"WE'LL FIGHT AS LONG AS FREE SPEECH EXISTS!"—CARTER

FORMER GOVERNOR CARTER CALLED BEFORE COMMITTEE ON "INSIDIOUS LOBBYING"

Explains Method of Combating The Free Sugar Measure And Makes Good Impression On Investigators

[Special Star-Bulletin Cable]

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 10.—Former Governor George R. Carter of Hawaii was today called before the special senate committee investigating President Wilson's charges of "insidious lobbying" against the tariff bill, and examined at great length. He was asked many questions concerning the activities of the men from Hawaii now here representing the sugar interests, and the committee paid particular attention to finding out how the money was raised to send the Hawaiians here and how it has been spent.

Mr. Carter denied that one cent of the money had been spent improperly. He declared that no money had been spent to influence legislation except through the legitimate channels of newspaper advertising, pamphlets published by the Domestic Sugar Producers' Bureau, and like publicity.

Carter's self-possession and his frank statements made a good impression on the investigating committee and Hawaii's fight benefited thereby. Carter explained in detail the conditions under which sugar is produced in Hawaii, telling the committee the facts about cane-growing and the production of raw sugar and furnishing the members with figures. He declared that he had been sent to Washington to represent the people of the island territory, and told the investigators that the protection of the sugar-producing industry is vitally important not only to the sugar-planters of Hawaii, but to thousands of people engaged in the industry and stockholders in the various companies.

S. M. Ballou, attorney for the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Association, followed Carter and spoke along the same lines. Other representatives of Hawaii are expected to take the stand later.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 10.—Former Governor George Carter of Hawaii, before the lobby investigating committee of the senate today, testified that the Hawaiian sugar planters pay Attorney S. M. Ballou $10,000 salary a year to maintain the sugar offices here. Both himself and Ballou, he stated, had interviewed senators in the course of the work for the sugar tariff and had prepared advertisements for the newspapers, but he declared they had done nothing secretly. He said that he himself had tried to see President Wilson but had failed.

"We've spent something less than a hundred thousand dollars in the fight," he said. "We would consider $800,000 well spent if we could save sixty-two millions invested in sugar in our territory. We propose to keep somebody here in Washington fighting for us as long as the right of free speech exists. We consider that we represent the consumers as well as the producers of sugar."

PEACE ESSAY AWARDS MADE BY BOARD OF JUDGES YESTERDAY

The board of judges for the international arbitration and peace essay contest for 1913, which is composed of Judge Sanford B. Dole, Mrs. Walter F. Frear and Wade Warren Thayer, and which was appointed January 1 by the Honolulu chamber of commerce under whose auspices the contest was held, announced the successful competitors at four o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The winners are Miss Shirley B. Foster, College of Hawaii, first prize; Miss Bernice D. Smith, College of Hawaii, second prize; Clayton W. Cousens, College of Hawaii, third prize, and Miss M. Ruth Anderson, Oahu College, fourth prize. Those receiving honorable mention are Miss Genevieve Taggard, Oahu College; Elbert G. Tuttle, Oahu College, and Umeichi Kinoshita, Lahainaluna school, Lahaina, Maui. The winner of the first prize will be awarded $40; second, $30; third, $20, and fourth, $10.

As will be seen from the list of winners, the College of Hawaii entered three students who capture the first three places. Miss Foster and Miss Smith are members of the freshman class, while Mr. Cousens is a sophomore. The College of Hawaii succeeded in taking both first and third places last year. Miss M. Ruth Anderson, of Oahu College, who was awarded fourth place, is known to be a clever writer and during her school life at Punahou has been closely connected with the literary department of the Oahuan, the school publication. Miss Anderson graduates from Punahou this month.

The judges found considerable difficulty in reaching a decision for the reason that so many of the essays submitted were of unusual merit.

Besides those to whom the prizes have been awarded and who have been adjudged worthy of honorable mention there were a number of contestants whose essays were also of considerable merit.

Most of those pho participated in the competition seem to have devoted a great deal of time, thought and study to their essays, and there was considerable originality of thought and skill of treatment not only in the winning essays but in several of the others. The judges believe that this competition should be maintained as an annual event, as it is an incentive to the students to read and think upon matters outside of the routine of their daily work. Its formal influence upon their minds is bound to be uplifting and broadening.

The fact that there were twenty-four competing essays this year shows that a healthy interest in the subject of international arbitration and peace has already been aroused.

Besides the winners and those receiving honorable mention, the following students entered the contest: Ernest A. Amona, Kamehameha; Ah Ying Soong, Maunaolu Seminary; De Witt Alexander, Oahu College; Sue Kong Ho, McKinley High School; Leslie Hicks, McKinley High School; Harry K. Stewart, Kamehameha; Farrant Turner, Oahu College; M. S. Goo, College of Hawaii; Chang Sing, College of Hawaii; Bonaparte Karratti, Kamehameha; H. E. Starratt, College of Hawaii; M. Lyle Holmes, Oahu College; William Gramberg; McKinley High School; En Sue Yong, College of Hawaii.

At the end of the first four periods the American team led by five goals to three for England. The Americans are playing with Lawrence Waterbury at one, Monte Waterbury two, Harry Payne Whitney at three and Devereaux Milburn back. The game opened with the odds ten to eight, England favorite. SECRETARY LANE WEARY OF THE SCRAMBLE FOR THE GOVERNORSHIP

Cabinet Member Refuses to Enthuse When Advised That Another 'Possibility' Is in Washington and 'Willing' To Be Inspected — Supporters of Each Candidate Sanguine

By C. S. ALBERT

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence]

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 2.—The Hawaiian governorship situation seems to be tied up in a hard knot and laid away in a dark corner of the White House. President Wilson has announced that he will personally supervise the untying or cutting of this knot. He has further declared it will be done at an early date. He publicly asserted many days ago that a governor for the territory of Hawaii would be named within a brief period.

Nevertheless, the application of the sword to the Gordian knot appears to be suspended. Secretary Lane intimates that he has washed his hands of the entire affair and that his interest ceased when he shipped all the papers in the various cases up to the White House. Although the president cordially received Edward M. Watson, when he was presented by the entire Mississippi delegation in congress, he gave no sign of accepting him as a compromise, leaving Waller and McCandless out in the cold. The matter continues to be one of silence and speculation.

Little interest is being taken in the suggestion of numerous dark horses. Harry Irwin of Hilo has been here for weeks. The local newspapers frequently mentioned him as a possible gubernatorial candidate. But no en-

ALL-FILIPINO BALL TEAM IS BADLY BEATEN

A crowd of about 500, mostly Filipinos, saw their countrymen badly beaten at baseball this afternoon by a picked team of the Oahu League. The final score was 12 to 2, and during the last four innings the locals played horse with the Islanders.

The All-Filipino team fields well, but can't hit or run bases, and knows practically nothing about inside baseball. The infielders were especially clever at difficult pickups, and in handling the ball generally showed considerable skill.

The Picks got one run in the first and two in the second, and in the third four hits and a couple of errors netted seven runs. Joropillo, the Filipino southpaw, was chased to the bench, Ambrosio replacing him.

Barney Joy held the Filipinos to one hit for four innings, and then started to lob the ball over to give the crowd a chance to see what the visitors could do on bases. In the sixth he and La Mere changed points, the latter finishing the game. The Filipinos scored once in the fifth and once in the sixth. The game ended in a farce, and it was apparent that the islanders have a great deal yet to learn about the national game.

Sam Kanoku was struck by automobile No. 766 today while crossing Beretania street near its intersection with Fort. The Hawaiian was in the middle of the street when the machine, passing eastward, struck him and he was thrown to the ground. He sustained slight injuries only.

PRODUCERS' ASSOCIATION PLANS RAPIDLY NEARING COMPLETION

Plans for the formation and development of a gigantic interlocking producers' association to cover the entire territory, with the idea of having the producer brought directly in touch with the consumer, is nearing completion under the hands of Dr. E. V. Wilcox, special agent in charge of the Hawaii Agricultural Experiment Station.

The original plan, as announced exclusively in the Star-Bulletin a month ago, has been amended and enlarged upon in some points, but, substantially, the entire scheme is being carried out and by the first of the month, it was stated by Dr. Wilcox yesterday, the formation of the association will begin, and the producers and consumers of Hawaii will pass into a new era.

Beginning with the first of the month representatives of the station will go to the different islands, first to Kauai and Maui, with the view of establishing district associations of producers of fruit and vegetables, who will elect their own officers. Similar associations will be formed on all the islands. Three sub-stations will be created by Dr. Wilcox, probably two on Hawaii and one on Maui, and to them will be apportioned, on a geographical basis, the supervision of a number of the producers' bodies. To them the associations, through their secretaries, will report regularly the condition of the crops, the amount available for immediate market, and

CHARLTON IS EXTRADITABLE, SAYS COURT

Murder Case of International Fame Decided by Supreme Justices Against Youth

[Associated Press Cable]

WASHINGTON, June 10. — The supreme court today handed down a decision in one of the most famous criminal cases in the annals of jurisprudence, the Porter Charlton case. The court decides that Italy may extradite young Charlton, who murdered his wife and threw the body into Lake Como, Italy.

The murder was committed in 1910. Young Charlton's father, law adviser of the bureau of insular affairs and a class mate of President Taft, defended his son against the charge. The son later confessed that he had killed the woman, who was a divorcee eight years older than himself. Meanwhile he had reached the United States. His father took the position that he could not be extradited by Italy for trial, because Italy had refused to allow the United States to extradite criminals from that country. The diplomatic question involved went from court to court until it reached the supreme court. Secretary of State Knox held that under the existing treaty, the boy should be held subject to extradition. The elder Charlton continued the fight, bringing in the question of his son's sanity. The supreme court now decides that Charlton is subject to extradition and he will be taken back to Italy to be tried on the murder charge.

10 INDICTMENTS BY GRAND JURY

Five indictments, charging violation of the federal "white slave" law, were returned by the federal grand jury today. The indictments name these: Albert Machado, the local chauffeur, facing two indictments; G. A. Bower, better known as "Bert" Bower, the baseball umpire, facing two, and Manuel Correa, also a chauffeur, facing one. The charges are the result of the inquiry into the conditions surrounding the Hawaiian dance hall.

Bail in these cases was fixed at $2000 for each defendant. Ten indictments were returned, two of which are still on secret file. Fukuwela Mookini, Charles E. Bond and Gregory Gustohin are named in the others, the first on an old statutory charge and the latter two for violation of the postoffice regulations.

FILIPINOS MUST DIE FOR CRIME

Jury Takes One Ballot and Convicts Men of Killing Chinese Shopkeeper and Wife

Domingo Rodrigues, Hildo Baubista and Miguel Manigbas will pay the extreme penalty for the killing of Lui Ah Ken and Lum Min, the Chinese grocer and his wife, at Kahauiki. In less than three minutes, and on the first ballot the jury in Judge Robinson's department of the circuit court returned a verdict declaring all three prisoners guilty as charged, of murder in the first degree.

They will be sentenced at 9 o'clock Saturday morning. Under the law the court has no alternative and must pronounce the death sentence.

The courtroom was filled by spectators when the jury returned from their brief deliberation and a general inclination to applaud was manifest when the verdict was read aloud by the clerk. The jury retired, after receiving general instructions from the court that left it free to declare any verdict, even to acquittal, at 12:36 p. m. At 12:39 Clerk Harrison notified the court that the verdict had been determined.

As the verdict was read by Clerk Harrison, Manigbas smiled and spoke to Domingo, who smiled in turn. Later, as the Filipino court interpreter translated it to them, Manigbas raised his voice in protest.

"He says he didn't kill anybody," translated the interpreter. "He has nothing to say about that, now," remarked the court.

"I am sorry that Celestino Manolo could not have been included with the other three in that verdict," one of the attorneys defending the prisoners remarked in the court corridor. "At the same time I approve the action of the prosecution in making a bargain with him for the sake of the direct evidence it obtained."

Manolo pleaded guilty to the charge of murder in the second degree last week, and is to receive sentence Thursday morning. It is said he will get life imprisonment.

Inside the jury room there was no hesitation when the "twelve good men and true" were called upon to settle the fate of the Filipinos. They elected J. H. Fiddes foreman and immediately took a ballot, the vote being unanimous that the men were "guilty as charged." In order to make sure that every juror was aware of the situation, after the ballot was taken the jurymen discussed briefly the crime and the verdict and then returned to the court room.

When the verdict of "guilty as charged" was read, Attorney George Davis, representing the defendants, raised a technical objection that the verdict did not specify each defendant by name. The jury then retired again and changed the text of the verdict slightly in order to name each of the three Filipinos found guilty of first degree murder.

City and County Attorney Cathcart, who handled the case, is given credit for a masterly marshaling of the forces of the prosecution, while Davis, appointed to represent the defendants, conducted his work admirably, giving the accused men the benefit of impartial counsel.

ANOTHER NAME TO SENATE; ALL HELD UP THERE

[Special Star-Bulletin Cable]

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 10.—A. H. Sylva, Jr., of Kahului, Maui, was today nominated by President Wilson for the Kahului postmastership.

C. S. ALBERT.

Sylva was indorsed for the Kahului job recently by the Democratic territorial central committee, the committee's earlier choice, T. B. Lyons, having declined to accept the position. He is manager of the Kahului branch of the Maui Dry Goods Company. The nomination of A. F. Costa for the Wailuku postmastership has already been made and John M. Bright, of Lahaina, is expected to be named next week for the Lahaina postoffice job. He is also the choice of the central committee. The nominations are all held up in the senate together with other of Wilson's appointments pending the settlement of the tariff fight but all are expected eventually to be confirmed.

CARGO AND CABIN

STEAMER NIPPON CARRIES TROOPS

Austrian Government Will Use Big Liner in Transport Service

The Pacific Mail liner Manchuria, in port today, brought the story that the big steamship Nippon, which for some years past has been a well-known figure in far eastern waters, had been pressed into service by the Austrian government as a troop transport. At the sailing of the Manchuria from Manila a cable had been received by the local agents for the Austrian Lloyd to the effect that all bookings for the steamship Nippon be cancelled and the money refunded those who had prepaid passage from the Philippines to European ports. The Nippon had been ordered to transport troops from Pola, the Austrian naval base, to Dalmacia, the frontier province just north of Montenegro. It is predicted that the vessel will be returned to the far eastern service without much delay.

The Austrian Lloyd operates a fortnightly service between Trieste, Hongkong and Japan via intermediate ports and twenty-four steamers are used on the run. The Nippon is a 6350 ton twin screw steel vessel built in Sunderland, England, in 1902. The largest steamer is the Austria of 7588 gross tonnage. The entire Austrian Lloyd fleet numbers sixty-six vessels.

MANCHURIA MET DYING AND DEAD

With the dying and the dead strewing the pathway pursued by the Pacific Mail liner Manchuria, now at Honolulu, that vessel passed through a terrific experience in the attempt to gain the port of Manila while on the outward voyage.

The ever-dreaded typhoon, the terror to mariners in the China sea, the goddess of gales, high winds and hurricanes, following upon a week's rampage along the coast of China and among the islands in the Philippine group, did a devilish dance with a whirlwind finish as the big Pacific Mail liner Manchuria neared Manila.

ly on a wrecked sailing vessel were picked up and brought to Manila by the Manchuria. They had been three days without food or drink when rescued, having left Manila on the schooner Santiago, bound for Vigan in ballast. The ship was delayed about one-half hour in picking them up, and the passengers are loud in praise of Captain Dixon in the way the ship was handled. The seas were running so high it was impracticable to lower boats, but the huge vessel ran alongside of the floating craft, a hundred lines were thrown out to the distressed sailors, and they climbed up the ship's side. One of the sailors dropped his 20-cent hat while making the ascent, and promptly dropped down into the surging waves after it, which process was repeated a second time.

Another came up the rope with an umbrella under his arm. The captain of the crew, whose name is Pascual Quitoriano, of Vigan, states there was another small sailing vessel which left Manila with them, with a crew of 13 and two passengers aboard, all of whom he believes have been drowned.

The wrecked vessel was valued at 6000 pesos. A collection was taken up by the Manchuria passengers, and seven pesos each distributed among the survivors. Some of the more emotional lady passengers wept when the sailors were brought aboard ship, to add to the dramatic feature of the incident.

The Manchuria will sail at 3 o'clock this afternoon filled to capacity with first, second and third class passengers. Three large round the world touring parties, each under the direction of a courier, are returning from the Far East. Purser Landers reported fine weather on the homeward voyage. The Manchuria reached a berth at Alakea wharf shortly after 6 o'clock last night with 42 cabin, 5 second class and 174 Asiatic steerage passengers. One hundred Filipinos are numbered among the latter passengers.

Remaining with the vessel and proceeding to San Francisco are 171 cabin, 46 second class and 341 Asiatic steerage passengers.

One European was discovered as a stowaway and when his plight had been made known, a delegation of cabin passengers readily contributed a sum of money sufficient to pay his passage to Honolulu. It had been the intention to transfer the man to the Korea but that vessel had steamed far to the southward.

Sixty additional cabin passengers and one hundred Spanish and Portuguese are booked for the coast in the liner this afternoon.

We never heard of a man who could tell the truth so truthfully that a jealous woman couldn't tangle him all up.

SNUG BERTHS FOR MANY MATSON MEN

The approach for the time for the launching of the new Matson liner Matsonia has caused a general air of expectancy to become manifest among the staff of officers now identified with the several liners of this company visiting Honolulu.

Captain Peter Johnson played a return engagement and was observed wearing the same old Johnson smile as the big Wilhelmina steamed to a position at Hackfeld wharf this morning, following a pleasant trip down from the coast.

Captain Johnson is slated for the bridge of the latest Matson steamer, and was to have proceeded overland with the completion of the last voyage. Captain Charles Petersen, the "youngest skipper in the Pacific," it is predicted will move his suitcase into the Wilhelmina office with the transfer of Skipper Johnson.

Another well defined rumor brought by the Wilhelmina is that Charlie Drew, who is about as well known in shipping circles of San Francisco and the Hawaiian Islands as Old Neptune himself, is to take up the life of a mariner again and it is said that this genial official, who has been quietly hibernating at Hilo, will take over the duties of purser in the new Matsonia.

Captain Johnson, Chief Steward George Paston and Purser Harry Meyer, have to their credit a long string of successes as entertainers par excellence. A pleasing program of musical and athletic entertainment was successfully carried out on the voyage.

Following one day when rough weather was met, the trip was in every way an enjoyable one. Eighty-one cabin and seven steerage passengers returned in the vessel. The Wilhelmina is listed to steam for Hilo Thursday evening, taking in transit 1000 tons cargo, including two big auto trucks.

During the stay of the liner at this port, 2382 tons merchandise and stores for the quartermaster department will be discharged. Eleven autos are consigned to local importers. No mail arrived in the Wilhelmina, the consignment having left the coast in the Shinyo Maru.

LOCAL TRANSPORT IS AGAIN ASSURED

The United States army transport Buford, for many months at the coast, is to be placed on a run between San Francisco and Honolulu, as exclusively announced in the columns of the Star-Bulletin on May 28, and now confirmed by a wireless message received in this city last night. The prediction made weeks ago by this paper and now verified by advices from coast army circles, is in effect that business between San Francisco and the Hawaiian posts has grown to such extent that more tonnage has become a necessity.

Several weeks ago the Buford was taken from her anchorage and shifted to the Union Iron Works, where it is said that a good many thousand dollars will be spent in preparing the troopship for her new duties.

Ship Ena Away Wednesday

The American ship John Ena with 5000 tons sugar destined for Delaware Breakwater is expected to sail from Hilo tomorrow, according to a report brought by the steamer Mauna Kea. This vessel returned from Hawaii ports this morning with a small list of passengers and general cargo.

Inter-Island steamers passed on the voyage included the Kainiani at Papaikou, Kauai at Pepeekeo, Maui at Pepeekeo, the Waialeale loading cattle at Kawaihae and is to reach here with the last of Honokaa and Kukuihaele sugar.

Imperator Delayed in Leaving Bremen.

According to advices received at the agency of H. Hackfeld & Co. the great German liner Imperator is scheduled to sail from Bremen for New York on a maiden voyage tomorrow. This vessel now represents the largest liner flying the German colors. A collapse of a temporary wharf occasioned the delay in sailing.

Local Notice to Mariners

Hawaiian Islands—Molokai island, southeast side—Kamalo Point Reef Gas Buoy 1, reported extinguished, will be re-lighted as soon as practicable. By order of the commissioner of lighthouses.—A. E. Arledge, inspector, 19th lighthouse district.

Niihau Returned from Kauai.

The Inter-Island steamer Niihau is an arrival from Kauai today, the vessel bringing 5000 sacks sugar and a quantity of sundries. The vessel is reported to have met with rough weather.

SMITH BACK TO SHINYO MARU

Liner Reaches Honolulu After Uneventful Trip from the Mainland

Captain H. Stanley Smith is said, will resume command of the fine new Toyo Kisen Kaisha liner Shinyo Maru, on accasion of the arrival of that vessel at a Japanese port. The Shinyo Maru was brought to a berth at Alakea wharf this morning under the command of W. C. T. S. Filmer, who is predicted will return to the Coast in the vessel as a passenger.

Reporting fine weather with the exception of one day, Purser Grasett referred to the voyage from San Francisco to Honolulu as a rather quiet and uneventful one. But one cabin passenger is leaving the vessel at Honolulu. The through list en route to Japan, China and the Philippines includes 59 cabin, 54 second class and 83 Asiatic steerage passengers. The list includes several prominent residents from all parts of the country, among them: Judge Carter D. Johnston of Manila and wife, who have completed a honeymoon dash across the Pacific and the United States to the east; Mrs. J. Sterley, wife of the general freight traffic manager of the Denver & Fort Worth Railroad, accompanied by her daughter, Miss May Sterley; Mrs. Foster L. de Lechanco, wife of the Manila cattle contractor, and her two children; A. W. Simpson and wife of San Francisco, and James K. Rafferty, customs collector in the Philippines.

The Shinyo carries four thousand tons general cargo in which is included 1600 bales of raw cotton for discharge at Japanese ports.

C. A. Ludvigsen, a former Pacific Mail purser, identified for months with the Manchuria and later going over to the Toyo Kisen Kaisha as freight clerk in the Chiyo Maru, is understood to have been offered the billet of purser in the Hongkong Maru that is soon to take its place in the joint trans-Pacific passenger schedule. Ludvigsen has many friends here who ar eready to tender congratulations over his promotion.

Hawaii Sugar Report.

Purser Phillips, in the steamer Mauna Kea, arriving from Hawaii ports this morning, reports the following sugar awaiting shipment: Olaa 3000, Waiakea 3500, Hawaii Mill 3400, Hilo Sugar Co. 24,000, Onomea 16,198, Pepeekeo 15,300, Honomu 11,500, Hakalau 25,500, Laupahoehoe 3540, Kaiwiki 732, Kukaiau 8450, Hamakua Mill 10,400, Paauhau 20,000, Punaluu 10,460, Honuapo 6480 sacks.

Two Windjammers Reach Hilo.

The schooners A. F. Coates and the Camano, with cargoes of lumber, are reported to have arrived at Hilo on Sunday, according to Purser Phillips in the steamer Mauna Kea. The schooner Coates was 23 days out from Eureka, while the Camano completed a much longer passage, having sailed from Port Gamble 35 days ago.

Many Changes in Personnel

There has been almost a clean sweep among the cooks and bakers employed on the steamer Wilhelmina, said to be a result of the discovery of opium in the effects of several members of the former crew. The vessel was supplied with a complete new force upon arrival at San Francisco.

Child Died on Wilhelmina

A Japanese infant a year old died on board the Matson Navigation liner Wilhelmina as the vessel neared the Hawaiian islands. Death is reported by Dr. King, ship surgeon as resulting from natural causes.

Secretary Bryan and the British ambassador have signed the renewal of the general arbitration treaty in force between the two nations, and which would expire soon.

DEMOCRATS SURE OF THE GOVERNORSHIP

'Link' in a Walk, Say McCandless Men, While Other Factions Make Other Claims

"Link is bringing home the bacon," declared the McCandless Democrats jubilantly today. "There isn't much doubt that pretty soon Wilson is going to settle this governorship question and settle it in favor of L. L. McCandless."

McCandless left Washington a few days ago to go to California and inspect the mining interests of the McCandless brothers there. John H. Wilson, Democratic national committeeman for Hawaii, cabled here to his friends urging the party to get behind one candidate for governor and intimating that such an action would settle the question. Both the territorial and county committees being strongly pro-McCandless in their leanings, it was no surprise when the county committee last night reindorsed Link and withdrew its previous indorsement of Waller, which indorsement had passed favorably on Waller's party regularity.

The cablegram sent last night by the committee, urging McCandless' appointment, is confidently expected to settle Wilson's indecision and cause him to send Link's name to the senate.

The McCandless wing of the party figures that if Attorney E. M. Watson or Waller had a chance for the position, one would have been nominated some weeks ago.

The other Democratic wings aren't even quivering over the prospect. Each is still extended for its candidate.

Democrats generally brand as utterly absurd the statement published this morning that McCandless is coming home to start a free-sugar agitation. McCandless has repeatedly declared himself against free sugar and his friends say he had plenty of chances to make his fight in Washington if he had wished to attack the sugar tariff. They say the story is so absurd as to be laughable.

TOM GUNN, NOTED CHINESE AVIATOR, MAY GIVE EXHIBITION WHILE HERE

Tom Gunn, a Chinese flying man who really flies, and who is noted for his daring aerial stunts, one of which nearly cost him his life at Oakland, Cal., a year or so ago, is in Honolulu. Gunn comes here to look over the ground with a view to promoting an exhibition meet, which he plans to pull off the latter part of this month, provided that he can find a suitable field, and put through the business end of the deal.

The stop at Honolulu is only an incident with Gunn, for he has far bigger fish on his line than one-day exhibition stands. He is going through to China after a month in Honolulu, and when he comes back to the States it will probably be with a military handle to his name. He has been offered a commission in the army of the new republic, in order that he may organize and command the proposed aviation corps.

"I want to be a free lance for the first six months I am in China," said Tom Gunn this morning, shortly after he had landed from the Wilhelmina. "There is a lot of money to be made in exhibition flying in my country, where the game is practically new. When I get there I will take up the details of the army offer. The Chinese government expects to spend $180,000 on aviation this year, and four times that amount next year, if necessary. The army has a few machines now, but there is no one to fly them."

Gunn's machines, three in number, will arrive here June 23 on the Sierra, in charge of his brother and two competent mechanics. He has an exhibition biplane of his own design, a military tractor, and a flying boat of the latest model. After pulling off the exhibition Gunn is ready to give public demonstration of his water flyer, starting and landing on the surface of the harbor. He is also anxious to try the flying conditions at Schofield Barracks, and may take up the proposition with the army authorities.

Police Court Notes

Upon an old charge, resurrected foom the archives and dating back to April 19, Captain Andrew Dixon, master of the Pacific Mail liner Manchuria, today entered a plea of guilty at district court when arraigned upon a charge of permitting a dog to pass from the steamer to shore without first having been delivered to representatives of the territorial bureau of agriculture for quarantine. The case in question involved a passenger who through ignorance violated a territorial statute covering this offense. Captain Dixon was fined fifteen dollars and costs.

For committing an assault upon two Koreans, P. Steward was assessed a fine of ten dollars on two charges when brought before Judge Monsarrat this morning.

Making himself obnoxious in the vicinity of the territorial immigration station where a thousand or more Spanish people are now staying, M. Gonsales entered a plea of guilty when charged with violation of an act covering loitering. He was fined $25 and costs.

Breaking a window of a Hotel street store is likely to cost J. Hedrick and E. A. Smith, enlisted men with the infantry organizations stationed at Schofield Barracks, a pretty penny. The men were placed under arrest last night and will be called upon to settle the bill of damage preferred by a Japanese storekeeper. The men claimed when questioned by the police that the damage was due to an accident.

Removed from the Pacific Mail liner Manchuria last night, E. J. Wood, an American, was conveyed to Queen's Hospital for teratment.

A Japanese who is reported by the police to have fallen from a moving electric car, and was later removed to Queen's hospital for treatment, died at that institution this morning. According to reports, the man failed to wait for the car to come to a stop and in leaping to the ground was badly bruised, suffering internal injuries as well. He never regained consciousness.

WHEN A LAXATIVE IS NEEDED—"CASCARETS"

Salts, Calomel and Cathartic Pills are violent—they act on bowels as pepper acts in nostrils.

Take a Cascaret tonight and thoroughly cleanse your Liver, Stomach and Bowels, and you will surely feel great by morning. You men and women who have headache, coated tongue, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have backache and feel all worn out.

Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets—or merely forcing a passageway every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? This is important.

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the intestines and bowels.

Remember, a Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning. A 10-cent box from your druggist means healthy bowel action; a clear head and cheerfulness for months. Don't forget the children.—advertisement.

REV. EBERSOLE OFF FOR COAST

Granted a lengthy leave of absence by the laymen of the parish in recognition of his five years of service as associate minister of Central Union Church, Rev. Amos A. Ebersole left for San Francisco in the Manchuria this afternoon for an extended tour of the States.

Following a two weeks' visit in San Francisco, Mr. Ebersole will leave for the north, calling at Seattle, Portland, Tacoma and other Sound ports. From there he will go to Omaha, Neb., where he will visit relatives, and thence to Chicago, where he will meet his brother and renew acquaintances with his alma mater. Upon arrival at New York Mr. Ebersole will enter the summer school at Columbia University and take the special Bible study courses.

On his homeward trip, he plans to stop at Kansas City to attend, as a delegate from Hawaii, the tri-ennial conference of the National Committee of the Congregational Churches of North America, and meeting of the American Board and the Congregational Brotherhood convention, in October. Mr. Ebersole is taking with him literature descriptive of the Hawaiian Islands, and has already been asked to lecture on the islands at Oberlin, Ohio, Ocean College, Indiana, at Sterling, Illinois, and St. Louis. He plans to return to Honolulu the latter part of October.

LANE WEARY OF THE MANY OFFICE-SEEKERS

thusiasm was aroused and his name is not now even brought forward.

When advised that Judge Wilder might prove an available selection and his friends would like to have Secretary Lane inspect him, that official listlessly replied that he would be glad to receive him if he came here and walked into his office. He manifested no interest in the subject of Judge Wilder's availability and did not urge that he rush here on the first boat. The secretary would doubtless welcome Delbert E. Metzger as he does all those who drop in on him. It is not believed here that Secretary Lane has urged either of these gentlemen to hasten here and enter the governorship race. If so he evidently did not hear the president's open announcement that the matter will be settled in a short time.

Those who have been grooming all the candidates express great confidence that their man will win, but no one of them comes forward with anything resembling a definite promise or a specific pointer in the direction of pulling down the plum.

THIRTEEN ARRESTS IN OPIUM TRAFFIC IN WEEK

No less than thirteen arrests have been made in connection with opium during the past week, and they have all been made possible through the new law that states that the use, smoking or being in the possession of opium, is an offense.

Seven arrests were made at Wailuku, four in Lahaina and two at Hana. The people arrested were, in all cases, Chinese. They were considerably surprised when they heard that they were under arrest.

PRODUCERS PLAN SOON A REALITY

other facts of importance in arranging for their distribution.

The purpose of the organizations, in a word, is to find a ready and profitable market for all fruits and vegetables produced, without charge to the grower. Similar organizations have met with high success, says the doctor, in California, Oregon and Georgia, and he is confident his plan will be rewarded with the same success. By keeping in close touch with the grower and the market, advising the former when and where to ship, the condition of having the market overflowed at one time and drained at another he believes will no longer exist.

By act of the last legislature, the marketing division of the immigration department was done away with, and an appropriation was made to the experimental station for the marketing work to be conducted under its supervision. This it will do by the associations' scheme. The station cannot conduct the work in the status of a federal commission broker, charging fees for its work, being prohibited to do so by the government. But under Dr. Wilcox's plan it will not be necessary to charge a fee, and he believes that within a short time the entire organization will be self-supporting.

Beginning the first of the month market quotations on fruits and produce, including dairy products, will be issued by Dr. Wilcox and published in the Star-Bulletin. In that way both the producer and consumer will know the state of the market, and it is believed that it will be in itself a great aid to the growers.

The experimental station is at its busiest at this time. The many bulletins it has issued, informing the world of opportunities here, are bringing their harvest of communications. Even the kukui nut, which Dr. Wilcox advertised some time ago as a profitable enterprise, is still being heard from, letters arriving from the four quarters of the world. He stated yesterday that the Union Fruit Company has not abandoned its intention to call here, and that he has received letters from it recently asking more questions regarding Hawaii. As the hope of the company making this port has been long cherished, and given up a number of times as one of the "vanished things," Dr. Wilcox is not at all confident that the company will be here soon, but does believe, because of the growing importance of the islands, that it will eventually call at Honolulu.

KAMEHAMEHA DAY WORTHY OF REVERENCE

Kamehameha the Great's anniversary, June 11, is a day worthy of perpetuation. There were later Hawaiian sovereigns of the name whose achievements of peace were not less noble than the exploits of the First—such as the surrender of feudal tenure of the land for the benefit of all the people, the granting of a liberal constitution and the foundation of a hospital—yet there is no doubt that these successors to the name and scepter of the conqueror were largely inspired to patriotic acts and policies by the example of their renowned ancestor whose lights and advantages were less than theirs.

Like certain other of earth's truly great ones, Kamehameha I has left no clue to his grave or tomb. Civilized government in Hawaii, for which he blazed the way, did not long allow his memory to fade through lack of a monument. By an accident that can only be regarded as fortuitous he has been provided with two stately memorials instead of the one for which money was appropriated—one upon the Big Island where his career began and the other in the modern capital of the realm he found split into warring factions led by petty despots, and left a united nation with its sea-divided parts welded securely by his valor.

Kamehameha's original statue was sunk in the ship carrying it in the Straits of Magellan or thereabout, and the insurance money provided for the replica that was erected in front of the government building in Honolulu. Afterward the original work was fished from the depths and erected near the birthplace of Kamehameha at Kohala. It is said that John T. Baker, a former governor of the Island of Hawaii, was the model for the statue.

It is to the credit of the Hawaiians that the longer they are becoming used to the light yoke of American citizenship, the warmer their patriotism glows in attachment ot the noble memory of their greatest chief. The Order of Kamehameha ought to ensure as long as social order and fraternal amenities prevail in these fair islands. This organization has changed fitful and voluntary homage to the memory of Kamehameha the Great to bounden and regular service on each anniversary of his birth. That the foremost young men of the race are attending to this patriotic office is one of the best omens of the time. It shows that their ideals are those of unity, courage and progress. As they decorate the statue of Kamehameha, this day of his, with the fragrant wreaths that have long been world-known as the regalia of the warmest human hospitality, let it be believed that they dedicate themselves anew to the social and political betterment of the still potent remnant of their wondrously interesting race.

Credit for the founding of this order, which dates from May, 1903, or a little more than ten years after the close of the monarchy and a little less than five years after annexation to the United States, belongs to Dr. George H. Huddy, who has served the territory faithfully and well as a representative in the legislature, first from Kauai and then from Hawaii. Prince Jonah Kuhio Kalanianaole, delegate to congress, was the first aliiaimoku, or sovereign head of the order, Hawaii Chapter No. 1, which was instituted in Honolulu. In 1907 Mamalahoa Chapter No. 2 was established at Hilo, Rev. S. L. Desha, he of the silver tongue, being its promoter.

BIG CELEBRATION PROMISED FOR 4TH

In spite of the comparatively "hard times," Honolulu seems likely to have a bigger celebration of the Fourth of July this year than it has had for many a year. Ed Towse was permanently appointed by the merchants' association yesterday as chairman of a committee to take charge of the plans, and he was busy this morning working out a number of schemes which point to a real celebration.

The committee has established headquarters in the offices of the Promotion Committee, Young Hotel building, with George F. Henshall as secretary. It is planning an ambitious program of which, after the patriotic exercises and parade, athletics and races will be prominent features. The finance committee consists of Fred L. Waldron, Emil A. Berndt and G. G. Guild. The entire celebration will be under the auspices of the Merchants' Association.

Religion presents few difficulties to the humble; many to the proud; insuperable ones to the vain.—Hare.

NO HOPE FROM THOMPSON

Collier's Weekly, which is supporting the Wilson-Underwood tariff bill, particularly the sugar schedule, devotes a whole page in the latest issue to a development of Wilson's attack on the "insidious lobbyists." In the course of his remarks, Mark Sullivan, the well-known Washington correspondent, publishes a letter from Senator Thompson of Kansas that dashes Hawaii's hopes of help from the Kansas solon. The letter says:

"The statement that I am going to vote against the Underwood bill is without the slightest foundation and absolutely false. I have never intimated to anyone that I would vote against the bill, and have never had any such intention.

"There is no substantial difference between President Wilson and myself on the tariff, and certainly not enough difference on any schedule to justify any person in the belief that I would vote against the bill. The questions presented are national—not local—and will be so regarded by me."

PAYING ATTENTION TO SEX HYGIENE

The prude, the negligent and the coarsely cynical in matters of sex are fast giving way to those who hold a more enlightened view of their duty to the human race. It is interesting to note that the Fourth International Congress on School Hygiene, which is to be held in Buffalo next August, will devote a special meeting to the discussion of sex hygiene.

A few months ago the prudes of this community received a shock from which their puny mentalities have not yet recovered when a public meeting was held to discuss the subject of eugenics. And yet the foundation of eugenics is sex hygiene.

Popular interest in sex education is of recent growth, according to a statement prepared by the American Federation, which continues: "Only a few years ago, the subject was a forbidden one, not to be mentioned in public and to be avoided whenever possible in private. But a general realization of its importance has been brought about by the work of physicians and educators who have understood the real meaning and the actual results of the old policy of silence, and the extent of the present popular interest in sex matters is plainly indicated not only by the number of public lectures on the subject but by the fact that the columns of the press are being more and more opened to its discussions."

THE DRAIN OF CHARITIES

The enormous sums given to charity in the United States have been frequently the subject of comment, but accurate figures have been consistently lacking. One of the best estimates yet made is by Dr. Arthur James Todd, of the department of sociology, University of Illinois. Dr. Todd, after dwelling on the huge sums spent in public and private charities, makes the very good point that the emphasis of the future must be placed on measures to prevent such appalling necessity as now exists in practically every community. He says:

The United States is still in the stone age in the matter of accurate public statistics for charity and correction. States and municipalities have both pursued the biblical policy of not letting the left hand know what the right was spending on charity. A good many states compile figures of their poor relief budgets; some cities do likewise; and the federal census issues reports on almshouses and other charitable institutions. But most of these are not in shape for ready comparison. Still certain fairly accurate appropriations may be made.

For state institutions per capita expenditures vary from 47 cents in Massachusetts, 57 cents in Wyoming, 66 cents in California, 85 cents in Indiana to $1.25 in Pennsylvania, $1.42 in Connecticut, $1.64 in Illinois, $2.63 in New York.

These figures should not, however, be taken literally to compare the liberality or efficient management of the respective states. The variations may only represent different policies in distributing the burden of poor relief between state and local authorities or between public and private agencies.

Outdoor relief given by the counties varies also from state to state, but averages about 30 cents per capita. On the basis of population reported by the last census this item would attain a total expenditure for the whole country of between $27,000,000 and $30,000,000. Many cities also distribute outdoor relief. An average of twenty-four leading cities shows a per capita of about 10 cents. Multiplied into the total urban population of the country, this item reaches about $4,250,000 annually.

The figures for New York and Massachusetts illustrate the burdens which older centers are carrying. New York reported in 1911 a total expenditure of over $24,000,000 for public and private institutions subject to visitation by the state board of charities. But this does not include the various charity organization societies and other non-institutional relief agencies, which would swell the sum by several millions. And the tide is rising at the rate of $1,000,000 a year. Massachusetts, also in 1911, spent over $1,500,000 on eleven state institutions, nearly $180,000 on state outdoor poor, considerably over $2,000,000 on local poor relief, and about $8,500,000 through private charity of various types.

The United States census report on benevolent institutions in 1904 gave the gross cost of maintaining all these 4207 institutions as over $52,000,000, exclusive of improvements and of almshouses and other charitable and defective institutions—a per capita cost of about 70 cents. From the census reports on certain classes of such institutions come figures which, reduced to a per capita basis and added to the cost of benevolent institutions, run up the sum to nearly $1.25. This means a total annual charitable outlay of over $112,000,000.

This enormous figure says nothing about large additions to plant. It does not of course, include a perhaps equal sum poured through private unrecorded channels. Nor does it include direct and indirect losses through poverty; the billions lost through unemployment, the loss of general capacity—if not genius—through deficient education, losses by fire and other causes, through allowing defective delinquents at large. Little wonder then that we are beginning to question and to look for preventive measures.

The majority decision of the supreme court in the recent income tax case is inexplicable to the layman. The ordinary citizen knows nothing of the technicalities involved, except that the experts in the law are divided upon them. The decision, however, violates common-sense. The new law was never meant to apply to the past. It was passed to apply to the future.

President Wilson is a better politician than most of the regular politicians have been giving him credit for. When his tariff bill was tottering, he raised the hue-and-cry of "insidious lobbying" and after that not a senator but saw himself branded as purchasable and purchased if he should break from the Wilson corral.

So conservative a paper as the Boot and Shoe Recorder, a trade journal of Boston, says that Secretary of Commerce Redfield is "a theorist and a dreamer of dreams" and expresses the belief that he is far from qualified to act as instructor-general for all branches of American manufacturing.

Oakland (Cal.) Tribune.—Abolishing the tariff on sugar . . . is not tariff for revenue; it is free trade without limitation. Worse still, it spells destruction for the sugar industry."

Senator Metzger's arrival may be delayed by that auto accident in Washington. It is a relief to learn that one governorship candidate can travel fast enough to get into an accident.

The sugar trust pulled off the best joke of the season when it put Burns detectives on the trail of George Carter, Harry Irwin, Sidney Ballou and the rest of the "insidious lobbyists."

Now that the preliminary signatories to the Balkan-Turkish peace agreement have been signed, the armies are apparently getting ready to fight about it.

Possibly all these postmastership appointments indicate that Wilson is warming up to speed a governorship nomination over the political plate.

Inspector Halsey's report should give great joy to the enemies of sugar protection.

We ought to feel safe or unsafe, as the case may be, with Tom Gunn here.

W. R. CASTLE ANSWERS CRITICISM ON NATURALIZATION PLAN.

Editor Honolulu Star- Bulletin,

Sir: Somebody who is ashamed of his name—or is afraid to sign it—sends me this note: "If you were a mechanic and had to earn your living by the sweat of your brow, you would sing a different tune about the naturalization of Mongolians. Thank God, Wilson is a Democrat."

While I am not in the habit of answering anonymous letters, it seems to me that if the gentleman—whom I suspect is not a mechanic at all—had given a little attention to the existing state of affairs he would have seen, in the first place, that the petition which I drew at the request of a large number of intelligent people here will probably meet his views in more ways than one. In the first place, it proposes to do away with a constant source of irritation and racial prejudice by striking out any reference to nationality in admitting people to naturalization in the United States. Secondly, it proposes to increase the qualifications necessary to any one who wishes to become naturalized, and I must say that I am very much in favor of this. I think that it is too easy and altogether too much a matter of indifference for people to become naturalized in the United States. I should say, first increase the number of years necessary to live in the country; let there be a higher degree of education; let every person who wishes to become naturalized understand, read and write the English language, which is the language of the United States of America, and jealously guard against the admission of any bums and tramps. American citizenship should be a magnificent privilege, and, until all the requirements are met, whoever desires to become an American citizen should be required to live in the country and look longingly toward the attainment of naturalization as an ideal condition. Thirdly, while it is not in the petition, Mr. Mechanic need not bother himself about Mongolians. In my opinion, there are very few of them who will naturalize. The Japanese, particularly, prefer to remain Japanese, and they certainly have a right to be proud of their splendid country. The Chinese, with their new nationalism, are not at all likely to become naturalized American citizens.

As for "Thank God Wilson is a Democrat," if Mr. Wilson acts out what democracy stands for, he will be much more likely to take down the race barrier to naturalization than any Republican would.

Respectfully yours,
W. R. CASTLE.

WAR TROUBLE MOB TALK, SAYS SCOTT

Jerome Scott of Pennsylvania, prominent in the lumber industry there, is a passenger on the Manchuria which arrived from the Orient today. He is on his way to his home, after touring Japan and visiting his daughter in Korea.

During Mr. Scott's presence in Japan the agitation over the alien-land law, passed by the legislature of California, was at its fever heat, and the papers of that country, he says, were filled with cries for war with the United States, and mass meetings took up the call, sent echoing across the island.

"But at no time," said Mr. Scott this morning, "did there seem to be a real danger of war. What we heard was mob sentiment. In official circles there was always expressed a desire to continue friendly relations with the United States. Before I left the mob feeling had abated and probably no more will be heard of the bubble-trouble."

NEW WARD WILL GIVE MAUI LARGE HOSPITAL

When the new ward of the Malulani hospital is completed, there will be twelve additional beds—ten for public and two for private patients. The new ward is to be constructed under the supervision of J. C. Foss, Jr., who is the architect.

The new ward will be 62 feet 10 inches in length, and 32 feet in width. Twelve beds can be accommodated in the space. A covered passage will connect with the present building. Bath rooms, store rooms and a verandah will be included in the building.

The ward will enable the devoted doctor and nurses to admit more patients than in the past. The county of Maui is doing the right thing in providing the addition, and everybody hopes that the building will soon be finished.—Maui News.

WORK TO RESUME ON BREAKWATER AT HILO

On cabled authority from Washington, Major W. P. Wooten, the United States engineer officer in charge of rivers and harbors work in the islands, has withdrawn his prohibition against extending the unprotected core of the Hilo breakwater beyond the 300-foot limit, and work will be resumed within a few days. The force of men which was laid off a week ago will be reassembled, and the Breakwater Company of Philadelphia, contractors for the job, will push work on the core one dollar.

of the superstructure, at the same time securing all the heavy rock available for the slopes and cap.

The change in plan is due to the efforts of D. E. Metzger, superintendent of the work, who, when Major Wooten deemed it unsafe to extend the core of comparatively small rock more than 300 feet, and stopped the work, hurried to Philadelphia and Washington to consult with his principles and obtain, if possible, more lenient terms.

The hitch on the Hilo breakwater job has been caused by the lack of heavy rock available. Eight ton rock is called for by the specifications for the sea slope, and three ton for the harbor slope and cap. The quarry on which the contractors counted to supply this heavy material did not block out as expected, and work came to a standstill.

Now that the contractors have secured permission to run out the unprotected core 1000 feet, they will have more time to look for large rock, and in the meantime can keep their expensive plant in operation, and their force together.

NORDICA AND DUFAULT WILL APPEAR HERE

The announcement that Paul Dufault, the famous French tenor, is to appear in Honolulu with Mme. Lillian Nordica, has delighted local musicians for he made a favorable and lasting impressions on everyone who heard him when he sang with Claneros some time ago.

Mme. Nordica herself is an example of constant achievement. She has never stood still nor remained content with the triumphs she has won. Last season she scored one of the greatest successes of her career by singing "Isolde" in German at the Berlin Royal Opera, while the season before she added fresh triumph to her list by singing the same role in French at the Paris Grand Opera.

At her concert here Mme. Nordica will be heard in a number of English selections, as she is an enthusiastic advocate of singing in the vernacular and was the first to sing Wagner in English. The dates of Nordica's concerts are June 26 and June 28.

Seats may be reserved at the Territorial Messenger Service, phone 3461.

ANOTHER STAFF OFFICER COMING

The staff of the Hawaiian Department is to be increased in the near future, a regularly detailed officer of the ordnance department being now under orders to proceed to Honolulu. On his arrival the army administration here will have the full complement of staff officers, with the exception of an officer in charge of militia affairs, and a member of the signal corps, serving as department signal officer. At the present time Captain J. S. Johnston is acting signal officer, ordnance officer, and artillery engineer, but the duties are too onerous, and the coming of a regular ordnance officer will greatly help facilitate army administration here.

The new department ordnance officer is First Lieutenant Birch O. Mahaffey, whose detail in the ordnance will date from June 20, the date when the tour of a number of officers, including Captain C. W. Waller, now here, will expire. Lieutenant Mahaffey is ordered to proceed to Hawaii as soon as practicable after that date.

The United States senate is now going to investigate itself, prying into the individual holdings of prominent senators to refute Wilson's veiled statement that strong and influential lobbies were lining up the senate against the tariff measures.

Chicago has enacted a very strict ordinance putting the ban on all risque songs or dances.

KAMEHAMEHA PUPILS ARE GRADUATED

More than five hundred persons gathered in the Bishop Memorial Chapel, Kamehameha school, at eight o'clock last evening, the occasion being the awarding of diplomas to the thirty-nine students in the manual and girls' departments who compose the graduating class of 1913. The baccalaureate sermon was delivered in the chapel Sunday morning by Rev. J. L. Hopwood.

The program opened with an organ prelude. "Proclamation," by Miss Edith Gatfield, this being followed by an anthem, "Seek Ye the Lord," by the chapel choir. In response to the invocation by Rev. J. L. Hopwood, the boys' glee club rendered "Peace Be Unto You."

Following the musical numbers, essays were read by Miss Julia Coleman, who took as her topic "Alaa. My Home Country," and Miss Ida Desha, whose subject was "Hilo, My Home."

Mrs. Charles L. Hall sang Vincent Wallace's "Sweet Spirit, Hear My Prayer", being accompanied on the organ by Miss Gatfield. The first oration of the evening was delivered by Ernest Ahina Amona, who spoke upon the subject "Inventions." The second oration was delivered by Daniel Kaleialli, who took for his topic a matter of present great interest, that of vocational training. Following the orations, a girls' chorus sang two selections, "Nocturne," by Denza, and "A Song of Seasons," by Hawley. This was proceeded by an anthem, "Praise Ye the Father," by the choir.

At the close of the anthem, the students of the girls' school stood and formed at the right of the platform. Miss Ida M. Pope, principal of that school, after a brief address, presented them with their diplomas. The boys were awarded their diplomas by President Horne.

Four years ago Daniel Pahu, a student at Kamehameha, established in the manual department, in honor of his mother, a roll of honor, offering a prize each year to the cadet who through the four years as a student at the school had been the most worthy and who had done the most for the institution. Beside receiving this prize, his name was to be placed upon the roll of honor, which roll was to be handed down from year to year. President Horne last evening opened the ballot which contained the name of Daniel Kaleialli, the fourth student to have his name affixed to the roll. Retiring Cadet Major William Kaina also had his name affixed to the roll of majors.

Following the awarding of the diplomas and the announcement of the two students, the graduates, students and those in the audience united in singing "Hawaii Ponoi," the Hawaiian national hymn, after which the members of the class of 1913 were loaded down with flowers and leis and received the congratulations of their parents and friends.

The following students were awarded academic certificates:

Edward K. Akana, Edward Akiona, Ernest Ahina Amona, Joseph Amos, George K. Beniamina, George Herbert Bush, Kuan C. Chung, William Nani Enoka, Daniel Hipa, James H. Hobbs, Samuel M. Hussey, John K. Jones, William N. Kaina, Daniel Kaleialii, Joseph Kaulhana, Joseph Kila, Richard Muller, William Opunui, Elizabeth Akiona, Julia Coleman, Ida Desha, Julia Fern, Josephine Mahoe, Emma Malakaua, Lydia Martin, May McGowan, Carrie Muller, Helen Poepoe and Faustina Van Deisen. Mechanical department—William Waialeale, Ainnu Alau, William Lazaro, Joseph L. Ahu, James Paneiua. Domestic art—Flora Kaai, Eliza Nainoa, Julia Pahia, Watty Robinson. Domestic science—Julia Apela.

Morning on Change

The dullest day on the market since the fear of free sugar began, was experienced this morning. Business absolutely refused to move. Five small sales, three of which involved Hawaiian Commercial, tell the story of today's inactivity or apathy. Not a sale was noted between boards.

There seems to be no immediate hope of the market recovering. Private advices were received this morning by a number of brokers containing depressing news of the Washington tariff situation, and to the circulating of this information may be attributed the cause of the inertia of the market.

Hawaiian Commercial dropped a half point, selling at 24. Olaa went down to 1.37½, and a few McBryde found a buyer at 2.75. That is the sum of the business of the day. The exchange posted notice this morning that it will be closed tomorrow, Kamehameha Day. Wailuku and Hutchinson gave notice of dividends of June 10. The Oahu Railway & Land Company will close its books from June 11 to June 14, inclusive.
