REALTY DEAL FOR $40,000 NEAR CLOSE

Parcel of Spreckels Estate Is Purchased by the Hawaiian Board for New Home

CONFIDENCE IN CITY SHOWN BY TRANSACTION

Property at Alakea and Merchant Streets Changes Hands After Long Negotiations

A rumor which has been current for the last few weeks that the Hawaiian Evangelical Association was negotiating for the purchase of the Spreckels property at the corner of Alakea and Merchant streets was confirmed this morning by Theodore Richards, who stated that the association will purchase the property for $40,000.

The parcel of land just changing hands is the makai Waikiki corner at Alakea and Merchant streets, across Merchant street from the present home of the Hawaiian Board.

Satisfactory arrangements have been reached between the Henry Waterhouse Trust Company, Ltd., acting as agents for Rudolph and Claus A. Spreckels, and the association, and the deed for the land has been sent to San Francisco for the signatures of the grantors, the consideration named in it being $40,000 and 15,780 as the number of its square feet.

Confidence in the City. The deal, taken as an evidence of the confidence of the board in the value of Honolulu investments is one of the most important transactions consummated here for some time. On the board are several of the most prominent business men in the community, and their decision to buy the Spreckels property in itself seems to show their sound confidence in Hawaii in general and Honolulu in particular.

A new home for the association is planned to be erected on the site. Mr. Richards said this morning that at a meeting of the board to be held Friday afternoon the question of building will be gone into. He also stated that with the completion of the new home the present building with the land on which it is situated will be put on the market by the association.

As it is now planned, the new home will be a frame structure and large enough to accommodate all the business of the association. There will be office rooms, rooms for meetings of the board, and quarters for the storage of the supplies used by the association.

Dead End Route to Coast. Frederick E. Steere, manager of the real estate department of the Henry Waterhouse Trust Company also confirms the report of the big deal. He said that though the deed has not been signed, it was on its way to San Francisco where the Spreckels have agreed to execute it. For some time the deal has been under way. Some little difficulty regarding the title is probably responsible for whatever delay there has been in bringing the negotiations to a successful conclusion.

This, along with other property of the Spreckels estate in the territory, has been involved in the litigation arising over the will of the late Claus Spreckels, which was first fought in California and later in the territory. In the former case, the will of the late sugar king, which made no provision for his sons, John D. and Adolph B. was upheld, while here Circuit Judge Cooper refused to follow the California decision as a precedent.

Judge Cooper's decision has been reversed by the supreme court here, which sustained the will but upon different points to those made in the California decision. The case is now to be appealed to the United States district court of appeals in San Francisco.

Under the original will, Claus Spreckels left all his property to his wife to be divided at her death in three equal parts for his sons Claus A. and Rudolph, and his daughter, Emma C. Ferris. It is this provision under the will which John D. and Adolph Spreckels are attempting to overthrow.

FOOTBALL GAME FOR THIS AFTERNOON IS CALLED OFF

Announcement was made from the Honolulu School for Boys that the game scheduled for this afternoon between the school and the second team of McKinley High school was called off this morning. The explanation from the high school is that they have not been able to get out their second team for practice, it was said at the school for boys this afternoon.

KELLETT CASE MAY NOT END WITH COMMISSION HEARING, SAYS SMITH

Believes Evidence Sufficient to Take the Matter Before the Grand Jury

Believing that he may have sufficient evidence against Detective John Kellett to present to the grand jury, Deputy Attorney-general Arthur G. Smith stated today that the case against the suspended officer may not end with the hearing before the civil service commission. However, on this point he is not certain. He said he would probably await the determination of the commission hearing before deciding on the grand jury feature of the case.

The chief accusation, according to present indications, will be regarding Kellett's alleged misappropriation of several small sums of evidence money secured on gambling raids. Mr. Smith does not state how much evidence he has on this point.

E. C. Peters, the attorney for the officer, is confident that he will succeed in his defense of the case. Kellett also is of that opinion. At the meeting of the commission this evening the two attorneys may appear, to have the Kellett hearing set for a special time. Incidentally they may take part in a discussion over the action of Sheriff Jarrett in reinstating Chief of Detectives McDuffie without a hearing before the commission. Some hints have been dropped during the last two days that the commission plans to criticize Jarrett on this point, but the statements

MID-WINTER CARNIVAL PUT ON PERMANENT BASIS, IS PLAN NOW

A new plan of management of Mid-Winter Carnival affairs was started yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the finance committee of the Carnival. The immediate result was the calling of a joint meeting of the Chamber of Commerce and Merchants' Association for 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, to discuss the plans of the committee, at the Young Hotel makai pavilion. It is understood that some important propositions having to do with the Carnival will be broached. "We wish to put the whole Mid-Winter celebration on a business basis," said L. J. Warren, chairman of the finance committee, this morning. "With that end in view we have been carefully discussing the details of the proposed program for Carnival week, and we want the businessmen of the community to meet with us and help in the discussion of what should be done. The problem before the business men is that of properly organizing, on a permanent basis, the Carnival celebration, which, as it is hardly necessary to say, is for the benefit of all the territory. I hope the members of the Chamber of Commerce and Merchants' Association will come to the meeting and help in a general discussion of how the carnival should be managed." The members of the carnival finance committee, who had a long discussion yesterday of carnival affairs, are, in addition to Chairman Warren, T. M. Church, R. A. Cooke, E. H. Paris, J. L. McLean and S. M. Lowrey, treasurer. That the discussion will take up a suggestion for incorporating the carnival on a stock-company plan, is believed to be likely.

Hilo to Enter List For The Big Drydock

(Special Star-Bulletin Wireless)
HILO, Nov. 12.—Provided the government should decide against relocating the drydock at Pearl Harbor, Hilo will enter the lists in an effort to bring the large improvement to this city. Such was the decision of the members of the Hilo board of trade at a meeting held yesterday, at which time Harry Irwin, Delbert E. Metzger and Edward A. Southworth were appointed a committee to make preliminary surveys and communicate with the federal officials, including the members of congress, their proposal.

The suggestion is made that a site could be developed by dredging out Waiolama swamp for an inland basin outlet, near Ponahawai and Front streets.

The object of the board of trade is to enter into competition with San Francisco for this big improvement and save it for the territory in the event the present location should not prove satisfactory.

SPANISH CONSUL REFUSES TO GO INTO U.S. COURT

Senor Ignacio de Arana Politely Excuses Himself from Appearing in Case He Instigated

An international question involving the treaty between the United States and Spain suddenly developed in federal district court this morning when the Spanish consul, Senor Ignacio de Arana, politely but none the less firmly refused to appear in court as a witness in writing or in person.

His refusal, which caused great astonishment among the court officials because the case was undertaken at his instigation, was made twice and came so emphatically the second time that the hearing, which was before a jury, was temporarily delayed, the court taking recess until 2 o'clock this afternoon. Meantime U. S. District Judge Clemens, before whom the hearing is being held, took the affair under advisement, to determine whether he can invoke the authority of the Spanish-American treaty to compel the consul's attendance, or whether the consul is within his rights and the case must proceed with such information as he may choose to give in writing or with none at all.

Consul de Arana was wanted as a witness for the government in a criminal case against a Spanish couple, Francisco Bogas and Mrs. Petra Rodriguez Huete, who are on trial on a statutory charge. Assistant U. S. District Attorney C. C. Bitting, who has charge of the prosecution, states that the information against the two came originally from de Arana, who urged their apprehension, later appearing in person before the United States commissioner to give the information he possessed, and still later appearing before the federal grand jury to repeat it. The man and woman were indicted and their trial began a week ago.

Proves Big Surprise. Consequently his refusal to appear in court this morning came as a big surprise. Having no suspicion of the attitude the consul would take the court fostered Deputy U. S. Court Clerk Foster Davis to the consulate this morning, inviting de Arana to appear in person before the federal grand jury to repeat it. The man and woman were indicted and their trial began a week ago.

At this point recess was taken. Books of international law were dug out of the court library and the Spanish-American treaty, formulated after the late unpleasantness between the two world powers, was consulted. Then U. S. Marshal E. R. Hendry was dispatched to the consulate with a formal, written invitation to attend the trial. His answer, brought back by the marshal, was even more suave and diplomatic but to the same effect as his first. He did not propose appearing in any case against his own countrymen, but he would be glad to supply.

JAPAN DECIDES TO SEND CRUISER TO MEXICO; U. S. NEGOTIATES WITH CARRANZA

Developments of Day Do Not Indicate Intervention, Says Washington—British Capitalist Denies That Huerta is Getting War Funds From Him

(Associated Press Cable)

TOKIO, Japan, Nov. 12.—The Japanese government has decided to send the armored cruiser Izumo to Mexican waters for the protection of Japanese in Mexico. The impression prevails here that before reaching this decision, Japan sounded the United States government on its proposed action.

(Associated Press Cable)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 12.—It is given out here that the conferences between Dr. Bayard Hale, sent by President Wilson to Mexico, and Gen. Venustiano Carranza, leader of the constitutionalist faction, do not necessarily mean intervention, but it is stated that these conferences will be an important factor in determining the future attitude of the administration.

(Associated Press Cable)

LONDON, Eng., Nov. 12.—Lord Cowdray, whom report credited with being the capitalist who agreed to supply Gen. Huerta with funds sufficient to run the Mexican government to the end of November, today denied that he is financially supporting Huerta, either directly or indirectly. He says he was not asked for assistance.

Secretary of Labor Attacks Mine Owners of Michigan

(Associated Press Cable)
SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 12.—Secretary of Labor William B. Wilson, addressing the session of the American Federation of Labor here today, made a bitter attack on the copper mine owners and operators of Michigan, denouncing them for alleged greed and oppression of labor. He announced that he will publish a statement of the conditions of wages and hours and will show that the mine owners reap enormous profits from the industry at the expense of the workmen.

Lightship Now Believed Lost

(Associated Press Cable)
BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 12.—That the lightship which went adrift on Lake Erie the night before last has been lost with its crew of eight is the belief strengthened by the finding of a farewell message written on a chip by Captain Williams. The message said, "Goodbye, Nellie. The ship is breaking up fast." Nothing more has been heard of the vessel or those aboard her.

PRINCESS KALANIANA'OLE HEADS COMMITTEE TO PLAN BIG CELEBRATION

Princess Kalaniana'ole this morning was appointed chairman of a committee to make arrangements for an appropriate commemoration of the 110th anniversary of the birth of Kamehameha III, which will be celebrated March 17, 1914, this action being taken at a meeting of the Daughters of Hawaii. The daughters of Hawaii are taking considerable interest in the coming event and plan before that time to have a monument erected over Kamehameha's birthplace at Keolu, Hawaii, the matter being taken up at the meeting. The monument has been prepared and a committee composed of Mrs. F. M. Swamy, Mrs. Eben Low and Mrs. B. F. Dillingham reported that it had visited Hawaii and found the site to be an excellent one. The space is to be cleared up and surrounded by an iron fence. The society has had under investigation a plan to have repaired the tablet at Paoli, no action being taken this morning, however.

BRECKONS GETS $4000. IS MARRIED AND LIVING WITH WIFE, OF COURSE

U. S. District Attorney R. W. Breckons received a circular and blank certificate from the Attorney-general yesterday, dealing with the operation of the new federal income tax law. The law provides that the department at Washington shall deduct from the salaries of such of its employees as are affected by the statute those single men receiving $3,000 or less a year and those married men receiving $4,000 or less per year. With the circular and certificate blank Breckons received the additional instruction to cable Washington at once, stating the size of his salary and whether he is a married man living with his wife. "Am receiving $4000, married and of course living with my wife," was the reply. "They may charge me 50 cents for those two extra words of course," said Breckons today, "but I wanted them to know that married men in Hawaii are in the habit of living with their own wives."

CHINESE CUSTOM SHATTERED BY NEW 'CUPID'

Thomas Treadway Insists That He See the Bride Before the Ceremony Is Performed

Though "Cupid" Thomas Treadway was an extremely busy man yesterday, granting a total of 18 marriage licenses to as many loving couples, he was not too busy to step in and shatter a sacred Chinese wedding custom, to force obedience to American marriage laws.

Chinese customs forbid the bride to gaze upon any face save that of two or three old women retainers for hours before the ceremony, or to talk to anyone, and it is unwritten law that she shall have nothing to say concerning the selection of the man who is to act as bridegroom and be her life partner. That is an important business affair to be discussed only between the parents of the young couple, a gift amounting to several hundred or thousand dollars, depending on the wealth of the families involved in the negotiation, being passed over to the bride's parents.

But when Tom Kon Chou, son of a well-known Chinese merchant, appeared before Treadway yesterday afternoon for a marriage license and the agent learned that An Lan Ying, the bride-to-be, was only 17 years old, or under the legal age, he flatly declined to grant the permit. He insisted on seeing the bride and her parents and getting the consent of all before issuing the license.

Somewhat discomfited but perfectly willing to do all he could to conform to the white man's law in order to get his bride and get her legally, Tom Kon Chou departed, leaving his address and an invitation to Treadway to attend the wedding, which was to be held there last evening.

Treadway hastened home in a huff, bolted his dinner and hurried to the scene of festivities on upper Fort street near Paoua road. And there, after a wait of two or three hours while the preliminary Chinese wedding rites were performed, he finally met Miss An Lan Ying and her parents and got their formal consent.

"Of course, it was easy to get the parents' consent," said Treadway, "but having no experience with Chinese marriages and knowing that sometimes the bride is sold outright, I had some doubt about the girl. I wasn't certain whether she would be willing to take the young man. But she did, and then I stayed awhile and witnessed the proceedings."

The wedding was a strange mixture of Oriental with occidental custom. J. G. Waller pronounced the words which made the couple man and wife according to American law. But according to Chinese habit the bride was brought to the wedding swathed effectively from public gaze in many yards of cloth, never once touching her feet to the ground from the moment she left her parents' home until she crossed the threshold of her future home. From her father's doorstep to the carriage and from the carriage to the door of her future husband's home she was carried on the backs of aged Chinese women. She took no part in the festivities leading up to or following the wedding ceremony, but was guarded in mysterious seclusion in another apartment by the old women. Even her husband was not permitted to gaze on her face until some hours after the wedding ritual had been concluded.

The girl was born in Hawaii and has been educated in the local schools. Her husband was born in China, although he has resided here many years and speaks English fluently. Treadway granted a license to one Porto Rican couple yesterday evening and 15 licenses to Japanese couples, 15 of whom were wedded at the immigration stations, the women being picture brides.

Morning on CHANGE

The hall of Omohia a point and a half was the only feature this morning of the stock and bond exchange, and a sale of five shares of it at 17.50 was the only deal made during the session. But between the boards a little dealing in Honolulu B. & M. was done, it selling at 21.50, a figure it has held for a number of days.

Police Notes

J. Barco, met with the loss of an ear, and suffered a number of bruises through jumping from a moving train on the Oahu railroad last evening. Barco was brought in from Puuloa last evening and taken to the hospital for treatment.

Sergeant Iaukea and Officer Palenapa, who as twin stars in the local police firmament easily tip the beam at about four hundred pounds, were obliged to plant their respective weights upon the person of one Private Ball, a 1st infantryman, who is alleged to have attempted to create a large-sized disturbance on Hotel street last evening at a time when hundreds of pedestrians were passing on their way to the several theaters. Ball is credited with having made a frantic struggle for his liberty, while the officers held him until such time as reinforcements and the patrol reached the scene of trouble. For a time the air was tinged with highly spiced profanity, declared to have emanated from the soldier.

Special Police Officer Carter pounced upon the retreat of Lee Lancaster, a colored private of company H, 24th infantry, yesterday afternoon and took the soldier to the central police station to be booked upon a charge of desertion. Lancaster is alleged to have landed at Honolulu from the Philippines on October 7, having arrived here in a transport. He belongs to an organization now on tour of duty in the Philippines and dropped off at Honolulu, giving as his reason that he feared that his health would not permit his returning to the mainland, there to face a season of cold weather. The lure of the tropics is believed to have appealed to him to an extent to take a chance at being apprehended as a deserter. The man was employed at Mollili quarry at the time of his arrest.

For running over and killing a dog and the next instant striking Mounted Officer Albert Ludoff, all of which is said to have occurred while going at a fast rate down Kalakaua avenue yesterday, Lieut. Matthews, acting dental surgeon, was fined $100 by Judge Larnach today. Though the officer testified that he was struck, he admitted that he had not been hurt. Lieut. Matthews is considering appealing the case to the circuit court.

Two young men who are alleged to be deserters from the army were arrested today by Captain of Detectives McDuffie. Their names are Charles W. Heel, formerly with the 1st Infantry, and Conner. McDuffie is of the opinion that these men are responsible for the many bicycle thefts reported lately. They are believed to have stolen bicycles in the city to sell them in the outlying districts, and to have stolen bicycles there to sell them in Honolulu.

SKIPPER SIGHTED ISLAND FROM AFAR

The American barkentine Kohala, while sailing from Newcastle, N. S. W., more than one hundred days ago, reached Oakland, California, with a shipment of 2000 tons of fuel the latter part of October, passed within a few miles of Honolulu on the voyage from the Colonies to the Golden Gate.

It was at one time believed that the Kohala would be diverted to Honolulu or one of the island ports. Two months ago, the destination of the bark was set for the Pacific coast. Captain Langford, master of the Kohala, has stated that when his vessel was about 150 miles off the Hawaiian Islands he could easily recognize the mountain peaks on Hawaii, with the volcano eye.

The Kohala is believed about ready for dispatch to an Australian port with a shipment of lumber, the vessel having been drydocked and repaired at San Francisco at the time the Oceanic liner Sierra sailed from the coast for Honolulu.

New Collector is Temporary.

Local customs officers learned yesterday that Frank E. Cairns, who is well known here through his visits at the port while enroute from Manila to Toluca, Peru, where he served as a deputy to W. Morgan Shuster in the attempt to place the Peruvian finances on a modern footing, had been made temporary collector of customs for the Philippines, with headquarters at Manila. Cairns has been identified with the service for the past 13 years. While admittedly a Democrat, Cairns will undoubtedly have to give way to an expert who is soon to leave the coast for the Philippines and take over the collectorship.

Rebuilt Transport Meets Approval.

The rebuilding of the United States army transport Licium at a Shanghai, China, shipyard, is moving along at a rate that incurs the return of that vessel to the Philippine Islands service before many weeks, according to the prediction made by officers in the Pacific Mail liner Manchuria. The vessel was high and dry in dock, replenished in white paint and was hardly recognizable under the changed conditions. The Licium reposed on the bottom of the Whangpoo river at Shanghai for almost a year, the vessel having sunk through the opening of her sea-cocks.

Wilhelmina Hit by a Tidal Wave.

The Matson Navigation liner Wilhelmina, to arrive here on November 25 from the coast with a large cargo and a big list of cabin and steerage passengers, is reported to have been struck by a tidal wave on the recent voyage from the islands to San Francisco. A wall of water declared to have been more than 20 feet in height, was encountered while the vessel was steaming along in a comparatively smooth sea. The monstrous sea loomed up along about midnight and broke over the Wilhelmina's bow, deluging the main and upper decks. Fortunately no passengers were on the decks at the time. No serious damage has been reported.

Passengers and mail that left Honolulu on last Wednesday morning in the Matson Navigation steamer Wilhelmina arrived at San Francisco at 5:30 yesterday morning.

'PICTURE BRIDES' ARRIVE HERE IN LARGE NUMBERS

Japanese "picture brides" are coming into the port of Honolulu from the Orient at an increasing rate. Figures of the steamship arrivals and immigration statistics show that for the last four months the picture brides have come to Honolulu at an average rate of 145 a month. In July 120 arrived, in August 189, in September 118 and in October 150. Steamship men say that this year's arrivals are exceeding those of last year by considerable. Already in 1913 picture brides to the number of 1572 have arrived. This number does not take into account the large number of Japanese women who have been married in Japan and come here to join their husbands.

Heavy Cargoes from the Sound.

The Matson Navigation and American-Hawaiian steamship companies are not alone in receiving demands for much cargo space beginning with the first of the year from Puget Sound ports. Practically all cargo space on every trans-Pacific liner leaving Puget Sound ports and the Columbia river has been booked up to March 1. The traffic has become heavier than the regular fleet can handle and many extra liners have been chartered for the service. In addition to the occasional chartered steamers, there are five regular lines whose vessels load at this port. At the present time flour and wheat are furnishing a large part of the cargoes. Despite this fact, it is said the rates for carrying wheat and flour across the Pacific probably will not be increased. A representative of one of the large navigation companies says it is his opinion that the tariff of $4 a ton to Japanese ports and of $5 to Hongkong and Manila will remain effective until March. Available tramps are becoming scarce, and their being placed in the Oriental trade out of Puget Sound and the Columbia river, it is claimed, can have no effect on the rate situation.

Honolulu Freight.

Sugar was conspicuous by its absence in the freight carried to the coast in the Matson Navigation chartered steamer Honolulu, which departed for San Francisco last evening. Included in the island products forwarded to the mainland in this vessel were 15,000 cases of preserved pineapples, 1000 sacks of coffee, 3000 bunches of bananas and a small quantity of miscellaneous cargo consisting of scrap iron, hides, and empty gasoline containers.

Heavy Weather Off Kaula.

Two Inter-Island steamers, the W. G. Hall and the Maui, are back from Kaula, the officers reporting heavy weather at several of the landings. The Hall brought a small amount of cargo. A few cabin and 30 deck passengers returned to Honolulu in this vessel. The Maui returned with no sugar.

Garden Island Sugar.

Two plantations are reported as having sugar awaiting shipment on Kaula destined for Honolulu or the mainland, according to officers in the Hall, the following lots are on the list: K. S. M. 2100 sacks and V. K. 1200 sacks.

Kalulani Returning to Hawaii.

The Inter-Island steamer Kalulani is scheduled to sail for Laupahoehoe and Hilo this afternoon. This vessel has been undergoing a general inspection and overhauling. The Kalulani will be stationed at the Hawaii port.

Explosives will be included in the cargo supplied the steamer Maui that is to steam for Hawaii ports this afternoon.

SHERMAN DUE AT DAYBREAK TOMORROW

Destined to remain at the port throughout the day, the United States army transport Sherman, from San Francisco, to proceed to the Philippines by the way of Guam, will arrive at Honolulu tomorrow morning at daylight, according to receipt of a wireless message received this morning at the local quartermaster department.

The Sherman is believed to have been somewhat delayed through bad weather. The troopship is bringing 300 tons of freight and supplies for the local military organizations. There are 84 sacks of additional mail from the mainland.

Advices indicate that 48 cabin, 3 dormitory and 193 troop passengers will leave the transport at this port. The Sherman will be supplied with 300 tons of coal before proceeding to Manila at 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

HARBOR NOTES

Taking general cargo and mail only, the steamer Maui has been placed on the berth to sail for Makulona and Kawaihae at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

It is the present intention to give the United States army transport Sherman, from the coast, a quick dispatch for the Philippines by the way of Guam.

A few passengers have booked for Kona and Kau coast in the Inter-Island steamer Mauna Loa, scheduled to sail for windward Hawaii ports at noon, Friday.

The United States army transport Sherman is believed will bring 84 bags of mail from the mainland. The troopship is due to reach port early tomorrow morning.

With fuel oil for the local branch of the Associated Oil Company, the ship Falls of Clyde is en route from Gaviota and should arrive here the latter part of the month.

The last of the small cargo of island products were placed aboard the Matson Navigation steamer Honolulu last evening, permitting that vessel to get away for San Francisco at 6 o'clock. The liner carried 10 cabin passengers.

The Inter-Island steamer Kilauea was dispatched for Hilo and the way ports at 10 o'clock this morning, this vessel being substituted for the Mauna Kea, now reposing on the new floating drydock. The Mauna Kea will remain out of commission for several round trips.

RACE-HORSE SONOMA SHIPPED TO COAST

Following replevin proceedings instituted against High Sheriff Henry yesterday afternoon, Decker recovered the racing horse Sonoma and shipped her on the steamer Honolulu, bound for San Francisco, where it is understood she is scheduled to enter some races Thanksgiving Day. Sheriff Henry seized the filly some weeks ago on an attachment sworn by the California Feed Company, which holds a bill against Decker for $160. The animal was released yesterday under $2000 bond, pending the settlement of the suit.

BOOSTING WILL BE THE AD CLUB BILL TONIGHT

Another get-together session of the Ad Club will be held at 7 o'clock this evening when the members of that organization gather in the dining room on the sixth floor of the Young hotel building to discuss matters pertaining to boosting the club and the city in general.

For some time past the members of the organization have been talking of plans to have the pirates of the old Keokuk invade San Francisco in 1915 as a fitting vanguard to the large force of Honoluluans who are sure to attend the exposition. The plans seem to be generally favored by the members, and at the meeting tonight the matter will be brought up for discussion. Although the exposition is more than a year away, the Ad Club believes in making arrangements in advance and, if the present proposition is to be carried out, the recruiting of the "pirates" can not begin too soon.

Another matter which will be brought up will be preliminary plans for the part which the organization is to play in the 1914 Floral Parade, and Mid-Winter Carnival next February. The Ad Club intends going into the celebration on a large scale, but as yet no definite plans have been set forth as to what sort of jollification it will indulge in. One of the members at least is in favor of rousing out the Keokuk pirates from their cells and letting them indulge in another week of fun and frolic.

Following the dinner there will be a brief business session and also music by the quartet, after which discussion of the foregoing subjects will be in order. The dinner will be on the same order as the weekly luncheon, and all members are requested to be present whether they have secured tickets in advance or not.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

A meeting of the territorial board of agriculture and forestry has been called for Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, in the office of the Water House Co., Stangenwald Building.

"The Chinese Campaign of 1900" will be the subject of an address by Major Frazier of the 1st Infantry at the Young Men's Christian Association tomorrow evening. Major Frazier was one of the first officers to scale the wall surrounding "The Forbidden City" after the allied armies had gained access to it.

Services will be held in nearly all the churches of Honolulu this evening in observance of the week of prayer which began Monday. There will be a program in Central Union church which will be under the auspices of the Young Women's Christian Association, to which all girls and women are invited. Rev. R. Elmer Smith spoke on the Y. M. C. A. this noon, and Rev. W. B. Oleson will be the speaker there tomorrow at 12 o'clock.

Reversing the verdict of Circuit Judge H. E. Cooper, the supreme court has handed down a decision, ordering the judgments vacated and granting new trials in the suits of the Riverside Portland Cement Company against the von Hamm-Young Company and Allen & Robinson, wherein the plaintiff seeks to recover on a shipment of cement sold by the defendants at Honolulu. The lower court gave judgment for the defendant in each case.

In a decision handed down today, the supreme court states it will overrule the exceptions Stella Peck named against her and A. H. Dondero by Oliver G. Lansing, has made to the judgment of the circuit court, in case however, the plaintiff files a remittitur in her favor in the sum of $100. Lansing sued on three promissory notes aggregating $1216.60 and judgment was given in the lower court against Dondero for the amount claimed and against the garnishee, Stella Peck, for $622.50.

The ladies of Central Union church will welcome the ladies of the other churches of Honolulu in the parish house tomorrow afternoon from 3 to 5. The musical program for the occasion promises to be of unusual charm. It comprises piano solos by Mrs. Elsa Cross-Howard, Miss Katherine L. Reynolds and Mrs. Kenneth Barnes and songs by Mrs. A. G. M. Robertson and Mrs. Robbins Anderson. This informal fest will furnish a splendid opportunity for the ladies of the town to meet each other and strangers and visitors are especially invited to be present.

W. O. FRANKLIN WINS.
W. O. Franklin, local representative of the Brunswick-Balke-Collender Co., last night defeated K. L. Andrews of this city in a 500-point billiard match, 14:2 balk line. The match turned out to be a one-sided affair, Franklin running his 500 to Andrews' 250. The winner's high run was 33 and his average 5.

U. S. District Attorney Breckons or the court with any information in his possession if they would come to his office.

Treaty is Consulted.
On receipt of that message court was called again. Judge Clemons announced that due to an apparent misunderstanding between the prosecution and the Spanish consul the latter could not then be obtained as a witness. He announced a recess would be taken until 2 o'clock and that in the interim a line of procedure to fit the unusual situation might be determined.

It is stated that the treaty between Spain and America provides for the attendance of consuls at trials, either civil or criminal, at the ports where they are stationed in cases in which their evidence may be of value, and also that upon the invitation of the court the consul shall attend without undue delay. It is understood, however, that one clause dealing with this subject makes the additional provision that the consul may submit his information by writing, or that it may be taken orally by the court at his, the consul's, office.

Whether this is the clause under which Consul d'Arana is acting is not known. It is stated, however, that such information as he would give in writing would not be very good evidence, if it were accepted at all, in the present case. In other words, the prosecution of the case, which the consul himself instigated and urged, may be materially hampered by the unusual position which he has taken so unexpectedly today.

Today's development is only one of a series of peculiar incidents that have appeared in the progress of the trial. Though the case and the persons involved are by no means unusual, a string of events has seriously hampered the trial. The hearing began about a week ago and in the ordinary course of events should not have required more than a day and a half or two days' time. First, the accused woman took ill, causing a delay of several days. When she recovered and the case was again called, it was found that E. A. McHenry, one of the jurors, was ill and would be unable to assume his court duties for several days. This resulted in a dismissal of the other jurymen sitting in the trial and the calling of a new panel. That panel began its work yesterday, three witnesses being examined. Now another delay is threatened.

When court convened at 2 o'clock this afternoon the prosecution closed its case and the defense began the introduction of its evidence. This is taken to mean that the government will proceed in its effort to convict the couple without the testimony of Consul d'Arana. It is understood a note is expected from the consul, however, explaining his position in the affair and setting forth in full his reasons for non-compliance with the court's request.

'FRAME-UP' OPIUM RAID NOW IS BEING EXPLAINED IN COURT

Au Lin Tim, a Chinese arrested several weeks ago on a charge of preparing a "frame-up" against a police informer, by which it is alleged he hoped to send the informer to prison for opium smuggling received a partial hearing before U. S. Commissioner George A. Davis yesterday afternoon. The hearing has been continued to tomorrow afternoon.

Lum Chan, one of the men arrested at the same time by the federal authorities, occupied the witness stand yesterday, telling his story of the affair. It was stated that Au Lin Tim was operating one of the gambling games raided by the police a few weeks ago, on information given them by the informer. To "get even," it is asserted, Au Lin Tim stated that the informer had contracted opium in his possession, and that Lum Chan could lead the officers to the cache.

The latter, it appears, led the raid on the police informer's place unwittingly, placing opium in the man's room that had been handed him by one of the gambling bud involved in the affair with Au Lin Tim. At least this seems to have been the substance of his story before the commissioner yesterday.

THE CLARION

MARCIAL ACQUITTED

After 15 minutes' deliberation a jury in Judge Robinson's division of circuit court acquitted James Marcial at noon today of the charge of uttering a forged check. Marcial was acquitted Monday by a jury in the same court of the charge of attempting to pass the forged paper, the prosecution being unable to prove definitely that he had a hand in it. The same difficulty confronted the prosecution in its effort to convict him for forging the name of Dr. F. H. Schurmann to the check presented at the bank for payment.

Deputy Sheriff Rose is holding an inquest this afternoon over the body of James Williamson of the 25th regiment whose body was found yesterday at the Oahu railway station.

EXPLOSION IS CAUSE OF DEATH OF 2 JAPANESE

In the act of touching off 14 separate charges of giant powder, inserted along the line of a cross-cut tunnel at the Waialeale water plant, two Japanese, engaged as sub-contractors, lost their lives yesterday.

At 9:30 last evening, despite the efforts of Drs. Arthur P. Jackson and J. Dunne, who through a series of operations endeavored to save the life of Kulahiro, one of the injured, he died at Queen's Hospital.

Deputy Sheriff Water Davis, on the windward side of the island, has not reported the name of the Japanese who died near the scene of the accident. That official will conduct an inquest over his demise at Haiea court house tomorrow.

Deputy Sheriff Charles Rose has endeavored to investigate the course of the tragedy and hopes to secure more detail following the appearance of several witnesses from the other side of the island, who have been summoned to be present at the coroner's inquest to be held at 3:30 this afternoon.

It is learned that a series of holes had been drilled along the excavation and into these had been placed a quantity of explosive. The Japanese had completed fitting fuses into the powder and were igniting them as they left the tunnel, when without a moment's warning a terrific explosion filled the place. One Japanese who succeeded in gaining the outside of the tunnel, was found to have been terribly mangled, and he died soon after from his injuries. Kulahiro, who was afterward removed from the excavation by fellow-workmen, was hurried to Honolulu for treatment. His face and body were literally filled with small portions of broken rock and debris. The man retained consciousness until brought to the hospital. He was unable to give the officers any information concerning the cause of the accident.

In the opinion of Deputy Sheriff Rose, the death of the two men is laid to the premature explosion of the charge resulting from a short fuse.

Y. W. C. A. INVITES ALL TO MID-WEEK PRAYER

A final invitation is extended to the friends of the Y. W. C. A. to attend one of the midweek services held at the Methodist, the Christian and the Central Union churches this evening at 7:30. The programs will be too interesting to miss. Speakers and musicians will do their best to make the service worth while. Men and women invited.

The fifth National Conservation Congress, to be held in Washington, D. C., November 18, 19 and 20, is to be devoted largely to forest conservation, because of the national importance of the subject in its many phases. Public interest is involved, because upon the proper solution of the various problems depends the case of the wood, without which our civilization would decline; the perpetuation of the timber supply; the development of hydro-electric power; the utilization of non-agricultural lands; the availability of water for irrigation; the preservation of forest areas for health and recreation, and many other developments essential alike to every citizen from the lumberman to the man who owns neither a tree nor a foot of land.

While intensive forest management, on the European plan, has not been applied on private holdings, the lumbermen are slowly realizing that their business is furthered by co-operation with public interests. Forestry and lumbering are receiving mutual recognition, which will make for forest conservation under the combined stimulus of education and economic development.

CARRYING OUT THE "CANAL PROGRAM"

The formal ceremonies that marked the completion of the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company's floating drydock yesterday have wider significance than merely the addition of another large plant to Honolulu's growing industries. This plant at once puts the port of Honolulu in a position to compete with other ports on the Pacific for one large element in a rapidly-developing ocean commerce.

A member of the territorial harbor commission, coming back recently from a trip to the Atlantic coast, said this:

"Honolulu's biggest asset in the fight for the Panama canal trade will be the presence of the Inter-Island drydock."

He found the shipping men of the East quick to ask the question, "What facilities has Honolulu for drydocking our steamers, for repair work?" And because the Inter-Island had displayed foresight and business acumen as well as public spirit, he was able to answer that Honolulu in this respect at least will be "ready for the canal."

What private capital has been able to do, public capital must also do, not to conflict with the private drydock, but to supplement it with new wharves, ships, warehouses, and up-to-date equipment for handling freight cargoes.

Honolulu is far from "ready for the canal." Yesterday's ceremonies of christening a new drydock should be followed by unceasing efforts to do the many other things vital in a program of preparedness.

MANIFEST POLITICAL DESTINY

United States Senator William E. Borah of Idaho, generally regarded as a public servant of the highest type, delivered a notable speech in New Jersey a few days ago in which he declared that the manifest destiny of the Progressive party is to capture the Republican party and revitalize it along the lines of progressivism.

By the Progressive party, it should be understood, Borah means not only the men who stood with Roosevelt at Armageddon but the thousands of Republicans who were out of sympathy with the leaders of the G. O. P. in 1912 yet who declined to sanction a bolt or a third-term movement.

Borah's speech is indicative of the trend of national politics this fall. That trend, it is becoming more and more apparent, is toward amalgamation of the two parties, with probably an out-and-out Progressive for president in 1916. In his address to the New Jerseyites Borah said:

There were a number of people who were singularly interested in the Progressive cause who did not join the third party movement. They believed then and they believe now that the vast majority of Republican voters are progressive; and that in order to make a Progressive party it is only necessary to organize the voters of that party. Whatever the mistakes were at Chicago, they did not change the personnel or the character of the rank and file of the party; they did not change their views on citizenship, upon currency, upon corporation control, upon social justice or any other question.

The great body of the voters who belong to that party were unaffected by any mistakes which were made at Chicago and, however sincere those may have been who saw fit, by reason of those mistakes to leave the party, it must be conceded that the only thing that was necessary, as a matter of fact, was to purge the party of the features of the national convention system, which have become objectionable.

The last six months have demonstrated to the satisfaction of anyone, it would seem to me, that the vast majority of those who voted for the third party last fall have concluded to realign themselves with the Republican organization. They are doing this because they are convinced that it is the only effective way for them to get results. More than 60 per cent of them have gone back in Michigan; less than 10 per cent remained in the third party in the test in Maine and just about 10 per cent remained in the third party in the test in West Virginia.

The vote on a Judgeship in Illinois a few days ago disclosed the fact that although they had 36,000 votes last November, they had only 9,000 last Tuesday.

In view of these figures, and the inevitable trend of politics as disclosed by these elections, is it not the thing for the Progressive forces to do now to take possession of the Republican party, organize it from top to bottom, write a Progressive platform and elect a Progressive candidate in 1916? All of which is thoroughly within our power to do if we unite for the purpose.

Little stands in the way of the program that Borah outlines. If the Roosevelt Progressives will abandon their stand against the use of the Republican party name, the rest of the merger will be fairly easy, for the rank and file of the Republicans are as anxious to unseat the Barnes-Penrose-Lorimer element as are the Bull Moose apostles.

MORE ABOUT THE FRONTAGE-TAX

A correspondent in a letter published elsewhere today calls attention to the remarkable benefits obtained in California under the frontage-tax plan of local improvement. Richmond, a thriving young municipality, has literally pulled itself out of a mud-hole. Honolulu, following the same plan, should pull itself out of the chuck-holes that now plentifully adorn main-travelled streets.

In California the property directly benefited pays its share of the cost of improvement. This same principle should obtain down here. It will probably be found that some property not fronting on the street to be improved is directly benefited by the improvement. To determine the extent of the district subject to special tax will be no small job, but what other cities have done surely Honolulu can do.

Honolulu's needs in the way of schools, a city hall, a city hospital, new fire-houses, extension of the hydrant system, extension of the police and fire-alarm box systems, development of the water, sewer and storm-drain systems,—to mention only a few of the most pressing wants—make it imperative, as Senator Judd has pointed out, that property benefited by special street improvements pay for its proportion of the benefits.

If there is a supervisor or a private citizen with any other proposal for financing the Greater Honolulu, let him arise and speak.

The christening of the new Inter-Island drydock yesterday opens up an interesting possibility in the way of controversy. "Hoolana" is the name of the structure, and in the crowd of spectators at the christening were between three and five hundred varying translations of the word. Some say "hoolana" is "to make floating," others, "to float." Still others maintain that the word is adjectival, "floating." Several disputants narrowly averted good-humored hostilities in the discussion. In the interests of public enlightenment, this paper will open its columns to the etymological skirmish that is bound to place unless the wind changes.

Boss Murphy of Tammany Hall is not willing to resign his power. Although overwhelmingly defeated and discredited in the recent city and state election, he is out to fight. Dudley Field Malone, Wilson's choice for collector of the port. It will be a losing fight. Murphy's reign is probably ended; at least, so long as Wilson is president, Tammany Hall will receive no comfort from the White House.

Advocates of non-intervention in Mexico can hardly criticize Wilson's course. He is showing a forbearance that is admirable and a strength of character that is unusual, and if the signs are read aright, pressure is being brought on Huerta, which even that stiff-necked dictator cannot long resist. By the end of November Huerta is likely to step down and out.

Uncle Joe Cannon is talking of running for Congress again. Illinois could bear this with equanimity, but when the notorious William Lorimer begins getting ready for another race for the United States senate, the state becomes uneasy of its reputation.

Czar Ferdinand of Bulgaria is getting uneasy about his throne. The Bulgarians have a rough-and-ready system of recall that is rather effective.

Old Porfirio Diaz advises Huerta to resign for the good of his country—and Porfirio knows what he is talking about.

Fighting the devil with fire seems to be the British militant idea of campaigning for the ballot.

Possibly Mexican intervention is being held up until Dr. Juan B. Ruffo arrives on the scene.

Naturally, Malone ought to be able to give Murphy all the fight he seeks.

If Yuan Shih-Kai has his way, he will be the emperor of a republic.

Legislation in Washington is now just one caucus after another.

In this emergency, why not recall the Colonel?

RED CROSS SUGGESTION.

EUGENICS.

Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin, Sir: The attention of lawmakers, playwrights and even journalists might well be asked to a recent statement of Karl Pearson, head of the Galton laboratory of the University of London. Pointing out that the ideal of the founder of eugenics was racial betterment by the scientific study of heredity and environment, and then by a popular movement emphasizing the national importance of these factors and urging their consideration by legislators and social reformers, he went on to say that before his death Sir Francis Galton was depressed by the failure to perceive that much scientific progress must be made before men started rashly to apply conclusions. "Years of patient work," says Mr. Pearson, "in medical-social observation and genetic experiment are needed before the laws of eugenics can be dogmatically stated." How much loose thinking there is in America upon eugenics, is evident to any one who picks up one of the recent magazines giving an account of the "eugenic" baby exhibition in Denver, attends a "eugenic" play, reads of the "eugenic" marriage laws of Pennsylvania and the west. The harm of such loose thinking was lately remarked upon by a scientist who noted a press statement that, "eugenically," a man weak in certain physical or mental qualities should find a mate strong in those directions. Even in the eugenic millennium men will have to use their minds.

EDUCATOR.

PRaise FOR THE FRONTAGE-TAX PLAN.

Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin, Sir:—I read with much interest the report of the meeting of Kaimuki residents at Liliuokalani school, as published last night, and also the letter of Observer, and I would ask the privilege of stating a few observations of the frontage-tax scheme as it obtains in California—my home state—and particularly in one of the cities of the northern part of the state. In order that I may not be too severely censured, I make a mis-statement when I mention the new law in Hawaii. I will say that I am not wholly familiar with its provisions, but when I speak of my observations in California, I do so with a fair knowledge of the question. In California, the general principle is, as Observer so aptly says, "He who dances must pay." The property owner pays only for the work actually done on streets that pass his property when the original improvement is made, but he must pay his ordinary rate of taxation to help maintain streets in other parts of the city that have been completed.

In the northern part of California, I think the city that has taken the most interest in the frontage improvement is the city of Richmond, from which place I came to Honolulu about two years ago. This city, which 10 years ago was a big marsh and grain field, is today one of the most progressive cities in California—in fact, only seven years ago, its business thoroughfares were bogs in the winter time, with three or four feet of mud to wade through. I recall witnessing an amusing incident there in 1907, when a brewery wagon sank in the mud after floundering around like a drunken man in an effort to cross the street to deliver a keg of beer to a customer on the opposite side, but the driver was resourceful and rushed to the blacksmith shop and had a wide-rimmed sled constructed and a couple of hours afterward was sliding his beer over the mud streets as though it were an every-day occurrence. But now things are different. And all because of the frontage tax law enacted by the California legislature about that time.

Today Richmond has over 150 miles of the best streets in the world, and more new streets are being constructed—all on the frontage tax plan. The cost runs from about $200 to about $350 per lot, depending on the amount of fill or grading to be done, and the particular quality of road desired. The complete payment of the assessment can be made at the time the street is accepted by the city and the interest of deferred payments is ascertained. In placing the call for bids, it is ascertained that the city has sufficient money to cover a portion of the cost of construction. In the first place the street is partitioned for by those desiring the improvement, two-thirds of the property owners within the district to be improved having to sign the petition before the call is issued. In some few instances large property-holders have been able to temporarily defeat the desire of the many small holders, but a little scheming by enlarging the proposed district in order to overcome the large land-holders has worked like a charm. The corner-lot man is the only sufferer by the scheme and usually he is a willing martyr.

The tax rate for the city as a whole is not raised in the least by the work in any one part of the city. The district securing the improvement agrees to complete the payments within a specified time, and it does so.

Now I would like to say a word about Observer's observation that there would be more clerks necessary to handle the work, certain things would get lost, and things would get mixed up in the shuffle. Sure, they would, where everybody is in politics and cannot see the interests of the taxpayer except for what they can get out of him, or her. The city of Richmond was one of the first cities to take up a commission form of government, and all politics is eliminated. It is a case of the most popular and efficient man winning, regardless of party affiliations. The commissioners are supreme. They hire and fire the auditor, tax collector, city clerk and police chief. The coroner's duties are performed by the county government. And with the exception of the police chief, no head of a department has more than one assistant, to my knowledge, and there are dozens of jobs of street improvement going on all the time, besides harbor and other works. The tax rate up to last year when harbor bonds were voted, was $1.00. The assessable property has increased many-fold in value by the improved condition of the streets; factories have been induced to locate by reason of the progressiveness of the city and the low tax rate. Any member of the council can be recalled for cause. Let the supervisors of Honolulu forget that they are Democrats or Republicans, as the case may be, and remember that they are just men working shoulder to shoulder with their brother taxpayers and citizens and thereby inspire the confidence of their fellow-men and they will find themselves on the top wave of popularity from which it would be hard to dislodge them except by some disloyal act they have committed, and it wouldn't take long for them to hear about it, either.

MALIHINI.

ARMY VIEWS ON THE CANTEEN.

Honolulu, Oahu, Nov. 12, 1913. Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin, Sir: I noticed in last night's issue of the Star-Bulletin the statement that the surgeon-general was not opposed to the army canteen. The statement which was printed in your paper was that Colonel L. M. Maus, chief surgeon and medical inspector of the eastern division of the U. S. army, has furnished valuable testimony showing that since the abolishment of the sale of liquors in the army, the conditions have improved vastly.

Yours truly, (Signed) GEO. W. PATY.

AUSTRALIA SENDS OUT 152 TONS OF BUTTER IN MONTH

[By Latest Mail] MELBOURNE, Australia.—During the fortnight ending August 28, 1913, 4273 boxes of butter were inspected in Victoria for ports beyond the commonwealth. Of these 2846 boxes were of butter in bulk, weighing 73½ tons; 394 were of butter in tins, weighing 9½ tons, and 933 were of butter in tins, weighing 38½ tons. The total number of boxes destined for the United Kingdom was 2776, of which 1571 were salted and 1205 were unsalted; 478 boxes were destined for South African ports, and 1019 were for export to eastern and other ports. The actual exports of butter during the same period totaled 100½ tons, of which 38½ tons went to the United Kingdom, 17 tons went to South Africa and 44½ tons went to eastern and other ports. The approximate value of the butter exported amounted to £11,027.

During the month of August a total of 152 tons of butter was exported, 38½ tons of butter going to the United Kingdom, 22 tons to South Africa and other ports and 90½ tons going to eastern and other ports, while for the month of August, 1912, the figures were 209 tons exported, of which 24½ tons went to South Africa and 184½ tons to eastern and other ports.

LITTLE INTERVIEWS

—WILL MILES: There is going to be no shortage of politics this year, the direct primary law notwithstanding.

—MAYOR FERN: I am just thinking about my next grand ball for New Year's. The one that came off last New Year's was nui ka holomua.

—A. J. WIRTZ: The great importance of the civil service commission is just beginning to be realized. It has the best interests of the whole community at heart.

—E. E. BATTELLE: The incorporation of the Battelle Sugar Refining Company is coming along fine. I believe it will prove of greatest importance to the islands.

—C. G. BOCKUS: The hospitality of the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company at the christening of the new floating drydock was the most lavish and splendid of anything I have seen here.

—JUDGE A. D. LARNACH: I find that taking Judge Monsarrat's place in the district court keeps me mighty busy with my own work to do besides. Judge Monsarrat has told me he will be gone a month.

—W. R. FARRINGTON: I am glad that Mr. Castle thinks I am exactly right, in spots. I am also glad that we have a president who has advanced "the crude idea" that it is our affair what sort of a ruler or dictator Mexico will have. Most every advanced American ideal put into practice has been characterized at one time or another, as crude. Mr. Castle apparently qualifies his doctrine of "my country, right or wrong." I prefer to take mine straight, especially when dealing with a problem in which alien friends figure.

HAROLD GIFFARD, of the firm of Giffard & Roth, will return from Hilo Tuesday. He left for that town Saturday. He plans to make a tour of the island with Harry Gray.

MR. ROCKEFELLER HEADS TAX LIST

[By Latest Mail] NEW YORK. According to the personal tax assessments for 1913 made public Wednesday, John D. Rockefeller owns more property than any other man in New York City. His personal property is assessed at $5,000,000. Other personal property assessments were: John D. Rockefeller, Jr., $334,500; William Rockefeller, $300,000; Thomas F. Ryan, $200,000; Mrs. Russell Sage, $464,000; Herbert L. Satterlee, $500,000; Jacob H. Schiff, $400,000; James Spover, $300,000; Herman Bleichen, $500,000. This does not include real estate, stocks or bonds.

Forest fires continue to destroy lives by hundreds and tangible assets averaging upward of $50,000,000 annually, and do incalculable damage to soil, water and young growth.

The laws in most states do not recognize forests as a crop to be perpetuated, but act to destroy the timber resources for the enrichment of the present to the poverty of the future.

She made her debut three years ago and belongs to the same coterie as Miss Ethel McAllister, Miss Cora Otis, Miss Frederica Otis, Miss Cora Smith, Miss Eliza McMullin, Miss Martha Foster and Misses Corenah and Elva de Pue. Dr. Langstroth is one of the promising young physicians of the city and with his brother, Frank Langstroth, is one of the popular bachelors of the smart set.

The five Simon sisters, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Simon of West Oak street, left today for San Francisco and on Wednesday will sail on the Wilhelmina for Hawaii, where they will tour the islands until Christmas, possibly taking a trip to Japan before returning to California. They will spend Thanksgiving day in Honolulu.

Mrs. Elsa Simon Pope is charming, vivacious and a talented pianist. The youngest of her sisters, Miss Eda Simon, is also a brilliant pianist, and Miss Ruby Simon is a violinist of no little attainment. Miss Froma Simon is clever with a brush and pencil. Her sketches and water colors are very attractive. Miss Emma Simon's talent takes a more financial trend than that of her sisters. She is a valued employee of the San Joaquin Valley Bank. Some time ago Miss Eda wrote a clever little skit which was presented at a local show house and which made a big hit.

It is seldom that one finds a family of five girls so talented and so devoted to each other. Last year the Simon girls visited Alaska—Stockton Record.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Cruthers, Mrs. H. Pape's Diapepsin belongs in your home anyway. Should one of the family eat something which don't agree with them or in case of an attack of indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis or stomach derangement at daytime or during the night it is handy to give the quickest, surest relief known.—advertisement.

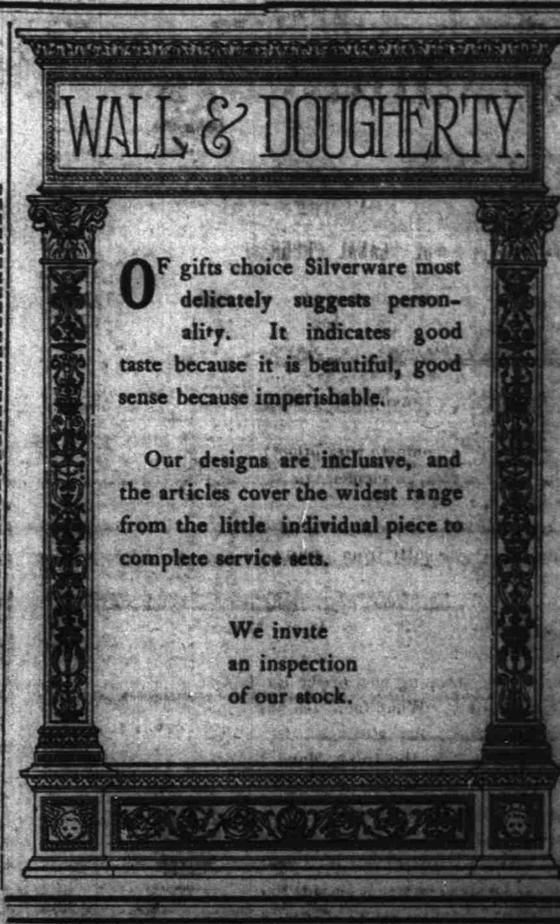

COMMERCIAL CLUB EXPECTS NEW RECORD AT NOON LUNCHEON

The entertainment committee of the Commercial Club predicts that the attendance at the noon meeting tomorrow will establish a new record for attendance, the feature of the occasion being the address by the guest at the luncheon, W. Mr. Donnelly has been a traveler on an extensive scale and undoubtedly will make some remarks that will prove highly interesting to the gathering.

The preservative treatment of timber is a potent factor in conservation, since it reduces the consumption and makes inferior species available. At present about 20 per cent of the crosses, but less than one-third of 1 per cent of the lumber used, is treated.

POPULACE CHAFES OVER HESITANCY OF HIS HONOR THE MAYOR

A delegation has been waiting to call on His Honor about the Thanksgiving proclamation. Time drawing near when the turkey is to be led to the banyard gullotine, and no proclamation so far having been issued, the populace seems to wonder if Mayor J. F. Fern will save the day with a proclamation setting aside November 27 as a day of feast and thanksgiving.

What will happen if His Honor fails to issue such a manifesto is not a subject for pleasant speculation. The mayor was not at his office today, nor could he be found about the city; so no statement could be had from him today. He has said that he will think over the matter thoroughly and that if he comes to the conclusion that it is the proper thing to do, he will rig up a ripping sort of proclamation for the day.

This is the first time His Honor has ever been called upon for a Thanksgiving proclamation. The reason why he is called on now is that Governor Frear, being out of the territory, cannot issue one, and Attorney-General Thayer, who in a few minor ways is acting as chief executive of the territory, refuses to proclaim Thanksgiving as a holiday.

So it is up to His Honor. When a proclamation was presented to him the other day for his signature he demurred about signing it, but in doing so he dropped the remark that he might execute it later. If he does not he will be open to the charge of being in league with the turkeys. It would be pretty soft for them if His Honor let the day slip by without any official recognition; for it would mean that a good many of their heads would be spared from the axe; as in numerous instances it would be a case of no proclamation, no turkey.

"If I don't make a mistake," said the mayor, "this proclamation business may be risky."

With that he closed the question for the time being, leaving only the assurance that he will think it over, and the hope that being a servant of the people he will serve them on this occasion, serve them with the much needed proclamation.

CHINESE GUARD COMPANY OFF TO A FLYING START

Pick of the Young Chinese-Americans Have Enlisted in Territorial Forces—Will Make Smart Soldiers

What is undoubtedly the first military organization of Chinese-Americans to wear the uniform of Uncle Sam, and bear arms for the nation, was launched with flying colors last night, when 57 prospective guardsmen, representing the best element of the local Chinese colony, took the oath that entitled them to serve as full-fledged members of the organized militia. This number is just one less than the minimum enlisted strength required for the company, but as 32 men who signed the application list were unable to be present at the bungalow last night, there is no doubt but that more than enough enlistments will be received within the next day or so, to allow of mustering in the company as a unit, taking into account possible rejections for physical and other causes.

It was an enthusiastic gathering at guard headquarters last night, and for nearly three hours the officers and non-coms of the guard who turned out to assist in putting the recruits through were kept busy assisting the men with their enlistment papers, and, after they had been properly sworn in, taking the necessary clothing measurements. As a class, the recruits stand very far above the average, the education and mental qualifications of the men being high. Nearly all are graduates of the grammar schools, and many have high school and college educations behind them. Some are still students, while others are teachers, bank tellers, clerks and holders of other responsible positions.

Recruit Enyou Kau had the distinction of winning the first marksmanship prize competed for by the new company. After the men had been sworn in and had been measured for uniforms, a sub-caliber rifle competition was started, a prize being offered by the new company commander for the best score. Enyou Kau made a 23 out of a possible 25.

Colonel Jones, Captain Kolb, and Captain Redington, who is in command of the new company, each gave a short talk on the prospects, military, social and athletic, which now open out before the Chinese-American soldiers.

Special orders No. 31 were published yesterday, as follows:

1. The following promotion is announced:
Walter V. Koh, 1st infantry, to the rank of captain from the date hereof.
2. Laurence W. Redington is appointed captain in the national guard with rank from date hereof.

By order of the Governor,
(Sgd.) JOHN W. JONES,
The Adjutant-General.

Following are the young Chinese-Americans who were last night sworn into the service of the territory, the names being given in the order of their appearance on the application list:

John Choy Lo, A. H. Wong, Harry H. Kong, Kan Yin Chun, Bung Chun Choy, Kim Tong Ho, Bung Hoon Choy, Hoon Chung Yin, T. Y. Alina, A. C. Soong, Lim Young, Edward Iau, Henry Char, Chey, Philip C. Wong, P. S. Tyan, Ching Kim Amona, Lan Young San, Sin You Char, Lee Quon, Yi Seong Ho, Charley Ah Chin, Chock Lou, Leong En Fo, Johanie L. Mew Hoy, E. K. Chung, A. F. Heu, Enyou Kau, Y. Y. IMPROVERS ASK CURBING ALONG WAIALAE ROAD

A resolution asking the supervisors to have a curbing built along Waiakula road to 16th avenue has been walks curbed along Waiakula road muki and Palolo Improvement Club. The resolution, which was passed at the meeting of the club October 15, reads as follows:

"Resolved that this club request the board of supervisors to enact the necessary ordinance for having sidewalks curbed along Waiakula road from Pakahula road to Sixteenth avenue."

In the communication containing the resolution, J. F. Child, secretary of the club, states that the curbing is a very much-needed improvement.

The resolution will be read at the meeting of the supervisors tomorrow noon, and will probably be referred to the road committee to be reported on at a later meeting.

President Joseph F. Smith of the Mormon church in a recent interview in Chicago came out flat-footed for woman suffrage.

DREDGING ON KUHIO WHARF NEARLY DONE

With Chairman Caldwell and Engineer Parke absent on a tour of inspection to Hawaii, a brief session of the board of harbor commissioners was held this morning, the principal business being the reading of communications and ordering paid the usual bills. The report of the engineer was read, dealing with the work which is now going on on the different wharves of the territory.

A communication was received from J. C. Ross, Jr., who was recently awarded the contract for the construction of the Mahukona wharf, saying that the work will be begun at an early date, and another from the Hawaiian Dredging Company to the effect that its work on the new Kuhio wharf will be completed by the first of next week. Upon the reading of a report from the engineer, it was voted to install water taps on the Queen street wharf for the convenience of the stevedores. A report on the tonnage tax investigation will be made at the next meeting, the committee in charge having asked for an extension of time in which to complete its findings.

BILL FOR C. W. FAT WORRIES HARBOR BOARD

A slight mistake in the making out of one of the bills presented to the board of harbor commissioners this morning, caused considerable food for thought for the members of that body until Clerk Frank Poor came to the rescue with an explanation. Secretary Church was leading the amounts and items of the various bills, when he suddenly stopped and gazed at one for several moments before resuming.

"Have any Chinese merchants bills against the board?" he asked, glancing inquiringly across the table at Commissioner McCarthy.

"Not to my knowledge," answered McCarthy. "How about it, Poor?"

Clerk Frank Poor looked surprised, picked up the bill, read it over, and then looked still more surprised.

"Here is a bill of $120 from one C. W. Fat, but he doesn't say what he sold us," continued Secretary Church. Mystery prevailed and then Poor suggested that Harbormaster Foster be called in.

Foster appeared at the meeting, glanced over the bill, noted the air of profound mystery, and then smiled.

"The fellow who made out this bill forgot to make it out according to specifications," he said. "The item should read 'one can c. w. fat.' You see the stuff is wool fat and, as I have occasion to use it around the office once in a while, I get a can occasionally. Foster produced the can and the commission was satisfied.

SWARTZ, A VALUABLE LOCAL DOG, TAKES FIRST

"Swartz," a valuable canine, the property of P. W. Ryan of this city, the animal being closely related to a dog owned by John Waterhouse, is credited with having been judged as the best dachshund in the state of California, according to advices received here in the last mail.

The revised list of prize-winning dogs sent out by the Sonoma county Bench Association shows that the canine recently sent to the coast by Ryan has been awarded the first prize for being the best American bred dachshund in that state. A former announcement made had placed the dog as a second class prize winner, but this proved to be an error, and Swartz was the means of bringing to his owner the handsome stiver cup.

"Fresno" Dan Russell has been declared to be the long lost son of Daniel Russell of Cambridge, Mass., and consequently entitled to a large share of the $500,000 estate. The litigation in this, now famous, case has covered a period of several years, a number of claimants having attempted to annex the fortune.

A. H. FORD TELLS NEW ZEALAND NO 'YELLOW PERIL' ON PACIFIC

There is no "yellow peril," declares Alexander Hume Ford, and the editor of the Mid-Pacific Magazine has been telling the New Zealanders all about it. He is quoted at length in the Wellington Evening Post of October 4. The article says:

"Much twentieth century talk is directed into the problematical channel of discussion on the 'yellow peril' question. Particularly does this refer to Australia and New Zealand, owing to their comparatively close proximity to China and Japan. The 'Menace of the East' has occasioned such widespread interest since Japan's signal triumph over Russia and the more recent awakening of China that the views of one of those in a position to form an opinion should make interesting reading. Mr. Alexander Hume Ford, of Honolulu, editor of the Mid-Pacific Magazine, comes from Hawaii, whose polyglot population of about 250,000 souls includes in round figures 60,000 Japanese, 20,000 Chinese, 10,000 Koreans and 20,000 Hawaiians. Reckon in also 15,000 Filipinos, 15,000 Portuguese, 15,000 Europeans, and a sprinkling of Spaniards, and one can realize, pointed out Mr. Ford, that Hawaii affords plenty of material for an object-lesson to the world. From his experience in the Pacific and his personal observations in Japan, our informant stated that he was convinced that Australasia and the American Pacific states were all barking up the wrong tree. The 'yellow peril' which many inhabitants in these countries professed to see looming up on the Eastern horizon was all a bogey! The Orientals believed in a policy of live and let live. 'Just keep out of their country,' remarked Mr. Ford, 'and don't interfere with their industrial concerns, and they will keep away from your country and let you keep it white.' Proceeding, he went on to point out that it was the Orientals who feared European invasion. 'One only had to look to India and at the Philippines to see the force of this argument. Japanese in California.

"Japan believes in a white man's Australia and in a white man's New Zealand," asserted Mr. Ford. "She will not permit her citizens to go to any white man's country where they are not wanted. The whole trouble in California was simply that Japan wanted the privilege of forbidding her citizens to go there. She resented, however, the insult of having her people directly kicked out! America will make a mistake if she regards Japan too lightly. For their national honor the Japanese will fight to the last man. It is a 'foot' thing to bait Japan! America may kick her in the end but she will cripple herself in doing so." The speaker added that Japan refused to allow her citizens to go to Hawaii, the restriction being waived only in the case of women whose husbands had already settled in the islands. Japan had got Korea to develop without going to the Pacific.

No Racial Feeling.

Reverting to the Hawaiian Islands, Mr. Ford said that despite the heterogeneous population there was no race prejudice in his country. There was no inter-mixture of races, except in the case of Chinese and Hawaiians, who intermarried considerably. This fusion of this Pacific and Oriental blood had turned out to be a success. The Chinese married the Hawaiian women and their offspring made the best of school teachers. The children, most of whom were college graduates, inherited the wonderful business ability of the Chinese and the gentle temper of the native race. Although all the remaining races did not intermarry they had much in common. All attended the same schools, played baseball together and harmonized in various other connections. As Mr. Ford put it: "We each go about our own business in our own way; we have been educated together and have got to know each other. The Chinese and Japanese children are educated in our public schools. Every child born in Hawaii is an American citizen. They salute the Stars and Stripes and are for all the world little American citizens." Hawaii had much to thank his Oriental immigrants for, added our informant. The Chinese introduced banana culture and rice growing. No white man was going to wade up to his waist in water, no matter how important the rice industry was in the development of the country. The Europeans could not raise coffee until the Japanese came and made a success of it, and without the Oriental Hawaii would never have produced a ton of sugar.

"Hands Across the Pacific"

"Mr. Ford is keenly interested in the hands across the Pacific movement, and naturally he had much to say in favor of the subject. 'We in the Pacific want to know each other for our mutual benefit; that is the aim of our movement.' Proceeding, he pointed to the possibilities of an interchange of commerce. Especially was there a good market for New Zealand mutton and butter in Hawaii—only on the occasion of the S.S. Niagara's last call at Honolulu she landed some 1500 tons of New Zealand cargo. The Pacific states of America should also prove good customers if the 'Hands Across the Pacific' movement were taken up with sufficient enthusiasm. Further, China and Japan, when developed, would fall into higher standards of living, and should become big consumers of Australasian meat. With the object of giving fillip to the movement Mr. Ford explained that he was on a tour round the Pacific."

DID CHILD WAKE UP CROSS OR FEVERISH?

Look Mother! If tongue is coated give "California Syrup of Figs" to clean the bowels.

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign, its little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, remember, a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given.

Nothing equals "California Syrup of Figs" for children's ills; give a teaspoonful, and in a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food which is clogged in the bowels passes out of the system, and you have a well and playful child again. All children love this harmless, delicious "fruit laxative," and it never fails to effect a good "mild" cleansing. Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly on the bottle.

Keep it handy in your home. A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, by getting the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Counterfeits are being sold here. Don't be fooled!—advertisement.

It is a good habit to use an antiseptic mouth wash. Regular, daily use may prevent serious illness.

Typhoid and other germs are introduced into the system through the mouth. Food and drink are impregnated with infection. You protect yourself against these evils if you rinse mouth and teeth regularly.

The best antiseptic is

REMEDIANT LISTOGEN ANTISEPTIC

It goes further than Peroxide of Hydrogen by uniting with that most efficient germ destroyer the healing properties of Thymol, Menthol and Eucalyptol. Its action is thus healing as well as cleansing.

Ask your druggist for LISTOGEN. Use it daily. You will delight in the purifying, refreshing sensation it gives. 25c, 50c and $1.00 bottle at

BENSON, SMITH & CO., LTD.

RUSSIANS SHOW NEW INTEREST IN DEVELOPING TRADE

(By Latest Mail)

ODESSA, Russia.—M. Timasheff, minister of trade and industry, recently published some statistics which show the development of industry and commerce in Russia. From Jan. 1 to Aug. 1, 1912, 180 commercial and industrial limited liability companies were organized, and their statutes confirmed by the ministry, their aggregate capital being R.225,000,000. From Aug. 1, 1912, to Aug. 1, 1913, 351 new companies were registered in the same ministry, with a total capital of R.442,000,000.

M. Timasheff finds pleasure in recording that the greater part of the capital mentioned was subscribed by Russian investors, indicating that the Russian is at last rousing himself to take his proper share in the exploitation of his country's natural riches and resources.

The federal government controls, on the national forests, about one-fifth of the standing timber, and by proper utilization and protection makes it a present asset and a perpetual resource.

ADVANCE STEP IS MARKED IN THE HARBOR ACTIVITY OF HONOLULU

Christening of New Inter-Island Drydock, the 'Hoolana' is a Notable Event—Hospitality Displayed Is Most Lavish and Distinguished List of Invited Guests Is Present

An event that marked a new and progressive era in shipping at the port of Honolulu was celebrated yesterday under the most auspicious circumstances in the christening ceremonies attendant upon placing in commission the big new 4500 ton pontoon floating drydock constructed by the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company.

More than a thousand people were attracted to the waterfront between 3 and 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon as the huge structure, bearing the flagship Mauna Kea, representing a dead weight of 2600 tons, majestically rose out of the water of the harbor, to an inspiring program of melodies from the Royal Hawaiian band.

Society was liberally represented in the great gathering assembled on an improvised grandstand and upon a large barge moored within a few feet of the drydock.

The crash of a bottle of champagne against the wall of steel at the left wing of the dock was the signal for the starting of 16 large force pumps that began to send 10-inch streams of water from out the wings at the rate of about 2,000,000 gallons in 40 minutes.

When Miss Alice Alcott Dowsett, daughter of Sen. and Mrs. J. W. Dowsett, proclaimed the name "Hoolana" before the assembled multitude, the drydock, which for the past three months has served to give employment to more than one hundred men, can be said to have begun its great work as a factor in Hawaiian maritime industries.

J. A. Lyle, who superintended the work of building the wooden pontoons, gave the signal for starting the machinery. J. A. Lewis, the man behind the large force of employees who had to do with the entire construction of steel and iron work incorporated in the structure, watched the operation of the result of his labors with keen interest.

As general superintendent of construction, Lewis is given credit for having been instrumental in the prompt completion of the dock as well as its satisfactory initial performance.

Refreshments of a tempting nature were served in the course of the afternoon.

Among the large number of invited guests gathered on the barge and nearby dock were most of the men in public life in territorial and municipal offices. Former Governor Sanford B. Dole, together with other members of the bench, attended the ceremonies.

The harbor commission was out in force, interested spectators at the launching of a structure in which the port is greatly interested.

Queen Liliuokalani, an honored guest, came in an automobile that was driven upon the dock, near the left wing of the drydock. She was attended by Col. C. P. Iaukea and others, Col. Iaukea and Mrs. Dominis remaining in the auto while the rest of the party alighted.

Charles G. Bockus, who was among the guests, is most enthusiastic over the lavish entertainment and the spirit of hospitality shown by each and every member of the company.

Mr. Bockus also was present at the Union Iron Works in San Francisco when the Mauna Kea was launched and states that the coast firm provided "some" entertainment, but adds that it was not a marker on that provided yesterday.

He says: "I have attended a number of entertainments of a similar nature, but never do I remember being present at one at which the hospitality of yesterday afternoon and evening was equaled. The company deserves the highest commendation for its excellent hospitality and I believe that when I make this statement I echo the sentiments of every one who was present. It was a great event and one that I should have regretted not being able to attend."

MOVIES PROVE LARGE AID TO RED CROSS SALE

But Two More Days During Which Stamps May Be Had. Expect to Dispose of All

But two more days remain in which to complete the campaign which has been carried on since Monday in the sale of the several thousand Red Cross Christmas seals which have been allotted to Oahu, the proceeds of which will be devoted to the prevention of tuberculosis in the Hawaiian Islands.

Mrs. F. M. Swamy, who is chairman of the committee having charge of the local campaign, reports this morning that the exact number of stamps sold will not be ascertained until Saturday, but she thoroughly believes that by that time every available little messenger of mercy will have been disposed of.

One of the biggest factors in the success of the campaign are the reels of motion pictures, sent out by the National Anti-Tuberculosis Association, showing the true meaning of the Red Cross seal, which are being shown at the local theaters each evening.

It is a gripping picture throughout, full of life and having a strong moral. The "Awakening of John Bond" should be seen by all those who would understand why, at this time of year, the seals is carried on.

The United States is using three times as much timber as she grows each year, and worst of all, utilizing only 50 to 70 per cent of each tree cut down, while fire destroys the equivalent of each year's new growth.

A majority of the forested states have organizations which are going effective work in forest protection and education.
