DECAPITATION WILL FOLLOW BOARD PROBE

Supervisors Investigate Charge That Hui of Loan-Sharks Is Gouging City Employees

ALSO ACCUSED OF RUNNING "BLIND PIG" AND GAMBLING

Retrenchment Given as Reason for Road Dept. Dismissals Stated for March 1

That a hui of loan-sharks is engaged in the business of advancing money to laborers employed by the roads department of the city and county, and is also interested in a "blind pig" and certain crap games, was the charge under probe at a secret meeting of the board of supervisors yesterday afternoon, when it began investigation into the affairs and the personnel of the hui.

Supervisor Lester Petrie made the statement this morning that the board would dismiss any employees found to have had a part in the activities of the hui. The probe tended to show, it is said, that the hui is loaning money at a rate of interest of 15 per cent a month, and also that it is interested in the sale of liquor and in running crap or dice games. Stated for Dismissal.

First reports were to the effect that these games were run at the road department's stables, but Supervisor Petrie said that it was brought out yesterday afternoon that they are operated elsewhere. He did not wish to give out the names of any men found to be allied with the hui. He did admit that the name of Rathburn came in, and that Rathburn undoubtedly would be discharged, and he did acknowledge that the name of Road Supervisor Thomas F. Kennedy, the successor of J. J. Smiddy, had been brought up, yet he gave it as his opinion that Kennedy was not one of the hui.

However, Kennedy, according to a well-defined rumor, is slated to go the first of the month and inefficiency is given as the reason. There is no evidence that he is connected with the loan sharks. The rumor was virulently confirmed by different supervisors this morning. Petrie, who is chairman of the roads committee and an active member in pushing the retrenchment movement, while not admitting that Kennedy would be discharged, acknowledged that there were changes to be made in the department.

He said he believes the department can get along with less men, and that it is the intention of the board to try retrenchment.

Meet Behind Closed Doors. "We will try to get along with as few men as possible," he said. "Some say that it will be impossible to reduce the number, but I believe it can be done. We want to cut down in every department to save as much as possible for the roads. The people want good roads and we want to make good roads. But we need money and the only way we can get it is to cut down our expenses."

He said that the supervisors met yesterday afternoon to go over the expenses of the road department and that they found one or two places where money could be saved. One of these places is said to be at the city stables, where the toolkeeper, whose salary is $60 a month, is to take the place of Rathburn, who has been getting $90. At the quarry the blacksmith is to be let out, it is said. The board has not finished with the department. Other cuts may be made. And more investigation will be made into the operations of the hui.

The supervisors spent five hours yesterday behind closed and locked doors in going over the situation.

SUPERVISOR PETRIE EXPECTS GOOD RESULTS THROUGH PRUNING KNIFE

Confident that they will be able to prune down the expenses of the city and county, that their retrenchment campaign will be successful, sufficiently so for enough money to be raised for paving Beretania and King streets, the supervisors met yesterday afternoon with L. M. Whitehouse, city and county engineer, when the pruning began.

Until late in the afternoon the supervisors worked over the expenses of the road department, searching for places where savings could be realized, positions which could be done away with. Though their work in this department has not been com-

PRESIDENT NOW BEST FRIEND OF 'BIG BUSINESS'

Party Lines Expected To Be Drawn in Placing Anti-Trust Legislation

By C. S. ALBERT.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—A great furor involving all forms and degrees of anti-trust legislation followed President Wilson's verbal message on the subject. Fits of energy and bursts of enthusiasm engulfed all members of Congress, including the Republican stand patters. All seemed to agree that something should be done to supplement the Sherman act and make get-rich monopolies and combinations their tribute from the people. This apparently unanimous feeling made it appear at the outset that non-partisan action might be expected. This will become less evident as time passes and the lines are more closely drawn.

It is more than an even bet that in the end the various anti-trust bills will be made party measures through the holding of Democratic caucuses and all the credit for putting the new legislation on the statute books will be taken by the majority party. This proved true of the tariff and currency bills. Past experience has demonstrated that it is easy to talk about non-partisan legislation but difficult to enact it.

Big Business is fairly well reconciled to the proposed legislation, both as recommended by the President, and set forth in the bills introduced to carry out his suggestions. Whatever opposition develops will come when hearings are held on the points at issue. Captains of Industry and economists of all grades will appear before the Senate and House committees, speaking for and against the pending measures. An opportunity will be then afforded for Big Business to register its protest and start a fight to have modifications made in both branches of Congress. No indication has yet been given as to how far animosity may be aroused and carried. In any event opposition is certain to prove futile.

The chief friend of Big Business up to this time is the President himself. He has plainly spoken and declared that no attempt will be made to have any retroactive features adopted, such as squeezing the water from stock already overcapitalized. He antagonizes

CONTRACTORS' LOSS MAY BE MUCH REDUCED

Rumor Current That Specifications on Pearl Harbor Drydock Will Be Modified

CHANGE WOULD MEAN DIVISION OF LOSS

Hawaiian Dredging Co. Hard Hit and Compromise Would Be Quite Popular

That the contractors may after all be relieved of a large part of the financial responsibility for the drydock disaster, is the word that has reached Hawaii through unofficial channels. It is stated on good authority that the specifications for construction of the big ship basin are to be slightly changed, in which event the contractors will not face nearly the loss that now confronts them. In any case, the laying out of work for a year, and the destruction of expensive machinery, will be a heavy financial drain on the Hawaiian Dredging Co., so that a sharing of the financial responsibility by the government would be in the line of equity.

Although word of this compromise comes direct from Washington, neither the officers of the Hawaiian Dredging Co. here, nor the navy authorities have received any positive information as to future plans.

"We have heard nothing further than the word to go right ahead according to original specifications, received by cable some days ago," said R. W. Atkinson, of the Hawaiian Dredging Co. this morning. "If there has been any change of specifications, we have not been notified at this end of the line as yet. We started work yesterday, dredging section 5 with the dredger B. F. Dillingham, which was hastily put in commission after the wreck of the Denison. The latter machine is now tied up alongside of the Waterfront wharf, but it is still quite a

GREAT INTEREST SHOWN IN ANNUAL SUGAR MEETINGS

Reports of Plantation Managers Not Expected to Be as Pleasing as Heretofore

SESSIONS COMMENCE ON NEXT MONDAY MORNING

Retrenchment Policy Expected To Be Recommendation of Those at the Helm

Much interest throughout the territory centers this year in the annual meetings of the various sugar corporations, most of which are held this month. A number of them are called for next week beginning with the meeting of the shareholders of C. Brewer & Company, Ltd., Monday morning at 10 o'clock. Most of the plantations represented by Theo. H. Davies & Co., Ltd., now hold their annual meetings in March, and the dates for these have not yet been determined upon. A number of others also hold March meetings.

The reports of the managers of the various plantations this year are not generally expected to be as pleasing as they were the year before and for 1911. Short crops are reported from a large number of properties, due to the almost unprecedented dry weather of the past two years, and this with the very low sugar prices which ruled last year will not be apt to make the best kind of showing in the financial statements.

There will also undoubtedly be reported a very widespread policy of retrenchment, anticipating the effects likely to be experienced with the cutting off of the sugar duty. On the other hand, there is not altogether a discouraging outlook. Most of the plantation properties are believed to be in excellent physical condition, and the outlook for this year's crops are

GRAFT-FIGHTER OF SEATTLE IS VISITING HERE

Prosecuting Attorney John F. Murphy Comes to Hawaii for Needed Rest

John F. Murphy, prosecuting attorney of King county, Washington, and famous as one of the graft-fighters who helped "clean up" Seattle two years ago, is in Honolulu on a recreation trip. Several years of close application to his office and court work have tired him out and he has come to Hawaii with his family for a complete rest of several weeks.

Murphy is a young man, but in a few years he has come to be one of the best known citizens in public life in the Northwest and his conduct in office is such that his friends several times have wished to run him for Congress. He has declined to make the race and probably at the conclusion of his present term of office will take up private practice.

Murphy was prosecuting attorney at the time when Hiram C. Gill, mayor, was driven from office and Charles W. Wapenstein, police chief, was sent to Walla Walla penitentiary convicted of graft. Under Gill and Wapenstein, gambling on a big scale had begun in Seattle and the city was about to be run "vice open."

Dr. M. A. Matthews, pastor of the leading Presbyterian church of the city and himself a famous fighter against municipal graft, prosecuting Attorney Murphy and other prominent citizens went after the erring city officials and "got them." The Burns detective agency was employed and in a short time had secured incriminating evidence against Wapenstein and some of his associates and criminal action was begun.

Under the Seattle charter, the mayor has almost absolute control over the police administration and Mayor Gill was held responsible for the shortcomings of his chief of police, Wapenstein. A "recall election" was held; Gill was recalled from the executive chair and a new mayor, George W. Dilling, elected in his place. Seattle was "cleaned up" in a short time and has remained clean.

In all of this the young prosecuting attorney took an active and successful part.

Just now King county is much interested in good roads and so is Prosecuting Attorney Murphy, upon whose office devolves the duty of handling much of the legal procedure for bond issues and other methods of financing the building of roads. King county is now doing a good deal with brick highways. "We are past the stage of attempting to build roads of macadam," says Mr. Murphy.

Mrs. Murphy and their two children, a boy of three and a girl of four months, are with him. They are guests of the Seaside Hotel.

JAPANESE CONSUL ASKED TO ASSIST IN ALIEN RULING

Initial Step Taken Toward Securing Amendment of Immigration Law

As the result of a decision reached after several days of investigation on the part of local Japanese interested in the matter, Hachiro Arita, acting consul for Japan in the Hawaiian Islands, will be asked to communicate with Ambassador Chinda at Washington, D. C., with a view to having him take steps toward securing a reconsideration of the ruling regarding domiciled aliens residing in the United States, as handed down recently by the supreme court. Together with the matter of securing a reconsideration, the ambassador will be requested to investigate the feasibility of action toward bringing about an amendment to the immigration laws.

The local Japanese newspapers have taken up the matter of the supreme court ruling quite extensively through the medium of editorial comment, pointing out that the ruling has aroused a question far more serious than that which resulted from the passage of the anti-land bill in California recently. The Hawaii Hochi says:

"The anti-alien land law passed recently in California will be observed only in that state and will influence only the Japanese and other foreign residents of that state. But the recent ruling of the supreme court with regard to the returning alien residents will eventually affect all foreign domiciles in the United States who may leave the country to visit their old homes and then return again. Suppose the domiciles are excluded on the ground of being afflicted with trachoma or some other disease mentioned in the statutes; this will cause much trouble, especially when the persons excluded are owners of property in the United States. So far as the Japanese are concerned, they are taking the matter very seriously and hope that by some way or another an amendment or alteration may be made for the safety and protection of the Japanese domiciles in the United States. The Japanese of Honolulu intend taking the matter up with the local consul and asking him to request Ambassador Chinda to look into the matter."

BIG CHANGES PENDING IN ARMY ADMINISTRATION; NEW STAFF CHIEF, WOTHERSPOON

Gen. Funston's Command in South to Take Effect with Elevation of Gen. Tasker H. Bliss to Assistant Chief--Wood to Command Department of East

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 7.—Important changes in the army administration are slated for April 1, when Major-General Leonard Wood, chief of staff, retires from that position. Maj.-gen. W. W. Wotherspoon, now assistant chief of staff, will succeed Gen. Wood, who will take command of the department of the East. General Frederick Funston, just ordered from Hawaii, will probably take command of the Southern department, including the states of Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Arizona, with headquarters at Fort Sam Houston. This change will take place when Brig.-gen. Tasker H. Bliss becomes assistant chief of staff to succeed Gen. Wotherspoon.

"Supermilitants" Next; The Violent Campaign Plan Fails

LONDON, Eng., Feb. 7.—Signs of serious division among the militant suffragettes became widespread today with an announcement that Sylvia Pankhurst has severed all connection with the Women's Social and Political Union, the main organization under which the violent militant tactics have been carried on.

For several years this union has been dominated by the Pankhursts. Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst and her two daughters, Sylvia and Christabel. Sylvia Pankhurst now says that she intends to organize her own force of "supermilitants." Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst is much enfeebled as a result of her numerous "hunger strikes." Christabel is inclined to peace, and many observers of the situation believe the militancy as a feature of the "Votes for Women" campaign is fast crumbling and will soon be abandoned by the leaders.

Mexico City Wild With Rumors Of Uprising Against Huerta

MEXICO CITY, Mexico, Feb. 7.—For 24 hours Mexico City has been seething with rumors of a coup d'etat by Huerta's enemies that will force the dictator from the presidency and seat another. The conspirators were to have staged their uprising last night, according to report, but it did not materialize. A number of arrests have been made, mostly of clerks in the executive departments and small business men.

It is reported today that 2500 members of the police force are pledged to join a military revolt to take place within a short time. Minister of War Blanquet has taken every precaution to prevent an outbreak and every preparation to resist the coup if it is attempted. Huerta is heavily guarded.

Southern Pacific Asks Leave to Issue $55,000,000 Bonds

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 7.—The Southern Pacific railroad today made application to the state railroad commission for permission to issue $55,000,000 of five per cent bonds. Of this proposed issue, $47,000,000 are to be expended in betterments and extensions and the remainder to be used as refunding bonds.

Australia to Spend $300,000 on Display at 1915 Exposition

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 7.—All fears that Australia might not have a large display at the Panama-Pacific exposition were set at rest today when the exposition management was notified that Australia will spend at least $300,000 on her participation.

Food Inspection Bureau Goes

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 7.—Secretary of Agriculture Houston today issued an order abolishing the present aversion of Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, the board of food and drug inspection. This board, according to the statements made by the former chief chemist, showed great injustices and incompetency in its handling of the food and drug legislation and inspection under the act.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 7.—By the abolishing of the food and drug inspection bureau, the administration of the pure food law is virtually centered in one man, the chief of the bureau of chemistry, who is now Dr. Carl L. Alesberg. Dr. Wiley's ceaseless contention was that the administration should be so centered.

Fears Felt For Americans

JUAREZ, Mexico, Feb. 7.—The gravest fears are felt for the lives of the six American railroad men believed to be imprisoned since Wednesday in a tunnel wrecked by bandits. The tunnel was wrecked in order to hold up a train that the bandits intended to rob. The robbers set fire to the timbers at the mouth of the tunnel but the train on which the Americans, officials of the Mexican Northwestern, were traveling entered the tunnel and none of the passengers, 35 in all, has been seen since.

Did Steel Trust Accept Rebates

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 7.—The interstate commerce commission today began an investigation to determine whether the United States Steel Corporation, or "steel trust," has been accepting rebates contrary to law in the last six years. This charge was made by David Lamar, the Wall Street operator, during the lobby hearings last summer.

HILO WELCOMES MATSONIA WITH DINNER, TOASTS AND BIG BALL

[Special Star-Bulletin Wireless] HILO, Feb. 7.—Hilo and the Big Island gave hospitable welcome and lavish entertainment to the Matsonia, Captain Matson and the many passengers on the big flagship, upon her arrival here yesterday, and the entertainment is still in progress. Captain Matson and Captain Saunders, the flagship's skipper, spoke in response to the toasts of welcome and congratulation at the dinner given at the Hilo hotel. All speeches contained high praise for Captain Matson and were reminiscent of his career for the past 30 years. The attendance was nearly 100 and the dinner and toasts were a big success, the program lasting three hours. Tonight at the Hilo hotel there will be a ball in honor of the passage.

FUEL FOR MAUI PORTS

At least 15,000 barrels of fuel oil brought from Port Harford in the American steamer Lansing will be discharged at Kahului, Maui, the supply being consigned to the Union Oil Company branch at that port.

Captain C. Alberts, master of the Lansing, reports a fine trip down with favorable winds and little rough weather. One hundred and twenty-five drums of gasoline were carried on deck. Included in the cargo were 529 cases of oil for the Honolulu agency. In bulk the Lansing arrived with 42,600 barrels of crude oil, much of the product being discharged at Honolulu today. It is expected that the Lansing will be discharged for Kahului and the coast today.

"Mac" Was Too Trusting.

Purser L. McPherson of the big liner Manchuria may in future have occasion to question the honesty of Chinese saloon boys with whom he might entrust sums of money. The Hongkong police were called upon to locate a Chinese who is charged by the Pacific Mail official with having disappeared with $100 given him to change. The boy left the ship and failed to return.

BIG RECEPTION AT HILO

Hilo turned out en masse to greet the new Matson Navigation liner Matsonia, that made its initial appearance off the Crescent city at daylight Friday morning, while a special committee from the Hilo Board of Trade consisting of C. C. Kennedy, J. A. Scott and E. N. Holmes, C. F. Wright, C. Casteneko, E. M. Lindsay and A. Lindsay visited the vessel from a gaily decorated launch, and in the name of the board of trade and the city of Hilo extended a warm welcome to Captain William Matson, Captain C. W. Saunders and staff of officers and a score of prominent mainland tourists, the invited guests of Captain Matson.

The inter-island steamer Mauna Kea and several other vessels in the Hawaii coasting trade participated in a noisy and rousing welcome salute in which steam whistles and sirens figured.

Under the direction of L. A. Thurston, the Matson party were taken over the scenic railway line to Laupahoehoe. The visitors had returned at the time the Mauna Kea departed for Honolulu and the plans called for a banquet at the Hilo Hotel for Friday evening. Speeches and toasts included the following:

Toastmaster, H. B. Elliot; toast to Governor Pinkham, Harry Irwin; toast to Captain Matson, C. C. Kennedy; toast to captain and officers of the steamer Matsonia, J. T. Moir; speech, Commerce in Hawaii; L. A. Thurston; speech, Port of Hilo, William McKay; speech, Officers Matson Navigation Company, John Scott; speech, Promotion, Reverend George Laughlin.

MARITIME MATTERS

A full cargo of Makee sugar arrived at the port in the inter-island steamer Likehiki, which returned from a special trip to Kauai.

A report has been received that the British freighter Vennachar that called here for coal during the latter part of December, has been purchased by the Japanese.

The new iron gates that guard the main entrance to pier 7, prove an effective barrier to the crowd that gathers there at the arrival of each trans-Pacific steamer.

Preparations are being made to receive a considerable shipment of nitrates from South America in the Japanese steamer Selyo Maru, due at the port on next Tuesday.

A few passengers joined the Japanese liner Tenyo Maru in departure from Honolulu for the coast at 9 o'clock this morning. The vessel was discharged of 1100 tons of freight from Oriental ports.

Due to arrive at Honolulu on next Tuesday, the Matson Navigation steamer Lurline with a large cargo and a fair number of passengers, is destined to carry a full shipment of sugar as return freight.

GOVERNOR HEEDS PLEA OF PRISONER'S WIFE

Responding to a pathetic appeal by Funakoshi Kane, wife of Funakoshi Tatsugoro, Governor Pinkham visited the Japanese man at the Oahu prison hospital yesterday afternoon. Funakoshi has served eleven years and a half of a 30-year term in prison, given him following a series of sensational murders at Hilo many years ago.

He underwent an operation for appendicitis some time ago and is said to be in poor condition physically. The wife, who has been not only making her own living at hard work but has been supplying food and delicacies to the husband ever since his incarceration, asks for a pardon. The governor has reached no decision in the matter yet.

CAPTAIN CAMPBELL LOT BRINGS $4500 AT AUCTION

The Captain Campbell property on Beretaria street, almost opposite the German Lutheran church, was sold at noon today at the Steven auction room for $4500. The name of the purchaser is withheld, but it is reported that it was bid for by a Japanese company. There were a number of bidders. The property was started at $1000 and was advanced by small amounts to the figure named. The price is generally considered very fair considering the present rather depressed condition of the real estate market.

The lot contains 8064 square feet and has a house which at present is occupied by Mrs. Annie Keane under lease.

MORE CARNIVAL VISITORS

More visitors to the Mid-Pacific Carnival, drawn from the Pacific coast, are en route to the islands in the Matson Navigation steamer Lurline, now nearing the port and due to arrive here on Tuesday morning and to berth at Pier 16 (formerly Hackfeld wharf). Captain Madsen has advised (Castle & Cooke through wireless, that the steamer is bringing 38 cabin and four stowage passengers.

It is believed that the vessel carries a quantity of navy and army supplies and ordnance in the 2427 tons of cargo to be discharged at Honolulu. In steaming for Kahului on Thursday evening this vessel will leave 280 tons of freight. Cargo for Port Allen to the amount of 112 tons and a shipment of 165 tons for Kaanapali will be transhipped at Honolulu.

Mainland mail to the amount of 12 sacks and some express matter are reported aboard the vessel. Six autos are included in the Honolulu cargo.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

The members of the Kapahulu Improvement Club will meet at the residence of G. Conrad, 3030 Campbell avenue, at 4:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Accompanied by the attorney-general and president of the health board, the governor visited a number of local hospitals yesterday, including that at Oahu prison.

Bids are being received at the office of the superintendent of public works for the construction of a dormitory at the Viehili Girls Industrial school. The bids will be opened at noon, February 16.

Circuit Judge Whitney has set March 16 as the date for hearing the $25,000 slander suit of Beatrice Hall against Dr. Arthur F. Jackson.

Decision for the defendant in the sum of $152.09 was given by Judge Whitney today in the suit of Walter E. Wall against Herman Focke, involving commission on the sale of a piece of property in Palolo valley.

Circuit Judge Cooper this morning denied plaintiff's motion for a new trial in the action to quiet title brought by Okamura against Mele Kaulani. The motion was argued by Attorney C. F. Peterson for the plaintiff and J. A. Magoon for the defendant.

Judge Robinson this morning discharged A. W. T. Bottomley and cancelled his bond as receiver for the Puna Sugar Company, the financial affairs of that concern having been straightened out satisfactorily.

There will be a general meeting of the members of the Sacred Heart Building Society tomorrow at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, at the new Sacred Heart church, Wilder avenue, near Alexander street, Punahou, the same being about ready for acceptance. Members are earnestly requested to be present, each, also, to bring a friend.

Dr. Justin E. Emerson and Mrs. Emerson, the former at one time being a resident of these islands, will be the guests of honor this afternoon at a reception held at the old mission house, King street, under the auspices of the Cousins Society. The reception will begin at 3:30 o'clock.

John Kea, who was indicted by the territorial grand jury recently for embezzling $35 while a clerk in the public health department, was arraigned before Circuit Judge Cooper this morning. He pleaded guilty, sentence being suspended until next Wednesday morning.

George Rufus Simmons, member of the 25th infantry, colored, who was found guilty of second degree manslaughter in connection with the killing of Santos Morales at Wahiawa, was sentenced by Circuit Judge Cooper this morning to imprisonment at hard labor for a period of not less than five nor more than 10 years at Oahu prison.

DEMAND HEAVY FOR 'SEASON' TICKETS FOR THE CARNIVAL

Honolulu people and tourists to the number of more than 100 already have availed themselves of the opportunity to buy season tickets for the Mid-Pacific Carnival, according to reports issued by Raymond C. Brown, who was recently appointed by the director-general to take charge of the sale of all tickets. The biggest sale made this morning was the purchase by a tourist of nine season tickets and a special box for the production of "The Mayor of Tokio."

The scrip tickets are going like hot cakes and at noon today more than 120 had been sold. Each ticket sells for $7.50 each and when the ticket office opened yesterday morning an enthusiastic local business man—the father of a large family—was one of the first customers and he departed with an envelope containing 10 of the strips. Each ticket on the scrip entitles the holder to a reserved seat in the grandstand, from where an excellent view of the events may be obtained.

JUDGE W. B. LYMER, who made a business trip to Hawaii, was numbered among the returning passengers in the steamer Mauna Kea.

SIERRA BEARS MARINER'S ASHES

As the Oceanic liner Sierra, that steamed at noon today for the Coast, reaches a point midway between Honolulu and San Francisco, the ashes of the late Captain Alfred N. Tripp, veteran navigator, whaler, and for several years harbor-master at this port, will be scattered over the ocean at the expressed dying wish of Captain Tripp. The ashes were in the custody of J. D. Mehren, a passenger. A simple service will be said in the presence of the officers and travelers.

Fifty cabin and 25 steerage passengers sailed in the vessel, the departure of which was attended by a delightful concert from members of the Hawaiian band. The Sierra was supplied with large list of freight, including 11,596 bags of sugar, 13,312 cases of canned pineapple, 269 cases of pineapple in glass, 169 crates of fresh pineapples, 995 bunches of bananas, 170 bags of rice, 137 bags of coffee, 619 bundles of hides and skins, 22 cases of honey, 43 barrels of tallow, 21 bales of sisal, 174 empties and sundries.

'GET-TOGETHER' DINNER SHOWS MAUI ON ALERT

Maui is getting ready for the greatest citizens' gathering in its history, the third annual inter-island civic convention, according to a letter received by President W. R. Farrington of the Ad Club from F. T. Bevins, chairman of the civic convention committee of the Maui Chamber of Commerce.

Telling about the "get-together dinner" at Wailuku last Thursday night, Mr. Bevins says:

"The dinner was an absolute success, I believe, and will be productive of much good. One hundred and two places were occupied and it was really astonishing to observe the enthusiasm displayed."

Three or four non-resident members of the Ad Club were present, continues Bevins, and showed the Ad Club spirit.

REPORT OF EPIDEMIC PROVES TO BE ERRONEOUS

Investigation by the Star-Bulletin of the rumor that an epidemic of dysentery was rampant among the infantile population along upper Fort street proved the story to be without foundation. The residents in the vicinity of Fort street lane, where report centered the malady, said they had heard of no deaths and no cases serious enough to warrant the service of physicians.

INITIAL HEARING-OF WAHIAWA WATER CO. BEING HELD TODAY

The initial hearing in the investigation of the Wahiawa Water Company is being conducted this afternoon by the Public Utilities Commission at the Wahiawa school house, having convened at 3 o'clock.

The idea of the investigation is to determine whether the Wahiawa Water Company is a utilities corporation and therefore subject to the jurisdiction of the utilities commission. Considerable time has been spent by the commission in securing data necessary for the hearing, and the meeting this afternoon doubtless will bring forward some interesting results.

The water company claims that it is not a utilities corporation but a mutual water association, pointing out that it supplies its product only to its stockholders.

LOCAL HOTELS GET LIQUOR PRIVILEGE FOR THE CARNIVAL

Special privileges to sell liquor after hours during the Carnival week yesterday afternoon were granted the Territorial Hotel Company, the Waikeiki Inn and the Union Grill, by the board of liquor license inspectors. The applications for the privileges have been under consideration by the board since its last meeting, and little discussion preceded the granting. On February 14 the grantees will be allowed to sell liquor until 1 a. m. and on the two Sundays during the celebration, until 10 p. m. On February 16, 17, 18, 19, 20 and 23 they will be allowed to sell until 2 o'clock in the morning.

The application submitted by J. T. Scully at the last meeting of the board, relating to special after-hour privileges on days other than during the Carnival, was deferred until the next meeting, as was the one from Clifford Kimball regarding his being allowed to sell beer and permit card-playing and music at his social hall near Schofield Barracks.

JOHN H. WISE, now a small farmer on Hawaii, is a visitor to the capital today.

LARIMER INVESTIGATES POSITIONS OFFERED TO MEN AT PEARL HARBOR

A. E. Larimer, head of the employment work department of the Young Men's Christian Association, is visiting at Pearl Harbor today with a view to securing data relative to the number of positions which will be opened to men upon the resuming of work at the naval base. It is understood that when work once more is commenced, positions will be open for hundreds of men and, if such is the case, it is expected that the local employment situation will be greatly relieved. Before returning to Honolulu, Mr. Larimer will visit Castner for a similar investigation.

A lecture will be given Thursday evening, February 12, in the makai pavilion of the Young hotel by Rev. O. J. SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 7, 1914

Our country needs a spiritual quickening which religion can give.—Shailer Mathews, president Federated Council of Churches of Christ of America.

ON THE DEMOCRATIC HORIZON

On the hitherto untroubled Democratic horizon now arises a little cloud no larger than a man's hand. It may soon overshadow the heavens.

The cloud is that of the Panama Canal tolls bill, passed by a Democratic Congress, now urged for repeal by President Wilson.

The situation is extraordinary. It gives occasion for a party split as has no other legislation since Wilson took office. Tariff revision was not a hard task; the whole country clamored for it, though there was difference of opinion as to the wisdom of certain details. The country likewise called in no uncertain voice for a new currency law. President Wilson's plans for legislation to extend and amplify the Sherman anti-trust law, to prohibit interlocking directorates and to dissolve great transportation monopolies will also receive general support from the country.

There is no such assurance for his plan to repeal the canal tolls bill. The senate will almost certainly split on it. Though the issue is one that is not generally understood, the repeal of the bill is likely to arouse a good deal of popular clamor and this fight may do more to loosen Wilson's hold on congressional action than any other during his administration.

A "GLARELESS" HEADLIGHT

Since the Star-Bulletin proposed that measures be taken to end the glaring auto-headlight nuisance, this paper has heard from a number of auto-owners and drivers. The majority of those expressing opinions are in favor of the plan; a few believe it is not practicable.

The main objection urged is that Honolulu's street-lighting is so inadequate that the powerful headlight is a necessity if the auto-driver would avoid running down pedestrians or other cars. One businessman says that the practice of shutting off the city lights on moonlight nights ought to be stopped; another says that until the streets are in much better condition than now, the strong headlight must be used to show the rough spots in front of the car.

There is merit in both of these arguments. Certainly better lighting and better streets will greatly decrease both the danger to traffic and the need for strong headlights.

The Star-Bulletin has heard it said that the attempts to hood or dim lights are not practical; that there is no good light of the "glareless" kind.

As a matter of fact, a very good light of this kind has been invented. It illuminates the roadway brightly without throwing a blinding glare into the eyes of the driver of an approaching car. It is an electric light, consisting of a mushroom-shaped tungsten bulb, the beams from which pass through two condensing lenses and are then reflected by a mirror through a projection lens to the roadway. Externally the new headlight is tubular in form, the electric bulb being at the base, and the light is projected upward through the lenses to the mirror, where it is deflected, never striking higher than 4 1/2 feet above the surface of the road. The lamp is attached to the radiator by small bolts, and is hermetically sealed.

It will cost something to equip cars with these lights. Possibly that may arouse protest among some auto-owners.

CHRISTIANITY AND LAW

The present moment would seem to be a good one to draw the attention of the reading public to the following extracts from an article in the January issue of Case and Comment.

"The federal constitution is often pointed to by the agnostic, atheist, deist and other kinds of unbelievers as the charter of their liberty, to scoff and sneer at Christianity. But Christianity is the only religion known to our American law. Our marriage laws are based upon its teaching. Our usury laws are peculiarly Christian. Our doctrine of charities is Christian. Our public institutions, providing for the care of deaf, dumb, blind, feeble-minded and insane, and all our reformatory institutions are Christian. No other religion ever enacted laws for the care, education and elevation of these classes. Our doctrines concerning the guardianship of infants are Christian. We do not enact into our laws the teachings of Epictetus, Seneca and Confucius, but those of Christ. We have no union of a church with our government, but we unite religion—the Christian religion—with the state. The proper administration of justice depends very largely upon the binding sense of obligation to the Supreme Being in the minds of witnesses and jurors. We exempt from taxation churches and church property used for religious purposes, and thus indirectly help support the church out of the public treasury. The constitution does not define the word "religion," but it is evident, from our customs and laws, that the Christian religion is the religion of the land. When our chief executive is inaugurated he is sworn upon the Bible—not the Koran, nor "Science and Health," nor the Kings of the Chinese, the Zend Avesta of the Persians, nor even upon the Old Testament of the Jews, but on the Bible,—the Holy Book of the Christian.

"Every Congress that has ever met has passed religious legislation. When a new Congress meets the first business done in each house is organization, and among the officers duly elected by ballot is a chaplain of the Christian religion. Every squadron that sails the seas and waves the Stars and Stripes carries not only an admiral to command, but a chaplain of the Christian religion to preach and pray. Every regiment in our army has not only a colonel to command, but a chaplain of the Christian religion.

"In the constitution of Georgia the preamble says, 'Relying upon the protection and guidance of Almighty God,' etc. Every state constitution has in some form recognized Christianity. An hour would not suffice to bring out the many ways in which we have recognized and legislated as to Christianity and made it the religion of our government. To every religion we allow a limited liberty. But if the Hindu mother in obedience to her religion, should drown her infant, we would hold her for murder, for ours is the Christian law. When an erratic father feels called upon, like Abraham of old, to offer up his only son as a sacrifice, we do not allow him liberty to exercise his religious conviction. If one of our citizens says, 'My religion teaches me that I must, like Abraham, Jacob, David, Solomon and other worthies of the Old Testament, have more wives than one,' we allow him no such liberty. In other words, whenever a man's religion clashes in any serious way with our views of religion, which we have expressed in law, we curtail his liberty quickly."

BUY A SEASON TICKET

Those fortunate people who possess automobiles and intend to use them as private grandstands from which to view the Floral Parade are in for a disappointment. The line of march is to be closed to all traffic and the pedestrian will have a better chance to see the parade than the man in an auto. The moral of this is that you should buy one of the season tickets now on sale at the Promotion Committee rooms. For the first time in history, seats from which to see the various Carnival events will be at a premium when the events take place.

The supervisors' economy axe is going to swing on the police department. Evidently a case of "hew to the line, let the cops fall where they may."

Any time American interests in Mexico are endangered it's a good plan to land marines in Haiti.

President Wilson might ask Congress to pass a vote of want of confidence in Huerta.

More lights on the light-poles and less on the autos will help avert accidents.

Wonder if Mott-Smith is going to unscramble the Koolau railroad?

Every child more on the playgrounds means one less adult in jail.

There is no car in Carnival, speaking of the side-lines.

PRECINCT CLUBS TO MAKE CHOICE OF DELEGATES

Personnel of Territorial Republican Convention Will Be Decided at Today's Election

What the personnel will be of the next territorial Republican convention will be decided this afternoon and evening at the meetings of the precinct clubs. Delegates to the convention, nominated last Monday evening, will be elected today for the convention which is to be held in Honolulu, February 21.

Any possibility of a split in the 23rd precinct of the fourth district was done away with. Albert B. Judd withdrew, this afternoon, leaving just the two names, A. L. Castle and E. K. Aiu. In a contest of the precincts with a large vote, it is probable that there now remain as candidates only the number entitled to be elected delegates. This will do away with the possibility of a split being made for seats in the convention.

A great deal of interest centers around the coming convention. The revision of the rules, highly important in itself, will be, no doubt, the basis of warm debates at the convention. Making as they do radical changes over the old rules, there is evidenced already a difference of opinion on them as they appear in the draft. Robert W. Shingle, chairman of the territorial central Republican committee, will encourage, he says, a complete thrashing out of the proposed rules.

The following are the nominees of the different precincts in the fourth and fifth districts who are up for election this evening for a place in the convention, and those who will be seated without a contest:

First of the fourth, Kaimuki, three to be elected—P. M. Church, George Macy and Ed Towse.

Second of the fourth, Waikiki, four to be elected—R. S. Kelly, C. G. Beck, us, C. K. Keoloha and Carl A. Widemann.

Third of the fourth, Manoa, two to be elected—A. H. Tarleton, George G. Guild.

Fourth of the fourth, Makiki — A. Hocking, R. W. Breckous, George S. Curry, John E. Soper.

Fifth of the fourth, Rapid Transit, two to be elected—William Thompson and L. M. Judd.

Sixth of the fourth, Kakaako, three to be elected—J. M. Keoloha, Solomon Hanohano and S. K. Maloi.

Eighth of the fourth, San Antonio, three to be elected—Lorrin Andrews, John Kamanakulu and A. V. Peters.

Ninth of the fourth, Central Fire station, four to be elected—C. L. Crabbe, E. P. Fogarty, Stephen Parker and W. K. Peters.

Tenth of the fifth, Waialua, two to be elected—Oscar Cox, A. S. Mahaulu and J. P. Medeiros.

Eighth of the fifth, Pearl City, two to be elected—Albert Waterhouse and C. N. Arnold.

Special Star-Bulletin Correspondent: FORT KAMEHAMEHA, Feb. 7.—A four-piece orchestra has been organized under the name of the "Service Stringed Quartet," under the direction of Private Victor Kerney, signal corps. It will make its initial appearance at a public concert Friday, February 13, at St. Andrew's cathedral.

E. M. HATCH was a passenger for the mainland in the Sierra, sailing at noon today.

A. M. MORGANTHALER, a well-known coast business man, departed for San Francisco in the Sierra today.

ALICE YVONNE DE TREVILLE is returning to the mainland today as a passenger in the Oceanic liner Sierra.

P. O. CLARK is numbered among the intending travelers to the coast in the Oceanic liner Senoma, to sail for San Francisco on February 20.

JAMES M. AB of San Francisco, who has spent the past few days at Honolulu as an arrival in the Matson Navigation liner Matsonia, is booked for the coast in the return voyage of that vessel.

ton, Washington, appeared an article of a column and a half in length written by him under the title, "Hawaii—A Tribute." The description is written with real cleverness and appreciation. He calls Honolulu "The City of Rest" for the tired visitor and praises climate, seashore mountains and people lavishly. McPherson makes a strong argument in favor of better transportation conditions between Hawaii and Seattle and says that there should be direct steamer service regularly.

LITTLE INTERVIEWS

RAYMOND BROWN: I think the public likes the idea of being able to buy at one time tickets for all the events of the Carnival. Its appreciation of the system certainly was shown by the sale of tickets yesterday.

GOVERNOR PINKHAM: I am still trying to solve the territorial economy puzzle and decide something definite on the bond issue. There will be no more appointments or recommendations for a few days, at least.

CAPT. WALTER V. KOLB: The large consignment of uniforms for the national guard at last has arrived. Members of Company D who are without uniforms should call at the bun-galow tomorrow morning and be fitted out.

SOCIETY

(Main society section pages 12 and 13)

The largest event of the week was the at home given yesterday by Mrs. Charles H. Atherton and her daughters, Mrs. John Buel Guard and the Misses Atherton. The affair took place at the old Atherton residence on King street. The home is one of the oldest in Honolulu and in every way typical of the early days of the islands—big, spacious rooms, airy and cool, a setting of verdure and flowers unequalled in the city. Three hundred or more guests called during the afternoon, kamaainas most of them whose long acquaintance and charming cordiality changed the affair from a formal reception to a delightful gathering of friends. Tea and coffee were prepared by Mrs. J. P. Cooke, Mrs. J. A. Guman, Mrs. J. A. Kennedy and Mrs. G. F. Bush, while Mrs. O. C. Swain, Mrs. F. C. Atherton, Mrs. Theodore Richards and Miss Muriel Howatt assisted in receiving. The dining room was decorated with beautiful pink roses and carnations, most of them the gifts of friends. The rest of the house was ablaze with gorgeous mahogany colored bougainvillea and great bowls of red African daisies. Lovely baskets of maidenhair made a soft green setting for the more vivid colors. The balminess of the February day was reflected in the costumes of the guests, the saucy ruffles and smart, furbelows of spring being very much in evidence.

Townpeople are deeply regretting the departure of Mrs. Frederick Funston, who sailed on the transport this week to join her husband in Texas. Mrs. Funston was one of the most charming hostesses of the service set and was a general favorite with everyone in Honolulu. Besides being an extremely beautiful and accomplished woman, Mrs. Funston possesses an innate charm of personality which makes her immediately popular wherever she goes. Previous to her departure on Wednesday she was the guest of Col. and Mrs. D. M. Appel for several days.

Kamehameha Schools Receiving Day.
Hereafter the ladies of the Kamehameha Schools will reserve the last Saturday of each month as receiving day.

On the last Saturday afternoon of February they will receive at the home of Mrs. Perley Horne from three until six o'clock.

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence]
FORT SHAFTER, Feb. 7.—The usual fortnightly hop of the garrison was held last night and was well attended. The hops, judging by attendance and enthusiasm, are becoming more popular as the season progresses. A number of informal dinners preceded last night's affair, Major H. O. Williams being among those so entertaining.

The Honolulu Choral Society under the direction of Mr. Reginald Carter will for the first time meet with the orchestra on Tuesday of next week. It has already covered considerable ground in its practices for the coming concert—which, by the way, promises to be a treat for lovers of good music. Mendelssohn's Hymn of Praise, which is one of the biggest things attempted in Honolulu for a long time, is of course attracting considerable attention. Those in charge are more than satisfied with the way the practices are going.

The next meeting of the College Club will be held on Tuesday, the 10th, at the Kilohana building, on Beretania street at 4 o'clock. Mr. D. L. Withington will speak on the "Rights of Women." This week Dr. W. C. Hobdy gave a very interesting talk on the "Hygiene of Childhood," his lecture being the third of the series in community housekeeping given under the auspices of the College Club.

Two tables of men folk who seemed to be enjoying themselves most thoroughly at the Army Relief bridge party this week were made up of Capt. George Hicks, Dr. B. Huntington, Lieut. Frank Applin, Capt. Francis Hinkle and Dr. Charles Baker, Lieut. G. F. Humbert, Capt. John Johnstone and Major Penn. There was a goodly sprinkling of men at many of the other tables.

Capt. and Mrs. Benjamin Watkins entertained at dinner at the Country Club on Monday evening in honor of Major and Mrs. Peter Marquart and Capt. and Mrs. Joseph Kay. Both Major Marquart and Capt. Kay have just received their promotions and the dinner was by way of a celebration.

Capt. and Mrs. Benjamin Watkins are settled in their new quarters at Fort Shafter, which they find just as comfortable though not quite so large as their old house. They are now liv-

There was an informal hop last evening at Fort Shafter given by the officers of the post. Those present included a number of the society folk of town as well as the army set. Following the dance there were several hop suppers.

Among those to sail on the Sierra this morning were Mrs. E. I. Spalding and her daughter, Miss Helen Spalding, who will spend several months on the mainland principally in Salt Lake City.

Mrs. Norma Adams and Miss Marguerite Wadman entertained informally at dinner this week in honor of Miss Helen Spalding who sailed on the Sierra this morning for Salt Lake City.

Mrs. Edward Carpenter was hostess on Thursday afternoon to Mrs. E. D. Tenney, Mrs. Arthur Brown, Major Frank Coe, and Capt. H. Hatch at the Army Relief bridge party.

Mrs. E. J. Timberlake entertained Mrs. Charles Wilder, Mrs. James Wilder, Mrs. J. M. Dowsett and Miss Margaret Walker at the Army Relief bridge party on Thursday.

No costumes at the Bachelors' ball were described, but it would be a shame not to mention the jeweled serpent which one lady wore entwined about her dainty ankle.

There was an informal dance at the Moana Wednesday evening for the guests and their friends. Music was furnished by the Filipino orchestra.

Mrs. Frank Cheatham and her mother, Mrs. William Denman, entertained at tea yesterday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Gump of San Francisco.

Tables for the next Army Relief bridge party may be reserved before hand by telephoning to Mrs. F. W. Whistler at Fort Ruger—3401.

Madlle. Yvonne de Treville and her accompanist, Mrs. Edith B. Whiffen, sailed for San Francisco on the Sierra this morning.

British Consul and Mrs. J. B. Rentiers are entertaining at dinner this evening in honor of Governor L. E. Pinkham.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Patten and the Misses Almond sailed this week for Hawaii where they will visit the volcano.

Col. and Mrs. L. V. Kennon were hosts at a buffet luncheon today at Schofield Barracks after the review.

Miltner's orchestra has been secured to give the usual Saturday night concert this evening at the Young cafe.

Capt. and Mrs. James E. Bell entertained at a hop supper last evening after the dance at Fort Shafter.

The second of the series of The's Dansants will be held at the Young hotel on Tuesday, the 10th.

Mrs. John Osborne entertained at bridge yesterday afternoon at her home on Wilder avenue.

CLEANSES YOUR HAIR MAKES IT BEAUTIFUL

It becomes thick, wavy, lustrous and all dandruff disappears—Hair stops coming out.

Surely try a "Danderine Hair Cleanse" if you wish to immediately double the beauty of your hair. Just moisten a cloth with Danderine and draw it carefully through your hair, taking one small strand at a time, this will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or any excessive oil—in a few moments you will be amazed. Your hair will be wavy, fluffy and abundant and possess an incomparable softness, lustre and luxuriance.

Besides beautifying the hair, one application of Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; invigorates the scalp, stopping itching and falling hair.

Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow abundantly long, strong and beautiful.

You can surely have pretty, soft, lustrous hair, and lots of it, if you will just get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and try it as directed.—advertisement.

During the performance the members of the ballet will be seen in a number of fancy dances, including the "Hesitation Waltz" in which they will be supported by the main chorus of some 50 persons. 'KNOCKOUT' SOCCER SERIES STARTS TODAY AT KAMEHAMEHA FIELD

Interest in soccer or association football has taken a new turn, and now centers around a "knockout" competition arranged by the Hawaiian Football Association for today and next Saturday. The title to the handsome A. U. cup is the issue and the series though short promises to be hard-fought.

they could not hold up both sports. The Healanis play the Beavers at 2:30 this afternoon and on the same grounds at 3:45 the Malles and the National Guard squads mingle. The finals will be played off on the same grounds next Saturday, between the winners of today's games. It is hoped and expected that the school teams will be in this series next year, which will probably be held between the halves of the season.

The reason for saying that you'd better pay at least $25 for one of our Hart Schaffner & Marx ready suits or overcoats is the value that you're going to get for the twenty-five. When we advise you to pay $25 for such clothes, just remember that we're just as much interested in what you're going to get as in what we get out of it.

Many companies have been able to cut down expenses in considerable measure, and improved machinery and methods have in some instances shown marked saving without impairment of efficiency. From present forecasts it is believed that this year's crop will be larger than the normal, but that it will be found possible to produce it at less cost, the aim being rather towards intensive culture methods, thus saving in land and labor necessary to handle it.

Meetings for March

The majority of the plantations represented by Theo. H. Davies & Co. will hold their annual meetings in March, the dates for some not having as yet been fixed. They are as follows: Halawa Plantation Co., Hamakua Mill Co., Kawaihi Sugar Co., Kihikahi Plantation Co., Lapaheo Plantation Co., Union Mill Co., Waialua Mill Co., Kaeleku Sugar Co.

The Honokaa Sugar Company and the Pacific Sugar Company, represented by F. A. Schaefer & Co., have not yet had the dates of their annual meetings fixed.

It is probable that the annual meeting of the Oahu shareholders will not be held until some time in March, although the constitution of the corporation permits its being held in either February or March. The office forces of the mill and also of Bishop & Co. are engaged at the present time in getting the data of the plantation in shape for presentation at this meeting.

Hawaiian Commercial & Sugar Co. shareholders, as well as those of the McBride Sugar Company, have not yet been advised as to the annual meeting dates.

Meetings for February

The following corporations represented by the Henry Waterhouse Trust Company as agents, hold their annual meetings this month, but the dates have not as yet been determined upon: Kilauea Volcano House, Ltd., Honolulu Gas Co., Honolulu Lava Brick Co., Henry Waterhouse Trust Co., Denio Telephone Fire Alarm Co., Kaimuki Land Co., and Victory Mines Co.

The meetings of the Hawi Mill and Plantation Co. and the Hind Plantation Co., represented here by Hind, Rolph & Co., as agents, will hold their meetings in Kohala later in the month; and the meeting of the Captain Cook Coffee Co. will be held in Kona at a time yet to be fixed.

Time of the meetings of the shareholders of the Waianae Company and of the Makaha Coffee Company will be announced later by J. M. Dowsett.

BIJOU THEATER

Four acts of rapid fire and fun and frolic packed into the space of an hour and fifteen minutes, is a treat in store for those who witness "In Arizona," filled to the brim with catchy musical numbers, as offered by the Spaulding Musical Comedy Company at the Bijou Theater, beginning Monday evening at which time a complete change of bill is announced.

There are a host of dancing specialties to be introduced to amusement seekers. The artist has completed a beautiful setting for the comedy. Eleven special numbers will be given by the favorites with the company. The chorus appears at many instances, arrayed in attractive and pleasing costumes. "In Arizona" gives ample scope for the display of exceptional abilities of Miss Wood in the part of a Mexican senorita. James Guilfoyl also takes a part that has much to do with the success of the performance. The international rag featured. Miss Neville will be heard in Garman, assisted by the chorus.

"Hully Woolly Wild West," a dashing cowboy number will be rendered by Miss Audelle and the girls. Eddie Murray the comedian appears in "Oh, You Tease," a song in which the chorus joins. Hattie de Von, the clever dancer will be seen in a dazzling eccentricity. "In Arizona" is rated as a rattling good cowboy show.

LOSING HOPE WOMAN VERY ILL

Finally Restored To Health
By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Bellevue, Ohio.—"I was in a terrible state before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My back ached until I thought it would break, I had pains all over me, nervous feelings and periodic troubles. I was very weak and run down and was losing hope of ever being well and strong. After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I improved rapidly and today am a well woman. I cannot tell you how happy I feel and I cannot say too much for your Compound. Would not be without it in the house if it cost three times the amount."—Mrs. CHAS. CHAPMAN, R. F. D. No. 7 Bellevue, Ohio.

Woman's Precious Gift.
The one which she should most zealously guard, is her health, but it is the one most often neglected, until some ailment peculiar to her sex has fastened itself upon her. If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (Confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

'NOTHING TO DO BUT STEER'—THAT'S WHAT IS SAID ABOUT CHALMERS SIX

Nothing to do but to get in gear. That's how easy it is to start the new Chalmers "Six" Ford touring car. Full control of operation from the driver's seat accessibility to the gas tank and all lubrication points are the features which appeal strongly to all motorists.

Once you have taken your place in the driving seat it is unnecessary to move from that position to do anything necessary in starting, handling on the road or stopping the car. The Chalmers engineers have given unusual attention to making the arrangement of the controls on the cowling of the dash just a convenient as possible. At the top of the steering column are the spark and throttle levers. It is easy to reach them without moving your hands from the steering wheel.

At the right are the emergency brake and the gear shift levers. The driver's hand naturally drops upon them—it requires no effort to reach them. Clutch and brake pedals are placed in the most comfortable and therefore, the most convenient position. The accelerator is where it is easy to reach, and it has also a most convenient and comfortable foot rest. One can drive this car all day without becoming cramped.

On the dash directly in front of the driver is the starting and ignition switch. All that you have to do to start this car is move that switch over to the extreme right. Your motor starts at once.

On the right hand side of the cowling are two gauges which indicate the oil pressure and the gasoline pressure. Still further over is the speedometer which may be seen equally well either from the front seat or the tonneau. Between the speedometer and the oil gauge is a convenient dash light which illuminates everything on the cowling.

Even the location of the electric horn button has been determined with an eye to the driver's convenience. It is placed on the left hand door, where, if desired, you can press the button with your knee, making it unnecessary in an emergency to take your hands from the steering lever.

In addition to these features of convenience, there are, of course, demountable rims, electric lights, and a very important convenience—the left hand drive, which allows you to enter from either side of the car.

The convenience of this car goes beyond the mere control when driving, however. Every lubrication point is readily accessible. The motor has a large breather pipe and oil funnel into which oil may be poured from almost any kind of receptacle. The clutch is automatically lubricated from the motor. The grease cups are all large and easy to reach. There is a gasoline gauge which always shows the amount of fuel in your gasoline tank.

1914 CARNIVAL TOLD IN BRIEF

ing the entries it may be said that they will be very numerous and of great variety. This year's procession will be much the largest ever had here, judging by the entries already made.

LANTERN PARADE
In the evening comes the Japanese lantern parade, a spectacle few cities can show. It is a carnival parade done in true carnival style. Thousands of Japanese marching in line with their lights, and numerous illuminated floats, make a sight of brilliance and fun with which the week will close.

PATRIOTIC SERVICES
There will be Washington patriotic and memorial services on Sunday, the 21st, and in the evening a sacred band concert by the Royal Hawaiian band, on the roof garden of the Alexander Young Hotel.

MILITARY SPECTACLES
The military parade on the morning of the 23rd, followed by a military athletic tournament in Kapiolani Park in the afternoon, ends the outdoor entertainments and spectacles. They will be followed in the evening by a grand military ball, given in honor of the commanding general of the Hawaiian department, M. M. Macomb, by Director-general James D. Dougherty and the officers of the 1914 Mid-Pacific carnival.

What It's Coming To.
"What do you think of our bridge club?"
"You have some excellent material in it. How do you manage to secure such good players?"
"We pattern after the baseball players and maintain efficient scouts."—Judge.

WHITEHOUSE REPORTS ON ROAD WORK

In connection with the road work in the city and county what is to be done and what is being done, the report of City Engineer Whitehouse, on the work of the month in other districts is of interest. The report was submitted at the last meeting of the supervisors and is as follows:

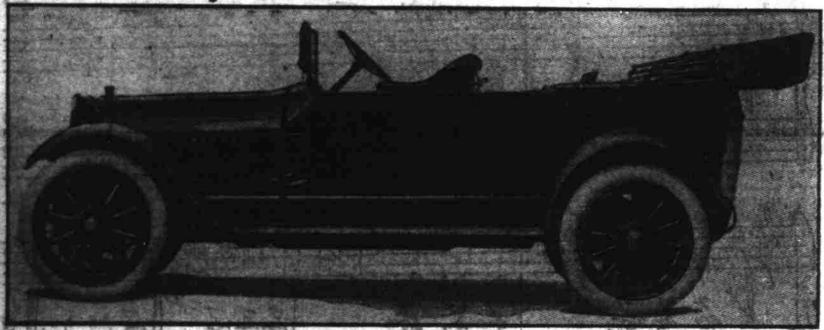

"Thinking that it might be of interest to the members of this board to know what work has been carried on in the road department in the other districts, I wish to submit the following report, covering the most important items of construction work that have been undertaken. A detail report showing the cost of all the work done during the past month will be submitted at the next regular meeting.

"The road forces of the district of Ewa have been employed during the past month principally in doing asphalt patching, between Aiea and Halawa. A recent storm that we had delayed this work considerably, and caused considerable damage to the road from Pearl City to Honolulu by blowing down numbers of old algaroba trees, which necessitated some hauling on the part of the road overseer to keep the road open to traffic. The side ditches in Kipapa and Waikakala gulches were cleaned several times during the month.

"In Waikakala gulch automobile traffic was seriously impeded by light showers, causing a thin scum of mud to form on a portion of the grade on the Ewa side of the gulch. This section is a portion of the new belt road recently completed, and is built on approximately a 6 per cent grade, the surface being formed with No. 3 road fill. When the red soil from the side roads is tracked on to this surface, and a light shower happens along, the combination creates a road surface that is extremely dangerous for automobiles without chains on the rear wheels. In the future this section of the road will be constantly gravelled with No. 3 rock, which, I think, will do away with all further trouble.

"In the district of Waianae the road forces have been confined to the effort to completing the road through Nanakuli, from the Nanakuli pond to the boundary, between the Ewa and Waianae districts. They have also done some slight repairing in Puuhulu. During the month I inspected the road from Waianae to Makaha point. A portion of this road is to be changed from its present location and placed parallel and adjoining the tracks of the Oahu Railway and Land Company's railroad. A bridge and fill should be constructed near Makaha point similar to the one that was recently built at Nanakuli, in order to afford safe and constant traffic with the homesteads, between Makaha point and Makua.

"The work done in the Waialua district during the past month has been principally the rebuilding of the coral road connecting the mauka and makai road at Waialua known as the Edward Lore road. The macadam road at Waimea has also been given a new coating of sand and minor repairs have been affected upon most of the bridges in the district.
"The road from the Waialua Mill to Mokuleia, which was repaired nearly two years ago, is standing up in excellent shape. This road is built on black adobe mud; the surface was plowed, harrowed, and shaped with a grader; approximately three (3) inches of beach sand were then placed upon the surface which was again harrowed; the road was then thrown open to traffic which consolidated the surface until in most places it resembles a macadamized road.
"The work done in the Koolauloa district during the past month has been principally confined to the repairing and rebuilding of numerous bridges. The new reinforced concrete bridge at Malaekahana has been completed and the approaches thereto are rapidly nearing completion. The bridge at Haleaha, which was in a very bad state of repair, has practically been rebuilt, new flooring and stringers being placed, and the abutments on both ends were reinforced with additional concrete. Work is just started on the rebuilding of one of the bridges at Hauula known as the Hauula Bridge No. 1. This bridge when completed will consist of concrete piers upon which a wooden deck will be placed.
"In the future, should money be available, a concrete deck could be placed on same. This bridge is similar to the one recently completed at Punaluu.
"In addition to this bridge work, there has been considerable patching done to the coral roads in Laie, Waihee and Punaluu.
"The only work done in Koolauoko during the past month was the commencement of the repair work on the Pali road. It is the intention of this department to repair only the worst sections of the road at present on account of lack of funds to do the entire work. The sharp turns are being paved with what is known as Durum pavement. This consists of a base of 5 inches of concrete up which is spread a sand cushion of approximately one inch; upon this cushion are then laid lava rock blocks in concentric segments of circles; these blocks are 4 inches deep and have a wearing surface of approximately 2 1/2 inches by 3 1/2 inches. After being laid the blocks are thoroughly grouted with rich cement grout. This pavement, I think, when completed, will withstand the heavy traffic of automobile trucks on this steep road.
"In addition to the work done on the Pali road, the only other work done in this district during the past month was the rebuilding of the old wooden bridge at Kaalaea."

CHALMERS SIX $2425 F. O. B. HONOLULU.

NON-STALLABLE MOTOR

CHALMERS starting system gives a positively non-stallable motor---a big advantage to the man who drives. It prevents tieups under heavy traffic conditions and all danger from accidents due to stalling of motor at critical times.

The new Chalmers "Six" motor cannot be stalled. When the starting switch is moved over to the extreme right, the starter is connected up and immediately turns the motor over. As soon as the car reaches a speed of 6 to 8 miles an hour, the starting motor becomes a generator and sends current back into the battery, but all of the time it is connected with the driving mechanism of the car. Under any conditions where your motor is likely to stall and drops below 900 revolutions per minute, this powerful electric starter automatically comes to the motor's assistance and gives it the boost that lifts it over the stalling point.

and at a point where it might be expected to stall, the starter continues to turn it over without any operation on the driver's part, just the same as when the motor is started. Or suppose you are driving in heavy traffic and are forced to come to a standstill. When you accelerate the ordinary motor you would probably stall. But this is not the case with this motor, for the starting mechanism, being constantly connected with the motor, carries on its functions continuously.

This is one of the greatest features of safety, convenience and ease of handling, that has been put on a motor car in the past five years. Any driver appreciates the importance of a device such as this, one that absolutely prevents the motor stalling or giving any trouble under heavy traffic conditions. A non-stallable motor sounds almost too good to be true, but in the new Chalmers "Six" has been crystallized the hope of every experienced motorist that some day he would have a motor that would not stall.

Suppose, for instance, that in going up a steep hill the supply of gas would be so reduced that ordinarily your motor would stall or that it would be necessary to shift gears, as is always the case when your motor starts to labor. The moment the clutch pedal is pushed out to shift gears, if the motor is running slowly for Infants and Children.

CASTORIA

Save the Babies.

INFANT MORTALITY is something frightful. We can hardly realize that of all the children born in civilized countries, twenty-two per cent., or nearly one-quarter, die before they reach one year; thirty-seven per cent., or more than one-third, before they are five, and one-half before they are fifteen!

We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save a majority of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, tinctures and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium, or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity, they stupefy, retard circulation and lead to congestions, sickness, death. Castoria operates exactly the reverse. It causes the blood to circulate properly, opens the pores of the skin and allays fever.

The signature of Dr. J. C. Hathorn guarantees genuine Castoria.

Physicians Recommend Castoria.

"I have used your Castoria in cases of colic in infants and have found it the best medicine of its kind on the market." J. Z. SHERMAN, M. D., Chicago, Ill.

"A medicine so valuable and beneficial for children as your Castoria is deserving the highest praise. And it is so easy to use." J. S. ALEXANDER, M. D., Omaha, Neb.

"Have used your Castoria on various occasions in suitable cases and have found it a palatable and efficient laxative, especially in the various diseases of childhood." CHAS. EDWARD GARDINER, M. D., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Castoria is good for children and I frequently prescribe it, and always obtain the desired result." F. GEORGE BRATTNER, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y.

"I have prescribed Castoria to families for several years. It is all right. Mothers like it, for children will take it without any trouble." C. A. WILSON, M. D., St. Louis, Mo.

"Your Castoria is a splendid remedy for children, known all the world over. I use it in my practice and have no hesitancy in recommending it for the complaints of infants and children." J. A. BOARMAN, M. D., Kansas City, Mo.

BASKETBALL SERIES ENDS IN BIG ROW

Table with columns: Played, Won, Lost, Pct. Rows: Crescents, Lilehua, H. B. S., Co. M.

The basketball series which has been running at the armory for the past nine weeks came to a dramatic close last Saturday evening when, in the last scheduled game of the season the Boarding School team quit the floor after 10 minutes of play, the score at the time being Crescents 13, H. B. S. 9.

When Referee Scott warned Kaimoku, star guard of the scholars, against unnecessary roughness, that gentleman retorted with a deft to the official to put him out if he wished; that this was the last game of the series and it made no difference to him. So persistent was Kaimoku in issuing his deft that Scott finally took him at his word and banished him to the shower room, whereupon Captain Warner emerged from the throng in the rear of the hall, and after a short consultation with the referee, waved his flock off the floor. At this sign the entire Boarding School student body made a break for the exits before the astonished fans knew what had happened. The Crescents held the floor awaiting their return, but as the students failed to appear at the end of five minutes, Referee Scott declared the game forfeited to the Crescents by a 2-0 score.

To the fans, many of whom were rooting for the students, the ending of the game was very disappointing, for the students were playing with a vigor that showed they would give the Crescents a hot contest for the final game. At the beginning of the game the scholars made the first baskets, reaching a score of six before the blue and white team got a mark. The tackling of the hillside boys was particularly effective and when the game ended they were playing with lots of "pep" that kept the champs on their mettle, even though slightly in the lead.

MORE WOMEN MEMBERS FOR THE OUTRIGGER

The board of directors of the Women's Auxiliary of the Outrigger Canoe Club desire to state that the applicants for membership are received into the club according to the date of application and not by selection. Also that its action in recommending a larger membership was decided some weeks ago.

The annual meeting of the organization was held yesterday afternoon in the assembly room of the Library of Hawaii. It was then voted to open the membership roll for 100 additional members, 90 from applicants at large and 10 from among the wives and children of Outrigger Club members. The reports of the various officers showed a prosperous condition and a very successful year.

Third—The members of that staff to be selected in the same way and subjected to the same tests of education, training, experience, and instructional efficiency as other members of the faculty, but in the matters of moral character, personality, and leadership to be required to measure up to the highest practical standard set by the college professor of the best type.

Fourth—Wherever the athletic instructor does not approximate to the standard, displace him with one who does. Better no athletics at all than training and coaching by a man whose influence is not positively constructive.

Fifth—The athletic director should approximate the college professor of the best type; he should be a member of the faculty committee, and properly its chairman.

Sixth—Positive and aggressive promotion of the ideas and ideals of clean sport by the athletic department among the student body and through them in their home communities, and further, through establishment of relations by the extension method with communities, elementary and secondary schools and normal schools.

Seventh—The selection, education, and training of college men of the best type to be physical educators and athletic directors and instructors.

SPORT ON HIGH PLANE IN CHINA

Sports and pastimes are flourishing in China, and in spite of the internal troubles which has considerably upset the Flowery Kingdom, the Celestials find plenty of time to enjoy life on road, track and river. Pony racing is a popular sport, and a number of meetings are held. All sports are conducted along modern lines, copied after American and English methods, while the scope embraces a wide range from football, golf, and hockey to pony racing and track athletics.

Maj. Palmer E. Pierce, U. S. A., formerly president of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, and one of the leaders of amateur sports in the United States, now stationed at Tientsin, China, says sport is growing exceedingly popular. Recently a series of athletic meets were held at Tientsin which included a two-day open affair of mixed Chinese and European events, an all-British field sports meet, and a French field meet, in one week. The latter embraced everything from a 22-mile race and a 15-mile march to exercises and competitions on parallel bars.

It is in pony racing, however, that China is making progress, and Maj. Pierce is enthusiastic over the manner in which the natives conduct their meetings. He cites the Tientsin Race Club as an evidence of the advance of civilization in China, and says the grounds, tracks, stables and club buildings would be a credit to a racing plant in New York city.

ALL-SERVICE TEAM GETTING IN SHAPE FAST

Baseball Card This Afternoon Brings Soldiers Against Chinese—Hawaii and Chinese Tomorrow

All-Service vs. Chinese, Saturday, 3 p. m.; Hawaii vs. Chinese, Sunday, 3 p. m. Athletic Park. Above is the baseball program for the week-end, and it looks classy. The game Sunday closes the Mid-Pacific Winter League schedule, and it is likely that a big crowd will turn out. Honolulu fans certainly have the habit, which is good for the sport, and likewise good for the box office sheet.

The All-Service aggregation should put up a good fight against the Chinese this afternoon, but naturally their backers will expect to receive odds, for the Sam Hoppers have shown conclusively that they have the class on anything in the islands. They have won enough games, and in conclusive enough manner, to prove this to even the most violent partisan of the opposition.

However, the service team is a thoroughly representative aggregation and makes about the strongest lineup that the army could put in the field. The howl from some disgruntled Schofield Barracks fans that their players are not sufficiently represented, is somewhat amusing considering the circumstances under which several of the players originally selected from the Lilehua post returned to their regiments. No sooner had the management of the All-Service team secured authority from General Funston to concentrate the playing strength of the army near Honolulu, where joint practice could be had, with the idea of making the team a credit to the service and a thoroughly representative organization, than company commanders began to call for their return. Some of the captains of the 25th Infantry were so insistent in their demands that it looked for a while as though the whole team would be disrupted. It was claimed that some of the players, notably Swinton and Williamson, were indispensable to their own outfits, not only because of their ball-playing abilities, but because they were non-commissioned officers and needed in the training of recruits. One by one the Schofield players were sent back to their regiments, in most cases on the urgent request of their company commanders. However, there are still a number of Schofield men on the All-Service squad, and it is doubtful if the team has been much weakened by the withdrawal of the others. For Schofield to howl for the return of its men and then howl louder because they are not included in the All-Service lineup is rather illogical.

Yamaguchi, the Japanese twirler who made a good showing in the box for the Hawaii two weeks ago, will pitch again tomorrow, according to the present plans of Manager Dave Desha. The Chinese team returned from Maui this morning, and in all probability Foster Robinson will be used against the soldiers this afternoon, and Apau Kau tomorrow.

Hawaiian Fighter Off For Mainland

Jim Hoao

Jim Hoao, well known in the local ring, left for the Coast on the Honolulu last Tuesday, to try his luck in mainland rings. Hoao has had a number of mills in Honolulu and Hilo, but hasn't been seen in action for about six months. He said before leaving that he intended to pay more attention to fighting, and that he expected to make a good showing against the Coast pugilists.

(The big league umpire) stunts in answering correctly all six of the problems presented. Featured as one of the big sport stories under a heading reading, "Desha's Decisions Are All Correct," the Times has the following to say about his feat: "Of the many hundreds of baseball fans who attempted to solve Umpire Billy Evans' difficult and puzzling baseball problems, John R. Desha of the House Office building was the only one to send in correct answers to all six problems. "The Times prints Desha's answer in order to serve as a model to the fans who attempt to answer the problems, but fall in passing over certain phases of a play.

CHINESE WIN ONE AND TIE ONE WITH MAFI

The Chinese ball team returned this morning from a trip to Maui, and report one of the pleasantest outings that a ball team could make. Manager Harold Rice has a strong organization, and will be a factor in the inter-island series, say the Chinese players. In the first game played last Wednesday on the Valley Isle, the teams played a 5-to-5 tie, the contest being called at the end of the ninth. Bal and Soares formed the battery for Maui, while A. Desha and Markham worked for the Chinese. The following day the Chinese had their revenge, winning easily 10 to 0. The batteries were Robinson and Markham, and Meyer and Antone. Manager Rice gave the visitors a royal time, auto trips and lunas being the order of the days and evenings.

ST. LOUIS NOW LEADING SCHOOL SOCCER LEAGUE

SCHOOL SOCCER STANDINGS. Table with columns: Team, P, W, L, D, P. Rows: St. Louis, Kamehameha, Oahu College, McKinley, Mills.

St. Louis 4, Mills 0. Luck seemed to be against the hard-playing Mills team yesterday afternoon and on the lower Punahou field it went down to its worst defeat at the hands and feet of the St. Louis team. Half of the match was evenly played, although the St. Louis aggregation did manage to run up two goals, but the other half was decidedly in favor of the winning team who kept the ball right under the Mills' goal. In the second half there were many close calls and it is a wonder that the Saints did not end the game with a longer score to their credit.

The all-round playing of the St. Louis squad was of a superior nature and showed that the boys from that part of the city have got a good understanding of soccer. Their halves and fullbacks did especially well, keeping the ball well into the Mills' territory while on the other hand the Mills' backs seemed a bit weak in some places and afforded good opportunities for the winning team to pass them. One big fault with the losers was that their fulls and halves did not advance with the ball but left the forwards to do all the offensive work. In the second half the team from Manoa played a strong defensive game and although the ball was right under their goal for nearly the entire period and the Saints took shot after shot they were only able to score twice. The fulls were right on their job and deserve a heap of credit for the way they conducted their feet. Their big disadvantage was the fact that they were a good deal lighter than their opponents and when they collided the lighter usually went down.

Kamehameha 4, McKinley 1. On the Kam field, the cadets took the long end of a score from McKinley High school, in a game that was neither brilliant nor fast. It seemed to be an onday for the McKinleyites, who played a rather listless game throughout.

UPLIFT OF COLLEGE SPORT URGED BY COLLEGIATE ATHLETIC ASSN.

[By Latest Mail] NEW YORK. The control and regulation of intercollegiate sport furnished a fruitful theme for discussion at the recent convention of the National Collegiate Athletic Association here.

The moral and ethical value of athletics to the college student was admitted, but the means of imparting the knowledge of athletics as a physical benefit developed many suggestions of more or less value. It was asserted by Prof. George W. Ehler of the University of Wisconsin that faculty control has eliminated many abuses and evils of athletics, but it has failed to develop any considerable moral force of a constructive type, except in so far as there has been recognized and made effective the paramount function of the athletic director and his associates; namely moral leadership of a positive and virile type.

Need of Constructive Regulation. Prof. Ehler pointed out that the department of physical education at all colleges should be broadened so as to include every person having anything to do with any aquatic, gymnastic, or athletic activity conducted in that institution and the association should enter upon a constructive campaign to regulate athletics. Prof. Ehler concluded his address with the following remarks on the present conditions and suggestions for remedies.

"The regulation of intercollegiate athletics must cease to be negative, and must become positive and constructive. Instead of repressing and restricting, it must encourage and promote. Regulation of athletic sport must be designed to secure the value of athletics rather than to waste time and energy in the endeavor to prevent their abuses and vices—and expedient pedagogic error.

"Athletics—vigorous fighting games—are the characteristic play activities of adolescent youth. Their function, as a primary and fundamental mode of moral and ethical training has been most eloquently presented and defended before this association on various occasions. It is unnecessary that this should be dwelt upon further. Neither

Acts Should Square With Words.

"This association has unanimously endorsed this position as shown in the resolution quoted. It is time now to make our acts square with our words by recognizing the implications of this resolution and carrying them into effect.

"What are some of these implications? They have been suggested already.

"First—Athletics—intercollegiate as well as intramural—to be made an essential part of the system or method of physical education in each institution.

"Second—The staff of the department of physical education to include every person having anything to do with any aquatic, gymnastic, or athletic activity conducted in that institution.

"Third—The members of that staff to be selected in the same way and subjected to the same tests of education, training, experience, and instructional efficiency as other members of the faculty, but in the matters of moral character, personality, and leadership to be required to measure up to the highest practical standard set by the college professor of the best type.

"Fourth—Wherever the athletic instructor does not approximate to the standard, displace him with one who does. Better no athletics at all than training and coaching by a man whose influence is not positively constructive.

"Fifth—The athletic director should approximate the college professor of the best type; he should be a member of the faculty committee, and properly its chairman.

"Sixth—Positive and aggressive promotion of the ideas and ideals of clean sport by the athletic department among the student body and through them in their home communities, and further, through establishment of relations by the extension method with communities, elementary and secondary schools and normal schools.

"Seventh—The selection, education, and training of college men of the best type to be physical educators and athletic directors and instructors."

DANCING

THE DANCANT is with us in all its joy of rhythmic motion, inspiring audiences and attractive raiment. We have seen it and tried it and found it good—the dancant has come to stay. Such a gaily excited, eagerly curious throng as gathered in the makai pavilion of the Young hotel on Tuesday afternoon. Quite true, the majority of those present played the role of spectators—but more for the reason that it was so very absorbing—sitting around the tea tables and watching the others. Now that the first novelty has worn off, everyone is preparing to enter the arena of the tango—and to attempt the graceful points and pirouettes of the new dances. It was a truly pretty sight—one to inspire enthusiasm in the most narrow-minded critic—to see these graceful dancers wending their way through the mazes of hesitation and one-step. The tango is a thing of beauty, really verging on the classic in its artistic grace. The hesitations are as charmingly pretty with the additional favor of being less complicated. There were a number of exhibition dances given on Tuesday. Miss Rose Herbert and Vernon Tenney did an especially graceful tango. Miss Betty Case and Walter Marshall danced two versions of the hesitation while Miss May Marshall and Walter Marshall did still a third. Others who did not dance alone but were particularly noticed for their graceful steps were Mrs. Walter Dillingham, Judge and Mrs. Will Whitney, Miss Nora Swamy, Miss Jessie Kennedy, Mrs. Arthur Wilder, Mrs. Gerrit Wilder and Miss Lila McDonald. The orchestra which provided the music deserves especial credit for the success of the dancing. There is only one way to express it—it was bully, just the right tempo with lots of vim and inspiration—the kind to set all feet a-tapping, even rheumatic and gouty ones. Mrs. Mary Gunn, who directed the affair, reaps the reward of unstinted enthusiasm for her tireless efforts in making the dancant the success it was.

That the yellow blouses which are such a fad on the mainland have begun to be popular here as well was demonstrated by the presence of three—in varying shades—at the dancant. Mrs. Herbert Dowsett wore one of bright yellow with a lace ruff and a draped skirt of taupe charmeuse smartly be-ruflled. Miss Jessie Kennedy wore another, hers verging on the mustard shade, however. With it she wore a skirt of self blue and a chic black hat. The one worn by Miss Mary O'Brien with a black satin skirt was a yellow-pink, almost a salmon color, chiffon over satin. The popular fur trimming was greatly in evidence among the other costumes. Mrs. Walter Dillingham wore a stunning dress of black tulle over satin with sticky-out flounces edged with black fur and a wide tango sash of mustard colored charmeuse. Mrs. Gerrit Wilder wore a gracefully draped gown of white charmeuse edged with brown marabou, and a little fur-trimmed white hat. Miss Marjorie Carr wore one of fashion's latest fantasies, a sheer white blouse trimmed with fur with a white broad cloth suit. Miss Lurline Matson wore a frock of white taffeta with a bouffant skirt and a small white hat trimmed with watermelon colored plumes. Miss Wilhelm Tenny was in white charmeuse, with lace draperies on the bodice and a charming white hat with touches of black. Miss Marie von Holt was in white with a smart black hat trimmed with lace agrettes. Miss Lila McDonald was in pale blue satin embellished with cream-colored lace, and a small blue hat to match. Mrs. J. M. Riggs wore American beauty brocade crepe with a small black toque. Mrs. Mary Gunn's gown was of beautiful coral-colored charmeuse with tango slippers and silk hoseery to match. Miss Betty Case was in white embroidered mule with a wide girde of black velvet and a chic black hat with white wings. Miss Rose Herbert's costume was unusually attractive—a draped skirt of soft heather green combined with a bodice of cream-colored shadow lace and a small black hat. up with this consciousness, every one plunged hilariously into the whirl of dancing, spurred gaily on by the vim of the splendid music. The evening embodied the true spirit of youth—the dances were long, the encores were many and the intermissions were short. And at two-fifteen in the morning, when the orchestra played "Home, Sweet Home," the guests departed with visible wistful, regretful reluctance. Noticed among the dancers were Admiral and Mrs. Moore, Mrs. John Graham, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Cartwright, Lieut. and Mrs. V. W. Collier, Lieut. and Mrs. H. F. Nichols, Mrs. E. D. ented on the Young Hotel roof garden Thursday afternoon when the ladies of the Artillery entertained at bridge for the benefit of the army relief society. The wide roof was protected from the sun's rays by awnings and gay colored flags, while the palms and potted plants made a restful green background. In the distance were glimpses of the blue Pacific, Diamond Head, the tall masts of ocean going liners in the harbor and way off to the right, the lochs and rice paddies of Pearl Harbor. With the daintily gowned ladies flitting in and out of the trees or absorbed over some intricate problem at a green lazed table, it seemed ideally tropical and attractive. From a financial standpoint, of course, the affair was a great success, all the tables being occupied. From a social standpoint, it was a double success. Most of Honolulu's most prominent hostesses were present, entertaining parties of one, two and three tables. There was an enchanting air of informality about it all—one languorously trumped one's partner; ace while exchanging smiles with some lady three tables away—and one's partner was too busy replying to a sally of her neighbor's to even notice. No one really cared which way the game went—the pleasure was in the good-natured playing and in visiting around with one's friends. At five o'clock tea was served and the prizes distributed. During the following hour Mrs. Edith Bowers Whiffen played several numbers on the piano, all of which were enthusiastically received. Mr. Arthur Wall then sang two charming selections particularly suited to his beautiful tenor voice.

The next bridge party will be on Thursday the twelfth and it is to be hoped that as many people—men as well as women, civilians as well service folk—will turn out to help make the affair a success. All townspeople are urged to come. Tickets will be on sale at the Young, Moana, Pleasanton and Benson, Smith & Co., and may be procured from any of the ladies of the Artillery posts. Among those present at this week's affair were Mrs. Montgomery Macomb, Mrs. Edward Timberlake, Mrs. Edward Carpenter, Mrs. F. M. Swamy, Mrs. H. F. Nichols, Mrs. Charles Wilder, Mrs. James Wilder, Mrs. J. M. Dowsett, Miss Margaret Walker, Mrs. E. D.

The members of the party were entertained by their old California friends, Mr. and Mrs. James T. Taylor and Mrs. and Miss Carter.
After a delightful drive a luncheon was given at the Nuuanu valley residence of Mr. and Mrs. James T. Taylor.
The entire party was so pleased with Honolulu that it is planned to return and spend some time in enjoying the climatic conditions here.

The party met for the first course at the home of Miss Ruth Anderson. A charming decorative scheme of pink and lavender was used on her table. From thence the young folk motored to the Swanzy home where Miss Rosamund Swanzy was hostess for the second course—her color scheme being yellow. Miss Rose Herbert used pink and blue when the party met at her house for the third course, while at the fourth, Miss Ruth Soper was hostess, using a combination of all the pastel shades. The last course was served at the Country Club where the party was entertained by Miss Pauline Schaefer. The tables were attractively decorated in red. After dinner the remainder of the evening was devoted to dancing. Those in the party were Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Dowsett, Misses Ruth Anderson, Mary von Holt, Rosamund Swanzy, Rose Herbert, Helen Spalding, Margaret Center, Ruth Soper, Eloise Wichman, Mary O'Brien, Silburn Purvis, Pauline Schaefer, Messrs. Most of the guests were members of a mutual story class and the early part of the afternoon was given over to readings, one of the cleverest stories being written by Miss Ripley herself. Waite of Worcester and Boston, Mass., became the bride of Mr. Arthur N. Oiremba of this city. The Rev. W. B. Olson performed the ceremony, the double-ring Episcopal service being used. The Oiremba home was prettily decorated for the occasion with white roses and feathery-headed asters and baskets of fluffy maidenhair. The ceremony was performed beneath an arch of malle and ferns knotted with misty white tulle. The bride was charmingly gowned in broad crepe with embellishments of chantilly lace. In lieu of the conventional veil, she wore two strands of pearls in her dark hair. Her only ornament was a pearl and sapphire necklace, the gift of the groom. There were no attendants. After the ceremony—at which only the relatives and intimate friends of the couple were present—a small reception was held. The bride's health was then proposed and the wedding cake cut. Shortly afterward, the young couple made their escape to some secret place in the country, where they will spend a week's honeymoon. Their real honeymoon will be taken in June, when they sail for Germany. The bride has been the teacher of domestic science at the Normal School for the past three years and is well known in educational circles. The groom is connected with Hackfeld & Co. and has many friends in Honolulu, where he has lived since boyhood. Until their departure for Europe in June, Mr. and Mrs. Oiremba will make their home with the former's parents on Kewalo and Wilder avenues.

ANOTHER WAY TO FILL SEATS OF LOCAL CHURCHES

"I see that the Honolulu ministers are trying to fill their churches by advertising in the newspapers," says a Honolulu woman in a letter to the Star-Bulletin. "The clippings enclosed will show them another way of doing it."

The clipping, taken from an eastern paper, reads as follows:

"We like the spirit behind the plan of that Cincinnati clergyman who has opened his church evenings to the unemployed, serving free food, good advice and an invitation to use the idle hours as ours if they have nowhere else to lay their heads."

That's most decidedly the spirit of Christianity as exemplified in the teachings and practice of Christ and the early Christians. He preached to the sick and comforted the miserable. And we guess it wasn't half so much His preaching, surely, as that was, as it was His practice that made the common people hear Him gladly and follow Him with affection.

In each of our cities are great, fine churches, representing millions invested, but empty and dark most of the week and not any to well filled on Sunday.

And outside, on the streets, are hungry men who have no work and are hungry—some, also, bitter men, who think that church is of no use to them and who sometimes, with an oath, doubt whether even God cares.

The Rev. A. N. Kelly of Cincinnati believes that God does care and that at least one church can help. He does not stop with believing and saying it—he is PROVING it.

If Christ were in every church, do you suppose that its doors would stand closed and its kitchen idle while hunger stalked the town?

Then why isn't your church working?

Did we hear you say: "I have no church?"

Yes you have; you have the Rev. Mr. Kelly's church. If you lived in Cincinnati could you be kept from lending a hand to a church like that?

BIBLE CLASSES AT 'Y' FEATURE BASEBALL TEAMS

The Bible study clubs of the Y. M. C. A. are this week organizing into an indoor baseball league. This is the second athletic league the clubs have had this year, the first one being bowling. Last year the committee in charge of the Bible study classes discovered that there were two separate groups within the association; there were men who were interested in Bible study and men interested in athletics. The committee decided that the athletic men needed some Bible study and the men in the classes needed some athletics. The plan of running the two features together has been very successful and it is planned to enlarge the work next year.

The Bible study committee continually is enlarging its plans to take care of the ever-increasing number of young men who are becoming interested in the study of the Bible. During the past month four new classes have been organized. Two of these classes will later organize athletic teams. The clubs having already entered teams in the Indoor Baseball League are the P. E. C., led by A. E. Larimer, the XX Club, led by Lloyd B. Kilham, the Hittles, under the leadership of E. M. Cross, and the Invictibles, led by Jay A. Lrice. About 50 different men are regular attendants at the meetings of the Clubs.

NORWEGIAN SAILORS MISSION OPENS BIG CHURCH IN GLASGOW
[By Latest Mail]

GLASGOW, Scotland.—The Norwegian Sailors Mission has carried on its work amongst the Scandinavian sailors, frequenting the port of Glasgow, for upwards of 40 years. During all these years the mission has had no church building of its own, but the British Sailors Mission has granted free use of their chapel and reading room.

The want of a church has, however, been keenly felt, and through the efforts of the Scandinavian community in Glasgow, and their friends, sufficient funds were procured a few years ago. It was originally the intention to have built a small wooden church, but as it was impossible to obtain a convenient site, the plan was abandoned, and the local committee was fortunate in securing, in the earlier part of last year, a suitable structure, formerly the Emmanuel church, on Overnewton square, within easy reach of the docks.

This church is situated in a good locality, and the accommodation is spacious, while the reading room at the western end of the building is bright and comfortable. After some interior alterations and renovations the church was recently dedicated, the service being conducted by a clergyman sent across from Norway by the mission headquarters for the purpose. He was assisted by the local pastor, his son, as well as by several other pastors of Norwegian, Swedish and Danish nationality, carrying on the mission work amongst the Scandinavian sailors in the principal ports of the United Kingdom.

The king and queen of Norway evinced great interest in the church, and the king, when on a recent visit to London, charged the Norwegian minister to the court of St. James to represent him at the ceremony at which the Norwegian and Danish vicarials in Glasgow also assisted. A week later the annual treat to the Scandinavian residents in Glasgow forming a ring around the tree in traditional style while singing the old familiar hymns of the homelands.

'NORMAL SCHOOL NIGHT' AT C.U. FOR TOMORROW

For "normal school night" next Sunday at Central Union church, Professor Ferris S. Hafford, A. M., has been secured as the speaker of the evening and will deliver his address on "Boys and Girls." Professor Hafford's wide experience in scholastic circles insures a talk of great practical value. This address is the fruition of years spent in educational work and bears the endorsement of the leading Presbyterian and Congregational churches of California where it has been delivered with great success. Educators and ministers alike in the middle west and in California unite in testimony to the value of this lecture, not only in regard to its interest and literary merit but with reference to its strong appeal for the highest ideals in character building.

While the normal students will be the special guests of the evening, delegates are also expected from the other schools of the city and all young people are especially invited to attend. The service will have particular interest from the fact that the normal school special chorus under the direction of Miss Jane L. Winne will furnish the music of the evening, presenting an anthem by Rinck, a response by Hammel and Grigg's beautiful music for a "Psalm of Peace." Superintendent T. H. Gibson, of the department of public instruction, will preside.

FIRE STATIONS NEW FIELD FOR RELIGIOUS WORK

One of the long-neglected fields for Christian service has recently been entered by the extension work committee of the Y. M. C. A. It is that of the fire stations in the various parts of the city. The committee has established meetings at the Central and Makiki Stations and are planning to start one soon at the Palama station. The two smaller stations each have about 10 men and the central station about 20. The meeting at the central station is led by General Secretary Paul Super and meets just following the supper hour Tuesday. The men all attend and follow with keen interest every word of the speaker. One of the interesting little things about the meeting is the fact that the two drivers are required to stand beside the brass poles leading to the wagon room below. During the 10 weeks the meetings have been in progress it has happened that an alarm has not come in. It will be a hastily adjourned class if one does happen to come during the hour.

The meetings at Makiki are led by Glenn E. Jackson, one of the secretaries of the association. Both he and the men are very enthusiastic about the opportunity of getting together for a talk once a week.

The men at the fire stations are quite closely confined, as they must stay near the station at all hours of the day and night unless away for a short time on special leave of absence. This makes it impossible for any of the men to attend a religious service from the beginning to the end of the year. For this reason they are more than glad to have the Y. M. C. A. send its men to them.

MRS. W. I. THOMAS WILL LECTURE ON SOCIAL SERVICE

"Social Service for Women" is a theme of such vital interest to Honolulu women that they are congratulating themselves upon the opportunity to hear so able an exponent of the topic as Mrs. W. I. Thomas, who will speak on this subject at the Inter-Church social to be held at Central Union church, Thursday afternoon, February 12, from 3 to 5 o'clock. Mrs. Thomas, who is visiting Honolulu friends for the winter, is a resident of Chicago and has been intimately connected with much of the remarkable social welfare work accomplished in that city. Her associations with the United Charities, the Women's City Club and the Juvenile Court Committee have qualified her to speak with authority on current sociological problems, and those fortunate enough to have heard her before are looking forward to a talk not only of practical value but of interest and charm.

Mrs. Thomas will speak in the Bible school rooms at 3:15 o'clock and after this the ladies will adjourn to the parish house where afternoon tea will be served. Invitations have been sent to the various women's societies of the different churches but it is hoped that all women interested in the subject will consider themselves individually invited to be present. Strangers and visitors in the city will be cordially welcomed at this informal reception.

VACATION BIBLE SCHOOLS IN 34 DIFFERENT CITIES

Cities to the number of 34 had vacation schools for children last year under the guidance of the National Bible School Association. The number of teachers, chiefly from colleges, passed the 100 mark, while the scholars totaled 50,500, an increase of 13,000 over the previous season. Six week's training were given, and the expenses last year were less than $1 a scholar, which sum included cost of administration and promotion.

At the association annual meeting, just held, a plan to provide social service scholarships through income from endowment was started. In 1913 60 friends gave scholarships, but an endowment will put them on a more permanent basis. These scholarships are for college students who now often go out to sell books and peddle other articles to pay their way. Thus the scholarships will help the vacation schools and the college students.

These vacation schools fill three economic niches. They take children off the hot streets in the summer, give them attractive places in which to study and play and instruct them in some measure in the Bible and in useful work. They put to use church and school buildings that would otherwise be idle. They give employment at teaching to students who seek both experience and money. Their cost per scholar is exceedingly small.

Robert E. Speer, the Presbyterian mission secretary and author, is president of the national association, but many schools are springing up which are not under the direction of this association, but modeled after the association's schools. The movement is growing rapidly.

LOCAL MARKET SUSTAINS DROP IN SUGAR PRICES IN FIRST-CLASS SHAPE

Due to the change in the price of sugar on the New York market, where it is now being sold on the basis of the new tariff, which represents a loss of 3432 sugar stocks did not continue to gain this week as they did in the period before.

The fact, however, that the large majority held their own, and that the losses which were made were not great shows the market here to be ready to face the reduced duty. A notice was posted in the stock and bond exchange Wednesday stating that an agreement had been reached between the Sugar Factors Company and the American Refining Company by which all Hawaiian sugars were to be sold on the new basis after February 3. On the day before this notice was posted, sugar was quoted at 3.42, which lowered it, under the new arrangement, to 3.0758.

This is in effect, the meeting the new duty almost one month before it becomes operative. The market held its own remarkably well under the change. The opinions which were expressed that the price would not stay for any length of time at 3.0758 were borne out, for Friday it was quoted at 3.14.

The trading for the six-day period ending Friday was somewhat less than for the corresponding period last week. There was a total of 2175 shares sold with proceeds amounting to $22,237. In the former period the stock sold was 2215 with $27,034,574 as proceeds.

There were 14 different stocks dealt in, Oahu Sugar, Olan, Hawaiian Commercial and Ewa leading, in the order given. Oahu Sugar opened at 14 and lost a half point during the period's trading during which 845 shares changed hands. Olan began at 1, gained an eighth, and then declined to 1, closing there. 540 shares being sold. Hawaiian Commercial sold at the first of the period at 27.75, then lost a quarter point. The last three sales made, involving 185 shares, were at 27.75. Three hundred shares changed hands. Of Ewa 145 shares sold, all at 16, which was the price it closed at in the last period.

Pines gained a quarter point. Fifty-five shares changed hands. The first five at 25.75, the balance at 36. Brewery lost a quarter point, going down to 16.25. Fifty-five shares were dealt in. Pioneer stayed at 18; 39 shares changed hands. In Hilo Com. 75 shares were bought, all at 3.25, which shows a loss of half a point over its closing price in the last period. Five shares of Wailuku sold at an unchanged figure of 56.50. Fifty shares of Onounea were bought, all at 17, a quarter point gain, and Hawaiian Sugar, in the amount of 20 shares, went at 23. It closed at that price in the last period. Alexander & Baldwin stayed at 170. Five shares changed hands. Forty shares of Oahu railway went at a 2 1/2 point loss, selling at 125.

SUGAR PIRATES OF NEW YORK MAY BE RESPONSIBLE FOR FLUCTUATION

Department of Justice Asked to Break Up Combine by the Porto Rican Governor

Recent important fluctuations in the price of sugar on the New York market, particularly in the last few days, which the "street" is puzzled to account for, may find their explanation in information just sent out from Washington.

Governor Yager of Porto Rico, according to the information, has called on the department of justice to break up a combination of sugar buyers in New York who, he says, are conspiring to reduce the price of the product. He takes the position that they are running down the price of Porto Rican sugar in order to get an advantage over "whans" when it comes in on a 25 per cent duty cut March 1.

Quotations which have been sent out from New York in the last week go to indicate that the "combine" has either exhausted the Porto Rican supply, or has abandoned whatever scheme it had to run down the price. For sugar went up to 3.48 Tuesday. It was 3.31 Monday.

The following is taken from the information sent out from Washington:

made showed 3,000,750 tons of cotton seed crushed and 398,934 bales of lint were obtained to Dec. 31, from the crop of 1913 compared with 2,729,897 tons and 352,972 bales in 1912.

The latest estimate on the output this year of sugar on Hawaiian Commercial is given as 53,000 tons. On January 31 the plantation had harvested 16,200 tons of sugar. The acreage yet unharvested is 4269.9 acres. The total 1914 crop acreage of this plantation is over 10 1-2 square miles.

The postal receipts for the Honolulu postoffice have increased from $42,000 in 1900 to $140,000 in 1913. The gain in the receipts of the office are proportionate to the growth of the city in that period of time.

BRAZIL MAY TRY CHINESE LABOR IN RUBBER FORESTS

[By Latest Mail]
VALPARAISO, Chile—M. L. T. Delaney, who has recently made a seven-months tour of Brazil, when asked to give his opinion as to the economic situation in that country, said that taking all things into consideration, the financial outlook is much better than has been reported. Mr. Delaney stated that in some respects the rubber crisis will work for the benefit of Brazil, since it will necessitate paying attention to the development of the country in other directions.

A recent discussion is heard, Mr. Delaney says, regarding a plan to bring 200,000 Chinese to Brazil for the purpose of working the rubber forests. With all the government is doing to advance the industry economically, it is expected that the Brazilian product will be marketed in the same uniformly good condition as Oriental rubber.

Mr. Delaney is a director in Lloyd's Great Britain Publishing Company and is in charge of the Chilean branch of the concern.

COMMERCIAL ITEMS

At a meeting of the board of directors of the First National Bank of Hawaii Thursday afternoon, officers were elected for the ensuing year. Cecil Brown was elected president; L. Tenney Peck, vice president and cashier; and C. A. Stoble, assistant cashier. The president and vice-presidents with Geo. N. Wilcox, H. M. von Holt and Geo. P. Castle make up the board of directors.

It is estimated that 933 war and merchant ships of 2,180,607 tons gross were launched from private yards in the United Kingdom during the year 1913. This is the highest aggregate ever known. It makes a high-water mark in the history of the British shipbuilding industry, and one which is not likely to be exceeded in the year 1914.

The announcement of the second dividend of the year by the directors of the Honolulu Consolidated Oil Company has been taken as an assurance by the "street" that the company will continue the dividends monthly. The first two for the year have been on a basis of one per cent. Captain Matson admitted when interviewed on the subject of the dividends that monthly ones are contemplated by the directors.

California led the country in the output of petroleum last year and also gained over its record for 1913. This is according to figures in Dun's Review. They show that California produced 98,000,000 barrels against 62,507,767 for 1912. Oklahoma came second with 62,500,000 barrels.

Dr. E. V. Wilcox, agent in charge of the federal experiment station, sees roselle as one of the growing industries of the islands. He says he has an offer to pay four cents for any amount of roselle up to 1,000,000 pounds.

H. E. Mac Conaughy, a canned fruit expert now visiting here, predicts that the pineapple industry of these islands will be of great value to the territory as sugar. He has visited several of the canneries and plantations, and is highly enthusiastic over the way the fruit is grown and preserved.

The Hawaiian Canneries Company, at a directors meeting last Saturday, decided to build a cannery at Kapaau, Kauai. Work is to go ahead on this project at once. Plans for it have been ordered by Albert Horner, president of the company, and some of them are finished now. I. Jacobs, vice president of the company and head of the California Canneries Company attended the meeting. He came here from San Francisco for that purpose.

Cane conditions around and about Hilo have never looked better. This is the opinion of E. Faxon Bishop, president of C. Brewer & Company. But the question of what price sugar will bring is another question, he says.

Sugar which has been received in Atlantic ports up to January 31 amounts to 99,134 tons. This is a decrease of 17,224 over the previous weeks, according to Willett & Gray in their issue of January 22. Improvement in buying is reported.

As a result of complaints made to Ching Shai of the Oahu Rice Mill on what their term excessive rates charged by the Koolau railway in hauling their products to Honolulu may result in a concerted movement to cause a reduction in the rates.

Y. M. C. A. Its Beneficial Results from the Physical Standpoint

BY FRED W. LAU.
 A successful 1913 is the record of the Young Men's Christian Association physical department. Through its activities it has been instrumental in keeping the minds, muscles and other organs essential to good health of the many men and boys who have been fortunate enough to possess a membership in this popular institution, properly performing the functions for which they were intended.

Much has been done toward the man's and boy's physical salvation, the process of which has taken place so gradually that many fail to see the results; even the individual who is immediately benefited hardly realizes the change which has been taking place in his life. Others have had a much different experience which has been a rapid and decided improvement in their mental and physical condition, causing many pleasant surprises the result of which has been a little application to their bodily needs gained from one hour spent from two to three times a week in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium.

Does it pay?
 Think it over, or, better still, ask any man who has been a regular attendant at the gym, for he is best able to judge and give his experience and opinion first hand.
 A great many men imagine exercise a waste of energy which could be utilized to a better advantage toward accomplishing something more definite; possibly by devoting that time to their business or other work and incidentally adding a few more gold or silver disks to their bank roll.

Does it pay?
 The true men must work for a livelihood, but the fault of a great many is that they consider their daily toil sufficient exercise to keep them in bodily health. The theory is that a person must enjoy whatever he is doing in order to get the largest amount of benefit. Can any man truthfully say that the routine of work he is doing from day to day is actually developing his physical condition and improving his health from the fact that he takes such a pleasure in it? Years ago men had to work, but they did not stand or sit hunched up over a desk or a machine; they lived an active outdoor life and after the day's work which ended late in the evening, they were quite prepared for a good night's sleep. Today there are not those long hours of hard work; instead, we find the length of a working day shortened to nearly half the time. This then, gives a man an opportunity for recreation which is quite commendable. But there is the question of how to spend that leisure time to the best personal advantage without having to pay the price of dissipation, which will certainly be the result if a man follows the line of least resistance.

Associations all over the world, and the Honolulu Y. M. C. A. in particular, realize quite fully the importance of providing the means by which the city man may utilize his spare hours in healthful physical recreation. In no other place in the territory of Hawaii will one find such perfect facilities for the proper management of physical activities as in the Young Men's Christian Association. Men who have enslaved themselves to grinding out the almighty dollar at the expense of their nerves, mind and muscle, will doubtless live to regret the course they have followed, but not until some part of their organism falters and later fails to perform. Mind you, Dame Nature has repeatedly warned the individual; but man, heedless of impending danger, keeps on. Is it not much better to "love" a small portion of the time which is for man's rest and recreation to what is essential in life; namely, health and happiness, than the other course, that of increased wealth? The recreation of many men can be called anything more than dissipation. It may be in a mild form but nevertheless effective in the long run if persisted in, or it may be in a more violent way, which is commonly called a "spree." But these forms of amusement lead to mental and physical deterioration.

There are many opportunities for men to engage in the best possible recreation which is the work in the Young Men's Christian Association gymnasium. Here a man will be least likely to have an auto turn turtle with him, sometimes the culmination of a joy ride, or will be taken home, or to the police station, as a result of imbibing too much of the brewery product. Then, too, there are many forms of so-called man's form of recreation which are questionable but which are minus in the "Y" gymnasium. There is a good substitute in the physical department for every form of recreation which is considered injurious to man's health. Every man is absolutely safe with the possible exception from incidental accidents which are very few.

The physical activities which have interested the men of the Honolulu Y. M. C. A. for the past three months have been varied and interesting. For the men these different sports have been a decided boon. Take, for instance, the class for business men. These men have been coming three days a week; some regularly, some being able to attend only twice. At 5 o'clock the men begin to come into the gymnasium, where there is usually a ball of some sort, and begin the work of warming up. It may be an impromptu baseball game or it may be work with the medicine ball; fun at any rate, and also a certain amount of effective exercises which the director has mapped out. After this the men go to the mats for a series of exercises designed to strengthen the digestive and eliminative organs. Through with this course, the program changes to some lively game which is a fun and exercise producer. The finish is a game of soccer, which gives a man the feeling that his hour spent in this method of recreation, associating with others who have come for the same purpose, is well worth the effort, or any sacrifice involving business or social duties.

Other men have found the handball courts an efficient means of obtaining the desired results, and it is well known that they must leave for a dinner he waiting overtime at home, the anticipation also the appetite for an excellent meal might probably vanish. For the men who desire games which take much endurance and skill basketball, handball and tennis play an important part. Many games have been played on the different courts during the last three months and more than 100 men have indulged in these healthful forms of exercise and competition. Wrestling has its devotees and men have had opportunities to develop in this great part of all physical developers. For and are not enthusiastic about getting men who love the boxing game there is sufficient space but many men find this sport a trifle too strenuous.

 The electric-light bath and massage department is quite popular with a number of men. This is a new feature and has proved a boon of the members. These men come day after day and evening after evening doing the things which best suit their tastes, some playing game after game on the bowling alleys, others engaged in the strenuous game of basketball, still others on the handball courts, some at indoor baseball, another group at volley ball and the tennis courts claim their share.

These are merely a few of the main part of games which may be played in the physical department of the Association. Now for the activities which take place within the next few months. The Association year is nearly half over and still there are new forms of interesting sports for all the members of the "Y." The cross country race on New Year's day was the starter and from that date things will be in progress and more than 100 of the Association's best are engaged in this interesting competition. Another feature which is rapidly taking shape is the health league activities and every man who wishes to get the latest information on health and hear interesting lectures should make haste to belong. The "Life Problem Club" is another educational activity planned by the director and his co-workers, the physical department committee. Indoor baseball will next claim the attention of many men and the plan is to have two leagues which will result in games being played two or three times a week. The event which arouses much interest is the annual pentathlon athletic meet. Many men will doubtless enter this and train for the events, which will be made known in a short time, giving every one an opportunity to get into trim.

Many men prefer outdoor exercise and are not enthusiastic about getting into the indoor activities. This type will also be interested when they hear that something of the style which they are especially keen about will be started, the details not having as yet been worked out. As another physical educational feature it is planned to have classes in first aid for men and boys and a great many should take advantage of this splendid opportunity. A number of men are quite interested in the art of fencing and plans are being formulated which may result in such a club being formed in the association. Physical and medical examinations are conducted from time to time which protect the individual from any harm which may come from entering sports too enthusiastically. Exhibitions and demonstrations will doubtless be conducted which will be of much interest to many people. The special apparatus such as the rowing machine, the wrist roll, chest weights, the traveling parallel, flying rings, climbing ropes and ladder, travelling rings and running track may all be used by the men outside of class periods. No where in the city can be found such ideal conditions for healthful exercise and pleasure as in the physical department of the Y. M. C. A. and the members of the physical committee as well as the director feel that many men are losing this excellent advantage of association privileges for developing the physique and most important of all, fortifying their health by rational exercise, taken regularly.

Men should start today by becoming acquainted with their business friend, the gymnasium. Nineteen-fourteen should be prosperous for every person but it will be in proportion to the care and attention men give to their health and physical welfare. With the numerous and varied activities planned for this year men, young and old, should find opportunity to devote at least a portion of their day to physical exercise and recreation in the gymnasium of the Young Men's Christian Association.

TO HAVE SYSTEM IN YOUR HOME

Kitchen Conveniences That Make For Order and Efficiency

CHAFING DISH.

WHEN you try to give advice to some people they are apt to refer to the old saying about pulling the mate out of your own eye. A good housekeeper recently said, "That is why I have always been so chary of advice. Not long ago, however, a newly married friend came to spend the day with me. She remarked upon the easy way in which my household was run.

"So smoothly your house seems to run, my dear," she said sorrowfully. "All your meals are served on time. Your rooms are always neat and clean; your maid is well trained. In fact, you have in your house just what is lacking in mine."

"And shall I tell you what that is?"

I asked my tearful and almost dependent friend, "What is it?"

"It is System, dear—and please spell it with a big S, for there is nothing more important in running a household successfully."

The average housewife when she starts into the business of running a home—for a business it is—is apt to look too hastily on the task that is before her. She starts in a very enthusiastic fashion. She plans this and that, but in a little while the plans lapse, and before long, instead of the wife being the master of the house, the house masters her, and things run anyhow.

"But," said the visitor, "you seem so capable. Everything comes quite naturally to you. With me all my plans go wrong. Meals are late, rooms are not cleaned out when they should be and—"

"Exactly," I answered. "In other words, your house has mastered you. Now reverse the process. Draw up a schedule and see that it is kept. A hot certain day for certain duties. Don't put off for tomorrow what should be cleaned today. Have a place for everything and see that everything is in its place.

"Have a proper day," I went on, for paying the butcher, grocer and baker. Have a day for cleaning the dining room and all the other rooms.

"Now, this persistent little bride wanted me to make out a schedule for her, but this was impossible. What might be just the thing in one household would prove utterly unworkable in the other. The best way is for each housewife to work out her own homemaking salvation."

"And it is all so simple. Start well and keep on steadily in the secret of success. Use common sense and don't work harder than necessary. Let each day be taken up with its duties. Try to look upon household work as a pleasure, but do not forget that in reality it is a business. And don't forget the advice given to the young housekeeper—that the whole scheme is governed by System spelled with a big S, because it is important."

Many housewives find that a little blank book with a pencil attached is one of the most useful devices that they can install in the kitchen. A small rack with four hooks on it, attached to the wall, from which four little books may be suspended, is a real necessity in some households.

In one book a record of all business transactions is kept; in another the list of articles needed in the kitchen and those to be ordered from the grocery store or market; in the third the menus as planned for the week's meals are set down; in the fourth the outline of work for the week is given.

If it is necessary for the housewife to cut down expenses she has a sure and certain guide in the menu that she has made out and the expenses she has recorded. She can by comparing the two gauge the cost of each meal, weigh of each dish, and substitute a more economical dish, but one that has as much food value as the more expensive food.

These two books will be splendid guides in discovering where the leaks in the family income are. If there is a servant who is wasteful, the very articles that she wastes can be pointed out to her, and the record is indisputable.

If there are children in the home they will think it great sport being called into the family council and asked to write out a little plan of the things that they would like to do to help mother every week.

In this way the housewives may make a real delight out of what otherwise would be a hard task to the child and make voluntary what otherwise would be obligatory.

Illustrated are some of the very newest devices that help to make the task of housekeeping a pleasure rather than just commonplace work. The new glass mayonnaise mixer with the drip, when used and how all in one is exceedingly useful. There is no possibility of failure in one's dressing when this mixer is used. Another cut shows a new copper chafing dish with vessel of porcelain.

The toast rack and egg service of bright nickel with six egg cups and a salt bowl of blue ware is both attractive and handy. Attached to the rack is also a glass dish to accommodate toast.

Every up-to-date housewife is especially careful about her glassware. Illustrated are the newest styles in glasses for all occasions. They are in colors, which is the fad at present. They have entirely superseded cut glass in popular favor.

MEXICAN COLORS IN FASHION

Already the French are beginning on the Mexican styles. Paul Poiret designed a Mexican costume late in August, and it would not surprise the astute observer to see Mexican color-jags come into fashion before the spring is well advanced.

Paris is in search of something new. She has played the Russian, the Balkan, the Turkish, Persian, the tango influences, and now she has the opening of the Panama canal and the Mexican imbroglio to furnish her with new sartorial ammunition.

Already it has become the fashion to give Mexican costume dances as rivals to the superabundance of Persian affairs that have swept over the land.

The world of society welcomes this innovation, and so black and gold is admitted into the gamut of colors we wear. One of the most attractive gowns made for the opera is of black velvet and satin, with a deep sash wound around the waist made of gold tinsel brocade, knotted at the side and finished with fringed ends.

Here and there one sees skillful mingling of rare tones, and they are copyable by the woman who has color sense; but not by her who lacks it; for the glory and success of such a gown lies in the exact tones used. These are often difficult to get outside the great centers and sometimes they are difficult to find in this country. That has been the trouble in many slips of judgment. The advocates of American fashion will say that is another reason why American women should eschew France. Possibly. But the trouble is that they won't.

There is a tendency to combine purple and blue, both tones smoky and dull. It is difficult to describe these alluring colors by any other name than smoky, but it is not really expressive. Remember that the crudity of the Orient is taken from them, and their tone delights the eye.

There is a frock, greatly admired, of this purple, made in velvet with short tunics of blue tulle over it. The tunic is draped with the tulle and around the neck is a string of green beads.

These Indian beads, by the way, are gaining ground rapidly. Worth used them on a gown which he showed to the American buyers last August and which he called "Indienne."

When Mme. Poiret was in this country in September she started a new fashion by wearing a colored silken cord about her neck, to which was attached a pearl, matching in color. This was very artistic and many women saw in it a chance to display a single jewel to advantage. Following this idea, the shops offered neck ornaments consisting of a long silken cord with several translucent beads above a tassel at the end. When these are chastened in coloring they look extremely well, but not on an evening gown.

We are really to have taffeta spring gowns, and even now a new dress is being made up in taffeta preferably to velvet, charmeuse or the heavier satins. Many new ideas are to be seen in the designs for these gowns that show they are made especially to display this lovely material, which has now been perfected so that it can not be neglected, as it was in former times, because it cracked so rapidly. Some of the new taffeta is almost as soft as sarah used to be and has the same peculiar rib, but it has more body. The two tone taffetas are very lovely.

One of the new imported taffeta models boasts of a veritable taffeta. This is a narrow sashlike piece of the taffeta, which is mostly hidden under the tunic puff. It ties in a bow and the ends show beneath the tunic, which is just opposite to the playing now in vogue. The gown is of draped green taffeta. Almost the whole of the upper part of the blouse is made of the same shade of chiffon posed over white chiffon. The full tunic is gathered top and bottom and is on cutaway lines. A lovely wide double bow plaited ruche follows the edge of this tunic; the edges of it are not hemmed, but pleated. A deep lace frill falls from the short sleeves and a wired Medici collar of lace outlines the neck.

A clever idea of a dancing frock of taffeta gives the newfulness at the skirt hem. It is of turquoise color, and the skirt has two narrow scalloped and braid embroidered ruffles of the taffeta. These head two wider ruffles, one falling from yoke depth in a doubled thickness, the other, falling from the knees, single, and sit in the whole width. A petticoat with a knee deep lace ruffle is worn underneath. Such ruffles have, at the most, a chiffon cloth backing ruffle, often not even that. The kimono blouse top has small little velvet loops, caught by brass buckle slides, two on the front, two on the elbow sleeves. A scalloped sailor collar and sleeve ruffles

SHORT TALKS ON BABIOLOGY

Article No. 5—Feeding the Baby

BABIES are born hungry, says Anna Steese Richardson in the Woman's Home Companion. The time to start a baby in regular habits of feeding is the day of its birth. The newborn baby should be nursed every two hours from 6 a. m. to 10 p. m. and once during the night at 2 a. m. Within a week, if the baby is normal, the mother should begin nursing it only once in three hours between 6 a. m. and 9 p. m., with the extra nursing at 2 a. m. This means seven feedings in twenty-four hours. At four months, if the baby shows a normal gain in size and strength, he should not be nursed between 9 p. m. and 6 a. m., but should be sleeping soundly. Between 6 a. m. and 9 p. m. he will now have six feedings, and this schedule should be maintained until he is a year old.

Many mothers ask whether the baby should be awakened to be fed. Physicians seem to agree that a baby should never be awakened at night to nurse and that the healthy baby will wake of its own accord to be fed once in three hours during the day. There are rare exceptions to this rule. For example, when a mother has fed the child irregularly from birth it sometimes turns night into day, sleeping by day and fretting for food by night. If the child is healthy, normal in every way, then it must be retrained to waken during the day for nursing and to sleep by night without nursing. This very example shows the importance of starting the feeding habits aright from birth by not nursing more than once during the night.

Another question asked by many mothers who are nursing their babies is, "May I mix the baby's food, giving him an occasional bottle?"

Doctors agree that the answer is governed by conditions. Sometimes the mother's milk is not sufficiently nourishing. In that case, under the direction of the family doctor, bottle and breast milk may be alternated. In this way the baby is gently prepared for weaning. Again, in certain families it may be necessary or advisable for the mother to have a certain amount of freedom from her duty of nursing the baby. The mother's milk will still provide certain elements which baby's system demands, and the bottle may be alternated with breast feeding, always with a doctor advising as to the food in the bottle.

The scientific and successful raising of a baby on the bottle depends upon two distinct lines of care and caution—the selection of the food to be supplied and the care of the bottles. The best of food in an insanitary bottle or drawn through an unclean nipple becomes dangerous to baby's health.

In choosing artificial food for your baby remember that even physicians differ on this question. Many eminent American specialists for children insist that fresh cow's milk properly modified is the only substitute for mother's milk. Foreign authorities recommend goat's milk. And there are other recognized authorities on baby health who have found it advisable to prescribe for delicate bottle fed babies a combination of milk and patent food. Not only must the mother consult her family physician on this question, but with the physician she must watch the effect of the food chosen on the baby.

The bottles are a sure indication of the way in which the bottle diet agrees or disagrees with the baby. When the passage is hard or bullet-like, when it shows curds or white lumps like cheese, or when mucus is present (a slimy phlegm), or there is diarrhea, the mother may be sure that the food does not agree with her baby and the doctor should be consulted immediately.

No medicine should be given in such cases without consulting a doctor. What the baby needs is not dosing, but the right sort of food, the food its stomach will digest.

accepting the plays of the poet Blinbinski when they are always fallacious?" "Well, they always cause such a rumper that the house is entirely sold out for two weeks anyway."

E. FAXON BISHOP REVIEWS GROWTH OF COMMERCE IN HAWAII FROM 1850 UP TO THE PRESENT TIME

Reviewing the growth of the commerce of Hawaii, E. Faxon Bishop delivered an exhaustive address at the luncheon tendered to Captain William Matson last Tuesday in honor of the completion of the maiden voyage of the new Matson flagship Matsonia. His address, in full, follows:

"Mr. Chairman.—A study of the commerce of any country or community gets back in its final phase, to what that country or community can produce from its natural resources, the development of what nature has given for civilization to make more of, or else a question of what the people of a country can do, as in manufacturing, by their ingenuity in handling and making more valuable the natural products of other lands more profuse with raw products where also the populace per area is less numerous.

"The development in Hawaii has been along the industrial line; the development of our own natural resources of soil and climate, although phases of it have turned upon outside factors, so to speak that have come our way. Merchandising, manufacturing, shipping, passenger traffic and all of those elements that go to make up commerce today, really hark back to a foundation of what Mother Earth will or can be made to produce.

"This deduction of the question has been most directly evident in the commercial development of Hawaii. During that time when the whaling period, from 1820 to 1870, but principally in the '50's, our commerce was resting largely upon an outside influence, for the reason that the whalers used Honolulu and other island ports as a transshipping and equipment point, which was of material financial value to the, at that time, small and struggling business community; it is safe to say, however, that the money that was left in Hawaii by the whalers eventually found itself invested in the industrial development of the islands.

"Under these circumstances, any discussion of the commerce of Hawaii is largely one of what Hawaii has produced and is producing, as we must have production to make commerce; it becomes necessary to organize those artificial forces necessary to pack, transport and distribute what we produce.

Commerce Dates to 1826 "On an occasion of this character, it is hardly expected of a speaker that he go into all the statistics which a full exploitation of this subject would call for, so I shall be as brief as possible. I presume that commerce in Hawaii may be dated back at least to 1826, as I know that at least one commercial firm was organized or founded in that year and exists today, probably the oldest established American firm west of the Rocky mountains, but reliable records as to the commerce of Hawaii are not available prior to 1844. In that year there were exports from Hawaii valued at $169,000, but of this $60,000 was re-exportation of foreign goods, so we begin with say $109,000, of domestic produce exported in 1844. In 1845 it doubled, being $202,000, while in '46, the figure jumped to $301,000. From '47 to '49 it receded again to the $200,000 mark, reaching in 1850 (the year following the discovery of gold in California) $500,000.

"From 1850 to 1860 exports of domestic produce ranged from $200,000 to $500,000, not including the whaling products, which was the 'big business' of that decade. During that period two million gallons of whale oil and a thousand tons of whale bone were transhipped every year on the average, and the large number of whalers that rendezvoused here, together with the clipper ships that carried away the 'catch' to Eastern ports of the United States, was the live element in the business life of those days.

"From 1860 on the increase in domestic exports grew steadily, although with the waning of the whaling industry during the 60's, a period of business depression occurred that gave much emphasis to a feeling prevailing that, with the going of the whaling industry, Hawaii's commercial destiny was doomed; perhaps it was something of the same feeling that pervades Honolulu today in connection with the sugar tariff—but our forebears of that time had no 'Ad Club' to inject optimism, nor did they know the possibilities of industrial development in an agricultural line.

"In 1860 the domestic exports were $350,000. In 1870 $1,403,900. The sugar industry had begun to cut a figure in the statistics during this period. In 1876 came the greatest impetus that Hawaii had yet experienced to her industrial efforts—the treaty with the United States whereby sugar and other products went into the states free of duty, so that in 1880 the domestic produce exported was valued at $4,889,000.

Made Rapid Strides "It was about this time that our guest of honor appeared on the scene, upon the Hilo coast, looking for a little ballast back to the Pacific coast, and he has been steady on the job ever since. From a part load for a 250-ton schooner at the start, Captain Matson is now packing off, or will pack off this season, somewhere around 300,000 tons of sugar, plus a few pines and anything else that happens to come along. If the present string of ships is insufficient, I judge from established precedents, that there are other valleys on Oahu that are worthy of having their names painted on a ship's stern, as well as Manoa, and there are other names that can be made to terminate in 'ia.' "In the year 1880 there were 31,792 tons of sugar produced in Hawaii; in '83, the year that I came here, it reached 57,000 tons, and in the 30 years that have intervened, it has increased to (1912) 596,000 tons—the '83 production having increased 10 times. This recalls an incident of the '80's, when at intervals the reciprocity treaty seemed in danger, as it had run out and was subject to termination at any time that Congress saw fit to say the word, and there were interests that were inimical to Hawaii; Louisiana was not wild with joy over Hawaii's prosperity, and the refinery interests of that day were inclined to be favorable to the idea that Hawaii should get on without treaty benefits. The incident I refer to was this, and while I recall it myself, my old friend and preceptor Peter Cushman Jones mentioned it the other day when I informed him I was getting up some data for this occasion. It was desired to be known by the people in the states what the possibilities in Hawaii were? How far was it possible for the treaty protection to expand the sugar industry? What was the possible maximum output? I don't recall all of the men that went into conference on this question, but they were the sugar men of that day and were just as keen as any that are on the job today—in fact, I think they were more keen than the sugar men of today, in a way, because they were the pioneers, and were carrying on the 'pioneering process' under all the burdens incidental to pioneering generally; every plantation was a "next year" affair, and the money to keep them going was hard to get and had to be gotten on a 12 per cent basis, plus a promise of big returns. Dividends were rare occurrences. These men got together for the purpose of sizing up the possibilities of the sugar business in Hawaii and made a conscientious estimate, based on past experience and the areas apparently yet available for cane culture; the result of their deliberations was that 100,000 tons was the limit, the extreme limit. This is measured, gentlemen, the power of the human to look into the future.

Our firm, in those early '80's, when Captain Matson was looking for a little ballast, handled about 600 tons of sugar, and our 'Planters' line' of ships to carry it off were the barkentine Ella of about 400 tons, the W. H. Meyer of about 350 tons, and the English bark Lady-Lampson of about 750 tons capacity. I recall distinctly that when the Lampson was reported as off Koko Head, there was a lot of rustling, as well as growling because she was so big that it took a long time to load her and the cargo came in small lumps; the island schooners brought in from 500 to 1000 bags at a time.

First Real Steam Service "In 1882 the Oceanic line put on the first local steam service of consequence and for a year or two operated the 'Mariposa' and 'Alameda' semi-monthly, but they were ahead of their time and were finally put in the 'Australian service' under subsidy. From that on, we have had a monthly service by the Oceanic line, which has been maintained ever since with commendable regularity and dependability.

"The Matson Company was incorporated in the year 1901, but as a speaker, better informed than I, is to follow me on the operations of this company, I will not take the chance of detracting anything from his talk on that subject.

"The late 90's, our domestic exports expanded to a point where the Pacific coast could not eat up what Hawaii sent them and this necessitated our employing the markets of the east coast, and for a number of years the Cape Horn clippers of the Dearborn and Sewall ownership particularly, were employed to carry sugars around Cape Horn, and from 50,000 to 100,000 tons of sugar went over this long run to market.

"Meanwhile the traffic between the coast and Hawaii employed a large sailing fleet that was very prosperous, in which Captain Matson was prominently identified, but an evolution was taking place in the direction of steam craft that for the moment did not foredoom the 'sailer,' but you know today what has happened.

"I recall very well a significant occurrence, just after annexation went into effect in 1900. At that time the United States navigation laws were applied to Hawaii; it meant that we could only ship in American bottoms, whereas before that our surplus we could ship and did ship under any flag that was available. We sized up the situation from the standpoint of American bottoms and found a rather alarming status. What we found was this: We required 100,000 tons capacity of sail tonnage, there being no steam tonnage available, to carry our quota of Atlantic coast deliveries via Cape Horn, and upon searching the records of American shipping we found that in order to fill our tonnage requirements we would have to have every sailing ship that flew the American flag, competent to go around Cape Horn, in order to take care of our shipments.

A.-H. Line in the Lead "It was rather a remarkable state of affairs, to say the least, that little, recently-acquired Hawaii should have a commerce via Cape Horn sufficient to fill every American sailing ship afloat that could qualify to voyage around that perilous course. The unpleasantness of the situation soon developed itself through a California company acquiring, by purchase, the larger part of this shipping and then sending their head man down here to make the rate of freight.

"It was a situation calling for some boldness and front, and we finally brought the new owners to reasonable terms by obtaining a favorable overland rate of freight; moreover, other heads were at work and the earlier ships of the American-Hawaiian line were soon in the building. This company, the American-Hawaiian, is probably today the largest institution of its kind under the American flag, as I understand that with the ships now in course of building they will have 25 vessels of from 8000 to 12,000 tons capacity each, and a total carrying capacity of 247,000 short tons. Beginning in 1901 with the Magellan service, this company at the present day is doing a big traffic with the Pacific coast. It is a fact, nevertheless, that the underlying and principal factor in deciding the owners to launch this venture was that Hawaii had a quarter-million tons of produce to move yearly to the Atlantic seaboard, so that it can be said, with truth, that the largest shipping concern under the American flag today in the freighting class was built upon the structure of the commerce of Hawaii.

"In the year 1912, the domestic produce exports of this territory of Hawaii reached a maximum record valuation of $55,000,000, of which $50,000,000 was sugar; fruits, largely pineapples, $3,000,000, and the remainder made up of coffee, rice and sundries. Perhaps I have made my remarks on exports too generally sugar owing to its preponderance of 90 per cent of the whole, but the pineapple industry should not be overlooked as the second of our industries and a most important one. It is the one agricultural pursuit, other than sugar, that has steadily advanced since its inception. Beginning in 1895, in which year the statistics show an exportation of 468 cases, the pineapple industry has steadily pressed forward, and latterly by leaps and bounds the output for 1912 being unofficially reported as upwards of 1,500,000 cases of an estimated value of approximately $5,000,000. Further substantial growth is evident, as it is said that the pack of 1914 will reach possibly 2,000,000 cases. This product reaching the consumer as 'Hawaiian pineapple' has probably advertised Hawaii's commerce in a greater degree than any other island production, as the consumer never, or at least rarely, knows from what country the sugar which he eats originates.

Remembers Island Friends "In the year 1913 the total value of our domestic exports receded, both in volume and value—the value figures having been cut down about $10,000,000 by the low prevailing world's price of sugar.

"The position of our guest of honor, Captain Matson, in relation to Hawaii's Commerce and its development, has been one of mutual advantage, as he has always stood by to provide what the islands have needed on the transportation end of their development; moreover, we include Captain Matson in that class which we designate as 'kamaaina,' for the reason that his aloha for the islands has been and is still of the sort that entitles him to the distinction—if such it be—and I think it is.

"Whatever Captain Matson has ventured into, and there has been a lot of it, he has invariably remembered his island friends. Hence, we regard him here in Hawaii as one of us, a valuable ally in the struggle for Hawaii's continued prosperity, which he always regards with a watchful eye and is ready to fight for if there be need. The crowning achievement of his shipping career, the magnificent Matsonia, that lies in our harbor today, is in itself a splendid marine beacon, reflecting his enterprise and fearless confidence in the future of Hawaii's commerce."
