SUPERVISORS GIVEN A LESSON IN NECESSITY OF STRICT ECONOMY

City Fathers, in Caucus Yesterday, Learn That the Sum of $2000 Will Be Balance on Hand at End of Present Year, Against $74,000 on First of Present One—Deputy Auditor Lloyd Prepares Interesting Figures

| Items in the expense account of the city and county for present year: | |
|---|-----------|
| Protection of life and property | $200,000 |
| General Government | 60,000 |
| Courts | 55,000 |
| Sanitation and health | 60,000 |
| Recreation | 54,000 |
| Liquor Commission | 7,500 |
| Incidental | 10,000 |
| Maintenance of Roads | 125,000 |
| Total | $562,000 |
| Revenue for 1913 | $364,000 |
| Balance on hand Jan. 1, 1914 | $ 2,000 |
| Balance on hand Jan. 1, 1913 | $ 74,000 |

Meeting for six hours, laboring over the new budget which goes into effect the first of the year, the board of supervisors at a special caucus meeting yesterday morning and afternoon had the necessity for strict economy demonstrated to them. Without finally passing on the measure, the city fathers discussed almost every item in it with the result that the majority of the large accounts have been informally agreed upon.

Figures compiled by James Lloyd, deputy city and county auditor, the most important and significant ones of which are given above, plainly corroborate the statement of Supervisor McClellan, chairman of the ways and means committee, that economy must be the watchword of the board in preparing the new budget.

Due to the creation of the new revolving fund, known as the cash basis fund, by which a sum amounting to about $12,000 a year is set aside, and due also to extra expenses of the city and county during the last semi-annual period, the balance to be carried over the first of the year is estimated at only about $2000. This cash basis fund is made up of one-fourth of one per cent on the assessed value of the real and personal property of the island, which is estimated at $87,000,000.

"Nine persons out of 10," says Lloyd, "do not know what it costs the government for running expenses—the people content themselves with thinking that it consists of paying enormous salaries to officials and clerks. As a matter of fact, a passing resume of the three quarterly reports of the auditor, showing disbursements of current revenues, will bring out that the expense of maintaining the city and county government for a year is approximately as follows:

GENERAL GOVERNMENT: Under this heading comes the salaries of all elective officers, with their office force and office expenses—$60,000 a year; or, which $43,500 are salaries fixed by law.

THE COURTS: Including the salaries and expenses over which we have absolutely no control—$55,000 a year.

SANITATION AND HEALTH: Carrying with it the expense of a city and county physician, hospital and burial expenses, collection and disposal of garbage, milk and food inspectors—$60,000 a year.

RECREATION: Carrying the expense and upkeep of the parks and the Hawaiian band—$45,000 a year.

EXPENSE OF LIQUOR COMMISSION: Over which the city and county has no control—$7,500 a year.

INCIDENTAL EXPENSES: $10,000 a year.

"These figures show an expenditure of $427,500 out of current revenue for current expenses before one dollar can be diverted to the roads from such funds."

With only a $2,000 balance to be carried over, while last January $74,000 was the money on hand the first of the year, the problem presenting itself to the board of supervisors does not appear easy to solve. Though it has been conceded to the present board that it has been by far more economical than its predecessors in office, they nevertheless have a financial problem on their hands of no small size.

Supervisor McClellan has been putting in every available hour of the day, and the evenings as well, working on the new measure. Chairman of the ways and means committee, a large part of the burden of the budget has been thrown on the shoulders of McClellan, whose experience and ability have stood him in good stead.

One of the largest items, coming out of a special fund, is for permanent improvements and is not covered in the figures given above. A quarter of all the tax receipts is put in this fund, and the use of it is left mainly to the roads committee, of which Supervisor Petrie is chairman. The use to which a great deal of this money is to be put will be decided on before the budget is finally signed by Mayor Pepp.

Bill Would Give Additional Funds For Postoffice

Secretary Desha Discusses the Matter of Mahuka Site Building with the Architects

By C. S. ALBERT
(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 27.—Initial steps have been taken to secure an additional $125,000 for the new federal building on the Mahuka site in Honolulu. It is believed that this sum will be added to one of the appropriation bills during the regular session this winter.

A bill providing for the increase of cost has been introduced in the house by Secretary Desha, acting for Delegate Kalanians'ole.

The amount carried in the bill would bring the aggregate cost for site and building up to $1,450,000. The supervising architect of the treasury, in discussing this matter with Secretary Desha, expressed the opinion that a further allowance of $125,000 would leave a total of $350,000 for the new building, exclusive of the site. He believed this would be sufficient to complete the structure in a satisfactory and acceptable manner.

OPPORTUNITY FOR LABOR IN EUROPE GOOD—R. C. BROWN

Representative of Board of Immigration Returns After Two Years Abroad

Returning here after a two years' absence in Europe recruiting labor for the territorial board of immigration, Raymond C. Brown arrived by the steamer Sierra this morning, declaring that the opportunity was never brighter for the success of his work than at this time.

Recalled here by the board, it having been decided to abandon the work, Mr. Brown will appear before the board at the next meeting and report on the splendid condition of several European countries for labor recruiting. Not only, he says, is it without difficulty that men can be secured to come to these islands, but the opportunity of chartering steamers to bring them here has never been better. The tonnage rates are much more favorable than formerly, he says.

Letters sent from here by Spanish and Portuguese immigrants, to their friends in the old country, ringing with praise of the islands and their employment here, have had the result, says Mr. Brown, of causing many laborers to wish to leave their native land for Hawaii.

Mr. Brown was last in Russia, where, he says, the success of his work was assured. Before going there he was in Poland. He received the communication from the board ordering him to return in the latter part of September, and on November 5 he sailed for New York.

"I have not seen any of the board members since my return," said Mr. Brown this morning. "I do not know that they plan to discontinue labor recruiting."

Asked what his plans were for the future, he said: "My plans are entirely with the board of immigration. I shall do what they instruct me to do."

The recruiting agent was met at the wharf by many of his old friends with whom he was associated before going into the service of the immigration board. He was, before then, inspector in charge of the federal immigration station here and very successful in his work. There is some talk that he may return to the federal service.

JAPANESE VISITORS GUESTS OF ARMY IN REVIEW AT SCHOFIELD

Officers of Idzumo and Representatives of Nipponese Government Entertained by Commanders and Members of Brigade Staffs

Captain Moriama, Special Representative Hanihara of the Japanese state department, and 19 officers of the Japanese cruiser Idzumo, this morning witnessed a review of the troops at Schofield Barracks. As the guests of General Finston, General Macomb, and the members of the department and brigade staffs, the Japanese officers made a motor trip to Haleiwa, where luncheon was served, and on the way to the Waialua resort a stop was made at Schofield to witness the review.

The broad plain to the north of the infantry cantonment was thick with troops when the two general officers, with their staffs and the visiting naval men arrived at Leilehua. Horse, foot and wagon soldiers were formed ready for the review, and as soon as the visitors had taken the places near the reviewing point the command moved. Marching in company from the 25th and 1st regiments of infantry made an unusually impressive showing, this being the first review held since the strength of the companies has been materially increased. The organizations now average about 120 men, and this number makes a splendid showing in review. Colonel

Lyman W. V. Kennon, post commander, was the reviewing officer today and the men who marched formed a command that any officer might well be proud of.

Following the infantry, the 4th cavalry and 1st field artillery passed at the walk, trot, and finally thundered by at the gallop. All in all, the review was one of the most impressive and effective garrison ceremonies ever held at Schofield, and the Japanese officers were unfeigned in their praise of the appearance and discipline of the troops.

Besides the Honolulu officers and their guests, the review was witnessed by practically the entire population of Schofield, other than the troops actually engaged. There are several hundred cavalrymen and artillerymen, who, owing to lack of horses, were unable to take their place in the column, and a number of these turned out as spectators.

After the review the visitors made a short visit to the infantry club, and then took up the journey to Haleiwa.

L. T. PECK, IN NEW YORK, TELLS ABOUT TERRITORY

Will Stay for Franchise Legislation at Regular Session of Congress

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)
NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—L. T. Peck, president of the Honolulu Rapid Transit and Land Company, and cashier of the First National Bank of that city, is in New York at the Hotel Astor for a visit here of two weeks. Mr. Peck was in Washington, D. C., before coming here and appeared before the senate committee regarding the currency bill, as it came from the house of representatives. He said that the bill was in such shape that its adoption would have left the national banks of Hawaii out of consideration.

In an interview here Mr. Peck said: "I was asked to appear before the senate committee to suggest a proper amendment to the currency bill as it came from the house, where Hawaii had been altogether lost sight of. The bill was so framed that it would have automatically dissolved the five insular national banks in the territory. It provided that the federal reserve districts should be limited to continental territory of the United States and that national banks in the association which did not come into the new regional system within a year would be dissolved. After my testimony I was assured by the senate committee that our island national banks would not lose their charters.

PEARL HARBOR SITUATION CAUSES DANIELS TO URGE BIG DRYDOCK ON THE COAST

Recommends That Congress Enter Contract with Union Iron Works on Basis of Tonnage Handled — No Suggestion That Local Project Be Abandoned, but Urgent Need for Accommodation of Navy Vessels Is Emphasized

(Associated Press Cable)
SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Dec. 8.—Secretary of the Navy Daniels has asked Congress to enter into a contract with the Union Iron Works of San Francisco for the construction of a huge drydock capable of handling navy vessels. He urges that the contract be made on the basis of tonnage handled for the government by the firm's proposed drydock and says that the drydock should be 1100 feet long, 120 feet wide and 25 feet deep. This drydock, it is estimated, would cost $2,500,000. The collapse of the structure at Pearl Harbor and the inaccessibility of Mars Island, together with the present urgent need of such a drydock are given as the determining needs for the move made by Daniels.

The Associated Press dispatch above does not suggest that the Pearl Harbor drydock is to be given up, and those conversant with the Pearl Harbor situation declare that it will not be given up. The dispatch above evidently refers to the need for a large drydock in the Pacific capable of handling navy vessels within a short time from now, and indicates that the navy department does not expect the Pearl Harbor structure to be completed at as early a date as the Union Iron Works might finish the drydock Secretary Daniels urges.

MANY CLAMOR FOR PASSAGE TO HAWAII

More than a hundred Spanish, Portuguese and Filipinos sought in vain an opportunity of securing passage from San Francisco to Hawaii in the Oceanic liner Sierra that arrived at Honolulu this morning.

Plantation laborers, who were led to believe that the land of "golden fields" lay along the Pacific coast and harbored to the siren call of the employment agents, left the islands to take up work at vineyards and orchards in California and Oregon, are now beginning to feel the pinch of poverty according to the report from steamship officers.

The season along the coast has been brought to a close throwing thousands of men, women and children out of employment. Those who returned in the Sierra today declare that they have had enough of the mainland and are quite content to cast their lot with Hawaii in the future.

For the first three days following the departure from San Francisco the Sierra met with boisterous weather. However, 55 cabin and the delegation of stevedores passengers managed to keep to the decks and participate in a series of sports and entertainment planned and carried into successful execution through the efforts of Purser Sam Williams, Chief Steward Bickett and other officers.

The Sierra will be discharged of 1207 tons of cargo while here. Seventeen automobiles were included in the shipment. A mail amounting to 450 sacks was received with the arrival of the steamer.

In sailing for San Francisco at noon Saturday, the Sierra will carry between seventy and eighty cabin passengers, while a small quantity of sugar, preserved and fresh pineapples and bananas will be supplies as outgoing cargo.

Honolulu Carries New Sugar. About three thousand tons of new crop sugar will be forwarded to the mainland in the Matson Navigation steamer Honolulu that is to sail for San Francisco at 6 o'clock tomorrow evening.

HARBOR NOTES

The steamer Noeati is on the berth to sail for windward Kaula ports at 5 o'clock this evening.

With freight for Kahului and Maui ports, the steamer Claudine is scheduled to sail at 5 o'clock this evening.

Following a general inspection, the Inter-Island steamer Kinau will be dispatched for Kaula ports at 5 o'clock Tuesday evening.

Passengers and mail leaving Honolulu for the coast in the Pacific Mail liner Mongolia reached San Francisco on December 6th, according to receipt of late cables.

A small amount of sugar is awaiting shipment to the mainland in the Matson Navigation steamer Honolulu, to sail at 6 o'clock tomorrow evening.

For Ahukini and Nawiliwili, the steamer Likelike will sail at 5 o'clock this evening taking passengers and a small freight. This vessel is taking the place of the steamer Hall on the regular Kaula run.

The bark R. P. Rihet is reported along the coast to go out of commission, the vessel having been sent to Oakland Creek, there to await disposition of her owners.

The Kosmos line steamer Karnak, with shipments of fertilizer and European cargo from Hamburg, is reported to have sailed from the South American coast on December 6th, according to late cables received at the local branch of the Merchants' Exchange.

Late wireless messages from the Pacific Mail liner Nile are to the effect that the vessel is due from San Francisco on Tuesday afternoon and will be dispatched for the Far East Wednesday morning.

Scalp wounds and bruises resulted from a fall by William J. Kelly, who in attempting to board the U. S. coast and geodetic survey steamer Patterson, while on the floating drydock, dropped to a distance of fifteen feet. Kelly was taken to the hospital for treatment.

Coast advices receive the story that the Charles Nelson Company has purchased the veteran bark Albert, which for many years has been a factor in the lumber carrying trade between the Sound and the Hawaiian Islands. The Albert was operated by H. Hackfeld and Company.

A report has been received here that a Hawaiian member of the crew of the American-Hawaiian steamer Arizonan, became involved in a dispute with a Mexican customs officer while the vessel lay at Salina Cruz. The Hawaiian is alleged to have received a bullet wound in the shoulder and chest. Taken to the hospital for treatment his speedy recovery is predicted.

Much Freight Bearing Port. Freighters will monopolize the list of arrivals at the port for the week, the Matson Navigation steamer Hilonian, expected from San Francisco by the way of Sound ports, tomorrow afternoon and the American-Hawaiian Arizonan, with several thousand tons of cargo from the east as well as west coast of the United States, and due here on Friday, making up the bulk of prospective arrivals.

The Hilonian has merchandise and supplies for four island ports. This vessel is understood to depart for the coast with a full shipment of sugar. The Arizonan is to take out the initial cargo of sugar from the islands to the isthmus of Tehuantepec direct, the Arizonan to be loaded with 12,000 tons of the product.

The Pacific Mail steamer Nile from San Francisco with passengers and cargo destined for the Orient, and the United States army transport Thomas, both vessels sailing from San Francisco on the same date, are now on the way to the islands. The Nile is due here on Tuesday, while the Thomas it is believed will not reach port before Friday morning.

Sparks from the Wireless. Message received by the Kahuku wireless station last night were that the Pacific Mail liner Nile will arrive at Honolulu in the afternoon of Tuesday, December 9.

The Matson steamship Hilonian, at 8 p. m., last evening reported 622 miles from Honolulu, with a smooth sea and all well.

"Major" Robertson Back on the Job. "Major" James Robertson, who has come out a victor in a three-weeks' siege with dengue fever, returned to his duties as superintendent at the Oceanic wharf this morning, and awaited the arrival of the liner Sierra from the coast. The veteran shipping man was a pretty sick man for several days and was obliged to keep to his home under the care of a physician.

Nile Will Remain for Coal. The Pacific Mail liner Nile from San Francisco is due to reach the port at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, the vessel to be supplied with 1050 tons of coal before proceeding to Japan and China ports. The Nile is reported through wireless as bringing 239 sacks of later mail from the mainland. The vessel may sail for the Orient at noon Wednesday.

such further sums as may be needed. By asking the various chambers of commerce and the merchants' association to canvas their members, it is believed that this end may be obtained.

It is now planned to carry out the campaign on much the same order as that carried by the Young Men's Christian Association to secure funds. The corporation, as now planned and discussed this afternoon, will have a board of seven or more directors from whom the officers shall be selected, and the entire direction and control of the affairs of the corporation shall be in the hands of this board of directors. The corporation will pay no dividends, and any profits made shall be held as a fund for financing the succeeding carnival.

The finance committee understands that the different civic and commercial bodies throughout the territory will see to the obtaining of subscriptions from their own members. Letters setting forth the purposes of the corporation and an explanation of the business basis will be mailed to the different bodies with a subscription list enclosed, this list to be returned to the committee with the names of the subscribers and the amount collected from each.

Another matter of business to be taken up by the committee was the approval of a contract entered into by Director-general James B. Dougherty and a fireworks firm in Los Angeles for securing the necessary equipment for the fireworks display which will be one of the features of the carnival.

Sheriff Jarrett has ordered the discharge of Police Officer P. K. Kane, who is alleged to have been intoxicated while on duty. Kane failed to respond to the request that he report to headquarters. His conduct was declared as unbecoming an officer.

Declaring that he was under the influence of liquor, Vainatti entered a plea of guilty to the charge of getting away with $30 which is alleged to have been the property of T. Costa. The defendant was found to have not reached his seventeenth year. Vainatti was sent to the reef for 30 days.

While Solomon Hesekeal, Jr. watched a fistic encounter between several Porto Ricans at Frog Lane yesterday afternoon, he was surprised to receive a stunning blow across the face from a piece of timber, which damaged his features to the extent of a broken nose. Hesekeal believes that he would be able to identify his assailant.

The theft of a pair of trousers and shoes, the property of a Hawaiian friend, brought down upon Naleone the penalty of remaining a guest of Hotel Aseh for the next six months. The man is charged with having visited the premises of his companion and while no one was present, purloined several articles of wearing apparel.

Automobile No. 345, driven by Dr. C. B. Cooper, was badly damaged last evening through a collision with machine No. 308, in which A. Rodriguez was seated at the wheel, that occurred on King street near the Neumann switch. Rodriguez stated to the police that he failed to see the Cooper machine until the car was right on top of him. The occupants of both cars escaped uninjured.

A "trouble wagon" of the Hawaiian Electric Company sent to effect repairs to a line on King, between Pili-ko and Keaumoku streets last night was run down by auto No. 966, driven by Quai Chong, according to a report that has reached the police. Dr. Russell claimed that he was going at a moderate rate of speed. In attempting to cross the track, he was hit by the electric car. The front of the automobile including the lights was wrecked. The running board of the street car was damaged. Fortunately no one was riding on that portion of the car at the time of the accident.

Two little children are believed to be wandering about Honolulu, while a distraught mother, almost in the throes of hysterics, is awaiting their return or at least some word as to their whereabouts. A boy aged 8 years, with dark hair and wearing a blue suit, in company with his sister of 7 years, left the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roe, at the corner of Punchbowl and Beretania streets, about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The children were sent on an errand to a neighboring store. Mrs. Roe failed to note the continued absence of the little ones until an hour later. When a search was made and a call at several stores proved fruitless, the parents appealed to the police to recover their offspring. The girl is reported as fair-haired and at the time she left home was arrayed in a pink-checked dress.

Miura, a Japanese chauffeur, was ordered to pay a fine of $50 and costs before District Magistrate Lamach at police court, where the defendant was arraigned upon a charge of heedless driving.

Honolulu Lodge, No. 409, F. and A. M., will meet tonight in Masonic temple. There will be an election of officers.

The night school classes at the Young Men's Christian Association close Saturday evening for the Christmas vacation. The winter term will begin January 8.

The newly organized Korean girls' quartet of Susana Wesley Home, with Miss Barrett as organist, had charge of the music at the meeting at Oahu prison yesterday morning at 11 o'clock. C. J. Day was the speaker, using as his subject, "Lessons From Paul in Overcoming."

The religious work committee of the Y. M. C. A. has decided to send speakers to the Boys' Industrial School at Waialeale. R. M. Cross visited the school yesterday and had charge of the service. Superintendent Tucker has requested the committee to send men down to talk to the boys as often as possible.

A large number of San Francisco people, arriving in Honolulu on the Sierra this morning, are registered at the Young Hotel. Among them are Felix Freudenthal, K. McGowan, Dr. E. D. Downing and Mrs. Downing, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Huntington and Miss Virginia Huntington, W. D. Collins, Miss Ruby Johnson, D. A. Earl and Miss F. Smith.

Attired in natty new uniforms similar to those used in the service, the students at the Honolulu School for Boys paraded through the city Saturday morning under the direction of Captain George Norrie. The afternoon was spent at the Bishop Museum, and in the evenings the boys attended the performance at the Bijou theater. Now that the students have uniforms, it is the idea of the school to secure for them guns and other equipment in order that military drill and discipline may be established.

KAM. CONCERT IS ENJOYABLE ENTERTAINMENT

That the Kamehameha school has a troupe of songsters and musicians which any institution might well be proud of was amply demonstrated Saturday evening by the concert given in Bishop hall for the benefit of the athletic association. Every available seat in the large hall was filled with an appreciative audience, and not a flaw in the lengthy program marred the success of the undertaking. It was perhaps the best affair of its kind ever given by the boys and girls of Kamehameha, and the music loving public is looking forward to the time when another will take place.

The program was opened by 12 senior girls singing "Joys of Spring," with Miss Edith Gattfield at the piano. The pleasant harmony of the selections, together with the fitting scenic effects, completely won the audience, and the girls responded to an encore. "The Charge of the Uhlans" was ably rendered on the piano by Miss Edna Murray and Miss Charlotte Aholo, this being followed by the Kamehameha Alumni Glee Club playing and singing "Kuu Ipo I Ka Lal O Ehu" and other Hawaiian melodies. These selections proved to be attractive from the fact that the instrumental accompaniment consisted of the steel guitars and ukuleles, the steel playing bringing out the plaintive effects of the number. After this number, the boys from the preparatory school engaged in a few stunts and were warmly greeted. Popular selections were rendered by Messrs. French, Bordon and Brewer, instrumental trio, after which the Leilani septet sang "Wehweh." The singing of the septet was good and the members were forced to respond to an encore.

One of the distinct features of the program was Miss Edith Gattfield's rendition of "Prelude" on the piano. Miss Gattfield's playing was excellent technique and her playing was listened to with intense interest. "Mamma's Lullaby" was sung by the Kamehameha Male Quartet and, while good, would probably have been better without the piano accompaniment. The first part of the program was concluded with the singing of "The Shoogy Shoo" by 12 senior girls in costume. The rest of the program equalled the first part in interest, one of the best numbers being a violin solo by Mr. French. The program came to a close with the "Butterfly Dance" by 12 girls under the direction of Miss Lennon and Miss Gattfield.

JAPANESE VISITORS GUESTS OF ARMY AT REVIEW AT SCHOFIELD

where the luncheon proved a happy occasion in every way. A return will be made to town early in the afternoon.

Tomorrow morning Admiral Moore and General Funston will return the calls of Captain Moriyama, aboard the Idzumo, at 10 and 10:30 o'clock, respectively.

The Japanese cruiser is now scheduled to sail at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Y. M. C. A. Entertains Men

The petty officers and men of the cruiser Idzumo were this morning the guests of the local Japanese Young Men's Christian Association in a sight-seeing tour of Honolulu via the Rapid Transit. Armed with specially prepared guide books, compiled and printed shortly before the arrival of the cruiser, the men embarked upon the street cars at 9 o'clock and spent several hours riding about the city, taking in the many points of interest. Shore leave continues until 7 o'clock this evening and will begin again tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock. Admiral and Mrs. C. B. T. Moore will this evening entertain Consul-general and Mrs. Hisakichi Elitaki and Captain Moriyama and his officers at dinner. The Idzumo is scheduled to sail for Mazatlan, Mexico, at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

The fact that the Idzumo, berthed at the navy wharf, was open to visitors yesterday caused thousands of persons to take advantage of the opportunity to inspect the vessel. Perhaps no foreign ship has ever entered this harbor and drawn the number of interested spectators as did the Idzumo and from early morning until late in the afternoon her decks were alive with people in all walks of life and of every nationality. Japanese, of course, being the majority. Petty officers, attached in the navy service uniform of the tropics, met the visitors at the gangplank and escorted them over the vessel, pointing out everything of interest from fighting turret to engine room. The morning was given over to school children and members of the local Red Cross Society and it is estimated that 7000 persons took advantage of the occasion. The vessel was thrown open to the public at 1 o'clock, and throughout the afternoon people came and went with the result that when the vessel was closed shortly after 3 o'clock, more than 15,000 persons had been aboard.

Visitors on Idzumo
One of the most interesting features of the afternoon was the appearance on board of five Japanese men, laborers all, who were planned to their coats the medals which designated that they had served their country in either the late Japanese-Russian war or the struggle between the Chinese and the Japanese. Officers they had been, perhaps, and they walked just a little straighter than did their fellow countrymen around them. Besides the bits of gold or silver they wore nothing to distinguish them from the others but, as they left the boat, the sentry at the gangplank snapped his piece to the present in graceful salute. Deep in the bowels of the ship, a trumpeter sounded a call at 3 o'clock which was the signal for the visitors to depart and the vessel was soon cleared. Two of the five veterans had cause to return to the ship sometime after, and they were allowed on board without a question. The vessel was opened to visitors at 8 o'clock this morning, but closed again at noon. Yesterday afternoon a large number of officers and men of the cruiser attended services at Central Union church, the various local Japanese ministers officiating.

One of the prettiest events of the season took place at the new Japanese consulate on Nuuanu street Saturday afternoon when Mrs. Hisakichi Elitaki, wife of the consul-general, was hostess at an "at home" for the local army and navy officials, members of the consular corps and Japanese and American residents. Mrs. Elitaki was assisted by her husband, Commander Moriyama of the Idzumo and K. Naito, secretary of the legation. More than 500 persons visited the consulate during the afternoon. The place had been beautifully decorated for the occasion and a Hawaiian quartet furnished the music. In the receiving line were Consul-general and Mrs. Elitaki and their daughter, Miss Teiko Elitaki; Captain K. Moriyama, Secretary and Mrs. K. Naito, Mr. and Mrs. Takashima, Mr. and Mrs. Kondo, A. Harada and Mr. Furokawa. Practically every foreign consul in Honolulu called during the afternoon, as well as American and Japanese residents. During the evening, the Japanese residents of Honolulu entertained the officers of the cruiser at a dinner at the Tokiwa Club, Nuuanu street, where all went merry until a late hour. The toastmaster was Y. Akai, manager of the local branch of the Yokohama Specie Bank, and several business men, as well as the Idzumo officers, made brief addresses.

The review at Schofield Barracks and the dinner by Admiral and Mrs. C. B. T. Moore this evening will practically end the social end of the cruiser's visit. Coaling and the loading of tons of native fruit will be completed tomorrow noon, and the vessel will proceed on her way to Mexico at 3 o'clock.

treated fairly. They are surprised at the adoption of free sugar in the tariff bill.

"San Francisco people are enthusiastic over the exposition and what it means. They expect very great benefits for the whole Pacific coast from the opening of the Panama Canal, not only with respect to increased commerce, but to the introduction of cheap labor from Europe for developing the country. Even now many of the immigrants arriving at New York come West, the people believing this to be a region where prosperity is assured to them. With direct European immigration to the coast after the canal is opened, it is expected that a great tide of Europeans will spread over the Pacific coast and Northwest states.

"Building operations in San Francisco are not so brisk as they have been, the financial depression having caused slackness in this line as well as others.

"Both on the coast and in the East the income tax law is causing much confusion, its complications being yet beyond the grasp of most people having to do with it."

FORMAL CHARGES READY IN FIGHT TO OUST PACHECO

Written Complaints To Be Presented at Democratic Meeting To Be Held Tonight

Seven formal charges in writing, complaining of acts alleged to have been committed by Chairman M. C. Pacheco of the Democratic territorial central committee against the best interests of the party, will be filed tonight when the fight to oust the chairman comes to a head. This was stated today by the Democrats who are seeking to remove Pacheco.

The charges deal largely with indorsements made either by the central committee or by Pacheco personally. Charles Barron, who is one of the leaders in the movement to oust Pacheco, said this morning that charges will deal with indorsements of men who are declared to be Republicans, as well as with what he brands as the "star-chamber tactics" of the committee under its present chairman.

"We want the work of the Democratic organization in this territory to be entirely above-board," said Barron this morning, "and the first test vote tonight will very likely come on the question of an open meeting. Every member of the committee who is opposed to Pacheco will vote for an open meeting. There has been altogether too much secrecy and star-chamber tactics about the committee's work in the past; in fact, not even the Democrats at large are able to find out what the territorial committee and the national committee are doing."

"At least four indorsements for postmasterships were illegally made; in other cases, known Republicans were indorsed; the party rules have not been lived up to by the chairman and other things have been done that are against fair play and policy. If the Democratic party is to have the respect of the people of Hawaii, it must act fairly as a party and must be above-board in everything."

A number of proxies have been made out by members of the committee and will be used in the effort to oust Chairman Pacheco. The meeting is called for 7:30 o'clock in L. L. McCandless's office in the McCandless building, Bethel street, and it is proposed that the occasion will be a lively one.

The Democratic county committee, of which Barron is vice-chairman, will hold a meeting next Wednesday night to plan a welcome to Governor Pinkham.

AVIATOR CHRISTOFFERSON TO VISIT HERE IN SPRING

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 2. — Silas Christofferson, the well known San Francisco aviator, whose hydroaeroplane is seen daily over the bay and who has done many marvelous air stunts, is looking forward to a visit to Honolulu during the Mid-Pacific Carnival period.

He is one of the best in San Francisco, his latest adventure being the "rescuing" of a man from the bay. He scudded out on Sunday across the bay, rose and hovered over the waters for some time, until he saw the "drowning man," and then swooped down and over the surface, picked the man up on the hydro-boat part of the machine and then safely guided his machine to the shore.

He recently did a thrilling dive from 3000 feet and without mishap. He 3000 feet, landing on the water surface San Francisco's pet.

PROGRESSIVES SHOW FAITH

Republicans and Democrats may smile occasionally at Bull Moose exuberance and high hopes for the future, and the recent desertions from Bull Moose ranks, including Prendergast of New York, will certainly not be overlooked by the critics of Roosevelt et al., but the Progressives must be reckoned with as a party. Simultaneously with the news of desertions from the ranks one finds in the last few months evidences of accessions also and even more striking evidence of solidarity.

Thus in Kansas the Progressives some time ago took action similar to that in California last week, refusing to form any kind of an alliance with the Republican party unless the Republican party genuinely accepts Progressive principles.

From Topeka comes the following dispatch:

Topeka, Kan., Nov. 26.—Progressives from forty counties in state conference today cheered the statement of W. R. Stubbs, former governor, that Theodore Roosevelt was the only man who could defeat President Wilson for re-election, adopted resolutions calling for complete state, district, county and township offices in Kansas in 1914 and decided the Progressives could better afford to lose in the next election than to amalgamate with the Republican party. The resolutions adopted say in part:

"Nothing has occurred since the Progressive convention in Chicago to warrant any change in the viewpoint on the part of the Progressives.

"We warn Progressives not to be diverted from their principles by the talk of amalgamation on the part of those who are interested in the jobs.

"The Republican party has not become progressive merely by holding a national convention and passing a few new rules of party management, a gesture with which to catch Progressive votes. The Republican party can become progressive only by the genuine acceptance of the progressive principles set forth in our national platform and the safeguarding of these principles by such reforms in party organization as always will protect the right of the voters against the machinations of party bosses.

"The Republican party nationally is without a recognized leader, as it is locally. Undoubtedly if leaders come forth and show themselves really worth following, the party will swing into line with enough votes to carry elections. But nationally as well as locally, the men high in party councils cannot hope to gain the confidence of the rank and file if the rank and file believe the leaders are trying to advance their own political fortunes first and afterwards do the party a little good if they can conveniently so arrange matters.

DECENCY DEMANDS ACTION

Honolulu's need for a Board of Censors with power to censor and with authority to direct the police department to follow out its recommendations—once more has been driven home to the theater-going public of Honolulu. During the past week a company has been appearing at the Bijou theater in a performance marred by frequent vulgarity and profanity. Not the minor profane words which the comedian of unlimited ability makes use of to get laughs from "low-brows," but the worse profanity of indescribable nastiness. Having escaped with criticism for minor infractions of the rules of decency, this company seems to be of the opinion that "anything goes" in Honolulu and in the production referred to there appeared to be no limit.

Among the vulgarities of the show was the singing of a "Barbary Coast" favorite. One of the acts is alleged to represent a notorious resort of San Francisco's Barbary Coast but the sole resemblance was in the department of members of the company.

It was during the scene last referred to that two Hebrew comedians made use of considerable profanity, endeavoring to disguise their language through the use of little tin horns through which they blasphemed at each other. The intent of the language was evident. One of the men addressed the other with an expression of three words, while the latter retorted in kind and added the vilest expression in the language—a fighting expression where red-blooded men congregate.

That the performance ended Saturday night is good for Honolulu and it is to be hoped that no performance of a like nature will be attempted by the company or allowed by the management. The blame for such stage offerings does not rest entirely with the producers and actors but should be shouldered equally by the management of any house that tolerates outrages of decency.

In any event it is a striking example of the necessity of the board of censors, which board should be given authority to close, if necessary, any performance that does not come within the accepted definition of decency.

UNCLE COMMITTED TO AVIATION

Aviation's value in wartime is recognized by Secretary of the Navy Daniels and other officials high in Uncle Sam's military administration now to such an extent that it is not strange recent estimates have included a well-developed aviation corps for Hawaii.

In an address upon aeronautics at St. Louis recently, Secretary Daniels declared that aviation will not only tend to limit the duration and scope of hostile operations, but also aid in the control of the seas, an element contributing materially to any nation's power and prosperity. Secretary Daniels said:

"The United States army has seventeen machines, with a total personnel of twenty-four officers. Seven more machines are in sight. There is at present no definite organization, and no plan of co-operation between the army and navy. The latter possesses only four hydroplanes and three flying boats, though it is proposed to buy three more.

"The war aeroplane and war airship today are recognized and proven engines of war by the leading nations of the earth. In practice, our recognition is little more than theoretical.

"Let me say that since it was Wilbur Wright who first gave aviation its impetus by actually flying, it would be a handsome thing for the American people, who are proposing all sorts of monuments to Wright, to perpetuate his memory in the way he would have most approved, by erecting at the Langley laboratory a handsome memorial building, in which to have the first machinery and instruments of the new national institution."

"We need more men who will dare to express their convictions concerning inefficient police officers," declared the Rev. R. E. Smith in a sermon last evening. Yes, and we need more men who will dare to express their convictions concerning inefficient police administration and then go to the polls and vote up to those convictions.

If the supervisors can agree on the principle of establishing an engineering bureau to begin city-planning, they can easily settle the details. And Honolulu will be appreciative.

Now that Medeiros and Revell have been caught on the Coast the interesting question comes up as to what to do with them.

William J. Bryan, Jr., says he isn't going to run for office. This would be reassuring were it final.

Wise Democrats not only have their lightning rods up, but are hanging up their stockings also.

Wonder if Huerta couldn't hire a few Pankhursts and Drummonds to send into Chihuahua?

Don't forget the Malihini Christmas tree in your list of Christmas benevolences.

The California Progressives won't even use the name Republican. So there!

Looks as if Wilson may not recognize somebody in San Domingo, either.

Shop early, buy at home and invest in smiles for the holiday season.

L. T. PECK, IN NEW YORK, TELLS ABOUT TERRITORY

Talks of Hawaii's Fight to Protect Industry and on Race Conditions Here

amended by the legislature and a public utilities commission established, and by reason of our being under a territorial form of government all our franchises and laws relating to public lands must be confirmed by Congress. So, you see, we don't have complete home rule.

"Our street railway has been profitable from the start, when we supplanted a London-owned horse car system. We have now 25 miles of tracks in the city of Honolulu, and the main line is double tracked through the center of the city. We are projecting an extension to the naval base at Pearl Harbor, which will bind all the fortifications and military posts. At present our main line runs from the foot of Diamond Head to Fort Shafter.

"The financial situation in Hawaii just now is one of great uncertainty. The prosperity of the islands is absolutely contingent on the prosperity of the sugar industry. The effect of the new tariff legislation thus far, with the certainty of the entire removal of the tariff on sugar about two years hence, has been the cause of a kind of paralyzing gear of what the result will be when this Hawaiian industry is brought into the world conflict with sugar raised by cheap labor in Cuba, the Philippines, the Dutch East Indies, and the best sugar districts of Europe. Many think a large number of our plantations will be practically put out of business and that only those plantations of the very greatest fertility of soil and superior natural advantages will pull through and meet the situation, which may give fair returns on capital after a fundamental adjustment shall have been consummated.

Consumption Must Increase.
"If the price of the future is to be exactly decreased by the tariff differential there will be little hope for the industry in the Hawaiian islands. However, the probability of increased consumption, coupled with the possible trade combinations in Europe, may keep the average price up to a level which will, perhaps, be more than the cost of producing and marketing the Hawaiian crop. That means that the reduction in price to the consumer will not be measured by the exact tariff reduction.

"Some resentment has been expressed in Congressional centers at the strong fight made by representatives of the Hawaiian sugar industry against the policy of free sugar. I was not born in Hawaii, and have lived there only 13 years, and it is only fair to those Americans who were born in the islands that their countrymen on the mainland should take some account of the situation with respect to Hawaii. It must be remembered that Hawaii has been a part of the United States only about a dozen years. The islands came in to the American fold voluntarily by a treaty of annexation. Since that time Hawaii has enjoyed the benefits of an American protective tariff. Before the annexation it had access to the labor markets of the whole world to man its plantations. Now the protection of the tariff is denied its people, and the labor markets of the world, through American legislation are also denied them, and they are now forced to struggle for an industrial existence in competition with those very countries whose cheap labor they are unable to procure.

"But you can depend upon it that Hawaii will make a gallant fight to maintain her industries, hoping meanwhile that further time may be given by Congress before the protective tariff duty on sugar is entirely removed. No Racial Prejudices.

"In Hawaii there is excellent feeling between the whites and the Japanese, who number almost half the entire population of the islands. The relations, whether between employers and employees or between the workers of different nationalities, are those of friendliness and amity. America would never be in danger of any trouble from Japan if American citizens of all classes would feel as individuals that they have the honor of their country in their own keeping, and refrain from giving insults to Japanese or any other people, who, under treaty, are accorded a domicile in the United States.

"The wanton insults of thoughtless individuals, or perhaps of certain classes, are only the firebrands which could provoke a conflict with Japan, and then only because the Japanese

PINKHAM WON'T BE LED BY EARS, SAYS 'HERALD'

The Hawaii Herald says of the new governor:

"Opponents of the former territorial administration are unkind enough to say that the best thing about the confirmation of L. E. Pinkham is that it means the removal of Governor Frear. But it is not the passing of the personal element in the former administration that is so important as is the coming of a new one—new in every sense that means progressive government for the islands, which will be in accord with the national administration and its policies.

"Pinkham will start in with a fair stock of enemies and we are willing to grant that he will have more before he finishes his term, as some have hastened to prophesy, unless the heretofore dictators of territorial policies suddenly change to new views and become admirers and supporters of one who will not take orders. And even though the Advertiser is right, when it says that Pinkham will have 'this community by the ears throughout his term,' we believe this is better than that our chief island executive should be led by his ears, by special interests.

"Pinkham will neither be led, nor driven. Instead, he will lead. Certainly, a leader for a ruler is far better than a puppet."

'GET TOGETHER WITH NEW GOVERNOR,' SAYS LATEST MAUI NEWS

Now that Pinkham is governor of Hawaii, it is time to get together and support the man who is to rule for the next four years. Bickering will do no good and, if Pinkham does not meet with the approval of many people, they can work for a change later on. There is no sense in "bucking" the new governor at present. He is here to stay, and we will all have to make the best of it.—Maui News.

RED CROSS SEAL SALE BRINGS IN SUM OF $3500

James A. Rath, agent in the Hawaiian Islands for the Red Cross Christmas seals, announced this morning that a meeting of the Anti-Tuberculosis League has been called for next Friday evening to decide what shall be done with the proceeds of the local sale. The recent campaign carried on by the women of Honolulu netted $2910.30, and it is believed that the island sales will increase this amount to $3500.

The tabulated results of the campaign by districts show some interesting figures. Mr. Rath has prepared several copies and given the figures for publication. Following is a list of the different districts covered and the amount of each:

Kaimuki, $80; Kapahulu, $27.50; Waikiki-uka, $20; Punahou-kai and Moiliili, $38.50; Punahou-aka and Manoa, $130.50; the Schools, $39; Makiki, $75.80; Kalia, $23; Kukuluaeo, $37.50; Kewalo, $27; the Plains, $104.50; Prospect street and vicinity, $53.75; Punchbowl-makai, $111.30; King street makai between Alahele and River, $429.20; block between Eretaniki, lakes, King and Nuuanu, $336.50; Kaakopua-kai, $45.65; block between School, Fort, Bereania and River, $26.80; Punchbowl West to Nuuanu, $34; block between Wyllie, Nuuanu, School and Liliha, $52.50; Kawaula, $27.05; Athletic Park and vicinity, $32.30; Iwilei and vicinity, $29.50; Kauluwela, West, $38.05; Alewa Heights and Kunawai, $32.30; Palama-uka, $39.60; Palama and Kalihi-uka, $34.30; Kalihi, $35.80; Nuuanu above Wyllie, $20.70; Army and Navy, $250.55; Plantations, $141; miscellaneous contributions, $36.10 and $5.

DROPSY AND BRIGHT'S DISEASE

Nearly everybody knows that when the dropsy comes so fast in Bright's Disease that the patient has to be tapped, that the case is hopeless so far as the old treatment is concerned. We never heard of a case recovering that required tapping until Fulton's Renal Compound was evolved. Under the Renal Compound recoveries are frequently reported even in this supposed hopeless stage. We will cite two cases:

F. H. Chandler of Clay, New York, was a very serious case. As high as four quarts of water were drawn at a tapping. He was put on Fulton's Renal Compound and a year thereafter resumed employment.

Another—Patient six years old, the son of A. C. Dean of Oakland, Cal., was tapped eight times; even had to be tapped after being put on Fulton's Renal Compound, but the tapping grew further apart and he made a recovery and was going to school at last advice.

If you have Bright's Disease do you not owe it to your family to try Fulton's Renal Compound before giving up?

FRED C. SMITH HONORED BY ALOHA TEMPLE

Fred C. Smith was elected illustrious potentate of Aloha Temple, A. O. N. M. S., at the annual meeting of the members of that fraternity in the Masonic Temple Saturday evening. Other officers chosen were W. H. Goets, chief rabban; George H. Angus, assistant rabban; Thomas E. Wall, high priest and prophet; Lester Petrie, Oriental guide; H. C. Bruns, recorder; H. E. Webster, treasurer, and J. S. McCandless, representative in the Imperial Council. F. C. Smith, C. G. Bartlett and J. D. Tucker were elected trustees.

The meeting was perhaps the most enthusiastic ever held by the local organization, and following the reading of reports and the settling of business, the matter was taken up concerning the 13 novitiates who will tread the burning sands at the Moana Hotel next Saturday afternoon during the annual ceremonial session, which is to be followed by a banquet in the evening. At 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon, after a drill by the Arab Patrol, the candidates will be marched to the capitol grounds, where waiting automobiles will convey them to the Moana Hotel.

Those who are destined to become members of the organization are Lieutenant Baxter, U. S. A., Coast Artillery; W. R. Haley, Rev. J. W. Wadman, C. Henkels, George N. Williams, William Henning, Count Reinecke, Joseph Sewall, Rudolph Buchly, Charles Marquee, Henry Giles, John Lucas and Lieutenant Ball, U. S. A.

Fort Shafter Notes

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)

FORT SHAFTER, Dec. 8.—Leave of absence under exceptional circumstances for a period of two months has been granted 2nd Lieut. William C. Ross, 2nd Infantry. Lieutenant Ross will avail himself of his leave on the departure of the January transport for the mainland.

The hefta from the tent quarters for certain of the officers of the 2nd Infantry begins this week, as a few of the cantonment quarters will be ready for occupancy. As fast as others are made ready other officers will make the move across the gulch. Lieut. L. O. Mathews will be first to make the change. Some delay has been caused by waiting for water connections to be completed, but these arrangements are now well along and Captain Watkins can shortly turn over enough completed quarters to house the married juniors of the regiment. Work on the barracks and mess halls for the troops to be quartered in the cantonment will begin today and for this work Captain Watkins will have 44 additional workmen at his disposal. The number of enlisted men was detailed by orders of the 6th to report for duty as carpenters. Addition to the quantity of tools required has been provided for so the work can now go forward at high speed.

To accommodate in comfort the crowd of spectators that daily gather for the ball games, arrangements have been concluded whereby stands seating 500 will be constructed. These stands will be built at once and are to be portable so that they may be easily moved from off the parade ground when the small parade with which Shafter is provided is needed for parades and reviews. The structure will be in sections, each section to be 16 feet in length with a height of 10 feet. The funds to provide for the material will come from the appropriations for athletics and will be money well spent. A well-constructed backdrop of wire on high supports has already been installed back of the diamond and the stands to be built will make baseball arrangements at Shafter complete.

Corporal James E. Riley by reduction at his own request and transfer to Company C has been made available for appointment as sergeant in the latter company and under date of December 6 was appointed to that grade and detailed as trumpeter sergeant of the regiment. Sergeant Riley thus fills the grade and place of Sergeant Archer, discharged.

Regimental Commissary Sergeant Lee Cohen, 2nd Infantry, finished up a term of enlistment on Sunday, the 7th, and was duly discharged. He will re-enlist in the regiment today and will, in consequence, be continued in the grade of commissary sergeant.

TEXT OF PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE TO CONGRESS

Following is the message of President Wilson in its entirety, at the opening of the regular session of the sixty-third Congress, at Washington, with the present Mexican situation:

Gentlemen of the Congress: In pursuance of my constitutional duty to "give to the Congress information of the state of the Union," I take the liberty of addressing you on several matters which ought, as it seems to me, particularly to engage the attention of your honorable bodies, as of all who study the welfare and progress of the nation.

I shall ask your indulgence if I venture to depart in some degree from the usual custom of setting before you in formal review the many matters which have engaged the attention of the Congress, and of the several departments of the government or which look to them for early treatment in the future, because the list is long, very long, and would suffer in the abbreviation to which I should have to subject it. I shall submit to you the reports of the heads of the several departments, in which these subjects are set forth in careful detail, and beg that they may receive the thoughtful attention of your committees and of all members of the Congress who may have the leisure to study them. Their obvious importance, as constituting the very substance of the business of the government, makes comment and emphasis on my part unnecessary.

The country, I am thankful to say, is at peace with all the world, and many happy manifestations multiply about us of a growing cordiality and sense of community of interest among the nations, foreshadowing an age of settled peace and good will. More and more readily each decade do the nations manifest their willingness to bind themselves by solemn treaty to the processes of peace, the processes of frankness and fair concession. So far the United States has stood at the front of such negotiations. She will, I earnestly hope and confidently believe, give fresh proof of her sincere adherence to the cause of international friendship by ratifying the several treaties of arbitration awaiting renewal by the senate. In addition to these, it has been the privilege of the department of state to gain the assent, in principle, of no less than 31 nations, representing four-fifths of the population of the world, to the negotiation of treaties by which it shall be agreed that whenever differences of interest or of policy arise which can not be resolved by the ordinary processes of diplomacy they shall be publicly analyzed, discussed, and reported upon by a tribunal chosen by the parties before either nation determines its course of action.

Only One Standard
There is only one possible standard by which to determine controversies between the United States and other nations, and that is compounded of these two elements: Our own honor and our obligations to the peace of the world. A treaty so compounded ought easily to be made to govern both the establishment of new treaty obligations and the interpretation of those already assumed.

There is but one cloud upon our horizon. That has shown itself to the south of us, and hangs over Mexico. There can be no certain prospect of peace in America until Gen. Huerta has surrendered his usurped authority in Mexico; until it is understood on all hands, indeed, that such pretended governments will not be countenanced or dealt with by the government of the United States. We are the friends of constitutional government in America; we are more than its friends, we are its champions; because in no other way can our neighbors, to whom we would wish in every way to make proof of our friendship, work out their own development in peace and liberty. Mexico has no government. The attempt to maintain one at the City of Mexico has broken down, and a mere military despotism has been set up which has hardly more than the semblance of national authority. It originated in the usurpation of Victoriano Huerta, who, after a brief attempt to play the part of constitutional president, has at last cast aside even the pretense of legal right and declared himself dictator. As a consequence, a condition of affairs now exists in Mexico which has made it doubtful whether even the most elementary and fundamental rights either of her own people or of the citizens of other countries resident within her territory can long be successfully safeguarded, and which threatens, if long continued, to imperil the interests of peace, order, and tolerable life in the lands immediately to the south of us. Even if the usurper had succeeded in his purposes, in despite of the constitution of the Republic and the rights of its people, he would have set up nothing but a precarious and hateful power, which could have lasted but a little while, and whose eventual downfall would have left the country in a more deplorable condition than ever. But he has not succeeded. He has forfeited the respect and the moral support even of those who were at one time willing to see him succeed. Little by little he has been completely isolated. By a little every day his power and prestige are crumbling and the collapse is not far away. We shall not, I believe, be obliged to alter our policy of watchful waiting.

And then, when the end comes, we shall hope to see constitutional order restored in distressed Mexico by the concert and energy of such of her leaders as prefer the liberty of their people to their own ambitions.

Currency Reform Measure
I turn to matters of domestic concern. You already have under consideration a bill for the reform of our system of banking and currency, for which the country waits with impatience, as for something fundamental to its whole business life and necessary to set credit free from arbitrary and artificial restraints. I need not say how earnestly I hope for its early enactment into law. I take leave to beg that the whole energy and attention of the senate be concentrated upon it till the matter is successfully disposed of. And yet I feel that the request is not needed — that the members of that great house need no urging in this service to the country.

I present to you, in addition, the urgent necessity that special provision be made also for facilitating the credits needed by the farmer of the country. The pending currency bill does the farmers a great service. It puts them upon an equal footing with other business men and masters of enterprise, as it should; and upon its passage they will find themselves quit of many of the difficulties which have hampered them in the field of credit. The farmers of course, and should be given no special privilege such as extending to them the credit of the government itself. What they need and should obtain is legislation which will make their own abundant and substantial credit resources available as a foundation for joint, concerted local action in their own behalf in getting the capital they must use. It is to this we should now address ourselves.

Farming Allowed to Lag
It has, singularly enough, come to pass that we have allowed the industry of our farms to lag behind the other activities of the country in its development. I need not stop to tell you how fundamental to the life of the nation is the production of its food. Our thoughts may ordinarily be concentrated upon the cities and the hives of industry, upon the cries of the crowded market place and the clangor of the factory, but it is from the quiet interstices of the open valleys and the free hill-sides that we draw the sources of life and of prosperity, from the farm and the ranch, from the forest and the mine. Without these every street would be silent, every office deserted, every factory fallen into disrepair. And yet the farmer does not stand upon the same footing with the forger and the miner in the market of credit. He is the servant of the seasons. Nature determines how long he must wait for his crops, and will not be hurried in her processes. He may give his note, but the season of its maturity depends upon the season when his crop matures, lies at the gates of the market where his products are sold. And the security he gives is of a character not known in the broker's office or as familiar as it might be on the counter of the banker.

The agricultural department of the government is seeking to assist as never before to make farming an efficient business, of wide co-operative effort, in quick touch with the markets for foodstuffs. The farmers and the government will henceforth work together as real partners in this field, where we now begin to see our way very clearly and where many intelligent plans are already being put into execution. The treasury of the United States has, by a timely and well-considered distribution of its deposits, facilitated the moving of the crops in the present season and prevented the scarcity of available funds too often experienced at such times. But we must not allow ourselves to depend upon extraordinary expedients. We must add the means by which the farmer may make his credit constantly and easily available and command when he will the capital by which to support and expand his business. We lag behind many other great countries of the modern world in attempting to do this. Systems of rural credit have been studied and developed on the other side of the water while we left our farmers to shift for themselves in the ordinary money market. You have but to look about you in any rural district to see the result, the handicap and embarrassment which have been put upon those who produce our food.

Anti-Trust Legislation
Conscious of this backwardness and neglect on our part, the Congress recently authorized the creation of a special commission to study the various systems of rural credit which have been put into operation in Europe and this commission is already prepared to report. Its report ought to make it easier for us to determine what methods will be best suited to our own farmers. I hope and believe that the committees of the senate and house will address themselves to this matter with the most fruitful results, and I believe that the studies and recently formed plans of the department of agriculture may be made to serve them very greatly in their work of framing appropriate and adequate legislation. It would be indiscreet and presumptuous in anyone to dogmatize upon so great and many-sided a question, but I feel confident that common counsel will produce the results we must all desire.

Turn from the farm to the world of business which centers in the city and in the factory, and I think that all thoughtful observers will agree that the immediate service we owe the business communities of the country is to prevent private monopoly more effectually than it has yet been prevented. I think it will be easily agreed that we should let the Sherman anti-trust law stand, unaltered, as it is, with its debatable ground about it, but that we should as much as possible reduce the area of that debatable ground by further and more explicit legislation; and should also supplement that great act by legislation which will not only clarify it but also facilitate its administration and make it fearer to all concerned. No doubt we shall all wish, and the country will expect, this to be the central subject of our deliberations during the present session; but it is a subject so many-sided and so deserving of careful and discriminating discussion that I shall take the liberty of addressing you upon it in a special message at a later date than this. It is of capital importance that the business men of this country should be relieved of all uncertainties of law with regard to their enterprises and investments and those responsible to the people for carrying them into effect.

These are all matters of vital domestic concern, and besides them outside the charmed circle of our national life in which our affections command us, as well as our consciences, there stand out our obligations toward our territories over sea. Here we are trustees. Porto Rico, Hawaii, the Philippines, are ours, indeed, but not ours to do what we please with. Such territories, once regarded as mere possessions, are no longer to be selfishly exploited; they are part of the domain of public conscience and of serviceable and enlightened state-ship. We must administer them for the people who live in them and with the same sense of responsibility to them as toward our own people in our domestic affairs. No doubt we shall successfully enough bind Porto Rico and the Hawaiian Islands to ourselves by ties of justice and interest and affection, but the performance of our duty toward the Philippines is a more difficult and debatable matter. We can satisfy the obligations of generous justice toward the people of Porto Rico by giving them the ample and familiar rights and privileges accorded our own citizens in our own territories and our obligations toward the people of Hawaii by perfecting the provisions for self-government already granted them, but in the Philippines we must go further. We must hold steadily in view their ultimate independence, and we must move toward the time of that independence as steadily as the way can be cleared and the foundations thoughtfully and permanently laid.

On Islands Legislation
Acting under the authority conferred upon the president by congress, I have already accorded the people of the islands a majority in both houses of their legislative body by appointing five instead of four native citizens to the membership of the commission. I believe that in this way we shall make proof of their capacity in counsel and their sense of responsibility in the exercise of political power, and that the success of this step will be sure to clear our view for the steps which are to follow. Step by step we should extend and perfect the system of self-government in the islands, making test of them and modifying them as experience discloses their successes and their failures; that we should more and more put under the control of the native citizens of the archipelago the essential instruments of their life, the local instrumentalities of government; their schools, all the common interests of their communities, and so by counsel and experience set up a government which all the world will see to be suitable to a people whose affairs are under their own control. At least, I hope and believe, we are beginning to gain the confidence of the Filipino people. By their counsel and experience, rather than by our own, we shall learn how best to serve them and how soon it will be possible and wise to withdraw our supervision. Let us once find the path and set out with firm and confident tread upon it and we shall not wander from it or linger upon it.

A duty faces us with regard to Alaska which seems to me very pressing and very imperative; perhaps I should say a double duty, for it concerns both the political and the material development of the territory. The people of Alaska should be given the full territorial form of government, and Alaska, as a storehouse, should be unlocked. One key to it is a system of railroads. These the government should itself build and administer, and the ports and terminals it should itself control in the interest of all who wish to use them for the service and development of the country and its people.

Free Land in Alaska
But the construction of railroads is only the first step; it is only thrusting in the key to the storehouse and throwing back the lock and opening the door. How the tempting resources of the country are to be exploited is another matter, to which I shall take the liberty of from time to time calling your attention, for it is a policy which must be worked out by well-considered stages, not upon theory, but upon lines of practical expediency. It is part of our general problem of conservation. We have a freer hand in working out the problem in Alaska than in the states of the union; and yet the principal objects are the same, wherever we touch it. We must use the resources of the country, not lock them up. There need be no conflict or jealousy as between state and federal authorities, for there can be no essential difference of purpose between them. The resources in question must be used, but not monopolized upon any narrow idea of individual right as against the abiding interests of communities. That a policy can be worked out by conference and concession which will release these resources and yet not jeopard or dissipate them, I for one have no doubt; and it can be done on lines of regulation which need be no less acceptable to the people and governments of the states concerned than to the people and government of the nation at large, whose heritage these

CHINESE BAZAAR WILL NET AT LEAST $1500

The total receipts of the Chinese bazaar, held on the lawn of the Home-stead, King street, Saturday, will amount to considerably more than $1500, according to the announcement made this morning by a member of the committee in charge. The committee has been called to meet this evening to receive the reports of those in charge of the different booths and to determine the net proceeds.

The bazaar, held under the auspices of the Chinese Students' Alliance of Hawaii, was a distinct success, and the money derived therefrom will be devoted to forming a building fund for that organization. Decorations of gaily-colored bunting flags and pennants were used in making attractive the many tents which served as booths, while in the evening myriads of colored lights, strung from tent to tent and from tree to tree, made a most pleasing effect. The booths were well patronized, and a large crowd was present at all times. The Mandarin dinner served at 6 o'clock drew many patrons, and the cooking was of a style which appealed to all. The Hawaiian band played during the afternoon and evening. Following the close of the bazaar in the evening, a spirited auction sale was held, and many things disposed of, being bought up by people eager to lend their cooperation to the organization for whose benefit the bazaar was held.

The strap of the cap be worn under or on the point of the chin when mounted, instead of on the visor, and that the string or strap of the campaign hat be worn in the same manner, instead of on the back of the head, as is the custom now. This new wrinkle will give American officers more nearly the appearance of the foreign military, who invariably wear the chin strap when mounted.

The recommendation of the department commander that a change be authorized for Hawaii for the wearing of insignia on the olive drab shirt, has been approved by the war department. This change provides that the insignia of rank be worn on one edge of the shirt collar, and the corps device on the other. At the present time it is impossible to tell a captain of cavalry from a captain-doctor, but under the new rule the distinction can be made at a glance.

COAST PAPERS GIVE VOTE FOR PINKHAM AS 46

Associated Press dispatches to the Coast newspapers on the confirmation of Governor Pinkham give the vote as 46 to 24 in favor of Mr. Pinkham. The dispatch to the Chronicle, under date of November 29, says:

WASHINGTON. — The senate today confirmed the nomination of L. E. Pinkham of Massachusetts to be Governor of Hawaii by a vote of 46 to 24. The appointment of Henry M. Pindehl, the Peoria publisher, was not acted upon.

President Wilson's nomination of Winfred T. Denison to be secretary of the interior for the Philippines was held up today by Democrats of the senate committee, who want to look into Denison's politics. Denison was an assistant attorney-general under the Taft administration, accredited to the Progressive Republicans.

"Nominations" of Henderson Martin to be vice-governor, and Clinton R. Riggs to be secretary of commerce and police, were reported favorably.

resources are. We must bend our counsel to this end. A common purpose ought to make agreement easy.

Three or four matters of special importance and significance I beg that you will permit me to mention in closing.

Employers' Liability Act.

Our bureau of mines ought to be equipped and empowered to render even more effectual service than it renders now in improving the conditions of mine labor and making the mines more economically productive as well as more safe. This is an all-important part of the work of conservation, and the conservation of human life and energy lies even nearer to our interest than the preservation from waste of our material resources.

We owe it, in mere justice to the railway employees of the country, to provide for them a fair and effective employers' liability act; and a law that we can stand by in this matter, will be no less to the advantage of those who administer the railroads of the country than to the advantage of those whom they employ. The experience of a large number of the states abundantly proves that.

We ought to devote ourselves to meeting pressing demands of plain justice like this as earnestly as to the accomplishment of political and economic reforms. Social justice comes first. Law is the machinery for its realization and is vital only as it expresses and embodies it.

An international congress for the discussion of all questions that affect safety at sea is now sitting in London at the suggestion of our own government. So soon as the conclusions of that congress can be learned and considered we ought to address ourselves, among other things, to the prompt alleviation of the very unsafe, unjust and burdensome conditions which now surround the employment of sailors and render it extremely difficult to obtain the services of spirited and competent men such as every ship needs if it is to be safely handled and brought to port.

May I not express the very real pleasure I have experienced in co-operating with this Congress and sharing with it the labors of common service to which it has devoted itself so unreservedly during the past seven months of uncomplaining concentration upon the business of legislation? Surely it is a proper and pertinent part of my report on "the state of the Union" to express my admiration for the diligence, the good temper, and the full comprehension of public duty which has already been manifested by both the houses; and I hope that it may not be deemed an impertinent intrusion of myself into the picture if I say with how much and how constant satisfaction I have availed myself of the privilege of putting my time and energy at their disposal alike in counsel and in action.

JUDGE LARNACH SAYS M'DUFFIE NOT GUILTY OF CONTEMPT OF COURT

"Captain of Detectives McDuffie is in no way guilty of contempt proceedings," stated Second District Magistrate Larnach this morning, following an interview with McDuffie concerning an allegation made that the officer had notified the landlady of the Hau Tree hotel that a search warrant was being drawn up in response to the demand of Miss Leon, a former guest of the hostelry.

"McDuffie assured me that he had made inquiry at the Hau Tree a day before application for a search warrant was received from the boarder. His investigation of the case was prior to the visit of the woman to my court," said Judge Larnach.

The trouble is alleged to have arisen over the demand made by the woman upon her former landlady for a silk garment and a necklace. The ornament was discovered but it was learned that the garment had been destroyed. It was the purpose of the search warrant to assist in the recovery of the missing wearing apparel. A financial settlement was effected on Saturday. Ainaahu, erroneously referred to in the morning paper, never figured in the matter in any way whatsoever.

Music Perpetuates Christmas

The idea of Christmas has always been associated with Music—from the solemn, religious chants, hymns and anthems to the lighter carols and glad songs. In fact, Christmas would probably not be celebrated in our day unless the thought of Christmas had traveled hand in hand with the thought of Music.

And music is best appreciated when derived thru the playing of a
