HAWAII MAY RETAIN ALL DELEGATES

Presidential Primary Suggested by President Would Nullify the G. O. P. Scheme

ROUGH DRAFT OF BILL ENDORSED BY WILSON

District Would Be Retained as Unit in National Affairs Under Proposed Plan

By C. S. ALBERT.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 25.—Hawaii may not suffer any loss in representation at the next national convention of the Republican party. The plan to pare down the number of delegates allowed the territory seems likely to prove ineffective.

Since President Wilson, in his annual message to Congress, strongly recommended the enactment of a presidential primary law, statesmen in both the senate and house have been busy seeking to draft some form of bill that would embody the plan outlined by Mr. Wilson. In sifting out the various propositions it developed that the president favored a bill which retained the district as the unit of representation in all national conventions. These after the passage of the new law would not select candidates, but merely rig up a platform on which the nominees would stand.

The rough draft of the bill to which President Wilson gave his endorsement contains these basic principles: "Primaries to be held throughout the entire nation on the same day to choose presidential nominees of all parties.

"Primaries to be under jurisdiction of the state laws and the election machinery of the various states. "Each state to prescribe the qualifications of the voters at the primary. "The bill to provide temporary machinery until the states can enact the necessary laws so that presidential nominees may be chosen by primaries. "The state and the congressional district to be the unit of primary action. "Under this plan, with the district remaining as the unit of representation, the Republicans would be compelled to abandon their idea of cutting down the number of delegates from southern states and leave them as at present. Under such conditions it would not be worth while to whittle down the number allowed to territories.

If the proposed bill should become a law each congressional district would be one unit in determining the general result in voting; another unit would be constituted by the result of the statewide vote. Each state would continue to have the same representation in selecting the presidential nominee as it has representation in Congress.

The Republican leaders are considerably upset by the suggested presidential primary law. It would nullify all their plans to reduce representation from the southern states.

RESOLUTION POTESTS AGAINST REDUCTION IN LOCAL REPRESENTATION

A resolution protesting against any proposed plan to reduce Hawaii's representation at the national convention or to take the right of ballot from the territory's delegates was introduced near the close of the Republican convention yesterday afternoon. The resolution reads as follows:

Whereas, reports of the last meeting of the Republican national committee indicate an intention on the part of the committee to restrict the territory of Hawaii, in future conventions of the Republican party of the United States to two delegates, neither of whom shall be entitled to vote;

And whereas, the successful conduct of the industries of Hawaii, and the prosperity of its people are dependent largely on the adoption of the principles of the Republican party; and protection proportionately means as much, if not more to the people of the territory than as to any other community in the United States;

And whereas, Republicans in the territory of Hawaii are as much members of that party as are those of any state, and by reason thereof are equally entitled to representation and votes;

And whereas, the Republican party of the territory of Hawaii has for years been treated as entitled to, and received, proportionately equal representation with any of the states, and has always liberally responded to calls made by the national Republican party for support of every nature;

And whereas, by reason of the foregoing, and other considerations, we believe we should not only have a part in the councils of the Republican party, but a voice in determining who

Cable Bears News of Illness of Delegate, and Princess Plans to Sail Next Saturday

Princess Jonah Kuhio Kalaniana'ole, who is suffering from an attack of pneumonia.

Princess Jonah Kuhio Kalaniana'ole, Hawaii's delegate to Congress, is suffering from an attack of pneumonia. Arrangements were made this morning for Princesses Kalaniana'ole to sail Saturday by the Pacific Mail liner Persia. She will go immediately to Washington to be with her husband during his illness.

A cable message was received by the Kapiolani estate this morning shortly after 9 o'clock stating that the prince was ill in Washington with pneumonia.

PUBLIC SCHOOL WORK IMPROVED, STATES GIBSON

Teachers Falling Below Standard of Efficiency Will Fail of Reappointment

"During the past several months the work of the teachers in the public schools of the territory has been of a higher standard than ever before. There appears to be a better spirit among the instructors, and a noticeable degree of harmony between them and their pupils has been attained, making the present outlook most encouraging."—T. H. Gibson, superintendent of public instruction.

In spite of Supt. T. H. Gibson's optimistic remarks, the fact that public school teachers to the number of 95 have been reported as doing poor work was brought out at the session of the board of public school commissioners yesterday afternoon, which convened at 2 o'clock. This, however, is but a small percentage of the teachers now employed, there being 716 names on the department's payroll.

It is the intention of the commission to play no favorites for, as it was put yesterday, those teachers who have neglected their duties must either come up to the required standard at once, or else not expect to be recommended for reappointment for the next school term. The commission has taken speedy action in the matter, the following being a form of notification sent to those teachers whose work has been reported as unsatisfactory:

"You are hereby notified that your rating as a teacher is below the required standard, and that you are to be considered as a probationer for the next year, and what shall be his policies."

Now therefore, be it resolved, by the Republican party of the territory of Hawaii, in convention assembled, that we respectfully protest against any proposed plan by which our representation in national conventions shall be reduced, or the right to vote taken from us; and further respectfully request the national committee of the Republican party to give careful consideration to our claims in this respect before taking final action; with the assurance on our part, however, that whatever action may be taken by the national committee, the Republican party of the territory will always be found steadily adhering to the principles of the Republican party.

And be it further resolved, that the secretary of this convention forward a copy of this resolution to the chairman of the Republican national committee.

COMPETITION IN SOUND SHIPPING IS FORECAST

Matson Line and Portland S.S. Company to Bid for Business in Great Northwest

HONOLULU TO BE PLACED ON SEATTLE-TACOMA RUN

New Carrying Concern Proposes to Send Leelanaw to Hawaii in Near Future

Competition for the recently incorporated Portland Steamship Company, whose purpose is to enter into the Puget Sound-Hawaiian island freight and passenger service, is forecasted by shipping men following the definite announcement of the entrance of the Matson Navigation Company into the northwest.

The Honolulu, it was announced today, with her dispatch from Honolulu March 3, will proceed direct to San Francisco, where a consignment of sugar and other island products will be discharged and the vessel will then steam up the coast to Tacoma and Seattle, to load cargo and passengers for Hawaii. It is stated that the Honolulu will follow her former route in the island service, touching at Kahului, Maui, each time she reaches her southern terminal. The Honolulu is an American-Hawaiian steamer, under charter to the Matson company, which charter, it is stated, expires in July.

Latest advices from Portland relative to the new line are to the effect that a company with a capitalization of $10,000 has been incorporated, whose intention it is to operate the steamer Leelanaw in the Portland-Honolulu trade. The company proposes to commence with a single vessel and expand as business warrants. The route selected for the Leelanaw is from Portland to Honolulu, touching at Los Angeles and San Francisco on the return voyage, and the initial plans call for a monthly service, commencing some time next month. The entrance of the Matson company into this trade may cause some change in the contemplated plans.

The great northwest provides a field that it is believed will make direct service a paying proposition. In any event it would bring Hawaii in closer touch with a large and wealthy section of country.

The new Manoa is now at San Francisco, receiving the finishing touches preparatory to entering a San Francisco-Honolulu-Kahului service in connection with the steamer Lurline. It is pointed out that the Matson line can easily spare the Honolulu to better care for increased passenger and freight offerings from the Sound as well as Columbia river ports. While Matson steamers may not call at Portland, a traffic arrangement with a coast company from that port to Seattle or Tacoma might easily be effected.

JOHN SUMNER ELLIS, SWEET-VOICED HAWAIIAN SINGER, DIED YESTERDAY

Popular Entertainer Passes Away After Long Illness—Was Mainland Favorite

John Sumner Ellis, known over the country as the Hawaiian Caruso for his wonderful and sweet voice which has charmed thousands, died yesterday afternoon at the home of E. Bufandeau after an illness which lasted for nine months. Unable to recover his health in New York, where he was engaged as the singer in one of the fashionable cafes, Ellis returned to Honolulu two weeks ago. He died at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Formerly one of the leading singers of the islands with Ernest Kaai, and for a long time connected with the Hawaiian band, Ellis was one of the best known singers of native songs of the territory, and his wonderful voice, heard in many cities over the mainland, did much to popularize the Hawaiian melodies.

Ellis was married five years ago to Mrs. May Bernard. He met her in Chicago and married her there, and she was with him in New York when he became ill and accompanied him here. Ellis is survived by a widow, a brother and a sister, Mrs. E. Bufandeau.

The funeral will take place at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning from Williams' undertaking parlors. The interment will be at the Nuanu cemetery in the family plot. The Hawaiian band, with which he was long associated, will play at the cemetery. Ernest Kaai's orchestra will play at the services.

Ellis was 37 years of age at the time of his death. He left here for the mainland May 30, 1905, with "Sonny" Cunha and a Hawaiian quintet. On this trip Ellis distinguished himself for his sweet, melodious voice. Later he was engaged by the Promotion Committee to sing at different places.

About two years after he left here with Cunha, he went on the stage, singing Hawaiian songs in vaudeville and later grand opera.

UNEMPLOYED TO WORK ON ROADS, IS BOWEN'S PLAN

Manager of Associated Charities Requests City Simply to Supply Tools Needed

SUPERVISORS TAKE TIME TO CONSIDER PROPOSITION

Meeting of Yesterday Starts Movement to Give Employment to 200 Laborers

Unemployed laborers to the number of 200, almost entirely made up of immigrants brought here from Spain and Portugal, clamoring for food and shelter, led to the starting of a movement by Spencer Bowen, manager of the Associated Charities, to put these men to work on the streets of Honolulu, paying them at the rate of $1 each a day, and giving their work gratis to the city and county.

This movement was launched yesterday afternoon at a meeting called by Mr. Bowen, A. De Sousa Canavaro, consul for Portugal and Isacio de Arana, consul for Spain, R. A. Kearns, commissioner of immigration, and R. D. Mead of the platters' labor bureau, were among those present. A representative of the Y. M. C. A. and the Salvation Army was also on hand, as was Miss Emily Farley, engaged in employment work for the Associated Charities and Mrs. Alice C. Jordan, first assistant manager of the association.

Following the meeting Spencer Bowen broached the proposition of the unemployed working on the streets with Supervisor Lester Petrie, chairman of the roads committee. The latter took the offer under consideration. It was stated this morning that it has not been definitely decided yet how the money for this work is to be raised.

Almost the entire number of the 200 unemployed are immigrants. They have been on plantations, but drifted back to the city in small numbers, with the idea that wealth would overtake them here. But unfortunately they found themselves without work and unable to return to the places left by them on the plantations. Just at this time, Mr. Mead explains, the plantations have plenty of men, and perhaps will not be in need of more until later in the season.

It is to bridge this period when labor is not in demand that the movement was started. The supervisors state that the offer made to them is to put the men at work on the streets, only requiring the city and county to furnish the tools and materials needed for the work.

The next meeting of the board is set for Thursday noon. It is expected that the proposition will be presented formally for the board to take action at that time.

GEN. EDWARDS IS IN COMMAND 1ST HAWAIIAN BRIGADE

Gen. Macomb, in Command of the Department, Is Relieved of Part of Duties

NEW ARRIVAL HAS LONG AND EFFICIENT RECORD

Was Head of Bureau of Insular Affairs—Is in Close Touch With Military Here

Brig. Gen. Clarence R. Edwards, assigned to the 1st Hawaiian brigade, arrived last night on the Honolulu, and will take over the brigade today, relieving Brig. Gen. M. M. Macomb of that command. General Macomb is senior to General Edwards, and of course retains command of the Hawaiian department. He will not leave Hawaii until the April transport, and as Maj. Gen. W. H. Carter is expected before that date, General Edwards will at no time be in command of the department during the change of general officers.

The new brigade commander is one of the best known officers in the army, and has the reputation of being both an efficient soldier and an administrative head of unusual ability. He was placed at the head of the bureau of insular affairs when it was first organized, with rank of colonel, and later brigadier-general, and in May, 1912, he was made a brigadier-general of the line. Upon his supervision the bureau grew in importance, handling many matters other than those military for the Philippines, Porto Rico, San Domingo, and, to a certain extent, Hawaii, although this territory was never in the class of an insular possession.

"I am glad that my tour of foreign service is to be spent in Hawaii," said General Edwards this morning, "although I was naturally sorry to leave the 6th brigade, of which I was the first commander under the new plan of army organization. The three infantry regiments had arrived at a high state of efficiency, and had been sent into Mexico I know my old command would have made a splendid showing. We were in Texas City and some of the troops had spent two years under canvas, and were in fine field training.

"This is my first duty in Hawaii, although I have passed through here a number of times, and have very pleasant recollections of my visit here with the Taft party, on its trip to the Philippines. I am not definitely located as yet, but will probably take a house in or near the city. At present I am staying at Fort Shafter, with Major Williams.

"During the time I was in the bureau of insular affairs I had occasion to learn much of Hawaiian matters, in connection with the various branches of the government service represented here. I have some good friends here, and am looking forward to renewing acquaintance with them."

General Edwards was chief of staff of General Lawton's division in the early days of Philippine occupation, and he accompanied the remains of that gallant officer to the United States. The new brigade commander is a finely set up man of 55, tall, erect, and looking every inch the soldier. In spite of his long tour of staff duty in Washington, and the large amount of what might be termed unprofessional work in this connection, General Edwards always managed to keep in close touch with the practical side of the army, and is looking forward to interesting work with the infantry brigade here.

DROUGHT AND LOW PRICES ARE CAUSE OF POOR SHOWING

Maui Agricultural Company Holds Annual Meeting—Last Year Unsatisfactory

The combination of drought and low-gear prices is responsible for the comparatively poor showing made by the Maui Agricultural Company last year. At the annual meeting of the company held at the offices of Alexander & Baldwin at 11:30 o'clock this morning, Manager Harry A. Baldwin explained this situation in some detail in his report. The total receipts for the year from sugar and other sources amounted to $1,509,506.11, but the net profit amounted to but $158,887.21. It was necessary to draw from the surplus account $73,582.22. The prospect for the present year's output is better, and unless something happens in the meantime, the 1915 crop will be exceptionally good.

No change was made in the board of directors. Manager Baldwin in his report says: "As will be seen from a glance at

U. S. MAY SEND CAVALRY INTO MEXICO IF VILLA IS OBSTINATE IN BENTON CASE

State Department Firm on Order That Body of British Subject Must Be Surrendered—Will Enforce It with Armed Men—Act Not Equivalent to Declaring War, It Is Pointed Out, as Administration Holds There Is No Government in Mexico at the Present Time

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 25.—The atmosphere at the state department today pointed to a firm insistence on the part of Uncle Sam that the body of William Benton, the British subject executed by the Mexican rebels, must be delivered to the American authorities.

The American consul at Chihuahua has reported that General Villa says that the body may be exhumed and examined but will be held by the Mexican authorities and reinterred in the same grave. At the state department here today it was intimated that U. S. cavalry will be sent to recover Benton's body if Villa persists in his refusal to surrender it.

Officials say that this act on the part of the United States would not be necessarily an act of war, since President Wilson holds that no Mexican government exists and hence he is not breaking relations with it in ordering an armed force into the country. It is pointed out that the present case may develop along similar lines to that of the international invasion of China at the time of the Boxer troubles. At that time there was no declaration of war made.

Meanwhile the government has accepted Gen. Villa's offer to examine the body, but without waiving any of its rights in the final disposition. It will not waive the right to demand delivery of the body on American soil.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 25.—Secretary of State Bryan today conferred for two hours with the senate committee on foreign relations. He said that department policies in regard to Mexico were not mentioned, and that only an effort was made to establish facts with regard to the Benton killing and present conditions in Mexico.

American Citizen is Hanged in Mexico; "Investigating"

Christy Mathewson Considers Double Salary From Federals

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Feb. 25.—Christy Mathewson, dean of all pitchers, is considering an offer from the new Federal league, to take over the management of the Brooklyn club of the new league at double his present salary. Mathewson, who has been a member of the New York Giants for a number of years, was the leading pitcher of the league last year and the pitching star of the world's series. Thus far he has failed to sign a contract with the Giants for 1914 and the Federals feel confident that the salary offer will bring him over.

German Admiral in Controversy

BADEN-BADEN, Germany, Feb. 25.—A new turn was given today to the controversy over the actions of American and German admirals at Manila during the Spanish-American war. Admiral von Diederichs, who said yesterday that the opening of the controversy years after the event was due to the malicious reports printed in English papers in China and to absence of blockade regulations, today admitted that he informed a British commander that he would shoot any American boarding a German warship "to make inquiry and establish her identity," pursuant to Admiral Dewey's order.

NOTED GEOLOGIST NO EXCLUSION SHOWS OAHU WAS ONCE SUBMERGED FOR CHINESE BALL-PLAYERS

That the island of Oahu bears on its time-scathed shoulders the unmistakable evidence of enormously long erosion and that the eroded remains of the once much higher island were subsequently deeply submerged was announced and proven with mathematical certainty in the course of a lecture on coral reefs delivered by Dr. William Morris Davis, professor emeritus of physical geography and geology in Harvard last evening at the residence of Professor William A. Bryan.

The importance and far-reaching significance of this announcement, by so competent an authority supported as it is by plainly visible and undoubted evidence was fully appreciated by the select company of local amateurs who, as invited guests, conferred with the visiting scientist until a

With the approaching departure of the All-Chinese baseball team for its third mainland tour, the question has been raised as to what bearing the recent decision of the federal authorities in regard to certificates of Hawaiian birth will have on the team. There seems little likelihood that the local ball players will have any trouble in re-visiting the United States, but there is always the possibility of delay caused by over-zealous officials. It is argued, however, that the ball players would travel under the provisions of the Chinese exclusion act, which provides that local federal immigration

MATSON LINER PORTUGUESE IN INTER-ISLAND STRUCK HEAVY WEATHER LARGE NUMBERS SAIL AWAY PROBE BEGINS ON MARCH 13TH

With several hundred tons of material to enter into the construction of tall aerials for island wireless plants, a quantity of stores for the United States quartermaster department, and thousands of packages of merchandise consigned to a host of local importers, a list of 38 cabin passengers, a half dozen being destined for the south Pacific by the way of a Canada-Australasian vessel, the Matson Navigation chartered steamer Honolulu making its last trip in a direct San Francisco service, arrived off the port at 6 o'clock last evening and was berthed at Pier 19 before 8 o'clock.

One of the largest delegations of Portuguese and Spanish families to take their departure from the islands in a single steamer in many months were numbered among the 80 steerage passengers sailing in the Matson Navigation steamer Wilhelmina for San Francisco today.

Having received information to effect that the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company has practically completed the data recently requested regarding its utility business, the Public Utilities Commission this afternoon set Friday afternoon, March 13, as the date of the initial hearing in its investigation of the company, the hearing to commence at 2 o'clock. No special subject has been chosen for the hearing. The meeting will be a public one, and will be held in the rooms of the commission, fifth floor, Stangenwald building.

late hour on the bearing of the deep submergence of the island on the plants and animals of the group and their subsequent evolution as effected by long insular isolation. All were agreed that the significance of the occurrence of slightly elevated coral reefs located well back within the embayments formed by the outposts of the eroded lava ridges along the south shore of Oahu at such points as Wai-lu-pi, Manoa, Makaha, Walaane and Pearl Harbor as pointed out by Professor Davis had escaped attention until now. Those present were agreed that as a working basis their relationship as explained constitutes one of the most important, perhaps the most important scientific pronouncement of a generation with reference to the geology and topography of the Hawaiian islands.

NO EXCLUSION FOR CHINESE BALL-PLAYERS

MAYOR OF TOKIO AGAIN SCORES BIG HIT IN OPERA HOUSE PRODUCTION

Local Amateurs Handle Various Parts in Style Worthy of Professionals

Materially aided by excellent acoustics, and not altogether lacking in a beauty such as was afforded by the natural setting on the Oahu College campus, the second performance of "the Mayor of Tokio" was given in the opera house last night and thoroughly pleased a large and admiring audience. The stage arrangements were both pretty and effective, the whole blending perfectly with the beautiful costumes of the chorus. The entire production went off without a break, and those who saw it—and there were many there who had seen it at Punahou—are still declaring that it was one of the best demonstrations of amateur talent ever brought to Honolulu footlights.

With the entrance of the stranded musical comedy company, headed by Marcus Orlando Skinner, the impresario, ably played by William Warren, comedy reigned supreme; the sober actions of the "villain," General Satake (Sam Searle) and the mysterious movements of Ivan Orfulitch (Rudolph Muller) served to keep the audience in good humor from the time of the first meeting of Julian Lincoln, the tenor, played by William Hutton, and Oloto San, daughter of the mayor of Tokio, which role was taken by Mrs. Charles Crane, until that stage when "everything turned out just as everybody expected." Mrs. Alice Hayward as "Birdie" Talcom, who doted on the legitimate and was fond of "Bommo and Juliet," and J. Ashman Beaven, as "Rusty," the "Sing Song Boy," handled their parts in an above-criticism manner. As the mayor of Tokio, David Anderson's work was above par; even in the face of death—the terrible demise of being tickled to death with an ostrich feather—he remained cool and collected, as it were, and allowed nothing to daunt his courage or bereft him of his admirable flow of good old American slang. There was a laugh in every one of Mr. Anderson's lines, made all the more humorous from the expression placed back of it.

The "Peanut Ballet" was the hit of the evening; the members sang and danced and were called time and again to sing and dance some more. They scored a big hit in the rendition of "Salvation Nell," led by Mrs. Alice Hayward. The audience was somewhat disappointed at the fact that they did not hear more of "I'll Sit on the Moon and Keep My Eyes on You," sung by Mrs. Hayward, supported by the company, with comiques by the comedians. There was nearly five minutes of persistent applause after the second encore, after which Mrs. Hayward came back and sang another chorus in her highly pleasing manner. Miss Perry Hunter-Jones, as the heiress, handled her part with the skill of a professional, and sang several good songs supported by a quartet of Japanese maidens; namely, Miss Myrtle Schuman, Mrs. Robert McEldowney, Miss Mildred Chapin and Miss Mercedes Walton, and generous applause was forthcoming. Mrs. Sara H. Douglas, as Madame Stitch, was a clever comedienne.

In a word, everything and everybody was good—even the jirikisha man. The chorus was strong and the voices reached well out into the big opera house. And, everybody was satisfied; that was the biggest asset. Only one thing was missing, and that was, as a member of the chorus said last night, "the heavy bass played by the bull-frogs in the fly pond at Punahou." It is possible that the company will go to Schofield Barracks at an early date, as it is understood there has been an enthusiastic demand by the people at the garrison to see the production.

Huck Hong, a Chinese, fell in a fit to the pavement near the fishmarket yesterday afternoon, receiving injuries that required medical attention at the hospital.

With his left lung pierced by a small knife or sharpened piece of steel, Frank Pretorio, a Portuguese, is an inmate of the Queen's hospital today, his condition being such that grave doubts were expressed of his recovery. Amerika Motiuko, a laborer at a Wahiawa pineapple plantation, is now under arrest at central police station, having been brought to this city last evening in custody of Special Officer Gray, and charged with the crime. A stabbing affray is alleged to have followed an angry war of words, the dispute arising over a game of cards. Captain of Detectives McDuff secured one important witness this morning who gave out a statement that caused the officers to hold Motiuko for further investigation.

DROUGHT AND LOW
OF POOR SHOWING

The profit and loss account appended hereto, 1913 was a most unfortunate year for this plantation. The dry weather of 1912 followed by drought during 1913 until November, with the exception of May and June, resulted in a tremendous falling off in the crop, which was coupled to a large reduction in price. The difference in income between the years 1912 and 1913 is accounted for by the fact that in 1912 we harvested a crop of 34,612 tons of sugar, for which we received an average basic price of 4.188c, while in 1913 the crop amounted to only 24,633 tons and the average basic price was 3.483c per pound.

"During 1913 few expenditures were permitted except for requirements that we could not do without, and this policy will of necessity continue, thanks to the recent tariff legislation, unless Congress has a change of heart or of political complexion. Improvements and developments must be of secondary consideration, even though obviously advantageous to the property.

"1913 crop: At the time of the last annual report we had hoped this would amount to over 28,000 tons, but as already noted it turned out only 24,633. This was of an average polarization of 98.44; had we made 96-degree sugar we would have produced approximately 26,000 tons. The average yield per acre was 5.9 tons sugar as against 5.47 for 1912. We finished grinding May 27th.

"1914 Crop: This will be harvested from 1505 acres of plant cane and 2,493 acres of ratoons, from which we estimate a crop of over 30,000 tons. This as well as last year's crop was badly affected by the drought. We commenced grinding October 22nd, much earlier than usual, to save the cane from drying up. To date we have bagged 10,800 tons, and over-run the estimate of the fields cut by 369 tons. We are putting all the cane through both mills in tandem, equivalent to an 18-roller mill, so gaining between 3 and 4 per cent in extraction.

"1915 Crop: This crop, consisting of 1592 acres of plant cane and 2523 acres of ratoons, is looking remarkably well. As we finished grinding so early we were enabled to push the planting much faster than usual, and put the last seed into the ground August 30th. The plant is further advanced as a whole than I have ever known corresponding crops to be at this time of the year. The ratoons are also very satisfactory, except that there is considerable replant in certain fields which is somewhat backward. This replant was necessitated by the dying-out of the young ratoons during the very dry summer and fall.

"1916 Crop: We plan to plant 1717 acres and cultivate 2310 acres of ratoons for this crop—a total of 4527 acres.

"Factory: Work in this department has been satisfactory. Appended hereto is a laboratory statement giving detailed results. The only innovations made in the off season were the addition of a floating roll before the last mill in each series and the installation of an experimental bagasse drier. The object of the floating roll mentioned is not the extraction of juice but the pressing of water of maceration thoroughly into the bagasse. It accomplishes the object sought and facilitates the feeding of the following mill. The bagasse drier was designed to utilize the heat of flue gases for drying the bagasse before entering the furnaces. It did not prove the success we had hoped, although beneficial to the extent of removing between 5 and 6 per cent of the moisture.

"In order to put the whole of the 1914 crop through both mills we are crushing eleven tons per roller-foot-hour.

"Ranch: This department has also made a good showing. Less outside beef was purchased than usual for the butcher shop, and $930 worth of pork was supplied. Four hundred and thirty head of 'store' cattle were purchased and fattened. The pineapple crop for 1913 amounted to 292 tons, and that to be gathered this year is promising. Corn and other small crops have done well, and the Burbank spineless cactus is making a good start.

"Forestry: We have set out in the forest region at Kaili some 260,000 trees during the year, mainly in replanting. For nine years we have been experimenting with a great variety of trees, and now are able to know quite definitely what kinds are suitable for forestry purposes under local conditions.

"In the ditch country there have been 50,000 eucalyptus of different varieties planted out to form wind-breaks, and 5000 native koa. The natural forest there is improving.

"Rubber Plantation: Owing to the decline in price of rubber, we have stopped operations at Nahiku. The expense incurred, however, has not been wasted entirely, as the trees supply a much-needed cover in the region of our most important watershed.

"Improvements: The only item under this heading of magnitude, entered into during the past year, is the new Kaunakoa ditch, which is being built to take the place of the portion of the original Hamakua ditch between Halehaku and the plantation. This new ditch consists of 24,806 feet of tunnel, a small amount of open ditch and flumes, and 867 feet of pipe line across Maliko gulch. Of the 24,806 feet of tunnel, 20,857 feet have been completed. The waterway, including the lining of a portion at least of it will be completed by the middle of next summer and will be of immense value in enabling us to take advantage of freshets that are now often partly wasted because of lack of ca-

MOOSE WITHOUT GUIDING HANDS

As a result of what is reported to have been a very spirited meeting of the Loyal Order of Moose, held last night in the club's new home, all the officers of the local order submitted their resignations. According to statements made today, the resignations have been accepted and new officers will be elected.

The meeting was attended by James J. Davis of Pennsylvania, director-general of the Order of Moose, and Congressman John J. Lentz, one of the wardens of the Moose home. They took an active part in the meeting, it is stated today on good authority. The two representatives of the order came here several days ago to study the conditions of the local lodge and make suggestions for its improvement. It is said that these suggestions were made last night and were resented by the officers, who promptly handed in their resignations. All the persons affected when seen this morning were reticent regarding the meeting and its results. They said it was something private to them and the lodge and refused to discuss it.

capacity in the old ditch, and frequently go entirely to the sea because the condition of the old pipe lines is such that on nearly every occasion when freshet water is turned in a break occurs somewhere and the water is lost. Considerable water has been developed during the excavation of the tunnel.

Other Meetings of Today
The annual meetings of the Paiku Sugar Company and the Paia plantation were held this morning in the offices of Alexander & Baldwin, the business transacted being entirely of routine character. The reports of the two companies is contained in that of the Maui Agricultural Company, in which they are partner corporations. Slight changes were made in the directorates of the two companies, the officers and directors of each elected being H. A. Baldwin, president; S. M. Damon, vice-president; John Waterhouse, treasurer; E. E. Faxton, secretary; D. B. Murdoch, auditor. Directors: H. A. Baldwin, S. M. Damon, J. P. Cooke, F. C. Atherton and S. A. Baldwin.

relating to municipal ownership. The critical situation in several prominent cities in this country has evidently made a deep impression upon him, and he said that in the end, in his opinion, the municipalities will take over the railway properties. Such a step, we assume, Mr. Dalrymple would regard as involving very great dangers to the public unless there should be a radical change in the methods employed in carrying on municipal work in the United States.

We are led to this conclusion because Mr. Dalrymple in continuation said that unless the executive officials of the railway properties have security in office and changes of administration have no effect on the operation of the personnel of the street railway, the result will be confusion—and he may have added, financial disaster as well. Testimony of this kind and from the source is of the highest value. In other words, unless the American method of municipal politics can be made over and the spoils system be banished, municipalities should not assume the great responsibility involved in the direction and operation of its local transportation system.

I feel that it would be very difficult to carry on the government of the state but for the influence which religion has upon the character and disposition of the people.—William Hodges Mann, governor of Virginia.

A STRIDE FORWARD FOR REPUBLICANISM

A long stride forward was made by the Republican leaders of Hawaii yesterday in the promulgation of new rules to comply with the letter and the spirit of the direct primary law passed by the legislature of 1913.

The convention went to its work in a business-like manner, with considerable vigorous discussion but without disputes, tackled the difficult problem of revising the rules in an earnest and fair spirit and concluded its task in less than a day.

The rules adopted represent something of a compromise between the "radicals," who insisted that all party committees should be named at party primaries and that whenever and wherever possible conventions should be eliminated, and the "conservatives," who believed that territorial and county platform conventions must be maintained. The new rules, and more especially the spirit in which they were adopted, should confine the scope of such conventions as are held very closely to enunciation of platforms and keep the delegates away from slate-making and "framing-up" election candidacies.

Perhaps the most notable single act of the convention was its adoption of R. W. Breckons' proposal for thorough-going publicity for campaign funds. That is in line with the spirit of the times. The Republican party has taken the step that must now be followed by the Democrats.

Another conspicuous advance was made when all reference to party patronage, distribution of office or committee endorsement was stricken out. The committees hereafter will not be called upon by the pie-hunters to press their claims upon public officials with appointments to make.

The Star-Bulletin feels that the convention accomplished a great deal of good for the party in Hawaii. Not all of the changes this paper advocated were made, but the great majority of them were. We could wish that some means had been found to do away with the election of the territorial committee by convention, but no proposal was made for a substitute method of choosing the committee that promised any improvement. On the other hand, a number of sound arguments were advanced in opposition to the direct party election of the territorial body. Experience may or may not uphold the stand taken by the convention.

The territorial primary law is untried here and quite naturally the Republican rules as now revised must be largely tentative. We believe some later changes will be found necessary. Only actual experience can show the way.

The convention adjourned in a decidedly hopeful mood and an atmosphere of confidence that augurs well for the fall elections.

WHAT CHICAGO WOMEN ARE DOING

Chicago women are emphasizing in no uncertain manner their recent acquisition of the ballot. Fifty thousand of them are reported to have voted in the primary election yesterday, and on Registration Day, a unique occasion on February 3, the names of 153,897 women were added to the voting lists.

Chicago has long been noted for its intelligent and public-spirited women who take an active interest in the broader affairs of their city. Such a one is Mrs. William I. Thomas, who has been visiting Honolulu for several months and has spoken on two or three occasions on behalf of social welfare work. Miss Jane Addams, Ella Flagg Young, Mrs. Raymond Robins, Miss Margaret Haley and others have turned much of the energy of their virile personalities into political work among Chicago women, and on Registration Day their efforts to see that the feminine voters were properly qualified met unexpected success.

Much good humor and several spectacular features attended the efforts of the women. On Sunday afternoon, February 1, a registration rally was held at the Chicago Auditorium. Miss

According to plans made this morning by the members of the Daughters of Hawaii, who met at 10 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. L. Coney, the birthday of Kamehameha (Kauikoa) will be fittingly observed by the daughters and their friends on March 17, at which time they will meet in Kawaiahao church at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. The plans for the celebration are not as yet complete, and another meeting of the daughters is to be called at an early date, at which time it is expected definite arrangements as to a program will be perfected.

Jane Addams had written a new verse to the song "Illinois," as follows:

Through the world the news is ringing
Illinois! Illinois!
Hear thy daughters gladly singing,
Illinois! Illinois!
By the word of thy command,
Citizens at last they stand;
Honor to thy heart and hand, Illinois!
Honor to thy heart and hand, Illinois!

Several women were candidates at the aldermanic primaries yesterday, 750 out of 7000 precinct judges and clerks of election were women and 3000 more women were certified as watchers and challengers.

And this in busy, hustling, industrial-minded Chicago. Verily the feminine movement is tremendously powerful.

THE DIFFERENCE

Nine Americans were killed in Mexico a few days ago by bandits who sent their trains into collision in a dynamited tunnel. The incident attracted some attention in the United States but no action on the part of the state department resulted, aside from a Bryan telegraph message or two. Now one British subject has been killed and immediately the British foreign office, the House of Commons and the consuls take the matter up. Bryan jumps into activity and the affair creates an international sensation. One of the reasons for the difference in developments of the two incidents is that the Americans were killed by a bandit at the head of a hundred men while the Briton was killed by a bandit at the head of 20,000 men. Another reason is that Americans have been warned to get out of Mexico and those still there are remaining at their peril. They have small protection from their government or their flag. What measure of protection a British subject is afforded in Mexico seems now about to be illustrated.

Lord Cowdray, the British capitalist who is credited with a plan to buy the Mexican oil-fields from Huerta for fifty million dollars, is the financier who beat the Standard Oil Company at its own game in Mexico. Cowdray is the head of the Pearson syndicate, with vast holdings in the republic. A hot competition between the Pearsons and the Standard Oil crowd resulted in a defeat for the Rockefeller company, the Britons underselling Standard Oil until it withdrew from a profitless warfare. It is estimated that Cowdray lost ten million dollars in the fight but he strengthened his hold on Mexico. Huerta's plan to "nationalize" the oil-fields means nothing else than to confiscate wherever possible. Then the government will sell out to Cowdray—and Cowdray will get back his ten millions and forty or fifty more.

California proposes to find out definitely the recreational needs of her citizens. A recreational inquiry committee has been appointed, consisting of one member from each branch of the legislature, and one representative each from the schools, playgrounds, juvenile courts, public and private charities, and the police, "to study, investigate and report with recommendations upon recreation for both young and old in California, including recreation in rural communities as well as small and large towns and cities." The committee has already begun work, and hopes to report to the governor by November 1, 1914.

From New Orleans comes the telegraphic report that "Dr. Ralph Hopkins has reported to the directors of the Louisiana leper colony that nine victims of leprosy had been discharged as perfectly cured. Scores of other cases under treatment have been greatly helped, he said, by a newly discovered vaccine from the bacteria of crysipelas." The report should not be accepted at face-value until the treatment has received further investigation by several recognized experts.

Publicity in the receiving and handling of party funds, well provided for by the Republican rules convention yesterday, has just come up as a real issue in the British parliament. Funds have long been surrounded by greatest secrecy but the house of lords has taken the matter up and some method for turning on the spotlight may be evolved.

Villa seems to be emerging as the villain of the plot.

and of Kaula, according to a report brought to the city today by the purser of the steamer W. G. Hall, consists of the following consignments: G. & R. 4000 bags, L. P. 16,000, K. P. 9435, V. K. 5000, K. S. M. 4900, McB. 12,163, G. & R. 11,194, Kealia 16,700, Kilauea 6700, M. A. K. 13,116.

JOLLY CROWD OF COAST ELKS BID ALOHA TO HAWAII

ones were almost unrecognizable owing to the great mass of leis with which they were bedecked.

It was in truth a jolly crowd. In spite of the fact that most of them had danced until the early morning hours at the farewell ball given at the Seaside Hotel last night, a space was cleared on the wharf near the gangway, and to the music of Herr Berger and his band, the indefatigable party danced with each other and with their hosts until almost the last minute. F. A. Hopper, leading knight of Oakland lodge, and the chairman of the visitors, carried the great koa key of Hilo which had been presented to the party by the Hilo Elks, and he and his key were conspicuous in this final scene of merrymaking.

Last Night's Dance. Although there had been a number of informal dances given for the visiting Elks during the week, the ball at the Seaside Hotel last night was the formal reception tendered by Honolulu Lodge No. 616, not only to the Oakland party, but to some 100 other visiting Elks and their wives and daughters, who are in the city. In all there were between 300 and 400 in attendance at the ball. The affair was a most enjoyable one.

"The excursion has been the biggest kind of a success," said Mr. Hopper just before sailing this morning, though I won't say it hasn't been some strenuous. We waltz the Honolulu and Hilo Elks that we didn't expect to sleep while we were here—well, we haven't. But, take it from me, there'll be some sleeping stunts on the Wilhelmina during the next six days. But we've had a glorious time, and I don't see how we could have been on the go every minute of the daylight hours, and attended dances and other entertainments most every night. We've been pretty well over this island, and we've seen the volcano and been wine and dined and toasted by the Hilo Elks, taking in Carnival stunts in the intervals. There hasn't been much time wasted, I'm only sorry that we haven't been able to make a longer stay, but I am sure that for the most of us this will not be our last visit to the paradise of the Pacific."

Oscar Ems, general manager of the party, says: "Of all the countries I have visited none has been as hospitable as Hawaii. The Elks expected to have a good time while in Honolulu but never did they dream of the many delicate attentions and marks of friendship thrown upon them by the Honolulu Elks."

"If it was possible many would like to remain longer in Honolulu and all are enthusiastic over their visit to the Hawaiian Islands."

"Many Elks could not go owing to lack of accommodations on the steamers, arrangements are being made to accommodate 200 Elks who intend visiting Honolulu next spring."

"We have now two large parties due to arrive in Honolulu during June and July. The Ems-Hall Tours Company must thank the Alex. Young Hotel management for having made arrangements so perfect as to make the stay of the Elks in Honolulu a perfect dream."

BOY SCOUT IN ROLE OF HERO AND LIFE-SAVER

By putting into practice the lessons he had learned as a Boy Scout, Eddie Killehua, a member of Father Reginald's troop, Monday evening was incidental in saving the life of a Japanese woman by extinguishing a fire in a tenement at King and Liliha streets which had it not been for his timely arrival and assistance, might have threatened to destroy the entire block. When the firemen arrived, they found the fire out.

Shortly after 7 o'clock Monday evening a Japanese woman living on the second floor of the tenement dropped a lighted kerosene lamp, according to the story told the police, directly between herself and the door. The lamp exploded and the burning oil rapidly spread over the floor, cutting off all means of escape. A Japanese man and two Boy Scouts of Father Reginald's troops ran to the rescue, the

Those teachers below standard have been classed as: Oahu, 31; Hawaii, 51; Kaula, 3; Maui, 6, and Molokai, 3. Each supervising principal reports at least once a month on the work of the several teachers in his respective district and this report, with the report of the inspector-general, forms the basis upon which the department makes its decisions regarding the establishment of a standard of work.

The reports on the work of the different schools were presented at the meeting and proved to be most satisfactory. It was the opinion of the board that, where agreeable to the pupils and teachers, the school session could be lengthened one-half hour a day for vocational work. This, however, is not compulsory. It was reported that a new school had been established at 29-Mile, Hawaii, on the volcano road. The school has been named Keakealani and has an enrollment of 16 pupils.

Personal Mentions

DR. N. A. NEELEY arrived in the steamer Honolulu to remain here for the Canadian-Australasian liner Niagara for Australia.

CHARLES GLUEK and Miss Emma Gluek of Minneapolis were numbered among the arrivals in the Matson steamer Honolulu reaching port last evening.

E. E. MAHLUM, one of Kaula's foremost business men and also one of the Carnival's strongest boosters, is visiting in Honolulu for a few days, combining business with pleasure.

CHARLES HALLER, hailing from the state of Pennsylvania, joined the crowd which is to spend some weeks in the islands on pleasure bent. He was an arrival in the Matson Navigation steamer Honolulu.

N. A. HOWARD, representing one of the large chemical manufacturing firms on the Pacific Coast, is a visitor at Honolulu as a passenger in the Matson Navigation steamer Honolulu. With Mrs. Howard he will make a tour of the islands.

W. M. DAVIS, a professor of zoology in Harvard university, who has been spending the past several weeks in Honolulu, made a trip to the windward side of Oahu yesterday, accompanied by E. A. Mott-Smith, for the purpose of examining coral formations. Professor Davis has at different times made trips to the several South Sea Islands to make like examinations, having been sent out under the memorial fund of the university. He left for the mainland this morning.

Then, grasping a broom, he hammered the blanket until the flames had been extinguished. Although the Japanese woman was not injured, she was badly frightened. The excitement had ceased when the fire department arrived, but it left a mighty happy Boy Scout and an equally happy scoutmaster.

GOVERNOR VISITS KEWALO DISTRICT ON INVESTIGATION

Accompanied by the attorney-general Governor Pinkham visited the Kewalo district this morning, making a personal inspection of the reclamation project in progress there and ascertaining the extent of its damaging effect on a number of private properties, whose owners recently protested to him against the continuance of the fill.

It is stated that he found a number of well-kept, beautiful private plots in which the vegetation would be killed and the injury might be serious if the salt water used in conveying the coral sand to the big fill is permitted to encroach on them. He has requested the territorial officials to ascertain the number of these owners who signed the petition which was sent to him a week ago. In the case of Frank Godfrey, who presented the petition, it is understood the governor found that his premises might be saved from the salt flood's devastation by raising the grade of his lot one foot above its present level. In the majority of instances, it is declared, the property holders who did not join with the government in giving the contracting company authority to make fills on their individual acreages have done the work themselves, in some cases find-

LITTLE INTERVIEWS

—JAMES A. RATH: For a good rest, one should go over to the other side of Oahu. The weather there is delightfully cool.

—E. A. MOTT-SMITH: I took a long automobile trip to the other side of the island yesterday, accompanying a certain eastern college professor as "secretary of the territory." On the other side the mud of a few weeks ago rapidly is turning into dust, making the trip not altogether pleasant.

—J. WALLACE: No pupil of the public schools of this city should be denied the chance to see the wonderful South Pole pictures now being shown at the Liberty theater. They will get a better idea of this cold, white, silent region from the moving views than from years of study in school.

BEDROCK GRAVEL IS STRUCK ON WORKINGS OF MINING CLAIMS

Good news has come in the cables of the last two days received by those interested in the California-Hawaiian Development Company's mining operations.

A cablegram from the works this morning states that the bed-rock gravel of the bed of the river has been struck again and it is full of water; also that the bed rock is pitching downward.

This to those schooled in the details of mining is significant of better news to follow.

California Honeymooners Here.

Among the honeymoon couples arriving on the Honolulu last evening was Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Joost. Of their wedding in San Francisco, the Chronicle of February 17 says:

"The home of Mr. and Mrs. John Scott Wilson on Washington street was beautifully decorated in spring blossoms last evening for the wedding of Mrs. Wilson's niece, Miss Ruth Hutchinson and Martin Joost.

Cyclamen, lilies of the valley, hyacinths, primroses and jonquils transformed into spring bowers the dining and living rooms. The ceremony was performed in the bay windows of the living-room, which was canopied in a lattice of smilax and dainty blooms, Bishop William Ford Nichols officiating.

The bride was gowned in white satin made in simple draped style with a square court train of old rose point, which was worn by both her mother and grandmother on the occasion of their weddings. The veil was of the same filmy material and was caught to the coflure with a wreath of orange blossoms. A shower of the blossoms and lilies of the valley, tied with white tulle was the bridal bouquet.

The maid of honor was Miss Catherine Hutchinson, a sister of the bride. Her gown was of yellow charmeuse, trimmed in gold lace. She carried a shower bouquet of spring blossoms. Miss Madeline Treat of Ygnacio was the bridesmaid, and was attired in a pink charmeuse frock, trimmed with shadow lace. Her bouquet was a replica of the maid of honor's.

"The bride was given into the keeping of the groom by her father, Ely Hutchinson. J. R. Booth was best man.

"After the wedding there was a reception at which about 60 guests, the relatives and intimate friends of the families, were present.

"The bride is the granddaughter of the late General Hutchinson, and a niece of Mrs. John Scott Wilson and Mrs. Drury Melone. The groom is a member of a pioneer Contra Costa family and is the tax collector of the county.

"The young couple leave today for Honolulu and upon their return from their honeymoon will live at Martinez."

Hui Au Kal Dance

The girls of the Hui Au Kal, though frustrated in their plans for bringing down feminine swimmers from California, were nevertheless undaunted in their Carnival spirit. This was more than proved by the very enjoyable dance given by them on Saturday evening at the Outrigger Club in honor of Walter Pomroy and the other Coast swimmers. The pretty pavilion was further enhanced by decorations of red and black, the Hui Au Kal colors, and with palms and greenery. A splendid quintet furnished Hawaiian dance music for the evening, especially enjoyed by the maithinis. The guest-list included about thirty couples, among whom were Capt. and Mrs. R. O. Mason, Mrs. Pierre Jones, Mrs. J. A. Gilman, Miss Miriam Stacker, Miss Ruth Stacker, Miss Marie O'Brien, Miss Thelma Murphy, the Misses Walker (3), Miss Mildred Chaplin, Miss Louise Coleman, Miss Millward Deas, Miss Mary Forrest, Miss Marion Chapin, Miss Sybil Winter, Miss Gladys Kruger, Miss Bernice Kahanamoku, Miss Edith Kibling, Miss Marjory Gilman, Miss Ruth Soper, Miss Agnes Buchanan, Miss Dorothy Guild, Mrs. Taylor, Messrs. Vernon Tenney, Fred Wichman, Stanley Kennedy, Alan Lowrey, Robert Purvis, Leonard Camp, Ware Camp, Thomas Gray, John O'Dowda, R. Grey, Allan Renton, John Hind, Marston Campbell, H. H. Richards, Sidney Carr, John Macaulay, Charles Lyman, Percy Nottage and others.

Last Army Relief Bridge Party.

Tomorrow will be the last opportunity that society folk will have to attend the Army Relief bridge parties at the Young Hotel—those who have had the affairs in charge are not sorry. It has been a great deal of work for all concerned, though the delightful success of the parties, to say nothing of the splendid financial returns, more than compensate for any trouble involved. Most any one will attest that a more pleasant method of raising funds for a charitable institution could not be found. No one has had that "stung" feeling so often the spirit of bazaars and similar entertainments. One has spent a delightful afternoon on the roof garden amid palms and blossoms and gay-colored pennants. One has played cards in the cheerful light, received a charming prize and partaken of delicious refreshments. To cap the afternoon, a splendid musical program has been given during the tea hour. All this will be repeated tomorrow afternoon for the last time. In addition there will be a grab bag for the remaining prizes, a great many more than necessary having been donated. In the receiving line will be Mrs. J. B. Rentiers, Mrs. Norris Stayton, Mrs. C. Waller, Mrs. Frank Apple and Mrs. Francis Hinkle. Tables may be reserved before hand by telephoning Mrs. F. W. Philsterer, at Fort Ruger. Tickets may be procured at the Young Moana, Pleasanton, Benson, Smith Co., or from any of the ladies of the Army Relief.

The program for the series of illustrated drawing-room travelogues has been announced and will be held at the following residences: "Two Weeks in Rome," Thursday, February 26th, at 8:15 p. m., at the home of Mrs. C. B. Cooper; "A Walk Through the Streets of Florence," on Saturday, February 28th, at the home of Mrs. W. D. Westervelt; "Naples, Capri, Pompeii, Venice (by moonlight) and the Italian Lakes," Monday, March 2nd, with Mrs. John Erdman, and "In and About Paris" on Wednesday, March 4th with Mrs. W. D. Westervelt. The list of patronesses for these affairs include Mrs. C. B. Cooper, Mrs. W. D. Westervelt, Mrs. John Erdman, Mrs. M. M. Macomb, Mrs. John B. Rentiers, Mrs. H. B. Restarick, Mrs. H. M. von Holt, Mrs. Walter Macfarlane, Mrs. Montague Cooke, Mrs. Clarence Cooke, Mrs. F. W. Macfarlane, Mrs. A. J. Campbell, Mrs. A. Horner, Mrs. L. A. Thurston, Mrs. F. J. Lowrey, Miss Beatrice Castle, Mrs. A. A. Young, Mrs. G. P. Wilder, Mrs. Helen Noonan, Mrs. Walter Dillingham, Mrs. N. Hyde-Smith, Mrs. Frank Thompson, Mrs. Charles Adams, Mrs. F. C. Atherton, Mrs. C. B. Wood, Mrs. E. M. Watson, Mrs. A. N. Campbell, Mrs. R. W. Shingle, Mrs. E. A. Mott-Smith, Mrs. John S. Walker, Mrs. A. Lewis, Mrs. George Collins, Mrs. Edward Dekum, Mrs. Alex Lindsay, Mrs. M. Phillips, Mrs. C. L. Wight, Mrs. A. N. Campbell, Mrs. George R. Carter, Mrs. Clarence Ashford, Mrs. S. Humphreys, Lady Herron, Mrs. F. W. Kiebahn.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gaillard Smart and their young baby arrived in San Francisco after a most delightful voyage and are ensconced at the home of Mrs. Smart's mother, Mrs. Frederick Knight. They will remain three or four months in California before proceeding to Europe, where they expect to live for several years.

Society is looking forward to the wedding of Miss Lydia McStocker and Dr. Arnett P. Matthews, which will take place tomorrow evening at Central Union Church, Dr. Ooremus Scudder officiating. The bride is a prominent society girl of Honolulu, whose marriage is bound to attract considerable attention. Miss Julie McStocker, her sister, will be maid-of-honor.

Frederick W. Klamp, director of H. Hackfeld & Company, and Mrs. Klamp, who recently returned to San Francisco from Helena, were guests for a short time at the Bellevue hotel. They have now taken apartments at the Hotel Cecil on Bush street, near Mason.

The ladies of the Kanehahaneh schools will receive with Mrs. Ppyley L. Horne Saturday afternoon from 3 to 6 o'clock; the regular calling day of the schools.

Among the mahilundets registered at the Young Hotel are Miss Sarah Fooks and Miss Louise Wright, prominent society girls of Washington D. C.

Mr. Paul Muhlendorf was host at a delightful house party over last week end at his place on Tantalus. Included in his guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. F. C. Hagens and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. John Trenholme Warren have issued invitations for an affair on Saturday evening at their home on Kewalo street. The guest list includes about 75 young married people.

Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Jones are being extensively entertained by their many friends in Honolulu.

COMMITTEE WILL REPORT ON PROPOSED CHANGE IN ARTICLES OF FAITH

The standing committee of Central Union church tonight will report to the members of the church regarding its finding as to whether or not the church should give up the old Articles of Faith and adopt the new Confession of Faith as adopted by the national council of Congregational churches in America at its recent meeting in Kansas City. A meeting of the members of the church was held two weeks ago, at which time the matter was brought up for discussion but no vote taken. It was then turned over to the standing committee for a report this evening.

It is expected that this evening an informal vote will be taken on whether or not to adopt the new confession. If not, it is possible that the meeting will adopt some modification which will be in accordance with the consensus of feeling in the church.

WALTER GINGRICH of Pittsburg, Pa., is an arrival in the city as a passenger in the steamer Honolulu.

DANCE AT THE MOANA THURSDAY

GALAXY OF ARTISTS INCLUDED IN CAST FOR KAAI CONCERT

"Pete" Kalamuhl, "Songbird" who will be heard in the KaaI concert at the opera house tomorrow night.

The greatest exponent of the various typical Hawaiian musical instruments is Ernest KaaI, who will present his Royal Hawaiians to the audience at the opera house tomorrow night. In his renditions KaaI does not confine his talents to Hawaiian airs, but plays the old English, Scotch and American compositions with equal feeling and sentiment. A medley which includes many of the mixed airs is one of his specialties which always pleases the most critical audience, playing the guitar with the steel is another of his accomplishments in which none other in Hawaii shows such study and care.

So many real artists are in the company managed by KaaI that it would require more space than is allotted to mention them individually. In the playlet to be given Thursday a number of the daughters of warriors have been enlisted in the cause to make the production as genuine as is possible. In that section of the program will be shown the hula, a terpsichorean effort so typically Hawaiian and so pleasing to tourists that many of the season's tourists are carrying away the memories of the few lessons they have been able to take in the intricate steps. That it is destined to vie with the tango there seems to be no doubt. Tickets for the entertainment are on sale at the Promotion Committee rooms today.

CARNIVAL A BIG SUCCESS, DECLARE LEADING CITIZENS OF HONOLULU

Many business and professional men of the city have been sounded by the Star-Bulletin for impressions on the Carnival. Sifting these down, there seems to be a very unanimous impression that the big show was exceedingly well worth while. That it is a feature that must be put through annually, and elaborated on each year, is also universally taken for granted.

There are not a great many criticisms to be heard concerning the carrying out of this year's show—or at least there is very little "knocking." Almost everybody has ideas and suggestions for future events, mostly based on experience or observation during the past ten days. And in this respect the men who had the most to do, with the real work of the Carnival are possibly the ones who see the most things that could be improved upon were they to be done over.

"There have been mistakes made," said L. J. Warren, president of the Mid-Pacific Carnival, Ltd., "but they have been honest mistakes and may be avoided in the future."

It cannot be told as yet how the finances of the Carnival stand. It was estimated that the outlay would amount to between $20,000 and $21,

000. It may run over this, but some of those in a position to judge, think that it will not exceed the estimate. Treasurer S. M. Lowrey of the Carnival Limited stated this morning that he will probably not be in a position for several days at least to settle this question to his own satisfaction. In the meantime, he asks that all persons holding any account against the Carnival submit their bills at once as it is the intention of the company to balance its accounts as of March 1.

At the present time it looks as though it may be necessary to have another assessment on the stock—possibly 10 per cent. It is known that something like $15,000 was taken in from seat sales at the various events. To this amount must be added several thousand dollars from the baseball series, but this amount is not definitely known, and there will be perhaps in the neighborhood of $1000 received from the second production of "The Mayor of Tokio" last evening. From the original 10 per cent assessment on the stock of the corporation, and also from those who paid in larger part for their stock, something like $6000 was received. From this it will be seen that something like $20,000 or more is in sight.

ITINERARY OF AD CLUB'S TRIP TO KAUI ANNOUNCED

"Off to Kauai," the latest slogan of the Ad Club, is on the tongue of every member of that organization, and plans for the large time that is anticipated while visiting the Garden Island are already under way. March 27 is the date set to commence the trip, the Mauna Loa sailing in the evening, probably after dinner, so that all the time that will be lost by the "busy businessman" will be a half-day Saturday. The party reaches Honolulu on the return trip early Monday morning, March 30.

Following is the itinerary of the trip to Kauai:

Start from Honolulu Friday evening, March 27, S. S. Mauna Loa.

Saturday arrive Waimea 6:30 a. m. Breakfast, 7 to 8 a. m.

Start from Hotel Waimea 9 a. m., auto to Waiawa and return, taking in the famous Olokele canyon.

Luncheon, Hotel Waimea, 2 p. m.

Motor to Lihue via Kukuliohono park and Koloa, taking in the Spouting Horn.

Public dinner at Lihue, 7 p. m., followed by reception.

Sunday, motor to Hanalei, Waimea and Haena, with lunch at Haena.

Board steamer for trip along the Napali coast, where famous cliffs are to be seen. Home to Honolulu, arriving early Monday morning.

MOTHER IF CHILD'S TONGUE IS COATED

If cross, feverish, constipated, bilious, stomach sour, give "California Syrup of Figs."

A laxative today saves a sick child tomorrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, which become clogged up with waste, liver gets sluggish; stomach sour.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, or your child is listless, cross, feverish, breath bad, restless, doesn't eat heartily, full of cold or has sore throat or any other children's ailment, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," then don't worry because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipation poison, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. A thorough "inside cleansing" is oftentimes all that is necessary. It should be the first treatment given in any sickness.

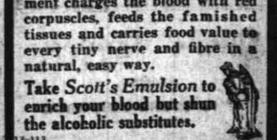

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Don't be fooled!—advertisement.

ANEMIA IS BLOOD POVERTY AND DEVELOPS AT ANY AGE

cheeks and lips become pale, the body is languid and colds are easily contracted—it undermines the very source of health and must have immediate treatment. Drugs or alcoholic mixtures cannot make blood. Nourishment is necessary and Scott's Emulsion is always the physicians' favorite—its concentrated medical nourishment charges the blood with red corpuscles, feeds the famished tissues and carries food value to every tiny nerve and fibre in a natural, easy way.

Take Scott's Emulsion to enrich your blood but shun the alcoholic substitutes.

MOTHER AND SON Y.M.C.A. BANQUET TO BE 'CHUMMY'

Mothers and sons who attend the banquet at the Y. M. C. A. Friday evening will go away feeling the best chums ever, gripped by the spirit of the evening.

Mrs. H. M. von Holt has the program of the Mother and Son banquet in charge and announces Dr. W. P. Ferguson as the chief speaker and fun dispenser of the evening. Mr. Albert Horner, Jr., a Cornell man, has promised to sing a few college and comic songs for the boys. The president of the association, R. H. Trent, will act as toastmaster of the occasion. In this capacity he sits at ease and will keep the mothers and their sons in the best of spirits during the evening.

Mrs. J. P. Cooke is looking after the "gala," the big feature of the evening's program from the youngsters' point of view, and has some pleasant surprises in store for the boys. The menu is a secret but it is known that the days are numbered for a few fat island turkeys.

Mrs. A. A. Eberole and Mrs. Charlotte Ewing are seeing to it that Cooke hall is decorated for the evening and are working out some fine decoration schemes.

After the banquet, the members of the Punahou prep. gymnasium class are going to put on a gymnastic exhibition for the mothers. After the marching and gym work the boys will divide into their H and Y clubs, and play games. The older sons and their mothers will bowl in the bowling alleys.

HAWAII'S PRIMA DONNA WON'T GO INTO VAUDEVILLE

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence]

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Feb. 18.—Mrs. Marion Dowsett Worthington, "Hawaii's prima donna," has decided not to go on the vaudeville circuit, but will take up concert work on the advice of many leading musical experts in San Francisco.

When Mrs. Worthington announced her intention of going upon the Orpheum circuit, her suggestion was kindly received by Mr. Meyerfield, head of the Orpheum, who, however, advised her not to ruin the beautiful voice which has been so delicately trained. He was frank in saying that it was a more beautiful voice than was now being heard upon his circuit. Other musical experts were of the same opinion and she will now go into concert work.

It is quite possible Mrs. Worthington will give a concert in San Francisco in a few weeks, and that her patronesses will be numbered among San Francisco's leading society women.

Herbert G. Ponting, Fellow of the Royal Geographical Society, and the last member of Captain Robert Falcon Scott's Antarctic expedition, aside from those who made the final trip to the Pole, to see the leader alive, has the following to say about the wonderful motion pictures he took with Captain Scott on that noble hero's ill-fated pilgrimage to the Antarctic.

"I accompanied Captain Scott on the British Antarctic expedition and had charge of the entire photographic equipment. Captain Scott was the first Polar explorer to make photographs a separate department of such a trip.

"The entire history of the expedition has been illustrated in the moving pictures, and all of the most thrilling incidents and adventures that it was possible to illustrate, have been shown. The films are an animated record of the expedition up to the very minute that Captain Scott and

RENEWED ACTIVITY FOR REPUBLICAN PARTY THE KEYNOTE OF CONVENTION

- CHIEF FEATURES OF NEW REPUBLICAN RULES
County committees to be elected by direct vote of party members.
Territorial committee to be elected at territorial convention in July.
Territorial platform to be enunciated by territorial convention.
County conventions meet two weeks after territorial convention to enunciate county platforms.
Territorial central committee has charge of all campaign literature and campaign for delegate and legislative offices.
County committees have charge of campaigns for county offices.
All reference to party patronage or endorsements for office stricken from the rules. Committees to take no hand in distribution of patronage.
Publicity must be given collection and distribution of campaign funds.

Without wasting time, the special committee named yesterday to draft into shape the revised Republican rules met this morning at the offices of George G. Guild and went over the many amendments adopted yesterday. Those present were L. M. Judd, chairman; R. W. Breckons, Ed Tewe, George G. Guild and William Thompson. The rules will be printed and distributed to the party members.

With renewed activity for the Republican party as the keynote of the vigorous speeches made, the convention for the revision of the rules and regulations of the Republican party came to a close yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, after a day of hard and harmonious work. The speeches were made at the close of the convention by Republicans who are confident that the party will come back into power in 1916, with all present dissenters and progressives united under its banner.

The speeches were made by Robert W. Breckons and Lorin Andrews after the last section in the new rules of the party had been passed upon, and they were based upon a resolution introduced by George S. Curry, which protests against the threatened reduction in Hawaii's representation at national Republican conventions. The good old Republican confidence and determination permeated the speeches and roused the delegates to loud and long applause. It was with this applause still ringing in the air at the Liberty theater that the convention came to its close.

The entire rules had been gone over, section by section, some passed unchanged, some amended in minor ways, others omitted altogether, and still others greatly revised. Perhaps two of the most important decisions made were on the method of election of committeemen, and the publication of campaign donations.

Amendments were offered to make the election of the territorial central committeemen direct on vote of the party members, but these were lost; and the rules, as they remain, provide that the county committees shall be elected by the precinct clubs, and the territorial central committeemen by convention. It was on this amendment that the strongest fight of the session was expected, as there was strong feeling both for and against it. On one side it was maintained that the amendment was necessary in order to carry out the spirit of the direct primary law, which aims to do away with most of the business of party conventions and to put all issues to the people direct.

Introduced early in the session, the amendment, which came from L. M. Judd, was temporarily tabled, and later in the day when taken up for reconsideration it was permanently tabled. There was a division of votes on it, but the majority were in favor of allowing the rules to stand as drafted in the matter of committee.

Publicity for Funds. Mr. Breckons was the introducer of the section providing for the publication of a list of all donations made to the committee as campaign contributions, this list to be published twice—first, from 10 to 15 days previous to an election at which a delegate to Congress is to be elected; second, within 30 days after the election. The section reads:

"It shall be the duty of the treasurer to keep a detailed and exact account of all money or its equivalent, received by or promised to the committee or any member thereof, or by or to any person acting under its authority or in its behalf, and the name of every person, firm, association or committee from whom received, and of all expenditures, disbursements, and promises of payment or disbursement made by the committee or any member thereof, or by any person acting under its authority or on its behalf, and to whom paid, distributed or disbursed. The treasurer shall not more than fifteen days and not less than ten days next before an election at which a delegate to congress is to be elected, publish in some newspaper published in Honolulu an itemized detailed statement, sworn to by said treasurer; and on each sixth day thereafter until such election, said treasurer shall publish a supplemental itemized detailed statement, sworn to by said treasurer. Each of such statements shall conform to the requirements hereinafter set forth, except that the supplemental statement herein required need not contain any item of which publicity is given in a previous statement. Each of said statements shall be full and complete, and shall be signed and sworn to by said treasurer.

Section 2. The statement herein required shall state:
"First—The name and address of each person, firm, association, or committee who or which has contributed, promised, loaned, or advanced to such political committee, or any officer, member, or agent thereof, either in one or more items, money or its equivalent of the aggregate amount of value of one hundred dollars or more, and the amount or sum contributed; promised, loaned, or advanced by each.
"Second—The aggregate sum contributed, promised, loaned or advanced to such political committee, or to any officer, member or agent thereof, in amounts not less than one hundred dollars.
"Third—The total sum of all contributions, promises, loans, and advances received by such political committee or any officer, member or agent thereof.
"Fourth—The name and address of each person, firm, association, or committee to whom such political committee, or any officer, member, or agent thereof, has distributed, disbursed, contributed, loaned, advanced, or promised any sum of money or its equivalent of the amount or value of amount or sum distributed, disbursed, contributed, loaned, advanced, or promised to each, and the purpose thereof.
"Fifth—The aggregate sum distrib-
