FRANCHISE BILL WON'T BE DELAYED

New Measure, Minus 'Section 2,' Will Be Introduced Immediately

ADDED PROVISION NOW BELIEVED A MISTAKE

Street Railway Representatives Say Delegate in No Way Responsible

Castle & Withington, attorneys for the Rapid Transit company, have received cable advice from Washington that give a new and welcome turn to the franchise bill situation, bringing the assurance that there will be no serious delay in the progress of the franchise bill through Congress. The cablegram is from the Washington attorneys of the company and states that a new bill will be introduced in place of H. R. 9471, to the original form of which a new section giving the right of amendment at any time to the territorial legislature with the approval of congress.

The introduction of the new bill, or the reintroduction of the original measure minus the offending section, will be secured at once, so that the next Congress may go ahead with consideration of the franchise extension until 1920.

The local attorneys for the company do not yet understand how the now-famous added section got into the bill, though it is generally felt that it was due to some mistake. Attorney D. L. Withington said this morning that no one interested in the street railway company thinks at one moment that Delegate Kubie was responsible for the added section, and that its presence in the bill is clearly a mistake.

The Merchants' Association directors are to hold a meeting this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, and it was expected that the special committee named to consider the Rapid Transit franchise extension would report, but Acting President O'Neil said this morning that the committee wished to make a detailed report, and would not have it ready today.

The Merchants' Association directors will discuss some general business, probably including the flushing of Post street ditty after the new paving work is completed.

BANANA COURT WILL SAVE ON APPROPRIATION

Notable Record for Rapid and Efficient Work Established by the Commission

Establishing a notable record for rapid, efficient work and a degree of economy worthy of praise in any public office, the banana commission practically brings its labors to an end tonight, just four months to a day from the time it was organized.

In that time it has received 762 banana claims, heard their merits and passed judgment, fixing the awards for every worthy one and bringing to a close the much-discussed situation arising from the famous mosquito, or yellow fever episode of nearly two years ago.

Though all the figures have not yet been compiled, Clerk Walter F. Drake announced today that the total amount of the awards will not be more than $35,000 of $36,000, which means that the commission has settled all the claims for $4,000 or $5,000 less than the amount appropriated by the legislature for that purpose.

He also states that the expense of the commission in handling the job, stupendous in petty details, has fallen below the amount authorized. The commission was privileged to spend $6500 in salaries of its members, employees and for incidentals, but he says the actual expense probably will be somewhat less than that figure.

The average amount to be received by the claimants will be just about 10 cents on the dollar of the amounts originally asked for the plants during the yellow fever campaign. The total amount of the original claims was about $250,000. This does not mean, however, that every claimant is to get only 10 cents for every dollar he demanded as recompense; some claimants whose demands the commissioners have regarded as just and fair will get exactly what they asked.

HONOLULU NOW SAFE FROM INVASION

Red Army Repulsed by Blues After Desperate Fighting

THEORETIC GAME OF BATTLE IS ON IN EARNEST

2nd and 25th Infantry, Opposed to Troopers of the 1st Infantry

BY LAURENCE REDINGTON
(By Telephone from the Field)
IN CAMP NEAR CASTNER, Oct. 16, 12:30 p. m.—Honolulu is safe from invasion for a while longer. This morning, after a desperate fight at Waihu, two regiments of Blue Infantry drove back a regiment of the invading Reds that had sneaked over the Koolau range in the darkness and had threatened to cut off the Blues' line of retreat to Pearl City and Honolulu. The Blues' mission was to locate the Red raiders and attack and this was accomplished in excellent style.

IN THE FIELD WITH THE RED ARMY—WALTER CASTNER'S DEER-IN-THE-HEAD. Today's battle over the usually peaceful plain of Lelahehu found the 2nd and 25th Infantry fighting side by side as a portion of the Blue army, while the 1st Infantry represented one regiment of a theoretically strong force of Red invaders.

The general situation for the two armies was the same as that of yesterday, the Reds holding the north and east coasts of Oahu, while the Blues held the south and Waianae coasts, having strong forces between the Poamoho and Kaula gulches.

The Red colonel, with his regiment, had, under orders from his brigade commander near Kahana, crossed the Koolau range on the Waihu trail, with orders to effect a junction with the Red forces operating south from Waihu. Bivouac-ing in Dole's Gulch after midnight, his patrols at 8:30 this morning reported an engagement in progress about three miles north of Schofield. At the same hour he received a message sent by a signal party on the ridge south of Waihu mill, where yesterday's engagement was fought, from the Red's commanding general, as follows:

"Action in progress here undecided, but I expect strong reinforcements in less than two hours, and in case of favorable outcome you will be able from your present position to cut enemy's line of retreat. I deem it more important that you hold your present position than that you should join me here. Instructions will be sent you when the action here has sufficiently progressed. For the present remain where you are."

At this time also, Colonel Hirst, commanding the Red regiment, learned of the presence of two Blue Infantry regiments just north of Castner, and decided to temporarily in-trench at Dole's Gulch.

The main body of the Blue force (theoretical) in-trenched about three miles north of the Kaula gulch, near the Honolulu-Waihu road opposing the Red force in-trenched on the crest south of Waihu. Reinforcements of two regiments, the 2nd and 25th, arrived at 8 o'clock near the north gate of Schofield barracks. At 8:30 the Blue general learned from a native that the Red regiment bivouaced last night at Dole's Gulch and that Red patrols had been seen in the vicinity. The Blue general, in order to cover his line of retreat, ordered Colonel French, commanding the actual Blue force, to proceed with his two regiments, locate the Red regiment, and attack without delay.

The Blues still have one battalion under Captain Bell on the left flank, which acted as a flank guard and also cut off the Blues' own line of retreat. The main Blue body, consisting of two battalions of the 2nd and the 25th, proceeded down the main Honolulu-Haleiwa road to the water tanks at Castner, when the enemy was located on a commanding crest about 3000 yards away. Here followed an excellent example of change of objective or troops in column. The 2nd swung up to the right and, keeping remarkably well covered, attacked the enemy entrenched position. The 25th swung in better to the right to make

PROBE STORY OF POLICE ASSAULT ON A PRISONER

Jarrett Calls Witnesses to Arrest of Korean Now in Hospital

CONTRADICTORY STORIES ARE TOLD BY PARTIES

Police Say Man Was Drunk and Abusive—Statement Flatly Denied by Others

After twice postponing the hour of investigation, Sheriff Jarrett at 2 o'clock this afternoon called together witnesses into the alleged un-called-for and brutal assault made yesterday afternoon by two members of the police department upon a Korean prisoner. The case has stirred up the entire Korean colony in the city and several well-known Honoluluans have interested themselves in seeing that justice is done.

Contradictory stories as to the assault are told by the police and by those looking into the circumstances on behalf of the Korean. The sheriff's investigation was first called for 9 o'clock this morning, then postponed by him until 10:30 and postponed again until 2, because of the failure to secure material witnesses whose presence was asked by A. L. C. Atkinson, attorney in the case.

Meanwhile, Ko Sung Woon, the Korean prisoner, is at Queen's hospital and according to reports he is in a serious though not necessarily dangerous condition.

The Korean National Association has retained Attorney Atkinson to represent Ko Sung Woon's interests, after members of the association heard that their countryman was badly injured in his encounter with the arresting officers.

The contention of the police is that the Korean was very drunk when placed under arrest, and that he assaulted the first officer to reach him, Patrolman Berry Simpson. Witnesses for the policeman have been called for this afternoon's hearing.

Attorney Atkinson declared this morning that the man's breath carried not the slightest taint of liquor, nor did he show the least sign of being drunk, and that he has such reputable witnesses as C. H. Bellina of the Club Stables and Dr. W. T. Monsarrat to testify that the Korean did not assault the officer, but was assaulted and gross-

BIG DREDGE TO TRY TO SALVE WRECKED BARK

Japanese Fishermen Get Irate When They Find Rescued Lumber Removed

The big dredge Gaylord, operated by the Hawaiian Dredging Company, is now to take a hand in the attempt to salve the wrecked bark S. C. Allen and the valuable cargo of lumber.

Through an arrangement between the insurance underwriters and the Hawaiian Dredging Company completed today, the Gaylord is to be sent to the scene and the work of placing lines to the bark will be resumed without delay.

The present plans as adopted following a series of conferences held this morning, call for the placing of several heavy anchors from the dredge. The Hawaiian Dredging Company is declared to possess a splendid equipment for conducting a salvage campaign. Several anchors weigh more than eight tons and when once planted, these are expected to be able to withstand any strain that might be brought to bear upon them through the effort of the powerful steam winches.

Those interested in the saving of the cargo believe that with from three to six steel cables sent out from the securely moored dredge to the Allen, the Gaylord's winches will be able to move the badly battered bark from her resting place on the rocks and coral to deeper water.

There was a decidedly irate colony of Japanese fishermen assembled at the Channel wharf this morning when the discovery was made that the accumulation of lumber from the Allen's cargo, secured by them during the past few days, and placed there for safe keeping, had been removed to another location at the instance of the representatives of the insurance underwriters.

GOVERNOR SULZER FOUND GUILTY; EXTREME PENALTY WILL FORFEIT HIS OFFICE

Court of Impeachment May Lighten Sentence—Presiding Judge Seems to Favor Accused Executive—The Balloting Proceeds Openly on Each of Eight Counts

Governor William Sulzer

(Associated Press)
ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 16.—Gov. William Sulzer of the state of New York is guilty as charged in the first article of impeachment. He is guilty also on the second count.

Such is the decision of the court of impeachment today, after one of the most spectacular trials in the history of the country and one of the few impeachment cases.

Sulzer is declared guilty on the first count by a vote of 35 to 13, two-thirds being necessary for conviction. The margin was narrow but it was sufficient.

The first count charges that Sulzer, while secretary of state a false statement of his campaign receipts, expenditures, disbursements and liabilities. This is the charge whose supporting evidence brought out the large campaign contributions made to Sulzer during the state campaign last fall.

The second count charges that Sulzer was guilty of perjury in stating that his statement of his campaign receipts, expenditures, disbursements and liabilities was correct.

The final balloting on the remaining six of the eight counts against the New York executive is now proceeding. All of the ballotes are being taken openly, each judge and senator of the 57 constituting the court casting his ballot by explaining his vote publicly.

The court may find Sulzer guilty as charged in the articles of impeachment and yet he may remain in office. This is because the extreme penalty for the offenses with which he is charged is removal from office and prohibition from ever again holding a position of trust or honor in New York. A lighter penalty may be imposed.

An informal ballot was taken secretly before the open balloting began. The informal ballot stood 43 to 14 in favor of Sulzer's removal from office, and was unanimous against exemption from holding future offices.

Edgar M. Cullen, presiding judge of the impeachment court, voted publicly "innocent" on the first count against Sulzer, going on to explain, "but I am frank to say that if his acts had been committed after he had taken office, I should consider him morally unfit."

(Associated Press Cable)
PORTSMOUTH, England, Oct. 16.—The oil-burning superdreadnought Queen Elizabeth was launched here successfully today. Details as to her construction and armament have been closely guarded by the British naval authorities, but it is believed that she will carry 10 15-inch guns, and that she will be the heaviest-armed vessel afloat.

Ralph Rose Is Dead

(Associated Press Cable)
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 16.—Ralph Rose, noted athlete and champion shot-putter of the world for several years, died here today of typhoid fever. He has been ill only a fortnight. Rose was 29 years old. He first came into prominence as a schoolboy in Heidelberg, later going to the University of Michigan. He was a member of the Olympic team that went to Stockholm.

A report has been received here that the British freighter Largo, en route from San Francisco to Melbourne, Australia, will call here for bunker coal. This vessel sailed from the coast on last Tuesday.

Petition was filed in circuit court today by Emma K. Nott to have probated the will of the late Emma Baker, who died July 8, leaving an estate consisting of several parcels of land valued at $1500. Four children survive her. The petitioner asks that Gilbert J. Waller, who is named in the will as executor, be appointed administrator.

According to reports from Washington strong efforts are being made towards the retention of Charles A. Cottrell in office as the collector of internal revenue for Hawaii. Cottrell admits that his friends, Democrats and Republicans, have requested the president to hold him in office.

Engagement Announced.
Mrs. Harry Cannon has announced the engagement of her daughter, Ethel Blanche, to Melville C. Harris of the Standard Oil Company. The wedding will take place at the home of the bride's mother, 1516 Leilani street, tomorrow evening at 8:30 o'clock. The young couple will make their home in Honolulu.

Extension of Bop and Pua- ahi Thoroughfare Presents New Difficulties

New difficulties appearing in the project now undertaken by the board of supervisory for the opening and extension of Bop and Pua-ahi streets.

Grave doubts are expressed today by persons who given the subject some study as whether the board may form one or more for the opening of the two streets. On other points in the undertakings are being expressed.

The board of supervisory has tentatively agreed to proceed with the opening of Bishop and Pua-ahi streets, and to that end a publishing was called for October 23.

At this meeting, amid a general discussion, it is held to definitely fix the boundaries of the improvement district. Suiser Petrie, chairman of the committee, stated that he was in favor of having the district include the block bounded by Hotel, Bere-tani and Emma streets, others ask that it be made include at least four blocks.

One point seemed to finally decided this morning and point is that it will be necessary both Bishop and Pua-ahi streets to be extended, that two districts be formed. By the rule laid in a number of cases, it was held on this morning, two different streets cannot be opened in one district formed for that purpose, as by their extension they are in one thoroughfare. In other words, where two streets are to be opened there must be two improvement districts, one for each of them, in the case of the exception noted.

By this rule, it would be necessary for Pua-ahi and Bishop streets to be made under separate districts or districts is looked up a question of certain importance. Whether the districts shall not be beyond a block, or shall take up blocks, will be debated at the meeting. It was argued this morning, pro and con. On one hand it was held that if the districts were only block's area the assessment if extension would be too high, borne by the property owners will be directly and materially benefited by the improvement. While, on the other hand, it was said, if it was up of, say, four blocks, as the case of the property owners in an area would not be directly benefited by the extension, they will

GEORGE ALLEN IS FOUND GUILTY—TO APPEAL THE CASE

HILO, Oct. 15.—George Allen, adopted son of a Honolulu family, was found guilty of gross cheat in court today and fined $200. He will appeal the case.

VESSEL ENTERS PORT WITHOUT FUMIGATION

It was a matter of considerable surprise to local shipping people that the British freighter Strathness, from Newcastle, N. S. W., was enabled to enter the port yesterday with a cargo of coal without undergoing a general fumigation. Smallpox is still epidemic in Australia. The Strathness was fumigated before departure from Newcastle.

At first sight it would seem that supervisors are facing a dilemma. They are determined to face it squarely and do all they can to put the improvement through.

INTER-ISLAND MID-PACIFIC HAS ADOPTED NEW RATES

There has been a general readjustment of freight rates between Honolulu and the island ports, covered by the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company, the new schedule of charges having gone into effect with the beginning of the month.

In discussing the matter this morning, President and General Manager Kennedy stated in substance that there was no marked increase in the rates on freight, heretofore prevailing in the Inter-Island service.

With October 1st, the steamship company added a small additional charge to passenger fares in connection with the better steamers on such vessels as the Mauna Kea, Claude, King and the Mauna Loa.

The increase asked amounts to about a dollar per passenger for the better grade of accommodation and applies in the main to the shorter runs to nearby ports.

Three "Strath" steamers now here with consignments of coal, a portion for the U. S. navy and the remainder to the order of the Inter-Island company, may join the great offshore fleet to load from Sound and Columbia river ports for Great Britain, South Africa and Australia.

The Strathdon and Strathbyn have proceeded to Pearl Harbor where it is believed that they will be discharged of their cargoes of coal within the time stated in the charters.

The Strathness is being unloaded of Australian coal at the Inter-Island bunkers and should get away for the coast within ten days.

Six of them will clear with full cargoes of grain, aggregating about 1,600,000 bushels. The Harlow will finish loading this evening and will leave with about 350,000 bushels of the cereal. The Den of Ruthven will take out a cargo of flour, amounting to 75,000 barrels and valued at something like $300,000.

Two seamen left behind with the sailing of the U. S. cruiser Galveston were forwarded to Manila in the transport Logan yesterday.

Salting from San Francisco five hours apart, the steamers Nebraska and Mexican of the American-Hawaiian steamship line arrived at Seattle only one hour and forty-five minutes apart.

MID-PACIFIC FOR NOVEMBER FINE SOUVENIR

Pictorial Edition of Popular Periodical an Interesting Work of Art

An excellent souvenir of the Hawaiian Islands to send to friends on the mainland is the November issue of the Mid-Pacific Magazine, which is a pictorial edition of that periodical.

More than 100 excellent photographic reproductions of South Sea scenes, the majority being those in Hawaii, are contained in the number. It is interesting to know that for this particular edition, the editor secured a set of pictures, many of which have never before been published or put on sale.

One of the most interesting features of the collection is a set setting forth different types of Hawaiians, from the mere child at play on the beach, to the grizzled fisherman and poi pounder.

The Toyo Kisen Kaisha liner Shin-ryo Maru was given a quantity of coal before proceeding to San Francisco at 6 o'clock last night.

Included in the freight to be carried to the coast in the Oceanic liner Sierra is a consignment of 25,000 cases of preserved pines.

The next mail from the mainland will be received in the Matson Navigation steamer Lurline. This vessel is due to arrive next Tuesday morning.

Bunker coal it is said will be supplied the British steamer Harleke from Columbia River to Melbourne upon the arrival of the vessel at Honolulu about next Monday.

The announcement is made at the Inter-Island office that the steamer Hall will be substituted for the Claudine on the next trip to Kahului and other Maui ports.

Taking general cargo as well as explosives, the Inter-Island steamer Maui was dispatched for Mahukona, Kawahae, Kailua and Napooopo this afternoon. A late mail for windward Hawaii was given this vessel.

The Inter-Island steamer Likelike will be substituted on the Kaula run formerly covered by the W. G. Hall. The vessel is now on the berth, loading for regular ports and scheduled to sail at 5 o'clock this evening.

The new blade in the propeller of the Matson Navigation steamer Wilhelmina, fitted during the stay of the vessel at Honolulu, is reported to have proved satisfactory on the voyage from the islands to the coast.

It is understood that the Matson Navigation steamer Lurline in departing from San Francisco for Honolulu yesterday was supplied with a large cargo of merchandise and supplies for island ports including Kahului. The Lurline is due to arrive here on next Tuesday morning and will probably berth at the Queen street wharf.

Hyades is Off for the Coast. Castle and Cooke, representing the Matson Navigation freighter Hyades, have been advised that the Hyades has a part cargo of sugar and pines sailed from Hilo for San Francisco yesterday. This vessel called at four island ports where a quantity of mainland cargo was discharged.

Schooner Bendixon at Ahukini. Completing a passage from Port Gamble to Ahukini, Kaula in nineteen days, the schooner H. D. Bendixon reached destination on last Monday, according to a report brought to this city by officers in the Inter-Island steamer W. G. Hall. The Bendixon was lumber laden.

EXPERIENCE IN WAR IN TIMES OF PEACE

[Staff Correspondence] IN CAMP WITH THE 1ST HAWAIIAN BRIGADE NEAR JONES RANCH, Oct. 16.—Step by step, and day by day, the 1st Hawaiian Brigade is getting practical experience under conditions as near those of actual warfare as can be had in the piping times of peace.

The field exercises and maneuvers have been so graded and arranged to date, that each day brings out some special point of military science that would apply directly to the defense of Oahu in the case of an invasion.

Yesterday's combat between the invading Reds and the defending Blues served to point out the importance of careful and extended patrolling, concealment on the march, care in the selection of defensive positions, and the difficult nature of frontal attacks, even by superior forces, on well-trenched infantry, armed with the modern high power rifle.

This problem was set to afford a test of the ability of the Blue commander in taking up a defensive position with an inferior force numerically but on favorable ground for defense. Sufficient variation in the terrain was present to make an incorrect location of the line to be occupied easily possible, inasmuch as the always important factor of field of fire is a direct result of judgment in selection of the trace of the line, as the actual location is called.

The high ground north of Kaukonahua gulch was the section designated by the brigade commander for the 2nd Infantry, under Colonel French, to resist the attack of the two regiments, the 1st and 25th, under Colonel Penleton, and after a hasty but searching reconnaissance by Colonel French in person, the orders were briefly but concisely issued in verbal form to the battalion commanders. Their sectors or subdivisions, were definitely pointed out, and the locations of combat trains, regimental infirmary and the commander's own station were with equal precision announced to the subdivisions. The actual location of the companies within their respective sectors of defense was left to the two battalion commanders designated for the firing line.

Machine Gun Big Aid. The position of the reserve, always important, and to which duty the third battalion was assigned, had been located by Colonel French in the rear of the left of his main line. To the machine gun platoon, that powerful aid to infantry, was given the extreme left of the regiment's position. This position extended at practically right angles to the main road to Waihua, and was generally of a shallow concave shape, with one battalion on the west and the other of the firing line on the east of the road. While somewhat extensive for a force no larger than a regiment, being about 1200 yards from flank to flank, careful study of the ground showed that dispositions of the troops with intervals in the line could be effectively made. The reconnaissance of the regimental commander was supplemented immediately upon the battalions moving to the respective places by those of the battalion commanders. This reconnaissance was made under cover of the support companies from each battalion that were thrown out some 600 yards in the direction in which the enemy had been reported.

After the lines to be occupied had been definitely located, and the men moved into them, entrenchments were ordered constructed and then the immediate front was ordered cleared of the underbrush so as to bring the enemy when he should approach, over a space where no cover could be obtained by him either from sight or from the bullets. This occupied a space of but 34 minutes as regards selection and location of the troops, although it is known that actual entrenching and clearing would occupy as much time as might be at the disposal of the troops. Following the occupation of the entrenchments the support companies that had protected the line's movements were withdrawn to their positions in rear of the line, where they took up their normal duty of local support.

Colonel French Careful. As becomes a careful and watchful commander, Colonel French was not merely content with sitting down and waiting for the enemy, but immediately pushed combat and exploring patrols well out to the front to take up concealed positions in the guava thickets and watch for signs of the Red force. Intercommunication of signalmen from the companies was immediately established so that the commander, from his position near the line, could receive information or transmit his orders to his subordinates. The regiment did not have long to wait for a test of its dispositions, as from away off by the foothills north of Waihua the enemy's patrols were to be seen, followed up by two heavy columns of infantry. While apparently in a loose formation, being separated by a considerable distance, these columns were, nevertheless, a whole, and regulating their march on each other advanced rapidly through the fields, evidently on business bent. It was soon observed by the Blues that the actual location of their line had not as yet been made, since the general direction of the enemy's advance was seen to be a converging one on the low ridge in front of the Blues position, and some 1500 yards away from it.

Colonel French's idea was evidently to inflict as much damage upon the enemy's superior force at long range as was possible. With extra ammunition in hand, according to his original orders, fire was there opened at distances well calculated to cause the enemy to deploy and show the full extent of his force, as well as disclose his intention while yet at long range. In this, the machine gun platoon under Lieutenant Mathews, on the left of the Blue's line, was considered by the umpires to have done particularly effective work, since the guns from concealed positions, were able to open fire on the head of a long column of infantry that was in the open at a range of about 1200 yards. Then, as this column turned on what might be called the false objective for it, sweeping fire as it exposed its flank by this movement was ordered by the platoon commander.

Theoretically, for the realism of maneuvers, machine guns can be simulated fire, these being no blank ammunition that can be used except in single shots. Hence the Red commander was unawares of the withering fire that the umpires decided was being poured upon his troops. Had he been so advised, as he would have been by the use of service ammunition, he would undoubtedly have promptly deployed, or, if the fire was too effective, taken cover until he was able to reply with heavy fire from a skirish line.

As it was, he continued to advance until having come within the range of the rifles of the defense, as was shown by the popping of the blanks of the Blue infantry, he promptly deployed, and his right wing making a half turn to the right, returned the fire. From this stage the problem took on a definite form, that of a superior force of infantry attacking a line entrenched, and moving steadily forward, taking every advantage of the cover that folds of ground and brush afforded.

It was now a question of numbers and fire, and strong as was the Blues' position, even after supports and a portion of the reserve had been put in under orders transmitted by semaphore, it was to be seen that the Reds could not be denied, although it is but fair to the defenders to state that their opponents would have suffered heavy losses in their advance, particularly in the portion of the advance when they had to traverse a large plowed field. On the right matters were practically in the same state, the Reds rushing forward and dropping when the fire of the Blues was apparently very hot, and then fractions of the line taking up the rush again, so that both flanks were at the time of recall from the maneuver hotly engaged, with an advantage to the Reds, since their reserves had not been called upon to enter the fire field, and had been untouched by the Blues' fire, the Blues being practically overmatched by the Reds' advance firing line alone.

The problem for the Blues was that of marching to seize a piece of ground lying across the Haleiwa road, and drive away any enemy that might over an argument for its possession. This then was a march to an objective point located in hostile territory, with a light in prospect. The Reds' march was well conducted, and his patrols were both numerous and active, though they did not locate their enemy's actual position as described above, until actually fired on. This is not surprising as the country may be considered fairly close.

2ND INFANTRY HAS NEW COMMUNICATION SYSTEM

[Staff Correspondence] IN CAMP WITH THE 1ST HAWAIIAN BRIGADE, NEAR JONES RANCH, Oct. 16.—The home-made article is generally supposed to be superior to "store goods," but when it comes to military innovations, it might be supposed that the "Made in Washington" brand would be superior to all others. However, manufacturer of good ideas of the regimental commander and adjutant, supplemented by the interested co-operation of officers and men, the 2nd Infantry has a new system of regimental communication that may result in its adoption by the entire army. The weeks of regimental exercises and maneuvers in the Red Hill neighborhood this summer has produced something in the signal line that is the talk of the brigade just at present.

Under general requirements every company is required to be, and is possessed of a number of men who are capable of signaling, both with the wig-wag, or signal flag, and the two small flags, or semaphore. This is of course in addition to their ability to send and receive by heliograph and lantern.

Colonel French has been impressed with the necessity under modern long range and dispersed conditions of troops, of a reliable and rapid system of communication between elements. To meet this, there has been revised and put into operation in the 2d Infantry a plan whereby this communication can be established and maintained over all distances where visual signaling can be effectively employed.

This plan calls for the prompt dispatch of the trained signalman of a unit, when that unit is detached from the next higher command, to report to the commander of that larger force, so that if a battalion is sent out from the regiment within visual signal range, it leaves with the regimental commander a part of its signal force, to establish and maintain communication between the detached battalion and regimental headquarters in the field. Similarly, a company detached from a battalion, takes the same steps, when thrown out to front or flank, or any class of field duty. This plan is in full operation in the regiment, and may be said to work most effectively, and in almost an automatic manner. The detachment of these signalmen for their specific duty has become with the 2d Infantry a matter of routine. The effectiveness of this plan, although it has been in operation only a short time, has been thoroughly demonstrated in the present brigade maneuvers, and officers of other regiments have commented most favorably on the ease of effectiveness of the system.

Police Notes

J. Cummins, a local chauffeur, placed under arrest for drunkenness and disorderly conduct in a downtown saloon, was arraigned at district court this morning as assessed a fine of $5 and $3.40 by Judge Monarrat.

Akama, a Chinese, resident of the territory for many years, died at the Queen's hospital last evening, the cause being assigned opium poisoning. Akama re-entrenched in two spectacular raids made by the police on the bigger game games in Honolulu's Chinatown.

The man appeared district court only a few days ago answer to the charge of being drunk at a gambling game, and following his release was taken ill and sent to the hospital for treatment.

Fugimura a Japanese, lies at Queen's hospital in critical condition, as a result of self-inflicted wounds, believed by the police to have been self-inflicted. Officers were called to the apartment on the street occupied by the Japanese last evening, the neighbors stating that the man was bleeding to death. Investigation proved that he was suffering from several cuts, one of serious nature being located in the abdomen. An attempt had been made to sever an artery in the man's neck. The police were unable to cure a statement last night owing to the condition of the patient. Benz was called to attend the Japanese, who is said to have a remote chance of recovery.

"Did your graduate with honors?" "I should be did. He had a battling average of 378."

LOCAL AND GENERAL

Mayor J. J. Fern, accompanied by the city and county building inspector, is at Waihua today looking over the new court house there. If the structure is found satisfactory it will be accepted from the contractor.

Honolulu Consolidated Oil closed strong yesterday at 1.65 when 1000 shares were turned over at that price. Small offers of the stock were made today at 1.67 1/2, but the majority of the holders are asking around 1.75 for it.

The new milk ordinance is rapidly getting into shape under the hands of F. L. Weaver, first deputy city and county attorney. Before it is in its final state many amendments will have been put in, some by the health committee of the supervisors, others by James T. Wayson, city and county physician.

The S. C. Allen estate property at Boretania and Victoria streets will be held at public auction November 1 at the James F. Morgan Company's quarters. The property, including the large dwelling, will be offered for sale at an upset price of $10,000. Some time ago the society of the King's Daughters offered $25,000 for the place, but the deal fell through.

There will be no delay in the discharge of about two thousand tons of phosphates brought to this port in the barkentine Irmgard. The vessel has been berthed at Hackfeld wharf.

Public Baths in Former Warship. Hot water plunges, showers, baths and clubrooms for the children of Alameda located in the hull of the old Spanish warship Manila are contemplated by City Supervisor John Gutcheson of Alameda. On a recent visit to Mare Island Gutcheson became interested in the old vessel. He learned that it could be purchased for about $125,000 and that the machinery and brass could be sold for half that amount.

Gutcheson is now about to ask the commissioners to purchase the vessel interested in the old vessel. He says that hot water could be obtained from the electric light plant and that the steamers in the vessel would make admirable showers and dressing rooms. The cabins would be used as social centers.

The Alameda Recreation Commission has the project under advisement. Star-Bulletin for TODAY'S news today

Funeral services of Antonio da Silva Machado, 92 years old, who died at the home of his daughter in Pauoa valley at 6 o'clock last evening, will be held at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon from Silva's undertaking establishment. Machado, who was perhaps the oldest Portuguese in Hawaii and also the oldest in point of residence, was born on the Island of St. George, Azores, March 19, 1821, coming to Hawaii in the ship Tiger, a whaling vessel. He was well known not only in Honolulu but throughout the islands. He is survived by a son, Domingo, and a daughter, Mrs. Mary Akee, both of this city.

ENGLAND AT OUTS OVER OLYMPIC PUZZLE

All sporting England is still agog over the appeal of the Duke of Westminster, made to the nation, that 100,000 pounds sterling be raised by public subscription to put England in the running at the Berlin Olympic games. The appeal, and the subsequent work of the committee appointed, have aroused some enthusiasm, and a lot more opposition. There is now a cry to withdraw from the Olympic Federation, and much talk for and against systematizing athletics.

Frederic Harrison has written a long letter to the London Times, protesting against the commercialization of sport, and the Duke of Westminster has come back with a reply, showing in tabular form just how England's sporting laurels have been plucked.

Harrison's protest and the Duke's answer are now topics of international discussion. They are given in full below.

Frederic Harrison's Protest.

Frederic Harrison writes: Surely this stir about the Olympic games three years hence has a comic side! To be told that our lads cannot fairly compete in some foot races and other trials of strength unless a sum of 100,000 pounds sterling can be raised sounds rather droll. I am quite aware that Americans and others are raising huge funds and are making gigantic efforts to win prizes. And I know that unless similar efforts are made here, few pots will be brought home. But the whole affair stinks of gate money and of professional pot hunting.

If young men who do not gain their living by performing in public for hire are to meet and run races, leap, row and wrestle as genuine amateurs, nothing can be more wholesome. I am a devoted lover of games myself. At school and at college I went in with a heart for boat and eleven; I cheered Joe Chilly at Putney, and Ridding and Marsham at Lord's. But 60 years ago large sums were not wanted in order to win. The eight or the eleven lived their usual lives, went on with their work, even in training of a few weeks; and, for the most part, they gained high honors in their universities and schools, at the bar, and in public life. All the "preparation" they had was such as befitted real amateurs, and did not cost more than other kinds of holiday exercises. It did not take them out of their lives; it enlarged and strengthened their lives; it was an accomplishment, not a profession, and it helped to make them eminent men of their time.

But what does 100,000 pounds to be spent in three years mean? It means that an army of professional coaches are to be hired to go about and pick out men having a special turn of speed or some knack in leaping a bar—which is as often as not quite incompatible with an all-round athletic condition of body. It seems as if each British candidate at Berlin will cost 1000 pounds in some form. He has to be nursed, maintained, kept in racing condition by public money—in fact, to be hired. How does this differ from being a "professional" performer in a kind of international circus? And how is an amateur to be defined unless it be one who plays a game for "love," himself and his fellow players finding any incidental expenses?

And for what is all this money wanted? In order to meet on equal terms foreign athletes who are not real amateurs, some of whom cannot be trusted to play the game with absolute fairness as competitors, nor as spectators to behave like gentlemen with good humor, decency and self-control. Backwardly yelling, graft, and sharp practice will soon degrade our Olympics to the level of a mob at an old-fashioned prize fight, the brutalities of which Jack Johnson is coming over to teach us.

Of course, I shall be called by kindly friends a senile philosopher, or by unkind critics an effeminate crank. In my day I played most games with zest; and at Lord's, in the forties, I bowled in the eleven of my school, and for my college at Oxford in 1850. Today I am tramping over the moors here (at Dartmoor) in their autumnal glory of golden gorse and purple heather—not, indeed, with a gun, but with the stout stick with which for years I have ranged the Alps.

The stories of Mynn and Plich, of Clarke and Felix, which I see in your columns of late, recall to me the cricket of the forties. Alas! cricket is far the noblest of all games, its passing into mere professionalism, gate money, and contractors' jobs. In most counties the eleven, except for an amateur or two, are professionals—i.e., hired men. The "talent" passes to any club rich enough to pay their price and to find the cost of "qualifying," easy as this is. So, modern cricket is tending to become a struggle of purses, not of genuine home-bred county players. This football has long been. I wish a new rule could be made to restrict a county eleven to amateurs, with one professional bowler. It would then be an honest trial of local merit. At present the county which can pay the best men, without and real condition of birth, residence, or occupation, by maltreated by both officers. Sheriff Jarrett has not suspended either of the officers charged with mistreating the Korean.

PROBE STORY OF POLICE ASSAULT ON A PRISONER

The charges have been already laid before the civil service commission through Commissioner John F. Doyle, and the commission may institute an investigation independent of that of the sheriff.

Assault Was Brutal.
According to the evidence gathered by Attorney Atkinson, the assault took place about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The Korean had been getting a shave in a Japanese barber shop and is said to have had words with the barbers and finally to have cursed him during the quarrel. The police were called.

Reputable witnesses visited the police yesterday evening before I was retained as counsel, to protest against the treatment the man received," said Atkinson this morning. "C. H. Bellina says that the man was arrested in front of the office of the Club stables on Kukul street, and that he ran away from Officer Sizemore. Sizemore gave chase, ran the man down and hit him over the neck with his blackjack. The man fell, sprawling on the ground. Bellina also says that the policeman then kicked him in the ribs hard and swore at him, then hit him with his club around the ribs, picked him up, and then, with another officer in civilian clothes, shook him violently. They walked him to the patrol box at the corner and the other policeman is said to have hit him in the stomach several times.

About an hour later W. T. Monsarrat, also a witness of part of the circumstances, came down to the police station and found that the man had been thrown into a cell. Monsarrat remonstrated with Jarrett, telling him that the man had been beaten up by the officers and ought to have been sent to the hospital at once. Monsarrat insisted that the man was not drunk.

Police Report Was "Trance."

"I went up to the hospital about four o'clock after being called by a Korean to look into the case," said one of the physicians, the internist. "I have, asked the Koreans who were with me about Ko Sung Woon's habits, if he took opium or drank, etc. I was rather surprised at this. The Korean said he did not take opium and was a man of temperate habits. Then the internist said that it had been reported to him that the man was in a trance, no mention being made of his being beaten up! Consequently, they had been unable to diagnose the case at once. The fact is that the man was knocked out by those blows from clubs.

"It seems to me that after Bellina and Monsarrat had lodged their complaints yesterday, the police officer should have been suspended pending the hearing. Their word is good. They saw the assault."

brings the highest "gate." And now the craze "to collect Olympic dust" bids fair to be another case of "gate"—professionalism—years of specialist coaching. I should myself prefer to see Britain decline to enter, as not liking the terms and devices on which the show is run, and then to challenge the world to meet us at cricket, football, or a steeplechase. This is better than trying to beat Jack Johnson or the miraculous Italian pastry-cook.

The Duke of Westminster — Mr. Frederick Harrison, in common with hundreds of thousands of his countrymen and women, does not realize what England has lost in the various fields of sport. Here is a list:

- Polo—America.
- Rackets—America (Jack Soutar).
- Yachting—America (holders of the cup).
- Lawn Tennis (singles)—New Zealand (A. F. Wilding).
- Lawn Tennis (Davis Cup)—America.
- Tennis—America (Jay Gould).
- Boxing—France and America.
- Billiards—Australia.
- Swimming—America and Australia.
- Rugby football—S. Africa and New Zealand.
- Lacross—Canada.
- Cycling—France and Germany.
- Running horse—America.
- Trotting horse—America.
- Horse jumping—France and Russia.
- Fencing—France.
- Shooting (king's prize)—Canada.
- Skating—Sweden.
- Athletics (100 yds.)—America and South Africa.
- Athletics (220 yds.)—America.
- Athletics (440 yds.)—America.
- Athletics (880 yds.)—America.
- Athletics hurdles (120 yds.)—America.
- Athletics, high jump—America.
- Athletics, pole jump—America.
- Putting the weight—America.
- Throwing the Hammer—America.

This is a tale of national disaster. Is England to do nothing to recover her ancient supremacy as the mother of sport?

The king is both a man of business and a sportsman. As prince of Wales, on a memorable occasion, his momentous "Wake up, England!" electrified an Empire and gave an immense stimulus to commerce and industry. As our sovereign he now bids Britain to "Wake up" in sport, and hopes that every effort will be made to ensure that the United Kingdom is represented by its best athletes at the Olympic games at Berlin in 1916. We are in honor bound to go forward and to do our level best to restore the lost prestige of a great sporting nation. But victory means efficient organization.

FEDERAL GRAND JURY WILL MAKE REPORT SATURDAY

The federal grand jury, which began its sessions last Monday, will make a report next Saturday morning. Though it will be only a partial one it is understood the inquisitorial body will submit findings on a large number of affairs.

The jury probably will hold a brief session at the Queen's Hospital tomorrow morning, taking the testimony of two witnesses, who are patients there and unable to attend the grand jury's sessions at the federal courtrooms.

U. S. District Attorney R. W. Breckons expects to return to Hilo Saturday afternoon, to resume the prosecutions in the county graft probe there and in his absence Assistant U. S. District Attorney C. C. Bittling will direct the investigations of the federal grand jury here. The latter body is expected to finish its work, temporarily, early next week.

A number of indictments undoubtedly will be returned Saturday. Some disposition of these likely will be made in federal court Monday morning, at which time disposition of about twenty-five other criminal cases will be made, as follows:

- U. S. vs. Fred Williams, otherwise R. A. Best, disposition; U. S. vs. Fred Williams, otherwise R. A. Best, disposition; U. S. vs. Lee Kai Fai, to be set; U. S. vs. Lee Kai Fai, to be set; U. ## BANANA COURT WILL SAVE ON APPROPRIATION while other claims, regarded as exorbitant, have been cut and pruned sharply, while in a few instances they have been found virtually fraudulent or without actual basis and rejected entirely.

Three or four claims remain to be readjusted tonight, after which, acting on advice of the attorney general, and training, and both cost money.

Mr. Frederick Harrison is too good a sportsman to wish to "crab" the national appeal for $109,000 which is to provide the sinews of war, and I offer him a bet that his own subscription will not be among the last.

OHIO REDUCES THE SALOONS

If I were you I would do everything I was asked to do. That is the way to get on in life. Did you ever hear it said that he who takes care to do no more than he is paid for will never be paid for more than he does? Go right in and do everything from sunrise to sunset and you will go right up all the time. What do you think of that?—Wm. J. Gaynor.

MAKING PARTY PLATFORMS

One of the difficulties that may arise under the operations of the direct primary law in Hawaii is strongly illustrated in the Republican situation in Massachusetts. The Massachusetts Republicans held their state platform convention a week after the primary nominations for governor. Augustus P. Gardner, the Republican nominee at the primaries, now refuses to stand on his party platform, declaring that it is not progressive enough for him.

Gardner was a member of the platform convention and took part in the deliberations of the body. The circumstances leading up to his split are told as follows:

Congressman August F. Gardner, who had before repudiated the state committee, declared at the end of a sharp fight in the Republican state convention that he would run for the governorship on a platform of his own.

This new turn in the political situation followed the defeat of the candidate in four successive attempts to amend the resolutions so as to make the platform square with his assertions on the stump. When the fight ended, Mr. Gardner figuratively tore up his prepared speech of acceptance and substituted a three-minute talk on "Progressive Republicanism." He explained that as the four cardinal points in his address had been rejected his set speech was useless.

In his speech he said: "I am not unmindful of the duty which I owe to the other candidates, or the duty I owe to this convention, but there are omitted from this platform four of the principal issues upon which I have been waging my campaign. Now I know that my duty to the other candidates conflicts with my duty to the 46,000 or whatever the number was, who nominated me.

"I went throughout the length and breadth of this commonwealth and advocated the real restriction of immigration. I advocated a minimum wage for women. I advocated the use of the state credit to assist suburban home-seekers, and relieve the congestion in the cities. I advocated the compulsory publicity of the facts in important labor disputes, and to all these things I am committed, gentlemen, and I cannot consent to go before the people of this commonwealth and take one position before I am nominated and another position after I am nominated.

"I was asked what I would do if this committee's resolutions did not put the planks in the platform. I said I could make my own platform and I would run on that—because I can't do anything else. These 46,000 people voted for me on the supposition that I meant what I said, and I am not going to make any change.

"I regret very much that I must make a campaign before the people of the commonwealth asking them to support me in putting through certain measures."

Various students of the direct primary law passed by the last territorial legislature have recognized the difficulty in guaranteeing that the candidate of any party will support the platform. Nothing in the law itself will make him do so.

Here is another opportunity for the Republican party rules to strengthen and uphold the spirit of the new primary law. The law provides that candidates for nomination at the primaries shall file, at least twenty days before the primary date, nomination papers in which they state their party affiliation and give a pledge to uphold the party platform. But there is no penalty for failing to comply with the law.

In revising the Republican rules, there might very well be inserted a provision requiring that all candidates on the Republican ticket shall certify in writing to the territorial central committee or the county committee their determination to stand by the party platform. In case such pledge is not given direct to the party organization by any candidate, the organization will have every right to refuse support to that candidate. As between bona fide members of the party, the organization should not discriminate before the primary election—unless a candidate is personally and plainly corrupt or incompetent—but the party organization has a right to demand of those who run on its ticket that they stand squarely by the platform.

The stumbling-block in Massachusetts is that the platform convention is held after the primaries. A candidate nominated at the primaries may thus be forced to accept a platform with which he does not agree or else risk the goodwill of his party by repudiating the platform, as Gardner has done, and make the fight on the issues he favors personally.

Mexico City is no place for the nervous.

In cutting down the number of saloons in the state so that there shall be no more than one to each 500 inhabitants, Ohio will lose taxes to the amount of more than $3,000,000, but it is noticeable that none but the liquor interests is objecting. The rest of the people of the state are perfectly willing to lose the revenue if the number of saloons can be reduced.

Recent statistics show that under the new excise law in effect Nov. 1, 3341 liquor places out of the 8485 in the state of Ohio on May 11 will be closed. The state will lose $1000 tax on each saloon, or $3,341,000 in all. The incoming license law restricts saloons to one for every 500 inhabitants. In addition, each county has the right to prohibit saloons altogether in its limits. Of the 88 counties 43 are "wet," and it is to these wet counties that the new law applies in particular.

Cleveland will lose 900 saloons, Cincinnati 700, Toledo 260, Youngstown 270, Columbus 196, Dayton 80. There is not one of the 43 wet counties in which the number of saloons will not be reduced. In Auglaize county the saloons will be lessened from 45 to 3; in Clark, from 108 to 4; in Crawford, from 68 to 4; in Putnam, from 25 to 9; and in Tuscarawas, from 84 to 8. These are the outside figures allowable by law. The county license boards have the right to go below these figures if the full number of license applications, properly certified as to character, etc., do not appear.

Under a new city census Sandusky will have 48 saloons, an increase of three over the present number. This is the only place in the state where the saloons will increase in number.

GOOD FOR MR. CONKLING

Territorial Treasurer Conkling has made a move that is quite likely to bring upon his head a berating from a comparatively few people whose pockets are hit, but will be generally upheld in Hawaii. He has taken steps to cancel the permits to issue marriage licenses, now spread at large over the territory, and to issue commissions to deputy tax assessors in each district. The old system is to be abolished, and rightly so, for under it no check upon the issuance of marriage licenses is possible. The system has been abused in several conspicuous instances, though it is fair to say that most of the marriage license agents have not taken advantage of the opportunity for irregularities of all kinds offered by the system—or lack of it. The new system will centralize authority and responsibility and control. Only public officials may issue licenses, and that is right. Treasurer Conkling has taken a radical step, but he deserves support in it.

LAGRANDE'S GOVERNMENT

LaGrande, Ore., is the latest municipality to fall in line with the city manager plan. LaGrande is a small city, and only three commissioners will hold office. These commissioners name the city manager and the city municipal judge. All other city employees are appointed by the manager, who will receive $3600 a year and may be discharged with or without cause. LaGrande's new form of government, it is believed, centers responsibility to a high degree upon the manager, his tenure of office being assured only so long as his administration "delivers the goods."

The action of the court of impeachment in New York in refusing to rule out important testimony on a technicality, bears out the statement from the court at the beginning of the Sulzberger trial that it would not be bound by legal intricacies such as often hamper swift justice in ordinary courts. The judges of impeachment wish to get at the essential truth, and the fact that the indictment of Sulzberger did not provide specifically for the Morgenthau and Ryan testimony should have, and has had, no weight as against the desirability that their testimony be heard.

Too bad Underwood and Wilson could not have had their little clash before the tariff bill was passed.

The senate lobby probe committee is ready to resume. There must be more Colonel Mulhalls waiting around to sell their life-histories.

Looks like Mexico is also going to get a European concert.

Can the treasurer not also make divorce as difficult?

WANTS TO KNOW WHERE CARS STOP

October 15th, 1913.
Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin,
Sir:—I wish to ask the question through your paper of the street railway company why it is that they don't paint the car-stop signs any longer. Twice now I and my wife have been left behind by the car, because there is no more paint on the signs. Our youngest child is already a year and six months old and too heavy for carrying around in this kind of warm weather.

My wife doesn't blame the motor-men for when there is no paint on the sign they cannot see any more than we did.

Thanking you for your kindness,
HANS FRITZENBUN.

THE TRUTH ABOUT A PLAY

Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin,
Sir:—An advertisement appearing in this morning's paper states that a play to be produced at the Opera house, namely, "Three Weeks," is "full of thrills and given with every thrill that goes with the play."

The question arises, is this a lead and improper play or is the notice referred to a cheap advertising scheme to get patronage?

If the latter, my advice to the Opera house management is, quit such clap-trap methods of advertising and tell the truth about the play to be given. If the former, I desire to rise in protest to the proposed production.

If we have a public censor of any authority which can handle matters of this kind, I would urge that this proposed play of "Three Weeks" be given their attention.

MORALITY.

[Note:—The editor of the Star-Bulletin has seen "Three Weeks" played in an elaborate production on the mainland and thoroughly agrees with the spirit of the above communication. The play has little of drama and less of sensation. Far from possessing "thrills," it is about as stupid and tiresome a collection of insane drivel as can be imagined. It is extremely doubtful whether the Brissac company can do anything to redeem the play from a wearisomeness that has driven every mainland audience to yawns and droowiness.

"Morality" is a star in urging the necessity here for a public censor. The Star-Bulletin has called attention to this need before now. Unfortunately, any newspaper attack on a play in advance of its production usually defeats its own ends, as it is merely "good advertising." "Three Weeks" cannot be attacked on the ground of suggestiveness, as it is not clever enough to be suggestive. It is merely so full of sentimental and improbable drivel as to be nauseating.]

CLAUDINE DID NOT REFUSE TO RESCUE WOMAN

Capt. Melvin Explains That He Was Not Informed of Circumstances

Capt. B. D. Melvin, master of the Inter-Island steamer Claudine, today gave to the Star-Bulletin in written form a complete explanation of the circumstances of his alleged refusal to take on board the Claudine the wife of Capt. Mather of the wrecked bark S. C. Allen. Capt. Melvin shows that he was not informed that Mrs. Mather was being taken from the wreck, and that even if he had been, the position of his vessel was such that he could not have acted on her behalf in view of the other available craft.

In his communication, Capt. Melvin says:

Honolulu, Oct. 16, 1913.
Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin,
Sir: I herewith wish to make the following statement in answer to Mrs. R. Mather's story regarding being refused assistance by the master of the S. S. Claudine:

The Claudine left her dock at 12:30 p. m., Monday, Oct. 13th, with orders to proceed to the assistance of the bark S. C. Allen stranded off Diamond Head. It being the noon hour, most of the crew being ashore, left with what I could get at the minute's notice, and, of course, was short-handed and most of them strange to the ship.

When down in the vicinity of the stranded vessel and maneuvering with hawser out but not yet fast on bark, all hands that I had being off where I could neither see them nor make them hear and, understand without leaving the bridge. No one being on deck but the quartermaster at the wheel and myself in charge of the ship. A steam launch with a lady seated very comfortably on the deck of said launch and Pilot Macaulay hailed me from the launch and asked me if I could later the lady on board. Made no mention of who the lady was, nor did she. I told him my men were all busy, and I gave him credit for better judgment than to bring a woman there under existing circumstances. There were two other boats which would have been handier for him to get Mrs. Mather on board at the time—the Intrepid or the Kukui, where she eventually landed. Had I left the bridge at the time to get or see about getting Mrs. Mather on board the Claudine, the lady might have found herself in a similar predicament to the one she had just left—on another stranded vessel. As we were close in at the time and engines working with hawser out astern. And let me state, the lady appeared very comfortable amid a strong wind but perfectly smooth sea where she was. In fact, I thought she shall arise between the salvors and the insurance people, an adjustment will be attempted, which, failing in its purpose, the matter will then be carried into the courts for a final settlement.

The underwriters maintain a constant guard on board the vessel, and have no intention of abandoning the valuable cargo to the first claimant who might step aboard an abandoned vessel.

Snug Sum Involved.
About one half of the jettisoned cargo has been saved. Much has drifted far out to sea and become lost. Today it was estimated that between one third and one half of the deck cargo of lumber was still aboard.

A conservative valuation of the lumber between decks is placed at $12,000. With the deck load valued at about $4,500, the insurance on cargo represents a tidy sum of money.

The bark has not materially changed position from where she lay yesterday. The vessel is declared a hopeless wreck by those who returned from her today. The prospect of saving the larger portion of the lumber in the hold is now considered as bright.

was out for pleasure, and had not the least idea she had been shipwrecked. And, moreover, the launch could have had her in Honolulu in half an hour, and the launch could be of no possible service in salvaging the stranded vessel. Of course I can understand Mrs. Mather's feelings in just being wrecked, and being refused assistance, as she thought, without any good reason. But I still think she has been hasty in judging a man she never met, though professes to know my callber. In conclusion will state I do not blame the lady for what I consider her misjudgment of me. But I do blame the party in charge of the launch, for not taking her to a handier and more convenient vessel than the Claudine. Why should he go out of his way to come to the Claudine, when, as before stated, both the tug Intrepid and the Kukui were handier and much easier to board than the Claudine? This is my explanation to Mrs. Mathers.

(Sgd) B. D. MELVIN,
Master S. S. Claudine.

There is only one person more irritating than the man who has been disappointed in love, and that is the man who hasn't been.

PROMISED FOR THE PLAYHOUSES

G. B. Campbell, member of the World's Fair Stock Company, a youthful actor who has "made good" during the present engagement.

OPERA HOUSE

Shakespeare wrote: There is nothing either good or bad but thinking makes it so. Then why not see the beauty in Elinor Glyn's "Three Weeks" and think that it is, well, not so vermillion as it is painted. The story is considered wonderful by book reviewers though it has not been labeled "for the home library." The dramatization, however, is said to be good, the scenery prepared for the local presentation by Buck Theall is effective and with such handling as the parts will receive by the members of the World's Fair Stock Company when it is put on at the opera house tonight the production should eclipse all others put on during this engagement of the company.

The announcement that "Three Weeks" would be played in Honolulu was well received by theatergoers, who immediately flocked to the box office to procure seats. Manager Wray and members of the company are putting their best efforts into the play and there is no doubt that it will be a success.

Virginia Brissac, who portrays the part of the beautiful young princess, loves the character. "I always liked the part," said Miss Brissac when discussing the play the other day. "I felt sorry for the princess when I first read the book and have taken great delight in playing the part in the drama."

The princess and her young lover met at a resort where they were both trying to while away dull hours. For three weeks their happiness was supreme, when suddenly her royal highness learned that her husband suspected something of her vacation pastimes and one night stole her away from her young lover.

The return of the princess does not satisfy her husband and he is determined to find the man who has taken from him his wife's affections. During the time that the princess has effected another meeting with the man from whom she parted, presumably forever, the husband interferences and it is only by careful maneuvering that a faithful servant of the princess is able to save the young man's life. The princess is killed, however. The faithful servant who has always guarded her becomes violent in his anger at the death and kills her husband. It is not until the death of the two rulers that the lover learns that she was of the royal household.

To those who have read the story and those who know it only from hearsay, the play will be worth while.

BIJOU THEATER

Monte Carter will present an entire new show at the Bijou theater tonight when he will present "Lezzy, the Millionaire," which is said to contain a million laughs. This show like every one of Carter's shows, will have an entirely different atmosphere surrounding and the principal people will all be cast in roles that will serve to show their versatility. Mr. Geo. Archer will sing "Where the River Shannon Flows," by special request. Del Estes will offer "Some Boy." Dee Loretta "Levee Lou." Geo. Weiss "Good-bye Boys," and Monte Carter will offer another specialty that will no doubt meet with as much favor as the one he sang the first of the week. "The Country Store" that was held last night proved to be the biggest and cleverest novelty that has ever been seen in this city. Many valuable prizes were given away, each person entering the theater writing their name on a slip of paper and getting an equal chance for the prizes.

Daniel Cohen's wife laughed while he was telling a policeman he speeded his automobile because she was sick and he was hurrying for a doctor. Her laugh cost Dan $20. No, Cordelia, it may not be a charitable instinct that prompts a man to give himself away?

LORENZEN IS STATE COLLEGES OF COUNTRY NOW CRITICIZED BY BOARD

In compliance with the request of the Toyo Kisen Kaisha Steamship Company that the board of harbor commissioners submit a definite report with regard to the company's allegations that the Tenyo Maru, while being in charge of Pilot Captain J. C. Lorenzen, suffered damage in Honolulu harbor July 12, Commissioner Wakefield submitted his findings at a meeting of the board yesterday. These findings were prepared from testimony brought out at a recent meeting of the board, at which time Captain Lorenzen and Captain Bent of the Tenyo, gave evidence.

The findings of Wakefield were a criticism of Captain Lorenzen to some extent, but an amendment to the report served to put these criticisms in a milder form. Copies of the findings will be sent to Castle & Cooke, agents for the T. K. K. and to Captain Lorenzen. The findings follow:

"At a special meeting of the board of harbor commissioners held Monday, September 23, 1913, the following officers were examined by the chairman and members of the board of harbor commissioners relative to the steamship Tenyo Maru striking bottom when leaving the harbor of Honolulu July 12th, 1913, the pilot being in charge Capt. J. C. Lorenzen, pilot; Captain Bent, steamship Tenyo Maru; chief, second and third officers (Japanese). The findings of the board of harbor commissioners are as follows:

"1. That in maneuvering to leave the harbor Pilot Lorenzen took the steamship Tenyo Maru too close to the western side of the harbor;

"2. That Captain Bent called the ship's attention to the fact that the ship was in a dangerous position and urged him to back up the harbor;

"3. That in moving from the position above named the steamship Tenyo Maru struck her starboard side on the rock fill which forms the foundation of the retaining wall;

"4. That Pilot Lorenzen was not frank in his statements; but admits that although not feeling the impact himself, he understood at the time from the actions of Captain Bent as being to the effect that the vessel had touched bottom.

"5. That Captain Bent promptly notified Pilot Lorenzen the vessel had touched bottom;

"6. That the first officer, on duty on the forecastle, notified Captain Bent the vessel had touched, and reported the exact time of the occurrence;

"7. That the second and third officers, on duty on bridge, observed the vessel had touched, and immediately reported the fact to Captain Bent.

"8. In view of the foregoing statements, all of which were fully substantiated and corroborated by the evidence, presented to the board of harbor commissioners, that the steamship Tenyo Maru struck the loose rock foundations of the retaining wall on the western side of the harbor of Honolulu when leaving port on the afternoon of July 12, 1913, the ship being then in charge of Pilot Captain J. C. Lorenzen.

LIEUT. A. L. BUMP ASSUMES DUTIES WITH N. G. H.

In compliance with special orders 185, War Department, 1st Lieut. A. L. Bump, of the 25th Infantry, has taken up his new duties as inspector-instructor of the national guard of Hawaii, sharing an office with Col. J. W. Jones in the Bungalow. He paid his first official call on Acting Governor McSmith yesterday.

Lieutenant Bump was granted a leave of absence in July and left Hawaii to coach the rifle team of the national guard of New Mexico for the national matches, accompanying the team to Camp Perry, Ohio. He arrived in Honolulu on the transport Logan Monday, taking up his duties with the local guard Tuesday. Following a conference with Colonel Jones, he called upon the acting overnor.

"I am not in touch with the needs of the local guard," he said this morning, "and have formulated no outline of work as yet. For the past two days I have been reading up on what has been done by the guard, in order to observe just what lines of work will be covered by my new duties. I understand that when the new armory is completed, it will be the object of the guard to try and form a regiment of 12 companies in Honolulu. Within a few days I expect to have become familiar with the workings of the guard, as well as my new duties with it."

Lieutenant Bump excels in rifle practice and firing, being a distinguished marksman as classed by the regular service, which means that he has three competition medals. He was a member of the infantry rifle team in 1905-7-11 and has qualified as an expert marksman in the regular army course for five different years.

BIG BOND SALE SHOWS STRENGTH IN MARKET HERE

What is called the largest bond sale of recent months was made yesterday afternoon when $50,000 was paid for Pacific Guano & Fertilizer Company 6s.
The bonds were purchased by the Guardian Trust Company for a large commercial firm of this city.
The large deal had a marked effect on the market this morning, which responded to the expression of confidence, shown by the deal, in Hawaii securities.
The Pacific Guano & Fertilizer bonds were listed on the Honolulu Stock & Bond Exchange October 10. The amount of the issue is $400,000 all of which bear six per cent interest. They are regarded as one of the best investments of the kind obtainable here. The last of the bonds, according to the terms of the trust deed, are to be redeemed by 1915 at 103.

IMPORTANT MEETING OF KAPAHULU CLUB

Kapahulu Improvement Club will have some important business at its postponed monthly meeting on Sunday afternoon, to be held at the residence of J. A. Bortfeld, Gazette avenue. Substantial progress will be reported on the curbing of sidewalks on the Kapahulu road, as an ordinance providing for the work—a necessary preliminary of the permanent paving of that thoroughfare—has been published.
There will be a report due from a committee of residents of Eberth street, on the question of having that street paved under the special assessment law. This is the first move made by the people of any section, on their own initiative, toward taking advantage of the new law.
The report of the executive committee on its action, in harmony with the unanimous resolution of last meeting, in opposing a license to Madame Puah's dance house, will be another matter of interest. No doubt the question of hog ranches in residence districts will again be taken up by the club, a deputation having consulted President Pratt of the board of health thereon.

Morning on CHANGE

Flooding the market with Hawaiian Commercial at 24, a loss of a point and a half, and some Hawaiian Sugar at 25, a decline of half a point, the trading on the stock and bond exchange was the heaviest this morning in many weeks.
Trading between the board and during the session was heavy. A deal was made by which $50,000 Pacific Guano & Fertilizer Co. 6s changed hands between boards, the Guardian Trust Company agents.
The sharp decline of Hawaiian Commercial, which was the feature of the market today, is ascribed to the fall of the stock in San Francisco, where it has been quoted at 24.25. The fall of the stock began here yesterday afternoon and continued up to the close of the session. It closed with 23.87 1/2 offered for it; 24.12 1/2 asked.
Oahu Sugar was dealt in to the extent of 150 shares, but it stayed firm at 12.25. Hon. B. & M. went at 21.50 and Honokaa at 3, no change being noted in the prices of either of the stocks. Ewa sold between boards at 16. Honolulu Gas Co. Com. in a sale of 100 shares, sold at 107.50. Five shares of O. R. & L. changed hands between sessions at 130.
The market this morning was by far the most active in months. It is true that strong gains were not made in any of the stocks, but the volume of business was large. In the case of Hawaiian Commercial, where a sharp fall is shown, it is not believed it will remain at its present figure long but will recover, both in Honolulu and San Francisco.

O. C. AND HIGH RESERVES TIE IN FIRST GAME

Fast and Interesting Play Results in No Score for Either Side

A football game in which the old style of line-plugging prevailed almost exclusively, was that between the McKinley High School and Punahou second teams on Alexander Field yesterday afternoon, and which resulted in neither side scoring. The play was fast and furious from start to finish, and was uninteresting from only one standpoint, due to the fact that before the middle of the first quarter each eleven was able to interpret its opponent's signals, and consequently what might have been brilliant plays were broken up. Aside from this defect it was a good game the way through; each man played for all he was worth, and it was a continual fight from one end of the field to the other, but neither team could succeed in carrying the ball over its opponent's goal line.

The first quarter was given over to warming up, and in the second the ball was put into play on the High's 30-yard line in their possession. Ernest Wicks, right halfback for McKinley, got away for some good gains, but his inability to start fast was against him. A punt from the Highs was received by Yap on the Pun's 35-yard line, and between the Punahou backs, the ball was advanced well into the High's territory. Here the Highs took a big brace and prevented the collegians from securing the coveted touchdown, and when the ball went over the Highs punted out. Some exceedingly bad work on the part of the O. C. center put the Puns back several yards, and the ball went over with the Highs 20 yards from their opponents' goal. The Highs advanced the ball until within 7 yards of the line, when time was called for the end of the first half.

In the third quarter, the Puns kicked to the Highs, and the ball was put into scrimmage on the latter's 40-yard line. One good run was made when Ben Farrington received a pass from the Highs and the ball went over. From then on it was a tussle for supremacy, which brought out the fact that the teams were evenly matched. Donald Brown, captain of the Punahou seconds, went into the game during the last half, and his tackling was a feature of that period. Other Punahou players who did creditably good work were Yap, Mott-Smith, Farrington, Kong, Brown, Landley and Kim Wal. The brunt of the work on the High team rested on Wicks, Ben Bush, Amama, Wong and Roschill. The rivalry between the Highs and the Puns has now been fully established, and the football fans may be assured of some lively games before it is decided which of the two schools has the best reserve aggregation.

JIMMIE HIND ONE OF THE RELIABLE PUNAHOU PLAYERS

One of the few Punahou second team players to be graduated from that squad and assigned to a responsible position on the initial eleven, is Jimmie Hind; who will be seen at left end in the contest between Oahu College and the McKinley High School Saturday, being the first game of the 1913-14 interscholastic series. Hind did creditable work on the reserves last year and Captain Inman has chosen him for the first team from among the ranks of numerous other candidates. He is one of the heaviest men on the team, and used his weight to good advantage when the Puns played the soldiers two weeks ago. He is a steady player and a sure tackler, and has a record for fast work in running down punts and passes. The Punahou team is practicing every evening in preparation for the game Saturday, and from all standpoints it will be a warmly-contested game.

Drop-Kicks and Punts

Yesterday's game was one of the closest which has ever been played on Alexander Field.

The McKinleyites were out in full force and under the direction of Max Bolte, cheer leader, they did some good yelling.

Cheer Leader Emory was also out and after the supporters of the Buff and Blue.

For the High School, Wicks played a good game. He made a number of long gains through right tackle, and was all there when it came to tackling.

Yap played a brilliant game for Oahu while he was in the game. He was taken out in the second quarter on account of a severe blow he had received while tackling.

Donald Brown takes after his brother when it comes to tackling. He proved the strongest man on Punahou's secondary defense, and was right there all the time.

Throughout the game a number of passes were tried, nearly all being unsuccessful.

Both teams did a lot of fumbling and it was usually the other side that recovered the ball.

Kim Wal's long end run looked for a time like a clear field.

Cooper made a nice tackle when he caught Wicks on a bluff forward pass play.

Edmund Wong made some neat tackles for McKinley.

Among the best linemen which Punahou has is Johnson, left guard. He played a nifty game and blocked McKinley's backs through right guard time after time.

'GRAND RALLY' TO BE HELD BY HIGH STUDENTS

McKinley Boosters Will Stir Up Enthusiasm for Their Initial Game

Students of the McKinley High school, members of the Alumni and Black and Gold boosters in general, will rather in the school assembly hall at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow evening to participate in the first rally to be held in Honolulu on the eve of an important game of the interscholastic series. The purpose of the rally is to arouse a higher standard of spirit and ginger among the students and alumni, in order that they may form themselves into a well-oiled and smooth-working routing section to cheer the High gridiron warriors on to a possible victory in the initial contest with Punahou Saturday afternoon.

The manner in which the routing section of the High School has conducted itself so far this season is evidence that the student body of McKinley has come to realize what lusty tin-panning means to a team in the field. Maximilian Julius Bolte, yell leader and school boss, is not satisfied with this, however, as he wished to secure the lung service of all the old grads of McKinley and he takes the opportunity through these columns to request all former members of the school to be present at the rally, as well as to attend the games and give their support. A program has been arranged for the evening, the first part of which will include several stunts which the more active students have arranged. Following this will come singing and cheering practice, led by Bolte and his constituents, and speeches. Those scheduled to talk are Edward Tracy, Valentine Marcellino, Coach P. N. Polson. Coach Glenn Jackson, William Ross, and several members of the team. Tracy and Marcellino are old football men of McKinley and "Bill" Ross is perhaps the best halfback which that school ever turned out. These veterans will inspire the members of the team's knowledge of the way in which they conducted themselves on the gridiron. Polson and Jackson will talk from the coaches' point of view, while the team members will have something interesting to relate.

"The members of the alumni, as well as all other McKinley boosters, will find it worth their while to attend the rally," said Yellmaster Bolte this morning, "and I am anxious to see a large turnout. I expect every student who has the least grain of school spirit to be present. There will be something doing all the time."

WASHINGTON AND MICHIGAN MAY PLAY FOOTBALL

NEW YORK.—According to word received from the Washington alumni here, there is still some chance of the proposed University of Washington-University of Michigan football game being played this season. The Pacific coast university football management invited the Michigan eleven to play a game at Seattle in December. It is understood that Coach Yost and Capt. Patterson were inclined to favor the idea of the inter-sectional game, but the faculty refused to grant the necessary leave of absence. Washington, however, may send its eleven to the Middle West for a final game this season if the record of the team warrants such a trip.

DAVID KAHALEWAI OF HIGH SCHOOL IS DEPENDABLE MAN

The McKinley High School football team boasts of a good player in the person of David "Jablo" Kahalewai, who this year celebrates the third anniversary of his debut into local interscholastic gridiron circles. Dave was one of the mainstays of the McKinley team last year, and this season will be seen alternating at half-back and guard, being a heady player in both positions. In spite of the fact that he loses his bearings at times, probably becoming too freely imbibed with the spirit of the contest, Jablo is credited with being a good tackler and a strong man on the offense. He is one of the players which the High School is depending upon for the game with Oahu College Saturday.

Sport Notes

A wireless dispatch from Cincinnati confirms the report that Joe Tinker will remain manager of the Reds during the 1914 season. Garry Herrmann and Tinker will meet in the eastern city Sunday and discuss the plans for the coming season, and it is said that Tinker will sign his 1914 contract Monday.

After eight rounds of uninteresting fighting, Marty Rowan of St. Louis, who recently acquired fame as a middleweight, was awarded the decision over Billy Papke, the former middleweight champion, in St. Louis last night, according to a wireless report.

Tony Ross of Pittsburg was awarded a decision over Charley Miller, the San Francisco pugilist, on a foul at Boston last night in the third round of their scheduled 12-round contest. Referee Flaherty warned Miller in the second, and disqualified him in the third for hitting low, awarding the decision to Ross.

Honolulu football fans are looking forward with interest to the first game of the interscholastic series between Punahou and the McKinley High School on Alexander Field Saturday afternoon. Both teams are evenly matched, and the game should be hotly contested.

It is rumored that the Honolulu School for Boys and McKinley High School second teams will meet on Alexander Field Saturday afternoon as a curtain-raiser for the first game of the championship series.

Allan Renton, the Punahou tackle, will probably be unable to participate in Saturday's game on account of illness. Renton is one of the College's mainstays, and his loss will be keenly felt.

NEW HAVEN, Conn.—Charles N. Snowden of Pittsburg has resigned as captain of the Yale varsity crew. Thomas B. Denegre of New Orleans, has been chosen to succeed him. This announcement was made at a meeting of the Blue oarsmen.

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—Twenty-one hits secured by the Cincinnati National baseball club, tell the story of why the visitors defeated the local American Association club, 15 to 9, in a slow, uninteresting exhibition game.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—Harvard's varsity line, which was not satisfactory to the coaches in the football game with the University of Maine last Saturday, was greatly strengthened by the return of Pennock, the "All-America" guard of last year, and Turnbull, who is first choice for cen-

O. C. STANDS A GOOD CHANCE TO DEFEAT M. H. S.

Team Handicapped by Illness Among Players, and Subs May Play

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence] OAHU COLLEGE, Oct. 16. — From the looks of things at present, and looking back into the past, it is safe to pick Oahu College as the winner of the game to be played Saturday afternoon between Oahu College and McKinley. Captain William Inman is sure of the game and every man in Punahou is looking forward to another big score. The way the Townies handled High School last Saturday made the Oahuans sit up and take notice. The Punahou boys expected the McKinleyites to play all over the Town seconds, and, beside being surprised at the good showing the Townies made, they were doubtful over the showing that their coming opponents made. They figure that if they can do what they please with the team that held down McKinley to the score of 4 to 0, in scrimmages without their two regular halves, that they ought to pile up a big score when they meet the supporters of the Black and Gold. The High School can hardly expect to win, but nevertheless they are willing to try and that is all they can do. They are practicing hard and expect to fight hard and make a good showing even if they do not make a single point. Glenn Jackson is still coaching the boys and will be able to improve many little details in the work of the team and put it in better shape than it was on Saturday. A number of the boys on the first squad at Punahou have not been able to turn out for practice the last few days. Allan Renton, tackle, has been sick for some time and "Bill" Inman, captain, who plays the opposite tackle, has also been out of sorts. These slight troubles will not disable the team to the extent that it will not be able to play a good game on Saturday, and even if these men are not able to play, although their loss would be felt, many substitutes are ready to work on the first team.

The scores of Maui and Kauai are to be received by mail and will be announced later.

INDIANAPOLIS IS SOLD—RECORD FIGURE

INDIANAPOLIS.—The Indianapolis American Association club was sold by Sol Meyer, owner, to James C. McGill, George Wallgren and Jack Hendricks, of Denver. The purchase price is said to be $165,000, the largest ever paid for a minor league organization.

HUI NALU WILL BE HOSTS AT DANCE OCTOBER 25

The members of the members of the Hui Nalu Club will be hosts at a masquerade dance at the Outrigger Club on Saturday evening, October 25, and even if these men are not able to play, although their loss would be felt, many substitutes are ready to work on the first team.

Society will turn out in force to attend the dance, it is believed, on account of the fact that the affair is a benefit. Arrangements are nearing completion and the committee in charge promises all a good time. The Outrigger Club has donated its pavilion free of charge for the occasion, and a number of the members of the Hui Nalu, led by Ernest Kaal, will furnish the necessary music.

JOHNNY KILBANE IS ARRESTED

CLEVELAND, O.—Johnny Kilbane, featherweight champion, was arrested today on a warrant charging him with assaulting 11-year-old Charles Chambers. The warrant, which was sworn out by the boy's mother, Kilbans. Clara Chambers, charges Kilbane attacked the boy because of a dispute over a bicycle given the lad's elder brother for services in keeping a record of press clippings concerning the champion.

These two men, who have been out of the game for several days because of injuries, are expected to play against Bates this week.

NEW YORK.—J. R. Capablanca, the Cuban chess champion, left on the Kaiserlin Augusta Victoria for St. Petersburg, via London and Paris, to fill his post as chancellor to the Cuban consulate in Russia. On his way from London to St. Petersburg he will meet some of the chess masters who are to participate in the international chess congress at Havana.

CINCINNATI, O.—The national baseball commission reinstated player Monte Phyl to good standing in organized baseball, and held that he was a member of the New York National League team. No fine was inflicted. Phyl was one of the members of a California State League club at the time it was taken into organized baseball, and these men said the right to ask the commission for reinstatement after three years from the time the league was declared to be in good standing. Phyl was released by the New York National League team, but joined the California State League instead of reporting to the team to which he was released. The commission held that he reverted to the New York Nationals.

INTER-ISLAND ALLEY SERIES STARTS AT 'Y'

Last night's inter-island games opened the fall season on the "Y" bowling alleys—the Honolulu vs. Maui and the Oahu vs. Kauai. Throughout the evening the "Joys" were in evidence, although many of the rollers, lacking practice, were away below form.

For the Honolulu, Winne gathered in the honors for high score, rolling 220. Kentner copped the high average with 185. Chamberlain of the Oahu carried away both high score and average and easily out-played his teammates.

PERLEY HORNE SAYS THE 'Y' WANTED EXCHANGE OF TEACHER AND COACH

The Y. M. C. A. secretary who gave out the story yesterday that the association had offered the services of W. H. Heinrichs as a coach for the Eka-melania football team, and that the melania football team, and that the offer had been turned down, evidently neglected to say forth Kamelania's side of the story. Kamelania has been unable to put a team in the field this season because of the lack of a competent coach, and when the Y. M. C. A. offered the services of one of the secretaries for this purpose, it is evident that there were a few conditions attached to it which the "Y" has kept secret.

STAR HARVARD TACKLE IS OUT OF THE GAME

CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—Tudor Gardner, star tackle of the Harvard varsity eleven of 1911 and a leading candidate for end on the present Crimson team, probably will never play football again.

Gardner broke his forearm in the Harvard-Princeton game two years ago and the injury kept him out of the game last year. Under the best of two weeks' practice the arm has been found too weak to allow him to play with reasonable safety, doctors said recently.

His absence, together with the illness of Mitholland and Dana, and the ineffectuality of Smith, has left Harvard with only three available ends, instead of the seven who started the practice season.

WRESTLE AND RIOT WITHOUT DECISION

OAKLAND, Cal.—Half the population of the little suburban town of Hayward are nursing black eyes, broken heads and barked shins today as the result of a free-for-all fight in which the Hayward pavilion was partially wrecked by a thousand scrambling spectators of a wrestling match. Joseph Mendoza, billed as the champion of California, and Gus Pappas were the wrestlers. Mendoza tried for two hours and twenty minutes to throw Pappas, lost his temper and gouged Pappas in the eye. Pappas came back with a blow that drew blood from Mendoza's nose, and the free-for-all was on.

A riot call was turned in and it took Sheriff Barnett and six deputies to break up the crowd. Nobody knows who won.

For the purpose of forming a schedule which will lead to playing off the three-cornered tie which prevails between the Coast Defense, Hawaii and Stars, a meeting of the directors of the Oahu League has been called for 7:30 o'clock this evening.

BOWLING ALLEY CHAT

CAPTAIN SCOTTY—Although it's a little early to prognosticate, I believe the Honolulu will lift the cup.
CAPT. CHAMBERLAIN—Years do not always handicap, I'm 51 and going strong. Do any of you young roosters want to bowl an exhibition game after the match?
WINNE—Rietow came all the way in from Kaimuki without his horse shoe.
KENTNER—I may be bowling over my head, but for an old stiff out of practice, I think I did fairly well, eh?
ROSE—A little practice, an individual ball and then watch my smoke.
CLARK—That Maui bunch is a hard nut to crack. They have a bad habit of rolling high on their own alleys.
NEWCOMB, GEAR AND ATHERTON (in chorus)—" * * * ? * * ?"

JUNIORS TAKE FIRST GAME FROM SENIORS

Girls' Basketball Series Opens with Well-Played Game at Oahu College

Juniors 16, Seniors 8. In the first game of the Oahu College girls' inter-class basketball series the juniors defeated the seniors easily by a score of 16 to 8. The game was well played on the part of the juniors and they showed in many ways that they had the superior team.

Miss Mele Williams, captain of the juniors, made many points for her team at forward. She played a good game and the senior guards were not able to keep her from throwing a basket when she pleased. At guard Miss Mary Fong handled her position admirably. She played all around the senior forwards and kept the ball away from her side most of the time.

For the seniors, Miss Elizabeth Woods, captain, played a good game at center. Her work was good throughout the game.

Perley L. Horne, president of Kamelania, said this morning that the Y. M. C. A. had offered the cadets a coach if the school would provide a teacher to take the place of the secretary at the association during his absence. Horne said that the school was not in a condition to do this. Horne's statement serves to clear the matter up. The question of an interchange, he says, was not put before the students.

DEATH TOO CLOSE; AVIATOR QUITS FAME

CHICAGO.—Jimmy Ward, the aviator who has made more flights than any other person, has returned his Curtiss biplane to his Chicago manager, and with his wife started to California to seek a new home and a new vocation.

"I haven't lost my nerve," said Ward. "I have simply come to the conclusion that death is always breathing on the neck of the aviator, and when a fellow has beaten the reaper by a length of 1,800 times, he's had his share of good luck."

QUIMET QUITS GOLF; NERVES ARE SHATTERED

BOSTON.—Francis Quimet, the youthful winner of the United States open golf championship, has, by the advice of his physicians, abandoned golf for the remainder of the season, and has cancelled a number of engagements that had been tentatively made for him on the Pacific Coast the coming winter. He is on the verge of a nervous breakdown, and rest is absolutely necessary, says his physician.

COMPLICATION OF WOMAN'S ILLS

Yields to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Athens, Texas.—"I had a complication of diseases, some of them of long standing. I wrote to you for advice and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and some other things that you suggested. I must confess that I am much better in every way and have been relieved of some of the worst troubles. My neighbors say I look younger now than I did fifteen years ago."—Mrs. SARAH R. WHATELY, Athens, Texas, R. F. D. No. 3, Box 92.

We know of no other medicine which has been so successful in relieving the suffering of women, or received so many genuine testimonials, as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

In nearly every community you will find women who have been restored to health by this famous medicine. Almost every woman you meet knows of the great good it has been doing among suffering women for the past 30 years.

In the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., are files containing hundreds of thousands of letters from women seeking health, in which many openly state over their own signatures that they have regained their health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, many of them state that it has saved them from surgical operations.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

OVER-NIGHT FEDERAL WIRELESS To the Advertiser

More radical than the futurists, cubists or any of the freak predecessors was the opinion pronounced by critics on the first exhibition of the experimentalists in the Horn galleries at Pittsburgh today.

Adele Fay Williams, originator of the experimental school, has on each exhibition an impression of classical music of which one critic said: "It looks like a lot of delectable salads being tossed about in swirls of wind."

Congressman Frank Clark of Florida has sent in to Governor Park Trammel of that state a request that the legislature be convened in special session to pass a law prohibiting Japanese ownership of land in Florida. The action of Clark followed the making public of the fact that a party of Japanese is in Florida looking over lands owned by former Governor W. S. Jennings, first cousin of Secretary of State W. J. Bryan.

These Japanese came from California, where the land bill against which the Japanese protested deprives them of the right to own realty.

"The five per cent clause benefiting American shipping will stand in the new tariff act even at the risk of trade wars and other commercial complications," declared Representative Oscar Underwood, after a visit to the White House today.

President Wilson has suspended the clause and is expected to make a determined effort to repeal it.

Underwood's statement is taken as a defy of the president. The fact that a number of trade treaties probably will be abrogated by the clause does not worry Underwood. He thinks the United States will be able to care for itself if European nations attempt commercial reprisals.

Aviator Janus and a passenger were seriously hurt this afternoon while seeking some trace of Arthur J. Jewell, the birdman, who has been missing since Monday.

The men set out from Staten Island in response to a plea by Jewell's wife. They had gone only a short distance when the machine caught fire.

The flames started when they were 600 feet in the air. Janus guided the machine 550 feet, then it turned turtle. The men fell into marshy ground, thus escaping death.

An attempt to assassinate King Frederick August of Saxony and Grand Duke Cyril of Russia failed today only because of the poor aim of the assassin. The attack took place at a theater at Dresden, Saxony.

The man, who was armed with a revolver and a dagger, fired a shot that whizzed past the head of the king and barely missed the grand duke, who has been a guest of King August for several days. Mounted police captured the assassin.

President Wilson's indisposition, which was described a few days ago as a slight attack of indigestion, is giving him more discomfort, and his associates are more concerned than has been officially admitted.

He is run down physically because of his constant work on the tariff and currency bills. Passed Assistant Surgeon Carey T. Grayson, the White House physician, has been treating the president. Other physicians have been consulted.

Resumption of the senate lobby investigation will begin as soon as the currency bill is reported to the senate for debate, it was learned today. The committee will direct its probe to the alleged labor lobby being maintained in Washington. Then the newspaper lobby, the anti-liquor and liquor lobby and lobbies of minor character will come in for investigation.

The committee hopes to get to work on the latter part of this month or early in November. A report of the investigation is looked for in January.

On the ground that a man and his wife are not in law separate individuals and that they cannot act and think independently of each other, the right of W. E. Hengelly and his wife to sit as jurors in a criminal trial was challenged by a bachelor attorney today at Spokane. Superior Judge W. A. Huenker refused to sustain the challenge for cause against Mrs. Hengelly.

That Governor Felker will probably order the extradition of Harry K. Thaw was openly admitted in the fugitive's camp today for the first time since his flight in this state began.

Governor Felker made this statement: "My decision will be returned, in all likelihood, on Tuesday next in Concord, unless something happens."

The will of the late Benjamin Altman, merchant and art connoisseur, filed today, disposes of an estate estimated at forty million dollars. The largest single bequest is that of the Altman collection of art treasures which is given to the Metropolitan Museum of Art for use of the public. Art experts conservatively estimated this collection to be worth fifteen million dollars.

For the third time within two weeks a decline in the wholesale prices of sugar was announced in San Francisco today in sympathy with the drop in raw sugar of 10 points.

The decline today adds another 15 points, making a total decrease since the first of the month of 55 points or a little more than half a cent per pound.

During the parade of suffragists at Binghamton a motorman attempted to break the ranks of the marchers by running his car through them.

Mrs. George Tompfit, of that city, planted the American flag between the tracks and dared the motorman

FOREST TREES WILL BE DECK MOUNTAINSIDE

Activity on the part of the division of forestry of the board of agriculture promises to make of Sugar Loaf a beauty spot and at the same time restore the watershed that naturally belongs on the mountainside. The systematic planting of trees across the grass-covered slope already is under way.

Looking up Makiki Valley these days towards Tantalus, one can see a new trail running diagonally across the face of Sugar Loaf. This trail is the work of the Division of Forestry of the Board of Agriculture and Forestry, and marks the first step in the systematic planting of the grass covered slopes of that peak with forest trees. Native Hawaiian koa and kukui are the species chosen. The koa for the upper portion of the slope; kukui lower down and in the valley bottoms.

The objects of the planting is to restore to its original forest condition a section of the Honolulu watershed. With the increasing demand for water for Honolulu's domestic supply it is essential that every available watershed be protected, and wherever possible, that the section tributary to the springs or brooks be kept under a dense cover of vegetation. In places where the trees and shrubs of former days have given place to open grass or lantana, it is highly desirable that the original conditions be restored. Such a place is the basin at the head of the side valley that branches off from Makiki and leads just below Sugar Loaf.

The present planting will start on the slope of Sugar Loaf, and include the area from the old trail along the slope of Round Top to the ridge which runs the trail that has just been constructed. Then it is proposed to extend the planting along both sides of that ridge, and later to take in, as well, the Schmidt Ridge, on the opposite side of Herron Valley.

One of the springs that now contribute to the Makiki reservoir is located in Herron Valley. There is evidence that in former years there was a spring in the valley immediately below Sugar Loaf. Whether the reforestation of the slopes about it will bring back enough running water in this side valley to pay to pipe it out, remains to be seen, but there are enough good reasons why it is worth while to replant such an area, fully to justify the necessary outlay.

For some years now the appropriations of the division of forestry have been used in other ways than in planting trees in the immediate vicinity of Honolulu. The resumption of tree planting in this section is made possible by the action of the last legislature in allotting to the division of forestry a portion of the revenue derived from the water, leases and licenses of streams in certain of the forest reserves. A good share of the income so derived is to be used within the next two years for fencing forest boundaries on government land, but a portion of it, as in this case, will be devoted to forest planting.

Koa Being Set Out

For the last three months the division of forestry has been getting ready a stock of seedlings for the planting on Sugar Loaf. The koas were started from seed collected on Tantalus, the kukuis from nuts gathered in the neighboring valleys. The seedlings ready for planting are now held at the experiment garden maintained by the division of forestry in Makiki valley. The actual setting out of the little trees will start as soon as the conditions for planting become favorable through the beginning of the winter rains.

In recent years a good deal of koa has been planted on Tantalus by the owners of certain of the lots and has made remarkably satisfactory growth. Because of good soil and sheltered situation there is every reason to expect that within only a few years a very different appearance from the present will be presented by the upper slopes of Mt. Sugar Loaf.

to run it down. She kept it there until the parade had passed and was loudly cheered.

A newly-discovered case of leprosy at Los Angeles reported to the public health service today is taken to confirm Surgeon General Blue's declaration that more leprosy exists in the United States than is generally known.

It is rumored that the Nationalists in the Irish Midlands are organizing a body of drilled men for the purpose of checking the Ulster men in the event of the latter going south of Boyne when home rule has started.

The possibility that Secretary of the Navy Daniels will take a course of instruction at the naval war college at Newport next summer has aroused much interest among the officers stationed there.

According to accounts brought to Sydney by officers in the Kulambangra, the annexation was marked by an interesting and impressive little ceremony.

Previously the island had been a French protectorate, but when the French man-o-war Kersaint arrived off the island some weeks ago, all the

VALUABLE DIGEST OF DIRECT PRIMARY LAW MADE BY L. M. JUDD

Principles and Provisions Set Forth Briefly and Clearly by Young Republican

L. M. Judd has compiled a digest of the new direct primary law which sets forth briefly and clearly the essential principles and provisions of the law, together with the necessary regulations for its operation. The digest is of particular interest now in view of the discussion of party rule changes that will be necessary in order to do away with the convention system and carry out the spirit of the new statute. The digest is as follows:

DIRECT PRIMARY LAW.
Act 151, Session Laws of 1913.
To provide for the nomination or election of candidates for elective offices by direct vote.
Differs from previous methods as follows:

1. No person shall be a candidate for the ensuing general or county election unless he shall have been nominated at the primary next prior thereto.
2. A candidate can be elected to the office for which he is a candidate at a primary, provided he shall have received the votes of a majority of the registered voters, voting at said primary, of the district in which he is a candidate.

What the Voter Must Do.
I. Be registered as a duly qualified elector of the precinct at least ten days prior to said primary.
What the Candidate Must Do.

1. Have a nomination paper filed in his behalf prior to such primary.
2. The nomination paper must be of substantially the form as prescribed in the act.
3. The nomination papers must be signed by not less than 25 for delegate and filed with secretary at least 30 days prior to the primary; 15 for district, county or subdivision thereof, and filed with the county clerk at least 30 days prior to primary.
4. Ten dollars must be deposited with each nomination paper as a realization.
5. No signatures will be counted unless they are upon sheets each having the form written or printed thereon, which shall be provided by the county clerk.
6. No person can sign the nomination papers of more than one candidate for the same office, nor for more than the actual number of offices of one class. Nomination papers shall be construed in this regard according to priority of filing.
7. The signer of a nomination paper must be an elector, qualified to vote for the candidate at the next primary or general election.
8. In the case of a partisan candidate, the candidate and signers must certify that they will support their party.
9. In the case of a non-partisan candidate, nomination papers shall be filed in the same manner as partisan candidates. No nominator shall be allowed to sign the papers of non-partisan candidates who shall have previously signed papers of partisan candidates.
10. If a person is nominated by more than one party, he must file a written declaration, indicating the party designation under which his name is to appear on ballot. Failing to do this, his name will be printed in non-partisan column.

General Provisions.
I. This act shall not apply to special elections.

2. Primary shall be held at regular polling place in each precinct on second Saturday of September, 1914, and biennially thereafter. In case of any change in date of elections, and if the date is in any month other than the month of November, the primary shall be held on the second Saturday of the second month preceding such election month, and biennially thereafter. Polls will be open from eight to five.

3. Arrangement of the ballots shall be based on the percentage of the total vote legally cast within the territory at the last preceding election of delegate to Congress, giving the party whose candidate for such office polled the highest vote within the territory the first position on such ballots, and so forth.

4. Candidates' names will be placed, in alphabetical order (with their Hawaiian equivalent, if requested), in their respective party or non-partisan column.

5. The person receiving the greatest number of votes at a primary as a candidate of a party for an office, shall be the candidate of the party at the following election. Any non-partisan candidate receiving at least 20 per cent of votes of registered voters cast at such primary shall be a candidate at the following election.

6. In case of a tie vote, the tie shall be decided by lot.

7. The territorial central committee represents the party in all matters pertaining to this act.

8. In case of death, withdrawal or disqualification of any candidate before or after holding of any primary, the vacancy so caused shall be filled by the central or county committee of the party, as the case may be.

THICK, GLOSSY HAIR FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Girl! Beautify your hair! Make it soft, fluffy and luxuriant—Try the most cloth.

Try as you will, after an application of Danderine, you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you are new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine will immediately double the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just motaten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is immediate and amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable beauty and shimmer of true hair health.

EASTERN STAR.

Lei Aloha Chapter will hold a sale at Hawley's store on Fort street of dolls, fancy work and delicatessen goods, beginning at 10 o'clock a. m. on Saturday morning—advertisement.

"So Jones still rides horseback. He's away behind the times." "I don't see it that way." "Well, you'll admit that the equestrian has to take a back seat."

SOLDIERS MAY HOLD CITY JOBS, SAYS WEAVER

Submitting a second legal opinion on the point of the eligibility of soldiers, residing here as enlisted men for more than a year and maintaining at the same time a technical residence elsewhere, for positions under the civil service, P. L. Weaver, first deputy city and county attorney, cleared up the last doubts in the minds of the commissioners on the point last night.

By his opinion, the civil service will recognize as properly qualified applicants, so far as residence is concerned, soldiers who are discharged after being stationed here a year or more.

Weaver's opinion applies not only to civil service jobs, though it was written expressly for the civil service commission, it applies to all city and county offices covered by the municipal act.

The chief doubt as to whether soldiers are qualified applicants for civil service jobs sprang from a section of the municipal act where it is stated all employees of the city and county must have actually resided here for more than a year before their appointment. As a soldier, like a student, does not lose his residence when he is taken from one state to another during his enlistment, it was argued that the time served by a soldier coming from the mainland did not count toward his residence in the territory, but in order to acquire a residence here he would have to remain a year after his discharge from the army. Weaver has exploded this theory with his opinion.

Raymer Sharp will be the chief examiner of the applicants for civil service jobs. His appointment to that place was definitely made last night. The date of the examinations has been set for October 25, which falls on Saturday. It is expected that more than 100 applicants will take the examinations. Jesse F. Mahanaui was appointed assistant examiner and Hawaiian interpreter, and Pete Baron was made the gymnasium instructor.

Sheriff Jarrett notified the commission last night that there were two vacancies in his department, one occurring by reason of discharge, the other by resignation. Harry K. Clark, formerly receiving clerk of the first watch, resigned to go to the coast. Patrolman William K. Peters was discharged for intoxication.

The commission looked into the case of the officer of Koolanpoko district charged with taking a bribe of one dollar and found that the charge was unfounded. The sheriff submitted an affidavit from Sarthakichi Nakanishi, whose testimony in the police court was interpreted to be a charge that he had bribed an officer, in which he denied that he had made the statement attributed to him in court. He said that a number of years ago a stranger had stopped his horse, and that he had given this stranger a dollar on the demand of the latter. That, he said, was the incident he attempted to testify to in court. The commission accepted the affidavit as a correct statement of facts.

LAXATIVE FOR OLD PEOPLE—"CASCARETS"

Salts, Calomel and Pills act on Liver and Bowels like Pepper acts in Nostrils—Danger!

Get a 10-cent box now. Most old people must give to the bowels some regular help, else they suffer from constipation. The condition is perfectly natural. It is just as natural as it is for old people to walk slowly. For age is never so active as youth. The muscles are less elastic. And the bowels are muscles. So all old people need Cascarets. One might as well refuse to aid weak eyes with glasses as to neglect this gentle aid to weak bowels. The bowels must be kept active. This is important at all ages, but never so much as at fifty.

Age is not a time for harsh physics. Youth may occasionally whip the bowels into activity. But a lash can't be used every day. What the bowels of the old need is a gentle and natural tonic. One that can be constantly used without harm. The only such tonic is Cascarets and they cost only 10 cents per box at any drug store. They work while you sleep.—advertisement.

Mr. Pumpnickel, the florist, was sick with amalyady that made his face red. Another florist met Mrs. P. "What ails Mr. Pumpnickel?" he asked. "The doctor calls it acne rosacea," she said. "Well, that is not so bad," he replied. "It advertises business."—Judge.

CASTORIA
for Infants and Children.

'The Effects of Opiates.'

THAT INFANTS are peculiarly susceptible to opium and its various preparations, all of which are narcotic, is well known. Even in the smallest doses, if continued, these opiates cause changes in the functions and growth of the cells, which are likely to become permanent, causing imbecility, mental perversion, a craving for alcohol or narcotics in later life. Nervous diseases, such as intractable nervous dyspepsia and lack of staying powers, are a result of dosing with opiates or narcotics to keep children quiet in their infancy. The rule among physicians is that children should never receive opiates in the smallest doses for more than a day at a time, and only then if unavoidable.

The administration of Anodynes, Drops, Cordials, Soothing Syrups and other narcotics to children by any but a physician cannot be too strongly decried, and the druggist should not be a party to it. Children who are ill need the attention of a physician, and it is nothing less than a crime to dose them willfully with narcotics. Castoria contains no narcotics if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

The signature of Chas. H. Fletcher guarantees genuine Castoria. Physicians Recommend Castoria.

"Your preparation known as Castoria I have used for years in children's complaints and I have found nothing better." John J. Larra, M. D., Cleveland, Ohio.
"For several years I recommended your 'Castoria' and shall always continue to do so, as it has invariably produced beneficial results." Edwin F. Pappas, M. D., New York City.
"Your Castoria is a meritorious household remedy. It is purely vegetable and acts as a mild cathartic. Above all, it does no harm, which is more than can be said of the great majority of children's remedies." Verona H. Coffman, M. D., Omaha, Neb.
"I have prescribed your Castoria in many cases and have always found it an efficient and speedy remedy." A. F. Frazier, M. D., St. Louis, Mo.
"I have used your Castoria in my own household with good results, and have advised several patients to use it for its mild, laxative effect and freedom from harm." Edwards Parsons, M. D., Brooklyn, N. Y.
"Your Castoria holds the virtues of the best medicine in a manner held by no other preparation. It is a sure and reliable medicine for infants and children. In fact it is the only household remedy for infants' ailments." J. A. Parsons, M. D., Kansas City, Mo.
