ATTACK ON PINKHAM IS BOOMERANG

Many Democrats Disgusted With Platform Assault Fathered by Faction

PLANK ON TARIFF IS HELD TO BE VERY WEAK

Republican Leaders Say That Bourbons Have Blundered Beyond All Repair

"That finishes the Democratic party for this campaign!" Such is the consensus of opinion in political circles today as to the result of the bitter attack on Governor Pinkham made by the Democratic territorial platform. The platform, which was drawn up by a few members of the Democratic territorial central committee, with the advice and assistance of a number of anti-Pinkham men, was rattled by the territorial committee last night.

The anti-Pinkham plank is as follows:

"The Democratic party of Hawaii deeply deprecates that its expectations of a progressive Democratic administration on the part of Governor L. E. Pinkham have not been fulfilled. Governor Pinkham, from the beginning of his administration, has not been in sympathy with the rank and file of our party and he has shown by his inability to grasp the political situation that his appointment, evidently brought about through misrepresentation and deceit as to his political affiliation and beliefs, was a serious mistake. We denounce his administration as thoroughly undemocratic. This plank and the brief reference to the tariff situation have angered and disgusted a number of reputable Democrats. As a consequence a serious breach in the party ranks of the eve of the campaign is frankly feared by Bourbon leaders and just as delightfully foreseen by the Republican leaders.

The Democratic platform-makers make no secret of the fact that they found any reference to the national administration's tariff policy to be a very delicate matter. They finally put out the following plank:

"The Democratic party in an almost incredibly short time has made good its promise and pledges to the American people in giving this nation a new tariff law. This tariff law touches the entire commercial life of the nation, and we believe that as patriots

KAMEHAMEHA GUNS TOO ACCURATE FOR THE TARGET SUPPLY

105TH COMPANY MAKES SPLENDID TARGET SCORE

A wonderful score was made at Fort Armstrong this morning during service practice for the 3-inch guns. Forty shots were fired at ranges of about 4,000 yards, and 36 hits were recorded on a material target 12x18 feet. If the battery does any thing like this in night practice, which may be run off tonight, Captain H. J. Hatch has an excellent chance of again winning the Knox Coast Artillery trophy. Last year he was in command of the mortar battery at Fort Kamehameha that won the trophy. The 104th Company made a perfect score at mine practice, but this does not count in the percentage for the Knox prize.

MODERN TARGET RANGE PLANNED FOR SCHOFIELD

A model target range, capable of handling the firing of every organization on Oahu within a period of three months, is in prospect for Schofield Barracks. The Shafter range will be cut up by the addition to the post, and army authorities are in favor of making Schofield headquarters for small arms practice. It is probable that the range will have a capacity of about 124 targets in echelon, and that the cost will be in the neighborhood of $50,000.

Preliminary to recommendations from the department commander, a careful study of the ground and facilities is to be made by officers. This is covered by the following special orders issued yesterday from department headquarters:

"First Lieut. John D. Resrdan, infantry, aide-de-camp, inspector of small arms practice, will proceed to Schofield Barracks, H. T., on July 28, 1914, for the purpose of conferring with such officers as may be designated by the commanding officer of that post relative to the preparation of estimates for added target range facilities at Schofield Barracks, and that on completion of this duty will return to this city."

TO WITHDRAW ARMY FLIERS FROM ISLANDS

Lieutenant Geiger and Detachment of Aero Squadron Ordered to San Diego

After a year of cautious, but determined experimenting, Oahu has been found unsuitable for military aviation, and the army fliers will be withdrawn, for the time being at any rate. Lieutenant Geiger and his detachment will leave for the coast on the next transport.

An aviation detachment, to be used for scouting, is part of the proposed Oahu garrison recommended by the McComb board, and about 18 months ago Lieutenant Geiger, C. A. C., was sent here with men and machines. Geiger has done a lot of flying, and it over the water, and it has been shown that conditions are very unfavorable for the fliers here.

The following order, issued from department headquarters yesterday, authorizes the withdrawal of the detachment:

"In compliance with telegraphic instructions from the war department dated July 22, 1913, 1st Lieut. Harold Geiger, Coast Artillery Corps, and the enlisted men of the detachment, 1st Aero Squadron, Signal Corps, at Fort Kamehameha, H. T., will proceed by the first available transport to San Francisco, Cal., en route to San Diego, Cal., for duty at the Signal Corps Aviation School.

The quartermaster corps will furnish necessary transportation and subsistence."

WHEAT KING TO SPEND BUT FEW DAYS IN HAWAII

Has Made Leisurely World's Tour and Expects to Reach Capital After Year's Travel

"If united efforts and appeals now forwarded by cable to Washington friends prove effective the yacht Niagara with our party on board will be the first vessel of its class and tonnage to pass from the Pacific to the Atlantic ocean through the Panama canal."

Such is the cheerful prediction coming from Joseph Leiter, the famous wheat king who many years ago figured in sensational manipulation on the Chicago board of trade and became the largest individual holder of wheat known to the grain trade, who today with a small party of relatives and friends reached Honolulu on the last lap of a cruise around the world in the magnificent steam driven yacht Niagara, owned by Howard Gould, the wealthy New Yorker.

"Had we lingered as fancy dictated, we would have barely passed through the Mediterranean," added Mr. Leiter when asked concerning the length of his stay in the Hawaiian islands.

"We would like to remain here for an extended visit. Time will simply not permit it. We are due at Washington the middle part of September, and to cover this distance it will be necessary that no long stops be made at ports of call on the homeward voyage."

"It has been my cherished ambition to return to the Atlantic through the Panama canal. I have every assurance that this favor will be accorded members of my party. In leaving Japan we were assured that the waterway might be opened to general traffic about the latter part of August. On arrival at Honolulu I am told that the greatest event in the history of the American people may be hastened, the date now being set for August 15."

"We can remain here for but a few days. We hope to sail for the coast before Tuesday. If the Mexican situation will permit we may call at Acapulco for coal. Otherwise the Niagara will steam from Honolulu for San Diego, Southern California."

Party Has Remained Intact. It was a small party under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Leiter that left Washington, D. C., October 2, in the palatial bark-rigged auxiliary steam yacht Niagara. According to Captain August Gabrielsen, who for 15 years has been master of the craft and in it has traveled more than 145,000 miles, the present voyage has been free from serious misfortune or trouble.

While in the north Atlantic the yacht, rated as a fine seaboat, met with a storm that did some damage while the passengers were much shaken up while for days the Niagara ploughed its way to calmer seas near the Azores. The present cruise has included visits of brief duration to many interesting and picturesque points about the Mediterranean. Leaving these waters the Leiter party journeyed through the Bosphorus, making a stay at Egypt. Passing the Suez canal the cruise was continued to the Indian peninsula. Leaving the yacht the party proceeded by rail in

M'CARN OBJECTS TO FROGS' LEGS IN DOYLE TRIAL

Three of Defendant's Quartet of Wives Are Very Much Alive, He Testifies

Chickens, frogs' legs, turkeys, trips to the coast, quarrels, women, a piano, a divorce, a marriage and sundry other items were discussed at some length this morning in the trial of Joseph A. Doyle, which rapidly is drawing to a close in the federal court. Not a little humor was turned loose during the comment regarding these various subjects, and at times the arguments between counsel for the defense and prosecutor waxed warm until it glowed a dull red, at times calling for interference on the part of Judge Charles F. Clemons.

It was Attorney C. H. McBride, counsel for the defense, who started the frogs' legs episode. According to testimony, Doyle, who was on the stand in his own defense this morning, took some home to his hotel one evening, during the time when it is alleged Mrs. Doyle No. 2, her mother, and the present Mrs. Doyle, all were living at the defendant's boarding house, into it, seems upon having a quiet repast. Attorney McBride mentioned the frogs' legs during his direct examination of the witness, and Mr. McCarn protested vigorously.

"Your honor, testimony has been walking into this trial on frogs' legs long enough," he said. "I object to this business about the frogs' legs."

The objection was sustained by the court and the district attorney's little joke was well appreciated by the large audience.

Counsel for the defense completed his direct examination of the defendant this morning, the cross-examination being taken up by Mr. McCarn. The district attorney, on one occasion, asked the witness if all his sundry wives were living. Witness answered that at least three of them

GOVERNOR GATHERS LOYAL BOURBONS TO DISCUSS SITUATION

What is believed in political circles to be a move on the part of Governor Pinkham against the attack made on him last night through the adoption of the Democratic platform by the territorial central committee, containing the plank which "roasts" the chief executive, was taken today when he summoned Palmer Woods, Col. Chas. J. McCarthy, W. H. McClellan, A. J. Wirtz, W. W. Thayer, secretary of the territory; John Effinger, B. G. Rivenburgh and G. J. Walter to confer with him. The conference lasted for more than one hour and a half. No statement was given out concerning it by any of the parties to the conference, but its subject matter was learned from a well authenticated report.

WELSH PLEADS NOT GUILTY.

William Welsh appeared before Judge Robinson of the circuit court this morning and pleaded not guilty to a charge of heedless driving. He was indicted by the grand jury last week on this charge. Welsh was the chauffeur driving the machine that ran over Mounted Officer Morahan last week, critically injuring him and killing the horse.

GET-TOGETHER DINNER ON MAUI IS BIG SUCCESS

Valley Islanders Make Plans for Civic Convention Next November

President W. R. Farrington of the Honolulu Ad club, who went to Maui to attend the "get-together" dinner of the Maui Chamber of Commerce in preparation for the third annual Civic convention, wired the Star-Bulletin the following upon the dinner last night:

"The Maui 'get-together' dinner at the Maui hotel last night was a great success. Preliminary plans were outlined for the Civic convention to be held here October 3 to October 5, inclusive. E. R. Bevins will be director-general. The dinner speeches centered principally on the development of tourist travel throughout the territory with all the islands being benefited. The Lahaina wharf is wanted built as soon as possible. President Frank Baldwin of the chamber believes that the Civic convention will be of great benefit to general territorial progress."

GOVERNOR SAYS PLATFORM SLAP DOESN'T WORRY

In response to a request from the Star-Bulletin for an expression of opinion upon the Democratic territorial platform made public last night, Governor Pinkham today issued the following statement:

"To the people of the Territory of Hawaii: The Governor has no objection to the criticism of him made in the Democratic platform. It does not and will not affect him in the slightest. The doors of the Executive Chamber have been open at all times to every Democrat and every citizen since my arrival, and proper advice, political and civic, and consultation have always been pleasantly and gladly given due weight.

"The Hon. George R. Carter as the original Secretary of the Territory, introduced an attempted unconstitutional, irresponsible, co-ordinate branch of government called a central committee, something not recognized anywhere else, which has attempted to dictate to the various administrations.

"The head of the government and Democratic party is the President, Woodrow Wilson, and the head of this Territory is the Department of Interior, Hon. Franklin K. Lane, secretary. These men, the highest in rank and authority in the United States, expressed their wishes as to the Territory of Hawaii, and the Democratic central committee immediately and has ever since endeavored to nullify and defeat the wishes of these heads of the party and national government.

"The character of and component men of the Democratic central committee are known to the public. The intriguing Republican brains back of the faction of the Democratic central committee are well known to the public.

"The Governor has never failed and he never will fail to consult responsible, clean, public-spirited, patriotic Democrats, and will not deprive himself of the wisdom and patriotism of other citizens.

"He will remember that even in Hawaii this is a Government of the People, for the People and by the People' and the People are all the People."

"Respectfully, L. E. PINKHAM, Governor."

EUROPE MAY BE INVOLVED AS RESULT OF AUSTRIA'S DEMAND MADE ON SERVA

Germany Backs Austria in Her Request for Punishment of Assassins of Archduke Ferdinand—Reservists Are Called Home—Russia Is Looked to for Solution of Problem—Continental Bourses Are Panicky, With London and New York Markets Sympathetically Affected

[Associated Press service by Federal Wireless.]

BERLIN, Germany, July 24.—Grave continental complications are inevitable throughout Europe unless Serbia complies with the demands of Austria-Hungary calling for the suppression of the Pan-Serbian movement and for the punishment of those responsible for the assassination of Archduke Ferdinand and his wife.

Germany is fully in accord with Austria in the demands made and will be prepared to back the sister monarchy in any action she may take in the event the demands are not complied with.

Intimating that she considers the situation as most grave Austria has called home all members of her reserve army residing in Germany and elsewhere.

It is generally believed in German official circles that Serbia will yield to the Austrian demands unless she is encouraged by Russia to take an opposite course. As a consequence every attention is being directed towards St. Petersburg, from which capitol it is anticipated will come the first intimation of the contemplated climax of the controversy.

The continental bourses are panicky as a result of the action taken by Austria-Hungary and the London and New York markets are sympathetically affected.

The demand calls for a response by 6 o'clock tom. "ow evening.

Government Employees Join Russian Strikers; Sterner Measures Have Been Adopted

[Associate Press service by Federal Wireless.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Russia, July 24.—Sterner measures have been adopted by the authorities in their effort to break the strike in which almost one million are participating throughout this country.

Rapid-fire guns have been posted in conspicuous positions throughout this city and by their installation it has become possible to resume operation of the street car service.

Cossacks are protecting the cars and operators and are repeatedly compelled to charge the mobs which attack the cars with volleys of cobblestones.

The strike is by no means nearing an end, in fact the opposite appears to be nearer the actual condition many employees of the government having cast their lot with the strikers.

Australia Beats Canada in Davis Cup Preliminary

[Associated Press service by Federal Wireless.]

CHICAGO, Ill., July 24.—Australia defeated Canada in the preliminary round for the Davis international tennis cup by winning the doubles this afternoon. The winners will play Germany in the next round. Brookes and Wilding, the old-time Australasian pair, beat Schwengers and Powers, 6-4, 6-3, 6-4.

CHICAGO, Ill., July 24.—Wilding, representing Australasia in the Davis cup competition, won his match from Powell, of Canada, today, in straight sets, 6-1, 6-2, 6-2. This gives Australasia two of the three matches necessary to clinch the preliminary round, Brookes having defeated Schwengers yesterday.

The German pair arrived at Boston today. They will meet the winners between Canada and Australasia, and the winners will then play England, which team defeated France, for the right to challenge the United States for possession of the Davis international tennis trophy.

Wilson Will Make One More Effort For Paul Warburg

[Associated Press Service by Federal Wireless.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 24.—President Wilson has announced his determination to make one more effort to obtain the Senate's confirmation of his appointment of Paul Warburg as a member of the federal reserve board. Should he fail Warburg's name will be withdrawn.

A fight has been made against Warburg owing to the fact that he is a member of the firm of Kuhn, Loeb & Company.

President Wilson remains firm in his stand that personal preference should not mar a great constructive program.

To Improve Sydney Harbor.

Comprehensive plans for providing additional wharfage for the port of Sydney, Australia, have been prepared by the harbor trust, which will expend $30,000,000, covering a period of about ten years, in developing pier facilities at Johnston, Blackwattle and Roselle Bays. Since the harbor trust was created in 1901, it has spent more than $10,000,000 and the port's tonnage has increased enormously. In 1901 the number of vessels was 1,884, with an aggregate net tonnage of 2,953,511, in 1913 the number was 9,673 and the tonnage about 9,000,000. The ships entering the port are becoming larger in size every year. For the year ended June 30, 1913, 4,797,713 tons of goods were imported, made up as follows: Deep sea, 1,941,976 tons; interstate, 827,685 tons; state, 2,028,052 tons. Taking imports and exports together, the total value of the trade of the port for the same period amounted to about $5,000,000. Excluding the numerous ferry wharves,

Sydney has 55,000 feet of wharfage in actual use for shipping and another 12,000 feet under construction. The latest piers are being fitted with up-to-date mechanical appliances for handling cargo. Suez Canal Deepened. Improvements now being made on the Suez Canal involving the cost of some $30,000,000 are expected to be completed in 1918-19. It is proposed to give the canal a depth of 40 feet throughout and widen it up to 196 feet in the south section and cutting an appropriate number of sidings in the north and central sections where a minimum width of 147-12 feet is believed to be sufficient for the requirements of the immediate future. The improvements will also include the extension of the West Breakwater by about 2,700 yards at a cost of $3,000,000. The work presents no engineering difficulties and consists largely of dredging in sand.

SKIPPER IS ILL; WILL STAY WITH STEAMER

Ill and unable to leave the vessel, Capt. H. Oto, master of the big Togo Kisen Kaisha liner Anyo Maru, with more than 750 passengers in the several classes, en route from the coast of Asia to Mexico, Central and South America, remained on board his command this morning while the formalities of the port were attended to by federal officials.

Captain Oto was obliged to take to his berth soon after leaving Yokohama. His illness, however, is not considered serious and he will continue the voyage to the west coast of Mexico and Central America.

The Anyo Maru was favored with fine weather after leaving Naxasaki on July 4. The steamer is deeply laden with a general cargo of merchandise. The steamer was brought to a berth at Pier 7 this morning while stevedores began the work of supplying the vessel with 800 tons of coal. The Anyo Maru is to steam for Hilo where 560 tons of cargo will be discharged. A corps of federal customs officers will accompany the vessel to the Hawaii port.

Chanslor Here Tomorrow Evening.

With about 50,000 barrels of oil to the local branch of the Associated Oil Company, the big steamer J. A. Chanslor, from the California coast, is nearing the islands and is due at the port tomorrow night, according to a wireless message to General Manager Davidson of the Associated Oil Company.

The J. A. Chanslor, it is understood, will discharge the entire cargo at Honolulu. The vessel is listed for a prompt dispatch to the coast.

were very much alive. Mr. McBride interfered at this point.

"They might be living and still be dead ones," he said.

Mrs. Doyle No. 3, Mrs. Doyle No. 2 and the mother of the latter, all were present in the courtroom sitting inside the rail which divides the gallery from the spectators' seats. On one occasion, when they persisted in giving vent to audible whispers, they were called to time by counsel for the defense, who petitioned the judge that they be excluded from the court. This petition, however, was denied.

The Doyle case is rapidly coming to a close, and it will doubtless be but a short time until the matter is placed in the hands of the jury. Following the completion of the testimony of the defendant, Dr. A. G. Hodgins was called on the stand by the defense to give testimony alleged to have a bearing on the case. One more witness remains to be called by the defense.

DAMAGE DONE TO KENTUCKIAN SLIGHT

It was cargo rather than the ship that suffered material damage through fire that raged for hours in the forward hold of the American-Hawaiian freighter Kentuckian which today steamed to a berth at Pier 19.

This vessel, one of the latest to leave the builders, and which has been operated in the Atlantic service, will remain here until next Tuesday evening, when it will steam for Port Allen, there to complete cargo destined for the east coast of the United States.

A fierce fire was raging in the hold when the San Francisco fire department reached the scene. Several firemen are reported to have been overcome by smoke and fumes, and had to be carried to the deck where restoratives were applied. Spontaneous combustion is assigned the cause of the fire that is reported to have destroyed about 800 tons of general cargo carried in the forward hold. Much of the damage to the freight was done by water, as the compartments were flooded to prevent the spread of the flames.

The Kentuckian steamed from San Francisco direct, covering the distance in a trifle better than seven days. The vessel was supplied with a small amount of mail.

Titanic Salvage Claims Small.

Because the steamship Titanic struck an iceberg, rather than another British ship, the supreme court has held that the owner, the Oceanic Steam Navigation Company, was entitled to have its liability for loss of life and property in suits brought in American courts limited in accordance with American maritime law.

This means that those who sue in American courts will get virtually nothing, the law limiting liability to the salvage from the wreck and the passengers and freight money collected for the voyage—about $91,000 in all.

The total claims against the company have reached $13,000,000.

Radio Stations for China.

The London Financial News reports that a 20,000,000 pesos contract has been closed between the Marconi company and the Chinese government for the establishment of radio stations throughout the Republic.

HARBOR NOTES

With 3000 tons of sugar shipped from the island of Hawaii, the Matson Navigation steamer Hilonian arrived at San Francisco on last Wednesday.

In departing from Honolulu for San Francisco on July 17, the Oceanic liner Ventura with more than 60 cabin passengers and a late mail arrived at the coast port yesterday morning.

Departing for Hilo, Hawaii, last evening the Matson Navigation steamer Matsonia carried 50 cabin passengers, who, for the most part, included tourists bent on a visit to the volcano at Kilauea.

FRANKLIN WILL PROBE TRIP OF HELENE

The much-heralded voyage to the coconut fringed islets of the south seas, undertaken by Messrs. George Tait, H. L. White and R. Howell in the former racing yacht Helene, that apparently terminated disastrously, in that the party sailing from the port on last Saturday, put back into Pearl Harbor under cover of darkness on Wednesday night, will receive a thorough investigation at the hands of Collector of Customs Malcolm A. Franklin.

That official has delegated officers to probe the motive of a trip, advertised to take about three months to complete and in reality lasted less than 48 hours.

The Helene was seen off the island of Kauai on Monday evening and later is said to have followed a course to the windward of the island of Maui, pursuing a course followed by the Pacific Mail liner Mongolia which left the port on Sunday afternoon, destined for the coast.

Officers who visited the yacht at Pearl Harbor today found the vessel deserted. A search of the city thus far has failed to reveal the presence of Tait, Howell or White.

These men will be called upon to answer a number of pertinent questions pertaining to their mission. They will also be called to account for bringing the vessel into Pearl Harbor instead of returning to the port of Honolulu.

USEFUL BULLETINS FOR THE HOMESTEADER AND POULTRY RAISER

Press Bulletin No. 46 of the Hawaii Agricultural Experiment Station is entitled "Poultry Management," the author being C. K. McClelland, agronomist. Its introduction refers to the first bulletin on poultry, in which attention was called to some of the chicken diseases prevalent in Hawaii, and to the inadequate supply of Hawaiian live and dressed poultry and eggs upon the local market. "Since then," the article says, "there has been a notable increase in the population and the amount of poultry products imported. The imports during the year ending June 30, 1911, amounted to about $65,000, and for the following year about $85,000."

Headings under which the bulletin proceeds show it to treat of local conditions and market, poultry houses and yards, brooders, equipment, breeding, breeding show birds, breeding for egg production, breeds, incubation, selecting eggs, hatching with hens, artificial incubation, brooding, feeding the stock, the water supply, mineral feeds, grains, amount of feed, cooked feed and mashes, condimental and forcing feeds, feeding young chicks, feeding laying hens, Hawaiian feeds, fattening, caponizing, raising turkeys, raising ducks, sanitation, diseases, vermin and disinfectants.

PUNCHBOWL ERUPTION IS CONSIDERED FOR NEXT YEAR'S CARNIVAL

After more than two weeks of consideration, during which time many conferences have been held, the directors of the Mid-Pacific Carnival, at a meeting yesterday afternoon, approved the budget of expenditures for the 1915 celebration as drawn up and presented by Director-general James D. Dougherty. Howard Case has been selected as publicity manager. The poster advertising will be conducted by the Promotion Committee.

Director-general Dougherty now is in communication with a Los Angeles fireworks company regarding arrangements for the "Eruption of Punchbowl," which has been pointed out as the most attractive feature on the entire program. While considerable money was spent on this feature last year as an experiment, more than five times that amount will be expended next February to make the spectacle a success.

Fred L. Waldron said today that he would run either for mayor or supervisor on the proposal he outlined this morning, of a business men's ticket, the members of which would give their salary to charity if elected.

respectfully announce that they will continue with their standard of efficient service, as before, but will not ask their employes to work longer hours than present.

Our New Service

The favorable reception accorded our announcement of the extension of our business hours is very gratifying and we are assured once more that our efforts to provide a first class modern Drug Store service are appreciated. The expense incurred in the increase of our sales staff is considerable and by means of a rearrangement of the working schedule the lengthening of the business hours results in a shortening of individual working hours of employes. For instance:

Every third week a portion of the staff will work from 10 a. m. to 1 p. m. and from 8 p. m. to 11:15 p. m. Total 6 1-4 hours daily.

The balance of the staff working during the day will have shorter time than at present.

Under conditions heretofore existing salesmen worked every other Sunday; under the new schedule they will work one Sunday in three.

If we had a limited sales staff it would not be possible for us to accommodate the public without demanding double service from our employes. Our determination to give Honolulu a metropolitan store service, and the men more time for out-of-doors enjoyment will be accomplished by the change.

Beginning Monday, July 27, our store will be open to serve the public from 6:30 a. m. to 11:15 p. m. every week-day.

MILLIONS IN NEW PAPER MONEY IN CIRCULATION WITH NEW BANKS

Federal Reserve Institutions to Get Engraved Currency in Excess of $37,000,000

[By Latest Mail]
WASHINGTON, D. C.—Millions of dollars' worth of paper money will be put into circulation upon the establishment of the federal reserve banks.

Under the federal reserve bank act each of the twelve federal banks will receive advances from the federal reserve board in the form of reserve notes, a distinctly new sort of paper money. Commercial paper will be the collateral advanced by the banks as security for these notes.

New Notes are Prepared.
Comptroller of the Currency Williams has samples of the new paper money under consideration. At his request Joseph E. Ralph, director of the bureau of engraving and printing, prepared notes of $5, $10, $20, $50 and $100 denominations. These have been submitted to Secretary McAdoo. It is not likely, however, that the samples will be accepted officially until the members of the reserve board have been confirmed by the Senate and can confer with Secretary McAdoo and Comptroller Williams concerning the new notes.

At present no official of the treasury department is able to make any estimate of the amount of federal reserve notes which probably will be put into circulation this year. Reserve banks are required under the law to keep gold reserves of not less than 40 per cent against federal reserve notes in actual circulation. The amount of these notes required by the federal reserve banks will depend largely on the amount of money required by member banks for the rediscounting of commercial paper.

Sum May Exceed $37,000,000.
At harvest time last year Secretary McAdoo permitted banks in the West and South to borrow money on commercial paper and about $37,000,000 was loaned. The immediate demand for federal reserve notes probably will be far in excess of that sum, as the harvest loans were limited to the farming sections, while the entire United States will draw on the reserve board for money to rediscount agricultural, industrial and commercial paper. The money for harvest emergencies was limited to 28 states

Ng Wing Sung, editor of the Liberty News, a local Chinese daily news paper, was today placed under arrest charged with criminal libel, a local Chinese business man named Kum filing charges against the publisher in which it is alleged that himself and members of his family have been held up to scorn and ridicule. The article alleged to have recently appeared in the Liberty News is declared to seriously reflect upon the reputation of the complainant. Editor Wing Sung, accompanied by Lee Jo, appeared at police station where bail to the amount of $500 in gold and silver coin was deposited with Clerk James Oids, to insure the appearance of the newspaper man before District Magistrate Monsarrat.

and none of it went to New York and New England.

Description of the New Notes.

The new $5 note submitted by Mr. Ralph is typical of agriculture. The portrait on the face of the note is Lincoln's and the back shows a harvesting machine and allegorical figures typical of farming. The $10 note bears a portrait of Cleveland and a manufacturing scene. The $20 note bears Jackson's portrait and is typical of commerce, having a steamship, train and other mediums of trade on the back. Grant's picture is shown on the $50 note, and Franklin's portrait adorns the $100 bill. Both of these larger bills are typical of the arts. All the bills will be printed in green ink on the back, while black ink will be used on the faces.

For some time the treasury department has been anxious to make all paper money more uniform. Different portraits appear on different sorts of paper money of the same denomination. It is likely that the portraits selected for use on the federal reserve notes also will be used on other paper money. So, in the future, all bank notes, gold certificates, silver certificates and federal reserve notes of $5 denomination probably will bear Lincoln's portrait and so on through the series up to $100.

Gold to Redeem the Notes.

Of the 40 per cent gold reserve banks maintain against their outstanding federal reserve notes, at least 5 per cent will be kept in the United States treasury for the redemption of such notes.

It is provided under the new law that when one federal reserve bank receives federal reserve bank notes issued by another bank it must return them immediately to the issuing bank and a heavy penalty is provided for a bank which pays out notes other than its own.

WALDRON OFFER NOW DECLARED TO BE ILLEGAL

Attorney Points to Supreme Court Decision Against Such a Proposal

Fred L. Waldron's offer to run for the majority on a salary-to-the-poor basis not only stirred up other candidates for the office but brought out two declarations that his offer is illegal.

From a well-known attorney the Star-Bulletin has received the following statement:

"Referring to the statement in this morning's Advertiser in regard to the candidacy of Mr. Fred L. Waldron for mayor, may I call your attention to the fact that several of the Supreme Courts of the States have held that where one is elected to a public office on a pledge made by him that the whole or any part of his salary will be waived or donated to any stated charity, the election will be declared void, as such a pledge is held to be contrary to public policy in that it amounts to corruption and bribery of the electorate."

The attorney accompanies this with a copy of a Supreme Court decision in Wisconsin, which upholds the legal contention made today and cites several instances to show that the law regards it as against public policy for a candidate to offer to perform the duties of office for a sum less than the salary.

Another voice of opposition to Mr. Waldron's plan is from a man who has declared himself as a candidate for city office—not the mayoralty. He addresses the Star-Bulletin as follows:

"Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin:

"Sir—Mr. Waldron's offer sounds lofty, patriotic and unselfish, but all the same it is an attempt to bribe the voters to confer on him the dignity of first citizen of the city and county. There is no more reason why municipal officers should give their salaries to charity than there is why territorial officers should do the same thing. Moreover, the insinuation that the majority of candidates are out for the salaries is a gratuitous insult. There are just as high-minded citizens in the lists as their detractors. For my part, I am a regular contributor to several benevolent and charitable institutions and have always been ready to help bury the dead and assist the indigent survivors of unfortunate acquaintances, but would consider it degrading to exploit simple duty performed in these respects in an election campaign document. Mr. Waldron should have thought twice before putting himself in the position of a philanthropist on the contingency of being given a public office. If he is ambitious to be mayor, let him come out on his merits, and if elected do what he will with his own, only remembering the admonition not to let his left hand know what his right hand doeth.

SALARIES MIGHT GO TO SECURE CITY MANAGER

Albert Waterhouse Suggests
Variation for Plan Proposed by Waldron

Publication yesterday afternoon in the Star-Bulletin of the fact that Fred L. Waldron was considering a candidacy for the mayoralty brought forth later in the day a definite statement from Mr. Waldron that has stirred up unusual interest in political and business circles. He offers himself as a candidate for mayor on a non-partisan ticket and will donate to charity his salary if elected. As a proviso he asks that others on the ticket do the same.

As a variation to the plan proposed by Mr. Waldron, the following suggestion was made in an interview today with Albert Waterhouse:

"I was much interested in my friend Fred Waldron's announcement in the morning paper but feel that he has made a blunder in his suggestion that the mayor and supervisors' salary be donated to some charity. This $7200 per annum should be given, together with an appropriate salary, to a city manager. If Fred is working on the principle that charity begins at home, his proposition to my mind is O. K."

"The gross revenue from all sources for the city and county next year will be very close to $1,200,000, or $100,000 per month, and we are attempting to spend this through a structure of municipal government that cannot possibly produce efficient results. We have a board of supervisors who give to the city their overtime—their time outside their regular business, and a mayoralty office which is hardly even a factor because it gives the mayor scant opportunity and little power."

"We do not need a change of charter to secure an efficient city manager along the lines I have suggested. What we do need is men like Fred Waldron who will get into harness and run the county government along some such plan as this. The mayor and supervisors can continue as the board, the mayor still continue as the formal executive head of the city. If they will give their salaries to a city manager, the detail work will be taken off their hands and the time the supervisors have to give to their public duties will be sufficient."

Mr. Waldron's offer is as follows: "I will become a candidate for mayor of the City and County of Honolulu, at the head of a strictly non-partisan, businessmen's ticket, provided all the other candidates who run on such a ticket join with me in a pledge to donate the full amount of their salaries to any Hawaiian charity, the particular charity to be designated previous to the election by the Hawaiian Associated Charities."

"I believe that the government of this community will never be placed on an orderly, businesslike basis until citizens who care more for the honor of serving the community than for the emoluments of office offer themselves as candidates for election."

"On this platform of unpaid service to the community in which I live I will announce myself as a candidate for the office of Mayor of Honolulu."

This morning that he proposed to deal severely with any and all violators. This morning the drivers and owners of seven licensed cars were brought to police station and warned that further infraction of the law in traveling Kalakaua avenue would be followed by arrest, and with a conviction a substantial fine would be imposed.

PARIS.—It is evident from the results of the voting on Tuesday, when 142 unified Radicals voted for the Viviani cabinet, while only 18 voted with the Socialists and eight abstained, that a majority of the group is determined to support the new cabinet.

This, they doubtless find, is easier to do, since the financial problem is now regarded as of the most immediate concern and in this the Viviani policy is wholly acceptable to the unified Radicals.

Practically the whole of the new loan is for defense purposes. The 2-year army service law is responsible for about £600,000,000; general increase in armaments, about £700,000,000; acceleration of the navy program, £400,000,000; whilst £225,000,000 are for expenses incurred in Morocco in 1914.

The Literary Digest, of March 28, 1914, quoting the New York World, says:

"Cocaine and its allied intoxicants appear to be about the cheapest things in the market. They are seemingly cheaper than whiskey, cheaper than beer, cheaper in proportion to effects than tea or coffee."

The best teaching of today is distinctly against the use of coffee, tea and other drugs, and drug-bearing beverages—especially among the young. It is well established that headache, nervousness, indigestion, sleeplessness, and other aches and pains are commonly caused by coffee drinking.

People are becoming alive to this fact and thousands have quite coffee and now use

THE DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM

The Democratic territorial platform, drafted in secret and adopted in secret by a very few members of the Democratic party, is a document that will immensely strengthen Republican prospects for the fall campaign.

Few of the reputable Democrats of Hawaii will run for office on such a platform; fewer will be elected.

In the main, the provisions are good provisions—but the exceptions are so very bad that the whole platform is not only weak in "vote-getting" power but provocative of endless party fights, factionalism, bitterness, division.

The platform contains several good planks, most of which have already been covered in the Republican and Progressive platforms. The proposal for a "free port" is not a novel suggestion, but it is new as a political issue and has several praiseworthy aspects. Such planks as those on education, harbor improvements, citizen labor, homesteading, extension of county government, workmen's compensation, statehood and amendment of the primary law are well in place in the platform. They are issues generally recognized as issues that all parties should indorse, though there may be minor differences in detail.

The main part of the platform is made up of such planks as these, to which no serious objection would be made by any voter, Republican, Democratic or Bull Moose.

The two very bad points in this platform are its flabby, apologetic and viciously misleading plank on the tariff, and its no less vicious attack on Governor Pinkham.

The first plank is a political fraud, the second is a political blunder.

The tariff plank says: "The Democratic party in an almost incredibly short time has made good its promises and pledges to the American people in giving this nation a new tariff law. This tariff law touches the entire commercial life of the nation, and we believe that as patriotic citizens we ought to meet the new conditions in a fair spirit without premature and unjust criticism."

Were it not for the industrial disaster threatening Hawaii because of this very tariff law such a plank would cause a universal smile of ridicule to spread from Hawaii to Nihaui.

"Meet the new conditions in a fair spirit without premature and unjust criticism!" Is that the only thing the Democratic party dares to say to the voters of Hawaii?

What sort of an answer is that for the business depression, the curtailment of labor on the plantations, the reduction of forces in practically every business house and commercial establishment, the drop of many millions in tax valuations, the sudden decrease in territorial and county revenues?

What sort of an argument is that for a tariff that is benefitting not the sugar growers of Hawaii or Louisiana but the refiners, the beet-sugar companies of Europe and the cheap-labor exploiters of the Java cane-fields.

Is that the sort of stuff that L. L. McCandless intends to purvey to the voters from the stump?

It will be even more fatal to his chances than his notorious stand on immigration four years ago—the stand that alienated some of the most influential Democrats in the territory and sent him down to defeat.

The tariff plank in the Democratic platform is worse than a straddle—it is a sneak to the rear, tail-between-the-legs fashion. It is a fraud because it aims to misrepresent the attitude of Hawaii on the tariff as affecting sugar.

The plank condemning Governor Pinkham's administration is a political blunder so grotesque that it is funny. The blunder is apparent from the delight with which Republicans are today hailing the spectacle of a Democratic platform in one breath lauding Wilson to the skies for "wise and progressive leadership" and in another breath denouncing as "thoroughly undemocratic" the administration of Wilson's appointee.

That plank alone will alienate enough Democrats of caliber and standing to defeat many a Democratic nominee.

From a Republican standpoint, the Democratic platform is "bully." It will make many hundreds of Republican votes in November. It will further divide this faction-ridden party as it goes into the campaign.

From the territorial standpoint, the Democratic platform is a sorry thing, its good points vitiated, its whole tone now ineradicably blemished by personal spite, prejudice—and above all, by its ignominious attitude of apology on the free-sugar legislation that is pulling down Hawaii.

MR. WALDRON'S OFFER

Fred L. Waldron's offer to serve the city as mayor without pay will be received with many differing opinions.

Inherent difficulties present themselves to the acceptance of such a proposition, public-spirited and original as it may be.

Mr. Waldron's attitude, however, is chiefly significant not for what he offers to do but for the striking proof thus given that Honolulu has found present conditions of municipal administration inefficient and intolerable.

Businessmen are dissatisfied with the story of the past two years.

They are not content to rest under a financial expenditure that fails to produce results.

The Star-Bulletin believes in paying good salaries for good city service. If the mayor is a real mayor, he deserves a real mayor's salary. As a variation upon Mr. Waldron's proposal, the suggestion made today that the donations of salaries go toward securing the services of a high-class city manager offers something constructive in the way of bettering city administration.

THE FRAMERS OF AN IMMORTAL DOCUMENT

It may be interesting to the public to know the names of the "representative Democrats" who have put forth the territorial platform. They are:

Jesse Uluhi, T. J. ("Hilo") Ryan, M. C. Pacheco, Harry Irwin, David Ewaliko, J. M. Bright, F. C. Benevides, M. S. Pacheco, Jerry Burns, J. S. Chandler, M. S. DeMello, C. D. Pringle, Joseph Kalana, Eddie Hanapi, Moses Palau, R. N. Boyd. Irwin held a proxy for George J. Richardson of Hilo and Ryan held a proxy for Harry Mossman of Maui.

L. L. McCandless, Jeff McCarn, and National Committeeman John H. Wilson are reputed to have been the chief advisers in the framing of the platform.

The territorial committee consists of 30 members. Sixteen were present. There were two proxies.

Representative? Wow!

MARCHING ON

An Associated Press dispatch from Richmond, Virginia, says:

"Out of an estimated total of 140,000 qualified voters in Virginia, 69,936 have signed petitions calling upon Governor Henry C. Stuart to call a state-wide election to decide whether liquor shall continue to be sold in the state. The petitions will be presented tomorrow and Governor Stuart is expected to call the election for September 22, as provided by the enabling act passed by the last legislature."

In Washington voters will be asked this fall, under the initiative and referendum laws, to decide whether the state shall or shall not be "dry." Local option and statewide prohibition keep marching on.

President Wilson will have a hard time getting bankers and businessmen of repute for his Federal Reserve Board if the senators continue their present attitude. Thomas D. Jones declined to be made the butt of attack by the money-trust jingoists of the upper house.

We wonder how President Wilson will like to see the Democratic party platform in Hawaii assailing his own appointee!

For a man under the doctor's care, the Colonel is getting around pretty lively, thank you.

We'll wager the Contributing Editor doesn't contribute any $50,000 to Boss Barnes.

Whom the gods would destroy they first make Pauahi Street Democrats.

GROWING USE OF PARCEL POST

The telephones and the parcel post work beautifully together. The housewife calls up the village store and asks to have certain things—perhaps dress goods or household utensils—sent out immediately. In the old days she would have had to go to "town" herself, or have the hired man harness up, or wait for several days until some friend could do her errand. Now her purchase arrives in the morning with the rural carrier. The C. O. D. system facilitates the operation. In the small or cities the same expedition prevails. The local merchant finds that his area of patronage, which was formerly limited to the city itself, has a radius of 150 miles. He has one advantage over the mail order house in a lower rate within this distance. Within this zone of 150 miles the rate is virtually a cent a pound, outside it is larger. A merchant 150 miles from Chicago, therefore, has a large area within which, because of his lower postage, he can still do business. And the fact is, as already said, that the local merchants have already outgrown their apprehensions of the parcel post.—The World's Work.

WHEAT KING TO SPEND BUT FEW DAYS IN HAWAII

easy stages across India to Calcutta, returning four weeks later to Bombay, where they rejoined the Niagara.

Fear of Piratical Chinese. The Federated Malay states, Borneo, the southern and northern Philippines were passed in rapid succession. Mr. Leiter expressed much pleasure at again meeting the American flag in the farthest eastern possession.

At the time the Niagara cruised in Asiatic waters a serious outbreak of brigandage was rampant along the south China coast. The trade trip planned for Canton, the densely populated metropolis about 100 miles in the interior by the Pearl river, was abandoned, the yacht being moored at the more protected port at Hongkong while the individual members of the party took a commercial liner to Canton and other West river points of interest.

So intense was the fear of an invasion of fanatical pirates which frequently infest south China's rivers and seacoast that several small guns were mounted on the forward deck of the Niagara. For four weeks the Niagara remained at various ports along the China coast. The Leiters met with much social recognition from the British officials at Hongkong. They expressed great delight over their visit to Shanghai and the entertainment planned for their delectation at that cosmopolitan port.

Japan proved a field of exploration for a fortnight, the Niagara leaving the island empire at Yokohama.

Leisurely Voyage in the Pacific. "We did not crowd the Niagara," declared Captain Gabrielsen upon receiving a delegation of local shipping men following the berthing of the Niagara at Pier 6.

"The yacht can easily steam between 12 and 13 knots an hour. We did not hurry across the Pacific and were 16 days steaming from Yokohama to Honolulu." Captain Gabrielsen further stated that the trouble reported to have taken place at a Japanese port in which a number of American sailors left the vessel had been greatly exaggerated. The officer added that eight Japanese were shipped to replace an equal number of men signed on at New York prior to the cruise.

"I presume that they had too much money coming to them," was the reason the captain assigned for the desertion of the seamen.

The Niagara was built and placed in commission in 1898. She has been the property of Howard Gould, the transportation king and director of many large railroad systems, for more than a decade.

Displaying outward indications of having been on an extended cruise, although still resplendent in white paint, the Niagara anchored off Kakaako shortly after midnight. Shortly before 9 o'clock this morning the Niagara was brought to the Ewa side of Pier 6. Captain Lorenzen, harbor pilot, visited the yacht and soon had the craft to a mooring with prow pointed toward the open sea and hatches off for the reception of coal and supplies.

Children Are Life of the Ship.

Two bright-eyed chubby little boys aged three and five years, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Leiter, named Joseph and Thomas, are the life of the ship. These youngsters, guarded day and night through the watchful care of tutors, nurses and maids, were much in evidence about the spacious and luxuriously appointed after deck of the vessel while it lay at the wharf pending the closing of formalities of port regulation and during the call of several prominent army and territorial officials this morning.

Dr. W. B. Marbury has been identified with the party since leaving Washington and has had the health of the members both young and old under his immediate direction. Dr. Marbury successfully performed an operation for appendicitis while the Niagara steamed along the coast of China, the patient being O. Paulson, a seaman. Today, Paulson is well and happy and was about his duties this morning as if nothing had happened.

Those Who Make the Cruise.

The Leiter party includes Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Leiter, their two children, Joseph and Thomas, Miss Francis Williams, a sister of Mrs. Leiter, Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Elkins, of the noted West Virginia family, Colonel W. C. Colgrave, a retired British army officer, who has completed 25 years of service in India, joined the party at Bombay. The wants of the Leiters and their guests are looked after by a corps of servants. In addition to a special tutor for the children, a trained nurse citizens we ought to meet the new conditions in a fair spirit without premature and unjust criticism."

This plan, they admitted today, doesn't say much but they felt that they didn't have much to say. The failure of the platform to speak out boldly on the free-sugar situation has angered some Democrats. Others, even those opposed to the little fact that about the only thing to do was to put in a non-committal reference as brief as possible.

Many of the Democrats approached today declined to talk for publication, even while admitting that the and four maids accompany the party. is a Pacific Booster.

Alexander Hume Ford called upon Mr. Leiter this morning and placed at the disposal of the party the Outrigger club, together with surf-boards and outrigger canoes. Mr. Fort met Mr. Leiter in Manila during the world's tour of the former and the Chicago multi-millionaire took an active interest in the formation of the Manila branch of the Hands-Around-the-Pacific movement, working with Mr. Ford until the organization was perfected.

Entertainment for Party. Several social festivities have been arranged during the stay of the Leiter party in Hawaiian waters, principal among the hosts and hostesses being General and Mrs. Clarence R. Edwards, Col. and Mrs. Frank B. Cheatham and Capt. and Mrs. Edward Carpenter.

Tomorrow afternoon Col. and Mrs. Cheatham will entertain at their Tantalus home with an elaborate picnic and Mr. and Mrs. Leiter and the other members of the party are expected to be present.

Saturday evening Capt. and Mrs. Carpenter of Ft. Ruger will give a dinner at the Country club with the Leiter party as the guests of honor. It is anticipated that covers will be laid for about 20 at this affair.

Gen. and Mrs. Edwards have arranged a dinner at their home for next Monday evening in honor of the visitors, about 25 being invited for the dinner and evening's entertainment.

Spectacular Career. Mr. Leiter, who makes his home in Washington, D. C., is a native of Chicago, in which city he now maintains a majority of his business interests, also a business address. In the windy city he has had a spectacular financial career, having secured a corner in wheat in 1898 at which time he was the heaviest individual holder of that grain in the history of the trade. For a time it was believed that with all his father's—Levi Z. Leiter—millions behind him he would be unable to get from under. However, he finally succeeded but only after sustaining a heavy loss, according to the wise-aces of the wheat pit.

Born December 4, 1864, Mr. Leiter attended Harvard where he received his A. B. degree in 1891, the following year becoming agent for his father, in which capacity he acted until in 1898.

Among his present business affiliations he is the president of the Zeigler Coal Co. and the Chicago, Zeigler & Gulf Ry. Co., and a director in the Commonwealth Edison Company, all of Chicago, also a director in the Washington (D. C.) Gas Co. In 1908 Mr. Leiter was married to Miss Juliette Williams of Washington and a sister of Mrs. Leiter's is a member of the party at present visiting Honolulu.

Niagara Officers. The Niagara, which is completing its initial tour of the Pacific, is commanded by Captain August Gabrielsen. Other officers include First Officer Mat Borgensen, Second Officer C. P. Filly, Third Officer Eason, Chief Engineer Jacob Reehle, First Assistant Engineer George Tingle, Second Assistant Engineer James Reilly, Third Assistant Engineer F. Slade. The Niagara is equipped with a fine Marconi wireless installation and under the direction of Operator A. Crutenden the vessel and its party of travelers have been kept in touch with the outside world.

The Niagara is a vessel of 272 feet in length, 36 feet beam and 19 feet depth. Officers and crew carried on the cruise number 69. The vessel represents an investment of $850,000. Its fittings and appointments are the finest to be found on any vessel that has visited Honolulu in many years. If the present plans for the cruise are followed, the Niagara will drop anchor in the Potomac river near the capital at Washington about September 10.

territorial platform contains some costly blunders.

Among the expressions of opinion given to the Star-Bulletin were these: Col. C. J. McCarthy: "I have not read the platform in its entirety. I read the attack on the governor this morning and regard that as very wrong and entirely uncalled for."

John Effinger: "The attack on Governor Pinkham is unjust and impolitic. I don't think that's right. The rest of the platform I agree with. Hawaii is going to have a record sugar crop and it's all due to the Democratic party and policies."

Attorney Joseph Lightfoot: "I am pleased with the platform and particularly with its condemnation of Governor Pinkham. Some of the Democrats thought that he should not be mentioned, but I am glad to see the platform condemn the chicanery and fraud of his appointment as a Democrat. I was one of those who advised in favor of this stand. As to the tariff plank, that's a very delicate matter and probably it is handled about as well as it could be handled."

Secretary of the Territory W. V. Thayer: "I haven't read the whole platform. As to the attack on the governor, in my position I have nothing to say. As to the tariff plank, why, you know that the Democrats of the territory are an integral part of the national administration and we must recognize the national stand in the tariff."

Judge W. S. Edging: "I have not read the platform at all and I was not one of those who advised the members of the committee that framed it."

G. J. Walker: "I think the committee would have done much better had it left the name of the governor out of the platform entirely. I think it was very unwise to have made any mention of him at all and will do more harm than good. "Mr. Pinkham has been appointed governor and we should support him. That has been my point all along. Though I was a candidate for the office, when he got the appointment I felt I should do all I could to help him. The Democratic party should feel the same way. To attack him as they have in the platform is very bad and unfair and I believe they go much too far. They accuse him of deceit and misrepresentation, accusations no doubt dangerous if they cannot be proved."

SUPERVISORS TAKE OUT NOMINATION PETITIONS, WITH SINGLE EXCEPTION

Every member of the board of supervisors has taken out his petition for nomination, with the exception of Sam Hardesty, who has declined to run for office again. Most of the petitions were taken out yesterday afternoon. They have not been filed yet.

This action on the part of the supervisors destroys whatever doubt there has been on the point of whether or not the members would run for re-election. Hardesty has said that he would not run for sometime, so his failure to take out papers is not surprising.

Every girl on earth imagines that she would make an ideal wife.

PLATFORM ADOPTED BY DEMOCRATS AFTER THREE DAYS' CONFERENCES

Following is the platform finally adopted by the Democratic territorial committee following three days' conferences, many of which were "star-chamber."

We, the representatives of the Democratic party of the Territory of Hawaii, in committee assembled, reaffirm our devotion and pledges to the principles of the great national Democratic party, and we urge that after many years of continuous struggle against the privilege-seeking and privilege-granting Republican party, a glorious victory for the party has been achieved in the election of President Woodrow Wilson. The Democratic congress, under the wise progressive leadership of President Wilson coupled with the unvarying and tireless cooperation of the Democratic representatives, has written more constructive and far reaching legislation in the interests of the common people in the statutes of 15 months than was enacted in 15 years of Republican rule. We rejoice in the fact that under this government human rights now prevail over property rights.

The Tariff. The Democratic party in an almost incredibly short time has made good its promises and pledges to the American people in giving this nation a new tariff law. This tariff law touches the entire commercial life of the nation, and we believe that as patriotic citizens we ought to meet the new conditions in a fair spirit without premature and unjust criticism.

Education. The public schools of this territory constitute the cornerstone of our democracy, and it is through these schools that the various races in this territory must be welded and molded into American citizenship. We pledge our party to provide for the development of education that shall be of practical value to our boys and girls in making them more efficient in their work and general life duties. We pledge our party in this territory to cooperate with the commission provided for by the present congress for the study of vocational schools to the end that the schools of this territory may be placed in a position whereby they will be entitled to the aid of the federal government for vocational schools.

Government by Commission. The movement of this territory toward more popular government should be promoted by wise and thoughtful legislation and we disapprove of any plan or plans which involve government by any kind of appointed commission; we declare it to be a matter of party principle in this territory that the present system of carrying on the government of this territory by various boards or commissions ought to be discouraged, and that the work and duty of carrying on all kinds should be delegated only to those persons properly elected for that purpose.

Harbor Improvement. We again favor a memorial to congress to make an appropriation for the dredging of Kalia Harbor, and by condemnation proceedings or otherwise, acquire all necessary lands at any place in the territory for the public wharves, to meet the increasing demands for greater shipping accommodations.

Redemption from Execution Sale. We favor the passage of a law by which a mortgagor, or any debtor, shall have the right to redeem real estate sold under foreclosure of mortgage or execution sale, within one year after such sale, by paying principal, interest and costs.

College of Hawaii. The College of Hawaii is an institution which it will be the endeavor of a united Democracy to make a worthy "college of the people," thoroughly in keeping with similar colleges of agriculture and mechanic arts found in every state of the union. The Lever bill recently passed by the Democratic congress is an evidence of the attitude of Democracy toward these colleges, and the failure of Hawaii's college of agriculture and mechanic arts to receive the benefits of this bill constitutes an unanswerable indictment of the weak, faltering and utterly incompetent representation of this territory to congress. Due to the absence of the delegate and the wholly inefficient representation of Hawaii in Washington by the Republicans, an exception was made of Hawaii alone in diverting these funds from our local college and thus checking the plans of our college administration to carry on the work of intelligent agriculture abroad in the territory.

Homesteads and Homestead Roads. We again announce our belief in the principle that the public lands of this territory ought to be given to the citizens. We pledge the Democratic party of this territory to work for the enactment of such legislation, both in congress and in the local legislature, as will tend to facilitate the homesteading of the public lands in such a way as to build up the citizen farmer class of this territory. In connection with the question of homesteading, we believe that one cause standing in the way of bona fide homesteading has been the lack of roads. We believe that roads should be built through all homestead tracts hereafter opened. We therefore pledge our representatives and senators to enact legislation providing for a revolving fund of sufficient size to allow the prompt building of roads as soon as the homestead tracts are opened, the money from the sale of such homestead lots to be turned back into the said revolving fund, so that at all times there may be sufficient funds on hand to provide for the prompt building of homestead roads.

The Audit of Accounts. We believe that the present laws with regard to auditing of public accounts are inadequate, and should be amended. We believe in the principle of a territorial audit bureau, whereby the accounts of the territorial departments and the county departments may be efficiently and thoroughly audited from time to time.

Marriage Licenses. We condemn the present arbitrary manner of appointing marriage license agents by the territorial treasurer, and pledge our party to the enactment of a law authorizing the several county treasurers to handle the issuance of marriage licenses, the fees from which should become county realizations.

Minimum Wage. We pledge our candidates to the legislature to work for a law which will make the minimum wage two dollars per day for all unskilled labor performed by territorial, county and municipal government employes.

Citizen Labor on Federal Public Work. We pledge our candidate for Delegate to Congress to work for such measures as will prevent the employment of any but citizen labor on federal government work in Hawaii.

Public Administrator. We favor the passage of a law by which the duties of public administrator shall be added to those of county treasurer, who, with the advice and assistance of the county attorney, shall act as the local officer of the county in performing the duties of public administrator, without fee or reward, except his salary as county treasurer, as provided for by law.

Equal Suffrage. We believe in the principle of equal suffrage. We are thoroughly in sympathy with the movement toward that end, both on the mainland of the United States and in this Territory. We pledge our candidate for Delegate to Congress to work for an amendment to the Organic Act, so as to promote such legislation as will give the women of this Territory a right to vote. We believe, however, that before such legislation should be undertaken, a plebiscite to determine the wishes of the voters on this question should be held in this Territory. We are compelled to view with suspicion the modesty and timidity of the Republican party in reference to this question.

Cemeteries. We believe that the reservation or acquirement of suitable plots of ground, convenient to the centers of population should be made in each county for the burial of the indigent dead. The cemetery conditions of the city of Honolulu require thoughtful consideration. Proper regulation should be made, enabling the poor to bury their dead without being compelled to pay such exorbitant charges as are usually exacted by private cemetery companies.

County Government. We again reiterate our belief in county government, and we pledge our representatives and senators to the enactment of such legislation as may be necessary for the extension of the powers of the different county governments. We favor the creation of an office in each county where deeds, mortgages, etc., shall be recorded, and a provision made for some official of the county to have charge of the same or that a new elective office be created for that purpose.

Taxation. We believe that the present system of taxation is wrong in theory and in the way it works out in practice. We believe that a valuation of all the property in the Territory, for assessment purposes, should first be made, and that after this valuation, a budget showing the total expenses for the year, both territorial and county, should be made, and upon such assessed valuation and such proposed budget the rate of taxation should be based.

Fisheries. In our platform of 1912 the following recommendation was made: "We urge upon Congress, and we pledge our candidate for Delegate to Congress so to do, the necessity of appropriating money and to acquire by condemnation if necessary all vested private fishing rights in this Territory, and to open the same for public use."

We further demand enforcement, by the territorial government, of sections ninety-five (95) and ninety-six (96) of the Organic Act, and we urge Congress to provide means to promote fish culture in the seawaters of the Territory.

Statehood. The repeated assertion in the national platforms of the Democratic party, that the United States should acquire no territory except that which is ultimately destined for statehood strengthens our confidence in ultimate statehood for Hawaii. We charge insincerity on the part of the Republican party in making statements favoring statehood, as expressed in their platform, and as proof of such insincerity we call the attention of the people to the fact that, although clothed with power for a long period of time, both national and local, that party has never introduced a bill in Congress asking for statehood for this Territory. Reiterating our plank for statehood of 1912, we again pledge our Delegate to Congress to introduce a bill at the first opportunity to provide for an act by which Hawaii may be admitted into the Union as a state.

Workman's Compensation Act. We pledge our party so far as the territorial jurisdiction extends, to an employee's compensation law providing adequate indemnity for injury to body or loss of life.

Initiative, Referendum and Recall.

We favor the initiative, referendum and recall. Such laws serve to save the people from the wrongful doings of officers that have been elected by their votes, and also give a convenient method of voting on such questions as territorial and county bonds and other laws that may be submitted to the people.

Detention Home for Juveniles. We believe that the delinquent children of the community should not be herded with common inebriates and criminals, and to that end we pledge the Democratic members of the coming legislature to provide an appropriation with mandatory direction for the erection and maintenance of a territorial home for the detention of juvenile delinquents in the City and County of Honolulu.

Territorial Marketing Division. We endorse the efforts being made by the territorial marketing division to assist the small farmer to secure a fair return for the products of his labor, and we pledge our candidates to the legislature to make adequate appropriation for the purpose of maintaining and extending the operations of the territorial marketing division.

Municipal Ownership. Believing in the principal of government ownership of public utilities, we pledge our senators and representatives that in cases of taking over any property from any franchise holders a physical valuation of such property shall be insisted upon as a basis of settlement.

The Liquor Law. We have heard no serious complaints against our present liquor law. We do not believe in eternally tinkering with laws that are admittedly good. Neither do we believe in establishing an unknown tribunal with the powers of a court, from which there is no appeal. The law proposed by the Republican platform will be found to be a very dangerous one in practice.

Tax Assessors Elected by People. We pledge our candidates to the legislature to work for the passage of a law by which tax assessors should be elected by the people in each and every county of the Territory.

Immigration. We condemn the policy of the Republican party by which they have flooded the Territory with undesirable Filipino laborers.

We demand an immediate repeal of all the laws of the Territory authorizing assisted immigration.

Settlement on Queen. We pledge our candidates to the legislature to procure a liberal appropriation for Queen Liliuokalani and pledge our candidate for Delegate to Congress to work for a pension for her, following the precedent established by congress in granting a pension to Mrs. Cleveland and Mrs. McKinley.

County of Kalawao. We pledge our candidates to the legislature to work for a liberal appropriation for the unfortunate of the County of Kalawao.

LOOPHOLES IN CITY FINANCIAL ACCOUNTING SYSTEM ARE SHOWN

Hawaii Probe Commission Has Session to Secure Ideas on Public Auditing

Loop-holes in Honolulu municipal accounting, with resultant possibilities of financial leaks were uncovered this morning by the Hawaii county graft probe commission in the course of a short session with City and County Treasurer C. J. McCarthy and City and County Clerk D. Kalaupokalani Jr.

No suspicion of graft or even of minor financial irregularity caused the unannounced meeting of the commission today. Nor was any irregularity uncovered.

The commission is now engaged in writing its report on the Hawaii situation, and wished to get the advice and opinions of Honolulu officials upon the general subject of public accounting in county and territorial government. It wished also to take a short survey of the local methods and to see what check the county treasurer has upon expenditures ordered by the board of supervisors.

In the course of an hour's session in the supervisors' assembly room, the commission brought to light some interesting facts going to show that considerable looseness exists in the handling of finances. Some of the facts, particularly those of inability of the city officials to know in advance what the city revenues will be, have been emphasized again and again in the press during the past few years.

Chairman H. B. Elliot of the commission presided and Commissioners Williamson and Long, Special Attorney R. W. Breckons, who acted under the attorney-general's authorization in prosecuting the Hawaii grafters; City Clerk Kalaupokalani and his deputy, Eugene Buffandeau, and City Treasurer McCarthy were present. The hearing was informal all the way through and the commissioners emphasized the point that they were asking questions simply to get a clear idea of what improvements can be made in public accounting.

In particular, the session brought out the fact that an act of the last legislature, requiring the city clerk to send to the treasurer duplicate claims or duplicate vouchers to correspond with the claims presented to the auditor is not being observed.

These duplicate vouchers are to be sent to the treasurer so that he can at once check a claim for money when it is presented to him.

Says Office Overworked. Clerk Kalaupokalani explained that it is a physical impossibility for his office to observe the law now, that the office is overburdened with work and that as these duplicates would have to be signed by the clerk or his deputy the labor was too great.

"The law does not allow us to assign this work to any clerk," said Kalaupokalani. "I or my deputy must sign the papers. The primary law requirements, the great register work coming with the political season and the growth of the general work of the clerk's office are such that we simply can't do all the work."

A suggestion was made by Breckons that the claim and warrant should be one document and this was heartily endorsed by Treasurer McCarthy. The treasurer also agreed with a suggestion by Chairman Elliot that there should be an independent auditing system or else that there be a city controller to act as a disbursing agent and the auditor audit the books of the treasurer, clerk, etc.

Commissioner Williamson suggested that it might be possible to do away with the auditor's office entirely and to have a warrant clerk and perhaps another clerk in the treasurer's office.

Loop-holes in Warrant System. Loop-holes in the system of registering warrants and their subsequent movements were shown. Treasurer McCarthy admitted that he has no certain way of checking signatures in paying out money on warrants—that the only signature check is in the auditor's office.

He stated also that in dealing in registered warrants with local banks he has had to send a letter to the Bank of Hawaii holding himself personally liable for any fraud or irregularity in the warrant.

This matter of registering warrants and securing the money from the banks was gone into at some length. The treasurer explained that he has made arrangements with the banks so that city employees will not be at the mercy of loan sharks who would buy their warrants at a discount. He said that he was willing to guarantee these warrants and to hold himself personally liable so that he could get the banks to cash the warrants and keep the employees out of the hands of the loan sharks.

Counties Should Levy Own Taxes. The commissioners asked whether the counties should be given power to levy their own taxes and there was general agreement with this plan. McCarthy pointed out that now the taxes are not collected until long after the board of supervisors has made its estimates and that the county is generally doing business on a credit basis.

The meeting generally brought out dissatisfaction with present accounting systems though the treasurer stated ed that he is perfectly satisfied with his office's relations with the banks and that he thinks the banks are really going out of their way to help the city along. McCarthy said also that his accounts and those of the auditor and clerk have checked up correctly in the past except in one case—that of a laborer who "raised" a warrant from $450 to $1450 and was detected. He said there was no friction between his office and the clerks and the commissioner's questions brought out the fact that it is only in the last few months that the clerk has been unable to forward the duplicate vouchers as required by law.

FAMILIAR FACES IN THE MOVIES AT THE POPULAR

Ground-breaking for Hawaii Building at Exposition Proves Entertaining

"Howdy, John?"
"You look natural, Jim."
"Long time since we saw you, Albert."

"Don't the Clark boys look natural?"
The foregoing and many other comments of a like nature passed thick and fast at the Popular theater yesterday afternoon when the motion pictures of the Hawaii ground-breaking at the San Francisco exposition were thrown on the screen.

It was lots of fun for the few witnesses of the private exhibit given to the press to pick out their friends among the large throng that was present at the Hawaii ceremony of July 7. That there was a crowd, a big one, is amply demonstrated by the pictures, incidentally the pictures are good. They could hardly have been improved upon had they been posed for by the participants.

Albert P. Taylor acted as master of ceremonies and introduced, for short addresses, the many speakers of the day, including Senator James L. Cooke.

The Changing Age

Girls and boys from 14 to 19 years of age undergo physical changes which tax their strength to the utmost and the strain is always apparent from pale cheeks, colorless lips, and tired bodies—sometimes eruptions of the skin and the utter lack of the ambition and animation with which their younger years were filled.

Budding into womanhood and manhood, with the duties of school or business, demands concentrated nourishment which is readily convertible into red blood corpuscles, energy and strength, and the very best thing for this changing age is the medical nutriment in Scott's Emulsion—it possesses the rare blood-making properties of cod liver oil in a predigested form; hypophosphites for the nervous system, with the healing, soothing qualities of pure glycerine.

Its nourishing force promotes assimilation, yields direct returns in abundant, red blood, fills hollow cheeks, tones the nerves, makes all good food do good, and does it in a natural easy manner.

The sustaining nourishment in Scott's Emulsion is so helpful to this changing age that it should never be neglected—every druggist has it.

Commissioner John Effinger, representative of the exposition committee, Governor Johnson of California and Mayor Ralph of San Francisco. Incidentally, the representative of the "exposition mayor" is an old friend of several of the newspapermen who were present yesterday, having worked for many years in the ranks of news gatherers of California before being promoted to the job of mayor's secretary and purchasing his silk hat. However, despite his lowly origin, Ed Rainey apparently makes good on the platform, judging from the applause which greeted his remarks.

The ground-breaking was an immense success, judged by the attendance and by the applause that is plainly seen in the pictures.

From the moment that Mr. Taylor is first seen upon the platform until the Hawaiian flag flutters to the breeze the picture is one of interest. From a photographic standpoint it might be improved upon but for interest it holds for former residents of Hawaii there could be no improvement.

This picture will be shown at the Popular theater tomorrow afternoon and evening and Monday and Tuesday evenings.

"That little mare of his certainly came back at Joe."
"How do you mean?"
"First he broke her for racing, then she broke him."—Baltimore American.

WALDRON DRAWS FIRE OF MAYORALTY CANDIDATES

JOHN C. LANE IS NOT IN FAVOR OF WALDRON'S PLAN

Candidate for Mayor Says All Are Not So Fortunately Situated as Proposer

John C. Lane, Republican candidate for mayor of the city, disagrees with the plan outlined by F. L. Waldron—to give his salary—if elected—to the poor. In an interview today, Lane said:

"Nonpartisan Candidate Waldron's declaration that he would run for the mayoralty of the city and give the salary of the office to the Associated Charities has a sympathetic ring of aloha for the poor. But why make the proviso, provided those who would run on such a nonpartisan ticket with him must follow his generous proposed donation?"

"I believe in a person who practices what he preaches, notwithstanding whether others, perhaps not so well provided and generous as he is, would do likewise. If Mr. Waldron could launch a city policy as he stated successfully then Hawaii has discovered at last the real science in efficient and philanthropic system of the management and care of the poor of cities of the world over, by and through its officials and perhaps some day Congress may adopt it likewise."

"Whether Mr. Waldron could accomplish successfully what he intends to do to revolutionize the city of Honolulu in generosity, in my humble opinion, it is at the very least good advertisement anyway and therefore I attribute it to his training on the Promotion Committee of Hawaii when he was its presiding officer."

"I wish also to remind Mr. Waldron a high-salaried official of the territory heretofore tried the experiment and found it beyond him—and recently a member of the present board of supervisors declared at a meeting of the board that he was willing to donate his salary to charity (if my memory bears me out correctly) and asked his colleagues who are not so fortunate and generous as he is to join him in the experiment. To this day I am wondering whether he has set the example of real love for the poor."

"My knowledge and information concerning public boards and commissions serving without pay, the paid secretary thereof generally does all the preparations and furnishing of statistics to guide the members of said board or commission."

"In conclusion I say many imaginary and unpractical policies are spoken of but sometimes being unreasonable and unfair to others who have no bank deposits yet those who are so unfortunate may and perhaps are more sincere and honest in what they declare to the public their policies. Are they then to be looked upon as unfit persons to be elected to the official life of the city of Honolulu?"

"I am one of those unfortunate persons who is seeking the Republican nomination at the primary election to be held September 12 for the office of mayor and sincerely and conscientiously believe and pledge that I will give an administration where the 'pork-barrel system' will have no place within the councils of the city. The office of mayor of Honolulu belongs to the people in common. The person to be elected to the responsible position must always bear in mind he is the chief executive of a city of a cosmopolitan character. A fair, just, impartial and honest purpose must be his make-up."

FRENCH ACTION PROTESTED BY DR. SUN YAT SEN

Delivery to the Chinese Government of Refugees Subject of Objection

[By Latest Mail]
LONDON.—Ma Soo, Sun Yat Sen's representative in London, called at the Monitor office to discuss the Chinese situation. He had just returned from Paris after protesting to the French government against the action of the French authorities in Shanghai in handing to the Chinese government the revolutionary refugees in the French concession. M. Jaures and M. Dubois, deputy for Paris, promised to raise the question in the chamber.

The cause of the recent mutiny of the first division of Yuan's army at Kalgan, he said, was Yuan's inability to pay the troops. Kalgan being a little more than 100 miles from the capital adds importance to the outbreak and confirms what the Monitor has persistently stated, that the men's loyalty terminates with the cessation of pay.

In Japan also continual efforts are made to discredit China, fictitious letters from Dr. Sun being published with a view to cause the expulsion of Dr. Sun and his followers from Japan. "The Japanese are nevertheless quite in sympathy with us," Ma added, "and if the government do not appear

JOEL C. COHEN STATES STAND ON REMUNERATION

Brands Plan for Rich Man's Government as Un-American

In a signed statement made today Joel C. Cohen, avowed candidate for the mayoralty of Honolulu on the Republican ticket, makes clear his position relative to the salary question insofar as the mayor's office is concerned, also relative to the board of supervisors.

After growing a trifle caustic regarding the announcement made this morning by Fred L. Waldron, Mr. Cohen gets down to business and clearly states his position. He says he would employ a competent man as private secretary, deducting from his own salary and adding to that of the secretary a sufficient sum to insure a man who could fill the bill satisfactorily. The balance of the salary he would give to charity.

"A candidate for mayor has offered to work for nothing. Now it is up to someone else to propose putting the office up at auction and giving it to the man who will give the most for the honor."

"Then start a bargain sale for supervisors giving the job to those who will work the cheapest. In this way we may get a lot of high-brows who will work about a month or until the honor wears off and for the balance of the time do nothing."

"What is needed for supervisors are men of good common sense who are honest and who will devote their time to the city's good."

"The city is not an object of charity and it can well afford to pay good men who are capable but who cannot afford to work for nothing. Occasionally a rich philanthropist may come along and be able to do so, but the average poor man can not work for nothing and stay honest."

"Mr. Waldron's plan calls for a rich man's government, but it is UN-AMERICAN. This government is a government by the people and all classes should have a chance. We don't want class legislation by class legislators."

"If the dollar sign is the qualification for our mayor and board of supervisors, why not pick out the men who have the highest rating in Dun's and Bradstreet's and turn the city over to them."

"If Mr. Waldron is sincere in wanting to work for nothing, why don't he come out unqualifiedly and offer to do so. Why any ifs or string attachments. If he is a business man and is competent to carry out the ideals of a business administration he ought to know that his proviso that the supervisors also work for nothing is not feasible."

"Now, I have no intention of making any cheap bid for public favor by offering to do anything that might be construed as technically illegal, but in view of Mr. Waldron's offer and the way the press has fallen for it, I will make public what I have intended to do if elected to the office of mayor."

"I will take from my salary enough to add to the salary of the mayor's secretary so as to insure the selection of a competent man for the position and the balance of my salary I will give to the Leahi Home and other worthy charities and I do this without any ifs, ands or buts in reference to the board of supervisors or any other public official."

"But the office should have the salary because THAT'S BUSINESS."
(Signed) "J. C. COHEN."

INQUISITIVE
"He disappeared one day and stayed away five years. Recently he reappeared and his wife took him back."

"How so?"
"She wants to know where he was during those five years."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

so it is because the other course is at present diplomatically impossible." Meanwhile, he says, Dr. Sun has many men holding high positions in China and they will move at the right time.

RATH DECLARES SUMMER CAMP GREAT SUCCESS

Mothers and children, the former numbering eight and the latter 26, from Honolulu's tenements are enjoying life to the limit, according to Headworker James A. Rath of the Palama Settlement, who returned to the city from the fresh air camp at Kaipapau yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Rath, who fathered the movement, returned from the camp in an exceedingly happy frame of mind from the fact that a much-talked-about new feature of the settlement's work at last is well under way and is proving a remarkably lusty youngster.

"It's a go, all right," smiled the headworker this morning. "It is proving even a greater success than I anticipated. If we can be assured of the funds, we are going to make it an annual feature."

According to Mr. Rath, the past two weeks have resolved into a wonderful something for the tenement mothers and children. Away from the heat and dust of Honolulu and out amid green fields and with the surf lapping on the sand close by, the little party has enjoyed itself to the limit. Questioning by the nurse in charge brought out the facts that it is the first time that the majority of the mothers and their children had had a vacation. Some of them did not know the meaning of the word. Many of the children on the trip to the camping grounds had their first ride on a railway.

The life in the camp, however, is not a continuous round of pleasure, and yet, looking at it from another standpoint, it is. The mothers cook their own meals and attend to the little housework of their respective tents. But there is a great deal of difference between house work in a spotless tent and house work in a stuffy little back room in a tenement. Then, too, the mothers are learning something about which, perhaps, they never before gave a moment's thought. They are learning how to take care of their children; how to ward off disease; how to prepare simple meals, and the value of different foods. The nurse and the physician in charge constantly are dropping little hints as to how certain things should be done, and each hint is a lesson in itself; one to which the mothers, and even the children, pay the carefullest attention.

Summing it all up, the tenement mothers and their children are heartily enjoying the vacation; they are having the time of their lives, as Mr. Rath puts it. When the simple household duties are finished, they roam the fields, swim in the ocean, and even take long tramps into the hills. It is a typical fresh air camp, and will become a permanent feature of the settlement's work if the necessary funds to continue it may be secured.

The party now at the camp will return Monday morning, and another party, consisting of 46 mothers and children, will leave Honolulu to take its place. The camp now is in charge of Dr. W. T. Dunn of the Queen's hospital, and Miss C. Kemp, a settlement district nurse.

The joint camp of the 2nd Infantry and the National Guard at Red Hill will be attacked tomorrow afternoon and there are certain marked men who will be taken prisoners. They will be rushed to Athletic Park in motor cars and forced to bat their way to freedom.

This raid will be made by Manager Al Castle of the Punahou, who finds on the eve of battle with the Portuguese that four of his regular players are going soldiering. Castle hopes that the men will be excused for a couple of hours in the afternoon, and this will undoubtedly be arranged.

Leutenants Lyman and Dowsett are with the "regs," while Henshaw and Hampton are members of the "militia."

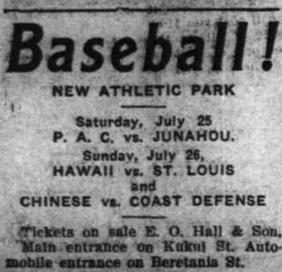

Castle is having his troubles this week, for Inman is sick and Hampton out of the running to pitch, so Castle himself will take the mound. The Portuguese will present their regular lineup with Sloan in the box.

Five regular games in the Oahu Senior and Junior leagues are scheduled for the week-end, and there are any number of fans who will take them all in and then come back for more. With no weekday ball Oahu enthusiasts save up a store of enthusiasm for Saturday and Sunday, and can stand what would ordinarily be considered an overdose of the national game. To the majority the Sunday double-headers are somewhat tedious, but they are necessary in order to get through the schedule, and there is no law to hold those who wish to come late or leave early.

A lot of interest centers round tomorrow's game between the Puns and the Portuguese, as both stand at the head of the percentage table with clean records. One or the other is bound to take a tumble, except in the unlikely event of a called game, and there is bound to be a battle royal to hold the lead. The Puns are hard hitters, but whether they will be effective against Sloan's shoots and benders remains to be seen.

Will Britain Add The America's Cup to Her Trophy List?

SIR THOMAS LIPTON, who already has tried three times to "lift" the America's cup, has challenged again and will race an American defender off Sandy Hook in September of this year. The first three racing days already are set by the New York Yacht Club's racing committee for the 10th, 12th and 15th of that month.

The America's cup, valued at 100 guineas, was originally put up by the Royal Yacht Squadron in 1851 as a prize to be competed for by yachts of all nations in a race around the Isle of Wight.

At the time it was hardly anticipated that any but British yachts would participate, but it so happened that Commodore J. C. Stevens of the New York Yacht Club and four of his friends had a 170-ton schooner which they believed could get around the Isle of Wight faster than anything else afloat. She had been taken over to Havre "looking for trouble," and was the first yacht to cross the Atlantic in either direction.

Thus it was that the America was entered in the race for the 100 guinea cup, and won for her more than 90 feet on the lead waterline; schooners not less than 80 feet nor more than 115 feet. Ten months' notice must be given by the challenger and no race must be sailed between November 1 and May 1.

The American yachtsmen who contributed over $1,000,000 to build three cup defenders are certainly getting a call for their money. Daily races between all three boats have been in order, and all told there will be 35 trial contests arranged for the water flinders before the actual elimination trials, which will be sailed off Newport August 15. This long series of races scheduled should result in determining which is the speediest of the three. All three have shown tremendous speed in their trials up to date, the Resolute particularly, as she has won almost every race so far.

Alexander Smith Cochran, who built the Vanite, is as enthusiastic as ever despite the defeats his boat has suffered. The wind may blow his way yet.

The Defiance, controlled by the tricity syndicate, is not discouraged, either.

At present one guess is as good as another as to whether the Defiance, the Vanite or the Resolute will race against Lipton's latest sailing creation, but most of us are guessing the New York Yacht Club boat, the Resolute.

Lipton's newest hope, the Shamrock IV, started across the Atlantic on her quest some days ago. In design Sir Thomas' craft differs markedly from all previous cup challengers, nor does she bear a close resemblance to any American boat. Designer Nicholson boldly carried out his own ideas, with the result that Shamrock IV is certainly original if somewhat freakish. Let us hope she does not carry her originality so far as to win back the cup, for your Uncle Sam is having a decidedly bad year with his trophy collection.

Not until 1870 did England attempt to win back the cup she lost in 1851. Then the Cambria came over in that year and finished eighth among 23 competitors. In the following year another attempt was made by the Livonia, which was defeated in four out of five races. Since then the British have tried unsuccessfully in 1885, 1886, 1887, 1893, 1895, 1899, 1901 and 1903. Canadian challengers made attempts in 1876 and 1881.

VANCOUVER, (Wash.)—Eleven men on the jury before which was tried the case of John Gounagias, for the murder of Dan Grunas, agreed within five minutes after retiring to the jury room on a verdict of guilty, but, owing to the presence on the jury of a woman who was not able to make up her mind at once as to the guilt or innocence of the prisoner, the verdict was delayed for fourteen hours.

Gounagias and Grunas were quarry laborers and quarreled. At night, after Grunas had retired, Gounagias took revenge by shooting his enemy to death as he lay asleep.

A parson called to preach to an out-of-the-way town in California, was informed, before entering the pulpit, that he must be careful, as many of the assembled congregation were "roughs" and would not hesitate to pull him from the pulpit if his remarks did not suit them.

The minister made no reply, but having reached the sacred desk, he took from his pocket two revolvers and placing one on each side of the Bible gave a sharp glance around the room and said: "Let us pray."

McGRAW BASEBALL CZAR; THE MAN AND HIS METHOD

McGraw on the coaching line. PHOTO BY AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

"That fellow McGraw has a clench of a job, just hanging around a ball park for a couple of hours in the afternoon and getting paid maybe $30,000 a year for it. And take it from me—I've seen him make more blunders in managing the Giants than you'd watch of. Why, honestly, I have watched games where he made mistakes that my twelve-year-old 'soak' wouldn't make!" It is such remarks as this drifting down on the summer breeze from the grand stand to the players' bench that cause callous spots to form on a manager's disposition, unless he is very careful and unless he has too firm a belief in his men and in his own knowledge of baseball to heed them. John McGraw says he has heard similar remarks any number of times, let fall by life-members of the Never-Lose club and the Little Brotherhood of Unconsulted Napoleons. And with this by way of preface he starts, in The Associated Sunday Magazine, to inform the public just what the job of creating Giants is like.

As Caesar would say, it is all divided into three parts—winning games, handling the players and building the team. The part the fan sees, and the one upon which such criticisms as the above are based, is the first and the least trying of the three. Yet even this branch of the managerial task is not always completely exposed to the public. If the Giants win partly because of the superior ability that they as a team possess, they also win, and doubtless more often, by the skill with which one John McGraw plays off their good points against the weaknesses of the opposing team. For example, he states the law of the "stare of the game," which he tries to drill into all the men. Following this law, McGraw does not hesitate to change his tactics instantaneously. If the stage of the game seems to him to demand it, he says:

"Suppose Chicago has us by a score of eight to one. That is the stage of the game where you want to get as many men on base as possible and keep them there. The point of this is that three men on base have a greater psychological value in unsteadying the opposing pitcher than if there are only one or two on.

In a game against St. Louis, when we were five runs behind at the opening of the ninth inning, I worked on that principle, and we won out. Early in the inning Murray was on second base, with another man on first. As the next batter lined out a long single, Murray tore around third for home. Instead of permitting him to score, however, I waved him back to third. It gave us three men on base—three dancing, shouting, gesticulating base-runners—and the St. Louis pitcher blew up.

We go after different pitchers in different ways. Loudermilk pitched a game for St. Louis against us in which he had us beaten until the sixth inning. I thought that Loudermilk was wild. I told our men to make him pitch his head off in the first five innings; in other words, to wait him out. They did so; but he gained control. Then with the sixth inning we shifted tactics.

"Hit everything you can reach," I told them.
Loudermilk, you see, had gone to pieces because of the overwork we had forced on him by waiting.

Often when the Giants are in the midst of a hitting streak I tell the next man who goes to bat to bunt. This is so different from what has early, before I got through that year my nose was red. The opposing team as well as my own men were watched. If one of our outfielders was playing too close for a certain batter, I often stopped the game and made him change his position. Once I detected a Brooklyn catcher's signs and tipped off our batters, I was seldom seen on the coaching line that year. We won the pennant for the bench.

I recall one or two games in Pittsburg. We were two runs to the good; but in the seventh inning Clarke, the Pirate captain, came to bat with two men on base. Two were out; but if Clarke hit safely the game was gone. Glancing over our team I saw something wrong with the way McCormick, our leftfielder, was playing his position.

"I at once jumped up from the bench and ran up to Meyers, who was catching. He stopped the game, and with a wave of his arm crew McCormick in close to third base. A moment later Clarke smashed a low liner over third base, and McCormick dashed in and just caught the ball about an inch above ground. The game was saved. I knew that Clarke, a left-hand batter, would in nine times out of ten hit in the direction he had when facing a left-handed curve-ball pitcher like Wiltsie.

McGraw tells his men: "Do what I tell you, and I'll take the blame if it goes wrong." Yet this should not convey the idea that his men are mere faultless automatons. On the contrary, his great managerial policy is: "Learn to know every man under you, get under his skin, know his whims and faults, then cater to him—with kindness or roughness, as his case may demand. He narrates some instances of his work with the men individually.

"I used to worry more over Devore than any other man except Raymond. Josh was a harmless, likable little fellow, utterly different from Bugs. He was lazy, though, and like Marquard I always had to 'ride him.' I remember once in a close game in Philadelphia that he and Marquard, who roomed together when the club was on the road, were sitting on the bench talking about their suite in a high-priced Philadelphia hotel. When a critical contest is on I will not stand for my men discussing other things than baseball. It not only distracts their attention, but mine and the other players'.

"Say, Rubie," began Devore, "ain't that room of ours a dandy?"
"Best in the lot," replied Marquard.
"It's got five windows and swell furniture," continued Devore.
"Solid mahogany," I interrupted.
"And that'll be about all for you fellows. If I hear any more of that talk during this game, I'll fine you $10 apiece."

The talk ended, and they concentrated on the game.
I have always had my hands full in handling players. It used to be a common saying among big league managers: "If you have a bad actor, trade him to McGraw." I got the reputation for taking men in hand with whom other managers would not be bothered.

"I believe that worrying over Bugs Raymond took five years off my life. I never saw such a case of ruined baseball talents. I clung to Raymond simply because I thought there was a chance that he might come to know himself. I blame the newspapers for his downfall. They called him 'Bugs.' They took up stories about him. They exploited his bad habits, until in his childish, weak way he thought every lark was an achievement that was making a hero of him.

I believe in the "watch-dog" policy whenever it is necessary. I have always made it a point to maintain strict surveillance over my players when they are off the field. I have not had to do this so much with my present team; for they are about the cleanest collection of ball players that I have ever been my good fortune to man-

TONIGHT'S MATCHES.

Campbell vs. Hafford.
Ellsworth vs. Hiorth.
Mackaye vs. Newcomb (one game).
The Y. M. C. A. chess tournament which has attracted much interest in the association lobby during the past month is drawing to a close with A. L. Mackaye as the probable winner. Campbell's unexpected victory in two games with Medcalf Tuesday evening put the latter out of the running for first honors.

By winning two games from Derby Wednesday and drawing with Spencer on Tuesday evening, Newcomb has gone into third place. The race for places will be keen tonight and during the coming week which is the last for tournament play.

Tonight Hafford will make his last stand for the championship. If he is successful in winning both his games from Campbell, he has a chance, providing Mackaye loses to Newcomb at the same time. Mackaye has two more games next week with Medcalf as his opponent.

TO PROMOTE AMICABLE RELATIONS WITH JAPAN

[By Latest Mail]
NEW YORK.—The commission on American relations with Japan, whose creation by the federal council of the Churches of Christ in America was announced on June 14th, has been constituted with the naming of fifteen members by the federal council. It was made known tonight. They are:

Rev. Charles R. Brown, professor Charles R. Henderson, Hamilton Holt, Rev. Albert G. Lawson, Bishop Francis J. McConnell, Rev. P. Frank Mason North, Robert E. Spear, Rev. William I. Haven, Bishop E. R. Hendrix, Frederick Jeremiah W. Jenks, Rev. Fredrick Lynch, John R. Mott, Rev. Doramus Scudder, George E. Vincent and Amos P. Wilder.

The study and promotion of the right relationship between the two countries from the Christian standpoint is the declared object in the creation of the commission.

age. Around 1906, though, it was different.

"I had a man on that club who when in condition was a really great player, but he had too many friends who insisted on buying him champagne. I kept strict watch on him, and finally got him into good shape. His eyes and his skin were clear. Then we took a long, crucial trip on the road, and the playing of this man on whom I had counted went to pieces. I studied his case, and it puzzled me. Every night I remained in the hotel lobby watching him. About 11 o'clock he would always say:

"I guess I'll go up-stairs, Mac. Nothing like sleep to give you ginger." Then he would get into the elevator. I would feel relieved—and the next day he would be worse than ever. This went on for more than a week, and I was utterly bewildered. One night when we were in Chicago I went to the baggage-room of the hotel to make inquiries about a trunk that had gone astray. Near the baggage-room was the freight elevator, and my ball player, who was puzzling me, stepped out. An hour before he had gone to his room, using the passenger elevator.

"I stepped out of sight. He did not see me, and left the hotel. Then and there I made up my mind to have it out; so I sat in the lobby and waited. He didn't show up until 5 o'clock in the morning, and I plastered a fine on him that covered up his pay envelope for a few weeks to come. But fines didn't bother him much, and I finally had to let him go—a wonderful player, too.

With my team I am an absolute star. My men know it. I order plays and they obey. If they don't I fine them. Devore, for example, was never able to bat against a left-handed pitcher. He was afraid of being hit with the ball. One day when Saltee, the St. Louis left-hander, was pitching, I told Devore:

"You go up there and let Saltee hit you. If you don't it will cost you $100." Now Josh is as fond of $10 as the next man; so he let one of Saltee's curves crack him on the hip, and he trotted to first base, grinning. I was on the first-base coaching line.

"Say, Mac," he said, "that was a cinch. That fellow couldn't break a pane of glass. Gee! it gets me sore to think that I was afraid of him!" That's the way it goes. From that day Devore was always able to bat against left-handed pitchers. He no longer feared them. The point is that you have to study every man under you and simply make them unite to be used in carrying out your policies. That is my key to successful baseball management.

JAPAN TO HAVE BRONZE STATUE OF COUNT OKUMA

TOKIO, Japan—A bronze statue of Count Okuma, which is expected to be the largest, as well as the most beautiful, in the Orient, will be erected in the course of a year or so. The list of the promoters is headed by Baron Iwasaki and Mitsui, and by nearly two hundred men of national prominence.

The chairman of the committee on the work is Baron Kitabatake, and Honda Yoshinari, principal of the Tokio art studio, will personally supervise it. Mr. Honda is the original promoter of the scheme. He proposed to erect a statue which would be a masterpiece from every artistic point of view in the Orient, and received the consent of Count Okuma to cast this bronze statue.

The statue will be 15 shaku, about 19 feet high, and the base stone, 25 shaku, which will be higher than that of the Omura statue at Kudan. The cost is estimated at 150,000 yen, and is to be met by public subscription. Mr. Honda will go abroad to make a further study of statues, and it is hoped that the unveiling ceremony will take place some time during next year.

"La Mascotte," or "The Modern Mascot," as the Juvenile Bostonians revised edition of Audrin's master comic opera is called, ended with a storm of applause at the Bijou theater last night which arose from an audience that had listened with delight to the superb music and comedy of the Frenchman's great light opera for two hours.

And all the while during the two hours, at short intervals, the audience made the Bijou theater reverberate with applause, and flowers at different times filled the arms of the pretty players. The performance last night was more than a success—it was the best thing the juveniles have done, delightful from beginning to end.

New songs were introduced into the comic opera, new bright lines were inserted in the revision of it, and as for the specialties—they are something that deserve a special review in themselves.

It was clever "Dode" Canfield who was the mascot last night, and she deserved all the hearty applause that followed her singing the several songs that were included in the part. She sang in three duets—two in the first act and one in the last. The first was "Cecelia" which she sung with Patsie Henry. It called for numer-

HOLDS LAWYERS FOR DEFENSE TO BE ALSO GUILTY

Dr. Carl Kelsey Has Poor Opinion of "Attorneys for Revenue Only"

(By Latest Mail)

SAN FRANCISCO.—Declaring that an attorney for the defense who aided a guilty man to escape punishment was with him a party to the crime, that certainty rather than severity of punishment would prevent crime, and that legislatures should adjourn for ten years so that the public could digest the laws already passed, Dr. Carl Kelsey of the sociology department of the University of Pennsylvania spoke before the Commonwealth Club. His subject was "What is Wrong With Our Criminal System." He is one of the several men from eastern colleges who are giving lectures at the University of California summer school.

In his talk he denied the doctrine of equal moral responsibility, stating that feeble-minded persons could not be held responsible for crimes as could normal ones, and he traced the history of punishments and procedure from the days of early England.

"First Basis Vengeance." "The first basis of reaction to crime is vengeance," said the speaker, "and then this changes to the idea of repression so that other crimes may not be committed. Following the idea of repression has now come the idea of reformation, which in turn has yielded to prevention by teaching the child.

"When a lawyer for the defense uses his ingenuity to aid a guilty man to escape, he is himself guilty of participation in the crime," said Kelsey. "We must return to the real idea of the lawyer for the defense who swears to uphold the law of the state." It may be a new moral level but we must come to it and if the bar does not, it will be forced upon it by public opinion.

"Then we must stop this nonsense of experts who testify as to whether a person was morally responsible at the time crime was committed. The only way for such testimony to be had is the creation of a commission which shall examine, and not leave it to experts for both the defense and prosecution.

"Our prison system has many defects, and a great one is the system of contract labor. Those in prison should be made to work and by their labor support those dependent upon them outside the prison walls. The imprisonment should fall on the criminal and not its effects on his family, as is now more often the case.

"We are about the most lawless people in the world, and yet we think that new laws will remedy all our troubles. The legislatures should adjourn for ten years and give the people a chance to catch up."

Kelsey finished his talk by saying that those persons with educations and high ideals had greater responsibilities regarding the lessening of crime than the uneducated, and declared that crime was a social and not an individual product.

ENGINEERS' ASSOCIATION HEARS ADDRESS ON "CENTRIFUGAL PUMPS"

Before a large audience composed of members of the Hawaiian Engineering Association and their friends, E. W. Green, an expert on pump engineering, spoke in the Library of Hawaii last night on the subject, "Centrifugal Pumps." The address was interesting and highly instructive, being a technical treatise on the theory and application of modern centrifugal pumps. The meeting was presided over by R. R. Hind, president of the association.

In part Mr. Green said: "Within the past 15 years the centrifugal pump has been developed from a relatively crude and often unreliable machine into the most simple, reliable and efficient type of pumping equipment for almost any condition of service, this being the result of extensive investigation by leading engineers, the development of the correct theory and practice applying to the problems involved, and the advances in the art of designing and building this type of pump. At the present time centrifugal pumps are in successful operation under almost all conditions of service. The engineering public is recognizing the many advantages inherent in this type of pump and the field for its application to the solution of divers kinds of pumping problems is constantly broadening.

"The use of the centrifugal pump in connection with the production of sugar is undoubtedly particularly interesting to the members of this association, and therefore in briefly taking up the application of this type to the solution of pumping problems only this field will be considered. Every engineer is anxious to secure the best pumping equipment, for the entire factory is dependent upon the continuous and successful working of the pumps. The efficiency, continuity of operation and cost of maintenance of this portion of the equipment affects the total cost of manufacture, and therefore the most simple, reliable, efficient and economical pumping equipment should be installed.

"In the centrifugal pump there is only one moving element, i. e., the impeller and shaft. There are no valves, rods, pins, or springs as in other types, where reciprocating parts are in direct rubbing contact, and the consequent wear makes frequent adjustment and replacement of parts necessary, and as well tends to decrease the efficiency of the unit. The simplicity of the centrifugal pump makes it most reliable, as there is very slight possibility of breakdown, and there is nothing to get out of adjustment. The cost of upkeep is very low, as there are no points at which wear occurs except the two shaft bearings and the rings around the impeller hubs, consequently new parts are seldom required. The stuffing boxes cause very little wear on the shaft if properly designed, and require only a small amount of attention, as it is easier to pack a box for a rotating shaft than for one with a reciprocating motion.

"The elimination of valves and springs is an important point, and one which has a great effect on the maintenance and labor cost. The centrifugal pump will deliver more water per unit of space occupied than any other type, therefore requiring the minimum space for installation. With correct design the internal parts are easily accessible for inspection. The first cost of the centrifugal pump is comparatively moderate. The simplicity and reliability of the centrifugal pump insure safe and successful continuous operation with the grade of labor ordinarily available for that purpose. Even with the discharge completely closed, no dangerous pressure can be generated by the pump, which is an important feature for many conditions under which pumps must be operated in sugar factories. The efficiency of the correctly designed centrifugal pump is good, resulting in low cost of operation. Steam turbine or engine, electric motor or belt drive may be employed, as required by local conditions.

"In comparing the true cost of operation of various types of pumps, with a view to deciding upon the most advantageous installation, consideration must be given not only to the actual cost of fuel consumed, but also to the interest on the total investment, depreciation, cost of attendance and maintenance, reliability and cost of supplies. When all these points are duly considered, the centrifugal pump is found to be the most reliable, economical and efficient pumping equipment for almost any condition of operation."

8000 GUESTS AT WEDDING FEAST LASTING 8 DAYS

[Associated Press]

VIENNA, July 21.—A wedding whose guests numbered over 8000 persons and whose feasting continued for eight days was celebrated recently at Sadagora in Bukowina, one of those remote country districts of Austria-Hungary where mammoth wedding festivities on a scale utterly unknown in America or Western Europe are the rule.

The affair at Sadagora exceeded in magnificence and lavish hospitality any function on record in that district, however. It was a Hebrew wedding. Sadagora enjoys a certain fame in eastern Europe as the seat of the renowned Rabbinical dynasty known as the Miracle Rabbis. The bride was the daughter of the Grand Rabbi of this line, Aron Friedmann, and the groom, Salomon Friedmann, belongs to a branch of the same rabbinical dynasty at Czortkow. The marriage was arranged by the chiefs of the two families, entirely without the knowledge of the young people. In fact, they met for the first time only the evening before the wedding at a preliminary feast, when they danced together as a sign of their willingness to marry.

The chiefs had taken it for granted that there would be no hitch in their plans, and had invited the rabbinical families of all the orthodox Jews in Russia, Poland, Rumania, Galicia and Hungary. They came down on Sadagora in thousands. Many were of imposing stature and patriarchal dignity. They wore black silk catkins, low shoes and white stockings, while their ladies were attired in a sort of crinoline and adorned with rich jewels. There were some dressed in the latest modes of Paris and Vienna.

The ceremony took place in the grand rabbi's palace, guarded by mounted troops. Thousands were unable to hear or see what was going on, so dense was the throng, but all had a hand in the feasting which followed. During the eight days the commissary's books accounted for 200 pounds of fish, 500 head of poultry, 250 pounds of beef, 5000 pounds of bread and many casks of wine. The grand rabbi was out of pocket to the extent of at least $40,000.

In addition to this he presented the bride couple with a palace in Sadagora, completely furnished and equipped with a staff of servants. He will meet the entire cost of the household for a period of six years, when it is assumed that the young bridegroom will have attained a position where he can support his family himself.

First Lady—"Too bad! Mrs. S. always has such abominable weather for her afternoon teas."

Second Lady—"Yes; she never pours but it rains."—Tit Bits.

THE USE OF BOTH EYES

Most people are unaware that the apparent distance of an object depends upon the use of both eyes. This fact, however, can be strikingly shown. Place a pencil so that two or three inches project over the edge of a table. Then stand alongside the table, close one eye, and attempt to knock the pencil off by quickly hitting the projecting end with the tip of the forefinger. Almost invariably the person making the attempt underestimates the distance by an inch or more, and much to his surprise, misses the pencil entirely. One-eyed people, accustomed to estimating distances only with one eye, of course have no trouble in hitting the pencil at the first trial.

To make a person think there are two marbles where only one really exists, have him cross the second finger over the first, close his eyes, and tell you how many marbles he is touching when you hold a single one in contact with the ends of the two crossed fingers. The illusion is very startling and the person almost invariably before he believes there is only one. If a marble is not convenient, the end of a pencil or other small object may be used.

To test your ability to make your muscles work as you desire, try sliding the forefinger of the left hand backward and forward along the edge of a table; at the same time, tsp in the same spot with a pencil in the right hand so that the end touches the table midway between the ends of the path the forefinger follows. At first it is extremely difficult to make the pencil tap in the same spot without hitting the finger, but after a little practice you will find that quite the contrary is the case, for it soon becomes almost impossible to make the object with which the tapping is done touch the forefinger or vary from the same spot on the table.—Fred Telford in St. Nicholas.

The over curious are not over wise.

SAYS HUERTA PUT THROUGH BIG LAND STEAL

Land Sold in Lower California to Rothschilds for One Cent Per Acre

[Associated Press by Fed. Wireless.]
LOS ANGELES, July 24.—General Carranza has forwarded a report to his agents here stating that the Rothschilds of London and Paris, under the name of the Lower California Industrial Development Company, purchased 100,000 acres of land in Lower California from Provisional President Huerta one month ago, paying one cent an acre for the land. It is further charged that Huerta, in consideration of putting this deal through and giving it his approval was paid the sum of five hundred thousand dollars.

PHILADELPHIA, June 21.—"If a pet you must have, get a pig. The pig may not be so delicate and sentimental an animal as the cat or the dog, and he has a disagreeable squeal, but he is not a disease carrier," said Dr. D. T. Quigley of North Platte, Neb., at the Davereaux Methodist Episcopal Church in a lecture on the prevention of infectious and contagious diseases.

FLAME VEIL LATEST OF FASHION NOVELTIES

[By Latest Mail]
ATLANTIC CITY (N. J.).—There is no doubt now that the flame veil is one of the latest fashion novelties. Hundreds of them are worn in the board-walk fashion parade. The new veil is fashioned with a black border around the bottom, with orange-colored darts, shooting upward for about half the width in imitation of flames. Above the darts and about on a level with the eyes are hundreds of little red and yellow dots, imitating sparks.

Arnold Kruckman, manager of the Bureau of Aeronautics for the exposition, and his secretary, Lowell Hardy, have just returned from an interview with President Wilson and the government officials. ## IF MEALS HIT BACK AND STOMACH SOURS

"Pape's Diapepsin" ends Indigestion, Gas, Dyspepsia and Stomach Misery in five minutes

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach headache, you can get blessed relief in five minutes.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula plainly printed on these fifty-cent boxes of Pape's Diapepsin, then you will understand why dyspeptic trouble of all kinds must go, and why they relieve sour, out-of-order stomachs or indigestion in five minutes. "Pape's Diapepsin" is harmless, tastes like candy, though each dose will digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you eat; besides, it makes you go to the table with a healthy appetite; but, what will please you most, is that you will feel that your stomach and intestines are clean and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxatives or liver pills for biliousness or constipation.

This city will have many "Pape's Diapepsin" cranks, as some people will call them, but you will be enthusiastic about this splendid stomach preparation, too, if you ever take it for indigestion, gases, heartburn, sourness, dyspepsia or any stomach misery.

Get some now, this minute, and rid yourself of stomach trouble and indigestion in five minutes.—advertisement

FOREMAN OF THE JURY PUT IN PRISONER'S DOCK

[By Latest Mail]
TORONTO.—The inquest on the death of Mary Mash, killed by being run down by a reckless motorist, came to a dramatic termination by the arrest of John B. Whaley, foreman of the jury investigating the case, on a charge of having killed the girl.

Whaley was traced by a piece of broken glass picked up on the scene which fitted perfectly the broken headlight of his automobile. The foreman was taken from the jury box to the prisoner's bar, and under the circumstances all bail bonds proffered were refused.

LOT KAULUKOU NOW SEBASTIAN; HAS NEW WIFE

Lot Kaulukou, once well-known as a singing boy in Hawaii, who some years ago took the stage name of Carlos Sebastian, claims to be a Spaniard and to hail from Buenos Ayres. The New York Herald recently published the following:

"Modern dancing, which has been blamed for breaking up families, is the cause of a romance which interested Broadway last night. Mr. Carlos Sebastian and Miss Dorothy Bentley, who dance in the Jardin de Danse, atop the New York Theater, last night took a few friends into their confidence and announced that since last April Miss Bentley has been Mrs. Sebastian.

"To introduce Miss Bentley as his bride Mr. Sebastian entertained several of their friends at dinner last night in the Knickerbocker Hotel. There he made the announcement, and Miss Bentley, with no end of blushes, admitted that it was all true. They were married, Mr. Sebastian said, by a clergyman in Hoboken on April 26, but he couldn't recall at the moment the name of the clergyman.

"Mr. Sebastian and Miss Bentley have been among the popular professional dancers since last winter when they began to give exhibitions in the Jardin de Danse. Previously Mr. Sebastian, who came from Buenos Ayres, had met Miss Bentley when he was dancing at Rector's in Chicago. She had gone to him as a pupil and later as his partner. Her home in Chicago was in Dearborn street."

The Venezuelan commissioner to the exposition, Octavio Escobar Vargas, was in San Francisco getting plans for the pavilion that is to represent his country. The ground was broken for this building April 30, before his return to make a report to the government. The appropriation of Venezuela depends on the amount recommended by the commissioner.

An egotist is a man who expects a woman to marry him for himself alone.

$50,000 LIBEL SUIT AGAINST ROOSEVELT

A CHILD'S LAXATIVE IS "SYRUP OF FIGS"

They love to take it and it doesn't harm the tender little stomach, liver and bowels.

If your little one's stomach is coated, it is a sure sign the stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once. When your child is cross, peevish, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally, if breath is bad, stomach sour, system full of cold, throat sore, or if feverish, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the clogged-up, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well-playful child again.

Sick children needn't be coaxed to take this harmless "fruit laxative." Millions of mothers keep it handy because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure. They also know a little given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeiters sold here. Get the genuine, made by California Fig Syrup Company. "Don't be fooled!"—advertisement.

The Chinese national conservation bureau is considering reforestation at the headwaters of the Yellow river. The government report shows that this will ameliorate the torrents and cause a more regular flow from the now denuded uplands. It is acknowledged, however, that this reforestation may not have an appreciable effect within the lifetime of the present generation.

SAY, DO YOU DANCE THE "LULU FARDO"?

NEW YORK.—Do you dance the "Lulu Fardo"? If not, there is no need for apology, because the dance is brand new, or at least that was the claim for it when it was introduced by the Chalfiff Dancing School Alumni. It is of Portuguese origin and has made a big hit in Paris and Vienna, Louis H. Chalfiff explained. The dance is easy, anybody could see that, and had only about four steps in it against a dozen or more of the tango and maxixe.

You start ahead for four measures and the music gets livelier, and then there are four quick steps and then four slow ones, like the "one-step." Then comes a two-step measure, where you can turn and point your foot, like the maxixe. This for eight measures.

Finally you separate from your partner, as in the Spanish dance, snap the fingers at beginning of the measure and clap the hands on the last beat. This lasts for eight measures, and then you begin all over again.

A friend in need seldom hesitates to tell you so.

NOVEL STAND IS TAKEN BY KINGSBURY

Holds That Sale of Fire-Water Is Not Sufficient; Must Show That a Profit Is Made

The jury in the case of Ung Foon Tuck, charged with selling liquor without a license, which was tried at Lahaia on Monday and Tuesday of this week, returned a verdict of not guilty, says the Maui News. The evidence which the county attorney's department was able to present, and which was secured by the police through an informer, who claimed to have bought a bottle of samshu from the accused, was apparently not conclusive in the minds of the jury. In this trial Judge Kingsbury took the rather novel ground that the mere act of selling liquor without a license was not sufficient to constitute a violation of the statute, and that it must be shown that the seller was selling as a business or for profit.

The jury consisted of A. J. McLeod, Thomas Husey, C. A. Beall, E. C. Mellor, E. K. Duvauchelle, D. W. Driscoll, Joe Freitas, A. L. Recard, E. H. Cockett, W. F. J. Dale, G. A. Hanson, Augustine Enos.
