. At present there are, he said fifteen arc lights, which forty incandescents could replace, giving the superintendent of the electric light system an opportunity to place lights in other localities where they are needed.

Murray said the mayor would probably sign that resolution, if passed by the board, whereas there was a resolution lying on the mayor's desk for a similar amount of money for scarifying and new-surfacing King street from Alakea to Nuuanu.

The mayor gave the impression that he was willing to trade, whereupon Murray signed the mayor's resolution to bring it before the board and the same passed unanimously.

Street Crossings.

A new method of building street crossings was proposed when a resolution appropriating $195, made to try an experiment of using iron gratings over scuppers, was passed.

These gratings will be made with a small mesh. Beneath these would be cement or concrete water runways, which can easily be flushed. The gratings are easily taken up.

"They will be made so that a woman wearing small heels on her slippers may walk over them without tripping," said Murray.

Has the appropriation from the loan fund for the building of the proposed wharf at Waikane been withdrawn by the territorial executive? The intimation was made by the city engineer that the amount would not be available, but he stated later that he had obtained his information from the Assistant superintendent of public works.

Supervisor Low did not agree with the engineer on his statement, saying that the public works department had been rushing the plans and specifications, and with a few alterations, the same would be ready to advertise for tenders for construction in a few days.

The discussion arose when a resolution was offered to have the city engineer advertise for tenders for the construction of the road from the main Windward Oahu road to the wharf, this work to be done with county money.

However, it was decided finally to have the county's road plans ready so that advertisements for the wharf and road may be made simultaneously. Both sets of tenders to be opened the same day, so that one contractor might do both jobs and thereby effect a saving for the county.

The mayor was at first inclined to have the board authorize the Koolaupoko road overseer do the road job, but he finally withdrew this suggestion.

Supervisor McClellan kicked at the passing of resolutions covering the cost of street paving in which the Litulithic company alone figures to sign the contract, and said he would not vote in future for any such proposition, unless other paving companies were given an opportunity to offer tenders for their forms of paving.

Mr. McClellan's statement came after a resolution embodying two appropriations, one of which was for the Ewa end of the Queen street bridge to the Hackfeld wharf entrance. First of all it was passing a paving resolution at the eleventh hour, but his particular objection was because the appropriation specified bithulithic. He recognized it as a permanent pavement, but he did not believe in handing out a plum in the paving market.

The appropriation was passed by a vote of six to one.

1913 LOZIER IN RENT SERVICE

Henry Hughes of the Young auto stand is the proud possessor of a 1913 6-cylinder Lozier, which he bought from the von Hamm-Young Co. yesterday, and has placed in the rent service.

The new car is a beauty and attracted considerable attention as it was driven around town yesterday. It's the only 1913 Lozier in the city and shows a marked improvement over this year's cars. The seating capacity is larger, the upholstery unexcelled, and seven persons can ride in it with absolute comfort.

Mr. Hughes enjoys the distinction of having the latest and most expensive car in the rent service today. His car can be had day or night by telephoning the Young auto stand.

COCOANUT ISLAND WASHING AWAY

HILO, December 14.—According to a recent discovery made by Supervisor-elect John Kealoha, Cocoanut island is slowly being washed away by harbor currents, and he claims that if nothing is done to prevent this that all which will remain of Hilo's pet scenery will be a few barren rocks. He further says that on all sides of the island the sand is being swept away by currents, perhaps due to the fact that since the breakwater was built the currents have changed somewhat, and where the island was not affected by these before, the change has caused the currents to sweep away the sand. He believes that the county should build seawalls to prevent further damage.

The proposition of building a bridge across the channel between Cocoanut island and the mainland has been given up by the board of trade. It has been estimated that such a bridge would cost from $3500 to $6000, and this amount caused the proposition to collapse.

KUHIO TALKS IN 'FRISCO.

SAN FRANCISCO — Prince Kalanianaole of Hawaii, the delegate in Congress of that territory, and the nemesis of Governor Frear, is at the Stewart en route to the national capital. Secretary of the Interior Fisher recently was in the islands investigating the prince's charges against Frear for President Taft, and has recommended to the latter the reappointment of the governor. "Yes, I know about Secretary Fisher's recommendations," remarked the prince last evening. "All I care to say at this time is that I made my charges to President Taft against the governor in good faith, and simply want a square deal for myself and those who have been with me in this fight. I understand Secretary Fisher abuses nobody in his report, but insists that the island political fight over the governorship is due to 'mutual misunderstandings.' I think it best to say no more until I get to Washington and confer with interested friends as well as with President Taft and Secretary Fisher."

LOTS OF BEAUTIFUL, GLOSSY HAIR, NO DANDRUFF, 25 CENT "DANDERINE"

Hair Coming Out?—If Dry, Brittle, Thin or Your Scalp Itches and Is Full of Dandruff—Use "Danderine"

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you cannot find a single trace of Dandruff or a loose or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you will actually see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine will immediately double the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance, the beauty and shimmer of true hair health.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove to yourself tonight—now—that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all—you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine.

Who Will Be the Lucky 1000?

This month we will produce one thousand HUDSON cars. That is a small percentage of the number of people who will want them, for before a single HUDSON was offered, more than one thousand individuals had paid their deposit to assure getting cars.

The demand in excess of the number we can build has been in about that ratio ever since the first photographs were shown.

Electric Self-Cranking—Electrically Lighted

WHY THIS GREAT DEMAND

People recognize now the importance of engineering brains in their relation to mechanical perfection. Without knowledge a smooth, simple, safe, satisfactory car is impossible.

These cars were designed by 48 skilled engineers gathered from Europe and America, representing 97 factories. They had a hand in building over 200,000 automobiles. These men represent about all that has been learned in motor car design. Some have made the greatest headway of all in designing six-cylinder cars. Some are specialists in other lines. So the combined skill and knowledge of all these men is focused upon the perfection of HUDSON cars.

All who are motor-wise recognize the importance of having a car built under such favorable conditions. That is why, with the maximum of 1,000 cars for delivery this month, only one out of three of those who will want HUDSONS will be able to get them.

What better assurance could be offered than that these men who possess about all the knowledge that has thus far been gained in automobile building have joined in saying, "The New HUDSONS are the best we know."

The HUDSON "37" is their four-cylinder masterpiece. It sells at $1875, completley equipped with electric self-cranking device and electric lights, speedometer, clock, top, windshield and 12-inch upholstery. There is nothing more to buy.

The "54" HUDSON—a Six, capable of doing 65 miles an hour and a speed of 58 miles in 30 seconds from standing start, is offered as a car superior to any automobile on the market regardless of price. It sells at $2450, completely finished and equipped as above. Prices are f. o. b. Detroit.

Once more the Greek and Turkish fleets have clashed in battle, the third day of desperate fighting, near the entrance to the Dardanelles, according to a special dispatch received by Lloyds. At the same time the dispatch was sent the warships of the opposing navies were still in action and the results doubtful. The arrival of this battle news at this time, during the progress of the peace negotiations, is supposed to have greatly increased the friction between the Greek and the Turkish envoys attending at St. James Palace. The Balkan envoys today agreed to quit the peace conference enmasse if Turkey refuses to surrender Adrianople, which is to be among the first demands. It was decided that the proposed Bulgarian frontier should be the first point considered, including the turning over of Thrace and port of Macedonia to Bulgaria. At the opening of the conference the Turkish envoys protested against the presence of the Greek representatives, on the ground that Greece had not signed the armistice. Reschil Pasha threatened that the Turks would withdraw unless the Greeks left. The other envoys prevailed upon the Turks to remain in the conference until they communicated with Constantinople and received fresh instructions.

How he acquired possession of alleged correspondence between John D. Archbold, president of the Standard Oil Company, and members of congress, was told yesterday from the witness stand here by William R. Hearst, when the senate committee resumed its probe into campaign contributions. The witness produced photographic copies of some of the published letters, admitting he never saw the original. Hearst said he secured the letters in September, 1908, but hesitated when asked where from. When the committee insisted Hearst said he got the letters from John Eddy, author, who now lives in London. The witness said that his magazine still had copies of letters written by Archbold which had not been published. He handed the photographic copies of some of Archbold's alleged correspondence to Senator Clapp, chairman of the committee, who read several of them to the probers. One of the letters, purporting to be from Senator Penrose, of Pennsylvania, to Archbold, was written in 1903. Another purporting to be from Archbold to Senator Foraker, said, "We are willing to loan you fifty thousand dollars."

Another Archbold letter to Foraker urged that a certain clause "In house bill 500 be stricken out." The committee demanded that Hearst produce the correspondence not yet published. He at first declined, then agreed to submit the letters if the committee would consider them in secret session. Hearst was cross-examined by Senator Oliver, of Pennsylvania. He denied he paid for the letters and photographs, but was unable to say how they were obtained from Standard Oil files.

Another letter written to Governor Wilson threatening him with death if he fails to deposit money in a designated place, was received recently by his secretaries. It was unsigned and was mailed in New York, December 12. This became known here today at the arraignment of Warren and Jacob Dunn, brothers, and Helley Davenport, of Wharton, New Jersey, arrested recently by postoffice inspectors charged with sending threatening letters to the President-elect.

Emphatic denial of everything of an incriminating nature was voiced by J. J. Butler, of Indianapolis, one of the defendants in the so-called dynamite conspiracy trial progressing here. Sections of Butler's letters to John McNamara were read and the witness gave an innocent explanation to every reference contained in them.

Practically recovered from the effects of two bullet wounds alleged to have been inflicted in the apartments here of Mrs. Mary Barnes Creel, an American woman, Walter Mumm, millionaire sportsman, is today reported as planning a reconciliation between Mrs. Creel and himself. Mumm refused to discuss the report.

Among the nominations sent to the senate today by the president were: Montgomery Schuyler, Jr., of New York, to be minister to Ecuador, South America; Nelson O'Shaughnessey of New York, to be secretary of the embassy at Mexico City; Ralph B. Strassberger of New York, to be second secretary to embassy at Tokio, and Henry F. Lennant of New York, at Mexico City. Charles Campbell, Jr., of Virginia is nominated as secretary of the legation and consul general to Roumania, Servia and Bulgaria; Cyrus F. Wicker of New York, to be secretary of legation at Panama; Carl Bailey Hurst of the District of Columbia, to be consul general at large. To be consul general: P. M. Griffith of Ohio, at Callao, Peru; Wm. H. Roberts of Virginia, at Moscow, Russia; John H. Snodgrass of West Virginia, at Sydney, New South Wales; Cornelius Thaebert of Missouri, at Vladivostok, Siberia; Clarence A. Miller of Missouri, to Pernambuco, Brazil; and John A. Ray of Texas, at Corinto, Nicaragua.

President Taft today sent to the senate the nomination of the nine members of the industrial commission created by Congress to investigate the relations between labor and capital. The men named as representatives of the people are Senator Southerland of Utah, C. B. O. Chandler, a member of the Connecticut legislature, and Chas. S. Barnet of Georgia, president of the farmers' union. Representatives of capital: Frederick E. Daleno of Chicago, president of the Wabash Railroad; Adolph Lewiston of New York, merchant and philanthropist; F. C. Schwedtman of Missouri, an electrical engineer. Representatives of labor: Austin B. Gorrett, son of Iowa president of the order of railway conductors; John B. Lennon, treasurer of the American Federation of Labor; Jas. O'Connel of the District of Columbia, vice president of the same organization. The committee will name its own chairman.

Army orders: First Lieut. Claier Bennett is transferred from the Seventeenth to the Ninth infantry and First Lieut. Hornsby Evans, from the Ninth to the Seventeenth infantry. First Lieut. Henry T. Bull, Thirteenth cavalry, is detailed as professor in military science at Cornell university. First Lieut. Chas. N. Naylor, Fourth cavalry, is detailed for recruiting duty at Jefferson Barracks, Missouri. Naval orders: Capt. C. P. Plunkett, from the receiving station, Boston, to command the South Dakota. Ensign R. M. Risley, from the Connecticut to the Henley. Assistant Surgeon I. W. Robins, from the Vicksburg to the South Dakota. Marine Corps: First Lieut. Lutz, from the receiving station, San Francisco, to receiving offices at Norfolk.

The Oceanic liner Sonoma, Capt. J. H. Trask, sailed for Sydney, N. S. W., via Honolulu and Pago Pago, this afternoon. The liner is carrying a full cargo and about 170 passengers. Among the passengers for Honolulu are Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey Turner. Mrs. Turner is professionally Miss Maud Powell, the violiniste. Horace O. Smith. Mrs. Turner's accompanist, goes with them to the island port, where an extended engagement has been arranged. The Honolulu passengers include Mrs. C. H. Cooke, Miss Alice Cooke and Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Cooke.

Orders to send a revenue cutter out to aid in the search for the lost aviator, Horace Kearney, and his companion passenger, Chester Lawrence, were received by the office of the revenue cutter service of San Francisco from Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh. The revenue cutter McCullough was immediately dispatched.

William J. Flynn, of New York, was appointed chief of the United States Secret Service today by Secretary MacVeagh, of the treasury department, succeeding J. E. Wilkie, now chief supervising agent of the customs service.

Mrs. Whitelaw Reid decided today to accept the offer of the English government for a warship to convey the body of her late husband to the United States; the arrangements will be completed between the British foreign office and American state department.

OAHU COLLEGE STUDENTS EXTEND A HELPING HAND

Regardless of the large amount of studying required of them, the high school students at Oahu College have accomplished a good bit of work this term through the Hui Pauahi.

As a rule this club prepares Christmas dinners and helps with the celebration in the homes of the poor, but this year the public has centered all its efforts upon raising funds for the Malihini Christmas tree and will, when the money is raised see that all of the poor children have a Christmas so the Hui Pauahi has not attempted to do anything along that line.

Last Friday at the closing exercises of the Punahou preparatory school the children from the first to the eighth grade contributed presents which were later given to the Associated Charities and to the Salvation Army. They will be used on the Christmas trees arranged by these two organizations.

The Hui Pauahi gave two small celebrations last week for the young people with whom they have been associated this term and in this way gave the term work a cheerful ending. On Friday evening the Boy's Club met at the club house at the Kawaiahao church and there had an entertainment for the young men. The evening was spent playing games and the boys were given a treat to ice cream and cake at the close of the evening.

The following Saturday the Girls' Club entertained the girls they have been working with during the term. The amusement this time was in the form of a picnic at Kaalawai. The club members and the girls of the Kakaako district mingled together and a pleasant day was spent.

Work of Fall Term.

Now for something that the Hui Pauahi has accomplished during the eighteen weeks of the fall term.

The two branches that have perhaps been most active are the Girls' Club under Miss Elizabeth Low and the Boys' Club with Mr. Dixon Nott as its chairman.

The Girls' Club met every Monday evening at the clubhouse at Kawaiahao Church and there entertained twenty or more girls. Two basketball teams have been organized and the young ladies spent the evenings playing indoor baseball and basketball. The smaller girls who could not play the rougher games amused themselves by making scrap books.

The work of the Boys' Club has been similar to that of the Girls' organization. The boys gathered at the clubhouse once a week and entertained the boys in the same manner the girls amused their protegees.

The bandage committee under Miss Ruth Stacker has in all six members. This committee meets once or twice a week and makes bandages which are sent to the Children's Hospital. This term thirty-four rolls of bandages were made. There was more work to be done but the girls were hindered because of the lack of bandage machines.

The sewing committee with Miss Elsie Chalmers as its chairman has done a good bit of sewing in the few months of the term. Their efforts have been turned towards the fashioning of children's garments. A number of dresses have been completed and the members have taken several garments to their homes to finish during the holidays. When these garments are finished they are turned over to the different charitable institutions.

The scrap book committee presided over by Miss Myrtle Schuman did no definite work until the latter part of the term, as the committee was not really organized until then. There are fifteen girls who have since the latter part of November cut out a large number of pictures and have secured the red and green cardboard with which to make the folders. This committee meets but once in three weeks and had only a few meetings before the closing of school. The young ladies are confident, however, that the books will be completed in the early part of the next term. These books, when completed, are sent to the Children's Hospital for the entertainment of the little "shut ins."

KNOW NOW
And Will Never Forget the Experience.

The coffee drinker who has suffered and then been completely relieved by changing from coffee to Postum, knows something valuable.

A lady says:

"I learned the truth about coffee in a peculiar way. My husband who has for years been of a very bilious temperament decided to leave off coffee and give Postum a trial and I concluded to try it too. The results have been that while my husband has been greatly benefited, I have myself received even greater benefit.

"When I began to drink Postum I was thin in flesh and very nervous. Now I actually weigh 16 pounds more that I did at that time and I am stronger physically and in my nerves, while husband is free from all his ails.

"We have learned our little lesson about coffee and we know something about Postum, too, for we have used Postum now steadily for the last three years and we shall always continue to do so.

"We have no more use for coffee—the drug drink. We prefer Postum, the food and health drink."

A foreigner who protested against a grafting taxicab charge in San Francisco and had the man arrested, was thrown into jail over night so he would be sure to be on hand in the morning when the case was called. The police allowed the taxi driver to furnish bail.

A Family Medicine Without Alcohol

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is a tonic and alterative, free from alcohol. What is a "tonic"? A medicine that imparts strength or tone; a medicine that builds up, gives vigor and power. What is an "alterative"? A medicine that alters or changes unhealthy action to healthy action. Ayer's Sarsaparilla does all this without stimulation. Ask your doctor if a family medicine, like Ayer's Sarsaparilla, is not vastly better without alcohol than with it.

CITIZENS' PROTECTIVE COMMITTEE TO HELP HUNT DOWN OFFENDERS

Prominent Attorneys Volunteer to Cooperate with Prosecuting Officers if Needed

Prominent attorneys of the city will volunteer their services to assist the prosecuting officers in handling cases of crime against women and young girls and boys in this city. Desiring to co-operate with the prosecuting attorney's office, the Citizens' Protective Committee has named sub-committees that include a number of well-known legal lights, and these will give particular attention to cases in which the general committee is interested.

Such was the immediate practical result of the second meeting of the committee of citizens named as the outcome of the Bijou mass meeting a few weeks ago. The committee met last night at the Parish House, St. Andrew's cathedral, and for two hours discussed the work before it. The special organization committee named at the last meeting made its report, recommending the officers and committees to be named and the manner of undertaking the problems of crime here. This report, which enlarges the original committee considerably, was unanimously adopted.

The new executive officers of the Citizens' Protective Committee, as it is now formally called, are W. A. Bowen, chairman; L. Tenney Peck, vice-chairman, and John L. Fleming, secretary. These officers began their duties last night.

The committee is now a representative one, members being present last night from practically all of the public and semi-public organizations of the city, from the military, and representatives of all elements of population. The discussion was free and frank and at the outset the committee begins work on concrete cases. J. C. Anderson reported a case of a man annoying a young girl, and immediately attorneys present volunteered to assist the prosecuting attorney's office in prosecuting the case if the facts are as reported to Mr. Anderson by the father.

Committee to Co-operate

It was in this connection that a lively discussion was had of the method to be followed by the law enforcement committee in handling these cases. Various shades of opinion were expressed, all however, leading to the conclusion that the committee can be of much value in aiding the prosecuting attorney's office in "working up" the cases. The city and county attorney's office, it was stated, is burdened with a great amount of work and has none too many facilities for getting cases fully within a short time. The attorneys who have volunteered to assist the committee have no wish, they state, to "butt in" on the city attorney's office, but merely feel that they can relieve this office of much of this particular branch of work.

E. W. Sutton last night read a short digest of laws dealing with sex crimes, commenting on the apparent inequitability of the laws relating to crimes respectively against girls of under twelve, under fourteen and over fourteen years, the penalty for offenses against girls of the latter age seeming very light.

The committee on legislation will take in hand the matter of going over the present laws and seeing what if any changes should be made, receiving suggestions not only from members of the general committee but from all sources.

Whipping-Post Suggested

The committee on legislation at the beginning of its existence had brought before it the question of the whipping-post. Last night Will Soper, secretary of the Church Club, St. Andrew's, and also a member of the citizens' committee, read the resolution favoring the whipping-post passed by the Church Club recently. These resolutions will be sent to the chairman and referred to the committee on legislation. Informally, several prominent members of the committee last night expressed themselves in favor of the whipping-post.

Another matter brought up last night was that of a secret service fund for the police department. R. O. Matheson said that for four years the sheriff has been trying to get such a fund without avail, and declared that if one or two secret plain-clothes men could be employed, the moral effect of having these unknown officers ever on the alert would be a powerful deterrent to criminals. The law enforcement committee was empowered to discuss the matter with the sheriff and if convinced that there is real need for such a fund, to recommend it to the board of supervisors.

There was also briefly discussed the matter of a special officer to be authorized by the supervisors who should patrol the streets in plain clothes on the lookout particularly for offenders against young girls and young women.

Curfew Law Discussed

Discussing the enforcement of the curfew law, the parent or parents ing comment. Major Neville of the marine corps suggested that in case a child should be found breaking the curfew law, the parent or perents might be called to account next day by the police, stating that if parents were immediately held responsible for the children running the streets at night, the parents would soon stop the children.

Major Kennedy and Col. Raymond assured the committee that the army is in cordial sympathy with the proposed work of the committee.

The next general meeting is to be held on the evening of January 7, when the police chiefs, prosecuting officers and circuit court judges will be invited to meet with the committee and discuss conditions and remedies. Meanwhile the sub-committees named last night will be busy.

Among those present last night were: Mrs. J. R. Galt, Mrs. Fred Macfarlane, Miss Pope, Miss Sterritt, Miss Maynard, Miss Gould, W. A. Bowen, J. P. Cooke, Lieutenant Colonel Raymond, Medical Corps, U. S. A.; Major Kennedy, Medical Corps, U. S. A.; Major Neville, Marine Corps, U. S. A.; Doctor W. A. Hobdy, A. Lewis, Jr., Riley H. Allen, P. W. Rider, John H. Wise, E. Mackenzie, J. C. Anderson, John Fleming, W. Kwai Fong, J. H. Soper, E. W. Sutton, Judge Lymer, C. R. Hemenway, M. Macintyre, R. O. Matheson and A. Gartley.

The organization of the committee and its proposed work are indicated in the following report which was unanimously adopted:

"Your committee on organization appointed at the meeting held Wednesday, December 11, 1912, herewith report as follows:

"We recommend:

"First—That the committee be known as the Citizen's Protective Committee.

"Second—That there be a chairman, vice-chairman and secretary.

"Third—That there be three standing committees; namely, law enforcement, legislative and publicity.

Law Enforcement

"Fourth—That the law enforcement committee be composed of nine members. That at the present time the following be appointed as members of this committee: E. W. Sutton, chairman; W. B. Lymer, A. Gartley, Jr., L. T. Peck, M. Macintyre, F. C. Atherton and Madames J. R. Galt, F. W. Macfarlane and H. Wilcox.

"That this committee have compiled all of the present laws bearing on the subject of truancy, curfew and all the crimes against women, girls and children. That any settlement worker or private citizen who knows or learns of any violation of these laws and has any direct or circumstantial evidence in regard to the violators of any of the laws report the same to the proper authorities and in addition to this committee.

"That whenever it seems necessary at least two members of the committee inquire into the facts and follow up the case by personally seeing the proper police or legal authorities and do all in their power to see that no stone is left unturned to secure a speedy trial and proper sentence in case guilt is proven.

Legislation to be Sought

"Fifth—That the legislative committee be composed of five members. That at the present time the following be appointed as members of this committee: A. Lindsay, Jr., C. R. Hemenway, J. P. Cooke, John Fleming and W. H. Soper.

"That this committee have prepared such measures as it deems necessary to have enacted into law to strengthen the present laws, and such additional laws as it considers should be enacted to protect the young boys and girls of this Territory, and that it make every effort to try and secure the passage of such laws.

Proper Publicity

"Sixth—That the publicity committee be composed of six members. That at the present time the following be appointed members of this committee: R. O. Matheson, R. H. Allen, John Wise, J. D. Marques and Wm. Y. Kwai Fong. That this committee see that proper publicity be given to all matters that they think should be brought to the attention of the general public to educate them to their responsibilities, that full warning be given of the dangers that are liable to accrue to young children from various sources, and that full publicity be given in regard to any individuals or class of individuals that commit crimes against young children.

To Co-operate

"Seventh—That the main committee be enlarged by the addition at the present time of the following ladies and gentlemen: Mrs. H. Wilcox, Miss F. M. Gould, Miss A. S. Marsh, E. W. Sutton, W. B. Lymer, C. R. Hemenway, W. A. Bowen, Malcolm Macintyre, John Fleming, W. H. Soper, J. D. Marques, Wm. Y. Kwai Fong, and a representative from the Army and Navy departments in the city.

"Eighth—That an auxiliary committee be formed to act in conjunction with the main committee, and that it consist of such public officers, settlement workers and others that can be of assistance in this work.

"That the auxiliary committee for the present be composed of the following: Miss Rose Davidson, Miss Sterritt, Miss Maynard, Col. Blanche E. Cox, J. A. Path, W. P. Rider, E. Mackenzie and J. C. Anderson.

"Ninth—That the following be appointed the permanent officers of the committee: Chairman, W. A. Bowen; vice-chairman, L. T. Peck; secretary, John Fleming.

Official Assistance

"Tenth—That as soon as practicable the following gentlemen be invited to meet this committee and advise with them as to how they can co-operate with them in the general work and scope of this committee: the sheriff and deputy sheriff of the county, the judge of the police court, the county attorney and his deputies, and the judges of the circuit court.

"Respectfully submitted,

"F. C. ATHERTON,
"R. O. MATHESON,
"JOHN H. WISE,

MAYOR FERN'S INAUGURAL BALL NEW YEAR'S EVE

Mayor Fern's Inaugural Ball!

It will be danced on New Year's Eve on the spacious pavement along Bishop Square, opposite the Young Hotel. Under the warm mid-winter sky of Hawaii, with the balmy breezes of Hawaii's perennial summer blowing, etc., Mayor Fern will lead the grand march and other prominent city and territorial officers will join.

That is the plan now on foot by the merchants' association, which is arranging for the big New Year's Eve celebration. Yesterday Julius Unger, who is in charge of arrangements, conceived the idea of a dance on the pavement, and this morning announcements were made that Mayor Fern will be asked to lead the grand march and that the big mid-winter dance is to be called the Mayor's Inaugural Ball.

"Not only would a dance on the pavement be a noved feature in Honolulu and eminently suitable for a carnival of mirth such as we will have on this occasion," said Mr. Unger this morning, "but it will be agreat piece of promotion work for Hawaii. The fact that people can dance in the open here all the year around will be spread all over the world. People in the uttermost parts of Milpitas and Madagascar and Timbuctoo will hear with envy that in Hawaii the stately waltz and the blithesome two-step can be tripped here at twelve o'clock, December 31, with all the comfort and speed that terpsichoreans display on the waxed ballroom floors of New York, London or way points.

"Mayor Fern is to be asked to lead the march. The pavement will be scrubbed clean and waxed, so that its surface will be as easy to glide upon as the ice of old New England. There will be music to set the feet twinkling and lights to cheer the New Year's Eve merrymakers to the fullest extent."

Today the committee is sending out the following letter to all the retail merchants in town:

"Gentlemen:—At the meeting of the directors of this association held December 14, 1912, it was unanimously decided to take active steps towards changing the public carnival spirit from Christmas Eve to that of New Year's Eve, believing same to be for the best interests of business and all retail merchants in particular.

"This being the first event in which the Chinese population will celebrate on this occasion, and the fact that the Japanese have always helped to celebrate, it is deemed advisable by the directors of this association that this is a most opportune time to bring about this important change.

"As the previous demonstrations as carried on in the shopping districts of the city on Christmas Eve have proven to be a great menace to retail merchants.

"To aid in bringing about this important change, it is already arranged by the committee in charge, for a public concert, lasting from 8:00 p. m. until midnight, and the Alexander Young Hotel has promised to make an elaborate electrical display. The merchants' association earnestly requests the merchants to refrain from selling confetti and serpentine until after Christmas, and to illuminate their stores on New Year's Eve. With the above aim, the merchants' association respectfully ask the co-operation of every business house, and all individuals in general to make the occasion one of long remembrance.

"(Signed) N. B. YOUNG,
"Assistant Secretary."

ONE DOSE MAKES INDIGESTION GO

All Stomach Distress Quickly Ended with "Pape's Diapepsin"

You don't want a slow remedy when your stomach is bad—or an uncertain one—or a harmful one—your stomach is too valuable; you musn't injure it with drastic drugs.

Pape's Diapepsin is noted for its speed in giving relief; its harmlessness; it's certain unfailing action in regulating sick, sour, gassy stomachs. It's millions of cures in indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis and other stomach trouble has made it famous the world over.

Keep this perfect stomach doctor in your home—keep it handy—get a large fifty-cent case from any drug store and then if anyone should eat something which doesn't agree with them; if what they eat lays like lead, ferments and sours and forms gas; causes headache, dizziness and nausea; eructations of acid and undigested food—remember as soon as Pape's Diapepsin comes in contact with the stomach all such distress vanishes. Its promptness, certainty and ease in overcoming the worst stomach disorders is a revelation to those who try it.

PICKLE MAN COMING.

Henry J. Heinz, the millionaire packer and originator of the "57 varieties", will arrive in Honolulu about March 7, and will remain in the islands for several weeks. The Heinz products are known the world over and the factories, which are located at Pittsburg, are models of their kind. Mr. Heinz will take an active interest in Y. M. C. A. and other affairs during his stay here.
